AXE MURDERER BEING SOUGHT

Third Victim of Brooklyn Slayer Believed Discovered.

New York, July 11—(AP)—A third victim of Brooklyn's axe murderer was believed found today.

While working under police direction, searched the dark cellar of the house at 28 Prospect Place, bringing to light now and then a fragment of the bodies of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Brownell, 49-year-old spinster, and Mrs. Selma Larson Bennett, 48-year-old wife and mother of four children, an employee of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit company, found a woman's head in the company's yard at Thirty-seventh street and Fifth avenue, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Bennett's head was missing, and police, who had found virtually every other part of the two women's bodies, were ready to quit their search of the cellar and sewers. Then they learned that the head found in the railway yard was badly decomposed, whereas they found portions of the bodies of Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Brownell were not in that condition.

An police speculated on the probability of a third murder. Mrs. Mary de Martino reported that her daughter, Evelyn, 18, had been missing since July 30, having left home on the date to visit Mrs. Brownell. Miss de Martino was last seen entering the house at 28 Prospect Place.

Police continued to question the first suspect arrested in connection with the crimes, Ludwig Halverston Lee, former sailor and the janitor of the 28 Prospect Place house.

Ascot Sponsors Beige Top Hats

Ascot, Eng.—(AP)—The Royal Ascot racing classic still is the stage on which Englishmen demonstrate to the world the art of wearing morning clothes.

One innovation this year is the cream or beige top hat, which was worn by King George and Prince Arthur of Connaught among others.

A new white double collar was brought out by the Prince of Wales. The outer fold is considerably deeper than the inner, and the opening in the front is well set away, permitting greater space for the knot of the tie.

A further feature was the number of men wearing lavender grey in necktie, waistcoat or gloves. King George chose all three articles in different tones of this shade.

White top hats far outnumbered black and were worn by the younger set of men, led by Prince Henry.

LARGE CROWDS SEE CARNIVAL

Morris & Castle Shows Largest and Best Ever Seen Here.

The Morris & Castle shows, playing at the fair grounds under auspices of Cleveland Post, American Legion, provided several thousand people with entertainment last night. The carnival is undoubtedly the largest that has ever played Escanaba, and those who saw it last night unhesitatingly pronounced it the best attraction of its kind they have seen.

The shows are arranged in a hollow square with the rides in the center, the whole tented city occupying 10 or 12 acres.

Morris & Castle offer a number of unique and decidedly "different" attractions this season. To mention all of the shows and rides would require columns of space. Among the outstanding features of the midway, however, are the Hollywood Follies, a musical comedy; the Globe of Death, in which a huge steel sphere of latticed steel is substituted for conventional "tank" of the old motordromes with many added thrills; the Palace of Illusion, in which a brand-new puzzle, Shooting Through a Woman, is featured; several unusual circus side shows; a "fat family," a monkey highway, and many others.

Children find the baby elephant and his mother and "Snooks," the baby chimpanzee, particularly alluring.

Several new rides and all the old familiar ones, with two or three new "walk through" establishments and many concessions are noted on the midway.

Bright and Clean. The bright cleanliness and new paint and gold leaf and the brilliant lighting system attracted much favorable comment last night.

The employees and performers, from the members of the executive staff down to the workmen, are clean, neat and polite.

The show will be open afternoons and nights, closing next Saturday night.

The Record for cooking

a hot breakfast

"HOT oats and milk" is the dietetic urge of the day. It's the "balanced ration" of protein, carbohydrates and vitamins—plus the "bulk" to make laxatives less often needed—that world's authorities are advising.

Now you cook it in 2 1/2 to 5 minutes. That's faster than plain toast. No kitchen mess or bother.

Why go on, then, with less nourishing breakfasts? Today get Quick Quaker... food that stands by you through the morning.

GOOD ATTACKS STATE WITNESS

Solon on Trial States Mrs. Brady Not Her Right Name.

Detroit, July 11—(AP)—The state may lose its star witness in its case against Chester A. Good, Highland Park state representative, charged with robbery armed, unless it produces reasons for summoning her under a name by which she is commonly known but which the defense contends is not her right name.

The witness is Mrs. Helen Brady, brother of Albert Dubus, one of Good's accusers, at whose home both Dubus and his companion, Clarence Reault, confessed participants in a bank holdup which Good is charged with having planned, said the loot of the robbery was divided.

When Mrs. Brady was called to the witness stand today Thomas F. Chawke, defense attorney, objected on the ground that her correct name is "Helen Bonkowski." Judge Vincent M. Brennan withheld his ruling until tomorrow when the prosecution will cite reason for summoning the witness under the first name.

The prosecution moved toward closing of its case today after direct examination of Dubus, who first was placed on the witness stand last week.

"I didn't think he (Good) should vote for the death penalty when he's a bank bandit himself," Dubus said under questioning by Ben H. Cole, assistant prosecuting attorney.

Witness replied in the negative when Chawke asked him later if the statement had not been promoted by police and members of the prosecutor's office.

George T. Plehn, manager of the branch of the Peninsular State bank which figured in the holdup, described the details of the robbery and said that he had known Good for two or three years. Plehn was a teller at the time of the holdup.

