

ELEVEN PERISH IN SOUTHWEST FLOODS

CANADIANS TO OFFER DRAFT OF NEW PACT

RECIPROCALITY WITH U. S. TAKES DEFINITE SHAPE.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, April 7.—The Canadian cabinet and a large number of members of the parliament at Ottawa have approved of a tentative draft of a treaty of reciprocity with the United States. Negotiations looking to a consummation of the agreement will be begun shortly.

Copies of the draft which have reached here indicate that there is little likelihood of Canada entering into an arrangement on the St. Lawrence waterway project unless a trade treaty is combined with it. A number of reasons for this exist, but chief among them is the resentment against the Fordney-McCumber tariff law. The Canadians feel that the American farmers never really benefitted from that act anyhow.

In the proposed draft, the suggestion is made that the following articles come into either country free of duty:

Power Development. Cattle, poultry, wheat and agricultural products generally, vegetables, fruits, dairy products, fish of all kinds, timber, building materials, pulp of wood, newsprint and all other paper and various other by-products of the foregoing, all of which are enumerated.

A provision has been inserted giving the states and provinces of both countries, freedom of action in the preservation of forest products. The articles relating to waterways follow in part.

"It is understood and agreed that the parties hereto shall grant permission to the state of New York and the Province of Ontario at their expense and on such terms as may mutually be agreed upon to build for power purposes a shore-to-shore dam or dams on the St. Lawrence River, between Cornwall on the Canadian side and St. Regis on the American side of the river provided:

Canal Agreement. "(A)—That the said state and province in consideration of the granting of such rights construct, equip and maintain in the state of New York a canal of the character and dimensions recommended in the report of the international joint waterways commission to permit the passage of vessels between the heightened level above the dam and the level of Lake St. Francis.

"(B)—That all the work shall be performed and carried out in such a manner as to be of the utmost aid to navigation.

"(C)—That before any work is undertaken the plans and specifications shall be submitted to and approved by a joint engineering board, such as may be approved by the International Joint Waterways Commission or the personnel of which shall be determined by them.

"Article Three: It is understood and agreed that the United States and America shall refund to the Dominion of Canada one half of the amount that have been expended in the construction of the new Welland Canal and that interest during construction shall be deemed part of the capital cost.

"Article Four: It is understood and agreed that the Dominion of Canada will, at its own expense, construct the canals recommended by the International Waterways Commission in connecting Lake St. Francis with the deep water at Montreal on the lines recommended by the International Joint Waterways Commission or any other modified or alternative plan that may be equally advantageous to navigation.

U. S. Will Send 1500 More Marines to Far East

AVENGED

Most of the Mexican bandits who kidnaped and slew Edgar M. Wilkins (above) American electrical engineer, have been captured in Guadaluajara, and the Calles government promises that speedy justice is to be meted out to them.

LABORITES ASK PAIR'S RELEASE

Governor of Massachusetts Gets Message From England.

Boston, April 8.—(P)—A demand by 21 members of the British parliament, believed to be mostly labor party members, that Nicco Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti be released came by cable to Gov. Alvan T. Fuller today.

Since the Massachusetts supreme court earlier in the week denied their final appeal for a new trial, the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee has broadcast appeals for protests against their sentences to the electric chair.

"British members of parliament emphatically protest the rejection of a new trial for Sacco and Vanzetti. We view with alarm the violation of justice committed in this case and demand withdrawal of the death sentence and their immediate release."

EVIDENCE INCONCLUSIVE. London, April 8.—(P)—The signatures of 21 labor members of the house of commons to the message requesting the release of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti were collected here by an organization entitled "the international prisoners' aid."

Free for All Traffic. "It is understood and agreed that while the canal so provided shall be equally free to the vessels and traffic of the parties hereto, whether carried in vessels of the parties hereto, or any other vessels, that the said canals shall be under the sole control and supervision of the Canadian Department of Railways and Canals, so shall also be the Welland Canal notwithstanding that the said canal thereof shall be borne by the parties hereto as herein-before provided.

In the concluding articles, the United States is asked to agree to stop the diversion of water through the Chicago Drainage Canal, and, at its own expense, to install dams and spillways or other devices to regulate at the most desirable navigable depths the waters of lakes Erie, Huron, Michigan and Superior "with any tributaries thereof that may be used as reservoirs for low water relief."

ONE PROBLEM UNSOLVED BY DRY DEBATERS

IS 18TH AMENDMENT GERMANE TO CONSTITUTION?

Symphony Hall, Boston, April 8.—(P)—Two men added to their oratorical reputations, 3,000 persons cheered wildly, the prohibition question was raked from end to end and finally the debate here tonight between William E. Borah and Nicholas Murray Butler resolved itself into one unsettled problem—namely the constitution and within the original theory of the federal government?

Dr. Butler, president of Columbia university, who held the affirmative of the question, "should the Republican national platform of 1928 advocate repeal of the 18th amendment"—found his rebuttal which closed the debate only this single point of difference with the United States senator from Idaho.

Wants 25 Years. Senator Borah, militant as always, refused to "look backward," and demanded a trial of at least 25 years for prohibition before talk of repeal should be considered. Placed in the constitution by the deliberative act of the American people, the law, he declared, could and would be enforced and it was the only method of the many brought forward—partial modification, government control or state determination—which could combat successfully the evil which Lincoln ranked with slavery.

After two hours of argument, added to by the introductions of Robert M. Washburn, president of the Roosevelt club, Inc., which arranged the meeting, the individual of the audience, multiplied many times by the unseen listeners to the broadcast by two radio stations.

No Decision Made. There was no decision. The Roosevelt club had refused approval to any form of judging, formal or otherwise. The audience was obviously partisan from the applause which greeted the opposing remarks of the speakers, but it apparently was divided so. The audience which trooped out talking, posturing, arguing, laughing, was still partisan, but whether differently divided seemed impossible of decision.

"My position," said Senator Borah, "is that when a clause is placed in the constitution, it is my duty to uphold that constitution."

"So long as the amendment is law," said Dr. Butler, "it is my duty to obey it; but that does not prevent my intelligence from telling me to exert myself to my utmost to take it away legally."

Want to Advance. "What we need," declared the westerner, "is not a party giving orders to retreat, but orders to advance. The Republican and Democratic parties may sidestep this issue, but the people will not."

Dr. Butler's theory, on which he took final issue with his opponent, was that all previous amendments to the constitution had been based on points contained in the original document, but that the 18th amendment to his mind, had no connection with the constitution except its enactment.

Aimee Leaves Home; Fear Church Split. Los Angeles, April 8.—(P)—Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, today living apart, made varying explanations which indicated a disruptive trend in the situation at Angelus Temple.

Swift Liners to be Pressed Into Service

(BULLETIN) San Francisco, April 8.—(P)—Officials of the Robert Dollar Steamship company announced today that the liner President Grant, one of the fastest liners in the trans-Pacific trade, had been requisitioned to carry United States marines to China. The President Grant will begin the trip from San Diego not later than April 20.

Washington, April 8.—(P)—The 1500 marines now on their way to San Diego are to go to China. Decision to send them across the Pacific to augment the forces already in Chinese waters or landed to protect American lives and property, was reached today although it has not definitely been determined on what date they will leave the United States.

It is likely, however, that the detachment will get away on commercial ships soon after its arrival next week at San Diego. The transport Henderson sailed yesterday from that port with a force of marines of similar size for duty in China.

Decision of the Washington government to advance in Chinese waters another regiment of marines shared with press advices from Shanghai, indicating a widening of the rift between the moderate and radical wings of the Chinese nationalist party for chief attention here in connection with the Chinese situation.

No Important Alteration. At the White House it was said President Coolidge had been advised on no important alteration in the situation. This statement bore out the belief that movement of the additional marine regiment which will bring the total force of marines under command of Admiral Williams up to 5200, was due to difficulty in holding fast to transportation at San Diego for an emergency dash to China should there be a call for reinforcements.

Neither naval nor army transports are available to take men enroute to San Diego on to China. To avoid delay in the event Admiral Williams should call for them, it has been decided to ship them by commercial liners, 300 to 500 men going on each ship. They will be assigned to stations aboard American war craft or duty ashore by Williams when the ships get in radio touch with the American commander-in-chief.

Official reports reviewing conditions in China so far as Americans are concerned again today emphasized the growing menace of anti-foreign disorders at Hankow. Local nationalists were said in a dispatch from Rear Admiral Hough at Hankow to be making no apparent effort "to check the increasing lawlessness."

Hankow Evacuation Urged. He said he was using all possible pressure to induce Americans remaining at Hankow to proceed to Shanghai.

Additional Japanese light cruisers, supplementing the fleet of 21 foreign war craft already concentrated at Hankow, have reached that port and the Japanese concession continued yesterday to be the storm center of anti-foreign agitation.

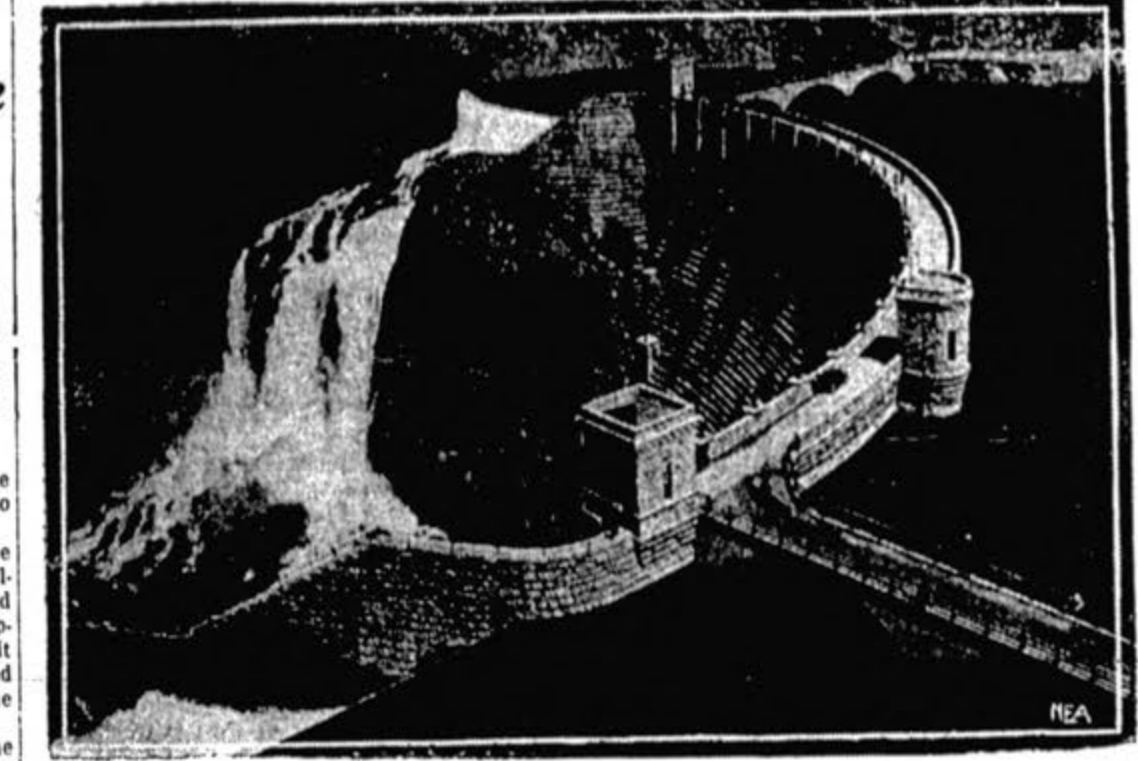

Government advices made public did not refer to the political situation within the Cantonese party described in press reports from Shanghai. Those reports, however, indicated that an absolute rupture had been reached between the radical controlled political wing of the nationalist party at Hankow and the military forces holding Shanghai and the surrounding area under command of Chiang Kai-Shek, moderate leader, might already have occurred.

The statement that Chiang had taken steps to suppress publication by Shanghai newspapers of propaganda matter furnished by the Hankow political bureau attracted particular attention.

Application Seeks Pardon of Carroll. Washington, April 8.—(P)—A formal application for a pardon for Earl Carroll, theatrical producer of bath-tub party fame, was filed with the department of justice today. Carroll is to begin serving a sentence of a year and a day in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta Tuesday.

Shortly before the department closed for the day, a man and a woman appeared at the office of the pardon attorney to file the application. Officials decline to divulge the identity of either.

WHERE DE PINEDO'S DARING FLIGHT WAS ENDED

After flying across the Atlantic ocean and the Brazilian jungles, Commander Francesco De Pinedo's daring inter-continental flight in a seaplane came to an end at Roosevelt Dam, Ariz., where the Santa Maria burst out in flames as it was getting under way for a hop to San Diego, Calif. The dam and the reservoir where the accident occurred are shown above.

JACKSON GIVEN AUTO BY KLAN

Former Kluxer Testifies Organization Mixed in Politics.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 8.—(P)—D. C. Stephenson, former Klan drag of Indiana and now a life prisoner at Michigan City penitentiary, gave Governor Jackson an automobile early in 1925, according to testimony given in superior court here today by Fred O. Butler, formerly private secretary for Stephenson.

The witness explained later, however, that the automobile, a Studebaker, was traded in for a new Lexington and that Governor Jackson supplied the cash difference.

