MEXICO FACES SHOW-DOWN ON BORDER PACT

UNITED STATES WILL URGE COMPLETE TREATY.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1926, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Mar. 21.—Relations between the United States and Mexico will be put on a satisfactory basis within the next few weeks or there will be a long-continued struggle which may take a long time to cease.

It is true, as Secretary Kellogg points out, that no ultimatum was sent. It is also true that many of the published stories about the "mystery note" have touched on several questions which are at issue. But basically the Mexican government has received by force of circumstances what amounts to a self-imposed ultimatum. In other words, there is a treaty which governs smuggling. It expires soon if not renewed. It covers the importation into Mexico of arms and ammunition.

Immediate Action Demanded. The effect of an expiration of the treaty would mean to let arms and ammunition go to whatever groups or elements want to buy supplies in the United States.

And there are revolutionary elements ready to start trouble for their own reasons apart from the circumstance that the United States would be in effect withdrawing moral support from the existing Calles administration.

The United States did not say a decision must be reached within a certain time. But the Mexicans know that the renewal of the smuggling treaty must be accomplished almost immediately.

Relations of Mexico to the United States. The president and secretary of state really meant to go ahead with their policy has brought the situation to a climax.

Many Collateral Questions. There were, the White House has indicated, a number of collateral questions which bear indirectly on the main issue of confiscation. The activities of an employee of the department of state, who is supposed to have furnished the Mexican embassy with details of the department's work, have been discussed between the two governments, according to information obtained from diplomatic sources.

The American government is understood to have pointed out that

Durant Announcement Puzzles Automobile World

As six of her schoolgirl chums trod in silent whiteness beside the hearse bearing 16-year-old Anna Harris to the grave, Walter Goldberg, 17 (right), her alleged slayer, held in jail by a Brooklyn court, is locked up on a charge of homicide. One of the conflicting stories Goldberg told, according to detectives, was that the girl accidentally shot herself while toying with a revolver in her home. An expert testified that Anna's wound could not have been self-inflicted.

WAR LOOMS IN SOUTH EUROPE Relations Between Jugoslavia, Italy Become Strained. Belgrade, Mar. 21.—(AP)—The presence of Signor Bodrogo, Italian minister at Belgrade in the Jugoslav parliament chamber today provoked an outburst on the part of the opposition that led to a suspension of the sitting. After a cabinet council, summoned immediately after the outburst, the national assembly went into session again and Foreign Minister Perich expressed the Jugoslav government's deep regret at the insult to the Italian minister.

Found—A Big Baby Boy; Whose Is It? BUDGET COVERS NEXT 3 YEARS

A baby boy weighing seven and one-half pounds and in perfect health, was found on the steps of the Park River cafe about 10 o'clock Sunday night by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Vlas, proprietors of the cafe. The identity of the babe's parents was still unknown, it was said. The boy is about two days old and there were evidences that the mother had been attended by a physician at the time of the child's birth. This, it was hoped yesterday by Sheriff Elmer Swanson, would lead to identification in a very short time. Mr. and Mrs. Vlas told the officers they went out to get a pail of water. Mr. Vlas noticed a basket on the steps and pushed it aside with his foot, failing to attach any importance to it. A few minutes later he again went out of the house to get an armload of fuel wood. Once more his foot brushed the basket. The basket toppled over and the baby started to cry. He picked the little one up in his arms and carried it into the house. It was wrapped in rags and was very cold. Mrs. Vlas applied first-aid measures and then took the babe to St. Francis hospital where it is being cared for. If its parentage is not established it probably will be offered for adoption.

SPRING ARRIVES IN MANY MOODS Snow, Rain, and Slush in Various Parts of Country.

Chicago, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Spring arrived today armed with a snow shovels, holding an umbrella and wearing galoshes. The shovels were needed in parts of Colorado and Wyoming where snow blocked highways and where temperatures fell below zero. Leadville, Colo., shivered in ten degrees below zero. Ice, cold and snow clamped Arctic fingers around Nebraska, many sections seeing the mercury go to zero last night. Snow, a foot deep in some places, covered the state. Farmers were elated, however, saying that the precipitation of the past few days has made the subsoil moist, enough to give spring crops a flying start. Spring found a warm sun in Iowa, revealing an estimated damage of $100,000 which resulted from the week-end sleet storm. Broken wires and fallen poles hampered communication in eastern Iowa. Indiana and Illinois faced high waters in some of their streams. A general overflow of the Wabash river was regarded as almost certain at Mount Carmel, Ill. The Mississippi river as well as other streams in Missouri and Illinois were near or at flood stage. At Hannibal, Mo., the rainfall was 3.25 inches in thirty hours. The Ohio river from Evansville, Ind., to its mouth at Cairo, Ill., was at flood stage.

Several Car Companies to Consolidate?

New York, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Wall Street was mystified today by the announcement that William C. Durant, who is generally believed to have amassed a fortune of several million dollars in the "bull" market which has been under way since 1924, "proposes to devote his entire time (with every other interest secondary) to a thoroughly constructive motor car program that will duplicate his previous and widely known accomplishments in this field." "Except for the information that Mr. Durant promises a statement on April 7, respecting his future plans which will startle the industry, and prove most emphatically that Durant is back on the job," so explanation was forthcoming as to the nature of his intentions.

While Mr. Durant has been the titular head of the motor car enterprise bearing his name, he is reported to have delegated many of his duties since he was seriously injured in a railroad accident a year ago, to subordinates in Durant Motors, Inc. Meanwhile he has kept in active touch with the stock market.

Former G. M. Head. While his name was probably associated with many stocks in the last few years, Mr. Durant's principal interests are reported to have been in such issues as General Motors, of which corporation he was once the head; U. S. Cast Iron Pipe; American Safety Razor and Independent Oil & Gas. Mr. Durant has one of the most colorful careers in the history of "big business." He entered the automobile game in 1903 when he straightened out the tangled finances of the Buick company and became its executive head. Only 23 cars were sold in 1904, but the next year the number increased to 521 and a year later to 2,385. Out of the profits of Buick, he acquired Cadillac, Oldsmobile and Oakland and other companies of lesser value, and then he created, in October, 1908, the General Motors corporation with a capitalization of $10,000,000. Last year, the net profit of the corporation totaled $186,231,182.

When business depression set in during 1910, bankers began to restrict the credit of motor car companies. Fifteen million dollars was needed to carry on the business and bankers agreed to provide it, providing they were given absolute control of a voting trust of the stock for five years, ending September 18, 1915.

Mr. Durant, deprived of his freedom of management of every phase of the business, stepped out, and was succeeded by Charles W. Nash, one of his strongest lieutenants. Organized Chevrolet. Mr. Durant, not content with an inactive directorship in a company he had created, organized, with a few associates, the Chevrolet Motor company soon after relinquishing the presidency of General Motors. Chevrolet profits grew. General Motors stock, which had sold down to $24 a share, began to creep up and as the 18th of September approached, it finally got as high as $264. Mr. Durant had acquired control in the open market of the Chevrolet company. Chevrolet stock later was exchanged for General Motors and it became a division of the larger corporation.

Five years later, General Motors undertook a gigantic expansion program, but the post war reaction set in, money was tight and securities prices tumbled. Durant, in a reported endeavor to protect his friends who had invested heavily in General Motors, sacrificed his personal fortune of $90,000,000 to buy the stock and finally went broke. Bankers stepped in, and Durant was out again.

Durant Motors Formed. He then organized Durant Motors, Inc., and has been the head of that company since 1921. Despite his two reversals in General Motors and the fact that it has been one of his competitors, he has maintained a wholesome respect for the organization and its product, as evidenced by his heavy investments in the corporation's stocks.

Paradoxically, General Motors, which twice threw him on the financial rocks, while he was its executive head, has helped him recoup his fortune by judicious speculation in its securities.

Puzzled Atmosphere. Detroit, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Announcement today by William C. Durant, financier and former executive of the General Motors corporation that he will shortly assume an active role in the automobile industry, "which will duplicate his

SCHERIFF WAS NEGLIGENT IN CRASH, RULING

LANCOUR BLAMELESS CORONER'S JURY DECIDES.

