HOOVER CAL'S OWN ENVOY TO FLOOD AREAS

VISIT MAY HELP TO ERASE SECTIONAL LINES.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Apr. 28.—If there lingered any doubts as to President Coolidge's esteem for Herbert Hoover, it has been dispelled here by the dispatch of the secretary of commerce to the Mississippi flood area.

Everybody recognizes that a crisis frequently gives an opportunity to a public man to develop political strength. If, as has been suggested, Mr. Coolidge was nettled by the growing popularity of Mr. Hoover, there might have been reason to send some other cabinet officer to the scene—at least some one like the secretary of war, whose name has not been linked with a presidential boom.

Mr. Hoover has insisted both publicly and privately, that he believes Mr. Coolidge not only should be renominated, but re-elected. It has, however, been generally assumed here that if perchance Mr. Coolidge decided not to run, he would favor the election of Mr. Hoover as the Republican nominee. In fact, Mr. Hoover's friends are hopeful that this may come to pass in 1932. Certainly, Mr. Coolidge has given the secretary of commerce free rein and he has every confidence in him.

No Fear of Hoover.

In sending Mr. Hoover to New Orleans, Mr. Coolidge has made amends for any possible ill-feeling which might have been provoked here by the published report which misconstrued an innocent remark on the part of the president in discussing the rumors of a vacancy in the secretaryship of state. Mr. Coolidge has let it be known since then that he thought his hearers understood that he did not wish to move Mr. Hoover from the department of commerce because he was so much more valuable there than in any other department.

In sending Mr. Hoover to New Orleans, the president has also demonstrated that he is not afraid to place Mr. Hoover conspicuously before the American public in a manner likely to make the latter much more eligible as a possible contender for the nomination in 1928. Indeed, the president knows that Mr. Hoover is not concerning himself at all with the politics but is endeavoring to render a maximum of service. Emergencies like that in the Mississippi Valley immediately charged the mind of a man like Mr. Hoover who has a fascination for organization and relief work in moments of stress. His experience in organizing relief work in Belgium and later in Russia as well as his handling of the problem of the food administration here during the war, caused the president to give Mr. Hoover preference over the secretary of war, who normally would handle matters of this kind.

Mr. Coolidge did not send Mr. Hoover, however, to the flood area, merely as the secretary of commerce but as his personal representative. During the Dayton flood, President Wilson, in 1913, sent Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, so there is precedent for dispatch of cabinet officer as a representative of the federal government in a crisis of this kind.

The administration here hopes the incident will have the effect of erasing any charge of sectionalism which may have been directed toward the president before. Usually a Republican administration feels less inclined to worry about a section of the country whose political rewards are so regularly handed to the opposite party. Mr. Coolidge feels that in the recent cotton crisis as well as in the Mississippi flood situation, his administration acted promptly and without regard to sectionalism and his friends therefore are inclined to point to the two episodes as proof of the national point of view of the chief executive.

Senate Approves Radio Regulation

Lansing, April 29.—(P)—The Armstrong bill, which would give the Michigan public utilities commission authority to establish zones and control radio broadcasting in the state, was adopted unanimously by the senate today. The measure was sent to Gov. Fred W. Green.

The intent of the bill as explained by Representative Joseph C. Armstrong of Detroit is to drive out of the state the so-called regenerating stations which interfere with clear reception and to control the hours of broadcasting. The bill specifically states that the commission shall give preference to the older stations.

Evacuating Area Near Dynamited Levee

This Photograph shows the beginning of the exodus from the St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes in Louisiana, which are to be flooded by dynamiting the Mississippi levee near Poydras in order to prevent a great disaster at New Orleans. Mrs. Tony Nacoia, mother of ten children, eight of whom are shown in this picture, was among the first of the refugees to reach New Orleans, with some of her household goods packed on the truck. Her husband and two other children rode mules to the city.

Soldiers of the Louisiana National Guard, shown above, are patrolling the levee below New Orleans and helping to bring out the families before the dynamiting of the Poydras levee to save New Orleans.

Rushton Whipping Post Bill Vetoes

Lansing, April 29.—(P)—Gov. Fred W. Green today drew the pencil of disapproval through the legislature's whipping post bill. He vetoed Senator H. J. Rushton's measure providing penalties for armed burglary. The section of the bill that drew his displeasure was an amendment attached by Representative Charles Culver advocating "six lashes on the bare back, well laid on" at intervals during imprisonment.

"We have a new and more stringent criminal code," the governor said in his veto message. "We have bills increasing the penalty for many offenses. This act would bring a great deal of unwelcome notoriety to Michigan and would lead to the belief that the legislature was suffering from hysteria due to a desire to curb crime. There would be no commensurate benefits."

ACTOR'S DEATH VERDICT GIVEN

Jury Orders Further Investigation; Stories Conflicting.

Los Angeles, April 29.—(P)—An open verdict was returned by a coroner's jury here today in the death of Tom Kerrick, movie and cowboy, after Miss Anita Davis, film extra, had testified the shooting of the actor during a drinking party early Wednesday was accidental. Further investigation of the case was ordered by the jury.

GREEN AIMS TO OUST HOFFMAN

Investigation of Pharmacy Board Points at Director.

Jackson, April 29.—(P)—James E. Way, Jackson druggist, who is president of the state board of pharmacy, asserts that Gov. Fred W. Green's investigation of the board, announced Friday in an Associated Press dispatch from Lansing, had been under way for some time. He says that special agents for the governor were in Jackson two weeks ago making inquiries, though they did not call on him.

Mr. Way ascribes the order to an alleged determination on the part of Mr. Green to oust H. H. Hoffman, director of the board, from office, a goal announced by the governor prior to his election. The office of director of the state board of pharmacy, however, is not appointive by the governor, but is filled by the employment of such official by the board. Consequently, Mr. Way points out, it is necessary for Mr. Green to create a new board to accomplish his purpose, the present organization refusing to discharge Mr. Hoffman.

While Governor Green did not make public charges he expects either to verify or disprove through his investigation, a letter written by Claude C. Jones of Battle Creek, member of the state board of pharmacy, to Mr. Way, indicates that they are based on intoxication. He says three affidavits forms are being shown to candidates who took the spring examination for license as pharmacists with request for signatures to one of the three, and that they pertain only to "Blair Scott, an inspector in the employ of the board."

In verification of his statement that the investigation is based on politics and not on improper conduct on the part of members of the board, Mr. Way called attention to Governor Green's written request that he (Mr. Way) resign. The letter was dated from Lansing on January 25, 1927.

In addition to Mr. Way, members of the state board of pharmacy are J. C. Dykema, Grand Rapids; Alex Reid, Detroit; Claude C. Jones, Battle Creek, and Or...

Lita Wins $15,000 Monthly Alimony

WIFE'S COURT VICTORY HITS CHAPLIN HARD

COMEDIAN MUST DIG DEEP UNTIL SUIT IS SETTLED.

Los Angeles, April 29.—(P)—Lita Grey Chaplin today was awarded $15,000 a month alimony pending her suit for divorce from Charlie Chaplin.