Stephenson in the heyday of his Klan leadership in Indiana, was reputed to have figured prominently in the nomination and election of Governor Jackson. Late in 1925 Stephenson was convicted of the murder of Miss Madge Oberholzer of Indianapolis and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Sees for Support. Butler was testifying in a civil suit in which Mrs. Nettie Stephenson Brehm of Oklahoma, former wife of Stephenson, seeks to obtain support for their 11-year-old daughter, Florence Catherine.

Governor Jackson when informed of Butler's testimony said that as far as he knew Stephenson had no connection with his acquisition of the new automobile.

The governor explained that he traded an Oldsmobile with $1,000 of his own money for the new Lexington. He said he never owned a Studebaker car and that his own Oldsmobile, and not Stephenson's Studebaker, was traded in on the new car.

Butler Reluctant. Butler seemed reluctant to name the person to whom the car was given and appealed to the court, but Judge James M. Leathers ruled that if the answer would tend to disclose property of Stephenson which might be subject to attachment in the suit pending, the witness would be required to answer.

Again questioned by the attorney for Mrs. Brehm the witness said the car was given to Governor Ed Jackson.

Butler explained that he accompanied the governor to a bank and that the governor provided the money which figured in the trade. He said the amount was a "few hundred dollars" but he did not recall the exact amount.

Attempt to Verify Engineer's Murder

Mexico City, April 8.—(P)—The United States embassy, continuing its efforts to obtain confirmation of a report that an American mining engineer was murdered by bandits in the state of Sonora, has instructed the United States consul at Guaymas to report the facts of the matter as soon as possible.

The only information the embassy had received tonight was a message from the Guaymas consul saying it was "rumored that an American named Cook or Collier or Ganos has been murdered."

(A report received in Nogales, Ariz., from Mexico yesterday said that an American mining engineer, Fred Combs, was murdered last Saturday while enroute from the railway station of Esperanza to La Dura in his automobile.)

RANGERS CLEAN UP BOOM TOWN

Painted Women, Gamblers Make Colorful Exodus. Borger, Texas, April 8.—(P)—Painted women, gamblers and other denizens of the underworld driven out of Borger, trooped across the plains to nearby communities and rail points today as Texas rangers continued their cleanup of this boom oil town.

More than a dozen girls with bundles on their backs were seen trudging along the highway between here and pan handle seeking automobile rides.

Numerous men were hiking in all directions intent on putting distance between them and the rangers, who ordered the exodus of all underworld characters.

The rangers, sent here by Gov. Dan Moody to put an end to lawlessness and vice, held an impromptu hearing in the sheriff's office.

They questioned scores of men, turning some back to jail and ordering others to leave town. They also checked up to see that persons ordered yesterday to leave within 24 hours had departed.

With the city rid of gambling equipment, the state officers confined their labors to rounding up questionable characters.

LIQUOR FLOWED AT VETS' HOME

Sensational Charges Made as State Solons Investigate.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 8.—(P)—Charges that liquor of good quality and bad, according to whom the drinker was—flowed freely in the Michigan state soldiers' home; that parties were held in the office of William J. Remus, pharmacist, and that the disturbing outcries of patients were stifled with drugs which his guests were annoyed, were made today as the state legislative investigation into the affairs of the home got under way.

The investigation is proceeding under the direction of Asst. Atty. Gen. A. J. Galbraith. Accusation of bootlegging operations and of poison liquor were placed in the record from the testimony of Harry L. Rice, an inmate of the home, who was on the stand during the morning. The afternoon's proceedings were featured by the statements of Miss Estella Kauffman, a nurse at the hospital.

Lady Man-Handled. Miss Kauffman told of being man-handled by Dr. William Dodge, in charge of the hospital, after the first investigation by the committee of the lower state legislative body. She stated that following trouble with her superiors she entered the physician's office one afternoon and informed him she was ready to go back to work. He asked her if anything was wrong about the place and she answered "nothing except the strain which we have been under."

"He tried to make me tell what I meant by that," she testified, "I refused," she said, "because I was afraid I would get into trouble. I tried to get out of the door but he grabbed me by the neck and threw me over a chair. I again tried to get out, but he seized me around the arms and held me. I screamed and Miss Van Regenmortel, supervisor of the hospital, came and said, 'let go of her. We'll settle with her later.'"

Much Noise Heard. Asked concerning the alleged parties in Remus' room and rumors of drinking, Miss Kauffman said, "I found out about that the first night I was on duty. There was much carrying on and noise in Remus' room."

"The noise disturbed the patients, but if they disturbed Remus he would come out and say 'give them a shot.' I could not say for certain that there was liquor served."

Alfred Hurley, an elevator operator, verified Miss Kauffman's story of being roughly handled by Dr. Dodge.

Hurley further testified that Miss Van Regenmortel told a Miss Boyland, another nurse, that employees of the home who testified in the investigations would be discharged.

The inquiry will be resumed to-morrow morning.

ANGRY RIVERS DRIVE SCORES TO HIGHLANDS

BRIDGES WASH OUT, SEVERAL TRAINS WRECKED.

Kansas City, April 8.—(P)—Flood waters surging in on the heels of cloudbursts had swept at least 11 persons to death in Oklahoma and Kansas tonight with hundreds of homes inundated, railroad service paralyzed and further flood warnings being issued.

Six were drowned and six others were missing after flood waters trapped two families of Mexicans in their home near Rockford, Okla. Only two of the 14 in the house were known to have escaped.

Three persons lost their lives early today when Missouri, Kansas, Texas passenger train No. 22 northbound from San Antonio, struck a washout at St. Paul, Kan., the engine and 10 cars going into a flooded ditch. E. L. Phillips, engineer, Dave Ball, fireman, and an unidentified man were drowned. Fifteen were injured, some severely.

Train in Creek. Eight miles away train No. 21, southbound from Kansas City, plunged into a flooded creek an hour afterward, injuring several, none severely.

Two persons were drowned in Oklahoma yesterday. Many southeast Kansas streams went to the highest stage on record after the downpour last night and early today.

An unidentified Kansas farmer boy saved a special train of marines going to San Diego for duty in China from going into a washout at Erie this morning. The boy ran to Walnut, Kans., and told railroad men the track was out and the train was flagged down a few minutes later. It was marooned with washouts on both sides.

Fourth stage in Erie, Kans., became a raging torrent 'our feet deep a few minutes after the cloudburst started. Late today the Neosho river levee at Erie burst, flooding thousands of acres and forcing farmers to flee their homes, leaving household goods and stocks behind.

100 Houses Flooded. More than 100 houses were flooded in Parson, Kans., water covering floors of some four feet deep.

Twenty-five families forced from their homes in Wellington, Kans., last night, returned late today when Hargis creek receded within its banks.

At Independence, Kans., the Verdigris river reached the highest stage on record late today and was still rising. The Neosho river continued to rise.

Fourteen cars of a Missouri Pacific train were derailed at Englevale, Kans., by a washout today. No one was hurt.

Rail Service Paralyzed. Railroad service was paralyzed with washouts in many places on the Missouri Pacific, Frisco, Rock Island, Missouri, Kansas, Texas and Santa Fe lines. A mile of track on the Frisco was swept away at Arcadia, Kans., where the rainfall was 8.2 inches.

Many highways are under water. Flood warnings were issued late today to farmers along the Grand river in Oklahoma, which is expected to rise to 30 feet to-morrow.

Building Co. Files Bankruptcy Paper

Grand Rapids, April 8.—(P)—Meech, Arnold and Meech of St. Joseph, Mich., building contractors, today filed a petition in bankruptcy in federal court, through Julius Arnold, vice president and Frank M. Meech, secretary-treasurer. Liabilities were given as $50,000 and assets as $5,000. Creditors numbering 131 reside in various cities in western Michigan and northern Indiana and Illinois.

STORY OF LOAN TOLD IN COURT

Firm Advanced Money to Idaho Ass'n, Later Got Fees.

Detroit, April 8—(AP)—Idaho potato growers were organized in a cooperative selling association by Aaron Sapiro by the use of funds advanced by the commission firm of Weyl and Zuckerman of Los Angeles, Cal., which became the organization's agents and in the end Sapiro collected his fee from association funds remaining in the agents' hands.

That was the story told by Sapiro and a score of documents introduced today in his $1,000,000 libel-suit against Henry Ford. It was the ninth day of the attorney's cross-examination by Senator James A. Reed, chief of the defense counsel and when court was adjourned until next Monday the indications were that Sapiro would be on the witness stand all of next week.

The Idaho situation was delved into by Reed in an effort, he said, to show that Sapiro organized cooperatives for his own profit and that by his own improper conduct might have alienated some of the fees he alleged were lost to him because of articles printed in Ford's weekly, the Dearborn Independent.

Loan Records Introduced.

The loans totalling $4,000 were made by Weyl and Zuckerman through Sapiro to the organization committee of the growers and later were repaid with interest to the firm. Records of the transaction were introduced as evidence.

The cooperative failed to prosper, other documents showed, and Sapiro was discharged as counsel with his fee unpaid. He made over the claim for $3,289.80, to a clerk in his office after correspondence had failed to effect a settlement and a successful suit was brought. Sapiro testified that the clerk turned the money over to him after it was collected from funds of the cooperative remaining in the hands of Weyl and Zuckerman.

Capital Punishment Stops Crime—Baumes

Detroit, April 8—(AP)—Capital punishment in New York state is a powerful curb to major crimes, so that the repeal of the bill providing for it would be nothing less than a "public calamity," Caleb W. Baumes, a member of the state legislature of New York, declared in an address here tonight.

"Scarcely a session of our legislature is held without someone introducing a bill that would abolish capital punishment in New York state," he said. "But such proposed legislation, invariably dies in committee, because our law makers, as a whole, know New York public sentiment favors execution of first degree murderers. They know repeal of the capital punishment bill would be nothing short of a public calamity."

Bribery in Street Widening Admitted

Detroit, April 8—(AP)—Fred C. Chapman pleaded guilty in recorder's court here today to a charge of accepting a bribe in the Bagley avenue widening condemnation case in which he was a juror.

Judge Arthur W. Kilpatrick fixed bail at $2,000 which Chapman was unable to furnish.

Earlier in the day, William Weiss furniture dealer and Nathan Miller, merchant charged with bribing Chapman, entered a plea of nolo contendere when arraigned. Examination was set for April 15.

Detroit Dry Forces To Be Strengthened

Cities May Lead Opposition Against Weight Tax Bill.

Detroit, April 8—(AP)—The Detroit Free Press tomorrow will say that L. C. Andrews, federal dry chief, has announced the immediate strengthening of the prohibition and customs forces at Detroit.

The announcement the Free Press will say was given out in Washington coincident with the return to Detroit of John A. Baxter, assistant district attorney. Baxter spent Thursday in Washington conferring with John G. Sargent, attorney general, and other department heads, over the Detroit prohibition situation. He had previously described the prohibition situation here as demoralizing.

In announcing his intention of reinforcing the law agencies guarding the Detroit river, Andrews was quoted by the Free Press as saying that "the only leak in the country is at Detroit, where great quantities of liquor come from Canada by boat." He was quoted as saying that he hoped to have the situation well in hand by May 1.

Baxter on his return here declined to make a statement on the exact nature of his conferences.

Women to Meet in Lansing Next Year

Jackson, April 8—(AP)—An invitation from Lansing for the next meeting of the southeastern district Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs was accepted Friday afternoon at the closing session of the ninth annual convention at the First Congregational church.

Reports show there are 120 clubs in the district affiliated with the organization.

Of particular interest was the address Friday afternoon by Miss Isabella Larwill, commissioner of the department of labor and industry of Lansing. Miss Larwill has the distinction to be the first woman in Michigan to hold this position.

Professor Has A Way Out of Radio Tangle

Washington, — An intellectual appearing gentleman from the middle west recently rose before the new radio commission and offered what most observers with no special interest consider the most — if not the only — constructive proposal for solving the confusion that exists in radio broadcasting and in the minds of the commission itself.

This gentleman is Professor E. M. Terry of the University of Wisconsin. Professor Terry, whose main job is teaching physics to young engineers, established the first university radio broadcasting station only a few months after the field. This was WFAA.

Building a broadcasting station before power tubes were on the market, Terry did a little glass blowing and made his own tubes and other accessories. He is a leader in radio research.

"We know perfectly well," Terry declares, "that many stations on the air have been put there for sale. They are hanging on in the hope of making something out of it. If some way could be found by which their hopes could be dashed, it would be beneficial for everyone else."

"If broadcasting time were divided as I have proposed, some of those on the verge would automatically eliminate themselves. It is safe to say that most of the 150 or 175 stations, established since the Commerce Department lost the power to control broadcasting, were put on the air for sale at a profit."

"We ought to shut down on some of these no-good stations which create hardly anything but interference and we ought to divide the time."

Monopoly? Nothing to it. "Eventually, stations are going to move down to the lower wavelengths. If we do open up the low wavelengths, the only fair thing to do is to move some national stations down and not confine the movement to the small ones."

"Just now the fundamental objection to opening up the lower wavelengths is that it throws the burden on the listeners."

Terry has never worried about a radio monopoly.

"It's a foolish idea," says he. "There will be time enough to take care of the monopoly bogey when it develops into something real. There are plenty of remedies provided for a monopoly. I believe in letting the big corporations go ahead and give us the best we can get."

FINANCE PLAN REACHES HOUSE

Cities May Lead Opposition Against Weight Tax Bill.

Lansing, April 8—(AP)—A highway finance plan bearing the approval of house and senate road commissions and the administration reached the floor of the house today. The committee on general taxation reported the Cameron bill proposing a three cent gasoline tax and a fifty-fifty split of weight tax receipts with the counties.

