Governor Asks Appropriations Cut in Special Message to Legislature

YEARS ERASE WAR'S MARKS FROM CAPITAL

NATIONAL ENMITIES DESTROYED AFTER DECADE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 5.—This is the week which marks the tenth anniversary of the entry of the world war.

It is no exaggeration to say that while here and there are remnants of war activity, particularly in the large bureaus of the administration of veterans' affairs, the war has been almost forgotten.

The war hate which, of course, did not reach the same intensity here as abroad, has disappeared. The German ambassador mingles with the other members of the diplomatic corps, the British and the Belgian ambassadors just as in pre-war days.

Other Marks Erased. And with the vanishing of war hate so have other aspects of the war been suddenly erased.

For example, theory that Germany never could pay reparations, which five years ago agitated publicists and economists throughout the world, has been superseded by a remarkable confidence in the ability of Germany to pay, especially since the Dawes plan brought out a workable formula.

It is a curious paradox, but there exists a good deal more confidence here that Germany will pay her war debt than will France. Perhaps, it is because the will to pay has been strongly implanted in the German mind whereas the politicians in France have not yet permitted the French people to know that the war debts must be paid by more taxation.

Few of the outstanding personalities who took part in war activity are still here. Eugene Meyer, who handled the War Finance Corporation, is still watching the affairs of that institution, for it still has loans that must some day be liquidated.

Herbert Hoover, who came here as Food Administrator, has been serving almost continually since the war. He still retains some of the spirit of war-time, the readiness to break through red tape and do new things with governmental machinery.

His department has grown to be one of the largest administrative institutions in Washington.

Fraud Cases Blew Up. The Veterans' Bureau, which for many years, was a subject of controversy, has at last settled down to an effective routine. Its problems are by no means unsolved, for new ones are cropping up all the time, but there is no longer any doubt of the integrity of its administrative officers and General Hines has done a great deal to restore confidence in the work of the government.

Practically all the war fraud cases came to naught. Blunders undoubtedly were made, as well as many unwise contracts, but the war machine was ninety nine per cent honest so far as the record of convictions for irregularity will reveal to posterity.

Economic readjustment has on the whole, left the central gov-

$500,000 for New T-B Hospital Approved by House; No Opposition

Lansing, April 5.—(AP)—Without a dissenting vote the house today passed and transmitted to the senate the Birkholm and Warner bills appropriating funds for the rehabilitation of the state sanatorium at Howell and $500,000 for a new tuberculosis hospital at Ann Arbor. The measures were adopted as they recently were amended in committee of the whole with Howell and Ann Arbor dividing equally $500,000 appropriated by the last legislature for a new institution.

A dozen appropriation measures carrying millions of dollars in spite of protests from some members that finance bills should be side-tracked until a study has been made of the financial condition reported by Governor Green in a special message this afternoon. The Warner blanket bill appropriating $1,100,000 for improvements at the Normal colleges and the College of Mines, the Normal college maintenance appropriations and others were passed. Revisions are necessary to make the appropriations available funds, they can be made in the senate finance committee, it was explained.

The house passed Representa-

ACTORS GUILTY OF IMMORALITY TO REVIEW AIR MAIL CONTRACT

Twenty-two Found Guilty by Jury in New York Play Trial.

New York, April 5.—(AP)—A jury in general sessions court late this afternoon found guilty the 22 individuals and one corporation charged with presenting in the play "Sex," a production tending to corrupt the morals of youth. Five hours' deliberation were necessary. The Sixty-third Street Theatre corporation, owners of the theatre where "Sex" was produced, and raided by the police, was acquitted.

The defendants will be sentenced April 19. The law provides not less than ten days or more than a year in jail, or not less than $50 or more than $1000 fine, or both, as punishment for each of them.

Those convicted were Mae West, the star; her leading man, Barrie O'Neal; 15 other members of the cast, and James A. Timoney and Clarence W. Morganstern, managers of the production.

The corporation convicted was the Morals Production corporation. A grand jury indictment against the defendants for maintaining a public nuisance had been previously dismissed. John Cort, principal owner of the Sixty-third street theatre, was dismissed as an individual defendant by Judge Donellan earlier today. Conde Brewer, law student and assistant stage manager of the play, had been dismissed last week. Two male members of the cast broke down when lined up to give their finger prints after return of the verdict.

Three co-producers of "The Virgin Man" were found guilty, fined $250 each and sentenced to ten days in the work house on March 28. Four female and three male members of the cast were convicted and given suspended sentences.

Auto Dealer Pleads Guilty of Homicide

Cleveland, April 5.—(AP)—Charles O'Malley, automobile dealer of Lansing, Mich., who was on trial for second degree murder in connection with the slaying of James Graham, labor organizer, here seven years ago, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in criminal court today. He was given an indeterminate sentence in Ohio penitentiary of one to twenty years.

U. S. DEMANDS INDEMNITY OF PEKING HEADS

NATURE OF REPARATION ASKED KEPT SECRET.

(BULLETIN) New York, April 5.—(AP)—An "imperative general withdrawal" of missionaries from their posts in north China to coast cities "on account of revolution causing great danger to life," was reported by Bishop Charles J. Birney of Shanghai in a cable to the Methodist board of foreign missions tonight.

(BULLETIN) Shanghai, April 6.—(AP)—An anti-American strike and boycott of American Monday in Changsha, Hunan province, says a wireless despatch received from that place today. The United States consul is said to be aboard the gunboat Palos, preparing to leave Changsha.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—With submission of Nanking reparations demands by Minister MacMurray at Peking in concert with the British and Japanese believed to be imminent, the Washington administration has definitely turned its attention to the possibility that it may become necessary to rescue Americans in north China from the growing menace of anti-foreignism.

Both the state department and the White House maintained silence as to the nature of the demands and whether they will be identical with, or merely similar to those of the other powers, nor were any diplomatic advice touching the continuing evacuation of Americans from south China made public.

The entire Chinese situation was canvassed, however, at a prolonged conference between President Coolidge and his cabinet and upon its close it was announced at the White House that in the event of forced evacuation of Peking and other northern cities, Tientsin would be the concentration point for Americans, as Shanghai is the southern assembly center.

25 Miles Inland. Tientsin, about 100 miles southeast of Peking on the Peking-Mukden railroad, is nearly 25 miles from the coast on the Pei-Ho river, but of easy access by smaller warships. Two battalions of the 15th Infantry, about 800 men, are stationed there as part of the international guard along the railroad.

The nature of any new development promoting the administration to carefully outline in advance the plan which military and naval forces will pursue in protecting Americans remained unrevealed. It is known, nevertheless, that official advisers in the territory forecast eruptions of the Yangtze river and Peking more serious than the nationalist sweep north.

In addition to it is reported that many millions of yen have been allotted to Peking and Tientsin with which to carry on propaganda against foreigners. Other reports have disclosed that a large group of trained agitators have been dispatched from Canton to that region.

Hopes Reserves Sufficient. President Coolidge is hopeful that the 1,500 marines now enroute to Chinese waters to supplement American naval forces there will be sufficient to protect this country's nationals as they emerge from interior China. No decision has been reached as to dispatch of the additional 1,500 men being assembled at San Diego and the president is anxiously awaiting assurance that they will not be needed.

So far as the president understands the cooperation between American and other naval officers at Chinese ports for protection of nationals of all countries, is continuing without change. In his study of the civil war developments, the president has found no indication that Russian activities in the strife exceed the degree related in press reports from China, which have disclosed that Michael Borodin, a Russian communist, is on the staff of the Cantonese army along with several other Russians who are acting in an advisory capacity. Much of the anti-foreign propaganda rampant in China is said in official reports to come partially

State's Debt Swallows All Cash on Hand

Lansing, April 5.—(AP)—Governor Fred W. Green, in a special message read before a joint session of the house and senate today, declared the state's financial condition is so grave as to constitute an emergency. He urged the legislature to slash appropriation requests to the bone. Declaring there is an "inherited" deficit of more than $5,000,000 in the general fund and that requests for the coming biennial period are far in excess of prospective income, he recommended cutting at least $38,000,000 from pending appropriation measures. Requests before the legislature total about $96,000,000.

A general fund deficit of $3,302,000 when he took office, January 1. There are outstanding obligations which will bring the "inherited" indebtedness to $5,282,162, he added. The highway fund, although complete reports were not available, is smothered with obligations, he stated.

"Before we can consider current appropriations we must square our accounts by providing for the general fund deficit. We are facing an emergency and it is obvious our situation demands retrenchment. This is manifestly not a time when individual legislators can hope the bills in which they are personally interested can go through without cuts. Reductions must be made all the way down the line. My appeal is to make every sacrifice necessary to bring the financial condition of Michigan back to a sound basis, without placing added burdens upon the taxpayers," the message stated.

Groesbeck Scored.

The governor scored the previous administration for alleged concealment of the facts. "No blame should be attached to you gentlemen because of the size of the appropriations requested, because you as well as the general public, have been deceived as to the state's true financial condition. You were told there was a large surplus when there actually was a deficit. This emphasizes the danger of disregarding a constitutional officer, such as the auditor general, and accepting reports from appointees whose first allegiance is to the man who appropriates them and who from fear of losing their positions and their livelihood so often forget their duty and allegiance to the people. This experience should be a lesson in government. We should not be blinded by talk of efficiency that is not founded on facts. We must not punish the people with an increase in the tax rate because of the wanton extravagance of those who have been in power."

To Hold Joint Meet.

The governor will call a joint meeting of the house and senate finance committees and the state administrative board to consider the situation and decide where the paring process shall begin. The audit upon which his message was based was prepared by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and company.

"Now that we have the facts I am sure our grave financial situation will have your earnest consideration. I am hopeful that in this great emergency the personal element may be entirely eliminated," the message stated.

The governor told the legislature none of the building and improvement program passed on by the last administration without financial provision amounting to more than $3,000,000 can be financed. Other points in his message were:

Work on Jackson prison cannot be stopped but unauthorized expenditures will be halted. There is no hope of recovering $1,324,410 owed the general fund by the state prison industries.

Tax Unlawfully Removed. The administrative board last August unlawfully removed from the tax levy a $750,000 appropriation for the soldier's bonus fund and created a continuing charge against the general fund which must be met.

An examination is now being made of the building and improvement program passed on by the last administration without financial provision amounting to more than $3,000,000 can be financed.

G. O. P. SLATE SWEEPS STATE IN LIGHT VOTE

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES GET USUAL MAJORITY.

Detroit, April 5.—(AP)—The tide of a light vote swept all Republican candidates for state offices to victory by the customary majorities in Michigan's off-year biennial spring election yesterday.

Scarcely a reversal occurred in the partisan election throughout the state. The victory was the work of Webster H. Pearce of Mt. Pleasant who was the successful nominee of the Republican party for superintendent of public instruction, all candidates were re-elected. Local issues in the municipalities resulted in polling approximately equal to that of the March primary, but rural interest was quiet.

The outcome of the metropolitan area amendment, the single non-partisan issue of the state ballot, remained in doubt tonight. A slowly mounting opposition vote was being returned from rural counties which served to counteract the early lead of three to one registered in Wayne, Kent, Ionia, Shiawassee, Clinton, Hillsdale and other populous communities.

THOMPSON WINS BEATS DEVER BY 70,000 IN RECORD POLL

HOT ELECTION SEES OVER 1,000,000 VOTES CAST.

William Hale Thompson was chosen mayor of Chicago yesterday following one of the hottest majority campaigns ever seen in that city. A record vote of over a million was cast.

FRANCE'S NOTE DISAPPOINTING

President Hopes Italy Will Send Observer to Arms Meet.

