GARNER'S PLAN MAY BE ISSUE OF DEMOCRATS

POSSESSES ABILITY TO SECURE AMENDMENTS

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Oct. 25.—Representative Garner's plan for revision of the tax laws reflects the issue that the democrats may make of tax reduction in the forthcoming session of congress.

Mr. Garner is the leader of the minority on taxes being the ranking member of the ways and means committee. He has shown himself skillful in maneuvering for position in legislative matters and on more than one occasion has forced the republicans to accept his amendments.

The importance of Mr. Garner's statement on his return to Washington, is, however, that the democrats probably will line themselves up for a greater reduction in taxes than will be advocated by the administration. This is natural strategy but on this occasion the democrats will have the advantage of fighting against an intangible—namely the amount that should be applied to debt retirement. In other words the size of the cut that can be made in taxes depends on how little the administration can be compelled to set aside on retirement of war debts. Both the president and the secretary of the treasury have been contending that if the amount that can be applied to tax reduction is relatively small it is safer not to change the rates but to apply the sum to debt retirement.

Recall of "Nuisance" Taxes. Mr. Garner advocates a reduction in corporation taxes from the 13 1/2 per cent in effect at present down to 11 per cent and possibly 10. He argues that the productivity of these corporation taxes will take care of all extra expenses which he thinks can hardly exceed fifty million dollars because such items as flood relief or public building appropriations can not be entirely charged against the receipts of a single year, indeed many of the sums are not spent during the year for which they are authorized. Mr. Garner wants to repeal all excise and so-called nuisance taxes, including taxes on automobiles, theatre admissions, produce, etc.

Mr. Garner's bill along these lines introduced at the last session was concurred in by his party associates. He holds that no rebates should be given to corporations on sums already paid in during 1927 as he feels that these items already have been passed onto the consumer.

Mr. Garner insists that the plea for economy which the White House has directed toward congress is needless as in the last several years congress not only has kept within the budget but actually has appropriated less than asked for by the executive branch of the government.

Administration Frowns. The argument is advanced by Representative Garner to that it will take at least five years for projects like Boulder Dam, Mississippi flood control and new buildings to be well under way and that in the meantime the returns from corporations will be increasing sufficiently to take care of the added expense. Mr. Garner starts out with the idea that at least $400,000,000 can be cut in taxes. Several republican senators have been saying the same thing but the administration has preferred to discourage such high hopes, believing that the first step is to prevent extravagance in congress and the second is to recommend a safe program which it will be up to congress to amend and up to the administration finally to approve.

Read Letter in Court. Witnesses had testified earlier in the day that Petura could have checked Jewish pogroms in the Ukraine for which Schwartzbard claims to have been an avenger of his race. These witnesses declared that Petura deliberately tolerated massacres of the Jews.

The emotional tension which has characterized the trial was sustained today by the reading of a letter from Madame Apollinaire Katchorofsky, widow of an orthodox Russian priest who was killed while defending Jews during a pogrom. The priest, according to the letter, left his bed when he heard the screams of victims. He went out to investigate and returned home when warned by Petura's officers, but went out again when he could no longer endure the horrible sounds that accompanied the massacre. He met death, the letter said, at the hands of soldiers shouting Petura's name.

Use Bloodhounds in Search for Women

Washington, Oct. 25.—Blood hounds followed by paths in three wooded parks here today in the latest futile attempts to find Mrs. Ann Ramsey Forbush, wife of a Canadian, N. Y. man, who disappeared from a theater six days ago.

Rev. Dascob E. Forbush, attorney searching through the morning, left for Baltimore to attend the funeral of his father, Rev. William Byron Forbush.

Several reports of women who answered her description being seen in deserted sections have been received but subsequent searches were futile. Mrs. Forbush, said to be obsessed with a desire to locate herself in the woods, has held out for three weeks without food, but with a little water. In other similar disappearances, it was said.

State Contests Injunction Against Escanaba Plan

RELIEVED OF DUTIES

REAR ADM. T. P. MAGRUDER

JURY MAY GIVE VERDICT TODAY

Trial of Hebrew Clock-maker Is Cut Short.

Paris, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The trial of Samuel Schwartzbard, Hebrew clock-maker, for the murder of Gen. Simon Petura, may reach a verdict tomorrow morning.

The sensational case which was expected to continue for at least another fortnight was cut short this evening by the decision of Henri Torres of defense counsel concurred in by Cesar Campinchi, attorney for the Petura family, to forego the testimony of additional witnesses.

After another day of interminable orations and heated squabbles over technicalities, the picturesque defense counsel arose suddenly and faced Chief Justice Flory. "For seven days," he boomed in a sonorous voice, "witnesses for the prosecution have been heard. By an extraordinary accident those who appeared in the last two days have been extremely favorable to the defense. I had cited 82 witnesses, among whom were 15 soldiers who could testify as to Schwartzbard's bravery at the French front during the World War.

"Well, I will give up these witnesses. I believe the jury has already made up its mind. I am ready for summation."

Murmurs of surprise were so loud that Judge Flory had to bang his gavel repeatedly for order. Campinchi announced complete accord with his opponent.

Witnesses had testified earlier in the day that Petura could have checked Jewish pogroms in the Ukraine for which Schwartzbard claims to have been an avenger of his race. These witnesses declared that Petura deliberately tolerated massacres of the Jews.

The emotional tension which has characterized the trial was sustained today by the reading of a letter from Madame Apollinaire Katchorofsky, widow of an orthodox Russian priest who was killed while defending Jews during a pogrom. The priest, according to the letter, left his bed when he heard the screams of victims. He went out to investigate and returned home when warned by Petura's officers, but went out again when he could no longer endure the horrible sounds that accompanied the massacre. He met death, the letter said, at the hands of soldiers shouting Petura's name.

Football Better Game Today, Says Michigan's Coach

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Thirty years ago a football player could feel lucky to get out of a game alive, but modern contests are clean, though hard-fought, Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at the University of Michigan, told members of the Rotary club today.

"When Michigan and Illinois play this year, we know the boys are going to play a clean, hard-fought game," he said. "Thirty years ago anything might happen. The players did everything but slug, and on some occasions, my opponents did that." Yost was introduced with motion pictures of games of 1904 and 1914.

WAYNE COUNTY WAGES FIGHT AGAINST FUND

CASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT OF MICHIGAN

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The petition of the Detroit board of education for an injunction to prohibit the distribution of the state primary school fund on the Escanaba plan, whereby 95 per cent is distributed to all counties and five per cent is set aside for the so-called poorer counties, was vigorously contested when arguments were heard by the state supreme court Tuesday.

Clarence E. Page, assistant corporation counsel of Detroit, asserted the plan would deprive Wayne county of more than $200,000. He described it as an unconstitutional effort to rob the industrial counties for the denial of those whose valuation is lower. This amounts to discrimination and the legislature has no authority under the constitution to countenance such a move, he contended.

Attorneys Assist. W. W. Potter, attorney general, appearing for the state, asserted the law was the clear expression of the legislature in an attempt to aid counties and school districts which are overwhelmed with taxes. The legislature meant to set aside a certain portion of the fund for those districts where valuations are low in proportion to school expenses, and no one can go beyond legislative intent which is not in violation of the constitution, he contended.

Among those who intervened with the state in defense of the act were Allen F. Rees, of Houghton; J. M. Harris, representing the Charlevoix school board, and Glenn W. Jackson, of Gladstone, representing the Maple Ridge township board of education of Delta county.

MOTORS INCOME LEADS OTHERS

Manufactured 433,120 Cars During Third Quarter.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The General Motors corporation in point of earning capacity the premier industrial corporation of the country today, forged far ahead of its nearest rival, the United States Steel corporation.

The automotive concern's net income for the first nine months of 1927, amounting to $193,757,302, broke all previous records for any similar period and exceeded the total net earnings for the full year of 1926. The steel corporation reported a surplus of $74,050,023 available for dividends in the same period.

Net earnings of General Motors for the third quarter exceeded $64,500,000, compared with net earnings of $41,373,831 for the steel corporation. This was a gain of approximately $23,126,169 for the motor concern, and a decline of $11,300,000 for United States Steel, as contrasted with the same period of last year.

General Motors earnings in the third quarter were equivalent to $3.57 a share of common, and those of the steel company equalled $2.15 a share of common stock.

Governor Approves of Officers' Policy in Handling Coal Strike

Denver, Colo., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Approval of the policy of peace officers in arresting pickets in Colorado's strike affected coal mining region and an expression that the situation appeared under control, was made by Governor Adams tonight after a personal survey of the strike territory.

Although conditions looked bad, the chief executive said he was satisfied that sheriffs were able to handle the situation in their counties. The governor gave no hint of possible action by the state in the strike. Governor Adams and his party saw at first hand the operations of a small army of pickets at Valdez, a coal camp near Trinidad. Governor Green Unharmed When Autos Collide

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Gov. Fred W. Green escaped unharmed today when another automobile jammed his car. The governor went on an early pheasant hunting trip. He got no pheasants. While returning another car cut around a bus and bumped the machine in which he was riding. The governor's chauffeur went to Ionia, secured another automobile and returned the governor to Lansing. The accident happened on M-16 near Portland.

FIND AVIATOR WAS RECKLESS

Finch Must Forfeit Pay for Next Six Months

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Lieut. George Finch, army reserve aviator, was found guilty by a court martial here today of "reckless flying and using profane language toward enlisted men, but was acquitted of charges of perjury and making a false statement.

He was sentenced to forfeit $50 of his pay per month for six months. The officer, attached to Selfridge Field, Mich., was tried in connection with his flight over Atlanta May 1, when he was alleged to have "endangered property and lives" by flying below the 1000-foot minimum altitude prescribed by regulations for flights over congested areas.

At the time, he was enroute with an air-squadron from Michigan to Texas, but obtained permission to leave the formation and circle over Atlanta, his home. The profanity charge grew out of his statements the next day to enlisted men who had been detailed to care for the squadron's planes at Candler field here, and who aroused his wrath by drawing two planes from their hangar with the wings overlapping. This specification accused him of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman in "using violent and profane language to the discredit of the military service."

The charges of perjury and making a false statement grew out of his reports concerning the flight to investigation officers. He was acquitted last week of a charge of perjury in connection with the profanity allegation.

Police Department Gets Vote Cards For Investigation

Detroit, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The police department received 25,311 vote registration cards today for investigation, in connection with the inquiry instituted by Richard Reading, election commissioner into registrations for the local mayoralty election. Officials announced that all of the cards would be checked by Saturday.

Reading also announced that applications had been made for 280 warrants, charging fraudulent registration, as the result of inability of police to find persons at the addresses from which they registered. He is also probing into transfer registrations to the number of 22,000, it was announced.

Mr. Reading said service of the warrants would begin within a few days in the hope of having some of the cases disposed of before the November election.

