

NEW YORK YANKEES WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

NATION'S STEP MAY PROVE TO BE LUCKY MOVE

AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO TO HELP MATTERS.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Oct. 7.—Sending an ambassador to Mexico in the midst of the troubled internal situation that faces the Calles government may prove a lucky turn for American policy.

Usually when a Mexican administration gets itself into revolutionary difficulties, there is a tendency to be less aggressive about external policy.

No opportunity to Morrow. Incidentally very little talk is heard here about opposing the confirmation of Mr. Morrow when the senate formally receives his name next December.

Reports from Mexico do not indicate as yet the extent of the disturbances, though it is felt that the revolutionary spirit is growing in the southern republic.

Censorship Rigid. The story that General Quijano was duped by a superior officer in marching his troops outside the capital, is only one of a number of things that have trickled through the censorship.

The ability of the central government to present revolutionary outbreaks in the federal district of Mexico City is unquestioned, but when guerrilla warfare starts in the northern regions and some of the idle peasants and ever-ready bandits are gathered together to tear up railroads and otherwise embarrass the federal government, there are always possibilities of trouble that will not end so quickly.

Delegates to Labor Meeting Go Fishing. Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Representatives of organized labor scheduled convention cars today and went fishing. Nearly every one of more than 350 delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention which has completed one week's session here, observed the two-day week and took an early boat for Santa Catalina Island.

REBUS TO PLAY A 'LONE HAND'

Says He Didn't Need to Offer $8,000 to Kill Franklin Dodge. Cincinnati, Oct. 8.—(AP)—George Remus considered the path which might take his adventurous life to the electric chair for the slaying of his wife, Imogene, and reiterated today that "Remus will play a lone hand."

Remus discredited statements made by his friends that he would be defended by a noted criminal lawyer.

Into the last chapter of a career which carried Russell T. Scott from the vaudeville stage to business affluence and down a steep descent to robbery and murder, has been crowded melodrama which mocked the gallows rope for more than fifteen months.

Four times the man, who at 30, had headed a $10,000,000 international bridge corporation, was sentenced to hang for the murder of Joseph Maurer in a drug store hold-up.

BELT USED TO END CAREER OF CONVICTED MAN

HAD ESCAPED DEATH ON GALLOWS 4 TIMES.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Russell Scott, former wealthy Canadian bridge promoter, who has narrowly escaped gallows sentence following his conviction on a charge of murder, tonight hung himself in the Cook county jail.

The jailer said that he had passed Scott's cell at 9:45 p. m. and that he was all right, but when he passed again, an hour later, he noticed the body.

Scott, convicted of the murder of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, in a holdup, had been in the cell since his return several months ago from an insane asylum where he had been discharged, after a sanity hearing, to again face the penalty of death.

Time and again his parents made pilgrimages in his behalf. His wife, mother of his three children, starred herself publicly in Detroit to raise funds for his fight.

Lumber Dealers Hold Successful Meeting; Go to Sault in 1928

Sault Ste. Marie was selected as the next meeting place of the Escanaba Retail Lumbermen's club, at the organization's fall convention, which was held here yesterday, with retailers and manufacturers from all parts of upper Michigan attending.

Julius Wilmes of the Armstrong-Thielman Lumber company of Calumet was elected president of the club to succeed William M. Argall. Consolidated Fuel and Lumber company, Ishpeming, F. A. Brassard of the Fuller-Goodman company, Iron Mountain, was elected vice president, and G. R. Stegath of Escanaba was re-elected secretary-treasurer. William M. Argall, the retiring president, succeeds H. A. Morgan of Ironwood as a member of the board of directors.

It was decided that the club will meet once a year in the future instead of semi-annually. Sault and Calumet also made a bid for the next convention, but the Lock City won out in vote. The meeting will be held some time next July.

The meeting here opened with an inspection trip to the Birds Eye Veneer company, following which the wives of the delegates went to the Escanaba golf club, where entertainment was furnished by the ladies' committee composed of Mrs. George N. Harer, Mrs. C. J. Byrns, Mrs. J. P. Lushong and Mrs. G. R. Stegath.

The local committee in charge of the general arrangements for the convention was as follows: C. J. Byrns, chairman, P. S. Clark, Michael Farrell and G. R. Stegath.

Meet at Elks Temple.

The business sessions were held at the Elks' Temple in the afternoon. Mayor George G. Enelise delivered the address of welcome to the visiting lumbermen in behalf of the city, and Mr. Byrns and Mr. Stegath greeted them in behalf of the local committee. Highly interesting talks were then given by Harry J. Colman, business analyst and counselor of Chicago, Don S. Montgomery, secretary, Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's association, Milwaukee; George N. Harer of the I. Stephenson company, Sault, and Julius Wilmes of the Armstrong-Thielman Lumber company. Mr. Argall presided as chairman of the meeting.

At 5:30 o'clock, the lumbermen and their wives assembled at the Delta hotel, where the banquet was served. Rev. J. E. Hubbard, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was the principal speaker, his topic being "What's a Name?" Tracing back the origin of various family names in somewhat humorous vein, Rev. Hubbard entertained his hearers with his wit, and then pressed them profoundly by a more serious treatment of his subject. A name is all there is in life, he declared, for it means a reputation, character and whatever else by which we are judged. Material wealth may perish upon one's death, but only good name will remain to testify as to one's good works, he pointed out. The idle gossipers, he said, seek only to besmirch a person's good name, were assailed the speaker, and characterized even worse than highway robbers.

"A highway robber will rob you of your money while he is robbing you, but a scandal monger robs you of your good name from behind your back." Reverend Hubbard declared.

Music during the banquet was furnished by the Blue Aces orchestra. O. I. Bandoen, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, led in the singing of old-fashioned and popular songs. Mr. Argall served as toastmaster. Following the banquet, the guests went to the Elks Temple ballroom to spend the remainder of the evening in dancing.

Discuss Grade Marking.

The benefits to be gained by the retail lumber dealers by grade marking was the main theme in the discussion held during the afternoon session. The consensus of opinion was that grade marking was the best protection both for lumber dealer and consumer against inferior substitutes, and would do much to raise the standards of the business.

The need of salesmanship in the lumber business was emphasized in an interesting and instructive talk by Mr. Colman. He urged the lumber dealers to sell on the quality appeal, rather than price.

"The American public appreciates quality and wants it more than ever in building construction," said Mr. Colman.

"The average man about to build a house is skeptical, because he has heard so much about manipulation in grades of lumber by unscrupulous dealers. He has been warned against the 'Jerry-Built' house. He is looking for someone in whom he can place confidence. That one should be no other than his local retail lumber dealer.

"In order to obtain and hold the confidence of a prospect, every retail lumber dealer should use and advertise the fact that he handles nothing but grade marked lumber. Any retail lumber dealer who attempts to make his profit by substitution or manipulation, and not in a legitimate merchandising manner is nothing but a plain out-and-out crook. He is a detriment to the industry and to his community, and it is the duty of the honest retail lumber dealers, who are members of lumber associations to use every means they have in informing and educating the public that the only way in which they can be assured of a square deal and intelligently determine whether lower priced lumber is not a true bargain is by purchasing only lumber that contains the manufacturers' grade mark and the trade mark of the endorsement of the manufacturers' association."

Montgomery's Talk.

Mr. Montgomery reported his observations at the National Retail Lumber Dealers' association meeting at Tacoma, Wash., and stated that there were more than 1200 retailers from every section of the United States in attendance.

"One of the most interesting sessions was that in which the manufacturers and retailers jointly discussed the mutual problems of the industry," Mr. Montgomery said. "This brought out the trials and tribulations among themselves as well as in educating and influencing the retailer to adopt as a standard procedure the grade marking lumber. This movement was instituted primarily by Secretary Hoover, and the leading manufacturers and retailers of this county have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in time and expense in working out the solution of the age-old controversy regarding lumber grading. The

"Anyone Can Drive Streetcar" and He Proves His Theory

Chicago, Oct. 8—(AP)—A fleet of taxicabs once saved Paris, so Anthony Marshall, 22, who says he is for America first, decided today to demonstrate that street cars might some day do the same thing for Chicago.

Having a theory that running a street car was a chore that most anyone might accomplish in a national emergency, the youth decided to prove the soundness of his reasoning. He boarded a northwest side car, clouted the motorman over the head, and opened the front door.

"Where's your picture of George Washington?" he asked indignantly as he shoved the motorman into the street at the feet of a startled policeman. Thereafter things, including the street car, moved swiftly.

Some 40 passengers and pedestrians along the way marveled at the way in which the car was being speeded up and a few milk wagon drivers prodded sleepy steeds to sudden activity—as Anthony whizzed past. Finally a police squad overtook Anthony and his terror stricken passengers. As a result of the patriotic demonstration Anthony was charged with disorderly conduct, assault and battery, drunkenness, reckless driving and goes to the psychopathic hospital to be looked over.

