

CHURCHILL ASSAILS U. S. DEBT POLICY

COMPROMISE ON FARM AID BILL NEEDED GIVE AND TAKE KEY TO FAVORABLE ACTION.

By DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1926, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Mar. 24.—The beginning of what may in the end prove an opportunity to get some farm legislation passed at this session of Congress has been made. Members of the House Agricultural Committee are suggesting to the spokesmen of farmer groups that the program of the Des Moines conference be amended to eliminate the equalization fee and other controversial phases of the Dickinson Bill.

While the administration maintains a significant silence there is no doubt that the president would sign a bill which simply created a federal farm board to aid in the disposal of surpluses but which did not require any guarantee of prices or price fixing on the part of the government.

Murphy Gives Views. In the hearings being held Frank W. Murphy of Wheaton, Minn., spokesman for the farm groups of northern central states, was asked specifically if his constituents would agree to the elimination of the equalization fee. He urged its retention but said the Des Moines conference wanted any bill adopted that would be practical and would be a step in the direction of farm relief.

The equalization fee and price fixing features of the Dickinson bill are the main obstacles to its becoming a law. The farm groups represented here know this. They know also that until they agree among themselves there will be no legislation. The Capper measure in the senate seeks to regulate the whole surplus problem through co-operatives.

Could Reach Compromise. There is no question but that a compromise bill could be whipped into shape in a short time if the farm groups were to indicate their readiness to accept half a loaf in the present legislative situation. It is either that or no legislation at all. Much time and energy has been expended on a study of the surplus problem to date. The agricultural department has indicated a willingness to go along with the farm groups on the matter of a federal board which shall attempt to regulate the flow of exports.

MELLON SAYS SETTLEMENTS ARE ALL JUST

ENGLAND WOULD LIKE CANCELLATION OF DEBTS.

London, Mar. 24.—(AP)—The problem of the World war's heritage of inter-allied debts was given a periodical airing in the house of commons today, and Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, and Phillip Snowden, Laborite and former chancellor, who are poles apart politically, joined hands in the house in agreeing that the burden of responsibility for the war debt difficulties rests on the United States for refusing to adopt a policy of all-around cancellation.

Mr. Snowden precipitated the debate in the hope of helping to bring Great Britain's recalcitrant continental credits to time, and he spared neither the United States, France nor Italy in the scathing criticism for which he has a reputation.

Hopes to Collect Debts. With ministerial responsibility associated with his utterances, Mr. Churchill restrained his statement somewhat and on the whole was hopeful of obtaining from Great Britain's debtors the necessary 33,000,000 pounds sterling which this country now is paying to the United States annually. And thus the chancellor of the exchequer believes the British government will be enabled to carry out the principle of the Balfour note, whereby Great Britain declared her intention of collecting from her continental allies only sufficient sums to pay her indebtedness to America.

Mr. Churchill described the undertaking to pay "100,000 pounds sterling daily for more than three generations of the nation" as one of the most stupendous tasks and burdens "ever assumed by any country in the whole world's history."

Sees U. S. Getting All. The chancellor declared that an extraordinary situation, which would not pass out of the minds of any respectable persons either in the United States or Europe, would exist when most of Germany's war reparations were "drawn from the devastated and war-stricken countries in Europe in an unbroken stream across the Atlantic to that wealthy, prosperous and great republic."

Later, Mr. Churchill indicated that there might be some doubt in his mind whether future European generations would be paying war debts to America. Great Britain's recent settlement with Italy, he pointed out, might be better than the pending Italian-American terms, because Great Britain gets larger annual payments immediately, while the Washington treasury will benefit only in the uncertain future.

Phillip Snowden took the line that the loans made through Great Britain to the allies constituted America's gift as a sort of compensation for her late arrival on the battlefields of Europe.

France Is Criticized. The Laborite spokesman considered that France had made no attempt to meet her obligations and her financial record for the last seven years particularly was, in his opinion, "one of the most discreditable records in the history of national finance."

Mr. Snowden contended that if France and Italy would only organize their economic resources they could meet their obligations, and added: "It is high time France got rid of their inherent unwillingness to pay taxes, which has presented a contemptible spectacle to the whole world. This inability to tax themselves has brought France to the verge of national bankruptcy."

HONEST DEBTS—MELLON. Philadelphia, Mar. 24.—(AP)—America's war debt settlements with European nations were the most favorable which could be obtained short of force. Secretary Mellon declared here tonight in an address before the Union League club.

Touching on the moral obligation to assist other peoples to clear away the wreckage of war, Mr. Mellon said "we do (owe this obligation) and we will carry out this duty."

Settlements Defended. The address of the treasury head had been prepared prior to the remarks made in the house of commons today by Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill, who also discussed the moral aspects of the war debts.

Mr. Mellon confined his remarks chiefly to a defense of the settlements so far made, one of which, that with Italy, is under

MORE HOLDUPS LAID TO GANG

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—Police asserted today that the chain of evidence was wound more tightly around Richard Reese Whittemore, alleged murderer and leader of a gang of nine persons which perpetrated robberies yielding loot aggregating one millions dollars.

Already wanted in Baltimore for murder in connection with his escape from prison, Whittemore was identified as a member of a gang which killed two guards and stole $93,000 from an armored car in Buffalo last October.

Anthony Paladino, a member of the Whittemore gang, also was identified as being implicated in the Buffalo robbery.

The police investigation was halted only long enough to have Whittemore, his wife, known as the "Tiger Girl," and three of his confederates arraigned on charges of robbery. They deferred pleading until Friday and were held without bail.

Action on the extradition of Whittemore to Baltimore has been held up, pending the clearing up of local crimes.

The last arrest in the case occurred last night when William G. Unkelback of Cleveland was taken into custody. The police said his statements had implicated him in several of the major robberies of the band.

Four youths, three of whom police say have admitted participation in eight robberies, in one of which a man was shot and killed, were arrested today in a raid on a rooming house.

HAD PERFECT SYSTEM.

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—The gang led by Richard Reese Whittemore, ex-convict and confessed murderer, followed a system which made success of its criminal ventures practically assured and which, if made public, would menace public safety, Ferdinand Pecora, acting district attorney, said tonight.

Refusing to give reporters the confession of Anthony Paladino, one of the gang of eight men and one woman under arrest, Mr. Pecora said that the Whittemore plans, falling into criminal hands, would provide the underworld with an almost infallible plan of action.

MILLION AND HALF GROWTH IN POPULATION

Large Increase Registered in U. S. During 1925.

New York, March 24—(AP)—An estimated gain of 1,629,000 in population in the United States last year was announced today by the National Bureau of Economic Research. The indicated gain for 1925 was almost identical with that for 1924.

The estimated population of continental United States was placed at 115,940,000 on January 1, 1926, or a gain of more than ten millions since the last Federal census in 1920.

The estimates were reached principally by a process of figures covering the birth and death registration area, upon arrivals and departures from the United States and upon a recapitulation of the work done by the bureau in former years.

There was a moderate decrease in the amount of net migration into the United States, the bureau said, but it was offset by a larger number of births and a smaller number of deaths.

"The total population gain in 1925 was slightly larger than the average for the last seventeen years," said the report, "but materially less than that of 1923, when the large amount of immigration contributed to a population increase of 1,958,000, or of 1909, when for the same cause, the population growth ran up to 2,175,000."

"During the last year, immigration played but a minor role in the population growth of the country, accounting for less than one-sixth of the total increase, the excess of births over deaths adding 1,367,000 persons, while immigration accounted for but 262,000 new inhabitants."

"It is a noteworthy fact that, despite the growth in population, both the number of births and the number of deaths were approximately the same in 1925 as in 1909. The year 1909 had an abnormally high birth rate, and is therefore not a typical year, but since 1916, there appears to have been no tendency toward an increase in the number of children born in the United States, while the number of deaths tends to run lower now than sixteen years ago."

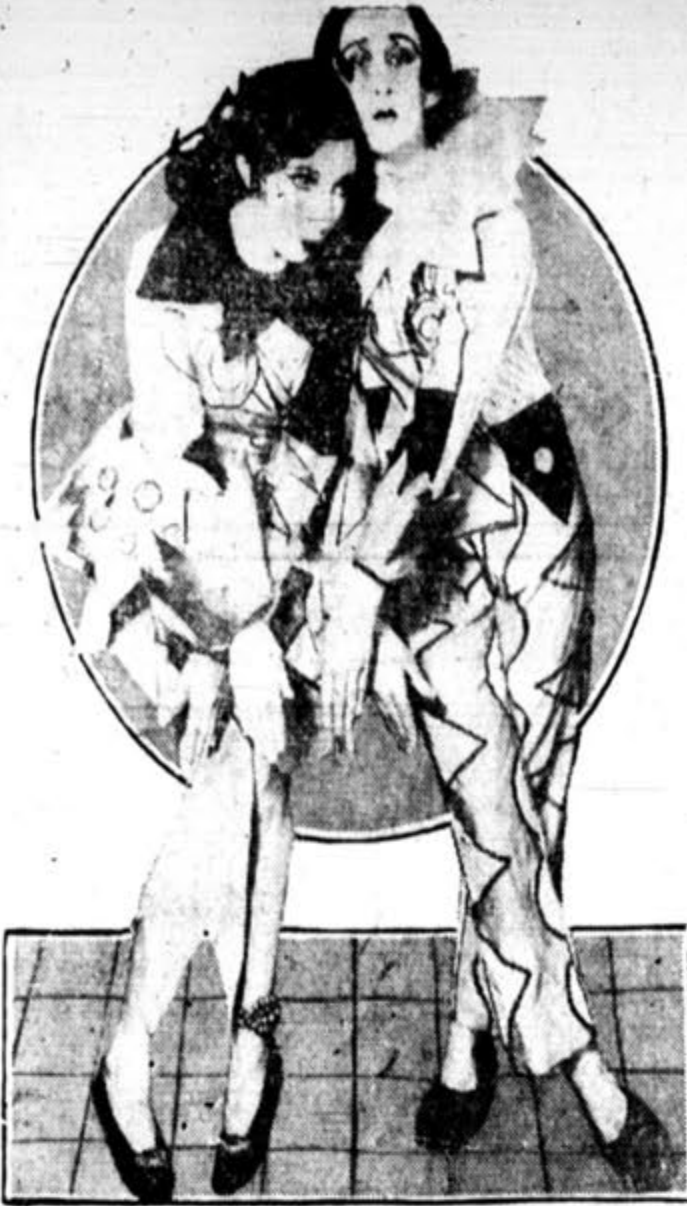

The study was made by Dr. Willford I. King of the Bureau's staff.

TEST OF V-2 SUCCESSFUL

Giant Submarine Goes to Record Depth of 220 Feet.

