

YOUTH LOSES 'BREATH' FIGHT FOR LIFE

COOLIDGE MAY CHOOSE GREAT LAKES PLACE

PRESIDENT EXPECTS TO MAKE TRIP TO WEST COAST.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1926, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, March 10.—President Coolidge's decision to establish the Summer White House in the West somewhere between the Alleghenies and the Rockies means that he may be persuaded to take a short trip to the Pacific Coast.

If for instance, the president should make his headquarters in Colorado he would find it convenient to go to the Pacific Coast, which as president he has never visited. Mr. Coolidge is strongly of the opinion that a president should visit all sections of the country sometime during his term of office. He cannot very well go during 1928 for his trip be misconstrued as political. Any traveling that he does therefore will have to be done this coming summer.

Doesn't Favor Circle.

Mr. Coolidge doesn't favor the "swing around the circle" idea which has caused such misfortune to the health of other presidents. He would rather make specific journeys to particular places just as he has done from Washington in the last three years. It didn't take long to travel to Kansas City, for the Armistice Day speech, and if Mr. Coolidge were in Colorado Springs, he would be able to go to the Northwest on one trip and to San Francisco and Los Angeles on another occasion, probably stopping off at Salt Lake City and here and there along the route, not so much for the purpose of making speeches as to see something of the country, particularly the Yellowstone. Mr. Coolidge's decision to go West is not a casual idea. It has been under consideration ever since last summer when he went to the Adirondacks. There are many reasons why a base further East than Colorado would be final plans are made. One is that the president would like to be only an overnight's ride from the National capital, especially so that those who may have to confer with him will not be absent from Washington for long periods. Also it is suggested that the president might lease a place somewhere on the Great Lakes, thus permitting a naval yacht to come through the Welland Canal for such cruises as the president and his family might wish to take. The possibility of a trip to the Wisconsin lake region has been discussed so as to afford an opportunity for people in Chicago to make pilgrimages to the president's office—a privilege the middle west has never enjoyed.

Needs Western Contacts.

CO-ED A "LIAR"

Miss Stephenson and "G. R. S."

Appleton, Wis.—An "ingenious young liar" is Miss Miriam Stephenson, 19, sophomore at Lawrence college here, according to George Bernard Shaw, the English critic and novelist. Miss Stephenson recently wrote a thesis on Shaw's philosophy, and, thinking he might be interested in it, sent a copy of it to Shaw in London.

Shaw replied: "You are quite an ingenious young liar. How many marks did they give you? A career as a journalist is indicated. Good luck to you!" In the thesis, Miss Stephenson called the Englishman a "Mephistophelian personality," and said of him: "What the world agrees with, he disagrees with; what the world rejects, he accepts."

JUDGE EXCUSES SINCLAIR JURY

Admissibility of Defense Evidence Still Undetermined.

Washington, Mar. 10.—A halt was called today until Monday in the contempt trial of Harry F. Sinclair with the admissibility of the defense evidence still undetermined.

During the brief time the trial proceeded today, Justice Hitz reversed the usual court procedure by examining the jurors and hearing himself the evidence which the defense wants to get before the 12 men selected to try the multi-millionaire leaser of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in Wyoming.

The defense then changed the ordinary courtroom scene by calling as its only witness Martin W. Littleton of counsel for Sinclair who testified that it was upon his advice that the oil operator refused to answer 10 questions up on his sixth appearance before the senate oil investigating committee.

Besides calling Littleton to the stand, the defense lawyers placed into the record before Justice Hitz that the government suit to recover the Teapot Dome reserve was filed nine days before Sinclair's last was called by the senate committee, and that in declining to answer questions regarding the lease of that reserve, the defendant explained to the committee that he did so because the case had been transferred to the courts.

While the trial will be resumed Monday morning, the jury will not be called into court again until that afternoon as Justice Hitz will first hear further argument on the question of the presentation of evidence to the jurymen on behalf of the defense.

Wife of Furniture Dealer Is Divorced

Chicago, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Although Lee Oliver Duncan, wealthy Grand Rapids, Mich., furniture dealer, recently filed suit against his wife for divorce, charging cruelty, Mrs. Jessie B. Duncan, his wife, residing in Oak Park, Ill., was granted the divorce today. She also charged cruelty in her cross-bill. An alimony settlement of $2,500 was effected. The Duncan's were married in May, 1925, and separated in January, 1926.

4 URUGUAYANS TO CONTINUE OCEAN FLIGHT

ARRIVE FROM AFRICAN WILDS MINUS BELONGINGS.

Madrid, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Safe and sound, but minus most of their personal belongings, the four Uruguayan aviators, headed by Captain Tadeo Larre-Borges, who have spent the past week as virtual prisoners of a tribe of Moors, returned to civilization today, still determined to complete their interrupted trans-Atlantic journey, if possible.

The fliers, whose shattered plane was found sixty miles from Cape Jubi last Saturday, were found by air men attached to the Latecoere air service, who brought them in two planes to Cape Jubi from the Moorish village where they had been held.

Major Larre-Borges said that he and his crew, after leaving Casa Blanca last Wednesday, narrowly escaped certain death when their plane, the Uruguay, suddenly developed a leak in the oil system. This compelled a forced landing on the sea of the coast. Giant waves battered the plane and one of the pontoons was smashed.

Leaped From Plane. Faced with certain death, the aviators leaped from the plane into the sea and swam to shore. Their plane was tossed on the beach while the fliers, after a long battle, managed to make the landing alone. The major said that they were met by native Moroccans who took them to their village and showed them hospitality of a kind but at the same time robbed them of their possessions, money, watches, arms and other personal belongings. The men managed to save rings and military decorations by hiding them.

Major Larre-Borges being particularly careful to his military decoration left to him by his grandfather, a Spanish soldier.

Clothes and other valuables, stored aboard the plane, was stripped off by the Moors. The major said that he managed to keep on good terms with his captors by making promises of the payment of ransom. The Moors, members of the Al Lassa tribe, kept particularly close watch on their guests since they were fearful that they might fall prey of desert bandits.

Detroit Board Is Divided on Bible Reading Question

Detroit, Mar. 10.—(AP)—A divergence of opinion among members of the local school board regarding the proposed state law for compulsory reading of the Bible in public schools, was revealed at a meeting of members tonight.

Frank A. Gorman condemned the measure and sought a resolution to advise the legislature that the law is neither needed nor wanted. Allan Campbell urged modification of the proposed resolution and John Webster and Mrs. Laura Osborn opposed it. The three other school inspectors being absent, the question was held over for future action.

"In a city as large as Detroit is, the arguments against the proposed law are obvious," Gorman declared. "Why should the state force the Bible down the throats of children? The bill provides that no explanation of the passages shall be made. What good is such reading going to do an eight-year-old child?"

Report Darin Bill Out of Committee

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—The Darin bill which would give the governor of the state power to fill a vacancy caused by the death of a circuit judge, was reported out of the senate judiciary committee and immediately referred to the judiciary committee.

The measure, ostensibly drawn to clarify the situation caused in the Wayne county circuit court, by the death of Judge George P. Cold, is thus considered lost to consideration during the present session.

Softened Ice Gives Way; Man Drowned

Grand Rapids, Mar. 10.—(AP)—John Miedema, 30, a member of the Grand Rapids police department for the past seven years, was drowned today at Mona Lake, near Muskegon, while fishing through the ice. The ice, weakened by mild weather, gave way and precipitated Miedema and Carl McDonald, another member of the police force, into the water. McDonald managed to get out, but was so exhausted he could do nothing for Miedema. The body was recovered.

AN EARTHQUAKE HITS JAPAN

An earthquake—and the work of years of patient building in Japan lies a mass of tangled wreckage, with countless bodies buried beneath. Here are two scenes typical of the destroying force of the shocks which year after year hurl Japan into havoc and misery. Towns of the south Japan provinces are now full of such scenes as are pictured above as a result of the latest temblors, with 2000 reported dead and many more thousands homeless.

Attempt to Speed up Legislature Failure

BOOTLEGGERS HIT IN ONTARIO BILL

Toronto, Ont., March 10.—(AP)—While local option and temperance areas in Canada are respected by the proposed bill for government sale of liquors, residents of those areas will not be prohibited from purchasing liquor from government stores in wet territory and taking it home with them.

Premier Ferguson, who offered the control bill for first reading in the legislature, made this particular clear today. "A man living in a dry municipality can take out a permit, purchase liquor from the nearest vendor and take it home in perfect safety," he said.

The bill places administration of the control act in the hands of a commission and the premier said the commission would be empowered to determine where liquor stores shall be established, only in wet areas. Dry territory may change by a three-fifths vote.

Under the bill, liquors can be purchased only by persons holding permits, which are to be granted irrespective of nationality to those over 21 who have been residents in the province more than one month and to tourists. They may be revoked for abuse and law violation. The fee for the permits, which it is understood will be nominal, will be fixed by the control body. No assignment of liquor is permitted.

Budget for M. S. C. Totals $3,430,000

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Appropriations totalling $3,431,445 for buildings, improvements and extension work at the Michigan State college were asked in a bill introduced today by Representative Fred E. McEachron of Ottawa. Among the proposed improvements are a $55,000 president's home, a $300,000 women's dormitory, a $400,000 recitation hall and a $125,000 physics building. The amount requested for extension work for the biennial period was $235,512.

Seeks Colors for Detroit Engineers

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—A resolution designed to provide colors for the 16th engineers, a voluntary Detroit organization formed during the World war, was introduced in the house today by Representative Frank P. Darin of Wayne. It stated colors never were designated for the regiment and recommended they be procured by the state administrative board.

Adjourns Until Monday Night Amid Roar of Disapproval.

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—An unsuccessful attempt to speed up the legislature was made in the house today. A roar of dissent went up from upper peninsula and distant district members when the regular week-end adjournment from Friday morning until Monday night was proposed, but it was answered by a phalanx of votes large enough to affirm the customary long vacation. Representative Dykstra of Grand Rapids offered a resolution that the house meet at 9:30 Friday morning and adjourn until 8:30 Monday night. Representative Fred R. Ming of Cheboygan objected. The legislature is working only three or four days a week, he said. He expressed surprise that Representative Dykstra, who earlier in the session introduced a resolution to limit sessions to 30 days, should sponsor the long week-end adjournment. He moved to amend the Monday night proposal to Monday afternoon, but his motion lost, 40 to 34. Representative Robert B. MacDonald also voiced a vigorous protest against further daily adjournment. The members were elected to serve the public and not to spend half their time looking after private interests, he asserted. Representative Robert D. Wardell of Detroit replied by saying it wasn't the lack of lengthy sessions that is holding up the legislature but the failure of committees to report measures. The final vote on Representative Dykstra's original motion for adjournment until Monday night showed 46 in favor of the Friday morning to Monday night layoff and 23 opposed. The judiciary committee reported a group of crime bills, including an anti-pistol measure and a proposed criminal law codification introduced some time ago in line with recommendations of the special legislative crime commission. They will be considered in general orders tomorrow or next week. The house concurred in four amendments to Representative Dykstra's bill to permit Grand Rapids to accept the gift of a cemetery and sent it to the governor for signature. Representative William Burk's bill requiring the removal of all debris and slashings along highways as a forest fire prevention measure, was passed and transmitted to the senate. A measure introduced by Representative John Simpson of Jackson, providing for an amendment to the home rule act to permit municipal charter amendments for the establishment of a municipal court in cities having a justice or police court also was passed and sent to the upper branch. It was drawn particularly to fit the needs of Jackson and Adrian. Representative Simpson said. In committee of the whole the

JOHN BULL IS FAVORABLE TO 3-POWER PACT

ACCEPTS INVITATION TO DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE.