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—France's refusal to join in the American proposed naval limitation conference at Geneva, even as an observer, is received by President Coolidge with disappointment but he does not believe it will materially affect the negotiations planned by the United States, Britain and Japan.

Plans for the conference, to be held after June 1, will go forward, it was said today at the White House and meanwhile the president is hopeful that Italy who refused as did France to be an active participant, may decide to sit at the table as an observer.

Viewed at the White House and state department as a flat refusal, the French note, suggested to some officials that France is merely reserving decision and may at a later date join the three power parley. The concluding passage of the note reads:

"If the French government would certainly have liked to be able to decide now as to the cordial invitation which has been sent it. It likes at least to think that the American government will appreciate the reasons which make it a duty under the present circumstances to defer any decision as to the possible participating, even as a simple observer, in conversations on a limited disarmament."

Reiterating its contention that it cannot allow the weakening of the authority of the league of nations, already invested with the problem of disarmament in which naval armaments cannot be separated from land and aerial armaments, the Paris government declared a new element had arisen "which imposes itself upon us."

Tabulations of the first returns gave Thompson an early lead, which, however, was soon overcome by Dever and which the Democratic candidate held until several hundred precincts were reported. Thompson, however, gradually whittled down the early Democratic lead and when returns from strong Republican wards and from precincts in the negro district began to pour in, Thompson jumped into a lead which he held until the close.

Dr. John Dill Robertson, at one time city health commissioner under Thompson, and running as an independent candidate with a slogan of "people's ownership—smash crime rings," and with the backing of Fred Lundin, once Thompson's principal backer, ran a poor third with an indicated vote of about 50,000.

Thompson conducted his campaign on a platform of "America first," expressing opposition to prohibition, the world court and to interference of foreign nations in American affairs. He referred frequently to the king of England, who, he said, was trying to dominate American affairs.

The race issue was brought into the campaign because of southside negroes following recent police raids in the black belt. Frequent references were made by campaign workers to the religious affiliations of the candidates.

THOMPSON WINS BEATS DEVER BY 70,000 IN RECORD POLL

HOT ELECTION SEES OVER 1,000,000 VOTES CAST.

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson, Republican mayor of Chicago, from 1915 to 1923, today was elected to that office for the third time.

Thompson, who conducted his campaign with a slogan of "America first," today won a record vote of one of the bitterest and most closely contested elections in Chicago's history. Dr. John Dill Robertson, who ran as an independent, offered no serious opposition.

On the basis of returns from 2000 of the city's 2384 precincts, Thompson was returned a winner by upward of 70,000 votes. With 384 precincts missing, the vote stood: Thompson, 431,434; Dever, 371,552; Robertson, 43,456.

Heaviest Ever Cast. On the basis of the same figures, it was indicated the vote was the heaviest ever cast in Chicago, upward of 1,000,000 of Chicago's 1,143,000 voters going to the polls. Despite the record-breaking vote and the injection into the bitter campaign of personal animosities, religious and race issues, the election was singularly free of disorder. Except for a few minor disturbances, no trouble was reported, although less than three days ago there had been discussion of calling out troops to maintain order.

The record-breaking vote also was counted in record-breaking time and four hours after the polls closed at 4 o'clock, virtually the entire majority vote had been tabulated. Exceptionally Close. Despite the fact that both Thompson and Dever had forecast victory by from 150,000 to 200,000 votes, the winning plurality was one of the closest ever returned and was by far the closest ever returned in a majority election for so large a vote.

The election campaign which at times took on many of the characteristics of a three-ring circus with each of the candidates providing amusement, tonight wound up with a big celebration as soon as Thompson's victory was assured. Around the city hall great crowds gathered and Thompson's supporters gleefully handed out hundreds of new brooms, with the comment that the new mayor, upon his return to the city hall after a four year absence, would "sweep the building clean."

Tabulations of the first returns gave Thompson an early lead, which, however, was soon overcome by Dever and which the Democratic candidate held until several hundred precincts were reported. Thompson, however, gradually whittled down the early Democratic lead and when returns from strong Republican wards and from precincts in the negro district began to pour in, Thompson jumped into a lead which he held until the close.

Dr. John Dill Robertson, at one time city health commissioner under Thompson, and running as an independent candidate with a slogan of "people's ownership—smash crime rings," and with the backing of Fred Lundin, once Thompson's principal backer, ran a poor third with an indicated vote of about 50,000.

Thompson conducted his campaign on a platform of "America first," expressing opposition to prohibition, the world court and to interference of foreign nations in American affairs. He referred frequently to the king of England, who, he said, was trying to dominate American affairs.

The race issue was brought into the campaign because of southside negroes following recent police raids in the black belt. Frequent references were made by campaign workers to the religious affiliations of the candidates.

Thompson, following a hot Republican primary in which he was opposed by Edward R. Litzinger, but piled up the largest plurality in the city's history, was supported in his campaign by most of the Republican faction but principally by that headed by Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney.

Thompson was born in Massachusetts, the son of William Hale and Medora Gale Thompson. He came here while a child and later spent some time on ranches in the west where he began wearing the cowboy hats always associated with him. He inherited a large fortune and later entered politics, serving as alderman, county com-

Sapiro's Good Faith in Forming Grain Co-ops Attacked by Sen. Reed

Detroit, April 5.—(AP)—Aaron Sapiro's good faith in the organizing of farmers' cooperatives was assailed today by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, chief of Henry Ford's counsel, in the Chicago lawyer's $1,000,000 libel suit against the automobile manufacturer.

He asserted Sapiro had been guilty of improper work as an attorney, that affiliations with opposing organizations "touches on his good faith," and that the income losses Sapiro traced to articles printed in Ford's Dearborn Independent might have been occasioned "by his own misconduct."

Sapiro, under cross-examination by the wily senator veteran, denied repeatedly that he ever had for "one second" represented the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., or accepted a fee from them, denying two entries to that effect in his office record, but finally admitting he had accepted $750 for legal services.

Long Letter Read. His admission came after Senator Reed had read into the recmissioner, and as war-time mayor during which his designation of Chicago as "the sixth German city" was roundly criticized.

Take Office in Month.

Chicago's new mayor will take office in about a month, after the election returns have been certified by the secretary of state and the new mayor has received his certificate of election.

The downtown celebration, centering at Randolph and Clark streets, the heart of the Klatto, and starting at the Hotel Sherman where both principal candidates maintained headquarters resembled an armistice day jollification.

Backfiring of automobiles and hundreds of taxi-cabs, like machine guns, false fire alarms which sent companies of equipment clattering through the loop district with their sirens sounding added to the noise of thousands of whistles and the popping of a hundred flashlights, resembling the flares of No-man's Land.

Armed With Brooms.

Truck loads of Thompson celebrators toured the city armed with brooms. Diver workers and supporters, with headquarters one floor below those of Thompson looked on the spectacle with long faces, many realizing that within a month they will be "out of the city hall."

The ideal weather—mid-summer type, clear and cool—which aided in polling the record vote, brought thousands to the downtown district from outlying sections where the celebrators also had their fun.

In addition to a new mayor, Chicago today also elected 11 of 50 aldermen in a run-off resulting from the primary campaign, along with a city treasurer and six members of the city council.

Bond Issues Approved.

Bond issues totalling more than $21,000,000 were approved by the voters and the money will be used for street improvements and other civic betterments, including the straightening of the Chicago river. Two sections were annexed by vote today and voters also approved home rule over public utilities.

One ballot, or box containing about 200 ballots, most of which were believed to have been cast for Dever was stolen from one polling place.

With 115 scattered precincts missing the vote from 2,269 precincts gave Thompson 485,270; Dever 413,743 and Robertson 48,562.

These figures gave Thompson a plurality of 71,527 and a majority of 22,965 and indicated that his final plurality would be around 75,000 votes and his majority about 25,000. In the precincts reporting, 947,575 votes were cast, indicating the final vote would be near 1,000,000.

Thompson, it was shown, carried 24 wards and Dever carried 24, but Thompson plied up a plurality of more than 55,000 in the second, third and fourth wards, all in the heart of the black belt. He added another 4,000 from a ward in the west side negro district so that upward of 60,000 of his indicated 75,000 plurality was obtained in the four wards in the negro district.

Commission Will Not Change Bands at Present

Washington, April 5—(P)—Two decisions of major importance to broadcasting were announced today by the federal radio commission.

The first notified the country's radio users that for the present the limitations of wave length bands upon which broadcasting has been done will be unchanged, and the second gave what amounts to a blanket license of all broadcasters, in good standing to continue operation indefinitely.

The commission declared that all station operators who hold an old permit from the commerce department, and who have applied for a regular license before April 24, shall be deemed as legally authorized to continue in business. Such applicants will have full permission to continue until the commission, under the new law, has been able to pass upon individual cases. Failure to submit an application by April 24 may subject the broadcaster to the penalties of the law governing unlicensed operations.

RIGHT AIR PRESSURE ADDS LIFE TO TIRE

Firestone Dealer Gives Advice Every Motorist Should Know.

"If motorists would only realize the importance of keeping tires inflated to the correct pressure, they would get much greater mileage and the less trouble with their tires," according to Geo. G. Genesee of the Escanaba Motor Co., Firestone dealers in Escanaba, Mich.

"This is especially true of balloon tires, for when used with even four or five pounds less air than they should carry, the loss in tire life amounts to hundreds of miles. Every motorist should know the correct air pressure for his tires and can get this information from his dealer.

"We recommend having the air checked at least once a week. It is an easy matter to stop at our place and have one of our men check the air pressure and inflate the tires if air is needed. This service is free to everyone.

"It will help in maintaining proper air pressure if the valve is always screwed down tight, the cap turned as far as it will go and a dust cap used to keep the valve in good condition."—Adv.

G. O. P. SLATE SWEEPS STATE IN LIGHT VOTE

and Melville B. McPherson of Lowell were members of the state board of agriculture to which offices they were re-elected yesterday.

Jeffers On Board.

Frederick A. Jeffers of Painesdale, Houghton county, was returned for the third term of six years as a member of the state board of education.

The two Republican members of the University of Michigan board of regents, Benjamin S. Hanchett of Grand Rapids and Lucius L. Hubbard of Houghton were named for their third terms.

The Republican majorities held throughout the day to an average of four to one for the state-wide average. The ratio of Iowa county, home of Governor Green, was running only two to one Republican, as were Kalamazoo and Macomb, but other returns held the count to the earlier average. Grand Traverse, in incomplete returns, showed a Republican lead of 80 to one.

Wayne county held above the four to one average Republican majority throughout the day as uncounted precincts completed tallying.

Tabulation Delayed.

The apathy which was shown in polling was further reflected during the day in the delay in tabulations over the state. County clerks' offices, contrary to custom in fall elections, were closed in many cases before the vote was counted.

Political causes and effects were observed in one race. Marvin S. Pittman of Ypsilanti, Democratic candidate for the state senate, public instruction, was running slightly ahead of other Democratic candidates. This in some quarters, was taken as an adverse reaction to the Republican state convention in withdrawing support from Mr. Coffey in favor of Mr. Pearce. Coffey, it was recalled, had fallen into disfavor with Frank D. McKay through his charges of discrepancy in ally in his new office by Johnson, an ally of McKay. In Washburn county, Pittman's home, a 35 percent lead was registered, although Pearce's home county, Isabella, gave Pearce a greater lead over the Democratic candidate.

Local issues enlisted chief attention in the cities and in suburban townships of Detroit. Kalamazoo recorded heavy polling on a proposal to adopt year-around eastern standard time, defeating the measure by a majority of 34 votes.

Democratic Mayor.

Ann Arbor, after three terms under Republican administration, elected a Democratic mayor and a Democratic school commissioner. All other offices elected, however, were Republicans. Kent county returned between four or five to one majorities for all Republican candidates and favored the metropolitan area amendment.

