Different Views.

"Discovery of the North Pole by plane was first in our catalogue of possibilities. Then came the delivery of mail to isolated places in the world. Of course, we saw its possibilities in military science but as a great commercial proposition, aviation seemed to hold forth no high promise."

It was not until 1911, Mr. Wright revealed, that the flight across the Atlantic was even thought of, even in the very remote future.

"By queer quirks of fate," he added, "only one of the three visions of those early days was realized by the plane, that of its military importance."

Trans-oceanic flights, however, Mr. Wright believes are still matters for the future despite Lindbergh's flight. Aviation henceforth, he predicted, will develop sanely and improvements will come gradually along the lines of the railroad train and the automobile—instead of by leaps and bounds to perfection.

RUMOR DENIED.

Detroit, June 1—(AP)—Reports that Captain Charles Lindbergh had been offered a place with the aircraft division of the Ford Motor Company, were characterized as a fabrication, by Henry Ford in a statement issued here tonight.

The statement follows:

"The report that we have made an offer to Captain Lindbergh, is entirely without foundation. In fact we have never considered doing anything of the kind. There is not the slightest grain of truth in the statement that Mr. Liebold (E. G. Liebold) my secretary, has been in communication with Captain Lindbergh, by cable."

The airplane division of the Ford Motor Company is in charge of William B. Mayo and William B. Stout. Vice President Mayo has been the chief designing engineer of the Ford Motor Company almost since its inception. Mr. Stout is the inventor of the all-metal plane produced by the Ford company.

PLAN AIR ESCORT.

Cherbourg, France, June 1—(AP)—An air escort of French naval seaplanes will be Capt. Charles Lindbergh's last glimpse of France when he sails from this port Saturday on the U. S. cruiser Memphis, for home.

The American aviator, who winged his way across this city to Paris and world-wide fame less than two weeks ago, will have the best this town can give as a farewell from France. He is to be created a sort of patron saint of the new landing field here in a little ceremony that will be only a part of the elaborate program that the mayor and other officials began planning just as soon as they heard that the flyer would say goodbye to Europe from here.

The American aviator will be received formally by the authorities when he lands in a French plane from Paris and will be taken through the beflagged streets to the city hall where a committee of prominent persons will await him and where an elaborate municipal reception will be held. An appearance on a balcony is scheduled.

Jackson Approves Extending Limits

Jackson, June 1—(AP)—With the formal incorporation of an 843-acre tract from Summit township in the city of Jackson Wednesday, the municipal limits were changed for the first time in more than half a century. The former limits, making a three-mile square, were established in April, 1873.

The Summit territory, which includes Sharp park, became a part of the city when Burney E. Brower, attorney for W. R. Reynolds & Co., filed a certified copy of the annexation proceedings with the secretary of state at Lansing. The voters of the city and township and of the district involved gave majorities in favor of annexation at the election of November, 1926.

The secretary of state refused to file the election returns on the ground that the county board of supervisors in submitting the question to the people failed to specify that the integrity of the legislative districts should be maintained.

The Michigan supreme court ruled recently on an appeal brought by W. R. Reynolds & Co., owners of a large tract in the territory affected, that the omission of reference to the legislative districts did not affect the validity of the referendum and ordered the secretary of state to accept the return.

Murder Death Rates Declined Last Year

New York, June 1—(AP)—The Spectator, a New York insurance journal, announced today that statistics for the country show a decline in the murder death rate during 1926 as compared with 1925.

For 25 cities for which statistics have been collected since 1910 and which in 1926 had an aggregate population of nearly 23,000,000, the murder death rate for 1926 was 9.9 per 100,000 population, against 11 for 1925.

Chicago again led in the number of homicides for 1926 with a total of 510, a decrease of 53 over the previous year. Other cities, listed in order of number of 1926 homicides, were: New York with 340 in 1926, 274 in 1925; Philadelphia, 173 in 1926, 192 in 1925; St. Louis, 154 in 1926, 163 in 1925; New Orleans, 141 in 1926, 154 in 1925; and Birmingham, Ala., 124 in 1926, 112 in 1925.

STORY OF CRIES CORROBORATED

Another Passerby Gives Testimony at Loomis Murder Trial.

Detroit, June 1—(AP)—Testimony of Mrs. Ethel Bell Blockson, that she heard screams while passing the Loomis home shortly before 9 p. m., on the night Mrs. Grace Loomis was slain, was corroborated on the stand today by her husband, Thomas Blockson.

Testifying at the trial of Dr. Frank Loomis, accused of the murder, Blockson said he accompanied his wife from her place of employment to her mother's home, near the scene of the slaying on the night of February 22. As they passed the Loomis house, the witness declared, they heard a woman's scream followed by the crashing of glass of one of the windows. The time, he said, was precisely 2 minutes before 9 p. m. They did not report the matter to police, Blockson said, thinking it was merely a family quarrel.

The defense contends Loomis was out for a stroll at the time his wife was slain, but that he did not leave the house until 9 o'clock.

Blockson was preceded on the stand by his wife, who completed two days of testimony, most of which was taken up with cross-examination by defense counsel in an effort to discredit her testimony.

The witnesses held to her story given on direct examination that she heard the screams before 9 p. m. The third witness of the day was Peter Daba, conductor of the street car on which Mrs. Blockson said she rode the night of the killing.

Daba was quizzed regarding the time schedule of his car, in an effort to check on Mrs. Blockson's story of the time she passed the Loomis home.

Tomorrow or Friday the judge, jury, attorneys, defendant and court officers are expected to go to the home of Mrs. Florence Nellis, near the Loomis house, to hear testimony. Mrs. Nellis, an invalid, is said to have heard glass breaking the night of the killing.

