

relations with Russia, until they became a hollow sham, and has pushed its forbearance to a point where its further pursuit would be mere weakness.

Asserting that the government was content to rest its case upon the documents already disclosed, the secretary said that nevertheless, the government had a mass of further information in its possession. As an example of this he went on:

"The house may have heard that the other day there was a demonstration in front of the British embassy at Washington. That can be connected with instructions received from Russia that there should be demonstration of anti-British feeling in front of the British embassies and legations."

Similar Incidents.

He gave many similar incidents of alleged Soviet machinations to foment anti-foreign trouble in China, adding that he could lay the documents in proof before parliament. Recalling that many grave warnings had been given by the Soviet government not only by the present British government, but by the preceding labor government that continuance of anti-British propaganda must sooner or later render inevitable abrogation of the trade agreement, the foreign secretary said:

"In the face of all these warnings, the Soviet government and their agents went on with the activities of which we had complained. They have had fair notice given many times over, and within five weeks of the note of protest, I addressed to the government on February 23, Mr. Roosevelt, to whom it was addressed, is telegraphing to his government for material to conduct a political agitation."

"Surely the question should be—why not before? Why have not his majesty's government with so much information before them, with these constant and flagrant breaches of understanding and of all diplomatic courtesy and friendly relationships, not severed those relations long ago?"

WAR INEVITABLE.

Toronto, May 26—(AP)—Naurice Specter, chairman of the Communist party in Canada, whose name and address was among those seized by the British government at the Soviet house in London, today expressed the opinion that sooner or later Great Britain and Russia will go to war.

The Canadian Communist leader said that even now "the menace of war with the prospect of Canadian participation in it was at least as great as it was during the Chanak crisis, when war with Russia threatened."

"A very serious international crisis is looming ahead," he continued. "I certainly think that the stabilization of Europe, of which the recent Geneva conference showed signs, has been given a decided setback. Since apparently the critics who pointed that the Locarno conference was a step towards the isolation of the Soviet union were correct, we reason that this last diplomatic rupture is to link the chain of a war front against Russia."

"Sooner or later, we believe, that Britain will attack the Soviet union though not necessarily in the immediate future."

Teller Frustrates Lone Bank Bandit

Detroit, May 26—(AP)—Jerome Noteheart, teller of a branch of the Detroit Savings bank here, thwarted a holdup of the institution today when he refused to hand over $1,000 to a lone bandit.

The robber appeared at the cage shortly after noon and handed the teller a note which read: "I want $1,000. Don't speak, just hand it over."

Search for French Flyers Continues

St. Johns, N. F., May 26—(AP)—While persistent search along the south coast of Newfoundland had revealed tonight no trace of Captains Charles Nungesser and Francis Coli, French trans-Atlantic flyers, missing since May 9, reports continued to be received here from persons who said they heard an airplane passing over on the day the

DEATH TAKES OLD WOODSMAN

Stroke of Apoplexy Proves Fatal to George McArthur.

Death claimed another old woodsman of this district when George McArthur, 73-year-old timber cruiser, died at a local hospital at 9:30 o'clock last night. He had been a woodsman in this territory for the past 36 years, and until recently was caretaker for Milton M. Bonz, of Masonville.

Last Friday, McArthur suffered a stroke of apoplexy at the Bonz camp, north of Rapid River, and little hope remained for his recovery. He was removed to the hospital in this city Saturday. He never regained consciousness from the time he was stricken.

The body was taken to the Allou Funeral Home and no arrangements have been made, pending word from relatives, if any can be located. Mr. Bonz has been trying to locate relatives of the man since his illness, but has not succeeded.

15 MILLIONTH FORD CAR OUT

25,000 automobiles were built in an experiment to find a standard type.

The first million in production of the model T was reached on December 19, 1915. Number 5,000,000 on May 23, 1921, and number 10,000,000 on June 4, 1925. The 14,000,000th machine was turned out less than a year ago—on July 4, 1926.

Car number 10,000,000 appropriately lettered made a coast to coast trip, but company officials were not planning tonight on such a trip for the automobile produced today. It was thought the machine would be placed in the museum.

Grand Rapids Man Guilty of Setting Fire to Cottages

Allegan, Mich., May 26—(AP)—James Eckert of Grand Rapids was found guilty of arson here today in connection with the fire on April 15 when 24 cottages at Macatawa Park, a Lake Michigan resort, were burned. The jury deliberated one hour.

He was convicted of two counts of burning a cottage and of inducing someone to burn a cottage. George Everett of Grand Rapids, owner of a cottage in which the blaze is said to have started and whom Eckert has named in an alleged confession as the man who hired him to fire his property, is free on $13,000 bond awaiting trial.

The blaze was first thought to have been started by a party of high school students on a week end party. Investigation, however, resulted in the arrest of Eckert and Earl Childs of Grandville, Mich., both of whom confessed. Eckert later repudiated his confession and pleaded not guilty when arraigned in court here.

STATE PLAYS TRUMP CARDS IN CULT CASE

examination, when defense attorneys cut in with objections, she volunteered to enlarge upon her statements so "defense counsel can understand."

Living With Man?

Mrs. Wheeler, the first witness called when court resumed this morning after a recess since last Friday, denied that she was living with a man in New York. She separated from her husband five years ago. Defense attorneys claimed their agents visited her in her New York apartment and found a man there who posed as her husband.

Smith, Mrs. Wheeler's father, presented a patriarchal picture as he took the witness stand. He broke down and wept when he told of a letter he received in 1916 from his daughter, lone, confessing to her alleged relations with Purnell. He showed the letter to Dolly, he stated, and she said: "Papa, it's all true." Whereupon he deserted the colony, he said.

The witness asserted he once was "practically asked to commit murder" when he was in the colony. He was requested to get a gun and "mob" a man named Tucker who was bothering the colonists, he said, but refused. Members would do almost anything short of murder at the bidding of Benjamin, he declared. He testified that mock trials were held in the colony to "coach the girls what to say if they got in court."

Smith, although he has been away from the colony for years, wore his hair long and had a flowing beard. He stated he still believes in the faith but "not the practices" of Purnell and his followers. If he follows the teachings, which among other things forbid "rounding the corners of the beard or whiskers," he will be one of the 144,000 who will be gathered into immortality, he said.

Smith declared that Benjamin usurped the title of seventh messenger. Prince Michael Mills, who had a colony in Detroit before he was sent to prison for immoral practices, was the seventh messenger, Smith said. Prince Michael Mills failed to produce a message, however, and Benjamin did, so Benjamin really is the eighth messenger but he produced the seventh message.

Defense attorneys, on cross-examination bombarded Smith with questions designed to show he left the colony in a huff because he hoped to start a colony of his own and reap a golden harvest. Smith admitted he printed some booklets, similar to the literature of Purnell and sold them, but denied he attempted to start a new colony. Smith insisted he is not a witness in the receivership suit "for money."