"Anyhow, anybody can drive one of those street cars," he declared as he was led away.

workmen joined with the visitors in listening to the program that was carried out. General Manager C. J. Byrns served as master of ceremonies and as one of the chief features of the afternoon, presented to William M. Argall of Ishpeming, president of the Escanaba Retail Lumbermen's club, a handsome gavel, made from birdseye maple wood. Mr. Argall was taken completely by surprise, but was able to respond in a most pleasing manner, expressing his own appreciation and the appreciation of the club members for the hearty welcome accorded them in Escanaba.

Mrs. John Kress sang two vocal numbers, that were most enthusiastically applauded, and Johnson's orchestra presented several instrumental numbers during the program.

In addition to the flower studded grounds about the plant, which are now in their full autumn glory, the chief interest of the visitors was centered in the newly installed veneer drying machine.

The installation at the Birds Eye Veneer company's plant is said by the manufacturers of the veneer dryer, to be one of the finest ever made in the United States. A fireproof room, of cement and steel construction throughout, was provided at the plant for the new equipment and in operation yesterday in the well-lighted, white-enameled room, presented a most attractive appearance.

The entire veneer cut of the plant, with the exception of the birds eye maple, is dried through the use of the new equipment, without the aid of slow-drying kilns. The freshly cut veneer is fed into the machine in sheets of marketable size and passes between steam-heated pressing

The time is not ripe yet for Upper Peninsula retail lumber dealers to attempt to sell the complete house, according to opinions voiced by lumber dealers who participated in a discussion led by Mr. Wilmes of Calumet. However, some dealers believed that they could handle an entire roofing job in a satisfactory and profitable manner.

HYMN BY WIFE OF MINISTER

Famous Religious Song Is Banned by Cardinal O'Connell.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(P)—The hymn "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" forbidden at funerals by Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Boston, was written by a deeply religious woman who was the wife of a minister.

J. S. Fears of Chicago, who wrote the music for words he purchased from Mrs. Jessie B. Pounds, then writing under the name of Jessie Brown, declared today that, although he never knew Mrs. Pounds personally, he knew that she maintained convictions deeply religious and became the wife of the Rev. John J. Pounds, a Disciple of Christ preacher.

"I had in mind merely the writing of a suitable melody," Mr. Fears said when asked what influence had dominated when he set the words to music.

He recalled that the verses were among a number of his hymn publishing business of that day purchased from Mrs. Pounds.

30 Years Copyrighted

"That was the only one which became popular," he said.

"It was 30 years ago that the hymn was copyrighted but that it still is popular was attested by the Forester Music Co. of Chicago, publishers and holders of the copyright. Royalties still are paid to the estate of John G. Pounds through the Citizens band of Miami, Fla.

"Vulgar," "trashy" and "inane" were adjectives applied by Cardinal O'Connell, who placed the hymn among several English compositions "by people who have no faith but plenty of maudlin sentiment."

Wilson Disapproved

"I never regarded it as maudlin and its popularity attests its worth," said Mr. Fears.

"It does pictures Heaven as vague but who of us can give it any more definiteness?"

Mr. Fears recalled also that several years ago while the late President Woodrow Wilson was

Jordan's Sentence Cut to 18 Months

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 8.—(P)—The sentence of the Rev. Willis T. Jordan, convicted here yesterday of bigamy for marrying Mrs. Emma Langridge of Washington, here last August while he had a living and undivorced wife, today was reduced to 18 months in the state prison. Jordan had been sentenced to serve not less than two nor more than three years.

Judge Webb declined, however, to reduce the appeal bond for the aged minister.

Jordan today was prostrated in his cell at the county jail. His attorneys made a vigorous appeal to the court for a reduced sentence, telling Judge Webb that the sentence was "tantamount to life imprisonment."

Solicitor John G. Carpenter, who had conducted the prosecution, took no part in today's proceedings.

Cardinal O'Donnell Is Seriously Ill

Belfast, Irish Free State, Oct. 8.—(P)—The condition of Patrick Cardinal O'Donnell, primate of Ireland, is reported tonight to be very serious. The cardinal, who has been taking a vacation at Carlingford, county Louth, is suffering from double pneumonia.

President of Princeton University he stirred up a discussion by declaring the hymn was not appropriate.

"That made good business," chuckled Mr. Fears.

breach of promise and he fled to the States.

On April 2, 1924, he was arrested for a drug store holdup, opposite Chicago's city hall, in which a clerk was killed. He was convicted and sentenced to hang, but won a new trial, pleaded guilty, and again was given the death penalty, despite his plea that a brother, Robert, was the killer.

Wins Sanity Hearing

At midnight, July 16, 1925, six hours before Russell was to hang, a telegram came to Governor Small of Illinois, purporting to be signed by Robert, and promising surrender. The governor relieved Russell for a week, but the telegram was found to be a hoax.

Again the noose was prepared on July 24, but four hours before the time of the execution, Scott's attorney won a motion for a sanity hearing. A jury was convinced that Scott had lost his reason during his incarceration, and sent him to an asylum, ordering that he should hang if his sanity returned.

In the summer of 1926 the state sanity commission was told that Scott was sane, whereupon a court decreed he should be executed on October 15.

Meanwhile, Robert had been found, serving a term in a California prison under an alias. He was brought to Chicago and pleaded guilty, but denied he fired the shot by which Maurer died, and was sentenced to life imprisonment. A week later he changed his story and called himself the slayer, but officials refused to see in the confession any alteration of Russell's status.

Then, on October 13, 1926, two days before the time set for his execution, Scott's lawyer won from the Illinois supreme court a decision to review the sanity hearing which resulted in the holding that his reason had returned.

Detroit clubwomen raised $5,000 for Russell's defense and the mayor and business men of Windsor interceded with President Coolidge in his behalf, but without result. In prison Scott wrote almost a dozen books, two of which, "Mind Your Mind" and "Humanity and Business," were regarded as meritorious.

Bad Weather Delays Miss Elder's Start

New York, Oct. 8.—(P)—Prospects for a weekend start on a trans-Atlantic flight by George Haldeman and Ruth Elder, Florida aviatrix, who wants to be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic, were dimmed today by unfavorable reports from the United States weather bureau.

Miss Elder had hoped to hop off before Monday, the day on which the weather bureau will discontinue its special weather service to aviators.

Today's report of a storm area followed by rains and low clouds sweeping eastward from the Atlantic seaboard, along the north Atlantic route Miss Elder planned to follow.

BURGLARS looted a fraternity house on a college campus the other day and escaped with cash and jewelry valued at $700. Times have changed. We have vivid memories of a certain fraternity house, in another era, from which a burglar would have been lucky to have escaped with his own gold teeth.

A fraternity house in those times was a place in which the last man to dress for a party found himself donning an unpressed size 44 coat, a pair of wrinkled 33-38 trousers, two battered pumps (both for the left foot), a mildewed shirt without studs, a size 17 semi-soft collar and a red knitted string tie. The first man to dress for a party was always the best-dressed man on—off—the campus.

TWO football players fell down a flight of stairs with a piano the other day and when the piano was lifted off of them it was learned that the instrument was badly damaged.

The Benson Murder Case

by S. S. VAN DINE CHAPTER XXII

She shot Markham a questioning glance. She was not sure whether Vance's remark was to be taken seriously; but his casualness of manner and pleasantness of voice tended to put her at ease.

"Now that we understand each other, Mrs. Platz," he was saying, "was there anything else you particularly noticed when the young lady was here? You will be doing her a good service by telling us, because both the district attorney and I happen to know she is innocent."

She gave Vance a long shrewd look, as if appraising his sincerity. Evidently the results of her scrutiny were favorable, for her answer left no doubt as to her complete frankness.

"I don't know if it'll help, but when I came in with the toast Mr. Benson looked like he was arguing with her. She seemed worried about something that was going to happen, and asked him not to hold her to some promise she'd made. I was only in the room a minute, and I didn't hear much. But just as I was going out, he laughed and said it was only a bluff, and that nothing was going to happen."

She stopped, and waited anxiously. She seemed to fear that her revelation might, after all, prove injurious rather than helpful to the girl.

"Was that all?" Vance's tone indicated that the matter was of no consequence.

"That was all I heard; but there was a small blue box of jewelry sitting on the table."

"My word!—a box of jewelry! Do you know whose it was?"

"No, sir, I don't. The lady hadn't brought it, and I never saw it in the house before."

Markham sat scowling, his eyes in space. "I'm convinced that you think you know something."

"I know," murmured Vance, "the naturalistic philosophy of Descartes has always rather appealed to me. It was a departure from universal doubt and a seeking for positive knowledge in self-consciousness. Spinoza in his pantheism, and Berkeley in his idealism, quite misunderstood the significance of their precursor's favorite enthymeme."

