BORAH REVIVES SLEEPING WAR DEBT DEBATES

U. S. OPPOSES "CONVERSION" LOANS, HE STATES.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Sept. 6.—With characteristic indifference to the niceties of diplomacy, Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the Senator Foreign Relations Committee, has stirred up the slumbering situation which has developed over the payment by France of her war debt to the United States.

By demanding that the State Department tell private bankers that the United States government does not favor the flotation of even a "conversion" loan, Mr. Borah not only has produced a new international situation which will provoke much discussion in the capitals of Europe, but he has also revived the question of Congressional influence in controlling foreign credits.

Poincare Silent. For several months Premier Poincare has been silent about his intentions with respect to the Mellon-Berenger agreement, and it has been assumed recently that France intended to pay such sums as she pleased from year to year without feeling committed to the specific schedules negotiated last year.

But Senator Borah has injected a new angle into the situation. He is asking the Department of State to effect to ascertain the intentions of France with respect to her war debts, and he is hinting at Congressional action if the State Department does not object to the forthcoming loan.

May Ask Legislation. If the State Department, for instance, should ignore Mr. Borah's demand, it would not be surprising to see him ask for legislation at the next session of Congress prohibiting private bankers from lending money to foreign countries except with the approval of a commission set up by Congress and not responsible to the executive.

American bankers on the other hand, have resented interference by the government in the normal processes of extending credits and argue that loans not floated here will be floated elsewhere so that the net effect of American policy would be to deprive American investors of their opportunity to buy good securities and American bankers of their chance to earn legitimate commissions.

To make the final effort new defense attorneys were retained. The application for permission was filed by Harry E. Kelly, Thornton M. Pratt and Carl H. Zeiss, Chicago attorneys. The name of W. J. Barnard, who conducted the defense case through the Michigan courts, did not appear.

Another charge by the defense was the alleged failure of Judge Charles B. Collingwood of the Ingham court, to properly charge the jury on the failure of Miss King to make an outcry.

PEDESTRIAN STRUCK BY FALLING MAN, IS INJURED.

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Charles Bernstein, of Baltimore, Md., sought in connection with the triple killing in a 44th street real estate office this afternoon, surrendered to police late tonight.

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—A real estate deal that went awry today ended in the shooting to death of two men, the probable death of another, and the serious injury of a fourth.

Three of the men were shot when another man, believed by police to be Charles Bernstein, of Baltimore, Md., opened fire in the real estate offices of Bijur, Hertz and Steinberg, on the Ninth floor of a 44th street building.

Robert McGroarty, stage manager, for the "Road to Rome" company could not get out of the way in time and was struck by Steinberg's falling body. He received a fractured skull.

Charles Horakowitz, a real estate broker, who sought to escape the volley of bullets which were sprayed indiscriminately around the office, was found dead in the hallway outside. He was shot in the back.

Henry C. Cohen, attorney for Horakowitz, was shot in the shoulder and back, and was not expected to live.

Steniers, confused at the sudden attack and smarting from a wound in the shoulder, is believed to have blindly plunged out of the office window in an effort to escape. The confusion caused by his fall to the street and the volley of shots caused such crowds to gather that police reserves were called out.

PLANE HEADS ACROSS OCEAN FOR BORDEAUX

HILL WINS RIGHT TO PILOT MACHINE AT START.

Boston, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The British steamer Laconia, Boston to Liverpool and 1,200 miles east of here, reported shortly after 1 o'clock (eastern standard time) this morning that she heard the Old Glory trying to speak to Cape Race but that static was heavy and it was not believed the messages were going through.

Old Orchard, Me., Sept. 6.—(AP)—The great monoplane Old Glory rose swiftly and gracefully from the hard-packed sand of Old Orchard Beach today and winged her way toward Rome. The long deferred flight began at 12:23 p. m. eastern standard time.

