COTTON PRICE DROP CAUSES GOVERNMENT ACTION.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Government information as a basis for market operations is not uncommon but anything that resembles a forecast or opinion is going to be difficult hereafter for the Department of Agriculture to broadcast.

The flurry over the widespread interpretation given the department's statement on cotton gave President Coolidge and his cabinet the opportunity for a lengthy discussion of policy.

MANY TO VISIT MANISTIQUE

Schoolcraft County Fair Will Draw Large Delta Delegation.

The absence of a county fair here this year will cause a large number of Escanaba and Delta county citizens to turn towards Schoolcraft county's annual autumn exposition this week, it was evident here yesterday. This city will be especially well represented very day at Manistique.

The Schoolcraft county fair board has arranged a splendid entertainment program, including free attractions of unusual merit, a first-rate horse racing program and other attractions. The livestock and farm crop exhibits are the best in the history of the Schoolcraft fair, it was declared, and there will be many other worth while events in store for those who attend.

Special provisions for the accommodation and entertainment of out-of-town visitors are being made, according to word received from Manistique.

OBITUARY

JOHN CARLSON.
Impressive funeral services were held for John Carlson of Bark River, aged resident of that village who died at a local hospital as the result of injuries sustained when he was hit by an automobile last week while crossing Hartnett Ave.

Mr. Carlson was widely known throughout the county and many friends attended the last sad rites which were conducted at the home of his son at Bark River Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and at two thirty at the Swedish Mission church with Rev. J. H. Hanson of this city officiating.

Many beautiful flowers surrounded the casket at the home where scores of friends called to extend their sympathy to the bereaved members of the family.

The close friends who carried the casket to and from the funeral car were Andrew Bolm, Henning Anderson, Gust Swanson, Fred Sundquist, John Olson and Peter Johnson.

The body was laid to rest in Bark River cemetery where his wife was buried several years ago.

Birling Exhibition Here Next Sunday

Not so many years ago, the millions of feet of logs floating on the Escanaba river were a familiar sight in the spring of the year when these huge timbers were taken down the river to Wells, where they were cut into lumber at the I. Stephenson saw mills.

This method of taking the logs to the mill was known as the drive, and the event usually marked the conclusion of the season's lumbering activities at the lumber camps. Along with the logs came the river drivers, or river rats as they were often called. They were a husky lot of lumberjacks, boisterous Frenchmen, brawny Swedes and pugnaclous Irish, who lived an uneventful life in the winter lumber camps, only working, eating and sleeping. But when they came to town with the spring drive with their stake they spent lavishly and sometimes were "flat broke" within two or three days. Then, back again to the woods they went to make the stake they would "blow" again the next spring.

Saloons prospered upon their arrival, and there the stirring scenes of the drunken brawls were enacted.

With the passing of the river drive and the coming of foreigners to work in the lumber camps, the picturesque lumberjack of former days is fading out of the picture. No more on the nimble-footed lumberjacks to be found aplenty, but there are still a few of the log rollers or birlers in this northwest country.

Those who have seen these log rollers in action ten or more years ago will be given another opportunity to see them when William F. Girard of Gladstone, world's champion log roller, will perform at Ludington Park bathing beach next Sunday afternoon. The exhibition will be started about 4 o'clock.

Mercury Plunges Downward to 41

It couldn't last much longer. The summery weather enjoyed by Escanaba last week took on a wintry aspect over the week-end when the mercury which had been hovering around 80 to 87 degrees, took a nose-dive to 41 degrees at 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

On last Thursday, the thermometer registered 87 degrees, which was a record for September for several years back.

The extermination of rats in London is a colossal task. One firm of rat-catchers accounted for 26,713 of the rodents last year.

DAIRY TOUR IS PLANNED

U. P. Farmers Will Visit Leading Farms in Wisconsin.

A dairy tour for the benefit of upper peninsula farmers, covering 400 miles for the round-trip and including visits to some of the leading dairy farms in Wisconsin, is announced for October 3, 4, 5 and 6 by R. E. Horwood, Michigan State college dairy specialist for this part of the state.

It will be the first tour of its kind for farmers of the peninsula since the one sponsored by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau several years ago, when a large number of dairymen traveled to the national dairy show.

Meet in Iron Mountain. Farmers who desire to take part in the proposed tour will be asked to meet in Iron Mountain Sunday night, October 2, and be ready to leave Iron Mountain Monday morning, October 3, about 8 o'clock.