Upper peninsula counties furnished a mild surprise in registering slight majorities for the amendment. The incorporated townships elections in the Detroit district were stirred by local issues in several cases. Ferndale voted to become a city, electing its township officers to posts of city commissioners. Highland Park retained all its officers; River Rouge elected a new mayor and set of commissioners, while Royal Oak, Wyandotte and Fordson passed large improvement bond issues.

Hamptramck, incorporated Polish settlement within Detroit, voted itself a new dry law giving the city power to prohibit possession and sale of intoxicants. Berkeley voted a $25,000 bond issue and passed a curfew law requiring children under 16 to be at home after 9 o'clock p. m.

The cost of the election to Detroit was $75,000 with a poll of about one-seventh the normal fall election balloting.

Approximately one dollar per vote will be the cost to the state.

Mother Accused of Burning Daughter Appears in Court

New York, April 5—(P)—Six-year-old Roberta Jane Pratt, who told the children's society officers that her foster mother, Mrs. Everett Pratt of Des Moines, burned her legs with the curling iron because she ran around the halls of the Hotel Plaza last week, greeted her mother in court today at a brief session growing out of the child's allegations.

It was the second or third time the young lady had risen to the solemn dignity of court appearance and surrounded by the "big writers" and agile reporters of the New York press, she seemed to enjoy it. "Hello, mama," she greeted Mrs. Pratt when her foster mother entered the magistrate's chambers. The woman, who was there in response to a summons served on her attorney, John J. O'Hara, looked for a moment at the infant, dressed in bright blue, and holding the warm hand of Mrs. George Colwell, a welfare worker, and then said: "Hello."

The actual court proceedings were brief, the hearing being adjourned until Saturday morning, when if it is possible, "for the sake of the child," the case will be heard in chambers.

Expense Money Bill Approved by State

Lansing, April 5—(P)—The senate today accepted the move of the house to vote themselves $5 a day expense money, by adopting the amendment placed on the legislative appropriation bill as again amended by themselves.

The vote was 19 to 5 with 17 abstentions.

As the appropriation bill now reads, the legislators would collect $5 a day from the state for expenses incurred while in actual attendance at this session or any subsequent special or regular session.

The secretary of the senate or clerk of the house, would be required to certify attendance. Dennis E. Alward, secretary of the senate, interprets the measure as requiring him to certify expenses over the week-end adjournments, providing members attend the last session of the week and the first session of the following week.

Administration Bill on Roads Submitted

Lansing, April 5—(P)—A highway bill bearing the compromise proposals arrived at by a recent conference of state officials and legislators, was introduced in the senate today by Senator George Leland.

A three-cent gas tax is proposed with an equal division among the counties of the returns from the weight tax in addition to the $5,000,000 already returned to the counties from the revenue collected from the gas tax.

The measure attempts to clarify the machinery of collection and strengthen the penalties for refusal to file returns called for in the collection of the gas tax.

Senator Leland, who introduced the bill after a brief conference with Gov. Fred W. Green said he presented the bill in an attempt to hurry action on some sort of legislation affecting the highway funds and their distribution.

He anticipates amendments possibly including one which would set aside a special $1,000,000 fund for distribution to the poorer counties along the lines now in effect in distribution of the primary school funds.

U. S. DEMANDS INDEMNITY OF PEKING HEADS

from these Russian sources.

In selecting Tientsin instead of Peking as the concentration point in event of the evacuation of north China, this government has moved to obviate a repetition of the disaster at the Chinese capital during the boxer uprising of 1900.

Then, hundreds of foreigners were cooped up for months in the diplomatic quarter of the city until an allied army could cut its way north through several bloody battles to relieve the beleaguered city.

PEKING THREATENED.

Peking, April 5—(P)—The field of operations of China's grim civil war has shifted so steadily from the Yangtze valley to the north that Peking itself, ancient historic seat of the governments of China and the capital of the north, now appears definitely threatened.

The danger comes from two directions, first the northward drive along the Tientsin-Pukow railway by the Cantonese and secondly a possible sweep from the northwest by Marshal Feng Yu Hsi, once known as the "Christian general," and leader of the Kuomintang, or national people's army.

The Cantonese threat, coming as it does on the heels of the successful Cantonese occupation of the great Yangtze valley, completed by the capture of Shanghai and Nanking, is directed primarily at Tsinanfu, the capital of Shantung, and Tientsin, important northern railway center.

State Contemplates Use of Aeroplanes

Lansing, April 5—(P)—The use of aeroplanes by the state in connection with the police work, forest fire fighting and by the national guard was discussed today at a meeting with Gov. Fred W. Green and prominent aviators and authorities.

It was suggested by the governor that each county provide suitable landing fields and provide equipment such as beacon lights, for night flying. The governor asked members of legislative committees to advance legislation which would give the administrative board authority to set aside certain state lands for aviation purposes.

Those attending the meeting included Carl Fritsche, secretary of the National Air Transport corporation; Major Thomas Lanphier, commander of the first pursuit squadron, Selfridge field; Lieut. Com. R. T. Broadhead of the navy and William B. Stout, manufacturer of the Ford all-metal plane.

Detroit Attorney Seeks to Stiffen Dry Enforcement

Detroit, April 5—(P)—What he characterized as the "demoralized conditions of the federal prohibition forces in Detroit," will be discussed in Washington with John G. Sargent, attorney general, it was announced today by John A. Baxter, chief assistant United States attorney, who will leave for the capital tomorrow.

Baxter said, "I will leave for Washington with my brief case packed with statistics. This district is woefully short-handed in regard to prohibition agents, and one of the things I will recommend is that the personnel be expanded. I will also hope to gain a greater degree of co-operation between the different law enforcement bodies."

The U. S. attorney said he decided upon the conference after learning from a personal survey showing that 2,000 cases of liquor, exclusive of beer, are shipped across the Detroit river daily, that four agents recently have been suspended from the border patrol service on charges of extortion, that only three boats are available for border patrol duty and that only 24 men are on duty as border patrol agents to cover a territory of about 100 miles from Port Huron to Monroe.

Patrol agents today reported the capture of two rum running vessels in Lake St. Clair. One was a 52-foot tug and the other a 36-foot scow. Christ Deanehart of Horse Island, near Monroe, and Harvey Letzette, of Windsor, were arrested.

Press Card Saved By Reichstag Head

Berlin—(P)—Paul Loebe, president of the German Reichstag, is being lauded even by political opponents for his magnanimous act in refusing to permit the withdrawal of the press gallery card of Adolf Stein, a Nationalist newspaperman.

Stein, in reporting a banquet ball, said he saw Frau Loebe "balancing peas on her knife and then deftly conveying them to her mouth."

Prince Abstains From Fancy Fare

London—(P)—Caviar, pate de foies gras, truffles, champagne and other delicacies which gourmets relish are a dead loss on the Prince of Wales. He prefers a plate of the cold roast beef of old England and a bit of Scotch and soda.

This was demonstrated during elaborate dinners which he attended during the British industries fair. Endless courses prepared by the finest cooks in England were passed over by the prince. He even failed to eat the clear turtle soup which is supposed to be the "piece de resistance" of the British dinner menu.

The Prince of Wales faces elaborate dinner tables so regularly in his life of constant entertainment that food doubtless becomes a bore to him. But furthermore, he is keen to keep his health, and has no desire to take on weight which may interfere with his hunting. Pictures of the royal family of former generations disclose their figures which would not harmonize well with modern fashions.

Police Recover Stolen Motors

Berlin—(P)—Automobile theft insurance companies run little risk in Berlin. Police recover more than 99 per cent of all the cars stolen, the president of the police commission reports.

Of the 420 cars purloined last year 418 were retrieved, although the hunt in many cases extended to all parts of the country. The number stolen was nearly two per cent of all the cars in the city. Sales and resale tax provisions are said to assist the police immensely, and in addition there is a heavy fine for dealers buying used cars of unknown pedigree.

Judge Turns Down Jurors' Offer to Work Without Pay

Detroit, April 5—(P)—A jury in federal court here today offered to serve without pay, but Judge Charles C. Simons declined their services with thanks.

The dismissal of the jury came as the result of the lack of funds in the office of the U. S. attorney general, and was suggested in a letter from Washington to the local U. S. attorney's office three weeks ago.

The jury was summoned before Judge Simons yesterday. Before the court had time to dismiss the group, Mrs. Irene Burgess, forewoman of the jury, stepped up with a paper in her hand.

"This is a resolution," she explained, "which includes the signature of all on this grand jury panel. It sets forth that we are all willing to serve without pay or work on the deferred payment plan if such action is at this time desirable."

Judge Simons took the resolution and thanked the panel for the public spirit displayed. He explained, however, that the federal docket at this time was in good condition and further need for the jury was not imperative. He said that if such a need arose, the jurors would be recalled.

Nicaraguan Liberal Forces Are Routed

Washington, April 5—(P)—Complete rout of liberal forces in today's battle with the soldiers of President Diaz was claimed tonight by the Nicaraguan legation which based its statement upon special advices from Managua.

"The end of the revolution is at hand," Dr. Alejandro Cesar, the Nicaraguan minister, declared. "Muy Muy has fallen into the hands of the Diaz forces and the revolutionary army is in hopeless retreat."

Menstruation is Nature—but menstrual pain is NOT natural, and not necessary. Science has conquered the painful part. In a harmless—yes, healthful—little tablet called Midol.

Midol is a more remarkable means of relieving such pain than even a habit-forming drug. It acts directly on the organs affected by menstruation, and relief comes in five to seven minutes.

Don't have another day of forced quiet, of pain, low spirits or even discomfort! Midol is effective twelve hours or more. Yet it does not depress the heart, is not narcotic, and is utterly harmless. All druggists, 50 cents, in thin aluminum box that fits the smallest purse.

JUDGES NAMED FOR FESTIVAL

School Music Contestants Will Be Picked Thursday.

The second annual "music festival" to be held tomorrow night in the Escanaba high school auditorium, five judges will decide which high school musical organization will represent Escanaba at the upper peninsula music contest to be held in Marquette, May 25.

The judges are: John A. Lemmer, principal of the high school; Hugo Swanson, Miss Linnea Lund and Leo Day of the high school faculty, and Miss Grace Mills, grade school supervisor of music.

The work of judging the musical groups is only in connection with the program and is not the reason why it is being given. It is, however, an opportune time to take care of the decisions as all the organizations have been well drilled for the event under the direction of R. W. Nordling, high school supervisor of music.

The "music festival" replaces the one used a few years ago when a number of programs were given during the winter by the departments. It met with such success when tried for the first time last spring that it was decided to continue the plan.

In addition to the high school musical groups that will take part in the program, the grade school 50-piece orchestra will appear, together with a number of solo singers. The grade school orchestra, however, will not be eligible, but the soloists will represent Escanaba at Marquette. The high school groups include the Glee club, String Ensemble, the Boys' Glee club and a mixed chorus.

"MAIL ORDER BRIDES" HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Can a good wife be purchased or must one seek out his own by other means, will be the issue at stake at the Ruby Heart ranch, some where in Nevada, when "Pinkey" Butler and "Skeet" Snyder decide to marry.

The whole thing is worked out no a "tee" in "Mail Order Brides," three-act farce to be given at the new auditorium of the First Presbyterian church Friday night, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society. The play is produced by special arrangement with the Walter H. Baker company of Boston, Mass.

The cast of characters is composed of members of the society, under the direction of Miss Alma Suter. Special numbers are also included in the program of the evening. The curtain will be at 8 o'clock.