"Even Descartes' errors were brilliant. His method of reasoning, for all its scientific inaccuracies, gave new significance to the symbols of the analyst. The mind, after all, if it is to function effectively, must combine the mathematical precision of a natural science with such pure speculations as astronomy. For instance, Descartes' doctrine of Vortices—"

"Oh, be quiet," growled Markham. "I'm not insisting that you reveal your precious information. So why burden me with a dissertation on seventeenth-century philosophy?"

"Anyhow, you'll admit, won't you," asked Vance lightly, "that in eliminating those disturbing cigar butts, so to speak, I've eliminated Miss St. Clair as a suspect?"

Markham did not answer at once. There was no doubt that the developments of the past hour had made a decided impression upon him.

He did not underestimate Vance, despite his persistent opposition; and he knew that, for all his flippancy, Vance was fundamentally serious.

Furthermore, Markham had a finely developed sense of justice. He was not narrow, even though obstinate at times; and I have never known him to close his mind to the possibilities of truth, however opposed to his own interests.

It did not, therefore, surprise me in the least, when, at last, he looked up with a gracious smile of surrender.

"You've made your point," he said; "and I accept it with proper humility. I'm most grateful to you."

"You're quite right," Vance said; "I'm not insisting that you reveal your precious information. So why burden me with a dissertation on seventeenth-century philosophy?"

LYRICS OF LIFE By Douglas Malloch Copyright 1927 by Douglas Malloch I HATE TO WORK ON SUNDAY. I hate to work on Sunday. It isn't just because it's violating precept, or breaking any laws. God made the holy Sabbath, but didn't make it for His grandeur and His glory—for man he made it more. And, if my work's so heavy, and if my need's so great. That I must work on Sunday and let the good Lord wait, There's something wrong about it, I don't mean only sin— There's something out of kilter with the business I am in. I hate to work on Sunday. If I must live so fine That all my days are Mammon's and not a day is mine, Then fortune is a phantom and money is a sham; I guess if I were poorer I'd be richer than I am. For money is a servant, but when its lashes curve Around our burdened shoulders, then we're the ones who serve There's something wrong about it, if that's my present plan, For man should rule the riches, not riches rule the man. I hate to work on Sunday. Perhaps I want so much I'm missing greater pleasures than pleasures that I clutch. I talk about my trouble, and yet the truth may be The trouble's not with trouble, the trouble's all with me. When horses ride the master, there isn't any doubt There's something wrong about it I don't say out. For when the Lord made Sunday 'twas not Himself He blest; He didn't need a Sabbath as much as men need rest.

State Trapper Gets Four Timber Wolves In Single Day

Four timber wolves in one day is believed by Peter Houle, state trapper, to be a record for this part of the country. Mr. Houle got the four beasts in his traps yesterday, all of them in the vicinity of Fauns, on the Felch branch.

The largest of the four wolves weighed 90 pounds. All were old ones. A fifth had become involved in one of the traps but got away, leaving his toes behind him, Mr. Houle said.

Mr. Houle has been very successful in trapping timber wolves. He has landed seven of them in five

Singer Out of Job Advertises Concert

Berlin—Albert Neumann, who designates himself as "former princely court opera singer, but unfortunately jobless for the moment," believes in modern advertising methods for beggars.

Like hundreds of other German beggars, he makes his living by singing for alms in the courtyards of apartment houses in the better residential districts. The usual stunt consists in yelling some patriotic song or touching love ballad at the top of the voice, and then following it with a stereotyped spoken appeal for alms.

Neumann, however, has added a new touch to his "trade." On the morning of his "concert," he delivers a printed card to every apartment within the area to be visited, the text of which is: "Highly honored sir, Gracious lady!

"As a former princely court opera singer who is unfortunately jobless for the moment I am compelled to give a little concert on the courtyard of this apartment toward (1:30) this afternoon. My first number will be the Bass Aria from the 'Magic Flute' by Mozart.

"Within these sacred halls."

"Further selections will be announced from the courtyard. "In the hope that you, too, will be so gracious as to drop me your contribution from the window, I am,

"Most devotedly respectful," Albert Neumann, Bass Singer."

Firestone TIRES AND TUBES LEAD!

Firestone, the originator of the Balloon tire, has successfully maintained and increased its prestige as the most popular and widely used tire in the territory serviced by the Escanaba Warehouse. If this tire was not basically correct and vastly superior—the tremendous efforts made to unthrone Firestone's position would have made some impression other than a tendency to further increase Firestone popularity. Firestone and Oldfield tires and tubes for all rim sizes—high pressure or balloon—Buy them for the ultimate in tire satisfaction.

Firestone Truck Tires Lead!

It is only natural that sturdy, long-lived Firestone Bus and Truck Pneumatics and Solids should be the first and lasting choice of Escanaba and Delta county operators of commercial vehicles. That their choice is one of wisdom is corroborated by America's largest operators of Bus and Truck lines. Years of careful checking and testing has proven to the captains of large Bus and Truck interests that Firestones give much more service per dollar invested. Why not have the best?

Firestone Service Leads

Even the very best of tires occasionally need attention. This is another department in which Firestone has reached a stage of perfection—All Firestone warehouses and sales agencies are equipped with factory originated methods and are operated by factory trained mechanics—In this way the same practices that are employed in the construction of Firestone tires are re-employed in building back mileage to a worn or blown-out casing. Whenever you need tire service investigate the Escanaba Motor Co.'s guaranteed service.

THE TINYMITES Story by Hal Cochran - Pictures by Knick

The Tinymites were much surprised as soon as they all realized that there were baby eagles in the sky. Their little mouths were open wide. Like hungry little birds they cried, "We'd better leave." "Scouty said, "I think that would be best." "Oh, what's your hurry? This is a brand new thrill has just begun," said Clowny, as he tried to pat an eagle on its head. "Be-ness, I'm tired as I can be. This mountain side, it seems to me, is just large enough for us. "Twill be a dandy bed." "I guess I'd like to sleep here," snapped Copy. "Tell you we'll do. Let's look around. And these birds a bit of food. Their hunger makes them and squirm. I'll bet they'd a dandy worm. Whatever we find for them will surely be a

The bunch began to look around. It wasn't long until they found a place along the mountain side where earth was rich and deep. Wee carry got a stick and dug. He found a worm, and then a bug. Said he, "Let's hurry back before those eagles fall asleep." They climbed along the mountain side. The birds' mouths still were open wide. When bugs and worms were fed to them, they flapped their wings real fast. Just then a shadow passed the nest and Copy shouted to the rest, "The mother eagle's coming. I just saw her flying past." And, sure enough, the eagle dropped out of the sky and shortly stopped right in the middle of the nest, and gave the bunch a scare. A thrilling sight the Tinies saw. It grabbed wee Clowny in its claw, and in an instant flew up high and sailed out to

As the Yanks and Pirates Clashed

LOU GEHRIG IS THERE WITH THE OLD PUNCH

AS YANKS AND PIRATES OPENED FALL CLASSIC

Here is an excellent picture of the big crowd of baseball fans that turned out for the first game of the 1927 world series in Pittsburgh. Forbes Field was jammed to its capacity and then some, the attendance reaching 42,000. The demand for tickets was such that if the park had been twice as large it doubtless would have been well filled.

Babe Ruth singled with two down in the first inning of the series' opened and Lou Gehrig, the thumping lad from Columbia University, on the occasion with a triple to right field that scored the first run. Paul Waner, the Pirates' brightest star, made an error of judgment when, instead of playing the ball safe for a single, he tried for a shoestring catch. He failed and the ball got past him for three

LEAVE IT TO THE BABE

Combs had flied out and Koenig had fanned, Babe Ruth, the slugging hero, singled to right on the first ball pitched to him by Kremer. He tripled to right and sent the Babe home. Picture shows Ruth at the plate with the first run of the series.

ALWAYS FAIR WEATHER, WHEN--ETC.

L. WANER, BABE RUTH, P. WANER AND LOU GEHRIG.

We have here, ladies and gentlemen, those twin-thrillers of slug fame, Messrs. Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, and that famous brother act, Paul and Lloyd Waner. The quartet lived up to all advance notices of being shots in this game of baseball in the opening game of the world series which was won by the Yankees (Ruth and Gehrig) over the Pirates (Waner and Waner). Look like a right friendly meeting, they're having here, and it is. The Ruth-Gehrig act had more power to them than the Waner brothers' act on opening day, but those Waner brothers were heard from all along.

