

2,000 REFUGEES ON CRUMBLING LEVEE

EARLY DEBATE TO SETTLE 3D TERM DISPUTE

CAL'S COURSE WILL BE CLEAR BEFORE CONVENTION.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, April 21.—The third term issue will get itself "talked out" long before the next Republican national convention.

But the significant thing is that the third term issue is reaching a climax more than a year before the question has to be settled. Thus the Los Angeles Express has conducted a poll of 200 Republican newspapers and finds a large majority favoring another term for Mr. Coolidge.

Enough has been said and written on the subject already to show that the third term issue is not as clear-cut as it would have been if Mr. Coolidge had already been elected to two terms of four years each and was seeking a third election.

In other words, those who are against Mr. Coolidge anyhow, and favor some other candidate, are very outspoken against the "third term." Those who like Mr. Coolidge and regard him as the strongest Republican candidate, are saying he really has had only one full term and merely is seeking a second election and so on.

If the discussion keeps up, the "third term" issue will have exhausted itself, because so many Republican leaders will have committed themselves to the idea that the next term would not be a third term that their statements will prove embarrassing to ignore.

Mr. Coolidge is defeated for re-nomination, the question will then be what other Republicans can stand on the record of the Coolidge administration? The democrats will insist that the party convention didn't think enough of going to her home. He tells her he did have a conversation with Mrs. Hoffman about the mortgage in the public corridors.

THE FURY OF A TORNADO

This remarkable telephoto picture shows the damage caused at Cornland, Ill., by a tornado that swept across the state, taking 35 lives. Every building in the town was demolished or damaged, and people are shown seeking their belongings in the ruins. The picture was taken from the top of a badly damaged grain elevator.

BUSINESS DEAL WAS DISCUSSED

Miller Did Not Propose Bribery, Gallagher Contends.

Detroit, April 22.—(AP)—Conversation between J. (Kid) Miller and Mrs. Cora Hoffman, accused by defense counsel of misconduct as a juror in the $1,000,000 libel suit of Aaron Sapiro against Henry Ford, was concerning a real estate deal in which the woman juror and her husband had entered, according to a statement filed today with William H. Gallagher, Sapiro's attorney.

The suit was declared a mistrial yesterday by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond. Affidavits offered by Ford investigators in substantiation of mistrial motion declared that Mrs. Hoffman had been seen conferring in the corridors of the federal building with Miller, and that the latter was overheard to say to the juror that "it will mean thousands of dollars to you."

Schombergers' statement said that Mrs. Hoffman and her husband several weeks ago bought an apartment house from Schomberger and a banker, partly on a down payment and the balance due in monthly payments and that Miller and another man whose name I do not recall, acted as sales agents. Later arrangements were made, the statement said, for a mortgage on the Hoffman home in the payment scheme and Miller attempted to find a person to loan money to the Hoffmans.

Miller, who had a lot of time on his hands, the statement continued, "did attempt to Sapiro-Ford law suit from time to time. There he saw Mrs. Hoffman and communicated with her there as matter of convenience instead of going to her home. He tells her he did have a conversation with Mrs. Hoffman about the mortgage in the public corridors."

Calumet, April 22.—(Special)—Norma Tresele of Calumet, with her oration, "The Menace of War," won the upper peninsula oratorical championship before an audience of 1000 persons here tonight. Marvin Hira of Escanaba, winner in the third sub-district, took third place with his oration, "America—A Shylock." Elizabeth McCombs of Normal high school with her oration, "Snow," won second place. Irene Trotter of Norway with her declamation, "The Mother of Lincoln," won first in the declamatory contest. Lemmer, principal of the Escanaba high school, and district chairman of the oratorical league, presided at the contest.

PRETTY BLONDE SHOT TO DEATH

Assailant Unidentified; Woman Made Terrific Struggle.

San Francisco, April 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Frances Elliston, 25, pretty blonde wife of Roy Elliston, a local resident, was shot to death by an unidentified man today in an apartment which she had rented under the name of "Miss F. 'Tiny' Thomas." She had lived in the rented apartment since Tuesday and had given the impression that she was an actress.

The shooting followed a terrific struggle for life, in which the woman struck her assailant on the left temple with a sugar bowl, inflicting a wound from which blood streamed as he fled down the hall, waving a pistol and intimidating residents of the apartment house who tried to stop him. He escaped, but his victim's husband furnished police with clues excepted to result in his capture.

Residents of the apartment house said Mrs. Elliston had admitted the man to her apartment, and that the two were eating luncheon when the quarrel started. Police found remnants of the lunch scattered around the kitchen, while broken dishes covered the floor. When the shots rang out, three men tried to break into the apartment, but were halted when the door opened suddenly in hand. "If you move, I'll kill you," he shouted, and then ran down the stairs. He was pursued, but disappeared in another apartment house, and although police surrounded the block, they failed to find a trace of him at a late hour.

PICK JURY FOR SNYDER TRIAL

Attorneys Complete Task After Questioning 12 Groups.

New York, April 22.—(AP)—The twelfth talsman in the twelfth group questioned today completed the jury to try Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, charged with the murder of Mrs. Snyder's husband, Albert Snyder. The last juror selected, however, was the twelfth chosen: He had been selected an hour before after which one man agreed upon yesterday was excused, leaving only eleven and it was necessary to question two score additional talsmen before Phillip McCabe was passed as the substitute.

Justice Townsend Scudder held firmly to his resolution to continue the court session until a jury was found and it was past the supper hour when the task was completed. The court then was adjourned until Monday morning when the taking of testimony will be begun. Six jurors were accepted from the 146 talsmen examined during the day. The first to answer all questions satisfactorily was the fourth group to file forward. He is manager of an employment bureau. He was followed immediately by the secretary of a manufacturing plant and much later a printer and clerk for a fire insurance company took their places among the elect.

The jury as finally sworn in for the trial consists of married men. Harry Arnold, the only bachelor in the accepted number was excused. The men named today to complete the jury are: Louis Ruchdaschel, 46; Everett J. VanFranken, 48; George Zeigler, 47; John VanDerheide, 32; Frederick J. Brob, 32; Phillip McCabe, 36. Of the 146 talsmen questioned by the judge and attorneys today, sixty told of long-held opposition to the imposition of the death penalty and were excused when their convictions would not permit them to return a verdict of first degree murder.

Twenty-five were disqualified by fixed opinions and a dozen were waved aside when they told of acquaintance with attorneys in the case. Six men who deal in life insurance were excused as the life insurance carried on the life of the slain man will be an angle to be developed in the trial. The completed jury is: William E. Young, 38; publicity agent, married. Charles B. Meisner, 50, landscape gardener, married. Phillip McCabe, 36, electrical instructor, married. Albert R. Kraemer, 35, clerk, married. Herman Bolweg, 63, retired business man, married. Charles Schmeier, 30, florist, married. John F. Connelly, 39, department store employee, married. Louis Ruchdaschel, 46, manager employment bureau, widower. Everett J. VanFranken, 48, secretary, married. George Zeigler, 47, printer, married. John Vanderheide, 32, clerk, married. Frederick J. Brob, 32, piano maker, married.

$5,750,000 Deficit Covered by Measure

Lansing, April 22.—(AP)—A deficiency bill appropriating $5,750,000 to cover the deficit which auditors are said to have found in the state finances is to be submitted to the legislature Monday by Senator James C. Quinlan.

Think Green Will Sign Bill

Lansing, April 22.—(AP)—Senator H. J. Rushton's bill authorizing an appropriation of $25,000 next year and $10,000 the following year for an upper peninsula state fair at Escanaba, passed the house of representatives today, and was sent to Gov. Fred W. Green for his signature. The bill had previously passed the house. Although Governor Green has not publicly expressed his opinion, it is intimated that he will sign. The measure passed both houses of the legislature with little opposition, largely through the efforts of Senator Rushton and Representative Henry L. Rose. Another bill introduced by Senator Rushton, providing for an interstate bridge from Menominee to Marinette, passed the house today, and was sent to the governor for his signature. Seeks New Agreement.

A bill authorizing a new agreement between the state and the Grand Trunk railway, to take the place of a contract entered into by former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck, relative to the removal of the tracks of the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee to make room for the improvement of Woodward avenue, between Detroit and Pontiac, was introduced by Representative John Eagle, one of the administration floor leaders. The measure simply authorizes the governor to sign a new contract. The proposed agreement is that the state pay the cost of removing the tracks and of securing the right-of-way for the new road bed and the railway repay the state in fifteen annual installments. The old contract stipulated the road bed be at the rate of $200,000 a year. When the cost of removing the tracks is liquidated the D. G. H. & M. will lose its special tax charter, under which it pays only $25,000 a year, and will pay at the same rate as other railroads. The annual tax will be more than $200,000.

Introduction of the measure may avert a threatened special session of the legislature. If the necessary legislation is completed prior to adjournment, the governor will be satisfied. Otherwise, he planned to recall the legislature at a later date for the purpose of approving the proposed Grand Trunk deal. A resolution was introduced in the house by Representative Robert MacDonald of Laurium, proposing a constitutional amendment to permit the review of removals of public officers by the courts. The supreme court recently held that former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck's action in removing Thomas E. Johnson, former superintendent of public instruction, was final and that the court had no right to invade the executive domain. The administration highway finance bill, which was before the house for consideration, was put over until next Tuesday when it will be a special order of business. It proposes a three-cent gasoline tax and an equal division of the weight tax receipts with the counties.