Portsmouth, N. H., Mar. 24—(AP)—The giant submarine V2 returned to the navy yards here tonight, having navigated to 220 feet, a record depth for vessels of her class. Her commanding officers reported that the submergence test conducted off Provincetown today had been extremely successful and that the submarine handled perfectly. The only casualty was a burst pipe which collapsed under the heavy pressure.

This was Lieut. Com. George A. Hood's account to the Associated Press:

"We got away from Provincetown at 7 a. m. and ran out to a point about 22 miles to the northward. We then made a quick dive of 50 feet, adjusted the ballast and went to 110 feet, where the ballast was again adjusted. This was necessary on account of the compression of the water against the hull, which decreased the buoyancy of the ship and was the equivalent of making it heavier."

"Then the vessel went to 215 feet, the ballast was once more adjusted and ran for half an hour at five knots at depths ranging from 215 to 220 feet. The V-1, by the way, went to 204, so ours was a record for V class submarines."

"During the run, all apparatus was tried out, including the torpedo tubes, pumps and other machinery. Everything was O. K. and the only casualty was the breaking of a low pressure blow line (a pipe running from a ballast tank) which collapsed under the water pressure. It had no effect on the vessel, however, and she handled extremely well throughout the test. The deficiencies of the hull, due to the pressure, were very slight."

"At the conclusion of all the tests, the submarine rose to the 50-foot level, and when the periscope showed all clear we rose to the surface. We consider the test to have been a great success."

Blind Slayer Goes On Hunger Strike

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—Harry W. Cowman, blind slayer convicted last night of first degree murder for the slaying of Miss Edith Burton, last December, went on a hunger strike in his prison cell today.

He is to be sentenced on Monday. Death in the electric chair is the only possible sentence.

Cowman, blinded by a shot fired into his head in an attempt at suicide, claimed Miss Burton killed herself in a suicide pact with him. Hunger pangs, however, proved too much for Cowman and late this afternoon he accepted the proffered food. He had not eaten since he was placed in the cell last night after being found guilty.

Grand Haven, Mich., Mar. 24—(AP)—Not guilty was the verdict reached this afternoon by the jury in the case of Norman Dewitt of Holland after being out eight minutes. The case was taken to the supreme court after the trial here last August and a new trial ordered.

Dewitt was charged with negligent homicide when Miss Beattie Struck of Marne was killed while riding with Dewitt on July 15, 1924. They ran into a Pere Marquette sleeping car that lay directly across a street in Holland. Flying glass struck the girl's throat from which she died.

TO COMPROMISE ON FARM BILL

Haugen Urges Re-Draft of Bill to Assure Its Passage.

Washington, Mar. 24—(AP)—Immediate efforts to frame a compromise bill were urged tonight by Chairman Haugen at the first night session of the house agriculture committee's hearing on farm relief proposals.

Declaring that the bill presented by the middle western delegation, to levy an equalization fee on basic crops to finance surplus crops, could not be passed in its present form, Mr. Haugen invited the delegation to sit around the table with the committee and aid in drafting a substitute.

Leaders of the group agreed to this, saying they had presented the bill in good faith, but were willing to have it changed if the committee desired.

Mr. Haugen indicated that he desired a bill more nearly like the McNary-Haugen bill of 1924, which failed to pass congress, and said it was impossible to leave off an equalization fee on corn, as proposed in the present bill. He also contended that the tariff would have to be made effective for the products marketed through any federal board to be created.

The committee started night sessions in an effort to expedite a report to the house so that action might be possible before congress adjourned, and both Charles Hearst of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and F. W. Murphy of the American Council of Agriculture, expressed readiness to assist in working out a compromise measure.

The chairman and other members of the committee agreed that hearings on a surplus crop bill would be closed soon, probably within the next few days, and Mr. Haugen said that, after talking with members of the house in dead earnest to do something for the farmer at this time."

G. O. P. BLOCKS CANAL PROJECT

Washington, Mar. 24—(AP)—Republican house leaders flatly refused today to give legislative right of way at the present time to consideration of the all-American canal proposal that would link the Great Lakes with the Atlantic via the Hudson river.

At the same time it was disfavorably both upon this proposal and one to connect the lakes and the Atlantic by a channel down the St. Lawrence river.

W. B. Mayo of the Ford Motor corporation in a letter to Chairman Dempsey of the house rivers and harbors committee said the all-American route would serve the central west as a whole and had the advantage of being free from ice for one month longer each year than the other, but he also endorsed the St. Lawrence project.

The action of Republican leaders was taken at a Republican steering committee meeting held after Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican leader, had visited the White House and conferred with President Coolidge.

Mr. Tilson said it was considered that the all-American proposal was too large a project to be taken up except under an agreement that would permit ample time for its debate in the house. Representative Dempsey, Republican, New York, chairman of the house rivers and harbors committee, indicated he would try to get the all-American plan before the house in some way.

Lieut. Armstrong to Be Arraigned on Assault Charge

Lansing, Mich., Mar. 24—(AP)—Assistant Attorney Carl D. Mosler, with Lieut. Fred G. Armstrong and Detective C. E. Addison, left for Sandusky today where the state police will enter their appearance and arrange for bail on the assault and battery charge preferred against them by Pearl Dorland, alleged murderer of Roy Lee. It was decided to rush the state police officers accused by Dorland of using third degree methods to obtain a confession, back to Sandusky in order to facilitate proceedings and prevent deputy sheriffs from coming here to take the men in custody.

Armstrong denied to Alan G. Straight, commissioner of public safety, and others, that Dorland was abused. He stated Dorland was treated with kindness and offered the confession, he since has repudiated, of his own volition. Who will defend the state police in the assault and battery case was unknown. It cannot be a representative of the attorney general's office as the charge against the state employes is of a criminal nature. The attorney general may act for the defense only in civil cases.

ARTIFICIALITY RUINS INDUSTRY

Spruce Gum Is Now a Thing of the Past Maine Man Finds

Monson, Me.—Artificiality—that's the trouble with the world. You have for it the word of Harry Davis, last of Maine's spruce gum kings.

"If I should give the average boy or girl in New York, Chicago or any of the other big cities a chunk of spruce gum and tell them to chew it, they would spit it out and swear I was trying to poison them!" Davis observes.

It was different back yonder when folks relished Mother Nature's tidbits above those that are factory-made.

"Ask the old-timers," Davis goes on. "When they were kids, they hankered for spruce gum above everything else."

"Nowadays the young folks wouldn't know a spruce gum nugget from a hunk of putty. Yessir, try to get them to use spruce gum for their jaw exercise and they'd think you were trying to poison them."

A dozen or more big concerns were in the spruce gum business in Maine a couple of generations ago. Davis is about the only one left.

It takes hardihood and a keen eye to follow the gum-picking business, Davis explains. The pickers camp far back in the woods in mid-winter, and most of the gum nuggets they snip are no larger than the end of the thumb.

Seldom do they gather enough of the yield of the spruce trees to earn more than $5 a day.

"And next year," muses Davis, "They'll earn still less, I guess. For it's a dying industry. People don't know how good spruce gum is, any longer."

"The Indians knew, all right. They chewed spruce gum to keep their mouths from getting dry on long hikes, and to keep their stomachs topped up."

"The old-timers in New England who have any teeth left still call for it, but they're getting mighty few and far between."

"Artificiality—that's the trouble. People have got plumb away from nearly all the good, old-fashioned comforts and commodities that nature provides."

SALES ORDERS FLOOD MARKET

Scores of Stocks Drop Down From 3 to 13 Points.

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—A flood of selling orders broke upon the floor of the New York Stock Exchange today and prices of scores of active issues were carried down three to thirteen points as stocks were thrown overboard in seeming disregard of quoted value. Judged by the average of 20 leading industrial issues, which dropped 3.05 points to a new low record for the year, the decline was even more drastic than that of any single session in the sensational series of breaks earlier in the month, when the extreme drop for a single day was an even three points on March 2, 2,705,000 Shares Sold.

Total sales as compiled by Associated Press tabulators were 2,705,600 shares, more than double yesterday's total, but more than a million below the record-breaking total of 3,785,700 shares on March 3. Of the 587 individual issues traded in, only 44 showed net gains on the day, all but six of which were of a fractional nature.

The selling movement was attributed to a variety of causes. The calling of about $35,000,000 in bank loans, which sent the call money rate to 5 1/2 per cent, forcing speculators to pay high rates for stocks carried on long accounts, undoubtedly was a factor, but it was not the only one as "bull" markets have been successfully conducted with money rates at even higher levels.

This calling of loans also was interpreted as an indication that banks were attempting to force a further reduction in loans on stock and bond collateral, which have been the cause of some uneasiness since the revelation about a month ago that over $3,500,000,000 had been employed for this purpose. This figure has since been substantially reduced.

Today's selling was accompanied by reports of widespread cancellation of automobile orders, falling off in retail business and the lack of any appreciable increase in the demand for steel from the principal consuming industries.

Chapman Makes New Move to Save Life. Hartford, Conn., Mar. 24—(AP)—Gerald Chapman, bandit and convicted killer of a policeman, today signed a new petition for a writ of habeas corpus raising the contention whether he had a fair trial. The petition will be discussed at the conference of Chapman's lawyers in New York tomorrow as one of the plans to save him from the gallows on April 6.

Atty. Frederick J. Groehl of New York, senior counsel for the condemned man, announced today that Charles William Gregory, wanted as a witness, had been found. Gregory is the man who is said to have seen Chapman riding on a train from Springfield, Mass., to New York, on the eve of the murder of the policeman in New Britain on October 12, 1924, for which crime Chapman is under sentence to die.

Army Plane Takes First Night Trip on Air Mail Route

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Mar. 24—(AP)—In the first night trip over the air mail route to be made by an army plane, Lieut. Max Balfour, flying a plane equipped with beacons of 250,000 candle power, left here shortly before dark tonight for Detroit. The plane had as a passenger J. T. Trippe of Boston, head of the Colonial Air Lines which maintain an air mail service between Boston and Hadley Field, New Brunswick, N. J.

Mr. Trippe said he would confer with Edsel Ford in Detroit but would not elaborate on his plans.

LEITER GIRLS FRIENDS AGAIN

Chicago, Mar. 24—(AP)—The love of two sisters for each other today rose above the legal and financial differences which divided them five years ago when the Countess of Suffolk and Berke and Mrs. Colin Campbell, ranged upon either side in a bitter law suit over administration of the estate of Levi Z. Leiter, their father, embraced and kissed.

The scene was the courtroom of Judge Denis E. Sullivan, who will pass upon Lady Suffolk's plea for the removal, as a trustee of the estate, of her brother, Joseph Leiter.

Leiter, with whom Mrs. Campbell has aligned herself, caught in the whirl of family affection, crossed the room, smiling widely and grasped Lady Suffolk's hand. They chatted a few minutes in whispers and parted smilingly.

