CAL URGED TO STAND PAT ON WILSON POLICY

CONFISCATION OF OIL PROPERTIES CONTINUES.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1926, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Mar. 7.—The Coolidge administration is being urged by American oil companies to stand squarely on the policy laid down by President Wilson toward the confiscation of property by Mexico under the constitution of 1917.

For Mexico notwithstanding representations from Secretary Kenneg has gone ahead with his program of confiscation. On April 2, 1915, the Wilson administration sent the following warning to the Mexican government: "In the absence of the establishment of any procedure looking to the prevention of spoliation of American citizens and in the absence of any assurance, were such procedure established, that it would not uphold in defiance of international law and justice the arbitrary confiscations of Mexican authorities, it becomes the function of the government of the United States most earnestly and respectfully to call the attention to the necessity which may arise to impel it to protect the property of its citizens in Mexico divested or injuriously affected by the decree above cited."

The decree was merely an effort to follow out the provisions of the constitution but the warning sufficed and it was not put into effect. Mexico tried again in passing the Petroleum Law of 1925 and the Coolidge administration has been engaged ever since in trying to obtain the same result as did the Wilson administration. That law provides that only companies organized under Mexican law can obtain "concessions". This means that American concerns must surrender their right to appeal to the American government for protection. Also it means that in exchange for titles on property acquired before 1917 they can only get "concessions" and yet the Mexican law prohibits any concessions from lasting longer than 50 years.

Measure Reducing Tax on Loan Associations Passed by Lower House

Lansing, Mar. 8.—(AP)—A bill reducing the corporation tax on building and loan associations to one-fourth mill was passed by the house and sent to the senate today. The present tax is one-half mill. The measure, which was introduced by Representative William Deboer of Kent, is designed to encourage building and loan organizations. Its proponents claim they are unjustly assessed under the present law, as they are forced to issue a full $100 worth of stock for each membership taken out, although frequently the member is buying the share on time.

The house passed and transmitted to the senate Representative Gus T. Hartman's bill to compel liability insurance companies to meet claims. It is claimed some companies now pay the insured a small amount of money, after an accident, to permit them to cancel the policy. If the insured is personally insolvent, there is no way for the injured person to collect. Representative Fred R. Ming of Cheboygan, introduced a bill to guarantee counties tax payments from the state on land set aside for commercial forest reserves. A payment of five cents an acre, from a special fund, is provided by the present law. Sometimes the fund runs low and counties have trouble collecting. The Ming bill provides the tax shall be paid out of the general fund if money is not otherwise appropriated.

FLORIDA BANKS FACING CRISIS

Frantic Crowds in Palm Beaches Make Withdrawals.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Mar. 8.—(AP)—The Palm Beaches, tourist and society resorts of Florida, today witnessed an unparalleled crisis of finances, centered around every bank in the section. The First American Bank and Trust and the First Bank and Trust company of Palm Beach failed to open this morning, while the Northwood Bank and Trust company suspended business during the day. Police kept order among the frantic crowd that made a run on the two remaining institutions, the Citizens' bank and the Farmers' Bank and Trust company. The withdrawals became so heavy, however, that an armored motor car was rushed to the scene from Miami bearing $2,000,000 to be distributed between the two institutions. The arrival of the car excitedly quickly upon the throngs gathered before the doors, many of whom had been standing in line at the banks for hours.

The truck bearing the new funds sped through the city, trailed closely by an automobile bearing uniformed Miami policemen. It first came to a halt before the Farmers' bank and a cheer went up from the crowd. The additional money, however, did not allay the fear of the depositors and the run only gained new impetus. Police passed among the patrons and perfect order was maintained as the demands were met. Tonight, guards were posted about each of the closed banks and the two which survived the runs.

FRANCE OKES 1927 PAYMENT OF U. S. DEBT

Paris, Mar. 8.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies today "provisionally" approved Premier Poincare's provisional agreement with the United States by which the French government will pay $10,000,000 on the Washington debt settlement for 1927. The vote was 350 to 150. The test vote came on a resolution introduced by the socialist leader, Vincent Auriel, demanding that the government ask for an appropriation of the sum to be paid and to hand over to the chamber all the documents relating to the debt settlement. In the course of debate the leaders of all groups made it plain that the Washington settlement by which a total of $4,925,000,000 is to be paid over in a period of 62 years was not acceptable to them.

Premier Poincare, replying, said: "After all, the principal of the debt has been recognized, adding: 'It turns out that the situation of the treasury enables us this year to pay $5,000,000 to England and $10,000,000 to the United States. We thought it was impossible to refuse parliament the time necessary to study leisurely the debt records that obliged the country to make payments running over 62 years.'" The premier also expressed the opinion "that one of these days a revision of the accounts between France and the United States will be obtained with reference to the interest on the debt." He was emphatic, however, in the belief that it would be dangerous to open debate on that question now which would in any case only enable certain persons to take an attitude with a view to their political interests and with reference to next year's elections.

POINCARE'S OFFER "PROVISIONALLY" APPROVED.

Paris, Mar. 8.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies today "provisionally" approved Premier Poincare's provisional agreement with the United States by which the French government will pay $10,000,000 on the Washington debt settlement for 1927. Chinese War Lord Orders Soviet Prisoners Executed

Shanghai, Mar. 8.—(AP)—Foreign women and children today evacuated Wuhu, a city 200 miles west of here recently occupied by the advancing Cantonese, following riots in which a Chinese mob broke into the customs house and looted it. The refugees are enroute by steamer to Shanghai. The dispatch says that the executions have been ordered on the ground that Chinese and Russian communists were aboard the Pamiat Lenina with a mass of propaganda literature with the intent to aid the Cantonese or southern nationalists, whom Chang Tso-Lin is fighting. The correspondent says that the incident is expected to lead to a rupture in relations between soviet Russia and the Peking government.

COUNTRIES MAY CUT RELATIONS

London, Mar. 8.—(AP)—Marshall Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, has ordered the execution of all the Russian prisoners, with the exception of Mme. Michael Borodin, seized aboard the soviet ship Pamiat Lenina, says the Peking correspondent of the Westminster Gazette. The dispatch says that the executions have been ordered on the ground that Chinese and Russian communists were aboard the Pamiat Lenina with a mass of propaganda literature with the intent to aid the Cantonese or southern nationalists, whom Chang Tso-Lin is fighting. The correspondent says that the incident is expected to lead to a rupture in relations between soviet Russia and the Peking government.

The dispatch says that Chang Tso-Lin has declared himself a determined foe of bolshevism and claims that Moscow has repudiated Borodin and the other Russians aiding the Cantonese and that therefore those captured aiding the southerners are subject to military discipline outside the provisions of international law. SUBJECT OF NOTE Seizure of the soviet steamer Pamiat Lenina on Saturday by Shantung troops was the subject of a note from the Russian embassy at Peking to the Chinese foreign office. In its note to the Peking government, the soviet embassy demanded that the vessel, its crew and passengers be released.

$14,000,000 FOR BUILDING ASKED

Ann Arbor Senator's Bill Outlines University Expansion.