NEWMAN-BIRGER ENMITY FLARES

Gangster's Family Must Take Seats Outside Court Hall.

Benton, Ill., July 11—(AP)—New indications of enmity between Charles Birger, gang leader, and Art Newman, one of his two former henchmen, on trial with him for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City were given today as the work of selecting a jury progressed slowly.

The session opened with a motion from counsel for Newman, asking that all relatives of the defendants be asked to stay "outside the hall."

Gladstone, June 11—(Special)—Mrs. John Murdock was chosen to succeed Dr. James Mitchell as member of the school board, and W. A. Swenson was re-elected at today's election. Mrs. Murdock's election came as a complete surprise as she was a "dark horse" candidate. Her strength was evident, however, on the first ballot when she received 28 votes, Arthur Sawyer 23, W. A. Swenson 75, Phil Hupy 53, and G. R. Empton 57.

Agricultural Meet Approves Farm Aid

St. Paul, Minn., July 11—(AP)—Demands for satisfactory farm aid legislation by the next session of congress or an overthrow of the administration in 1928, marked addresses before the northwestern agricultural conference here today.

In every case speakers endorsed the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill, vetoed last winter by President Coolidge, and one called on the farmers to carry on the fight until "some president" signs a bill embodying those principles.

While formal resolutions will not come before the conference until its closing session tomorrow, delegates representing farm organizations in 14 states applauded frequently the references to the McNary-Haugen bill.

In an address tonight, Congressman Charles Brand, of Ohio, himself a Republican, warned his party that failure to pass satisfactory legislation might enable the opposition to avail itself of this great opportunity.

United States Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, said any legislation would fail "unless it brings the power of the government to control its surplus so that it might be fed to the market as the need of consumption requires."

Four Children Burn to Death in Canada

Ottawa, July 11—(AP)—Four children were burned to death in their home at Wilno, Ont., today. Another of the family, Yvonne, 18 years old, made a desperate attempt to save her brother and three sisters. She was so badly burned that she now lies in the Wilno Red Cross hospital on the verge of death.

The dead are Alice Lacombe, 11; Bella Lacombe, 9; Edna, 7, and Isadora, 5.

The fire started while the four children were asleep in upstairs rooms. The eldest girl, Yvonne, was outside feeding the chickens. She saw an outbreak of flames and ran into the house and made a gallant attempt at rescue. She dragged Alice and Bella to a window, but was forced to abandon them and jump. A fifth child, a boy, also jumped from the window, sustaining minor injuries. The father was away from home at the time of the tragedy; he was about to be married for the third time.

Detroit, July 11—(AP)—Sammy Mandell, wearer of the lightweight crown, tonight had put aside his gloves until Friday when he will climb into the ring at the University of Detroit stadium for a fight with Phil McGraw, his Greek challenger, in defense of his title.

"He will do no more boxing for this fight," Eddie Kane, the Rockford puncher's manager, said today. "His condition is almost perfect and all he needs is light work to keep his muscles loose."

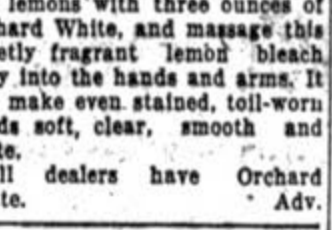

Camp followers at McGraw's headquarters remarked that the challenger looks much faster in the ring than when he began his training, and that a passing sluggishness apparently has disappeared.

Barrett's Running Wins for Red Hose

Chicago, July 11—(AP)—Daring base running by Bill Barrett enabled Chicago to defeat Boston, 7 to 6, taking three out of the five game series. After the locals had taken an early lead, the Red Sox bunched hits and drove Blankenship off the hill in the eighth inning whereupon Jacobs forced in the tying run. After two were out in the ninth, Barrett singled and stole second. Hoffman's throw was wide and Barrett went to third and scored when Flanagan fumbled the ball in centerfield.

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

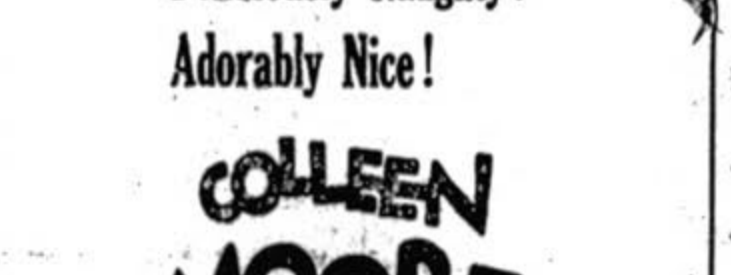

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. IN NEW YORK

New York, July 11.—"You can have New York!" remarked my friend from Texas. "But I like a place where you can get your pants back from the presser without waiting a week and can be sure of getting your laundry within a day."

Manhattan is certainly hard-boiled where service is concerned. The impression is that New York has the last word in efficiency, but there is no place where the average person is more at the mercy of those with whom he deals.

