

NEW YORK DEFEATS PITTSBURGH, 5 TO 4

EMBARRASSED BUTLER WITH HIS STATEMENT

CAL PUT REPUBLICAN LEADER IN ODD POSITION.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Oct. 5.—If there was ever any doubt that the man most embarrassed by President Coolidge's statement about choosing not to run is former Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, that doubt was completely erased at the meeting of members of the republican national committee.

As chairman of the committee, Mr. Butler has certain duties and obligations—he must keep the republican national organization together, see that the headquarters functions, shape the publicity policy and arrange for the solicitation of the necessary funds. When Mr. Butler was chosen chairman, he was Mr. Coolidge's personal choice. There seemed no doubt that Mr. Coolidge would be a candidate for re-election so during the last two years Mr. Butler has continued to be the spokesman of the republican organization.

Butler's Tongue Is Tied.

Now, all is changed. Mr. Butler can't say anything about candidates, he can't even hint about his personal preference and he doesn't know what to say to the dozens of leaders who expect him to whisper to them that it's perfectly all right to go ahead and to support Lowden or Dawes or Hoover or Hughes, or that it isn't perfectly all right and that they had better wait till matters crystallize a bit and the country begins to demand that Mr. Coolidge be drafted.

Mr. Butler isn't a very talkative individual anyway. His first comment on Mr. Coolidge's statement at Rapid City was that Mr. Coolidge would be drafted, which was followed by another comment that, of course, Mr. Coolidge was sincere about not wishing to run again.

Mingling with the national committee here, it was evident that Chairman Butler, despite his intimate relations with the president, having breakfasted at the White House on the day before the meeting, had no information to pass on to the visiting politicians.

Will Not Make Move.

And the reason why there isn't any more to be said is because Mr. Coolidge insists there are plenty of available men and it isn't up to him to say any more than he has said. Hardly anybody of the Coolidge circle, including Senator Butler, doubts for a moment that if the republican party named Mr. Coolidge by acclamation he would consider it a sacred duty to accept and subordinate his personal wishes. But not a move will be made to stimulate such a demand or to allow it to be thought of as simply an artificial scheme of politics. If it is to be a genuine demand, it will suffer nothing by being absolutely uninfluenced by the chief executive himself or his bosom friends like Senator Butler.

Plans Proceeding.

So the chairman of the republican national committee will go ahead and help pick a convention city, will arrange for the functioning of the machinery of the party in advance of the convention, but will expect the presidential race itself to be a free-for-all in which the party expresses itself without the slightest exercise of a president to re-nominate himself.

LIFE TERM FOR GIN

Because Fred Palm, 29, had a pint of gin in his home he has started on a life sentence at hard labor in the Michigan state prison. Palm, a Lansing resident, was the first man in whose case violation of the liquor law was construed as a felony under Michigan's new criminal code which has just come into effect. The code makes a life sentence mandatory after a fourth conviction of felony.

DENIES CHARGE ON RECREATION

Speaker Says Long Hours Are Not Covered by Play.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Denial of the charge that organized recreation for factory workers is developed as a screen to cover up long hours and low wages and as a sop to the workers, was made today by C. R. Wood, director of recreation, of Durham, N. C., addressing an industrial recreation congress in session here.

"The view that long hours and small wages are sugar coated with brass bands, movies and baseball could never be held by any one who has worked with both employees and employers in industrial communities," declared Mr. Wood.

The advantages of public supported recreation, however, were stressed by Mr. Wood and other speakers.

Voluntary membership in plant athletic associations was termed a necessity by A. H. Wyman, executive secretary of the park and playground association of St. Louis, former welfare director of the Carnegie Steel Co. Interests should keep "hands off" their community playground facilities, said A. L. Cook, superintendent of the community house corporation, Harbor Beach, Mich.

HEARS WOMAN DENOUNCE HIM

Rev. Jordan Placed on Trial on Bigamy Charge.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Placed on trial in superior court here on a charge of bigamy, the Rev. Willis T. Jordan, Columbus, Ga., minister, today heard the woman who accuses him of luring her into an illegal marriage denounce him to a jury and heard the crowd in the courtroom openly applaud as she alertly dodged questions of cross-examination.

Witnesses also testified that the Mecklenburg county records show he married Mrs. Emma Langridge of Washington, D. C., here on August 19. It was expected that witnesses from Herndon, Va., would testify tomorrow that he lived there with another wife.

The jury to try the minister was selected within a few minutes. Immediately afterward Deputy Sheriff Avery B. Johnson, who brought Jordan here from Michigan where he was arrested, testifying that the minister told him he had a wife in Winding Gulf, W. Va., who was his only true wife.

RESIGNATION ASKED, SAYS EX-DIRECTOR

W. H. LOUIT IS APPOINTED TEMPORARILY.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 5.—(AP)—A reorganization which ousts Leigh J. Young as director of conservation and installs W. H. Loutit of Grand Haven as executive chairman and George H. Ogarth of Ionia as acting director, was announced today by the state conservation commission. Loutit is a member of the commission. Ogarth is its present secretary. The change becomes effective immediately.

The conservation commission in executive session, accepted Director Young's resignation. The reorganization had been expected for some time. In fact, Young's resignation was placed in Governor Green's hands September 19, but was withheld from publication while the government sought a successor. It was reported the directorship was offered to Commissioner Loutit and refused. The position of executive chairman accepted by Loutit is a new one in the department.

Resignation Requested.

Director Young made it plain, following the action of the commission, that his resignation was not voluntary.

"My resignation was requested. The only reason given me by the governor was that I seemed to be unable to control the commission. I would like to know the other causes, if any. Of course, politics is a possibility, although my guess is no better than anyone else's," Mr. Young said.

The governor and members of the commission took the position that the director was not properly guiding the actions of the commission. The present commission, appointed last January, has revoked many orders issued by former commissions, has changed its mind on some occasions after orders were authorized and has otherwise wavered in its policies, according to those demanding the reorganization. The director is supposed to recommend all orders.

It was known Director Young was not in accord with some of the actions of the commission. He frequently was opposed to proposals advocated by the late James Oliver Curwood. More recently he disapproved of the rescinding of orders prohibiting spears on international lakes. The fight to abolish the anti-spear regulations was led by Commissioner Harry H. Whitley, who succeeded Commissioner Curwood. Young threatened not to sign the rescinding orders, but Whitney produced rulings compelling him to.

Statement issued. Commissioner Loutit is considered by his colleagues as an able conservationist, a two-fisted executive and a fearless fighter. The members of the commission believe he will run the department and the meeting of the commission without fear or favor and will insist upon the adoption of steadfast policies.

Following the announcement of the reorganization, the commission issued the following statement: "Mr. L. J. Young, the director of the department of conservation, having on September 19 tendered his resignation as director to the governor of the state of Michigan, and having been requested by the Treasury Announces Increase in Tariff

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—The treasury took an unexpected hand in the Franco-American tariff debate today with the announcement that customs collectors had been directed to impose on a list of French imports increases in duty equal to the increases fixed by France on similar American products on September 6. The department said its action was a routine matter and did not involve section 317 of the tariff act, which provides for retaliatory duties in case of tariff discrimination against the United States, but was taken under specific provisions of the tariff schedules themselves.

The articles upon which the increase of duty is ordered by treasury instructions, are automobiles and bicycles and their parts to paper board and other cardboard products, brick not otherwise provided for, calcium acetate and several other related chemicals and cement.

PEKING IS IN GRAVE DANGER

Manchurians Evacuate City Near Northern China Capital City.

Peking, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The possibility of Peking's fall before Shan-shi province troops increased gravely today with news that Paoting, important city about 85 miles southwest of Peking, has been evacuated by the Manchurians.

The evacuation of Paoting, coming on the heels of the capture of Kaifan, north of Peking, by the Shan-shi forces, indicated that the anti-northern leaders had won a major victory.

The departure of the aviation and heavy artillery units of the Manchurians from Peking to Tientsin today suggested the possibility here that the Manchurians may be planning evacuation of the capital. Definite nervousness has developed that an overturn is possible.

The Associated Press correspondent in Peking cabled today indicating that he was restricted by censorship in Peking from disclosing the full significance of the military movements above mentioned. His message indicated that important developments affecting the fate of Peking were imminent.

Parole Granted to Woman Who Threw Acid at Husband

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Bernice Day, 22, who served 14 months in San Quentin prison for throwing acid in the face of her husband, Darby Day, Jr., son of a Chicago millionaire, completed the formalities for obtaining her freedom of parole today, and spent part of the day shopping.

Mrs. Day, sentenced to prison from Los Angeles, was paroled several days ago, but was held at the prison until today when she was released. Her mother, Mrs. Grace Lundstrom, of Chicago, will have joint supervision of her daughter.

Mrs. Day blamed her former husband's relatives for her prison term, declaring her husband knew the acid throwing was an accident. She denied that she would seek reconciliation with Day, who has obtained a divorce.

SELECT PLACE OF CONVENTION ON DECEMBER 6

REPUBLICANS TO PICK ONE OF FOUR CITIES.

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Sentiment among republican national committeemen as to the meeting place of the 1928 national convention appears now to be divided among four cities, Cleveland, San Francisco, Minneapolis and Detroit.

Chairman Butler announced today after further conferences with his associates that the national committee would meet here on December 6—the day after congress convenes—to make the final selection. He expressed no preference, however, as between the many cities seeking the gathering.

The chairman's announcement came after nearly a score of the national committeemen had been the guests of President Coolidge at a White House breakfast. They said afterwards that neither the meeting place of the convention nor any other political subject had been discussed with the president.

In selecting the convention city, the committee will depart from the usual practice of naming a sub-committee to consider the various offers from the interested cities. Instead, Secretary Roy O. West will write to the parties asking for a statement of the facts for the guidance of the national committee.

Detroit Has Supporters.

By meeting here in December, the Republicans will fix their meeting place just a month in advance of the Democrats, the national committee of that party is to gather at Washington January 8 to make their selection from upwards of half a dozen communities, including Detroit, Kansas City, St. Louis, Washington and Chicago. As matters now stand a majority of the Republican national committeemen who have been here this week to confer with Chairman Butler lean toward Cleveland as the scene of the 1928 party gathering.

Detroit is not without its supporters within the committee with several arguments advanced in its favor, including its climate and its general location.

ASK FOR DELAY IN BASS SEASON

Recommendations Laid Before Conservation Commission.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Recommendations that the opening of the bass and blue gill season be delayed until later in the summer were laid before the state conservation commission today.

Jan Metzler, fish expert, reported that the June 15 opening will be duly recognized and fishing allowed on that date under proper provisions of law. Action by the commission was deferred.

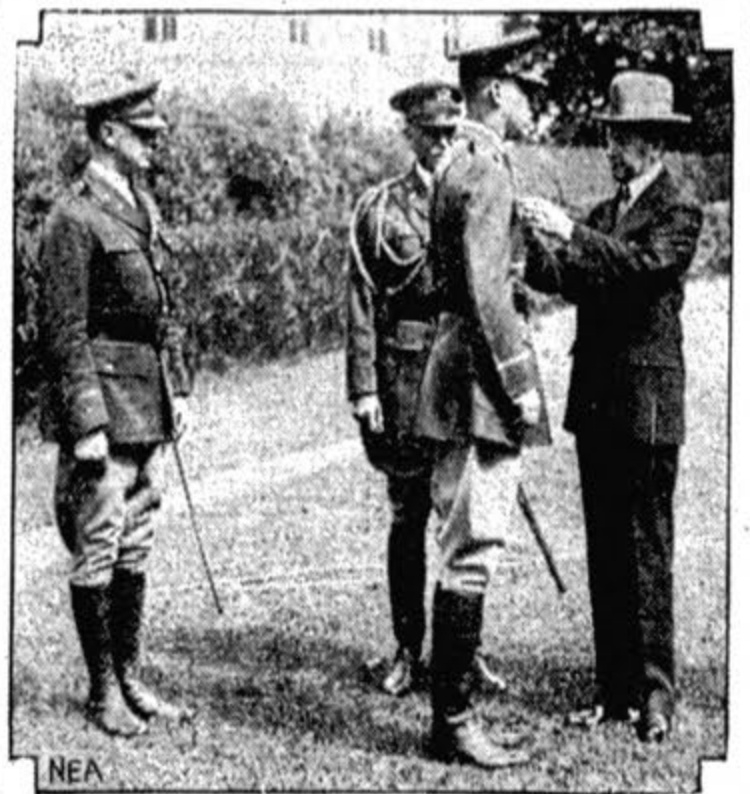

A resolution designed to eliminate unsightly camping spots and remove forest fire hazards was adopted. It provided that state property be posted with warnings that campers must bury or burn all rubbish. Penalties will be provided. It was stated action was taken at this time to prevent deer hunters from littering up the woods.