It is estimated that the counties, if the measure is adopted, will get close to $5,000,000 annually instead of the present $6,000,000. Opposition to the bill may come from city members who believe the municipalities are entitled to a share of the revenues. An attempt probably will be made by representatives from the poorer counties to attach an amendment setting up a separate fund of about $1,000,000 for their benefit.

The house today insisted upon the whipping post for bank robbers and armed burglars when it refused to concur in senate amendments to two measures wiping out the fogging clause. A conference was ordered to settle the dispute between the branches.

A move to legalize the proposed ousting of the superintendent of public instruction from his offices in the capitol building was wrecked when Representative Martin Bradley secured the adoption of an amendment exempting elective officers from the direction of the state board of auditors.

Bills introduced by Representatives Conrad Netting and Fred Ming would increase the license fee for deer hunting to $5 and limit kills to bucks with branched antlers. The sunrise to sunset rule for duck shooting would be changed to sunrise to 4:30 in the afternoon by a bill offered by Representative Edward L. Sargent. National guardsmen would be paid $1 a day by the state in addition to their regular compensation while they are in summer encampments or engaged in outdoor maneuvers, according to a measure by Representative B. G. Cameron.

Authorizes Meet on Inter-State Bridge

Lansing, April 8—(AP)—The Rushon bill authorizing a conference between the highway departments of Michigan and Wisconsin relative to the proposed construction of an interstate bridge from Menominee to Marinette, Wis., was adopted by the senate today.

The bridge, if constructed, would span the Menominee river close to its mouth in Green Bay. Costs of construction would be divided between the two states.

A bill requiring that all judges of probate elected in the future be licensed attorneys, introduced by Senator H. J. Rushton of Escanaba, failed to receive the required majority of members elect. The vote was 13 to 11. A conference is to be held here next week of judges of probate, at which time the bill is to be discussed.

Former judges of probate would be exempt from the provisions of the bill as would incumbents. Senator Rushton claims that judges of probate are occasionally elected who are not fitted to interpret the law. He cites the instance of one judge of probate chosen in the upper peninsula who persisted in marrying and divorcing couples, despite the law which he had not read.

The bill was laid on the table for re-consideration next week.

Battle Creek Mayor Swears Himself In

Battle Creek, April 8—(AP)—Disregarding precedent, Mayor-elect John W. Bailey today swore himself into office and sent his oath to City Clerk T. H. Thorn in writing.

At the same time he announced that he will sponsor a public dance in the second floor corridors of the city hall Tuesday.

Today, Bailey demanded a financial statement from each city department; a list of salaries and dates of expiration of appointments to be delivered by Monday evening and stopped work of the street department on one street pending investigation of city finances.

De Pinedo's Helper Has Narrow Escape

San Diego, Cal., April 8—(AP)—Capt. Carl Del Prete, assistant pilot and meteorological officer of Commander Francesco de Pinedo's ill-fated plane, the Santa Maria, narrowly escaped death or serious injury this afternoon when the United States naval plane in which he was coming to San Diego from Phoenix, Ariz., made a forced landing near Jacumba because of engine trouble.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 8—(AP)—Before leaving here today for San Diego aboard a United States navy plane, Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian aviator, reiterated his belief that his seaplane, the Santa Marie, was destroyed through "the carelessness of a boy."

"I have informed my government of the facts," he said. "I have forwarded to Italy the signed statement of John Thomason and I believe the unhappy incident closed."

Thomason, 17-year-old Phoenix youth, late yesterday dictated a statement in the presence of de Pinedo in which he explained events leading up to the burning of the Santa Maria on Roosevelt Lake, near here. It was he who tossed a lighted match on the gasoline-covered waters, setting fire to the ship.

The Italian commander plans to make some kind of a tour in the new hydro-airplane being forwarded to him from Italy.

Bill Supplements State Law on T-B

Lansing, April 8—(AP)—A bill supplementing the present laws effecting the determination and cure of tuberculosis, intended to compel municipalities to assist in the detection of tuberculosis, was introduced in the legislature today by Senator Charles Greene.

The measure classifies tuberculosis among the infectious diseases, broadens the power of the department of health and is corollary to legislation now pending to increase the state's facilities for treatment of the disease.

The senate committee on public health now holds bills appropriating money for construction of a new tuberculosis hospital at Ann Arbor and for rehabilitation of the institution at Howell. With these institutions in full operation and with the tri-county tuberculosis hospitals provided for by an act of the 1925 legislature, Senator Greene feels that the state will have acted squarely toward its tubercular citizens.

Under the new bill indigent persons would be brought under the examination of experts and placed in the institution fitted to handle their various cases. The bill is drawn with the approval of the state department of health and the Michigan Tuberculosis association.

WINTER WHEAT IN GOOD SHAPE

Condition of Crop April 1 Was Highest Since Year 1921.

Washington, April 8—(AP)—Condition of the winter wheat crop on April 1 was the highest of any year on that date since 1921, the department of agriculture today placing it at 84.5 per cent of a normal, an increase of 2.7 points since December 1, compared with an average decline of 4.6 points between those dates in the last 10 years.

The department issued no forecast of indicated production nor any statistics on the acreage abandoned, both of which will be estimated next month. The area sown to winter wheat last fall was 41,807,000 acres. Last year's harvested area was 36,813,000 acres and production 626,929,000 bushels.

All important winter wheat states in the eastern, central and north central sections showed an improvement in condition since December. Moisture and temperature conditions in general have been favorable, the department reported, but in the western third of South Dakota, southwestern portion of Nebraska, western end of Kansas and northwestern part of Oklahoma it has been too dry for wheat although recent rains have occurred in this general region.

In Kansas, the greatest winter wheat producing state where 11,962,000 acres were sown last fall, the department said rainfall had been ample, except for the western third and in portions of the soft wheat area in the southeast where rainfall was excessive.

While wheat conditions in general were reported good to excellent, complaints from many sections indicate the late sown crops have fared poorly. This is true, it was said, especially in Pennsylvania, Maryland and northern Illinois.

Glass Declares His Position Regarding Smith's Nomination

Washington, April 8—(AP)—Senator Glass, Democrat, West Virginia, declared today that his position regarding the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928 had been misrepresented.

"I neither predicted Governor Smith's nomination or election, nor did I state, as many newspapers have published, that either Virginia or I would favor Governor Smith's nomination," he said. "On the contrary, I do not think that Virginia would favor the nomination of Governor Smith nor do I personally advocate his nomination."

"I did say, and now repeat, that should Governor Smith be nominated, Virginia would not, in my judgment, reject him at the election solely because he is a communicant of the Catholic church. In saying this I had in mind the fact that at the recent state election in Virginia we had nominated and elected a Catholic to the office of state treasurer, albeit he ran far behind his ticket."

"However, I stated very definitely that should Governor Smith be nominated for the presidency as an avowed exponent of the movement to repeal or modify the eighteenth amendment of the federal constitution, and should the Democratic national convention name as a candidate on this basis and by platform declaration undertake to make prohibition a party issue, it was my judgment the candidate would be badly beaten and the party irretrievably wrecked."

Reason for Arrest of Crew Asked by Canadian Legation

Washington, April 8—(AP)—On behalf of the Canadian citizens involved, the Canadian legation here has asked the state department to explain on what grounds United States revenue officers recently arrested Capt. S. S. Stone and his crew of 18 on the steamer Federalship, more than 200 miles off the California coast.

Four of the ship's personnel were Canadians and the rest were British subjects who had resided in Canada from 4 to 40 years. The cargo, which was seized was owned by a Canadian firm, Canada asks why the ship's personnel and cargo were interfered with on the high seas and why the men are held in jail at San Francisco in default of bail fixed at $20,000 each.

It is understood that Panama also has asked for an explanation of the seizure of the ship, which was under that republic's registry.

Mrs. Carrington Narrates Marital Troubles on Stand.

Chicago, April 8—(AP)—A sordid narrative of physical and verbal encounters was unfolded by Mrs. Anna Walsh Salder Carrington in the divorce suit brought by her husband, Col. Edward C. Carrington.

Her testimony was punctuated with emphatic denials of any wrongdoing with the colonel's brother and life-long law partner, Campbell Carrington. Campbell is named as co-respondent in the suit to which she has filed a cross bill asking for $300,000 alimony. Colonel Carrington charges desertion and infidelity. His wife accuses him of cruelty.

A dramatic moment was reached when Mrs. Carrington was asked to describe the scene in her apartment in New York the night of March 16, 1926. Tears and the noon recess saved her from testifying until she regained her composure.

"He was intoxicated," said Mrs. Carrington, "and when my daughter, Elinor Snider, came into the room he turned upon her, calling her vile names. I

Firm Advanced Money to Idaho Ass'n, Later Got Fees.

Detroit, April 8—(AP)—Idaho potato growers were organized in a cooperative selling association by Aaron Sapiro by the use of funds advanced by the commission firm of Weyl and Zuckerman of Los Angeles, Cal., which became the organization's agents and in the end Sapiro collected his fee from association funds remaining in the agents' hands.

That was the story told by Sapiro and a score of documents introduced today in his $1,000,000 libel-suit against Henry Ford. It was the ninth day of the attorney's cross-examination by Senator James A. Reed, chief of the defense counsel and when court was adjourned until next Monday the indications were that Sapiro would be on the witness stand all of next week.

The Idaho situation was delved into by Reed in an effort, he said, to show that Sapiro organized cooperatives for his own profit and that by his own improper conduct might have alienated some of the fees he alleged were lost to him because of articles printed in Ford's weekly, the Dearborn Independent.

Loan Records Introduced.

The loans totalling $4,000 were made by Weyl and Zuckerman through Sapiro to the organization committee of the growers and later were repaid with interest to the firm. Records of the transaction were introduced as evidence.

The cooperative failed to prosper, other documents showed, and Sapiro was discharged as counsel with his fee unpaid. He made over the claim for $3,289.80, to a clerk in his office after correspondence had failed to effect a settlement and a successful suit was brought. Sapiro testified that the clerk turned the money over to him after it was collected from funds of the cooperative remaining in the hands of Weyl and Zuckerman.

Capital Punishment Stops Crime—Baumes

Detroit, April 8—(AP)—Capital punishment in New York state is a powerful curb to major crimes, so that the repeal of the bill providing for it would be nothing less than a "public calamity," Caleb W. Baumes, a member of the state legislature of New York, declared in an address here tonight.

"Scarcely a session of our legislature is held without someone introducing a bill that would abolish capital punishment in New York state," he said. "But such proposed legislation, invariably dies in committee, because our law makers, as a whole, know New York public sentiment favors execution of first degree murderers. They know repeal of the capital punishment bill would be nothing short of a public calamity."

Bribery in Street Widening Admitted

Detroit, April 8—(AP)—Fred C. Chapman pleaded guilty in recorder's court here today to a charge of accepting a bribe in the Bagley avenue widening condemnation case in which he was a juror.

Judge Arthur W. Kilpatrick fixed bail at $2,000 which Chapman was unable to furnish.

Earlier in the day, William Weiss furniture dealer and Nathan Miller, merchant charged with bribing Chapman, entered a plea of nolo contendere when arraigned. Examination was set for April 15.

FINANCE PLAN REACHES HOUSE

Cities May Lead Opposition Against Weight Tax Bill.

Lansing, April 8—(AP)—A highway finance plan bearing the approval of house and senate road commissions and the administration reached the floor of the house today. The committee on general taxation reported the Cameron bill proposing a three cent gasoline tax and a fifty-fifty split of weight tax receipts with the counties.

It is estimated that the counties, if the measure is adopted, will get close to $5,000,000 annually instead of the present $6,000,000. Opposition to the bill may come from city members who believe the municipalities are entitled to a share of the revenues. An attempt probably will be made by representatives from the poorer counties to attach an amendment setting up a separate fund of about $1,000,000 for their benefit.

The house today insisted upon the whipping post for bank robbers and armed burglars when it refused to concur in senate amendments to two measures wiping out the fogging clause. A conference was ordered to settle the dispute between the branches.

A move to legalize the proposed ousting of the superintendent of public instruction from his offices in the capitol building was wrecked when Representative Martin Bradley secured the adoption of an amendment exempting elective officers from the direction of the state board of auditors.

Bills introduced by Representatives Conrad Netting and Fred Ming would increase the license fee for deer hunting to $5 and limit kills to bucks with branched antlers. The sunrise to sunset rule for duck shooting would be changed to sunrise to 4:30 in the afternoon by a bill offered by Representative Edward L. Sargent. National guardsmen would be paid $1 a day by the state in addition to their regular compensation while they are in summer encampments or engaged in outdoor maneuvers, according to a measure by Representative B. G. Cameron.

Authorizes Meet on Inter-State Bridge

Lansing, April 8—(AP)—The Rushon bill authorizing a conference between the highway departments of Michigan and Wisconsin relative to the proposed construction of an interstate bridge from Menominee to Marinette, Wis., was adopted by the senate today.

The bridge, if constructed, would span the Menominee river close to its mouth in Green Bay. Costs of construction would be divided between the two states.

A bill requiring that all judges of probate elected in the future be licensed attorneys, introduced by Senator H. J. Rushton of Escanaba, failed to receive the required majority of members elect. The vote was 13 to 11. A conference is to be held here next week of judges of probate, at which time the bill is to be discussed.