It was the first such gesture since the suit was called for hearing a week ago. The rift previously had been apparently as wide as at any time since 1921, when Mrs. Campbell wrote to the countess that their paths would divide if Lady Suffolk persisted in her accusations of high-handed mismanagement and neglect of duty against Leiter.

Despite the emotional exchange the contest progressed in earnest when the first evidence concerning alleged mismanagement by Leiter was adduced.

N. V. Kurtz, member of the board of control of Wyoming, gave testimony designed to show that Leiter had spent several hundred thousand dollars for unnecessary irrigation works. A huge reservoir was constructed, Kurtz testified, and more water than was needed to water the Leiter properties was impounded, even though there always was a sufficient natural flow, and the Wyoming law prevented sale of excess water.

SELECTING JURY. Topeka, Kans., Mar. 24—(AP)—Selection of a jury to try Jonathan M. Davis, former governor of Kansas, and his son, Russell, on charges of selling pardons, was begun in district court here late today after the defense failed in attempts to obtain dismissal or postponement of the case.

The former governor and his son will be tried jointly on the charge that a pardon was sold to Fred W. Polman, a convicted banker, for $1,250.

MEET ADOPTS TRAFFIC CODE

Age Limit for Automobile Drivers Set at Sixteen.

Washington, Mar. 24—(AP)—The second national conference on street and highway safety, presided over by Secretary Hoover, adopted a model nationwide traffic code today, following in the main the recommendations of a committee of experts.

Its general provisions included: A minimum age limit of 16 years for automobile drivers; 18 chauffeurs and school bus drivers, and 21 for drivers of public passenger-carrying vehicles, with abolition of temporary permits.

A speed limit of 20 miles an hour in residential zones and traffic-controlled business sections; 15 miles in business areas where there is no traffic control, and 35 miles in rural districts.

Curling and Waving Dries Life from Hair

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Dandering" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appealing as thick and abundant. Following hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Dandering" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant. Adv.

City Pledges Active Cooperation to Abate Smoke Nuisance Here

Pledges that the city administration will take prompt and energetic steps to abate, insofar as may be possible, the smoke which is pouring daily from the chimneys of Escanaba's public buildings, were given members of the Escanaba Woman's club yesterday afternoon.

Mayor W. J. Hanrahan and Councilman George G. Geniesse told the delegation of about fifty club women, at the conclusion of a conference in the city hall, that the city is ready to cooperate fully in the campaign for the elimination of smoke, and that steps would be taken at once to try out some system which may be recommended as practical. These promises had the endorsement of the other members of the council and of L. M. Beggs, representing the board of education.

The utmost frankness prevailed throughout the discussion of the matter. Officials admitted freely the charge that the gas plant and the school buildings controlled by the city, were among the worst offenders. Churches and other semi-public buildings also were included in the major list, but it was pointed out that every householder who burns soft coal in a heating plant is contributing to the clouds of soot, smoke and grime which hang over Escanaba.

The present anti-smoke ordinance is useless and unenforceable, it was emphasized throughout the conference. It prohibits any person from permitting "dark smoke" to issue from his chimney for a longer continuous period than 20 minutes. Enforcement of this measure would bring into police court every person who uses soft coal in a residential heating plant.

Broad cooperation of many interests will be necessary, it was agreed, if an anti-smoke campaign is to get results, and the pledge that the city administration would "begin at home" with its share of the task was highly gratifying to those who have been striving to find a solution for many months.

Mrs. Edward Erickson, president of the Woman's club, presided. Mrs. J. J. Cox, chairman of the club's civic affairs committee, led the discussion. There were brief talks, all emphasizing the need and desirability of smoke abatement, by a number of members, including Mrs. G. W. Moll, Mrs. P. T. Noonan, Mrs. George Ramspeck, Mrs. L. P. Trieber, Mrs. I. G. English, Mrs. Herman Gessner, Mrs. R. P. Mason, Mrs. M. J. Fillion, Mrs. M. E. Main, Mrs. A. F. Alek, Mrs. F. Mineau, Mrs. S. Greenhoot, Mrs. A. Ellsworth and Mrs. Q. R. Hessel.

Mayor Hanrahan and the other members of the city council, City Mgr. Fred R. Harris, City Atty. T. J. Riley, Secretary O. I. Bannan of the Chamber of Commerce, L. M. Beggs of the board of education, and C. J. Byrns, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Cleanup-Paintup committee, also spoke.

Following the session of the civic committee, the club held its regular business session at which Mrs. George Ramspeck and Mrs. A. Ellsworth were named delegates to the district convention to be held in May at Wakefield.

One new member was elected into membership, various reports were submitted and plans to increase the scholarship fund were also discussed.

A good attendance at the meeting was enjoyed.

HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood.—These envious ones called him "the queerest fish in a strange sea." And Josef von Sternberg, who was plain Joe Sternberg before film flakes were cast upon him, rather enjoyed the epithet.

To kindle the flame that covetous ones began, Joe changed his name to the more euphonious one, garbed himself in Bohemian attire, let his hair grow into waving locks with the aid of a large and knotted staff. He gave them plenty to talk about. And in so doing provided the passing parade with a free and amusing show.

Sternberg in the celluloid ontology who became convulsed with the idea that thought could be depicted on the screen. In "The Salvation Hunters" he proved that it was possible although the picture failed commercially due to a public that relishes "The Sins of Sable" and the like.

And just when oblivion yawned for Sternberg, Charlie Chaplin assigned him to direct Edna Purriance in what will probably be one of the most interesting pictures of the year.

All is well in Hollywood. I heard a sermon over the radio the other Sunday at Roscoe Arbuckle's home in Beverly Hills.

Why Shakespeare quit writing: Edmund Lowe, movie vint of the male species, says—"The most difficult task in an actor's life is keeping physically fit between pictures. Without the necessity of having to rise at seven in the morning to go to the studio, the temptation to remain abed until mid-day is strong. But a few days of this sort of thing and the actor would find it difficult to return to the regular workday routine."

Jimmy Starr, a scrivener, wrote his masterpiece, named it "Latin Love," and sold it to a movie company. When released it bore the title stamp of "Shackled Youth."

"My, O my," wailed Jimmy, when he saw the change. "Youth on Crutches" would have been even better."

Answer to J. S. M.—No, Rex Ingram's latest picture, "Mars Nostrum," is not a race horse story.

There is many a man in Hollywood who would feel greatly complimented if Rupert Hughes said of him what he charged against George Washington. Hughes merely declared that "the Father of our country" was "a distiller of good whiskey, fluent with cursing and often danced through the night."

Banner Productions are making a film entitled "The Man With the Brooding Eyes." We suggest its sequel, "The Man With the Liver Complaint," also be made.

Motion picture producers are glad that Moses only wrote 10 commandments. Because of the lack in commandments film men have been able to reap fortunes from Moses' oversight.

"The Eleventh Commandment," "The Eleventh Commandment" and "The Unknown Commandment" have all been created for the screen. Now comes Robert Kane with another one. He calls it "The New Commandment." I failed to locate it.

In "Just Suppose," Richard Barthelmess enacts the role of a prince. One of the minor players in the cast, Prince Rokeneddine, is of authentic nobility. Another essence to flavor our make-believe kingdoms.

Newberry Meets Reed City in East Lansing Tourney Opener

NEGAUNEE TO PLAY TONIGHT

Michigan Is Entered in Tournament at Ann Arbor.

East Lansing, Mich., Mar. 24—(AP)—The Class B and Class C basketball championships of Michigan will be determined by the tournament that starts at Michigan State college tomorrow. Two of the contenders have traveled from the Upper Peninsula—Negaunee and Newberry, competing respectively in Class B and Class C. Two parochial schools, survivors of preliminary tournaments, are St. James (Bay City) and the Holy Redeemer (Detroit), and form a Class C, the latter a Class B entrant.

Newberry vs Reed City. Play will start at 1 p. m., with Newberry meeting Reed City. Four games, two in each class, will be played during the afternoon and four at night. Newberry and Reed City are both rated as high scoring combinations, the latter teams having the best record. Newberry's total score for tournament play in the Upper Peninsula finals was 96 in four games. Reed City in three regional tournament games scored 103 points.

The second game of the afternoon will be between Oxford and Three Oaks. The Three Oaks team scintillated in regional play at Kalamazoo where it defeated by high scores Pennville, Hartford and St. Johns of Jackson.

The Class B games tomorrow afternoon are: Mt. Pleasant vs Holy Redeemer (Detroit) and Petoskey vs Sturgis.

Negaunee Plays Tonight. Mt. Pleasant swept into the state finals by decisive victories over Mt. Pleasant Indian school, Alma and Midland, and Holy Redeemer took the measure of Ford Trade school, Royal Oak and St. Marys. Petoskey won the tournament at that city, spilling Alpena, Traverse City and Cadillac. Sturgis was winner of the Kalamazoo Class B tournament, winning from Marshall and St. Joseph and by default from South Haven.

The other teams in the tournament, St. James (Bay City), Brown City, Rogers City and Milan in Class C; Negaunee, Grand Haven, Dearborn and St. Joseph in Class B, play tomorrow night.

CLASS A-D TOURNEY. Ann Arbor, Mich., Mar. 24—(AP)—Michigan's eight best high school basketball teams tomorrow will start the final three days of play to determine which shall carry for the next 12 months the title "1926 champions for Michigan."

The competitors are three Detroit schools—Southeastern, Northwestern and Highland Park—Flint, Muskegon, Ann Arbor, Lansing and Holland. These are the eight Class A teams that survived last week's regional tournaments.

In addition to the Class A games, the Class D title will be decided here, the competing teams being Hersey, Grand Blanc, St. Marys (Chelsea), St. Albans (Alpena), Maple Rapids, Lawrence, Marysville and Michigan.

Only four teams in each class will play tomorrow night, the others meeting Friday morning. Semi-finals are Friday night and the finals in the two classes Saturday night.

Ann Arbor Undefeated. The draw for pairings pit Ann Arbor against Detroit Northwestern in the first Class A game of the tournament, the game starting at 5 p. m., Northwestern finished in fourth place in the Detroit high school basketball league, winning the right to play in the present tournament by defeating Detroit Western, which was tied with Highland Park for third place. During the league season, Northwestern won 8 and lost 4 games.

Ann Arbor high has the team with the most enviable record in the state, having completed both its regular season and its regional tournament play without a defeat. Ann Arbor won 11 straight games and then polished off Port Huron and Lansing in the regional play.

Detroit S. E. vs Holland. Detroit Southeastern, present champions, meets Holland in the other Class A game tomorrow night. Southeastern has lost only one game this year, being beaten by Detroit Western. Southeastern finished the Detroit league season with 11 victories, topping the 13 schools in the circuit.