Papers Valued at $75,000 Are Taken From Automobile

Detroit, April 22.—(AP)—Theft of securities and other papers, valued at $75,000, from his automobile parked on a downtown street, was reported to police today by John S. Wagner, an Ionia clothier. Wagner told police he left the valuables in a suitcase while he went inside the offices of A. Krolik and company and talked with officials of the firm about a half hour. The lock was knocked off the door of his automobile and the suitcase was gone when he returned, he said. In the belief that the robbery was committed by drug addicts, police have assigned members of the narcotic squad to the case.

Fists Fly When Dodge Meets News Reporters

San Francisco, April 22.—(AP)—Horace E. Dodge, Jr., member of a Detroit family of former motor car manufacturers, was at liberty on $500 bail here today on charges of assault and battery, preferred against him by newspapermen, whom he greeted with flying fists. The interviewers found Dodge aboard the steamship President Madison after his arrival here from Honolulu where he was reported to have sought reconciliation with his wife. Mrs. Dodge returned to San Francisco on the same vessel from the islands refusing an interview beyond the feeble denial that there had been a reconciliation. When newspapermen asked Dodge about it the battle began. After locking reporters in a cameraman, wrecking his camera and engaging in a fist fight with John McDonald, newspaperman, who apparently gave him the worst of the deal, Dodge sought refuge on the steamer and when he finally did walk down the gangway to the dock he was arrested, taken to the city jail and released after the $500 bail had been furnished by Herbert Luther, a friend. Pursuit Resumed. Then was resumed the pursuit of Dodge by newspapermen who had not yet learned whether the millionaire and his wife were reconciled. Dodge and Luther were whisked through heavy traffic in the automobile of Conrad Kahn, son of Congressman Kahn, but after a while Dodge evidently tired of the chase, had Kahn stop the car and granted a newspaperman an interview. "There has been no reconciliation," Dodge said. "I went to Honolulu not for the purpose of seeking a reconciliation with my wife, but on a matter involving the signature of some papers. "It just happened that my wife was on the same boat on which I took passage for my return to San Francisco. I did not see her during the trip for I kept to my stateroom. I have heard stories to the effect that we did see each other during the voyage but that is not true." When asked if he intended to contest his wife's divorce suit, he shook his head. Dodge Apologizes. "Regarding the rumpus on the ship," Dodge said, "I am sorry. The men whose cameras I broke already have my apologies and I want to pay for the damage done." Contrary to Dodge's assertion that he did not see his wife while they were enroute to San Francisco from Honolulu, passengers aboard the boat declared here that Mrs. Dodge was constantly in the company of a man known as "James Edworthy," of Grass Point, Michigan, and whose name on the purser's book was followed by the bracketed name of Horace Dodge.

MEXICO BANS SIX CATHOLICS FROM COUNTRY

PRELATES ACCUSED OF STIRRING UP REVOLT.

Mexico City, April 22.—(AP)—Six of the foremost members of the Catholic episcopate have been ordered out of the country and are on their way to Laredo. They were taken from their residences last night by government agents and placed on a train bound for the border. The deported church men are: Jose Mora del Rio, archbishop of Mexico; Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, archbishop of Michoacan, and Bishops Salvador Uranga, of Cuernavaca; Ignacio Valdespino y Diaz, of Aguascalientes; Gerardo Anaya, of Chihuahua; and Jose Maria Echeverria of Saltillo. Follows Charges. The government's drastic action follows upon recent charges made by General Alvarez, chief of President Calles' staff, that the Catholic episcopate was the main cause of the religious unrest and had been directing the revolution and inspiring such outrages as that Tuesday night against a passenger train in the state of Jalisco. The government already has made public reports received by it alleging that three Catholic priests and one delegate of the League for the Defense of Religious Liberty were the ringleaders in the Jalisco outrage. The expulsion of his prelates, with Bishop Pascual Diaz of Tabasco, expelled three months ago, and Francisco Orozco y Jimenez, of Guadalajara in hiding, removes all the foremost church leaders from activity in Mexico. Prelates in Hiding. Other prelates still in various parts of the republic are also in hiding and not a few of the religious leaders have from time to time made their way out of Mexico. Concurrently with the government's move against the episcopate, a strict censorship was established over all cablegrams and telegrams. The newspapers thus far have abstained from publishing other than official information on the Guadalajara train attack.

Helena, Ark., April 22.—(AP)—Two thousand refugees were on a crumbling levee, 2 1/2 feet wide at Knowlton's Landing on the Mississippi river, screaming for help, R. P. Beith, a farmer of that section, reported tonight upon his arrival here. Beith was the first man to come out of the Knowlton Landing section. He declared that the stranded people with their possessions and livestock were stretched along the levee for three miles without shelter, and with very little food. The river was rising. The steamer Vabush went to the levee early today and removed 700 victims with their possessions and livestock in two barges, being expected to reach here early tomorrow. As the ship left the levee, screams of those left behind were many. On Levee Two Days. Beith reported that some of the refugees had been on the levee two days. He had come 40 miles to Helena in a motorboat. The drowning of 13 men on the government motor launch Pelican was described by Beith. He witnessed it. He said the ship was swept through a break in the levee and overturned. Two of the crew managed to seize life preservers and were belted to have saved their lives. Beith declared, by clinging to a nearby tree. Ten of the crew were trapped in the cabin, while eight others were thrown into the swift current to drown. The vessel was swept a mile down the stream, before it was caught on the levee. Beith said every house in the region was dashed to pieces by the wind-churned waves. Knowlton's Landing is 50 miles south of here. CONDITIONS DESCRIBED. Memphis, Tenn., April 22.—(AP)—Flood conditions in Arkansas between Memphis and Little Rock were described here today by Albert W. Biggs, newspaper reporter, who made the trip to the Arkansas capital in an airplane which carried 300 pounds of butter to that city. "From the air it looked like the Arkansas river set out to join its father, the Mississippi, and almost succeeded," Mr. Biggs said. The whole country between Memphis and Little Rock is inundated, save for a strip of land about 40 miles in width. Dozens of towns are under water and only the house-tops in many of the villages may be seen from the air. Stretches 60 Miles. "The sea, which begins at the foot of the Chickasaw bluffs at Memphis, stretches westward for a distance of 60 miles. Here and there we could see small islands. These were dotted with the tents of refugees. We saw large numbers of persons on the narrow ridges that are only a few feet above the raging torrent of the flood. "Huge plantations can be identified only by vast stretches of water between the timber which stands in the bayous. In many instances, there are no roofs of buildings to mark these farms. "It will probably be weeks," Mr. Biggs continued, "before the death list in this territory will be complete. It is certain to be appalling. "The airport at Little Rock is a busy place," Mr. Biggs said. "Planes like ours are arriving hourly with cargoes of food for the city which is surrounded by the flood waters. Government planes are operating on regular schedules, carrying mail to Memphis and other cities. Other ships carry passengers to and from the isolated city. Guard Keeps Order. "The national guard and members of the American Legion are keeping order and aiding civil authorities in caring for the refugees in Little Rock. The magnitude of the task increases hourly as trains and boats arrive with more refugees. "Towns and cities in the St. Francis basin have yielded their most precious possessions to the on-rushing waters—lives, property, homes—all these have been sacrificed to the merciless foe. From the air may be seen two lines of tree tops. These trees, once lined a highway. The tops of telephone and telegraph poles mark the routes of the railroads. Now the trees and poles are only grotesque markers of the mud.

38 Perish in Flood Waters

(By The Associated Press) Thirty-eight persons are known to have perished and 75,000 have been made homeless in the spreading Arkansas and Mississippi floods. The property and crop damage already is estimated at many millions of dollars. Scores of cities and towns and millions of acres of rich farm lands were under water last night. Several thousand refugees in the Mississippi delta region and near Clarendon, Ark., were in a precarious position as they clung to trees and house-tops awaiting aid. Hundreds or more of the homeless were marooned on two trains of box cars on the Marianna cut-off near Hughes, Ark., with efforts to reach them unavailing. Greenville, Miss., a town of 12,000, was flooded with its water supply off and boats and rafts the only means of transportation. New crevasses and breaks in the Mississippi dikes were threatened north of Vicksburg and on the Louisiana side across from Natchez, Miss.