The toss of a coin had given James Dowitt Hill the coveted pilot's position at the start. Besides him in the cockpit was Lloyd W. Bertaud, who will do most of the piloting, while Hill attends to the navigation and radio operation in the passenger's seat was Phil A. Payne, managing editor of the New York Mirror and flight director, who represented William S. Hearst, backer of the flight.

National guardsmen held back the crowd which had gathered to watch the start. Slowly at first but with quickly gathering speed the plane rolled down the beach a mile and a half before taking to air. On the runway of seven-eighths of a mile at Roosevelt Field, New York, whence it had been planned originally to make the start, inability to get off the ground soon would have meant disaster. He there was a large margin of safety and Old Glory swung out past the end of the long pleasure pier at seaward.

LONG DELAYED DREAM. New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Take-off today of the monoplane Old Glory from Old Orchard, Me. for Rome, marked the realization of a long-delayed dream of Lloyd Bertaud.

Bertaud early this summer seemed to have an even chance being in the first plane to make a non-stop flight from the United States to Europe. He had been selected by Charles A. Levine to pilot the monoplane Columbia and the Columbia was first of the trans-Atlantic planes to be ready at the Long Island flying fields.

Obtains Injunction. Bertaud obtained an injunction against Levine, binding the pilot to earth until monetary matters should be settled and Levine finally retaliated by dismissing Bertaud as co-pilot and taking his place himself.

ROME REJOICES. Rome, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The capture of Old Glory today at Old Orchard, Me., bound Rome, caused general rejoicing here, particularly in aeronaut circles, where it is probable Lloyd Bertaud, Old Glory's pilot, will be received.

"TEN MODERN COMMANDMENTS" of Miss 1927. WHIRLDWIND youth and its Ten Modern Commandments for love and happiness. Esther Ralston. Delft TODAY TOMORROW.

CHICAGO MAN MEETS DEATH

Electrocuted When He Climbs Tree to Have Photograph Taken.

While his fiancée, to whom he was to have been married next month, snapped his picture with a camera, Lawrence K. Larsen, 31, Cuyler street, Chicago, came in contact with a high-tension wire which passed through a tree, up which he had climbed, and was electrocuted about 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The fatal accident occurred on the Brampton road near Chatham.

Larsen had been visiting Miss Olive Gunderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gunderson of Manistique. The Gunderson family and Mr. Larsen were enroute to Marquette to visit friends, and had stopped along the road at Chatham. Larsen climbed up a tall tree on the side of the road, and his fiancée had just taken his picture from the road when he cried out and fell back on the wires, carrying 6600 volts.

Father Rendered Unconscious. Mr. Gunderson, father of the girl, climbed up the tree and made an attempt to remove Larsen from the wires. In doing this, Mr. Gunderson received a shock and fell a distance of about twenty-five feet to the ground. He was unconscious for several minutes but did not suffer any serious injury.

Members of the Gladstone fire department hurried to the scene, and removed Larsen's body from the tree. Artificial respiration methods were employed in an attempt to revive Larsen but to no avail. He was badly burned on both legs at the knees, across the back, his hands and neck. Apparently, Larsen did not notice the wires as he posed for the photograph. It is thought that he first sensed something was wrong when his coat began to burn and that in attempting to extinguish the fire his hands touched the wires.

Body Sent to Chicago. The body was removed to the Ewenson undertaking parlors in Gladstone to be prepared for burial, and sent last night to Chicago, where funeral services will be held on Thursday.

Larsen was employed as a mechanic with the Diamond "T" Motor company in Chicago. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larsen, two brothers and one sister, all of Chicago.

Freedom of Worker, Labor's Best Contribution to World, Holiday Speaker Declares

Labor's contribution to the twentieth century is the freedom of the workers, the Rev. H. C. McDonald, pastor of the First Baptist church, declared in his Labor Day address at the Trades and Labor council's celebration of the holiday. Addressing a large crowd in the Delft theatre Monday morning, Rev. McDonald asserted that "it took civilization seven thousand years to recognize the principle of human personality."