Holland was runner-up to Muskegon in the Kalamazoo regional tournament, losing the final game 16 to 24. This team had a narrow escape in its first round, going overtime to gain a 25-22 decision over Benton Harbor. In its semi-final contest Holland won from Grand Rapids Union, rated a weak team, 24 to 22. The Class D games tonight are: Hersey vs Grand Blanc, St. Marys (Chelsea) vs St. Albans (Alpena).

The tournament opens at 7 p. m., with the Hersey-Grand Blanc game.

BOOTLEG TRUST ANNUAL PROFITS OVER $200,000,000

By NEA Service. Cleveland, O.—This is the story of the barons of bootleg—who played for blue chips only, and without a limit.

They organized the greatest conspiracy against the federal laws in all our history. They sought—and obtained—control of the bootleg industry, an industry which, though illegitimate, has taken rank in the last few years with the country's biggest.

Percentage profits made by other "big businesses" paled into puny insignificance beside their own enormous gains. They played a hazardous game, and through it ran a sinister trail of daring outlawry.

Murder—bribe-taking, bribery—betrayal of high trust. For three years this gigantic syndicate went about its crooked-business, piling up huge profits and growing with each year until the network of its operations reached from coast to coast.

Made $200,000,000 a Year. With an estimated output from all the distilleries of 900,000 gallons a week, the ring distributed at wholesale prices nearly a quarter billion dollars worth of the stuff to the bootleg trade in one year.

And all but one-eighth of this was profit. True, some of the profits were used to bribe crooked officials and to hire murderous gunmen, but the stakes were high—higher than any legitimate business offered. And even if only three-fourths of it had been net profit—a low estimate—the ring still cleared nearly $200,000,000.

It is doubtful if any corporation in the country, no matter how big, can show such a profit.

Then Uncle Sam struck. Here in Cleveland, base of operations of the bootleg barons, the government laid down its cards, and the biggest conspiracy indictment in the history of the country was returned.

Millionaires Back of It. It named 112 defendants in 12 cities, reaching from Boston to San Francisco. Others will be indicted.

The entire plot, the government charges, was conceived and carried out by four Philadelphia millionaires and their associates, known as "The Wall Street of the rum ring." These four were two sets of brothers, Dave and Ben Gerson and Frank and Ben Fogel. These men, the "big four," controlled the trade from their luxurious offices in Philadelphia, it is alleged.

In April, 1923, the Gersons and the Fogels organized the Superior Industrial Alcohol company and two subsidiaries, in Cleveland. The ostensible purpose was to withdraw pure grain alcohol from government warehouses and denature it. When alcohol is withdrawn for denaturing purposes it may be had for 60 cents a gallon, without paying the government tax of $2.20, which is levied on beverage alcohol.

The Superior distillery, the government charges, did not denature alcohol, but bought, made and sold pure grain alcohol. The two subsidiaries, it is alleged, handled enough denatured alcohol to "cover up" the Superior company.

Distributing syndicates were organized in the underworld from coast to coast, to wholesale the alcohol to bootleggers. It couldn't have been done, of course, unless palms had been "greased," and federal officials, detectives, railroad police, even judges, are involved in the conspiracy.

In June, 1925, Thomas E. Stone, then tri-state prohibition director in charge of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, tipped by a railroad police chief who couldn't be bribed, seized a carload of grain alcohol on a siding in Cleveland. It was traced to the Superior distillery.

Then Harry Volpe of Providence, R. I., went to Stone and U. S. Atty. A. E. Bernstein and told them a story of having been double-crossed. Volpe, a grocer, had made three fortunes in the bootlegging business and had lost them all by being "gyped."

An instance of the enormous profits made can be had from Volpe's story of how, as a keeper of a tiny store on a Rhode Island beach, he had been annoyed by rum runners unloading cargoes of whisky on his beach. They offered him 25 cents a case for the privilege, and in

FEW CHANGES AT PIN MEET

Toledo, O., Mar. 24—(AP)—Ninth place in the doubles and tenth in the individuals were the only changes in the minor events of the American Bowling Congress here. Tony Schwaegler and Adolph Gruendler of Madison, Wis., collected games of 426, 425 and 409 for 1263 in the two-men event which placed them in the standings of the first ten.

M. Klinger of Erie, Pa., put together single games of 212, 233 and 232 for a 677 which also admitted him to the list. Schwaegler's share of the set was 664. He had been a "big league" bowler for several years. In the A. B. C. tournament in 1909 at Peoria, Ill., Schwaegler, with his brother, won the championship for that year with 1304, the first "1300" score ever rolled by two men in the A. B. C.

There were only two other better than 1200 scores today. Carroll and Hackett of Madison had 1215 for one of them and the other was a 1207 by Hackettstein and Calvin of Cleveland.

Teams from Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland, Walkerville, Ont., Troy, N. Y., Brandon, Man., Benton Harbor, Mich., Toledo, St. Louis, Dayton, Beaver, Pa., and Schenectady, N. Y., took the alleys on the first shift for a shot at the 3053 made by the Port Huron recreation team more than a week ago.

Obstacles Beset Chicagoan's Plan for Skating Team

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—Negotiations to organize a team of American and Canadian ice skating stars to tour Canada, the United States and Europe next winter, launched by Otis Taylor, Chicago promoter, encountered obstacles today.

Joe Moore of New York, former international indoor amateur speed skating champion, announced he had rejected Taylor's proposal, which would involve turning professional, while Charley Gorman, Canadian champion, put a price of $15,000 on his services for the venture, according to advices from St. John.

According to Moore, the Chicago promoter's proposal embraced offers to two other amateur stars, Richard Donovan and Valentine Bialis, in addition to Everett McGowan, Francis Allen, Art Staff, Edmund Lamy and Norval Baptie, professional skaters, and Gladys Lamb and Gladys Robinson, women stars.

Trueblood Resigns From Faculty of Univ. of Michigan

Ann Arbor, Mich., Mar. 24—(AP)—The board of regents of the University of Michigan tonight accepted the resignation of Thomas C. Trueblood, as professor of public speaking, effective at the close of this year's summer school. Professor Trueblood was head of the department of public speaking and has been connected with the university for 50 years.

Teachers of public speaking throughout the state who will be here for the meeting of the Schoolmasters' club, will tender a dinner on April 2 to Professor Trueblood in honor of his seventieth birthday.

Plans for an architectural building drawn by the architectural faculty were accepted by the board of regents. The plans were referred to the committee on buildings and grounds with authority to make contracts for the building.

three weeks he had collected $43,000.

No "Ribbon Clerks." And Volpe was only "small fry!" Then he went out for bigger profits, but stubbed his toe because the "big boys" played a game that "kept the ribbon clerks out."

In Minneapolis two of the indicted men are serving life sentences for murder. They, too, plead that they were framed and double-crossed, although they do admit having been hired as professional gunmen by the ring to protect alcohol shipments. Other shootings and murders there were, but they never were solved.

Without Volpe's confession, the government might have been stumped. Even so, it was necessary to call in George E. Golding and Eugene R. O'Brien, special federal agents, and a corps of assistants.

They checked the operations of the heads of the rum ring in the east. Telephone, telegraph and messenger communications were traced. Bills of lading and orders were checked.

An elaborate code had been worked out by the conspirators, and the wires, after the first shipment seizure in Cleveland, seized with long distance calls. A woman in Atlantic City who had leased her residence—a pretentious mansion—became suspicious when she saw a monthly telephone bill that ran into the hundreds of dollars. Sleuths traced it, and found that the house was being used as a temporary headquarters.

Princess Dorsen Victorious Over Tucky Cardinal

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—Princess Dorsen, ridden by McTague, beat Kentucky Cardinal by a head in the handicap at a mile and a furlong at Tia Juana today. Roycroft, bracketed with Kentucky Cardinal in the Croisnet colors, shot forward at the quarter in an apparent effort to wear down Princess Dorsen but McTague held the mare in restraint in fourth place.

Roycroft weakened at the stretch turn and Kentucky Cardinal went ahead but Princess Dorsen, with 120 pounds aboard, moved up and had the reserve to win. Roycroft placed third. The time was 1:50 4-5, just 1 2-5 seconds slower than Carlaris ran the distance Sunday.

Rookies Are Holding Their Own in Battle for Places on Teams

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—Infield construction, problem of many major league baseball teams, has reached its final stage with a general atmosphere of managerial satisfaction over the training camps' tests of extravagant minor league purchases.

The struggle of high-priced recruits against veteran campaigners for positions in the pivotal combinations around second base has found youngsters more than holding their own.

The New York Yankees will display a brand new outfit in Mark Koenig and Tony Lazarte. The Detroit Tigers have given Gehring, their Toronto purchase, the call over Frank O'Rourke, at second base, while Hunnefeld has apparently nosed out the veteran Everett Scott as first string Walter Sox shortstop.

Buddy Myer, promising Washington infielder, has been regularly appearing at shortstop for the Senators, although Manager Bucky Harris announced in mid-winter he expected to start the veteran Roger Peckinpaugh. Spurgeon, regular second sacker of the Cleveland Indians, is being pressed by a promising recruit in Guy Lacy.

Maurice Snannon, last year with Louisville, seems to have satisfied Manager McCarthy as the Cubs' best shortstop possibility for 1926, while Frank Emmer appears likely to crowd Bohne out of the same post in the Cincinnati innerworks. At the camp of the champion Pirates, a three-cornered second base fight has been in progress, with Hal Rhyne, Pacific Coast find, making a strong impression on Manager McKechnie, although Johnny Rawlings or Eddie Moore may get the call.

FREAK LINGUISTIC CASE

Honolulu.—A freak linguistic case came to light here recently in the court of domestic relations. Robert Soares, born here and now 11, cannot speak the language of Hawaii; that is, English, nor can he speak Portuguese, the language of his forebears. He is a fluent speaker of Japanese, however. He has lived with a Japanese couple since his parents deserted him.

New York, Mar. 24—(AP)—Young Stribling, Georgia's light heavyweight challenger, and Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, N. Y., meet for the second time tomorrow night in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Slattery is expected to have a slight weight advantage, but Stribling rules a favorite as a result of the Buffalo's knockout defeats last year at the hands of Dave Shade and Paul Berlenbach.

The northern entry will have the confidence resulting from a point victory over his opponent in their first battle at Buffalo two years ago over the six-round route. Both since then have reached their majority and are eligible under the New York rules to box 15 rounds.

The match is important to Slattery as an opportunity to regain prestige, while to Stribling it will bring a chance to balance his defeat by Slattery.

BOB BLACK HAS GREAT RECORD

Ironwood High Has Lost Only Three Grid Games In Five Years

Ironwood, March 24.—In his five years as coach of the football and basketball squads of Luther L. Wright high school, Coach Bob Black has established an enviable record—a mark probably no other two-sport man can match in the school's north of the straits.

