TAX REDUCTION MUST COME IN JOINT MEETING

REVISION WILL NOT BE MADE BY OTHER AGENCIES

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Nov. 7.—If ever there was anything certain about tax revision it is that the new tax law will be written in the conference committee of both houses of congress and not in the treasury department or the ways and means committee of the house or the finance committee of the senate or in the caucus of any political party or group.

When the final bill is written it may be approximate some of the proposals being made by Secretary Mellon but this will be a coincidence rather than the result of any deliberate planning.

For it is evident that sentiment on just where the cut in taxes shall be made is just about as confused as the estimates of what the total tax reduction could be with safety.

Must Decide on Cuts.

The clamor of interested groups has begun. The cry for the repeal of special taxes by the motor industry, the theaters, etc., indicates a spirited fight with political alignment broken up.

The politicians will have a difficult time deciding where the cuts should be made that can yield the maximum amount of gratitude in votes. For obviously the people of small income are not going to get enough of a change to make them aware of a tax cut.

The only opportunity to reach the masses is through indirect taxes as well as through the improved conditions of corporations whose securities have been widely distributed. There are various estimates, of course, as to how many people have a financial interest in corporations nowadays but it is considered no exaggeration to place the figure in the neighborhood of ten million persons.

The question of how far the tax cut shall go whether it could be $400,000,000 as advocated by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States or $500,000,000 as suggested by Representative Garner, ranking democrat on the house ways and means committee or $225,000,000 as recommended by Secretary Mellon and President Coolidge is largely academic.

The leaders of congress know from experience that when they get down to the juggling of the various estimates of what each division of taxes will produce they are dependent upon treasury figures.

Depends On Business. The productivity of a tax rate depends to no small extent on current business conditions as well as the inevitable growth of the country. One guess based upon treasury figures as to what the future will do is just as good as another but congress just the same is not likely to vary more than fifty to seventy-five million dollars over Secretary Mellon's proposal. Mr. Mellon has learned to place his estimates low enough to allow for the congressional habit of going above his figures.

As for the specific proposals, congress will reserve the right to eliminate and substitute and even add new forms of taxation depending upon the sentiment of the members when they return here. The bill may go through the house with one set of rates but that will be merely to expedite its journey to the senate and ultimately to the conference committee.

Revenue Collector Files Appeal from Judgment of Court

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—(AP)—An appeal from the judgment of the United States district court of appeals at Detroit awarding Alice G. Kales of Detroit a refund of $2,827,398 with interest at six per cent from March 24, 1925, relative to sale of Ford Motor company stock, was filed in the United States circuit court of appeals today by Fred L. Woodward, collector of internal revenue at Detroit.

Mrs. Kales sought the return of the sum plus interest on sale in 1919 of 525 shares of common stock of the Ford Motor company, valued at $12,500 a share.

The government in allowing the sale to go to the court of appeals without argument, declared their sole contention was that the action of a federal officer was not affected by a predecessor. Mrs. Kales contended the increased value placed upon the stock in 1925 over a previous valuation in 1919 was illegal and sought return of the additional value and interest thereon.

Expense Accounts of Witnesses to be Investigated

British Aviator Plans Flight to New Zealand

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Capt. Frederick A. Giles, British war ace, plans to hop off next Friday across the Pacific ocean on a three-stop solo flight of nearly 12,000 miles from San Francisco to Wellington, New Zealand. His Hess Bluebird biplane, Wanda, is being assembled at Mills Field here.

The perilous undertaking was described as a "purely sporting proposition," backed by W. H. Rosewarne, a New Zealand construction engineer, living in Detroit, Mich.

Capt. Giles said he intended to hop to Honolulu, thence to Brisbane, Australia, by way of the Fiji island group. From Brisbane he plans to fly to Sydney, New South Wales, and on to Wellington. "I will fly alone," Giles said. "The ship is capable of making 90 miles an hour under full load. After the first ten hours, I can stretch out to a cruising speed of 105 miles an hour or a full speed of 125 miles an hour." Giles estimated his flight from Detroit to Wellington would take him 12,101 miles.

Capt. Giles' plane was shipped to San Francisco by train from Elko, Nev., where he crashed recently while taking off for the coast on the last leg of a flight from Detroit. The British flyer originally planned to start his long trans-Pacific flight on August 16, last, flying to Honolulu with the air racers in the Dole aerial derby, but weather conditions and repair work on his plane forced several postponements.

He made a few unscheduled stops on account of weather and forced landings on his flight from Detroit to San Francisco and in the accident at Elko, one wing and fuselage of Giles' plane were damaged. Repairs were made at a local airplane factory.