Police Department Gets Vote Cards For Investigation

The article episode was declared closed by Secretary Wilbur himself after the admiral had called on him to explain that he wrote only with constructive purposes in mind and that he had not meant to cause the secretary of the navy any embarrassment. He added that subsequently newspaper articles picturing him as opposed toward the secretary in defense of his views had misquoted him.

What was expected to be the final chapter of the incident developed when the secretary asked Magruder to submit to him any plan for naval reorganization he might have, to which the admiral replied that he had none.

To Make Letters Public. Later, however, addressing a club in Philadelphia, Magruder criticized efforts of the navy department to force him to submit information supporting his article, and declared he was being imposed upon. It developed then that Secretary Wilbur had sent him ten questions to be answered and that when the replies were late in arriving, the admiral received an order to speed them up. That information was finally submitted to be followed by other requests for more information.

MAGRUDER TO BE DETACHED FROM DUTIES

ORDER IS DISTINCT SHOCK TO REAR ADMIRAL

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, whose recent magazine article on "The Navy and Economy," caused a stir in naval circles, has been detached from duty as commandant of the fourth naval district.

A telegram notifying him that he had been detached from duty and ordering him to report to the secretary of the navy, at Washington about November 5, was received by Admiral Magruder tonight from Secretary of the Navy Wilbur. The message read: "Upon the reporting of your relief on or about November 5 you are detached from duty as commandant of the fourth naval district and from such other duty as may have been assigned to you, and you will proceed to Washington and report to the secretary of the navy."

Admiral Magruder said the order came as a "distinct shock" to him. Although he had been aware that his magazine article had not met with the approval of some naval officials, he stated that he had hoped the matter would be straightened out. The admiral said he would insist on a thorough investigation of the whole affair.

Worked for Economy. "I have been here for 15 months," said Admiral Magruder, "and have become very much attached to Philadelphia and Philadelphia. I had hoped to stay here for the full term of duty. I don't know why I have been detached and shall insist on a thorough investigation."

Admiral Magruder reiterated that he had tried for years to effect economies in the navy department and cited his testimony before a special commission in Washington several years ago.

"I never have suggested that the navy be reorganized," Admiral Magruder said. "I merely set forth what I believed to be needed reforms in the service and nothing has occurred to shake my belief in the justice of my course."

Admiral Magruder has been in active naval service for 36 years. He was second in command of American naval forces in European waters during the World War, receiving the distinguished service medal for his services.

DISCIPLINARY STEP.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Detachment of Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder as commandant of the fourth naval district, was regarded tonight by naval officers familiar with the case, as a disciplinary step resulting from his published articles criticizing the naval establishment and his subsequent conduct.

Secretary Wilbur was not available tonight to give an official explanation of his recall order, but Admiral Ederle, chief of naval operations, said he understood that Magruder's detachment was to be permanent. He added that the admiral's future status remained in doubt and would be settled after Magruder and Secretary Wilbur had conferred.

Naval officers who said they were aware that the order was to be issued, expressed opinion that Admiral Magruder's conduct explained his Saturday Evening Post article to Secretary Wilbur was more responsible for the recall order than the article itself.

Asked for Plan. The article episode was declared closed by Secretary Wilbur himself after the admiral had called on him to explain that he wrote only with constructive purposes in mind and that he had not meant to cause the secretary of the navy any embarrassment. He added that subsequently newspaper articles picturing him as opposed toward the secretary in defense of his views had misquoted him.

What was expected to be the final chapter of the incident developed when the secretary asked Magruder to submit to him any plan for naval reorganization he might have, to which the admiral replied that he had none.

To Make Letters Public. Later, however, addressing a club in Philadelphia, Magruder criticized efforts of the navy department to force him to submit information supporting his article, and declared he was being imposed upon. It developed then that Secretary Wilbur had sent him ten questions to be answered and that when the replies were late in arriving, the admiral received an order to speed them up. That information was finally submitted to be followed by other requests for more information.

ILL-TIMED TAKE-OFF OF THE DAWN

Aged U. P. Lumberman Sued for $450,000 by 27-Year-Old Divorcee

Ironwood, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A 27-year-old divorcee is seeking $450,000 of the wealth of Gunleik Bergland, 81-year-old pioneer lumberman of the upper peninsula, claiming that he paid court to her while she served him as housekeeper and then balked at marriage.

Mrs. Ardis Pederson of South Milwaukee, who was divorced two years ago, is seeking the heart balm in a suit filed in the Ontonagon circuit court. The charges are vehemently denied by the aged lumberman, who asserted that for an 81-year-old man hardly able to walk to marry a 27-year-old woman would be the act of a fool. "And I am not a fool, yet," he added.

The aged lumberman, whose huge stature is reminiscent of his Viking ancestry, has prepared to fight the suit. Bergland was the founder of the lumber town of Bergland in Ontonagon county, and has lived there for many years. It was from there that he directed his operations that resulted in his amassing a fortune from timber.

Mrs. Pederson charges that he took her from Bergland to Milwaukee and Florida, and Norway and twice promised to marry her in 1925, but refused later to comply with her demand. Interviewed in Milwaukee today, Mr. Bergland was reluctant to discuss the suit. He said that Mrs. Pederson was his housekeeper for two and a half years but her relations were only that of a housekeeper.

"It is nothing," he said. "Why should I marry a young girl. I am 81 years old and can hardly walk. I would be a fool to marry a woman 27 years old. I am not a fool yet."

Mr. Bergland admitted he had taken her abroad and to Milwaukee and Florida.

"Certainly," he said, "but her work is all settled for and I owe her nothing. That is all paid and I have receipts to show. As far as the suit is concerned—that is the bunk."

CONVICT FACES CIRCUIT COURT

Allen Wayne Attempted to Escape From New Jackson Pen.

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Allen Wayne, of Detroit, charged with escaping April 13, 1927, from the new Michigan state prison, was bound over to the Jackson county circuit court to appear November 1, following an examination conducted Tuesday afternoon by Police Judge Owen Dudley at the main prison.

In his testimony, Wayne admitted that a scar on his wrist was evidence of the bits of a woman's teeth received during his attempt to gain liberty. After climbing over the fence of the new prison, the man jumped on the running board of a passing automobile, he said. The woman driver stopped the car and fastened her jaws on the man's arm, causing him to tear away from the car and flee across the fields, he stated. The woman's identity was not learned. The prisoner was caught several hours later.

Wayne was sentenced from recorders court, Detroit, November 17, 1925, to serve from five to ten years for larceny of an automobile. The inmate, who is 24 years of age, had served a previous term at Ionia.

Arraigned before Judge Dudley Tuesday, October 17, with four other inmates, accused of attempting escape, Wayne was the only one to demand an examination. The four will be arraigned in circuit court November 1, the day set for Wayne's arraignment.

Hunting Accident Is Fatal to Young Man

Mayville, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Russell Barber, 21, Ypsilanti, was fatally shot at Silverwood, east of here, in an accident when returning from a hunting trip late this afternoon. He had stopped for lunch and when he stooped to pick up his shotgun, the weapon discharged. The shot lodged in his head and he died a few minutes later.

SHIPS RUSH TO AID OF LINER 720 RESCUED

MANY STEERAGE PASSENGERS THOUGH DROWNED

(BULLETIN) Rio Janeiro, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Italian passenger liner Principessa Mafalda bound from Genoa to Buenos Aires foundered off Bahia tonight.

Four ships rushed to the aid of the Principessa Mafalda, which gave its position latitude 16 degrees 48 minutes north; longitude 37 degrees 41 minutes west.

(BULLETIN) Rio Janeiro, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The French steamship Formosa reported tonight she had saved 720 passengers of the Italian liner Principessa Mafalda which sank at Bahai tonight.

Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Principessa Mafalda, luxurious Italian liner, route from Genoa to this port and Buenos Aires foundered and sank about 130 miles southeast of Bahia, Brazil, presumably with a large loss of life. The liner carried 1600 passengers, many of them emigrants to Argentina and while hundreds were rescued by the heroic efforts of the crews of four ships which answered the Mafalda's frantic wireless calls for aid, it believed many of the steerage passengers went down with the ship. It is known that 720 passengers were saved by the French ship Formosa.

Reports received here wireless from the Formosa stated she had picked up 700 of the Mafalda's passengers and that she was co-operating with other vessels that rushed to the scene of disaster. Many of the Mafalda's passengers took to life boats and rafts and some went overboard in life preservers. Details of the disaster can slowly be as much as the rescue ships were intent upon the work of rescue.

Death Sentence of Woman Is Delayed

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Catherine Cassler, the portly middle-aged woman who would rather die on the gallows than go to prison for murder, today had her wish deferred, at least for days.

The woman, who, if she hanged, will be the first to be executed in Illinois, was given 60-day stay of execution to enable her attorneys to carry appeal to the supreme court. She was to have been hanged Friday morning.

Mrs. Cassler was to have hanged last Friday, but was given a week's respite to allow the return to Chicago of Judge Philip Sullivan, the trial judge, who today granted the new stay. She was convicted of murdering William Lindstrom, a cabinet-maker whose body was found last December far from his home.

SINCLAIR AND FALL DISAGREE

Former Secretary of Interior Breaks Into Proceedings.

Washington, Oct. 25 (AP)—A difference of opinion between the defendants, Albert Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, developed today as the government continued to unfold to a jury in the District of Columbia supreme court the story which it based an indictment for criminal conspiracy in connection with the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Breaking into the proceedings for a second time within less than a week, Fall almost shouted that he had no objection to the presentation of certain technical testimony by the government to which George P. Hoover, chief counsel for Sinclair, had offered a vigorous protest and argument before Justice Sinton.

This time Fall did not rise from his chair as he did last week when he appealed to the court to admit testimony which he regarded "as vital" to his defense. After he had stated that he had no objections, the former interior secretary glanced over toward the jury while his counsel, William E. Leahy, made this supplemental statement to the court:

Evidence Cumulative. "We want the record to show that we do not object to any questions relating to this lease."

Much of the evidence offered today by the government, both verbal and documentary, was of cumulative character, going directly into elements of the case, including the failure of Fall to submit legal questions connected with the leasing transactions to the legal officers of the government; the purchase by Sinclair of outstanding claims to lands in Teapot Dome by other oil companies, and the personal handling of decisions on legal and other points in the lease of the Wyoming naval oil reserve. On cross-examination of one government witness, Arthur W. Ambrose, former petroleum technologist of the interior department, the defense scored with testimony that both Ambrose and H. Foster Bain, director of the Bureau of Mines, had informed Fall of the draining of the Teapot Dome through wells drilled in the adjacent Salt Creek field.

Record Affidavit.