Investigation of Marquette Pen Not Necessary—Pascoe

Marquette, June 1—(AP)—There is no need of an investigation of conditions in the Marquette branch prison, it was declared Wednesday by John J. Pascoe of Ishpeming, a member of the state prison commission, in commenting on the first of a series of articles written by a Detroit newspaperman.

"You can say for me," said Mr. Pascoe, "that this prison has been and is being investigated from one end to the other. I have been doing the investigating ever since I was appointed on the prison commission."

Mr. Pascoe asserted that he did not care to discuss the story in the Detroit paper, but said that he has not found anything in the prison and had not received any complaints from inmates, although he had talked to many of them, that would justify, in any measure, the sensational charges hurled at prison officers by the Detroit reporter.

Mr. Pascoe intimated that he believed many of the shocking allegations contained in the story were the result of statements made to the reporter by Leo Powers, a lifer in the prison who was sent here from Detroit after being convicted of first degree murder.

"I know all about the Powers case," Mr. Pascoe stated, "I have gone into it thoroughly and am convinced that he has no just complaint to make about the treatment he has received since he became an inmate here."

Solon to be Tried on Robbery Charge

Detroit, June 1—(AP)—Chester A. Good, state representative from Highland Park and former Highland Park city commissioner, today was ordered bound over for trial to the circuit court on a charge of robbery armed.

Bail, which was originally set at $5,000 was increased to $15,000 by Presiding Justice George L. Badder of Highland Park.

Good is accused of having been an accomplice in the holdup of the Highland Park branch of the Peninsular State bank, October 26, 1926, when $2,567 was obtained.

Albert Dubus and Clarence Reault, arrested recently in Los Angeles in connection with the robbery, testified at the preliminary examination today that Good acted as lookout for them during the holdup, and planned the details of the holdup.

The ceremony, performed by the Reverend Dr. Charles F. Blaisdell, rector of Calvary Episcopal church, Memphis, was followed by a wedding supper. Mr. Hitchcock and his wife left tonight for White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Ben's Lawyers Rake Witness

St. Joseph, Mich., June 1—(AP)—Defense attorneys led Esther Hansel, the state's star witness in the House of David receivership suit, back through her story of immorality, fraud and deceit, today, in an effort to brand her allegations as untrue. Time after time W. J. Barnard, who conducted the cross examination, hurled at her the charge that she was a perjurer when she was in the colony. The witness admitted she "lied for the kingdom" when she was a member of the organization but insisted she is telling the truth now.

New testimony was added to the mass already placed in the record by Mrs. Hansel by the defense questions. She charged Purnell had tunnels built so he could escape in time of trouble. One led from Shiloh, his temple house, to a garage where cars were kept in readiness, she declared. The witness told of a secret apartment in the basement to which Benjamin was lowered on at least one occasion.

Purnell Struck Her.

Mrs. Hansel added assault and battery to the charges she has placed against King Benjamin Purnell. She testified that he struck her and knocked her out. It was some minutes before she could come to, she asserted.

Queen Mary Purnell knew of Benjamin's abuses of young girl inmates of the colony, Mrs. Hansel averred. She said when she was first called to Purnell's quarters in Shiloh—she was then 14 years old—Mary was there and remained while Benjamin revealed his mysterious rites.

The colony ruler was described as a mercenary fraud, by the witness. She asserted he sent an agent to England to secure some property willed to colony members by a dying blind woman. Before the woman was dead the agent attempted to strip diamond rings from her fingers. Then he came back and boasted of his feat, she declared. The diamonds were used by Benjamin to adorn the gorgeous raiment he formerly affected, Mrs. Hansel said.

Defense Scores.

The defense scored when Mrs. Hansel testified Purnell told her the colony might be able to retain $8,000 loaned to it by an incompetent named Detrich. Purnell told her a mortgage given

Despondent Woman Wants to Be Killed

St. Paul, Minn., June 1—(AP)—III and deserted by her husband, a 60-year-old woman today attempted to hire Morris Besner, a former service man, to kill her, Besner reported to the police.

He advertised for "work of any kind." A telephone call from a woman asked him to call at her address. In the conversation at her home, Besner said, she inquired particularly as to his experience with fire arms and whether he had killed anyone in the war.

New County Clerk Succeeds Embezzler

Saginaw, Mich., June 1—(AP)—Samuel B. Borland late Wednesday night was appointed Saginaw county clerk. He was named to that office after it was declared vacant on the ground that Sam J. Burns had been convicted of embezzlement by a Bay county circuit court jury last Friday.

The selection was announced by Circuit Judges W. H. Martin and Clarence M. Browne after Probate Judge Emil A. Tessig certified to the circuit judges that the office was vacant. Judge Tessig acted on the advice of Prosecutor Hugo E. Braun, and the decision is based on provisions of the compiled laws of 1915 holding that office is vacant when the holder is "convicted of an infamous crime."

Burns was found guilty of embezzling from Saginaw county's mothers' pension fund.

Fingerprints Found on Throat of Girl

Rogers City, Mich., June 1—(AP)—Finger prints found on the throat of Miss Florence Reo, 21, are believed by police to afford a clue to the assailant who choked and clubbed her to death on a highway near here last night. The body of the young woman was found by four boys.

Officers are working on the theory that Miss Reo was attacked and slain. One man is reported to have been arrested, but police refused to affirm or deny the report.

Persons living near where the crime occurred, said an automobile was seen to turn off the road near the scene, last night. Sheriff's officials declined to say whether they had identified the machine.

Miss Reo was employed by the Michigan Limestone company at Calcite, near here, and was a step-daughter of Richard Arnott. Officers are attempting to trace her movements prior to the slaying.