Former judges of probate would be exempt from the provisions of the bill as would incumbents. Senator Rushton claims that judges of probate are occasionally elected who are not fitted to interpret the law. He cites the instance of one judge of probate chosen in the upper peninsula who persisted in marrying and divorcing couples, despite the law which he had not read.

The bill was laid on the table for re-consideration next week.

Battle Creek Mayor Swears Himself In

Battle Creek, April 8—(AP)—Disregarding precedent, Mayor-elect John W. Bailey today swore himself into office and sent his oath to City Clerk T. H. Thorn in writing.

At the same time he announced that he will sponsor a public dance in the second floor corridors of the city hall Tuesday.

Today, Bailey demanded a financial statement from each city department; a list of salaries and dates of expiration of appointments to be delivered by Monday evening and stopped work of the street department on one street pending investigation of city finances.

De Pinedo's Helper Has Narrow Escape

San Diego, Cal., April 8—(AP)—Capt. Carl Del Prete, assistant pilot and meteorological officer of Commander Francesco de Pinedo's ill-fated plane, the Santa Maria, narrowly escaped death or serious injury this afternoon when the United States naval plane in which he was coming to San Diego from Phoenix, Ariz., made a forced landing near Jacumba because of engine trouble.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 8—(AP)—Before leaving here today for San Diego aboard a United States navy plane, Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian aviator, reiterated his belief that his seaplane, the Santa Marie, was destroyed through "the carelessness of a boy."

"I have informed my government of the facts," he said. "I have forwarded to Italy the signed statement of John Thomason and I believe the unhappy incident closed."

Thomason, 17-year-old Phoenix youth, late yesterday dictated a statement in the presence of de Pinedo in which he explained events leading up to the burning of the Santa Maria on Roosevelt Lake, near here. It was he who tossed a lighted match on the gasoline-covered waters, setting fire to the ship.

The Italian commander plans to make some kind of a tour in the new hydro-airplane being forwarded to him from Italy.

Bill Supplements State Law on T-B

Lansing, April 8—(AP)—A bill supplementing the present laws effecting the determination and cure of tuberculosis, intended to compel municipalities to assist in the detection of tuberculosis, was introduced in the legislature today by Senator Charles Greene.

The measure classifies tuberculosis among the infectious diseases, broadens the power of the department of health and is corollary to legislation now pending to increase the state's facilities for treatment of the disease.

The senate committee on public health now holds bills appropriating money for construction of a new tuberculosis hospital at Ann Arbor and for rehabilitation of the institution at Howell. With these institutions in full operation and with the tri-county tuberculosis hospitals provided for by an act of the 1925 legislature, Senator Greene feels that the state will have acted squarely toward its tubercular citizens.

Under the new bill indigent persons would be brought under the examination of experts and placed in the institution fitted to handle their various cases. The bill is drawn with the approval of the state department of health and the Michigan Tuberculosis association.

LARUE HELD IN INJURY CASE

Wilson Man Unable to Furnish Bonds of $2,000 Asked by Justice.

Arthur Larue, who last Saturday evening ran down and seriously injured the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fazer of Wilson, near that village, was taken from the Menominee county jail to Powers for arraignment before Justice Charles Quade on a charge of reckless driving. Larue's hearing was set for Wednesday afternoon, April 13, and his bond fixed at $2,000, in default of which he was returned to the Menominee jail.

Acting Prosecutor Thurman B. Doyle stated that the charge of reckless driving preferred against Larue will probably be changed to bring the Wilson man under the penalty imposed by a state statute which provides that in cases of accidents on the highway the operator of the auto must stop and give reasonable assistance. Larue sped away from the scene of the accident last Saturday, later alleging that he had been unaware of its occurrence. Conviction on the reckless driving charge imposes a maximum jail sentence of 90 days or a fine of $100, while the other statute provides a penalty of $500 fine or one year's imprisonment, or both. Eli Vincent and Ernest LaVigne, both of Wilson, occupants of the Larue machine at the time of the accident, have been subpoenaed as witnesses for the people.

TOTAL AUTO TAXES MAY HIT BILLION

Washington.—More than $750,000 was paid out by American motorists in the form of federal, state and municipal taxes last year.

This is an increase of $83,000,000 over the total of taxes paid in 1925.

Threats of increased gasoline taxes and promise of another record in automobile sales this year, point to approach of the billion mark in taxes by the end of this year.

Figures showing this great revenue from motorists have been issued by the Department of Agriculture and have been obtained from other sources.

Ten Per Cent Gain.
The Department of Agriculture announces that the total motor vehicle registration in 1926 was 22,901,893 vehicles, which included 2,764,222 trucks and tractors. This is an increase of more than 10 per cent over the 1925 registrations.

Receipts from registration fees, licenses and other state annual taxes were $288,282,352, as compared with $260,619,621 in 1925. Receipts from gasoline taxes in 1926 totaled $187,603,231. In 1925 they were $146,028,940.

Proportionately, federal excise taxes on passenger cars and trucks, vehicles for hire and on parts, tires and accessories, it is estimated, have brought in $155,000,000, as compared with $145,296,000 in 1925.

Local Taxes Help.
Personal property taxes in 1926 were well over $100,000,000 on automobiles alone, and municipal taxes the same year have been estimated at a total of $15,000,000.

Figuring only a slight increase in these local taxes, puts the motor tax bill for 1926 past the total of $175,000,000.

Meat Must Be Cooked Right or Indigestion Will Follow.

Meat, which is most important of the protein substances taken by man in a balanced diet, should be properly cooked to be easily digestible and to retain its nutritional qualities.

Cooking improves its flavor and appearance, breaks up the muscle fibers and destroys the bacteria which are invariably present in large numbers. When meat is stewed, the fibrous tissue is gelatinized and the protein extractives and salts are to a large extent dissolved in the water. The longer the stewing is continued, the more material passes into the broth, and the more tasteless becomes the meat.

Laugh a Minute in Presbyterian Play

A gripping, thrilling, side-splitting comedy was "Mail Order Brides," the three-act farcical play presented by the C. E. society of the First Presbyterian church last night in the church auditorium.

Kryn Bloom, as "Pinkey" Butler, ranch hand, vied with Kenneth Wilson as Nick Henshaw, owner of the Ruby Heart ranch, for laugh-provoking honors. They were ably assisted by Mrs. D. H. Oliver as Princess, the Indian servant, who was called the last minute to substitute for June Roxbury.

Kirkwood Thompson as William Hamilton, substituting for George St. Louis, who was unable to appear because of illness, gave an excellent presentation of his part, although having but a few hours to memorize the lines.

Special numbers were given by the following: A reading by Mary Jane Thatcher, and a violin solo by Margaret Laing, accompanied on the piano by Harriet Nelson. Selections were also rendered by the Sunday school orchestra, composed of the following: R. W. Nordling, director, Clara Karas, Elsie Karas, William Karas, William Little, Everett Nelson, Clifford Hanson, Margaret Laing, Edward Moersch, Gerald Brown, Arol Beck, Jean Royce, Robert Thick and John Duranseau.

The cast of characters consisted of the following: "Pinkey" Butler, ranch hand.... Kryn Bloom "Skeet" Snyder, ranch hand.... Samuel Mills Nance Henshaw, Nick's daughter Josephine Work Nick Henshaw, owner of Ruby Heart ranch.... Kenneth Wilson Bob Henshaw, Nick's son.... Roy Jensen Princess, Indian servant.... Mrs. D. A. Oliver Rose Crandall, the maid.... Elizabeth Crebo Jane Hamilton, Chicago.... Janet Owen Deering Hamilton, Chicago.... Robert Thick Queen Dugan, Chicago.... Evelyn Lindsley Arabella Jennings, Chicago.... Louise Edwards Gaynell Jones, Chicago.... Cella Grosswell William Hamilton, Chicago.... Kirkwood Thompson Miss Alma Suter, advisor of the society, directed the play.

KING ATTACKED POLICY OF U. S.

Officer Called Senator to Task for Speech on Shipboard.

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—The Washington Post will say tomorrow that Senator King of Utah, during his recent Central American tour made a speech aboard the transport St. Mihel attacking the administration's foreign policy which was objected to by a young army officer and which prompted a question from an enlisted man in the senator should be thrown overboard.

The newspaper also will say that the incident has been deferred to the war department.

Speech was made on shipboard shortly after the senator had been barred from Haiti as an "undesirable," by the Haitian president, the Post will say intimating that its information was gained from passengers on the transport, whose sailing list included a number of congressmen.

After Senator King is alleged to have declared that the government was sacrificing the lives of American youths to protect the investments of a few, the young officer, whose name is not given, stepped forward and took the senator to task in no uncertain terms. One of the enlisted men who heard the exchange between Senator King and the officer then is alleged to have declared: "What shall we do, lieutenant, throw him overboard?"

Maj. Gen. Eli A. Helmick, inspector general of the army, heard of the incident, and after conferring with the bellicose lieutenant and several enlisted men, is credited by the Post with having drafted and presented a report to his superiors.

A FINE COMPLIMENT

The unanimous vote accorded the Rushton bill by the Michigan state senate, on Thursday, providing for the establishment of an Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba, can well be regarded as both an eloquent compliment to the standing in the legislature of the Michigan state representative of Senator H. J. Rushton of this city, and as recognition of the merit of the measure, itself.

No finer tribute can be paid a member of the legislature than to permit the passage of a measure bearing his name, by the body of which he is a member, without a dissenting vote.

And that is the compliment accorded the senator from the Thirtieth Michigan district by the state senate on Thursday.

Senator Rushton introduced the measure at the unanimous request of the members of the Upper Peninsula Association of Supervisors, who recognized the encouragement of dairying and agriculture, as a means of developing a profitable use for tremendous stretches of cutover lands, as one of the greatest needs of this section of Michigan. It was recognized that the dairying and general farming industry in the upper peninsula was receiving little benefit inspiration from the State Fair at Detroit and to supply that encouragement and inspiration, in the center of a district that direly needs it, it was proposed that an Upper Peninsula State Fair should be established at Escanaba.

Because of disclosures as to the highly unsatisfactory state of Michigan's finances, it was necessary to pare down the appropriation originally sought for the establishment of the Upper Peninsula State Fair, but the size of the appropriation, at the outset of the project, is not considered as vital, so long as the value of the idea, back of the proposal, is recognized by the state government.

WHAT PRICE COAL? During the year 1926-2250 men lost their lives in American coal mines.

This fact, made public by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, is worth considering for a minute or two. If some one catastrophe had taken all of those lives the American public probably would be jarred into action. From all sides there would be demands for protective measures to render such a tragedy impossible of repetition.

But it didn't happen that way. There were a few disasters of major size; the rest of those deaths were scattered—a man crushed by falling rock here, a couple of men killed by a coal car there, another killed by falling down a shaft in another place, and so on.

And so the price at which our coal is mined escaped our attention. But there are men whose attention this casualty record has not escaped. Those men are the miners themselves. You may be sure that these men know very well the price that is paid for coal.

Understanding that fact may help us to understand such things as the present coal strike. It may help us to see why these men feel that they would rather enter on a long and doubtful industrial struggle than see their wages cut.

or their hours of work lengthened. He that as it may, however, one thing is sure; the death list is disgracefully high. It would be impossible to say just what should be done without first making a long and careful study of the whole situation. But it does seem as if a nation that prides itself on its industrial efficiency as this nation does could find some way of getting its coal out of the ground without sacrificing so many lives in the process.

FRANCE DISSENTS

Before you allow yourself to get too greatly aroused by the "atrocities" and "kill-the-foreign-devils" business in connection with the Nationalists in China, you might pay a little attention to the official French government reports of the last few days.

These reports assert that the British are doing everything in their power to discredit the Cantonese in the eyes of the world; that the British disseminate "misleading news, which in no way corresponds to realities"; that many stories of Chinese outbursts are utterly false; and that the Cantonese authorities now have the Shanghai situation well in hand.

The French, be it noted, have not joined the Americans and British in the shelling of Nanking and the Yangtze river forts; and they insist they will not. Before we get all excited about the Chinese situation, it might pay us to study the French attitude and see if it hasn't some points which we might copy.

GO TO REAL DOCTORS

Two men have been indicted in New York on charges of swindling American women out of $500,000 yearly through bogus "anti-fat" preparations.

It is said that they sold as reducers preparations that had absolutely no value, and that they became very rich at it.

The desire to be slender is a natural one, and in many cases can be gratified. But the best way to go about it is to start by consulting a regular physician. Many order cure-alls won't do the trick.

THEY'RE BOTH RIGHT

The middle and far westerner pronounces the word "ca-r" "carr"; the easterner says "cah." Both are correct.

So says Prof. George O. Curme of Northwestern University, student of English-American grammar.

The easterner gets his accent from the fact that his part of the country was settled largely by people from southeastern England, who soften the final "r."

The middle west was settled originally by Scotch and Irish, who love to roll the "r" fervently.

Consequently, both sections have the best of authority for their pronunciation.

YOUR OWN SELF.

There's this about it, brother: you may not like a rose. You may not care about a friend or friendship, I suppose. Yet other men have roses, and many a man a friend, and you're the only one of us who loses in the end.

The rose will go on blooming, although you never care, and he whose friend you will not be will find a friend somewhere. Think not the world is weeping; the world will get along, and you're the one who loses most, the one to miss the song.

The world will keep on moving, it cannot wait for you. There are too many joyous things in life for men to do. There's this about it, brother: whatever wealth you win, No mortal shuts his brother out but shuts his own self in.