WHEN TONY GOT MAD

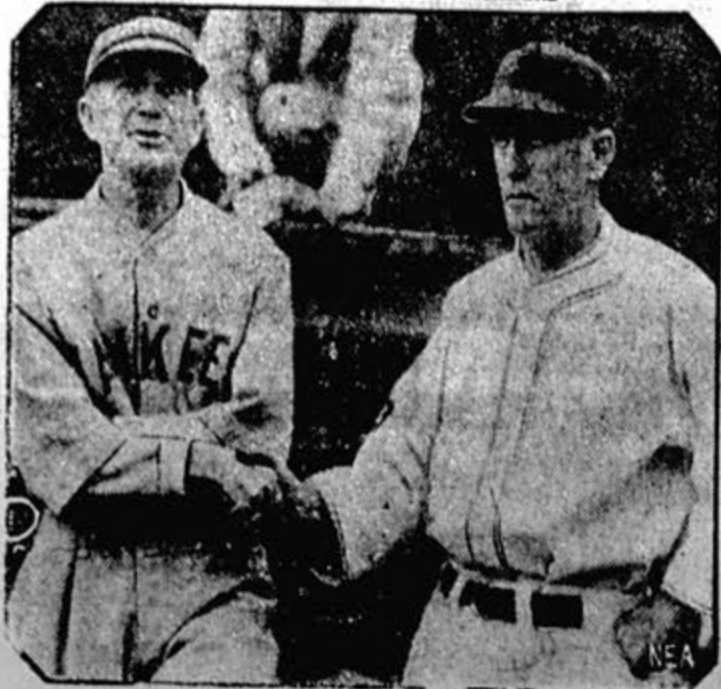

Joe Harris hit into a double play in the Pirates' half of the second inning, Lazzeri to Gehrig, Tony tagging out Grantham on the path and throwing to first. Tony wanted to start a fight with Grantham for interfering with the play. Photo shows Grantham lunging into Lazzeri to hamper the latter's throw.

A COSTLY PIRATE ERROR

Third inning of the first game, with first and third occupied, Smith, the Pirate catcher, bluffed a second and then threw to third. His strategy went wrong, however, for on Traynor's return Smith let the ball get away from him and Gehrig scored from third with a run that proved to be important. Gehrig is shown registering while Smith scrambles for the ball.

HALF-PINT MANAGERS

MILLER HUGGINS AND DONNIE BUSH

Here we have the two managers of the rival clubs in the world series, greeting each other just before the opening game at Pittsburgh, which was won by the Yankees, 5-4. Miller Huggins, of the Yankees, is shown at the left and Donnie Bush, of the Pirates, at the right.

ONE PITCH, ONE SWING, ONE OUT

Combs, lead-off man for the Yankees, wasted no time but took a healthy cut at the first ball pitched in the 1927 world series. Barnhart, Pirate left fielder, camped under it for the first putout.

Iron Mountain—Four boys, all under 16 years of age, and residents of Breitung, are in the custody today of J. F. Kelly, county agent, and another, also a juvenile, is being sought by local authorities following the confession, yesterday, of Lawrence Finland, 15, oldest of the quintet, to the robbery, Thursday night, September 29, of the Stromberg grocery store, 113 West A street. New York, Oct. 8.—(P)—The stock market worked steadily lower in today's brief session until before the close when a series of bullish demonstrations in a few specialties induced sufficient covering elsewhere to wipede out or reduce many of the early declines. Final quotations were mainly lower, with the declines running from 1 to 4 points.

Outside the stock market, chief interest centered in the brisk rise of about $2.50 a bale in cotton futures and the further advance in sterling to above $4.87, a new high record since December, 1914.

Speculative Wall Street showed a disposition today to pay more attention to Mexican news and its possible effect on securities values. Shares of companies with properties in Mexico were under pressure. Green-Cana Copper breaking more than 4 points and then recovering half its loss, while American Smelting fell back 13.5.

Shares of oil companies operating south of the Rio Grande yielded only fractionally. Further liquidation of the steel shares reflected the disappointing quarter of full business today and the waning hopes of traders who had looked for a resumption of dividends on Bethlehem Steel common this year.

Dempsey-Tunney Fight To Be Shown at the Delft Monday

TODAY'S PROGRAMS.

At the Delft: Richard Barthelmess in "The Drop Kick," a college football story. The cast also includes ten famous college football stars among whom are: Stuart Knox of Yale, Edward Karges of Northwestern; Thomas Denton of Michigan; John Morris of Purdue and John Stambaugh of Chicago.

At the Strand: Monte Blue, Lella Hyams and Clyde Cook in "The Brute."

The Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures, taken from ringside in Soldiers Field, Chicago, will be featured at the Delft Monday and Tuesday. These pictures are declared to be the clearest and best ever taken of a major boxing contest and have been enthusiastically received in every city in which they have appeared. The pictures include all of the ten rounds, and some of the action in "slow motion."

Playing at Marquette last week, all previous attendance records at the theatre were smashed during the two day showing, and the management booked it for a return engagement.

Reviewing the picture for the Marquette Mining Journal, Manthel Howe said:

"Marquette may be low-brow, more than ordinarily virile and masculine, but one thing is sure it liked the fight pictures. Going to the second show last evening was like trying to get a seat in a miniature Soldiers' Field. Elbows poked one in the ribs. Excited paintings of some fight fan's breath was warm on the back of the neck. Blondes, brunets, college profs, flappers, sedate grandmothers, amateur "bugs," matrons, fat, thin, big, little, humanity of all descriptions surged into the theater and scrambled for a seat."

"Baseball may have been the national sport, but it has been cold-shouldered by the flickie public. The big hambo himself, Babe Ruth, was flashed on the screen several times in the Pathe News and he didn't elicit even a grunt of approval from the crowd. They looked bored, and a few minutes later about 95 per cent of them shoved forward in their seats and when Tunney hit the mat, the Dempsey fans cheered, and when Dempsey got a terrific swat to each side of his bullet head in the tenth round, the Tunney fans yowled."

"One heard, 'oof,' 'whew' and fervent exhalations of breath as one of Tunney's keen, pistonlike jabs went home, or Dempsey did the "rabbit" shuffle on the back of the champion's neck. Maybe it is primitive, savage, low-brow (and help yourself to any other derogatory remark you want to make) but take it from a spectator that if they can make better fight pictures than that, they will have to go some."

The Delft will also offer a "bang-up" comedy drama, "Tillie the Toller," starring Marion Davies on the same program. The picture is based on Russ Westover's famous newspaper cartoon.

AT THE STRAND.
"The Understanding Heart," a Pere B. Kyns story, will be featured at the Strand Monday and Tuesday. The cast includes Joan Crawford, Rockliffe Fellows, Carmel Meyers, Francis X. Bushman Jr. and other notables.

Ore Shipments Fall off Throughout the Superior District

Iron ore shipments from Lake Superior in September amounted to 2,390,000 tons less than the shipments for September last year, and the tonnage for the season to date is nearly 3,000,000 tons under the record for October 1, last year, according to figures compiled by the Lake Superior Iron Ore association.

The Chicago and North-Western docks in Escanaba shipped 675,703 tons last month as compared with 696,256 tons a year ago, and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul docks here shipped 143,290 tons as compared with 320,895 in September, 1926. The two Escanaba docks handled 11.32 per cent of the total lake shipments last month.

The North-Western, to date this year, has shipped 3,313,135 tons and the St. Paul has shipped 1,278,303 tons. On October 1, last year, the North-Western had shipped 3,348,343 tons and the St. Paul 1,456,632 tons.

The local docks, thus far, have handled 10.54 per cent of the total shipments on the lakes.

HIS SECOND TRIP.
Spectator: I say, you're not going in again, are you old man?
The Other: Yes, I must! I've just saved myself; now I'm off to save the wife!—Passing Show.

THEATRES

"BEAU GESTE."

The French Foreign Legion, the endless, gorgeous, giant sand dunes of the Sahara, a famous missing sapphire, hundreds of desert warriors sweeping on horseback to attack a lonely fort manned by 40 men, practically all in mutiny—there you have just a glimpse of the romance and thrills contained in "Beau Geste" which comes to the Rialto theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

No greater effort was ever put into the making of a motion picture. This romantic, thrilling screen mystery—story, adapted from one of the most popular novels in years, represents a larger undertaking than even "The Ten Commandments," which was also produced by Paramount.

Ronald Colman, Alice Joyce, Noah Beery, Mary Brian, Neil Hamilton, William Powell, Norman Trevor, Victor McLaglan and Ralph Forbes are featured, but there are scores of others nearly as prominent.

"Beau Geste" is a mystery story of the Foreign Legion on the deserts of Africa that will tighten your very skin with excitement. It tells of three young Englishmen who disappear from home after a famous sapphire, "The Blue Water," belonging to their aunt, is stolen. All this leads to a remote fort on the Sahara and the ever-fortified attack of an Arab host.

In the morning the fort remains unscathed. Every man is slain—post—dead! The commanding officer with a French bayonet through his heart, and an amazing confession concerning the theft of "The Blue Water" clutched in the hand of a dead soldier, both lie on the roof!

Herbert Brenon, who directed the picture, and the 2,000 men who appear in it, lived on the sun-scorched Arizona desert for three months making exterior scenes.

Fervent Christopher Wren. Is the author of "Beau Geste." John Russell and Herbert Brenon prepared the adaptation and Paul Schofield the script. Julian Johnson, supervising editor, working under the direction of Associate Paramount Producer William Le Baron, followed every step of the filming.