Peter Trudell, president of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's association, urged the establishment of a bass hatchery in the upper peninsula. If the Sidway hatchery is devoted to other purposes, Henry A. Pearce, of the Kalamazoo Isak Walton League, sought the purchase of a tract between Kalamazoo and Pawpaw at Wolf Lake, for a hatchery. He said the Kalamazoo organization would contribute $5,000 of the price of $7,500 if the state would assume the rest and go ahead with the hatchery project. No action was taken on either request.

The commission approved the renewal of a lease with the government on an air field at Osceola. Fur dealers appeared to urge a short open season on muskrat and mink. An investigation was ordered.

Although letters of protest and commendation relative to the recent lifting of the ban on spears were received, the commission left the rule unchanged.

PACIFIC CROSSERS' CROSSES

For the first aerial crossing of the Pacific from California to Hawaii, Lieutenants Albert F. Hegenberger (left) and Lester J. Matland, army fliers, were decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross by President Coolidge at the White House. Looking on is Colonel Blanton Winship, the President's aide.

Mexican Government Continues Measures Against Revolution

Mexico City, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Two federal columns, which are pursuing the two rebel forces under Gomez and Almada in the state of Vera Cruz, are very close to the enemy, General Alvarez, chief of the presidential staff announced in a statement this evening. A battle between the federals and rebels was expected soon.

Gomez and Almada have succeeded in uniting their forces, General Alvarez added, and are near a small town called Triunfo, not far from Perote. Two federal forces under Generals Escobar and Aguirre are effecting movements intended to surround the rebels.

General Alvarez declared that complete tranquility continued to prevail everywhere else in the republic.

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Calles government in Mexico continued today to press ruthlessly its measures for eradication of the new revolution.

General Arnulfo Gomez, highest surviving leader of the rebels, was executed today in Vera Cruz state, according to a report to the Mexican consulate general here, the source of which was not disclosed. Gomez was captured last night. These advances said, and swiftly paid the penalty already exacted from his colleague, General Francisco Serrano, presidential candidate and erstwhile intimate of Alvaro Obregon, and a score of lesser leaders.

While federal troops pursued the depleted bodies of recalcitrants in the field, the chamber of deputies moved to purge the capital of those alleged to have given support to the revolutionary movement. Twenty-five deputies were expelled on the ground that, because of affiliation with the Gomez and Serrano candidates, they no longer were worthy of seats in the chamber, nor of citizenship.

Dispatches Believed Censored. The Vera Cruz legislature expelled five of its members for a similar reason and ordered them put on trial for complicity in the rebellion.

Failure of Mexico City dispatches quickly to confirm the capture of Gomez tended to discount that report. It was considered as the type of news which would be quickly passed through the tight censorship being maintained by the government on all avenues of communication.

ARREST REPORTED. San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Mexican general consulate here announced tonight it had reports that General Arnulfo Gomez was under arrest. It had no information on his reported execution.

Standard Oil Cuts Gas 2c in Detroit

Detroit, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Standard Oil company stations here today announced a cut of two cents a gallon in the price of gasoline, thereby duplicating the action of a number of other local distributors.

POOR BASEBALL DISPLAYED IN OPENING GAME

YANKS' SIEGE GUN HELD TO SHORT CLOUTS.

BY ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor. Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 5.—(AP)—In a close and exciting, but also loosely played battle, the New York Yankees were victorious over the Pittsburgh Pirates today in the opening game of the 1927 world's series.

A colorful crowd of close to 42,000 jamming Forbes Field the edges, came out to see a battle of Yankee siege guns and Pirate sharpshooters. Their operations were completely upset instead they saw Babe Ruth let the Yankee attack with single instead of home runs, watch the Pirate defense crack wide open in the third inning to permit the American League champions to gain a commanding lead and witnessed the bombardment of the rival right-handed pitcher, Waite Hoyt and Ray Kremer, into retirement.

The Pirates outthrew the Yankees, 9 to 6. They constantly threatened Hoyt and finally drove him from the box in the eighth inning, but game was the uphill fight, the Corsairs lack the punch to win after their mistakes, plus Kremer's wildness had virtually tossed away the game in the third inning.

Wiley Moore and his "sink ball" came to the rescue in the eighth as Hoyt fast was weakening, and checked what little remained of Pirate hopes by retiring Earl Smith with runners first and third.

Bats to Blame. There were two out in the eighth when Joe Harris drove Glenn Wright with the fourth base run, but Moore, big and gainly, hitched his trousers and went to work in dead earnest.

It was a bitter dose of defeat for the Pirates to take, though they had no one to blame but themselves. Their crack right-hander, Kremer, good in spots but not up to his usual steadiness, was knocked out in the sixth, after which John Miller completely stopped the Yankee holding them to a single hit in four innings. The Waner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, were major springs of the attack, sharing today's batting spotlight with the equally well known rivals, Ruth and Gehrig. But shakiness in the field during the early innings and costly errors by George Grantham and Earl Smith against the Yankees opportunities set off quickly.

The first Yankee run, in an opening inning was made by Ruth on a triple by Gehrig, a short that Paul Waner handled, but by trying to catch, but falling the attempt while the ball rolled to the right field fence.

Forced Koenig. This was mild compared to third inning attempt of Yankees. Ruth's second single was the only hit by the New York in this frame, but Grantham boot to Koenig's roller, walks Gehrig and Meusel, the last with the bases full, and a m of a throw to the plate by Earl Smith enabled three runs to cross.

Koenig, given a lift by Grantham's error, was forced over by the first run in this inning. Ruth tallied on an infield fly out by Lazzeri and Gehrig rolled across the plate on Smith error after being trapped in third base. The Pirate catch in his hurry, threw low to Tr nor, then let the return through his fingers and roll the Pirate dugout.

Ruth's bat was in the midst every Yankee rally. The big low outgassed the Pirates upset expectations by shortening his swing and deliberately pinning his one-base drives, three them, while Pirate outfield were backed up against fences prepared for long shots. After scoring the first Yankee run personally, and aiding in Pirate debacle in the third, Ruth was finally retired, on a grounder to Harris in the fifth, but put Koenig, who had doubled, third base and in position to score a moment later on Gehrig sacrifice fly. This was the Yankee run and, as it turned out, the winning margin, for Miller, the big right-hander from St. Louis, was invincible through the closing innings, striking Combs, Meusel and Hoyt, permitting only a single a blow.

Lloyd Waner Scores. Although Paul Waner, perhaps too anxious, was uncertain in always carry it as one of the brightest memories of my life.

Delegation of Backers Find Lowden Was Relieved Not to Run.

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Although he is regarded as a likely candidate for the republican presidential nomination, former Governor Frank O. Lowden today told a delegation of backers that his feeling of relief when he failed to receive the nomination in 1920, was greater than his disappointment.

Lowden's remarks followed an address by Congressman H. W. Hall, who, voicing the sentiments of the 1,000 or more visitors from 16 central Illinois counties, asked the former governor to permit his name to be used in the preferential presidential primary next year.

DEATH CLAIMS DANIEL CAMPAU

Staunch Detroit Sportsman Was Staunch Democrat

Detroit, Oct. 5.—(P)—Daniel M. Campau, sportsman, died at his home at Grosse Point Farms late afternoon. He was 75 years old. He had been ill with grippe. Mr. Campau, a descendant of early French settlers, and of the oldest families of Detroit, was for many years closely identified with the Democratic party in both state and national politics. He was a close friend of the late President William Bryan when the latter was candidate for the presidency of the United States.

In 1886, Mr. Campau became a member of the Democratic state committee, and in 1890 a chairman. He served twice as Democratic national committeeman from Michigan, his first term starting in 1892.

Mr. Campau was an enthusiastic sportsman. He is survived by his widow and a sister, Mrs. Adel Campau of Detroit.

Mr. Campau had extensive property holdings in Detroit, Saginaw and Port Huron. He was a devotee to horse racing and a sponsor of the blue ribbon race meeting in Detroit.

Although prominently identified with Democratic politics during the latter part of his career, Mr. Campau held only one office—that of secretary of internal revenue for Detroit. He was a member of the Michigan delegation to the National convention nominated Governor Cleveland for the presidency in 1900.

Mr. Campau took a leading part in bringing about the nomination of William Jennings Bryan. In the late thirties, when Mr. Campau was king for Bryan's nomination, Buffalo Commercial took occasion to review his political career in the following manner:

"Michigan's Only Tie." Mr. Campau is a member of one of the oldest families of Michigan as has been a member for 24 years. He succeeded Don Dickinson as leader of the Democracy in that state and is a friend, admirer and supporter of William Jennings Bryan.

Mr. Campau is easily the most impressive and the most worthy feature of the Democratic party surviving in Michigan. For decades he has been Michigan's single tie, line of communication and asset in common to the national Democracy.

Survived By Wife. For decades he has successfully repelled the attacks of Democrats politically to terminate him. He is a citizen of Detroit and Detroit is glad to have him.

That is, that part of Detroit which isn't personally interested in the city's Democratic administration. With the little rough and tumble and the prestige and self-respect will in the name of a Democrat, Campau has had neither patience nor patience. He has it splendidly and profitably. He is honestly about the Democratic citizen of Detroit and Michigan that is right at all by the Democratic leaders of the nation. He is big man, we admit, in these days. He is a bigger man in New York, Washington and Lincoln. (Lincoln was Bryan's headquarters).

Remains of Missing Boy; Finds Him in Morgue at Detroit

Detroit, Oct. 5.—(P)—Claiming he had dreamed for three consecutive nights that his missing son was in a Detroit hospital, Charles Roberts, a farmer of near-by town, applied at Receiving hospital today and learned that the body of his boy had been lying in a morgue there, unclaimed, Saturday.

Charles Roberts had never before been away from home and he failed to return after a visit to Detroit, the father said he visited with the dreams. To come to the hospital in the night of the son, but authorities assured him they had no record of the boy. The father was so silent, however, that the prop of an unidentified youth was lined and a lock of hair with Charles Roberts' picture which young Roberts always carried, was found. Initial records revealed that the man had been taken to the hospital suffering from an unknown poison and died. The boy tonight claimed the body.

Commend Hawaii Governor as Head of Philippine Isles

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 5.—(P)—Gov. R. F. Dutton, for the past years governor of the territory of Hawaii, has been recommended by President Coolidge and Secretary D. W. Davis by U. S. Senator Bingham of Connecticut to succeed the late General Leonard Wood as governor general of the Philippines.

Gov. Dutton returned to his home after taking part at the Lansing Hospital.

GODDESS OF GOLF

Here she is, girls! The new goddess of golf—Mrs. Miriam B. Horn, Kansas City, Mo., who put her way into the National Women's championship cup at Garden City, Long Island.

ASK NEW SOVIET ENVOY TO PARIS

French Ambassador at Moscow Receives Message From Briand

Paris, Oct. 5.—(P)—M. Briand, foreign minister, sent instructions tonight to Jean Herbet, French ambassador at Moscow, to inform the authorities that the French government no longer considered Christian Rakovsky persona grata, and desired that a new soviet ambassador be sent to Paris.

The recall of M. Rakovsky, soviet ambassador to France by the Moscow government, has been expected for several days. Owing to the delay and because of reported interviews which the French minister was having with Maxim Litvinoff, vice foreign minister at Moscow, the French government decided to press its wish for the appointment of a new soviet ambassador.

Rakovsky has been charged with having advocated a revolution by the Workers of the World and with inciting the troops to rise against all capitalist governments. The French cabinet at a meeting at Rambouillet a few days ago, decided to request Moscow to appoint a new ambassador but disclaimed any desire for a break with Russia.

Morrow, Kellogg and Borah Confer to Study Problem

Washington, Oct. 5.—(P)—Dwight W. Morrow, new ambassador to Mexico, conferred today with both Secretary Kellogg and Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, who has announced that his attitude on the Morrow confirmation would be guided largely by the policy of the government which he is to carry out.

The meeting between the new ambassador and the secretary of state was the first of a number for a general study of the whole Mexican problem before the early departure of Mr. Morrow for his first diplomatic post at Mexico City.

While there was no announcement as to what transpired between Mr. Morrow and Senator Borah, it was understood that the ambassador had outlined in some detail his views as to the conduct of relations between the two governments.

Absolute Equality of Tax Burden Is Aim of New Member

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 5.—(P)—Absolute equality of the state tax burden is the ambition of the state tax commission, M. B. Richardson, newest member of the new commission, told representatives of more than a score of cities in the opening session of the league of Michigan Municipalities convention here today. He asserted the "earning power" of a piece of property will be the guide by which the commission will go.