Lansing, Mar. 8.—(AP)—Total appropriations, exceeding $14,000,000 for the biennial period, for erection of new buildings and maintenance is asked for the University of Michigan, in two bills introduced in the legislature today by Senator Charles A. Sisk of Ann Arbor. One measure would remove the present restriction placed on the six-tenths of a mill tax on assessable property, once granted the university for its maintenance. At the present, the university is allowed a flat $2,700,000, but with the removal of the restriction Auditor General O. D. Fuller, states university would receive approximately $4,625,000 annually. Among the appropriations asked for the new buildings are included $350,000 for purchase of land for the Michigan Women's League building in 1925, $250,000 during 1927 and 1928 for purchase of land for dormitories for students, and $550,000 for the two years to erect and construct a model elementary school. Other requests for the biennial period are: $750,000 representing one-half the cost of dormitories for students; $150,000 for a hospital ward for girls; $450,000 for a new observatory building; $200,000 for extension to the heating and lighting system; $350,000 for two additional stories on the nurses' central residence; $75,000 for a biological station on Douglas lake and $900,000 for construction of a south wing to James B. Angell Hall. Senator Sisk points out that the granting of one bill would necessitate the granting of the other in that new buildings increase the maintenance cost, and maintenance cost is adapted to the growth of the university.

1923 Act Regarding Ownership of Lands Brought to Light

Lansing, Mar. 8.—(AP)—An act passed by the 1923 legislature, prohibiting sporting clubs from owning more than 15,000 acres in extent and making it illegal for clubs to be closer than two miles to each other, came to life again today when the mathematics of the attorney general's department figured the clubs by this time own the state at least several billion dollars. The 1923 law provided that violators shall pay a penalty of $50 a day. The attorney general estimates there are 100,000 owners of property who are violators. At $50 a day this would be $5,000,000 and at $5,000,000 a day since 1923 it would amount to well, figure it out yourself. If it weren't for the fact that the law is admittedly unconstitutional, according to the attorney general, the state would have a lot of money coming. The constitution does not give the state the power to limit land ownership or the use of property by its owner.

Slays Wife; Now He Asks for Insurance

Lansing, Mich., Mar. 8.—(AP)—Guy M. Williams, formerly of Flint, now serving a prison term in Jackson for the murder of his divorced wife, Margaret Faye Thompson, in Flint last April, has brought suit in the Ingham county court against an insurance company for the payment of a $1,000 policy on the life of Mrs. Thompson. The company is withholding payment until the legal beneficiary can be determined.

CAL WILL VISIT CENTRAL WEST

President's Vacation to Be Spent West of Alleghenies.

Washington, Mar. 8.—(AP)—President Coolidge has decided to establish a summer White House somewhere west of the Alleghenies. Just where he will go or how long he will be away from Washington has not been determined. There is little prospect that he will settle down for the summer at any point as far west as the Pacific coast, although he may swing across the continent before returning to the capital. At the White House where it was definitely disclosed today that the president intended to go into the agricultural west for the summer, it was said on his behalf that he did not want to be too far from Washington or go too far south. In the past, he has expressed a preference for a retreat at some altitude so he might find relief from a slight bronchial trouble that bothers him during the summer months in Washington's climate. The decision of the president to go into the farming region of the west rather than spend his summer in the northeast as he has done since entering the White House, is in line with the advice of both his friends and congressional leaders who differ with him on his attitude toward farm relief. Mr. Coolidge's advisers have impressed upon him that the west, particularly states beyond the Mississippi, see too little of presidents and that he should visit that section to observe conditions and study its problems at first hand.

Ship Out of Fuel, Sends SOS Calls

New York, Mar. 8.—(AP)—An SOS from the U. S. Shipping Board vessel Lavada, stating that it was out of fuel of Bermuda, was picked up tonight by radio station WOR in Newark. Broadcasting was halted. The naval communications state that the S. S. West Chetac, also a shipping board vessel, was steaming to Lavada's assistance and would probably reach there about 5 o'clock tomorrow morning. Relayed calls from the Lavada were first picked up by station WOR about an hour before the SOS went on the air. The messages relayed through another boat stated that the Lavada was out of fuel.

1,000 Perish in One Town; Relief Rushed

Tokyo, March 8.—(AP)—At least 2,000 persons lost their lives in the three minute earthquake which rocked central Japan last evening, 1,000 alone being killed in the town of Mineyama. Numerous villages in the Mineyama district were destroyed while fire which came close on the heels of the quake accounted for a great number of casualties which it is expected will reach several thousand in burned and injured. Home office advices from the prefecture of Kyoto reported the following casualties: Mineyama 1,000 killed, 1,000 houses destroyed; Iwataki 100 killed, 500 houses destroyed; Ishiwaka 20 killed, 31 injured, 492 houses burned; Ichiba, 20 killed, 353 houses burned. Villages Laid Waste. The official advices also indicated that numerous other villages had been laid waste and that at least 500 persons had been killed at various places in the same district. The Kyoto Prefectural government also reported that sixty persons had been killed and eighty houses destroyed at Yamada, that several other villages were believed virtually destroyed and that the casualties in them were not known because communication has been cut off. Relief measures are being taken by the government, 250 police and other relief workers being sent from Kyoto to aid the inhabitants of the stricken district. Army airplanes also were sent out from Kyoto to investigate the extent of the devastated area. Various reports of the casualties and damage caused by the quake were still most speculative because of the interruption of communication. It may be days before accurate figures can be obtained by the government. Becomes Perpendicular. The shock which at first was horizontal, became perpendicular before it subsided and apparently extended over a wider district than the quakes which are of frequent occurrence in Japan. Houses collapsed, tiles fell and fires broke out almost immediately, these three causes accounting for virtually all of the casualties. A majority of the inhabitants of Tokyo felt the shock, but it was no worse than others which have been of no importance. Consequently for some time there was a tendency to minimize the importance of the quake and it was not until this morning that the full realization came of how serious the tremors had been. The Asahi Shimbun sent an (Continued On Page Two.)

MOSTIL, IDOL OF BASEBALL, CUTS THROAT

PLAYER FOUND DYING FROM WOUNDS IN HOTEL ROOM.

Shreveport, La., Mar. 8.—(AP)—Johnny Mostil, Chicago American outfielder, slashed his throat so severely late today in a hospital room that physicians at the hospital where he was taken said tonight he could not live. Mostil cut his arms, wrists, and stabbed himself in the left side as well as slashing his throat, while alone in his bathroom at the Hotel Youree, where the Chicago American League baseball team is quartered. A despondency over ill health is believed to have been responsible for Mostil's attempt at suicide. This morning he visited a local physician when an X-ray was made of his teeth. He had been worried over his physical condition and it is believed that it caused temporary insanity. He arrived in Shreveport from Chicago on Monday to start spring training, but had not donned a uniform. Rain prevented his team from practicing. In Pal's Room. Mostil's attempt to end his life took place in the room of Pat Prunty, a close friend and a Chicago baseball fan. Prunty at the time was visiting friends in another room in the hotel. When he returned to his room at 5:30 p. m., he found the door locked from the inside. He opened the door with a pass key. He was in the room for a couple of minutes before he went to the bathroom where he found Mostil lying in a pool of blood. The ball player was unconscious and a pocket knife and razor blade were by his side. Examination showed that Mostil had attempted to sever the jugular vein in his neck with the razor blade. There were several deep gashes on both wrists. Physicians at the hospital learned that Mostil had stabbed himself just over the heart with a knife blade. This is the wound that will probably cause death, they said. When his clothing was removed it was discovered that he had slashed his ankles, one cut was almost to the bone. Manager Ray Schalk and Secretary Lou Harbour of the White Sox and many players stayed at his bedside tonight. Mostil has been a member of the White Sox for about six years, and his friends said he was engaged to be married on his return trip to Chicago. "TERRIBLE, TERRIBLE." Rhinelander, Wis., Mar. 8.—(AP)—"Terrible, terrible," exclaimed Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, when informed tonight that Johnny Mostil, his centerfielder, had slashed his throat in (Continued On Page Two.)