A DYING MAN, in San Francisco, unable to find a sheet of writing paper, wrote his will on a nurse's petticoat. For the information of your younger readers, let us explain that the petticoat was an article of wearing apparel in almost general use at one period. In addition to the one which was so conveniently found by the dying man in San Francisco, there is said to be another well-preserved specimen of the garment in the state museum of South Carolina.

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

CHAPTER XVIII

"Tell Clay about the party, honey," Mrs. Wells commanded Billy, as she seated herself before the breakfast platter of fried liver and bacon. "Me and that debutante daughter of mine gossiped till two o'clock this morning, Clay, but it won't hurt me to hear it all over again." Billy was the belle of the ball, but she won't admit it.

Billy stifled a tremendous yawn with the back of a languid little hand. "I don't think Clay's interested, mother. He looks as sore as a boiled owl this mornin'."

She jumped up from the table, leaving her breakfast almost untouched. "This particular Cinderella has to hustle off to work. What a sweet day this will be, with every girl in the store that wasn't at the party hating those of us who did go. I hope your honorable pa will give his brain a rest now, Clay."

"I wish you hadn't gone to the damned party," Clay muttered, as he passed his cup for another draft of coffee.

"Can you spare me a quarter, mother?" Billy, ignoring Clay's remark, adjusted her jaunty velvet tam at the sideboard mirror. "I spent all my lunch money yesterday to send violets to Mrs. Corwin's sick daughter. She's worse, you know. Oh, darn! There's the doorbell. I suppose it's the cleaner with your suit, Clay."

The boy looked up, startled, a tide of color sweeping over his pale, sensitive face. "I—I'm afraid I haven't got the money," he stammered. "I had to buy some work shirts and some music—"

"I'll kid him alone," Billy promised blithely. "I've been stalling off collectors since I was knee high to a duck." She flashed past him, flinging him a gay, comradely smile over her shoulder.

When she returned she was walking slowly, her eyes fixed in a wide stare. She held an opened telegram between hands that trembled.

"Somebody dead? Is it your Aunt Lucy?" Mrs. Wells asked quickly, her own plump cheeks blanching with the fear that every telegram brings into the homes of the poor.

"No," Billy shook her head dazedly. "It's a telegram—from Mr. Curtis. I don't know what to make of it—"

"Read it," Mrs. Wells commanded. "You didn't sass him at the party last night and get yourself fired, did you?"

Billy reassured her with the ghost of a grin. "No, listen—'Please call at my residence Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, accompanied by your mother. You will be excused from the store for the entire day. It's signed Thomas Quin Curtis, and it was filed at two o'clock this morning—a night letter. Now—what do you know about that?'" she demanded blankly.

"What in the world—?" Mrs. Wells echoed incredulously. "Don't go, Billy," Clay started the girl by gripping her shoulders with his work-marked hands. "You don't have to go! He's butted into your private life enough already—"

But Billy was not listening to the voice of T. Q. Curtis' son. It was the older man's voice that she was hearing again—"What would you say if the hour didn't strike for you at all?" She knew now that her premonitions of the past few weeks were being justified. She was on the brink of a great adventure.

"Of course I'm going," she looked suddenly into Clay's pleading eyes with a firmness that was almost hostile. "He's asked me to bring mother along, hasn't he? This isn't a movie of a millionaire boss luring Bertha, the beautiful shop girl. There's just a bare chance that he wants to send me to New York to study violin, and I'd be a fool not to take my chance."

"Don't let her go there, this mornin', Mrs. Wells," Clay said. "I don't see why you want to stand in Billy's way, if Mr. Curtis really wants to help her, Clay," Mrs. Wells protested in her kind, reasonable voice. "If you could give any real reason—" She let the sentence die, hopefully.

"Of course he can't!" Billy stormed, her blue eyes snapping fire at the boy she believed herself in love with. "He's just a dog in the manger! He doesn't want his father's money himself, but he can't bear the idea of any one else getting any good out of it! Her anger broke on a sob that made the boy's face twitch with pain.

"I—I'm sorry, Billy. I didn't think you'd believe that of me," His shoulders drooped and his eyes studied the thick, round toes of his work shoes. "It was just a notion of mine that you'd be harmed—somehow—He could not finish the sentence, could not tell her of the suspicion as to his father's motives, which had been torturing him for weeks.

"I can take care of myself, Clay, thank you," Billy said crisply. "You'll be late for work if you don't hurry." She began to gather up the dishes with quick, competent hands.

"I declare, I don't know what to wear," Mrs. Wells brought her excitement and perplexity into the kitchen where Billy was sloshing an energetic dish mop in a pan of foaming suds.

"Wear the green crepe," Billy decided, solving the important problem far more quickly than Mrs. Wells would have liked. "I wish Clay hadn't said that way," she confessed miserably. "I'm sorry I said what I did about his being a dog in the manger." She dropped the mop into the water and faced her mother with brave, shy eyes. "Do you think Clay's in love with me—at all?" Dalhart Romaine seemed fantastically unreal, and she would never see him again, while Clay—why, she loved Clay!

"Of course he is!" Mrs. Wells snapped a dish towel from the rack above Billy's head. "That's what ails him. He wants you right here where he can see you and go on loving you till he's made good and can ask you to marry him."

"Do you really think so?" The girl dropped her head upon her mother's breast and flung sudsy arms about her neck. "I—I'm just crazy about him mother. Sometimes I wish I didn't have this genius bug in my head, so that I could marry him right now." For some reason hard to explain to herself, she had not told her mother about Dal Romaine, and now she was sane again.

"But he's got the genius bug, too," her mother reminded her, holding the girl very tightly in her arms. "And he's got to make his own way in the world as a musician and a composer before he'll be willing to take on a wife and—other responsibilities."

"Oh, I know!" Billy dropped her arms from her mother's neck and turned back to the dishpan. I'm all dressed, honey. You skip along and slip into that green crepe, while I finish up in here. It takes ages to get there on the street car."

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

THE ASSISTANT SURGEON.

IN NEW YORK

New York, April 8.—Admitting a "flap" does not come easy to the show folk of Broadway.

The actors of lesser importance are particularly brave with their gestures and have become almost historic for their boating in the face of failure. It has become the earmark of the "ham" and "barnstormer" that he will boast of achievements, but invariably they were somewhere else.

While these struttings have become the basis for much comic travesty, there is a side that isn't so funny. This is presented by those who left Broadway to "knock 'em dead" elsewhere and who, overpridefully, cannot bear to return in the face of failure.

Out of Hollywood come many reports of this nature. Shortly after a number of chorines have been nabbed for the films many an attractive Broadway beauty set forth for the cinema capital.

For a time there was a rush almost parallel to that of Weepah. Desertions of the chorus for Hollywood trials were invariably prefaced by tales of goldladen contracts just ahead. Had not Louise Brooks, from the chorus, become a star overnight? And Clara Bow? Were they not just as attractive? Well, perhaps they were.

But they didn't click. They went to Hollywood and they haven't the courage to come back and admit they flopped.

For look at Broadway any way you wish, they are as fearful of general opinion there as on Main Street—and maybe more so.

No one knows this better than the veteran "first nighters" of the theaters. There are many stars, whose names loom so large that one would think them past fear, who quake and tremble more than the newest arrival when facing a first night audience.

Ethel Barrymore is said to inevitably be at her worst at opening performances. Grace George fears the first night glares; Laurette Taylor and Alice Brady—both one could go on through the whole list of casts in search for first night nervousness. The basis is that fear of what people will think of the performance, and the show or the forgetting of lines. No high school production in Sheboygan goes on more timorously than a first performance with the nation's most famous stars.

Newcomers making their first appearance have an elaborate schedule of rites that remind one of the magic, the amulets, charms and what not of the ancients. The introduction of a particularly new number is marked by many with similar hokus-pokus.

In one of the leading Broadway successes of the season crit-

Herriot, Collector, Finds Rare Books

Paris—Edouard Herriot, minister of education, is also an enthusiastic book collector.

Glancing through a London bookseller's catalogue he came across the name of a book, "Le Petit Livre d'Amour," by Maurice de Sceve, a sixteenth century French neo-Platonic poet, the existence of which was hitherto unknown to collectors.

The erudite minister with trembling hands wrote out a telegram and rushed a servant off to file it.

Maurice de Sceve, who died in 1564, was something of a Pico de la Mirandola, archeologist, architect, painter, musician, and poet, and M. Herriot's acquisition appears to be the only existing copy of a forgotten work, all the more precious in that it throws fresh light on the life of the author.

A Beautiful City

There is a small village in the Upper Peninsula which is a delight to look upon. Every building is painted. Every yard is beautifully carpeted with well trimmed grass. Flowers and shrubbery cover the nakedness of corners, walls and fences. There are no barren and waste places to offend the eye. One is profoundly impressed with the thrift and enterprise of its people for they are all of modest means. The visitor frequently remarks: "How proud these people must be of their homes and their town."

The appearance of any city depends largely upon the appearance of its homes. During this year's Clean-Up and Paint-Up let every family in Escanaba strive to make its home just a little more attractive than it was last year! In this respect Escanaba has made splendid progress during the past two years. Let us do even better this year.

Yours for a better and more beautiful city

green beans, graham rolls, fresh pineapple with mock angel food cake, milk, coffee.

If small children must be served breakfast, a cereal should be added to the menu. The average adult, however, will find the meal suggested much to his liking.

Eggs Piquant.

Four hard-cooked eggs, 1/2 onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup cream, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons minced parsley, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup fine toasted bread crumbs, 1/2 lemon. Melt butter, add onion peeled and cut in thin slices and cook until onion is yellow. Cut eggs in halves lengthwise and add with cream to onion. Beat eggs until very light and mix with crumbs, parsley, salt, pepper and juice of lemon. Four this mixture over eggs in sauce pan, cover pan and cook over a low fire until eggs are set, about ten minutes. Turn in to a hot serving dish, garnish with parsley and serve at once.

Breakfast—Halves of grape fruit, cream thin cream, smoked haddock on toast, whole wheat toast, bran muffins, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Cream of spinach soup, croissants, open tomato sandwich, stuffed apples, milk, tea.
Dinner—Broiled lamp chops, new potatoes in cream sauce, buttered carrots and peas, romaine salad with Roquefort cheese dressing, steamed fruit pudding with cream, graham bread, milk, coffee.

Children under school age should be served orange juice with white of egg, cereal and cream, whole wheat toast and milk for breakfast. The older children and active adults will enjoy the full breakfast, while persons leading a sedentary life will prefer the fruit, a bit of fish on toast and a muffin.
Roquefort Cheese Salad Dressing.
Four tablespoons Roquefort

cheese, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 6 tablespoons salad oil, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper.
Chill all ingredients and bowl used for mixing. Work one tablespoon of cheese with oil until creamy, adding oil slowly. Add vinegar, beating vigorously with a fork. Beat in oil and lemon juice, adding salt and pepper. Serve immediately on well crisped and dried romaine, head lettuce or French endive.

Breakfast—Baked rhubarb, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, cornmeal waffles, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baked cheese custard, coconut fruit salad, whole wheat bread, ginger bread, milk, tea.

Dinner—Tomato bouillon, rolled breast of veal, Martinique potatoes, braised celery, egg and split each salad, apple whip, butterscotch cookies, graham roll, milk, coffee. Coconut and fruit salad is ideal for this time of year when strawberries are not generally plentiful. Fresh or canned coconut can be used as preferred or convenient, and fresh or canned pineapple.

Coconut and Fruit Salad.
One cup sliced strawberries, 3-4 cup shredded pineapple, 1/4 cup shredded coconut, 4 tablespoons minced celery, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 4 tablespoons orange juice, 4 tablespoons oil, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, head lettuce, currant or raspberry jelly.

Combine berries, pineapple, coconut and celery and sprinkle with lemon juice. Cover and chill for one hour. Chill orange juice and oil and then shake until thoroughly emulsified. Season with salt and paprika and your over salad mixture. Serve on crisped and chilled leaves of head lettuce and dot with cubes of bright red jelly.

Civil Service Commission Starts Recruiting Drive.

Washington, D. C., April 8, 1927.—The United States Civil Service Commission today launched its country-wide campaign to recruit eligibles for the 2500 positions in the Bureau of Prohibition which were classified under the civil service law by the Act of March 3, 1927. The Commission announced open competitive examinations for the following positions:

- 1 Chief of field division, at $6,000 a year.
- 5 Prohibition zone supervisors, at $4,200 a year.
- 24 Prohibition administrators, at $4,000 to $6,000 a year.
- 24 Assistant prohibition administrators (enforcement work), at $3,200 to $5,200 a year.
- 24 Assistant prohibition administrators (permissive work), at $3,200 to $5,200 a year.
- 50 Deputy prohibition administrators, at $3,000 to $4,600 a year.
- 2 Field office inspectors, at $3,800 to $3,900 a year.
- 4 Associate field office inspectors, at $3,000 to $3,600 a year.
- 18 Senior prohibition investigators, at $3,800 a year.
- 109 Prohibition investigators, at $3,800 a year.
- 53 Junior prohibition investigators, at $2,400 a year.
- 228 Prohibition agents, at $2,400 a year.
- 1260 Junior prohibition agents, at $1,860 a year.
- 102 Warehouse watchmen, at $1,140 to $1,800 a year.
- 24 Attorneys, at $1,860 to $5,200 a year.

The Civil Service Commission states that the examinations will be practical, each kind specially designed to test the qualifications and fitness of the applicants to perform the particular branch of the work for which that kind of examination is held.