Jurors who heard the coroner's inquiry into the causes of the death of Mrs. Charles Carlson, March 5, from injuries received when she was struck by an automobile, decided yesterday that there was no criminal responsibility on the part of Ivan Lancour, who was driving the car, but that Otto Scheriff, who was a passenger in the machine "acted negligently" in attempting to conceal the facts.

The verdict read: "We, the coroner's jury, find that Mrs. Carlson came to her death accidentally on the evening of March 5, 1927, by being struck by a Ford commercial truck owned by Theodore Scheriff and driven by Ivan Lancour, who was accompanied by Otto Scheriff. "We find that Ivan Lancour is not criminally responsible for the accident.

"We also find that Otto Scheriff acted negligently in that he originated false reports regarding said accident, and further concealed the true facts in the case." The verdict was signed by A. R. Carlson, P. J. Soper, Albert A. Villemour, John Sullivan, Nelson R. Thompson and Joseph D. Bellin.

Twelve at Hospital. The inquest was commenced on March 7, and adjourned after several witnesses had been examined, for two weeks, so that Mrs. Marvin Anderson, who was injured at the time Mrs. Carlson was fatally injured, would be able to testify. Mrs. Anderson is a patient at St. Francis hospital, and in her room yesterday told the jury her version of the affair. She remembered few details which had not been brought out in previous stories of the affair.

Resuming the inquiry at the city hall, Otto Scheriff was called to the stand. He told the jury that the car in which Lancour was taking him to work on the night of the accident, was owned by his son, Theodore, and produced the ownership certificate as evidence. The car was used at times for delivering groceries for the store which the witness said belongs to Mrs. Scheriff.

Other witnesses who testified included Harland Peterson, who was driving directly behind the Scheriff car at the time of the accident; Rubens, Andrew (Christopherson), Kenneth Baker, Otto Manthey and Neils Ahlquist, who were near at hand when the crash took place and helped, in some manner, to care for the injured woman; Charles Brandenberg, who drove the two women to the hospital; and members of the police department.

Hung Jury Reported in Furniture Trial

Chicago, Mar. 21.—(AP)—The government's anti-trust action against the country's furniture industry ended today with a hung jury. Breaking local federal court records for time consumed in deliberation, the jury which received the case Thursday milled over the mountains of evidence for four days, then angrily stalked in today to report disagreement. So loud was the wrangling in the juryroom toward the end that Federal Judge Carpenter ordered the jury quarters isolated.

The jury was reported nine to three for conviction on the last ballot. Judge Carpenter immediately placed the case on the November docket for re-trial, but whether a new trial will be held remains to be determined by government prosecutors.

FIRE HOSE USED TO QUELL RIOT

30 Students Injured in Fight With Baltimore Cops.

Annapolis, Md., Mar. 21.—(AP)—High pressure fire hose halted a riot of nearly four hundred Johns Hopkins university students here tonight in the shadow of the Maryland state house, after shots had been fired by police and an appeal had been made to the governor for the national guard.

Approximately thirty students were injured, several seriously, and damage estimated at $3,000 was done to the national guard armory, where an attacking force of Johns Hopkins sophomores attempted to break up the annual freshman class dinner. Nine were arrested and other participants in the riot were being sought.

Students known to be among the injured include: Charles R. Back, Baltimore, possible fracture of the skull from a patrolman's stick. John Grayson Turnbull Towson and Gladstone Beadenoff, Baltimore, injured on head by blows from night sticks; Edwin K. Gordon, Baltimore, head and neck injured in fall down stairway and Baldwin Street, Baltimore, broken arm.

Those under arrest include Turnbull who released from the hospital at his own request, was taken into custody on the hospital steps and Joseph Richardson, Tulsa, Okla. Vigorous wailing of babies, however, had little effect on the embattled students, other than to intensify the fight and when it became apparent that hundreds of dollars damage was being done to the armory, national guard officers appealed to Governor Ritchie to be allowed to call out their companies to clear the building.

Meantime, Mavor Howard, having appealed in vain to the attacking sophomores to draw off, ordered out the Annapolis fire companies, and students outside the building literally were washed off the street.

TERROR REIGNS AS CANTONESE CAPTURE CITY

WHITE TROOPS PREPARE TO QUELL UPRISING.

BULLETIN Shanghai, March 22.—(AP)—(Tuesday) Evacuation of all foreign women and children still remaining in Nanking began at daylight today because of the close approach of fighting between the nationalists and northern forces and the prospect of disturbance.

Shanghai, March 21.—(AP)—The native city of Shanghai, China's greatest port and most important trade center, which fell into the hands of the nationalists this morning, was seething tonight with bitter street fighting and turbulent riots.

Sitting on the lid of the boiling cauldron and guarding the 37,000 inhabitants of the international settlement were 15,000 foreign protective forces including 1,500 United States marines, backed by the big guns of the large international fleet in the Whangpoo river. Several times today the foreign settlement felt reverberations of the chaos reigning in the native city, but tonight it was very quiet with its residents obeying the warning to remain in doors.

Grave Situation. The situation created by the precipitate retreat of the northern troops and the advance of the greatest gravity for the foreign population and its defenders. With a general strike effective and the streets filled with truculent natives the position of the international settlement was fraught with danger.

Sniping and clashes between British soldiers and Chinese troops possibly northerners, resulted in the death of two British Punjab soldiers and the wounding of ten other soldiers and police. There were no reports tonight that Americans had been involved in the fighting.

Although the international settlement was quiet tonight, after a day of turbulence, the situation in the native city was chaotic.

The advance guard of the nationalists, consisting of invading forces, who invade the native city this morning, were fought by the retreating Shantungese and white Russians and a reign of terror began which continued tonight.

Several great fires started during the struggle.

STRIKERS SACK CITY.

Shanghai, March 22.—(AP)—(Tuesday) Strikers and 150,000 Shantungese were sacking the Chinese quarters of Shanghai at noon today. A reign of absolute terror prevailed.

The United States destroyer Preston has left Wuhu and is proceeding to Nanking where the destroyer Noa already is standing by. The Noa and the British destroyer Emerald have landed guards for the American and British consulates in the city.

No details have been received of the Nanking situation, but the nationalists are within striking distance of the city and the Shantungese apparently are preparing for a desperate stand. Re-previous and widely known accomplishment," created an atmosphere of puzzlement in automotive circles here. The statement that he would reveal his plans April 7, apparently served to throw no light on the matter. On the contrary, some leaders pointed out, if Durant contemplated endorsing to bring about mergers on a large scale within the industry, he would be in a position to do little more than announce plans at that time. There has long been rumors of pending mergers among the independent manufacturers, those neither affiliated with the Ford organization nor the General Motors concern, but nothing which would give such reports the strength of prospective fact, has ever developed.

SEVERAL CAR COMPANIES TO CONSOLIDATE?

It was pointed out that should Durant contemplate mergers of any importance, it would take years to place the merged plants on a mass production basis, similar to that obtaining in the Ford and General Motors organization.

Interest in B Companies. Durant is now financially interested in three companies, the Flint, Star and Locomobile concerns.

E. D. Stair, vice president and a large stockholder in the Palmyra Motor Company, took occasion to criticize persons responsible for sensational statements regarding the automobile industry at this time.

"While the past year did not witness record profits for all companies," he said, "most of them are making money. Competition has always been keen, and probably always will be, but there is plenty of room for all."

Rumors of impending drastic trade wars he branded as "bunk" and was of the opinion they emanated from sources interested in manipulating the stock market to their own advantage.

Renowned Mergers Denied. F. J. Hayes, head of the Dodge Motor Car company, said he was at a loss to interpret Mr. Durant's statement. Commenting on rumored mergers among independent dealers, he said he did not believe any such action was in the offing.

Alvan Macanley, president of the Packard Motor Car company, was similarly uninformed.

"We have heard rumors that Durant proposed withdrawing from Wall Street operations, but these were only rumors," he said. "His plans are a mystery to me."

It was highly unethical for the Mexican embassy to attempt to get information that way whereupon the Mexican authorities are said to have cited the activities of military attaches in foreign countries as a defense. The difference pointed out to Mexico is that while an attaché of a foreign embassy might collect all available information for his government's use, he had no right to arrange to get this data by improper means.