ASK $7,000,000 FOR FLOOD AID

Washington, April 22.—(AP)—The nation was appealed today to contribute $7,000,000 for the relief of thousands stricken by the Mississippi valley floods. A special campaign to raise that amount was decided upon by Red Cross officials after a conference with four members of President Coolidge's cabinet, appointed by him to coordinate government relief activities with those of the Red Cross. Earlier in the day, the president issued a proclamation urging contributions to the Red Cross to carry on its work. The cabinet committee, comprising Secretaries Hoover, Mellon, Wilbur and Davis of the war department, declared the disaster of the first magnitude after canvassing Red Cross reports showing that 75,000 persons were homeless in the flooded area. $5,000,000 Fund. The $5,000,000 fund was devised upon after Secretary Davis presented war department reports indicating that further breaks in levees along the Mississippi river were expected and could not be prevented. He estimated that 150,000 persons would be forced from their homes within the next few days. Secretary Hoover was designated chairman of the special campaign committee. Its other members including the three secretaries and James L. Fleer, acting chairman of the Red Cross. The committee agreed with the president as he set forth in his proclamation that the burden of providing relief rests with the Red Cross and that government activities should be coordinated by the cabinet members and employed through the relief organization. Extent of federal assistance will be worked out at subsequent conferences. Officials of the public health service have arranged to hold themselves in readiness for emergencies should disease following the wake of the floods become epidemic. Coast guard boats already are participating in relief work as will three seaplanes sent by the navy from Pensacola, Fla., station. The war department has drawn heavily upon its surplus supplies, having shipped to refuges concentration centers 1,453 tents, 16,207 pyramidal tents, 11,102 cots and 27,405 blankets. Clothing for national guard troops called out at some points also has been supplied, along with 14,000 burlap bags for levee protection in Illinois.

Relief Workers Discuss Special Nation Wide Campaign.

Cal Keenly Interested. At the White House, President Coolidge was represented as taking a keen interest in the situation and hopeful that a generous response would greet his own and Red Cross appeals for contributions. It was emphasized that the federal departments have no funds for relief and that while they would do all possible, the main burden rests upon the Red Cross. The cabinet committee is the first ever appointed by a president to cooperate with relief agencies in a national disaster. The $5,000,000 fund is the largest ever requested for domestic use, ranking next to the $11,000,000 called for during the Japanese earthquake. In caring for refugees during the Florida tornado, the Red Cross spent a little more than $4,000,000.

RISING WATER LAPS AT FEET OF FUGITIVES

700 SAVED; CREST OF FLOOD STILL TO COME.

EIGHT WARSHIPS GUARD HANKOW

U. S. Regards City as Most Susceptible to Violence. Washington, April 22—(AP)—Hankow is regarded by the navy department as one of the points in China most susceptible to violence...

This was disclosed today by Secretary Wilbur, who in a formal statement took cognizance of published criticism of American naval concentration at the Yangtze river port where a number of war craft of other governments also are based...

"The movement of vessels in Chinese waters," said Mr. Wilbur, "are dictated by the demands of the situation for the protection of American lives and property. In view of the fact that Hankow is the principal center of American interests on the upper reaches of the river and also is the chief outlet from central China...

Reports from Admiral Williams, in command of American naval forces in China, indicate, Secretary Wilbur said, that the following vessels are at Hankow: The converted yacht Isabel, flagship of Rear Admiral Hough, commanding the Yangtze patrol, the light cruiser Cincinnati, the destroyers Pruitt, Preble and Wood, and the gunboats Monocacy, Falos and Villa Lobos.

Regarding London unofficial reports that the 1500 American marines now approaching China on the transport Henderson, would be landed at Hankow, Secretary Wilbur said the movement of the marines was entirely in the hands of Admiral Williams, at Shanghai, and that no indication as to what disposal he will make of them has been received at the navy department.

Exporters Called Before Commission

Windsor, Ont., April 22—(AP)—Warrants for the appearance of eight members of a Windsor exporting firm brought to a crashing climax the second day's hearing of the royal commission into liquor conditions in the dominion and into charges of smuggling. The action followed by a short-time recommendation by R. L. Calder, assistant counsel for the commission, that the licenses of three large breweries be revoked.

The eight men named in the warrants are Captains George Thompson, J. E. Wright, J. Dillon and David Williams, and E. J. Shanahan, Arthur Reaume, D. Caplan and Louis Harris. The eight failed to reply to subpoenas issued by the commission.

Recommendation for revocation of licenses was directed against the Kakabeka Brewery, the Soo Falls Brewery, and the Sudbury Brewing and Malting company. Calder based his recommendations on charges that the breweries destroyed their books and records "prior to the investigation of the commission with intent to defraud the Canadian government of tax due," and that they had violated the liquor law a number of times.

DEPUTIES SEEK BANK ROBBER

Down State Supervisor Sought for Daylight Robbery. Jackson, Mich., April 22—(AP)—Deputy sheriffs of two counties and state troops Friday night were searching for Supervisor Roy E. Pratt of Cambridge township, Le-nawee county, for questioning in connection with the robbery shortly after noon of the Commercial Bank of Jonesville.

A man walked into the bank at 1:30 o'clock and asked Alvin Godfrey, 21, a teller, for change for a dollar. As the employee started to make the change, the man pushed a note under the wicket.

"Pay to the bearer $1,000. Be quick," the note read. As Godfrey glanced from the note to the man standing before him, he looked into the muzzle of a revolver.

He gathered up all currency in the drawer within his cage and shoved it to the bandit. The loot is estimated at about $900. The automobile in which the bandit escaped and which was chased more than forty miles by an armed citizen, bore Michigan license plates number 235-453. A later check revealed that the plates were issued to Supervisor Pratt, who lives on a farm near Ousted.

Records also revealed that the plates were issued for the type of car that Mrs. Pratt told authorities her husband owned. It was this type automobile in which the bandit escaped, according to witnesses.

FIST BATTLE IS INVESTIGATED

Officers Conduct Quiet Probe Into Death of Actor. Los Angeles, Apr. 22—(AP)—Quiet investigations by the coroner's and district attorney's offices were continued today into separate phases of the Hollywood fist fight which resulted in the death of Raymond, musical comedy actor. Paul Kelly, film actor, who is under indictment for murder, maintained his silence in the county jail where he is held without bail.

The other principal in the triangle, Miss Dorothy Mackaye, actress known as Mrs. Ray Raymond, continued under the care of a physician following her nervous collapse late Wednesday. Her nurse said that not even Miss Mackaye's attorney would be allowed to see her.

The district attorney's office is seeking more facts on the influence of Miss Mackaye upon Kelly in making his attack upon her husband. This inquiry had its origin in a statement by Coroner Frank Nance that he believed it was due to Miss Mackaye's influence that Kelly went to Raymond's home for the sole purpose of attacking him. Nance's statement, which was made to the district attorney's office, also said that his belief was formulated partly on information he had that Mrs. Raymond was in Kelly's apartment when he left it for the home of Raymond.

Coroner Nance said he was continuing his private investigation of alleged efforts to "cover up" facts connected with Raymond's death—and its cause. Nance's assistant, Frank Schoeffel, gave the district attorney a signed statement in which he charged that Dr. Walter Sullivan, who attended the dying man, has misstated the facts.

Counsel for Kelly continued efforts to reach Florence Bain, former divorced wife of Raymond

D. A. R. MEET ATTACKS 'MA'

Delegate Confuses Wyoming Politics, Hits Ross. Washington, April 22—(AP)—A delegate to the continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution who apparently confused her Wyoming and Texas politics today was the instrument for a public denunciation of Former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson of the pan-handle state.

As a sequence to an ovation given Governor Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming soon after today's session opened, an assigned note was sent to the presiding officer's desk, protesting against the demonstration on the grounds that the only record Mrs. Ross made as governor "was one for convict pardoning."

"This is not Governor Nellie's record," indignantly declared Mrs. Alfred J. Broseau, president general of the organization. "It belongs to another state." From the section occupied by the Texas delegation, a woman rose with precision. "It belongs to Texas," she confessed, "and every woman in Texas is ashamed of it."

The congress applauded loudly. The excitement from this show of spirit had hardly subsided when another incident stirred the congress. It was the reading of a letter from E. J. Irvine, secretary of the Washington chapter of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, roundly scolding the congress's recent resolution reaffirming faith in the Bible. While the communication which denounced the DAR far alleged bigotry was being read, the hall resounded with catcalls, jeers and hisses.

Seven Bootleggers Given Terms in Jackson Prison

Seven men—all of them violators of the prohibition laws—were sentenced by Judge R. C. Flannigan, in circuit court yesterday, to serve from six months to one year in Jackson prison. One-year terms were recommended.

Three men—a forger, an automobile thief, and an automobile "horer"—were sentenced to terms in Ionia. Thirteen men, most of them first offense bootleggers, were paroled.

John Smith, Easton, liquor store proprietor, was nabbed in possession of 400 gallons of mash and 35 gallons of moonshine whisky.

Peter Klotz, second offender, who previously had served a full sentence for bootlegging. Mike Milette, second offender, who was charged with selling moonshine to high school boys at Bark River.

John Maki, also a previous offender. Dave Jackovitz, second offender. John Marcello, who had 250 gallons of moonshine, 50 gallons of wine and 350 gallons of mash when the officers raided his establishment.

Smith was the only one of the seven who previously had been paroled by Judge R. C. Flannigan. The judge pointed out that he had warned liquor law violators repeatedly that paroles would not be granted to all first offenders and that each case would be scrutinized singly and decided on its particular facts.