Superior Judge Walter Guerin made the order retroactive, the payments to start from January 10, the date on which she filed her complaint. She also was awarded $4,600 for attorneys' fees and $1,629.12 for legal expenses.

Words Fly Fast.

Tidbits for the consumption of the eager gallery which crowded into the courtroom on the heels of the fashionably gowned Mrs. Chaplin, her mother and attorneys, came with rapidity as McNabb began his cross-examination.

Asked if she had bought $8,639 worth of clothes just two days before she left her husband, Mrs. Chaplin promptly declared this was not true. The bill, she said, represented clothes for virtually the entire time she lived with the comedian. McNabb asked why so many clothes were necessary.

"Well, I thought that when my husband began giving other persons diamond bracelets it was time for me to stop making my clothes and buy some," Mrs. Chaplin shot back.

The questioning next turned to a birthday party given by Mrs. Chaplin recently at which she thought she had had about thirty guests. McNabb wanted to know whether there were not fifty-seven guests.

No Objection to Party.

"There might have been," she countered. "You know, I'm not infallible."

At this point, Lyndol Young, one of her attorneys, interjected: "When her husband goes to New York, cavorts around and gives parties and lives like a prince, there should be no objection to his wife giving a birthday party once a year."

Mrs. Chaplin submitted a monthly budget of $3,275 which she said she required to maintain the Chaplin Beverly Hills mansion. It included $500 for groceries, $75 for vegetables, $125 for laundry, $27 for telephone, $100 upkeep for her new automobile, $314 monthly payment on the car, $750 for clothes, $1,131 for servants and other minor items.

Joseph M. Schenck, head of the United Artists, through which Chaplin's pictures are marketed, testified to the earnings of the actor.

The gross income of Chaplin's "Gold Rush" to date was given by him as $2,225,000 of which 75 per cent had been paid the comedian. Hoffman, he declared, was unlike any other artist in the industry, since it took him two or three years to make a picture.

Earning Capacity Less. "We'd lose our bankroll if we had to pay him a salary," Schenck said. He explained that Chaplin's earning capacity is less than that of the other stars of his class, although he receives more when he does work than any of them.

"But he doesn't work except when he is so inclined," Schenck explained. "He works by inspiration; other stars by perspiration."

An order was issued for Mrs. Chaplin to appear May 24 and make a deposition bearing on the divorce complaint.

White Pine Tract Purchase Okehed by State Senate

Lansing, April 29.—(P)—The Karcher bill, providing for the purchase of a tract of virgin white pine timber in Crawford county owned by the Hensen estate, at a cost of $83,500 was adopted by the senate today despite the strenuous objection of Senator Peter B. Lennon.

Down State Basket Factory Destroyed

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 29.—(P)—The Douglas basket factory, one of the largest of the kind in Michigan, was destroyed tonight in a spectacular fire at Douglas, 45 miles southwest of here. The fire, which caused a loss of $145,000, wiped out the small town's only industry and Douglas will be almost deserted next month at the time when usually the factory opened for the market season. About 200 men and women were thrown out of employment.

Fire apparatus from Benton Harbor, Saugatuck, South Haven, Holland and Zeeland responded and aided in saving the town, toward which the flames were carried by a stiff northeast wind. One occupied house adjoining the factory was destroyed. The plant was owned by Wark, Gerber and company, and it will probably not be rebuilt.

COUPLE HEARD WOMAN SCREAM

Pedestrian Testifies at Hearing of Detroit Physician.

Detroit, April 29.—(P)—Testimony of Mrs. Ethel Bell, 24, that she heard moans and screams as she and an escort passed the home of Dr. Frank R. Loomis on the night the physician's wife, Grace, was clubbed to death, featured today's session of Dr. Loomis' examination on a charge of first degree murder.

The witness faced a two-hour cross-examination from Louis J. Colombo, the physician's chief counsel, after she had testified as to her movements on the night of the murder and the time at which she and her escort, Thomas Blockson, passed the Loomis home. Colombo attempted to draw from her testimony which would serve as damaging to her credibility.

Mrs. Bell testified the time of passing the Loomis home and hearing the moans and screams at shortly before 9 p. m. Before that time, she said, she met Blockson at the barber shop where he works.

"We started from the barber shop about six or seven minutes after 8 o'clock," she said.

"As we reached the curb at Hubbel avenue I heard faint moans, which grew louder as we approached the Loomis home. I asked Mr. Blockson if he heard them, and he said he did.

"Just before we reached the Loomis house the moaning stopped. I looked to see if there were any cars parked in the street. There were not."

"We stood in front of the Loomis house. We listened for about three minutes, standing still. Then we proceeded. We walked on to the west side of the Loomis house. As we were opposite the Loomis garage we heard a long scream in a woman's voice and about the same time there was a crash of glass from one of the windows in the Loomis sun parlor, which is at the rear of the house."

Horace Dodge Fails to Appear in Court

San Francisco, April 29.—(P)—Horace E. Dodge, Jr., heir to the Dodge Motor millions, was a fugitive from justice in California today because he did not appear in police court to answer to two charges of assault and battery filed against him by San Francisco newspapermen.

Police Judge Joseph M. Golden declared he forfeited the $500 bail on which Dodge was released and issued a bench warrant for his arrest. The case was then continued ninety days.

SENATE BURIES LABOR MEASURE

Would Have Increased Powers of State Department.

Lansing, April 29.—(P)—The senate disposed of the Binning labor bill today by sending it to the committee on agriculture with instructions that it "be buried deep in the soil."

This bill, introduced by Senator Jay Binning of Jackson, who has, since submitting it, expressed regret that it bore his name, would have given the department of labor and industry, authority to control construction, alteration or maintenance of factories and the conduct of employers, employes and other persons.

Senator Thomas Read, who led the fight to keep the bill on the floor of the senate today arraigned the measure so "vicious as to threaten individual enterprise and which would tend to establish a system in this state more radical than any yet attempted in soviet Russia."

"The department would be able to enter any factory, close open shops," cause the destruction of buildings and cause other acts which would drive industry from the state," he said.

He described the measure as the "Moscow-Lenin-Trotsky bill," and explained his desire to discuss the bill as merely an attempt to "educate the people by showing them the intent of certain individuals who are attempting to take upon themselves extraordinary powers not exceeded by the legislature itself."

The bill would give the department authority to make rules relative to the erection and demolishing of buildings and structures, and further declares that these rules shall not be "limited by any specific enumeration of powers."

Senator Leland objected to having the bill sent to the committee of which he is chairman. Thursday, the bill was sent to the state affairs committee despite the objection of Senator Ari H. Woodruff, the chairman.

Senator Woodruff immediately called a meeting of the committee and the bill was sent to the floor again. "We have junk in our committee now," said Senator Woodruff.

Senator Leland announced that he would announce the date of the funeral so that all members of the senate may mourn with the members of committee.

TWO PARISHES INUNDATED TO SAVE ORLEANS

LEEVE BREAK IN AR-KANSAS MENACES HUNDREDS.

BULLETIN.

Little Rock, Ark., April 29.—(P)—The toll of human life taken by the Arkansas flood leaped to 419 tonight. Three negroes were drowned near England when their boat capsized. Two white bodies were found floating in the back water near Forest City. A negro woman died of exposure at Davis hospital in Jefferson county and a negro died of exposure in Forest City.