Gold Rush Again Grips Nevada; Men Swarm to New Mine in Bad Lands

Tonopah, Nev., Mar. 8.—(AP)—Once more Nevada is in the grip of a gold rush. Whether it will produce the glamor and the treasure of old California, the Comstock, the Klondyke or Goldfield remains to be seen. It got off to a whoopish start and is gathering momentum every hour. One flank of it has lashed against Tonopah, filling the street with alkali dust. A mixed breed of men mill through the hotel lobbies; hurrying clerks in white collars, big baited and booted prospectors with square jaws, the slim, trim gentry of the gaming table. Camp followers, both men and women, smiling, over-ornate, bland, are there too, in force. The Malapi, as the Indians call the bad lands of the lower Nevada desert, is roaring again with the rush of man, mule, truck and car aping toward the staked lands of Weepah, 40 miles away, where Frank Horton, who lost a fortune as a low grade ore man at Goldfield, and won it back again, has come upon some dirt that assays thousands of dollars to the ton. His son, a bronzed desert prospector, despite his youth, made the find. He kept his own counsel, but the news leaked out somehow and the rush was on. The Malapi has been the setting for some hectic gold rushes, but the Weepah boom bids fair to be the greatest of them all. Horton, overnight, finds himself famous. Before setting out from his hotel here today for his claim at Weepah, Horton displayed hundreds of telegrams, all of them asking for some sort of a concession on the Weepah claims, and many offering large sums of money. One message, from a New York manufacturer, was worthy of note: "If you are the Frank Horton I know, you can have all the money you want," it said. The manufacturer was one of those who paid a million for Horton's Daisy mine in Goldfield and never realized a cent on the investment. "That man is sincere, I know," Horton said, "but I do not think I will have to call on him." Then in retrospect, the old prospector said: "When I was starving and had a low grade mine for sale, I could not get one single engineer to say a good word for the property." The new and the old mix inconspicuously in this rush into the sage lands. The prospector's mule brays at the trim sport roadster, both loaded down with bulging grub sacks. Trucks carry household goods towed over the driver's head. Many of the roads have to be broken through by the wagons, the trucks and the cars, as working roads are few and far between. But it is a clear field and a straight shoot from Tonopah, the last outlying station, to Weepah, where the gold and the glamor and the excitement await.

Shreveport hotel. Comiskey stopped at a hotel here for the night enroute to his camp at Eagle River, Wis., but said he would return to Chicago tomorrow.

"I am at a loss to understand why Johnny did it," Comiskey said. "I saw him in my office in Chicago before he left for the south and he appeared to be in the best of spirits. He's one of the grandest players in baseball."

WINNER IN CONTEST. Chicago, Mar. 8.—(AP)—Johnny Mostil, Chicago White Sox outfielder, found his late today in a bathroom at his hotel in Shreveport, La., with his throat cut, came into major league baseball as the winner of a "popularity contest" conducted during the first year of the World war by the Chicago Tribune to fill the ranks of baseball, depleted by war enlistments.

Johnny was taken south with the White Sox in 1918 with only a Chicago semi-pro experience behind him. When Eddie Collins joined the marine corps Mostil finished out the season for the White Sox at second base. The following year, Clarence Rowland, then manager of the Sox, made him over into an outfielder and farmed him out to the Milwaukee American Association club for seasoning.

Made Spring Trip. He made the spring training trip south with the Sox in 1919 and 1920, each time being sent back to Milwaukee for further seasoning because the Sox then had Oscar "Happy" Felsch in centerfield. Then came the "black Sox" disclosures at the end of the 1920 season, blasting Felsch and seven other Sox out of baseball, and giving Mostil his opportunity.

Since then Johnny has been the Sox regular centerfielder with rookies having no chance to displace him.

airplane over the stricken region, the aviator reporting he had sighted 20 or 30 villages which apparently were devastated. The paper estimated that of the 1,000 population in Mineyama at least 1,000 were killed, while the relief headquarters at Miyazu on the sea of Japan reported that half of the population of Mineyama had been either killed or wounded.

Felt Shocks Strongly. Miyazu also felt the shocks strongly, hundreds of residents seeking refuge on the sea in boats while others fled to the open country. Osaka and Kobe felt the shock, 22 persons being killed in Osaka. Several foreigners were reported to have been injured in these two cities but their names were not given. An American woman was drowned at Kobe when she fell into the water from a crowded gangplank as the tourist steamer California was making ready to sail. Six others were injured, but were understood to have continued aboard the ship.

(A message received by the Anchor Line at Glasgow, Scotland, said that the woman passenger aboard the California who lost her life was Mrs. Glen Schultze, who died from immersion and shock. The passenger list of the California showed a Mrs. Jessie Glen Schultze of Ventner, N. J.)

HONEST "BILL" GALLAGHER DIES

Widely Known Bank Messenger Armed Only With a Rock.

New York, Mar. 8.—(AP)—William George Gallagher, bank messenger, who armed himself only with a rock, unofficial patrolman extraordinaire, and co-victim with Theodore Roosevelt of a policeman's practical joke when the former president was police commissioner, was brought back today to the East Side, where he had lived for 73 years.

He lay in the peacefulness of death, in an undertaker's establishment close to the tenement where he was born on many-tongued Mott street.

When Gallagher was young, the East Side was an Irish neighborhood. Later it changed as Jews, Italians and Chinese chose it as their section. Gallagher remained loyal to the district of his birth.

As a boy, he was a bright student, but diphtheria cut his studies short and the disease left the youth wandering somewhat helplessly through a world of murky unrealities. He became a messenger for several East Side banks and after he had proven his reliability was entrusted with delivery of considerable sums of money. He always carried a stone in his hand as a defensive weapon and was never molested. He used to hang around police headquarters, having a youthful admiration for the police, and one day, while Commissioner Roosevelt was hearing charges against members of the force, someone gave him a uniform and told him to preserve order in the courtroom. Gallagher accepted the appointment in all seriousness, took up his post and shouted out everything he considered a disturbance so vociferously that Roosevelt had to stop the proceedings.

"Who is conducting this hearing?" Roosevelt is reported to have demanded, "that officer or I?"

When investigation revealed the jest, Gallagher's uniform was taken away, but ever after that he considered himself a member of the force and dressed in the cast-off uniforms of patrolmen. Once he promoted himself to a sergeant, but "Big Bill" Devery, police commissioner at that time, spied him strutting down the street and removed the stripes.

CAL URGED TO STAND PAT ON WILSON POLICY

failed to appear when titles were granted that it would not be difficult to find a defect if one was really sought. The American companies have told the Mexican government they will subject their titles to the scrutiny of Mexican courts but not Mexican administrative bureaus.

The Mexican constitution forbids foreign companies to own "concessions" unless they agree before the department of foreign affairs to be considered Mexicans in respect to such property and accordingly not to invoke the protection of their governments in respect to the same, under penalty, in case of breach, of forfeiture to the nation of property so acquired.

In Mr. Kellogg's answer to the recent Norris resolution through which the senate asked for information, this significant paragraph generally escaped attention:

"The department has not been informed that a concession has actually been granted to any of these four companies and in this relation may point out that Article 27 of the Mexican constitution of 1917 seems to prohibit the granting of such concessions to a foreign corporation and that this interpretation to the constitution finds support in the opinion of the attorney-general of Mexico wherein he held that in view of the constitutional provisions referring to, alien corporations "shall not own or control lands, waters and their appurtenances in Mexico."

In the Mexican petroleum law of 1925 there appears Article 14 which says that rights acquired prior to 1917—which are the only ones in dispute—will be confirmed "by means of concessions" and adds:

"The confirmation of these rights may not be granted for more than 50 years."