Moreover, Ambrose said he regarded the drafting of the lease as a regular business transaction; that Fall had not given him orders about secrecy in the negotiations with Sinclair's counsel, and that it was Fall himself, and insisted that there was to be an equal exchange of crude royalty for fuel oil instead of an exchange based on lower market rates prevailing at the time.

During the day the government put into the record by agreement with defense counsel, an affidavit of a man long since dead, J. W. Zevlevy, one time Washington attorney for Sinclair, and the affidavit of former Atty. Gen. Harry M. Daugherty. Zevlevy's testimony was that Fall made decisions in the drafting of the lease and sought the "best terms he could get" for the government, while Daugherty's chief statement was that he did not render any opinion, "curbstone" or official as to the legality of the lease.

Stultz Had Charge of Atlantic Plane

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 25 (AP)—Although Mrs. Francis Grayson is nominal commander of her trans-Atlantic expedition, it became known tonight that Pilot Wilmer Stultz took command of the amphibian plane Dawn after its take-off for Copenhagen last Sunday and forced a return trip to Old Orchard. None of the three persons who were on board the Dawn at the time would make detailed statements as to what occurred during the half hour in which the turn back toward this beach was made, but discrepancies in their several stories indicated clearly that there was a decided difference of opinion. It became known that the pilot had pitted his greater experience against the eagerness of his employer, and won the argument.

HOEKELMAN OF CORNELL.

Ithaca, N. Y.—(NEA)—Because Gil Doble stresses teamwork and not the making of stars, Harold Hoekelman, Cornell captain this year, is not as well known as one of his ability should be.

The Ithacans' field leader weighs only 170 pounds, and is a half inch shy of being six feet tall. He is 22 years old. This is his last year on the team.

Hoekelman, a back that will serve Doble in good stead for the tough schedule he has facing the Cornell team.

Cornell resumes relations with Princeton this year and will meet the Tigers at Ithaca on October 22. This is just one of the tough ones facing the Doble eleven.

Other hard games on Cornell's schedule, for what is expected to be a typical Cornell outfit, are the ones with Columbia, Penn and Dartmouth.

KEEP STOMACH YOUNG!

Eat What You Want

When the food you eat goes into your acid-soaked stomach, it sours and can't digest, makes foul gas and sour bile. The blood takes these poisonous acids and carries them through the body. Naturally it makes you miserable and despondent, because your system is not nourished—you lose weight.

Pape's Diapepsin dissolves the acids and sweetens the stomach. It digests the food! no more sour bile is taken up by the blood. Your appetite is like a youngster's again, and gradually you get back your health, flesh and energy.

Chew a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin after meals. It tastes good, and relieves the misery of indigestion in five minutes. It will keep your stomach young and vigorous so you can eat anything you want without being afraid of the consequences. Adv.

POLITICS GRIP BALKAN NATION

Rumanian Political Pot Seething As Plot Is Discovered.

Bucharest, Rumania, Oct. 25 (AP)—Rumania is seething with political excitement. Former Crown Prince Carol is the central figure in the struggle which is already being waged for political control.

Just as the celebration of the sixth birthday of King Michael is being celebrated, an alleged plot has been disclosed to establish the exiled Carol on the throne of his father, the late King Ferdinand. Martial law has been declared, and the government and opposition parties are lining up for what promises to be a bitter contest for supremacy.

M. Manolescu, under-secretary of finance in the late Averescu cabinet, has been arrested and placed in the state prison at Jilava. He is charged with being one of the principals in the plot for the re-establishment of the former crown prince. He will be court-martialed, it is reported within a few days, and former Premier General Averescu will defend him before the military court against accusations which are certain to be made of high treason.

Marie Will Remain.

Among the alleged compromising letters found in the possession of Manolescu were several from Carol, who is residing at present in a suburb of Paris. It appears that Carol wanted a referendum of the people of Rumania as to their wishes regarding his return. Other letters dealt with the question of the dynasty.

Princess Helen, the abandoned wife of Carol and King Michael's mother, who had contemplated a trip to Florence, with a stay there of several months, has postponed her departure in order to avoid the appearance of leaving on account of the Carolist crisis. Queen Marie and the boy king are at the royal summer palace at Sinala.

Charles Levine Quarrels With Pilot's Lawyer

New York, Oct. 25 (AP)—A quarrel broke out today between Charles A. Levine and former Senator Charles C. Lockwood, attorney for Clarence D. Chamberlin, over settlement of the latter's claim that Levine promised him $25,000 for their trans-Atlantic flight last June.

The claim is based on an oral agreement, Lockwood explained, because Levine, before the flight, had said he had no time to bother with money matters. While both were in Europe and since Levine returned, the lawyer said, Chamberlin had tried without success to collect the money he had been promised.

Levine denied today that he owed his former pilot anything. "I don't owe Chamberlin a cent," he declared. "He has been paid all he is entitled to."

He would not say whether Chamberlin owed him any money, nor would he deny that he had promised the pilot the $25,000 claimed. He said, however, that relations between him and Chamberlin continued to be as before.

Steel wire, so fine in texture that it can be woven into cloth as soft as silk, is now being made.

WILL NOT BURN LIBRARY BOOKS

Chicago Mayor Did Not Order Destruction of Volumes.

Chicago, Oct. 25 (AP)—Chicagoans today were enabled to take eyes and mind off the city's eastern rim and devote them to other purposes for at least a week without fear they might miss seeing a great pile of public library books, a warning to King George of England to "keep his snout out" of affairs of the nation's second city.

The reassurance was lent when Mayor William Hale Thompson promised that no books would be destroyed until the legality of the step had been established.

In fact, Mayor Thompson in a letter to Samuel Eitelson, corporation counsel, which was read in court, said he had at no time ordered the "burning of anything" and he thought that no injunction should be issued "on anything I never intended."

Basing his petition upon information supplied to him through the public prints, Edward J. Bahac, an attorney, demanded immediate issuance of an injunction to prevent destruction of all public library books found to contain a pro-British or anti-American taint. It was then that Mayor Thompson's letter was read.

"My letter to Mr. Herrman instructed him to check up on pro-British and anti-American literature in the public library and report to me," it said. "There was no suggestion about burning anything. I would like for Mr. Eitelson to bring this out emphatically in court. I don't think there should be an injunction issued on anything I never intended."

Shortage of Nurses Calls for Emergency Measures at Jackson

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 25 (AP)—A shortage of student nurses at Foote hospital, operated by the city of Jackson, calls for emergency measures. City Manager F. R. Harris told the city commission today. The manager was authorized to advertise for 15 student nurses to form a new class; to hire two graduate nurses, and to double the duty periods of student nurses in the preliminary class. While the hospital should have at least 45 student nurses, only 31 are here at the present time, the manager said.

POST OFFICE AT WELLS ROBBED

Small Change Taken From Drawer; Fail to Open Safe.

Using methods similar to those employed by the robbers who entered the Fair Savings Bank department store several weeks ago, thieves attempted to open a safe in the Wells postoffice sometime Monday night, or Tuesday morning, but their efforts were mostly unsuccessful.

The robbers, however, did get away with about two dollars in small change, which was in drawer in the postoffice, and looted a money box in the C. H. Bisbee drug store, adjoining the postoffice, obtaining about five dollars in currency. Merchandise in the drug store was not molested.

U. S. Postal Inspector McDougall of Sault Ste. Marie, who was in Escanaba recently investigating the looting of the mail boxes at the postoffice here, has been notified and is expected to arrive today. State police headquarters have also been notified, and members of that department will start working on the case. The troopers have been investigating the series of robberies that have been committed in the upper peninsula during the past two months, and it is probable that there may be some connection between the Wells job and the others.

Combination Dial Chiseled.

The combination dial on the safe had been pulled outward about four inches, a chisel apparently having been used, but the mechanism was still attached to the door. Where the robbers "bumped" was in breaking off the handle, which when turned releases the bolts holding the safe door fast.

The robbery was not noticed until about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. Undersheriff Joseph P. Carney and Patrolman John Finn made an investigation but were unable to find any real clues to assist them in solving the mystery. It is believed that the thieves wore gloves, no fingerprints being found.

A chisel was found to be missing from its regular place in the rear part of the Bisbee drug store, and it is thought that this was used in "jimmying" the safe. An E. & L. S. railway section house had been entered, the officers found, and several tools, which could have been used to advantage, had been stolen.

Cut Holes in Doors.

Breaking a rear window and ripping off some steel bars protecting the window, the thieves gained entrance into the rear room of the drug store. To enter the main part of the store they carved in the door a hole large enough to permit the placing of a hand through to re-

Talks on Health

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

DISTURBED SLEEP ISN'T DISEASE IN ITSELF

Inability to sleep under good conditions is a difficult problem and one which constantly receives medical attention. The London Lancet considers, in a recent survey of the subject, the various causes of this disturbance. The term insomnia implies not only inadequate sleep but also failure to obtain sound and restful sleep. Three types of insomnia are concerned: 1—Cases in which sleep is delayed in the beginning. 2—Sleep in which there are disturbing dreams. 3—Sleep which begins normally but does not continue because the sleeper awakens in the early hours of the morning and is unable to sleep again.

Disturbed Sleep is Symptom

Disturbed sleep is not to be regarded as a disease in itself, but as a symptom of disorder somewhere in the body. In some cases definite physical causes are found and bodily discomforts will invariably prevent satisfactory sleep. In other cases definite physical causes cannot be found and it is necessary to determine the psychical cause of the emotional state, whether anxiety, fear or depression, which acts as a mental irritant and interrupts sleep.

Among the physical causes of disturbed sleep are pain, shortness of breath, frequent coughing, itching high fever, disturbances of digestion, disturbances of the blood circulation and irritating poisons.

Overwork Seldom Cause

The mental cause may include an emotional disturbance such as has been mentioned, severe falts a bolt on the inside.

Another door blocked their passage into the postoffice, but this presented little difficulty, apparently, for they merely cut out the panel, and released another lock on the inside.

The robbery was committed sometime after 10:30 o'clock Monday night, since Mr. Bladec left the place at about that time.

This is the second attempt on the Wells drug store. Last spring, it was entered and about $400 worth of merchandise was taken. Earl Sterns and Artiste Gravelle, both of Gladstone, were arrested and charged with participating in the robbery. They are awaiting trial in circuit court.

An attempt to enter the I. Stephenson company store, across the street, was also made. A rear door had been tampered with.

tigue, obsessions, or various forms of insanity.

Overwork is seldom a cause of insomnia, but overwork is frequently associated with anxiety, irritability, or other mental reactions that may result in insomnia. In certain hysterical cases the sleeplessness does not actually occur to any where nearly the extent that the patient may claim. Such people talk constantly about how little they have slept, but a careful observation will show that actually they sleep a great deal.