There are other questions such as the conduct of propaganda bureaus which are up for discussion but as explained in behalf of President Coolidge recently all collateral questions will disappear if there is an agreement on the problem of confiscation.

Hope for Agreement. Mexico's answer is being brought by Ambassador Teller and officials are hopeful that the Mexican administration has developed a formula that will put Mexico and the United States on a better basis. Otherwise there is likely to be a long period of aloofness which will hardly contribute to good relations.

Delegations Appear. Several delegations appeared before the board. One from the upper peninsula urged the opening of a road in the Tahquamenon Falls district, another sought the improvement of the trunk line from Rose City to Mio, claiming train service is to be discontinued, another wanted a trunk line established from Allegan to Holland. An Oakland county delegation requested the paving of seven miles of Telegraph road to serve as a detour while M-10 is being improved in Pontiac. The same delegation wanted M-26 in Oakland paved. A St. Joseph branch delegation sought the ultimate improvement of a road from Battle Creek to Sturgis by way of Sherwood and Colon. All requests were referred to the road committee.

BOOZE MEASURE MISINTERPRETED

Lennon Says Bill Aims at Bootlegger and Rum Runner.

Lansing, Mar. 21—(P)—The Lennon bill bearing an amendment which eliminated manufacturers from the provisions of the measure narrowly avoided defeat in the senate tonight when a motion made by Senator Art H. Woodruff to eliminate all but the enacting clause was defeated, 13 to 11.

The measure as amended by Senator Peter B. Lennon, its sponsor, would make mandatory the passing of a year's prison sentence upon persons selling, bartering, importing or transporting for sale intoxicating liquors.

The bill comes up for final passage Tuesday.

Lansing, Mar. 21—(P)—The intent of the bill introduced by Senator Peter B. Lennon, which would require a minimum sentence of one year's imprisonment and $500 fine for manufacture of intoxicating liquors has been misinterpreted and mishandled, his sponsors said tonight.

"The original intent of this bill," Senator Lennon said, "which was drawn by myself, and not by Rev. R. N. Holsapple of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League was to strike at the bootlegger and rum runner. It was not my intention to reach into the homes of those manufacturing a little beer or wine."

"I plan to amend the bill, if the senate is willing, to exclude those manufacturing liquor, who apparently have no intention of selling it, but kept the mandatory clause which would render bootleggers and rum runners subject to a year's imprisonment or more."

"When this bill, which was evidently too severe came before the prohibition committee, Mr. Holsapple was present, though he had not been invited. He insisted that it remain as drawn, though I favored a softening of the provision to exclude the small manufacturer."

Senator Lennon also plans to change the present prohibition law further by eliminating the classification of violators as felons. He points out that though a man now may be fined only $15 or $20, he is classed as a felon. "The present law is hypocritical," he said. "I favor strict enforcement of the prohibition law, of course, but I do not wish to have an injustice done the man or woman who may brew a little beer or make a little wine. Under the present law, however, all these are classed as felons. I would leave the law as it stands except to change the classification to that of a misdemeanor with the maximum still held at one year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine."

Police Coping With Detroit Crime Wave Says Commissioner

Detroit, Mar. 21—(P)—Local police are adequately coping with the crime situation here and there is no present need for an auxiliary law enforcement body of citizens, William P. Rutledge, police commissioner, declared here today.

Records show that the local department is more than holding its own, the commissioner said, and cited the fact that police have shot and killed 11 felons here thus far this year. In doing overtime duty at night, hundreds of officers have in recent months succeeded in forestalling many crimes from their strategically assigned posts in stores and shops throughout the city.

closed that Mr. Scheriff had denied that he knew whose car had struck the two women.

Scheriff Denied Knowledge. Testimony of the police officers brought out that Mr. Scheriff persistently denied that he knew the identity of the driver and permitted the hunt to follow a fictitious "big Butch" which was supposed to have turned off Tenth street at First avenue south.

Coroner G. C. Bartley conducted the preliminary questioning of most of the witnesses. County Prosecutor Glenn W. Jackson then continued the quizzing, after which Atty. Torral E. Strom, representing Mr. Scheriff, was permitted to cross-examine.

Mr. Strom, at one stage of the proceedings, objected to testimony concerning Scheriff's actions after the accident, contending that the inquest should be confined to the causes of Mrs. Carlisle's death. Coroner Bartley ruled, however, that the investigation might follow any tangent the coroner pleased, and the witnesses answers went into the records.

Mr. Strom brought out repeatedly that Mr. Scheriff notified the police promptly that there had been an accident; that he summoned medical aid and saw to it that the injured were quickly removed to a hospital. He also stressed the fact that the mist and fog made visibility very poor and driving conditions difficult.

"Unofficial observers" at the inquest included Michael J. Doyle and his son, Sam Doyle, Menominee attorneys, who were understood to have undertaken the protection of Mr. Carlisle's interests. Whether a civil suit will be filed is still undetermined. M. J. Doyle said.

Homicide, Suicide, Is Police Theory in Detroit Deaths

Detroit, Mar. 21—(P)—Police who investigated the death of Andrew Sopko and Mrs. Elizabeth Michs, found fatally shot in the basement of the Michs home here today, expressed the belief that the man had killed Mrs. Michs and committed suicide.

Relatives told police Sopko had previously threatened to kill the woman and take his own life if she did not desert her husband and their three-year-old child for him.

ADMIT KILLING GOTHAM EDITOR

Gray and Editor's Wife Guilty of Gruesome Slaying.

New York, Mar. 22—(P)—Henry Judd Gray early today confessed that he and Mrs. Ruth Snyder killed her husband, Albert Snyder, art editor. District Attorney Newcomb of Queens county announced.

Syracuse, N. Y., Mar. 21—(P)—Henry Judd Gray, arrested here today in connection with the murder of Albert Snyder, art editor in Queens Village, New York, was taken aboard a train for New York City this afternoon. He maintained the calm demeanor he held when questioned by detectives early today.

"I never saw Snyder in my life," he said at police headquarters, "and I certainly would be crazy to kill a man whom I did not know, or in fact any other man. I have a wife, whom I love, and a family at home, and I certainly haven't any intentions of breaking up that home."

He admitted knowing Mrs. Snyder, whose confession involved him in the murder investigation. "I have known Albert Snyder's wife, who is Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, for the past two years," he said. "She invited me to her home on several occasions to lunch. Her mother and daughter were always there when I called, except twice I have never met or talked with Albert Snyder and Ruth Snyder never introduced me to any man as her husband."

"Mrs. Snyder knew that I was married. I told her I loved my wife and had no intentions of breaking up my home. "I have not seen or talked with Mrs. Ruth Snyder since the last week in February or the first week in March. The last conversation I had with her was from Rochester on Thursday when I called her on the long distance telephone."

Haddon Gray, an intimate friend, but not a relative, told police he had had luncheon with Henry on Sunday and Henry had been at Haddon's home in Syracuse Sunday for dinner.

"He called me from the hotel Sunday, I should judge about 2 or 3:30 o'clock," Haddon Gray said. "I was lying down at the time, and my wife called me but I did not hear her. When I arose about 4 o'clock she told me of the call, and I immediately got him on the telephone and made arrangements for a dinner engagement."

Boxers Enter Final Rounds of Tourney

Cincinnati, Mar. 21—(P)—Boxers in the national A. A. U. boxing tournament moved into the final rounds here tonight. Addison Warren, Chapel Hill, contender for both the junior light heavyweight and the junior heavyweight championships, was disqualified just before the beginning of the bouts tonight because he won the junior heavyweight title last year, which eliminated him from the title in this tournament.

Final results: Sengy Swinger, Cleveland, won the junior flyweight title by defeating Gene Blanco, Boston. The bantamweight title was won by Eddie Law, Philadelphia, when he defeated Joe Ghonouly, St. Louis.

Tommy Shap, Cincinnati, won the featherweight championship by defeating Louis Lafferty, Jr., Philadelphia. The lightweight title went to Pete Caeaser, New York, who defeated James Ryer, St. Louis.