Eleven persons had a narrow escape from drowning in St. Francis county when their truck turned off the highway into deep back waters.

3 DIKES MENACED

(By The Associated Press)

Engineers dynamite Mississippi river levee at Poydras, La., to relieve situation at New Orleans, a few miles upstream. Water running through small breaks. Expect increased volume as erosion widens crevasse.

Two or three days probably will be required before full extent of emergency measure can be determined.

Three levees on Arkansas and Mississippi rivers threatened. Breaks in any of these would add many thousands of acres to the approximately 11,000 square miles already under water and endanger several towns.

Red Cross announces population of 58 refugee camps at 140,000, adding that the list is incomplete. Number of isolated camps and thousands marooned on levees bring estimated total homeless to 200,000.

Acute conditions prevail in southeastern Arkansas. Lake Village reports 700 to 1,000 persons still marooned in lowlands and town under 3 to 5 feet of water.

New fleet of relief boats converge on lower Mississippi delta where refugees are clinging to housetops or trees and congregating on small levees.

Back waters create serious situation along Red and Black rivers in northern Louisiana.

New Orleans, April 29.—(P)—St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes tonight were a land without people as water trickled through the small crevasses, torn today by dynamite in the Mississippi levee.

An airplane flight by an Associated Press correspondent revealed a countryside deserted, farm plots without tillers, churches without priests.

Virtually all the residents who had remained in the neighborhood of Poydras, the flight showed, in spite of the trepidation with which they beheld the efforts to send the water upon their homes, assembled about the levees to witness the shots which would release the flood.

Elsewhere there were no signs of life. Hundreds of houses stood deserted in the little village about the two parishes. Fields in which tiny green sprouts could be seen dotting the rich black soil held no workers.

Won't Damage Courthouse. The highest building in the region which it is believed will be inundated after the waters have cut a clean path through the embankments, the three-story courthouse of St. Bernard parish, probably will not be greatly damaged by the flood waters.

Scores of workmen were busily engaged in throwing up protective...

Escanaba Donates $102 for Relief of Flood Victims

CONTRIBUTIONS to the Delta county Red Cross fund for the relief of flood sufferers in the Lower Mississippi Valley totalled $102 last night, it was announced by L. G. Sawdy, secretary of the local Red Cross unit.

It is believed, however, that many more citizens will desire to contribute to the cause. Scores of lives have been lost and the property damage will run into millions of dollars. Food supplies have been wiped out and the help of all the people of the nation is urgently needed.

Checks may be sent to Mr. Sawdy or, if it is more convenient, they will be handled by The Daily Press and turned over to the Red Cross organization.

and allied agencies continued the heroic battle although severely taxed already by the tasks of rescuing and providing for the thousands of homeless.

Breaks in any of the levees would cause inundation of many thousands of acres and would endanger several towns besides rendering additional thousands homeless and complicating the work of the relief machine.

The cave-in on the Arkansas came as a surprise to engineers who have labored two weeks with armies of men to save South Bend levee. The South Bend dike still was holding while the slough-off occurred on a section of a dike nearby. No water poured through the levee because the cave-in occurred on the river side and did not cause the whole structure to fall.

Would Complete Flooding. A break at or near South Bend would virtually complete the flooding of southeast Arkansas, already largely under water from the Peledonia break of the Arkansas levee system.

Should the Glasscock levee let go most of the lower portions of Concordia and Catahoula parishes would be flooded. These lands lie between the Mississippi and the Old and Red rivers and already are under considerable back water.

Meanwhile, acute situations were reported in the sections of the flooded southeastern Arkansas country and the great inland sea which covers the fertile Mississippi delta a few days ago was the scene of preparations for spring farming operations.

Lake Village, Ark., reported that from 700 to 1,000 persons still were marooned in the lowlands near the city which is under from three to 15 feet of water.

Most of the citizens remained living on the upper floors of dwellings while the rescue of the country folk was hurried. Ashley county received more water and Marked Tree, Ark., far to the north, expected at least two more feet of flood from the Doran break back water.

Boats Move South. New fleets of relief boats were converging on the lower Mississippi delta section where many refugees were reported clinging to house-tops, trees and small levees, particularly in the Sunflower river basin and in the lowlands of the Yazoo river where the flood waters from Stopp's Landings break on the Mississippi piled up on joining the back water from winter rains.

As the Mississippi river crest moved southward, raising the level of small tributaries in northern Louisiana so that backwaters were forced out over wide areas, serious situations were presented at several places along the Red and Black rivers and their lagoon-like tributaries.

Hundreds Menaced. The flood waters will pour into territory already largely inundated from previous breaks further upstream. Grave fears were felt by relief workers for hundreds of persons reported still marooned from the first flood wave, for the South Bend waters will raise the depth of the flood in several towns. Already in some parts of the lowlands water has been reported 10 to 30 feet deep.

The waters from the break will leave hardly a dry spot in southeast Arkansas except Monticello and Grady which already have 7,000 refugees.

Evacuation of many affected towns and villages began soon after the break. Lieut. Grif McSwine of the U. S. army air force who was on the scene, leaped into his plane and spread the alarm, dropping warnings from the air, at Gould, where a refugee train has been held in readiness.

LEVEES MAY BREAK. Memphis, Tenn., April 29—(AP)—Flood waters of the Mississippi and Arkansas rivers threatened four levees tonight as they raced to the lower delta where an artificial crevasse was torn in the dyke at Poydras to save New Orleans from possible inundation. Eleven thousand square miles in the valley already are under water.

Near South Bend on the Arkansas river and at the Glasscock levee on the western side of the Mississippi river, in northern Louisiana, the situation was reported to be critical. Sections of the great bulwarks were caving into the river or the water was spilling over the top.

Engineers said dangerous conditions prevailed at Vidalia, La., opposite Natchez, Miss., and at St. Joseph, La., 40 miles south of Vicksburg. Both levees form part of the main system.

140,000 in Camps. The Red Cross today announced the population of 145 refugee camps at 140,000. It was added, however, that the figures were incomplete. The number in isolated camps or still marooned brought the estimated total to 200,000. With armies of men battling desperately to strengthen crumbling bulwarks the American Red Cross

WIDOW DENIES GUILT, SHIFTS BLAME TO GRAY

her since the trial began—black hat, black coat and black dress. Henry Judd Gray sat, chin in hand, almost indifferently, as she told her story, rousing himself once when she told of seeing him astride her husband as he lay in bed, bludgeoning him with a sash weight and at other points slightly shaking his head as if in disagreement with her story.

Mrs. Snyder's testimony was given, for most part, in unusually good English, spoken in a modulated but, at times, metallic voice. She cried twice. Her first tears came when she spoke of her husband being angry because their daughter, Lorraine, now 3 years of age, was not a boy. She wept a second time when she described Gray's bludgeoning of her husband.

A police matron, who has remained at her side throughout the trial, gave her water to drink and patted her on the shoulder both times.

Mrs. Snyder's version of her married life was much different from that outlined by the state.