John C. Nagel of Detroit, pleaded for more latitude in condemnation proceedings. Excess condemnation offers the only solution of zoning problems in Detroit, he said. He pointed to the fact that streets are inadequate for automobile traffic.

STATE RECEIVES TIMBER TRACT

Several Thousand Acres of Forest to Be Made Into Park

Lansing, Oct. 5.—(P)—The state conservation commission today accepted a gift of the famous Hanson Pine tract, near Grayling and several thousand surrounding acres. The donor was Mrs. Caren B. Hartwick of Ann Arbor. The forest and a log building to be erected in it, will be a memorial to Major Edward E. Hartwick, Mrs. Hartwick's husband, who died in France in 1918.

The pine tract of about 80 acres, is said to be the last virgin stand in Michigan. The state has sought possession for years, but negotiations for purchase were never completed. Mrs. Hartwick acquired the property and turned it over to the state "because she could think of no more fitting memorial to her husband."

Major Hartwick served in both the Spanish-American and World wars. He was a close personal friend of Governor Green. Mrs. Hartwick and the governor appeared before the commission to make the presentation. The log building to be placed in the forest will house emblems of Michigan's once great lumbering industry.

Will Thin Forests.

The commission accepted deeds to 320 acres along the Pere Marquette river, donated by the Michigan Public Service company. It is in four parcels and will be set aside as state park land. The same property was accepted once before, but provisions in the deed relative to controlling the river flow did not suit the state and new deeds were prepared.

Upon the recommendation of Commissioner Harold Titus, the state is to start thinning forests where mature growth is hampering younger stock. Several thousand oak trees and cords of pulp wood will be taken from the Five Lake forest.

WAR BOOK HITS AT PRESIDENT

Woodrow Wilson Criticized in Major Cullwell's Latest Story

New York, Oct. 5.—(P)—President Wilson is characterized as "that ass" in the latest war book, "Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, His Life, Diaries," to be published tomorrow by Charles Scribner's Sons.

The book, prepared by Major General Sir C. E. Cullwell, portrays the life of the late Sir Henry Wilson, who was chief of the imperial general staff of the British army during the latter part of and for nearly four years after the war, and shows the deep-rooted contempt held for many of the allied chiefs.

"That ass, President Wilson, has barged in," he wrote in 1916, referring to the American president's efforts to bring about a peace. "Frocks," he termed the statement as he entered daily events in his diary, with his personal opinions of the great and hear-ear with whom he came in contact.

President Wilson constantly was referred to as "my cousin." His first meeting with the president, prior to opening peace conference, he wrote that Wilson "did not impress me in the least."

Diphtheria Is Cause of Infants' Deaths in Quebec Province

Montreal, Que., Oct. 5.—(P)—An "unrecognized" form of diphtheria, diagnosed as a digestive disorder, was blamed by Dr. Paul Longpre today for the alarming infant mortality rate in the province of Quebec, in a speech before the Montreal Medical society.

"Physicians have been hypnotized by the digestive tract," Dr. Longpre, himself a specialist on infants' diseases, said. "I do not deny that digestive troubles exist. However, the main cause of death appears to me to be a form of diphtheria not easily recognized as such."

Dr. Longpre added that he believed that his "unrecognized" form of diphtheria had, perhaps, been "handed down from one baby to another through 100 cases or more." The babies, he said, were in wards containing about 20 beds, "and it is an easy matter for a highly contagious disease to be communicated to a healthy baby."

Apprehend Madison Woman for Sending Obscene Letters

Madison, Wis., Oct. 5.—(P)—Miriam Noel Wright was arrested by federal authorities tonight and placed under guard at her hotel. She was apprehended on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mail after complaints had been made by her former husband, Frank Lloyd Wright. The alleged obscene matter, it is understood, was sent to one of her friends who turned the letter over to Wright. In it she expressed her opinion of Wright.

Fill Cylinders of Car With Powder; Murder Plot Fails

North Adams, Mass., Oct. 5.—(P)—Removing the spark plugs and packing the six cylinders with enough gun powder to blow the machine and its occupant to bits, the perpetrators of a fiendish plot failed last night because of their overzealousness, it became known here today.

Unable to start his car which he had left parked on the Mohawk trail, a local man whose name was withheld had the machine towed to a service station. Mechanics there found the cylinders filled with gun powder awaiting the spark to set it off. So much powder was used, however, that the motor would not turn over, and the ignition plugs failed to deliver the destructive spark.

The entire case, particularly a motive for the attempted destruction, is surrounded with much mystery.

USES 4 WAYS TO TAKE LIFE

Man Victim of Eternal Triangle Found Dead in Hotel

New York, Oct. 5.—(P)—The eternal triangle was believed the cause of the four-way suicide of Raymond Bloch, Maplewood, N. J., automobile dealer, found dead in the Hotel Belvedere here today.

Bloch's body was found by a maid at the hotel, and lying near it was a note that indicated suicide and also revealed that the dead man was Bloch and not "Ray Gerber," as he had registered at 2 o'clock this morning. In taking his life, Bloch had used four methods, police ascertained. His body was found submerged in a filled bathtub, his right arm was slashed as if with a razor, his lips were seared with acid and a tightly drawn cravat was around his neck.

The note beside Bloch's body read: "My name is not Ray Gerber, but is Raymond Bloch. Please notify John Freund, 6424 Market street. Please give the sealed letter (also found near the body) to the one that claims my body."

Police communicating with Newark officials learned that Bloch yesterday had attacked Michael Philosopous, former steward of the Newark Automobile club, with a hammer. The attack was made a few hours after Bloch, under an assumed name had traded a stolen automobile as part payment on a new machine, of a make differing from that in which he dealt. The new automobile, police said, was to be used by Bloch in an elopement with a stenographer with whom he had been keeping company.

Bloch was married and lived at 279 Schley street, Maplewood, N. J. The stork, police added, was hovering over Bloch's home, and an effort was made to keep his wife in ignorance of the suicide. They had one child.

Philosopous is in an Orange, N. J., hospital suffering from a fractured skull. He was unable to give police any reason for the attack on him.

Killed Worker Who Said He Was Lazy

New York, Oct. 5.—(P)—A taunt of laziness hurled at one car-cleaver by another was said by police tonight to have been the cause of a murder in the Grand Central station.

Jacob Siegel, 55, was found dying in a railway coach with a stab wound, inflicted with a pocket knife, under his heart. He died shortly after in the Emergency hospital in the station.

Police later arrested Joseph Presto, 29, on a charge of homicide. Detectives said Presto and Siegel had been working together in the car where the victim was found and that the stabbing had followed a reproof by the older man of Presto for shirking his work.

Former Big Ten Star Arrested; In Fist Fight

Chicago, Oct. 5.—(P)—Joseph Ponderlik, former University of Chicago football star, who was placed on the Big Ten conference team in 1924 and mentioned for all-American honors, was arrested today after a fist fight with police.

Police charge a stolen car was found in his possession. Ponderlik said he bought the car for $400 and refused to submit to arrest.

At headquarters, the former football star gave bond to appear for arraignment tomorrow.

VOTE TO RAISE D. A. R. DUES

Convention Agrees to Make Regent's Salary $1,000.

Albion, Oct. 5.—(P)—Delegates to the state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution today agreed to increase their annual dues to $6.60 and to pay the state regents $1,000 annually.

A resolution deploring the use of the Olivet and Hillsdale college properties for conferences declared to be of socialistic nature, and declaring such practice as incompatible with the teaching of the constitution of the United States was adopted.

The following nominations for state officers were made today to be chosen Thursday:

Regent, Mrs. Charles F. Bathrick, Battle Creek; vice regent, Mrs. James McDonald, Detroit; chaplain, Mrs. Harvey Shields, Kalamazoo; recording secretary, Mrs. Gordon B. Paxton, St. Joseph; corresponding secretary, Miss Eusebia N. Davidson, Port Huron; treasurer, Miss Emma Brooks, Marshall; registrar, Mrs. Edna B. Howlett, Pontiac; historian, Mrs. Sidney Clarkson, Ann Arbor; librarian, Miss Sue Sillman, Three Rivers; directors, Mrs. Sidney Wing, Coldwater, and Mrs. G. V. Cady, Jackson.

The convention voted a message of greeting to Mrs. Helen M. Barrett, 96, of Richland, the only living real daughter of a veteran soldier in Michigan, and one of only eight in the United States. While in good health and able to be about the house every day, Mrs. Barrett was not strong enough to make the 40-mile motor trip from her home to the convention at Albion.

Compromising on a proposal to increase the regents' annual allowance to $1,200 from $750, the convention voted unanimously to make the allowance for the year $1,000.

May was fixed as the month in which all chapters in the state must hold annual meetings hereafter. The Michigan Daughters, of which there are more than 200 assembled for the convention, tonight enjoyed a program of music provided by Albion college talent, and tomorrow afternoon will hold their concluding session.

ATTORNEY SAYS BILL NOT VALID

Deficiency Measure Grabs Taxes From City of Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 5.—(P)—The Wayne county board of supervisors was advised today by Robert M. Toms, prosecuting attorney, that the so-called $4,660,072 "deficiency bill" adopted by the 1927 legislature, was invalid and that the board would be justified in refusing to pay the county's assessment. The Wayne county shore would approximate $1,900,000.

The deficiency measure bearing a score of items which the administration declared represented unpaid state bills, was the center of a prolonged controversy prior to its adoption by the legislature. The finance committee of the state administrative board in recommending the state tax of $24,500,000 recently, clipped several hundred thousand dollars from the measure which was considered unnecessary.

At today's meeting of the Wayne county board, Representative Robert D. Wardell charged Governor F. W. Green with "grabbing taxes from Wayne county for political headquarters. He asked that the board refuse to spread the tax, thus causing Auditor General O. B. Fuller to enter court in a test case.

The ways and means committee of the board plan to consider the matter further at a meeting October 20.

ARREST COMMUNIST

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 5.—(P)—The arrest here today at the door of the convention room of the American Federation of Labor of Sid Bush, said to be a communist propaganda agent, and the seizure of a mass of communist documents, frustrated, according to police officers, a plot to influence action of labor organization. Bush was booked on suspicion of criminal syndicalism. Police said officers of the American Federation of Labor, all of whom were opposed to the Communist activities, were warned of the alleged plot following Bush's arrest.

governor to continue as such director until the governor was prepared to accept such resignation, Mr. Young today brought up the subject of his resignation and requested the chairman of the commission to secure the governor's acceptance to become effective immediately. The chairman of the commission, in compliance with Mr. Young's request, took the matter up with the governor, and the governor at the chairman's and Mr. Young's request accepted such resignation to take effect immediately. Thereupon, with the consent of the governor, the chairman procured the consent of Commissioner Loutit to act as executive chairman until such time as the governor should have an opportunity to permanently appoint a new director, and Mr. Loutit was thereupon placed in charge of the department of conservation as executive chairman.

"As it is impossible for Mr. Loutit to give his entire time to the direction of the affairs of the department except in a supervisory capacity, the governor thereupon appointed Mr. Hogarth, the present secretary, as acting director until the further action of the governor.

The resignation of Director Young, having at his request been accepted by the governor, upon motion of Mr. Loutit, supported by Mr. Titus, it was resolved that your commission wishes to and does hereby express its regret upon the severance of its very pleasant relations with Director Young and wishes and does hereby extend to Director Young its thanks for his work on behalf of the department and extends its very best wishes for his future happiness and success."

Mr. Young, who was on leave of absence from the University of Michigan, will return to his duties there as head of the forestry department.

Levine Will Have Official Welcome

New York, Oct. 5.—(P)—An official municipal welcome similar to those accorded other trans-Atlantic flyers, will be tendered Charles A. Levine on his return to New York, Grover A. Whalen, chairman of the mayor's reception committee, said today. Levine is expected to sail for the United States aboard the liner Leviathan, October 11.

Whalen's announcement settled the question regarding whether Levine, who was a passenger in the monoplane Columbia, which Clarence D. Chamberlin flew to Germany, would be greeted with ceremonies such as attended the arrival of Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Commander Richard E. Byrd and his crew.

Oscar Mathieson Bound Over on Liquor Charge

Oscar Mathieson, 320 North Twenty-first street, was bound over to circuit court on a charge of illegal possession of liquor when arraigned before Justice of the Peace James S. Doherty yesterday afternoon. He was released under $300 bond.

Mathieson also paid a fine of $10 and costs upon entering a plea of guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct in connection with a brawl he and two other men engaged in at the Mathieson home. The other two men, Ralph McCauley and Jack Hurley, were unable to pay their fine and were sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail.

Mathieson's arrest on the liquor charge was the result of his attempt to hide a pitcher full of liquor when the police arrived at the home to quell the disturbance. The police caught Mathieson coming out of the back door of the house with the liquor.