So American companies which were told that in exchange for their titles they were being given "concessions" are asking how a concession revocable at will can be exchanged for a title especially when American companies are prohibited by law from possessing them. Shall they surrender their rights as American citizens to appeal to their government for protection and become Mexican companies? The American oil men flatly refuse to do this and are relying on the Washington government to protect them against confiscation. President Coolidge has defined the issue as confiscation and that is what the Wilson and Harding administrations termed it. There is every reason to believe that if the American companies were forced by Mexico to give up their right of protection by the American government, other countries south of Mexico would use the precedent to invoke the same procedure with respect to oil lands held by foreigners.

Vote on Death Penalty Delayed—Opponent of Measure is Absent

Lansing, Mar. 8.—(AP)—The senate judiciary committee approached the capital punishment issue today in considering the Armstrong house bill but declined to vote on its merits when it was discovered that Senator Albert E. Engel, a strong opponent of the bill, was absent.

Whether the bill will be brought to the floor of the senate still remains a secret with at least two members of the committee of seven declaring that it will not be brought out and other members as emphatic in their declaration that it will be finally voted on by the senate membership.

HOUSE LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

Refuse to Divulge Nature of Several Matters Discussed.

Lansing, March 8.—(AP)—House leaders held a mysterious conference with Speaker Lynn C. Gardner tonight. After hours of deliberation, they reported they had discussed several matters but refused to divulge their nature.

It was understood, however, it was the sense of the meeting that put senate measures held up in the house shall be held up until the senate evidences its intention of acting upon the Armstrong-Palmer capital punishment bill and other important measures.

Senator Chester M. Howell's bill to repeal rat bounties appears to be one of the measures caught in the jam. Representative John Espie, chairman of the state affairs committee, stated Senator Howell's bill is in committee to stay, despite the fact that the senator asked him to report it out. The conversation, according to representative Espie, went something like this:

Senator Howell: "It means a lot to me. It might even mean my reelection."

Representative Espie: "If that's the case, the bill stays in committee."

Representative Espie also was authority for the statement that unless the administration labor bill, introduced by Representative Frank Wade of Flint, is not reported soon by the labor committee "someone else will do something to get it out."

It was reported the conference discussed highway finance at length but whether an agreement was reached could not be learned. There were also rumors that the conference was the beginning of a house steering committee, which would attempt to speed up the lagging session.

Among those who attended were Representatives Espie, Robert B. MacDonald, C. J. Town, Walter J. Thomas and Clark I. Brody, secretary of the state farm bureau.

Birmingham to Vote on Sunday Blue Law

Detroit, Mar. 8.—(AP)—A blue law ordinance which would prohibit operation of motion picture houses on Sunday, overshadowed other issues in next Monday's election at Birmingham.

Letters and telegrams, both opposing and proposing, are again appearing in numbers on the desks of the judiciary committee members, which committee, it is felt, holds the fate of the bill in its hands.

In all probability the bill will not be considered again until Thursday when Senator Engel is expected to return.

ISOLATION THREATENED

Shanghai, Mar. 8.—(AP)—Gen. Chang Tsung-Chang, Shantung leader, who rushed to the defense of Shanghai a few days ago when the army of Marshal Sun Chuan-Fang started crumbling before the assaults of the Cantonese, now is threatened with being isolated there.

The southerners, continuing their progress northward, have occupied Wuhu, about 200 miles west of Shanghai. They are reported advancing around both sides of Lake Taihu, trying to reach the Nanking-Shanghai railway and cut off Chang Tsung-Chang's lines of communication.

If Chang Tsung-Chang eventually is defeated, the reverse will be attributed largely to his old enemy, Gov. Chen Tiao-Yung of Anhwei province. It was the alliance of Chen Tiao-Yung, with the Cantonese, which became definitely known yesterday, that opened a path for the Cantonese to penetrate toward Nanking and Chang Tsung-Chang's communications. The Anhwei governor's change of front is attributed here less to devotion to the principles of the Kuomintang than to hatred of Chuan Tsung-Chang, the former Shantung guerrilla, who is now regarded as the defender of foreign lands and property at Shanghai.

New Front Formed. A new front was being formed today in northern Anhwei. With Altoona, Pa., Mar. 8.—(AP)—Four men were killed and four injured in an explosion today at the St. Clair quarries. Ganister, near here. A premature blast was blamed by officials of the company for the mishap.

Deer Reported Near Starvation at Soo

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Mar. 8.—(AP)—With the finding of the bodies of several young deer and receipt of a report from Hulbert, near here, that hundreds of the animals in the district are near starvation, sportsmen today appealed to Leigh Young, state director of conservation, to furnish help for them.

A number of dead deer have been brought into Sault Ste. Marie from near Hulbert, by woodsmen who claim deep snows and the shortage of foliage for feeding are responsible for the situation.

leased immediately, the embassy declaring that the Chinese government would be held responsible for their safety.

Shanghai dispatches today said it was rumored there that Mme. Borodin, wife of Michael Borodin, advisor to the Canton government, was aboard the Pamiat Lenina. Japanese sources at Nanking reported that Mme. Borodin was escorted to Tsinan-Fu by Shantung troops.

Although Borodin is a Russian, the soviet authorities have denied that he is connected officially in any way with the Russian government.

The Pamiat Lenina was reported to be enroute to Hankow when she was seized. The passengers were said to have included several diplomatic couriers. These were detained and the vessel immediately utilized as a troop ship.

Was Post Advisor. Borodin for several years has held the post of advisor to the Canton government. He is understood to dominate the radical wing of the Cantonese parties.

Last month the Chicago Daily News said that Borodin, also known by the first name of Jacob, was a former naturalized American citizen, and that he had been identified as a man known in Chicago as Michael Gruzenberg, a Russian Jew who lived there from 1910 to 1918.

Of late there have been reports that some dissension was arising between the right and left wings of the Cantonese command-in-chief, Chang Kai-Shek, tending toward the more moderate wing.

ARREST CONFIRMED. London, Mar. 8.—(AP)—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Shanghai confirms the arrest of Mme. Borodin, wife of the advisor to the Cantonese government and three bolshevik agents aboard the soviet steamer Pamiat Lenina.

The dispatch says Mme. Borodin, the three agents and six members of the crew were landed and taken by special train to Tsinan, but makes no mention of the report that Chang Tiao-Yung, the Manchurian war lord, had ordered the execution of the three agents.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

President Coolidge decided to go west for the summer.

Taking of evidence was begun in the contempt trial of Harry F. Sinclair.

A three-power naval arms limitation conference was proposed by the United States.

The interstate commerce commission declined to readjust grain rates from North and South Dakota.

President Coolidge reduced the sentences of 20 negroes who participated in the Houston riots of 1917.

Three Power Naval Parley Predicted

Washington, March 8.—(AP)—The convening in Geneva in June or July of a British-American-Japanese naval limitations conference to discuss minimum tonnage ratios in cruisers, destroyers and submarines is confidently expected by the Washington government.

Definite proposals for a three-power attempt to find a suitable formula have been made by the United States and London and Tokyo. While they are informal and possibly no more than verbal in character as yet, replies now awaited will result in preliminary diplomatic conversations.

The fact that only a limitation project, not a proposal for a reduction in tonnage, is under consideration is believed to have stressed in the informal exchanges here and in London and Tokyo which followed rejection by France and Italy of the original American plan for a five-power conference at Geneva.

France and Italy probably will be invited to send observers to the three-power conference.