Short Courtship. She met her husband through her work and was married to him a few months after the first meeting. For a short time they were happy, but he was still in love, she said, with a former fiancée, Jessie Gehart, who had died.

She was unhappy and there were quarrels. To bring happiness to their home, she desired a child, and Lorraine was born. Her husband, she testified, was disappointed because it was not a boy. Many quarrels followed. But she remained a faithful wife, doing all her own housework until she met Gray.

After the friendship had transgressed her matrimonial vows which she admitted in a clear voice, Gray began to talk to her about insurance, telling her he was insured for $30,000. He expressed surprise when she told him that her husband of whom they spoke as "the governor" had only a policy of $1,000.

She then "began to talk insurance to her husband," not knowing what she avowed Gray had in mind. The policies, she said, were obtained without trickery and Albert Snyder knew all about them. But she kept the policies, paying the premiums out of a joint bank account.

Gray Borrowed Money. Then Gray, she said, began to borrow money from her. He borrowed $90 to pay an installment on his car. He borrowed $200 to pay a debt he owed "Alice of Buffalo," another "sweetheart." He borrowed other sums, but repaid none. In the early part of 1927 the plot, she said, began to take definite shape. She was going out of her home one day. Her husband was asleep. She tripped over a gas cock near the floor.

When she returned she found her husband staggering about the house. He said he had almost asphyxiated. She wrote of this to Gray. His reply, she quoted loudly, was "too bad the hose wasn't long enough to go into the governor's nose."

Federal Cops Make $12,500 Booze Haul. Detroit, April 29—(AP)—Beer valued at more than $12,500 was seized today by federal border patrol agents in a freight car shunted onto a siding. An investigation is being conducted to determine if the liquor, which was labeled as Canadian, was loaded in Detroit or was shipped across the border.

ville Florie, Grand Rapids. The latter was appointed in March by Governor Green to fill a vacancy on the board by the expiration of the five-year term of J. A. Skinner of Cedar Springs. Mr. Way asserts that Mr. Hoxie has not been asked by the governor to resign.

Lansing, Apr. 29—(AP)—An investigation of complaints against members of the state board of pharmacy has been ordered, Gov. Fred W. Green said today. The governor declined to comment on the charges. He said he had received a number of complaints. Members of the board have been requested to appear before the governor next week for a hearing.

Some time ago the governor asked the members of the board to resign. They refused. Board members declared the governor's request for their resignation was "political," and that he wanted to oust H. H. Hoffman, director of the board, who supported Alex J. Grosbeck in the last campaign.

Farmer Lad Losing Battle for Breath. Doanoke, Va., April 29—(AP)—Walter L. Boothe, 18-year-old farm lad, who has kept alive more than a week by artificial respiration, was growing weaker tonight and his physicians believed death was near.

Yesterday, young Boothe showed signs of improvement, but today there was a marked relapse. At times he complained, almost inaudibly, that the continuous raising and lowering of his arms was forcing insufficient air into his inert lungs.

"Press harder," he would tell the friends who labored over him, and then a few moments later would complain of too severe pressure on his chest.

Boothe sustained a dislocated vertebra in an automobile accident last year. A week ago yesterday at noon most of his body became paralyzed. Friends had administered artificial respiration since.

Four Killed When Airplane Crashes. Norfolk, Va., April 29—(AP)—Lieutenant V. F. Marinelli, attached to the Hampton Roads naval air station, and a Lieutenant Leyman, said to be attached to the Philadelphia navy yard, and two enlisted men were killed today this afternoon when a bolt of lightning hit their plane, plunging it into Chesapeake Bay off New Point Comfort. All apparently were killed instantly.

State Authorities Find Escaped Leper. Raleigh, N. C., April 29—(AP)—State authorities today reported that John Early, leper, had been located in western North Carolina and word had been received from the Carville, La., federal leprosarium, that a physician was on his way there to take Early back to the camp from which he escaped.

Authorities said Polk county officers were in touch with the roaming leper.

ALTITUDE AIDS HEARING. Hackensack, N. J.—Diving 7,000 feet in an airplane improved the hearing of Miss Lucy Crill 25 per cent, according to her physician, Dr. Paul Winslow, who recommended the flight. While the rapid change in air pressure improved her, it slightly deafened the pilot of the airplane.

Measure Proposing to Appoint State School Head Killed

Lansing, April 29—(AP)—A proposal to make the state superintendent of public instruction appointive rather than elective was killed by the house of representatives today. Senator Thomas Read's resolution, advocating a constitutional amendment to remove the superintendent from the ballot and make him appointive by the state board of education, was riddled with amendments and then voted down. Representative John Harris, asserting the right of the people to elect state officers should be preserved, offered an amendment eliminating the part of the resolution providing for appointment. It was adopted and the measure then was meaningless.

The house defeated Representative Fred R. Ming's bill, providing for higher salaries for the commissioners of health and securities and the director of conservation. The vote was reconsidered, however, and the measure was laid on the table for future consideration.

In an effort to speed up adjournment the house met Friday afternoon for the first time this season. Adjournment usually is taken at noon.

Senator Ari Woodruff's bill providing for the improvement of the St. Clair flats, at the expense of lessees, was adopted with amendments authorizing the dredging and cleaning of creeks and canals as well as the construction of paths.

Boy, 15, Gets Life for Killing Mother

Poplar Bluffs, Mo., April 29—(AP)—Earl Jackson, 15 years old, was sentenced to life imprisonment tonight after a jury had found him guilty of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Jackson, 21. Jackson showed no emotion when sentence was pronounced.

Mrs. Jackson was killed with a shotgun last October 7 and her body placed in a shallow grave on the Jackson farm where it was discovered February 15.

His father, Marion Jackson, 48, will go on trial soon on the murder charge, having been involved by the son, who confessed he killed his stepmother at his father's command.

Railroads Carried Booze Into States

Windsor, Ont., April 29—(AP)—The alleged carrying of liquor into the United States from Windsor in cars of three railroads was delved into in today's session of the royal commission investigating smuggling and the liquor traffic in Ontario.

The way for the investigation was paved when N. M. Rowell, counsel for the commission, questioned Samuel Low, partner in a transit company, a shareholder in a transit company, and the agent for a distillery. Low admitted authorship of a letter which he had written to an official of the Canadian Pacific railway in behalf of a Windsor employe who was under suspicion in connection with alleged liquor shipments into Detroit. He denied, however, that he had made proposals to the employe, Charles F. Hawker, a railroad yardmaster, or John McGowan, yardmaster for another railroad, to fill empty cars with liquor, resal them and then reship them to the United States.

McGowan, called to the stand, testified that Hawker made an appointment with him to meet a "Mr. Low," who broached to him a plan of shipping liquor to the American side with the help of other Windsor railroad men. Part of "Low's" plan, McGowan said, was to provide both American and Canadian customs seals.

Washington, April 29—(AP)—Renewed efforts to block rum running on the Detroit river were decided upon today at a conference between C. D. Ferguson, Detroit collector of customs; W. J. Hanlon, director of the board of patrol at Detroit, and Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury under new regulations. Ferguson assumes responsibility for supervising the government's restrictive efforts after May 1. Details of new plans were not announced.