"Human slavery was the cornerstone of the civilizations which preceded ours," the speaker said. "Babylon, Egypt, Greece, Rome and all of the others depended upon slaves for all of their labor. Fewer than half of their inhabitants owned their own souls."

"These slave-built empires are gone. In the places we have a civilization which recognizes the right of every man to have a part in all the affairs of the community and the nation in which he lives. Labor has changed from a creature of circumstances to a creator of circumstances. Liberation of the worker has come out of America and it is in this liberation that America has found world leadership."

Individual Initiative. Labor's contribution to modern civilization includes the granting of individual initiative to every workman; American supremacy among the nations because of the intelligence and initiative of its workers; working hours that permit the worker to enjoy the lighter things of life; pay for his work that permits him to enjoy these things, Rev. McDonald asserted.

"Not all labor and industrial problems have been solved," the speaker said. "But solutions are coming and labor will play its full part in their adjustment," he predicted.

Acceptance and practice of the principles of Jesus in the establishment of a Brotherhood of Man, will ultimately point the way towards the cure for the world's ills, he said, and he urged labor to take the lead in the onward march.

Charles N. Wood, one of the vice-presidents of the Michigan Federation of Labor, presided at the meeting. There was a brief address of welcome by Mayor George G. Genesee and an address by Charles E. Watkins, of the American City Bureau. The Escanaba Municipal band furnished music for the occasion.

The Labor Day celebration included a boys' bicycle race in the morning, along with a street concert by the band, both of which preceded the mass meeting at the Delft.

Concert and Contests. In the afternoon, the band gave a concert in Ludington park which was enjoyed by several thousand people. The Trades and Labor council also staged, in the park, a lengthy and interesting program of races, games and contests in which

New York—Of all the scrambled woes faced by the Broadway actor, no situation is more disheartening than that of having to appear after the first night in a play which obviously is doomed to quick failure.

If he is an actor of any perception, he senses—even at rehearsal—that he is working toward a hopeless end. His experience tells him that he will toll long hours learning his lines, go without sleep while enduring the tiresome routine of rehearsing—only to be back on the street a fortnight later looking for another part and doing the same thing all over again.

Some hapless actors go through an entire season, without the luck of finding a single vehicle that provides them with work for more than a few weeks. This is the fate even of some of the great stars. Last season, I remember, one of the major performers had to learn, rehearse and act four different roles within almost as many months. This is the stuff of which heart-break is made!

The routine is always the same. The rising curtain... The sense of futility... the obvious coldness, or indifferent politeness of the opening night audience... the feeling of failure at the final curtain... the hasty glance at the critical reports in the morning papers... the inevitable panicking and prognostication of an early closing... the necessity of returning the following night, with all the cast looking down-hearted... and yet going through with the play, just as though you believed it had a chance...

All is not roses and sweetness on Broadway! ... Those persons who wonder what celebrated actors do off-stage can herewith be assured that, at this particular moment, when the new theatrical season is launching and performers are rushing in from all parts, they are exactly like a flock of collegians gathering again on the campus after a vacation.

There is much shoulder patting, much handshaking, much bantering, boisterous shouting and laughing and gossiping.

"Hello, there, Joe! What have you been up to?" "Much. Where you been all summer? What you going to play in? How about the Shakespeare revival?"

In the Players' Club and the Lamb's, the hat boys, who have been holding away the summer hours, again spring into action. Hats are tossed about, calls greet each new comer, the lobbies and dining room and reception halls fill quickly. Reminiscences pass about, quips and wit flash back and forth. Pool balls click again in the billiard room, someone suggests a game of poker. Now and then a few celebrants, who have been sampling the town's speakeasy stocks, come rollicking in.

The entire atmosphere recalls the opening of a college semester... with grown-up and gray-haired boys as participants... men here whose names are household words, but who now toss aside all dignity in the infectious spirit of camaraderie.