Deltrich was never recorded.

Barnard refuted this reported boast of Purnell's by introducing the record of the mortgage and its payment.

"Don't you know Purnell never told you these things you claim he did? As a matter of fact aren't all the witnesses to any of these crimes you charge against Purnell either dead or witnesses for the state in the present case?" Barnard shouted at the witness.

The defense attorney bored into Mrs. Hansel's work for the state in preparing the receivership suit. She admitted she visited a number of witnesses and said the state paid her $5 a day and expenses. Turning to George E. Nichols, state attorney, Barnard said: "I'll concede that she is chief counsel for the state and you are her assistant."

Story of School.

The witness repeated her story of the emergency school fitted out in the attic of Shiloh where the girls were to go in case of a raid. She insisted Purnell demanded that members who were drafted in the world war send their pay and compensation to the colony, although Barnard charged her with the declaration the colony's only interest was to get its members in non-combatative service.

Mrs. Hansel said Benjamin taught his followers—for public consumption—not to touch guns or weapons, but that he maintained an arsenal at the colony and carried a gun and a sword case himself.

Barnard charged that Mrs. Hansel really was an accessory to Benjamin's alleged crimes, after she had admitted she knew the laws prohibiting the practices she contends Benjamin carried on. She stated she thought then Purnell could do no wrong.

Mrs. Hansel appeared exhausted after several hours on the stand and court was adjourned a few minutes early because of her condition.

One led from Shiloh, his temple house, to a garage where cars were kept in readiness, she declared. The witness told of a secret apartment in the basement to which Benjamin was lowered on at least one occasion.

Purnell Struck Her.

Mrs. Hansel added assault and battery to the charges she has placed against King Benjamin Purnell. She testified that he struck her and knocked her out. It was some minutes before she could come to, she asserted.

Queen Mary Purnell knew of Benjamin's abuses of young girl inmates of the colony, Mrs. Hansel averred. She said when she was first called to Purnell's quarters in Shiloh—she was then 14 years old—Mary was there and remained while Benjamin revealed his mysterious rites.

The colony ruler was described as a mercenary fraud, by the witness. She asserted he sent an agent to England to secure some property willed to colony members by a dying blind woman. Before the woman was dead the agent attempted to strip diamond rings from her fingers. Then he came back and boasted of his feat, she declared. The diamonds were used by Benjamin to adorn the gorgeous raiment he formerly affected, Mrs. Hansel said.

Defense Scores.

The defense scored when Mrs. Hansel testified Purnell told her the colony might be able to retain $8,000 loaned to it by an incompetent named Detrich. Purnell told her a mortgage given

Despondent Woman Wants to Be Killed

St. Paul, Minn., June 1—(AP)—III and deserted by her husband, a 60-year-old woman today attempted to hire Morris Besner, a former service man, to kill her, Besner reported to the police.

He advertised for "work of any kind." A telephone call from a woman asked him to call at her address. In the conversation at her home, Besner said, she inquired particularly as to his experience with fire arms and whether he had killed anyone in the war.

She told him how ill she was

New County Clerk Succeeds Embezzler

Saginaw, Mich., June 1—(AP)—Samuel B. Borland late Wednesday night was appointed Saginaw county clerk. He was named to that office after it was declared vacant on the ground that Sam J. Burns had been convicted of embezzlement by a Bay county circuit court jury last Friday.

The selection was announced by Circuit Judges W. H. Martin and Clarence M. Browne after Probate Judge Emil A. Tessig certified to the circuit judges that the office was vacant. Judge Tessig acted on the advice of Prosecutor Hugo E. Braun, and the decision is based on provisions of the compiled laws of 1915 holding that office is vacant when the holder is "convicted of an infamous crime."

Burns was found guilty of embezzling from Saginaw county's mothers' pension fund.

Fingerprints Found on Throat of Girl

Rogers City, Mich., June 1—(AP)—Finger prints found on the throat of Miss Florence Reo, 21, are believed by police to afford a clue to the assailant who choked and clubbed her to death on a highway near here last night. The body of the young woman was found by four boys.

Officers are working on the theory that Miss Reo was attacked and slain. One man is reported to have been arrested, but police refused to affirm or deny the report.

Persons living near where the crime occurred, said an automobile was seen to turn off the road near the scene, last night. Sheriff's officials declined to say whether they had identified the machine.

Miss Reo was employed by the Michigan Limestone company at Calcite, near here, and was a step-daughter of Richard Arnott. Officers are attempting to trace her movements prior to the slaying.

Deltrich was never recorded.

Barnard refuted this reported boast of Purnell's by introducing the record of the mortgage and its payment.

"Don't you know Purnell never told you these things you claim he did? As a matter of fact aren't all the witnesses to any of these crimes you charge against Purnell either dead or witnesses for the state in the present case?" Barnard shouted at the witness.

The defense attorney bored into Mrs. Hansel's work for the state in preparing the receivership suit. She admitted she visited a number of witnesses and said the state paid her $5 a day and expenses. Turning to George E. Nichols, state attorney, Barnard said: "I'll concede that she is chief counsel for the state and you are her assistant."

Story of School.

The witness repeated her story of the emergency school fitted out in the attic of Shiloh where the girls were to go in case of a raid. She insisted Purnell demanded that members who were drafted in the world war send their pay and compensation to the colony, although Barnard charged her with the declaration the colony's only interest was to get its members in non-combatative service.

Mrs. Hansel said Benjamin taught his followers—for public consumption—not to touch guns or weapons, but that he maintained an arsenal at the colony and carried a gun and a sword case himself.