Those sentenced to Ionia were: John Alfred "Longear" Johnson, confessed forger. Two to fourteen years in the Ionia reformatory with two years recommended; Julius Carlson, who pleaded guilty to unlawfully driving away an automobile; one to five years in Ionia with one year recommended; Young Carlson was discharged from the state industrial school at Lansing less than a year ago. John Clark, who pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile; 18 months to five years in Ionia with 18 months recommended. Clean records, except for the single offenses which caused their arrests, were instrumental in getting new chances for John Ahlberg, charged with driving away an automobile; and Clifford Howell, who attempted to pass a worthless check. Torval Brandt, who was convicted of simple assault, which carries a maximum sentence of 90 days in the county jail, also was paroled. Brandt has been in jail awaiting trial since January 16. He was warned that failure to pay alimony to his divorced wife and money for the support of his children, would result in the filing of charges of desertion and abandonment against him; and that announcement of his former wife would constitute a violation of the parole.

Ten On Parole. The ten prohibition first offenders who were paroled were: Theophile Dubard, C. W. Miller, Frank Hanson, Edward McNellis, Edward Taylor, Edmond Rangette, Frank Meme, Tony Blotz, Matt Prulic and Agnes Barker. Each was called upon to pay $50 costs. Failure to do so will constitute a parole violation, Parole Officer John Judson was informed by the court.

Violation of any law or ordinance, association in any way in the liquor business or with an establishment in which liquor is sold, frequenting any place where liquor is offered for sale, and failure to report regularly to the parole officers, were among the offenses which will result in trips to Jackson prison for these men, the court warned.

Sentence in the case of Carl Wadeen, charged with possession of liquor, was continued until the next term. Wadeen is serving a county jail sentence for driving an automobile while intoxicated. It is possible that charges of negligent homicide, growing out of an automobile accident in which his companion was fatally injured, may be placed against him.

Anthony Doutré, who pleaded guilty to desertion and abandonment, was sentenced to serve one to three years in Marquette prison, with a recommendation of two years. It was provided, however, that the court will consent to Doutré's release by the parole commissioner when he files a bond which will guarantee that his family will be properly cared for.

Elmer Larson and Rosmar Hubert, found guilty by Juries of statutory offenses, were sent to jail by Judge Flannigan until the file bonds insuring satisfactory settlements of the cases in which they are involved. If the housewives of the U. S. were paid for their home services at the rate of $15 a week, the payroll would amount to $17,000,000,000 yearly.

One Set Serves a Group of Fans

Norwalk, O.—The idea of loud speakers placed in many private homes and all connected with one community radio receiving set, which is being taken up in many parts of the country, has been introduced here.

A subscriber can have a loud speaker installed in his home for a small labor cost and then hear music every day from 8 a. m. until midnight for a low monthly service fee.

Choice of programs remains with the central operator, who selects those which he believes have the greatest popular appeal and which can be received most clearly.

The development brings to homes of subscribers music with the tone quality and clarity obtainable on a high-grade receiving set costing several hundred dollars at a fee within the reach of persons who cannot or do not wish to spend that sum.

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

Dal Romaine called for Billy Wells the next morning at ten o'clock, drove her in his long, low-slung, cream-colored roadster to the business district of Colfax.

"Here we are!" He parked the car before a small but exclusive looking shop. Small gold letters inconspicuously placed on the plate glass window informed the elect that it was the establishment of "Madame Dubois-Gowns."

"It looks frightfully expensive," Billy worried, as she followed Dal Romaine.

"Don't you worry about that," Dal smiled down at her. "The only important thing is for you to have the dress. It really was made for you, Mignon. I had Madame Dubois take it out of the window and promise to conceal it until I could bring you to see it. We wish to see Madame Dubois herself," Dal explained to the pretty, smartly dressed girl who advanced to meet them.

"This way, please, Madame Dubois is expecting you, Mr. Romaine." The girl smiled lingeringly into Dal's eyes.

They found Madame Dubois awaiting them in a smaller room behind a mirror door. She came forward with outstretched hands to greet Romaine, as if he were a valued friend. She was taller than Dal, a Juno of a woman, with deeply marcelled, hennaed hair.

"It is so good of you to bring the little girl for whom my favorite frock was designed. It sometimes happens that way, Miss Wells. She took Billy's hand and held it between her own broad, white palms for a moment.

"An artist conceives a lovely creation, praying that it will find its way to one person in the world who should have it, and his prayer is answered, Babetts, the lace dress, my dear. Have Marie model it for Miss Wells. She is about your size, but the dress—the dress was meant for you and you only," she rhapsodized to the embarrassed girl.

A few minutes later the model, Marie, a lovely little person of Billy's size, stepped daintily into the room, one highly maneuvered hand posed lightly on a flat, boyish hip, the other at the back of her high-held, shingled little head.

"Oh, it is lovely!" Billy gasped, as the little figure of the model pirouetted before her.

"You like it!" Madame Dubois cried happily. "But of course you would. Real lace, my dear, made in Belgium. See the lovely pattern of star jasmine and primroses!" She lifted a corner of a panel and held the cobweb upon her broad palm.

"Try it on, Mignon. I will step out and wait until I am called," Dal commanded her.

When the dress descended over her shoulders and fell in foamy ripples down her slim body, she looked at herself in wide-eyed, childish amazement. The sapphires on the shoulders and the broad band of sapphire velvet girdling her hips wrought the magic she had expected of them, and the ivory cascade of lace, pearling over the softly gleaming amber satin, made her skin look like honey-colored velvet, and deepened every gold and bronze thread in her chestnut curls. Color flamed in her cheeks, called up in a surge of pure pleasure in the exquisite picture she made.

"Very sheer amber silk stockings and amber satin slippers, a choker of sapphire colored crystals for your throat, and you will be a picture to drive an artist into ecstasy!" Madame Dubois clasped her hands in an excess of delight. "Have Mr. Romaine come, Marie."

Of course Billy bought the dress. With Dal Romaine's eyes devouring her newly created loveliness, all power of resistance left her. She agreed to take it without asking its price, so bemused was she by the promise of something definite at last in Dal's brooding black eyes.

Before she knew what was happening to her, Madame Dubois had sold her the smartest of spring suits and a crushed blue velours hat which exactly matched it. And they all insisted that a bronze-colored satin-crepe afternoon dress, embroidered in nasturtium-colored silk, a frock which made her look slim and tall, must not be permitted to go to waste on some other girl whom it could not possibly become so well.

She was frightened and helpless at last, but quivering with pleasure that Dal had chosen her clothes for her. She felt, in them, as if she were wrapped about in tangible evidence of his love, as if, by wearing the dresses that he had consecrated with his approval, she were somehow in his arms. And it was in his arms, his actual arms, that she wanted to be, wanted so acutely, so feverishly, that she could not sleep an hour without dreaming of him.

She heard Madame Dubois' charmingly slightly French voice telling her that the total bill was three hundred and ten dollars. She tried to do mental arithmetic as her fingers fumbled around the roll of bills in her pocket. A hundred and fifty for her mother, thirty dollars a week for Professor Navratil—four times thirty is a hundred and twenty, plus a hundred and fifty is two hundred and eighty.

"All ready, Mignon? We're going to have the rest of the day entirely to ourselves," Dal Romaine bent over her to whisper, while Madame Dubois looked discreetly away.

"POISONS" TO SPEED PLANTS

Deadly Elements in Minute Parts Prove Beneficial.

By NEA Service
New York—Possibility of speeding up nature, through careful introduction of chemical elements formerly considered injurious to plants, is brought out in a report by Dr. J. S. McHargue of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington, Ky.

Taller trees may result, more raw materials may be produced and new sources of fuel uncovered as effects of Dr. McHargue's researches into this phase of plant life.

"Until recent years," Dr. McHargue reports, "it had been taught that only ten chemical elements were necessary for the normal growth of crops, these being carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, calcium, magnesium, sulphur and iron."

Research has shown that at least other elements, although occurring in minute quantities, are important in life processes. These are manganese, copper, zinc, boron, barium, strontium, iodine and arsenic.

Too Much is Poisonous.
"These have been found in many kinds of plants. Although they are essential to life in right forms and quantities, they are poisonous in excess or other forms."

Manganese, for instance, is as widely distributed in nature as iron, and it was found that one one-hundred-thousandth part or less of this manganese sulphate decidedly stimulated the growth of barley seedlings. Larger quantities were poisonous.

Dr. McHargue has tested corn, wheat, oats, soy beans, cow peas, garden peas, garden beans, tomatoes, onions, cucumbers, spinach and lettuce, with manganese sulphate and compounds of the other elements. He discovered marked stimulation in growth of the plants when the compounds were not used in excess.

Benefit to Industry.
"Copper sprays increase the yield of potatoes and favorably influence their composition as well as controlling insects and diseases," he points out.

Dr. McHargue looks even further than agriculture for the benefits from his research work.

"Knowledge being gained," he explains, "is of importance not only in agriculture and horticulture for improving quality, increasing yield, producing a food supply which contains the vitamin factors and lowering the cost of vegetables, fruits, grains and forage crops—but possibly also in engineering and industry, for increasing supplies of raw materials and producing new sources of fuel by converting sun energy into mechanical power."

Inoculating Crops May Save Farmers Millions Annually

By NEA Service
Madison, Wis.—Little colonies of bacteria injected into some of the growing crops will save the farmers of the United States millions of dollars a year at a cost of only a few thousand.