The first leg of the journey will take the tourists to Green Bay, Wis., where they will visit the dairy farm operated in connection with the county hospital and also the Ferndell Guernsey farms. The tourists will remain over night in Green Bay and Tuesday morning will visit the Farmout creamery, near Denmark, Wis., and then proceed to Denmark, Wis., where they will inspect a large condenser. Tuesday afternoon they will visit dairy farms owned by Lawrence Larson and Harry Hanson, located near Denmark, and other large dairy farms in Manitowoc county.

The tourists will stay all night in Manitowoc, and Wednesday morning will visit more farms in Manitowoc county, after which they will go to the Cortum Guernsey farm at Fond du Lac. From Fond du Lac they will proceed to Ashkosh, where they will spend Wednesday night, going to Appleton Thursday morning to visit the Schaffer Holstein farms. From Appleton they will return to the starting point, Iron Mountain.

Purposes of Tour. Mr. Horwood explained last night that the purposes of the tour will be to instruct upper peninsula farmers in the advantages of herd improvement association work; to give them an opportunity to learn cattle judging; to show them the most modern methods of barn construction and dairy equipment; to help them on feeding and care of dairy herds and show them the importance of turning out dairy products of high quality.

Mr. Horwood hopes that the tour will attract farmers who are marketing milk in cities and he expects that the tour will go far to influence upper peninsula men to give more attention to improvement of herds by the use of purebred sires.

Special Hotel Rates. Mr. Horwood is making arrangements to get special hotel rates along the route for the tourists. All farmers interested in making the trip are urged to communicate as soon as possible with their county agricultural agents. The agents will report to Mr. Horwood, who has charge of arrangements for the tour.

"The time for organizing this tour is short," said Mr. Horwood last night, "but I believe many farmers will be glad to take advantage of it. I predict that it will attract a large number and I am confident that it will be of material benefit to everyone who goes."

Further details regarding the tour will be announced later.

Naubinway May Become Lively Summer Resort

Naubinway—This little fishing village, three miles south of US-2 and west of Rexton has hopes of becoming one of the resort centers of the upper peninsula, with the announcement of the purchase of 30,000 acres of land in this township and the proposed erection of a $50,000 clubhouse by a group of wealthy Lansing men, and the building of a golf course, and an airplane field and a group of cottages.

The clubhouse will be built near the village on the mile and a half of fine sand beach included in the purchased property. The golf course will be situated on a plateau near the shore, on a field of 120 acres that has been idle for years. The course will be ready in 1928.

Since the days when Naubinway was a thriving fishing village there have been few inhabitants of the houses scattered along the shore.

SOCIAL

Carlson-Anderson.
A marriage of interest to local people is that which took place at Oak Park, Ill., Wednesday evening, Sept. 14 at 8:30 o'clock at Oak Park Arms Hotel when Miss Ruth Gertrude Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson, 1123 Lake St., Oak Park, Ill., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Anderson, 119 No. 10th street of this city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lund of Oak Park Lutheran church and the room in which the marriage vows were pronounced was banked in flowers.

The attendants were Miss Hazel McKay as bridesmaid and Mrs. E. Johnson as matron of honor. Mr. Anderson's attendants were Harold Carlson, brother of the bride and John Cramer a close friend. The flower girl was Lillian Anderson.

A wedding dinner was served at the Oak Park Arms Hotel for one hundred guests. The tables were handsomely appointed cut flowers being used in profusion in the decorative scheme.

The bridegroom wore a Spanish lace over white silk with court train. The bride's veil of white tulle was fastened in place with orange blossoms and the shower bouquet was of white roses.

The bridemaid wore a dress of shell pink silk and the matron of honor wore a dress of peach color silk, both carried white roses. The flower girl's dress was also of white silk.

The young couple left immediately after the dinner for an extended tour at Chattanooga, Tenn., after which they will make their home at Oak Park where Mr. Anderson is employed by the Western Electric Co. of Chicago, Ill.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Anderson and son Axel of this city, parents and brother of the bridegroom.

Will Have New Straits Ferry

A new ferry is to be added to the fleet of two now operated by the Michigan state highway department between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

Recommendations for a third ferry were based by Highway Commissioner Frank F. Rogers on increase of business at the Straits over last year in July and August and the fact that two boats were unable to handle the traffic this year as expeditiously as three could have done.

Commissioner Rogers told the administrative board that he would make additional surveys of the situation and report to the road committee.