Barnard charged that Mrs. Hansel really was an accessory to Benjamin's alleged crimes, after she had admitted she knew the laws prohibiting the practices she contends Benjamin carried on. She stated she thought then Purnell could do no wrong.

Mrs. Hansel appeared exhausted after several hours on the stand and court was adjourned a few minutes early because of her condition.

Big Crowd Will See St. Joe Class Play

A large crowd undoubtedly will witness the St. Joseph high school senior class play, "Daddy Long-Legs," in the school auditorium Friday night. Final preparations have been made by the cast so that the presentation will move with professional ease.

The play has an interesting plot. Judy Abbott, an orphan, after eighteen years of drudgery in the John Grier home, is rescued from the home through the influence of Miss Pritchard and the generous Mr. Pendleton, known to Judy as Mr. Smith.

She is placed in a fashionable college with Mr. Pendleton's niece. To watch over her career he visits his niece Julia at the same place where he knows he will see Judy. She spends her vacation at Lock Willow farm, the home of his old nurse.

The synopsis of scenes follow:

- Act I—The dining room of the John Grier home on trustees' day.
- Act II—Judy's college study, an afternoon in May, one year later.
- Act III—The sitting-room at Lock Willow farm, summer, three years later.
- Act IV—Mr. Pendleton's library, two months later.

Music between the acts will be furnished by the St. Joseph high school orchestra.

The play is produced by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York.

Retailers Book W. H. Farley for Two Lectures Here

Through the courtesy of L. S. Bove, district representative of the National Cash Register company, the Retailers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce has engaged W. H. Farley of the Merchants' Service Bureau of the National Cash Register company to deliver two talks on Thursday, June 23. At the Delta hotel, 12:15 p. m., Mr. Farley will speak to store proprietors, executives and department heads. In the auditorium of the city hall, 8 p. m., Mr. Farley will speak to store proprietors, executives, department heads and sales people.

About a year ago, F. J. Nichols of the Merchants' Service Bureau of the National Cash Register company spoke at a noon meeting of retailers and his address was conceded to be one of the best of its kind ever delivered in Escanaba. Inasmuch as Mr. Farley is reported to be equally as good as Mr. Nichols, the Retailers' committee was not slow to engage him for two addresses on the 23rd.

While these meetings are primarily for retailers, others who care to attend will be welcome. An invitation has been extended to the Gladstone merchants to join the Escanaba merchants in these meetings.

It's the most wonderfully designed and built tire we have ever seen. It's everything Goodyear said, and then some!

You ought to catch up on tire news. Get the 1927 story. Come in and see just how a new specially-designed tread, and the Goodyear Supertwist casing, brings a new day in balloon tire performance.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT. Alaskan Adventures, one of the features of the current bill at the Delft theatre, took audiences by storm yesterday. The picture, which records the adventures of Captain Jack Robertson and Art Young in a bow and arrow hunting trip into the wilds of Alaska demonstrates that truth can be more thrilling than fiction and that motion picture fans appreciate the efforts of producers to give them something worth while. The picture will be shown at the Delft again today.

AT THE STRAND. There are several barometers in a motion picture studio by which the success of a motion picture is foretold. Sometimes this is reflected in the spirit emanating from the director, the attitude of the personnel of the production unit or the effect of the work upon the players.

The only Ginger Ale made this way. Aged 6 months. Clicquot Club. There Is a Real Difference. AS soon as a bottle of Clicquot Club is opened—the full-flavored Golden or the delicate Pale Dry—you will scent the difference. One sip and you will know you have found your ginger ale. The bouquet, the aroma, the zestful tang—they have a quality all their own. The reason is in the aging. It is careful aging that makes Clicquot Club excel in mellow softness; that gives it a charm of rich flavor no other ginger ale can match. The clear, pure water from the Clicquot spring; the skilled blending of flavors; the craftsman's care with which its making is guided and guarded—these are added the crowning touch that gives rare wines distinction. For six months the flavor-elements of Clicquot Club undergo those subtle changes which aging alone can effect; for six months the natural blending proceeds, and at the end of that time comes this most tempting of beverages. No preservatives of any kind are needed or used in the carrying out of this process, for the water and all the ingredients, whose quality is higher than the highest government standards, are as pure as Nature can provide. Shannon-Goulais. Ferns, palms and garden flowers formed the setting for the nuptial ceremony at 9 a. m. Wednesday, June 1, at St. Rose Catholic church, at Racine, Wis., which united in marriage, Frances Ann, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby E. Shannon, 1639 Holmes avenue, and Phillip N. Goulais, of Racine, formerly of this city.

Many friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. S. J. Dowling. It was preceded by an organ recital given by Miss Mattie C. Herms, organist of the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in ivory satin, trimmed in lace and rhinestones. She wore an embroidered veil of tulle which hung in train effect and was attached to her head in cap fashion. Her shower bouquet was of white roses, sweet peas, lilies of the valley and baby breath.

Miss Marie Shannon attended her sister as maid of honor. She was gowned in orchid chiffon and wore a picture hat and silver slippers. She carried a large arm bouquet of roses, orchid sweet peas and larkspur. Arthur Goulais of this city, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Katherine Lekyer, cousin of the bride, from Cherokee, Iowa, and Florence Goulais of this city, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Lockyer wore a gown of pale green chiffon, while Miss Goulais wore peach chiffon. Both wore large picture hats and carried arm bouquets of roses, sweet peas and larkspur.

Little Miss Rosemary Federspiel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Federspiel of Racine, was the flower girl. Her frock was fashioned of chiffon in rainbow shades and she wore a bonnet to match. She carried a basket of roses and lilies of the valley. James Cape, Jr., of the ringbearer, wore a suit of white satin. Ushers for the ceremony were Messrs. Joseph Collins and Thomas O'Connor.