NOTED MEN AT SCHOOL MEET

Judge Harry Olson and Raymond Robins to Address Teachers.

Ironwood—Three speakers of national prominence will address the general meetings of the Michigan Education association in the seventh district convention which opens here Thursday evening.

The first session of the general meeting will convene at 8 o'clock Thursday evening and will be addressed by Raymond Robins, author and traveler. Henry Turner Bailey, director of the Cleveland School of Art and the John Huntington Polytechnic Institute, will speak Friday morning. Judge Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court of Chicago, will be the speaker at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Robins is a social economist and one of America's ablest orators. He was superintendent of Chicago's municipal lodging house and later became interested in industry and was an industrial expert and strike arbiter. He was later social service expert for the Men and Religion Forward Movement. He has studied social service extensively and is one of the best posted men in America on social problems. In 1917 as a lieutenant colonel he was the commissioner commanding the American Red Cross mission in Russia, where he had an unusual opportunity to study Soviet Russia.

Mr. Bailey, the Friday evening speaker, is a graduate of the State Normal Art school, Boston, Mass. He studied abroad for a number of years. He was supervisor of drawing at Lowell, Mass., and agent of the Massachusetts board of education for the advancement of industrial drawing. From 1903 to 1917 he was editor of the School Arts magazine, Boston. Mr. Bailey is internationally known as an authority on art and has represented the United States at international art congresses.

Authority on Criminals.
Judge Olson has a national reputation as a student and practical authority on criminal law and criminology. He was graduated from the Union College of Law, Chicago, and received his advanced degree in law from Washburn College, Kan. For ten years he served as assistant state's attorney for Cook county, Illinois, and has been chief justice of the municipal court of Chicago since 1903. He is a trustee of Northwestern university and a member of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology.

The three speakers have addressed the general meetings of the Michigan Education association on other occasions, and are coming to Ironwood highly recommended as interesting and instructive orators.

Specialty Company Opens Display Room in Business Section

A retail display room for the showing of furniture manufactured by the Escanaba Specialty and Manufacturing company in its shops in Marinette and Escanaba, will be opened today at 605 Ludington street. The establishment will be in charge of George Peterson, who is one of the founders of the company. Charles Primeau, Mr. Peterson's partner, will remain in charge of the Marinette place.

"Custom-built" furniture will be shown, exclusively. While a dozen or more pieces of furniture on the floor will be for sale, they will serve principally as samples of the firm's work. Customers may choose designs, upholstering and other details, using the display pieces as guides for their selections.

Overstuffed pieces will be featured in the line, but the company is equipped to make any piece of furniture desired.

The company began about two years ago as a furniture repair shop and its growth has been exceptionally rapid.

Saint and Sinner

By Anne Austin

For exactly three days Faith was a heroine in her husband's eyes, because she was demonstrating that she could cook for a family of four, keep house and take care of a baby, unaided. Then he became absorbed in his plans for the new retail fur store, whose windows were to be so distinctive, and Faith found herself taken very much for granted. The third evening of the servantless regime Bob did not insist too positively upon his right to wash dinner dishes, possibly because Cherry had ducked her share of the duty by leaving immediately after the meal for a visit with Junior and Fay and her father at the old Myrtle Street home.

That evening Faith washed the dishes herself, and Joy dried them, an arrangement which Faith could see would henceforth be routine. But she did not complain, even to herself, for she found the extra work easier to bear than the sound of Cherry's high, teasing laugh joining with Bob's deeper-toned mirth, as the two of them made a frolic of an unpleasant task.

It was a comfort, too, to know that Bob was busily and cheerfully at work again, with every assurance from the rich fur merchant of having his plans accepted.

"Faith," Joy dropped her voice mysteriously, "ain't you ever going to have a little baby? Looks like you'd want one of your own, not just Cherry's baby."

The unexpectedness of the question stunned Faith for a moment. Under the clear, keen gaze of Joy's gray eyes a hot tide of color spread over her throat and face.

"I—," she gasped, and she knew that she was trying to answer that question for herself as much as for Joy. "I don't know, honey. Women can't always have babies just when they want them. And Hope seems like my very own baby, you know."

"Fay says she hopes she has twins, because it's not any more trouble to take care of two than one. She says one ties your hand and foot anyway, so it might as well be two—and then you have it over with." Joy elucidated wisely, her small face eager but solemn.

"I hope Fay gets her wish," Faith answered evasively.

But long after Joy had apparently forgotten the conversation Faith brooded over it. She lived again those first ecstatic days of her marriage, when she had so foolishly believed that Bob loved her as passionately as she loved him. She remembered the look on his face—the divine tenderness in his eyes—when they had talked of the child that would undoubtedly come to them before the year was out. Then, as the first months of her marriage had slipped away, she had seen that he was growing reconciled to nature's hesitation in the matter of making him a father. And after Cherry's baby had been born he had seemed to dread the ordeal of child-bearing for Faith; had rejoiced that it was not his wife who had suffered so.

She had tried to reconcile her own aching desire for a child with Bob's undoubtedly sane viewpoint, but there in the dark she gave way to her grief for the child that was denied her because Cherry had had a child she did not want. Of course, she told herself, even as she wept, her arms unconsciously forming a cradle for the baby she wanted, Bob was right. Life was already complicated enough without adding to its problems. But, oh, if he loved her as much as she loved him he would not be happy until he held their child in his arms! After a little while she went to see if Cherry's baby was comfortable for the night.

KESSLER LEADS SAFETY MOVE

City Manager First Local Member of National Club.

City Manager T. F. Kessler today signed a pledge making him the first local member of the National Safety club, organized by the American Road Builders association for the purpose of fostering highway safety. The pledge signed by the city manager binds him to the practice of reasonable courtesy and caution while on the street and highway and endorsing the general safety movement.

The Highway Safety club is an organization consisting of all persons who have signed the safety pledge and expressed their willingness to observe its principles of courtesy and caution. Every citizen of the United States has been asked by the association to become a member of this club.

Highway accidents are costing approximately 25,000 lives each year and causing serious injury to approximately 750,000 persons. Of these accidents 90 per cent are the result of carelessness and discourtesy, according to the association. By the voluntary practice of courtesy and caution the majority of them will be completely eliminated, it is believed.

All Can Be Members.
Membership in the Highway Safety club may be obtained by signing the following pledge and returning it to the offices of the American Road Builders association, Washington, D. C. Membership and membership cards will be furnished free upon receipt of this signed pledge:

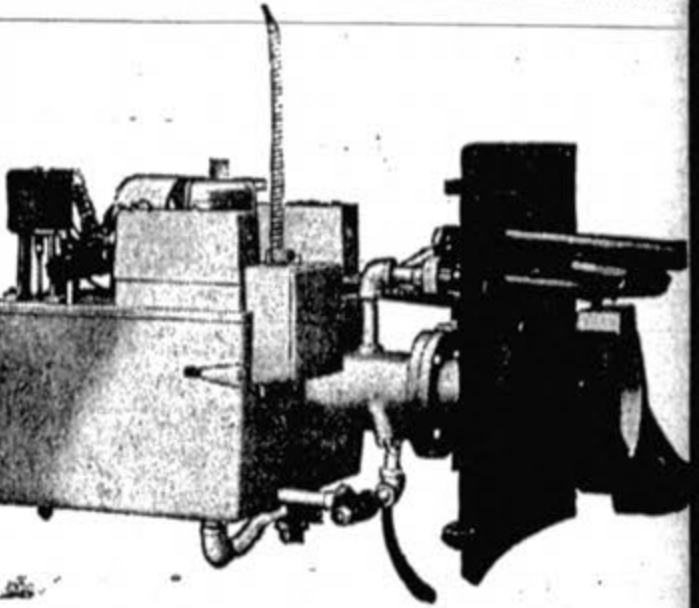

"Knowing that suffering, sorrow and unhappiness usually follow street and highway accidents, I will co-operate in an effort to avoid them by using Courtesy and Caution at all times, and especially when driving an automobile. I will observe traffic regulations and drive my car so that it may be controlled and stopped within a safe distance. I endorse the movement to Greater Highway Safety and will lend my aid in every practical way."

"The above I promise upon my honor."

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD This Version of the Familiar Story Is Prepared Especially for the Motion Pictures—Loses None of the Quaint Charm of the Original.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD peered from the window of the humble four-story brownstone cottage where she lived with her white-haired mother.

She ran nimbly to the gate. The young man removed his tweed jacket and bowed sweepingly as he handed her a neatly wrapped bundle.

Little Red Riding Hood unwrapped the package feverishly. It was a new red riding costume and she put it on.

"In this garb, I shall knock 'em dead," she declared. "Even Plainweed Dalton, the handsome heavy in this super-production, will not be able to resist my charms."

Plantweed Dalton, dear reader, was a wolf in sheep's clothing—a Jekyll under his Hyde—who was the head of the gang of cattle rustlers just over the hillsides.

So little Red Riding Hood packed seven cheese sandwiches and two bottles of her mother's best home brew in a basket and started to take it to her grandmother's.

As she was walking through the sand and the cactus, she met Plainweed Dalton. Together they sat upon a fallen cactuarion tree and as night was falling, they partook of grandmother's lunch.

Little Red Riding Hood ate two sandwiches and sipped some of the home brew. Then she swooned in his arms. It was powerful brew! Plainweed Dalton carried her to the airplane he had concealed in a clump of bushes on the desert nearby and flew away with her.

The BENSON MURDER CASE

by S. S. VAN DINE CHARLES BRIDGES

(Saturday, June 15, 5 p. m.) When we arrived at Benson's house a patrolman leaning solemnly against the iron paling of the arway came suddenly to attention and saluted.

He eyed Vance and me hopefully, regarding us no doubt as suspects being taken to the scene of the crime for questioning by the district attorney.

"Everything going all right?" "Sure," the man replied good-naturedly. "The old lady's as meek as a cat—and a swell cook."

"Wonderful memory," muttered Markham cheerfully. "A failure of mine," said Vance. "I suppose you are one of those rare persons who never forget a face but just can't recall names, what?"

"Now that you've dragged me here, what are you going to do?" He waved his hand deprecatingly, and sank into a chair with an air of contemptuous abdicaton.

"I'm half inclined to turn back," he drawled. "It's a clear case of justifiable homicide by an outraged interior decorator."

"My dear aesthete," Markham urged impatiently, "be good enough to bury your artistic prejudices, and to proceed with your problem. . . Of course," he added, with a malicious smile, "if you fear the result, you may still withdraw, and thereby preserve your charming theories in their present virgin state."

"And permit you to send an innocent maiden to the chair!" exclaimed Vance, in mock indignation. "Fie, fie! La politesse alone forbids my withdrawal. May I never have to lament, with Prince Henry, that 'to my shame I have a truant been to chivalry!'"

"I'm beginning to think that, after all, there is something in your theory that every man has some motive for murdering another."