This is the remarkable promise made to the country's farmers by Ira T. Baldwin of the University of Wisconsin, where he is preparing cultures for just such use.

Legume inoculation is what Baldwin has found of especial interest for the present. Experiments he has made show that for the state of Wisconsin alone the inoculation of alfalfa, among the legume crops, would save that state more than $1,000,000 a year at a cost of about $25,000.

Little nodules of bacteria inoculated into the growing crop take in the free nitrogen of the air, which the plants themselves cannot use directly, and turn it into the nitrates that are so useful to plant growth. For this the bacteria take the sugar that the legumes have converted within their leaves.

By this simple trade of sugar for nitrates, the bacteria prosper and the legume plants grow more healthily. Thus, Baldwin found, the additional nitrogen fertilizer gained by bacteria inoculation, increased the protein from 22.7.5 pounds in a ton of hay to 30.5 pounds. At five cents a pound the increased protein value is $4.37 a ton.

With an alfalfa crop of some 30,000,000 tons a year, the country would experience quite a saving, in that legume alone.

Hearing Tests to Be Held in Public Schools

Because it is believed by local school authorities that a number of children in the public grade schools have defective hearing, a definite testing program is to be carried out Monday, May 2, in all rooms.

Miss O'Connor, school nurse, has provided for the test that will consist of each teacher trying the pupils' hearing by whispering different numbers at set distances from them while one ear is blocked.

It is hoped that in this way a number of students whose hearing is doubtful or radically defective will be found. Miss O'Connor will then put the students thus eliminated through a more exacting test.

Students whose hearing is defective have been found to invariably attempt to hide the fault by answering questions whether they at first understood them or not. When the final tests have been completed, teachers will be instructed to seat their pupils accordingly.

MARKET

Menus for Family

BY SISTER MARY.

Breakfast—Baked rhubarb, cereal with dates, cream, crisp toast, soft cooked eggs, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Lamb loaf, creamed potatoes, carrot salad, sponge cake with canned fruit and whipped cream, milk, tea.

Dinner—Baked ham, browned sweet potatoes, steamed spinach with butter and lemon juice, romaine and orange salad, rice soufflé, bread, milk, coffee.

If, when you are planning to serve spinach, you will give this vegetable a long bath in a large pan of water you will find it much easier to clean. Several hours before time to cook the spinach cut off the roots. Drop the leaves loosely into a big pan of water and wash through several waters. When you think the spinach is clean put it into a large pan of salt water and let stand two hours. Then when ready to use, rinse through several clear waters and cook in the water that clings to the leaves. This thorough washing insures delicious cooked spinach free from grit.

Carrot Salad. 1 cup grated raw carrot, 1 cup cottage cheese, lemon juice, sweet cream, hearts lettuce.

Sprinkle carrots with as much lemon juice as they can absorb. Let stand half an hour. Combine carrots and cottage cheese adding enough cream to make moist. Season with salt and pepper and drop from tin of spoon into lettuce leaves. This is an excellent salad for children.

Breakfast—Stewed figs, cereal, cream, hash, pop-overs, marmalade, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Savory baked lima beans, new onions and radishes, brown bread, rolled-oats drop cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Haddock baked in white sauce, new potatoes, new beets, head lettuce with Russian dressing, lemon sponge, rye bread, milk, coffee.

Very often the tops of new beets are tender and fresh when we buy them in the market. When this is the case the tops should be well cleaned and cooked separately from the beets. When tops are done, chop and season. Place in a mound in the center of a serving dish and serve the tender, cooked beets in a ring around the tops. This makes a bunch of new beets "go" further than when the roots only are used.

Savory Baked Lima Beans. Two cups dried lima beans, milk, tea.

Use the whole liver. Cover with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain and wipe dry. Put on rack in roaster. Peel onions and cut in thin slices. Cut a hole slice of salt pork about the size of each onion slice. Put a slice of pork under a slice of onion and cover the liver with them, holding them in place with wooden skewers. Dredge with flour, sprinkle with salt and pepper and bake one hour in a moderate oven. Broil bacon cut in very thin slices until crisp. Serve liver on a bed of hot boiled rice seasoned with salt, pepper and butter and garnish with bacon.

Breakfast: Apples, cereal cooked with raisins, cream, crisp broiled bacon, bran muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Baked scallops, creamed celery, toasted muffins, stewed rhubarb, ginger-cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner: Casserole of smoked halibut, dandelion greens, cottage cheese, dried peach pudding, graham bread, milk, coffee.

A soft cooked egg should be served to children under school age in place of the casserole of smoked fish suggested in the dinner menu. While fresh fish is considered as ideal food for small children smoked fish is not quite so good.

Baked Scallops. One pint scallops, 4 thin strips bacon, 1 egg, cracker crumbs, 1 tablespoon vinegar.

Wash scallops in salt water and drain. Put into sauce pan and add boiling water to more than cover fish. Add vinegar and let stand two minutes. Drain in a colander. Dry between towels. (Paper towels are most convenient.) Season cracker crumbs with salt and pepper, using not more than 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Roll scallops in crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten and roll again in crumbs. Arrange close together in a dripping pan and sprinkle with bacon cut in threads. Bake 15 minutes in a hot oven.

If a heat-proof glass platter is available place the scallops on the platter to bake and serve on the same platter.

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, cream, baked French toast, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Stuffed onions with white sauce, bran bread, jellied fruit salad, milk, tea.

Dinner—Birds without bones.

BASKET :-:

baked potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, radishes, rye bread, rhubarb pie, milk, coffee.

Birds Without Bones.
One and one-half pounds round steak, 1 large onion, 3/4 cup rice, 1 large loose head cabbage, 1 teaspoon salt.

Have the steak ground as for hamburger. Season with salt and pepper. Melt one tablespoon drippings in frying pan and add onion cut in thin slices. Cook until light brown. Add meat and stir well. Add rice well washed and let cook ten minutes. Stir frequently to prevent sticking. Cut core from cabbage, cutting as deep as possible. Put head into a deep pan and pour over boiling water to cover. Cover pan and let stand five minutes. Remove cabbage and drain. Pull off leaves. Use large leaves to stuff and put small leaves into pan in which the "birds" are to be cooked. Put one or two tablespoonsful of meat mixture on each large cabbage leaf. Roll and fold. Put the folded side down on bed of cabbage. Pour over boiling water to barely cover; cover pan and cook about 45 minutes. Remove to hot platter and serve.

Breakfast—Orange juice, cereal, cream, soft cooked eggs, rich waffles, maple syrup, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Asparagus shortcake, head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing, ginger apples, milk, tea. Dinner—Baked shad with raisins, scalloped potatoes, dandelion greens, bran rolls, stuffed beet salad, rice custard pudding, milk, coffee.

Very often when fish is served, a hearty dessert is needed to balance the meal. Raisins are not used in the rice pudding since they appear with the fish but dates combine excellently with rice and make the pudding more interesting than if made plain.

Asparagus Shortcake.
Two cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 eggs, 1-1/2 cup rich milk, 1 bunch asparagus, 2 cups white sauce.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in butter. Beat eggs until light and add milk to them. Cut this mixture into dry ingredients. Roll in a floured-molding board making a sheet about three-fourths of an inch thick. Spread half the surface with butter and fold the other over, making two layers. Bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes. Split and spread with butter. Fill with asparagus cut into inch lengths steamed until tender and combined with hot sauce. Cover top of shortcake with creamed asparagus and serve.

If the asparagus is cooked in boiling water use the water that is drained from the vegetable in making the sauce.

BREAKFAST—Grapefruit juice, cereal, cream baked eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked carrots, dandelion sandwiches, cottage pudding with maple sauce, milk, tea.

DINNER—Baked spaghetti and veal, spinach and egg salad, Parker house rolls, fudge cake, shredded fresh pineapple, milk, coffee.

The dinner meat dish uses a cheap cut of veal to advantage. Mushrooms can be added for flavor although they are not necessary.

Tender uncooked dandelion leaves are combined with cottage cheese, nuts and mayonnaise to make the sandwiches.

Baked Carrots.
Four medium sized carrots, 1 dessertspoon sugar, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup cream, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, yolks 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-3/8 teaspoon pepper, buttered crumbs.

Wash and scrape carrots and cut in half-inch dice. Put into a casserole with sugar and 1 tablespoon butter, and add boiling water to cover. Cover and bake about 30 minutes. Drain, reserving the liquor. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add 1 cup carrot liquor and cream. Cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Stir in lemon juice and yolks of eggs well beaten. Season with salt and pepper and pour over carrots in casserole. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and put into a moderately hot oven to make thoroughly hot and to brown crumbs. Serve from casserole.

Frozen Maple Custard.
One quart milk, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 eggs, 1 1-2 cups maple syrup, 1/2 cup seeded raisins, 1/4 cup chopped English walnuts, few grains salt.

Heat milk and add cornstarch moistened with a little cold water. Stir until mixture boils and add salt. Add eggs, well beaten and cook, stirring constantly about three minutes. Remove from fire and stir in 1 cup maple syrup. Turn into freezer and freeze until mushy. Cook raisins in remaining syrup until soft. Add nuts to syrup and raisins and add this mixture to half-frozen cream. Mix thoroughly and let stand until firm.