Rev. Antonson Will Speak Here Tonight. Rev. Carl Antonson of Los Angeles, the first pastor of the local Swedish Baptist church, who is here for a series of special meetings, will speak in the church at 7:45 o'clock tonight. Rev. Antonson's inspiring sermons here have been heard by good-sized crowds.

"Big Bill" to Play French Musketeers

New York, Sept. 6.—(P)—Big Bill Tilden faces the prospect of battling the three French "musketeers" of tennis on successive days in his attempt to win back the American singles championship now held by Rene Lacoste of France.

This was indicated today when the draw of 64 players was made for the title tournament starting September 12 at Forest Hills. It showed Jean Bertaou, Henri Cochet and Lacoste "seeded" in such a way that they will block Tilden's path in the quarter finals, semi-finals and finals, respectively, providing none of the four are previously eliminated. Americans Blamed For Money Display

Paris—The growing practice of cramming crumpled banknotes into one's pocket has aroused criticism here. Americans are blamed for setting the example. This apparent contempt for money, says one objector, is becoming too common and those who would be thought so "pull out handfuls of bills in which thousand-franc notes are mixed with five franc bills. This grand gesture is often intended as a play to the gallery."

3,828 Heed Call of First School Bells

Approximately 3,828 Escanaba boys and girls responded to the first tolling school bells Tuesday morning and with smiles and frowns entered the public and parochial schools of this city. The enrollment recorded is roughly as follows: Public schools, including high school, 2,538; parochial schools, including St. Anne's school and St. Joseph's grade and high school, 1,240.

First Figures Will Change.

It was pointed out yesterday by R. E. Cheney, superintendent of the Escanaba public schools, and John A. Lemmer, principal of Escanaba high school, that these first day figures will be no means stay constant, but will vary with the changes which come during the first month when organization of the schools is in the process of completion. In comparison with the first-day enrollment in 1926 in the city's public grade schools, this year shows an increase of eight pupils. In all probability, when new figures are given out by Mr. Cheney at the end of the month of September, the average enrollment of this year will closely tally with that of one year ago.

The Tuesday enrollment recorded by schools in the Escanaba public school system follows: Barr, 374; Franklin, 387 (eighth grade, 189); Jefferson, 274; Washington, 348; and Webster, 594, making a total of 2,987. Mr. Cheney stated yesterday that because of some cases where there are over-crowded conditions, transfers will have to be made but not as many as were necessary last year. By opening the annex to the Webster school, a larger number can be taken care of.

At the Webster school which in the last years has reached the highest peak in the number of pupils classified for instruction.

Record Broken at H. S.

Approximately 675 students were on hand at the 8 o'clock general assembly held in the Escanaba high school auditorium yesterday, marking the opening of the school year. Although here again it is estimated that the registration will dwindle to about 650 in a week or more, it is expected that the latter figure will remain more or less constant during the ten months of instruction. Tuesday's enrollment was not available but registration of 703 students made before the first day of school reaches a new high peak in the history of Escanaba high school.

Completing a survey late yesterday, Mr. Lemmer found that every course in the school is crowded, not, however, to the point where facilities of room and instruction are inadequate.

A hundred newcomers to the high school reported Monday morning for a "freshman hour" when they were initiated into the mysteries of high school procedure. The Monday meeting served admirably in eliminating some of the first-day confusion hitherto common among the new students.

During the summer months, extensive remodeling plans had been carried out in the high school besides the usual touches of paint and varnish which are added each year. Decorations have done a good work in the auditorium which has been entirely renovated with new and decidedly better lighting improvements. Due to the large enrollment, however, it has been necessary to assign a larger number of seats than usual in the balcony.

Sophomore Class Large.

Registration by classes at the high school was as follows: 227 freshmen, 205 sophomores, 140 juniors and 131 seniors. The enrollment of sophomores is unusually large in comparison with previous years. Advisors for the various classes will be elected this week with selection of class officers scheduled for next week.

Full day sessions were held throughout the entire public city school system yesterday. Students are asked to speed the buying of books so as not to miss important assignment work given out the first week.