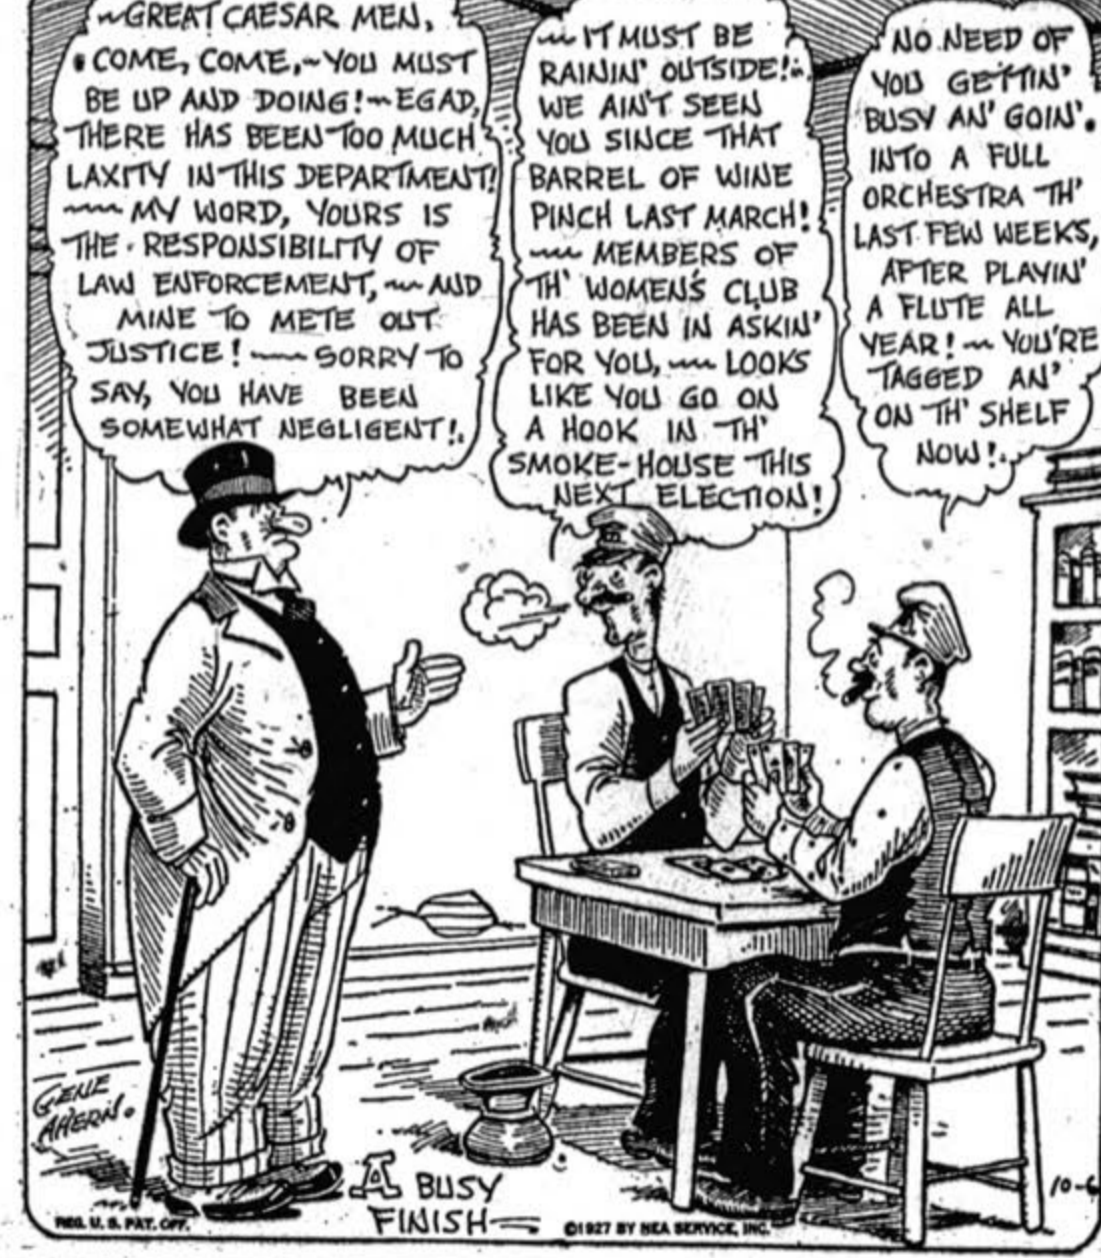

"Well," replied Vance cheerfully, "now that you have begun to come round to my way of thinking, do you mind if I send Mr. Smitkin on an errand?"

"I'll smoke during the 'opera bouffe,' if it won't interfere with your performance."

"I say, would you mind going to Mrs. Platz and borrowing a long tape-measure and a ball of string. . . The district attorney wants them," he added, giving Markham a sycophantic bow.

SANITARY RULES REDUCE LEAD POISON IN FACTORY.—An investigation made by the United States Public Health Service revealed the fact that lead dust is to be found regularly in the air of many industrial establishments.

In crackers factories, underwear factories, machine shops, groceries, cigar factories, tailoring and pressing shops, and even in an ice cream plant some lead was found in the dust in the air.

When lead is absorbed into the human body changes take place in the tissues of the nervous system and also in the blood.

Small degrees of lead absorption are not important, but when the blood cells are affected in considerable numbers, some means must be taken to prevent further absorption of this poison.

Two prominent physicians investigated the amount of lead poisoning in a southern enamel plant in Nashville, Tenn.

Only 13 of the 39 men examined failed to show evidence of lead absorption. One of the men affected was a packer, four were enamel painters and five were sprayers, one was an inspector, one a furnace man, one a foreman, one was a grainer and one was a mixer.

Thus the lead apparently affected the men in all part of the works without reference to the amount of contact with lead, but apparently with relation to the attention that they paid to their personal hygiene.

Twenty-six of the men said that they smoked while at work. Most of them were careless about washing their hands before eating.

The washroom itself was dark and poorly ventilated, and there were no shower baths so that the traces of dust could be removed before the men left for home.

When proper sanitary arrangements were made and the men were cautioned about chewing tobacco at work, when a suitable exhaust system was supplied for carrying off the dust, and when a system of supervision was installed so that men affected by the poison might be properly advised, the conditions were overcome.

Out of the 39 men in the plant concerned, not one could be given an absolutely clean bill of health. Many of them suffered with physical defects in addition to the disturbances brought about by the lead poisoning.

Sanitary control of industries is one of the most important steps in the modern extension of preventive medicine.

Minor Girl Gives Up Key; Says She Threw Mail in Bay

Little Eleanor Minor, who took the mail out of the Escanaba National Bank's box at the postoffice on Sunday, delivered the key to the police late Tuesday and also revealed that early Tuesday morning she took the bundle of bank mail from its hiding place and threw it off the dock into the bay at the rear of her home.

She told U. S. Inspector McDougall that she found the key in the postoffice box several days ago, and had opened the box on several occasions afterward but never found any mail in which she was interested.

An extensive search has been made, but no trace of the missing mail has been found.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NAMES NEW OFFICERS

At the annual business meeting of the First Baptist church last Thursday evening there was a good attendance in spite of the inclement weather.

The reports of the different organizations were listened to with great interest and they showed that the past year was a year of varied activities with the work of all organizations faithfully and efficiently done.

The condition of the church is very encouraging and the outlook for the future is promising. The year brought growth in many directions. The Sunday school under the able leadership of E. B. Walker is prospering and the attendance record shows a larger average attendance than in previous years.

GIVE REASONS FOR ENDORSING NEW HOSPITAL

Expressing their approval of the plan to provide Manistique with an adequate hospital, the Chamber of Commerce has adopted the following resolution, giving several reasons for the stand taken on this important community proposition:

"Recognizing the urgent need of a hospital in our county and realizing the benefits that will accrue to our citizens from such a hospital being in our locality wherever it is available and easily accessible in cases of emergency, the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Manistique does hereby heartily approve the action of the Board of Supervisors of Schoolcraft County by bringing this question to a vote of the people of said county, and does hereby give its unqualified endorsement to the hospital project.

"The Chamber of Commerce endorses this hospital project for the following reasons: "1. A hospital in our county will be a saving to the county in caring for its indigent cases. Without a hospital we must send these cases to a State Hospital and pay for their care. Why not keep these patients and the money for their care in the county? Last year about $2,000 was expended for this purpose.

"2. A hospital in our county will be a saving of life in emergency cases. "3. Present hospital facilities are entirely inadequate to meet the needs of the county and many patients who want and need hospital services are constantly turned away. Only a hospital such as proposed will be adequate to meet the needs of the county.

"4. If there is a hospital in our county, many patients from surrounding counties and townships will be attracted to our hospital. This, of necessity, will result in increased prosperity for us.

"5. The approximate amount of pledges for hospital purposes to the County Board of Supervisors by various organizations is already $1,000. "6. All these benefits will come to the citizens of Schoolcraft County at the very small cost of $1.00 per year per $1,000 taxation. Surely this is no undue burden on the taxpayers at this time, taking into consideration how big an asset to the welfare and prosperity of the county such a hospital will be.

"In consideration of all these facts, we urge that every voter of the county vote for the bond issue.

Kibbler Orchestra Pleases at Soo

The following item is reprinted from the Soo News: "If the audience had its way about it, Gordon Kibbler's orchestra, Melody Maids, would have played all night, so great was the applause when the synopators ended their final selection with a flourish last night at the Strand theater."

"The musicians displayed such skill, such professional elicit and spontaneity and such enthusiasm, that the audience called loudly and long for an encore which did not come."

"Besides vivacious orchestra ensembles, the individual members of the cast sang, danced and played solos. Outstanding were the saxophone trio of Speech Sisters. There were solos on the banjo, violin, dancing and singing, especially by the fair trapezidrummer."

"The orchestra is booked for three days. Opening last night it will continue until Tuesday night."

"The orchestra is not the only feature of the Strand program which is making patrons cry for more. Louise Fazenda, in a screen farce entitled 'Cradle-snatchers,' presents the story of three out-of-love couples who take to the companionship of young flappers and sheiks, in a way that had tears running down the cheeks of the audience, tears which followed gales and shrieks of laughter. It is a bit naughty in theme but took yesterday's audience by storm by its clever entertainment."

Gordon Kibbler's Melody Maids are now appearing on the stage at the Rialto theater and will play for a dance following tonight's theater performance.

Corn cutting and silo filling has commenced in the Fayette district. One or two exceptionally good crops of corn are reported.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunion Pains and Soft Corns

Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil... (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the inflammation is gone.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Every good druggist guarantees the first bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.—Adv.

THEATRES

RIALTO TODAY.

The newest story by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, author of "The Four Horsemen," has been filmed as one of the outstanding screen achievements of the year, in the Cosmopolitan production of "Ibanez' Torrent," now playing at the Rialto theater with Ricardo Cortez, Greta Garbo, and a notable cast. Magnificent costumes, spectacular scenery representing famous opera houses and the royal throne room in Madrid; gorgeous costumes and one of the biggest casts ever assembled went into the making of the feature, which Monte Bell directed at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

The new Cosmopolitan production marks the debut on the American screen of Greta Garbo, famous throughout Europe for the Swedish production of "The Atoneement of Goesta Berling." She was brought to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer under contract and loaned to Cosmopolitan for her first production here.

The story is laid largely in Spain, and tells the romance of a peasant girl who rose to fame as an opera star but remained true to the love of her youth, who could not soar to her heights.

AT THE LYRIC.

One of Lon Chaney's strangest disguises adorns him in "Mockery," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle now playing at the Lyric theater. DULUTH WILL PLAY PACKERS

Ernie Nevers and His Eskimos at Green Bay Next Sunday.

Duluth—Ernie Nevers and his Eskimos start their nation wide football pilgrimage on Sunday at Green Bay where they will tackle the Packers in a National League game.

The game in the Badger pro football metropolis will be the first stop of a football tour which will take the Duluthians to the Atlantic coast and then back across the continent to California where several contests have been booked during the Christmas holiday season.

Later Than Usual
The Eskimos are starting their league season later than usual this season but this was necessary on account of Ernie Nevers baseball contract with the St. Louis Browns. Early in August, the big fullback underwent an operation for appendicitis and it was figured that the ball club would excuse him for the rest of the year. However, this was not the case as Ernie got the "comeback call" from the Browns and he was forced to don the diamond spangles again.

This necessitated a change in the football program and the Eskimos management deemed it best to wait another two weeks and tangle with non-league competition rather than to hop into the pro league schedule without the "main spring." That's what the Duluth fans call Nevers.

Team in Himself
The big blonde surely is a whole team in himself. He likes his football every minute and is not one of those star who play a few minutes and then pose on the bench for the remainder of the game. Last season the Eskimos played 25 games and Nevers only missed 27 minutes of the entire playing time.

The former Superior high star, who later made football history at Stanford "U", was the unanimous choice of sport writers for the fullback job on the all-American professional eleven in 1925. Nevers starred in every game that the Eskimos played last fall. There are big better line plungers than Ernie. He passes with bullet-like speed and, when it comes to booting the old apple there are few players on the post graduate who have anything on Nevers.

While Nevers was finishing up the baseball season, his Eskimos took a fall out of the Duluth All Stars 30 to 6 and then trampled on Virginia, Minn., 24 to 0. Nevers checked in at Duluth this morning and he immediately got into molekims. The Eskimos will work out twice a day for the remainder of the week so as to have the club going right when they mix with the Packers.

Remember Nevers Well
Football fans in Green Bay probably still remember well what Nevers came near doing to the Packers last season. The big fullback intercepted a Packer pass down near his own goal line in the second quarter and dashed down the rain splashed gridiron. For a second or two, it looked as if Nevers was going to make good on his touchdown dash but Gardner, a Green Bay guard, cut loose from the chasing pack and caught Nevers from behind about 10 yards from the goal. This was the longest run Ernie made during the 1926 schedule.

The Eskimos management has surrounded Nevers with an all star cast of griders. The pick of the 1926 club, including the three Rooney brothers, Joe Cobb and Bill; Stein and Doc Williams are again in the fold as are Manson and Kiesling, two veteran guards.

U. P. Phone Girls Meet in Iron Mt.

Iron Mountain—Sixteen operators of the Michigan Bell telephone company, representing as many communities throughout the upper peninsula of Michigan, met here Tuesday with district and local officials for a semi-annual conference and get-together.