Undergrad Drinks Poison Before Taking Leap; Makes Sure

Princeton, N. J., Mar. 8.—(AP)—The name of Bruce Frederick Wilson, 20-year-old Princeton sophomore of Louisville, Ky., was added today to the growing list of student suicides.

Wilson, an honor student for three years, was found hanging in his room in Hamilton Hall by a janitor who came to put the place in order. He hanged himself with a 25-foot length of new one-inch rope, which apparently had been purchased for that purpose. The rope was tied to a curtain rod and before leaping from a sofa, Wilson drained a bottle of poison. His was the first undergraduate suicide in ten years and the second at Princeton within the month. Martin A. Gearhart, a graduate student, who phylaxed himself several weeks ago.

A search of Wilson's effects and room has failed to reveal any note of explanation. Wilson had suffered from stomach trouble and since his entry into the university had been under the care of the department of physical education. Classmates said he was of a sensitive nature, but none believed that other student suicides had anything to do with his decision to die.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Wilson, of 1533 South Fourth avenue, Louisville. His brother Carl of New York, Princeton '25, left for Louisville with the body.

COUNTY C. M. T. C. STAFF NAMED

A. H. Ryall Heads Delta County Organization Committee.

Delta county's "enrollment committee" for the Citizens' Military Training camp this year has been announced as follows:
 Chairman—A. H. Ryall, Escanaba.

Committeemen—John P. Norton; Harry M. Compher, R. E. Cheney, H. D. Brackett, of Escanaba; J. P. Bushong and J. A. Sturgeon of Gladstone; H. W. Boyle of Bark River; Fred M. Foster of Nahma; and William J. Miller of Rapid River.

The medical examiners for the county are: Drs. A. J. Carlton, E. D. Groos, A. S. Kitchen, W. A. Leary, John J. Walsh of Escanaba; James Mitchell and R. H. Miller of Gladstone.

Enrollment for Camps Custer and Brady in Michigan, Camp Sparks, Wis., and Camp Sheridan, Ill. began on March 1, and is now wide open for any boy who desires "30-days" vacation, living in the open, and receiving instruction in all kinds of athletics, target practice, swimming and life saving, at the expense of the government.

Michigan's quota for the C. M. T. C. this summer is 1878, which is larger than ever before, and everyone who has anything to do with enrolling young men for training this summer is anxious to have the entire quota filled by May 15. Michigan has never received its quota, but Col. Raymond Sheldon, chief of staff, 85th Division, who will command Camp Custer next summer, and Lieut. Col. Wade Mills, civilian aide for Michigan to Secretary of War Davis, who have charge of Michigan's enrollment for the C. M. T. C., are sure this state will go over the top this year.

Any young men living in Michigan of good moral character, physically sound, and between the ages of 17 and 24 years, is eligible to attend the Michigan C. M. T. camps this summer. Applications and information can be had by addressing the C. M. T. C., headquarters, 410 Book Tower, Detroit, Mich.

Highway Committee to Push Escanaba-Gladstone Project

Improvement of the Gladstone-Escanaba highway by the state, with the urgent suggestion that a mile and a half of the road between Terrace Gardens and Gladstone be paved with concrete at an early date, will be one of the major projects of the highway committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. The committee met in the Delta hotel at noon yesterday and discussed at length various highway matters of interest to the community.

CHENEY RETURNS FROM NATIONAL SCHOOL MEETING

More Than 10,000 In Attendance At Dallas

R. E. Cheney, superintendent of public schools, has returned from Dallas, Texas, where he attended the national meeting of the Department of Superintendence. More than 10,000 superintendents and leaders in the educational field of this country were present at the meeting; of these 400 were from Michigan.

There were many unique features of the convention such as the group singing of more than 800 colored children of Dallas under the direction of Mrs. Pittman, daughter of the late Booker T. Washington; an address of Gov. Daniel Moody of Texas; an inspiring talk by Serg. Alvin York who rose to fame during the World War when he captured 132 Germans single-handed. Mr. York is now devoting his time to raise the educational standards of the "poor white" children of the Tennessee hills. The national high school orchestra composed of more than 200 students selected from high schools all over the United States, played a number of selections during the meeting.

Dr. W. T. Grenfell, nationally known among educational circles talked of his work in developing laboratories. Herbert Wenig of Hollywood, who last year was winner of the national high school oratorical contest, delivered his oration on the Constitution.

Mr. Cheney is compiling notes on the meeting, and will be ready in a short time to give the substance and some of the plans suggested to them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hanson moved to this city and is now engaged in operating a grocery and confectionary store at 1711 Third avenue north.

Who Manages the Standard Oil Company?

(Indiana)

"A composite picture of the Board of Directors would show a striking preponderance of the type of man who has risen from the humblest position through sheer ability and has received what education he possesses from experience in the school of hard knocks rather than in academic circles."

The Literary Digest gives the above account of the men who manage the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is composed of ten members—

- R. W. Stewart.....Chairman
- E. G. Seibert.....President
- W. M. Burton.....Director
- Beaumont Parks.....Vice Pres., Gen. Mgr. Mfg.
- Allan Jackson.....Vice President
- R. H. McElroy... Vice Pres., Traffic Manager
- E. J. Bullock.... Vice Pres., Dir. of Purchases
- John D. Clark..... Director
- Amos Ball.....General Manager Sales
- R. E. Humphreys.... Asst. Gen. Mgr. Mfg.

These men are elected by the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and to them is entrusted the management of the Company's business. They give their entire time, energy and devotion to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and to no other.

The ten men who have been chosen to direct the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have received their training largely within the organization.

They know their business "from the ground up." They have worked their way to positions of responsibility through conscientious, painstaking, industrious effort.

In no other way is promotion achieved in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Opportunities are open to all. Men are rising from the ranks constantly but their advancement always is due to personal achievement.

Success in this Company is attained only through hard work and marked ability. There are no easy jobs. Everybody works. In this shirt-sleeved organization, the higher a man's position, the greater must be his capacity for work.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has undertaken the important task of manufacturing and distributing to the thirty million people of the Middle West petroleum products of the highest quality at prices which always are reasonable and fair. This task demands hard work and the best brains that can be enlisted.

The Literary Digest, speaking of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), further says:—"it has been indeed a marvel of effective commercial organization."

The reason for its effectiveness lies in the earnestness of purpose binding its group of 29,573 employes into an efficient and united whole—an organization adequate to accomplish the high ideals of service held by the management of the star would never bring a World War if mankind had not already planted the seeds.

The World War, to cite a single word upheaval, was the crop of the seed that many generations had sown. It was the fruit of blind greed and autocratic self-seeking and narrow nationalism and bitter trade rivalry. As the world had planted, so did it reap. We may talk about sun spots until we are blue in the face, but that will not enable us to look on the World War as something for which no one was to blame. Nor will it enable us to sidestep responsibility for what may be ahead of us.

THE END OF THE ROAD.

Principles regarding cloture were shot to pieces in the closing days of the 69th congress. Filibusters, notwithstanding those who had relied upon them in the past and were ready to force votes, prevailed. No business of public consequence could be transacted. The deficiency appropriation bill and many other measures of importance fell by the wayside. Legislation of value to the farmer, which otherwise would have been passed, was lost. The president, it is stated in Washington, will not call an extra session of congress. In reaching this decision we think he is well advised. The responsibility for whatever failure of legislation will be felt by the country. Mr. Coolidge need not concern himself with it. There has been an excess of politics throughout the short session, even in the passage of what bills got through, including McNary-Haugen farm relief. It has not been a session of boast. In addition to its failure to measure up to the domestic needs of the country, it has mediated in foreign affairs to such an extent as to seriously embarrass the administration in its dealings with Europe, China, Mexico and Nicaragua. The president doubtless is glad to have it over. He would be excused from wishing it back if for no other reason than to have the free hand in foreign relations the constitution gives him.