E. Mallen of the interstate commerce commission. The complaint, filed last September, charges rates for the transportation of shipments of fresh meats and packing house products in straight or mixed carloads from South St. Paul, Minn., to Houghton, are unjust.

EIGHT HOUR DAY FIGHT STARTED

Shorter Working Day Is Specified in Holland Measure.

Lansing, March 21—(P)—Representative John Holland of Gogebic tonight launched his biennial attempt to secure an eight-hour working day law. He introduced a bill in the house prohibiting more than eight hours of work in mills, quarries, mines, factories or manufacturing plants except for needed repairs or emergencies. Time over eight hours would be compensated at the rate of time and one-half. Employers who violated the act would be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

The anticipated administration bill designed to curb forest fires was submitted by Representative Fred R. Ming, of Cheboygan. It provides for the condemnation of so-called fire traps, zoning by the conservation director, patrolling by railroads when necessary and compulsory cleaning up by property owners. Persons guilty of setting fire maliciously would be subject to maximum penalties of 20 years imprisonment and $5,000 fine.

Representative Holland offered a bill to require public rights of way to navigable lakes or streams. Upon petition of residents of the community the state would provide the right of way.

A measure by Representative Frank P. Darin would create a state judicial council. With a justice of the supreme court, the attorney general, members of the circuit and recorder's benches and four attorneys as members.

Representative Edward D. Skeels of Muskegon introduced a bill which would permit varnishes to place a lien against automobiles for repair bills. A measure by Representative Gus T. Hartman would prohibit persons from posing as architects, engineers or surveyors, unless they hold state certificates.

The house passed and sent to the senate the Bradley bill, appropriating $75,000 for the maintenance of the upper peninsula agricultural school at Menominee, the McEachron measure, appropriating $90,000 for new barracks for the state police, the MacDonald bill making it a felony to steal or tamper with equipment in temporarily suspended mining works, the Ming bill to enlarge state aid for county normals and the Bartlett bill prohibiting fraudulent signatures on initiatory petitions. Several others of minor importance were adopted.

ROTARY HEARS ABOUT PAPER

J. H. Slater Gives Instructive Talk on a Leading Industry.

The tremendous growth of the pulp and paper industry in Canada, at the expense of that industry in the United States, as the result of the reciprocity treaty, established between the United States and Canada during the administration of President William Howard Taft, was related to members of the Escanaba Rotary club yesterday in a most interesting address by Joseph H. Slater, general manager for the Escanaba Paper company. Mr. Slater quoted authorities to prove that the pulp and paper industry of Canada has been increased by approximately 75 per cent in the past few years and that in 1926 more than one-half of all of the print paper consumed in the United States was produced in Canada. The speaker referred to authoritative reports, showing the number of new mills in the process of construction in the United States and Canada, under which Canada holds the balance of power by a tremendous margin, making it possible for Canada to absolutely dominate the print paper manufacturing industry. He told of the tremendous sums of money that have already been expended and will continue to be spent in Canada by capitalists of both the United States and Canada, to develop an industry in which the United States has, since its inception, held a leading part, but the control of which has passed to other hands, through the operation of the reciprocity pact, negatively, as asserted by politicians devoid of vision.

High School Orchestra. Mr. Slater told of steps that have already been taken by the Escanaba Paper company, in the installation of new machinery and bringing about economies in operation, to permit the Escanaba plant to operate in close competition with the Canadian manufacturers. He expressed the hope that the favorable position gained by the Escanaba company would permit the local company to continue to operate in the face of what promises to become competition of the most heated variety.

Mr. Slater's address was filled with a great volume of most interesting facts and the enjoyment of the club was reflected in the applause that was accorded the speaker when he had concluded.

Yesterday's meeting of the Rotary club was also made enjoyable through the appearance of the Escanaba high school orchestra, the members of which, under the direction of R. W. Nordling, presented a group of three numbers. Each number was enthusiastically applauded and when the group of selections had been completed the young musicians were given a real ovation. Members of the orchestra presenting yesterday's program were: Isadore Stein, first violin; Mary Alice Kennedy, second violin; Hilding Olson, viola; Gerald Brown, cello; Arol Beck, bass viol; and Irene Fragile, pianist.

PASSION PLAY HUGE SUCCESS

Moving pictures, stereopticon views, reading of books on the passion of Christ can never fully describe the true sacrifice as did the play, "The Upper Room," which was presented at St. Joseph's auditorium Sunday afternoon and evening and Monday evening by local talent.

The drama, written by Robert H. Benson, based on the passion of Christ, is without a doubt one of the most impressive of all Lenten plays. The scene laid in the Upper Room where Christ partook of the last supper, was vividly depicted.

The paintings in the background representing Mount Calvary with the sun behind the hills; the path to the top of the mountain; the sound of the lashes on the body of Christ; the soft, low singing of the choir behind the scenes; the murmur and jeers of the mob who followed Him to Mount Calvary, all were enacted in such realistic fashion that the large audiences at all three performances were moved to tears several times during the play.

The tableau of the crucifixion was impressive. Julius Trotter as Christ played the part in faultless manner; Joseph Lequin as Longus, the soldier; Victor Moreau as Achaz, the landlord; Miss Janet Moreau as Samuel, the servant; Miss Mildred Delorier as Mary, mother of Christ; Mrs. Thomas St. Jacques as Mary Magdalene; Miss Alice Newitt as Veronica; G. H. Beeson as Joseph of Arimathea; Wilfred Dupont as John, the beloved disciple, all played their parts in a capable manner. Pat Newitt took a dual part as Judas and Peter, and Gust Trotter played the part of the doctor.

The tableau of the crucifixion was well worth the price of admission. As the gong sounded the hour of three, great streaks of lightning were seen and peals of thunder were heard; the sky and earth seemed to mourn the death of the savior.

A beautiful lesson of mother love is taken from the play in the third act as Mary, the mother of Christ, cherishes the crown of thorns, the cruel nails, the chalice from which her son drank, the spear which pierced His side, as other mothers do when they behold the belongings of the loved ones who have passed beyond.

The cast of players were assisted by the choir of St. Anne's church and Rev. Fr. Tom Dregacz of Peroville directed the performance, which was a success from all standpoints.

The play will be presented next Sunday at Gladstone for the benefit of All Saints' church.

No matter what you are doing — washing, ironing, cooking, sweeping or baking — interruptions come thick and fast.

Baby cries . . . phone rings . . . door bell starts you . . . and a neighbor calls . . . and away you fly!

These interruptions are dangerous if you are ironing. It's so easy to forget to turn off the current. And while you are away, what happens?

The iron grows hotter, and hotter — it blisters, scorches and burns. Fires start that way. Heating elements are destroyed. Wires are charred and sput and sparkle.

None of these things would happen if you used a

It is all the name implies — it's a safety stand. It turns on the current when the iron cools and turns it off when iron grows too hot. It's a wonder! Saves its cost over and over again in current saved and damage prevented. Women are wild about this remarkable invention. Come in and see it.

LET'S SING 'EM AGAIN: Will you kindly arise and stand with your head uncovered while I lead the assemblage in the singing of the national anthem: "How Dry I Am!" —K. E. V.

OLD MASTERS

OLD MASTERS. Bowed by the weight of centuries he leans. Upon his hoe and gazes on the ground. The emptiness of ages in his face. And on his back the burden of the world. Who made him dead to rapture and despair, A thing that grieves not and never hopes. Stolid and stunned, a brother to the ox? Who loosened and let down this brutal jaw? Whose was the hand that slanted back this brow? Whose breath blew out the light within this brain? Is this the Thing the Lord God made and gave To have dominion over sea and land; To trace the stars and search the heavens for power; To feel the passion of Eternity? In 1913 England exported nearly 30,000,000 tons of coal. Last year the amount was 25,000,000,000 tons.