The conferences while of particular interest to the managers and operators, are at the same time of considerable importance to the public, for the discussions largely concern suggestions for improvements of the service throughout the district.

This morning the employes conducted their own meeting, with Miss Viola Lindberg, of Iron Mountain, president of the Northern Michigan Employes' association, of the company, as chairman. The operators exchanged ideas for the betterment of the service and several short talks given.

The managers and operators attended a dinner at the Millman hotel this noon, and this afternoon's session was given over to a joint meeting between managers and operators. The conference will close late this afternoon, when most of the operators will leave for their homes, other remaining until tomorrow morning.

Among the visiting operators are: Cecile Swiderki, Iron River; Anna Waytulonia, Crystal Falls; Alice Larson, Menominee; Mildred Sylvester, Sault Ste. Marie; Florence Guay, Menominee; Clara Boyd, Marinette; Gladys Blomquist, Ironwood; Jennie Skinner, Bessemer; Mary Kidd, Escanaba; Mary Gray, Gladstone; Marg-

College Captains

LEARY OF MARQUETTE

Milwaukee, Wis.—(NEA)—That Irishman who feinted a punt back of his own goal line and then threw a pass to Quarterback O'Keefe that resulted in the winning touchdown against Alabama Poly last year, will captain the Marquette eleven this fall.

He is Joe Leary, of Janesville, and he uses his 175 pounds at full-back. Leary has developed into a brilliant grid performer under the tutelage of Coach Frank Murray. He is equally good on defense and offense, and is a fullback of the plunging variety.

He is a real triple-threat artist in that he is the key man in Marquette's aerial attack and the punter of the team.

Marquette faces a tough schedule this year, with two inter-sectional games and three Missouri Valley opponents to be played, but supporters of the Milwaukee school feel that the team will wade safely through such a tough schedule.

The Marquette captain will be a senior this year and has played two years on the team. He is expected to be in the running for All-American honors from the start this season.

DEBATE
I'm cockeyed with all this excitement.
The big fight and foul lines and such.
I'm dizzy with slow counts and protests.
I can't hand this sports racket much.

But—
What's that?
Whoops, dearie!
Another world series?
O'mon—
Bring your tonsils along!

Ah, we've finally figured it all out! Gene has to beat Jack three straight to win the series.

A fight writer says Tunney reminds him of a boy who is always afraid his garter will fall down. Hmmm. That probably explains the consistency of Gene's alibi, "in the seventh I found myself against the ropes and the best thing I could think of was to fall down."

Mr. O'Goofy says it WAS the battle of the century as far as he is concerned. He laid 100 smackers right on Dempsey's nose.

Mr. Tunney will now respect the Salvation Army. A man may be down, but he's never out.

There is no truth to the rumor that officials of the Olympic marathon team have received the entry of Eugene Joseph.

State Footballers Set Record in Fat Reduction Saturday

East Lansing, Oct. 5.—Anyone who wishes to reduce might take up football as a sport. Results would almost be guaranteed.

At least Michigan State players can attest to the power of a hot sun and a fast game to take off poundage. The 11 Spartans who started the game against Ohio University, none of whom played anywhere near the entire 60 minutes, lost a total of 78 pounds, or an average of better than seven pounds to a man.

It was for this reason that Coach Young watched his charges carefully as they resumed practice this week for the important Michigan game at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Strangely enough, the men who lost the most pounds were not the heaviest members of the squad. Captain Paul Smith, whose normal weight is only 174 pounds, shed eight pounds during the time he was in the game. Hornbeck, 171-pound end, lost ten pounds, and Dikerson, State's flashy 160-pound halfback, came out of the contest weighing 153 pounds.

On the whole, however, the squad survived the game in good shape, with only minor bruises as mementos of the Ohio team's hard play. Coach Young hopes that Anderson, an experienced end, will pack away his cane and

BILLY EVANS

WANER BOYS INTERESTING

Unquestionably, the two most interesting players in the National League this year are the Waner brothers of Pittsburgh.

I have seen Paul Waner in action a number of times and well realize he is a remarkable ball player. In the only game in which I saw Lloyd in action, he had a very ordinary day, failed to hit and gummed up one of his two fielding chances. In that same game Paul was at his best.

In this connection, I recall what a fan from northern Michigan once said to me. Living several hundred miles from Detroit, he saw Cobb play perhaps a dozen times during his connection with the Tigers. In fanning with him one day, I made the remark that Cobb was the greatest player, all things considered. I have ever seen in action.

"I guess all you say about Cobb is true, but I can't vouch for it," he replied. "I get to see him in action about once a year; have seen him play about a dozen games and yet I have never seen him make a baseball."

It just happened that Cobb would be off his stride or was opposed by a pitcher good enough to make trouble for him when friend fan saw him play.

Praise for Both Boys

Interested to know what the National League players thought of the famous Waner brothers, I have never failed to seek information on that subject whenever I bumped into a National League club during the summer. "Paul Waner is a wonder," would invariably be the response from every player I talked with. He does everything well. Almost single-handed he has kept the Pirates in the race for the last two years.

When I mentioned the younger brother, Lloyd, the answer would usually be along these lines: "The kid has been a sensation this year. You wonder how he keeps going with his slight physique. He's a marvel if he can keep it up."

While the National League players do not make any definite statements on the subject of the younger Waner, they give you the impression that they have their doubts about his ability to continue his mad pace.

When an opposing team stopped the Waner boys this year, the Pirates were not nearly so hard to beat. That is the best test of their real worth.

First Case of Kind

I doubt if ever in history of baseball have two brothers enjoyed such remarkable success as Waners over the same period.

In a batting way, Paul Waner was the first National League player to make 200 hits. Lloyd Waner reached that mark a few days later. As far as I can learn, he is the first player to reach the double century in base-hits in the first year as a major leaguer.

Paul Waner, in his second year in the big show, is an outstanding star, while Lloyd, to win a berth as a regular, has supplanted so clever a player as "Kiki" Cuyler, a few years ago as great an idol in Pittsburgh as Babe Ruth is in New York.

Rival National League teams have no doubt about Paul's extraordinary ability, yet there seems to be much skepticism as to Lloyd. The thought is rampant that the young man is a trifle over his head.

Not so if you are willing to take the word of Brother Paul, who says, "Lloyd is a better ball player than I am." You can take that or leave it.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Automobiles, aeroplanes, motorboats and even bicycles have furnished the background for motion picture drama, but until Richard Dix began "Man Power" for Paramount had never been "glorified" in films. Only an imaginative scenario writer who had been through the war could see possibilities in them. The results will be on view at the Delft the remainder of this week. There will also be vaudeville.

"Man Power" is not a war picture, although there is a flash of the battlefield to indicate that Richard Dix had been an officer before reaching the lowly state of a box car wanderer hopefully looking for a job. Glimpses of Mary Brian, beautiful daughter of the president of the Stoddard Manufacturing Company, starts him on a career as a mechanic. Dix admits he was glad when it was finished.

AT THE STRAND.

One of the few Spanish stories to be screened without bull fights, guitars and latticed windows! While it is true "Lovers," now being shown at the Strand with Alice Terry and Ramon Navarro in the leading roles, concerns the love of a senorita for a handsome young don, she is not the Spanish type usually accepted by the American public as typical of that romantic nation.

Edward Martindel, who has the role of Don Julian, believes Spanish literature offers a greater storehouse of potential motion picture stories than any other country in the world.

"I blame the opera, 'Carmen,' for the neglect of Spanish literature as screen material," says Martindel, who had traveled extensively in Spain and is familiar with the costumes, customs and traditions of the people.

handling of balls in the first and third innings, the elder of the "person brothers" fully measured up to his reputation as the National League's champion batsman.

The Waner act functioned in the first when Lloyd, on base after being hit by Hoyt, scampered to third on Paul's double and scored on Wright's sacrifice fly. Kramer, doubling to start the third, scored on Paul Waner's second hit.

Lloyd Waner kept up the family's good work in the fifth, rapping out a double and scooting home on Barnhart's single, but Paul Waner's third successive safety was wasted when Wright and Traynor failed to come through in the pinch. This frame and the eighth, in which Wright brought over the final Pirate tally, witnessed the biggest of wasted Coarsie opportunities.

Pipgras to Hurt.
With one down in the eighth, Wright and Traynor singled in succession, sending Hoyt to the showers. Moore was greeted by a sharp blow that Gehrig grabbed and threw to Koenig for a force-out of Traynor. Harris scored Wright, but Smith was retired by Gehrig.

Pitching dope was upset when Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees sent in Moore to replace Hoyt. The Oklahoma "sinker ball" star had been slated to start tomorrow's game. Instead, Huggins sprang another surprise by deciding to shoot his youthful right hander, George Pipgras, who has had no previous series experience, at the Pirates tomorrow. George won four straight games for the Yankees in the last month of the season to earn his spurs in this battle. He will be opposed by Vic Aldridge, the Hoosier schoolmaster.

FIRST INNING.
YANKS—Combs hit the first ball pitched and Barnhart went over to the scoreboard to haul it in. Koenig struck out on Kramer's sweeping curves. Ruth singled sharply to right. Gehrig tripled to right. Ruth scoring. Meusel flew out to P. Waner. One run, two hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING.
YANKS—Lazzeri flied out to Traynor. Dugan flied out to Grantham. Collins drew a base on balls. Kramer's curve was breaking wide. Hoyt grounded out to Grantham. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING.
YANKS—The crowd boomed Lazzeri as he came in to the bench. Grantham took Combs' high hopper near second and threw him out. Grantham fumbled Koenig's grounder and the batter was safe. Ruth singled into right, Koenig going to third. Gehrig got a base on balls and the sacks were loaded. Meusel drew a base on balls which forced Koenig across with a run. Lazzeri forced Meusel, Wright to Grantham, Ruth scoring on the play. Gehrig and Lazzeri started a double steal and Smith let Traynor's throw go through him, Gehrig scoring. The official scorer ruled it was an error on the catcher and not a stolen base. Dugan lined out to Barnhart. Three runs, one hit, two errors.

FOURTH INNING.
YANKS—Collins flied out to L. Waner. Hoyt flied out to P. Waner. Combs lined out to Barnhart. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING.
YANKS—Koenig doubled to right. Ruth grounded to Grantham, Koenig going to third. Koenig scored on Gehrig's sacrifice fly to P. Waner. Meusel flied out to Wright. One run, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.
YANKS—Kramer fanned. L. Waner doubled along the left field line and scored on Barnhart's single past Koenig. P. Waner got an infield hit off Hoyt's glove. Wright flied to Combs. Barnhart taking third on the catch. Traynor flied to Combs. One run, three hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.
YANKS—Lazzeri doubled to left. Kramer was removed from the box and Miljus replaced him. Dugan sacrificed, the play being Smith to Grantham, Lazzeri going to third. Collins walked. Hoyt hit into a double play, Wright to Grantham to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors.

PIRATES—Grantham grounded out to Gehrig, unassisted. Harris flied out to Ruth. Smith also hoisted a tall one to Ruth. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.
YANKS—Combs struck out on Miljus, slow curves. Koenig went out, Harris to Miljus. Ruth singled over second base. Miljus picked the Babe off first, the play being Miljus to Harris to Wright to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors.

PIRATES—Miljus struck out. L. Waner grounded to Lazzeri. Ruth stood still and took Barnhart's fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING.
YANKS—Miljus threw out Gehrig at first. Meusel fanned. Lazzeri grounded out via Traynor. No runs, no hits, no errors.

PIRATES—P. Waner lined out to Meusel. Wright singled to right. Traynor singled over second. Wright halting at second. Hoyt was removed from the box, Moore taking up the burden. Grantham forced Traynor, the play being Gehrig to Koenig, and Wright went to third. Traynor and Koenig collided on the play but neither was seriously hurt. Wright scored when Harris singled to center. Smith went out to Gehrig, unassisted. One run, three hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING.
YANKS—Wright threw out Dugan at first. Collins was thrown out at first by Wright. Moore struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

PIRATES—Brickell, batting for Miljus, grounded out to Moore. L. Waner lined out to Combs. Barnhart was thrown out at first by Lazzeri. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Hedges Will Give Up Beach at Once

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 5—(P)—Edison Hedges, counsel for Willis Beach, poultry raiser, wanted in connection with the murder of Dr. A. William Lillendahl, tonight announced that he would surrender Beach to the state police at 7:30. He said he did not know exactly where Beach had been hiding, but he knew that Beach was on his way to his (Hedges) home in Margate tonight.
 Hedges said he would inform the prosecutor of his intention.
 "When Beach heard that the case was to go before the grand jury tomorrow, he immediately fled in touch with me," Hedges declared.