"They couldn't give me a nickel," he asserted.

He stated he quit the colony when he found out what was going on because he did not want to send the parents of innocent girls to Purnell.

French plane "White Bird" was expected here.

A group of fishermen living on Placentia Sound sent word today that they heard the noise of an airplane motor on the morning of May 9. After they had listened for a time to the hum of the engine in the fog, they heard a heavy crash.

LAUNCHES WAR ON IMMODESTY

Rome Seeking Reaffirmation of Feminine Purity.

Rome, May 26—(AP)—Pope Pius has launched the second phase of his "sacred crusade" against immodest fashions by conferring a special blessing upon women throughout the world who cooperate militantly with the church for the reaffirmation of feminine purity.

Comforted by the reports of the beneficial effects of his admonitions against immoral modes, the pontiff has decided to initiate a more constructive aspect of the struggle by encouraging the large body of women who by precept and example, form centers everywhere of sartorial modesty.

Two steps in this direction have become known. Through Papal Secretary Cardinal Gasparri, he has sent to the Italian national committee for correcting women's modes, the following message:

"His holiness is pleased by the new effort against wayward methods of dress and hopes that these activities will persevere. He sends an encouragement toward the desired success his apostolic blessing."

Addressing a delegation of Roman Catholic young women, and through them speaking to the Roman Catholic women of the world, the pope said:

"I bless you for what you have done and will do to achieve the conservation of purity amid worldliness. Unfortunately there is great need nowadays, that this noble virtue be affirmed. There is need of healthy, sound, courageous spirits ready to enter the battle field in the defense of the most beautiful, the most dear, but the most vulnerable, of all virtues."

"There are many girls—poor things—who think they can defend themselves against the incursions and devastations of men and beasts without taking refuge behind hedges and walls. Now, such a defense is more than ever necessary and it is furnished by Christian modesty."

The pontiff's attitude on the dress question has brought forth a responsive note from the government which also has sent encouragement to the modesty committee as well as instructing school teachers to aid in propaganda among the young.

be lauded, ascribing much of Ireland's increased prosperity to it.

In the creation of unnecessary obstacles to the free flow of trade "man's ingenuity seems almost unlimited," in the opinion of W. F. Gephart, vice president of the First National bank of St. Louis, Mo., a group session speaker. Ignorance, suspicion and misunderstanding he enumerated as the most difficult of all obstacles to overcome. As fast as geographical barriers of land, water and climate were conquered human or institutional obstacles arose, he said.

Mr. Gephart said the greatest barrier to extension of American foreign trade "is the simple fact that our people do not yet recognize the importance of it. The industrial development of the country has been so rapid that our domestic business has become overwhelmingly important in popular thinking."

One of the foreign trade council's most important activities, its trade adviser service, functioned tonight. The service undertakes to answer personal questions on foreign trade. It is confidential, advice being given experts in all lines of trade.

The ballroom of a Detroit hotel was given over to the advisers for the evening, each expert having a desk and given information on the particular branch of foreign trade in which he is an authority.

VALIDITY UNQUESTIONED.

Washington, May 26—(AP)—Validity of the flexible provisions of the tariff act, under which the president may lower or raise rates, has been well established by court decisions and J. W. Hampton, Jr., and company of New York should not be permitted to raise the question. Solicitor General Mitchell said today in a brief filed in the supreme court.

The firm lost before the board of general appraisers and the court of customs appeals when it assailed the provision as unconstitutional and is now seeking an opinion from the supreme court on the subject.

Solicitor General Mitchell contended that the flexible section does not delegate to the president the power to tax, but only requires him to ascertain specific facts concerning the cost of production at home and abroad and then apply the rate laid down by congress that the duty on the article under inquiry must be protective.

No Canadian Booze for Excursionists

Toronto, Ont., May 26—(AP)—D. R. Hanna, chairman of the Ontario liquor board, today warned American railroad companies who are advertising special trains into Ontario on the day of opening liquor stores in Windsor, that liquor permits will not be issued to excursionists.

"People who come across the border for the express purpose of indulging in a 'blowout' will be disappointed," he said. Liquor cannot be purchased without permits, Mr. Hanna pointed out.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT. The parties are not the least interesting feature of Richard Dix new Paramount starring vehicle "Paradise for Two." This phase of the life of Steve Porter, bachelor, is ably staged by Gregory La Cava, director of the picture. In "Paradise for Two," the excitement craving type of girl who thinks only of a good time contrasts strongly with the sweet home loving type as depicted by Betty Bronson. Dix in his desire to find a different feminine type, half falls in love with the shadow of a girl on a pane of window glass. He sees her silhouette against the window of a lodging house across the back courtyard of his home. But he is forced to confront the problem of marriage when his uncle Howard (Edmund Breese) cuts off his allowance entirely and stands firm on the terms of the will of which "uncle Howard is the executor. This gives rise to a series of amusing situations for the will stipulates that Richard must get married before he can get a cent of the money that his parents have left him. Dix boggles the clever Mollie. Dix boggles his friend Mollie offered by his friend Mollie, a theatrical producer (Annie Beranger), and subsequently finds the girl, and learns that marriage is not so bad after all.

FREE PUBLICITY.

This is an age of free publicity. On every hand former newspaper men are grinding out reams of thinly disguised advertising matter which they succeed with more or less success in getting printed in the news columns of newspapers which do not wish to offend advertisers by refusing to run "puffs".

Publicity is the life blood of many enterprises today. It is necessary, yet the same concern that will refuse to appropriate $50,000 for straight, out-and-out newspaper advertising, will spend as much hiring a press agent, or "director of public relations" and furnishing him with an office force and a mimeograph with which he can turn out reams of material, which it is hoped will get in the news columns without cost.

The slogan today is "Tell the World" and there is no more effective way to accomplish this result than through the paid advertising columns of a good newspaper. If the product is right and will give satisfaction, then it needs no other stimulus than an intelligent marketing plan, plus a comprehensive paid advertising campaign to arouse the interest of the buying public.

EXPLAINING FLOOD RELIEF APATHY. One reason why the country as a whole has been more or less apathetic to the damage done by the Mississippi floods may be found in the fact that the economic losses to the country as a whole will be comparatively small.

Though 6,000,000 acres have been inundated, though nearly 350,000 have been made homeless, and though the property damage may run as high as $1,000,000,000—the net loss to the entire country will be such that the average citizen of the east or north or west will scarcely feel it.

The cotton crop will be reduced six per cent, but last year there was an over-production of cotton. The flood, therefore, if anything, has helped the cotton growers as a whole. Railroad property in the valley has been damaged, and railroad revenues for the present will decline in this area, but the movement of materials for reconstruction will bring the revenues up again, so the railroads lose lit-

THE MIDDLE OF THE WEEK. My man imagines that he seems His best in Sunday gear. But there's a time he never dreams My man is twice as dear.