Washington, Mar. 10.—(AP)—American hopes for further curbing competitive naval building advanced a long stride today when British acceptance of the three-power conference plan was received at the state department.

Word from Japan is still awaited but with acceptance assured. Preparation of formal notes of invitation to ratify verbal agreements for a meeting at Geneva this summer has already begun.

Howard Delivers Acceptance.

The British acceptance was delivered verbally by Ambassador Howard to Acting Secretary Grew. Ambassador Matsudaira is expected to communicate Japan's acceptance as soon as he hears from Tokyo.

It is already certain that the formal invitations will contain no American formulas for extending the principles of the Washington treaty to auxiliary craft nor any other declarations that will prevent the free and open consideration of every aspect of the question at Geneva.

Make No Formula.

There will be no effort on the part of the Washington government to hasten the Geneva deliberations unduly. The American plan contemplates the most extensive consideration of the difficult economic and international questions tied up with naval building programs in order that a maximum degree of limitation, consistent with national security for each government may be obtained.

For that reason, there will be no effort to propose a formula in advance, probably not even as to ratios although the 5-5-3 Washington treaty agreement as to the more vital element of battleships and airplane carriers naturally may be expected to prevail.

MEX ATTACK IS AIMED AT CAL?

Gallivan Says $2,000,000 Expended in U. S. on Propaganda.

Washington, Mar. 10.—(AP)—An issue of congressional record which came from the printers today contained a charge of Representative Gallivan, Democrat, Massachusetts, that the Mexican government had "expended almost $2,000,000" in a campaign to discredit President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg.

The fund which Gallivan charges was spent by the Mexican ambassador at Washington the Mexican consul general at New York, also was used, he added, "to subsidize preachers and professors to attack the president of the United States."

"They have financed writers to attack the president," the Massachusetts representative declared. "They have underwritten radical, religious and uplift organizations of all varieties to defame our country."

"They have made a fifty alliance with the Ku Klux Klan to inject religious bigotry into the controversy between this country and Mexico. In general, they have done anything that the corrupt use of money would assist them in doing to spread falsehoods in the hope of confusing public opinion to the end that President Coolidge might be deterred from carrying out the identical policy initiated by Woodrow Wilson in protection of the rights of American citizens."

Gallivan charged that printed statements derogatory to American officials could be had by application at the Mexican consulate in New York.

Indians Claim Part of New York State

Montreal, Mar. 10.—(AP)—While impassive Indians sat in the courtroom and listened without sound or movement, counsel for three of their number today claimed for the Iroquois of six nations all that portion of New York state upon which now stand the cities of Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

The land was sold illegally to early white settlers for a mere song, they said, submitting century-old grants and records of the historic Indian confederacy. For attempting to raise money among the Iroquois in New York state and Canada with which to press the Indians' claims against the United States government, two Indians were under arraignment in the crowded courtroom.

QUAKE RELIEF IN FULL SWING

All Japanese Agencies Are Thrown to Aid of Victims.

Tokyo, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Relief measures for the thousands made homeless in central Japan by Monday's earthquake were in full swing today, all government agencies throwing their energy into caring for the victims still without shelter or medical attention.

Health officials worked steadily in the devastated area to prevent an epidemic while thousands of convalescing on the broken roads, collected bodies and built crude barracks to shelter the living.

Official reports today stated that 2,248 persons had been killed, 4,107 injured and 53 missing. Nearly 6,000 houses were destroyed, either by collapsing or by fire which broke out immediately after the quake, and more than 2,000 were damaged badly.

Although the suffering of thousands of families, made homeless by the disaster, was still acute, the rate at which supplies were being rushed into the region was such that it was hoped the worst conditions would be ameliorated soon.

The government has ordered the shipment of large quantities of rice from the government warehouse at Osaka to the Tango district, in which were most of the towns destroyed. The floods of local streams abated somewhat today, while the cold weather, which had added greatly to the suffering grew milder.

Dr. Shinichi Kunimoto, seismologist at the central observatory of Tokyo, who is investigating the quake zone, reported that apparently the center of Monday's quake was 10 miles off Kyogasaki Promontory, at the tip of the Tango peninsula. Had the movement found its center on land instead of in the sea, he expressed the opinion the disaster would have been greater than the quake of 1923.

Biennial Election Would be Abolished If New Bill Passes

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—A resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution to abolish the biennial April general election was introduced in the house today by Representative Joseph C. Armstrong of Detroit. It would place the election of all state and local officers in the general November elections. In addition it would make second highest candidates for legislative offices, such as members of city councils, boards of supervisors or state legislature, in line for appointment in case of vacancies, by naming team alternates.

The proposed change is understood to be sponsored by the Detroit city election commission. It is contended abolition of the spring convention would save the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars and using a single general election would be more satisfactory and efficient.

Ford's Attorneys File Amended Plea

Detroit, Mar. 10.—(AP)—An amended plea of attorneys for Henry Ford, defendant in a $1,000,000 libel suit instituted by Aeron Sapiro, Chicago attorney, was filed in federal court late today. The plea was amended on the order of Judge Fred S. Raymond, Grand Rapids, Mich., after Sapiro's attorneys attacked it several days ago on the grounds of irrelevancy. Sapiro who directed the suit against Ford and the Dearborn Publishing company, publishers of the Dearborn Independent, based his action on a charge that a series of articles in the magazine classes him as the "leader of a Jewish conspiracy" in connection with the organization of cooperative marketing associations.

LUNGS NUMBED 108 HRS., BOY FINALLY DIES

WAS KEPT ALIVE BY ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION.

Chicago, March 10.—(AP)—Albert Frick, the 22 year old youth who lived for four and one half days although powerless to breathe, lost his game battle for life tonight.

The boy who has kept alive through the efforts of three score fellow employes who breathed for him with their hands through artificial respiration, died tonight at an Evanston hospital at 10:12 o'clock, 108 hours after artificial respiration had been started last Sunday morning.

Frick, a victim of Landry's paralysis, a form of creeping paralysis, which nearly always has proved fatal, amazed medical science by living for four and one half days while his friends, working in pairs for fifteen minutes each, induced respiration by compressing and releasing pressure on his paralyzed diaphragm.

He died after a valiant fight for life and with many of the three score men who had worked over him in tears as they saw their efforts prove unavailing to check the creeping palsy that started in his limbs last Saturday and mounted Sunday morning to his diaphragm.

At 10 o'clock last Sunday morning Frick stopped breathing. His heart still beating, however, and doctors resorted to artificial respiration. Then, fellow employes of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois were called in and three score of them have forced him to breathe since that time.

While the youth gasped out encouragement or a jest, his friends, working in pairs, one on each side of the paralyzed boy, compressed his diaphragm. They relaxed. Then they compressed the same effect as though Frick himself were breathing.

About an hour before he died, Frick lapsed into unconsciousness. Previously he had been conscious throughout the four days and a half of his fight and had directed the men to state him.

At the moment he died two of the 56 fellow workers who had kept him alive, were at work inducing artificial respiration. 'Up until a few hours before his death, Frick jested grimly with his fellow workers and several times during the day had mumbled brief instructions regarding their work.

Herman Frick, the boy's father, was with him when he died, but his mother, who had left the hospital earlier in the evening, was not summoned as death approached.

Present beside his father and the two men inducing artificial respiration were the two attending physicians, Dr. H. H. Conley and Dr. T. E. Conley, a nurse.

Slipped Fitfully. About two hours before the end, Frick slept fitfully for 15 or 20 minutes, but doctors were not encouraged by this, because they said it indicated he was growing weaker.

Frick became ill of what doctors diagnosed as influenza. His condition, however, developed into a form of creeping paralysis concerning which little is known in medical science except that it usually attacks youth.

Reduction Company to Be Charged With Contempt of Court

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—A new bill charging contempt of court against the Detroit Reduction Company for failure to comply with a court injunction restraining it from polluting public waters, has been filed in the Ingham county circuit court; Homer Murphy, deputy conservation commissioner, announced today. A hearing will be held March 15.

$1,000,000 SUIT FILED IN COURT

Carrington vs. Carrington in Alienation Proceedings.

New York, Mar. 10.—(AP)—The legal warfare between the Carrington brothers, Col. Edward of Chicago and Campbell of New York, who recently figured in a street duel with canes, broke out in two courts today. The net result was that a $1,000,000, alienation of affections suit brought by the colonel against his brother in supreme court was revealed and hearing of the assault case against the colonel was adjourned until Tuesday.

The alienation suit came to light when a motion to take the deposition of Mrs. Mary C. Walsh of New York, on the ground that she is too ill to appear in court, was denied by Supreme Court Justice Glennon. A like suit already is pending in Chicago.

In his complaint today, the colonel charged his brother made love to his wife, Mrs. Annette Walsh Snyder Carrington, and acquired an improper influence over her. In support of the charge, he attached a letter said to have been written by Campbell Carrington to the colonel's wife and sent in an envelope addressed on a typewriter to Mrs. Walsh.

Written to "Darling." The letter, said to have been written in July, 1923, was addressed to "Darling" and told of being called to Texas because the bringing in of an oil well.

"I would give anything, darling, to have you in my arms and hold you real tight," the letter continued. "Are you going to arrange in some way to see me when I get back, or are you satisfied to go on without seeing me? Love and a million kisses."

Neither appeared. An affidavit also was attached in which a process server told of attempting to serve a subpoena on Mrs. Walsh in the Carrington divorce action pending in Illinois.

Six to Be Indicted in $1,000,000 Fraud

Chicago, Mar. 10.—(AP)—While a former school superintendent was revealed today as the author of a fantastic prospectus whereby Harry F. Freulich and Joseph Devore obtained, according to indictments against them, more than $1,000,000 in a land and oil fraud, a newspaper writer claimed that the prospectus was based upon a book of fiction he had written. Federal officials meanwhile prepared to seek indictment of six more persons in connection with the alleged swindle.

LITTLE CHIDES STUDENTS OF U.

Says No Common Sense Was Used at Recent Celebration.

Ann Arbor, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Students of the University of Michigan did not use "what would seem to be even an ordinary amount of common sense" in their participation in the student riot last Monday night, said a statement issued tonight to the student body and signed by officers of the university and the police commission.

The statement was drafted by Dr. Clarence Cook Little, president of the institution. Replying to criticism of the local police for their part in the affair, it was pointed out that the officers did not participate of their own accord, but were present at the insistence of the managers of theaters which the students attempted to enter.

"It is recognized that they (the students) have no absolute rights to such entertainment, but on occasions in the past the theaters have been opened to the students after athletic victories, mass meetings and the like," the statement says in discussing previous occasions on which students have been admitted to the theaters free.

BADGER FOUND GOLD DEPOSIT

Rich Dirt Excavated by Animal Lead to Big Gold Rush.

Tonopah, Nev., Mar. 10.—(AP)—A badger, burrowing for a home, made the gold strike, which has caused a rush to the new boom camp of Wespah, in the hills 40 miles west of here.

The little mammal is the loser, however, for its home was destroyed in yielding up the rich gold shot quartz discovered last week by two 19-year-old prospectors.

It was revealed by the youths today that their find was more or less accidental. They had been prospecting around and came upon the badger hole. Deciding to investigate, they dug down and were rewarded with a sight of the gold-bearing rock that the badger had uncovered.

Has Nose for Gold. In the legend of southern Nevada there are the stories of two other boom camps that radiated around badger holes. The busy little burrower has a nose for gold in the sage country, some prospectors say.