PETER THE GREAT
The Miracle Dog of the Movies
in THE SIGN of the CLAW

This is a brand new idea in stories featuring the world's greatest canine actor—and when we say great—we mean just that. Peter is the greatest in size, ability, intelligence and reasoning power.

The story is the first metropolitan mystery drama ever made featuring a dog star. It has thrills, excitement, romance and adventure all through.

You'll love it.

BUREAU PLANS JUNE MEETING

Iron Mountain to Be Host to U. P. D. B. This Year.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau officers and directors will be held in Iron Mountain June 1 and 2, according to definite announcement by George E. Bishop, of Marquette, secretary-manager. The invitation to hold the annual meeting in that city was extended some time ago by the Iron Mountain Chamber of Commerce.

It is anticipated that many of the officers, directors, speakers and delegates will arrive in Iron Mountain the afternoon of June 1. Those who wish to play golf will be extended the privilege of the Pine Grove Country club. There will be a business session in the evening for officers and directors of the bureau.

Thursday, June 2, at 10 a. m. the officers and directors will meet in the court room of the Dickinson county court house. The annual reports of the treasurer and the secretary will be received and the various committees appointed. This will be an open meeting, with an opportunity for all citizens interested to discuss the work of the bureau. Two addresses by prominent speakers will conclude the session.

A complimentary invitational lunch will be served at 12:15 p. m., at the roof garden of the Nightingale pavilion. This will be followed by an open meeting to which the public will be invited. There will be several short talks.

The Upper Peninsula Supervisors' association and all the luncheon clubs in the peninsula have been asked to send delegates to the Iron Mountain meeting. The Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of Iron Mountain are co-operating with the chamber of commerce in the plans for the annual session.

The following speakers have accepted places on the program: Leigh J. Young, director state department of conservation; Dean John D. Willard, Michigan State college, Lansing; Dr. Raphael Zon, director lake states forest experiment station, St. Paul; Carol O. Sweet, president Michigan Tourist and Resort association and president of the Old National bank, of Grand Rapids and E. G. Amos, supervisor of upper peninsula county agents, Marquette.

Governor Fred W. Green has assured the directors of the bureau that he will accompany Mr. Young and Dean Willard if his schedule will permit. The program is still incomplete, a number of added features being under consideration.

St. Joe High Gives Forestry Program

In response to President Coolidge's forestry proclamation, endorsed by Mayor Geniesse, the botany class of St. Joseph's high school gave a Forestry Week program Friday afternoon. Several reports relating to the subject were prepared as follows:

President Coolidge's Proclamation—Robert Finley.
Mayor Geniesse's Proclamation—George Stolk.
Reforestation—Rowan Fitzharris.
Forest Extension in Michigan—Horold Frederickson.
American Forest Week Facts—Lucille Stockemer.
Preserving the Tree—Beulah Kiefer.
Forest of Chalcedony—Margaret Hart.

Play to Be Given by Epworth Leagues of Two Churches

Plans are under way for the joint staging by the Epworth Leagues of the Stephenson Methodist church and the Escanaba First Methodist church, of Booth Tarkington's play, "The Intimate Stranger." The cast is to be selected from the two organizations. Rev. W. Leslie Williams of Stephenson will direct the piece. It will be given in both cities late next month.

Tickets Available for Outdoor Show

Escanabans who expect to attend the National Outdoor Life Exposition in Chicago, May 9-14, may get free admission tickets at the chamber of commerce, "as long as they last." It was announced yesterday. The tickets were issued by the management in connection with the local exhibit—a part of the upper peninsula department—at the show. They will be given out on a "first come-first served" plan, Secretary O. I. Bandeen said.

Dan Dewey Starts New Industry to Make Furnaces

Dan Dewey, well-known Escanaban, who for a year has been in the furnace business in Fond du Lac, has established the Dewey Furnace company here and will manufacture hot-air heating plants of his own special and improved design. The establishment will be located at 108 South Twelfth street.

The Chatfield Foundry, yesterday, started the special casting necessary for the furnace which will be totally an Escanaba-made product. One of the furnaces will be assembled and placed on display within the next ten days.

J. L. Faber, of Fond du Lac, a furnace erector of long experience, will be in charge of the production and installation branch of the new industry.

OBITUARY

MRS. SUSAN A. McMARTIN.

Many sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral services which were held Friday afternoon for Mrs. Susan Alice McMARTIN, widow of the late Silas L. McMARTIN. Rev. R. C. G. Williams officiated at the services which were held at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 614 South Thirteenth street, and at 2:30 o'clock at the First M. E. church.

Reverend Williams spoke on the theme, "The Christian's Assurance," taking his text from Paul's Second Epistle to the Corinthians, 5:1: "For we know if our earthly house of the tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not built by hands eternal in the heavens."

Many beautiful flowers adorned the front of the church, tokens of esteem from the many friends of the family.

The pallbearers were T. C. Wilkinson, William Craig, John Clifford, H. J. Robertson, C. E. Snyder and Gust Wellman.

Interment was in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

A son, Raymond L. McMARTIN of Chicago, came to this city for the funeral services.

MRS. H. W. PETERS.

The body of Mrs. H. W. Peters has been shipped from Omaha, Neb., to this city and is expected to arrive Sunday morning. It will be taken to the Anderson Funeral Home. Funeral services will be held from the funeral home at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Rev. J. B. Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Mrs. Peters was a former resident of this city and will be remembered as the former Miss Matie V. Cox.

Escanaba Women Attend Meeting At Manistique

A number of Escanaba women attended the forty-fifth annual meeting of the Women's and Young People's Missionary societies of the Lake Superior Presbytery held at Manistique, April 28 and 29. The meetings of the conference were held in the Church of the Redeemer.

The Escanaba delegates were: Mrs. Charles Spangler, Mrs. L. Long, Mrs. H. Ames, Mrs. Frank Lindsley, Mrs. D. A. Oliver, Miss Alma Suter and Mrs. Fred Wagon-houser.

PERKINS CLUBS EXHIBIT WORK

Large Crowd Attends Entertainment at High School.

Perkins, April 29—(Special)—Wednesday night, April 27, was Achievement Night for members of the boys' and girls' 4-H clubs of the Perkins school. On this occasion the clubs presented a joint program and exhibit to the members of the community. The attendance was so large that it was impossible to seat all in the high school room where the entertainment was held. Before and after the program, which began at 8:15 o'clock, the people of the community were given an opportunity to inspect the garments made by the girls during the year and the hand-craft articles made by the boys in the school's carpenter shop. These articles were very well arranged in the spare room of the school. Both the spare room and the high school room were attractively decorated in blue and gold.