I like him when he's Sunday dressed And off to kirk we go. But when I really love him best He'd be surprised to know.

For, oh, I think I like him more, I love him better still. When I can see him at the door A-coming from the mill.

There may be grease upon his cheek, And common clothes are his, But in the middle of the week He seems the man he is.

And all the while he's cleaning up, He talks of this and that, And then we all sit down to sup, And then we sit and chat.

I like his arms around me then, I love his hungry kiss; Let others have their fancy men, Give me a man like this.

WE HAVE A REAL treat for you this morning. Our friend, Mints of the Soonooos is going to sing for you one of the songs which makes his corymb the best in Hiawatha land. Here it is: "Let us live in a house by the side of the road, and be a friend to man; selling the poor good gas and oil and a tire whenever I can; let me soak him a bill that will curl his hair, and cause him a heartful sigh, for service and counsel and labor and air, at prices that touch the sky—by the side of the road! Oh, I want to live there, where the cars of the men pass by."

A former telephone operator wants to be mayor of Detroit. From the telephone switch-board the mayor's desk is a toll call. The political bosses called her a ringer and she answered them with a buzz in the ear. They think the line's busy but she has been making some substantial connections. She is sure she can keep the political wires from getting crossed. She has promised to keep the mayor's office open eight hours a day so all the voters can get central. All that remains for her to do is to convince the people that she's the right number.

SIR: I want to express my heartfelt appreciation and gratitude for the splendid cooperation you extended to me in my campaign to bring about an end to the spell of wet weather. It was quite a task but with The Piffle Hook's assistance, I was able to do it over. I am able to promise that, unless somebody plans a picnic, there will be no more rain until July 4.

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

by Anne Austin

CHAPTER LIX "This isn't the road to Chatham, Dal." Billy roused herself from a long silence to protest. "You should have turned back there—the right turn."

Dal Romaine drove on for a long minute without speaking. During that minute Billy stole anxious glances at his set, stern face. Now that he was so soon to become her husband, she was beginning to have a nervous fear that he was a stranger to her. Even the contour of his narrow, handsome head seemed strange to her. In the occasional glare of the headlights of a passing car his black eyes glittered, narrow and sinister. Who was this man she was eloping with? Who was Dalhart Romaine, to whom she was entrusting her life? He had killed a man, he had said. India. Mysticism. He had hypnotic powers. He had cast a spell upon her. But of course she loved him! Hadn't she given up Clay Curtis for him? "Dal!" The familiar syllable on her lips became a cry.

"Billy, darling, we're not going to Chatham tonight," Dal said at last, without looking at her. "I realize you are in no condition to go back to the Curtis house tonight, but tomorrow you must return, say nothing of having been with me—"

Her hand clutched his sleeve, tried to shake the rigid arm whose hand was clamped so tightly upon the wheel. "What do you mean, Dal? You—you're not going to marry me?" "Listen, darling," he said, with an attempt to make his voice soft and caressing. "We're going to wait until April to be married, as we planned all along, I have no money—"

"But you won't have much more by April!" Billy cried in a panic of fear. "I don't understand, Dal! I'm not marrying you for money. You've lived well here, traveled in the best society. Surely you can support a wife—I'm used to plain living, except—except this last year—"

"That's what I want to talk with you about, dearest, if you'll try to get control of yourself," Dal interrupted her, taking his right hand from the wheel and putting his arm about her shoulders. "You must go back to Mr. Curtis, stay until you have been a loving companion to a lonely old man."

"What do you mean, Dal?" Billy jerked out of the embrace of his arm and leaned forward to stare with horror into his face. "You know—you've known all the time—" Her voice died away in a terrified whisper. "That Curtis was planning to adopt one of you girls as his daughter? Yes, I knew! My aunt told me—"

"Mrs. Meadows!" Billy shuddered away from him. "There's nothing so horrible in my having known," Dal protested, still trying to keep his voice caressing and reasonable. "Nor in Aunt Lucia's having told me. You can't blame her if she wanted her favorite nephew to marry a girl who would be rich some day."

NEW TOWNSHIP IS REQUESTED

Residents of Osier Section Want to Secede From Masonville.

Twenty-four residents of Masonville township have filed with the Delta county clerk a request that the northern section of Masonville be separated and the new township called Osier. The petition will come up before the county board for hearing on June 27, and there were no indications yesterday that any strenuous objections would be offered.

The proposed new township would embrace all of the northern section of Masonville, taking in a strip ten miles long and the entire width of the township. Its southern boundary would be a straight line drawn east and west from a point two miles south of Friday and about six miles north of Rapid River.

It would contain two schools—those at Miner's and Osier.

Reasons Set Forth.

The reasons urged for the separation are set forth in the petition as follows:

"That the Northern Section or portion of said Township of Masonville as it is now constituted, is being settled and populated requiring the building of roads, bridges, schools and drains and other public improvements; that because of the need and use for and of tax moneys in the present Township of Masonville, and the present school district of the Township of Masonville in the more heavily settled southern section of the Township and District in the Village of Rapid River, the needs of the northern half of the Township are not being met.

"That because of the lack of proper roads and bridges, the settlers in said section of the Township are seriously handicapped in getting to and from their farms and homes, and other settlers are hesitating about coming in to the district and taking up land or building homes.

"That the schools are vastly inferior to the needs of the school children, unsanitary and dangerous to health, and insufficient in every way.

"That the residents of said section are required to travel from seven to 19 miles to reach the township officers including the Justice Courts for the transaction of public business causing annoying delays and inconvenience. That but a small proportion, not to exceed 25 per cent of the moneys paid in Township and School taxes by the tax payers of said northern half of the Township of Masonville, are expended in said district for public purposes, and the said tax payers at all times are discriminated against in the use and application of public funds for public improvements, most of which are confined to the southern half of the Township and to the Village of Rapid River.

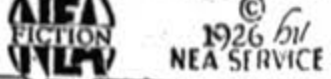

"That under all the circumstances, your petitioners are entitled, under the principles of local self-government, to be organized into a separate and independent township and to manage and conduct their public affairs as such, with a view to the best interests and welfare of its people, and the proper and just development and progress of the community."

SAINT and SINNER

By four o'clock Stephen Churchill had led Cherry, in his amazing direct examination, through a long and utterly frank recital of her adventure with Albert Ettleson, and through the events of that evening which had broken her spirit to the point where she had, the next day, accepted Ralph Cluny's offer of marriage. Jim Lane had broken into a cold sweat of agony as his daughter had told, without dramatics, of his whipping her as a punishment for her escapade with Ettleson. Cherry had not spared herself, and Churchill, following the line he had adopted from the beginning of allowing her to tell the worst about herself, had not attempted to spare her on direct examination.

"You had exchanged love letters with Mr. Ettleson?"
"I had," Cherry's voice was low and dragging with shame.
"You were in love with him?"
"No, sir, I was not. I was anxious to escape from the entanglements of my life, and Mr. Ettleson had offered to get me a job in New York, as a dancer in a musical comedy. I was ambitious, too, and I had to flirt with Mr. Ettleson to get him to help me."