WE CAN'T DUCK RESPONSIBILITY.

Most of our major ills, says a Moscow professor, are due to sun spots.
These spots, he adds, run in cycles, and have so profound an effect on mankind that wars, revolutions, famines, social and political upheavals of all kinds follow in their train.
This sun spot business apparently is something that science hasn't quite made up its mind about yet, and the ordinary man is entitled to believe it or not as he wishes.
It's a comforting doctrine, in a way.
It relieves us of responsibility. When someone mentions the World War or the present uprising in China we can blame these terrible tragedies on the far-distant sun, which can't answer back, and solve ourselves and our generation of all blame.
But somehow it seems just a little bit too easy to be true.
For all we know the sun spots may, as it is claimed, have a profound effect on all of our activities.
Yet we might as well remind ourselves that all of the sun spots between here and the pole

THE STRUCTURAL STEEL WORKER.
He spins a fabric in the air
As fairly as the fairy lace
That women weave with such care;
And every span he puts in place
Is something more than something done.
Than one day's labor for a wage.
For even when his race is run
He lives in steel for many an age.
O artisan, I envy you,
Who work our wonders in the sky.
You think it but a task to do,
But poets pass, and singers die.
And this, the poem you have writ,
Aye, this the song that you have sung,
Shall stand when men forget our wit,
When silent is the singer's tongue.
However heavy are the hours,
Let this make lighter every span;
When underneath the wilted flowers,
Your hand shall go on serving man.
The rivet you have driven home
For centuries the steel shall bind,
Your monument a roof or dome,
Your wage your service to mankind.

"Should have been," and Pelton examined the catch. "But it wasn't. It seems to be a little out of order."

AT THE STRAND.

"Uncle Hector" has gone to work. He is a detective and he is now trying to solve the mysteries of "Whispering Wires." "Uncle Hector" was the heavy-eating "invalid" in "The Midnight Kiss."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

"Uncle Hector" was one of Arthur Housman's best comedy roles for Fox Films, but as McCarthy, the detective, in "Whispering Wires" he has another equally good and will be seen at the Strand today and Thursday.

At each sentence Stone looked a little more menacing, and spoke in a little sterner tone. At the climax of his voice, though not loud, was of a cold, deadly inflection and scared Myrtle nearly out of her wits, as was the detective's amiable attention. She began to cry and Stone said, shortly: "Cry all you like, my girl, but before you begin, tell me who it was you let into this room. Quick, now, out with it!"

"Mrs. Valdson," said Myrtle, impelled by the inexorable voice, and then she ran from the room. "And so," Stone said, as the door closed, none too gently, after Myrtle, "and so, Mr. Pelton, your desire to shield Mrs. Valdson is so great that you clog the wheels of justice in order to gratify it."

"That's about how it stands," and Dan Pelton looked embarrassed, but far from penitent. "Miss Anastasia sighed. 'That's Dan all over!'" she said. "He'd always do anything to save a woman from annoyance."

AT THE DELFT.

Turning the tables, matrimonially speaking, is the basis of Warner Brothers' latest production "Don't Tell the Wife" starring Irene Rich and directed by Paul Stein.

Miss Rich and Huntly Gordon are seen as the Cartiers of Paris, well-to-do, devoted, just arrived at the end of their seventh year of married life. It is at their anniversary party, that Susanne, a dazzling blonde, blows in. Hubby succumbs to her charms in spite of himself, and the lovely Madame Cartier, decides that she may help to avert further trouble by beginning a flirtation with Roy, fiancé of Susanne—thus angering both that lady and Monsieur Cartier. "Don't Tell the Wife," will be shown at the Delft today and tomorrow.

Housman teams with Mack Swain, who has the role of Cassidy. They are summoned to a house full of trap doors and secret passages to track the author of the messages which whisper death threats to Montgomery Stockbridge and his daughter. Housman finds Jeanette, the French maid, more attractive than the whispering wires but she takes a liking to Cassidy, the "big magnificent brute."

Supervisor Jesse Greene of Fayette was a business caller in town on Monday.

Don Johnson and sister, Mrs. Joseph Turpin of Manistique, made a brief visit at the home of their mother, Mrs. Eugene Johnson, on Sunday.

Hugh Johnson commenced school on Monday after being out the greater part of last week on account of illness.

Alonso Spaulding returned with his small team from the Lambert camp near Nahma on Saturday, just in time to be present at the caucus. His big team is still working up there. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Spaulding of Kates Bay spent a pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, Sr., Cooks, on Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS.
To the voters of Garden township—I wish to express my hearty thanks for the generous support given me at the caucus last Saturday, and assure you that I will give my best efforts to merit that support.

Faithfully,
Charles Gauthier,
Supervisor.

William Adams is back at work at the Garden Motor company.

Ed J. Purtilt made a business trip to Fayette on Monday.

Priscilla Farley, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Farley, celebrated her birthday anniversary on Sunday afternoon with a number of her little friends. A number of games were played, after which ice cream and cake were served. The following is a list of guests present: Bruce Farley, Percy Jaque, Muriel Gauthier, Janet Lester, Myron Farley, Ella Jaque, Milton Farley, Janet Tatrow, Muriel Farley, Doris Hazen, Ormond Hazen, Norral Farley, Marcella Winter, Raymond Winter, Mildred Purtilt, Vernon Winter, Virginia Johnson, Marvel Heric, Pearl Heric, Ralph Deloria, Van Deloria and Kenneth Ralph. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by all.

According to a statement made by Emil Thibault, who was defeated in the race for township clerk in Saturday's caucus, he has received numerous requests from his supporters to make another effort and will, accordingly, make the run by the slip route on election day. He was defeated at the caucus by a majority of 25.

According to the statement of old settlers, Saturday's caucus was the biggest to be held here since 1911 when William Bonifas and Keyes Van Winkle were candidates for the office of supervisor. At that time, when only male citizens were voting, there was a total of 222. Saturday's record was but 222. It is believed, however, that there were quite a few, especially women, from the farms who failed to get out to Saturday's gathering.

Trust M·J·B to steer a safe course each morning

It is easy enough at 7 p. m. to convince ourselves that we are "captains of our souls" and all that sort of thing, but at 7 a. m.—it's a different story. For it so happens that you and I and the rest of us are human beings—not saints. And, being human, we are just as likely as not to greet the new day with a grouch that is strong, medium or mild.

Yet, if you only know how to start the day, said grouch will go up with the first wisp of smoke that sets sail from your M·J·B coffee pot. For M·J·B is a past master at piloting you past the reefs and shoals that mean breakfast blues and stormy-tempered days. And it's all because of a flavor—a rich, full-bodied flavor that fills you with contentment and good feeling. What's more, this flavor is always in the cup, no matter how you make it or how you drink it; strong or mild or happy-go-between.

Yes, you can trust M·J·B to steer a safe course each morning—and every other coffee-time of day!

Enter: the Baby

ACCOMPANIED by his faithful stork, the Bitner baby arrived this morning. There was a great deal of rushing around, but things have quieted down now, and advice is pouring in.

COUNSELORS, well-meaning and many, have arisen: "I used this talcum and that soap," "those bottles are best," and "Blank's have the best carriages." But behind these advices looms the most practical, most modern and most economical counselor of them all: advertising.