Coughs Stopped Almost Instantly

A famous physician's prescription called Thoxine relieves the most stubborn coughs that otherwise would hang on for weeks. Acts on new theory, relieves the inflammation and irritation which is almost always the cause of the cough, and stops it like magic. Thoxine is equally good for sore throat for which purpose it is far superior to gargles. Contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste and safe for children. Remember one swallow stops night coughs or sore throat within 15 minutes or money back. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists. Adv.

A WORD OF ADVICE.

You've been reading a lot about the new Nevada gold rush. In a short time you probably will begin to see prospectuses of mining properties out there, and will be importuned to make yourself rich by buying stock.

Our suggestion is that you go slow.

No one knows yet just how good that field is going to be. In addition, every new development like this causes unscrupulous wildcat promoters to get busy. And it's awfully hard for a man who knows nothing about mining to tell from a prospectus whether he's getting on a good thing or not.

If the field pans out well a lot of people are going to get rich. But few, if any of them, will be people who did their investing by long distance.

EXCITEMENT COMING.

It's quite a little while yet before the next presidential campaign, but already the boys are busy.

The latest reports say that Al Smith's backers are trying to split the opposition by fostering "favorite son" candidates in every state possible. This is being done in the fond expectation that most of these delegations will sooner or later get aboard the Smith bandwagon.

Anybody who would try to predict the outcome now would be a sap, of course; but it seems safe to state that the forthcoming campaign at least will be lively enough for the most exacting. For anything that revolves about Al Smith is sure to be all of that.

A LONG, HARD SEARCH.

The next Democratic presidential nominee, says Josephus Daniels, must be a composite of the characters of Samuel Tilden, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson. No other man, he says, can carry the party's standard fittingly.

All that the Democratic party now has to do is find such a man. This stunt, we believe, will not be easy.

Men who are the equals of Tilden, Cleveland and Wilson do not appear on the scene every day, or every decade. It looks as if the party had a hunt on its hands.

MIGHTY PROPAGANDA.

The pen, as the old saying has it, is mightier than the sword. And so is the typewriter.

The Chinese Nationalist forces know this, and consequently are sweeping everything before them. Why did Shanghai fall? By force of arms? Not at all. Propaganda did the trick.

The fighting for possession of Shanghai has been mild compared with the battles of the World War. Shanghai fell because the propaganda of the Nationalists had undermined it from within.

In China today the pen is winning more victories than the sword. Considering the magnitude of the operations, the bloodshed is surprisingly light.

China has learned the value of propaganda.

PROF. W. D. HENDERSON relates that he recently heard a splendid lecture on "Training the Memory." It was crammed full of useful and authentic information.

It showed evidences of long, arduous and exhaustive study. "The only trouble was," says Henderson, "the fact that the lecturer read it to his audience."

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

CHAPTER XV

All during supper on Thursday Billy was in such high spirits that even Clay, who had been moody and silent since she had told him and her mother of the prospective dinner party in sympathy.

"Had a manicure on my lunch hour today," she announced. "And what do you think? Old T. Q. evidently thought there was something in my suggestion for the improvement of the store, for he has announced that beauty parlor rates to the girls are to be just one-third of the charge to the customers. Isn't that noble? Think of getting a manicure for twenty-five cents! And the operators are forbidden to take tips from the saleswomen. T. Q.'s going to make up the difference to the beauty parlor people. So little Billy ain't so dumb!"

"You'll be managing the store yet," Clay prophesied. "Leave the dishes a while, mother," Billy begged, as she pushed back her chair. "And you two nice things go into the living room and make love to each other while I get a surprise ready for you. And no fair peeping, mother!"

Fifteen minutes later she tiptoed to the door of the living room, and looked on for a moment with misty eyes at the sight of her mother and Clay Curtis doing exactly as she had commanded them—making love. The boy's long legs were sprawled on the worn carpet, his tired head rested on her mother's knees, and her mother's gentle, work-marked fingers were stroking his temples.

"Sorry to interrupt," she called softly, "but you've got to tell me if I'll do—for the party."

She had brought the dress home that evening, and had smuggled it and her evening pumps and silk stockings into her room.

As Clay sprang to his feet, and Mrs. Wells clapped her plump hands like an excited child, Billy revolved slowly before them.

"Perfect, Billy! I'm going to set you to music in that dress. And I'll call it 'Dance of an Autumn Day!'"

"That's one of the things I love about you, Clay," Billy winked her blue eyes and wrinkled her short nose at him. "You do see and say exactly the right things. It is like dancing maple leaves in autumn, isn't it, mother?"

But Clay had no more to say in words. He went to the piano and began to compose a lilting, gay little piece that set to music the witchery of the girl and the delicate charm of the dress. Billy listened, her eyes bright with tears of gratitude and love.

A few minutes later Billy left the room to remove the precious dress before even one tiny chiffon leaf should be crushed, and when she returned, she was a more ordinary but still charming little figure in a green and white checked gingham house dress. Without a word to Clay—her mother had retired—she took her violin from its case and began to tune it for their inevitable hour of music.

"Ready?" she spoke at last. Clay took his place at the piano, still without a word for her. She cocked a merry, speculative blue eye at him as she began to play, but she could make nothing of the expression of his face. It was neither anger nor weariness nor gloom that she read there; it was nearer to profound thoughtfulness. As they played piece after piece, however, the magic of it won him from his mood, so that when the hour was up she saw that his face wore that uplifted, proud look that only music could place there.

When she was putting her violin tenderly and carefully into its case, she was startled to hear Clay say, in a strained, unnatural voice:

"Would you mind letting me see a copy of the essay you won the prize with?"

"Why, no, of course not, Clay. I thought you'd rather not see it. You hated my doing it so. Mother tucked it into the family Bible, I think. Yes, here it is."

He took it and went to the fireplace, to lean against the mantle as he read it. When he had finished and looked down at her as she sat in the big chair before the fire she was startled and touched to see a mist of tears over his eyes.

"It's a crime for Dad to dangle a fortune before your eyes and then jerk it back, giving you a fifty-dollar dress for your dreams," he told her fiercely.

"But I never had even a fifty-dollar dress before, Clay," she told him softly. "And writing the essay made me realize that I don't want great wealth—I'm grateful to him for that. Just as I said, all I want is money enough for a really fine violin and for the best of instruction. For myself I mean; of course mother needs comfort, security— She paused and grinned at herself. "Let's not take it so seriously, Clay. It's sweet of you to mind, but I'll win my chance somehow. And if I don't—well, I can always play for myself and for mother."

"Billy,"—he dropped suddenly to his knees and took her little hands—"you've got to have your chance! You're great—a genius. I couldn't believe it at first. I listened to pick flaws, for fear I was letting my friendship for you run away with my judgment. But Billy, if I know music—and God knows I ought to, for I've heard enough of it and spent enough money learning it!—if I know a great violinist when I hear one, then you're a genius. You'd do anything to win your chance, wouldn't you—anything?"

Billy laughed, a little shakily, for her blood was racing madly in her veins. "You mean something dramatic, like selling my soul to the highest bidder? I'm afraid there aren't any bidders, Clay. If this were a movie now, there'd be a rich villain pursuing me. It's a little difficult to imagine old T. Q. pursuing seven pretty girls, all at the same time, isn't it?"

"I wasn't thinking of T. Q., that is directly," he acknowledged. "But this whole business of the fool contests has set me thinking."

"You've been showing the strain of the unusual exercise," she teased him.

"Listen, Billy," He gripped her hands hard against his breast. "I can do it for you. You know that, don't you? Don't crinkle your funny little nose at me. It was his turn to laugh shakily. "I don't mean on my wages as a factory hand. But you know I can go back to Dad any time I want to. You said yourself Tuesday night that his eyes were haunted with loneliness. And he told me I could come back any time. If I give up this—this experiment of mine, will you go back—with me? As my wife! Dad would be terribly pleased. He likes you. He'd do anything for you, give you all and more than you've dreamed of in this essay of yours. Billy, will you?"

"You mean—you'd give up your own dream—for me? Because I have genius?" she asked slowly, tugging to release her hands.

"You're got to have your chance, Billy," he reiterated stubbornly. "It's in my power to give it to you. You're more important than I am."

"And you think I'd accept—your sacrifice? Let me acknowledge defeat, so that I might be hastened along my own little private path to glory? What a noble creature you must think I am! No thank you, Clay. I'll earn my own chance—or work in a department store for the rest of my life. I'll stand let you give up your fight for my sake. I'd despise you if you did."

"This is really funny!" Clay Curtis rose to his feet, then turned sharply to bury his face against an arm outstretched along the mantle. "One girl turns me down because I'm no good without my father's money, and another because I'd be no good with it. And I'm the wise young man that swore he was through with women."

Billy rose, her knees shaking so that she could hardly stand. She took one step toward him, to fling herself into his arms, but something stronger than the love which made her heart to stare at her with hard, angry eyes, held her back. With an enormous effort she made her voice sound casual, friendly, cool.

"I'll never forget what you were willing to do for me, Clay. You are the wise young man who was through with women—and you're going to be wise enough to stay true to that vow—until you've won the fight you had courage enough to start. I don't count, Clay. Forget about me. I'll manage. You can't keep a good girl down." She forced her stiff lips to smile in imitation of their old impudence.

"You'd rather take help from my father than from me?" He raised his head to stare at her with hard, angry eyes.

"There's no doubt about it—I'm a wicked woman," she grinned at him, hoping desperately that he could not read heartbreak in her eyes.

"You know what I mean! You're no fool! You know as well as I do that T. Q. Curtis is giving that dinner party for a purpose. He's planning to play God in your life."

"How? How?" she demanded angrily, but fear shrilled her voice.

DO BY DOING.

The fiddler old drew notes of gold From fiddle and from cello, And hearts beat fast and sorrow passed Because of that old fellow. It seemed somehow in heaven now A thousand birds were singing: We heard the hum of many a bell In distant belltowers ringing. "Whence came the skill our hearts to thrill?" I found myself asking. He turned his head and softly said, "I learned to play by playing."

So much we scheme, so much we dream, So much desire and covet, And yet to long to sing a song Is not the secret of it. The things we plan, the heights we scan, However great or clever, Unless we seek to climb the peak Are but a dream forever. We may not know the path to go, Some golden goal pursuing, But make the start with singing heart, And learn to do by doing!

OLD MASTERS

YE marshes, how candid and simple and nothing-withholding and free Ye publish yourselves to the sky and offer yourselves to the sea! Tolerant plains, that suffer the sea and the rains and the sun, Ye spread and span like the catholic man who hath mightily won God out of knowledge and good out of infinite pain. And eight out of blindness and purity out of a stain.

As the marsh-hen secretly builds on the watery sod, Behold I will build me a nest on the greatness of God; I will fly in the greatness of God as the marsh-hen flies In the freedom that fills all the space 'twixt the marsh and the skies: By so many roots as the marsh-grass sends in the sod

Post Office Boys Haven't Been Complaining But Ungh! the Thoughts!

April brings showers and, by way of variety, showers of neckties were included in this year's post office "menu". The old game of Pawnee Bill's, exposed officially, is being worked again and the post office is made the victim for another "poor blind man" is sending out the cravats with machine-gun rapidity and Escanabans are returning the fire, volley for volley. Hence the post-office boys have double work. Not that the postoffice boys have complained. They have merely thought volumes.

Hundreds of local men have received the ties, looked them over and sent them back. With each shipment was a request for a donor.

In Newberry the other day a doctor received a package of neckties. Appreciating the humor of the thing, the doctor decided to pay Mr. Necktie man in his own medicine. He sent him a prescription and the following communication:

"Dear Sir: Your neckties at hand. Thank. I am sending you a prescription which will cost you $1. As I did not order the neckties and you did not order the prescription and as you will get just as much good out of the prescription as I will out of the neckties, we will call the account closed. Goodbye."