LYRIC TODAY.

Douglas MacLean, the young man who went AWOL in "Twenty-three and a Half Hours Leave" and a Half Hour's Love" authored in "Seven Keys to Baldpate," fathered in "That's My Baby" and hunted cats in "Hold That Lion," arrives at the Lyric theater today in a snappy story of the U. S. marine corps, "Let It Rain."

As "Let-It-Rain" Riley, Doug shows what happens when a young man makes up his mind to accomplish something. A pretty young woman comes aboard ship and the marine recognizes her as the girl of his heart. But when he sees an officer claim her undivided attention, he soon realizes that chevrons must be attention-getters. Then and there, he resolves to raise himself from the ranks.

How he does it and how she helps him by letting him know of a proposed mail robbery provide material for lots of laughs. In the course of the film, Doug becomes embroiled with a gang of bandits—on a runaway mail coach. Does he get out alive? Well, you'll have to see the picture to find out.

LYRIC MONDAY.

Lovers of the West may note that one of the characters referred to in "The Ridin' Rowdy," the Pathe western feature starring Buffalo Bill, Jr., and showing Monday and Tuesday at the Lyric theater, is branded with the name "Teton"—Teton Farris, late father of the leading lady, Patricia, played by Olive Hasbrouck.

"Name one of the characters 'Teton,'" said Buffalo Bill, Jr., as the script was being completed. "It will give the old-timers—especially the old riders of Wyoming—a real kick, for the name Teton means a lot out in the Jackson Hole country."

And then Bill explained that Jackson's Hole—which is the most inaccessible "hide-out" in the twisted canyons and wild places of the Teton range of mountains—got its name and fame from the clever, cold-blooded murderer and outlaw who always escaped to that place when pursued by those who wanted to hang or shoot him.

The new industry will maintain a milk plant and will also manufacture butter. It will be run as an exclusively Gladstone business.

W. E. Lied, organizer of the Gladstone branch, is president of the company; William Savageau, who has been in dairy work during past years, will be vice president and manager and will be located permanently in Gladstone, together with R. B. Allison of Gladstone who will be production man in charge of the manufacture of butter.

Paris Experiments With One-Man Cars

Paris (AP)—One-man street cars of the "pay as you enter" type are being operated out of Paris on a suburban line as an experiment. This is an extension of the successful experiment with express automobiles, introduced two years ago.

Several safety devices have been added to the cars to meet public criticism. The doors are closed automatically before the car can start and they are opened automatically in case of accident.

If this trial, which economizes one man, is satisfactory the car will gradually be put into general use.

Experiments COST MONEY

Why spend yours? RCA, Westinghouse and General Electric have spent huge sums in solving your vacuum tube problem. The scientific answer is RCA Radiotrons. For distance, volume and longer life, equip your set with genuine RCA Radiotrons. It is wise to replace them once a year, at least.

The things all wanted and at a price for all

The outright issue of what buyers want decides all car success today. On that basis, for the first nine months Essex has outsold any other "Six" at or near its price, almost two to one. It reflects overwhelming preference for the things Essex gives:

Super-Six Smoothness and Dash—High-compression Power and Performance—Size and Roominess without Unwieldiness—Steady Riding without useless Weight. 50 miles an hour all day long—and far greater speed when wanted—Riding Ease Like Gliding. Economy of Price, Operation and Maintenance.

Essex has made it vividly clear that compromise short of 6-cylinder luxury is not economy; and that greater price can buy no higher degree of mechanical fitness.

Its Super-Six motor develops more than 2 1/2 times the power its size ordinarily rates it. It converts waste heat to power and gives the brilliant efficiency of high-compression performance, with an economy of fuel that is astounding.

In five beautiful and colorful bodies, handsomely finished and appointed, it meets every requirement of utility, convenience, fine appearance and pride of ownership.

A New Yorker in Paris

Paris.—"Gay Paris" is not particularly gay. At least, not as Broadway defines the word.

At 11 o'clock one can shoot up the Rue de la Paix and hit only a vagrant taxi. At 11 o'clock the number of persons on the sidewalk cafes that front the Avenue de l'Opera could be counted in French even by me—and I can barely reach 10.

Only the Montmartre and the dance rooms of the fashionable hotels supply the brand of "naughty" most people associate with Paris.

The fact is that few Americans appreciate or comprehend the sort of gaiety that is Parisian.

Folk who have dwelt in American suburbia where simple, trifling pleasures were once engaged in are best capable of catching the usual gaiety that lies in nothing more exciting than strolling up and down the boulevards and avenues with your arm around your best girl.

The chief difference between the Parisian girl and her swain is that the Parisian makes no effort to hide from the world that he is in love with love and, as likely as not, he will stop at every half block to embrace his companion, whereas his American country cousin will wait until he reaches the dark poplar lane that rims the town.

But the Parisian will sit down with his "girl friend" at a sidewalk cafe and spend many an hour sipping at a half-litre of "vin rouge," whereas the boys in Main Street rush their girls to the corner soda fountain or dash in the car to some nearby roadhouse, there to lap up fourth rate gin until dizzy.

The gay Parisian, on the other hand, will sit for hours over his glass, chatting now and then with the pretty maid at his table while she sips of coffee and cognac.

His gaiety will be entirely conventional; it will be a quiet, civilized gaiety which has learned to find amusement in watching the world pass by on the sidewalks.

For the Parisian man and his maid have little, if any, money to spend. A few francs in the pocket is the entire supply for an entire evening entertainment. The maids and their boy friends have had to learn how to be gay, though thrifty. In fact the entire city of Paris is thrifty. Yet it seems to go dancing down the streets, and there is a gaiety about its buildings, about its boulevards and about those interlined, festooned and gaily painted sidewalk cafes that can be found anywhere and everywhere.

It is the city, then, that is gay rather than the average Parisian. In two visits to the "gay life" of Montmartre, I have seen but a couple of people who might be Parisians, and they were accompanying American friends. Otherwise the "big spending belt" of Paris is made for, by and of the tourists, and few indeed are the residents of Paris to be found there.

In fact, it has seemed to me that if any of the old boys of Saw Centers care to revive the lost art of whittling, this is the place to do it.

Give the average lounge in the sidewalk cafes a jackknife and a stick and he would be happy for hours, particularly if he had another friendly soul doing the same thing in the next seat and there was pleasant gossip to be exchanged between the knife strokes.

NEW MEMBERS SWELLING ELK ALLEY LEAGUE

With more new members coming in than ever before, the 1927-28 season looks like a big one for the Manistique Elks Bowling League. Already there are enough bowlers to make up eight teams of five men each, and still more bowlers to come.

The alleys at the Elks Temple will be opened for the season next Saturday afternoon to give players an opportunity to run out the kinks acquired during the summer, and the league season will start on October 31. Any additional bowlers that wish to enroll have been advised to get in touch with R. G. Hentchell, secretary of the league, before the season opens and the permanent schedule is drawn up.

Rules for the contests this season, as decided upon at a bowlers' meeting last Thursday, will be the same as last year. In match games, the low team will win, and there will be an entrance fee of $3 per man toward the prize money.

The ladies were not forgotten in plans for the coming season's activities on the Elk alleys, which will be open to bowlers of the fair sex every afternoon of the week from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m., with the exception of Saturday.

The ministers of Manistique have also asked for one day of the week, and they have been granted Monday afternoon. The assignment to ladies and bowlers is not exclusive, however, and alleys may be used by any other bowlers during the two afternoon hours.

A list of the members enrolled in the Elks Bowling League is being prepared by the secretary, and will be given out in a few days.

Supervisors to Meet Monday at The Court House

It is expected that there will be a few absentees from the county board of supervisors when it convenes for the regular October meeting this week. Present indications are, however, that 10 of the 13 members will be able to attend, and Chairman W. L. Middlebrook is due to return from a business trip to Detroit and Lansing in time to open the session Tuesday morning.

The auditing committee of the board will father Monday morning to go over the current bills. All of these were reported to be in yesterday ready for the consideration of the committee.

Reports to be submitted at the supervisors' session include one from the Schoolcraft County Fair association, giving the final statement on receipts and expenditures for the 1927 fair.

Parade Precedes Football Contest

Whooping hordes of high school students from Manistique and Gladstone paraded the streets here Saturday afternoon before the big game. Gladstone carrying the colors of white and purple, while Manistique flaunted the well-known Green-and-White.

As usual, the Manistique high school band played an important part in whipping up the pep of rooters before and during the game. With ideal football weather, the crowd needed no encouragement for enthusiasm, however, and both teams received their share of support from the sidelines.

Talks on Health

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

CEREALS ARE VALUABLE AS BREAKFAST DISH.

A part of the craze for dieting that swept over the country within the last few years involved the discarding of breakfast as one of the day's meals.