Prepare for Orange and Black Frolic

Plans for the Orange and Black Frolic, to be held Monday, October 31, are almost completed. I. W. Soderberg has announced, and minstrel practice is in full swing. Practices are being held after school and in the evenings. Endmen for the entertainment are, Kenneth Wilson, Arol Beck, Carrol Douck and Leo Coan. William Peters will act as interlocutor.

The Orange and Black society is planning on elaborate settings for the minstrel with the grounds of a country club as the theme. The background for the minstrel will be beautiful and decorative.

One of the features of the frolic is a double mind reading act which will surprise and amaze the audience. Mr. Soderberg asserts. Alta Trombley, high school soprano, will be the soloist in a pleasing specialty act. Leo Coan will read a comic skit entitled "Those Who Want to Reduce" in his clever, comical manner. An instrumental number, a saxophone solo, will be rendered by Carrol Douck with a violin instrument accompaniment by Elding Olson. The Escanaba high school band with its strutting drum major will be out in uniform to render some snappy numbers.

Kane-Fenlon.

Simplicity marked the pretty autumn wedding ceremony which united Miss Grace Adele Kane, daughter of Mrs. Bridget Kane of Harris and Lawrence Fenlon; son of Mrs. Mary Fenlon of Ford River, in marriage.

Rev. Fr. D. J. Breault, pastor St. George's church at Bark River, performed the ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass at St. George's church.

The bride wore a gown of maroon glaze satin faced crepe with a silver metallic cloth hat. The bridal bouquet was of tea roses and snap dragons.

The bridesmaid, Miss Marlon Flynn, a niece of the bride, wore a rose of Sharon frock of flat crepe with gold metallic hat and carried tea roses.

Howard Fenlon, brother of the bridegroom, was Mr. Fenlon's attendant. Following the church ceremony a breakfast and dinner were served at the home of the bride for relatives and close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenlon will reside at Ford River.

Livrance-Meyer.

A wedding of interest to many Escanabans was that of Miss Dorothea Livrance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Livrance of Plymouth, to John B. Meyer, son of Mrs. Herbert Meyer, 311 South Eleventh street, Escanaba, which took place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's rectory, in Redford. Rev. Fr. John G. Cook officiated.

The bride had as her attendants Miss Eleanor Boyle and Miss Marguerite Streng. Henry J. Meyer attended his brother as best man and Herbert Livrance completed the wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer left for a two weeks' motor trip. They plan to tour northern Michigan, visiting Mr. Meyer's mother at Escanaba, and returning by way of Milwaukee and Chicago. They are to make their home shortly in their residence now under construction in Malvern Hill.

Mr. Meyer is a member of the firm of Meyer Brothers who operate the two Rexall drug stores in Redford.

Judge Bell Entertained.

Judge Frank A. Bell of Negaunee, recently appointed to succeed Richard C. Flannigan as justice of the twenty-fifth judicial circuit, was tendered an informal reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ryall, Lake Shore drive, last evening. Judge Bell had an opportunity to become acquainted with members of the Delta county bar and officials of the local court, including Sheriff Elmer Swanson and Clerk of Court George E. Harvey.

Forced to Disband.

Because of a losing team and lack of patronage the Buffalo grid team recently disbanded.

PERKINS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The high school room of the Perkins school entertained Friday evening, October 14, at a dancing party given in honor of Mr. Maynard, principal of the school. It was a birthday party.

The gymnasium was artistically decorated in orange and black, the school colors, interspersed with autumn leaves, which created a delightful background for the dancing and games which were held.

Lunch was served by the girls of the high school under the direction of Misses Leone Carlson and Margaret Gibbs, and Rayfield Carlson were guests.

An enjoyable time was had by all. The party broke up about 11 o'clock.

The Perkins high school will have a basketball team this year. The squad, under the direction of Coach Rayfield Carlson, has been practicing diligently for about a month and an exceptionally strong quintet has been developed.

Members of last year's squad, who report regularly for practice are: Lloyd Logan, center; Oliver Miljour, guard, and Earl Miljour, guard; Danville Sandstrom, forward, and Floyd Fuhrman, forward.

The following boys, who are new on the squad, also report regularly: Russell Carlson, Leslie Nelson, Stanley Stevenson and Wallace Gerou.

The students of the Perkins high school are making arrangements to publish a newspaper. It is to be called The Static. This name was chosen after a contest, to determine a fitting name, was conducted. A cash prize was offered to the student submitting the best name. The Static was the choice of three students and each shared equally in the prize offered.

The Static is to be published monthly and will contain a complete digest of the activities of the Perkins school. The paper will be issued as a part of the regular work of the English classes. Its a new venture at Perkins, but those in charge are well pleased with the enthusiastic response which has greeted their efforts.

The BENSON MURDER CASE

CHAPTER XXXVI

"I found one other woman in the case," Tracy said. She lives in New York, and often telephones to a drug store near Pfyfe's house, and leaves messages for him. He uses the same phone to call her by. He had made some deal with the proprietor, of course; but I was able to obtain her phone number.

"As soon as I came back to the city I got her name and address from information, and made a few inquiries. She's a Mrs. Paula Banning, a widow, and a little fast, I should say; and she lives in an apartment at 268 West Seventy-fifth street."

This exhausted Tracy's information; and when he went out, Markham smiled broadly at Vance.

"He didn't supply you with very much fuel," Vance said. "My word! I think he did unbelievably well," said Vance. "He unearthed the very information we wanted."

"We wanted?" echoed Markham. "I have more important things to think about than Pfyfe's amours."

"And yet, you know, this particular amour of Pfyfe's going to solve the problem of Benson's murder," replied Vance; and would say no more.

Markham, who had an accumulation of other work awaiting him and numerous appointments for the afternoon, decided to have his lunch served in the office; so Vance and I took leave of him.

We lunched at the Elysee, dropped in at Knoedler's to see an exhibition of French Pointillism, and then went to Aeolian Hall where a string quartette from San Francisco was giving a program of Mozart.

A little before half past five we were again at this district attorney's office, which at that hour was deserted except for Markham.

Shortly after our arrival Miss Hoffman came in, and told the rest of her story in direct, business-like fashion.

"I didn't give you all the particulars this morning," she said; "and I wouldn't care to do so now unless you are willing to regard them as confidential, for my telling you might cost me my position."

"I promise you," Markham assured her, "that I will entirely respect your confidence."

She hesitated a moment, and then continued. "When I told Major Benson this morning about Mr. Pfyfe and his brother, he said at once that I should come with him to your office and tell you also. But on the way over, he suggested that I might omit a part of the story. He didn't exactly tell me not to mention it; but he explained that it had nothing to do with the case and might only confuse you. I followed his suggestion; but after I got back to the office I began thinking it over, and knowing how serious a matter Mr. Benson's death was, I decided to tell you anyway."

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch. Copyright 1927 by Douglas Malloch. THE EASIEST WAY. It's easier to sneer at worth Than equally to serve the earth. To greet the gentle priest with laughter Than bow one's head and follow after; It's easier for lust and greed To question than adopt a creed; When better men their crowns are winning There's nothing easier than sinning. There's nothing easier—for awhile; But living is a longish mile, And he who never helped another Soon finds it one without a brother; And he who scorned the sombre priest Finds these, of all men, weep the least. However pleasant its beginning, There's nothing harder than sinning. For you shall find, whose wit reviled The man who helped the crippled child, Who thought the padre's holy passion Was something old and out of fashion. When your old self you used to trust Now fills your self with self-disgust, That conscience yet will have its inning, And that the hardest road is sinning.

TANNERY SELLS FOR $27,000

C. F. Glavin Buys Large Brick Building for $13,000.

The entire holdings of the Michigan Tanning & Extract company, near Wells, which at one time represented a manufacturing plant which cost one million dollars to establish, went under the auctioneer's hammer for $27,000 yesterday.

Charles F. Glavin of Escanaba obtained with a bid of $13,000 the large brick building, which was built in 1914 and 1915 to take care of the tanning operations of the company. This building is a modern structure, occupying a floor space of more than 600,000 square feet, well lighted and ideal for virtually every manufacturing purpose. It is noted that it was erected at a cost of $200,000.

Lots Sell Good.

The concrete building, which contains the boiler plant and which was used for the extract operations, was sold to George F. McEwen for $1300, and S. M. Johnson, also of Escanaba, obtained the smaller concrete building for $1000. Mr. Johnson also purchased the two large houses across the highway from the plants, paying a total of $2500 for the two buildings.

Mr. Glavin said after the sale that he had no plans for the use of the building at the present time. Mr. Johnson and Mr. McEwen also had no definite plans.

The 100 lots were bought in a short time by residents of the county, most of them prospective home builders. The lots brought from $10 to $400 apiece.

The sale was conducted by the P. King Auction company of Chattanooga, Tenn. Industrial liquidation experts and subdividers. They will be in charge of a similar sale for the Michigan Tanning & Extract company at Fremont, Mich., on October 28.

Started in 1905.

The Michigan Tanning & Extract company built the extract plant here in 1905, the purpose in locating here being to be near the center of the hemlock bark producing section. At that time, it was much cheaper to transport hides to a plant than it was to ship the hemlock bark, since about seven carloads of bark were used in tanning one carload of hides.

When war broke out in Europe in 1914, the leather industry began to expand in order to handle the large orders for leather from the combatant nations in Europe. Numerous tanning plants, similar to the one at Wells, were erected in all parts of the United States, and tanning and leather factories operated night and day. By the time the United States entered in the war the American manufacturers were producing enough leather to supply the entire world.

But after the armistice, when armies were demobilized and the men were sent back to the leather factories in various countries of Europe, the American exports took a sudden slump. As a result, many companies were forced to close down many of the plants as there was a curtailment in the demand for the product. The Wells plant, which was among those hit by the deflation, was closed in 1921.

New chemical processes, which are more economical than the hemlock bark method, have been introduced in the tanning industry. This also caused the closing down of plants in remote sections of the country. Many leather companies have moved their operations to the vicinity of Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities, where hides are more easily obtained.

The buildings, grounds and equipment cost the Michigan Tanning & Extract company of Petoskey about one million dollars. A private sewage disposal plant alone cost about $50,000. Most of the equipment had been sold as junk before the sale yesterday.

PRACTICE ONLY

CHARLES BORAH

Because Coach Howard Jones needed a fast runner to practice his Southern California football team against, he inducted Charles Borah, famous sprint star, into service. Borah's uncanny speed gives the Trojan backs plenty of training. The sprinter will not be used in regular games because of a fear that his legs might be injured.

Escanaban Picked for Training in U. S. Naval School

Clarence Leonard Persons, a former Escanaba youth who has been an apprentice seaman in the United States navy since June 30, last, has successfully passed the preliminary examinations for the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., according to word received by E. J. Cook, in charge of the naval recruiting office here. Persons will be transferred to the San Diego naval training school to begin his studies preparatory to entering the Annapolis school on November 1.