A newcomer invariably calls up one of the newspapers and asks to have a paper delivered at his door. He is astonished to find that there is no such thing as a newspaper delivery system and, if he wished a paper, he will have to see some news stand in his neighborhood where such things are attended to.

I personally have gone to six stands only to find that my place of residence is a door or two off their beat. Finally locating the right dealer, I learn that in addition to the price of the newspaper I must pay 25 cents a month for delivery service fee. In addition, I later discover, that unless I give the boy a tip now and then the delivery service is most irregular.

This attitude of "take it or leave it" is extremely general. It took me three weeks and four milk companies to get a bottle of milk delivered at my door of mornings. The first company I dealt with told me flatly they could not deliver before 9 o'clock because the man on my route didn't get there before that, and they didn't intend to change matters. It is equally true that the laundry and tailor give as little attention to the desires of customers.

Outside the big established stores, few concerns depend on regular trade. New York is so large that most businesses can rely on transient trade and tell individuals to take it, or leave it. They are well aware that if you are annoyed and go elsewhere you'll be met with pretty much the same spirit.

The large milk companies will tell you they have all the business they can handle and you'll have to accept their terms or go without. The same goes for the tailor, the laundry, the news-dealer and the dressmaker.

In "specialties" it is the same. To have her hair bobbed by anyone with a reputation, milady must call up and make appointments, sometimes weeks in advance. I know a dentist who can make an appointment only a month ahead.

This morning a doctor I know was telling me: "I could go out now and make a dozen calls, but I keep office hours from 2 until 6. I've got to get some rest and recreation. I could make $100 a day more in the mornings alone, but I've got all the practice I need and want. I don't want a bigger practice. Besides that, there are 6000 more doctors in town."

And, perhaps, a couple of thousand of them say the same thing.

Jungle Breath

With the aid of his two companions, who had come running up, Vilak, as he had done on the occasion of Barbetta's death, began to raise and lower the stricken man's arms in an attempt to bring air and thus oxygen to his paralyzed body.

"Must have been lying there a day at least, poor devil," Vilak murmured. "Can tell that by the amount of dust that's collected on the under part of his clothing."

A few hundred yards away, behind a low rock which had prevented his beholding it before, he came upon what at first appeared to be another body but on closer inspection proved to be a skeleton clad in fragments of blue trousers and orange peasant blouse.

"Undoubtedly was stricken at the same time as Cicerone," Vilak muttered. "Only Detto had more resistance and lasted longer. The birds and ants have made quick work of him, poor wretch."

Shortly before sunset they passed the ruins of a small temple resting on a ledge of volcanic rock above them. The roof had long since disappeared. Half of the walls had collapsed and many of the stones tumbled to the road below.

A mile farther on they pitched their camp. A hot spring steamed noisily nearby. Vilak shot a small brownish animal much resembling an opossum. They ate, then he took out a notebook and began studying a small calendar at the back.

"If my theory's correct, we ought to reach our journey's end quickly. Very quickly. And have news of Tinky." He gazed at his cousin, who was listlessly laying down rows of cards on the sand before a crackling fire.

It was Limey Potts. His hard, brutal face and the front of his grimy linens were covered with dirt of the road; his hair hung tangled and unkempt over his forehead. The movements of his hulking body came in quick wooden jerks, like the movements of an automaton; his eyes were gleaming with the same feverish intensity which had marked the eyes of Tony Barbetta and Detto Cicerone.

ESCANABA, MICH.

Crowd of 3,000 Attends Dedication of Hospital

Three thousand persons attended the dedication of the two new wings of St. Francis hospital here Sunday afternoon. These in the immense crowd inspected every room in the building, looked over every item of equipment and talked with the patients, the doctors, the Sisters and technicians, and to many the institution was a revelation.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Paul Joseph Nussbaum of Marquette delivered the inspiring dedication address. Other talks were given by Mayor George G. Genesee and John P. Norton, publisher of the Escanaba Daily Press. The Escanaba Municipal band furnished a delightful musical program during the afternoon.

A host of flowers from dozens of business houses, professional men and individuals added materially to the spirit of the occasion. These were placed about the spacious corridors, halls, chapel and in other parts of the building.

The visitors began arriving early in the afternoon. They were shown through the building by capable guides. From boiler room to nursery—through all of the departments old and new—the visitors went, realizing as they progressed that Escanaba has a hospital second to none in the country in equipment and efficiency.

"We were more than pleased with the interest the people of this community exhibited in our hospital," said a member of the staff yesterday. "We believe it reveals a genuine community interest in the institution and a desire on the part of the people here to know more about their hospital, its management, equipment and staff. We want to express our sincere gratitude to all who took part, in any of the activities which helped to make the day a success."

The chapel service, dedicating the new edifice, was conducted by Bishop Nussbaum, assisted by members of the clergy. St. Joseph's choir sang a special program and during the Solemn Benediction with the Blessed Sacrament.

Bishop's Address.

Bishop Nussbaum said in part: "We have called down God's blessing on this new addition to St. Francis hospital.