The no-breakfast fad may be of little harm to an adult who is likely to select his other meals in proper proportion, but the growing child needs energy-producing foods early in the day as well as later. If the family sleeps late the child may be rushed off to school without a sufficient breakfast.

Among some foreign-born families one heavy meal a day is the rule and the other two meals are slighted.

CEREAL IS USEFUL

The growing child will do best if it has a part of its breakfast properly prepared cereal served with milk and cream. Cereals are wholesome, palatable, easily digested and well assimilated.

Nowadays they are obtainable in hundreds of forms, some of them requiring little cooking or little labor and can be prepared with relative ease.

Cereals contain much carbohydrate, a considerable amount of protein and but little fat. They also provide mineral matter of importance and some of them an amount of bulk that is useful in stimulating the action of the intestines.

The three classes of cereals available include the raw, the ready to eat and that have been partially cooked, and the ready to eat that have been completely cooked. The latter are likely to taste better if they are partially heated or toasted before serving.

Persons who are underweight or tuberculosis patients who require extra nutrition will be helped by cereals cooked in milk. This adds to the number of calories and provides also a different taste and texture to the cereal when completed. Eminent dieticians say that a well-cooked cereal should appear in the menu of every child at least once a day. In the period of most rapid growth they recommend one type of cereal for breakfast and another for supper.

VARYING THE MENU

Dieticians and the manufacturers of these products provide numerous menus for varying their taste and for increasing their utility. They may be used as puddings, they may be flavored with all sorts of fruits and vegetables, and baked into cakes.

Vegetables, milk, fruits and cereals should form the base-portion of the diet for all growing children. An active boy who requires from 4000 to 5000 calories to meet the out-go of energy may require in addition much butter, eggs and cream to balance his intake with his expenditure.

Alabama Coal Mine Blazing Since 1898

Jasper, Ala. (AP)—For 29 years a burning coal mine here has defied all efforts to quench its flames.

The pit, known as the "burning mine," is the oldest in the Warrior coal field district, and government authorities who recently completed a survey of the area report that more than 1,000,000 tons of coal have been consumed by the flames.

Operated on a large scale, the mine was at the peak of production when it was fired by a disgruntled miner who had been discharged. Props, pieces of board and timbers were saturated with oil, and when discovered the flames had gained such headway that efforts to extinguish them were fruitless.

After raging a few months, the fire ate away all supports and the earth collapsed in places, the site eventually was abandoned and families dependent on it moved elsewhere.

Nearby farmers have found sections of fields oozing gas and steam, pouring from ledges undermined by the flames. On one occasion, the fire ate away the coal beneath a house and the entire structure collapsed. A well in the vicinity produced boiling water, caused by the intense heat beneath the water vein.

Recently the fire was reported to have burned itself out, but it soon renewed its intensity. No attempt is being made now to extinguish it, for the heat of three decades has so softened the coal in outlying ledges as to make it worthless.

ASK ACTION AT MANISTIQUE ON U. S. 2 PROJECT

Completion of construction on three miles of US-2 along the lake shore at Manistique was asked of the state administrative board at their meeting in Lansing last week. Manistique was one of three communities represented at the session, according to the following article, which appears in the current issue of "Michigan Roads and Pavements":

"Three speakers, representing delegations from their localities presented road requests before the state administrative board at its meeting on Monday afternoon.

"Walter J. Thomas of Constantine, state representative from St. Joseph county, asked the board to consider the extension of US-131 to the Indiana border, a distance of three miles.

"State Representative Alonzo B. Green of Alpena county asked the state to pave one mile on US-23, in the village of Lachine.

"Postmaster Fred Griffin of Manistique requested the state to complete three miles of US-2 to the shore of the lake. The grading for this road has been completed.

"All three requests were referred to the road committee by Governor Green."

Elkettes Given Use of Temple One Day A Week

Under a new ruling adopted last Thursday by the house committee, the Elks' Temple at Manistique is to be thrown open one afternoon each week for the use of the lady Elks—wives of members—in staging card parties and other social functions.

Just what day will be chosen has not yet been decided upon, but the ladies will be asked to take the same day each week so that the Temple schedule may be arranged without conflicting reservations.

ROELERS PASS ATTACK DEADLY

Complete Four Out of Eight Trials for 60 Yard Gain.

Marquette, Oct. 8.—(Special)—The Escanaba high school football team defeated Marquette high 13 to 0 here this afternoon. The victory was more decisive than the score indicates, for the Prison City youngsters never really threatened to score, approaching no nearer to Escanaba's goal than the 30-yard line. Escanaba made 11 first downs; Marquette made three. The Roelers on the other hand, had two first-rate scoring opportunities which were checked almost on the final chalk mark. On one of these occasions they were held for a fourth down on the one-foot line, and on the other a short pass from the 15-yard mark went wild.

Escanaba completed four out of eight forward passes attempted for a total of 60 yards. In addition the Tops grabbed a half-dozen of Marquette's numerous aerial heaves. Marquette threw 26 passes, completing only four. Six of them fell into Escanaba hands and the remainder were spilled by the Escanaba defense.

Score in Second Period

Marquette chose to make a punting game of it, at the outset, with Escanaba having the better of the exchanges. Then the Tops started a march for the goal which ended when a pass dropped in the end zone for a touchdown. The first Escanaba touchdown came in the second period. Gundersman wiggled across from the three-yard line, after the ball had been worked down with a variety of plays, plunges, passes and off-tackle plays. The attempt for the added point failed.

Gustafson made the second touchdown in the fourth quarter. A 20-yard pass to Snyder was completed but Snyder lost the ball when he was tackled. Matthews picked it up and ran three yards, putting it on the seven-yard line. Demars picked up a yard, Gustafson took it to the one-foot line. On the next play, Gustafson failed, but he drove over on the succeeding play.

In the attempt for the added point, Demars fumbled. Snyder scooped up the ball and passed perfectly to Gustafson.

Peltn Gets Chance

Johnny Peltn, pint-size back, got his chance in the last period and wiggled through the Marquette team for a number of nifty gains. Olson at center played a whale of a game, sparing several Marquette passes, one of which he ran back 35 yards to the 11-yard line. Demars and Snyder also gave good accounts of themselves. Escanaba's team-work was far and away the best the team has shown this season.

Sorenson, the big Marquette center, and Nippy Bullock, half-back, played good football for Coach Rushton's team.

Rockne's Eleven Beats University of Detroit

Detroit, Oct. 8.—(P)—Battering their way through the University of Detroit's defense, Coach Knute Rockne's Notre Dame eleven today defeated the Detroit team, 26 to 0, before 25,000 people, the largest crowd ever to be packed into Dinnan field here.

"Christy" Flanagan, ace of the Notre Dame ground gainers, scored twice, once on a pass from Riley, quarterback, and again on a plunge from the two-yard line. The third touchdown was made by Dew, Notre Dame's substitute fullback, who plunged over from the one-foot line. Dobman, halfback, tried twice to add the extra point from placement, and succeeded once. Niemic, substitute half, placekicked the seventh point for the final touchdown.

Penalties Costly.

Detroit, never in a serious position to score, fought a losing battle from the beginning of the second period, when both Coach E. Dorais and Rockne ran in their first teams. Phelan, Detroit's left end, and Brall, halfback for the University of Detroit eleven, carried the offense into the Notre Dame territory when the Detroiters had a chance for scoring. Maloney, substitute fullback, distinguished himself in the early period of the game by carrying the ball into Notre Dame territory three times. Holding and offside penalties proved costly for Detroit, a good chance for a touchdown having been lost on account of a penalty for holding.

Notre Dame's aerial attack proved to be in excellent working order. Flanagan and Riley finding each other several times on long passes. The lineup and scoring follows: NOTRE DAME U. OF DETROIT

Miss Payson Wins Women's Golf Title

Toronto, Ont. 8.—(P)—Miss Helen Payson of Portland, Me., won the Canadian women's open golf championship today by defeating Miss Fritzl Siffel of Wheeling, W. V., in the final 36-hole match by three up and two to play.

The match terminated on the 34th hole. Miss Payson's lead of five holes which she obtained in the 18 holes played this morning, held her over to the victory. This was the first time in the 32 years of the championship that two United States players competed in the final. After a two-year sojourn in Canada in the custody of Miss Ada Mackenzie of Toronto, the title and Duchess of Connaught golf cup journey back to the United States.

KEILMEN BEAT MANISTIQUEERS

Powerful Upbay Attack Snows Schoolcrafters Under 44-0 Score.

Manistique, Oct. 8.—(Special)—Coach Kell's huskies were too much for Manistique here today and Gladstone rolled up a score of 44 to 0 on the locals. The half was in Manistique territory virtually all of the time and the zippy Gladstone backs went around and through for nifty gains at frequent intervals.

Reese made the first touchdown for Gladstone, scoring about midway in the opening period, and Kircher followed a short time later with another touchdown, the period ending with the count 13 to 0.