Congress has authorized the appointment each year of 100 midshipmen to be selected from the regular navy and marine corps. The selections are made in competitive examinations. Men accepted for the naval academy preparatory course must be at least 20 years of age, must have at least two years of high school, or its equivalent, and must be American citizens.

"Prep" schools are located at San Diego, Calif., and Hampton Roads, Va.

The local recruiting officer has a great deal of information about this

Boy Injured When Struck by Auto

Joseph Delorier, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Delorier, 901 Stephenson avenue, was struck by an automobile, when he was stepping off the Groos car near the intersection of Stephenson and Washington avenues shortly after noon Tuesday.

The car was driven by A. H. Groesbeck, who immediately picked up the boy and rushed him to St. Francis hospital where he was treated. He sustained a bruised face and a bad bump on the knee.

X-ray pictures were taken to determine if there are any further injuries. Mr. Groesbeck did all in his power to render assistance to the little victim.

TREE PUTS ON SPRING GARB

Elm at Behner Home Decides to Skip Winter Season.

The thickness of the fur on the animals and the density of the feathers on the birds are generally accepted as signs of the intensity or mildness of an approaching winter.

But what is the significance of an elm tree which loses its leaves late in August and then grows a brand new crop of green foliage in the middle of October?

Such a tree may be seen on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Behner, 254 Lake Shore drive.

The elm, which was planted about 16 years ago, has always been a healthy and vigorous tree. About the last of August its leaves began to change into autumn colors. They fell to the ground some little time before other trees in the yard lost their foliage. But during the past week, after the other trees had lost most of their leaves, the elm started to produce a new crop of green leaves exactly as it might be expected to do in early spring.

Veterans of many years experience in the woods declare they have never seen anything of the kind before. Perhaps some reader of the Press can explain it.

Warning Against Hallowe'en Pranks

Numerous complaints have been received at the police department concerning youths who have already started to perform Hallowe'en pranks, and Chief of Police John J. Tolan issued a warning to the pranksters that such practices will not be tolerated.

One resident reported yesterday that several boys had pushed his automobile into a tree, causing serious damage to a fender. Other depredations have been reported.

OBITUARY

ARMOUR GIRARD.

Funeral services for Armour Girard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Girard of Masonville were held Tuesday morning at nine o'clock at St. Charles' church at Rapid River with Rev. Fr. Joseph Guertin as celebrant at the requiem high mass.

The church was filled with bereaved relatives and friends and a large number of beautiful floral tributes were received at the home where scores of friends called to extend their sympathies to the members of the family.

Interment was in Rapid River cemetery.

SAM FAY.

Funeral services for Sam Fay aged resident of Gladstone were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Allo Funeral Home with Rev. J. B. Hubbard officiating. Burial was in Fernwood cemetery at Gladstone. Many friends from Gladstone came to this city to attend the funeral services.

Men and Women of Escanaba Who Want Something

All of us WANT something all of the time.

Whenever a man or woman ceases to WANT something you can rest assured that they lack ambition, a desire to get ahead—in fact, they lack all of the qualities that are typical of the American people.

Right this very minute YOU probably WANT something. That something may be a piece of real estate; an automobile; household furniture; a player-piano or a phonograph. Perhaps you want to rent an apartment or housekeeping rooms. Perhaps you want to buy a grocery store or a barber shop or a garage.

When you want something, where do you go to get it? Why, you go uptown or downtown, as the case may be, and visit different stores until you find what you're looking for. In other words, you go to the market and you shop around until you fill your wants.

You know all about Ludington Street and its wonderful stores.

BUT DID YOU KNOW THAT ONE OF THE GREATEST MARKET PLACES IN ESCANABA IS TO BE FOUND EVERY DAY IN THE WANT AD COLUMNS OF THE PRESS?

DID YOU KNOW THAT THESE WANT ADS PRESENT TO YOU A DAILY OFFERING OF MONEY-SAVING, VALUE-GIVING OPPORTUNITIES TO FILL YOUR WANTS?

Let us, for a moment, study the want ad columns and see just how much they offer.

Suppose you, Mr. Man, are just a bit dissatisfied with your position. You'd like to make a little more money and feel that you had better opportunities for advancement. Somewhere in Escanaba someone WANTS an employee.

Suppose that you're interested in buying some Escanaba or suburban real estate! Somewhere, someone has JUST THE PROPERTY you're interested in. But do you know where to find him? Again the matter is easy because the REAL ESTATE FOR SALE in the want ad columns of The Press present a great array of splendid values. No trouble to find just what you're looking for.

You'd like to have an automobile, but feel you can't afford to own a new car. All right, no reason why you and your family should be without a machine. There's a practically new car that's been driven only a few thousand miles waiting for you in the want ad columns of The Press. You'll be surprised at the low prices and easy terms. Just take your pick of the bargains that are presented. You'll have no trouble finding the make and model that you want.

Your daughter wants a piano, or your wife wants a phonograph. See how easy it is to get a splendid value by referring to the FOR SALE column of The Press that you hold in your hand. No reason why you can't fill that want.

So it goes right on down the line. The want ad columns make it possible for you to have the things that make life more abundant. They bring to your home a great market place where you may shop conveniently until you find just what you're after.

Read the classified columns carefully. Fill your wants from them. And remember that every day the want ad columns of The Press contain hundreds of opportunities that you can't afford to ignore.

REV. PEARSON HERE TONIGHT

Widely Known Speaker to Tell of His Trip to Europe.

"Europe as Seen Through the Eyes of an American" is the title of a lecture to be given tonight in the Swedish Methodist church by Rev. Axel G. Pearson of Ironwood.

Mr. Pearson attended the annual convention of Rotary International in Belgium last summer, after which he toured the Scandinavian countries, Germany, France and other parts of Europe. He made some close observations of conditions and his lecture undoubtedly will be very timely and intensely interesting. Rev. Mr. Pearson is one of the upper peninsula's most forceful and entertaining preachers and lecturers. He is well known in Escanaba.

A small admission fee will be charged. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Pearson's appearance here is one of the events of the golden anniversary of the Escanaba Swedish Methodist church.

Rheinholdsen to Have Hearing at 3 P. M. Thursday

Otto Rheinholdsen of Stonington, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Joseph Gerard, 16, of Masonville, in an automobile accident near Alton early Sunday morning, will be given a preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace James Doherty at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rheinholdsen was still confined in the county jail yesterday, bonds of $2000 not having been secured for his release.

Funeral services for the victim of the accident were held at St. Charles church in Rapid River at 9 o'clock yesterday morning with Rev. Fr. Martin officiating.

Edith Johnson, 18, of Gladstone, girl companion of Gerard, who was seriously injured when Rheinholdsen's touring car collided with the small automobile Gerard was driving, is still confined to St. Francis hospital. Her condition was considerably improved yesterday, and more hope is entertained for her recovery.

St. Francis Hospital

Miss Edith Johnson of Gladstone who was injured in an auto accident early Sunday morning, is as well as can be expected, but is allowed no visitors.

Frank Olson was admitted as a medical patient.

Earl Fabor submitted to an operation yesterday and is resting easily.

George Burns was admitted recently.

Leo Cappart underwent an operation yesterday and is as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hurkman are the parents of a daughter.

Herbert Linnea of Gladstone was admitted yesterday for treatment.

J. C. Penny Co. Takes Over Chain of 20 New Stores

Announcement was made yesterday by S. Gilchrist, manager of the local J. C. Penny company store, of the purchase of the twenty stores operated by the Golden Rule Merchandise company by the J. C. Penny company. The latter organization owns and operates 885 stores throughout the country. The deal involving the consolidation of the Golden Rule Merchandise company with the J. C. Penny company is the largest of its kind ever put through in this section and involves a consideration of more than $2,000,000, according to a statement made by E. M. Tower, vice president of the Golden Rule Merchandise company and one of the largest stockholders in that organization.

Negotiations were completed in New York City on October 4, with the Penny company represented by Earl C. Sams, president, after two years' consideration of the policies governing the change.

The stores involved will start operation under the J. C. Penny company name on January 1, 1928, following the annual inventory of both companies, and the J. C. Penny company will take over the furniture, fixtures, leases and stock of the Golden Rule Mercantile company at this time.

This consolidation will bring together two well-known store organizations which started from a common origin a little over a quarter of a century ago.

TRUCK BOUGHT FOR COUNTY'S FIRE SERVICE

Robinson fire fighting equipment, mounted on a Reo two-ton truck, will supply fire protection for the rural districts of Schoecraft county in the future.

After investigating the various makes of trucks and apparatus, the county's special purchasing committee on Monday decided on the Reo machine as best suited to local needs, and placed their order with the Crawford and Holland sales agency of this city. The truck will be equipped with two chemical tanks of 35 gallon capacity each, one 100-gallon "booster" tank for water, a Barton fire pump, hose body with provision for 1,000 feet of hose, also ladders, hand chemical tanks, and other auxiliary apparatus. The outfit will be capable of making 55 miles per hour. It has a wheel base of 148 inches.

Provision for answering fire calls from outside the city has for some time been under discussion here, and several occasions have arisen where city firemen and trucks have responded to alarms from the farming districts. This had always been recognized as an unwise practice, as a call into the country would leave the city handicapped for fire protection in case of another fire while the truck was out of the city. Recent disastrous fires on farms focused attention on the problem this year, and it was brought up at a recent meeting of the county board. The supervisors saw the need of protection for farm buildings, lake resort properties, and other projects which represent large investments, and voted unanimously for the purchase of a county fire truck, leaving the deal to the discretion of the purchasing committee. Dealers were called into conference at the court house Monday, when the final selection of equipment was made.

Cooperation Essential.

Now that the purchase has been made, residents of the surrounding community will be asked to lend their full cooperation in order to realize the full efficiency of the country fire protection service. As pointed out by Fire Chief C. E. Underwood, water sources must be made available and accessible, roads must be kept open for the fire truck.

Although the new truck will have a large chemical capacity, this will not prove effective in large fires, and an adequate water supply should be assured. Where creeks, rivers or lakes are close by, there should be a road open so that the truck can drive within 10 or 15 feet of the water source, and the same is applicable to wells, tanks, or other farm supplies of water.

Resort owners, many of whom have large holdings in this vicinity, will be asked to keep roads open so that fire apparatus may reach their places in case of emergency.

With all of these precautions taken, it is believed that the county fire truck will be the means of effecting a large material reduction in the annual fire losses of the county, and it is felt that the money expended for purchase of the equipment has been well spent.

Venison Seekers' Licenses Ready

A consignment of deer licenses including 900 resident, 30 non-resident, and 20 camp permits, were received recently by County Clerk G. L. Bouscher, and has been placed in readiness for the annual migration of almsroads.

Deer are reported plentiful in the peninsula as a whole, and a number of near-by hunting places are said to be well supplied with rifle targets. With favorable weather, a big year is predicted in the venison sectors.