"Escanaba is fortunate to have this great institution of mercy. When insidious germs poison the fountains of life, functional disturbances endanger life, or accidents wreck the human frame, what a relief to all concerned to have near by a well-equipped and well-staffed hospital. Medicine and surgery skillfully administered and careful nursing prolong life and rehabilitate the disabled. Happy the community which possesses an institution where the marvels of medicine and surgery may be wrought.

"A city without adequate hospital accommodation is lacking an essential element for its welfare. This lack may also indicate that its citizens have not developed the finer feelings of humanity. I do not hesitate to say that proper care for the sick is an index of a people's culture and civilization. Of course, I mean of Christian culture and civilization. Pagan Greece and Rome had attained the highest degree of culture, but they had no organized work for the relief of the sick. Loving, sympathetic care for the sick is a trait of Christian culture. The Divine Master preached and practiced it. By His divine power he healed the various forms of disease, including the most loathsome, leprosy. By the parable of the good Samaritan, Luke X, He taught the lesson of mercy to the sick and wounded. He solemnly announced, Matt. XXV, the award the King shall make at the last assize for the observance or non-observance of the duty of mercy, visiting, the sick.

Forty Years of Helpfulness.

"The religious communities, whose members devote their whole life to the care of the sick, practice this duty in an heroic degree. Their sublime ideal is Christ, who laid down His life for the neighbor. Their inspiring motive is their faith which sees Christ in the person of the sick. For He said: 'Amen, I say to you, as long as you did it to one of these my least brethren, you did it to me.' Matt. XXV, 40. Hence their whole strength and all their skill and science is consecrated to the relief of the sick, no matter who he is or what his creed, race or color. They see in him the suffering Christ, and they will give their life to relieve him.

"Hence, blessed is Escanaba in having a company of these religious sisters to nurse its sick. Joyfully you hailed them when they consented to come to you in 1884 to take over your old county hospital. For over forty years they have unselfishly alleviated the sufferings of your parents, relatives, friends, fellow citizens and strangers. By careful, economic administration they have replaced the old frame buildings with this modern structure.

"You will acknowledge your indebtedness to them and show your appreciation in a substantial manner by helping them to meet their financial obligations incurred in providing these accommodations for your sick."

Cooperation Pledged.

Mayor George G. Genesee, in behalf of the people of Escanaba, expressed the community's gratitude to the Sisters of St. Francis for their untiring devotion to their task of relieving human suffering. He added that all of the people of the community are hopeful that the work will continue for all time, and pledged the support and cooperation of the city administration in making the work a success.

Mr. Norton pointed out many of the benefits the community derives from an institution like St. Francis hospital. He told of the Sisters' labor and sacrifices to give Escanaba a modern hospital, and their tenderness towards all patients, regardless of race, creed, color or financial circumstances. His history of St. Francis since the Sisters purchased the building in 1913, and the progress the institution has made, were unusually interesting and illuminating.

Banquet Served.

At the banquet which was served at 5 o'clock for the clergy, medical staff and their wives, distinguished out-of-town visitors, city officials, Bishop Nussbaum again spoke. Dr. A. H. Miller of Gladstone gave an outline of the work accomplished in the local hospital and Judge L. O. Eagleton of Peoria, who has been the attorney for the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis at Peoria, Ill., and their chain of 13 hospitals scattered about the country, gave a most interesting address.

Judge Eagleton, having been closely affiliated with the financial affairs of the order, is in a position to know the volume of work accomplished by the Sisters in their fourteen hospitals.

Johnson's Mandolin Symphony

band played an excellent program during the banquet, and the Municipal band rendered a splendid program on the lawn from 2:30 until 4 o'clock.

Out-of-town visitors who came to this city for the occasion were Rt. Rev. Bishop P. J. Nussbaum; Ven. Mother Othilia, Superior General of the Third Order of St. Francis, Peoria, Ill.; Sister M. Cecilia of the Sisters council of Peoria, Ill.; Sister M. Camilla, Superior of St. Francis hospital at Pontiac, Ill.; Sister M. Isabella, Superior at St. Joseph's hospital at Menominee; Sister M. "LOOP" IDEA STILL GROWING Additional Communities Add Approval of Idea.

Letters expressing the approval of a variety of organizations and agencies of the Chamber of Commerce plan for looping Lake Michigan, are still coming in.

Ray W. Davis, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of St. Joseph, Mich., writes:

"The directors desire me to advise you that they consider it very proper at this time to make an organized effort to secure the early completion of a concrete highway looping Lake Michigan."

The Chicago Association of Commerce, after calling attention to the popularity of the tour at present, declares that its good roads committee would be reluctant to join an association organized specifically to put such a project over. Approval of the idea of concreting the "loop" however is implied in the letter.

The Portland Cement association, through its manager, O. O. Stone, says:

"In my judgment you are initiating a proposition that will meet with the approval of all the sections through which the "loop" passed, and when complete will be used and enjoyed each year by tens of thousands of people who now either do not start on this trip or else turn back because of uncertain or unsatisfactory road conditions. People in automobiles 'flow' down a smooth concrete road just like water seeps out and along a smooth open channel. With a ribbon of unbroken concrete looping Lake Michigan as a reality and used as an advertising slogan, your tourist travel could be increased many times, this for the reason that the south end of this loop passes directly through and adjacent to the relatively small area containing a total of over 10,000,000 people. Organized effort on the part of communities interested would undoubtedly be effective in hastening the completion of this paved way."