In the second period, the Kellmen added another, Hoffman carrying the ball over, and the extra point was scored. It was in this stanza that Manistique had her only real chance to score, getting the ball on the Gladstone 15-yard line. Jack Wright carried it over, but he stepped out of bounds on the way and was called back. The score at the half was 20 to 0.

In the third period, Kircher scored two touchdowns and Hoffman one, and all the points after touchdown were registered. The count was 41 to 0 at the end of the period.

Passes predominated in the last period, with neither side showing any startling proficiency in this type of game. The only score of the stanza was Kircher's drop kick from the 8-yard mark.

SAINTS' PASSES THRILL CROWD

Brunelle's Men Also Give Exhibition of Open Field Running.

Unleashing a running and aerial attack, consisting of thrilling end runs and well executed passes, and taking advantage of every break, the St. Joseph high school squad trampled over the Baraga Parochial eleven of Marquette here yesterday afternoon by a score of 31 to 6.

Wide awake all the time, the Saints blocked three punts and recovered two kickoffs, in addition to almost completely sewing up the Baraga passing attack.

One of the bright spots of the game was in the latter part of the second half when the Saints made 70 yards on two passes, Fitzharris to Kohlman, resulting in a touchdown. Receiving the ball on a punt, St. Joseph returned it to their own 40 yard line, but an offside penalty and a loss of five yards when Leduc was stopped in his tracks pressed back the Saints to their own 30-yard line. Fitzharris then passed to Kohlman, who carried the ball to the Baraga 40-yard line, and on the next play the Saints quarterback again threw the oval to Kohlman, the right end receiving it on the 25-yard line and running for a touchdown.

Saints Start Early.

Frederickson, Fitzharris and LaCrosse got off for long gains repeatedly. Moreau starred in the line for St. Joseph, getting many nice tackles. He also got away with some nice punts, with good direction and averaging 25 yards. Burke punted for Baraga six times, totaling 150 yards.

The game opened with Baraga kicking off to St. Joseph, the ball being returned by Jack Fitzharris to his own 35-yard line. An off tackle play by Fitzharris and another by Frederickson made it first down. Frederickson pulled the first sensation of the game when he took the ball on the next play and ran 20 yards around right end. Frederickson and Fitzharris marched down the field, making two more first downs, the Saints fullback going over for the first touchdown. This was made within three minutes of play. McGee failed in the attempt to kick goal.

In the second quarter, Scheriff intercepted a Baraga pass and carried it for 17 yards to the Baraga 10-yard line. Leduc made two yards through the line on the next play, and LaCrosse went over for a touchdown. McGee again failed to kick goal.

Just a few minutes before the whistle for the half was blown, Fitzharris and Kohlman thrilled the spectators with their two sensational pass plays which counted for 70 yards and a touchdown. In making the point after touchdown, Fitzharris again threw a pass to Kohlman, the Saints' end getting the ball in the end zone, the play catching the Baragans off their guard.

Kohlman scored another touchdown shortly after the kick-off in the second half when Kohlman recovered Burke's punt and galloped 40 yards for a touchdown. A forward pass for the point after touchdown was incomplete.

Baraga started its most impressive offensive drive in the latter part of the third period, making two first downs before the end of the quarter and off tackle smashes by Schroeger, LaBranche and Lynch bringing the pigskin to scoring distance. Lynch smashed off tackle for five yards for their lone touchdown, but the dropkick for the extra point failed.

In the same period, another punt by Burke was blocked and the Saints gained possession of the ball on Baraga's 25-yard line. Fitzharris made a wide sweep around right end for 25 yards, crossing the goal line for the fifth touchdown. A pass for the extra point was blocked.

Wolverines Held to Three Touchdowns by M. S. C.; Score 21-0

Ann Arbor, Oct. 8.—(P)—Displaying a stubborn defense which broke up Michigan's passing and line plunging attack, Michigan State college held their traditional rivals, the University of Michigan, to three touchdowns in a football game here today. The score was 21 to 0.

The long accurate punts of Capt. Paul Smith of State time after time halted Michigan threats. Michigan scored in the first and second periods on a series of end runs and off-tackle smashes. The final touchdown came in the last minute of play when Hoffman passed to Oosterbaan. Geister added the point by a place kick.

Nicholson, Michigan's center was injured when he went in to block on the kick-off. Schoonfeld recovered. Smith's kickoff was taken to return it 12 yards to Michigan's 35-yard line. The speedy little halfback circled left end on the next play without interference to state's 25-yard line. Gilbert then rounded the other end, shaking off four tackles to drop on state's five-yard line. Babcock lost three yards. Gilbert scored the first touchdown cutting outside his left tackle to cross the line.

Wolverine Line Strong.

State found the Michigan line strong and an interchange of punts followed. Gilbert was injured when he intercepted Smith's pass on Michigan's 15-yard line. He was replaced by Greenwald.

At the start of the second period Greenwald passed. The ball was intercepted by Wilson on State's four-yard line, but bounced out of his hands to Boden, Michigan end. Rich hit the State line for two yards and then plunged over for the second Michigan touchdown. Geister, who had replaced Babcock, placekicked the extra point.

The ball was kept on midfield during most of the third quarter. Smith's long punts kept the ball in Michigan's territory a large part of the fourth quarter. In the last minute of play, Michigan opened an offensive which State could not halt. Geister smashed off left tackle on Michigan's 30-yard line for a 20-yard gain. A pass, Hoffman to Oosterbaan was completed for 14 yards more. Hoffman plunged off left tackle for eight yards and Geister made it first down.

Hoffman then sent a pass to Oosterbaan who caught the ball on State's 10-yard line to score the third touchdown.

CHRISTENSEN STARS.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 8.—(Special)—Koester "Keddie" Christensen of Escanaba, left end of the Michigan State college eleven, played a brilliant offensive and defensive game this afternoon when his team held the powerful University of Michigan aggregation to a 21 to 0 score. Christensen caught a sensational 25-yard pass in the third period that brought the State eleven dangerously near the Michigan goal. He also did effective work in running down punts and smearing Wolverine end runs.

Chicago Triumfs Over Indiana, 13-0

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(P)—A. A. Slagg, dean of Big Ten football coaches, proved able to teach Pat Page, his brilliant pupil of nearly 20 years ago a few things about football today, and Chicago triumphed over Indiana, 13 to 0, for the first conference victory of Chicago since the middle of the 1925 season.

The 12 pounds by which the Maroon line outweighed Indiana took toll, in both the defensive and offensive play. Neither team was able to make any gains on passes, but the Maroons out-pointed the Hoosiers and counted 10 first downs to Indiana's five.

Ohio State Downs Iowa U., 13 to 6

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 8.—(P)—Ohio State's football machine, considered an outstanding contender for the Western Conference championship, snatched a 13 to 6 victory from Iowa in the inaugural of the Big Ten title race today before 15,000 spectators.

The Buckeye warriors, a powerful and veteran crew, took the field with the prospect of piling up a top-heavy score, but they got the surprise of their lives when the green and untried Hawkeyes, holding their own in the first two periods and beaten in the third, exploded their dynamite in the fourth and seriously threatened to tie the score.

Yale Defeated by Georgia, 14 to 10

Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn., Oct. 8.—(P)—The University of Georgia scored one of the most decisive upsets of the football season, thus far, by downing Yale today by 14 to 10. A touchdown in the first period and a field goal in the second was the extent of Eli's scoring while the slashing southerners hammered and passed their way to a touchdown in each of the first two quarters and held their lead doggedly through the second half.

Purdue U. Downs Harvard, 19 to 0

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 8.—(P)—Purdue university, playing fast, heavy football, gave Harvard its first defeat of the season today, 19 to 0. The westerners dominated the play throughout, scoring in each of the first three periods.

The whistle that ended the game apparently saved the Crimson from being scored upon for the fourth time. Midway of the final period Welch intercepted a pass from Burns on Purdue's 27-yard line and ran to his 43-yard mark. Despite a procession of Harvard reinforcements the westerners drove through to Harvard's 5-yard line and were 1 scoring position when the contest was over.

Time of periods, 15 minutes.
Kickoff, 2:15.

The Duluth Eskimos, headed by the famous Ernie Nevers, who is ranked with the greatest footballers of all time, will have it out with the Green Bay Packers at the Green Bay City stadium, Sunday afternoon, in a National League game. Hostilities will start promptly at 2:15 and the game will be played, rain or shine.

The Northwesterners are coming here with a classy aggregation of footballers. This year's club is said to have a decided edge on the 1926 machine with which the Duluthians toured the country from coast to coast and finished well up in the pro loop pennant chase.

Eight new players are sporting the Eskimos' colors this season and there are enough regulars from '26 back to give perfect balance to the gridiron machine. The Northwesterners started off with a pair of victories in non-league games. The Duluth All Stars were sat on, 39 to 6, while the Virginia Miners took the count, 24 to 9. These are both creditable scores as Nevers, who is the "sparkplug" of the club, did not participate in either fracas. Nevers was pitching ball for the St. Louis Browns until last Saturday. He joined his team on Monday and the Packers fray will be his first gridiron start of the season.