1240 STUDENTS IN PAROCHIALS

St. Anne's and St. Joe's Schools Begin Fall Sessions.

Escanaba's parochial schools began fall sessions with a total enrollment of 1240 pupils, according to figures given out by the principals of St. Anne's and St. Joseph's schools yesterday. No figures were available to determine the approximate registration in the schools of music conducted by both of the parochial schools.

New Principal at St. Joe's.

The St. Joseph high school has an enrollment of 186 pupils this year with 530 entered in the grade department of the same school. That this classification compares very favorably with enrollment one year ago was the opinion of Sister M. Loretta, superintendent and principal of the St. Joseph's school. Sister Loretta is replacing Sister M. Elise, last year's principal, who has been transferred to Detroit. No other changes in the teaching staff at St. Joseph's has been made. Sister M. Nicholas will be in charge of the school of music.

425 At St. Anne's.

The St. Anne's school, which has no high school, enrolled 425 pupils for the first semester. The personnel of the teaching staff was made public yesterday by Principal Sister M. Missionaries Back to Conduct Novena at Saint Patrick's

The Rev. Fathers Pathe and Nugent, missionaries, who held a most successful mission at St. Patrick's church last spring have returned to this city and are conducting a novena at the parish church. Solemn opening of the novena in honor of the Little Flower was held Sunday morning and services are held daily at the 5:30, 6:30, 7:00 and 7:30 masses and the evening at 7:30.

The two missionaries are delighted to return to this city where they were given a hearty welcome and stated yesterday that the attendance was large regardless of the fact that the church is under repair and the scaffolding decreases the seating capacity of the church. Hundreds of faithful have taken part in the religious ceremonies until the present time and it is expected that many more will attend the services during the next few days.

The formal closing of the novena will take place Wednesday, September 14. The relic which is being venerated each day is part of a bone taken from the body of the newly canonized Saint Theresa also known as the Little Flower.

HOW CAN WOMEN KEEP WELL ENOUGH TO GET UP SINGING?

"My mother-in-law," says Mrs. Belle Thompson, 3101 E. 44th St., East Lake, Tenn., "told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I took six bottles of the Vegetable Compound. I could sleep and would get up in the morning singing and feeling fine. I am the mother of three children, and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me."

Another Happy Woman

"I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books you give away and began to take the medicine. After the first few bottles I began to feel better and could eat better and had fewer headaches. I feel like a different person. At anytime that I don't feel good I take the Vegetable Compound again, as I always keep a bottle on hand. You may use this letter for every word is true. I will answer any letters sent to me."—Mrs. Jennie Boltzman, 611-11th St., Union City, N. J.

Secret of Service

In the minds of many there is an element of wonder, of constant surprise, when they consider an organization such as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)—so vast that it is found on all the highways and the byways of ten great states, so efficient that any day of any year in any corner of the Middle West its products may be obtained easily and at prices which are fair, just and equitable.

The secret of success of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a "secret of service"—and it is an open secret. Examination quickly strips it of any mystery.

This Company is not a person or small group of persons. It is literally an army of people. There are more than 29,000 employes. There are over 50,000 stockholders.

This Company does not belong to one generation. Its life is not limited to three score years and ten. It is older and stronger than the men who are a part of it and will endure long after they are dead.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) stands for the accumulated wisdom and experience of more than one generation of men.

The directors, to whom its stewardship is given today, are building with thought for the morrow—building on the work of those who have gone before. Each succeeding generation builds upon the achievements of the past.

This continuity has necessitated efficient organization and long views. It is one of the sources of strength of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)—one of its secrets of service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an organization of many thousands of men and women, changing in personnel slowly and inevitably with the years—but unchanging in high principle and steadfast purpose.

Thus it has been able to serve 30 million people with ever-increasing efficiency and ever-widening vision. Not by lucky accident has it won its place in their lives. The great position it holds today is the result of generations of steady striving, of earnest effort.