With the night temperatures down below 20 degrees, even the most seasoned prospectors are finding the going hard in the silver peak range. Those who have been sleeping on the ground transferred last night to more comfortable quarters that were thrown open to them, while some of the improvised homes have been furnished with heating stoves, using sage brush as fuel.

Engineers expressed the opinion that Frank Horton, on whose claim the discovery was made, has not divulged the full extent of the findings. They believe that the commercial value of stilled ore will be much greater than the ore now in sight on the Horton workings.

G. O. P. ELECTS STATE OFFICERS

Dennis E. Alward Chosen Central Committee Secretary.

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—The Republican state control committee completed its organization today, choosing the veteran, Dennis E. Alward, secretary of state, as treasurer.

Mrs. Jacob Stokette of Grand Rapids was chosen vice chairman and John Wedda of Detroit, assistant secretary. The motion nominating Mr. Alward was made by Phil Colgrove of Hastings and seconded by Milton Carmichael of Detroit, retiring secretary, "on behalf of the Wayne county delegation."

Gerrit J. Diekema of Holland, chairman of the committee, hoped that past political affiliations would be forgotten by members of the committee and that the organization now effected might be of great service to the Republican party.

Governor Fred W. Green was invited to receive notice that he would be given the full support of the party in the administration of his duties. When news of the election of Mr. Alward reached the senate, a resolution was drawn and presented to the veteran secretary, congratulating the central committee on its choice of a secretary "whose service to the party and to the public has been so faithfully performed."

Green Signs Bill Changing Name of College of Mines

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—The Michigan College of Mines, at Houghton, will become the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, with a broadened curriculum, in ninety days. Governor Fred W. Green today signed Representative Gus T. Hartman's bill providing for the change in name and extension of courses.

The act, which was the second house measure to receive the executive signature, permits the board of control of the college to include all engineering branches in the course of instruction. "The college shall provide the means of acquiring a thorough knowledge of the mining industry in its various phases and the application of science to industry, as exemplified by the various engineering courses offered at technological institutions. The courses of instruction shall embrace such branches of practical and theoretical knowledge as will, in the opinion of the board, promote the objects of the college," the act specifies.

The board of control will be known as the board of control of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

REED WITHOUT INQUIRY FUNDS

Last Hope of Committee to Obtain Money Is Killed.

Washington, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Apparently the last hope of the Reed campaign funds committee of obtaining money for completing its inquiry into the Pennsylvania election was killed today by refusal of Senator Keyes, Republican, New Hampshire, chairman of the committee on audit and control, to sanction use of the senate emergency fund.

REED WITHOUT INQUIRY FUNDS

Washington, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Apparently the last hope of the Reed campaign funds committee of obtaining money for completing its inquiry into the Pennsylvania election was killed today by refusal of Senator Keyes, Republican, New Hampshire, chairman of the committee on audit and control, to sanction use of the senate emergency fund.

The committee's request for $1,000, with which to impound the additional ballot boxes in Pennsylvania, was directed to the senate rule allowing the secretary to authorize an expenditure of this amount "to meet any extraordinary expenses arising during the recess." Senator Keyes, however, holds the committee is dead because of the failure of the senate to continue its life.

ATTEMPT MADE TO SPEED UP LEGISLATURE

Penalties Increased.

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—The Simpson bill increasing the penalties for breaking of jail and enlarging the scope of the present law, was adopted by the senate today and forwarded to the governor.

The Wood bill authorizing the election of delegates to county conventions and the Fuller house bill requiring the superintendent of public instruction to furnish $10,000 bond upon assuming office was also adopted.

An appropriation measure, introduced by Senator Walter F. Truettner, setting aside $50,000 for the biennial period to continue the work of the deep waterways commission was also adopted.

Senator James C. Quinlan introduced the second of two measures designed to move the Pontiac state hospital to Lansing and authorizing the expenditure during 1928 and 1929 of $1,000,000 to effect this change, within the discretion of the administrative board.

REED WITHOUT INQUIRY FUNDS

Washington, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Apparently the last hope of the Reed campaign funds committee of obtaining money for completing its inquiry into the Pennsylvania election was killed today by refusal of Senator Keyes, Republican, New Hampshire, chairman of the committee on audit and control, to sanction use of the senate emergency fund.

The committee's request for $1,000, with which to impound the additional ballot boxes in Pennsylvania, was directed to the senate rule allowing the secretary to authorize an expenditure of this amount "to meet any extraordinary expenses arising during the recess." Senator Keyes, however, holds the committee is dead because of the failure of the senate to continue its life.

RAIN DOWNPOUR CHECKS FIGHT

Chinese Armies Lie Idle While Fronts Become Huge Lakes.

Shanghai, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Heavy rains have converted all the Shanghai fighting fronts into lake-studded morasses, effectively stopping all military operations of any consequence. Shantung troops continued to arrive at Nanking, however, where they took up positions to defend the Nanking-Shanghai line of communication.

The soviet consul general went to Nanking this morning in an effort to obtain the release of Mme. Borodin, wife of the Chinese ambassador, and the three Russian couriers who were arrested last Saturday aboard the soviet vessel Pamiat Lenina. He was met with the answer that the entire matter lay solely with the government at Peking.

The consul asserted that the Chinese military search of the Pamiat Lenina had revealed nothing objectionable aboard and that the ship's captain was making a deposition which would be used in further protests by the soviet government against the vessel's seizure and the detention of the Russians.

Execution Denied. Reports current yesterday that three Russian couriers had been executed were emphatically denied by the Chinese authorities today who said that the three women were closely guarded at Tsinan, but that they were being well treated. A close investigation is being conducted by the Chinese officials to determine the accuracy of the reports made by the arresting officers that a mass of red propaganda had been found aboard the Pamiat Lenina and very little tea.

Meanwhile, reports received here indicate that Mme. Borodin and the three couriers, although detained as prisoners, are being "lavishly" entertained by their Chinese captors.

The Chinese authorities in Shanghai have begun to take action against strike agitators, many of whom have been arrested and remanded, pending an investigation into the ramifications of the strike.

The measure would require a report to the 1927 legislature with recommendations. The commission would include the secretary of state, attorney general and banking commissioner.

Recodification of Bank Laws Sought

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—A concurrent resolution establishing a commission to study and recodify banking law was introduced in the legislature today by Senator Charles Green.

The measure would require a report to the 1927 legislature with recommendations. The commission would include the secretary of state, attorney general and banking commissioner.

Former Marquette Woman, Prominent in Detroit, Dead

Detroit, March 10.—(AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Mrs. Laura E. Mack, wife of Chester C. Mack, president of the Highland Park recreation commission. Mrs. Mack, who formerly was Laura Hepper of Marquette, Mich., died Tuesday in a local hospital where she had been undergoing treatment. She had been operated on a week ago and apparently was recovering when a sudden heart attack proved fatal.

Mrs. Mack was active in Highland Park social and dramatic circles. She was born in Marquette, and spent her early life there, coming to Detroit with her parents about twenty-five years ago. She married Mr. Mack, also a native of Marquette, 22 years ago.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Mack is survived by two daughters, Elsie and Frances, both students of the University of Michigan, and by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hepper.

Green Pores Over Prison Statistics

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—HARRY L. Hubert, former warden and present superintendent of the Jackson state prison, conferred with Gov. Fred W. Green several hours today. The governor pored over figures connected with the construction of the new prison. It was reported he was highly dissatisfied with conditions and that some changes in methods of construction, supervising personnel and so forth might be ordered shortly. The governor plans to have a report prepared soon relative to the new prison situation.

The headquarters of the postal workers' union was raided and 79 men were arrested, including a representative of the general labor union and the secretary of the postal union. All but two of these officials later were released.

Police Seized Pamphlets. During the raid police seized pamphlets advocating a general strike and lauding the Republican revolutionary party which is affiliated with the Cantonese.

Handbills printed in Hindustan urging the Indian troops of the Shanghai defense force not to shoot Chinese, have been found near the Punjabi billets on the Yangtze.

CIGARS UNITED. Because you forgot at night doesn't necessarily mean a sacrifice the next day. We open at 6 O'Clock every morning. The work day is a long one minus your accustomed rations of tobacco. ### RELIC OF TRUE CROSS PRIZED Unusual and Valuable Article Owned by St. Anne's Since 1889.

Among the treasured articles at St. Anne's parish is a relic of the true cross of Christ which has been kept and venerated for many years. The relic is mounted in a beautiful reliquary of gold, studded with precious stones, and the reliquary stands about two feet high. Each morning after the daily masses at 7 and 8 o'clock during Lent, this relic is venerated by the faithful. During the day it is placed on the altar of the Blessed Virgin where those who desire may pray at all times. The relic is one of very few now in this country. It and the authentic document which accompanied it at the time it was presented to St. Anne's parish, dates back to April 1, 1889. The parish also owns a relic of St. Therese which was received more than two months ago. These articles are very valuable and highly cherished by the pastor and members of the parish. Plans are being made for a triple novena commemorating the feast of St. Joseph, the Assumption of the Blessed Mother and St. Therese in the near future.

One of Oldest Beaches in World Found in Peninsula

One of the oldest sea-beaches in the world, formed more than a thousand million years ago, is located in the upper peninsula, according to Prof. W. A. Seaman of the department of geology of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. The ancient seabottom, folded, crushed and changed by the forces of nature working through the millions of centuries of geological time, is still preserved in the hardest of rocks. The old sea beach and other interesting geological formations of this section are described in an interesting manner by Professor Seaman, as follows: "Could the tourist, traversing Cloverland's splendid scenic roads, but visualize the history mutely expressed by the scars of time on the weathered flanks of the numerous rocky hills, he would assuredly agree with the Northern Steamship Company famous slogan—"In all the World No Other Trip Like This!"

One of Oldest. "Mr. Tourist, traveling from Marquette to Champion on M-15, sees scenery—lots of it—but does he realize that there, on that low rocky point near the prison in Marquette, he has seen about the oldest sea-beach in the world? There it stands—tilted up on edge—but with the ripple marks formed a thousand million years ago by the waves of that bleak lifeless Huronian sea, still preserved in what was then a clean white sand beach—now transformed into the hardest of rocks. "The hills to the left, from just south of the 'city limits' to the top itself are almost entirely composed of such ancient sea-bottoms, piled to tremendous depths, since folded, crushed and changed by the forces of nature working through the millions of centuries of geological time. "From Marquette to Negaunee one is following close to that old shore line. To the left are the crumpled ancient sediments—to the right, portions of that immense granite mass extending hundreds of miles to the northward. This granite formed part of the shore of that Huronian sea, but still more of that shore was formed by that dark greenish, sheared rock seen in so many low ledges and rockcuts along the road. This—the Keweenaw Schist—is older than the granite! Older than the hills; older than the sea; older than anything else on the face of the globe. Cross It Again. "Just before, entering Negaunee on the concrete detour, we again cross that old shore line. In the rock cut north of the Maasmine is the same sea-beach tilted steeply to the southward, but here not so thick; for the tremendous accumulation of sediments seen near Marquette has been worn nearly through. Worn through after being converted into the hardest known rock. We do not number the almost countless thousands of years that this later sea took to wear away the thousands of feet of this hardest of rocks but we do consider that this was about the greatest erosion period in the earth's history. The character of the bottom of this latter sea, part of which is shown in this same rock-cut, indicates that there was life in it—life very simple in nature and microscopic in size, life in its beginnings. "As this sea advanced over the land, it deposited a considerable thickness of sand, silt and iron compounds. This iron formation, which in general has undergone vast changes since stretched over a considerable part of northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and to the Arctic ocean on each side of Hudson Bay. The iron ore produced in the Lake Superior region is from this iron formation. Sea Bottom Warped. "The crustal movements on a gigantic scale warped the sea-bottom and innumerable volcanic islands appeared. Many of these volcanic plugs, often bottle-like knobs of crystalline dark rock, can be seen between Negaunee and Ishpeming. These volcanic disturbances folded and changed the iron formation in most places. At Jasper hill, Ishpeming, one may see how the terrific forces have crumpled that hard, black and red banded rock, as one might crumple a bit of tissue paper. The deposition of the iron formation was eventually renewed, but with this difference—much volcanic ash and dust was sifted down and mingled with the clay and iron beds. In some places this ash was so abundant as, alone, to build up beds to vast thickness. The rocks close to the road between Clarkburg and Humboldt are of this character. "As we approach Champion we are getting closer to one of the largest and, at times, most active volcanoes—a volcano which ceased to erupt nearly a thousand million years ago. The low ridges to ones left on entering town are made up of coarser volcanic ejecta—irregular fragments of all sizes up to that of a house—buried from the throat of the volcano, mingled with the finer ash, and since consolidated. "The core, or remnant, of that