Devey Scanlon, who is one of the veteran managers in professional football, has gone the limit this season to support Nevers with an all-star cast of gridirers. In strengthening his club, the Eskimos helmets rounded up a flock of stars from the Pacific coast, all of whom were first given the official O. K. by Nevers. Patsy Clark, McNellis and Belden are said to be nifty ball carriers and passers. Each of these players earned his football spurs in California.

Three New Tackles. The Eskimos have three new tackles in McCarthy, Sues and Shanley. McCarthy and Sues are products of California while Shanley got his sheepskin at Oklahoma. Blood of Minnesota, who played with Milwaukee a few years back, has been added to the backfield. Cobb Rooney and Method, two experienced footballers, and Nevers, who rounded out the set of carriers.

Joe Rooney, one of the best wing men in pro football, and Fritz Cronin from St. Mary's college, are playing the ends for Duluth. Five veterans are available for the center trio. Kiesling, Manion and Bill Rooney are the guards, while Stein and Doc Williams fill in at the snapper-back's job. The Eskimos are certainly well fortified in the middle of the line.

This will be Duluth's first game in the 1927 championship race. Following the battle here, the Eskimos perform in Madison on October 16 and then make a "detour" to the Atlantic coast before hitting the trail for California where they will chase the "cowhides" during the Christmas holidays. The Eskimos are not expected to get back home "up north" until about the middle of January.

Twenty of Trouble. Duluth has always given the Packers plenty of trouble on the gridiron and, from the looks of things, Sunday's game will be no exception to the rule because, on paper, the visitors look like one of the best clubs in the National League.

The Big Bay Blues are reported fit for the fray. All of the players came out of the grueling with the Bears in pretty good shape and Capt. Lambeau will be able to call every one of his gridirers into action when it is necessary.

The team has put in a good week of practice and special attention has been given to the forward wall so that it will be able to withstand the bruising attacks of Nevers, who with the possible exception of Tony La Tona, the Dettwiler Miner, is the hardest hitting back on the postgraduate gridiron.

Pass Up Pass Defense. The pass defense has also been polished up as the Eskimos are known to be pretty near as much at home in the air as the Bears themselves. This year, the Duluthians' tosses are expected to be more deceptive because there are fore, a bit of poetry if also traded today for the New Yorks, 22 years later, to win a baseball's premier title by the same method they once lost a pennant.

In dashing through four straight victories to climax the greatest and most spectacular season of their history, the Yankees equalled the record of the Boston Braves, who scored the only other series clean sweep in four games when they trounced the Athletics in 1914.

Wiley Moore, the big Oklahoma farmer, received credit for the decision, but the master of the "sinker ball," twirling his first world's series game, was lucky to win the duel he had with the combined curves of Hill and Miljus.

Expect Big Crowd.

If the weather man uncorks a bit of Sabbath day sunshine it is expected that a big crowd will be on hand to see the Packers attempt to shake off the Duluth jinx. Advance seat sales have been exceptionally good and from all indications the stands will be well filled when the whistle blows.
The gates at the park will be opened promptly at 12:30. The Legion band will arrive early so as to rattle off some tunes before the teams step out for their warming-up practice stunts.
The ticket office in the Press-Gazette building will be open, Saturday evening, from 7:30 until 10 and Sunday morning from 9:30 until noon.

Moore, Ruth Fall in for Yankee's Praise

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Yankees song of victory tonight was a paean of praise for Babe Ruth, greatest slugger of all time, and Wiley Moore, lank Oklahoma man whom the business office of the club bought by telephone last year because he could pitch 30 victories in the Sally league.

Breaking ranks like a college freshman class going home for the annual vacation the Yanks in turn hugged and patted the ample, smiling bulk of the bambino and chaffed a bit with the silent and slightly bald 30 year old twirler who pitched the club to its fourth straight victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The thrills and upsets of the final game still lingered a bit. There was Lou Gehrig, for instance, who fanned in the ninth when the bases were full, the score tied and the game just waiting to be broken up with a hit. Lou could only shake his head and looked pained when the subject was mentioned.

BREAK OF GAME.
There was an air of relief in the Pirates dressing room when the game was over and the debacle that had visited the National League champions definitely passed. The Buccaneers, worn by the strain of a tight pennant finish, were tired but happy that a chance to rest was just ahead.

"I can't blame Miljus a mite for the wild pitch that lost the game," Manager Donie Bush said. "It was just the final break. Johnnie Gooch has caught worse balls in his career, although that was a very bad pitch, but the series is over and I must give credit to the Yankees as one of the finest clubs in the history of baseball."

SIXTH INNING.

Moore, Ruth Fall in for Yankee's Praise

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Yankees song of victory tonight was a paean of praise for Babe Ruth, greatest slugger of all time, and Wiley Moore, lank Oklahoma man whom the business office of the club bought by telephone last year because he could pitch 30 victories in the Sally league.

Breaking ranks like a college freshman class going home for the annual vacation the Yanks in turn hugged and patted the ample, smiling bulk of the bambino and chaffed a bit with the silent and slightly bald 30 year old twirler who pitched the club to its fourth straight victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The thrills and upsets of the final game still lingered a bit. There was Lou Gehrig, for instance, who fanned in the ninth when the bases were full, the score tied and the game just waiting to be broken up with a hit. Lou could only shake his head and looked pained when the subject was mentioned.

BREAK OF GAME.
There was an air of relief in the Pirates dressing room when the game was over and the debacle that had visited the National League champions definitely passed. The Buccaneers, worn by the strain of a tight pennant finish, were tired but happy that a chance to rest was just ahead.

"I can't blame Miljus a mite for the wild pitch that lost the game," Manager Donie Bush said. "It was just the final break. Johnnie Gooch has caught worse balls in his career, although that was a very bad pitch, but the series is over and I must give credit to the Yankees as one of the finest clubs in the history of baseball."

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Capt. G. A. Patterson of the Nelson Line Steamer Buffalo Bridge, reported to the hydrographic office here today that on October 2 he passed wreckage apparently that of an airplane, about 45 miles east, southeast of Guantanamo, Cuba. In reporting the wreckage, Captain Patterson did so in the belief that it might have been the plane in which Paul Refdern, Georgia flyer, recently attempted to fly from Brunswick, Ga., to Brazil.

Illinois Defeats Butler, 58 to 0

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The University of Illinois defeated Butler college here today, 58 to 0, in a football battle that turned into a wild scoring spree for Illinois in the second half, after Butler held Zuppke's team to a 12 to 0 count in the first half.

Mt. Pleasant, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Central State Normal football team defeated Ferris Institute for a 20 to 0 victory here this afternoon. Coach Marker's men battering the visitors for a touchdown in each of the first three quarters. Consistent hammering through out the game netted the Teachers 20 first downs, not including a 20 yard gain on a forward pass. During the first half, Ferris did not make a first down.

"I had paid for my mistake, whether I thought it right or not, and felt that I should be permitted to start with a clean slate. But things didn't seem to work out that way. I had what ball players call a 'yena' against batting in that position and playing left field is about the worst thing I do. I told Bush about my 'yena' and he told me he needed me in that position. So I could do nothing but bat second. The proof of who was right can be seen in my record as a batter while in second position. And yet I tried as hard there as I ever tried in my life.

"I have heard that the whole matter will be threshed out soon, and I will be as happy as anyone to find out what is the real trouble."

American Tourist in Germany Has Choice of Offers

Berlin (AP)—Americans are popularly supposed here to be "made of money" and Robert H. Mainzer of New York, banker and Amherst classmate of President Coolidge, as well as honorary deputy chief of the fire department, who visited here recently, has not escaped the usual flood of letters containing all sorts of financial propositions.

"I've never had such a bunch of offers to buy pig farms, chicken farms, factory sites and commercial undertakings in my life," Mr. Mainzer said to an Associated Press correspondent.

"A Berlin householder whose furniture had been damaged by smoke and water in a fire I attended wrote me a polite letter suggesting that I should make good the damage, because I happened to have been looking at it," Mr. Mainzer added laughingly.

Old Teutonic God Wodan Has Some Disciples Left

Berlin (AP)—Not long ago, a report that there were still Germans living who worship the old Teutonic god Wodan (from whose name Wednesday is derived) was received with some incredulity.

Now the Neueste Nachrichten of Munich prints a death notice inserted by the "Old Germanic Tribal Association" announcing the demise of a member in these words: "Wodan, the Father of Runes, hath been pleased to call our Furist—name follows—to Valhalla to rest with his Fathers."

"Furisto" means "leader" and the ex-Kaiser William bears the honorary title of "Hochfuristo."

The association carries on the ancient traditions and customs of the old Germanic tribes, and celebrates midsummer day and yuletide with ancient ritual, clad in bear