Eight Arrested in Gambling Bout at West Side "Joint"

Members of the city police department broke up a gambling party at the West End Pool hall on Stephenson avenue late Saturday. The raid resulted in the arrest of John Morovich, owner of the pool room and seven other members of the gambling outfit. Morovich paid $100 and costs in Justice Ranguette's court. The others, George McCota, Louis Soper, Charles Koko, Miles Smalke, Joe Arvic and John Fanton paid $25 and costs of $8 each.

This place on Stephenson avenue had been under observation for some time by the city officers. The results of Saturday's raid substantiated their suspicion that the pool hall was a gambling den.

HALF HOLIDAY IN MANISTIQUE ON WEDNESDAY

Big Attraction Booked for 2:30 P. M., at the Fairgrounds.

Advance reports from other U. P. towns bring high praise for the brand of entertainment furnished by the big motor and air derby, which shows at the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon under auspices of the local fair association, and the whole community is expected to turn out for the half-holiday.

The program, which opens at 2:30 Manistique time, includes motorcycle racing, airplane stunts, auto polo, auto push ball, and other acts in the flying circus. Two planes, to be aerial exhibition, are expected to fly to the city today, using the fair grounds as their landing field. C. W. Hinks, manager of this unique aggregation of flyers and racers, is also due in the city today for making preliminary arrangements. The equipment will be moved here by truck, and will all be on the grounds ready for the start of the matinee thriller tomorrow.

The events will start at 2:30 sharp, and from then on to the end of the program, spectators will be holding their breath, watching with excited interest the smashing auto polo games, and then amazingly watch the antics of Speed Holman, ace of the air mail service, in the employ of the U. S. government plane department, who will perform hair-raising stunts while LeRoy "Stub" Gavin will go through his daredevil performance of wing walking, hanging by his teeth with the plane travelling at 80 miles per hour, and stand on his head.

To cap this climax, the daring Govin will drop from the parachute and attempt to land in front of the grandstand. This is no easy feat and takes the cool, cunning courage that only a man like Govin can possess.

Fans in watching Speed Holman will see one of the greatest small plane pilots in the West today. He is known from one end of this country to the other, and has established records that will stand for a long time to come. At St. Louis, Mo., this year, in the national air races and stunt program, he led the entire field of American flyers for two days of the program, placing first each day and copying national honors.

Holman also established a record for a flight when he flew from Dayton, O., to Minot, N. D., establishing a new speed record for a mail plane in the service of the government. Daredevil, stunt flyer and mail plane ace, deluxe, Holman has established thousands upon thousands of fans by his daring.

Elmer Hinc, brother of C. W. is another famous aviator with the show and is not only a flyer of note, but can also walk the wings, and perform all the stunts known to a stunt daredevil. He will handle the passenger end of the program, and may participate in the stunts.

BOY, AGE SIX IS DROWNED IN LAKE MICHIGAN

Falls Off Manistique Breakwater; Brother Recovers Body.

A young life was claimed by Lake Michigan Monday morning when Bertie Page, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Page, was drowned off the Manistique breakwater.

The tragedy occurred while the lad was playing on the concrete structure, having accompanied his brother to the beach. When the little fellow disappeared, it was thought that he had gone home. On not finding him, the boys returned to the beach where the dead body was found near the shore by the older brother, Stanley. One other brother survives, in addition to the parents, who reside on Lakeside.

Funeral services were held at Manistique yesterday for Miss Loris Gayar, whose death occurred July 8 at Detroit. Miss Gayar was a daughter of Mrs. George Gayar, Detroit, formerly of Manistique, and was a former student of the local schools. She was 18 years, 11 months and one day old at the time of her death, which followed a siege of pulmonary tuberculosis.

In addition to the mother, three sisters survive. They are: Bernita and Helen, Detroit and Nan of Manistique. The services yesterday were at the Burley home, Maple avenue, with Rev. Joseph Gross of the First Baptist church officiating. Six young men from Manistique high acted as pallbearers.

Four arrests were made at Hiawatha Grand Saturday evening by Trooper Almond Stewart of the Michigan state police, and the defendants are due to appear in justice court today. They are charged with enjoying themselves too freely in the vicinity of the dance hall.

HELPS OUT IN WRECK; OWNER GIVES HIM CAR

It always pays to help the other fellow out. Here's one instance, as it occurred over in Wisconsin the other day, and the man who benefited is a former Manistique resident, Ernest Krause, son of Carl Krause, 315 Range street.

The following item, taken from a Marinette paper, tells the entire story: "Because Ernest Krause, Menominee, acted the part of the good Samaritan and lifted A. B. Schweinberg and two children from Oak Park, Ill., out from under their wrecked machine near Bonduel, Wis., about 5 o'clock Saturday morning he was given the wrecked seven-passenger Hudson sedan, $10 in cash and numerous articles that were in the car at the time. Krause took the Chicago man to the hospital where it was found his injuries were not serious.