"Did you have any improper relations with Mr. Ettleson?" Churchill asked suddenly.

"No, sir, I did not," Cherry's voice rang out indignantly, utterly convincing.

"Did you intend to reward Mr. Ettleson for helping you by becoming his mistress?"

"I did not," Cherry flamed.

"He had talked of divorcing his wife to marry me, but I had not promised to marry him in that event. I only wanted to get away."

"Did you have any idea, when you went to Darrow to join Mr. Ettleson, that he intended to occupy the same stateroom with you on the trip to New York?" Churchill persisted.

"I did not. I did not even know he was going to New York then. He had said he would lend me the money for the ticket and would give me letters to musical comedy producers in New York. I had not even expected to see him again."

"Was it at Mr. Ettleson's suggestion or yours that he lent you the two hundred dollars which he has told the court about?"

"It was at his suggestion. He knew I did not have any money to buy suitable clothes for New York, and he offered to lend it to me. It was a loan, not a gift. My father paid him back," she added hastily.

"Now, Cherry, go on with the story of your engagement to Mr. Cluny and the events which immediately followed," Churchill directed her.

"I became engaged, as I said, on September 27, Monday. Mr. Cluny gave me a large solitaire engagement ring. That night I told my family, with the exception of my mother, who—who had heart trouble," Cherry's voice broke again.

"Why did you not tell your mother of your engagement to Mr. Cluny?" Churchill asked.

"Because I was afraid it would make her have an attack of heart trouble. She—she loved me very much and I knew she had great hopes of my marrying happily. I knew she would think Mr. Cluny was too old for me. My father and sister and brother were very much opposed to the match from the beginning. They tried to dissuade me from marrying Mr. Cluny, on the ground that he was too old. I told Faith that I was going through with it, because I could not bear to hurt Mr. Cluny's feelings by backing out. And he was so kind and good to me that I really hoped I would be happy with him in spite of the differences in our ages.

"That night—Monday, September 27, I went out with Chris Wiley after telling my sister I was going to the Warren home, to dance. That was the night that I was at Tony's," she confessed.

"I told Chris that I was going to marry Mr. Cluny and he said he would kill me if I did. I told him I would not see him."

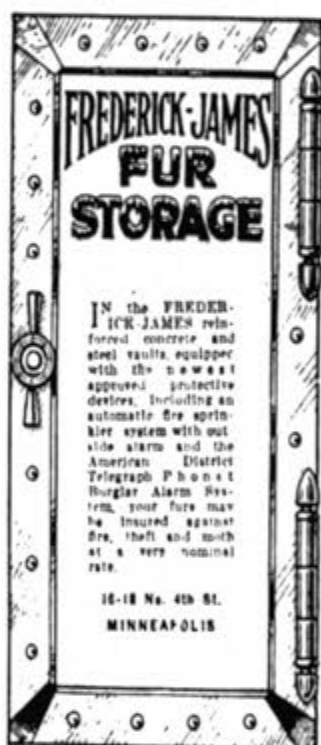

"Chris—any more that I was going to play fair with Mr. Cluny, I had made the engagement with Chris before I became engaged to Mr. Cluny and I was afraid not to keep it—afraid he would come to the house and make trouble for me."

"Had Mr. Wiley done such a thing before?" Churchill asked loudly, and the audience waited breathlessly for Cherry's reply.

"Tomorrow," Cherry tells of Chris' attempts to abduct her and his domination of her.

Game Warden Paul Knuth of Manistiquette was on official duty on the local merchant dock Sunday. He talked firmly but gently to one or two law violators.

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farley on Friday night, May 13, in honor of Mr. Farley's brother, Don, who was celebrating his nineteenth birthday anniversary. A number of games were played and part of the evening was spent in dancing, after which delicious refreshments were served. The guest of honor received a large variety of gifts to remind him of the pleasant event. Those present included: Lorraine Hennessey, Teresa Greene, Leona Deloria, Leola Farley, Meta Winter, LaVerl Olmsted, Noreen Headfield, Don Joque, Virgil Winter, LeRoy Winter and Stanley Joque. A delightful time was spent by all present.

Most poultry raisers in this district report exceptionally poor hatching results. One Burnt Bluff farmer reports five chicks out of about one hundred and fifty eggs. Various others report almost equally poor results. Most of the eggs are fertile but chicks die in the shell at various periods of incubation. No satisfactory reason has been given for this condition. To make up somewhat for this deficiency, a large number of day-old chicks have been shipped to local farmers during the past few weeks.

A recent issue of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau News contains an interesting item on the success which has attended a number of experiments made in the Seney district of Schoolcraft county with the growing and distilling of peppermint. There is little doubt that mint did relatively better on the Bullock farm (at Seney) than in the mint area in Michigan and Indiana," the article says.

Unlike other kinds of stills evolved in the north country, a peppermint still is a simple affair capable of construction by any competent mechanic.

It may not be generally known, but on several farms in this district, wild peppermint grows in competition with various weeds and generally wins out.

Sherman Gierke and Henry Jacobson of Fairport were in town Sunday.

Observers have noticed that the blueberry plains are showing signs of an unusual crop. All other kinds of wild fruits here are equally promising. While it is still early to predict with certainty, yet with normal conditions from now on, there will be an enormous crop of all kinds of wild fruits. Reports from the blueberry sections of lower Michigan, which are further advanced than plants in this district, indicate that there will be the biggest crop in years.

Marinette Pastor Will Be Speaker at Church Services

Rev. L. C. Smith, pastor of the Pioneer Presbyterian church, Marinette, will deliver a Memorial day address at the First Presbyterian church of this city on this coming Sunday night, May 29, at a special Memorial service to be held in the church auditorium at 7:30. No effort has been spared to make this the most unique and interesting service of this character ever held in the church.

It will be a symphonic service with the main theme running through it from prelude to postlude. J. J. Belland will play the organ, giving some of the heart-touching war melodies. Another added attraction will be the presence of the male quartet, Louise Edwards will give a reading entitled "Peace." Mrs. Otto Traude will read of Memorial day proclamation, representing the W. R. C. Special tribute is to be paid not only to the soldier dead but also to the departed members of the church, for whom there will be held a brief memorial service. As their names are read by an elder, girls will place a flower in memory of each upon a white cross, placed at the front of the auditorium, illuminated by a special flood light.

The rest of the lights in the church will be turned off. The service will be an impressive memorial from beginning to end.

POPPIES TO BE SOLD SATURDAY

Proceeds to Be Used to Help Legion Auxiliary's Relief Work.

Poppies—the little red memorial flowers which the American Legion Auxiliary has made the symbol of its relief work among disabled service men—will be sold on the streets of Escanaba Saturday.