During that five year period, Ironwood high school football squads have won 26, lost three and tied two games and the basketball teams have won 51 and lost 15 games. The basketball record is all the more remarkable because of the fact that until the season just ended, the high school cagers have not had a gymnasium of their own in which to practice. And the conditions under which they trained previous to this season were anything but conducive to good basketball.

Lost Away From Home.

The three games that Coach Black's football teams lost were lost away from home. In 1921, after losing to Ashland, the high school squad went to Calumet and was squeaked out of the Upper Peninsula championship by a score of 19 to 13. In 1922 the team traveled to Menominee and lost the only game of the season, 25 to 0.

And since that time the Ironwood high school football squads have gone undefeated.

The game at Menominee was the only one in which a Red Devil outfit was defeated and also held scoreless. Isn't that an indication of rare fighting spirit? Incidentally, Menominee gave Ironwood its worst beating on the football field since Coach Bob has been here, but Ironwood retaliated and gave Menominee its worst drubbing in his history, 41 to 0, last fall.

The record of points for football shows Ironwood made 905 while the opponents scored 197.

Same True in Caging.

Twelve of the 15 games lost in basketball were lost away from home.

Ironwood scored 1,850 points while its opponents registered 1,101. Ironwood has entered the Upper Peninsula basketball tournament five times, winning third place once and second place in class B on three different occasions. The year Ironwood failed to place it was eliminated by Negaunee, 18 to 17, and Negaunee later won the class championship.

Negaunee gave Ironwood its worst beating at the tournament, 30 to 12, but Ironwood gave Negaunee its worst tournament drubbing a few years ago, 18 to 6.

Besides the high school competition, Ironwood lost one football game and won one in playing Northland college and won three and lost one basketball game to the college.

Even Bested Alumni.

Even against the alumni organizations, which would not be considered in the records of the youngsters, the high school squads won three and lost one football contest and won four and lost two games of basketball.

Coach Bob Black, a Georgetown man, came here in 1920 with Jim Moss and succeeded Moss as coach the following season. It must be said of Coach Black, that he has never had a hand picked schedule. In football he has tackled such teams as Duluth Central in the opening contest and in basketball such squads as Superior Central to start the season.

PIN-SPILLERS "PEPPING UP"

Arcade Making Extensive Plans for Handling 1927 Tourney

Elaborate preparations for handling the 1927 tournament of the Upper Peninsula Bowling association, already have been launched by the management of the Arcade Alleys, its management revealed yesterday. "Nothing will be left undone," said Jake boys glad they selected Escanaba.

An analysis of the report shows as their tournament city for next year.

Local bowlers received the news of the choosing of Escanaba with enthusiasm. Many new teams will be organized early in the fall preparatory to tournament entry. Word from Gladstone indicates that that city will cooperate fully in making the tourney here a live one.

Carl Sawyer of Escanaba is president of the U. P. Association, having been elected to that office at the business meeting at Ishpeming last week. William Leach of Escanaba is secretary.

The Arcade alleys will be extensively overhauled and "stickered up" during the summer season.

NEW BOWLING TEAM

Nelson's Comets, a newly organized team of bowlers, will clash with the Gladstone Legion outfit Friday night at the Community alleys. The local maple smashers have issued a challenge to any team in Escanaba, Gladstone and Manistique. The members of the quint are: E. Nelson, Leo Brunell, Ollie Pfister, Gene Williams and Pete Christenson.

INDIANS BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

Very Few Changes But Material Better Conditioned Than in 1925

BY BILLY EVANS.

Lakeland, Fla., March 24.—Cleveland finished sixth in the American League last season. This year Cleveland will be represented by practically the same lineup. It is hardly possible that any of the veterans will be displaced.

What about the prospects of the Indians? On the above information, form players would figure the Indians might be sixth but hardly any better.

In the camp of the Indians there is no such a pessimistic feeling. The team as a whole believes it is a better ball club than the aggregation of 1925 and intends to prove it.

When I asked Manager Speaker his opinion he replied: "It is now, and will continue throughout the season to be, a much better condition team than that of 1925."

Much Better Team Spirit.

"There is a much better spirit on the ball club. That should help considerably.

The team will get greatly improved pitching. On that feature of play I base my strongest hopes for progress in the pennant race.

Regardless of where Cleveland finishes this year, it is going to be a much better ball club and is going to play far more interesting baseball. That much I can promise the fans."

Exporting a ball club that finished sixth last season and is almost certain to start with the same lineup makes it necessary to get some new angle.

Working along those lines, the physical condition of the Cleveland club as compared to that of last year impressed me most.

I doubt if the entire squad of veterans and rookies is carrying more than 35 pounds * of excess weight. Pitcher Joe Shaute alone had that much last year.

The Cleveland club is going to be in good shape for a flying start and Manager Speaker is banking on getting it, if his pitching delivers.

Pitching is Speaker's problem like that of most every other manager. If Joe Shaute and George Uhle come through, then the Indians are 35 per cent more efficient. If they fail, the club goes down with them.

Joe Shaute, who reported weighing about 230 last spring, is around 190. George Uhle, who was better than 200 last year, is around 180.

These two pitchers are physically fit. Last year poor condition handicapped them. This year there will be no such excuse.

In ranking my teams I wouldn't pick Cleveland to win the pennant, but I might add there are less formidable clubs in the American League.

Efficient pitching by Uhle and Shaute would make the club a first-division possibility, and that kind of baseball interests fandom.

OLD FIDDLERS STILL COMING INTO CONTEST

"I can play till the cows come home but I don't know a note from a goose-track," says Charlie Wilson of Roberts' Camp, Mashek Branch, Arnold post office, in sending his entry for the Old Fiddlers' contest to be staged by the Elks here April 7 in connection with the order's annual indoor circus.

Absolem Brunette, of the same address, will challenge Mr. Wilson's supremacy in the contest, at least he sends his entry in at the same time.

Albert Dubord of Danforth is another new entry in the contest. The Fiddler's contest committee of the Elks will have a meeting within the next few days and will arrange the definite program for the event in which about thirty old timers will compete.

TRAINING CAMP FLASHES

By NEA Service.

Lakeland, Fla., March 24.—Charley Jamieson, rated the best outfielder in the American League in 1924, who slumped so badly last season, looks set for a good year.

"Got off bad, did everything wrong, lost confidence in myself and then I just dragged along to a bad finish," is the way Jamie explains it.

Fred Spurgeon, assigned to play second for Cleveland this year, is a shortstop at heart. He much prefers to play that position. On the same team with Joe Sewell he is out of luck.

If "Red" Strader, California football star, makes the grade as Cleveland catcher, American League base-runners are going to meet stern opposition at the plate. Husky and with football experience, Strader blocks the runner as effectively as Steve O'Neill did in his palmy days.

Strader comes to the Indians on recommendation of Charley Schmidt, who back in the years when the Tygers were winning pennants did much of the catching for Detroit. Schmidt says Strader won't be ready for a year, possibly two, but when he arrives Cleveland will have a great catcher.

A tendency to erratic play in the field last season cost the Indians many a ball game. Manager Speaker is working overtime in an effort to correct fielding faults. Batting in a sense being temporarily sidetracked.

Southpaw Sherry Smith, looking not a day older than he did 10 years ago, reckons he will win a few games for Mister Speaker.

Joe Sewell is generally recognized as the most valuable shortstop in the American League. He is easily the greatest hitter and Wright of Pittsburgh, alone, outshines him in fielding. When you consider that Sewell has paired up with about a dozen different second basemen in the last three years it is remarkable that his fielding has been so consistently good.

If Bob Knode could only hit major league pitching to the tune of .375 to .300, the first base problem of the Cleveland club would be solved. He sure can field.

On the other hand if "Sat" Summa could grasp the intricacies of fielding, the right field on the ball club would be settled. He sure can hit.

Manager Speaker says his legs feel better than in a couple of years and he plans on missing few games. The way he is hitting the ball there is nothing wrong with his optics.

The only battle for a position on the Indians is at third, the rookie Hodapp and the veteran Lutze being the contenders. At present both are going great.

Joe Shaute is working hard to perfect a curve ball after the manner of the one thrown by Herb Penneck. Joe realizes such a hook would greatly increase his effectiveness.

NEW CUE KING

ERICH HAGENLACHER

Meet the newly crowned king of the billiard world—Erich Hagenlacher of Germany. As you perhaps know, Hagenlacher gained top honors by handing Jake Schaefer, defending titleholder, a decisive defeat. The German expert's victory came as a real surprise in cue circles.

Athlison, Kas.—Perhaps the queerest family group lives in the Athlison zoo. In a pen live Dixie, buck deer, six chickens, and a big yellow alley cat. At night the deer curls up in its shelter and the cat and chickens hover in close proximity, absorbing the warmth from the deer's body.

At feeding time the deer pushes its muzzle into the feed trough and then lets the chickens pick the bits of bread and grain from its face. And the cat has forgotten how to wash its face and hands. Dixie gives the cat a thorough tongue bath regularly.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

Presenting a fresh and sparkling story, a cast of celebrities names, a modern version of life, plot with a unique twist, and Marion Davies as the star, "Zander the Great," the newest Cosmopolitan production released through Metro-Goldwyn, will be shown at the Delft again today.

"Zander the Great" was adapted by Frances Marion from the Salisbury Field stage play, in which Alice Brady starred for a most two years on Broadway.

Directed by George William Hill, it contains all the suspense and interest of the stage production with scores of added thrill and delightfully refreshing situations.

Marion Davies is given unusual opportunity for her versatility in the role of Marie, a little orphan girl who is left with a motherless child to care for.

Combining deft comedy touches with strong drama and with western twang to the later episodes of the picture, "Zander" promises a new achievement for Miss Davies.

AT THE STRAND

One of the finest all-star casts ever assembled for any film production essays the roles in "The Re-creation of Brian Kent," which is the attraction at the Strand again today. With it theme of a man made great by love, this Principal Pictures Master Attraction is a perfect translation to the screen of Harold Bell Wright's phenomenally popular novel of the same title. Mr. Wright, himself, personally selected the cast which includes: Kenneth Harlan, Helene Chadwick, Mary Carr, ZaSu Pitts, Russell Simpson, Ralph Lewis, Rosemary Theby, Roy Barnes, Russell Powell.

Radio Club Vital If Fans Get Action; Besser Asks Support

"If radio fans would wake up to the fact that by a little co-operation and co-ordination of efforts, they can solve at least seventy-five per cent of their difficulties, we'd have a mighty lively and energetic radio club in Escanaba," in the opinion of O. C. Besser, local radio engineer.