The ferry reports for July and August show a substantial increase over last year, despite the fact that the trip capacity of the two boats was lowered by 15 cars each following a ruling that there must be walking space between cars. Good roads leading to the Straits and in the upper peninsula are given much of the credit for the rapidly increasing tourist traffic.

The receipts in July last year were $46,873 as compared with $62,511 in July this year. Of significance is the increase of revenue from passenger traffic from $746,225 in July last year to $1,058 in July this year.

In August last year the total revenue was $70,560, and this year in August it was $95,946, an increase of $24,900. The total revenue last year for May, June, July and August was $141,977.25. The total revenue this year for the corresponding months was $196,610.

Saint and Sinner

Faith's heart was beating fast and her breath came in little gasps, as if she had been running swiftly, when she entered the bank shortly before the closing hour, 3. To the teller in charge of her account and Bob's she spoke in a low, rapid undertone: "I am Mrs. Robert J. Hathaway. This morning I received from you a check which my husband had given me for my account, returned for insufficient funds. I want to re-deposit the check to my account, and to deposit to my husband's account a hundred and fifty dollars, to help cover the returned check for 200. Can you tell me if the amount is sufficient to make the check good?"

The teller listened and smiled reassuringly, then went away to look into the account. Faith felt a sickening conviction that the depositors lined up behind her knew all about the distressing business that had brought her there. Even the back of her neck was red.

AMUSEMENTS AT THE DELFT: Human and rollicking in places, grimly affecting in others, blending finely all the essences of love, struggle, bravery, humor, pathos and death "The Rough Riders" at its opening yesterday won the highest appreciation of a capacity audience at the Delft theater.

country home on fashionable Coon Lake. Bob had told her also that there was a strong chance of his landing the job. In competition with other architects he had submitted plans, and Fred Lytton's invitation to the Hathaways to play bridge with himself and his beautiful young wife had seemed to Bob to be an indication that the Hathaway plans and bid were being seriously considered. But nothing had yet been decided, so far as Faith knew, and nothing had come so far of Peggy Lytton's evident liking for Faith, except a friendly letter of sympathy and congratulation following the kidnapping and return of Chery's baby.

Chamber of Commerce Teams Open Membership Campaign; Strom Addresses Workers

Every town has three types of citizens, Torval E. Strom told the workers in the Chamber of Commerce membership renewal campaign at their stop-off dinner held last night in the Ludington hotel. Mr. Strom listed the three groups as follows:

"First, the man who does nothing that will not immediately and materially benefit himself. Second, the man who believes he has discharged his entire obligation to his community by making a cash contribution—reluctantly or perhaps he is asked to do something. We might call him a 'checkbook patriot,'" said Mr. Strom. "Third, the man who gives his time, his talents along with money whenever he has the opportunity, freely and generously, knowing that whatever he can do for his home town will come back in benefits to himself. Mr. Strom characterized as the whitest sort of nonsense, any infamously sore of nonsense, any ingressing.

Story of Progress.

"The whole history of Escanaba is a story of progress," he declared. "I can recall, as a boy, the few scattered houses on a sand point, behind which were desolate acres of sand dunes. Why, every blade of grass in Escanaba has been artificially produced. And the spirit of progress which transformed these sand dunes into a city of busy factories, beautiful homes, schools, churches and business houses, is alive and active today."

Discussing opposition to the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Strom declared: "It is human nature for a man who does not think, not to understand. And it is human nature for a man to oppose the thing he does not understand. Anyone who is willing to listen can easily be convinced that the Chamber of Commerce represents the very life blood of Escanaba."

Noiden Presides.

Col. Joseph Noiden of the team organization presided. There was singing led by O. L. Bandoen, Courtland Yount of the American City Bureau, managing the campaign, issued supplies and final instructions to the team workers. Mr. Bandoen also spoke briefly, and so did L. J. Jacobs, chairman of the campaign industrial committee.

The will start their drive at 9:30 o'clock this morning. They will continue their efforts Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings, unless the job is completed before

A. B. Walker, traveling salesman of Manistique, accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Ralph Goach, stopped in town a few minutes on their way from the Soo Thursday. Mr. Walker was driving a new Buick car, and states that as he was coasting down a hill near Trout Lake, he turned the wrong switch which dimmed his lights. The car took the ditch and turned on its side. Fortunately the car was not moving very rapidly and none of the occupants were seriously hurt. Mrs. Walker was slightly cut, one of the fenders was damaged and one of the windows broken. The accident was due to the fact that the switches were a little different from those used by the driver on his former Oakland.