LYRICS OF LIFE

A bit of brotherly advice
A fellow gave to me
A fellow who was cool as ice,
As anyone could see:
To live until a ripe old age,
And always wear a smile,
Don't ever worry, ever hurry,
It isn't worth the while.
I took his lesson much to heart,
Next morning I arose;
I didn't hurry to depart;
(I used to, I suppose.)
I took my time to eat my toast,
I strolled along the lane,
I didn't worry, didn't hurry—
And didn't catch my train.
I left an hour to start the day,
My seat amid the mob,
I lost a dollar of my pay,
I nearly lost my job.
Although it's nice to take your time
And smile the whole day through,
It's much less worry just to hurry,
And fret the way I do.

ONE-SIXTH OF QUOTA FILLED

100 Young Men Enroll for C. M. T. C.; Will Have Places for 1876.

Detroit, March 21. (Special)—More than one-sixth of Michigan's quota for the C. M. T. C. has been enrolled according to reports of March 19. Michigan's quota of 1875 and up to last Saturday nearly 400 young men had been enrolled and applications are coming in every day.

In every county in Michigan with the exception of four, a county committee with a county chairman and medical examiners have been organized, and are working to enroll every eligible young man living in Michigan who desires 30 days training in the open without any expense to himself. The United States government in order to give all young men living in Michigan an opportunity to get a broader view of their duties as American citizens, has established two training camps in this state, one at Camp Custer, and the other at Fort Brady, and will pay all the expenses of young men attending these camps. This will include railroad fare to and from camp, food, bed linen, medical and dental care, a uniform and everything a young man will require.

Young men of good moral character, physically sound and between the ages of 17 and 24 years living in Michigan are eligible. Those living in the Upper Peninsula and northern part of the Lower Peninsula will attend camp in August at Fort Brady, and those living in the Lower Peninsula will attend camp in August at Camp Custer. Expert instructors have been detailed to instruct the young men in American citizenship, leadership, rifle practice, boxing, swimming, and all kinds of athletics.

Colonel Raymond Sheldon, chief of staff, 55th Division, Detroit, will command Camp Custer again this year, and Lt. Col. A. E. Detsch, commanding officer of Fort Brady, will command the training camp at Fort Brady again this year. Lt. Col. Wade Mills, civilian aide for Michigan to Secretary of War Davis says Michigan will get its quota this year for the first time since the training camps were started six years ago.

"We have more real interest in this state favoring the C. M. T. C. than in any previous year," says Col. Mills. "The Daughters of the American Revolution, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Michigan Department Reserve Officers Association of the United States, and many other patriotic and veteran organizations are all working to enroll young men for one of Michigan's camps this summer."

AUTO THIEF BOUND OVER

John Clark of Rhineland Tells How He "Got Away" With Car.

John Clark, 31, of Rhineland was bound over to circuit court yesterday on a charge of stealing an automobile, belonging to Tom J. Toussaint, last October. Judge Henry Ranguette set bonds at $1,000. Clark went to the county jail to await arraignment in circuit court. The car, recovered at Crandon, Wis., has been turned over to the insurance company.

Clark, at police headquarters yesterday, told in detail how he took the car from its parking place, drove it out Route 15 to Marinette, where he stopped to ask a police officer the road to Antigo. He went on his way and used the car in Antigo for a month. The police there on three occasions wrote the local department that the stolen machine was not in that locality.

Clark finally stored the car in a barn and went up into the woods. The car was found and Clark arrested. He was brought back to Escanaba Sunday. He announced he expects to plead guilty in circuit court.

WATER PURE, SAYS DEFNET

City Health Commissioner Gives Kiwanis Interesting Address.

Escanaba's city water, despite its creosote taste, is wholesome, although no amount of persuasion and explanation will convince some housewives that it is not being favored by the health department, Dr. Harry J. Defnet, city health commissioner, told the Kiwanis club yesterday.

The water is carefully watched and checked. Every precaution is taken at the plant to insure purity, and at the health department's laboratory in the city to make sure that the tests at the plant are correct.

"As proof of the purity," said Dr. Defnet, "I shall ask you to recall, that some years ago Escanaba's cases of typhoid totaled more than 300 a year. It has been some years, however, since a single case of typhoid has been reported here."

Source is Traced. Surveys and investigations have traced the creosote taste directly from the Delta Chemical plant, Dr. Defnet said. They have their origin in industrial wastes which for many years were emptied into the bay. While the practice has been discontinued, large deposits of the tarlike material still lie in the bay.

In the winter months the water is impregnated by ice and the air and sunlight have no chance to do their work. Also, the water in the bay is diluted by only a minimum amount of water from the streams which empty into it.

During the remainder of the year, the dilution from streams and from Green Bay is much larger, and the ice is gone, causing the elements which cause the taste to disappear.

"We have determined," Dr. Defnet added, "that the creosote flow comes past the end of the creosote, across the harbor to Sand Point and around the point to the channel from which the municipal water plant intake pipe lies. At a distance of 900 yards or so beyond, the creosote does not reach. One solution of the problem—and about the only solution—would be to extend the intake 1,000 yards or so farther out. This would be a tremendously expensive project, since the work would have to be done under eighty feet of water."

Really No Problem. "Escanaba's water problem, however, is not a serious one. When we think of conditions in Detroit and Chicago, and some of the cities which must depend upon streams like the Mississippi river for their water supplies, we can consider ourselves mighty fortunate," he said.

In the minds of some people there lurks a suspicion that the chlorine which the city uses is responsible for a portion of the taste. This is absurd, Dr. Defnet said. The amount of chlorine necessary to safeguard the water is from three to six pounds per million gallons. Chlorine could not be tasted unless at least 12 pounds per million gallons were used, he said.

The state's recent order that no more sewage can be pumped into the bay brings the community face to face with a more serious proposition, Dr. Defnet said. The present disposal plant is inadequate, in size, to care for the summer load. To overhaul it has been found disastrous, and it must be reworked at times.

The people must decide, in the near future, whether they will enlarge the present plant or convert it into a pumping station, and build a new and adequate plant farther from the city.

Health Conditions Good. Health conditions in Escanaba, generally, are good, he disclosed. He urged that earnest consideration be given by the board of education to the wide-spread use of toxin-antitoxin to immunize children from diphtheria before they start to school.

Remarkable results have been obtained through the use of iodine pills as preventatives of goiter. After three years, it has been found that 60 percent of the goiters have been cured, and that 90 percent of the goiters of children who declined the treatment have become larger, he said.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Jars & Tubes MUSTEROLE WILL NOT CRACK Better than a mustard plaster

FOREMOST educators, editors as well as leading business institutions like General Electric Company, now are widely urging breakfasts that "stand by" as an important aid to success.

That's because it is now known that over 70% of the day's important work, in offices, stores, etc., falls into the four morning hours—the hours from 8:30 to 12:30.

In most American schools, including Princeton, Yale, most State Universities and some 2,000 grade schools throughout the country, 80% of the important classes are held before luncheon.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions now start days with Quaker Oats—food that "stands by" one through the morning.

Excellent balanced in protein, carbohydrates, minerals and the important Vitamin B, this delicious food is ideal for banishing listless mornings.

Today get Quick Quaker that cooks in 2 1/2 to 3 minutes or regular Quaker Oats at grocer's.

SEVEN SCHOOLS COMPETE HERE

Sub-District Meet Will Be Held in St. Joseph's Friday Night.

Coaches Merrill J. Heapy of Escanaba high school and Sister Superior M. Elise of St. Joseph's high school are working this week with their entries in the sub-district oratorical and declamatory contest to be held in St. Joseph's high school auditorium Friday evening of this week.

The entrants from St. Joseph and Escanaba high schools will be among 14 entrants representing seven schools of this district.

Marvin Hirn and George Stoik are the St. Joseph orator and declaimer, respectively. Harry Erickson and William Peters will be the Escanaba high orator and declaimer.

Three of these local entrants, George Stoik, Marvin Hirn and William Peters were entered in the sub-district contest held at the Sault last year. The experience that these speakers have obtained by appearances before audiences in Escanaba and other cities gives definite assurance that the brand of delivery on Friday night will equal that of any contest of this kind ever before held in this district.

Cities that are sending orators and declaimers are: Sault, Newberry, Rudyard, Gladstone, St. Joseph and Escanaba high schools. The winners of first place in each of the contests will represent this district in the upper peninsula contest to be held within a few weeks. The place has not yet been definitely decided.