The program presented, in detail, follows:
 Club Song—Boys of the Handicraft club.
 Address of Welcome—Elmer LeClaire, president of the Boys' club.
 Chinkman's Song (Pep Song)—Primary children.
 The Youngest of the Family (Monologue)—Elsie Gibbs.
 The Raggedy Man (Recitation)—Marvin Boprie.
 Little Boy Blue (Recitation)—Byron Whitney.
 Murdering the Language (Sketch)—Grammar room group.
 The Little Tin Train (Reading)—Billy Moreau.
 Miss Iva Newway's School (Pantomime)—High school group.
 Yulius Jensen, Yanitor (Monologue)—Lloyd Logan.
 The Icicle (Recitation)—Leo Miljour.
 Baby Dear (Song)—Eileen Moreau.
 The Duel (Recitation)—Marjorie Beachamp.
 The Rival Speakers (Dialogue)—Floyd Fuhrman and Lawrence Lancour.
 Mary Lou (Song)—Jane Gibbs.
 When I Was a Baby (Song)—Primary girls.
 The Jamaica Kid and His Banjo (Song)—Elmer LeClaire.
 Prize winners were announced and certificate awards were made to the club members by J. E. Turner, county agent, and Miss DuBord, upper peninsula garment club leader.
 The winners in each year's work were announced as follows:
 Handicraft club—Second year, David LeChance, first; Floyd Fuhrman, second; Oliver Miljour, third. Third year, Victor Beasw, first. Fourth year, Earl Miljour, first; the Danville Banstrom and Lloyd Logan tied for second; Fifth year, Elmer LeClaire, first.
 Girls' Garment club—First year, Dorothy Munn, first; Blanch Beachamp, second. Second year, Mary Gibbs, first; Evelyn Miljour, second; Betty Gibbs, third.
 Ice cream was sold by the clubs at the exhibition. Money raised will be used to pay the expenses of attending the county round-up to be held at Escanaba next week.
 Club work during the year has been under the direction of the teachers of the Perkins school, Viola Vinge, Maud Cripe and J. Gunnar Back. The year has been one of the most successful in the history of the school.

SOCIAL

Miss Esther Jensen was the honor guest at a miscellaneous shower given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Arntsen, 702 South Twelfth street. Games were played, and a delicious lunch was served. Miss Jensen was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts. Miss Jensen is to be married Monday, May 2.

E. M. S. Junior Prom. More than seventy-five couples attended the annual Junior Prom, given in the Escanaba high school gymnasium last night. The party is given each year by the junior class for members of the graduating class.

The gym was prettily decorated in blue and white. The plan of an old-fashioned garden was followed. Dancing was from 8:30 to 11:30. Music was furnished by the Arcadians dance orchestra.

Municipal Band to Give Sacred Concert Sunday

The Escanaba Municipal band, under the direction of Joseph Greenfield, will give a sacred concert in the high school auditorium Sunday night.

This will probably be the last indoor appearance of the band. The outdoor park concert season will open shortly.

Mr. Greenfield has arranged a splendid program of sacred music by the band and there also will be several special numbers by assisting artists.

No admission will be charged and the public is invited.

St. Joseph Juniors Will Give "Prom"

At a meeting held Friday afternoon, the junior class of St. Joseph's high school decided to entertain the seniors at a "prom" on Friday evening, May 20. The juniors are hereby establishing a precedent which will be enthusiastically met by the students and patrons of St. Joe's.

Navy Recruiter Lists Advantages to Youth of U. S.

E. J. Cook, in charge of the United States Navy recruiting office in the federal building, yesterday issued the following statement concerning the navy and the advantages it offers to young men:

"The people of the United States know too little about our navy as beneficiaries of this enormous activity upon whose interest its maintenance depends. The more our citizens know of their navy the better will it be kept in condition to fulfill its purpose in an emergency. It has frequently been stated that the navy is a large business organization in which the people are the stockholders and congress the board of directors.

"We think of the navy as a well-developed fighting machine manned by a personnel trained in the most minute details as to the operation of its units. We recall with increasing pride the glorious achievements of the navy in helping to establish the independence of this country and in upholding and enforcing its principles for more than 150 years.

"It has probably not occurred to many that the developments of the navy have been largely conceived by individuals in the navy itself. Nor it is probable that a great many people realize that to finance these developments, to operate and maintain the completed units it has been necessary to set up within the navy itself a great business organization schooled in the handling of its own affairs.

"The people of the United States do not fully understand what the navy is, what its people are like, what it does, and its value as a protective power to the nation and a constructive agency for furthering the advancement of youth.

"Men from every part of the United States are enlisted in the navy, trained and then sent to all parts of the world. The young men are trained to think of the United States as a great nation among other nations of the world. Their ideas are changed from those of a small man in a small community to those of a man of the world with world-wide experience. Young men between the ages of 17 and 35 are offered the advantages of travel and education in addition to regular salaries. Board, room, enter-

St. Francis Hospital

Mrs. Silvester Denter, who was admitted as a medical patient, is as well as can be expected, but is not allowed any visitors.

Mrs. Fred Nygaard, who is ill with bronchitis, is reported as slightly improved.

Oral Thompson of Boney Falls who underwent an operation, is resting easily.

The stork was liberal with boy babies when he left four at the hospital since Thursday. The proud parents are: Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Heaphy, Mr. and Mrs. A. Seidl, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dupont.

Patients who have sufficiently recovered to return to their homes include Miss Orpha Brotherton, Miss Margaret Beaton, Miss Pearl Harvey, Lonny Vandevort of this city, Mrs. Louis Carron of Gladstone, and Joseph Toussignant of Munising.

Lester Schram is reported as improving.

Mrs. J. Rhaume of Bark River is improving.

City Treasurer's Office Handles Million Dollars

The city treasurer's office handled cash totalling $1,003,226.09 during the year 1926. It was made known in figures compiled by City Treasurer A. J. Manley yesterday. This included utilities collections, taxes and all other money taken in by the city during the year.

tainment and medical attention are all furnished by the government. "There are opportunities today for any young man to enlist and be trained as apprentice seamen, second-class seamen, machinists, radio operators, coopermiths, blacksmiths, boilermakers, buglers, hospital apprentices, and a number of other trades.

"Each year the navy selects 100 enlisted men for a four-year college course at the naval training station at Annapolis.

"Young men who are interested may apply in person at the post-office or by letter."

Engineers Go to Big Meeting Green Bay

Many Escanaba composite engineers gathering of members of the Locomotive and their wives, to be held in Green Bay, Sunday. The delegation will leave for tonight.

The meeting will include the state of Wisconsin and the peninsula of Michigan, and be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this part of the country.

Green Bay is making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the great crowd of visitors.

Check Scholarship of Esky Juniors

Shoes at Kinney's

You frequently hear people say: it pays to buy good shoes. The statement is true, but some think it means that high prices must be paid for quality. Kinney Shoes are good shoes at low prices. The reason for this is plain to more than 6,000,000 people who bought Kinney shoes last year. A great nation-wide organization operating more than 270 shoe stores and selling the output of 5 Kinney factories make possible the economies reflected in Kinney's low prices.

Complete Line of Fresh Fruit and Vegetables
Fresh and Smoked Meats and Sausages at the Right Price

Breakfast—Baked apples, cereal, cream, baked eggs, crisp toast, marmalade, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Steamed macaroni and cheese pudding, lettuce sandwiches, fresh strawberry pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—Roast beef, browned potatoes, horse-radish cream, steamed endive with bacon dressing, stuffed prune salad, coconut cream pie milk, coffee.