A New Yorker in Paris

Paris.—The Apaches, those half-legendary habitués of the Paris underworld, have degenerated into little more than prototypes of New York street gangster. All the romantic flavor has slipped away from them and guides mention them in the past tense, as the Chinatown drivers of New York tell you of the "shirt-tail gang."

Their very district has been invaded and those who claim the glamorous distinction, if any, of "Apache" are youngsters of the gang type who might find it difficult to survive in Hell's Kitchen and who would be put to rout in Chicago.

Time was when the brutal and primitive ways of the Apache and his girls of the half-world were matters of fearsome fiction. Some there are who will tell you that they never did exist in the sense that they have lived in the American movies or the vaudeville dances.

However, even their legends no longer are created.

Those sections of the Montmartre where it was said a stranger could not enter and escape alive, now are occupied by a certain type of working man. It was from one such belt that the leaders of the anti-American demonstrations came not long ago when Sacco-Vanzetti sentiment was running strong.

The Rue de Venise, which looks more like a fissure in a wall than a street, was one of the most famous Apache rendezvous. In this lane, that is little more than a built up cowpath, it is easy to visualize the Paris of Francois Villon. In Racine's time this was a literary gathering place, but now cheap and dirty drinking places mark the corners.

A few steps away are other lanes where the Apache hid out—such as the Aubrey-le-Boucher, around which has been written some of the most blood curdling tales. Other hide-outs dart through the outskirts of Montmartre.

But the Apache, or such of him as is left, has turned his hand to petty and cheap crime, they tell me. He still depends upon his women of the half-world for a living and when times are a bit bad he has connections with spies in big hotels.

Thus, if a little quick money is desired, one of the "hotel jobs"

CORN WHISKY OUTFIT FOUND; MAN ARRESTED

Awaiting hearing on a charge of manufacturing moonshine whiskey, Clarence Beecher of Seney is a guest at the Schoecraft county jail this week. Beecher was arraigned before Justice W. A. McKinney Tuesday morning, and demanded an examination, which was set for November 3.

He was unable to supply the $1,000 recognizance required for his appearance, and returned to the custody of Sheriff J. M. Hewitt.

Complaint in the case was filed by Fred M. Keune of the state police detachment at Newberry, and Beecher was brought to this city by Trooper Hall of the same unit. The Seney man is held as the owner of a complete distilling apparatus found by the officers, which included: One 55-gallon barrel of mash, one sack of corn, a quantity of sugar, a complete still, one three-burner oil stove.

Beecher, in conversing with the officers yesterday, maintained stoutly that he had never made any moonshine. "Well, who made it then?" he was asked. "That's for you to find out, and not for me to say," was his reply.

The hearing will be before Justice McKinney Thursday morning of next week.

is neatly and quickly turned. He does not, however, make a profession of robbery, like the American stick-up man and professional burglar. In fact, he does not, himself, often participate in a robbery. He has his agents attend to that and he arranges through his connections for the sale of stolen goods. After that there are no more thefts until times get hard again. In other words he resorts to robbery only under the pressure of great necessity.

As for his "woman" and "women" they are among the lowest classes in the Paris underworld, which is a large and elaborate industry with branches in almost any neighborhood, with competition from those grisettes who wander the sidewalks of the Opera, the Madeline, the des Italiens or the des Capucines and flirt with the bibbers of the colorful sidewalk cafes.

Westside Takes Soccer Pennant; Basketball Next

By defeating Lakeside 3 to 0 last week, the Westside school retained the soccer football championship for another year. Westside won every scheduled game this season, and was not scored on once.

The Riverside-Lakeside game, which was played off last Thursday, ended the schedule. This was a postponed tilt, and did not affect the championship, inasmuch as Westside already had annexed the pennant. Lakeside trimmed the Riverside boys, Leach and Stoor scoring for the winners.

The lineup of the pennant winners, Westside—Larion, Huggard Ober, Dewey, Gould, Hruska, Berger, Settergren, Johnson, E. Taylor, L. Taylor.

Basketball will be the next inter-school competition. The contests will be played out of doors, each school having been provided an outdoor court with goals. The organization of teams is now in progress, and the schedule will be announced later.

Following is the list of final standings in the soccer league:

Team	P	L	W	Tied	Pct.
Westside	3	0	0	0	1.000
Central	3	1	1	1	.500
Lakeside	3	1	1	1	.500
Riverside	3	3	0	0	.000

AT GERO TONIGHT.

Doris Kenyon and Lloyd Hughes have the featured roles in "Ladies at Play," which is offered for the entertainment of Manistique theater-goers at the Gero tonight.

At least eight characterizations in this picture are splendid; the sort that are at once human but so different that they stand out in the spectator's memory. The plot is gripping from initial flicker to the final "fade," with its fast-moving comedy, contrasting touches of pathos, genuine drama, thrills and surprises, all building upward to a real smash at the climax.

Philo McCollough, Louise Fawcetta, Virginia Lee Corbin, Hallam Cooley, John Patrick and Ethel Wales support the leads. The story deals with the heroine's inheritance of six million dollars with a very embarrassing proviso—that she must marry a man who meets the approval of her spinster aunts in order to get the money.

And the aunts, disgruntled because they didn't figure in the will, make the heroine do a daring trick to outwit them. It's a real punch, that trick—don't miss seeing it!

Announcement has been made of a masquerade party which will be staged Thursday evening at 7:30 in the kindergarten rooms of the Westside school. The event will be under the auspices of the Westside P. T. A. Everyone is invited, and all are urged to come in costume.

LATEST FLARE.
The latest flare comes in the legs of a new maize crepe pajama suit. Starting at the knee, side flares, circular in cut, give graceful fullness.

CITY STIFFENS LOCAL MOTOR VEHICLE LAW

Amendment of Manistique's motor vehicle ordinance to make it conform to recent state regulations, is provided for in a new ordinance submitted to the city council for first reading Monday night. The ordinance is an amendment to No. 95, relative to the operation of motor vehicles, and provides for revoking of drivers' licenses and imposing fines and jail terms, similar to the state law.

One beverage shop license was approved at the meeting Monday night. The applicant was C. L. Barrell, who will operate a place on Deer street.

Bills amounting to $443.08 were allowed. A communication was read inviting Manistique to send a delegate to the meeting of the Great Lakes Harbors association, American and Canadian, which will be held at the King Edward hotel, Toronto, November 16 and 17.

No Fear Now of Offense!

So Sweet and Clean Inside!
No Offensive Vapors
From the Pores

Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in Cascarets, no other laxative in the market would ever be considered. It's no trick to "clean out the bowels." Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as offensive as so much sweat! The old-fashioned way was "sals." They get action, but they take the mucous membrane along with the waste matter! Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowels with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascarize the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascarate is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have "more."

And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try Cascarets tonight—see how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin fresh and fragrant. All druggists, 10c and 25c.

An Asset to the Public Welfare

From the days of axle grease for wagons down to the present era of anti-knock gasoline for high compression motors and aviation gasoline and oil, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has taken the lead.

This Company has endeavored at all times to anticipate mechanical progress. By so doing, it has been able to render signal assistance in the development of mechanical ideas.

By introducing Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline to the motorist of the Middle West, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) did a major service in hurrying forward the development of the high compression motor, which gives increased gasoline mileage—a direct benefit to the 30 million people of the Middle West.

Long ago this Company anticipated the present rapid development of aviation, and when the need arose for special gasoline and fuel, it was ready with proved products—tried and found good.

The mechanical progress which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has aided and anticipated is only important as it touches human life, for that is the ultimate universal goal of which this Company is always conscious.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that the success of an industrial institution is determined by its contribution to the public welfare. It owes its own successful growth to an active creed of service.

In three distinct ways this Company has proved itself an asset to the public welfare. It has provided petroleum products of sustained high quality for the people of the Middle West—when and where needed—at minimum prices. It has employed to the fullest possible advantage the capital of the more than 50,000 stockholders. It has utilized the time and ability of 29,000 employes for the good of all concerned.

Scientific elimination of waste, able management, and the efficiency made possible by quantity production, enable the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to reward satisfactorily stockholders and employes (thousands of whom are also stockholders) for their investments of money and labor.

Within the organization this Company has contributed very directly to human welfare by instituting the Death Benefits Plan, Annuity Plan, Industrial Relations Plan and Stock Purchasing Plans for the benefit of its employes.

Thus in ways direct and indirect the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has promoted the public welfare and the nation's progress.

While it takes a pardonable pride in the progress of the past, this Company is not satisfied. It is always stretching forward—moving on to new achievements. Daily it strives for improvement—seeking to bring life "nearer to the heart's desire" for its vast army of workers, seeking to serve the 30 million people of the Middle West with wider vision and greater skill.

Are you fighting against middle-age?

ONE OF the most critical periods of a woman's life comes between 45 and 60. Most women dread the approach of middle-age because they know, only too well, the depressing ailments it brings.

The best preparation for this period a woman can have is a good physical condition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help her to gain strength and energy. It builds up the appetite and induces natural sleep. The following letters were written by women of middle-age.

AFTER LONG SUFFERING

South Omaha, Nebraska:—"After fifteen years of terrible suffering each month with sick headaches I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have felt my health steadily improving. After taking your medicine for almost a year and a half, I believe I can say the headaches have left me. I also was troubled with nervousness. I am feeling fine now and do all my work myself. I am the mother of six, and manage an eight-room house without anybody to help. I feel that I am entirely well. Mrs. Adolph Bratke, 4316 South 13th St., So. Omaha, Nebraska.

MRS. BOLLERMAN'S CASE

West Hoboken, N.J.:—"I was troubled with headaches, weakness, flushes of heat to the face and head and loss of appetite. I would often get so weak I could hardly stand. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take the medicine. After the first few bottles I began to feel stronger and could eat better and had fewer headaches. I am a well woman today, and feel like a different person. You may use this letter for every word is true. I will answer any letters sent to me." Mrs. Jennie Bollerman, 611 E. Eleventh St., Union City, New Jersey.

Remember this package. None genuine without the signature of Lydia E. Pinkham.

WILL RETIRE BOND ISSUE

Resolutions in Connection With Action Are Passed.

A number of business matters were taken up by the city commission at its regular meeting Monday night, the most of them connected with payment of the large bond issue.

BY FRANK LEA SHORT For NEA Service New York—Joseph Santley's first production, "Just Fancy," now is being offered at the Casino theatre, and it is a delightful performance.

Joseph Santley is one of the most thoroughly popular young men among his fellow professionals. He was practically born in the theatre, and those who remember him as a boy actor in such terrible things as "Billy the Kid" scarcely will recognize the finished musical comedy star that he is today.

Charles Wagner is presenting Madge Kennedy and Sidney Blackmer at the Mansfield theatre in a play by Alice Duer Miller entitled "The Springboard."