Written Mental Tests.
The examinations for investigators below the senior grade, those for agents of all grades, and those for warehouse watchmen will require the assembling of competitors in examination rooms for written mental tests. These will be given in approximately 600 cities throughout the country. The other examinations listed do not include written mental tests in examination rooms.

All of the examinations will include ratings on training and experience, a searching oral test, and a rigid character investigation made by the Civil Service Commission with the assistance of other Government agencies.

In order to give the oral tests it will be necessary for the Commission to send investigators to interview applicants in various parts of the country. The character investigations will be made with the most painstaking care. Because of these two features of the examinations, the testing of applicants for the 2500 newly-classified positions under the Bureau of Prohibition is one of the largest single tasks ever undertaken by the Commission.

Fingerprints will be made of all applicants who attain eligible ratings. These will be used to check the accuracy of the applicants' statements as to arrest, indictment, or conviction for crime or misdemeanor. The Civil Service Commission feels that any person who is worthy of appointment to a position under the Bureau of Prohibition will not object to the most searching investigation into his past life.

Present Officers Compete.
The act bringing these positions into the competitive classified service provides that those now employed who were not appointed in accordance with the civil service law must compete with others in examinations if they wish to have an opportunity to retain their positions.

Copies of the examination announcements and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or from the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the post office in this or any other city. The examination announcements give detailed information regarding the scope of the examinations and the requirements for entrance thereto.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, April 8.—Iron Trade Review today says: Pig iron production in March forged ahead of February by 7 per cent, nosed out last March by not quite 1 per cent and proved the third best March in history. The daily average rate last month was 112,330 tons, compared with 105,021 tons in February and 111,554 tons in March a year ago. The best March on record—that of 1925—attained a height of 115,207 tons. In point of total production March tonnage was 3,482,223 tons, against 2,940,604 tons in February and 3,458,172 tons in March, 1926. The month closed with 223 blast furnaces active, a net gain of 5.

No major threat to this high rate of production has appeared. The colorless iron and steel markets of the past week are characteristic of the early days of a new quarter. The slight shrinkage in steel making bears out the seasonal trend of the past three years. Some March production records were made, as usual, at the expense of April specifications and the sequel is a slight easing up. Steel corporation subsidiaries are down two points from their recent capacity rate, and for the entire industry a steelmaking rate of 90 to 91 per cent is apt.

At this time the bituminous coal strike is a negligible market factor. One coal-carrying road has deferred action on track material. Some eastern blast furnaces are not quoting on third quarter business. An occasional strip order has been held up. But considering the wide sweep of the markets, there is no disturbance. The Connellsville coke region is not affected and coke deliveries are normal.

Bids on second-quarter requirements of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads for bars, plates and shapes reveal mills firm at $1.90. Pittsburgh and $2.00. Chicago. Sheet prices to these carriers developed a wide spread with a tendency toward weakness. Low bids to the New York Central were $2.25. Youngstown on blue annealed, $2.75 on black and $3.60 on galvanized. Three makers bid $2.20, mill for the blue annealed business of the Pennsylvania.

Pig iron is between two buying seasons and consequently dull. Consumers generally are protected well through second quarter and producers are not aggressive, preferring to watch the progress of the coal strike.

March freight car awards, totaling 4630, were scarcely more than half of the 99,95 placed last March. First-quarter car orders of 24,975 compare with 30,720 in the corresponding period of 1926.

The Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products this week is $36.81, one week ago and $38.48 one year ago.

Leduc Bound Over to Circuit Court

Alfred Leduc, 1208 Ludington street, whose place was raided Wednesday afternoon by members of the police department, was bound over to circuit court and released under bonds of $500 in Justice Henry E. Ranguette's court yesterday morning.

EASTER FALLS ON LATE DATE

Only Eight Days Earlier Than Latest Possible Day.

Lent, which began Ash Wednesday, March 2, is only eight days away from the latest date on which the season can begin, according to a writer in the New York Times. The earliest date is February 4, which happened in 1818. The next earliest date will be in 2008, when Ash Wednesday will fall on February 5.

These dates are set by an ecclesiastical reckoning for Easter Sunday covering a period of 228 years, or 12 cycles of the moon, and an analysis of the table, from 1786 to 2013 shows that there are more late than early Easters, the figures being 175 Easters in April and 53 in March.

Easter Sunday this year, April 17, will be repeated according to date, in 1935, 1949 and 1960. The earliest date it can possibly fall on is March 22 and only once does that date appear in the period referred to. That was in 1818. In 2008 Easter will be on March 28, the next earliest date.

Easter Sunday, according to ecclesiastical reckoning, is the first Sunday after the full of the moon following the vernal equinox; in other words, the first Sunday after the ecclesiastical full moon on or after March 21. The first efforts to bring about a uniform date were taken at a council of the Roman Catholic church at Nicea called by Pope Constantine in 325. It was decided then that Easter would be on Sunday and on the same day throughout the world. The correct date was to be reckoned at Alexandria, then the home of astronomical science, and announced yearly.

Market Situation Looks Constructive

New York, April 8.—(AP)—Dunn's report says: The recent notable strength of the stock market, with average prices at high levels, has focused attention more sharply on some of the constructive aspects of commercial conditions. Foremost among these are the phenomenally heavy railroad freight traffic and an appreciable increase March pig iron output and one which has equalled on only a few occasions. The latter phase in turn, reflects the conspicuous activity in the steel industry, with a record production and loading with merchandise of more than a million cars weekly.

Large continued testimony to the bears volume of general trade. Supporting these favorable features are the high totals of bank clearings at various centers, ease in money rates, larger dividends by some corporations, the comparative smallness of stocks of goods in most channels and certain other elements which cannot be regarded as other than encouraging.

CITY BRIEFS

Miss Amelia Villeneuve has left for Chicago where she will be employed.

Mrs. Charles Tolan has returned from a visit with relatives in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Harder of Wells returned Thursday from the Pacific coast, where they spent several weeks.

The Misses LaVerne Olson and Mildred Peterson will leave tonight for Springfield, Ill., where they will represent the Escanaba high school at the North Central Music Supervisors' conference, to be held April 12 to 15. They will take part in the chorus work.

Weekly bank clearings totalled $10,611,424,000, an increase of 10.9 per cent over last year.

NEW SIDEWALK CODE ADOPTED

Interests of Contractors and Property Owners Protected.

Under the terms of an ordinance adopted by the city council on Thursday night, the interests of both the public and sidewalk building contractors of Escanaba are most efficiently safeguarded. In the future all sidewalks in Escanaba will be constructed under city inspection and the ordinance further specifically designates the materials that shall be used in concrete sidewalk construction. The ordinance was prompted by the fact that many sidewalks constructed in recent years in different sections of the city, at heavy expense to property owners, have unclerly disintegrated, through the use in construction of inferior materials. It was determined that the presence of clay and vegetable matter in sand and gravel used in concrete construction, caused the mixture to break up quickly, while the use of proper grades of sand, gravel or crushed stone, with prescribed proportions of cement assures a job that is practically indestructible.

A nominal inspection fee will be charged by the city, under the ordinance, for safeguarding the interests of both the property owners and the sidewalk contractors. As the result of the discussion among members of the council of the necessity for protecting the interests of the public in concrete construction work, it is proposed that a similar safeguard shall be written into the general building code of the city.

Lantern Lecture on Porto Rico at Methodist Church

A lantern lecture will be given at the First Methodist church on Sunday evening on "Porto Rico." This island has more than one hundredth of the population of the United States, though only one one-thousandth of its area. The lecture describes the island and its people and their life, and gives a vivid account of church missionary work—its aspirations and its accomplishments to date. The public is cordially invited to this service.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.
Intimate glimpses into the life of the "tin can tourist" are provided by Alan Hale, director of "Rubber Tires," featuring Harrison Ford and Bessie Love, which will be on view at the Delft again today.

This human comedy of the auto camps, which Zella Sears and Tay Garnett adapted from a story by Frank Condon, chronicles in a highly humorous vein the motor jaunt overland of a typical New York family via the auto tourist camps. Miss Love, as Mary Ellen Stack, the heroine, after losing her job in New York City, trades her household belongings for an automobile of ancient vintage, and motors West with her dependent family.

Enroute she meets the hero, portrayed by Harrison Ford, and the experiences encountered during the trip from the Atlantic to Pacific furnish laughs galore. The family, composed of an indolent Irish father, a veritable lazy bones, the mother portrayed by May Robson, and Mary Ellen's kid brother, never agree on any subject—save that all hope eventually to reach the run-down Stack farm in California, which is about to be sold for delinquent taxes.

AT THE STRAND.
Another famous name is now added to the Blue Book of the Screen. It is none other than L. Frank Baum's famous fantastic story of "The Wizard of Oz" which with Larry Semon as the funny "Scarecrow" will be seen at the Strand again today. Thrills, laughs and "chases" so dear to the heart of the film fan, abound throughout the story which is crammed with fast action and a wealth of whimsical humor. A real Kansas cyclone is one spectacle alone which is worth going far to see. Frank Baum's familiar characters will be portrayed by a superlative cast. Larry Semon of course plays the "straw man" and he is ably supported by Bryant Washburn as The Prince. Delightful Dorothy Dwan as Little Dorothy Charlie Murray as the "Wizard."

OBITUARY

MRS. F. A. WEISSEIT.

Many bereaved relatives and friends attended the funeral services which were held Friday morning at nine o'clock at St. Joseph's church for Mrs. F. E. Weisseit, Sr., when Rev. Fr. Oscar Froese, O. F. M., was the celebrant at the requiem high mass. During the mass Frank Hira, Miss Aita Todd, Miss Rose Bink and George Ammel sang the solo numbers. Miss Eva Cossette presided at the organ.

The members of the W. C. O. F. assembled at St. Joseph's club-rooms at eight thirty and formed an honorary escort to the church where they attended the services in a body.

The pallbearers were Leslie Farrell of Racine, Wis., Jacob Ammel, George Ammel, William Hermes, Peter Jaeger and Frank Jaeger.

Out of town relatives included Mrs. Leo Heyler of Detroit, Mich., Frank Weisseit of Michigan City, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Farrel of Racine, Wis. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

DERBY HAT HAS NO INFLUENCE; TRAPPER FINED

Detroit Man Finds Bert Furst on Job at Gernfask.

Equipped with 63 traps and a derby hat, Robert Ira Holt came up from Detroit to trap muskrats in the upper peninsula, and established headquarters at Gernfask, setting his traps in Holland creek with the assistance of Charles Snyder of Gernfask.

Holt maintained that he meant to keep within the law, but it didn't appear that way to Conservation Officer Bert Furst, who arrested the pair late Thursday just as they were pulling up some traps on the Holland Creek fur farm location.

Holt and Snyder were brought before Justice W. A. McKinney Friday morning. The former claimed all responsibility for the incident, asserting that Snyder had been hired by him to act as assistant and guide, because the latter was more familiar with the region. Both were named in the charge of trapping after the legal rat season, which closed April 1, and after some discussion entered a plea of guilty.

DRIVER LOSES LICENSE; PAYS A FINE OF $81.00

A fine of $50, together with costs of $31, was paid in justice court at Manistique by Theodore Sprout of Seul Chotez, driver of a car which figured in the wreck of a new Oakland coach near Whitehead last Tuesday evening. In addition, Sprout will lose his operator's license for three months.

Two charges were filed against Sprout by Al Bonsecours, driver of the machine with which Sprout's car collided. One complaint charged the Seul Chotez man with driving while intoxicated, the other with possession of liquor. Appearing before Justice W. A. McKinney, Sprout pleaded guilty to the first charge, whereat the second was dismissed. He paid a cash penalty of $81, and was also informed by Sheriff John M. Hewitt that his driving license would be revoked for a 90-day period.

Gutzke Grabs Lead in Singles Series

Closing in on the 600 mark, Rev. W. G. Gutzke took the lead in the singles tournament at the Braut bowling alleys this week by bagging up a mark of 592. Tony Buch is in second place with 586, and F. E. Lied, who held top place for the first week, stands third on a mark of 573. The series is scheduled to close April 16.

CITY BRIEFS

Miss Bertha DeRoche left Thursday for Milwaukee where she will be the guest of friends and relatives. From there she will go to Basberry, Ohio, where she will join her sister, Mrs. William Kieflner.

The Dollar sale to be given by the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will be held today in Weber and Vaughan's store, starting at 2:30 o'clock. There will be all kinds of fancy work on sale and nothing will be priced higher than a dollar.

Mrs. H. T. Baker and daughter, Betty, of Milwaukee are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Nicholson, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pierson have left for Ludington where they will make their future home.

Mrs. J. B. Gonyea has left for Cudahy, Wis., where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gonyea.

Frank Rubich has left for Green Bay where he will enter St. Vincent's hospital to be operated on for colitis.

MANISTIQUE HI SINGERS GOING TO SPRINGFIELD

Five members of the Manistique high school glee clubs, accompanied by Miss Josephine Dresden, music supervisor, will leave Sunday on a motor trip to Springfield, Ill., to attend a meeting of music supervisors from the various schools in the North Central association of Schools and Colleges.

RUTH FLODIN LAID TO REST THURSDAY P.M.

The funeral of Ruth Flodin took place at Manistique Thursday afternoon, with burial in Lakovick cemetery. Rev. V. E. Holmstedt officiated, and services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Asp, uncle and aunt of the deceased, with whom the young girl had been making her home. Pallbearers were selected from the confirmation class of which she was a member.