"Krause was on his way to Menominee and saw Schweinberg and party buried under the debris of the machine. He knocked out one of the side windows and extricated the two children who were riding in the rear seat. Krause then pulled Schweinberg, who was pinned under the steering wheel, out from the car.

The accident occurred when the Chicago man, who had become sleepy from the long trip from Chicago, dozed off and let the car run into the ditch. The car, hitting the ditch, turned over on its side.

The car, which was later towed to the Wiederhold wrecking service garage, is damaged considerably, the entire body, windshield and three wheels smashed. It is believed that Krause will realize several hundred dollars for the sedan."

Milwaukee Parties Finance Fox Ranch

Milwaukee men are backing a fox farm project in Hiawatha township, a few miles from Manistique. Construction of fencing is now under way, and the promoters plan to stock the ranch with about 150 animals, to be raised for fur only, and not for breeding purposes.

The land is located on M-84, and was formerly a part of the Orr farm. It has been previously stated in these columns that the land was a part of the Marquette university holdings. This was a misstatement, and it was learned yesterday that the university has no interest in the venture.

Due to its location along the state trunk line, the development is attracting attention locally, and much interest has been evinced in the preparations. Wire netting on pens now being built will be dug down to rock to preclude possibility of the animals escaping. The tract includes 80 acres.

STEEL OUTLOOK SPURS MARKET

STOCK SALES AVERAGES. Twenty Twenty Date Industrials Railroads Monday - 160.71 144.51 Saturday - 159.90 143.95 Week ago - Holiday. Year ago - 140.18 121.18 High 1927 - 160.71 145.58 Low 1927 - 141.23 125.58 Total stock sales 1,661,700 shares.

New York, July 11-(AP)—The unexpected increase in the June unfilled orders of the U. S. Steel corporation, the improvement in the credit situation and the expanding chain store and mail order sales provided the background for another advance in prices in today's stock market. Buying spread over a fairly broad list, with final quotations disclosing a long list of net gains ranging from 1 to 10 points.

Railroad shares attracted a good following, Atlantic Coast line leading the seasonal dividend payers with a jump of 7 1/2 points. Standard industrials displayed a firm undertone, but the fluctuations were rather narrow, specialties again providing the widest swing.

Bethlehem was run up 4 1/2 points to another new high at 241 1/2, and Westinghouse Electric at 81 1/2, but both yielded about a point on realizing. Among the many other issues to reach new high ground were Union Carbide, Lambert, Air Reduction, Sterling Products, Electric Auto Lite and National Tea, the last named soaring more than 10 points.

U. S. Steel common failed to make much response to the favorable tonnage statement, closing a point higher at 121 1/2, on total sales of slightly more than 10,000,000 shares. Strength of Bethlehem was believed to anticipate a resumption of dividends at the July meeting.

A further rise of 30 to 40 points in cotton futures in reflection of the government's acreage report featured the commodity markets. Grains drifted slightly lower with trading light, pending the publication of the government report after the close.

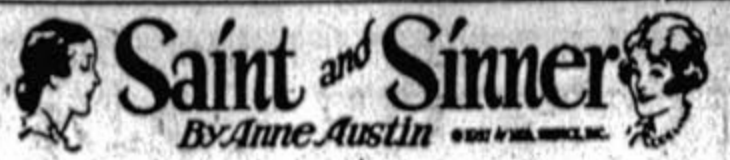

Raw sugar was unchanged and coffee prices advanced 12 to 16 points. With the exception of a 10-point jump in Spanish peas to around 17.15 cents and a drop of 5 cents in Japanese soybeans to 47.15 cents, there was little activity in the foreign exchange market. Demand strengthening held steady around $4.85 2-16 and French francs around 2.91 7-16.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT. Advice to shy, shrinking violets in large quantities on the subject of how to be popular is offered in Colleen Moore's new starring comedy-drama, "Naughty But Nice," which will be shown at the Delft again today. This picture depicts the tale of a freckled, bespectacled, long-haired, awkward girl from Texas, who enters a smart finishing school on the outskirts of Washington, D. C. From being the school's prize, unnoticed dumb-bell, Colleen suddenly and mysteriously becomes the most stunning girl in the place with all the most desirable town sheiks at her feet.

Donald Reed, handsome new leading man, is the chief—and also likeable—sheik in "Naughty But Nice." Other members of the supporting cast include Claude Gillingwater, Hallam Cooley, Kathryn McGuire, Edythe Chapman and Clarissa Selwynne. Carey Wilson scenarized "Naughty But Nice" from Lewis Allen Brown's play, "The Big Mistake." John McCormick produced the picture at the First National studio in California, and Mildred Webb directed it.

AT THE STRAND. "The Midnight Watch," which is being featured at the Strand is based on a story of the police by H. H. Van Loan, author of "The Noose," the great Broadway stage success. The tale concerns the great American crime wave and the extreme measures which the police of every city, town and hamlet are employing to combat the enemies of society.

The principal players are Roy Stewart, David Torrence, Mary McAllister, Ernest Hilliard, Marcella Arnold, John Elliott and Henry Roquemore. It is a Trem Carr production directed by Charles Hunt. The story concerns itself with a great theft, a young college man who becomes a detective, a girl and an experienced crook who is clever enough to keep himself out of the clutches of the police for a long time.