Farm Measure Veto Not Costly to Cal, Sen. Watson Says

Chicago, March 19.—(P)—Veto of the McNary-Haugen bill by President Coolidge will not cost the Republican party the farmer vote in 1928. This was the opinion expressed here today by U. S. Senator James E. Watson of Indiana.

"Agricultural relief is the greatest problem facing the country today," declared the Indiana senator. "Agriculture must be brought to a level with industry and labor, but this cannot be accomplished without a high protective tariff which is one of the platforms of the Republican party."

CARROLL MUST GO TO PRISON

Court Not Likely to Re-view Appeal in Bath Tub Case.

Washington, Mar. 21.—(P)—Earl Carroll, the theatrical producer, must go to the Atlanta penitentiary unless he persuades the supreme court to reconsider its refusal today to review his conviction on a charge of perjury.

As an aftermath of his celebrated bath tub party on the stage of a New York theatre, Carroll was sentenced to serve one year and a day for giving an incorrect version of the affair to a grand jury. Good behavior would reduce his sentence to about nine months and he would be eligible for parole after four months.

Mr. Carroll cannot be sent to the Atlanta prison until the trial court in New York receives formal notice from the supreme court that his appeal has been stricken from the docket. Necessarily there is a 40-day delay in serving notice and in the meantime he will have opportunity to ask the court here to reconsider its dismissal of his appeal. Such requests rarely are granted.

Before a federal grand jury in New York which was investigating reports that the prohibition law had been violated at Carroll's party, the producer denied that liquor had been served to guests or that a show girl, partly immersed in a bath tub, had doled out drinks. He admitted there was a bath tub on the stage and that it was filled with ginger ale.

Taking the position that the bath tub incident was not material to the prohibition inquiry, Carroll sought to convince the supreme court that he had been improperly convicted but was unsuccessful in his effort to get his case before it for review on its merits.

Sinclair Presents Briefs in Oil Case

Washington, Mar. 19.—(P)—Harry F. Sinclair presented to the supreme court today briefs to be used by his counsel on April 11 when his appeal in the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve case comes up for oral argument. Separate briefs were offered for the Mammoth Oil company, which holds the lease and for the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing and the Sinclair Pipe Line Companies operating on the reserve.

No general discussion was present of the recent decision by the court in the Doherty case which cancelled the lease on the Elk Hills naval oil reserve in California and the contract for construction of storage tanks at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

The briefs referred to parts of the decision relating to the use of corrupt methods by Doherty to influence Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, to the absence of danger of drainage on the California reserve and asserted that danger was threatened by drainage on Teapot Dome, with no evidence of fraud to warrant the cancellation of the lease and contract.

SHERIFF WARS ON DESERTERS

Local Man Is Charged With Non-Support; $1,000 Bonds.

Undersheriff J. P. Carney returned yesterday morning from Kenosha, Wis., where Anthony Doutri of this city was placed under arrest after orders had been issued from the local sheriff's office that Doutri was wanted here on a charge of wife desertion and non-support.

Doutri was arraigned in Justice James S. Doherty's court where he admitted that he had not contributed "a cent" to the upkeep of his wife and two children in more than three months. He waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the April term of circuit court under bonds of $1,000.

"There are a number of similar cases in the county," Sheriff Elmer Swanson declared, "where men are deserting their wives and children and are not contributing towards their support. We intend to place every such violator under arrest and push the charges against them to the limit."

ISO-VIS Receives Enthusiastic Praise

ISO-VIS, the revolutionary new motor oil, developed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has become immediately and immensely popular.

From all over the Middle West come letters commending the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), telling of the remarkable performance of this new motor oil. The following letter is typical.

Auburn, Michigan, Dec. 31, 1926.
Standard Oil Co., Saginaw Division, Saginaw, Mich.
Gentlemen:
I take great pleasure in recommending ISO-VIS Motor Oil to any user of motor oils. I know it gives better starting lubrication and extended lubrication service.
As a resale product I find that it moves faster than any motor oil product I have ever sold.
I have placed my first repeat order of five barrels with your salesman Mr. Burt Trombly.
(Signed) Dalvin Lerner
Willis W. Koskrams
Ford Agency

ISO-VIS has aroused enthusiasm because it solves the old dilution problem that has bothered motorists for years. The oil of the past lost two-thirds of its body, or viscosity before the car had gone 200 miles. ISO-VIS maintains constant viscosity.

ISO-VIS is of the right body to make starting easier. After a thousand miles it is still of the right body, lubricating efficiently and completely.

That is why ISO-VIS reduces repair bills—puts new pleasure and satisfaction in motoring—and creates enthusiastic customers! Try it today!

WATER COVERS HIGHWAY EAST OF MANISTIQUE

High water conditions became noticeable at Manistique on Saturday, when the melting snow...

Although motorists were forced to proceed cautiously, traffic was completely held up as in previous years, and only the more timid motorists or mere pleasure drivers turned back at the sight of the flooded highway.

The high water in Jamestown Slough, which was the cause of the road's inundation, was soon relieved by the opening of flood gates on the Manistique river...

No damage was anticipated from the high water conditions, and the extra water will help raise the level of Lake Michigan.

BUTT CAUSES AWNING FIRE; BREAKS GLASS

A cigaret dropped from an upstairs window is believed to have been the cause of a fire which destroyed an awning and cracked a plate glass window at the First National bank building in Manistique Friday.

MOON BOUGHT BY MINORS IS CAUSE OF RAID

One pint bottle of liquor, claimed to have been sold for 50 cents to a party of young high school boys and girls by the minor son of an alleged "shiner," led yesterday to the biggest illicit booze haul ever made by Manistique authorities.

On information given in an affidavit by one of the purchasers, local officers at 11 a. m., Monday staged a raid on the home of Grover Gray, North Mackinac avenue, Riverdale, and found enough moonshine liquor and ready-made moon to load a dray line truck.

The search party, which included Sheriff John A. Peterson and Undersheriff L. B. Chittenden, listed the following items in their report of the raid: One 50-gallon apparatus complete; about 35 gallons of moonshine ready for the consumer; six barrels—about 30 gallons—of corn mash. Some of the finished liquor was found in the front room of the three-room dwelling occupied by the Gray family.

Girls' Got Drunk. Gray, who is in the employ of the Soo Line railroad at Manistique, was scheduled to appear before Justice W. A. McKinney after working hours yesterday to face a complaint charging him with ownership of the still and resultant violation of the prohibition law. According to the report of officers who made the raid, the completeness of the moonshine outfit showed that extreme care had been exercised in making and filtering of the liquor, and the finished product seized appeared to be of very good quality, as moonshine goes.

Cases which led to the raid came to the attention of local police officers with the report that high school girls and boys had staged a "party" and that some of them had become drunk on boozeh of a local brand. Investigation revealed that the son of Grover Gray had sold a quantity of freshwater to members of the group without the knowledge of his parents and while neither the father or mother were at home.

Officers were busy for an hour and a half picking up the paraphernalia at the Gray home and loading it into a truck for transportation to the county jail.

THEATRES

AT THE COMMUNITY. An airplane accident, in which Doris Kenyon crashes to earth amid tangled wires, broken propeller blades and smashed wings, furnishes one of the biggest thrills of "The Unguarded Hour," which comes to the Community Theatre today. Milton Sills appears in the stellar role, with Miss Kenyon as the featured feminine player.

"The Unguarded Hour" is the story of an American girl who goes to Italy, where she by her modern American methods wins the heart of a woman hating Italian duke (Milton Sills). The picture abounds in comedy and heart interest drama. Among the exciting scenes is a fight between Sills and Charles Beyer, in which Sills with his bare hands takes a sword from Beyer and forces him to his death over a balcony rail, from which he falls to the rocks below.

AT THE LYRIC. The Lyric theatre played to crowded houses yesterday and this is as it should be, for this popular house has been showing a series of exceptionally fine photoplays and its latest offering, "Bad Man's Bluff," is one of the best of the Western pictures that has been shown here this season. It has as its star Buffalo Bill, Jr., and it is certain to satisfy the most devoted follower of the life of the plains as depicted upon the screen. Not only does it contain a goodly measure of hard riding and fighting, but it also has an exciting plot with plenty of suspense and a pretty love romance, contains some fine acting, and is most capably directed—and the story is entirely plausible.