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

When the cat's away, the mice will play and when sister's gone, watch kid sister steal her sweetie. At least, that's what happens in Frank Tuttle's current Paramount production, "Love 'em and Leave 'em," which arrives at the Delft today.

Mame Walsh, after turning down Bill Billingsley's proposal because she feels that he doesn't make enough money to support a wife, goes off to the country for a vacation. However, sunny days and moonlit nights are lonely without good old Bill, so she treks back to town. But—Bill isn't as good as he seemed, neither is he old. And on Mame's return, she finds that he has laid his hand and heart at the feet of her flighty little flirty sister. Janie has him tied to her finger and is making him jump through hoops. Mame, disgusted at their faithfulness, decides to adopt Janie's slogan as her own, and she publicly announces her intention to "Love 'em and Leave 'em."

AT THE STRAND.

"Valencia," Mae Murray's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle coming today to the Strand theatre is said to be one of the most dramatic films of the year.

It is the romance of a Spanish gypsy who falls in love with a sailor, and is pursued by the governor of Barcelona. The play is gorgeously costumed and staged, with hundreds of people in picturesque Spanish garb, great reproductions of castles and an entire street in Barcelona, and other thrilling details.

The cast includes Lloyd Hughes in the leading male role, Roy D'Arcy as the villainous governor, Michael Vavitch, Michael Visaroff, Max Barwyn and others of note. This group of players has been skillfully maneuvered through innumerable scenes of dramatic and spectacular appeal by Director Buchowetzki.

GLASS JARS.

Keep a set of glass jars with covers, in several sizes, for food containers to use in the ice box. All strong-flavored foods, such as cheese or fish, must be carefully covered, or they will contaminate all other foods in the refrigerator.

SWEET RELISH.

Never serve pork or any other rich or fat meat without some pickle or sweet relish.

TOTAL VOTE IN CITY WAS 159

First Precinct With 33 Leads; 31 Women Visit Polls.

There was a total of 159 votes cast in Escanaba in Monday's election. Each vote cost the taxpayers in the vicinity of $1.50, it was estimated last night. Of these votes, 31 were cast by women.

By wards, the vote was:

Precinct	Total	Women
First	33	7
Second	20	6
Third	17	2
Fourth	21	7
Fifth	12	1
Sixth	14	3
Seventh	25	4
Eighth	17	1

The poll books revealed that in one precinct, even the clerks and judges at the voting place failed to cast ballots. In another, only one of the officials voted.

The city council, anticipating an extremely light vote, reduced the number of polling place officials from five to three. Voting was spread over 13 hours—7 a. m. to 8 p. m.—and the average number of voters in one of the precincts was less than one an hour, although the first precinct staged what, by comparison, constituted a rush, with one voter every twenty-three minutes.

The lack of local contests was blamed for the parallel lack of interest here.

Visiting Clergymen Assist in Service

Practically every member of the Escanaba, clergy of Delta county assisted in the services which marked the closing of the annual Forty Hours Devotions at St. Anne's church. Rev. Fr. J. D. Breault of Bark River presented a very eloquent sermon, after which solemn benediction with the blessed sacrament was given.

The church was filled with people who had attended the three-day services. Seventy-five small girls, some of pre-school age, and forty altar boys took part in the procession with the blessed sacrament. The clergy formed the escort and the choir rendered an excellent musical program appropriate for the occasion.

A large number of communicants received the sacrament each day and the three-day devotions were a success from every standpoint.

EASTWOOD FUNERAL.

Lying in a beautiful mauve colored broadcloth velvet casket and surrounded by many beautiful flowers, the body of Mrs. F. A. Eastwood lay at the family home, 416 First avenue south, where scores of friends called to extend their sympathy to members of the bereaved family.

Impressive funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the family residence, with Rev. John Croppens, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, officiating. The ritualistic service of the Women's Relief Corps was carried out in an impressive manner. Members of the local corps attended the funeral services in a body and accompanied the body to the cemetery.

Mrs. Eastwood passed away suddenly Saturday evening from an attack of heart trouble. Her many friends in this city were shocked to hear of her death as she had been in apparently good health until she was stricken.

The casket was borne to and from the funeral car by close friends of the family: Anton Embs, W. J. Clark, A. E. Ellsworth, A. J. Young, F. Schumacher and O. M. Michelson.

Out-of-town relatives who came to this city to attend the services included a grandson, Jack Eastwood of Lansing, a niece and two nephews, Miss Cora Hubbard, F. Arden Hubbard, C. Rollin Hubbard of Manitowoc, Wis., Theodore Townsend, Evanston, Ill., Miss Marie Abbott, Milwaukee, and Mrs. William Clark, Manitowoc.

Interment was in the family lot in Lakewood cemetery.

Kenneth Olson, aged 21, of Foster City, died of heart disease at a Green Bay hospital Monday morning. He is survived by his parents, one sister and one brother. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Germans Dislike Driving Autos

Berlin—The violent dislike of Germans for driving their own automobiles is one of many baffling problems American motor manufacturers are attempting to overcome by advertising.

Thousands of prospects decline to buy cars because operating expenses with a chauffeur would be too high, especially the 10 per cent rake-off which chauffeurs manage to pocket on the purchase of gasoline and supplies. The German Automobile Association admits its failure to cope with this widespread form of graft.

Even in medium priced cars German buyers want the chauffeur separated from the occupants, so that conversation will not be overheard.

"... all the advantages of Oakland's super-precision construction plus the rich beauty of New Colors in Duco"

In this great era of industrial precision, Oakland manufacturing processes stand out as a marvel of the day and age. Not in the entire history of the automobile has any car of its price embodied so many super-precision processes—so many practices previously used only in the manufacture of the costliest cars.

Oakland is going to unheard-of lengths to make certain that the Greater Oakland Six continues to be the finest built car of its price in the world.

Yet today's Oakland Six is winning an entirely new measure of popularity, offering all the advantages of Oakland super-precision construction, plus the rich beauty of new colors in Duco.

These original color combinations were developed in cooperation with Dupont, the world's leading automotive color authorities. They lend refreshing smartness to every Oakland body. ## Luxuries Put Kink in Rural Progress

Lincoln, Neb.—This motoring-radio age has struck Nebraska so hard that it has put a big kink in the agricultural progress of the state.

It is a sad story of the victory of luxury over necessity that the report of a survey made by 22,000 club women of Nebraska has to relate.

The survey shows that 97 families out of every hundred on Nebraska farms have automobiles, but half of these still have to fetch water from the well.

More than a third of the farm homes in the state have radios and phonographs, but less than a fifth have electric lights.

A third of the homes still use oil-wick lamps, the report continues, and practically every kitchen in the state has a coal or wood stove. But there's a piano in every other rural home in the state.

More than two-thirds of the farms have mechanical power. But that's not for the housewife's use.

The Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs therefore is trying to educate farm wives to make use of this mechanical power for their own good, and to adopt electrical appliances and other modern conveniences in their homes.

HOT CONTESTS FOR OFFICES IN TOWNSHIPS

Supervisors Survive Opposition; Cornell Has 1140 Total.

Neck-and-neck races for township offices featured the Monday election in Schoolcraft county. Four supervisors faced opposition, and final results showed them winning out by precarious margins.

Ralph Merwin opposed A. J. Davidson in Doyle township, and ran up a total of 65 votes as against the 74 collected by the supervisor. In lawood township, Supervisor Milton Williams won out over Dell Smith by 15 votes, Smith gathering 104 and Williams 119. Supervisor J. J. Richardson of Seney had opposition, but it did not assume serious proportions. Due to the fact that a recount was in prospect for Manistique township supervisor, the outcome was in doubt. The election board gave James Arrowood, incumbent, 65 votes, and his opponent, Fred B. Ekstrom, 70. Supervisor E. J. LaPorte was re-elected in Mueller township, receiving 64 votes to 59 reported for John Godreau.

A few changes were noted in the total vote for county school commissioner yesterday as corrections were checked. The revision showed W. T. S. Cornell the successful nominee over Mrs. Ada Watson, slip candidate. The totals for the county gave Mr. Cornell 1140, and Mrs. Watson 1079, a margin of 61 votes. Gernask township returns, missing Monday night because of broken wire connections, gave Mr. Cornell 41 and Mrs. Watson 77. This, with 30 gained by Mr. Cornell in the revised Doyle vote and one added to Mrs. Watson's total, gave the latter 586 and the former 470 in the townships. The city vote stood: Cornell 670; Watson 492.

Colleen Twanging Heartstrings Again

Another of the heart-appealing dramas, which Colleen Moore knows so well how to deliver, is promised in "It Must Be Love," which will be shown at the Gero theater tonight.

In this human story of a New York girl's struggle against the mediocrity and misunderstanding of her parents Colleen Moore has given to the screen a dramatic bit of life familiar to everyone who has been brought up in the midst of the crowded city. Because she wanted to have a nice home, where she could bring her friends without a feeling of inferiority, this girl, as portrayed by Miss Moore, had to sacrifice the love of her father and almost broke her mother's heart.

Miss Moore has the support of a splendid cast in this First National release. It includes Jean Harsholt, Malcolm McGregor, Arthur Stone, Bodin Rosing, Cleve Moore, Dorothy Seastrom and Mary O'Brien.

Early Tourists Praise Highways In This County

Now that spring road conditions have settled back to normalcy, tourists from the lower part of the state and from points outside have begun to make their appearance in Manistique. Down-state cars in the city yesterday included two or three from Detroit. Wisconsin was also represented.

The early arrivals, after experiencing conditions in other parts of the state, had only praise for the Schoolcraft county highways.

Talks on Health

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

OVEREATING IS CAUSE OF MANY PHYSICAL ILLS.

Modern medicine gives more attention to diet than to almost any other single factor in the control of the human body. The normal man or woman needs to give some concentrated attention to this topic.

The appetite is a fairly good guide to the time when eating should be indulged in and the quantity to be taken. It is a good rule to stop just short of satisfaction. An epicure or gourmand is hardly likely to stop at this point.

There are a few simple rules associated with eating that might well be observed by everyone. A good set of teeth permits

IN NEW YORK

New York, April 5.—Tens of thousands who, dropping in for a visit to Manhattan, take in the boat ride to the Statue of Liberty, must be struck by the modern jazz flavor that attaches to almost every detail of the experience.

Every stage of the ceremonial is a cross between the old and the traveling carnival. At the battery a big sign announces the price of the trip and such details. If one does not care to make the ride the concessionaire will rent spy glasses for two-bits. Once aboard a little fellow of Italian cast begins thrumming the latest jazz hit from Broadway on a guitar and follows this by a passing of the tin cup.

Arriving at Bedlow's Island a hot dog stand proves the first introduction to our giant symbol of freedom and, as if by way of ironic commentary on this more-or-less liberty, a sign appears reading "Keep off the grass." The guide is soon pointing upon his hapless adventurers with books and souvenirs for sale.

The whole arrangement carries the suggestion of catch-penny or circus-day manipulation, so by the time one is climbing the spiral stairway to Liberty's head there comes a feeling that perhaps she will be hanging it just a little, or perhaps blushing.

Add Scotch stoches: A Broadway realtor leased the other day the basement of a big theater for $30,000. The place is to be comedy by a cafeteria. All of which is commonplace. But... in the lease is a clause allowing the realtor to eat there at any time without charge.

The public eye inevitably wanders in the direction of celebrities of the screen, but a whole banquet room full of notables from other fields can gather without getting a tumble.