HUGMEN JOYOUS OVER FIRST WIN

"It Won't Be Long Now," Says the Home Run King.

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 4—(P)—The glee that comes of hard-fought victory and the quiet tenseness of embattled defeat pervaded the players' dressing rooms today after the Yankees pounded the Pirates into a 5 to 4 defeat in the first game of the world's series.

"It won't be long now," boomed Babe Ruth as he stormed into the clubhouse, swinging the bat that clubbed three singles. Behind him clattered the rest of the Yankee tribe, shouting and shoving in an effort to reach the hot water first.

"Those Waners are a couple of good ball players," the heavyweight slugging king announced. "They sure popped a few out my way."

"Say, I was sure due for a homer today if Kramer had only stayed in the Pirate box. The first two hits clicked just right, but I slipped as I slugged the third one at Grantham. I had the range and was ready for him next time for a home run."

Donnie Bush said his Pirates were going to put up a terrific battle tomorrow in order to gain an even break with the Yanks.

Bush Pleased.
 "It just wasn't Kramer's day or we'd have won," Bush said. "He'll be right when he goes back. This will be a long series and I'm not a bit worried. Other ball clubs have lost the opening game and come back to cop the championship."

Bush was pleased at the showing of Miljus, who replaced Kramer for the Pirates in the sixth frame and allowed the Yanks only a single hit, Ruth's single in the seventh.

"Aldridge will do the hurling tomorrow with Johnny Gooch catching, but Miljus may be in there any time for a full game. I expect both Paul and Lloyd Waner will keep right on socking the ball."

Joe Harris, belting first baseman, was spokesman for the reticent Pirates and displayed all the quiet confidence that pervaded the former swashbuckling crew.

"Any team that gets five runs on six hits is lucky, mighty lucky, and that sort of luck can't keep up. We had those heavy hitters stopped in their tracks. Aside from Ruth those sluggers only got three hits and Gehrig's triple was a rank fluke. Anyway, Vic Aldridge is sure to count tomorrow and we go to New York just where we started here."

Hoyt Not "Right."
 George Pipgras, husky young right-hander, who displayed splendid form for the Yankees in the final stages of the American pennant parade, is Miller Huggins' box selection for tomorrow. Benny Bengough will catch him, replacing Collins. Selection of Pipgras furnished a mild surprise, although it is understood that Huggins chose to gamble on the youngster and save Wilcy Moore for the third contest.

Waite Hoyt said he "didn't mind being knocked out of the box because it was all in the game and knew he wasn't 'right,' either." Most of the Brooklyn undertaker's chatter had to do with the vaunted Pittsburgh attack.

"I'll just bet," Hoyt declared, "that Pipgras, if he's as good as he was in his last start, will put out the Pirates with no more than five hits. The next time I go against them they'll get no more than seven."

"Someone told me to feed the Waner's nice curve balls, high on the inside. I did and those boys were laying back waiting for them. They won't get four hits between them the next time I pitch, I'll wager on that."

Incidentally, Hoyt received a hand by his teammates for the splendid efforts he exerted during the time he was in the box.
 Herb Pennock, star southpaw, is still in pain from a blow on the left knee received in practice, but worked out today and may be ready to work in two days.

Student Tickets on Sale at School

Student tickets for the Escanaba-Marquette football game to be played at Marquette this Saturday are on sale at Mr. Lemmer's office at the Escanaba high school, it has been announced. All Escanaba students who are planning on making the trip to Marquette can secure student tickets at the regular price of twenty-five cents if the tickets are bought at the high school before Friday evening. The price for all tickets at the gate in Marquette will be seventy-five cents.

There will be two games on the card at Marquette. The first game will be between the Marquette high school eleven and the Escanaba high school gridgers and the game will start promptly at 1:30 P. M. The officials for this game are McClintock, referee; Aerna, umpire, and Gueiff, head linesman.
 The second game, between the Marquette Normal and the Oshkosh Normal, will start immediately after the game between the two high schools.

Saints Will Have Hard Scrimmage Session Tonight

St. Joseph's high school will be given a hard scrimmage drill tonight, Coach Leo Brunelle announced yesterday, in order to perfect a number of new plays which will be used against Baraga high of Marquette here next Saturday afternoon. The two squads will play a half-hour football game. All first-string players are in good shape and the drill is expected to be a fast one.

TRY TO UPSET OLD MAN JINX

Ohio State Has Not Triumphed Over Iowa Since 1922.

Chicago, Oct. 5—(P)—The task of upsetting "old man jinx" confronts Ohio State's Big Ten football hopes this week with Iowa in the role of the apparition. Only once since 1922 have the Buckeyes triumphed over the Hawkeyes, but this year's array of Ohio makes it appear gloomy for any specter. Both teams have pointed for the Big Ten battle Saturday and have tapered off their workouts for a rest before the game.

The banks of the River Jordan down at Indiana almost overflowed with enthusiasm as the Hoosiers eyed their Big Ten opening with Chicago two days hence. The Maroons also were holding hopes of victory as Coach Stagg worked long and hard.

Michigan's squad was drilled for forward passes both offensively and defensively and was cheered somewhat by the news that Vic Domhoff, quarterback from Toledo, had been declared eligible.

Minnesota is working hard to perfect its team play for Saturday. Illinois also is devoting every effort to whipping a strong offensive and defensive team into first-class condition to try for another season's record of straight wins without a defeat.

The Steam Rollers team steam-rolled over Hogan's Orioles in a grid contest at Moore's diamond yesterday afternoon. The score was 18 to 12. Irvy Beauchamp, Roller fullback, was the star of the game, making the three touchdowns for his team. Vinty McGea officiated.

Football Officials Discuss Rules With Conference Arbiter

Complexities and perplexities of football rules and the technique of officiating, were discussed by James Masker, veteran western conference official, at a meeting of coaches and officials in the Delta hotel last night. The discussion covered the new rules and a long list of puzzling situations which have been confronting the men who have been officiating in games in this section of the country.

Mr. Masker's advice and counsel was backed by twenty years of successful officiating in major football games, and was of immense value to those who attended. Among those present were Coaches Thune of Iron Mountain and Sweit of Kingsford high schools.

Upset in Second Round of Tourney

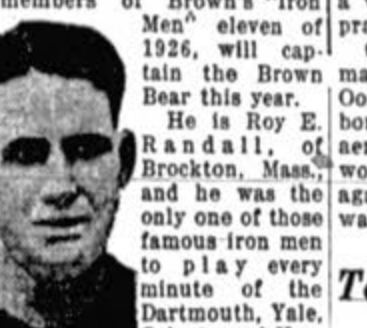

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 5—(P)—A startling upset, the elimination of Miss Glenna Collett, former American champion, from the Canadian women's golf championship, marked today's second round of play. The unheralded conqueror, Miss Helen Paget of Ottawa, won by the narrowest possible margin, but she played brilliant golf to pull out victory on the home hole.

MINE BURNS 68 YEARS

Summit Hill, Pa.—What is believed to be the oldest fire in the world, except in volcanoes, is burning in an old coal mine here. The fire started in 1859 and has been smouldering ever since. It spread from the timbers to the coal deposits and in 59 years has destroyed about 14,000,000 tons of coal. Three million dollars has been wasted in futile efforts to extinguish it.

College Captains

RANDALL OF BROWN
 By NEA Service
 Providence, R. I.—A red-head, the toughest of the eight remaining members of Brown's "Iron Men" eleven of 1926, will captain the Brown Bear this year.

He is Roy E. Randall, of Brockton, Mass., and he was the only one of those famous iron men to play, every minute of the Dartmouth, Yale, Colgate and Harvard seasons.

This fiery-thatched youngster has been a member of Brown's team for two years, with a year at half-back and a year at quarter-back to his service.
 How good he was at quarter-back last year can be realized from the fact that he was chosen for the Warner-Rockne-Jones All-America eleven. He also made other mythical teams.

Randall is expected to be the big shot of Brown's team this year. Upon his shoulders will fall a multitude of duties, including the punting and passing and most of the ball-carrying. Defensively, he will be stationed at quarter-back.
 Randall also is a baseball star. He played second base on the varsity nine last year, the same position he played at Andover, where he prepved.

Oosterbaan Marked Man in Scrimmage

East Lansing, Oct. 5—(P)—Benny Oosterbaan was the marked man again today as the Michigan State college varsity scrimmaged against the freshman team in practice session preliminary to the college's game with Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday. The cheering sections were also given a workout in the stands as the practice session continued.

On unfortunate end plays marked with the numeral "47," Oosterbaan's famous number, bore the brunt of the freshman aerial attack in an attempt to work out an effective defense against the Michigan captain's always ready threat.

Toledo Takes Lead in "Little Series"

Toledo, Oct. 5—(P)—Toledo, American Association pennant winners, took a commanding lead for the Little World series title today when they defeated Buffalo, International League champions, 3 to 2. Toledo now has won four games to one for Buffalo, and needs but one more victory to clinch the title.

The Score: R. H. E.

DISTANCE SWEEP AWAY. Events like the world's series and the Dempsey-Tunney fight place further emphasis on the fact that the word "distance" no longer means a great deal in the United States.

While 145,000 people were watching Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney battle in Chicago, millions were listening in on newspaper and newspaper megaphone accounts of the battle which carried the country directly to the ringside.

Far more Escanaba people followed the Dempsey-Tunney fight, blow-by-blow, than ever witnessed a boxing show in Escanaba. And it is very probable that far more Escanaba people were concerned about the opening game of the world's series, than ever attended a baseball game in Escanaba.

Nor can the interest of Escanaba people in these two sporting events be singled out as exceptional happenings. The same conditions exist in every city, village and hamlet in America.

It is a day of quantity production—big things in a big way. Make anything big enough and colorful enough and a nation will stop, look and listen.

CANADA DOES WANT IT. V. L. Harding, executive officer of the Great Lakes Tidewater association, informed the president, a few days ago, that sentiment for the St. Lawrence waterway is growing in all parts of Canada.

It's better to smile than frown. It's better to laugh than smile. But it's better to lift when a man is down. Then only to laugh for awhile.

than most of us have realized in the past, and the men who have been fighting for it deserve a great deal more active support from the folks back home than they have received.

FORESTS COME FIRST. A sponge can be a goodly gift, too, and we need no more Mississippi floods to tell us that, says the Saint Ste. Marie News.

The forests of the country are great reservoirs that hold back rainfall. The trees break the force of storms. Forest floors, at the headwaters of streams, absorb thousands of tons of water, preventing erosion and floods.

According to Ward Shepard, forest inspector of the United States forest service, we have approximately 225,000,000 acres of logged off forest land that has not been taken for farming.

Imagine this vast 225,000,000-acre sponge restored, with a thick litter on its shaded floor, soaking up tons of water, which must seep gradually through the earth to the river, instead of rushing pell-mell down the stream beds.

No system of flood control that leaves out the forests can succeed. Levees, of course, will hold back floods to a fixed channel—while the levees hold. Artificial storage reservoirs will help. But unless we move for the natural storage of water such as forests provide, there always will be that tremendous rush of flood-tides following storms and the spring thaws.

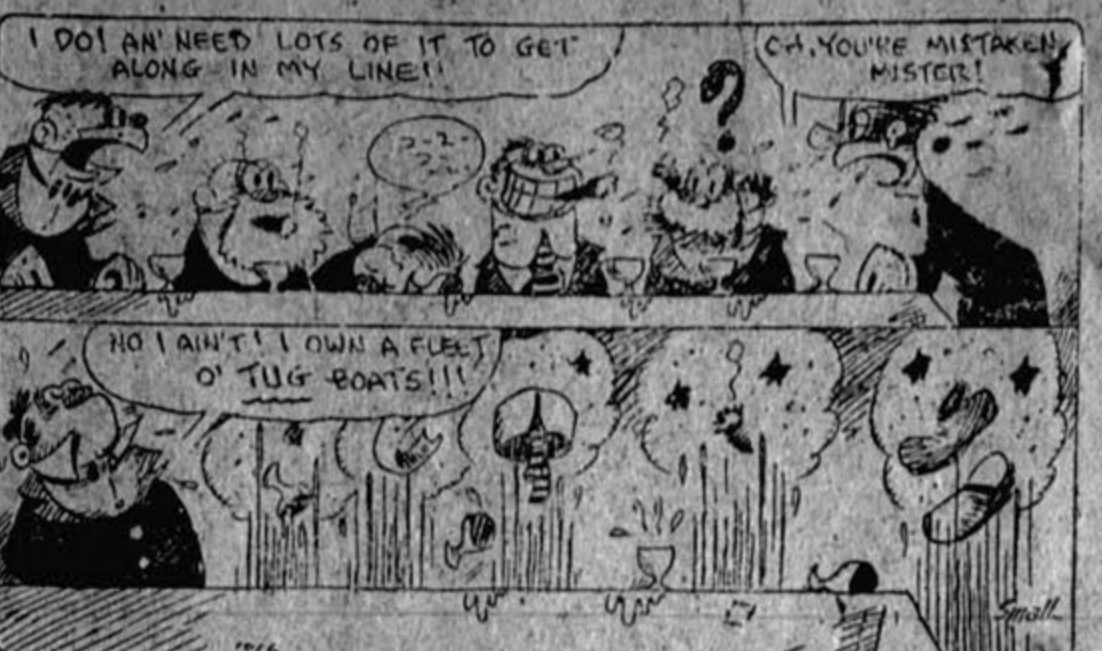

Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association, advocates state and federal acquisition of land for forestry purposes, first in the Appalachian region. A large percentage of the water that flows past New Orleans, he says, comes from the combined sources of the Ohio, Tennessee and Cumberland rivers.