Nikita Balleff and his "Chauve Souris" troupe from the Moscow Bat theatre are with us again. As usual it is a colorful, lively entertainment.

I had a most amusing time with M. Balleff upon an occasion when Morris West insisted upon my breaking into a business conference he and Balleff were having.

THEATRES

AT THE LYRIC. Those who like auto speed races—and we wonder who in these days of speed craze doesn't—there is certainly a great treat in store when they see "Crack O' Dawn," the new Harry Brown-Rayart comedy drama at the Lyric theatre today and tomorrow.

"The story of "Crack O' Dawn" concerns one Earle Thorpe, Sr., one Henry Thompson, the son of one and the daughter of the other. Thorpe and Thompson have been partners in the manufacture of the Thorpe-Thompson car.

"THE BIG PARADE."

The long awaited showing of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Big Parade" in Gladstone occurred last evening at the Rialto theatre, where a large audience greeted the film with unprecedented enthusiasm.

The reality of war has finally been brought home in this magnificent picture. Its reality, its horror, its tragedy-comedy and its romance have in this instance been woven into a true epic.

BAUER WILL BE READY TO PLAY

Veteran Tackle's Injuries to Be Unnoticed by Saturday.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 25—(AP)—The assured presence of Ray Bauer, veteran tackle, in the affair Saturday at Urbana when Illinois and Michigan, both unbeaten or untied conference teams, meet in the most important game of the conference for the week-end, strengthens the hope that "Tad" Wieman's squad may juggle the championship contender.

Bauer was removed from the Ohio State game last Saturday, exhausted, cut and with a bruised arm. His injuries will be forgotten by the end of the week, the trainers announce.

The squad has again been sent into secret practice with reports leaking out that a running attack is being developed to augment the overhead game which beat both Wisconsin and Ohio State. It is considered possible Coach Wieman is attempting to develop a line plunging, off tackle cutting backfield threat that will cause the Illinois and later opponents to draw in their secondary defense, allowing the unloading of the Bennie to Louis passing combination.

With a strong, hard fighting line Michigan has yet to show a backfield capable of maintaining a running offensive. As a result the opposing defense has been able to spread and concentrate on potential pass receivers.

But it is pointed out the strength of the Michigan line with the hard-hitting Osterbaan, Baer, Nyland and other linemen will do much to disturb the running or passing offensive of the Illinois considered as effective as any in the game today.

State Squad Works to Improve Speed

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 25—(AP)—Speed in attack and frequent resort to the aerial route apparently are the methods by which Michigan State college will attempt to effect the downfall of the University of Detroit football team at the homecoming game here Saturday.

State's fastest backs, Capt. Paul Smith, Vern Dickson, Ernest Deason and Jim McCosh, have been appearing regularly in the backfield in the scrimmage sessions here representing State with a backfield capable of kicking, passing and running the ball. The four men are considered at their best when driving off the tackles and ends. Capt. Smith admittedly is one of the best kickers in the state and McCosh is a close second.

Even in the line, weight is giving place to speed with Chester Smith, negro sophomore, appearing regularly at a guard position.

State is spending much time in developing a speedy team for the remainder of her season's games.

BUILD RESERVE LINE.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25—(AP)—Efforts to build a reserve forward wall as effective as the first line of defense that faced Northwestern

TO PICK LEAGUE HEAD ON NOV. 2

American Clubs to Name Successor to Ban Johnson.

Chicago, Oct. 25—(AP)—The successor to Ban Johnson as president of the American League will be named at a meeting of the board of directors here November 2. Frank J. Navin, vice president and acting head of the league since Johnson resigned a week ago today, called a special meeting of the league directors for election of a new president. The board members are Mr. Navin, Ben Shibe of Philadelphia, Phil Ball of St. Louis, and Clark Griffith of Washington.

Mr. Navin gave no indication as to the choice of club owners, but rumblings from within the circuit indicate that E. S. Barnard, president of the Cleveland club, will be chosen. There have been intimations that Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, favored someone else, but Ruppert's candidate has not become generally known.

Harridge in Charge.

Chicago White Sox, and spokesman for Charles A. Comisky, owner of the club, said the majority of the club owners favor Barnard's election. He has been identified with the Cleveland club in the capacity of secretary and later president for several years.

William Harridge, for 15 years private secretary to the retiring president, Johnson, has again assumed active charge of the league's affairs until the new chief is appointed.

Johnson, out of baseball for the first time since 1923, when he was a sports writer at Cincinnati, is on the first lap of his period of rest, taking treatment at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

DEER HAS "RHINO" HORN.

San Francisco—Some curious prank of nature has given one of the deer in Yosemite National Park a horn like a rhinoceros. The freak growth projects through the roof of its upper jaw, halfway between nose and eyes. The deer is very tame, but disappears once a year to shed both his antlers and the strange middle horn.

DINNERS BY AIRPLANE.

Reno, Nev.—When W. H. Moffatt, millionaire cattleman of Nevada, celebrated the opening of his hunting lodge near Reno, he served 60 guests with a dinner that had been prepared a few hours before in San Francisco. Marius la Faille, chef of the Hotel St. Francis, prepared the courses, which were taken to Reno by airplane in special, electrically heated containers.

DIRECTOR RESIGNS.

Columbus, O., Oct. 25—(AP)—Din of the anvil chorus which began its knocking as soon as Michigan's football team had hung up another victory over Ohio State last Saturday was heard far and wide in Ohio today.

A group of irreconcilables to the present regime of things athletic at Ohio State became more

Fans Clamoring for Scalp of Coach John Wilce of Ohio State

Chicago, Oct. 25—(AP)—Football coaches changed places at three of the western conference schools this fall and the "downtown coaches" association is clamoring for the scalp of another one, Coach John W. Wilce of Ohio State, because of successive defeats by Northwestern and Michigan.

The rumpus may inspire the Buckeyes to upset Coach Stagg's Chicago Maroons at Columbus next Saturday. But Stagg so far has demonstrated his success at the type of game which defeated the Ohioans at Ann Arbor, 21 to 0.

Coach Zupke is working the Illinois squad for reserve backfield power for his meeting with Michigan in just a week after he defeated Northwestern, which shared the 1926 title with Yost's squad.

The Michigan eleven went through tag scrimmage today against Illinois plays because several members of the team are still sore from bumps in the Ohio battle. Coach Kipke took Louis Gilbert in charge for a long period of instruction in certain kinds of kicks to use against the Illinois.

Adding power to the Minnesota forward line so it may be able to outcharge and outblock the formidable Wisconsin line Saturday was the principal item of business in the Gopher camp today.

Scouting reports show less than a half dozen first downs have been forced through the Badger line by rushing this season.

LOOK ALIKE TO IRISH

Knute Rockne must work on the theory that the bigger they are, the harder they fall, in compiling the annual football schedule for Notre Dame.

Each year, the famous coach of the "Fighting Irish" tackles a schedule that would be the cause for grave concern for the average mentor, but not Rockne.

In the west, Notre Dame takes on two eleven from the Western Conference group, Minnesota and Indiana. The result of these games will offer an excellent chance for comparison with the Big Ten.

Annapolis and West Point are met in the east. Rockne has already added the Navy to his list of victims and expects to do likewise with the Army.

System Radically Wrong.

Suggestion made at a meeting of Ohio State alumni at Cleveland that two-thirds of the players who participated in the Michigan game turn in their suits, that Ohio State get a new head coach, or that a decided shakeup of the team be instituted.

Taking the ovation given Dr. Wilce as an endorsement of his regime, Raymond resigned, saying that he felt "there is something radically wrong with the system in vogue. I don't feel that I can continue to serve as president of an organization that is supposed to be a loyal backer of present regime," he said. Raymond, varsity tackle in 1910, 1911 and 1912, was one-time all-American choice of several sports writers.

Dr. Wilce attributed Saturday's unsatisfactory showing against Michigan to several things, among which were these: "The after-effect of a warring element within the team which had been eliminated just prior to the game by a shift in the lineup.

A great over-rating of the Ohio State team early in the season.

A difficult schedule drawn to meet the "community demand" rather than with the idea of winning games.

Belief that all teams which have met Ohio State so far this year have been "pointed" for the Buckeyes.

End Disobeyed Orders.

Dr. Wilce denied that the coaching staff has neglected to emphasize blocking and tackling. He admitted there were many tackles missed in the Michigan game, but said that they happened at a time when they were most costly and noticeable.

Failure of Ohio defensive men to "follow" the particular Michigan man designated for him to watch caused collapse of the forward pass defense, he said.

Similarly, he said, Koran, end, had failed to follow instructions to watch for the famous Michigan "33" play, which led to a Wolverine touchdown. This play, known as a favorite Yost trick, is a fake kick from placement.

HILLTOPS MAKE READY FOR SOO

Coach Roels gave his football warriors a stiff offensive workout last night in an attempt to strengthen the scoring punch of the Highlanders.

Tommy Powers, who proved his driving power in the Iron Mountain game, was especially efficient in gaining ground against the second string men. A few of the plays used in the last few games were remodelled to get more power and a few more plays were added to the Highlanders' repertoire.

Undaunted by the last two reverses suffered by them, the Roellers have been working hard and are determined to even the count by trimming the Soo at the Soo this Saturday. The forward wall charged furiously against the seconds who were using Soo formations and stopped them before they hit the line of scrimmage. On offense, the same determination was shown by the smashing line drives and off-tackle smashes of Roels' first string men.

Pelton, fleet second string back, was again injured in the scrimmage but it is expected that he will make the trip with the squad and will be able to play if necessary.

Stogah, who has been laid up for five weeks with infected feet, reported for practice last night and showed up well in the scrimmage. Erdman also was back in the harness and will be in fine shape for the battle against the Lock City boys.

The schedule for tonight's practice calls for a stiff defensive drill with the seconds using Soo formations and for more offensive work.

QUIT PRO FOOTBALL

A chance to become a sure enough big leaguer has apparently caused Walter French of the Philadelphia Athletics to cut down on professional football.

I note where he has signed to assist in coaching football at Swarthmore.

French gained fame in football and baseball at West Point. Connie Mack signed him because of his proficiency in the latter. For a couple of years French did little more than warm the bench as a big leaguer. In the fall he annually switched to professional football.

A year ago, he suffered a shoulder injury that for a time threatened to seriously handicap his career as a big leaguer. When the trouble mended, he got a chance to work as a regular for the Athletics and won his spurs last season. His batting featured

Now with a chance to become a major league star, French has apparently decided the chances taken in football are not in keeping with the possibilities offered in baseball.

LOSS OF STAR HURTS

Brown, after several years of great success on the gridiron, appears to be in for one of those bad years, that come every so often in any line of sport.