The other night at a dinner of national cartoonists I spotted in one corner variously Irvin Cobb, Judge Landis, Nick Longworth and Senator Borah, down from Washington; Eftem Zimballist, the divine fiddler; Rubo Goldberg and Bud Fisher. Yet one could have shot up the street at banquet hour without hitting anyone but the hotel doorman. And on a movie first night, with screen favorites arriving, ten mounted cops are required to keep off the crowds.

Nick Longworth, by the way, told a story that since has been heard much about town. It concerned two senators. The first was relating the sad effects of Washington bootleg upon the other.

"Do you know, we were walking down the street the other day," commented Senator No. 1, "when my friend began to act queerly. I asked him what the complete chewing without "fetched" concentration on the number of bites or movements of the jaw, which is likely to interfere with digestion. Lumps of food should not be swallowed, and that means that food should not be taken in haste. The saliva should be thoroughly mixed with the food, since it contains valuable digestive ferments.

Overeating means that more food will be taken than can easily be digested, and that extra weight will be carried, and that the organs will be given more work to do than they can reasonably handle. Their response is to develop disorders.

Eating may be developed into a habit so that one becomes hungry at definite hours and so that sufficient time will elapse between meals to permit complete digestion of the food that is taken. Some foods require four or five hours for digestion. It is obviously undesirable to pour in new materials while the old are in process of absorption.

Americans have developed the habit of eating or drinking to relieve fatigue. When a person is tired his body needs a change to recuperate and it is not advisable to throw in quantities of food at such a time, neither is it desirable to stimulate the body with stimulating drinks or drugs in order to overcome fatigue. At such times the body requires rest more than anything else.

The esthetics of eating have not yet been developed in our rushing civilization. A quiet, clean dining room, free from orchestral din and dancing, is more conducive to good digestion than can easily be estimated. Food artistically prepared causes a reflex flow of gastric juices which aid digestion.

Arrowood Orders Recount in Race For Supervisor

With only five votes between the two candidates, and 21 slip votes reported as not counted, a recount seemed probable yesterday in the election contest between Fred B. Ekstrom and James Arrowood for supervisor of Manistique township.

The election board reported 65 votes for Arrowood, present supervisor, who was a slip candidate for re-election, and 70 votes for Ekstrom, nominee at the primaries. In addition, there were 21 Arrowood slip ballots not counted by the board because pencil crosses were lacking before the candidate's name. Ten more uncounted ballots were classed as scattering, giving a total vote of 166 in the township. Mr. Arrowood was in Manistique early Tuesday morning conferring with authorities in regard to a recount.

C. C. Hears Road Plans Outlined By J. E. McCarthy

Snow removal, past and future, the $50,000,000 bond issue, maintenance plans for 1927, the Hiawatha Shingleton road, and the highway construction program in Schoolcraft county, were topics touched upon by J. E. McCarthy, county highway engineer, in a talk before the Manistique Chamber of Commerce Monday evening.

A summary of snow removal results and costs during the past winter was given by Mr. McCarthy, together with an outline for the continuance of the work, which he believed was assured for the season of 1926-27. The cost per mile for snow removal in Schoolcraft county last winter was given at $178. About $7 per day came back to Manistique in labor costs.

Referring to the state bond issue for roads, Mr. McCarthy showed how Schoolcraft county had received its share of the construction projects authorized under this issue.

An outline of the maintenance program for the ensuing year indicates that Schoolcraft county highways will be kept in their usual good condition, the engineer said. Some of the major projects in maintenance work were listed in the report.

Progress that may be expected in maintenance and construction on the Manistique to Shingleton road, now approved as a state trunk highway, was considered in the road engineer's remarks. This highway is now known as M-94, and is about 33 miles in length, starting at the junction of M-12 and Fifth street in the Manistique city limits. Changes proposed in the construction plans for the so-called "lake shore road" re-location of M-12 at Manistique were also a part of the highway summary. It was indicated that work on this road would be resumed soon, future plans providing for concrete from Manistique to the top of Snow hill, with an overhead crossing at the Soo Line tracks just east of the present crossing. A re-survey of the location is expected within the next month.

In closing, Mr. McCarthy urged all Manistique people to work as a unit in boosting the county and its good roads program. In unit cooperation, he declared, lies the secret of successful progress. The engineer answered a number of questions in the discussion that followed among chamber of commerce members, and the club's road committee was pledged to cooperate with the local highway commission whenever occasion requires.

City Starts to Smoother Streets

By borrowing the county road roller for use until the overhauling of the city machine is completed, the city of Manistique was able to start yesterday on a program of spring street repair work.

A portion of Arbutus avenue, from Cedar street to Maple avenue, was the first to receive attention. The slag surfacing of this street, pitted by the weather and wear of traffic, was smoothed through use of the roller and wheel scraper, Oak street, which is in a similar condition, will also receive this treatment.

Dear Sir:
We have inquired with regard to one of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's toll lines by this company in selling, and we are pleased to advise that we are finding increasing use for the service in this way, not only in the number of instances that we talk direct with our customers but in the distance from their offices to the point called.

We find that a short conversation insures an accurate and complete understanding of the customer's requirements and wishes which is obtained almost instantly saving an exchange of letters and hours or days in the time of shipment, and the results obtained are such that the expense involved is a very small item indeed.

Very truly yours,

LECTURER WINS CROWD

Professor Henderson Speaks Here on "The Boy Problem."

"The Boy Problem," discussed by a man who has practical knowledge and an ability to impart it to others that has won him the name of one of the finest lecturers in Michigan today, made Prof. W. D. Henderson's address, given here Monday night, one of the finest talks heard here in some time and a talk that will be long remembered by those who heard it.

The lecture was delivered by Professor Henderson under the sponsorship of the Child's Welfare club. The high school auditorium where the talk was delivered, was filled.

"The boy is not abnormal, he is not subnormal, but he is the ordinary boy of the school, of the street and of the home," said Professor Henderson in opening his address. "There are boy problems everywhere, just as many problems as there are boys. But, as it is with the parents, so it is with the teachers. No one can give a definite solution to the problem because no two boys are alike."

Continuing, the speaker stated that the boy was up against three factors, heredity, environment and contact. He developed heredity as the mystery of nature's school or society, and in speaking of environment stated that the street environment is the worst. "Constantly, from life until death," he said, "these three heredity and environment are working."

He also asked consideration for what is known as the savage state in a boy's life, when the body grows without much sense or experience and lacks control. "The boy then does many things which annoy," he said, "but after all he is just a boy."

He spoke of democracy, stating that he begins in the home and goes from there to the playground and into the school. "If boys were taught obedience in the home," one was pointed out, "it would find its way to the playground, teachers would have it in the schools and it would give the boy a power backed by good judgment."

"Along with it all," he said, "we must have religion. Boys must be taught that there is a Supreme Being."

Professor Henderson, in his lecture, developed topics in detail including reading in the home, and other interesting matters. His lecture was dramatized and illustrated with incidents throughout, which made it thoroughly entertaining, as well as interesting and instructive.

Uninterrupted applause followed the close of the lecture. Community singing, which preceded the lecture, was led by Miss Marie McDonald with Mrs. Fred Mingay at the piano.

MISS FOSTER IS PRESENTED IN RECITAL

Course in Music Completed Under St. Joseph's Sisters

One of the most pleasing musical programs held in Gladstone in some time was given Monday evening when Miss Viola Foster, being graduated from All Saints' School of Music in Concert Grades and Harmony, was presented in recital by the Sisters of St. Joseph.

The recital was presented in All Saints' parish hall and was attended by an audience that crowded the hall to the doors.

The stage was attractively in ferns and potted plants and flowers.

The program of the recital, in which Miss Foster was assisted by other students of the music classes, was: Moonlight Sonata, Op. 27, Beethoven. Valse Brillante, Chopin. Viola Foster.

Violin Selections: Angela Malongree, Leonard Anderson, Raymond Weingartner. Accompanists: Juanita Kircher, Stella Weingartner, Masurka in E flat. Theo. Leachetinsky, Hungarian Dance, Brahms. Viola Foster.

Violin Selections: Mary Nafsiger, Agnes Malongree. Norwegian Bridal Procession, Grieg. Viola Foster. Keep Your Face to the Sunshine, Puppils of the Eight and Ninth Grades. Rigoletti, Verdi. List. Printemps D'Amour, Masurka. Gottschalk. Viola Foster.

At the close of the recital Miss Foster was presented with her diploma, Rev. Father S. Mater, pastor of All Saints' Catholic church, making the presentation. Rev. Father Mater gave a splendid talk on the accomplishment and talent shown in the recital and on the achievement which had resulted from spending spare time in a worthwhile pursuit, rather than wasting it.

Following this, little Eva Blair, pupil of All Saints' Catholic school, presented Miss Foster with a bouquet of beautiful flowers, a gift of the Sisters of St. Joseph, and among many beautiful flowers recognized by her as messages of congratulation.

Miss Foster's entire musical education has been under the direction of the St. Joseph Sisters, and they took exceptional pride and satisfaction in presenting her, expressing only the regret that Sister Catherine, under whom Miss Foster completed practically her entire course of study, who is no longer in Gladstone, was unable to be present for graduation and recital.

Censorship Drive His Venus De Milo

Paris—French art circles are informed that statuettes of the Venus de Milo have been barred from Budapest art shop windows in a Hungarian morality drive.

The stern effort to enforce censorship of art is said to be meeting considerable opposition. Public protest is reported to be so strong that there is a prospect that the regulations of the new minister of the interior may be modified soon.

A FORTUNE TO FAMOUS PEDESTRIAN

Weston, famous trans-continental pedestrian, recently discovered to be ill and poverty-stricken, has been provided with an income for the rest of his life. He is 89.

Anne Nichols, author of "Able's Irish Rose," set aside a fund of $30,000, the income from which will give Weston $150 a month. Weston won his greatest distinction in 1910 when he walked from California to New York, covering the 3500 miles in 76 days. He was 72 years old then. At 75, he walked from New York to Minneapolis, 1500 miles, in 60 days.

After that, little was heard from him until he was discovered last summer in New York City, lost, penniless and broken in health. Newspaper publicity brought checks from hundreds of admirers.

WESTMINSTER MEETING IS BIG SUCCESS

The annual church and congregation meeting of Westminster Presbyterian church was held Monday evening at the church, the meeting proving an enthusiastic and harmonious gathering, and a decided success.

Reports were given by all of the church organizations, all of which were most favorable, indicating a successful year, both numerically and financially. Forty-two members were added since April 1, 1926, the reports show, making a net gain of 35 members, considering deaths and transfers, and raising the total enrollment to 116 members.

Elections were held with Nell Brown and H. H. Albin re-elected trustees, and John I. Day elected trustee to succeed Miss Agrella Pare. All are for three-year terms. A. D. Algutire was chosen to succeed H. H. Albin as an elder for a term of three years.

THEATRES

AT THE COMMUNITY. We've had many Battles of the Century—but now we have the Battle of the Boudoir.

In this corner, ladies and gentleman, Gertie's garter. In the opposite corner, Mabel's chemise. The verdict will be rendered by the exhibitors' reports.

A filmy chemise provided gales of laughter in "Tip in Mabel's Room," but the "Tip" this provoked is nothing compared to the riot created by Mabel's garter in the latest Metropolitan farce, "Getting Gertie's Garter," in which Marie Prevost is starred, and which will be the feature at the Community theatre today and Thursday.

Miss Prevost finds herself in one embarrassing situation after another in her fruitless efforts to return the troublesome garter to her former fiance, played by Charles Ray. Ray had presented it to her during the brief term of their engagement, believing it to be a bracelet. This error provokes numerous laughs without the action.

Reinforcing these noted comedy stars are several prominent screen fun-makers including Harry Meyers, Franklin Pangborn, William Orlamond, Fritz Ridgway, Sally Rand, Del Henderson and Lila Leslie.