One hour must be allowed for freezing after raisins and nuts are added. The mixture can be packed in ice and salt and frozen without stirring for the entire period of freezing or it can be stirred for the first half and packed for the last half of the time.

TO HEAT PLATES.
To heat dinner plates safely, hold them under the hot water faucet for a few minutes, then dry at once. The old method of heating in the oven will eventually bring cracks and discoloration.

This Mark on Malt Syrup
—A proof positive of its purity. Fifty-one years' experience in making are behind this 100% pure Berley Malt Syrup. Three types—light, dark and hop-flavored. Packed in handy 2 1/2 lb. cans, sterilized and pasteurized.

WEBSTER WILL BE REMODELED

Overflow of 60 Students Expected by School Officials.

A proposition that will provide for improvements to the Webster school annex was referred to the building and grounds committee, pending further investigation as to the cost of the project at a meeting of the board of education held at the high school yesterday afternoon.

A probable overflow of more than sixty students in the Webster building next year led members of the board to believe that action should be taken at once. A chart showing the increase in enrollment of students in the Webster building during the past few years was presented to the board by R. E. Cheney, superintendent of schools. It showed that in the school year ending June, 1926, a total of 522 students were enrolled in the building. This year the number has increased to 560 with indications it will reach 595 next fall.

The transfer of many students from the Webster to the Washington and Jefferson schools has given rise to a number of protests from parents whose children must cross Ludington street and go out of their territory.

The proposed improvements to the Webster annex will include the remodeling and repairing of not less than two and probably four rooms. The committee will investigate the probable cost of replacing the rooms, painting and shingling the building, installing new blackboards and repairing the heating plant.

IN NEW YORK

New York, April 22—The hardy tourist, who sets out to see all of New York's "sights" in two days' time, seldom fails to get on one of the lantern-bedecked buses and take a trip through Chinatown.

There the barker regales him with fearsome tales of the dark and sinister practices of the inscrutable Celestials indulging in behind the frowny fronts of the dingy Mott and Pell street tenements. The tourist looks about him, observes that the neighborhood differs from other neighborhoods only in that it is rather more peaceful, and concludes—rightly—that the barker is kidding him.

Yet for all the exaggerations of the bus-barkers, New York's Chinatown is at times a highly picturesque place, bizarre with that peculiar color which a Chinese colony in a strange land always acquires.

In proof of this remark might be cited the recent peace festival of the On Leong and Hip Sing tong, in which the rival leaders celebrated their latest burial of the hatchet after their most recent war.

Immediately after the peace agreement had been reached, a white flag with red border, inscribed with Chinese characters, was raised on a flagstaff on the roof of Hip Sing Tong headquarters on Pell street, while a similar flag fluttered up on a similar mast atop the On Leong Tong headquarters on Mott street. These were flags of peace, telling all Chinatown that the war was off.

At the same time a notice was pasted on an old bulletin board which hangs at the intersection of Pell and Mott streets—the dead-line during a Tong war. Pell street is Hip Sing territory in war time and Mott street is On Leong territory, and the neutral Chinaman passes from one to the other in fear and trembling when there are hostilities afoot.

This notice apparently told of the armistice; for presently Chinese began to tip-toe up and read it, turning away to drop into nearby houses to attend the tidings. Presently Chinatown became imbued with a festive air.

Once more the streets became populated. From within the houses could be heard the music of those strange Chinese musical instruments which they say, no white man ever learns to admire. Rice wine began to flow, and the odor of ceremonial roast pig floated in the air.

Furthermore, and most important, Chinamen who are members of the two Tongs began to unlock their front doors.

The police for several days refused to trust too implicitly in this armistice, and continued to send triple patrols through Chinatown.

"You never can tell about the Chinese," said one police captain. The peace, incidentally, came just too soon for one Chinese. This man, who reached New York on the day the armistice was signed, is a famous killer but belongs to neither Tong. When a Tong war is on he recruits a force of henchmen and hires out to the highest bidder. He came to New York from Chicago expecting a harvest—but they signed the peace treaty just about the time he was getting off his train.

SEED CORN UNFIT.

Warnings come from both the New Jersey and Ohio experiment stations that most of the samples of seed corn furnished for germination tests have been found unfit for planting. This is because last year's crop was late in maturing, so that the germs were injured by freezing.

GONDOLIERS? YES, IN ARKANSAS!

Boats have come into use on the streets of Little Rock, Ark., where 150 houses are afloat in the eastern section of the city. Flood waters have driven 300 people from their homes and 75 blocks are inundated.

LUMBER REVIEW

In its weekly market review, the American Lumberman, Chicago, says:

Storms and floods throughout the middle West and South are restricting demand for lumber to carry out the immense building program ahead of the cities, and are making impossible the hauling of material by farmers. Despite the unfavorable conditions, retail yards in the middle West and South are disposing of a good deal of lumber, and are ordering forward replacements from the mills in the East. Retail lumber trade generally is rather quiet, though improving. The California market is now showing much activity.

Southern softwood mill operations are affected by the floods, even the larger plants being handicapped while most small mills have been forced down. On the West Coast, fir production is being voluntarily curtailed, and western pine mills in the Inland Empire and California are keeping their output in line with current demand, redwood operators following the same policy. The net result appears to be a strengthening of softwoods quotations, with advances recorded in some species, notably northern white pine, during the week. For the year to date, the principal softwood mills have sold twelve per cent more than they cut, and when compared with the nine per cent above cut sold during the first fourteen weeks of last year this makes a good showing.

A very strong situation is developing in southern hardwoods, on account of floods forcing many mills to close, and putting the lowlands in such condition that logging will be impossible for several weeks at least. Mills along the Mississippi and its tributaries, however, thought it wise to sell what stock they could as soon as that sale prices have not yet shown as much advance as might be expected. Quotations are up about two dollars a thousand, and further mark-ups are predicted. Oak flooring plants are more largely in the market and furniture makers have begun to pick up a good deal of hardwood, while the increasing output of higher-priced automobiles is calling for heavier purchases of raw material. Demand for northern hardwoods is expanding, and on account of the small log supply available to the mills, their prices are very firmly held.

WELL ON WAY TO UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE

Washington—North Carolina and North Dakota have started the ball rolling along the lines of a uniform traffic code for the United States.

Both states have passed laws that set down principles established at national traffic conferences. They concern registration of titles to cars, weight supervision of trucks, and restrictions as to lights, tires, brakes, horns, mirrors and mufflers and new rules on driving.

Nearly 50 per cent of the stockings made in the United States in 1925 were of cotton, says someone who has counted them. There must be an awful lot of men in this country who never have felt the silk.

STARVATION FAD IS REAL MENACE TO HEALTH

Of all the people of the world, Americans are apparently more addicted to and the readiest victims of food fads of one type or another. The explanation lies, no doubt, in high-pressure advertising methods and "eat more" campaigns planned primarily for the promotion of single items of diet, when a diet should actually be widely assorted and well balanced.

The most vicious of all of the food fads, strangely enough, is the starvation fad. Undoubtedly most Americans overeat. The obvious corrective is to eat just enough food to satisfy the body's needs.

Investigators have estimated that a man at hard muscular work requires 4150 calories; a moderate worker, 3400; a desk worker, 2700; the person of leisure, 2450 calories per day. A child under one year requires about 45 calories per pound of body weight, or about 900 calories per day.

The number is reduced from the age of six to 13 years to about 25 calories per pound, or 2700 per day. From 13 to 25 years, it is still further reduced to about 25 calories per pound, or 3500 per day.

At 30 years one may have 2750 calories per day if he weighs about 152 pounds; at 40 years, 2500 for a weight of 154 pounds; at 60 years, 2300 calories for a weight of 150 pounds; at 70 years, 2000 calories for 134 pounds, and at 80 years, 1750 calories for a weight of 133 pounds.

Talks on Health

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

Candy Is Good for You Unless You Eat Too Much of It.

An official statement from the National Confectioners' Association indicates that 52 per cent of the material used in candy is sugar; the other 48 per cent contains gelatin, corn-starch, corn syrup, molasses, nuts, fruits, eggs, butter, milk, chocolate and similar substances.

The Association estimates that the daily per capita consumption of candy in this country is about one good bite a day.

In 1923 the people of the United States spent nearly $390,000,000 for candy, an average of more than $1,000,000 a day. Assuming an average price of 40 cents a pound, the amount used would be nearly one billion pounds of candy in a year.

The only difficulty with the use of candy is the fact that it may replace other articles in the diet. When it does so, it modifies nutrition seriously. It should be eaten at meals in addition to more essential foods but not in place of them. Taken after a meal as dessert, it produces a sensation of satisfaction.

The understanding that candy is a delicacy makes it a usual gift. Children are therefore likely to have more candy than is good for them, since the careless purchaser of presents for the child is likely to select candy as the obvious gift.

The investigators of the action of muscles discovered that the body burns sugar rapidly when one is engaged in any unusual physical activity. Therefore, marathon runners and long distance swimmers have been encouraged to hold sugar candies in the mouth while engaged in such efforts. Candy must be considered as a highly concentrated food that gives energy without bulk.