Immediate relatives and friends attended the reception following the ceremony which was held at the Shannon residence. Dinner was served. Among the out-of-town guests were: Joseph Goulais, Arthur and Florence Goulais of this city, Fred Coran of Gladstone, Donald Lockyer, Miss Orma Seaman and Douglas Kirby of Chicago, Miss Ethel McMahon, and Miss Nora Hanson of Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Goulais left on a two weeks' motor trip to northern Wisconsin and Michigan. After July 1 they will be at home to their friends at 1649 Holmes avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Joseph Goulais of this city. He is employed by the Andis Clipper company of Racine.

Sandhom-Bergman. The Swedish Mission church was the scene of a pretty marriage ceremony Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Edith Frederica Sandhom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Sandhom, 421 South Seventeenth street, was united in marriage to Walter Bergman of Ann Arbor, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bergman, 1023 Eighth avenue south of this city.

An improvised altar banked in flowers formed the background of the pretty setting and a large number of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. H. Hanson, pastor.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Sandhom, and Herbert Bergman was his brother's attendant. The little flower girl was Pearl Magnusen.

Entering the church auditorium from the church parlors, Rev. Hanson took his place before the altar; the bridesmaid, wearing a gown of peach color taffeta trimmed in white georgette and a corsage of tea roses and sweet peas, entered next; the flower girl in white or gandy carrying a basket of sweet peas and rose petals, was followed by the bride on the arm of her father. The bridegroom and his attendant met them at the altar, having entered from the left of the altar.

The bride's gown was of white crepe romaine over ivory satin. The tulle veil was fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms and her bridal bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley with sprays of baby breath.

As the bridal party entered the church, Miss Gwendolyn Sundquist played Mendelssohn's Wedding March and Lohengren's Wedding March as they left the church for the church parlors where a reception was held for forty guests. During the ceremony Mrs. J. H. Hanson sang "I Love You Truly," while Miss Hildeen Hanson played the accompaniment.

A five-course dinner was served at the church parlors with Mrs. Peter Johnson and Mrs. John Kilstrom catering. Miss Ethel Newlin and Miss Evelyn Aronson were the waitresses.

The young couple were both born and reared in this city and both are graduates of Escanaba high school. Mr. Bergman has been employed as druggist at Ann Arbor and his bride was a teacher in the rural schools. She is very popular among the younger set, and members of the Young People's society of the Swedish Mission church tendered her a pre-nuptial party recently at which time she was the recipient of a number of pretty and valuable gifts.

They will make their home at Ann Arbor, having entrained last night at 8:40 o'clock for a trip to Chicago, enroute their home.

A sumptuous dinner was served at 3 o'clock and the day was spent in playing games and dancing. A musical program was rendered and the couple was presented with a gift from their many relatives and friends.

Relatives from Ensign, Manistique and this city attended the affair.

Mannebach-Mousseau.

M., was the celebrant at the nuptial mass and performed the wedding ceremony when Miss Magdalen Virginia Mannebach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Mannebach, 523 South Tenth street, became the bride of Donald A. Mousseau of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Mousseau, 1213 Eighth avenue south, this city. The bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Mickelson and Benedict Mannebach, brother of the bride, was best man.

A wedding dinner was served at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, covers being laid for forty guests. A color scheme of orchid and green with cut flowers formed the home decorations.

The bride wore a gown of rose colored beige with hat of corresponding shade and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of rose blush silk with hat to match and carried tea roses.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mousseau of Ishpeming, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Antonian and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bannebach and family, Miss Evelyn Devroy and Norbert Chabot of Green Bay.

Mr. Mousseau was formerly employed at the Fair Store, and for the past eighteen months has held a position with Marshall Field & Co. in Chicago, in which city the couple will make their home. Enroute to Chicago they will spend several days at the Dells of Wisconsin.

her choicest treasures on the lower Michigan peninsula. Hundreds of beautiful inland lakes, with broad, sandy beaches, great forests of resinous woods, and everywhere breezes that bring new life and vigor, make this northland the pre-eminent summer playground for young and old.

Michigan in summer! It holds for the vacationist a subtle fascination that makes him want to linger in the cool, pine-scented forests, along the sparkling streams, on the limpid lakes, or beside the enchanting waters of Lake Michigan.

No matter what your moods, northern Michigan is tempered to them. Are you a fisherman? Michigan's numerous streams and inland lakes abound with large and small-mouth bass, brook trout, muskellunge, pike, pickerel, and many other varieties.

Do you golf? Some of the sportiest courses in the country are in northern Michigan, practically all of them available to the summer visitor. One will find them fascinating from the character of their natural hazards and their well-kept greens and fairways. If you want to rest, if you crave outdoor sports—sailing, canoeing, motor boating, bathing, fishing, golf, hiking, horseback riding or motoring—northern Michigan offers you incomparable facilities.

"Michigan in Summer" illustrated and containing maps showing lakes and streams, a list of hotels and boarding places, rates, etc., golf courses and Michigan state fish laws, will be sent upon request to A. W. Shaw, general passenger agent, Chicago.

This sort of publicity for "Hawatha Land" is becoming quite general throughout the country, and indicates that this district is approaching one of the best tourist seasons in recent years.

CITY CLERK IS NOW HIGHEST PAID OFFICIAL

Under the new schedule of salaries as adopted by a 3 to 2 vote of the Manistique city council on Tuesday evening, the city clerk and treasurer becomes the highest paid municipal employe at $160 per month. The city assessor, water commissioner, street commissioner, fire chief and police chief come next with $150 a month, the permanent policeman is third with $125, and the city manager is a poor fourth at $100.