Dempsey-Sharkey Pictures Coming to Delft Soon

Escanaba boxing fans will look forward with keen interest to the showing of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight pictures at the Delft next Monday and Tuesday. They will have an opportunity then, to decide for themselves whether Dempsey fouted Sharkey. The fight was one of the most interesting heavyweight battles staged in recent years and its seven rounds were replete with action. The pictures will include shots of the fighters in training and scenes in Madison Square Garden the night of the fight, and much slow-motion camera work as well.

BOTH PITCHERS BUMPED IN 7TH

Heilmann Collects Three Hits in Five Times Up to Bat.

Detroit, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Bill Barrett's home run in the seventh inning with the bases filled and the score tied enabled the White Sox to take the closing game of the series from the Tigers today. The score was 9 to 6.

Both pitchers were taken out in the seventh. Billings retired with three runners on the sack and Barrett, the first batter to face Smith, lifted the ball out of the park for his second home run in two days. Lou Blue, captain of the Tigers, was ordered from the field in the seventh after a prolonged argument with Umpire Van Graflan. The dispute arose when Van Graflan called Flashkamper safe at first on his grounder to Tavenner.

Heilmann Hits Three. Harry Heilmann helped himself to three hits in five times at bat to increase his lead over American League batters. The leader in the unsuccessful attack on the White Sox, however, was Heinie Manush, who smashed out three singles and a double for a perfect day's average.

Hunnefeld ran for Thomas in the eighth and stole second and third in succession, but was left on third when the inning ended. The Tigers scored the second run of the game in the second inning. Heilmann doubled to left, took third on Manush's sacrifice fly and scored on Tavenner's single. Detroit added another in the third when Blue drew a pass, advanced to second on an infield out and came home on McManus' single to second.

In the fourth the White Sox broke into the scoring column. Kamm walked, advanced on Metzler's single, went to third on Barrett's bunt and scored on Ward's sacrifice.

Wild in Fifth. Billings became wild in the fifth. The Tigers bunched hits off Jacobs in their half and went ahead by one run. Billings started the rally with a double which ended with two runs in.

Ward put the White Sox on even terms with the Tigers when he drove out a home run in the sixth. With the bases full in the seventh Barrett drove out the home run which scored Flashkamper, Kamm and Metzler ahead of him.

MUNISING TOPS U. P. CIRCUIT

Season Ends in Near-Riot as Algerians Meet Crystal Falls.

among the 1,800 fans who set a new attendance record in the paper town. Still protesting the game, the Collegians returned to Crystal Falls, where they launched a campaign which, they hope, will reverse their defeat at Munising and give them a second chance at the league consolation.

Another plaint that will favor their cause, the report from Crystal Falls says, is the claim that Munising supporters scratched the horseshoe spheres between innings, causing the Collegian's offense to go awry.

Petitions to have the affair arbitrated have been placed before C. C. Copeland and will be taken under consideration immediately, it was understood.

Both won Monday. Since both teams won their Labor Day games the situation has become even more critical, for the rival outfits are easily the class of the league and there appears to be little to choose between them. Munising has offered to meet the iron county contingent in a return engagement on any neutral field, with unbiased umpires, for a $1,000 stake, providing the same line-up is used. Although the Collegians are said to be considering the offer, it is felt that the lineup clause will bar any chance of reconciliation on that score.

Admiral Eberle and Secretary Wilbur want a law forbidding flyers from risking their lives. After that maybe they'll get around to skiffers, structural iron workers and pedestrians.

HOW THEY FINISHED. Table with columns for TEAM, W., L., Pct.

ESKY TURNS TO FOOTBALL TALK

Both High School Grid Aggregations Start Workouts.

The conversation of Escanaba's sport followers changed suddenly yesterday. While talk of baseball and the major league flag races still holds prominence, the annual "call of the gridiron" was heard in two high schools and was echoed to the adult followers of football throughout the city.