Used with due regard for its food value and its limitations, it may not only be harmless but actually desirable. When it is taken irregularly and without any consideration as to its actual place in the diet, it may interfere with the appetite, cause a dislike for much needed foods, and be associated with indigestion, irritability, bad teeth and undernutrition.

It must be recognized, however, that candy does not form all of the sugar that is taken in by the body, and that it is no more to be associated with bad teeth than other foods which have a similar effect on the condition of the mouth.

Goods Consumption on Highest Level

New York, April 22—(AP)—Dunn's tomorrow will say: It is a fact made clear by current reports and statistics that the consumption of goods, despite the many irregularities in demand is sustained at a high level. Results of Easter trade indicate a very large turnover, in some cases above last year's, and better weather in some sections this week quickened the sale of merchandise. The public buying power, though reduced in some places by special influences, holds up well in most instances, and the late decrease in railroad freight traffic is accounted for mainly by the smaller shipments of coal. Even with this contraction, carloadings still exceed those of 1926, and the volume of bank clearings remains conspicuously heavy. It is not alone in these indices, moreover, that evidence of commercial activity exists, for they are supplemented by other favorable comparisons, among them the unprecedented mill takings of cotton and the notably high rate of steel output.

These figures indicate the importance of calories to sustain body loss during the time of greatest energy, the gradual reduction of food intake with increasing age, and the importance of the reducing of weight after 40 years of age in relation to longevity. Of this more will be said later.

Nevertheless, at every age the human being requires a certain amount of food to sustain his physical mechanism. An occasional starvation period may be worth while in relation to disease, but long continued fasts or starvation as a routine is merely a fad and should be severely discontinued.

It isn't right that these have to be labeled

"Hoot" Is Hero in Silent Rider

A courageous, but inexperienced young wife, who would rather buy table for rough but kindly cowboys than submit to the humiliation of a brutal husband is the plot of Hoot Gibson's picture "The Silent Rider", at the Gero tonight.

The story is an adaptation of "The Red Headed Husband", a magazine story by Katherine Newell Burt and deals with the maze of circumstances involving Gibson and his partner in a murder and payroll robbery and their subsequent vindication. The love theme is particularly appealing in that it shows that love of a mother for her child knows no bounds.

Bianche Mehaffey as the young wife, does by far the best acting ever short, but colorful, career before the screen in "The Silent Rider." This is her second picture with Gibson, but from all indications will not be her last.

DEATH CALLS M. H. BUNDY THURSDAY P. M.

The death of M. H. Bundy, 119 Chippewa avenue, occurred at 2:15 Thursday afternoon, following an illness of relatively short duration.

Mr. Bundy was 62 years of age and of English descent. He came to Manistique from Ontario 33 years ago to engage in the barber business, operating a shop on the west side in this city until ill health forced him to retire and seek other lines of activity. From that time until his recent illness he served as janitor at the Westside school, a position in which he endeared himself to parents, teachers and children alike. He also took an active part in school activities, and was an official of the Parent-Teachers' association. He was affiliated prominently with the Methodist Episcopal church of this city, and served as an official for many years.

The survivors include the widow, Mrs. Nellie Bundy, one son, H. K. Bundy, cashier of the State Savings bank, and one daughter, Ruth, who is employed as a teacher in lower Michigan.

"Ranson's Folly," which comes to the Community Theatre tonight, is the first picture Dick Barthelmess has made on the Coast in over seven years. "Ranson's Folly" was filmed at the Marshall Nelson Studio under the direction of Sidney Olcott. Colonel George L. Byram, a retired U. S. Army expert, superintended the costume and military detail.

In this picture Dick plays the role of "Lieutenant Ranson," which was made famous on the stage by Robert Edeson. This is the second Edison stage play Dick has selected for the screen, the other one being "Classmates."

"APPLESAUCE" OPENING BILL AT COMMUNITY

With a message of cheerful optimism for the young and old folks alike one of New York's latest theatrical offerings will be the opening play to be presented Monday night by the Obrecht Sisters and Johnnie Sullivan Stock company at the Community theater. "Applesauce" is the title of the new play and judging by its notable success in New York and Chicago it will be thoroughly appreciated by local theater-goers. This amusing comedy is said to dig deep into the heart of every man or woman who has been married or wanted to be married.

"Happiness is just like a kiss; the only way to get any good out of it is to give it to somebody else," says Bill McAllister, chief dispenser of the new philosophy as extolled in "Applesauce."

Johnnie Sullivan will be seen in the highly humorous role of a glib, amusing, romantic, mellow-natured youth, Bill McAllister, educated so highly that he cannot see his way to work for a living. He falls in love and flatters everybody with "applesauce" overriding the objections of the girl's parents, wins over his disgruntled uncle and comes out on top in the end.

It is the kind of a play that will be long remembered for its many clever lines, its happy philosophy of sunshine and its many clever characterizations.

Vaudeville will be introduced between the acts and no long, tiresome waits.

Now read the Classified page.

New Bleachers Will be Erected at Athletic Field

PITTSBURGH CAPTURES CINCINNATI'S SCALP, 3 TO 1

PLAN TO SEAT 1500 PERSONS

School Officials to Push Work to Completion This Summer.

Escanaba's new athletic field will have bleachers with a seating capacity of about 1500 people. It was decided at the meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon. It is hoped that the stadium will be completed in time for use at the first football game this fall.

The announcement that the board will open bids for the construction of the bleachers is another step in the extensive program adopted by them for the development of athletic facilities in this city.

The new seating arrangements together with the portable bleachers now owned by the high school with a seating capacity of about 700 people will easily accommodate a crowd of more than 2000, which is more than has ever been recorded at a football game here for many a moon. Plans for wooden bleachers were drawn up last year, but it was not possible to begin construction at that time.

The work of hauling cinders for the new 120-yard straightaway running track being laid at the field directly in front of the supposed stadium will soon be completed. The track may be finished in time for practice before the upper peninsula track meet at Menominee June 10 and 11.

Since the idea of a new athletic field for Escanaba was first conceived several years ago members of the board have done everything possible to complete the work. This includes the erection of a substantial wire fencing, laying out of a well-drained gridiron which at present is ranked among the best in this section, a practice field, water facilities to keep the gridiron in condition, platting of the ground for a quarter mile cinder track to be built in the near future, a number of tennis courts, a baseball diamond and a stadium.

Students of the high school have raised money each year to be used in the improvement of the grounds according to the judgment of the board.

Finnish Star Clips World Race Record

New York, April 22—(AP)—Willie Ritola, Finnish-American A. C. distance star, tonight clipped nine and one-half seconds from his own 5000-yard world record during the three-mile handicap run at the three hundred and sixty-ninth infantry track games here. Ritola covered the 5000 yards in 18 minutes, 29.45 seconds and went on to cover the full distance in 14 minutes, 11 seconds.

Bridge Joins Fast Beach Speedways

By NEA Service. St. Augustine, Fla.—The three fastest beach speedways in the world have been joined by the new million-dollar bridge spanning Matanzas bay between here and Anastasia Island.

A new connected route extends from Atlantic beach, opposite Jacksonville to inlet terrace, 18 miles south of Daytona beach, a distance of almost 125 miles. Cars now may race at top speed nearly all the way on beach sands smooth and hard as a billiard table and averaging 500 feet wide at low tide.

The 40 miles from Atlantic beach opposite Jacksonville to Vilano beach, opposite St. Augustine, can be made in as many minutes. The mainland is reached by the Vilano bridge and then the Matanzas bridge offers entrance to Anastasia Island, one of the speediest stretches in the world.

RUMORS THAT HURT.

It is really remarkable how every now and then some unfounded rumor starts the rounds and gets a big play, to the great detriment of the player concerned. During the past month I have read a number of stories dealing with Catcher Muddy Ruel of the Washington club. They characterized Ruel as a good mechanical catcher, but a dumb receiver.

Most of those stories were inspired as the result of Ruel's spring holdout. What would be the chances of Washington to prosper if Ruel failed to come to terms? The thought of the stories I read, relative to Ruel's worth to the Nationals, was anything but complimentary to him, and made it appear as if he was a pretty good mechanic, but that let him out.

Ruel was painted as a catcher who knew nothing of the opposition's weakness, who had a weak arm and who came to be recognized as a pretty good catcher simply because he had been fortunate enough to be handling smart pitchers. I seriously doubt if any opinion ever broadcast was more un-deserved than the Ruel's lack of brains. ESTIMATING RUEL'S WORTH. During my 22 years in the American League, I have worked back of many of the greatest catchers that have graced the game. In that time I have seen a number of better mechanics, but few smarter catchers than Muddy Ruel. If you asked Walter Johnson as to the best mechanical catcher that ever handled his delivery, I am certain he would named "Gabby" Street. If you asked him who was the smartest, I am just as positive he would say, "Muddy Ruel". Ruel has certain faults back of the plate, most catchers have,

Clarence Darrow goes right on winning marathons just like he was 20 and not 38. Here you see his smile of victory flashing across the finish line of the Boston Athletic Association's Hopkinson-to-Boston run, which Darrow has now won five times. ## WALKER TO BE LEAGUE HEAD?