In the resolution on salary fixing, as presented by Councilman Benjamin Gerod and supported by Councilman F. N. Cookson, no mention was made of the salary to be paid G. J. Mowitt, who entered the employ of the city last September, and is now acting as a chemist and milk inspector, in addition to his engineering and office duties as assistant to the city manager.

Whether the resolution was intended to eliminate Mr. Mowitt, or whether it was meant that he should continue at the salary previously fixed, was not made known by the sponsors of the resolution, although the latter was taken as the effect of the action for the present. Previously, three members of the council had sought to show that the hiring of Mr. Mowitt was not sanctioned or authorized by the city council, although the minutes showed that the council had left the matter to the manager when the question was brought up last session.

Fire Chief Promoted.

The resolution on salaries was as follows: "Resolved, by the council of the City of Manistique, that the salaries of the various city officers and employes of the City of Manistique from June 1, 1927, be, and the same are hereby fixed and determined as follows, subject to changes at the pleasure of the council: City manager, $100 per month; city attorney, $65.47; city assessor, $150; health officer $50; justice of the peace, $100; chief of police, $150; fire chief, $150; water commissioner, $150; street commissioner, $150; policeman (permanent) $125."

Incidentally, the fire chief and the city manager were the only ones whose monthly rate of pay was changed. The former was raised $25 a month over his previous salary.

No action was taken on the request of Mr. DeVet of Fayette regarding damages sustained when his car struck a traffic guide, and none was contemplated.

The city clerk was authorized to correct the spelling of a word "Wallace," as it appeared in a resolution offered at the previous meeting. City Atty. James C. STREET REPAIR WORK STARTED Gravel Road Improvements on Department Program.

The city street force is busy carrying out the street improvement program provided for in the budget, and members of the crew of grubbing out and grading a number of the streets preparatory to graveling them.

A sub-grade is being completed on Dakota avenue between Sixth and Seventh street. This has been little more than a driveway from the block next to it will be a sixteen foot wide gravel roadway.

The department is also removing old pine stumps and brush from the block next to this. Dakota between Fifth and Sixth, bringing it to grade and making the necessary cuts and fills. The improvement will not only put road into better shape now but will facilitate snow removal in the winter months.

This week grading on Third street between Delta and Wisconsin avenues, a stretch which has been almost impassable, will be completed. The road has been below grade in places and filling in will put it in condition for graveling.

This work will also be done on Thirteenth street between Dakota and Michigan.

All work is in charge of the regular city force with the one man excavator attached to the city tractor being used.

THEATRES

"THE CAVE MAN" A coal scoop leaning against an exquisite Chinese Chippendale cabinet. That is the symbolism of Warner Bros., production of "The Cave Man," in which Matt Moore and Marie Prevost are co-stars, and which is opening today at the Community theatre.

The coal scoop symbolizes the character of Mike Smagg as portrayed by Matt Moore. Strong, large and useful, but not very ornamental or finely polished—scratched by coal and contact with a rough world.

Marie Prevost, as Myra Gaylord, is symbolized by the delicate perfection of the Chinese Chippendale cabinet, useful in a luxurious way, but mainly pleasing to the eye—eminently ornamental, the sheltered, pampered darling of wealth, respectability, and social authenticity.

AT THE LYRIC. If your screen tastes run to thrills, love, uproarious comedy and adventure, don't miss "Batling Butler," now playing at the Lyric theatre. It is Buster Keaton's newest laugh opus and by far the greatest picture he has ever made. This is a broad statement, but any member of the capacity audiences turning out to greet the comedy during its local engagement will provide the proof of its truthfulness.

Buster has taken a successful play and picturized it on an elaborate scale, retaining the novel plot and adding scores of laugh-provoking situations which were impossible to bring out on the stage.

Indians' Bombardment Routs Bengals, 14 to 1

FOUR DETROIT HURLERS USED

Cleveland Makes 20 Hits for Grand Total of 31 Bases.

Detroit, June 1—(AP)—Cleveland pounded out a 14 to 1 victory over Detroit here today, thereby gaining an even break in the four-game series. Four Detroit pitchers were hit hard while Hudlin was effective and scored his sixth victory of the season.

Cleveland made 20 hits, including seven doubles and two triples, for a total of 31 bases. The Indians settled the issue when seven of them crossed the plate in the third. In this inning both Gibson and Hankins were driven out of the box. George Burns led the Cleveland attack with four hits, and one of them was his seven-teenth double of the year.

The Indians sent eleven batters to the plate during their seven-run rally in the third inning. They combined seven hits off Gibson, Hankins and Wells before they were finally retired. Their attack in this one inning included a triple by Summa and doubles by Hudlin, Jamieson and Neis.

For good measure the Indians tacked on three more runs in the fifth at the expense of Wells, when they touched his southpaw delivery for three doubles. Smith, who was the most effective of Detroit's pitchers, yielded one run in the sixth and another in the seventh.

Hudlin in beating the Tigers for the third time this season, held them to three hits. All of these were made in the second inning when Detroit scored its only run. Fothergill opened with a single to center. Hudlin singled through the box and Neis singled to left to fill the bases. Fothergill scored as Tavener grounded out to Burns. From that point no Detroit runner advanced beyond first base.

In the last four innings Hudlin turned Detroit batters back in order.

THE INSIDE BASEBALL

1. Does an umpire give any consideration as to whether an interference is intentional or accidental?
2. Catcher hits ball over fence, coach at third pats him on the back as he rounds third, is there any penalty?
3. Is it possible for a run to score on a double play that requires the side.