The after-dinner program opened with Introductory Remarks by President James T. Jones, who combined humor, wit and speaking ability in handling the office of toastmaster in a clever and satisfactory manner.

The entertainment was featured by dialect stories by Bob Fry of Escanaba, an excellent entertainer, and the numbers of music which were also much enjoyed were given by Noble Swenson, who sang solo numbers, and members of the Rotary Quartet.

Following the dinner program and a short meeting, was a theater party, the Rotarians and their guests attending the program at the Community theater.

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." ATHLETICS LOOK GOOD TO EVANS

Connie Mack Gazing at Pennant With Ardent Expectations.

BY BILLY EVANS
P. Myers, Fla.—Connie Mack thinks this is going to be an athletic year. I am strongly inclined to agree with him.

For two years Connie has had the same feeling. Each year at some crucial spot in the race, however, the club has faltered and spoiled his pennant dreams.

Connie Mack is not given to boasting. On the contrary, he prefers action to words. Therefore, it occasioned much surprise in the spring of 1925 and 1926 when he broadcast pennant predictions.

This spring Connie isn't doing much talking. However, it is easy to see that he is more than satisfied with his ball club.

"It is as good a team as I ever managed," says Connie, "and you will agree that I have been at the head of several pretty good ones."

Of all the ball clubs that I have looked at in the south, the Athletics at this writing are by far the most impressive. The club doesn't appear to have a single weakness.

Rival American League teams will find the Mackmen have a strong defense, a good running attack, a highly efficient pitching staff, plenty of reserve power and oodles of gray matter.

Possibly some of the veteran stars are a bit lame and halt, but should any of them falter, one or more capable youngsters await the opportunity to fill the breach.

For players, three of them veterans, have transformed the Athletics from a very good ball club into a great one. I have in mind Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Zach Wheat and Joe Boley.

Whatever the club lacked last season, these four players have supplied.

Cobb will put fire into the club, keep it "pepped" up and whether in the game or on the bench, looms as a constant threat.

Collins as second will give the infield stability, smart direction, and prove invaluable to the young infielders with wise advice.

Zach Wheat will give it an added punch at the bat, an asset that will also be supplied by Cobb and Collins.

Joe Boley should prove a brilliant performer at shortstop, where consistency is most necessary to team success. Boley may never lead the league at bat but what a lot of runs he is going to cut off in the field.

Add four players of the known value of Cobb, Collins, Wheat and Boley to a very good ball club and by all the rules of arithmetic, you get a great one as the result.

That is largely the story of the Philadelphia Athletics. It is a team that has been a pennant contender for two years, plus the addition of four stars of outstanding caliber.

There is no smarter man in baseball than Connie Mack. For two years his players have fallen down on his predictions but he is not discouraged. He frankly tells you that he believes this is an athletic year. Just a modest way of saying his club will win the pennant.

You don't need to be a so-called expert to realize the great strength possessed by the Mackmen. It is constantly making itself manifest.

Considering the club from every angle, it is easily the most impressive club that I have looked over in spring training. It is fairly conservative to say that the team that beats the Athletics will come more than close to winning the American League pennant.

TEAMS RETAIN MANY ROOKIES

Every Player of Possible Ability Still Has Regular Berth.

Atlanta, Ga., Mar. 21—(P)—The forces of major league baseball marshalled today for the fifth week of training in the south and still there was no sign of a general reduction in the number of plates laid at conditioning tables. While great slaying of rookies and other had been anticipated by minor league "ivory" seekers for several days, they were beginning to respond as managers clung to every player of possible ability.

Only in camps of the Washington Senators and St. Louis Cards have recruits in number been released and even in these, there appears room for additional trimming, according to diamond observers. Only a fortnight at most separates clubs in Dixie from the long trail for the April 12 openings.

Connie Mack has let Frank Welch, utility outfielder of the Athletics, in one of the few "farmings out" reported.

As usual for the past 19 days, exhibition games featured today's training in Florida with nine of the 11 clubs quartered in the state scheduled for action. Only the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants were without regular scheduled combats.

The Boston Red Sox were idle at New Orleans because of a heavy rain.

At San Antonio, Moriarity drove the Tigers through practice sessions despite the mud and water on the field. OFFICIALS FOR FOOTBALL NEW State Association Approved List Indicates Shortage.

Registration of officials with the Michigan State Athletic association shows the Upper Peninsula has but 16 football officials available for the coming season, if only men who are registered with the state association are to be used.

But for basketball, a sport which requires the use of fewer officials, 25 Upper Peninsula men are available. The list of officials is a compilation of all records and reports received on officials in the two sports up to Feb. 15.

Officials who contemplate working in games next season should avail themselves of the opportunity to be listed either on the general, supplementary or approved lists, the state association's bulletin announces. "Registration with the State Association is really a sign of good faith on the part of the official. Schools more and more are coming to require their officials to be so listed. Undoubtedly the time is coming when an official must at least be registered with the State Association to be eligible to work in any interscholastic contest."

Approved Football List. C. W. Flanagan, Escanaba; W. B. McClintock, Marquette; Dewey Urquhart, Ishpeming; Fred E. Baldwin, Escanaba; James A. Halama, Bessemer; L. R. Harvey, Houghton; Robert O. Hills, Ontonagon; W. H. Norman, Ishpeming; Paul W. Redeker, Houghton; I. W. Soderberg, Escanaba.

The approved list of officials of the Upper Peninsula in basketball includes: A. C. Davy, Marinette; L. R. Harvey, Houghton; Frank L. Judish, Stambaugh; W. B. Francon, Ishpeming; Albert Jacobson, Hancock; L. R. Ricketts, Wakefield; Robert K. Stevens, Iron Mountain; Harvey Waters, Laurium.

Among the Upper Peninsula officials who are registered but not yet rated by four schools, some of whom have not officiated in enough games here to get a rating are: Harry Auderie, Marquette, football and basketball; Sig Berglund, Manistique, basketball; George F. TIRE AGENTS OF DISTRICT FETED

Firestone Dealers Hold Instructive Meeting at Hotel.

Thirty-five Firestone tire agents and dealers of the Escanaba branch, Milwaukee district, met in this city yesterday and were present at informative talks given by officials of this district in the Delta hotel.

Talks during the afternoon told of the program planned for the coming year and were appreciated by all dealers.

The meeting was climaxed with a banquet in the Delta dining room last night which was followed by a moving picture showing the progress of the Firestone industry since the time that Harvey S. Firestone, after the British government's tariff act, brought the price of rubber to $1.23 per pound, designed a plan that induced congress to appropriate half a million dollars for experimental work in finding new rubber sources. The picture went on to show how Mr. Firestone leased 1,000,000 of the choicest acres in the country of Liberia, on the west coast of Africa, had the timber felled, brush burned, the land cultivated and replanted with rubber trees.

The movie pictured Harvey Firestone, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., on an official inspection of the holdings in Liberia and was very enlightening as to the process of making tires. From the time the late sap is taken from the trees until it is the finished product on the rim ready for distribution anywhere in the United States.

Browning Wins Suit; Her Romance Crashes

FRANCES "PEACHES" BROWNING

Carmel, N. Y., Mar. 21.—(AP)—The former Frances "Peaches" Heenshaw saw her romance crash today, without compensation, less than a year since her hurried run-away marriage with Edward West Browning, her "Cinderella man." The uncompromising fact of the court decision gave a legal separation to her husband.

Supreme Court Justice A. H. Seeger, who presided at the "open to the press and public trial" here and at White Plains, said, in his decision, that he failed to find Mrs. Browning's sensational charges of cruelty supportable by the evidence.

Mrs. Browning's alimony of $300 a week, which began in November, is automatically discontinued and her only claim to continued support is to return to her husband, should he desire to take her back.

The real estate man, whose 53 years coupled with a penchant for publicity, tended to make married life a nervous experience for the young woman, Mrs. Browning testified, was absolved by Justice Seeger of charges ranging from miserliness to abnormality.