THANKS VOTERS FOR SUPPORT IN ELECTION

August Goodman, successful candidate for the office of city commissioner for a three-year term, in Monday's election, asked yesterday that his thanks be expressed to the voters for the splendid support given him at the polls.

"I deeply appreciate the confidence placed in me and the approval expressed of my stated policies, by the results of Monday's election," he said.

"I will do my utmost during my term of office to carry out those policies and I will work to the best of my ability to make my service as a commissioner worthy of the confidence placed in me."

A Big Task

To fuel and lubricate the millions of motor vehicles of the Middle West is the big task undertaken by this company.

An increase in two years of more than a million motor vehicles indicates that this is a task of rapidly growing proportions, a solution of which requires foresight and adjustability.

The total number of cars and trucks registered in the ten states of the Middle West, served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), was 5,508,570 in 1924 and 6,729,749 in 1926.

This means that within two years the number of motor vehicles in the Middle West increased by 1,221,179.

Finding crude petroleum and converting it into fuel and lubricants for more than six and one-half million motor vehicles is only a part of the work of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) not only produces petroleum products of superior quality, but it distributes them to every corner of the territory it serves.

On all the highways that weave an intricate pattern over the ten great Middle Western States, the service stations of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are found supplying fuel and oil to the cars and trucks that pass.

Nor does the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) stop with its own service stations.

Thousands of garages, privately owned filling stations and curb pumps selling Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products dot the landscape of the Middle West. The company's own trucks and tank wagons carry its gasoline, lubricating oil and kerosene to the motorist and to the farmer—even to the tractor in the field when required.

Employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are anxious to be helpful. They are enthusiastic about their work. They do every job as if it were the only one they had to do. They take a personal pride in maintaining the reputation of the company of which they are a part.

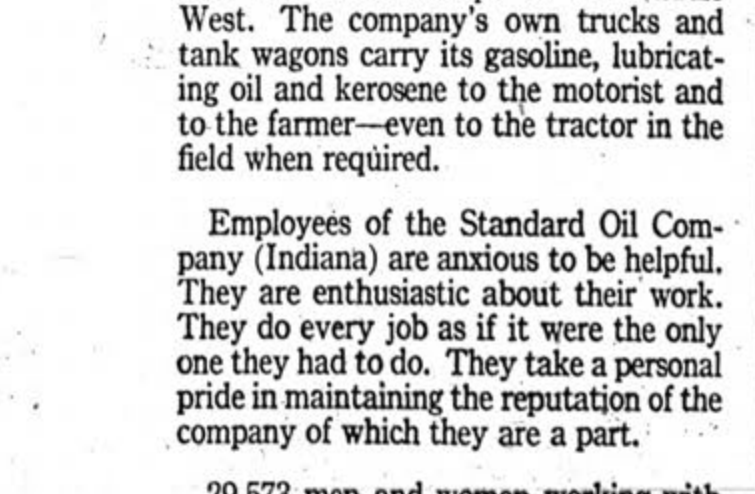

29,573 men and women working with this spirit perform a task which is of fundamental importance in the lives of thirty million people in the Middle West.

SCOT WINNER IN FOUR TOURNEYS

Cruikshank Sensation of Golf Circles During Winter.

BY JIMMY POWERS.
New York—The flowers that bloom in the spring tra-la-las are not the only blossoms on the landscape. There is a whole mess of par and bogey horticulturists at work and if they keep up with the winter pace they are setting there will be thunderous explosions in the golf world this summer.

Bobby Cruikshank's sensational string of victories, including the Texas, South Central, Los Angeles, United North and South opens, mark him as being ready for national title-seeking.

He is the only Joe College of the outfit. Bobby doffed the cap and gown of Edinburgh university and went to work dragging down tournament purses.

His triumphs have been in meets with a total prize value of $20,000, making him the big dollars and cents man of the season. Down in Florida, Gene Sarazen has returned to his best medal play form, taking the Miami and the Miami Beach opens with plenty to spare. His 277 in the latter was the best performance of the winter up to that time.

"Light Horse" Harry Cooper galloped home at Monterey and also knocked off Hagen in a 72-hole walkway; Joe Turnesa won at Sacramento; Bill Mehlhorn was the Santa Clara victor; Tommy Armour was the winner at Long Beach.

Wild Bill, the reformed plasterer, has been playing better golf on cards than any of them if averages mean anything. His is a shade over 72 for 324 holes. Armour has 73, Cruikshank and Turnesa 73 1/2 and Cooper 74. Hagen is in a slump and his cards of 74, 82, 77 and 79 do not sound like the Sir Walter of golf.

In the last four P. G. A. championships Hagen has won 19 matches and lost one—a defeat at the hands of Sarazen. Since then he has taken 15 consecutive matches in P. G. A. play, so frenzied efforts to bury him in his current slump are nothing if not ludicrous.

In the open tournaments this summer both Hagen and Sarazen will find their hands full with Cruikshank, Turnesa, Mehlhorn and others coming on like a horn and bug.

No Time to Write Sozgs Now; Tigers Keep Moriarty Busy

San Antonio, Tex.—(AP)—Playing and umpiring baseball games are poetry but managing is prose, declares George Moriarty, now pilot of the Detroit Tigers.

Moriarty as a player and umpire was a song writer. He thinks he will have no time to write since he has become a manager.

"My 10 years' experience as an umpire, I am sure, will prove of decided benefit to me as a manager," Moriarty said.

"I suppose it will take me a little while to get back into the trend of baseball from the playing side. As an umpire, of course, the game was entirely impersonal. Now it is distinctly personal.

"We have a great club here. Of that I am sure. How far we will get in the race, of course, no one can say, but I am very hopeful. There are eight places and certainly we have absolutely no designs on the last four. It is inconceivable that we should fall short of the first division, barring wholesale injuries.

"I believe we will have a better pitching staff than was the case last year and of course with the exception of McManus, the rest of the team is practically unchanged. We have the same outfield, as Cobb did not play regularly. McManus has helped us greatly. He is a dangerous batsman and is apt to knock the ball out of the lot any time.

"I have also decided to use Jack Tavener, our new shortstop, to lead off. He should succeed in this new role for him in the major leagues. He is hard to get the ball over to and if it comes in there, he can hit it pretty far for a little fellow.

"Who do I think will give us the most trouble? The Athletics and Washington. Both have been greatly improved since the close of the last season and I am sure they will play some great baseball. I am not discounting New York and Cleveland, two other great teams, but at this time I think the Athletics and Washington are the more to be feared."

Reiselt Leading in Billiards Tourney

Chicago, April 6—(AP)—Otto Reiselt won from Augie Kleckhofer tonight, 60 to 29, in 51 innings in the third block of the world's championship three-cushion billiard match at Recital hall, Chicago. The victory left Reiselt with a 48-point margin at the end of the third block with a score of 180 to 132.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

Don't Die On Third. When George Moriarty, now manager of the Detroit Tigers, starred at third base in the American League, his favorite axiom was:

DON'T DIE ON THIRD. In other words, Moriarty always believed that too many players on reaching third base, put the issue entirely up to the batsman to score them.

It has always been Moriarty's theory that a smart base runner is as capable of stealing home as easily as second or third. He insists he always found it a much softer proposition.

New Slogan of Detroit. However, in many other ways aside from stealing home, Moriarty believes a base runner can help himself across the plate. Worrying the pitcher by his antics, getting a real break when trying to score on a tap to the infield, picking the proper spot on the double steal, breaking fast when trying to score on a caught fly, are a few of them.

DON'T DIE ON THIRD. That will be the slogan of the Detroit Tigers this season. As a matter of fact, as long as George Moriarty manages the team, that should be for some time, as he has been eminently successful as a player and umpire and should continue along those lines as manager.

All of which means Detroit will be a colorful as well as interesting team, because it is going to make the most of its opportunities and by its willingness to dare will create many of them.

Stress Value of Speed. Every effort will be made to take advantage of the club's speed. Hours and hours have already been spent in perfecting this phase of play. It has equalized the time with batting, fielding and pitching.

In recent years, baserunning has been more or less overlooked as an important factor in pennant success. Get the runs in clusters through brute force has dominated the game.

In this respect the Detroit club is sure to be decidedly different this year. It is going to run bases. Don't get the impression the players are merely going to try to steal bases indiscriminately. For, after all, the theft of a base is but a single part of the base-running scheme.

Utilizing the speed of the team in every possible manner, taking a daring chance on the bases when the score makes such a thing smart, baserunning and then properly utilizing the knowledge gained, are just a few of the features that make for a good base-running team.

Best Qualified to Instruct. Not a speed merchant, and yet far from slow, George Moriarty as a player was one of the best baserunners I have ever followed around the paths. He was smart, knew all the tricks of the trade and made use of them.

I know of no one better qualified to instruct in the art of baserunning than George Moriarty. While many of his players know of him as a player only by reputation, his fame as a baserunner has come down to them.

DIAMOND MEET IS POSTPONED

U. P. Bosses Will Meet in Negaunee April 24, Copeland Says.

Marquette, April 5—(AP)—A change in the date of the Spring organization meeting of the Upper Peninsula Baseball Ass'n. from Sunday April 17, to Sunday April 24, has been announced by C. C. Copeland of Ishpeming, president of the association.

President Copeland made the change because April 17 will be Easter Sunday and it was thought that it would be more convenient for the delegates to go to Negaunee for the meeting the following Sunday. The meeting will be held in the Negaunee Elk's club rooms.

Expect Strong Circuit. Early spring baseball reports from upper peninsula towns indicate that the association will have a larger membership this year than last and it is expected that the teams will be stronger, in most cases.

It is certain, now, association officials say, that Negaunee, Marquette, Crystal Falls, L'Anse, Munising and Norway will enter the circuit. It is doubtful whether the copper country will be represented, although baseball promoters are busy themselves in Calumet and Houghton and more encouraging reports may come from them before the Negaunee meeting is held.

Baseball talk is getting warm in Ishpeming and it is regarded as more than probable that the Hematite city will return to the field.

A meeting will be held soon in Iron River for a discussion of plans to organize a team to represent the Iron county district, with support from Iron River, Stambaugh and Caspian.

Mountaineers Silent. No word has come from Iron Mountain, but with Norway ready to put a strong amateur nine into the league it is not probable that the Dickinson county metropolis will stay out.

There is said to be a strong possibility of Manistiquet coming back into the association. Nothing has been done in Escanaba, but baseball enthusiasts there are sounding out public sentiment and it is expected that definite news will be forthcoming within a week or 10 days. If Escanaba organizes a team for the circuit, it is believed that Gladstone will follow suit.

DALLAS STEERS DEFEAT TIGERS

Series Evened by 4 to 2 Victory; Shuman Is Hero of Day.

Dallas, Tex., April 5—(AP)—The Dallas Steers evened the series with the Detroit Tigers by winning today's game, 4 to 2. Dick Shuman, Dallas left-hander, was the hero of the game and Heinle Manush, 1926 American League batting champion, was the goat. Shuman fanned Manush twice at critical moments.

The Tigers failed to hit in the pinches and although they collected twice as many hits as their minor league opponents, the Dallas bingles were put to good purpose. An even dozen Detroit players were left stranded on the bases and errors figured in all of the Dallas runs.

Whitehill and Smith divided the pitching against Shuman and both showed well in the box, but were accorded poor support.

First Batter Passed. Whitehill passed the first batter to face him and on the next play threw Gross' bunt away. A sacrifice followed by two Dallas singles scored two runs. The score stayed that way until the sixth inning when Harry Hellmann, Detroit outfielder, lifted over the fence, scoring Ruble ahead of him.