THIS TELLS IT
1. The umpire gives no consideration as to the intent on an interference play. If it happens, he must call it even though purely accidental.
2. No attention should be paid to the act of the coach when batsman hits ball over fence for a home run. Joy there is no chance for a play on such a hit.
3. A run can score on any double play that retires the side, provided the third out is not a forced out, or a play in which the batsman fails to reach first. The runner, of course, must cross the plate before the final out is made.

BRITISH GOLF TEAM IN PINK

Turn in Good Scores Before International Cup Matches.

Worcester, Mass., June 1—(AP)—The members of the British Ryder cup team, which will defend the cup in the international matches with the team of American professionals at the Worcester Country club Friday and Saturday, showed to excellent advantage in their practice rounds today, although no one was able to turn in a par card of 70.

Aubrey Boomer and Charles Whitcombe paired against George Duncan and Archie Compston in a Scotch foursome, a trying test of the course, and Boomer and Whitcombe came home in 71, which is considered excellent for that style of play on a course so difficult as that over which the matches will be played. At times they played indifferently, or their card might have been lower.

Ted Ray, captain of the invading team, and Fred Robeson, paired against their teammates, George Gadd and Arthur Havers, and won, seven and five. Hay and Robeson were over the course in 73.

Gene Sarazen, Joe Turnesa and Al Espinosa of the American team arrived today, joining Al Watrus who came to Worcester yesterday. Walter Hagen, captain of the team; Diegel, Johnny Farrell and Johnny Golden, other members, are due tomorrow. It is believed here that Mike Brady, selected as first alternate on the American team, will not come.

Rube Walberg allowed only five hits and Myles Thomas six in a pitching duel that was decided in the ninth when Joe Dugan delivered a pinch single that scored Paschal.

Hudkins Victor in Battle With Mello

New York, June 1—(AP)—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska welterweight, battered Al Mello of Lowell, Mass., all over the ring in their 10-round fight here tonight. Forcing the fight all the way, Hudkins had his adversary on the verge of a knockout as the final gong sounded.

The blonde westerner took the last eight rounds and the first two were even. His windmill tactics had Mello on the run as early as the third round and in the fourth he completely closed Mello's right eye.

The victory established Hudkins in the front rank as a challenger for Pete Latzo's crown, and he may eventually get a match with the winner of the Latzo-Dundee fight Friday night at the Polo Grounds.

Tilden and LaCoste Remain in Tournney

St. Cloud, France, June 1—(AP)—The international hard court tennis championships have narrowed down to the semi-finals with William T. Tilden, the lone American survivor and Rene Lacoste of France, the outstanding figures in the men's singles.

State College Nine Overcomes Michigan

East Lansing, June 1—(AP)—Michigan State college batters drove Neblung from the box in the fourth inning under a fire of hits which brought in four runs to defeat Michigan, 4 to 1, in a baseball game today.

Rowley of Michigan State drove out a home run in the second inning to score Fleser after Michigan had scored their sole run. Two more scores in the fourth inning placed Coach Kobs men in a lead which was never threatened. Asbeck, who relieved Neblung, was not scored on.

The score:

The NUT CRACKER

Tex Rickard's dinner with the 600 Millionaires (please note the capital) may not have been merely a social gesture, after all. Mr. Rickard is talking terms with Mr. Dempsey, you know.

If Ty Cobb keeps scarring the outfield lumber in such savage fashion, we may have to pull old Iron Man Joe McGinty back into the league to stop these Boy Scouts.

Mr. O'Goofy doesn't care if the French do win the Davis cup over at Wimbledon. The hardy fellow rises to mumble that cups somehow have lost their significance in this country.

Floods aren't always a calamity. Think what a nice rain means to Bill Carrigan!

PHILLIES WHIP PIRATES, 7 TO 4

Meadows Cracks in 8th After Seven Tight Innings.

Pittsburgh, June 1—(AP)—Lee Meadows, bespectacled Pittsburgh mound star, allowed Philadelphia but one hit in seven innings of today's game, but in the eighth, the visitors bunched five hits, including a homer by Leach, and two walks, and won the battle, 7 to 4. Pruett kept the Pirates' 14 hits well scattered.

CHICAGO BOXER KILLED IN BOUT

Adams Succumbs Shortly After Being Kayoed by Mandell.

Kansas City, Kans., June 1—(AP)—Steve Adams, Chicago lightweight boxer, died here tonight a few minutes after being knocked out by Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., world's lightweight champion.

Adams fell into the ropes toward the end of the second round after slipping out of a clinch. He dropped to the floor unconscious and died 15 minutes later in the ring without having regained consciousness. A pulmonator was used in a vain effort to revive Adams.

Referee Walter Bates, who counted out the fallen boxer, said that Adams collapsed and that no blow was struck by the champion as the challenger fell.

Bates expressed the opinion that Adams died as the result of a heart attack. A blow struck earlier in the second round might have been responsible for the attack, Bates said.

The referee declared that all of Mandell's blows had been clean.

The bout was scheduled for ten rounds. Both men weighed in at 135 pounds.

Battered Callahan. Adams had boxed here several times recently. He scored a knockout in the fourth round over "Shuffle" Callahan in one engagement.

The boxing show was held under the auspices of Wyandotte County American Legion Post under the supervision of the Kansas boxing commission.

Dr. L. D. Mable, medical examiner for the boxing commission, expressed the opinion that heart trouble caused Adams' death. The physician examined the boxer before the bout and pronounced him in perfect physical condition. Adams was 24 years old.

Mandell went to police headquarters with his manager, Eddie Kane, Arthur J. Mellot, prosecuting attorney of Wyandotte county, was summoned.

HIGHWAY MEET OPENS TODAY

Road Builders Have Splendid Program for Two-Day Session.