Forks were first used in Italy in the sixteenth century. Queen Elizabeth was the first English sovereign to use one and it was considered a great affectation. Religious leaders even preached against their use, saying that fingers were given us to eat with.

GEHRIG CLOUTS 29TH HOME RUN

Ties Bambino's Number; Collins Also Poles Out Homer.

Detroit, July 11—(AP)—The Yankees gained an even break in their six game series with the Tigers by winning the final game today by 8 to 5. Lou Gehrig made his 29th home run of the season on Stoner with none on base in the seventh and went into another hole with his Yankee team mate, Babe Ruth. Pat Collins, Yankee catcher, hit for the circuit in the fifth. The league leaders did most of their scoring in the sixth when Ruth walked, Gehrig doubled and a series of singles followed.

Stoner pitched shutout ball for the Tigers until Pat Collins opened the fifth inning with a home run over the left field fence. The Yankees proceeded to clinch the game in the next inning when two scorch hits, two clean hits and three bases on balls produced five runs. Gehrig's 29th home run at the beginning of the seventh was followed by Lazzeri's single, his steal of second and Hoyt's single, which gave New York its last run.

The Tigers stepped to the front in the first inning. Warner singled and Gehring doubled, scoring Warner. Manush was hit by a pitched ball. Both runners advanced on Wingo's sacrifice and Gehring scored on Hellmann's long fly to Meusel. In the sixth inning, two errors by Morehart enabled the Tigers to score again, and in the seventh they drove Hoyt from the box, getting their last two runs. The rally included a triple by Warner and doubles by Manush and Wingo.

Detroit touched Bob Shawkey, who succeeded Hoyt, for two hits in the eighth, but could not score. Bob Fothergill, who has been occupying the bench because of an injured knee was called to bat for Hankins. He struck out.

Stoner lasted until removed for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Hankins pitched the eighth and he, too, gave way to a pinch batter. Holloway, the last of Tiger pitchers, buried a scoreless ninth.

North-Western's six errors and Sodermark's inability to catch fly balls hit in his direction enabled Gladstone to nose out a 6 to 5 victory in ten innings Sunday. The Up-Bay crew, however, hit consistently.

Wurley hit a homer after Sodermark and Sullivan had singled in the sixth.

HARRIS STEALS HOME FOR WIN

Tenth Inning Dash Gives Solons Victory Over Redskins.

Cleveland, July 11—(AP)—Bucky Harris, Washington manager, stole home in the tenth inning of today's game, with the run that gave the Nationals a 3 to 2 victory over Cleveland, thus making it six straight for the Indians.

Washington bunched hits in the first inning to score two runs off Buckeye, but Cleveland tied it in the seventh.

In the tenth, Harris singled with one out and Speaker walked. Goslin fled to right which sent Harris to third. With Judge at bat, Speaker dashed toward second and Grant forgetting all about Harris threw to second to head off Speaker and Harris scored without opposition.

CARDS MOP UP PHILLIES, 7-0

Alexander Doesn't Permit One to Get By First Base.

Philadelphia, July 11—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals gained a half game on the idle Pirates and Cubs today by opening a series here with a 7 to 0 triumph over Philadelphia.

Grover Cleveland Alexander blanked the Phillies and did not permit a man to advance beyond first base.

The four hits were divided over as many innings, and among as many batters. Pruet, though touched for 15 hits, pitched a fair game and only gave up two runs until the eighth inning.

Heinie Schube, the Cards' new shortstop, accepted 11 chances without an error.

Rain Dampens Bobby's Ardor During Opening Hour of British Open

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 11—(AP)—

During the first hour of play today in the British open golf championship, with Bobby Jones, the American star, defending his title, it seemed likely that the St. Andrews fire department, brass helmets and all, would have to be called to pump the water out of the bunkers before play could continue, as it was during the finals of the amateur championships in 1913 between Harold Hilton and Robert Harris.

The downpour started as Bobby Jones and Bill Mehlhorn, the first of the dozen invading Americans, teed off, and did not cease until they had reached the turn, Jones playing on the old course and Mehlhorn on the new.

The excessive moisture probably had something to do with dampening the ardor of Jones' game, compared

UPBAYS TAKE LEAGUE LEAD

Regain First Place by Beating Rails While Indies Lose.

Gladstone regained the lead in the Delta-Amateur Baseball League Sunday by defeating the Escanaba Chicago & North-Westerns in a 10-inning battle at South Park. The score was 6 to 5, and it was a scrap all the way.

In the only other game in the circuit, the Escanaba Independents, who had led the preceding week, lost to Wells.

Both games were fast and interesting and were witnessed by good-sized crowds.

A meeting of the managers of the circuit will be called this week by President J. A. Sturgeon, of Gladstone, to revise the schedule, a step made necessary by the disbanding of the Manistique team.

COWBOY GOLFER LANDS IN JAIL

Man With Variety of "Pen" Names Being Held Here.