The disabled service men in the hospitals are paid one cent each for making the poppies for the American Legion Auxiliary, and for many this is the first money earned since the war. No service work accomplished with the poppy profits can exceed this service to the disabled, which brings to them the realization that they are again able to take their places among the wage-earning citizens.

To many this money is a blessing. There are a large number of uncompensated men in the hospitals and the poppy money is being used to support families, to pay off mortgages, to pay taxes on homes and farms.

One service man whom the auxiliary helped to get on his feet by loaning him money to pay the taxes and interest on the mortgage on his home, had to leave his family and go to the hospital. His wife returned to her parents with the children while he was away, and all winter he made poppies in the struggle to pay off the mortgage to save the home, and have a place to gather his little family together when he returned.

These are the men and women for whom the poppy program was planned, and many are the minds made easier and the homes made happier because of the auxiliary program.

Thus the little poppy plays an important part in the Legion and Auxiliary Rehabilitation and Child Welfare program before as well as after the sale.

Q. How does the Flat Band Method build longer wear into United States Tires?

A. The Flat Band Method, invented and patented by the United States Rubber Company, puts longer wear into a tire because it is the most precise method of tire building ever developed.

It is comparable to the exact engineering practice of bridge design and construction. Just as the position, length and load of each cable in a bridge are calculated and fixed in advance, so with the cords in a United States Tire.

By the Flat Band Method the plies are laid without tension. The length of each cord is precisely right. The relation of the cords, one to another, is exact.

The result is a tire in which uniform tension and strength of every cord are assured. The load is equalized all around. Longer wear follows.

The Newspaper BUSINESS

PEOPLE are willing to acclaim the newspaper as an "Educator" and a "Moulder of Public Opinion" but few realize how absolute is the necessity that it be first—a business. Only as it is a sound, dividend-paying "business" can it be a really good newspaper, an honest "educator," an independent "moulder of public opinion." The weak newspaper must bow to the interests who hold its existence in their power. The strong newspaper is master of its own policies.

The makings of a modern daily newspaper is an expensive undertaking, requiring high paid workers and a heavy investment in equipment. Labor and money investment are both worthy of their hire, and quality of service instantly deteriorates when they are not properly rewarded. Hence the necessity of making a newspaper all these fine and altruistic things—and yet a sound business.

The Daily Press is a Business—conducted on sound business principles with rates, certified circulation and other value-estimating facts laid impartially before its customers. Because it is a sound business, it gives you a finely printed, well constructed newspaper, served by the greatest news services, filled with the best special features—and therefore a greater value to both reader and advertiser.

The Daily Press every year turns down thousands of dollars worth of advertising which would unjustly compete with home merchants or which it considers would lower its standards—either moral or professional. This is almost impossible to the newspaper which is pressed by the needs of the moment. There is nothing so expensive as a cheap newspaper. Advertisers admit its powerlessness, readers deny it their confidence. The Daily Press promises and—it delivers. It has the prestige of a sound business.

Daily Press service can be built into the future business program of any customer, because it will be here to give him that service. The Daily Press is a force—because it has the generating power that comes from sound business organization.

SEEK RECALL OF OFFICIALS BY PETITIONS

Small petitions were in circulation at Manistique this week for the removal of Benjamin Gero, P. N. Cookson and W. L. Middlebrook, three local councilmen who voted for the dismissal of City Manager R. S. Wallis.

The documents set forth specific reasons for the recall of each of the three officials, citing certain malfeasances or misfeasances against each of the trio. It was said yesterday that the lists had about two-thirds of the required number of signers.

The appearance of the recall petitions was the latest development in the situation which has come about in municipal affairs during the past few months, and is regarded as a protest from a portion of the public against the tactics of the three council members. Supporters of the council-manager form of government are hoping to restore harmony, so that the new government, instituted little over a year ago, will make progress without dissension.

Tree Roots Clog Court House Drain

Tree roots, growing through sewer pipes, recently clogged drains at the Schoolcraft county court house, and made necessary some extensive repairs in the tilting system at the building.

Workers will repair the pipe lines, and were preparing yesterday to install a manhole near the structure to guard against similar exigencies in the future. It was found that the three roots had penetrated even under the basement floor of the court house. C. H. Howard, chairman of the building and grounds committee of the county board, is superintending the repair work.

Welfare Committee Arranges Showing of "The Red Mill"

Under auspices of the Public Welfare committee of the Manistique Women's club, a special showing of "The Red Mill," famous Marion Davies picture, will be given at the Gero theater on Monday, May 30.

Miss Davies wears pigtail, wooden shoes, and all the quaint gear of a Dutch peasant girl in the new picture, and also some very elaborate creations. The role is quite unlike anything she has ever given the public in her career to date, and gives her ample opportunity for the whimsical comedy which lately has distinguished her Cosmopolitan features.

Thousands of women find themselves in a similar condition at some time in their lives. "I found most in my letter box," wrote Mrs. Hegmann, "and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got relief." Mrs. Hegmann also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Herb Medicine and Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills for Constipation, with good results. She says, "I am recommending your medicines to all I know who have symptoms the same as mine, and to others whom I think it will help. ### Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, May 26.—Iron Trade Review today says: Iron and steel markets present many cross-currents and the tendency in demand is progressively easier, yet the aggregate of quiet week-to-week buying by the general run of consumers brings the mills sufficient tonnage to keep them almost abreast of last year's record.

Most producers have scaled down their operations moderately and now look to the last half year. Automotive interests are shaping up their third quarter requirements and heavier purchases, especially for new models, are in prospect. In point both of demand and price the sheet market looks better. Coke users display more interest in their last half needs but trading thus far has not been measurable.

Typical of the irregular market, prices of heavy finished steel are a shade firmer in the east and somewhat softer at Pittsburgh. Specifications for steel bars at Chicago have declined about the extent they have improved at Pittsburgh. Tin plate, long at $5.50, is now quotable at $5.25 to $5.50. Scrap prices are easier in all districts.

Delaware river pig iron interest is relatively greatest at this time at Buffalo, one inquiry being for 4500 tons and another for 2500 tons.

Blue annealed sheets seem to be holding generally at the new level of 2.25c, Pittsburgh, but a few sales of black at 2.90c and galvanized at 3.75c, in both sizes $2 below the advanced levels, are noted. The tendency in these grades is toward strength, especially in the east. Books have not been formally opened for third quarter. A test of the 4.25c level on auto body sheets is rapidly approaching.

The Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen iron and steel products has dropped back 16 cents this week to $36.65. This reflects irregularities rather than definite weakness.

THEATRES

AT THE COMMUNITY.
 From the divorce court into the traffic court is the step negotiated by Priscilla Dean in her new Metropolitan starring vehicle "Forbidden Waters," at the Community theater today. Miss Dean, who enacts the role of Nancy Lee Bell, had just been granted a divorce from her husband, Austin Bell, at Reno. And in a fast roadster she starts to "eat up" the distances between Nevada and the California state line. As she nears the Golden state she "steps on it" and speeds across the line just as she is about to receive a summons for speeding.