Blind Orator to Address Pythians Next Wednesday

Members of the Escanaba lodge of Knights of Pythias are making elaborate plans for a semi-public meeting to be held at the Pythian temple Wednesday evening, March 16, when Frederick S. Atwood, the blind supreme prelate of the supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias, will be the guest of honor of the club. In spite of his affliction, Mr. Atwood is a speaker of national reputation and members of the Escanaba lodge feel that they have been most fortunate in inducing him to come to this city. The subject of his address to be delivered here will be, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

Members of the Pythian lodge will be permitted to invite friends as guests for the evening when Mr. Atwood visits the order here.

Capital Punishment Subject of Debate

Capital punishment will be debated by Rev. John R. Hubbard and Harold Lindsey a the Presbyterian church Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. It was announced yesterday. Rev. Hubbard will uphold the affirmative while Mr. Lindsey will take the negative. Main speeches will be ten minutes long while five minutes will be devoted to rebuttal. As capital punishment is a vital and timely topic, many persons are planning to hear the debate.

PILES CURED PAZO OINTMENT

One time great volcano, lies a little west of Champion and may be seen from the highway as a low hill, in the distance, on the east side of the beautiful Lake Michigan.

Impose Limit on Weight of Motor Vehicles on Road

Condition of the roads in Menominee county has caused the highway authorities there to ask the state highway department to put a limit on the weight of automobile traffic, to prevent heavy trucks and busses from doing considerable damage. It was learned here yesterday. This means that bus service between Escanaba and Menominee and between Iron Mountain and Green Bay, through Menominee, will be suspended temporarily. Conditions, south of Menominee, especially in the vicinity of Peshigo, are said to be particularly bad. It is expected that the weight limit will be imposed in many other parts of the peninsula, as soon as the real breakup begins. The limit is now in effect in lower Michigan.

Father Coignard St. Anne's Speaker

Rev. Fr. A. Coignard, pastor of St. Joseph's church at Perkins, recognized as one of the most forceful speakers of the clergy in this section of the state, who has acceded to the request of the pastor of St. Anne's church, Very Rev. R. G. Jacques, to preach the sermons every Wednesday evening during the Lenten season thrilled during the immense crowd at St. Anne's church Wednesday when he spoke on "The Existence of the Devil and Hell." Fr. Coignard will continue to preach in this city during the next four weeks and it is expected that many persons will hear him. The public is welcome to attend the services. After the sermons there will be benediction with the blessed sacrament.

Home at Ogontz Destroyed by Fire

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weberg and their five children are homeless as a result of a fire which destroyed their home at Ogontz, Tuesday. The fire had gained such headway when it was discovered that Mrs. Weberg was able to save only the children and their clothing from the blazing structure. The children range in age from nine years to one month. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Once upon a time—a few million years ago—a vast forest of huge redwood trees stretched over the northern half of the earth, from what we now call California, across Canada and the land bridges which then existed to Greenland, Iceland and the icy archipelago now known as Spitzbergen.

Time passes: shape and the climate of the earth's surface changed; the relentless glaciers crawled southward, only a few groves of the sequoias, on the slope of California's Sierras, survived intact.

French and British offensives on the western front, says Churchill, were more costly to the allies than to the Germans; victory for the allies was made possible only by Germany's compelling the United States to enter the war and by her own offensives in France, which proved too expensive in men and materials.

"The forests of America," John Muir wrote in "The Atlantic Monthly" thirty years ago, "must have been a great delight to God; for they were the best he ever planted. The whole continent was a garden."

The brain was made to think with, but the pocketbook forms most of the opinions.—Shreveport Journal.

EVERYTHING COMES TO HIM WHO WAITS AND HAS PATIENCE.

And so I say to you, my lassies, And say to you, my lads, It is the changing thing that passes, We weary of our fads.

And so I say to you, O mothers, And say to you, O sires, Though truth must stand aside for others, In time men's folly tires.

Then men shall weary of the new things, Shall want the old things, want the true things, The things familiar, not the strange, That God has never thought to change.

SIMPLIFY THE TAX.

Simplification of the income tax law is not only a desirable thing, it is a necessity. The need of a new federal income tax law which will be both comprehensive and easily understood by the general public is only too apparent.

The present income tax laws are very confusing. They are subject to many interpretations and needlessly burden the department because of the difficulty of collections.

About nine-tenths of those who pay federal income taxes ordinarily have simple returns, yet to find the simple principles applying to their own case they must wade through 150 pages of fine print, which happens to include 250 cross references.

Two shoes, two stockings, one dress, one diamond ring and one—yes, just one—other article. My gal showed me one—in a department store window. Since that is definitely settled how, about the difference between a diamond ring and a head of lettuce? Lettuce diamond the correct answer.

Down in the saintly and revered city of Detroit, a preacher has sued his wife for divorce because she criticized his sermons. The wife, in a cross bill, expects to offer one of the sermons in evidence if it can be done without undue cruelty to the court.

With this parting bit of suggestion, Miss Folsom went off to her own room, and the men remained for a few more words.

"I shall certainly do that, Mr. Pelton," Stone said, "and if it is of any comfort to you, and I dare say it is, I can tell you that I think there is so far very little evidence against Mrs. Valdon."

"Bless you for that!" said Dan Pelton so earnestly that Stone was touched. "Yes," he went on, noticing Stone's quick glance, "as my aunt says, I have fallen for that woman. To me she is a wait of fortune, a toy of fate, but not the scheming adventures my aunt would make her seem. Nor is she a murderess! The very idea is unthinkable! But my uncle did have a hold over her; did have letters from her, and she did try to get them without the knowledge of the sensation-seeking police. Those things I know."

"What was in the letters of whether she did finally get them, I don't know. But they were here, in the suitcase, right on top, and they're not here now. I am frank, Mr. Stone, because I want the matter cleared up as well as my aunt does, and if you can get at the real truth you can do away with all hint of suspicion of Mrs. Valdon."

Stone looked at him a little quizzically. "I had but two legitimate suspects," he said, with pretended rustiness, "Sears here and Mrs. Valdon. If you deprive me of both, at one fell swoop, what pray, am I to do?"

"Get the real one," said Tite Riggs, rising to go. "I can't do it; I haven't a glimmer of a notion what way to look, but I'll bet you manage it, Mr. Stone."

"I'll bet he does," agreed Pelton, and the anxious eyes of Croydon Sears did not echo their assurance.

"I'll have a try at it," Stone told them. "But I don't mind admitting that at the present I've no evidence to work on, no clue to follow up. I'm all at sea."

"Then you're right on the spot," said Pelton, with a flash of his irresponsible gaiety, "for that's where the crime was committed!"

"A strange case," Stone said to Sears as they left the room and went toward their own apartments. "I've never before heard of a murder in the ocean. It is clever, I'll say that for it. Just think, Croy, no fingerprints, no clues left lying about, no witnesses, no evidence to be drawn from the scene of this crime, and I feel sure the murderer thought there would be no weapon found. Why, there's nothing material to work on. Nothing to consider but the mental attitudes of the victim and his possible enemies. And of those I know almost nothing. Small wonder I'm all at sea!"

"True enough, old man. But for heaven's sake get me out of it! Do you know since you've come, and the thing is getting into shape as you see it, I'm more than ever certain my part in the matter must come out."

"Probably not, Croy. But if it is necessary, you'll have to buck up and stand it. Better have the thing lanced than to let it fester."

"Yes, I know. And if it comes to that I'll stand up to it, of course. If it were not for Robin I'd make a clean breast of the whole matter, but the boy—and Angelica—"

"I know. Don't think about it at present. We'll likely get a new line on it all tomorrow. Big hotel, isn't it?"

"Yes, the Majusca is one of the newest and finest on the beach. Well, here's your room; do get a little sleep."

Fleming Stone didn't require much sleep, but the sea air made for drowsiness, and he put in a good night's rest before he joined Croydon Sears at breakfast.

Robin was there, too, and Ned Barron, the girls having their breakfast in their rooms.

"Did the night bring any counsel?" Barron inquired, his big voice toned down to a discreet pitch.

"Some," Stone returned, smiling. "But as I told Sears, I'm all at sea, unless I can get a straw to show which way the wind may, can or must be blowing."

"You can't make bricks without straw, can you?" Robin smiled, and added, "I'll bet you've crossed my dad off the list of possibilities."

"I'll bet I haven't," Stone said. "But that's because he never was on it. And, it's a very small, faint list, anyway. However, we're only starting in, and no telling what favoring winds may blow us to port sooner than we expect."

"Who's at the top of your list?" Barron asked, his curiosity getting the better of him.

"A beautiful lady," Stone said. "Don't ask her name yet for something tells me she'll be crossed off speedily. Indeed, so far it's all a blank mystery. I'm lost in a fog of hovering possibilities, none of which will take shape or tangibility. The only straight facts are that Garrett Folsom was stabbed and that somebody stabbed him."

"Couldn't have been suicide?" asked Barron.

"Not a chance. The doctors agree on that, and—by the way, you stood next to him. Can you see a suicide act?"

"No, indeed," Ned Barron shrugged his shoulders. "I was paying no attention to him, for I wanted to discourage his attempts at conversation, but as I look back and visualize the scene, I seem to see his two hands grasping the rope next to my own."

"You saw him go under?"

"No, for I was turned away, speaking to Madeline. But I saw and heard a commotion and next thing I knew they were carrying him out. I didn't notice it much, assuming it was a case of cramps. It happens so often."

"Well, your testimony doesn't help me any. You didn't know him at all. Never heard of him before that day. It was the merest chance that we stood near him."

"Well it's a puzzle," sighed Stone. "I've nothing to work on but people's prejudices, a dagger and a few dolls! That doesn't seem much for an able-bodied detective!"

"Dolls!" exclaimed Robin, "what dolls?"

Stone does not believe Carmelita guilty; yet he can't dismiss her entirely. In the next chapter he learns more about the purchaser of the pichay.

SALTING THE SEA.

New York—Carrying coals to Newcastle was just as logical as the action of the vessel John Hamlen, which limped into port after spilling 100 tons of salt through a hole in its keel. The leak developed near the end of the cruise from the West Indies, and attempts to check it resulted in failure. A coal grader cutter towed the ship to port.

CHAPTER XLII Stone smiled at him affectionately.

"I'm excluding Mr. Sears as a possible suspect," he said, "because he is not so sure of that as I am, and so to prove my point I must find the real murderer."