An alleged ex-cowpuncher clad in flamboyant golf raiment, arrived in Escanaba Sunday night, was gathered in by the city police yesterday afternoon, on complaint of several local businessmen, and spent last night in the county jail.

Posing as "the new professional at the country club," the self-styled golfer made the rounds of the men's furnishing stores in the city with the intent of laying up a stock of clothing before leaving Escanaba. His purse was devoid of all actual legal currency but he sought to make payment by using local bank drafts issued to draw on a Milwaukee bank, signing the drafts "George W. Blackburn."

He had already purchased a choice variety of new additions to his wardrobe when the proprietor of a local store, sensing discrepancies in his story of prowess on the green, refused to take his draft until he had made an investigation. The police took charge of the investigation with the result that the ex-cowpuncher was housed in the county jail to wait arraignment and a preliminary hearing. A phone call to Milwaukee soon convinced local authorities that his bank account in Milwaukee was nil.

The cognomen "Blackburn" it was learned was phoney. Letters addressed to him in his traveling bag indicated that his honest and legal name might be Warren E. Gibson. The letters were written to him at a time when he was located in Montana.

"Cardboard" Cowboy. Sunday night he registered at a local hotel under the name of O'Donnell. His bag, turned over to the police, was a revelation. It contained an excellent "four-gallon" cowboy sombrero, a purple silk shirt, overall pants and genuine cowhide boots with brass spurs.

The goods he ordered, which were designed to add to his golfing wardrobe, totaled $37.50, all of which have been placed back on the shelves of the merchants who had wrapped the stuff up for him. The picturesque prisoner, although appearing a very healthy individual of about thirty years of age, claimed when questioned by the police that he was a very sick man. He had already consulted an Escanaba physician relative to an operation which he had in mind.

Many of the ancients possessed great riches. Croesus owned property estimated to have been worth $4,000,000. Seneca's fortune was about $14,000,000 and the estate of Thebes amounted to $150,000,000.

Talks on Health

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

Care Needed in Finding Right Work for Tubercular People.

The most recent bulletin issued by the National Tuberculosis Association concerns the type of employment to be followed by people with tuberculosis, after they have recovered from the disease, or while it is in an arrested state.

When the person leaves the hospital or the sanitarium he must adjust himself mentally and physically to the changed conditions of life. In the sanitarium he has been able to rest most of the time, but once in the routine of daily life outside the walls of the institution, the dominant note of his existence is work. He has not been allowed to leave the sheltering walls of the institution until his robustness, his color, and weight have convinced the authorities that he will be able to sustain the burdens of normal existence.

He will probably appear to all ordinary observers more healthy than most of the people around him who have never suffered with tuberculosis. They will naturally expect much of him, and he will probably try to meet their expectations. This is a serious error. On the other hand, the patient may still fear his disease and be confirmed in habits of rest so that any type of work will seem burdensome to him. This attitude of mind also requires readjustment.

The patient who comes back to ordinary life after a long period in a sanitarium must have work that will be sufficient to provide a living for himself and perhaps for a family, but which will not bring about a physical breakdown due to excess of exertion. Whenever possible the patient should try to return to his old occupation, unless this has been such as to be directly associated with the attack of his disease. If his physical capacity is not up to what it was before his illness, the work may sometimes be modified to meet his newer capacities.

Whenever a patient who has had a long period in a sanitarium returns to daily life, he should have opportunity for frequent medical consultation. This is necessary in order that the effects of the work on the patient may be regularly determined and his activities regulated in accordance with these measurements. It is a mistake to go along without control, for the disease is insidious and relapses may set in and gain control before the patient realizes his difficulty.

PRETTY, BUT OH MY! Quincy, Ill.—When a cat with four kittens wandered to the farm of F. A. Jones, and proceeded to make themselves at home, Jones dropped the kittens in the creek. The next day his son informed him that the kittens were back again. Astonished, he investigated, and found the cat mothering four baby skunks.

This outdoor oven called the "bean hole" in Maine lumber camps produces the finest baked bean flavor known—a flavor now reproduced for the first time

now you can taste beans like them

Now you can have beans that taste like those baked outdoors! What fragrance escapes from the big earthen pot when they brush away the dying embers and lift off the big cover! Beans and crisp tender pork—molasses and brown sugar—all cooked for hours till they are done to a turn.....

That's the way they do it in Maine woods' logging camps—in an outdoor ground oven called the "bean-hole."

Till you have tasted beans like that, you wonder that they'd go to all that trouble. Heaping the ingredients layer upon layer in a big pot—sealing the heavy iron cover with clay—and burying it in the campfire's dying embers. But all the wonderful flavor of the outdoors seems to penetrate the "bean hole"—all the fragrances of the forest itself. No wonder they still cook beans that way in Maine lumber camps.

Good home cooks have always tried to match this luscious flavor—but never till Bean Hole Beans did anyone succeed. Now you may have, conveniently packaged, beans with that good old-fashioned New England flavor—beans like those baked in the ground!

Bean Hole Beans are named after the Maine logging-camp custom of baking beans in an out-of-door ground oven called the "bean hole." Tug sizes—medium and large.