In strawberries are not plentiful, dessert with the strawberry flavor is acceptable. Strawberries are just tart enough to "pep up" jaded spring appetites. The pudding planned for the luncheon menu is light but nourishing and is suitable for small children. It makes a perfect finish for the macaroni and cheese pudding.

Fresh Strawberry Pudding.
One pint strawberries, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup sugar, 2 eggs (whites).

Wash berries. Put into a bowl and crush slightly. Let drain. There should be one cup juice. Put juice and water into a smooth sauce pan and bring to the boiling point. Dilute cornstarch with enough cold water to pour easily. Stir into boiling liquid and cook, stirring constantly over hot water for 20 minutes. Add salt and sugar and berries and keep hot over hot water. Fold in whites of eggs.

THE ROAD TO BEAUTY IS FIVE MILES LONG

This clear soap cleanses your millions of pores thoroughly

Every woman admits that clear, healthy pores are the foundation of beautiful skin, and there are 5 miles of them in your body. Beauty experts say that Jap Rose is the one soap that cleanses them most thoroughly and does not clog them. That is because its ingredients (so pure you can see through them) dissolve perfectly in water and enter and cleanse the tiniest pores that coarser soaps would clog. After it cleanses, Jap Rose stimulates circulation. You can tell that by the temporary tingle that follows its first use. The tingle is a sign that your skin is getting healthier—and prettier. Get Jap Rose today.

THE NEWEST OF INDOOR sporting classes has been introduced in Winnipeg, Can., where a hotel staged a porridge eating contest for messengers and bell boys. Scotty Warner, a Scotchman you may be sure, who is pictured with hair parted in the middle, won it by eating two quarts in 4 1/2 minutes.

HERE'S PICTORIAL PROOF that Charlie Chaplin is beginning to feel his old self again. Emerging from the seclusion to which he withdrew after Lita brought her divorce proceedings, Charlie joined in a "Slippery Gulch" carnival given in New York as a charity benefit. In the photo Chaplin beams quizzically from the front seat of the "Slippery Gulch" stagecoach. Riding with him are Julius Miller, president of the Borough of Manhattan, and Mrs. James J. Walker, wife of the New York mayor.

ISN'T SHE ONE OF THE loveliest ladies you ever saw? Her name is Bill Ogilvie, of the University of Wisconsin. Bill's athletic record shouts that he's all man, although in this role, as a female lead in the Harefoot Club's play, "Meet the Prince," he's most lady-like.

FRAMED BY THE TAFFRAIL and stanchions of the welcoming boat Macom, the Steamship Aquitania, agleam from stem to stern with brand new paint, presented a pretty picture as she steamed into New York harbor with her cabins filled with notables. Among them (left to right) were Elmore Leflingwell, who is supervising the removal here from Paris of the famous Pantheon de Guerre; Max Scheuer, captain, and Otto Barr, trainer of the champion Hakoah soccer team, and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon, returning from a visit to his daughter abroad.

VILMA BANKY AND ROD LAROCQUE are two young Hollywood people who spent several days in denying they were engaged. But the reporters kept after them and finally they both 'fessed up. They're engaged, and here they are, Mr. LaRocque wearing his best sideburns.

IT LOOKS LIKE AN ordinary belt, but when danger's near the bather can reach for the little tube, blow up the cinctric and float serenely on. The belt contains a cork and air chamber that can be inflated in a moment. Ma-nilla LeMori of Los Angeles is pictured above demonstrating it.

ATTY. FLOYD E. WHITEMAN of Hornell, N. Y., is blind, but he never misses a ball game when he can help it. Besides attending all the home town games, he is a frequent visitor to big league parks. Friends explain the positions of the players. Whiteman, blind since he was four, was graduated from Cornell with a law degree.

THAT'S WHAT CHIEF OF POLICE JOHN J. HEANY seems here to be saying to Edward Holton James, wealthy Boston lawyer, when he appeared at South Braintree, Mass., to test the evidence against Sacco and Vanzetti by re-enacting the hold-up murder of which they were convicted. James was given five minutes to leave Braintree—and the re-enactment was postponed.

DO BLONDS MAKE good Spanish queen? St. Augustine, Fla., thinks so, for Miss Ruth Graham, a blond from Detroit, has been chosen to preside over the annual Ponce de Leon celebration in April. She is the second blond to be queen of the event.

THE NEW PEACE BRIDGE, connecting Buffalo, N. Y., and Fort Erie, Canada, is pictured above. It is nearly complete and is to be dedicated in May by President Coolidge and the Prince of Wales. The span is dedicated to the 100 years of peace between the United States and Canada and as a reminder that no fortifications exist on either side of the border from coast to coast.

WANNA PLAY PLUNDER? Who wouldn't if Jolie Marie Conkwright was the pirate? Very naturally, there are others who dispute the statement that Marie is the prettiest model in New York but they'll have to present formidable proof. This is the free-boater's get-up in which Marie brightened the recent Illustrators' Ball in the metropolis.

LUMBER REVIEW

In its weekly review of the market, the American Lumberman, Chicago, says:

Demand for softwood during the week ended April 15 amounted to the same percentage, 112, of production as in the preceding week. Total business for the year to date, however, is a little behind that for the corresponding period of last year.

IN NEW YORK

New York.—Since the urchin of Manhattan will never know the joys of sneaking under circus tents or many another thrill known to any kind of the small town back lots, he has invented variations on the theme of "getting in for nothin'."

In front of the movie theaters of Ninth avenue and, through many arteries of the East Side, small queues of youngsters may be seen standing in solemn line. The kid at the front end of the line gets the first chance. He waits until a ticket purchaser comes up and then pleads: "Hey, please take me in, mister!"

This consists of stopping any passerby and saying: "Hey, mister, I've got nine cents for a movie, gimme a penny and make it ten." Generally this works and is kept up until a necessary sum has been raised.

Such methods lack the healthy sense of adventure to be found in the tent crawling and fence climbing of the small town. There is no more sniveling and whining beggar to be found anywhere than the average street gamin of Manhattan.

While there are scores that duplicate the struggling youngsters of the Horatio Alger tales, almost any side street finds a couple of toddlers giving a pretty fair imitation of a dyed-in-the-wool beggar.

Some of them are carefully trained for their beggary and just as carefully dressed for the part by scheming relatives who send the youngsters forth.

One of the most pathetic youngsters among "the seven million" is a little one-armed lad, about six or seven years old, who goes through the subways selling gum out of his cap.

Which reminds me—the circus once more is holding forth in the very heart of the frothy Forties.

In mid-afternoon a couple of elephants go strolling down the theater belt followed by scads of newboys, shoe-shiners and loose urchins who later hang hungrily about the wooden doorways.

Here the whole thing goes off with the commonplace routine of an average theater. Only the presence of hundreds of youngsters at various hours of the day furnishes a clue to the sacred presence.

Gas stoves should be cleaned twice a week by washing with soap and water and rubbing with kerosene when the metal is both dry and cold.

THEATRES

AT THE LYRIC. Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and come on down to the Lyric where Harold Lloyd's latest Paramount release, "The Kid Brother," is regaling crowded houses.