"Who is," Sears appended, "the man who bought a bundle of junk at the auction room late in the evening the night before the murder?"

"And who," Anastasia broke in, "bought it for Carmelita Valdon. Oh, it wasn't necessary for her to go out and buy it herself. She is a woman who has others to do her underhand work. And I've listened to all you've said, Mr. Stone, and it all comes back to her. For who else knew in advance that my brother was coming down here? No one knew it except the Valdon crowd."

"That includes Roger Neville," said Stone thoughtfully. "Has no breath of suspicion been wafted his way?"

"No," Tite Riggs said. "It hasn't. I've wondered why, but nobody seems to think of him in that way."

"Certainly not," snapped Miss Folsom. "Roger Neville is no saint, but he and Garry were intimate friends. They were fond of each other, and, though they quarrelled now and then, they were really devoted. Why, they both made wills leaving large sums to the other. Had Roger died first Garry would have come into quite a fortune."

"Which he didn't need," suggested Stone.

"Oh, no. My brother was a rich man. Well, Mr. Stone, I suppose it's too late for you to do anything further tonight. I hope you'll get busy in the morning and round up that Carmelita woman! Remember, she's about the only one in all Ocean Town who knew beforehand that my brother was coming down here."

With this parting bit of suggestion, Miss Folsom went off to her own room, and the men remained for a few more words.

"My aunt says, I have fallen for that woman. To me she is a wait of fortune, a toy of fate, but not the scheming adventures my aunt would make her seem. Nor is she a murderess! The very idea is unthinkable! But my uncle did have a hold over her; did have letters from her, and she did try to get them without the knowledge of the sensation-seeking police. Those things I know."

"What was in the letters of whether she did finally get them, I don't know. But they were here, in the suitcase, right on top, and they're not here now. I am frank, Mr. Stone, because I want the matter cleared up as well as my aunt does, and if you can get at the real truth you can do away with all hint of suspicion of Mrs. Valdon."

Stone looked at him a little quizzically. "I had but two legitimate suspects," he said, with pretended rustiness, "Sears here and Mrs. Valdon. If you deprive me of both, at one fell swoop, what pray, am I to do?"

"Get the real one," said Tite Riggs, rising to go. "I can't do it; I haven't a glimmer of a notion what way to look, but I'll bet you manage it, Mr. Stone."

"I'll bet he does," agreed Pelton, and the anxious eyes of Croydon Sears did not echo their assurance.

"I'll have a try at it," Stone told them. "But I don't mind admitting that at the present I've no evidence to work on, no clue to follow up. I'm all at sea."

"Then you're right on the spot," said Pelton, with a flash of his irresponsible gaiety, "for that's where the crime was committed!"

"A strange case," Stone said to Sears as they left the room and went toward their own apartments. "I've never before heard of a murder in the ocean. It is clever, I'll say that for it. Just think, Croy, no fingerprints, no clues left lying about, no witnesses, no evidence to be drawn from the scene of this crime, and I feel sure the murderer thought there would be no weapon found. # STATES UNITE TO SAVE GAME

Coordination of Conservation Efforts Conference Subject.

Amrods who kill all of the game that the state of Michigan allows them to under the law and then jump to Wisconsin or Minnesota during a later season and kill more are in for a bad time if it plans of leading conservationists carry through at the Out-Door Life Conference in Chicago, May 9 to 14.

Governor Fred W. Green has been invited to lead the Michigan delegation of conservationists who will take part in the conference and the governors of Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin have signified their intentions of being on hand to help formulate plans for a uniform of game laws for the states they represent.

Governor Fred Zimmerman took the lead in plans for the conference recently when he invited the governors to join him there after he investigated the condition of the natural resources of his state. In Wisconsin, it was learned, more than $100,000,000 is being spent each year by tourists whose primary interest in touring the state is to enjoy its natural resources. This tremendous revenue will drop off sharply, Governor Zimmerman believes, unless steps are taken to preserve that for which the tourist visits the state. Believing that nearby states must face the same problem as Wisconsin, he has invited the governors of those states to help him formulate game and forestry laws that will stop the destruction and waste of what constitutes the greatest assets the states have.

Talk Reforestation.
"It is my hope that at the Out-Door Life Conference in May at Chicago we may make some headway towards reforestation, the establishing of game preserves, the prevention of forest fires, and the beautification of our highways," Governor Zimmerman announced this week.

"With the governors of five states to lead the fight, I am confident that we can take real steps in conservation at the conference. On the same dates as those on which the conference will be held and at the same place, the Out-Door Life Show will be in session and as most of those who are interested in conservation attend the Out-Door Show, we expect a large and enthusiastic attendance. With such an audience we can take up such a problem as that of the game hog who goes from state to state killing off our wild life because the various states have different dates for their hunting seasons," said Governor Zimmerman.

As Michigan has much the same conservation situation as Wisconsin, Governor Green is expected to lead a large number of northwoods people from this state who are going to the conference. Governor Small of Illinois is at present engaged in conservation work and the conference has been promised enthusiastic support from that state.

Wild Life in Danger.
Michigan, too, is in danger of losing much of its game life and natural forests and with them a tremendous amount of money brought in by tourists each year, according to Milo E. Westbrook, secretary of the conference, and most of the discussion at the show will deal with the conservation problems of Michigan and Wisconsin.

During the conference the delegates will be told of the wonderful natural resources James J. Audubon, America's first great biologist found in Michigan when he crossed part of the state over 100 years ago.

Barr P. T. A. Holds Splendid Meeting; Large Attendance

The Barr school P. T. A. held their most successful meeting of the year Wednesday evening. Many of the fathers as well as the mothers of pupils were present, sending the attendance up to 130.

The meeting was opened by the singing of "America" by the audience, followed by a short business session.

The second part of the program consisted of the following interesting and instructive numbers which were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present:

- Group of Selections—High School Assembly orchestra.

OFFER BETTER CROPS PRIZES

Development Bureau Operates with U. P. County Agents.

Considerable interest has already been displayed in this section in the "better crops contest" which will be conducted by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, cooperating with the county agents of the district.

The bureau has placed prize money to the amount of $750 in the hands of a central committee working with the state college specialists and the railroads. The central organization includes the agricultural committeemen of the Development Bureau—E. G. Amos, G. W. Putnam, Prof. J. F. Cox, C. E. Skiver and J. A. Jeffery.

Contests in each county will be in charge of a local county crops committee in conjunction with the county agent. Any farmer in the upper peninsula can compete by making application to his county committee or agent before July 1.

The bureau's prizes, amounting to $50 for each of the 15 Cloverland counties, will, it is expected, be supplemented by like amount from those interested in each county. Thus cash awards well worth working for will be put up. The purpose of the contest, of course, is to increase profitable crop production by encouraging better cultural methods. An aid to this end will be the "Better Crops Special" train in which upper peninsula railroads will cooperate.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Olive Borden in a screen version of James Oliver Curwood's novel, "The Country Beyond," is announced as the stellar attraction at the Delft today and Saturday.

Miss Borden, who is a versatile actress, appears in an exotic and colorful role. In the early sequences she wears nondescript garments—a fiery, yet pathetic figure of a girl, born in the Canadian Rockies and taken care of, after a fashion, by her guardians, who are shiftless French-Canadians.

She attracts the attention of a New York theatrical producer, on a tour of the primitive forests of the Northland. He takes her to Broadway and in the course of time she becomes the vogue as a musical comedy dancer. In this sequence, Miss Borden wears strikingly original creations, which, in themselves are visual delights.

"The Country Beyond," is Fox films screen version of one of the most appealing of James Oliver Curwood's great novels. The host of readers who have followed this fascinating tale of love and romance will be delighted with the beauty of the country brought home to them through the life-like medium of the camera.

The cast embraces a list of notable names, Gertrude Astor, J. Farrell MacDonald, Fred Kohler, Elyssa Selbie, Lawford Davidson, Ralph Graves and Alfred Fisher.

AT THE STRAND.
Hoyt's, "A Trip to Chinatown,"—a famous comedy enacted by a distinguished cast—will be shown at the Strand Friday and Saturday.

Margaret Livingston appears as the charming widow. She wears thirty-six of the most elaborate gowns ever designed for screen purposes.

Earl Foxe, is seen as "Welland Strong," the tired young man with the explosive lung.

J. Farrell MacDonald is cast as "Ben Strong," the shy old uncle. Anna May Wong, "The Little Mary Pickford of China," and George Kuwa, one of the best known Oriental actors on the American screen, add comedy touches the subtle significance. In addition, the cast calls into play Wilson Bengie, Harry Woods,

My Powder For Girls

By Edna Wallace Hopper
Countless girls and women asked me about my powders. I did not supply them at first. In fact, I was paying $5 per box, and only stage stars will do that.

But now I am having these powders made by the hundred thousand boxes. And those boxes now sell at 50c and $1—the powders used by movie stars, the finest that skill can produce. All toilet counters supply them in my name.

There are two types. One is my Youth Cream Powder—a heavy cold cream powder that clings and stays. I use that type. Many women prefer a light and fluffy powder, so I have the same powders made in that way, and the price is only 50c.

Let me send you some samples on little vanity tabs. Let me treat you to the finest powders in the world. Mark and clip the coupon now.

Merchants Sow the Seeds of Good Will Through The Daily Press

The DAILY PRESS

The buying index of Delta and neighboring counties—prompt, efficient, and complete. A circulation of almost 7,000.

There is but one way to build up consumer Good Will—that is through selling goods that are really values and telling the consumer about them through advertising. That is why the many advertisers in The Daily Press should have the good will of The Press' 35,000 readers. Those readers realize that your good will is highly valuable and that in order to receive it—it must be deserved! There can be no "humbug" in advertised goods; years ago the old type merchant might have "gotten away with something" but today the newspapers insist that all advertising be backed with the merchandise. Those old merchandising methods have been replaced by new ones—methods built on competition, a new type of merchant who is fair dealing, and an understanding that business success depends on Good Will; and Good Will can come only through dollar for dollar values and true, straight forward advertising. Inside Sentinel—Mrs. Emma LaChapelle.

Chaplain—Rev. B. J. P. Scherer.

Medical Examiner—Dr. A. R. Tucker.

After the meeting, the members marched in a body to the home of Frank Havlicek, where they recited the Rosary.

BINKS BOW TO BRAULTS BOYS IN PIN CLASH

Brault's Specials were victorious over Bink's Arcadians of Escanaba in the inter-city match rolled at the Brault bowling alleys Wednesday evening.

The margin was a narrow one, the local Reglers besting the visitors by only 15 pins. Two men who classified themselves as mere "all-stars" were included on the Brault lineup and helped to keep the score close while the Escanaba aggregation was getting accustomed to the alleys. Their last high game of 872 nearly turned the tables.

The scores were:

MANISTIQUE
Brault	155 198 189 542
Sadler	133 141 131 405
Werner	185 155 164 504

Circus Coming to Manistique Tonight

The circus is coming to Manistique—and with it one of the most absorbing mystery stories ever filmed, "The Monkey Talks." This picture will be the feature attraction at the Gero theater tonight.

Not only is the circus one of the big features of the production, but the narrative by Rene Fauchois is most intriguing. As a stage play, "The Monkey Talks" enjoyed world wide success having successful runs in London, Paris and New York.

When Fox Films bought the screen rights to the play, the stipulation was included to engage the noted French stage star Jacques Lerner to interpret the role of Jocko, the talking monkey. Lerner is most famous for his remarkable impersonations of animals and enacted the monkey role for each auspicious stage presentation of the play.