In the first two big games of the year, Brown, with much the

STIFF ARMING

No football player can become a great broken field runner unless he has plenty of natural ability. A coach cannot create ability but he can improve it.

Contrary to the general belief, most coaches do not regard speed as the most important asset. Agility, the ability to dodge and squirm away from on-rushing tacklers, comes first; then speed, and last, but not least, a change of pace.

"Red" Grange had plenty of speed, yet it was his change of pace that for years made him outstanding among college halfbacks. Grange could run at sharp angles at full speed, then come almost to a stop, change his course and be off again back in high with little or no loss of time.

Change of pace is the ability to outwit the opposition either by a burst of speed at the opportune time or by a slowing down when it is the correct thing to do. It is the art of deceiving the tackler, who, after timing the speed of the man with the ball and getting all set to make a play-off him, has all his dope thrown out of gear when the ball toter puts on an added burst of speed or slows up just as he is almost to throw himself at him.

Change of pace is considered by most coaches a natural gift to the player, which they can often improve by suggestion. A keen eye and good judgment in picking spots are also very essential for open field running.

A good straight arm is a great help. The straight arm is a sharp push; after it is delivered the arm must be drawn away quickly, so as to keep the tackler from getting hold of it and pulling the runner down. The favorite spot for the straight arm is the face, there being no restrictions as to how the runner can employ it, other than the fact that he cannot strike a blow. The straight arm must be a push.

FOOTBALL FUNDAMENTALS

As Told By Famous Coaches TO BILLY EVANS

Handling of the ball is very important in open field running. There are three styles of dodging; one is called the "jack-rabbit," the second is known as the pivot, the third type is called the "cross-over."

In the "jack-rabbit," the runner angles off sharply from either foot, with never a curve in his course. In the pivot, the runner makes a complete pivot away from the tackler by spinning in a complete circle on either foot. In the "cross-over," the ball carrier plants solidly the foot opposite the approaching tackler and swings the leg nearest the tackler, in front of the planted foot, then he is on his way again.

Short, wiry players use the pivot style of dodging best; long-legged, rangy men, the "cross-over," while those in between, like the "jack-rabbit."

Fiftieth Anniversary of Swedish Methodist Church is Celebrated

One of the outstanding events of the year was the celebration held at the Swedish Methodist church Tuesday evening commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the church in this city. More than 200 members of the congregation and a number of former members now living in other cities, also several former pastors who came to this city for the occasion, gathered at the church auditorium at 6:45. They were then taken to the church parlors and seated at the banquet tables, which were decorated in gold and white flowers, long white wax tapers and a gold border adorned the napkins. Streamers of gold and white crepe tissue paper formed a canopy over the tables and 25 young ladies waited on the guests. A committee of women of the congregation served an excellent banquet, the color scheme of white and gold being carried out in the food.

After the banquet, Oscar Gidlund, who acted as toastmaster, introduced the speakers in his usual capable manner, an excellent program of speeches and vocal and instrumental music was carried out.

Among the former pastors who attend the banquet were Rev. L. G. Edgren, Norway, Mich.; Rev. Andrew Anderson, St. Paul, Minn.; Axel G. Pearson, Ironwood. Other clergymen present were Revs. Walter Clark, Bark River; O. Munson, Marinette, and O. R. Palm, who recently entered his sixteenth year as pastor of the congregation.

Former Pastors Speak.

Reverend Palm gave the address of welcome to the pastors and guests. Invocation was given by Rev. W. Clark of Bark River. A piano solo by Mrs. Monson of Marinette, a vocal solo by Mrs. Ivan Stromberg of Iron Mountain, a duet by Miss Anna Jackson and Miss Anna A. Anderson, a vocal solo by Reverend Monson and music by Mr. Anderson and Miss Anona Anderson during the banquet were well rendered.

Rev. L. G. Edgren of Norway, now retired from the ministry, gave a very eloquent talk, telling of the struggles of his church here in the year 1859, when he came to this city as pastor. He also recalled many of the charter members of the church who were present at the banquet last night. He told of the church, which was a small frame building. He described Ludington street as it was in the early days, paved with small cedar blocks and pebbles, and stated that he had only fond memories of the years spent here as a young man preaching the gospel.

Reverend Edgren told how the members of the congregation drove to this city in sleighs and wagons to attend services. Some of these people lived at Flat Rock and Bark River. Among them was John Gunderson, now the oldest man in the congregation, who attended the banquet and who, although he is past four score years and ten, is still interested in all church affairs.

Rev. Andrew Anderson of St. Paul, who held the pastorate here from 1893 to 1896, gave a very good address, and caused many hearty laughs as he recounted some of the incidents of the time which he spent in this city.

Reverend Anderson used as his topic "Someone Trusts Me," and gave his address in Swedish.

Rev. Axel G. Pearson, a speaker well-known among the local audiences, gave an interesting address and defined the five principles of success, namely: "Loyalty to a cause bigger than yourself, Cooperation, Hopefulness, Friendliness and the Spirit of Godliness."

Reverend Palm gave the history of the church and prayers were offered by Reverend Monson of Marinette.

History of Church.

The Swedish Methodist church of this city was organized by a group of pious Swedish people in the year 1877 and they held their first services at the home of the late P. M. Peterson, 820 First avenue south. They asked for a pastor, and Rev. A. R. Gustafson answered the call to this city. Later, they built a small frame building on the corner of First avenue south and Ninth street, which later was moved to Fourteenth street and Third avenue south, later becoming the First Baptist church. On the site of the first Swedish Methodist church, the First Presbyterian church now stands.

The various pastors who worked in this city included Revs. A. R. Gustafson, P. B. Smith, J. R. Andrews, L. Dahlgren, A. Farrell, O. S. Olander, K. J. Bohlin, A. Upping, F. O. B. Wallin, H. O. Peterson, L. G. Edgren, Solomon Lundberg, H. Bovle, F. Gustafson, Levedahl Victor Swift, Andrew Anderson, A. E. Lind, C. H. Sundstrom, A. E. Sjodjng, A. G. Pearson, William Lundin, C. E. Schildt, Louis Johnson and O. R. Palm.

It was during the pastorate of Rev. Andrew Anderson that the present church was built. The trustees borrowed $4300, and started the new edifice, which is modern in every way, and which is a credit to the congregation. Last year it was entirely renovated and decorated, a new lighting system installed and many other alterations added to it.

The congregation is prosperous and with several well-organized societies, among the ladies, men and younger people by whom many social functions have been given which added materially to the funds of the church.

Celebration Continues.

Several charter members of the congregation attended the celebration which was a grand success from every standpoint. Many letters and telegrams of congratulations from former pastors and members were received and read by Reverend Palm.

Out-of-town guests included Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson, St. Paul, Minn.; Rev. and Mrs. M. Monson, Marinette; Rev. and Mrs. Walter Clark, Bark River; Rev. A. G. Pearson, Ironwood;

Rev. and Mrs. L. G. Edgren, Norway, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stromberg, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stenberg, Newhall; Mrs. Alfred Stenberg, Green Bay; Mrs. A. R. Carlsson, Marquette, and Sven Hall, Perkins.

The celebration will continue throughout the week. The services this evening will be conducted in English with Reverend Pearson giving an address entitled, "Europe as Seen by an American," based on a recent trip abroad, when he attended the Rotarian convention in Belgium.

A small admission fee will be charged this evening only.

Thursday evening, Reverend Pearson will deliver an address of great interest to the young people and every one is cordially invited to hear him.

Friday evening, Rev. Andrew Anderson will speak in Swedish and on Sunday morning, services will consist of the Lord's Supper and a sermon by Reverend Anderson. The evening sermon will be given by Rev. E. F. Lind of Marinette.

The public is invited to all these services.

LISBON GREETS AMERICAN GIRL

Welcome Sounded From Land, Sea and Air for Ruth Elder

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A welcome which sounded from land and sea and air greeted Ruth Elder and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, when the American flyers arrived here this evening aboard the steamer Lima from the Azores, after their bold Atlantic flight and dramatic rescue from the ocean.

Airplanes circled over the adventurous couple, harbor craft swarmed about the steamer while whistles screeched greetings and the vast concourse of enthusiastic people at the docks and in the city streets shouted joyfully, welcoming them to the old world.

Before debarking, Miss Elder was met by Fred Morris Dearling, the American minister to Portugal, and the staff of the American legation. Maj. Sarmiento Belres, the Portuguese aviator who made a flight of the South Atlantic, climbed aboard with other airmen to extend congratulations to the visitors from America.

Appears Happy.

When they had landed, they were driven to the house of General Carmona, president of the republic, who praised their gallantry and expressed delight over their rescue and their visit to his country. Then the tired, but smiling Americans were taken to the American legation which will be their headquarters during their Lisbon stay.

The American girl appeared very happy and touched by the cordiality of her welcome. Scores of messages from all parts of the world, awaiting her arrival, were showered upon her. One incident at the landing moved her deeply.

Breaking through the police cordon, a group of students rushed forward and spread their cloaks upon the ground, carpeting the way for the pretty little American. This brought cheers from the admiring crowds, and it was with difficulty that the pair were rescued and hurried off to receive the president's greetings.

All Lisbon seems to have been awaiting the arrival of the girl, whose fame had long preceded her. Crowds gathered early to glimpse the first coming of the Lima. On the bridge of the vessel, when it came in view were standing Miss Elder and Haldeman.

Drop Flowers on Ship.

The crew of another plane had waited specially to pay due homage to the American aviators. Ruth watched it in its roaring flight, and wondered if it would be more favored by the fates than her own plane.

Two planes, flying down the river, dropped flowers on the deck of the Lima. One hovered low and took pictures as the vessel, with the two aviators on the captain's bridge, glided slowly to its anchorage.

Ruth still was garbed in her knee breeches and sport sweater—on her head was the jaunty cap of Captain Goos of the Dutch tanker Barendrecht which snatched them from the sea several hundred miles from the Azores. But it was not until the doctor came aboard and gave a clean bill of health that the welcome forces could approach the gangway, and the aviators leave the ship. And the little aviatrix looked quite as pretty as she had been pictured, with hair wind-blown and cheeks rosy from the breezes of the sea. She said she had enjoyed the trip greatly, but was glad to be again near land.

Plans Uncertain.

Coming ashore, they were greeted with a shouting, scuffling crowd which swarmed around them and made landing difficult. It was a good-natured, enthusiastic crowd, whose only desire was to get close enough to have a good look at the fearless aviator and air-man. But soon the path was cleared, and the cheering crowds were left behind.

There seems to be some doubt as to future plans. It was at first thought they would fly to Madrid, but when the invitation of the Spanish Aero club was received, with the promise that a popular welcome would greet them at the Spanish capital, they sent a reply, expressing keen appreciation, but regretting their inability to accept. They expect to leave Lisbon Thursday by airplane, flying direct to Paris. Several planes have been offered them for this purpose.