Smith relieved Whitehill at the start of the sixth inning and held them scoreless until the eighth when the Dallas clubbers got in their deadly work. The first batter was disposed of by Tavener, Detroit shortstop, threw high on a scratch hit and the second batter took two bases. A single and a double scored two more runs and tied up the game for the Texas League team.

In an effort to instill punch into the team, Manager Moriarty today changed the lineup, benching Fothergill to give him a rest, and assigned Ruble to left field in his stead. Manush was shifted to second place in the batting lineup and McManus dropped to fourth place.

Punch Is Lacking. The punch was lacking today, however, and Moriarty was dissatisfied with the team's inability to produce more than two runs with 10 hits.

The team will play Dallas here again tomorrow and then move over to Wichita Falls for an exhibition contest.

The score: R. H. E. Detroit (A) . . . 2 10 2 Dallas (TL) . . . 4 5 1 Whitehill, Smith and Shea; Shuman and Corta.

BROWNS ON TOP

Fort Worth, Tex., April 5—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns bunched hits in the fifth and sixth innings to defeat Fort Worth of the Texas League, 6 to 3, here today. All of the Ford Worth runs came in the second inning, Chick Howard, pitcher, accounting for two with a homer with a man on base. Vangilder pitched straight ball save in this frame. The victory gave the Browns an even break in the two-game series.

PIRATES BEAT WACO

Waco, Tex., April 5—(AP)—Two home runs by Glenn Wright, crack Pittsburgh shortstop, gave the Pirates a 6 to 5 victory over the Waco, Texas League club, in an exhibition clash here today. Wright's first circuit drive in the third game with two men on the paths while his second, in the eighth, gave the big leaguers the one run margin they needed when Shires, Waco first sacker, poled a homer in the ninth with one on.

RAMBLERS PLAY LAST GAME OF SEASON FRIDAY

The Negaunee Blue Devils, for two years the U. P. Class B amateur basketball champions, will bring to Escanaba Friday night one of the strongest quintets in the northern part of the state, when they meet the E. F. U. Ramblers, Daily Press tournament champions.

The Miners defeated the local team in the Y. M. C. A. tourney at Ishpeming by a close score, but the fans here are pinning great faith in their team.

The Ramblers will have the advantage of playing on the home floor, and will play a team they have opposed before. New plays have been worked out since the tournament and the local five are expectant of a victory.

This game will officially close the local cage season.

DE CREMER IS PEORIA COACH

Former Escanaba Youth Makes Brilliant Athletic Record.

Albert De Cremer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph De Cremer, formerly residents of this city, has been named coach and athletic director and coach of Spalding Institute, at Peoria, Ill. A Peoria newspaper has much to say of De Cremer's athletic ability:

"Albert De Cremer, for four years a mainstay of Bradley football, basketball and baseball teams, last night signed a one-year contract as athletic director and coach of Spalding Institute. De Cremer succeeds James 'Sport' McGrath, resigned.

De Cremer will assume his new duties at the opening of the school term next September as he will be graduated from Bradley institute in June.

"During his career at Bradley, De Cremer was heralded as one of the greatest minor college football players in the country. He won national publicity with his accurate passing and was considered one of the best all-time kickers in the Little Nineteen conference.

"De Cremer's brilliant selection of plays on the gridiron won him the reputation of being one of the smartest quarterbacks in minor college circles while, as said before, his passing, punting and ball carrying made him a dangerous triple-threat artist.

"De Cremer was equally as valuable to the basketball team with the exception of the season just closed when he was out of the game the greater part of the season with an injured knee.

"The new mentor will finish his athletic career on the hilltop during the next two months with the baseball team, where he also stands out. In every branch of athletics, the newly appointed young mentor has starred.

"The selection of Al was made over a field of five other candidates for the position left vacant by McGrath. De Cremer's appointment will be a popular one as he is well known to Peorians. The Purple mentor first broke into the athletic hall of fame by his wonderful running and kicking with Manual high school eleven and later in basketball and baseball."

LEADERS RETAIN BATTING PUNCH

Yankees and Cardinals Will Be in Thick of Fray Again.

New York, April 5—(AP)—Batting punch, the chief factor in the pennant triumphs of the Yankees and the Cardinals last year, will keep the two championship clubs in the thick of the 1927 races, observers seem agreed.

The two batting heroes of the 1925 baseball classic, Babe Ruth and Tommy Thievenow, both have been finding the range, setting the pace for their teammates in slug-ging bees that have marked the last few games of the spring exhibition series.

Thevenow, a supposedly weak stickler, furnished the surprise of the struggle last fall by hitting over .400. Although kept at eighth place again this spring in the batting order the young Cardinal shortstop has been clotting at a .500 clip.

Thevenow's stick work augments the heavy St. Louis artillery which already includes Frisch, Bottomley, Lester Bell, Southworth and O'Farrell.

Ruth hasn't bagged his customary spring quota of home runs but he has been netting the ball hard and often. His training season average is approximately .350. Earl Combs and Joe Dugan have been clotting at around a .400 clip.

Two former major leaguers, Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby give every indication of having one of their best seasons at bat while the Tigers, in Manush, Hellmann and Fothergill, have the heaviest outfield battery in either league, a trio that monopolized the 1926 American League batting race.

The loss of Ross Young's stick work to the Giants may be offset by the sensational work of Melvin Ott, 18-year-old Louisiana youth who jumped from high school to the major leagues last season.

France Good Market for Fake Paintings

Paris—France, with all her artistic culture, is a good market for fake masterpieces.

A collection of 63 paintings recently was bought by a wealthy Frenchman for 300,000 francs because many of the canvases were signed "Delacroix," "Millet," "Corrot," "Monet," "Courbet" and other names with places in the Louvre.

Friends soon disillusioned the rich buyer and Charles Heim, the seller of the "heirlooms," had to refund the money. His defense was that he sold the collection without guaranteeing its authenticity.

Sammy Baker Gets Decision Over Ward

New York, April 5—(AP)—Sergt. Sammy Baker of Mitchell Field won a 10-round judges' decision over George Ward of Elizabeth, N. J., in the main bout of a welterweight show at Madison Square Garden tonight. Ward weighed 147 1/2 and the winner 145 1/2.

In another 10-round match George Fifield, 154, of Toronto, Canadian welterweight champion, won on a foul in the second round from Jack McVey, 151, New York negro boxer. Willie Harmon, 145 1/2, New York, and Tommy White, 143, Mexico, fought ten bruising rounds to a draw. Both were cut about the nose and mouth.

SAPIRO'S GOOD FAITH PLAYED

all in the ordinary way," he began. "He was promoting various organizations in an endeavor to gain control of them or obtain employment by them and when he could not gain control he undertook to wreck them. All this was improper work for an attorney and it naturally would destroy his reputation as an attorney or even as an organizer. His income would be adversely affected by it."

The senator said he wished at that point to show that Sapiro held himself in an extremely receptive mood if he did not actually solicit employment by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The employment, Reed said, was not obtained at that time, but Sapiro managed to get into the committee of 17 and drew his fees from that organization. Reed connected the plaintiff then and in later testimony with the United States Grain Growers, Inc., and the American Wheat Growers' association.

Peteet's Letter Introduced. A letter from Walton Peteet, director of cooperative marketing of the A. F. B. F., to O. E. Bradford of Xenia, Ohio, then president, suggesting the employment of Sapiro as general counsel, was introduced as evidence, along with a communication from Sapiro setting out his terms.

The connection was not immediately made, Sapiro admitted, but was later. While it was pending, Senator Reed sought to show by the introduction of a letter from Peteet to Sapiro, that Sapiro was away from the A. F. B. F., to join him, Carl Williams of Oklahoma and others in setting up another national organization.

Peteet's letter to Bradford, written February 17, 1923, said: "If we secure his services, it will mean that the A. F. B. F. will be without competition in the national field of cooperative marketing. X X X The alternative of this would be two national movements and division in the ranks of American producers at a time when every consideration of public welfare and organization calls for unity."

Did Not Assist. Sapiro admitted that he might have seen a copy of the letter before it was mailed but denied that he had helped formulate it. A month later, according to a copy of a telegram sent from Dallas, Texas, Sapiro informed Peteet: "Carl Williams and I are thinking of pulling away from the farm bureau on account of their tactics and you should go with us if you keep your promise."

Sapiro could not identify the actual phrasing of the telegram but admitted one substantially like it that had been sent. He declined to agree with Senator Reed that "your promise" meant that Sapiro had not been employed.

On the other hand, Sapiro maintained, it meant that Peteet had promised that he would leave the A. F. B. F., unless the national farmers' organization adopted a constructive plan for cooperative grain marketing and join Sapiro and others in forming an advisory board of wheat growers.

Service Was Intended. Sapiro insisted he "intended to do a service for the American grain producers." One of the things he insisted upon was that the A. F. B. F., abandoning the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., which he considered not properly organized, inherently weak and not fitted to operate as a cooperative marketing agency.

Sapiro said that the period of the letters and telegram did not cover the time of consideration, that the matter had been laid before the Farm Bureau Federation leaders a long time previously.

So far as taxation is concerned the rates have gradually come down and the out-cry against excess profits taxes is already a faint memory, except in those instances where disputes in the courts overhang from war days.

MRS. WEISSERT ANSWERS CALL

Dies at Ford River Farm Home; Came Here 48 Years Ago.

Mrs. P. A. Weissert, 69 years old, a resident of this vicinity for the past 48 years, died at her farm home at Ford River, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Weissert suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Sunday night, and since then her condition had steadily failed.

Mrs. Weissert's death takes another from the ranks of Escanaba's pioneers, who made their homes here in the city's infancy. She was only nine years old when her parents moved to Escanaba from DePere, Wis., but she recalled quite vividly, even in later years, the landmarks of the old village.

The deceased was born in North Brahan, Holland. Her parents moved to DePere, Wis., when she was a mere infant. A few years later the family decided to make its permanent home here. By an odd coincidence, they arrived in Escanaba 48 years ago today.

June 1, 1883, the deceased was married to Fred A. Weissert, of this city. Besides her husband, Mrs. Weissert is survived by seven children: William, Escanaba; Frank, Michigan City, Ind.; Mrs. Leo Heyler and Mrs. Carl Spade, Detroit; Mrs. Leslie Farrell, Racine; Fred W. Weissert, Jr., and Mrs. Harvey Spade, Escanaba. One sister, Mrs. Gertrude Jaeger, Ford River, and 20 grandchildren also survive.

During her life, Mrs. Weissert was an active member of St. Joseph's Catholic church and belonged to St. Mary's Court, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, and the Married Ladies' Altar society of St. Joseph's church.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning from St. Joseph's church, with Rev. Fr. Bertrand Labinski, celebrant at the requiem high mass. Members of the W. C. O. F., will meet at 8:30 o'clock to attend church in a body. Burial will be made at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Fear of Witchcraft Blamed for Murder

Paris—Dark age superstition and the fear of witchcraft are blamed by the Paris papers for a murder in the village of Ballots in northwestern France.

"Father" Auguste Guillot lived in the village for 78 years, until he was finally beaten to death by those who feared him.

The villagers held that animals shunned Guillot, that a baby who touched him had convulsions, and that a curse was upon him. They called him the "thrower of spells." Last fall as he passed through a field Angele, an 18 year old shepherdess, was convinced that the calves and lambs were terrified, so she set upon him with her staff. Her brothers came to her aid, and they left the old man senseless upon the field. Next morning a crowd, no longer fearful of him, beat him as he lay on the ground.

He was taken to a hospital three days later, and three months afterward died of his injuries. The village is rid of its "sorcerer" but the villagers apparently have no consciousness of guilt.