Forty-three boys reported to Coach Roels at Escanaba high and 34 to Coach Leo Burnell at St. Joe high. It seemed as though the struggle for supremacy had already begun. Every aspirant was on his toes waiting for the orders that would whip him into shape for the first game.

Light workouts were held in both camps yesterday. Roels had his crew falling on the ball, put the frosh to getting better acquainted with the fundamentals of blocking and tackling and got an early start with his experienced huskies from last season by giving them the general idea of a few plays and the part each man had, to put them over. The 13 Highlander letter men from last year have been keeping fit during the summer at all sorts of labor and took the first day exercises with a grin.

The parochials received a workout a great deal on the same order. Setting up exercises, and getting acquainted with the touch of the pikekin occupied most of the practice hours. Thirty-four men, 13 of whom are letter men from last year make up the St. Joe squad this season. They started the season's grind well aware of the fact that their first game was only a few days away. They play Baraga high at Marquette, Sept. 17.

The list of the letter men who reported to Coach Roels at Escanaba high is: Captain George Snyder, Gustafson, Labre, Erdman, Gunderman, Gabouris, Vandenoorn, Olson, Brown, Stegath, M. Snyder, Mathews and Powers. Others from whom, Roels feels that he will easily find plenty of material are: Breitenbach, Probers, M. Erickson, L. Johnson, LaChapelle, Swanson, Felton, Glavin, Hart, Ranguette, DeMars, Munson, Krussel, Groesbeck, Beath, Chaisson, Schram, Neelson, Bourke, D'Amour, L. Johnson, Lambert, Villemure, Wilson, Mathes, Cask, Juhl, McFadden, R. Snyder and Petersen.

The thirteen letter men who reported to Coach Burnell are: Moreau, Sheriff, Mileski, E. Frazer, Blake, McGee, J. Fitzharris, L. Sullivan, Papneau, C. LaDuc, Frederickson and L. Frann. The rest of the squad, and a very promising crew, too, follows: M. Stern, O'Donnell, Finley, Klug, Gannon, LaCrosse, Owens, Hira, A. Frazer, Vandenoorn, R. Fitzharris, Skopp, Kohlman, J. Frann, Clarke, DeMars, Gansman, Treiber, Boyce, Gejer and B. Fitzharris.

WANTS TARIFF TO AID FARMER

Coolidge Confers With Seed Grower of North Hills.

Rapid City, S. D., Sept. 6.—(P)—Discussing the tariff as it affects agriculture, President Coolidge gave Sam H. Bober, of Newell, S. D., the impression today that he wants to use the tariff to its full capacity to aid the farmer.

He asked Mr. Coolidge to raise the tariff on alfalfa seed, telling him that neither controlled marketing nor McNary-Haugen law would mean much to seed growers when foreign seed can be dumped on our markets any time to compete with us and depress our prices.

Bober is the picturesque northern hills seed grower of whom the president purchased alfalfa seed for his Vermont farm last year, and he sat down with Mr. Coolidge for a long while, this morning talking about this crop and agriculture in general.

"I asked the president to increase the tariff on alfalfa seed, and I am convinced that this increase will be forthcoming," Bober declared.

"We talked quite a bit about the tariff. The president recalled that he raised the tariff on butter and flax and expressed the opinion that this had been beneficial. I feel he wants to use the tariff to help the farmer as much as it can."

Schiller Flies to Old Orchard Beach

Old Orchard, Me., Sept. 6.—(P)—The Royal Windsor, taking advantage of the fact that every one was watching for radio reports on the progress of Old Glory, hopped off from Portland airport at Scarborough late today and landed a few minutes later on Old Orchard Beach, five miles to the westward.

The Royal Windsor left Windsor, Ont., Thursday for Windsor, Eng., stopping at Scarborough on Saturday's jump from St. Gerorie, Quebec.

C. A. "Duke" Schiller went over to the field alone and, unknown to his co-pilot, Phil Wood, successfully took off and brought the plane here.