Falk and Sadler Grab Double Lead

A mark of 1056, hung up by the Falk-Sadler duo, now holds the lead in the merry-go-round doubles tourney at the Brault alleys in Manistique.

Second to the leaders are Anderson and Arrowood, with 1045, and the Led-Gutke combination comes in third with a total of 1025.

Case Dropped, But Still Andy Wasn't Exactly Satisfied

On recommendation of Paul Knuth, local conservation officer, prosecution was dropped yesterday in the case of Andrew Wharton, Indian from Squaw Point, who was arraigned before Justice W. A. McKinney on a charge of having venison in his possession illegally.

Even after the case was dismissed, Andy didn't seem satisfied. He thought he should receive some compensation for the time lost in making a trip to Manistique and appearing before the justice. He was assured by his attorney that he was lucky to get what he got and escape getting what he didn't get.

The arrest was made Monday by Deputies Knuth, Peter Bauers and Bert Furst.

F. HAVLICHEK FUNERAL THIS MORNING AT 8

Funeral services will be held at Manistique this morning for Frank Havlicek, former resident of this city, who died Monday at his home in Massachusetts. Requiem high mass will be held at St. Francis de Sales church at 8 a. m. and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

The deceased was 31 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children, in addition to his parents in Manistique, two brothers and three sisters.

Among those from out-of-town who will attend the funeral are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Havlicek and family of Flint and Floyd Gonyea of Cudahy, Wis.

EASTERN STAR PARTY.

All Eastern Stars and their husbands, all Masons and their ladies, are invited to a party to be given at the Masonic hall tonight. There will be cards and dancing. Hamill's orchestra will supply the music. Proceeds from this party will go to the Star Commonwealth home for boys at Albion, and for that reason a good crowd is anticipated. Refreshments will be served. Invitations are not being mailed for the event.

How She Gained 10 Pounds in 23 Days

That's going some—but skinny men, women and children just can't help putting on good, healthy flesh when they take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

As rich in vitamins as the tasty, fishy-tasting cod liver oil itself, but these sugar-coated, tasteless tablets are as easy to take as candy, and won't upset the stomach.

One woman gained ten pounds in twenty-two days, 60 tablets, 60 cents. Ask Hill Drug Co. or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and if you don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creosolium, an emulsified crocoite that is pleasant to take. Creosolium is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocoite is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creosolium contains, in addition to crocoite, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocoite goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creosolium is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CITY BRIEFS

Emanuel Arrowood and Claude Anderson have returned from Escanaba where they visited friends.

Mrs. Louise Florida and daughter, Thelma, of Milwaukee arrived in this city Wednesday evening to attend the funeral of the former's sister, Mrs. Fred Clare, who was buried yesterday.

Isadore Chudacoff has returned to his home in Peshtigo after visiting friends in this city.

Earl LeBrasseur, George Brunet, James Hughes, Bud Malloy and Norman Jahn will motor to Gladstone where they will play the Buckeye basketball team.

Mrs. E. O. Brault, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Joseph Wolf, in Marquette, is expected to return to her home in this city the latter part of this week.

L. C. Harmon of Minneapolis, formerly of Manistique, was in the city yesterday on business.

Germfask Man Is Under $3000 Bonds

Recognition totalling $3,000 has been given at Manistique by Alan Tweedy, superintendent of the muskrat farm at Germfask, to insure his appearance at the next term of Schoolcraft county circuit court, where he will face three charges involving statutory offenses with minor girls.

Tweedy has been released under bonds, after furnishing sureties of $1,000 each on the three separate charges. He was arraigned before Justice W. A. McKinney on Wednesday for the third time within the month.

Lee Smits Takes Tour Through U. P.

Lee J. Smits of Detroit, prominent state newspaper writer and commissioner of the state conservation department, made a stop-over at Manistique Wednesday while making a tour of the upper peninsula.

Mr. Smits is studying conservation problems of the peninsula, both as a newspaper writer and as a member of the conservation commission. On his trip to Manistique, he was accompanied by George Gish, Jr.

Washington, Mar. 9—(AP)—After unique experiments with electricity and white mice, Dr. F. A. Moss, professor of psychology at George Washington university, has listed the animal instincts, in which he includes those of relative importance: Hunger, sex, mother love and herd instinct. The rodents were made to pass over an electrically charged plate in order to satisfy their desires and the list was based on the percentage of those who braved the shocks.

IN NEW YORK

New York, March 11.—Each week brings to the speakery some new wrinkle for evading detection and arrest.

A number of liquor dispensaries about Times Square run wide open, taking little caution and depending on the large turnover to overcome early arrest.

But those who wish to survive over periods of time must contrive clever schemes by which the possibility of spotters being served is reduced to a minimum.

In the middle Fifties there is a little rear doorway equipped with a frosted glass window. The prospective guest places the palm of his hand against the glass, so that it can be seen by the doorkeeper, who remains invisible. The appearance of the hand is the signal for a lookout to appear at a side peephole. If the owner of the hand is recognized, the door opens; otherwise he can pound to his heart's delight without gaining entrance.

Another place, closer to the Forties, gives out keys to those "on the in." If one cares to visit this bar he must obtain one of these specially made keys, and all the introductions in the world are of no avail if he fails to possess this key.

A third place has a registration system, after the fashion of hotels. The prospective guest must register in a ledger kept by a clerk just outside the hall door. The signature on the register is compared with a signature previously secured, each signer be-

Sky-writing has given way to the newer novelty of "song plugging" from an airplane.

The plane is equipped with huge loud speakers, circling as low as possible while the "stunt-flyer-singer" bellows the words of a song he hopes to popularize.

As the bite goes from the winds, the outdoor showmen begin to gather at their favorite stands, one of which is just outside the Billboard or Variety magazines, or at a cigar stand in Forty-third street.

In the Billboard office is kept a private post-office for those who follow the carnivals and canvas shows. Some mail is called for but once a year and some is forwarded round the world, catching up with performers in Australia, India or the Orient.

Now and then an old lady slips into the place and rather nervously asks for word of a son who ran away from home and whom, she fears, is off with the circus or carnival.

Perhaps, she suggests, the girl at the post-office desk has heard about such-and-such a boy. The girl shakes her head. There are thousands of Joe Smiths in the outdoor show racket, she explains, and the gray-haired woman slips back into the Broadway crowd.

Some future O. Henry is going to pitch camp in the offices of the "show game" periodicals one of these days, and what grand tales they will be!

Prince William Interviewed By Former Escanaban

Herman Nelson, formerly of Escanaba, who is now a member of the editorial staff of the Rockford, Ill., Daily Republic, recently was assigned to "cover" an unusually interesting story—an interview with Prince William of Sweden. Nelson met the prince in Chicago and rode in a railway parlor car with him to Rockford where the prince spent a day.

Nelson's story revealed that the prince hates snow and cold weather; regards George Eastman, the kodak manufacturer, as his most interesting personality in America; is favorably impressed with the splendid train service in the United States; is very fond of American humor; speaks five languages fluently; thinks American baseball players are worth the large salaries they are paid, and dodges formal social functions whenever he can.

Prince William is noted as an explorer, lion hunter, world traveler, poet and lecturer, and an unusually skilled motion picture camera man.

Herman Nelson was graduated from Escanaba high school and Augustana college. He edited the Augustana Observer last year and attracted wide attention. He is industrial editor of the Rockford Republic.

Chicago, Mar. 9—(AP)—Two cheetahs from the wilds of Africa were deemed of sufficient importance for a resolution by the city council today. Chief of Police Collins was instructed in the resolution to scan city ordinances to determine whether the animals, household pets of Mr. and Mrs. John Wentworth, who recently returned from Africa, can be barred from Chicago streets.

Aldermen objected to "beasts from African wilds" parading Chicago boulevards.

One administration may avoid increasing the bond debt, though the bonds issued in years gone by may prove a serious handicap to it particularly if they are not pro-rated evenly over the years.

amount. "These improvements include such familiar additions as the new water works intake project, amounting alone to $14,000, among other water additions, boulevard light extensions amounting to $1,200, the city's share of the Ninth street and Minnesota avenue pavements, amounting to $2,700, the city's share of the new Minnesota avenue storm water relief sewer amounting to $1,800, the new fire pumper, many new gravelled streets and other additions too numerous to mention, all of which appear in the public records. In spending funds, the administration has attempted to make the improvements in the order of their relative importance and urgency. So much for bond debt and public improvements.

MARKET NEWS

ISSUES HIT NEW HIGH RECORDS

New York, Mar. 10.—(AP)—Resumption of the upward price movement in today's stock market set more than a score issues to new high levels for the year but heavy profit-taking developed before the close in some of the recent favorites, leaving final quotations irregularly higher.

Trading showed a further expansion, total sales again running close to the 2,000,000 mark. The credit situation continued easy, with call money in plentiful supply at 4 per cent, which rate has been maintained without change since the first of the month. There was no change in time money and commercial paper rates.

The demand for the rails was more sustained, but there was nothing in the day's news to explain the heavy accumulation of the leading carrier stocks. Some of them doubtless are attractive as investments in view of the relatively low yield on most higher grade bonds.

Remington Typewriter common soared 10 points to a new record high at 170 in anticipation of a formal declaration of the completion of its consolidation with Rand Kerdex and other units. Reactionary price tendencies predominated in the principal commodity markets. Active wheat futures broke about a cent a bushel in reflection of disappointment over the foreign demand for the commodity. Cotton options also drifted lower, but coffee and sugar prices were slightly better.

In the foreign exchange market, Spanish pesetas established another new high just below 17 1/2 cents, and most of the other rates held firm. Demand sterling was quoted around $48 1/16 and French francs just above 3.90 cents.

Escanaba Student Has Picture Taken With Naval Chief

Secretary of the Navy, Wilbur, made the trip from Washington and visited the Naval Unit at Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill. Secretary of the Naval Unit, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Valind of this city are a member of this unit and is working for an ensign's commission. The unit ranks second only to Annapolis, and the uniforms are identical with those worn at Annapolis. The unit was inspected by the secretary and by the Commander of the Great Lakes station. Only five other schools in the United States and Naval Training Units, Norbert Valind stood alongside of Secretary Wilbur, whose newspaper photographers were taking pictures of the unit.

Police Looking for Magazine Salesman

Residents of Escanaba are requested by Chief of Police John Tolan to report to police a salesman who is in the district selling the Priscilla magazine by misrepresentation. The salesman, it is said, offers to sell the magazine for 55 cents a year with a cookbook free whereas that is only a small down payment on a year's subscription. Anyone seeing this salesman is asked to report to police headquarters immediately.

The courthouse, a large and imposing building of white, rough-hewn stone, with magnificent white marble pillars, was set, in lovely splendor, in the center of a city block, its terraced lawn a thing of civic beauty in the spring and summer.

But this very raw day in January found the dry stubble of the courthouse lawn trampled by thousands of feet. Men and women and holiday from school—having lost their fight for admission into the court room, which had been packed since seven o'clock, were now fighting for preferred positions near the broad flight of marble steps leading into the building, hoping for a glimpse of the prisoners' murderer and the family of the murdered man.

But it was not the sight of the familiar courthouse and jail which caused Faith's eyes to dwell with horror and Jim Lane's hand to tremble in their clasp of his daughter's arm. Facing it, on three sides, were blocks of one, two, three and even four-story buildings, given over to garages, filling stations, cheap eating houses and hotels. And in the three blocks facing the courthouse, was making a frantic bid for patronage from the thousands who would throng the courthouse square during the trial for murder of Cherry Lane Wiley and her husband, Chistopher Wiley.