ADVERTISING will tell Mrs. Bitner not only which talcum, which blankets, which carriages are best, but it will also give her many helpful hints on keeping her baby healthy and happy. It will suggest toys for his busy hands, shoes for his scampering feet, clothes and foods for his sturdy body, as well as books to set his eager mind to work. And, as the years go by, Mrs. Bitner will keep young, and look young too. For advertising will help her solve one of the greatest economic problems of her home—buying the best for her family at the best prices.

Press Basketball Tournament Opens Tonight

Eight Teams in First Rounds to Decide City Title; Awards Offered

The Second Annual Daily Press Basketball tournament to decide the best amateur team in the city will open tonight at the high school gym. The first game will start at 7 o'clock. Eight teams will start in the first rounds tonight. Semi-finals will be played at the Webster tomorrow evening and finals will be held at the high school Friday night. The first two teams eliminated tonight will play the first game Friday night for consolation.

Tournament awards are as follows: first place, miniature gold basketball, large size to each player; second, miniature silver basketball, medium size, to each player; third, miniature gold basketball, small size; to each player and the team winning fourth place will receive the tournament ball. Awards are on display in the Young and Fillion window.

Four Games Tonight.
Four games are on the evening's program for tonight, two for tomorrow night, and three for the final night. High school teachers who will referee the games are Lyle Shaw, E. W. Soderberg and E. E. Edict. The consolation game, first on the list Friday night, will be officiated by "Tarzan" Johnson.

In the first game of the evening, the Daily Press Typeslingers meet the North Escanaba Roughhouse Gang. Here are two evenly matched teams and a good battle is in sight. Both teams have been defeated by several other quints but they have likewise a long list of victories marked up to their credit.

In the second match, two of the leaders of the church league will meet to eliminate one from the semi-finals. They are the Swedish Lutheran Vikings and the Swedish Methodist Psalmists. The two quintets have been dividing honors in the league for second and third places. The Herringchokers being the only team to hold a percentage as high as either. Pre-game forecasts indicate this will be one of the most bitter battles of the tournament.

Chokers vs. Ramblers.
The Herringchokers of the Norwegian Lutheran church meet the E. F. U. Ramblers in the third tilt of tonight's fray. The Herringchokers last year took second place in the Press tournament, defeated only by the strong Class of 1925 cagers, twice champions of the high school. This year the Herringchokers have played a brand of ball that rivals many teams considered to be of high ranking than the Norwegian lads. The team has held first and second place in the church league standing, and now holds down second place. The Ramblers is an organization of basketball players that, from past performances, will give the Herringchokers a hard battle. Meeting strong teams in the church league circuit and others, the Ramblers have a larger string of victories than defeats. The third game of the evening will be no toss-up on either side.

The last game of the evening will be between the Presbyterian Killies and the Baptist Baracas, an evenly matched pair. Although neither of the two quints have a high ranking in the league, they are of about the same class, and for that reason, it is forecast that the game will be a close one. Both of the teams are smooth running basketball machines, the players having worked together for several seasons. Each of the churches they represent have gymnasiums where the teams can get much practice.

Green Pardons Lad Guilty of Forgery
Lansing, Mar. 8—(P)—The first pardon to be issued by Gov. Fred W. Green was granted today to Peter Garrook, Grand Rapids youth, who was sentenced to from two to fourteen years for forging a $10 check.
Garrook served the recommended two-year sentence and was paroled last August. Yesterday, however, he was taken into custody by immigration officials for deportation, because he came to this country from Scotland in 1920 before he had reached his majority and therefore still is an alien. The only way he could escape deportation, it was stated, was by a complete pardon. Inasmuch as he has no relatives in Scotland, his parents now living in Grand Rapids, and he had served his recommended sentence, A. D. Woods, pardon and parole commissioner, and the governor agreed he should be pardoned. Both Judge Leonard J. Verdy, judge of the Grand Rapids superior court, who sentenced Garrook, and Russell Jontz of the Grand Rapids Big Brother organization, endorsed the plan to pardon him and thus avoid the necessity of deportation. To return him to Scotland would work a hardship and injustice upon the young man and would not tend to reformation, they agreed.
Garrook was held at Port Huron by the immigration officials. He was released upon the issuance of the pardon to return to his home in Grand Rapids. Although a complete pardon was granted, the governor added a condition requiring Garrook to report once a month to the Grand Rapids parole officer.

Little Jarvis of Camberwell might be called the "pied piper" of Camberwell as she helps her father to catch rats for a living and assisted him in taking 200 live rats for the film "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

BILLY EVANS

HARD TO EXPLAIN.
Funny how every now and then some pretty good-looking pitcher is waived out of the majors without any great trouble. I have in mind Paul Zahniser of the Boston Red Sox, who was sent to the minors at the close of last season. It is my opinion that Zahniser has enough stuff to help several major league clubs that I could name.

Dame Fortune smiles blandly on some ball players and throws on others. Zahniser is one of those players who seems to have received more than his share of tough breaks.

Beginning his major league career with Washington, he looked like a great prospect. As is often the case, a salary grievance started him on his hard luck that eventually led to the minors.

Had Salary Trouble.
After a ball club wins a pennant and a world championship, the following year is always filled with plenty of woe for the manager in signing up its players.

Washington turned such a trick in 1924 and immediately there was a bunch of holdouts for Owner Griffith to appease. It so happened that Zahniser was one of them.

In the winning of the pennant by Washington in 1924, Zahniser's contribution was five victories and seven defeats, not a very convincing argument to get more money.

It didn't take the Washington club long to settle his case. He was traded to the Boston Red Sox, then a hopeless tail-end; possibly as an object lesson to some of the other boys who were asking for big dough.

Return May Cost.
Trying to win ball games for the club that had represented Boston in the American League for several years has been just about the toughest task one could possibly hand a pitcher—a real assignment.

With Boston, Zahniser did as well as any of the others on the staff. Weak in pitching, I was surprised to learn Boston had asked waivers. It was even more surprised that it was possible to get all 16 clubs to pass up their claim on him.

Zahniser has more than the average stuff. He is smart and can field as well as any pitcher in the game. He should be able to win fairly consistently with a good club.

Always troubled with lack of control, he suffered more during his stay with Boston than at Washington. This he attributed to the fact that he was trying to keep the opposition from taking too many liberties, because of the mediocre team that Boston had. He has always insisted that he needed most was a regular turn in the box.

It wouldn't surprise me if some club paid a fancy figure for the return of Paul Zahniser to the majors next fall.

Thermometers are being used extensively by fishing fleets. Cod and haddock usually exist in waters where the temperature averages between 40 and 50 degrees.

Mother Goose IN SPORTS

Ring a ring of 'n'pence, pockets full of hay, Walter says just one more year is all that he will play. And when "Old Barney" dogs the spikes all Ballou's birds can sing "There'll never be another like our famous Strike-out King"

Washington—Walter Johnson, greatest of all pitchers, has just signed his contract, which will mark his twenty-first season with Washington. He says it will be his last. Manager Stanley Harris says he is good for five more years.

Students at Michigan Do Not Want to Win Most of Sports Games

Ann Arbor, Mar. 7—(P)—Individual students of the University of Michigan are beginning to question whether it is good for the university to win so many of its athletic contests. The number is small and is confined exclusively to students who never have tried for an athletic team. Among them, however, are men thoroughly in sympathy with athletics and whose questioning of the value of continued winning does not have a tinge of academic opposition to sports in general.