Those who attended last night's performance will tell you that "The Kid Brother" occupies a place on the same high plane as "The Freshman," "Hot Water," "Safety Last" and "For Heaven's Sake."

"The Kid Brother" starts where others leave off when a medicine show arrives in Hickoryville. Harold Hickory, son of the sheriff and "kid brother" of two supermen, innocently gives them a permit to set up their tent, and the fun is off to a smashing start.

NEW YORK STOCKS (Last Sales)

Table of New York Stock prices including American Can, Am. Car & Fdy, Am. Locomotive, etc.

STOCK SALES AVERAGES. Twenty, Twenty-Industrial Railroads, Friday, 151.33, 133.16, etc.

New York, April 29—(P)—Stock prices displayed a complete reversal of form today, selling off sharply in the morning as a result of heavy liquidation of impaired marginal accounts and then rallying briskly on a resumption of widespread speculation for the advance and short covering. Final quotations were generally higher.

The recovery took place in the fact of a marking up of the call money rate from 4 to 4 1/2 and thence to 5 per cent.

The weekly mercantile review characterized business as fair. Several more quarterly earnings reports made their appearance during the day, the Rock Island railroad and Chrysler Motors being among the few to make favorable comparison with those of the corresponding period last year.

General Motors was prominent in the rebound today, rallying from a low of 18 1/2 to 19 1/4 for a net gain of 3 1/2 points on the day.

Early selling pressure was particularly acute against the oil, nearly a dozen of which sank to new 1927 lows, but they later rallied with the rest of the list.

Bangor and Aroostook, which recorded a sensational gain earlier in the week, opened 2 1/2 points higher at 94 1/2, a new peak, sold down to 87 and then rallied to 89.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. A sharp rise in wheat futures, based on an upward revision of export estimates, featured the irregular commodity markets.

Cotton moved forward at the start, but encountered profit-taking. Coccoes and sugar prices showed no important changes.

Except for a further advance in demand sterling, which duplicated the year's high level of $4.85 7-16, there was little of interest in the foreign exchange market.

French francs held firm above 3.91 cents and other continental rates showed practically no change.

Chicago Potatoes. Chicago, April 29—(P)—Potatoes, receipts, new 24; old 65 cars; on track, new 63; old 129; total United States shipments 818; old stock supplies moderate, demand and trading moderate market slightly stronger; Wisconsin sacked round whites 2.55 at 2.85; mostly 2.75 at 2.85; Idaho sacked russets mostly around 4.00. New stock supplies liberal demand and trading good, market slightly stronger; Florida barrels Spalding rose No. 1, mostly 3.75 at 4.25; mostly 4.00 at 4.25; Louisiana sacked bliss triumphs 3.40 at 4.00; mostly around 3.75.

Chicago Butter. Chicago, April 29—(P)—Lack of confidence and buying interest coupled with the liberal offerings received in a sharp decline today on all grades of butter. The centralized car market was weak and buying fresh practically no interest.

Chicago Livestock. Chicago, April 29—(P)—Hogs, receipts 14,000; closed slow with 5c to 10c losses on weight, averages 230 pounds up compared with high time early; top 11.00; bulk desirable 150 to 200 pound average 10.85 at 11.00; 210 to 240 pounds 10.35 at 10.85; 260 to 300 pounds 10.00 at 10.40; mostly packing sows $3.90 at 9.25; pigs upward to 10.90; better grades 10.25 at 10.75.

Chicago Grain. Chicago, April 29—(P)—Efforts to settle May accounts beforehand hoisted nearby deliveries of wheat and rye today to the highest prices in many weeks. The wheat market was a whole closed firm, 1-2 cents net higher; corn, 1-2 to 3 cents showing 1-8 to 5-8 centations at a shade to 10.75.

Chicago Grain (continued). Chicago, April 29—(P)—Efforts to settle May accounts beforehand hoisted nearby deliveries of wheat and rye today to the highest prices in many weeks. The wheat market was a whole closed firm, 1-2 cents net higher; corn, 1-2 to 3 cents showing 1-8 to 5-8 centations at a shade to 10.75.

OLD MASTERS

We meet neath the sounding rafter, And the walls around are bare; As they shout back our peals of laughter, It seems that the dead are there.

Then stand to your glasses, steady! We drink in our comrades' eyes; One cup to the dead already— Hurrah for the next that dies!

Not here are the goblets glowing, Not here is the vintage sweet; 'Tis cold, as our hearts are growing, And dark as the doom we meet.

But stand to your glasses, steady! And soon shall our pulses rise; A cup to the dead already— Hurrah for the next that dies!

There's a mist on the glass congealing, 'Tis the hurricane's sultry breath; And thus does the warmth of feeling Turn ice in the grasp of death.

But stand to your glasses, steady! For a moment the vapor flies; Quaff a cup to the dead already— Hurrah for the next that dies!

SAINT and SINNER

1926 by NEA SERVICE

Faith and Bob were ten minutes late in reaching the courtroom after the noon recess. But those ten minutes had been well spent, for Bob had insisted upon driving the overwrought girl along quiet streets until she had had a good cry, and had apologized to him for her unwarranted outburst.

"There's no need to apologize, darling," he had told her tenderly, his arms about her, her head pressed against his breast. "I want to tell you again that I shall not hold against you anything you may say or do to me at this terrible time. I love you with all my heart, and I know you love me."

Faith's eyes were still misty with tears when she slipped quietly into her seat beside Cherry. Through that mist Cherry's small, white face looked spiritually lovely, a loveliness heightened by the deep violet shadows beneath her golden eyes.

"What's that, Cherry?" Faith whispered, instantly fearful of she knew not what. "Nothing," Cherry stammered. "But Faith would not be put off. She gently unclasped her sister's hands from the black leather bag and, against Cherry's pleading whisper, opened it. A small bottle lay in the bottom of the bag, labeled side down, and filled with a clear liquid. For a dreadful minute Faith's horrified brown eyes stared at the bottle, nightmare visions of her beloved little sister a suicide racing across her mind. "It's not poison," Cherry laughed shakily. "I'm not guilty and I'm afraid of being wrongly punished," she added, her voice trailing off while her eyes widened with what looked to Faith to be the very fear that she was disclaiming.

"What is it?" Faith asked sharply, unmindful that Banning was interrogating the farmer, Jefferson Anderson, who was again on the witness stand. "Spirits of ammonia," Cherry answered, in so low a voice that Faith could hardly hear her. "To— to— to keep me from fainting."

"What is it, Cherry?" Faith demanded, her heart leaping with fear. "Tell me!" Cherry's quivering lips protested. "Don't ask me, Faith! Please! I—I die before I'd tell!"

While Faith's bewildered mind was groping for a solution to the puzzle, Churchill sprang forward to take the witness, Anderson, whom Banning had just dismissed. "Mr. Anderson, were you personally acquainted with the deceased, Mr. Ralph Cluny?" Churchill asked.

"I knew him—yes," Anderson answered with strange defiance. "Have you a nephew by the name of Clyde Anderson?" Churchill asked next. Anderson's face flushed a dark, as he answered, "Aberly."