Boom Started for New York Mayor as Ban's Successor.

New York, April 22—(AP)—A boom for Mayor James J. Walker of New York to replace Ban Johnson as president of the American League, at a suggested salary of $100,000 a year, sprang up unexpectedly today from sources that were unidentified but said to be "authentic."

According to the story emanating from the city hall and published in late editions, Walker already has been "sounded out" by a "group of American League club owners," also unidentified, but the mayor was quick to assert that he had received "no formal offer from the league."

Asked whether any informal overtures had been made to him, the mayor added: "I would not discuss any offer before it was formally made."

Ruppert Denies Rumors. Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees and influential in shaping American League policies, also denied that any offer had been made to Walker or that the mayor had even been considered as a successor to Johnson.

Significance, however, was attached by baseball men to Ruppert's statement that Johnson is "out" as controlling head of the league, although the veteran president's contract has until 1935 to run. Johnson was placed "on leave," Ruppert pointed out, at the annual meeting of the league club owners in December, when Frank J. Navin of Detroit was named "acting president."

Meanwhile, however, Johnson has returned to his office in Chicago, declaring himself back in good health and ready to take up the reins again.

No Session Held. Ruppert declined to say whether the club owners had any proposal under consideration to put a new active head in Johnson's place, making the latter "president emeritus" until his contract expired, but the Yankee owner denied there had been any session of the magnates since last December to consider such a subject.

In spite of denials, friends of Mayor Walker at the city hall were quoted as insisting he had been "approached" by American League men while on vacation in Havana recently. They said that the mayor, if he was made an offer could "write his own salary ticket."

It was pointed out that at the time Commissioner Landis, $85,000-a-year head of the national game, was selected for his present post, six club owners of the two major leagues favored the naming of Mayor Walker to the job of baseball overlord.

Hot bread may be prepared ahead of time by mixing and sifting dry ingredients and mixing wet ingredients separately. Do not add the latter until just before time to bake, for the moisture will start the action of the baking powder or soda.

but lack of gray matter certainly isn't one of them. The possessor of just an ordinary throwing arm, Ruel has always been a tough man to steal on. He has overcome the throwing arm weakness by outguessing the baserunner. Even at that he has never been known as a "pitchout" catcher. Usually it is customary for receivers with only fair throwing arms to call for a lot of pitchouts, in order to be in the best possible position to get the ball away. Ruel seldom got his pitcher in the hole on that score. Despite his acknowledged smartness back of the plate, the report has been widely spread this spring that Ruel is a "Dumb Dora."

Bad Weather Stops Tigers-Browns Tilt

Detroit, April 22—(AP)—For the second consecutive time, the elements today prevented the appearance of the Tigers against the St. Louis Browns and increased to seven the number of double-headers facing the Bengal crew. The season is only eleven days old.

The Tiger management called the game off only an hour before starting time in hopes that the sun would replace chilly winds which whipped the city all day. Yesterday's postponement on account of rain and today's on account of cold weather, made six of the double-headers facing the Tigers against the Browns. The other is against Cleveland—one of a four-game series in the Ohio city having been postponed through the activities of Jupiter Pluvius.

Hopes were high tonight that weather conditions would permit the staging of the last game of the series with the St. Louis team tomorrow after which the Bengals set to go to Chicago for a four-game tilt with the White Sox.

LACKED HEART TO MAKE K. O.

Mulholland Quits Boxing and Opens Women's Hat Stores.

Indianapolis, Ind.—(NEA)—You need a fighting heart and the viciousness that made Jack Dempsey famous to rate among the top-notchers in the boxing world.

That explains why George Mulholland, former Butler athlete, is now operating a chain of women's hat stores here instead of boxing for a living—he lacked the heart and viciousness.

For four years, Mulholland was a football star at Butler. During those same four years, he boxed quite a bit in collegiate circles.

He had the build of an Iron man and, as a result, he was crowned national A. A. U. junior lightweight champion before he was through as an amateur.

He was also a member of the 1924 Olympic team that Uncle Sam sent to Europe. Like La Barba and a great many amateurs who later cashed in as professionals, Mulholland felt the need of big dough—especially since college expenses were piling up regardless of the size of his roll—and turned pro last December.

The beginning of his professional career was most successful. He chalked up victories against some of the best light heavies, despite his lack of experience. He had everything. That is, everything but the fighting heart that could have made him a great fighter.

He had the punch to rock 'em to sleep, but he never used it. He didn't have the heart. He was known for his sportsmanship, one sports writer said, and he never could reconcile himself to battering an opponent until he took the count.

Enter the hat stores. Mulholland said he couldn't work under any man and that he had to get into a business of his own. Millinery shops have always ran in his family, so it was not surprising to find him interested in that line. Managing three women's hat stores is about all one fellow can worry about any way, and this enterprise of the youth who might have been a king in the boxing world is something quite different from any athlete's attempts in the business.

GIRLS' CHORUS REGISTERS HIT

Oriole Girls From Augustana Sing to Big Crowd Last Night.

The Oriole Chorus—a group of talented and attractive songbirds—convinced a large audience in Bethany Lutheran church last night that Augustana college musical organizations can always be depended upon to furnish thoroughly artistic and delightfully entertaining programs. Escanaba had heard the Augustana band and the Augustana men's glee club. Both had scored heavily with local music lovers. The Oriole girls completely captivated their hearers.

The chorus was under the direction of Arthur E. Cassling whose artistry and good taste were apparent throughout. The program was well balanced and presented with the youthful spirit which characterizes all good college singing groups. Assisting as soloists were Ervald B. Lawson, an unusually capable violinist; Miss Agnes Olson, soprano, and Miss Edna Meckel, pianist-accompanist. Illness of Miss Florence Campbell, soprano soloist, made it impossible for her to appear and Miss Linnea Lund, of Escanaba, a former Oriole, sang solo parts with the chorus, and did it splendidly.

The program was as follows:

CRIME BOARD SEES A BAD FARM FUTURE

By NEA Service.

New York—An intensely pessimistic picture of the rural community has been drawn by the New York State Crime Commission.

It is one of disillusionment and distrust in the promises of farm life, and ends up in the most disheartening prediction for the farmer—that of fast decay and abandonment of American rural areas.

This drab outlook is foreshadowed on the strength of an investigation of two counties in New York state and the investigator's report of conditions he found there.

Country Is "Doomed".

"He has observed a community breakdown," the report reads, referring to the investigator's experiences, "due largely to a drift toward amusements away from the village, but mainly because the boys and girls as they grow up move away from the home community."

"He was very pessimistic on this point and stated that the rural sections were doomed as the younger people are not building up these communities."

"He felt that within the next generation the rural areas would be utterly depopulated. Farms would be abandoned and we would have forests springing up again."

Auto Is Blamed.

The investigator in these counties found greater social than criminal infractions, such as are prevalent in cities. There was no community force to keep the youngsters interested in their homes, he learned. So they drove out to dances and more dangerous diversions.

"The automobile," says the report, "has greatly complicated special problems connected with sex and liquor."

AGED MAN DIES FROM ACCIDENT

Death Car Driver Blameless for Crash at Poor Farm.

John Agneu, 75, employed as fireman at the Delta county poor farm, died at St. Francis hospital yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from injuries received yesterday morning when he was struck by an automobile driven by Ernest Zeno, who was returning to this city from the Escanaba paper mill.

Zeno was driving between 25 and 30 miles an hour when he approached the crossroad that leads to the poor farm. A car was parked near the interurban station and as Zeno passed it, Agneu walked out of the side road. Zeno applied the brakes and attempted to stop, but was unsuccessful. Agneu was knocked down the car crashing on into a tree.

Although suffering from a severe cut in the head, Zeno assisted the aged man into his car and took him to St. Francis hospital. The accident was unavoidable, members of the sheriff's department said, following an investigation. The probe will be continued today, but it is not likely that a coroner's inquest will be held as Zeno was clearly blameless.

Agneu was more familiarly known as "Jack o' Diamonds," and was formerly employed in the woods, making his home in Escanaba when not at work. For the past few years he had been employed at the poor-farm.

STOCK JUDGES HARD AT WORK

Hugh Swanson Chairman of Upper Peninsula Committee.

The Escanaba high school field crops and dairy judging teams that last year took first places in both events at the Northern Michigan fair are making preparations under the direction of Hugo Swanson, agricultural instructor, to attend the contest at Chatham May 27 and 28. The contest is open to all upper peninsula schools teaching agriculture.

A change in the time of the contest was made by the committee on rules and regulations, of which Mr. Swanson is chairman, at their meeting held in Hermansville.

In 1925, the contest was held in the fall of the year. The committee decided that it should be changed to the spring so as to allow students to have almost one school year of experience before entering the contest. G. A. Thorpe, superintendent of schools at Stephenson and Guy Williams of Hermansville are on the committee with Mr. Swanson.

The changing of the contest from the Northern State Fair to the Chatham fair was made, because of the utility of the upper peninsula experimental station there.

Each school will be allowed to enter five students in the dairy and field crops contest. The three students with highest scores will be picked from these five for team competition, by the judges.

Mr. Swanson has not yet decided which students would represent Escanaba at Chatham.