Furs Restored to G. Bergman; Case Settled

Local conservation officers announced yesterday that a settlement had been arranged in the case of George Bergman, Manistique fur dealer, who was charged with illegal possession of mink skins, and that the matter would not come up for trial in circuit court on Bergman's appeal.

Mr. Bergman presented a formal plea of guilty this week, and paid a fine of $50, following which the conservation department authorized the return of the furs seized last fall by the wardens.

CHURCH CHOICE UNANIMOUS ON NEW MINISTER

Call Extended to Rev. C. M. Muilenberg of Chicago.

By unanimous ballot, the congregation of The Church of the Redeemer has voted to extend a call to Rev. Cornelius M. Muilenberg of Chicago, offering him the pastorate of the local denomination.

Selection of a pastor was one of the matters disposed of at the annual meeting of the Manistique Presbyterian congregation, held in the church parlors Thursday evening. One ballot was sufficient to settle the question, and Reverend Muilenberg was chosen out of a list of six applicants without a dissenting vote. It is expected that he will accept the call, and will probably occupy the local pulpit for the first time about the middle of May.

Man Is Charged With Indecency; Gives $200 Bond

Albert Dean, Jr., of Manistique has been bound over to circuit court for trial before Judge L. H. Fead on a charge of indecent and improper exposure of his person, on complaint filed with Justice W. A. McKinney yesterday.

School Vacation Is Friday to Tuesday

Good Friday and Easter Monday will be vacation days for Manistique schools and all grades will be dismissed next Thursday afternoon for the four-day period. Schoolwork will be resumed Tuesday morning, April 19.

THEATRES

AT THE LYRIC.
 An exquisite blend of history and colorful romance!

A terse, but apt, description of "Winners of the Wilderness," Tim McCoy's latest historical Western from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which opened yesterday at the Lyric theatre.

Again, Louis B. Mayer, head of the largest film manufacturing plant in the world, has kept his word when he promised picture-goers "something new in Westerns."

Casual thought would not stamp this picture as a "Western," but it is when one stops to consider that Port Duquesne (now Pittsburgh) was far west in 1755, the year in which this marvelous film drama was laid.

AT THE COMMUNITY.
 A big canvas and every color of paint has been generously used by Associated Exhibitors in manufacturing their latest production, "The Carnival Girl," which attraction comes to the Community theatre here today.

This production is from the story by Raymond Cannon concerning the troubles of a young and beautiful tight rope walker and her little brother in an act in a sleehouse of an amusement park. From this beginning it launches into equally exciting adventures of the girl and brother as runaways, the villain being the manager of the show who is a rum runner on the side, and the hero, a coast guard officer who pursues the heavy.

NEW SERIAL.
 "Wild West" is coming! Coming to the Community theatre in ten chapters bearing the Pathe-serial trade-mark and featuring such prominent stars as Jack Mulhall and Helen Ferguson, the first chapter to be shown today and the succeeding nine chapters on the same days of weeks following.

"Wild West" is a romantic story so combining the rugged life of the cowboy's West with the glamour and adventure of circus life that there was only one place in the world where the picture could be produced—and that was the mammoth ranch of the Miller Bros., near Ponca City, Oklahoma, which is, besides being the largest diversified ranch in the world, the Winter home for their 101 Ranch Real Wild West and Great Far East Show.

Giants Will Contest Heydler's Ban on Hornsby

MEET FAILS TO SETTLE DISPUTE

Breadon Bids $60 Share for Card Stock; Offer Rejected.

Pittsburgh, April 8—(AP)—The ruling of John Heydler, president of the National League, banning Rogers Hornsby from the New York lineup until he disposes of his stockholdings in the St. Louis Cardinals, will be taken to court by the New York club.

The Giants will seek a temporary injunction to restrain the league from interfering with Hornsby as a player. It was announced tonight by counsel for the New York team after National League club owners had failed in their efforts to compromise the stock tangle and had promised to uphold Heydler in barring Hornsby.

Lee J. Bondy, attorney for the Giants, said that on Monday he will apply for the injunction in New York. He said that the matter must be disposed of within five days and that while a New York injunction could not be enforced in other states, a violation of it would mean contempt proceedings there against the league and its members.

One Compromise Plan.
One plan of compromise was offered during the eight-hour conference of the club owners who were called in executive session by President Heydler after he had failed to bring an agreement between Hornsby who asked $105 a share for 1167 shares of Cardinal stock. Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis club, bid $60 as his highest figure.

During today's session the club owners obtained a flat offer of $100,000 from Breadon for the block of stock. This was promptly refused by Hornsby who was here with his attorney, William F. Fahy. Hornsby then submitted a counter proposal. He stood firm on his asked price of $123,000. He said he had an outside offer of $87,000 for the stock and he suggested that the New York and St. Louis clubs and the National League split the difference, paying him $112,000 each. This was rejected by the club owners.

When it became evident that Hornsby would not recede from his position and having failed to reach any other compromise suggestion, the club owners voted to uphold Heydler in his ruling on Hornsby and adjourned. It was then that the Giants' attorney announced his intention of applying for an injunction.

Conclusions Reached.
The league magnates after their session which started early in the morning and ran well into the night, reached the following conclusions:

- 1—That good sportsmanship and fair dealing must prevail ahead of either the interests of a player or a club.
- 2—That the interests of the National League shall prevail ahead of any individual, at the same time recognizing that Hornsby's stock should not be taken from him except at a better than fair price and in excess of any price that had been offered. Therefore an offer of $100,000 was made.
- 3—Despite the fact that it was generally known that Hornsby was a St. Louis stockholder, his transfer to the Giants was approved and the contract of the player was assigned, this under the assumption that the player would divest himself of St. Louis stock when he became a member of the New York club.

Agreed to Repurchase.
In an official announcement after the meeting, Heydler said when Hornsby bought the stock Breadon agreed to repurchase it at any time at the contract sum of $50,000, and further agreed to pay Hornsby six per cent in addition to dividends "which made it impossible for Hornsby to lose one-penny" and assured him a profit.

Dempsey, Kearns to Settle Difficulty

Chicago, April 8—(AP)—The financial differences between Jack Kearns and Jack Dempsey probably will be settled out of court, Kearns intimated today.

Postponement having deferred further court action and negotiations in progress, Kearns said, for a compromise of his claims to the manager's percentage of Dempsey's earnings, including his battle with Gene Tunney.

Attorneys have suggested a settlement for $100,000, Kearns said. This he refused, however, on the basis that his share of Dempsey's purse for the Tunney match alone approximates $280,000.

A. B. C. Schedules Slashed in Half

Peoria, Ill., April 8—(AP)—Bowling schedules were cut to half today and those appearing on the drive in the doubles and singles failed to collect enough wood to disturb the leaders in the annual A. B. C. tournament.

A. Stout and M. Labo, Akron, Ohio, rolled the high total for the day in the doubles with 1,269.

A perfectly preserved wooden bridge found at Kaeerde (Near Dortmund) is estimated to be 5,000 years old and to date back to the ice age.

Exhibition Games

Veteran Surprises.
Trying to explain the business of pitching is a difficult task. One of the veteran twirlers who looked very impressive in the south was Sam Jones of the St. Louis Browns.

Last season with the pennant winning New York Yankees, Jones won only nine games and lost eight. No doubt Miller Huggins figured Sam had seen his best days when he consented to a trade.

Manager Dan Howley of the Browns was willing to gamble with the veteran and it appears he is going to cash in on the transaction. Howley figured Jones is not a good relief pitcher. He did much of that work as a Yankee.

"Take your own time about getting into condition. Tell me when you are ready. During the season you will pitch only in your regular turn."

That is what I heard Howley tell Jones in the early days of the spring training at Tarpon Springs, Fla.

Explain This?
Howley's system relative to Jones is apparently the correct one for he has already turned in a number of brilliant performances.

The records show that the best year that Sam Jones ever enjoyed in the majors was in 1921, when he won 23 and lost 16, with a club that finished fourth, the Boston Red Sox.

On the strength of that fine showing with just an ordinary ball club, he was purchased by the New York Yankees.

The following season with a club infinitely better, Jones could do no better than break even, winning and losing 13 games. The Yanks won the pennant that season.

Try to explain that one if you can.

More Puzzles.
Along the same lines you have often seen a pitcher get knocked out of the box in the first inning, only to come back the next day and shut out the same team. Often the exact reverse happens.

I have seen pitchers perform so stylishly in the first game of a double-header, that the manager uses them in the second game with disastrous results.

There really is no plausible way to explain these happenings. They are just the breaks of the game.

Big Year Ahead.
I wouldn't be at all surprised if Sam Jones had a big year with the St. Louis Browns. I have definite reasons for thinking so.

Jones is one of those peculiar types who does his best work when he pitches free. In other words, when nonchalant he is more effective than when he tightens up.

When on edge, Jones has the fault of making the ball too good. Batters know it and get a toe hold. This doesn't happen when Sam is flipping the ball in a careless manner.

On a team fighting for a pennant it is a habit for pitchers to tighten up. The Browns hardly loom as a pennant contender and Sam is certain to work more natural.

TIGER 9 TAKES SECOND GAME

Detroit Team Vanquishes Texas, 11 to 8, Although Outhit.

Wichita Falls, Tex., April 8—(AP)—Although outhit 14 to 15, the Detroit Tigers took the second game of the series from the Wichita Falls today, 11 to 8, in a game that saw nearly everything in the baseball line introduced into the picture.

Earl Whitehill pitched in fine form for the first five innings and gave his successor, Sam Gibson, a 7 to 1 lead, only to see the Texas sluggers threaten and force the Tigers to continue their scoring until the final out to take the long end of the score.

A home run off Bob Fothergill's bat was numbered among the 14 hits gathered by Moriarty charges. McManus, Bassler, Tavener and Hellmann doubled and the remainder, except Shea and Gibson, connected safely to go into the hit column. McManus tallied three hits out of five times to bat.

Of the 15 hits credited to the Texans, Whitehill yielded only four in the five innings he served up his left-handed offerings. Gibson found the going rougher.

Kelfer began the mound duties for Wichita Falls, but was nicked during the five innings he presided for nine hits that produced seven runs. The scores came in consignments of five and two.

Steenegrave, former White Sox pitcher, finished the game, but was found by the Tigers for five hits.

In addition to Fothergill's home run, the spectators were treated to seven doubles, three stolen bases, one triple, two snappy double plays and a number of sacrifices. Fitzgerald, Wichita Falls centerfielder, contributed the only error of the day.

The Score: R. H. E. Detroit - 050 020 211—11 14 0 W. Falls 000 010 115—8 15 1 Batteries: Whitehill, Gibson and Bassler, Shea; Kelfer, Steenegrave and Lapan.

TIE LOOMS IN HOCKEY PLAY

Possibility of Deadlock in Stanley Cup Meet Discussed.

Boston, April 8—(AP)—The possibility of a deadlock in the series for the world hockey title was discussed by hockey magnates, players and public today as the Boston Bruins and Ottawa Senators, contenders for the Stanley cup, rested after a scoreless 80-minute game played last night.

The second tilt in the series will be played here tomorrow night. Only once before in the long history of Stanley cup competition did one of the title games end in a scoreless tie. That was in 1919, when Seattle and the Montreal Canadiens met in the finals. The series of that year was never finished, because many of the players and officials succumbed to the influenza epidemic then raging.

President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League has ruled that only five games may be played in the series, no matter what the issue of the contest may be. The league president ruled that if neither club shall have won three games at the conclusion of the series, the club with the best record of the games shall be declared the winner. If the teams emerge with similar records, the series will be called off and the money in the players' pool will be divided equally between the two squads.

Should one team win two games of the remaining four, holding its antagonist to a tie in a third contest, and losing the other, it would be awarded the title, under President Calder's ruling.

THE REFEREE

Who is the youngest baseball player in either big league?—N. P. S.
Melvin Ott of the Giants has just celebrated his eighteenth birthday.

Is Luis A. Firpo in the United States now?—D. R. F.
No, he is in South America.
Will Jess Willard ever fight again and where is he now?—F. N.

No. He is in the real estate business in Los Angeles.
Is there any player in either big league more than 55 years old?—S. P. N.
No.

HIS OWN FAULT.
"What a handsome dog!"
"Yes, isn't he splendid. Full of spirit and gentle as a lamb."
"I suppose he's won a lot of prizes."
"Unfortunately, no. He always bites the judges."—Punch.

The kind old gentleman, seeing a boy carrying a great pile of newspapers, asked, "Don't all those papers make you tired?"
"Naw, I don't read them."—Ideas.

JESS AND BOBBY AT ATLANTA

Jess Sweetser is back at his tournament golfing, after months of recuperation from his serious illness last year. Here is (left) with great Bobby Jones at the Southern Open Championship, Atlanta. He looks like the Sweetser of old physically, but he was under his best form in the scoring.

Bluedevils Lose First Game in Two Years to Rambler Five, 21 to 17

The E. F. U. Ramblers, well-balanced in every department of the game, coasted through to a 31 to 7 victory over the Negaunee Bluedevil basketballers in the Escanaba high gym last night. It was the first defeat suffered by the visitors in 13 games played during the past two years, and was a sweet revenge for the Ramblers for the 20 to 15 defeat the Bluedevils handed them at the Upper Peninsula Amateur tournament in Negaunee.

The Ramblers, winners of the Daily Press tourney, showed marked superiority over their opponents from the start of the second quarter through the remainder of the game, holding the Bluedevils scoreless in the second period while piling up 8 points for themselves. In the third chapter, the Bluedevils fared little better, getting only one field goal, while the Ramblers pushed their total to 20.