"Some of the interference we have to contend with here is unavoidable. They're having it everywhere," Mr. Besser went on, "but the greater quantity of it is purely local. I've had considerable experience in this work and I know whereof I speak. Many bad situations here can be cleaned up and will have to be cleaned up if the radio sets in Escanaba ever function properly.

"The only way to correct this situation is for receiving set owners and radio dealers to band together and assert their rights.

"I don't believe anyone who owns a set is satisfied with its operation this winter. If these owners would only realize that in union there is strength, and that a solid front will be the only way they'll get anywhere, things would change very quickly."

Mr. Besser said he expected, within the next few days to interview the radio dealers of the city concerning a club project. He suggests that all fans interested to show him at the Reliable Battery shop and let him know they are willing to co-operate in the project.

"We ought to have 500 members," he declared.

OLD RESIDENT OF GARDEN BAY PASSES AWAY

Additional Garden News will be published in next Sunday's Daily Press.

One of Garden's oldest pioneer residents died at the family home about three miles out of town on Saturday morning. The late Jean Baptiste Giusiano had been in failing health for some months past but was only confined to his bed for a little while previous to his death.

Deceased was born in Italy nearly seventy five years ago and at the age of eighteen moved to Paris, France. In 1876 he was united in matrimony to Adele Daums of Paris. After four years of married life, they came out to America, with Chicago as their destination. Here they remained only two months when they decided to come north and locate at Fayette. For two years Mr. Giusiano worked for the Jackson Iron Co., after which he moved to the location which remained his home to the time of his death. This place was at that time a wild forest. His wife, who survives him, was always a willing and efficient partner in the various enterprises of building a home and a livelihood. With her help, a plot of ground was first cleared and a home built. Subsequently, assisted by his wife, he cleared more land, cutting cord wood and selling to the Jackson Iron Co. The farm today consists of thirty three hundred and thirty acres. He was always a steady and industrious worker and was one of the very few on the peninsula who took pleasure in remaining at his tasks on the farm rather than running around in an automobile. Very seldom has he been seen in this village but his large farm is considered to be one of the best equipped on the peninsula and he was considered to be one of the most successful farmers here. He will be missed by many who knew him from the time of the early pioneer days.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one son Peter, who is now operating the farm, and one daughter, Mrs. Michael Kauffman, also eight grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The funeral was in the local Catholic church with Rev. Fr. Morin officiating, burial in the Catholic burying ground south of town. Funeral arrangements were in the hands of undertaker Truckey, with Dave Suldier, Wesley Gray, Jos. St. John Sr., August Mercier, Philip Plante and Alex. Mellon, near neighbors and friends, acting as pall bearers.

THE RIBBEL CASE

Isabella, March 23 (To the Editor)—Owing to the death of my daughter-in-law I have been delayed in taking up the matter of the Ribbel case edited by you in your March 14th edition. Ribbel was guilty of assault and rape of my daughter and Sheriff Carney will bear me out in my statement. He paid all costs but was not prosecuted for reasons known only to the prosecuting attorney and Judge McEwen.

Report Influenza at State Prisons

Lansing, Mar. 24.—(AP)—Influenza is prevalent in state penal institutions, according to reports received today by Dr. R. M. Olin, state health commissioner. About 200 cases were being treated in Jackson, about 50 in Ionia and 25 in the Cambridge road camp. No report was received from Marquette.

Inmates afflicted have been placed under strict medical attention and there is little danger of a more serious spread of the disease, Dr. Olin said.

A score or more cases have developed at the Michigan State college and mild epidemic has been felt in several parts of the state.

Method Provided for Measuring Up Wood Pile Content

Escanaba, March 24.—(To the Editor)—Can you tell me of any method provided by state law or city ordinance whereby the purchaser of wood for fuel may be sure he is getting his money's worth? There are times when I am extremely skeptical.

Method Provided.
The matter is covered specifically in Section 17 of Ordinance No. 1, of the city charter which reads:

"It shall be the duty of the city purchaser, upon demand of the purchaser of cord wood to measure such wood and determine the quantity in cords and cubic feet of all loads, parcels or lots of wood measured by him, and he shall furnish the parties interested with memorandum certificates of the quantity found by him and keep a record thereof. . . designating the same in such record by such description as will be sufficient to identify the same."

Officers Hunting Relatives, Friends of Demented Man

Completely broken down, mentally, and unable to give his name or tell anything at all about himself, a man, apparently Russian, was taken to the county jail yesterday for observation. He imagines he is on a sinking steamer and works continually at a hand pump. Efforts are being made to identify him and find relatives of friends who might be interested in his case.

He is short and rather stockily built, has blue eyes and a blond moustache, and wears the garb of a woodsman. He was taken into custody in a restaurant near the Chicago & North-Western station, but no one in that vicinity could be found who knew him.

If the people of Escanaba will but remember the pleasures enjoyed by themselves and others, through the band concerts arranged during the past two summers, there will be little question as to favorable action on the proposal to pay the cost of supporting a municipal band for the coming year, out of city tax funds, instead of funds taken from the earnings of the municipal utilities, as in the past.

MUSICAL IS PROGRAM OF REAL WORTH

Presenting a program of good music given by exceptional talent, the musical given Tuesday evening at the Junior high school auditorium, proved one of the most enjoyable events held in Gladstone in some time.

The program was arranged under the supervision of Mrs. C. H. Teague, with the assistance of Mrs. G. R. Empson and Mrs. D. N. Kee, as a benefit for the playground fund of the Central Parent-Teachers association.

The number were varied. Quartet selections by a mixed quartet, a ladies' quartet and a male quartet, were excellent. Songs by Mrs. H. J. Skogquist and Miss Ethel Ross, soloist, were given in a finished manner. Instrumental numbers including violin solos, piano solos, a violin quartet and a trio of piano, cello and violin were exceptionally fine and songs by the high school glee club were much enjoyed.

Readings.
Contributing much to the entertainment feature of the program was an Edgar Guest reading by Miss Ruby Skellenger and readings by Mrs. Hazel Quarstrom who is very good in negro dialect stories.

The program in its entirety, was well arranged and was well given and it will be remembered as an evening of real enjoyment by those who attended it.

FINE MEETING HELD BY ROYAL NEIGHBORS

Members of the Royal Neighbors society held an enjoyable meeting Tuesday evening at the Community club rooms. A large number of members were present.

A business session was held after which a social time was enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served.

The social time was also a party in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Gaspar Page, Past Oracle of the lodge. Mrs. Page was presented with a gift, a remembrance of the members of the society.

FOUNDER'S DAY MEETING IS WELL ATTENDED

A very good attendance marked the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Alice Memorial Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at which Founder's Day was observed by the members and their guests.

A Founder's Day program in keeping with the observance was given with some fine numbers included in it.

The program opened with a missionary hymn sung by the assembly and followed by prayer by Rev. H. W. Colenso, pastor. A song was given by the members of the Young Woman's Foreign Missionary society. The Founder's Day Proclamation was presented by Mrs. William Marble followed by a song by the King's Heralds.

Miss Helen LaFaver gave a reading and Mrs. E. Foster sang a solo number, "The Ninety and Nine," followed by a group of songs by the Standard Bearers.

The closing song, "The King's Highway" sung by the assembly was followed by missionary benediction.

The program was a splendid observance of the day, both in its subtleties to the occasion and in the excellence of its numbers.

Social Hour.
At the close of the program a short social time was enjoyed and a lunch was served.

The meeting was held in the parlors of the church.

PAST MASTERS BANQUET HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

Past Masters' Night, an annual observance, was held by members of Gladstone Lodge, F. and A. M., Tuesday evening at the Masonic hall.

The Past Masters' banquet, presentation of the jewel and degree work were included in the arrangements for the evening.

The banquet, a delicious dinner, prepared and served by members of the Order of Eastern Star, was at 6:30 o'clock.

The invocation was given by the Reverend Mr. Grant, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who filled the place of the chaplain, Rev. H. W. Colenso, who was unable to be present because of his special Lenten service at Alice Memorial church.

Music on the program was furnished by an orchestra.

At the close of the banquet C. E. Hawkins, acting as toastmaster, called upon John D. Staple, Mr. Staple, the last Past Master, made the presentation of the Past Master's Jewel to George Sinclair, the newest Past Master, giving a splendid presentation address. Mr. Sinclair's response was equally fine.

Following this work in the third degree was exemplified by the Past Masters.

THEATRES

COMMUNITY COMEDY.
A futuristic funnybone tickler is Hal Roach's latest laugh-maker, starring Clyde Cook, "What's the World Coming To?" which will be another feature of the program at the Community theatre today and Friday. The time is a hundred years from today, when men have become more like women and women more like men. This novel idea forms the basis of many imaginative and hilarious situations in which the women run things and the men sit home and wonder when mama is coming home—if at all. Supporting Cook in a comedy that is said to be as amusing as it is unusual are Katherine Grant, Martha Sleeper and Jimmie Finlayson.

AT THE LYRIC.
A drama of everyday life, telling a story of real people in simple direct and gripping fashion—a story filled with whimsical humor, deep pathos and wholesome romance—such is "Lazybones," the William Fox production which opened yesterday at the Lyric theatre.

Charles (Buck) Jones dons his guns to appear in the title role of "Lazybones," the lovable village loafer, who has never been known to do a day's work in his life. Jones does some fine work in this role, bringing out the redeeming qualities of "Lazybones" character without aking anything energetic of the hero.

Madge Bellamy as Kit, the little walf whom Lazybones adopts, appears first as a freckled-faced little girl of fourteen summers and, later, as the lovely young woman with whom "Lazybones" falls hopelessly in love.

SENIORS SELL ADVERTISING

Advertising soliciting for the 1926 annual being published by the senior class of Gladstone high school, is progressing with fine cooperation being shown by Gladstone business houses, the committee said yesterday. Ten pages of the section have been sold so far by the seniors in charge.

Miss Meroy Medill is ill at her home, Dakota avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sinclair and son will leave Friday for Rochester, Mich., where Mr. Sinclair has taken a position and where they will make their home.

Jack Nevinski, who has been employed by the Soo Line here, has returned to Minneapolis.

FUNERAL OF FRANK LAPOINTE HERE FRIDAY

Funeral services for Frank LaPointe, one of Gladstone's old residents, whose death came Tuesday morning after an illness due to heart trouble, will be held here Friday morning.

The services will be conducted at All Saints' Catholic church of which congregation Mr. LaPointe was a member, at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father Sebastian Maier will be the celebrant at the requiem high mass.

Burial will be made in Fernwood cemetery.

The body which was taken to the Allo Funeral home to be prepared for burial, was returned to the family home at 1206 Superior avenue Wednesday morning and it will remain there until the time of the services Friday.

Mrs. Douglas Gray of Munising, a daughter, arrived in the city Tuesday night. Mr. Gray accompanied her. Other relatives from Detroit and from other points were expected to arrive last night or some time today to attend the services.