5 BALL TEAMS IN EXHIBITIONS

Clamor of Noisy Battle Resounds Throughout the South.

Atlanta, Ga., Mar. 10.—(AP)—The bit, run and throw drill of major league baseballers in Florida was light today, but the laxity was slight, for in five camps bats were crossed in the biggest array of exhibition games of the training grid.

The clamor of battle extended the length and breadth of the state. The New York Yankees visited the Cincinnati Reds at Orlando.

The ambitious University of Florida nine opposed the Brooklyn Royals at Clearwater; Boston's Braves were at St. Petersburg for a game with Cleveland and John McGraw sent his Giants against the Buffalo Internationals at Palmetto.

The inter-league frays will continue through Saturday.

Pipp Signs Contract. As Jack Hendricks' Red Legs camped at Orlando, announcement came from Cincinnati that Wally Pipp, first baseman, has signed his contract, leaving only Hugh G. Witt to report.

Pipp is in Florida and should be in uniform shortly.

The title-bearing Cardinals worked out lightly at Avon Park and looked to five exhibition games next week to furnish plenty of tapering-off work.

A number of the St. Louisians including Maury, Flowers and Manager Bob D'Arroll are nursing sore muscles.

Everything was said to be satisfactory at Tarpon Springs, where the capricious St. Louis Browns are camped. Dan Howley has succeeded in putting his hurling staff in excellent condition and now feels that Gaston, Zachary, and Ballou are ready for a turn and will work for a few innings each, against the Reds at Orlando.

Collins Springs Surprise. A sore shank has no worries for Eddie Collins and he surprised his Philadelphia Athletics mates at Fort Myers today by going through with a full workout.

The Washington Senators are worried about an injured leg that "Old Barney" Johnson suffered yesterday when he made contact with an over-life spheroid.

Stuffy Melina sent his Phillies through the regular routine workout at Bradenton.

Over in Louisiana, the Chicago White Sox divided their time between the hospital and baseball field. Before and after a snappy workout, the Schalk men went to the hospital to inquire about Johnny Mostell's condition.

At New Orleans, the Boston Red Sox yanigans trounced the regulars, 3 to 0, in a seven-inning practice tilt. Welser, Adams and Quill worked for the Yankees to hold the more highly touted mates scoreless.

Mortality declared at San Antonio, Texas, that the Detroit Tigers would be kept out of practice (ills) for a few days and his 35 candidates would indulge in mere throwing of the ball and infield and outfield drill.

Psalmsingers, Baracas Eliminated from Race in Semi-Final Rounds

Typesingers	26	Ramblers	20
Psalmsingers	15	Baptists	9

The Daily Press Typesingers and the E. F. U. Ramblers will clash in the final rounds of the second annual Press basketball tournament for the amateur championship of the city in the Escanaba high gym tonight. The program will start at 7:15 with a consolation honor game between the Roughhousers and the Vikings to decide fifth and sixth places. The Baptist Baracas will play the Psalmsingers to decide third and fourth places.

The Press Typesingers came through the semi-final rounds of the elimination joust by defeating the Swedish Methodist Psalmsingers 26 to 15 in the Webster gym last night and the E. F. U. Ramblers defeated the Baptist Baracas 20 to 9. The games were witnessed by an overflow crowd.

The brand of basketball exhibited in last night's games was excellent with all four squads showing lots of pep and fight. The championship game tonight should be one of the hardest fought amateur games ever played in the city.

Norlin Starts Strong. Norlin started the scoring for the Psalmsingers last night with a field goal that was duplicated a minute later by M. Berglund. But Schou started a rapid fire rally with three field goals for the Typesingers and Lough added another for a grand total of eight before Norlin caged the third field goal for the 'Singers and the quarter ended with the Press crew leading 8 to 4.

Lough and Schou scored one field goal each for the Press and W. Berglund made a field goal and two free throws for the 'Singers as the half ended with the Typesingers enjoying a 12 to 10 lead.

M. Berglund knotted the count at 12 all as the third period with a field goal for the "Musicians." Lough pushed the Press boys out in front with a free throw and W. Berglund evened things up with a free throw for the 'Singers bringing the score to 12 to 12. W. Berglund proceeded to spread gloom in the Typesingers camp with a field goal that gave the Psalmsingers a 15 to 12 lead. Johnson made one point for the Press on a free throw as the third period ended with the Psalmsingers leading 15 to 14.

Lough Tears Loose. Chris Lough started the fourth quarter with the idea that the Psalmsingers should no longer reign supreme and before the Berglund incorporation could focus their howitzers on the mesh for additional baskets he pushed the Typesingers out in front 24 to 15 by means of 5 field goals. Schou added the finishing touches with another field basket before the game ended with the Typesingers out in front 26 to 15.

The lineup: Typesingers (26) FG FT PF Lough, rf 7 1 0 Groff, lf 0 0 2 Schou, c 5 0 3 Johnson, rg 0 1 1 Perryman, lg 0 0 0 Goldberg, lg 0 0 0 Totals 12 2 6

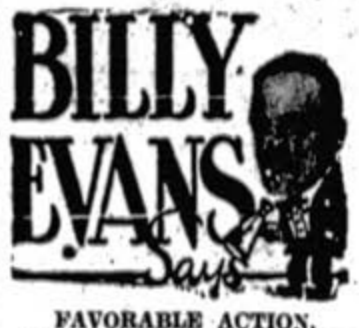

Psalmsingers (15) FG FT PF Norlin, rf 2 0 1 W. Berglund, lf 2 3 0 M. Berglund, c 2 0 1 Ellison, rg 0 0 2 Swellander, lg 0 0 1 L. Johnson, lf 0 0 0 Oetman 0 0 0 Gauflin, lg 0 0 0 Totals 6 3 6 Referee—Shaw. Umpire—Edick.

DEMARS, TOBIN SCORE. Demars and Tobin with one free throw each started the scoring in the Rambler-Baptist game but Brown with a field goal and Allen with a free throw gave the Baptists a 3 to 2 lead before the first quarter ended.

Demars caged two field goals and St. Louis one to shift the lead to the Ramblers while the Baracas were held scoreless in the second quarter. The half ended with the Ramblers leading 8 to 3.

G. Burns, Demars and St. Louis began rambling for the Ramblers in the third quarter with one field goal each. Brown sank a free throw for the Baptist boys and Bowers a field goal. Turnquist made a field basket for the Ramblers as the third quarter ended with the latter crew leading 16 to 6.

RAMBLERS TOTAL 18. Turnquist did some more rambling and found an opening for a field basket to bring the Rambler total to 18. Allen with a field goal and Brown with one point obtained via the free toss

BILLY EVANS

FAVORABLE ACTION.

A lot of things have happened in baseball since the close of the 1926 race.

Not during the 22 years I have spent in the majors can I recall an off-season replete with so many sensations.

There was considerable washing of dirty linen, some of which remains soiled. To me most of it was much ado about nothing.

I have been asked any number of times if I believed the scandals of 1926 would react unfavorably on baseball.

My reply has always been the same—"I do not think so." Of course I have any number of reasons for my optimistic attitude, the most important being that the game is far greater than any individual or group.

It may surprise, but now that all the tangles have been straightened out, I look for the unpleasant happenings of the past winter to react for the good of the game.

The Ever Suspicious. True, the accusations that were bandied back and forth last winter have created a tendency toward suspicion.

But after all, there always have been a lot of people interested in sport ever ready to point the finger of suspicion at any act that failed to meet with their approval.

These pessimistic folk probably will be over-suspicious this summer when some player errs on the easiest sort of a chance. They will leave the ball park wondering what his price was.

This, of course, is unfortunate, but far from being entirely new, it has been my experience that if one desires to get into an argument, he never has the slightest trouble in getting plenty of hearers willing to swear all sports are crooked.

Play the Game. It is my thought that the ball players are going to display a better spirit this season. I look for it to be prevalent from the start to the finish of the schedule.

In the past it has been more or less the custom for teams that were out of money or had their money positions cinched, to play careless, indifferent baseball.

While there is nothing actually wrong in such methods, other than the failure to give their best efforts all the way, major league ball players are certain to be far more thorough on this point.

For a time, at least, the fans are certain to be more critical and they have every right to be. Careless methods have laid the players open to suspicion, when really nothing was in error. The players have created the unpleasant situation and must clear it up.

The one positive way to regain any confidence that has been lost, is to fight to the finish, give one's best all the way and show no favors.

A better brand of baseball, to my way of thinking, is certain to arise out of the ruins of the scandal.

Turner Proposes Modification of Primary Statutes

Lansing, Mar. 10.—(AP)—A proposal to further modify the laws regulating the distribution of the state primary school fund to give greater benefits to the so-called poor counties, was introduced in the house today by Representative William F. Turner of Mecosta.

His bill advocates the establishment of a $2,000,000 fund for apportionment to the poorer counties on the Escanaba plan.

The last legislature amended the primary fund law, which theretofore provided for distribution of the $12,000,000 or more fund directly in proportion to the number of school children in a district, so only 95 per cent was distributed directly, the remainder being set aside for apportionment to the district where real property valuation was excessively low as compared to number of school children. This five per cent fund amounts to considerably less than $1,000,000. The Turner bill would guarantee the distribution of at least $2,000,000 a year to these counties.

Buckeyes 5 Meets Manistique Legion

The Gladstone Buckeyes cagers and Manistique Legion will clash at the Community gym, Gladstone, tonight. It will be the first meeting between the two teams this year. The Buckeyes' lineup is as follows: Olson, center; H. Rajala, right forward; E. Peterson, left forward; J. Rapala, left guard, and Chester Lanirand, right guard.

Introduce a resolution asking congress to call a convention for that purpose.

Tournament Results

Marquette, Mich., Mar. 10.—(AP)—Class D elimination games in the first session of the annual upper peninsula regional high school basketball tournament here Thursday night resulted as follows:

- Gwinna 15; Normal High.
- Marquette 14.
- Berglund 35; Chassell 9.
- Vulcan 20; Trout Creek 9.
- Suomi College, Hancock 9; Stephenson 26.

Wells Will Place First Rate Ball Team in Field

Preliminary plans are under way for one of the busiest seasons in history for the Wells baseball team. The organization meeting of the club will be held. It is announced, at the Community building, at Wells, at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, when officers will be elected for the coming year and committees will be named to assume charge of various club activities.

Work was started last fall on the construction of the club's new baseball field, at the summit of the Wells hill, on the Cornell road, and plans have already been made to complete work on the diamond, fencing and seats as early as possible this spring.

Wells had one of the strongest teams of the county last season, and it is planned this year to provide an even stronger aggregation to carry the mill town's colors.

Detroit, Oshkosh, Women in Florida Golf Match Finals

Bellair Heights, Fla., Mar. 10.—(AP)—Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., and Mrs. Stewart Hanley of Detroit, became the finalists in the Bellair golf championship for women today. In the semi-finals, Miss Wall defeated Miss Ruth Perry of Philadelphia, 4 and 2, and Mrs. Hanley won from Mrs. Dalton Raymond, Baton Rouge, 3 and 1.

CLICK MAY BE A FUTURE WOLGAST

San Francisco—The "Potrero Pippin," admiral and "double" of Ad Wolgast, whom he hopes to emulate in achieving the lightweight championship of the world, only 19 years of age and never defeated in the ring—this is Frankie Klick, San Francisco boy marching rapidly up the pugilistic ladder.

Frankie hopped into new fame in San Francisco with a decision over "California Joe" Lynch, experienced ring battler.

The six-round bout was closely watched by Jack Dempsey, who may have lost his championship, but who is a keen judge of battlers.