The justice, viewing the case as a whole, however, took the occasion to criticize both sides of the separation suit—once Mrs. Browning's side for an "attempt to palm off an expurgated diary" as evidence, and again, Mr. Browning's side, for the testimony of two male witnesses, who the judge said, "ought now to be prosecuted."

Justice Seeger granted Browning the separation—he began the suit—on the ground of abandonment, dismissing the real estate man's first clause of action of alleged cruelty.

Mrs. Browning, the justice held, failed to justify her conduct in leaving her husband.

Her counter-claim, that she was forced to leave because she could "no longer stand" the company of her husband, was dismissed.

The only point of peculiarity which, said Justice Seeger, he could find in the elderly real estate man was the fact that he married so young a woman. Even so, he said he believed Browning's "intentions were good."

If Mrs. Browning was not, as she testified, interested in her husband's money and was merely seeking her freedom, she should, he advised, petition for an annulment on the ground that she was too young at the time of her marriage.

FORD'S MALICE NOT ISSUE IN TRIAL—RULING

to 1922 was unfavorable to Jewish people was admitted by Stewart Hanley of Ford's counsel, but he contended that there was no proof that the term "Jew" carried any opprobrium.

"It is our purpose to prove that opprobrious articles as acts of people are not pertinent in libel action by a person in that class," Hanley contended. "There is nothing to indicate that the writer or publisher ever knew of Sapiro's existence. They are, as counsel has said, aspersions upon the whole Jewish race."

Articles Described. Sapiro's counsel sought to introduce the articles printed prior to the alleged libelous magazine stories to show that the independent had tried to attach opprobrium to such terms as "Jew," "Jewry," and an "international band," to which it later connected Sapiro.

The inception of the alleged libelous articles was traced today to a letter written August 6, 1923, to Harry H. Dunn, at Berkeley, Cal., by H. W. Roland, of the editorial department of the Independent.

"Don't snicker when I tell you the Jewish boys are putting the works on the farmers," Roland wrote. "It began when Barney Haruch first became interested in Kansas after Wilson left the White House. Since then, there has been a great deal of Jewish interest in the plight of the farmer, especially as to mortgaging their souls and bodies through the government agencies, plus the various cooperative movements."

It was contended by counsel for the motor manufacturer that the activities of Sapiro were unknown to Ford or the Dearborn Independent.

A series of letters and telegrams marked the steps of development of the thousands of dollars.

It was written, Cameron testified, by Dunn, who used the pen name of Robert Morgan. Was Hard Story. In a follow-up letter read into the record Dunn told Roland that the story of cooperative fruit marketing was the hardest he ever had handled.

"There is no doubt that the farmers are being skinned out of thousands of dollars through managers and officials," he wrote. "The gentle managers are just as efficient in swindling the farmers as are the Jews behind the movement. The farmers probably received more for their crops through the association than they would have selling individually on the open market in spite of the swindlers."

At that was read, Sapiro glanced at the jury and threw back his head, with his face wreathed in a smile.

"I am working on the Agricultural association of California," said Dunn in another letter, "but the situation is very complicated. The majority of the cooperative associations have proved good things for the producers, but there has been some misappropriation of funds and payments of high prices for the services of the Sapiros (Aaron and his brother, Milton) and other Jews. As soon as I can prove what I know, you will get the story."

Another letter said in part: "I am sending you the manuscript of the Jewish exploitation of farmers, including the acts of the Sapiros."

Cameron On Stand. Cameron still was on the witness stand when court was adjourned.

Each question asked him during the day was productive of an objection, arguments and a ruling by Judge Raymond.

Thrice the jury was sent from the room, and once the court warned the six women and men that they should pay no attention to statements by counsel, and depend only upon the replies of the witness. They mostly were extremely brief and low-voiced.

Once Sapiro's counsel begged Judge Raymond to force the witness, "a man trained in self-expression," to reply directly to questions asked instead of putting into the record what the editor wished to be there.

Another time Gallagher objected to what he termed Cameron's hostile attitude.

Cameron testified that he did not have in mind the name of any of the alleged band of Jewish financiers and others mentioned in the articles which led to filing of the suit.

Ignorant of Loans. He said that he did not know at the time of publication of the articles that the Sapiro-formed organization had borrowed no money from Jewish bankers. He also said that at that time he was, under the impression that several Jewish advertising agencies were employed by cooperative organizations, later learning there was only one so engaged.

Neither, he testified, did he know at that time that no Jew was associated with the fruit growers after Sapiro organized them. Cameron testified that prior to publication of the articles Ford never had conferred with him concerning them. Cameron also denied that he ever heard the motor manufacturer discuss the articles with any other person.

Sapiro's counsel tried to connect Ford with the Dunn letters by tracing notations on the corners and edges of the correspondence, but Cameron testified none of them was that of "H. F."

Once in the protracted arguing, the attorneys branched off into a long discussion of malice.

Will Prove Malice. Sapiro's counsel maintained that he previously had not stated that if he proved malice only on the part of either Ford or the Independent, that he would not expect a verdict against the other.

He asserted that he would prove malice on the part of both and termed "inapplicable" Ford counsel's reference to measurement of the degree of malice on the part of each "for the purpose of assessing damages."

"The question of wealth is not before us," stated Gallagher. "It is admissible in two ways. A man's reputation for wealth is admissible as showing that his words might carry more weight and authority than another man's. The question of wealth is pertinent also in fixing the amount of punitive damages.

"A verdict of $10,000 against me would be a tremendous hardship, but a verdict of $1,000,000 against Henry Ford would be beneath notice."

BET MORE, DRINK LESS.

London—Women of the middle classes in England indulge in gambling to break the monotony of their lives, according to a survey just completed by the social and industrial commission of the National Assembly of the Church of England. Consumption of intoxicants, they found, was less, but betting was on the increase.

Her Worst Worry Ended for a Dime!

A Body Sweetness that Even Perspiration Can't Spoil

All the trick laxatives in the world can't tempt people who understand the properties of Cascarets.

A hundred different drugs will purge the bowels, but a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew!

Your grandparents took "alts" and slowly washed away the mucous membrane with the waste! Mineral oils are better, but they leave the coating that your blood must then carry off through the pores. But when you cascade the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

Don't get in the habit of taking medicine for constipation—or even for auto-intoxication. If you have the habit, stop! A candy cascara is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them and the taste tempts most grown-ups to take "more." And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascara tonight! All druggists, 10c & 25c.

WHAT A JOY it was to find such an aid to user cleanliness! My system is so purified, perspiration doesn't stain my garments and I just forget self now, after I've taken one or two—

CASCARETS

80 PUPILS WILL BE EXAMINED

More than eighty pupils of the public grade schools will be eliminated in the first rounds of the public school seventh and eighth grade public speaking contest, the finals of which will end in the Escanaba high auditorium Friday evening.

Of the ninety or more students who have declamations prepared, one will be selected from each public school seventh grade, one from each section of the Franklin eighth grade and one from the Webster eighth grade. These survivors are to meet Friday night before an audience that, according to present indications, will be one of the largest ever assembled in the high school auditorium.

Spirit in the grade schools has been running high for many weeks as the friends, fathers and mothers of all the students are interested in the outcome of the contest.

Last year about 1100 people were packed into the assembly room main floor and balcony. Window sills provided seats for some, while others sat four in a double chair.

The preliminaries are being sponsored by the Esky Wranglers. That society has also provided coaches for the pupils to help them prepare their talks. The finals are being sponsored by the Orange and Black society of the high school.

WILL PRESENT PASSION PLAY ON THURSDAY

Due to the fact that crowds of people were turned away from the packed houses during the three presentations of the drama, "The Upper Room," a passion play given by the Holy Name society of St. Anne's church, another showing will be given Thursday night at St. Joseph's auditorium. The play was presented Sunday afternoon and evening and last night.

At the Thursday night's presentation, children will be admitted. The play will start at 8:30 o'clock.

English is being taught over the radio in Japan. Recently the instructor, in a lecture on politeness, said the best way to learn such expressions was to bump into English speaking persons in the street, then bow smilingly, and remark, "I beg your pardon."