But she did not reckon with the California speed cops and before she knew it—she was stopped and given a tax.

At the traffic court she was given her choice—to pay a fine of $50 or spend 50 days in jail. With no money, no friends, no husband—she finds herself in a desperate position. She appeals to her husband, who comes to her rescue.

Then, soon after she is released, she discovers that her husband has fallen into the hands of a pair of clever crooks.

White Sox Defeat Tigers in Twelve Inning Game

FABER CHARMS DETROIT BATS

Mozler's Single Gives Chicago Team 4 to 3 Victory.

Detroit, May 26.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox remained on the heels of the Yankees by defeating the Detroit Tigers 4 to 3 in 12 innings here today. Red Faber went the entire distance for Chicago, shutting out Detroit in the last nine innings. The winning run was scored on Metzler's single to center. Clancy had singled first on Gehring's fumble and advanced to third on Ward's single.

After the score was tied in the seventh, Faber repeatedly turned back the Tiger attack. In the ninth, Detroit filled the bases, but could not score. In the tenth, two of their runners reached first safely, but were left on base. In the twelfth, the Tigers made two hits off Faber but could not turn them into runs.

Was Less Effective.

In the early innings, however, the Chicago spitball star was less effective and the Tigers built up a lead by scoring three runs in the first three innings. With one down in the first Gehring and Manush walked, and the former scored on Fothergill's single to left. Tavener opened the second with a single past Clancy, took third on Bassler's single to left and scored on Warner's single to third. The last Tiger run came with two down in the third on a single by Blue and a double by Tavener. Holloway, who started in the box for Detroit, was found for one run in the second. Falk singled to left and took second when Fothergill fumbled the ball. He advanced on Kamm's sacrifice and came home when Clancy fled to Manush.

Clancy, who formerly played with Muskegon, tied the score in the seventh when he singled to right with the bases filled.

Holloway was removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth and Whitehill finished the game, becoming the losing pitcher when the White Sox bunched two hits behind Gehring's error in the twelfth.

The Score:

TURNESE LEADS GOLF TOURNEY

Qualifying Rounds for 20th Open Championship Held.

New Rochelle, N. Y., May 26.—(AP)—Joe Turnesa continued his steady game and came home at the head of a field of 45 qualifiers in the Metropolitan Golf association's twentieth open championship today. His 74 was not the best of the day, but with yesterday's 72 for 146, it was just one stroke better than the second place scores of Johnny Farrell of Quaker Ridge; William Burke of Greenwich; Bob-John Cruckshank of Progress; and Willie McFarlane of Oak Ridge.

Scores of 159 and better were good enough to qualify and virtually all the top-notchers remained in the running. With fair weather for tomorrow's 36-hole final, observers looked for a winning score around 294, which is good enough at any time, and especially good in the face of miserable weather that attended yesterday's opening round. A pelting rain continued through most of the morning, but the afternoon starters walked out into the first sunshine of the championship play. Four competitors turned in par 72 today. Johnny Farrell setting the pace, and being followed by Tommy Armour, MacFarlane Cruckshank and "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn. August Nordone, a New Rochelle product who was tied yesterday with Burke for medal score, brought in a 71, to give him a 148 in third place.

Arthur Yates of Rochester with a 159, barely qualified and he was the only amateur to finish among the select. Walter Hagen, after taking an 82 yesterday, withdrew because of an injury to his side. Emmet French also gave way after an unimpressive start in the opening round. Cruckshank and Turnesa had much favor for the critics tonight. Turnesa has impressed with monotonous regularity of his game. He has seldom been in trouble anywhere on the course and his putting has been well high perfect. Cruckshank, admittedly at the top of his game, has been able so far to make wonderful recoveries whenever it appeared he was slipping to some extent.

Miss Johnson Adds to College Honors

Rock Island, Ill., May 26.—Another athletic honor has been piled upon the shoulders of Miss Ida Johnson, Escanaba, probably the most versatile Augustana college co-ed. She has been selected for the 1927 Augustana girls' honorary varsity baseball team. She was the star of the Augustana Amazons, girls' team, which won the Quad-city women's basketball title for the second consecutive year this past season. The selection of the baseball team is as follows: Helen Fry of Rock Island, pitcher; Miriam Peterson of Chicago, catcher; Iowa West, shortstop; Edna Thibault, third base; Juanita West, right fielder; and Florence Georgan, left fielder. All of Devonport, Ia.; Linea Sand, second base; of Moline; Pearl Peterson, center field, of Stromsburg, Neb.

Americans Survive Rounds of Net Meet

St. Cloud, France, May 26.—(AP)—"Big Bill" Tilden, sweeping through minor opposition easily and his partner, Francis T. Hunter, remained the sole American threats in the international hard court championships today after a round of competition in which German stars monopolized the spotlight. Hunter was idle for the day while Tilden advanced to the fourth round easily at the expense of Robert Rodel of France, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, but two youthful Americans, J. H. Vanalen and Sidney P. Wood, were eliminated. Vanalen put up a battle before bowing to H. K. Lester of England, 6-2, 6-1, 2-6, 6-8, 9-7, but Wood was disposed of at 4-0 when Red Fitzharris' serve was won.

GRAND RAPIDS YOUTH BEATS SAGINAW PUG

Saginaw, May 26.—(AP)—Eddie Connors of Grand Rapids defeated Wilber Chevalier, Bay City bantam, in ten rounds here tonight. Connors outpointed Chevalier most of the way for eight rounds and the last two rounds when the fight developed into a slugging match he outslugged the Bay City boy.

Dutch Leyer of Elkhart, Ind., Shaded Sammy Caruso, Bay City Lightweight, in Eight Rounds.

Walter Majeckie, Swan Creek, knocked out Butch Otto, Saginaw welterweight, in five rounds of fierce slugging; Frank Dower knocked out Al Ehow, local bantam, in the second round; while Ed Brockham of Bay City drew Kid Moore of Traverse City in four rounds and Young Doby of Carrollton had a shoo-in Young Norman, Saginaw flyweight, in four rounds.

Escanaba and St. Joe Tied for First Place in U. P. Tennis Meet

Escanaba and St. Joseph's high schools are tied with four points each in the upper peninsula tennis tournament, the first rounds of which were run off yesterday.

Some of the preliminary singles sets must be played today before the final match in doubles. Jack and "Red" Fitzharris of St. Joe will play Baldwin and McEwen of Escanaba high for the doubles championship of the peninsula in the final this afternoon at the Ludington park court beginning at 3:50 o'clock.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a tennis match in this city was on hand at the city court yesterday afternoon when the Fitzharris brothers won two out of three sets from Coan and Stegath of Escanaba high, to come through the semi-finals by set scores of 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. Student factions of both St. Joe and Escanaba high schools displayed the greatest interest in the game ever known here. Through-out the three sets both teams were applauded and cheered on by their fellow students. Judging by the increase in interest in the sport in Escanaba high during the past few weeks, there should be a crowd of well over 200 students on hand this afternoon to see the final match in the doubles and tomorrow when the singles championship of the peninsula will be decided.