"When a green youngster can outpoint and outfight a cagey, battle-scarred veteran, he must be a pretty good prospect," declared Dempsey.

"I think Klick has a good future. He is fast, he punches sharp and accurately, he is aggressive and he is always on his toes. He still has plenty to learn, but he has all the earmarks of a natural fighter."

The memory of Ad Wolgast is not so dim but what Klick's resemblance to that fighter can be seen even in photographs. Those who have seen him fight declare that his style is similar to that old master of the ring.

He has the same build, the same style, and the same ambition. Proper handling can do much with him. Many a fighter has gone to the top with less than Frankie is starting with.

California, which in decades past produced some of the most brilliant of ring champions, already is staging a comeback with the revival of legalized boxing.

Fidel La Barba stands out as the foremost example. Tod Morgan is another. Klick promises to "carry on" the fistic reputation of the west.

Dry Leader Wants Wets to Discuss Measures in Open

Lansing, March 10.—(AP)—R. N. Holaspie, superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, today challenged the wet forces "to come out in the open in the legislature." He charged the wets are resorting to subterfuge and indirectness in an effort to secure a constitutional convention for the purpose of repealing the 18th amendment. He demanded that they come before the legislature with a flat footed resolution asking for convention for the purpose of recalling the prohibition amendment. His statement follows:

"It is charged the Anti-Saloon League is afraid to meet the issue," his statement averred. "The Anti-Saloon League has never hesitated to meet any issue involved in the liquor problem, but we do object to subterfuge, and lying false propoganda."

"The wet interests in the cowardly manner which has characterized their tactics for fifty years, seek to take advantage of the desire of Michigan and a number of other states for a constitutional convention. If the wets want to count Michigan in the roll of states seeking repeal of the 18th amendment let them come out in the open and

GLADSTONE, MUNISING TO CLASH THIS AFTERNOON; CLASS "C" ELIMINATIONS

Iron Mountain, Ishpeming and Marquette, title Contenders.

Below is the order in which district title winners will meet in the first rounds of the Upper Peninsula basketball tournament at Marquette.

THURSDAY NIGHT.

Class D. Gwinna vs. Normal High. Berglund vs. Chassell. Vulcan vs. Trout Creek. Suomi vs. Stephenson.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Class C. Norway vs. Lake Linden. Wakefield vs. Lake Linden. Class B. Iron Mountain vs. Calumet. Marquette vs. Houghton.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Class C. Stambaugh vs. Baraga (Paroch). Munising vs. Gladstone. Class B. Ishpeming vs. Menominee. Ironwood vs. Bessemer.

Coach Keil and eight of his Gladstone cage crew left yesterday afternoon for Marquette where they are matched with Munising in the elimination rounds of the Class C. district winners this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

The Kellmen have presented one of the most dazzling passing games in the peninsula this season and if all goes well in the way of personal fouls should come through the eliminations to meet the winner of the Stambaugh-Baraga game tonight.

Last year Gladstone was eliminated by Munising after the U-Bays had been leading throughout the first three quarters. The Kellmen started on the decline in the fourth period when two of their regulars were declared ineligible because of four personal fouls. The game was one of the hardest fought during the tournament.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

Latest nifty off Broadway: Scotchman had a fan for 30 years. Held it up and waved his head behind it.

The man Diogenes hunted for with a lantern has been found in the big leagues. He is Bill Doak, who won't sign until he learns whether he can pitch for the Robins.

Miller Huggins and Colonel Ruppert are of the opinion that Babe Ruth should have some of Mr. Doak's philosophy of life.

Imagine Babe Ruth saying he wouldn't sign for $70,000 until he knew whether he could hit .400 this year. . . . We tried but couldn't.

Evidently this Mr. Uscudum person is not quite as bad as his last syllable.

The cry "Atta boy, old top!" certainly means something this year, speaking of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Ever and anon this quaint wonder steals into our mind: Are the Boston Braves training for another season?

the semi-finals. Ishpeming and Ironwood will probably play in the semi-finals of the other side and the winners of these two games will clash tomorrow afternoon for the Class B. championship of the peninsula.

The Class C. championship will also be decided tomorrow afternoon and the Class B. championship game will be played as a preliminary to the main joust of the meet when the Class B. and C. champions meet Saturday night to decide the Upper Peninsula championship.

GOOD PROGRESS ON NEW ROAD

Expect to Start Pouring Concrete About June 1.

With grading on the highway under construction between Escanaba and Ford River Switch progressing satisfactorily, it is believed that the work of pouring concrete can be commenced by June 1, according to information given out yesterday at the office of H. L. Davies, division engineer of the state highway department.

Mr. Davies also let it be known that as quickly as appropriation matters are disposed of by the legislature, attention of the department will be directed to the proposed new road between Escanaba and Gladstone. This route will leave Ludington street at North Twenty-third street and proceed northward to the Escanaba river near the No. 1 dam. Here it will bridge the river, cut through the new county park site purchased from the I. Stephenson company, and "hook up" with the bay shore. There will be four structures along the route. The department hopes to commence work on these this year and get them well under way so that a contract for the laying of concrete can be let this fall. This would permit the completion of the road late in the summer of next year.

Interesting plans for the improvement of route 91 between Escanaba and Menominee are also well under way.

Change the Numbers.
The state highway department recently released information affecting the names of the upper peninsula trunk line routes, which will in the future conform to the federal designations.

The road formerly known as M-12 becomes federal route No. 2 and covers the route from the ferry dock at the Soo through present M-15 to Twin Falls where it passes into Wisconsin, through Florence, Crystal Falls, Iron River and Ironwood.

M-28 has been extended east from Nestora over U. S. 41 (present M-15) to include the present M-25 to the Soo. The part of M-12 between St. Ignace and the way will be known as U. S. No. 31. M-25 will start at Menominee and extend up the bay shore to Escanaba, Gladstone, Negaunee, L'Anse, Baraga, then over the new location to Lake Mnissee and up to Ononagon over 68 and continue 10 miles west.

The present M-15 will take U. S. 41 from Fort Wilkins to Marquette over the present route and thence over a new location direct south to Spalding and on to Menominee.

Starts at Narenta.
M-49 will start at Narenta instead of at the Bruce river bridge, follow the present route to Randeville, then join with M-45 to Sagola, then on to Crystal Falls and take up the present route at the way and continue to Covington.

M-45 will start at Twin Falls and extend through Sargola and Channing to the Barron mine.

There is but little change in the other existing routes of the peninsula.

Excellent Program at St. Joseph's is Well Attended

The second of a series of sermons by Rev. Fr. Horotius Lippa drew another large audience at St. Joseph's church Wednesday evening at 7:30. Practically every seat in the edifice was taken. Father Horotius is a very eloquent pulpit orator and his many years of experience since his ordination to the priesthood enable him to speak forcibly on the church doctrine.

Following the sermon there was benediction with the blessed sacrament, after which members of the Holy Name society held their regular monthly meeting at the auditorium of the school.

Clayton Todd had charge of the evening's program which consisted of educational features by members of the public speaking class of St. Joseph's high school. Declarations were given by George Steak who gave "Lincoln, a Man Called by God"; Miss Bernadette Brennan's declamation was entitled "The American Flag" and was given in a most remarkable manner; Norbert Todd, youngest member of the class, gave "Toussaint L'Ouverture" in a perfect manner. All three members of the class received rounded applause, and many pleasing comments were heard after the meeting on the success of the students as public speakers.

Miss Rose Bink sang three numbers in her usual pleasing manner, accompanied on the piano by Miss Eva Cassette. Impersonations by Miss Adrienne Toussaint concluded the program, after which a business meeting was held.

Miss Goldberg is Back from Europe

Miss Borghild Goldberg returned Wednesday from Europe where she spent six months with her parents in Norway. Miss Goldberg made the trip aboard the Steamer Stavangerfjord. Miss Goldberg reports that voyage across the ocean was delightful and that they encountered no bad weather during the trip.

SOCIAL

Interesting Meeting.
The Escanaba Woman's club held a very interesting meeting in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. Rev. John Creppen Evans, rector of St. Stephen's church, and Mrs. Lillian Reynolds, insurance specialist, were the speakers. Rev. Mr. Evans gave a most interesting comparison of the American and Canadian women and their activities; while Mrs. Reynolds described various forms of insurance policies. Both speakers handled their subjects in a most thorough and informative manner and the addresses were greatly appreciated by their audience.

Mrs. L. P. Treiber presided. Mrs. W. J. Clark was chairman of the committee in charge of the program.

Birthday Party.
Mrs. Stanton Abrahamson entertained a number of friends at her home Tuesday evening, complimentary to her mother, Mrs. V. Elliot, on the occasion of her sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. Card playing was the chief diversion, high scores being held by Mrs. Peter Derouin, Mrs. Frank Fontaine and Mrs. Frank A. Kidd.

A radio program was enjoyed while the guests had lunch and a dancing specialty by Helge Jacobson added much to the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Elliot was the recipient of many pretty gifts.

Dance at North Star.—Lundin's orchestra will furnish the music for a dance at the North Star hall tomorrow night.

OBITUARY

MRS. ANNE THORSEN.
Many bereaved relatives and friends accompanied the remains of Mrs. Anna Thorsen to the Norwegian Lutheran church at Stonington where funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. K. Knudsen, pastor of the Norwegian Danish Lutheran church officiating.

Rev. Knudsen spoke in English using as his text from the gospel of St. John, Chapter 9, Verse four. In the Norwegian language Rev. Knudsen used the text from the First Corinthians, chapter fifteen and twenty-sixth verse.

A large number of beautiful floral tributes were placed around the casket testifying the esteem in which Mrs. Thorsen was held by a host of friends.

Burial was in Stonington cemetery.

Relatives and friends from this city who attended the funeral services at Stonington included Mr. and Mrs. O. Thorsen, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Jensen, Mrs. S. Jensen and Ted Faxe.

Novena in Honor of Saint Therese Will Begin Today

Beginning this morning at the seven and eight o'clock masses at St. Patrick's church, the national novena in honor of Dr. Therese will be observed. Special prayers and devotions with readings in accordance with the novena will be conducted by the pastor Rev. Fr. John Moeckler and Assistant Pastor Rev. Fr. Raymond Bergeron.

Holy Communion will be distributed at both masses and the relics of the saint will be venerated after the masses.

Petitions for help will be recovered at the parsonage in sealed envelopes and these will be placed at the shrine by the pastor.

Any one, regardless of nationality or creed, may ask a favor at this time. The public is invited to attend the services.

THIS SCOURGE WAS DRAGGING HIM DOWN

ALL-BRAN gave him new lease on life when it checked constipation

No matter how chronic constipation has become—no one need give up hope of relief. Read Mr. Williams' chery message:

"I am on the down-grade in life. Never had any sickness, but of late years have been troubled with constipation. Began to make up my mind that I was about done up. Have taken tablets, castor fruits, etc., but did not get much help. Began to use your ALL-BRAN twice a day. Have gained 4 pounds. Feel like a fighting cock. Bowels now regular. You have certainly done a lot for humanity."

ALL-BRAN gave him new lease on life when it checked constipation

No matter how chronic constipation has become—no one need give up hope of relief. Read Mr. Williams' chery message:

"I am on the down-grade in life. Never had any sickness, but of late years have been troubled with constipation. Began to make up my mind that I was about done up. Have taken tablets, castor fruits, etc., but did not get much help. Began to use your ALL-BRAN twice a day. Have gained 4 pounds. Feel like a fighting cock. Bowels now regular. You have certainly done a lot for humanity."