As she was walking through the sand and the cactus, she met Plantinweed Dalton. Together they sat upon a fallen cimaroon tree and as night was falling, they partook of grandmother's lunch.

Little Red Riding Hood ate two sandwiches and sipped some of the home brew. Then she swooned in his arms. It was powerful brew! Plantinweed Dalton carried her to the airplane he had concealed in a clump of bushes on the desert nearby and flew away with her.

Love's awakening came too late to Little Red Riding Hood. She was now in the clutches of a fiend in human form, a demon incarnate, and his gang of thugs.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD peered from the window of the humble four-story brownstone cottage where she lived with her white-haired mother.

She ran nimbly to the gate. The young man removed his twelve-gallon hat and bowed sweepingly as he handed her a neatly wrapped bundle. She hopped up and down to express her delight.

Jack was freckled but honest. He looked deep into her blue eyes with a watchfulness which would have melted a heart of stone.

Little Red Riding Hood's heart was jumping up and down so rapidly that the look fell off and was lost. With a wave of her hand she darted into the humble cottage and his eyes followed her.

Little Red Riding Hood unwrapped the package feverishly. It was a new red riding costume and she put it on.

The BENS ON MURDER CASE

CHAPTER XIX (Saturday, June 15, 5 p. m.) When we arrived at Benson's house a patrolman leaning solemnly against the iron paling of the arway came suddenly to attention and saluted.

He eyed Vance and me hopefully, regarding us no doubt as suspects being taken to the scene of the crime for questioning by the district attorney. We were admitted by one of the men from the homicide bureau who had been in the house on the morning of the investigation.

Markham greeted him with a nod. "Everything going all right?" "Sure," the man replied good-naturedly. "The old lady's as meek as a cat—and a swell cook."

"We want to be alone for a while, Sniffin," said Markham, as we passed into the living room. "The gastronome's name is Sniffin—not Sniffin," Vance corrected him, when the door had closed on us.

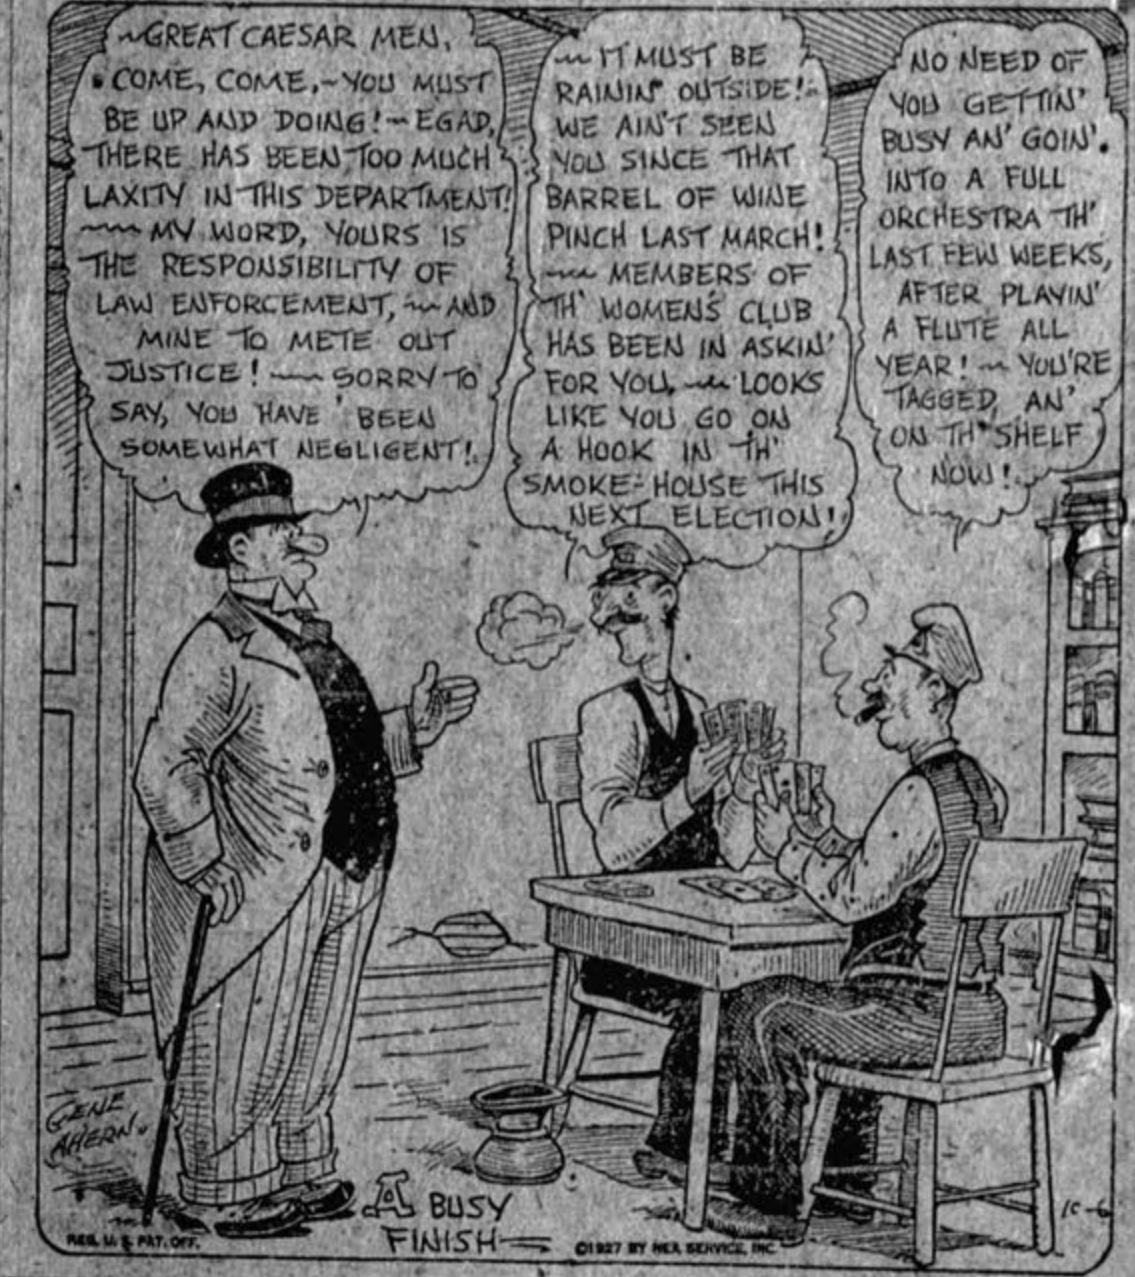

"Wonderful memory," muttered Markham cheerfully. "A failure of mine," said Vance. "I suppose you are one of those rare persons who never forget a face but just can't recall names, what?"

But Markham was in no mood to be twitted. "Now that you've dragged me here, what are you going to do?" He waved his hand deprecatingly, and sank into a chair with an air of contemptuous abdication.

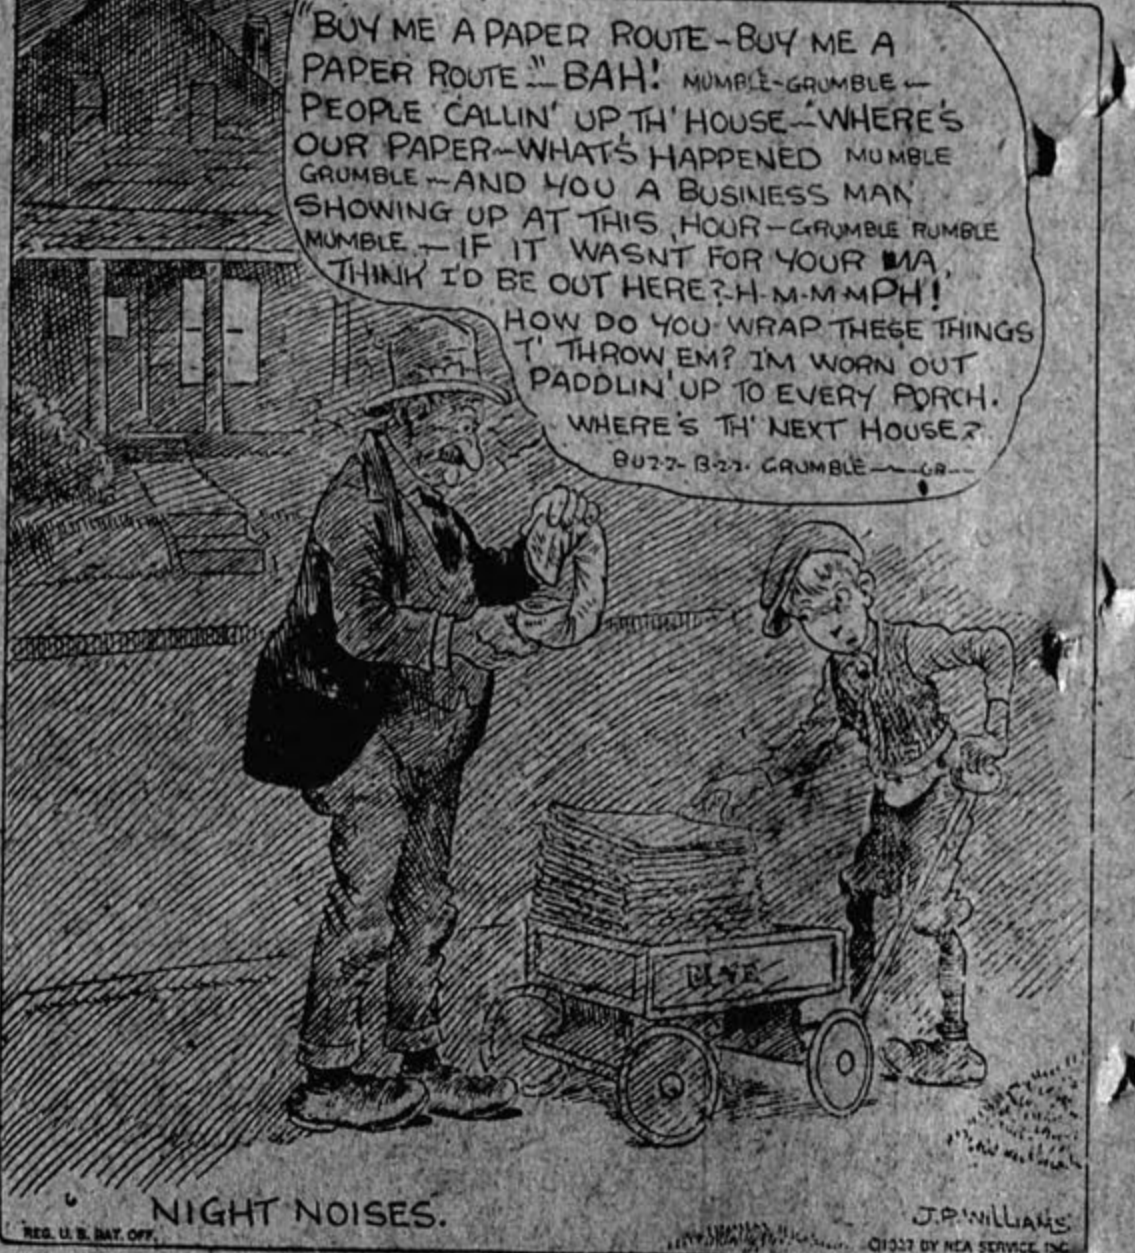

The living-room looked much the same as when we saw it last, except that it had been put neatly in order. The shades were up and the late afternoon light was flooding in profusely. The ornaments of the room's furnishings seemed intensified by the glare.

Vance glanced about him and gave a shudder. "I'm half inclined to turn back," he drawled. "It's a clear case of justifiable homicide by an outraged interior decorator."