His first attempt was made with all the gasoline that remained in the plane from the previous flight from Canada. Finding he could not rise, he drained the main tank and took off with only what he had in the emergency tank.

making more acceptable the conversion loan.

France Can Refinance. As expressed in these dispatches recently, however, the American government at the moment feels that if France can refinance her 8 per cent loan by borrowing at six per cent in American markets, she is entitled to the saving of 2 per cent as well as the benefits to her credit position which may ensue and make easier her funding of the war debt due the United States government. Senator Borah calls attention to the disparity between six per cent interest to be paid by France on her proposed $100,000,000 loan and the 14 per cent interest which the United States government agreed to permit France to pay on the war debt.

There is always a difference in the rate of interest at which foreign governments can borrow directly from private investors and the rate at which governments lend to each other.

Nevertheless, Mr. Borah will not accept the idea that the difference should be as great as in this case. The truth is governments can afford to take long time loans at a low rate of interest while private investors refuse to lend their money except at prevailing interest rates for commercial loans. In other words, the interest rate of six per cent is not fixed by the French government, which would gladly pay 1 1/2 per cent on its new loan if it could float it on such a basis. American investors are constantly the judge of what interest rates will attract their money.

Wants Definite Statement. The American government itself is refinancing its loans at rates of interest slightly more than 3 per cent so the money actually loaned by the United States to France when the Liberty bonds were sold is now being borrowed from time to time to redeem those Liberty bonds at rates of interest in the neighborhood of three per cent. It is not felt here, however, that Mr. Borah is trying to make an issue of the interest rate to be charged on the proposed French conversion loan but is merely trying to compel France to state to the world whether she intends to ratify the Mellon-Berenger agreement and what she intends to do if it is rejected.

A hitherto unknown village of 152 inhabitants has been discovered in the mountains of northern Japan by census-takers. The inhabitants do not speak modern Japanese.

GROUP ATTACKS RAIL COMBINE

Minority Stockholders Hit C. & O., E. & P. M. Merger.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 6.—(P)—The proposal of the Chesapeake and Ohio to acquire stock control of the Erie and Pere Marquette railroads was characterized by a group of C. and O. minority stockholders today as an effort on the part of C. and O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen and their financial associates to set up, at large personal profit, an "economically unsound" fourth trunk line system in the east.

In a brief filed with the Interstate commerce commission it was contended that such a plan, if approved, would destroy present operating methods which the commission has held to be incomplete; would be unjustified as to cost to the C. and O.; would endanger the ultimate plan of railroad consolidation and would injure C. and O. stockholders and the public generally.

The minority held that the C. and O., a large coal carrying railroad, should not be made a general trunk line but should be treated as a national asset, having in view its general usefulness to the entire country as well as other railroads.

Seven short line railways connecting with the Erie and Pere Marquette also petitioned the commission today to withhold its approval of the proposed unification until certain actions had been taken to protect their interests.

Kirkwood Thomson, who has been visiting in Kansas City, Mo., and Chicago, returned home Sunday.

DELECTABLE APRICOTS.
A few apricots added to peach preserves give more than their worth in piquant flavoring. They add zest to any preserve or jelly.

String and chop in small pieces about a dozen string beans. Add them to vegetable salad as you would celery. They are a crisp, enjoyable touch.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 6.—(P)—Freighted with those who have been chosen by various cities and states as representative of their fairest, the beauty special bringing entrants, chaperones and officials to the annual Atlantic City beauty pageant, arrived here today.

A large crowd gathered at the station to meet the train and a band struck up "Who's That Pretty Baby?"

Miss Norma Smallwood, of Tulsa, Okla., the present "Miss America," was wearing an inconspicuous fall costume and a very narrow streamer. The crowd, however, seemed to spy her instantly and cries of "Hello, Norma" ran along the lines. Immediately upon their arrival the girls were taken to a large grandstand where photographs were taken by camera men from all parts of the country.

Princess America, the Indian lass from Spokane, was a bright spot, garbed in the colorful beaded costume of buckskin and wearing moccasins.