Mr. LaPointe had won the friendship of a large number during his 30 years' residence here and regret at his passing was expressed yesterday at the home in calls and in spiritual and flower offerings.

HOLD ELECTION OF P-T COUNCIL HEADS TONIGHT

Election of officers will be one of the important matters to come before the Parent-Teacher association council at the regular meeting which will be held tonight.

The meeting tonight will be held in the kindergarten building. It is urged that every member be present. Election will be the main item of the business meeting but it has also been announced that there are other important matters which are to come up for immediate action at the meeting.

A feature of the meeting will be brief reports by the presidents of each of the units in the city. These reports will give a summary of the work accomplished by each school unit since its organization.

The high school organization meeting planned for tonight also has been postponed by those in charge of it and this will permit attendance of every council member at the meeting without conflict of interests.

The meeting will be called to order promptly at 8 o'clock.

Fraternal Reserve Meeting Tonight

Regular meeting of the Fraternal Reserve association of Gladstone will be held this evening at Wass hall beginning at the usual hour. The business meeting will be followed by a social time. Entertainment for the social is being arranged by a committee of Mrs. Andrew Moore and Mrs. Edward Poltras.

"IRENE" OPENS AT COMMUNITY THEATRE TODAY

Captivating Colleen Moore, who is the screen's grand exponent of the modern homespun heroine, blossoms forth as one of the most gorgeously attired beauties in the movies in her latest First National picture, "Irene," taken from the famous musical comedy which opened today at the Community theatre.

In this picture the gay little black-haired star sports a wardrobe that would make many princesses pale with envy, according to advance reports. Paris modistes who have gotten a sigh of the costumes worn by Miss Moore in "Irene" are said to have conceded the fashion scepter to her.

All the magnificent gowns and frocks which adorn Miss Moore and a troupe of beautiful Hollywood mannequins, who appear in the climax of the picture, a fashion lawn fete screened in natural colors, are all-American made. Cora MacGeachy, who glorified the costumes of Flo Ziegfeld's "Follies," is responsible for the designing of the "Irene" gowns.

Miss Moore appears in dazzling and dizzily diversified costumes against a series of tableaux representing the seasons and topped off with a fur revue. Twenty-four of the prettiest types of family Hollywood was able to supply were picked for this series of seasonal backgrounds, six appearing in each of the four transformations.

Incidental to these, as satellites around a sun, appeared groups and individuals ravishingly attired as the Pond Lillies, the Handbox Girls and attendants, the spirit of Fashion, in glittering silver cloth and helmet, surmounted by a towering blood-red plume, with black-amoor attendants to manage the serpentine trail of the gown.

OFFER OF CONTRACT IS MADE TEACHERS

Tender of contracts to all teachers engaged in the public schools of the city, was made Wednesday by the Gladstone Board of Education through Supt. C. H. Teague, head of the school system.

The offer of contract for the next year was made to the entire faculty in each school with members being given until April 7 to make formal reply.

Contracts this year are being offered one week earlier than they were last year.

A number of teachers are planning to return here next year, while others have expressed a desire to change locations or in some instances to continue their studies. There undoubtedly will be some changes in the personnel of the school staff but nothing definite in this regard will be known until the formal replies are received.

MARKET NEWS

STOCK PRICES GO DOWNWARD

Table with columns: Date, Industrials, Railroads. Rows: Wednesday, Tuesday, Week ago, Year ago, High 1926, Low 1926, Total stock sales.

New York, Mar. 24.—(R)—Stock prices broke sharply in today's market under an avalanche of selling orders for both accounts. Net declines in scores of active issues ran from 3 to 10 points, with the average of 20 leading industrial stocks dropping 3.05 points to 128.50, a new low level for the year and 17.57 points below the year's high established on February 11. Trading was in enormous volume, more than double that of yesterday.

Selling was influenced by a wide variety of factors, chief of which was the heavy calling of bank loans, estimated as high as $35,000,000 which sent the call money rate to 5 1/2 per cent, the highest since the first of the month.

This was widely interpreted as an indication that banks favored a further reduction in loans on stock collateral which seemed to find confirmation in the apparent absence of buying support by large financial institutions.

Pessimistic trade rumors, such as the widespread cancellation of automobile orders, falling off in commodity buying and a slackening in certain retail lines were freely circulated during the day and apparently found plenty of believers.

American Can (old stock) was the hardest hit, breaking 28 points on sales of less than 6,000 shares to 247, a new low record for the year, and nearly 100 points below the year's high. It rallied to 252 3/4 at the close.

Extreme declines of 5 to 13 points took place in such diversified issues as Allied Chemical, American Brake Shoe and Foundry, California Packing, Commercial Solvents "B", Dupont, Foundation Company, General Electric, McCrory Stores "B", National Lead, National Tea, Pressed Steel Car, Pullman, Rosia Insurance, United Fruit and Youngtown Sheet and Tube, while moderate rallies took place in some issues, closing prices generally were at or near the low levels of the day.

Heavy liquidation of weakened marginal accounts was apparent in the motors. Mack Truck was hammered down over 8 points to 107 1/2 and General Motors nearly 7 to 116 1/4, despite reports of record breaking first quarter production and sales.

Hudson, which sold as high as 112 1/2 last week, slumped nearly 10 points to 80 and then rallied to 83. Fisher Body, Pierce Arrow preferred, White Motors and Stewart Warner sold down 2 to nearly 5 points.

As a group, the oils offered good resistance to selling pressure although net losses of a point or two took place in a few issues. Ralls received better support than the industrials.

Call money renewed at 4 3/4 per cent, as compared with 4 1/2 yesterday, and the 4 1/2 of the day before, advanced to 5 and thence to 5 1/2, closing at the top. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

A further recession in French francs to 3.48 1/2 cents, bringing them to within a few points of the extreme low of 3.42 recorded two years ago, featured the easier foreign exchange market. De-manded sterling held firm around $4.85 7/8, but most of the continental rates showed slight recessions.

Chicago Grain. Chicago, Mar. 24.—Grain values here receded at the close today, largely as a result of increased offerings on account of stock market weakness in New York. Wheat closed unsettled, 1.18 to 2 1/2 net lower, May, new, 1.14 to 1.14 1/2 net lower, 1.14 1/2 to 1.14 3/4, with corn 3-8 to 5-8, off, oats unchanged to 1/2 down, and provisions unchanged to 1/2 down.

On the other hand, general buying of wheat here failed to develop when prices bulged. Under such circumstances, unusual downturns in New York security quotations attracted special notice, and led to considerable selling pressure on wheat, especially as export demand for North American wheat today was slack, with total sales of only 300,000 bushels. Death of fresh buying orders for future deliveries of wheat was most apparent during the final hour. In that interval, the market dropped to the day's lowest figures, more than 1/2 down from earlier top figures.

Corn and oats, as compared with wheat, showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Some improvement of eastern shipping demands for corn was noticed, and receipts of corn in Chicago today were only 10 cars.

Provisions were steadied by the relative strength of corn.

Chicago Livestock. Chicago, Mar. 24.—Cattle, receipts 16,000; market 4-5 steady; mostly steady; yearlings generally active strong; bulk fed steers, 9.00 to 10.15; yearlings and medium weights up to 10.00;ologna bulls fully steady; vealers strong to 2 1/2 higher; bulk to packers, 12.25 to 13.25; outsiders, upward to 14.50.

Hogs, receipts, 18,000; market and heavy steamer, 15 to 16; Wisconsin 14 and round hams, 44.20 to 44.25; Minnesota sacked round hams, 44.10 to 44.25; Idaho sacked round hams, 44.20 to 44.25; special hams, 44.40.

Chicago Potatoes. Chicago, Mar. 24.—Potatoes, receipts 35 cars; total United States shipments 91; 44 Canadian; demand active; market steady; Wisconsin 14 and round hams, 44.20 to 44.25; Minnesota sacked round hams, 44.10 to 44.25; Idaho sacked round hams, 44.20 to 44.25; special hams, 44.40.

WOMEN'S CLUB SLATE ELECTED

Following are the new officers elected Tuesday afternoon by the Manistique Woman's club, at their regular business session: President—Mrs. W. L. Middlebrook.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Charles L. Clement. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Charles E. Underwood. Treasurer—Mrs. William J. Shinar.

In presenting the slate for election, Mrs. L. Rosenthal criticized the conduct of nominating committees and members of the club in general, with respect to preparing a slate. She pointed out emphatically that a nominating committee was not a "publicity committee," and declared that too much advertising of candidates had resulted in further refusals from very able members.

The preparation of a slate was not intended as material for discussion at Ladies' Aid societies, or as a subject to be handled on street corners, Mrs. Rosenthal asserted. "Our club has always been one of the most representative and progressive in the Upper Peninsula," the speaker continued.

"The Upper Peninsula has recognized the worth of our members by electing one as District President, while another local member was appointed on the executive board."

"We are not masters of our own fate," said she, "but in a measure we are responsible for the success or failure of an organization to which we belong. If we do not lose courage, and if each member will cooperate in every way, the club will be a success, but when we lose confidence in the club and in ourselves—we are facing a crisis."

The slate as named by the nominating committee was unanimously elected. During the business session that followed, the welfare committee made a request for clothing suitable for a family of small children, and also clothing, furniture and cooking utensils for another family who had recently suffered a loss of their household possessions by fire.

Attention was called to the "Better Homes Week" observed the last week in April. It was announced that an exhibit and demonstration would be staged in the Domestic Science rooms of the local high school some time during this week, this demonstration to be under the supervision of Miss Alma Howe, instructor in home economics. The exact date will be announced later.

Article 8 of the constitution was amended to read as follows: "The time of meeting for the Manistique Woman's club shall be from 3:00 to 4:30 p. m., on alternate Tuesdays."

Club members were urged to vote at the city election to be held April 5.

The musical program at the meeting on Tuesday consisted of two pleasing vocal numbers by Rev. J. Gross, with Miss Helen Crowe as accompanist, also two piano solos by Miss Clara Orr.

At the close of the business period, light refreshments were served in the dining room. The large table with its Easter decorations was presided over by Mrs. W. L. Middlebrook and Mrs. W. S. Crowe.

"Womanhandled" Is at Local Theater

Intriuging in title, and with notable actors like Richard Dix and Esther Ralston in the cast, "Womanhandled" comes to the screen in Manistique tonight, showing at the Gero theater.

"Womanhandled," adapted for the screen by Luther Reed from the Saturday Evening Post story of the same name by Arthur Stringer, author of "Manhandled" ("Womanhandled"), is a farce comedy of modern western ranch life, in which an effete young man of New York goes to "the great open spaces" of his uncle's ranch to absorb western ruggedness and virility—all this because the girl of his heart loves real "he-men."