Yesterday's Sets.

The result of yesterday's sets are:

DOUBLES: Stegath and Coan (Escanaba) won from LaFave and Hirn (St. Joe), 6-0, 6-3.

Olson and Rockburg (Escanaba) won from Raymond and Kohlman (St. Joe), 6-4, 6-1.

Fitzharris and Fitzharris (St. Joe) won from Hoyle and Newkirk (Iron Mountain), 6-0, 6-0.

Baldwin and McEwen (Escanaba) won from Crago and Monroe (Iron Mountain), 6-1, 6-0.

Baldwin and McEwen (Escanaba) won from Olson and Rockburg (Escanaba), 8-6, 6-4, in semi-finals.

Fitzharris and Fitzharris (St. Joe) won from Stegath and Coan (Escanaba), 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, in semi-finals.

SINGLES:

Kohlman (St. Joe) won from Monroe (Iron Mountain), 6-2, 6-1.

LaFave (St. Joe) won from Newkirk (Iron Mountain), 6-0, 6-0.

Schedule for Today.

SINGLES: Stegath (Escanaba) vs. J. Fitzharris (St. Joe) at 8:30 o'clock at city court.

Coan (Escanaba) vs. Hoyle (Iron Mountain) at 8:30 at St. Joe court.

LaFave (St. Joe) plays winner of Hoyle-Coan match at 1:15 at city court.

Kohlman (St. Joe) plays winner of Stegath-J. Fitzharris match at 11 at city court.

Baldwin (Escanaba) plays Crago (Iron Mountain) at 11 at St. Joe court.

R. Fitzharris (St. Joe) plays McEwen (Escanaba) at 10 at city court.

DOUBLES:

The finals of the doubles will be at the west end of Ludington park this afternoon at 3:50 o'clock.

Semi-Finals Fast.

The two most interesting matches of the day were the Baldwin-McEwen vs. Olson-Rockburg, both of Escanaba high, and the Fitzharris-Fitzharris vs. Stegath and Coan semi-final sets in the afternoon.

"Red" Fitzharris started serving in the first set of their match and took the game. Stegath followed "Red" and won his game, making the score one-all.

Jack Fitzharris lost his serve in the next game, putting the Escanaba high team into a 2-1 lead. Coan and Stegath, by super-team play, made the score 3-1 on Coan's serve. Red Fitzharris lost his serve in the fifth game, giving Coan and Stegath a 4-1 lead.

Stegath served four sets of doubles in the next game. Jack Fitzharris lost his serve for the second consecutive time, putting the Escanaba high boys out in front, 5-2. Coan's serve was lost after another hard battle but Red Fitzharris also dropped his serve, giving Coan and Stegath the first set by a 6-3 score.

Stegath Collapses.

The second set showed things in a decidedly different light when Stegath seemed to go to pieces on his serve and the Fitzharris incorporation won the game. Jack Fitzharris won his serve and Coan last his, giving the St. Joe racketeers a 3-0 lead. The score was top-sided at 4-0 when Red Fitzharris' serve was won.

Stegath won his serve in the next game, making it 4-1, but Jack Fitzharris darkened matters by annexing his serve to make the count 5-1. The next game was Coan's serve and proved to be the most spectacular and hardest-fought game played in the tournament so far. The Fitzharris brothers were able only to fathom every other point and

HALEY FORCED OUT OF MEET

American Throws Scare Into British Golfing Circles.

Holyoke, Eng., May 26.—(AP)—John Hul had to call on the army and then His Majesty's household today to arrest the threatening advance of young Edwin H. Haley toward the British Amateur golf crown.

Following upon the former William College star's victory over Cyril Tolley, Haley this morning routed the champion of the British army, Major S. K. Thorburn, 3 and 1, but the championship strain told on the youngster and this afternoon he succumbed on the last green to one of King George's household physicians, Dr. Harold Gillies.

Haley will return tomorrow to London Technical school where he has been studying for the past eight months, since coming to England from New York. He entered the Holyoke classic "just for fun" and he has had it—as well as his picture plastered through British newspapers and his name in head lines.

Aspirants for Jesse Sweetser's undefeatable crown are breathing easier with Haley out of the competition and nothing today lies in the way of a Briton's recapturing one of the two major English golf championships that passed overseas last year. Haley, last of the American contingent, had become one of the chief attractions of the tournament both because of his fine golfing style and personality.

The American's conqueror is a world-famed surgeon and a noted golf theorist who recently advocated setting the ball on a rubber tee a foot high. He has studied the function of every muscle, nerve and blood vessel in the body during the golf swing.

Roger Wethered remains a favorite in the play although the former champion is off form and struggling to win his matches. Today Wethered defeated Darsie Watson 1 up in the morning and eliminated Capt. A. G. Pearson, 2 and 1 in the afternoon.

Indians Split Two Games With Browns

St. Louis, May 26.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns shared honors here today, each winning one game of a double-header. A spectacular home run by O'Rourke in the tenth inning gave the Browns their victory in the first. Two were down when he creled the bases. Miller of Cleveland gave nine hits and Stewart of St. Louis allowed eight.

In the second game the Indians faced about and scored three runs in the ninth by aid of a double steal. Burns going home on one of them.

The scores:

First game: R. H. E. Cleveland . . . 000 100 0 0-1 8 1

St. Louis . . . 010 000 0 0-2 9 1

W. Miller and L. Sewell; Stewart and O'Neill.

Second game: R. H. E. Cleveland . . . 020 040 003-9 13 3

St. Louis . . . 105 010 000-7 10 2

Uhle, Shante and L. Sewell; Wingard, Nevers, Gaston and Dixon.

Boston, Athletics Divide Two Games

Boston, May 26.—(AP)—Boston divided a twin program with Philadelphia today, nosing out the Athletics in the closing game of the first contest by 4 to 3 after losing the first two games.

Grove pitched shutout ball in the opener up to the ninth when the Sox grouped three hits for a run. Buddy Myer's single off Sam Gray in the last of the ninth of the second game drove Haney across with the winning run.

First game: R. H. E. Philadelphia 011 000 001-3 9 2

Boston . . . 000 000 001-1 9 0

Grove and Cochrane; Wiltse and Hartley.

Second Game: R. H. E. Philadelphia 210 000 000-3 7 0

Boston . . . 102 000 001-4 10 1

Walberg, Gray and Cochrane; Welzer, Hofmann and Hartley.

PAULINO BREAKS WITH RICKARD

Announcement of Match With Wills Stirs Up Pug World.