The Northern Michigan Road Builders' association, consisting of all of the county highway engineers and commissioners of the upper peninsula and representatives of the state highway department, will open a two-day conference in the Delta county courthouse this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Frank F. Rogers, state highway commissioner, and members of his official cabinet will be present. Discussions will embrace a large number of topics of interest to the men who are building and maintaining roads of all types and descriptions.

At the morning session, Mr. Rogers, his deputy, G. C. Dillman, and his division engineer for the peninsula, H. I. Davies, will address the convention. A resolution committee will be appointed.

This afternoon will be given over to round-table discussions. B. C. Tiney, maintenance engineer of the state highway department, will "state the case" of "Standard Signs for County Roads" while H. F. Larson of Iron county will start the delegates on their discussion of "Timber Reserves and Wide Rights of Way for Roads."

At 6 o'clock tonight Mr. Rogers will be the principal speaker at a joint banquet of the association and the Escanaba Rotary club, to be held in the Delta hotel.

The convention will continue through Friday.

Mr. Rogers, accompanied by Mr. Dillman, Mr. Tiney, and other members of his staff, arrived in Escanaba last night.

Queries Pour Into Development Bureau

Inquiries from prospective summer visitors to "Hiawatha Land" have reached a volume 300 per cent in excess of those received at the corresponding period last year by the Upper Peninsula Development bureau's offices at Marquette.

So much interest is being displayed that it is felt that nothing but adverse weather conditions will prevent a record-breaking tourist season. These requests for information are passed along to local organizations, hotel proprietors and others who placed their names on the bureau's mailing list.

"Local business organizations and information bureaus can help materially," said George E. Bishop, secretary of the bureau, "by compiling complete local information and having it ready on demand. This applies especially to the owners of cottages for rent and those with other resorting facilities to offer. The latter should not wait for their local organizations to list them. It is up to the owners to get their names on file without delay, so that requests for tourist information can receive full and prompt attention. The good effects of the bureau's extensive advertising will be lost in part of community organizations and individuals fail to do their share. Prospective visitors want as precise and exact information as possible and it is up to us to pull together and give it to them."

HOW TRUE.

Driver Unhurt When His Car Overtakes

Louis Hogstrom, of Hogstrom, a village near Munising, narrowly escaped death while driving between Escanaba and Gladstone yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when his roadster plunged down an embankment north of Terrace Gardens, and overturned on the old lake bottom. Hogstrom escaped uninjured.

Only meagre details of the accident could be secured, but police officials investigating the matter found that the car had been driven several hundred feet partly in the left ditch. In attempting to swerve the car back on the road, Hogstrom evidently brought the wheel sharply around, and before he could control the machine, it had crossed the highway and plunged over the embankment on the other side.

Princess Starts Chewing Gum Fad

Bucharest (AP)—Princess Nicholas and Princess Ileana have introduced chewing gum into Rumanian society.

The habit of chewing gum was almost unknown in Bucharest until they returned home from their tour of the United States. Shortly afterwards, they visited a kiosk which carries foreign newspapers and other knick-knacks demanded by tourists and visiting business men, and bought a whole box. Since then, the dealer says, his sales of chewing gum among the natives have increased many-fold.

The Cause of Near-Sight and Its Correction

Where the eyeball is too long for the power of the lens system of the eye—in this case the image of the object looked at will fall in front of the retina, and we call such an eye nearsighted, or myopic.

The use of glasses with concave lenses of the proper power will throw the image back upon the retina and thus correct the trouble.

The cause and correction for a farsighted eye will be explained in Sunday's article.

LITTLE SPEAKS TO CLUB MEET

PROTEST BEING OUSTED

Louisville, Ky., June 1—(AP)—The Louisville Women's Club which was expelled from the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs at its annual meeting in May, issued a formal protest tonight to the biennial council of the general Federation of Women's Clubs now in session at Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The local club which has a membership of approximately 700, refused at last year's biennial session of the federation at Atlantic City to be bound by decisions of the general federation and its expulsion followed this year. The Louisville Women's Club had refused to be bound upon matters of general legislation favorably passed upon by the council of the general federation.

For Free Speech

Mrs. Margaret Englehart, local president, in making public tonight a copy of a formal protest mailed yesterday to Mrs. John D. Sherman, national president, said that the South Carolina and Virginia federations had taken somewhat similar action to that of Kentucky, though as far as known here none of its clubs has severed connection with the general federation. The protest signed by Mrs. Englehart and the six members of the executive committee said that expulsion of the local club was illegal and asserted that it simply stood for the "principle of freedom of speech and local self government" and added:

"Believing that the future political usefulness of the general federation depends upon the recognition of this principle, the women's club of Louisville appeals to the patriotic and thinking club women of the country against the action of the Kentucky federation in thus establishing a dangerous precedent."

CLOSED INCIDENT

Grand Rapids, June 1—(AP)—The expulsion of the Louisville Women's Club from the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs or General Federation, until such action shall have been duly ratified by the members of this club at a meeting called for the purpose. Each time the question was considered, had been upheld by an overwhelming vote.

Arose in Indiana

The controversy arose, records of the federation disclosed, at the biennial council at West Baden, Ind., in June 1925, following a discussion on the responsibility of clubs in supporting legislation endorsed by the general federation. At the close of the discussion, the president of the Louisville club asked for her ruling on the matter. Mrs. Sherman asserted. The ruling was that the clubs are not bound to work for measures sponsored by the federation, but that the name of the state or club should not be used in opposition to the measures, although no restrictions were placed on individual members.

At the biennial convention in Atlantic City in 1926, the federation head said, a motion of the Louisville club to rescind the West Baden council's action was lost, only 11 affirmative votes being cast. The amendment to the by-law followed.