The ranch turns out to be next door to a good-sized town; there are no horses, the cattle being rounded up with automobiles. Then the girl arrives to see her sweetheart at the same time as "Artists and Models" company hops off the train and pays a visit to the ranch.

The laughs in the story are everything that the situation suggests. Moreover, the plot winds up with a real thriller of a cattle stampede.

Margaret Morris, recently seen in "The Best People"; Edmund Breece and Ivan Simpson also have prominent roles in the cast.

SOUTH DELTA'S AVERAGE HIGH

Association Tops Cow Testing During Month of February

The average cow in the upper peninsula testing associations during February produced 21.2 pounds of butter fat, according to a report compiled by J. G. Wells, Jr., of Marquette, dairy specialist for the Michigan State college. This production is higher than any other winter month, points out Mr. Wells, and is about double the production of the average cow in the district.

Honor for high herd goes to Wickman Bros. in the North Menominee association, whose 14 grade Jersey cows averaged 1.154 pounds of milk and 43.6 pounds of fat. The high association was South Delta where each cow averaged 696 pounds of milk and 23.9 pounds of fat. In this group Emil Moser's 4 year old pure bred Holstein led that class with 1,596 pounds of milk and 71.8 pounds of fat, and a grade Holstein from 1,596 pounds of milk and 71.8 pounds of fat; and a grade Holstein from the same herd led the mature class with 1,353 pounds of milk and 77.0 pounds of fat. A retest was necessary on account of these high records.

The high two year old cow was a pure bred Holstein at the U. P. experiment station in Alger county with 1,282 pounds of milk and 68.0 pounds of fat. Another pure bred Holstein led the three year old class with 1,971 pounds of milk and 65.2 pounds of fat, being owned by C. E. Johnson in Gogebic county. The high cow in milk production was a pure bred Holstein from the Branch prison herd with 2,400 pounds of milk and 76.8 pounds of fat.

High herds in associations other than north Menominee ranked as follows: Houghton, John Porkka; Dickinson, Charles Mildren; South Delta, Emil Moser; South Menominee, C. P. Hanson; Alger, Albert Whybrew; East Chippewa, Alex McDonald; Marquette, Branch Prison; Gogebic, John Tassava; and Rudyard-Chippewa, Art Talsma.

After South Delta, the associations ranked as follows in average production: Houghton, Gogebic, South Menominee, Marquette, Dickinson, North Menominee, Alger, East Chippewa and Rudyard-Chippewa.

Her eyelids slowly fluttered, then opened. She shuddered, and then the sight of Jimmy brought a faint smile.

The policeman had dragged Divis into the room. "What happened?" he asked.

"I followed him here," said Jimmy. "Hit him over the head. He and Jensen had this girl here—prisoner, Jensen's out in the hall. Had a fight with him. . . . Lucky, stair rail gave away. . . . He fell down. . . . Looks like broken neck."

"He murdered my father, Barry. . . . told me so." He turned to Olga. "You all right now? What did they do to you?"

Divis spoke, in a whining voice. "I didn't do nothing."

"Shut up, you!" The policeman was gruff, unfriendly. "We'll make you talk later."

"Jensen," said Olga, "tried to make me go away with him. He wanted me first to write a note to you, saying I had done it. . . . He—he beat me because I wouldn't."

"Divis—," Jimmy turned—"who gave you that thousand dollars to give to Jensen?"

Divis was silent.

"You hear?" The policeman stirred him with his shoe.

"Don't," complained Divis. "I'm half dead now," and Jimmy was stirred to sudden regret that he had been forced to hit the man as he did.

"I think I know," said Olga, faintly, a sudden dead weight in his arms. "I heard Jensen talking. . . . I think I know."

"Who?" Jimmy caught her closely.

She whispered a name that Jimmy barely managed to hear, and then fainted dead away.

HER OWN WAY

A GIRL & JODDY

AN EMBARRASSING QUESTION

Although I didn't know why, Jerry Hathaway inspired me with confidence. I wasn't nearly as blue as when I came into the restaurant. I felt as though I had a host about me, for with Mamie and Jimmy and now Mr. Hathaway, I knew that at least I had someone to go to if I got into trouble.

I trusted Jerry Hathaway immediately, and I could see that Jimmy thought he was about all there was in friends.

"I'm really glad I'm out of the place, Mr. Hathaway," I said. "I hated it from the first, but it paid good money and I presume if something like this had not happened, I would have stayed there a while longer."

"I don't believe I'm as cocky, Jimmy, as I was when I left home, and that's why I pay check from the Beaux Arts stood between me and starvation."

"Judy," said Jimmy Costello, seriously. "Do you realize that you've got on awfully well? Think of the girls that have been turned out on the streets as you might have been. When I think of that outfit over there and how they treated other girls as they come, I just want to go and wipe up the floor with all of them. As it is, you found a good friend in Mamie Riley who took you into her home and heart. And, just when you couldn't stand it any longer I came onto the stage and now Jerry'll get you back your money tomorrow and that'll make you easy until you get another job."

"Why didn't you take Miss Dean into your office, Jim?"

Jimmy Costello reddened.

"She's not a stenographer," he stammered by way of explanation.

"Oh," was Mr. Hathaway's comment, and by his tone I knew that Jim had girls in his office that were not typists.

I confessed I was angry and hurt. What was there about me that made it impossible for James Costello to take me into his office? I made up my mind to ask him the moment Mr. Hathaway left us. I was glad that our spaghetti came in at that moment, for it gave me a chance to be silent and I was afraid if I spoke I would burst into tears.

Jim noticed that I was very quiet and he knew why but he refrained from making any comment.

Jerry Hathaway excused himself when the coffee appeared. He too, felt the coldness of the atmosphere.

"Where will I bring your money, Miss Dean?" he asked.

"I'm at 740 47th street. I'm living with Mamie Riley and her mother, you know."

Hathaway smiled his approval.

"You are in good hands, Mamie is the best thing about the Beaux Arts restaurant. Men and women like her smile. Too bad she's not able to have her voice cultivated."

VARIETY SPICE OF MARQUETTE GLEE PROGRAM

Prof. Wm. Wagener is Directing Club

Great interest is being taken locally in the concert appearance here on Thursday, April 15, of the Marquette University Glee club of Milwaukee, which is making its annual spring tour of the northwest.

According to reports from Milwaukee, the variety songsters have been rehearsing for several months for their journey, and with an abundance of brilliant material on hand for all places in the organization, Marquette boasts one of its best glee clubs in years. More than one hundred students tried out for the organization when the call for members first went out last fall, and this number now has been reduced to the traveling group of about forty.

An extensive and varied repertoire is being arranged for the Marquette songsters, and there will be enough on the program here to satisfy every taste. Folk songs, classical and semi-classical numbers and popular selections will all be included. Most of the popular touch of the program will be furnished by the Marquette Music Masters, eleven-piece variety dance orchestra, which will accompany the glee club on its spring tour this year and which will play for dancing after the local concert.

In addition to the chorus numbers by the vigorous men's group, there will be vocal solos by popular Milwaukee singers, as well as two groups of numbers by the Marquette quartet, which has become well known for its successful appearances before the microphones in Milwaukee radio studios.

The Marquette Glee club this year is under the direction of Prof. William Wagener, probably Wisconsin's greatest tenor. Professor Wagener, a resident of Oconomowoc, now is on the voice faculty of the Marquette College of Music, following tremendous successes on the opera stage in America and in Europe, even before royalty. This is Professor Wagener's first season with the men's glee club at Marquette, but he organized a co-ed's glee club at the Milwaukee institution two years ago and it proved so successful that the men's organization was turned over to him upon the retirement last season of Prof. Henry Winsauer.

Officers of the Marquette Glee club are: President, E. Harold Hallows, Fond du Lac, Wis.; tour director, Lorin Tiefenthaler, Milwaukee; secretary, Max Raskin, Milwaukee; and business manager, Edgar Theller, Tomahawk, Wis.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c. Adv.

Once Tried "SALADA" GREEN TEA

Is Preferred to Japan, Gunpowder or Young Hyson

IN NEW YORK

New York, March 23—In a season when romantic "unknowns" have practically stolen the Metropolitan Opera House spotlight from famous stars, it is not surprising that gifted and ambitious young women from every part of these United States should be writing and wiring regarding their chances of "crashing the gate."

It isn't easy to draw a picture of the ramifications of the "music industry" in Manhattan.

To begin with, a manager is needed if one plans a concert tour. Something like $5000 is the amount asked by a first class manager, unless the artist has established a reputation. Such an amount—and how many struggling artists have it!—is required it is explained, to "establish" the individual as an attraction. An "unknown" needs introductions, advertising and there is a period of time during which he is a "loss." Perhaps she will never be a "hit." The managers take no chances. He must have protection. Hence the five thousand.

Then there are three or four leading halls in which "coming out" must be made. If they are to carry any prestige. One such recital costs from $650 up, based on how well it is done.

During the "season" these halls and smaller ones, are in constant demand for "appearances." The cost, which with advertising and publicity may run well toward $1000 or more, is considered well worth while by many artists. These performers seek to tour through other parts of the nation, or to appear in private recitals. If one of the New York newspaper or music magazines columns chances to mention their recital, so much the better.

When they reach Gopher Prairie and way points they can advertise:

"Given great reception at Carnegie Hall on such-and-such a date." Of course she was. Hadn't she personally paid for the hall and were not many of the seats occupied by friends and free pass holders?

The outside towns do not stop to consider under what circumstances the recital was given. Which doesn't mean that the artist in question is not worth going to hear—it merely is presented here as a "behind-the-scenes" picture for those who have visions of getting into New York.

I have in mind the story of a girl, told me by an officer of the National Music League, which was established to help young artists.

This girl from a small, mid-western town where she had been "discovered" while singing in the home town movie theatre. Like Marion Talley, interest was taken by the home folk and a fund for her education was secured. She had many auditions when she arrived in New York, after studying for some time in Europe. She interviewed many managers, but she received no engagements. She could afford neither the $5000 fee to managers nor the $650 for a concert hall.

Her funds ran out and she did not have so much as a place to keep in practice. She kept warm during day time by haunting the museums or the Public Library. A struggling sister artist took pity on her plight and gave her a cot to sleep in. Finally she appeared at the music league.

Although her talent is unquestioned; although Metropolitan Opera stars have vouched for her, this girl gets private recitals now and then at $25 per appearance. When she finally appeared at Steinway Hall she didn't have an evening dress in which to make her appearance. She possessed street shoes and durable stockings. The league had to fit her out. It may be that this is but the first chapter of a Cinderella story. In a season or two she may have a far greater success than even Marion Talley.

The point is that the struggle is hard.

For every Talley there are 5000 struggling sisters of the type here