New York, May 26.—(AP)—The announcement today by Humbert Paulino that he has signed Paulino Fugazy that he has signed Paulino Fugazy for a 12-round heavyweight match at the Polo Grounds, June 29, may stir up another promoter war in the metropolitan sector.

Soon after Fugazy disclosed he had made the match, Tex Rickard declared he would hold Paulino to a signed contract giving Rickard exclusive rights to the Spaniard's fight services until November of this year.

Some confusion apparently existed among the members of Paulino's managerial "cabinet" but the majority seem to favor a split with Rickard and approval of the match with Wills, who has not been in the ring since he lost to Jack Sharkey at Ebbetts Field last October.

Rickard's efforts to match Paulino with Jack Delaney have been blocked by the state athletic commission and the Spaniard virtually has been excluded from Rickard's heavyweight elimination program since the prospect of a bout with Jack Dempsey also vanished.

Fugazy said both Wills and Paulino signed contracts April 21, explaining that he kept the deal secret pending the outcome of other heavyweight negotiations in the past few weeks.

Small Lil' Street Car Hasn't Chance With This Driver

When Eva Derocher, of Gladstone, hits 'em, she hits 'em hard. Driving a sedan north on the Cornell road, at Wells, early last night, Eva encountered a Gladstone-bound street car at the north crossing.

Just ordinary street cars, apparently, mean little in Eva's young life, and when one crosses her path she merely ignores it. At least she smashed into the rear of the car as it was passing the crossing, shoved it rudely from the track to the side of the road and probably would have proceeded, had it not been for a little matter of a smashed radiator, bent axle and frame and a few lights missing from her car.

Eva claimed she was running not to exceed ten miles an hour. Peter Murray, motorman, claimed that she was travelling at better than a thirty-mile clip, and there were bystanders who were inclined to support the contention of the motorman.

Incidentally, Eva was accompanied in the car by a mysterious male stranger, who leaped from the machine and disappeared immediately after the crash, leaving Eva in the lurch as 'twere. She insisted that, acting in a thoroughly hospitable manner to strangers, she picked him up at North Escanaba and had not yet learned his name. Also incidentally, it was claimed by bystanders that as the stranger leaped from the car, he tossed a bottle into the ditch at the side of the road. Recovered by inquisitive boys, the bottle gave forth an odor strongly suggestive of spirits ferment.

IN NEW YORK

New York, May 26.—Straw hats with bright bands... merry-go-rounds wheeling their topical tunes... coasters coasting... bigger and better breathless rides... garish colors and blaring voices... flirting maids and flirting sheiks... careless crowds, shivering just a bit in the sea dampness.

That's Conyng Hook just now. What you never heard of Conyng Hook? Well it's our old friend Coney Island, but its real name was given by Dutch colonists and the transition from Conyng to Coney can be understood without explanation.

The Indians liked it as a playground, too, and called it Narricock. The Dutch colonists presented it to the town of Gravesend and, eventually, Brooklyn got it.

Coney has a regular list of Sunday callers, winter or summer. There's a club—small to be sure—that plunges into its icy waters once a week whatever the temperature.

There are girls and boys who have never missed it upon a hot day and, as the years have sped and they have grown older, return to the playground of their youth as to a shrine, braving the frantic Sunday crowds and glorying in the smells, noises and hectic atmosphere.

Strangely enough, there lies just behind all this noise and tinsel a quiet, home town from which thousands commute to New York daily. Home life is not generally associated with Coney, yet away from its boardwalk is a pleasant little town, the residents of which figure seldom in the boardwalk life.

In many of the Coney homes there are solemn sermons to growing daughters to keep away from the roistering of Sunday crowds and, when half of New York seems to be dumping itself upon the Coney sands, hundreds of the good folk of the town proper are preparing for church.

This season the pride of Coney is a new hotel where Gov. Smith will have a suite of honor for the summer and other notables will be guests.

For all the world goes to Coney. Few distinguished visitors to America miss it. Authors, artists, opera singers, movie stars—the whole of Europe seems to have heard of it. Many a ship news reporter has been startled when, in the midst of an interview with some internationally known intellectual, his questions are halted suddenly by the request of, "Oh, by the way, where is Coney Island?"

Several Articles Needed by Widows

MARRIAGE IN MARYLAND.

Baltimore—Numerous Maryland couples who were married outside of the state suffered somewhat of a shock recently when they discovered that they were not legally married. A law dating from Revolutionary days, repealed in the assembly's recent onslaught on archaic legislation, recognized such marriages only when the license was issued in Maryland.

How Diet Should Be Regulated in Treating Diabetes.

A person with diabetes should have a scale for weighing food. In order to determine his tolerance for sugar, he begins with a diet composed almost exclusively of green vegetables containing 5 per cent of carbohydrates.

Among these vegetables are lettuce, spinach, cauliflower, sauerkraut, canned string beans, celery, asparagus, brussels sprouts, tomatoes, rhubarb, eggplant, cabbage, radishes and artichokes.

Although these vegetables contain but little nutriment, they have a large bulk and will fill the stomach and thus allay the pangs of hunger. The person is given from 150 to 200 grams of these vegetables, about five grams of which will be available carbohydrate or sugar.

If there is no sugar in the excreted fluids on this diet, he is given a diet on the second day which contains five more grams of carbohydrates, and this is increased until 20 grams of carbohydrates are being taken.

Then the diet is increased by five grams of carbohydrates every other day until the sugar appears, or until the patient is receiving an amount of sugar equivalent to three grams for every 1000 grams of his body weight in 24 hours.

After the first two or three days vegetables containing 10 per cent of carbohydrates, such as onions, squash, turnips, carrots, beets or canned peas may be added to the diet in order to make up the increased amount of sugar.

Subsequent to that, foods containing 15 per cent, such as canned lima beans or parsnips, or 20 per cent of carbohydrates, such as potatoes, baked beans, green corn, boiled rice or macaroni, may be added to make up the amount of sugar.

Fruits have also been classified according to the amount of sugar they contain, and many other foods have been listed for this purpose. It is possible for a physician who is familiar with the amount of protein, fat and carbohydrates that different foods contain to develop a varied diet for a diabetic patient and to control accurately the amount of sugar that is taken in.

The vegetables should be cooked preferably by steaming in a double boiler, as in this way all the juices are retained.

Bread is seldom included in the diet of a diabetic, because it contains large amounts of starch. Special breads are on the market made of gluten or diabetic flours, with the amount of carbohydrates and proteins usually mentioned on the label.

When sugar appears in the excreted fluid, the physician realizes that the patient's ability to assimilate has been exceeded. It then becomes necessary to cause him to fast briefly until the sugar disappears, or he may be given insulin, which aids in causing it to disappear.

In the past, many patients did not do well on the diabetic diets because the amount of food taken was not sufficient to provide proper nutrition. As a result, there was a marked loss of weight and strength and the patient could not resist disease. The discovery of insulin has made it possible to feed the patient a more varied diet, to avoid fasting, to combat complications and thereby to prolong life.