Maki Opens Scoring.
The first period opened with Maki scoring a field goal for Negaunee. It was followed a minute later by Demars' field center after which Maki scored another to put Negaunee out in front, 4 to 2. Maki and O'Connors netted one field goal each and the latter der total of 9 during the remainder of the period. Lough and Schou with one field goal each brought the Rambler total to 6 as the quarter ended with the visitors leading, 9 to 6.

In the second period, the Ramblers cut loose and Demars, St. Louis and Schou had each sent the leather on a trip through the mesh before the timer's whistle found the locals leading, 14 to 9.

In the third quarter everything was "Rambler style," the locals keeping the ball well under their own basket the greater part of the time. In the third and fourth periods, St. Louis proceeded to annex points in a manner that justified the description of his being exceptionally "hot." The Rambler ace caging four field goals during the two periods.

Individual Scorers.
Lough, Berglund, Schou and Demars added the Rambler cause materially with one field basket each during the last two periods, sending the team total for the game to 30.

Maki, adding three field goals and a free throw to the three field goals he had made in the first two periods, put St. Louis out of the running for high score laurels of the fracas. O'Connors scored a single free throw to complete the visitors' scoring.

In the preliminary game of the evening, the Comets defeated the Junior Psalmisings, 17 to 14. The second prelim ended in a tie, due to the fact that the "unofficial" scorekeeper failed to mark all the baskets in the right places and the "unofficial" timekeeper sounded the final gong before he realized that there was time left to play.

Captain Olson of the Wildcats and Captain Knutson of the Tomcats agreed after much discussion that there would be an overtime period of three minutes to break the tie that was placed at the nominal figure of 13-all. To this Referee Arnold (Tarzan) Johnson strenuously objected and as there was no more to be done about the matter the information was allowed to circulate that the game would be accepted as a tie.

Both the Wildcat and Tomcat lineups were composed chiefly of high school stars, and the game furnished a number of thrills for the crowd of more than 200.

Jefferson Obelisk Shrine On Missouri University Campus

Columbia, Mo.—In an obscure corner of the University of Missouri campus, far from his last resting place at Monticello, Va., stands the tombstone of Thomas Jefferson. It was given to the school in 1883 by the great-grandchildren of Jefferson, who was born 182 years ago, April 1, at Shadwell, Va.

The stone is a plain granite obelisk six feet high. It stood at the grave of Jefferson for more than half a century before it was taken westward to stand in the region which the second president added to the United States through the Louisiana Purchase.

FOUR REGULAR JOBS FACE SUB

Toporcer, Utility Man of Cardinals, in Great Demand.

St. Louis—(NEA)—George Toporcer is an athlete to be envied and then again he is entitled to sympathy.

Sought by four National League clubs with an opportunity to become a regular, he must continue to fill the duties of substitute infielder with the St. Louis Cardinals.

It is known the Brooklyn Superbas and Phillies have been on the trail of Toporcer for three years. Attractive offers have been made for this infielder whose vision is so weak he is forced to wear heavy spectacles.

Toporcer's major league career indeed is unique. He was a member of a sand lot team Jersey City during the 1920 season. His fame as a graceful fielder around second base and hard hitter had spread to the ears of the big league scouts.

Larry Sutton of the Superbas and Dick Kinsella of the Giants were put on Toporcer's trail. They laughed when they lapped him. What a guy wearin' glasses in the major leagues? Then they laughed some more.

While they were laughing, Ernie Landgras, owner of the Syracuse club of the International League, played the long-shot and cashed.

Toporcer was given a trial by Syracuse on the training trip in the spring of 1921 and he made such an impression with Branch Riekey, then manager of the Cardinals, that he was bought by the National League.

No regular helped more to win the 1926 pennant for the Cardinals than Substitute Toporcer. In the role of pinchhitter last season he led the field with an average of .409.

Golf Club to Hold Its Annual Meeting

Members of the Escanaba Golf Club will hold their annual meeting at the offices of the Delta Insurance Company at 7:30 o'clock this evening, when members of the club's board of governors for the coming year will be elected. A report of the affairs of the club for the past year will be submitted and plans formulated for the coming season's activities, which will include an invitational tournament that will attract players here from all sections of the peninsula.

Hilltop Track Men Invited to Attend Meet at Negaunee

Word was received at Escanaba high school yesterday by Principal John A. Lemmer that the Hilltop cinder burners were invited to participate in the Marquette county track meet to be held at Negaunee, May 28.

Last year the Roelers were asked to take part in the meet and they ran off with all the honors, including most of the first places and a majority of the second and third place points and leaving the fourth division honors to be divided between Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee high schools.

The scheduling of this meet brings the Roelers' card for this season to:

Upper peninsula meet—June 11, at Menominee.
Marquette county meet—May 28, at Negaunee.
National relay carnival—May 7, at Milwaukee.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

FORE!
We'll give a little space today to Spring's new class in golf, hey! hey!

When Bobby Jones, who just won the Atlanta open, relates he putted from the edge of the green and "thanks to the fates of golf" the ball fell into the cup... he means he made a damned good putt and he knows it.

There is no accounting for tastes in love or golf. Many pros use a mashie with a narrow face but Mr. O'Goofy says he prefers one with a square chin.

Every night my prayers I say
And ask a better score next day;
And every day for all my care
My card would make St. Andrew swear.

Much may be made of a golfer if he is caught young. After he has played a few years you can't tell him anything.

Golf is a great game because it teaches self-restraint and poise. Consider the goof who tops three new balls in the pond, smashes his mashie on the sandbox, hurls his bag in the river and droppicks his caddy over the nearest bunker.

...Fish skin, with little bands of green leather for trimming and a green leather top and strap, fashion quite the smartest of smart handbags this season.

BRITISHER WILL MEET WALKER

Two Middleweight Champions Will Clash in London Ring.

Chicago, April 8—(AP)—Mickey Walker has decided to risk his prized middleweight championship in a London ring against a British challenger and with a British referee as the judge.

Jack Kearns, manager of the titleholder, today closed a 20-round match with Tommy Milligan, champion of Great Britain, to be decided in London some time between July 1 and 16. It will be staged under the direction of Charles Cochrane, London theatrical producer and sports promoter. Cochrane plans to hold the bout in the arena seating 100,000.

Kearns says he had been guaranteed "considerable more" than $100,000 as Walker's share of the purse. Although admitting that he had scaled down his original demand for $200,000, Kearns declined to say how much more than $100,000 he was going to get for the New Jersey bull dog.

Kearns intends to sail for England late in May or early in June as he has promised to have Walker on the battle ground four weeks before the bout. Walker may engage in one or two warm-up bouts before sailing.

Kearns' action in accepting the London match means that Tiger Flowers must wait for his chance to win back the title. Kearns said he may accommodate the Georgia deacon on his return from England.

Promoter Jim Mullen tentatively closed a match between Walker and Dave Shado, the San Francisco challenger to be decided here late in August, provided Walker is still champion after engaging Milligan. Both Shado and Walker are favorably regarded in Chicago, making the match highly attractive.

RADIO BODY IS UNCLE SAM'S POOR RELATION

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer. Washington—If the radio commission wins its future fights as notably as it won its initial skirmish with Washington's red tape bogey, success is within its grasp.

The commission came into being without money as a result of the senate filibuster. Now it is a historic wonder as a government body doing business without funds and tackling one of the most complicated messes such a body has ever had to solve.

First, the big-hearted department of commerce took the members in and gave them shelter. The department's bureau of navigation was moved out of the commerce building to make way for the poverty-stricken strangers.

The commission accepted every thing that came its way. It moved in without even a pencil to its name.

Furniture creeps in. Furniture gradually found its way in, however. The source of these pieces is somewhat mysterious. Apparently, they came from other sections of the commerce department, but the commission was not inclined to ask questions.

A few typewriters turned up. Every day, the commissioners found a new chair or something. Even now, the commission hasn't a rug to its name and the offices are bare except for the most obvious necessities.

The main room of the navigation bureau was made available for a hearing room. Someone found a dozen, dirty, dilapidated old chairs in storage somewhere. Subsequently plans were made to borrow chairs from the commerce department's assembly room upstairs and to requisition from assembly rooms of other departments if necessary.

PHONE CO. WILL EXPAND IN U. P.

Seven New Toll Circuits Will Be Completed This Year.

Seven new toll circuits, as well as considerable improvement of existing toll lines in the upper peninsula will be completed by the middle of the summer, announces J. J. Foley, of Menominee, commercial superintendent of the northern division of the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

To carry out this extensive program, work on which was begun February 1, will necessitate additional investment in this territory of nearly $100,000. Practically every section of the peninsula will benefit from this expansion of the toll and long distance telephone plant of the company, Mr. Foley says.

New toll circuits will be added to the lines from Marinette to Marquette, Marinette to Escanaba, Marquette to Menominee, Escanaba to Houghton, Houghton to Marquette, Houghton to Keweenaw Bay, and Houghton to Baraga.

Toll circuits to be replaced and improved include those from Ishpeming to Champion, Ishpeming to Michigamme, and Champion to Michigamme. Approximately 700 miles of new wire will be strung to complete this program.

In addition to this hundred thousand dollar program, it is planned to run additional circuits from southern peninsula points to Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, by way of Potoskey and the Mackinac City-St. Ignace submarine telephone cable. These circuits have capacity for increasing toll and long distance telephone traffic from Newberry, Munising, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Iron River, Crystal Falls, Gladstone, Powers, Mackinac Island and many other points, as well as those mentioned above.

Mr. Foley adds that the officials of the Michigan Bell Telephone company, anticipating an ever-increasing tourist and automobile trade in this section of the state, plan to lend every possible assistance and to provide means for the peninsula's summer visitors to keep in constant personal touch with their homes.

British shipowners are taking to the motor vessel and British builders hold the lead in construction of such vessels.

School Children Asked to Avoid Railroad Property

Grade and high school students whose homes are in North Escanaba and who attend schools in the southern part of the city will be prohibited from trespassing on Chicago and Northwestern property on their way to and from school, according to a statement issued yesterday by John J. Toland, chief of police.

The police will notify school authorities that students must not "hop" trains traveling in the yards while going to and from school. A fatal accident that occurred a year ago when a grade school student attempted to ride on a freight train traveling in the yards, stopped the trespassing for awhile but Northwestern workmen have filed complaints with company officials that the children have again taken up the practice.

M. J. Morgan, Chicago and Northwestern official, notified Chief of Police Toland yesterday that the railroad would do all in its power to prevent the students from walking on the tracks or in the yards and in preventing them from riding on trains of cars being switched in the yards. Mr. Morgan said that co-operation on the part of the police department and the local school authorities would be greatly appreciated by the railroad officials.

Union Passion Week Services Arranged By Three Churches

Three of the Swedish churches of Escanaba will unite in the observance of Passion Week, it was announced last night.

The first of the series of special services will be held Monday night in the Swedish Mission church. The schedule for the remainder of the week follows: Tuesday—Swedish Baptist church. Wednesday—Swedish Methodist church. Thursday—Swedish Mission church. Friday, 1:30 p. m.—Swedish Baptist church.

The evening services will begin at 7:30 o'clock. The pastors of the three churches will be the speakers. Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Hanson will contribute special vocal music at several of the meetings. The public is invited to participate.

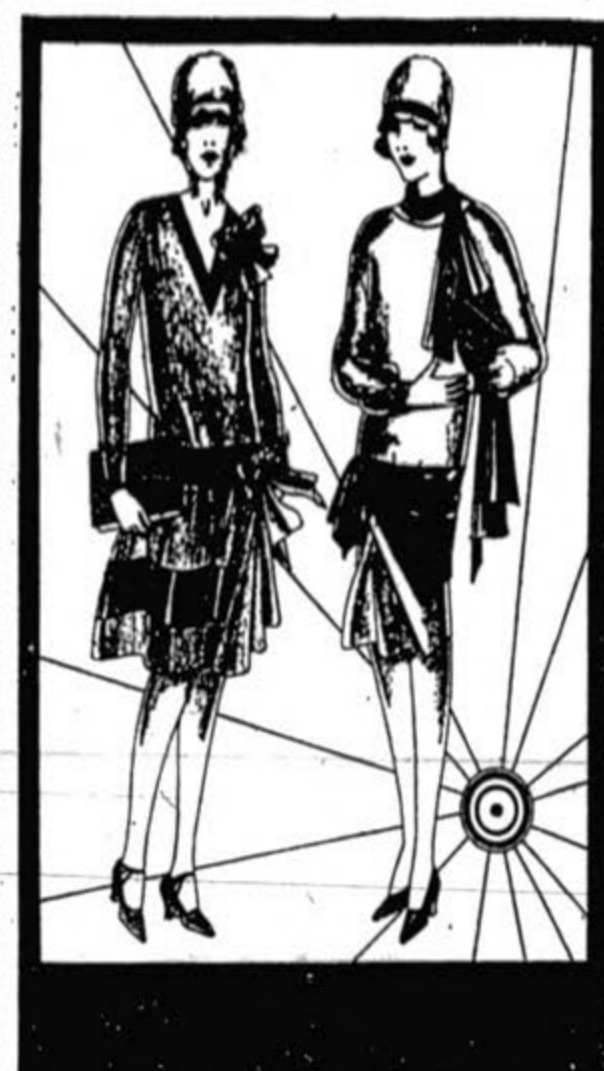

George Constantinesco, London inventor of the Torque converter, says it eliminates clutch and gears from motor cars.