These students believe it would be better for the university spirit as a whole if the student body were compelled to feel that their support of the teams was necessary. At present, these men say, the students take the winning of almost any game in which Michigan takes part as a foregone certainty. In the opinion of the student body, say these men, opponents of Michigan are not the equals of Wolverines, but are ordained to be victims to add another notch to the constantly mounting number of victories achieved by this school's athletic teams.

No Indication.
Just who these men would select to be the conquerors of Michigan teams is a matter they have failed to indicate. Certainly it would not be Illinois—in any sport. It would not be Ohio State in football nor Minnesota, nor even Wisconsin, for no Michigan student, even an opponent of athletics, would wish Michigan to fall before teams against whom rivalry has been established.

Certainly Michigan's recent defeat in basketball before Pittsburgh failed to impress the student body, while two recent losses to Indiana and Purdue were taken seriously. It can therefore be taken for granted that it would not be advisable to lose to Indiana teams in basketball.

There is another angle which these students probably have not considered. One of the elements of attraction at many Michigan athletic contests is the audience. After seeing 9,000 people packed into the field house for a basketball game against an Indiana team, it is hard to visualize the games without the crowd. The crowd is part of the attraction at Michigan.

Recently a visitor to Ann Arbor told of being present at a Yale basketball game at which the crowd numbered exactly 18. If the psychology of the student questioner is correct, and if losses are good for the interest and morale of the student body, certainly the Yale student body should have been impressed with the three years' record of losses of their basketball representatives and a solidified and keen interest in the game.

While basketball has a larger following throughout the west than in the east, the lack of crowds at Yale is the result of the reverse of conditions at Michigan.

While a list of college games in which all the competitors were of equal strength is an ideal, it has not yet been possible of realization. Michigan seems to be certain of continuing to win as long as the present systems of teaching are employed and the material keeps up to the average usually found in a student body with as many eligible men as there are at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Rowan, Charged With Murder, Gives Self Up to Police
Los Angeles, Mar. 8—(P)—Mrs. Margaret W. Rowan, religious leader and self-styled prophetess, charged with conspiracy to commit murder, surrendered to police today.

The woman who predicted that the world would come to an end two years ago, has been sought by the authorities for more than a week as the result of an attack upon Dr. Burt E. Palmer, leader of a church faction opposed to her teachings. She hobbled into central police station on crutches. She was escorted by her son, G. A. Rowan, who said he had persuaded his mother to face the charges.

Mrs. Rowan disappeared from her home here following the attack on Fuller who charged that he had been drugged and beaten when he was summoned to a tourist's automobile camp near here.

Dr. Jacob F. Balzer and Miss Mary A. Wade, members of Mrs. Rowan's cult, were arrested at the scene and identified as Fuller's assailants. They admitted the attack and implicated Mrs. Rowan as the instigator.

Mrs. Rowan, Balzer and Miss Wade, named jointly in the conspiracy charges will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

Sentences of 20 Blacks Shortened 18 Months by Cal

Washington, Mar. 8—(P)—President Coolidge today lopped 18 months off the 30 year sentences of 20 negroes, former members of the 24th infantry, who were originally sentenced to death or life imprisonment for participation in the race riots at Houston, Texas, on the night of August 23, 1917.

By the action of the president, taken on recommendation of the war department, the men will become eligible for parole within the next year.

With their release the last of the 63 negro soldiers tried by court martial of participation in the rioting that caused 17 deaths in Houston during the war period, will be taken off the prison rolls. The outbreak in Houston came when troops of the first battalion of the 24th regiment seized their arms at the barracks and ran riot in the city. Of 23 sentenced to death, 18 were executed under the war time authority of departmental military commanders to approve death sentences. President Wilson commuted the sentences of the others to life imprisonment. The original sentences of a number of others were life imprisonment.

RAIN DOESN'T DAMPEN ARDOR

Major Leaguers Forced Inside; Skull Drills in Order.

Atlanta, Ga., Mar. 8—(P)—Rain dampened the uniforms but not the ardor of major league baseball teams training in Louisiana today but it was all sunshine in Florida where exhibition games were scheduled.

At San Antonio a wet infield restricted the practice session of the Detroit Tigers to outfield work and limbering up. The entire squad with the exception of George Dauss is in camp and all in fine condition except Frank Watt, pitcher, who is troubled with a sore arm. Harry Heilmann, noted for his slashing cut at the ball and dangerous stance, has sent a number of balls out of the park already.

Bill Carrigan's Boston Red Sox divided into a rookie and regular nine, had started off a lively pace in practice scrap in New Orleans when rain drove them inside. The Pannigans were leading, 2 to 0, at the halt. Ira Flagstead joined the team during the day.

Given Skull Drills.
Manager Ray Schalk found the field at Shreveport entirely too wet for his White Sox and gave them informal skull drills.

Down in the famed "land of flowers" the menu was exhibition games. The New York Giants were hosts to the Philadelphia Americans at Saratoga, while the Cleveland Indians visited Orlando for a game with the Cincinnati Reds. The Cardinals met the University of Florida during the afternoon at Avon Park while the Buffalo Internationals and St. Louis Browns crossed bats at Palmetto.

Along the same fronts the bombardment continues throughout the week. The Reds and Indians got together in a return game at Lakeland, Thursday the Washington Senators visit Bradenton to pry the lid off of the Philadelphia Nationals. Stuffy McInnis has one of the largest training squads the Phillies have boasted in years. He sent his outfit through a morning and afternoon session today. As to his probable lineup he will give no intimation.

Ruth Shells St. Petersburg. Babe Ruth continued shelling St. Petersburg today with his long-range hits. Yesterday he dropped a couple of drives in Crescent Lake and he directed his guns in that direction again this afternoon. He will be in the lineup Thursday when the Yanks clash with the Red Orland.

Hafey and Douthitt cheered Bob O'Farrell in the Cardinal camp this morning by their pep. Thevenow is still absent but Flowers is going wild in his shortstop position. Some of those scintillating most in other camps include Hornsby of the Giants and Bob Reeves who came from Georgia Tech with the Senators.

Big Entry List Expected for U.P. Bowling Tourney

The management of the Arcade Recreation parlors and officers of the Bowling association are anticipating entries from a large number of teams for the Upper Peninsula Bowling tournament, which opens in this city, March 21. The Monroeville bowlers who bowled in this city last Sunday have pledged to send at least 15 teams and already many local teams have entered. Several firms in this city are sponsoring teams representing them in the tourney and more will be entered during the week.

It is possible that at least two teams representing the C. & N. W. Railway will enter soon. The aim of the managers is to enter at least 25 local teams to compete with visiting teams who are to be entered in the tournament. There is some talk about city employees forming a team.

Each team this year will be entitled to a vote in selecting the place for the tournament for the year 1928, thereby giving the teams who bowl on the last day the same privilege as those who bowl at the beginning of the tournament. On the last day, all the ballots will be sealed by each delegate and placed in a sealed box. A meeting will be held and the votes will be counted by the president and secretary of the Bowling association. The city receiving the largest number of votes will secure the tournament for next year.

The following local teams are entered thus far:
Arcadians, Boston Store, Arcadian Cafe, Comets, City Bowling Works, Delta Hotel, Escanaba Oil Company, Fair Store, H. & A. Bowling Works, Ford Motors, Nordgren's Clothing Company, Noelham's Electric Company, Upper Peninsula Produce Company, United Cigar Stores and Escanaba National Bank.

Any team wishing to enter may do so and is urged to notify the manager at once.
A silver loving cup, a bowling ball and $500 in cash will be given as prizes.

The oldest known works of art are the drawings, painting and sculpture found in the caves of France and made by prehistoric man during the stone age. They are 20,000 to 30,000 years old.