Capt. Giles lived in Australia for three years. During the World war he was a captain in the royal air force of Great Britain, and he declared, is officially credited with bringing down seven enemy planes and one balloon.

DETROIT VOTERS TO PICK MAYOR

Smith Makes Final Campaign Speech Last Night

Detroit, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A final appeal by Mayor John W. Smith in a radio address to Detroit voters tonight marked the close of a mayoralty campaign unprecedented in the political history of the city. John C. Lodge, Mayor Smith's opponent, in the election Tuesday maintained the silence which has marked him as the sole candidate for mayor in the history of this city who has refrained from making speeches in the belief that "the office should seek the man."

Charges and denials from both political camps, although not issued with the stamp of Mayor Smith or Lodge, that last minute attempts have been made to inject religious issues into the campaign, featured the final hours.

A check of alleged fraudulent registrations by Richard W. Reading, city clerk, was being continued despite charges that voters were being disfranchised by a purposeful attempt to intimidate them. To this charge, Mr. Reading replied:

"I am not interested in any candidacy, but I am interested in keeping the election clean and eliminating fraud."

More than 100 warrants have been issued against persons accused of registering falsely and approximately 1,200 other cases are awaiting final investigation by the prosecuting attorney's office.

Prohibition Not An Issue. Although the voters are asked to pass upon various municipal ordinances including one which would permit a private concern to build an international subway between Detroit and Windsor, the majority campaign held the stage.

The "wet and dry" question injected into the campaign by Mayor Smith, who declared that the prohibition laws could not be strictly enforced in large cities, has played an important part in the campaign, although both wet and dry organizations have declared it is not an issue.

Mr. Lodge's supporters have avoided discussion of prohibition enforcement inasmuch as their candidate has not endorsed or attacked the dry movement.

A record vote is forecast.

Lindbergh Arrives at Selfridge Field

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, flying a single seater army pursuit plane, arrived at Selfridge field at 3:50 p. m. today, accompanied by Major Thomas G. Lanphier, commandant, in another single seater. Lieut. Irwin Woodring and Hoyt Prindle also escorted the "flying colonel."

The squadron had left Buffalo at 2:05 p. m. Flying almost wing to wing they circled the field once and came down to greet before a crowd of several hundred persons who had gathered to greet them.

The flyers suffered from the cold. Colonel Lindbergh, his teeth chattering, was unable to display his famous grin and was hurried off to Major Lanphier's quarters to warm up after the flight.

MEMBER OF COMMISSION QUIZES GREEN

MICHIGAN EXECUTIVE PAYING OWN EXPENSES

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A promised investigation of the expense accounts of tomorrow's witnesses and rough handling of the treasury's plan to continue to collect a tax from the thousands of persons who buy new automobiles enlivened today's tax hearings by the house ways and means committee.

While Governor Green of Michigan was advocating repeal of the estate or inheritance tax, Representative Rainey, Democrat, Illinois, interrupted to ask if he knew anything about a lobby seeking such action.

The governor said he did not, and added: "I paid my own expenses to Washington."

"I'm glad of that," snapped Rainey. "There's going to be an investigation of who's supporting that lobby."

"I'm here at my own expense," reiterated the governor. "It's the most expensive lobby I know," continued Rainey. "I propose to ask that question to all witnesses appearing on the estate tax."

Tax Not War Measure. The committee tomorrow will hear a group of witnesses on the inheritance tax, including members here attending a three-day session of the national council of state legislators, which seeks, among other things, repeal of this levy.

Governor Borah of North Dakota, spoke briefly at the opening session of the council today, favoring repeal of the inheritance tax. He said it was no longer a war measure, but was a regulatory law.

Representative Rainey declared after today's session of the ways and means committee that he would introduce a resolution to ascertain who was paying the expenses of the estate tax witnesses unless some Republican member of congress should do so.

Rainey's reference to the estate levy momentarily interrupted a running fire of criticisms by representatives of automobile associations of the treasury's proposal to retain the three per cent sales tax on automobiles.

Heads of national associations were supported in their argument by representatives from local clubs, upwards of a dozen witnesses declaring the levy should be repealed.

The group unanimously held that the tax, an inheritance from the war, had no place in a peace time tax structure, and disagreed with Secretary Mellon that the levy was necessary to a well-balanced tax system.

Would Reduce Auto's Cost. George M. Graham, Toledo, O., said that the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which he represented, in urging repeal of the levy, spoke for every automobile producer in the country except the Ford company and he presented a letter signed by Edsel Ford, which in part said:

"It seems to us that the continuation of the federal excise tax upon automobiles represents discriminatory legislation against an article which today forms an essential part of the nation's necessary transportation facilities."

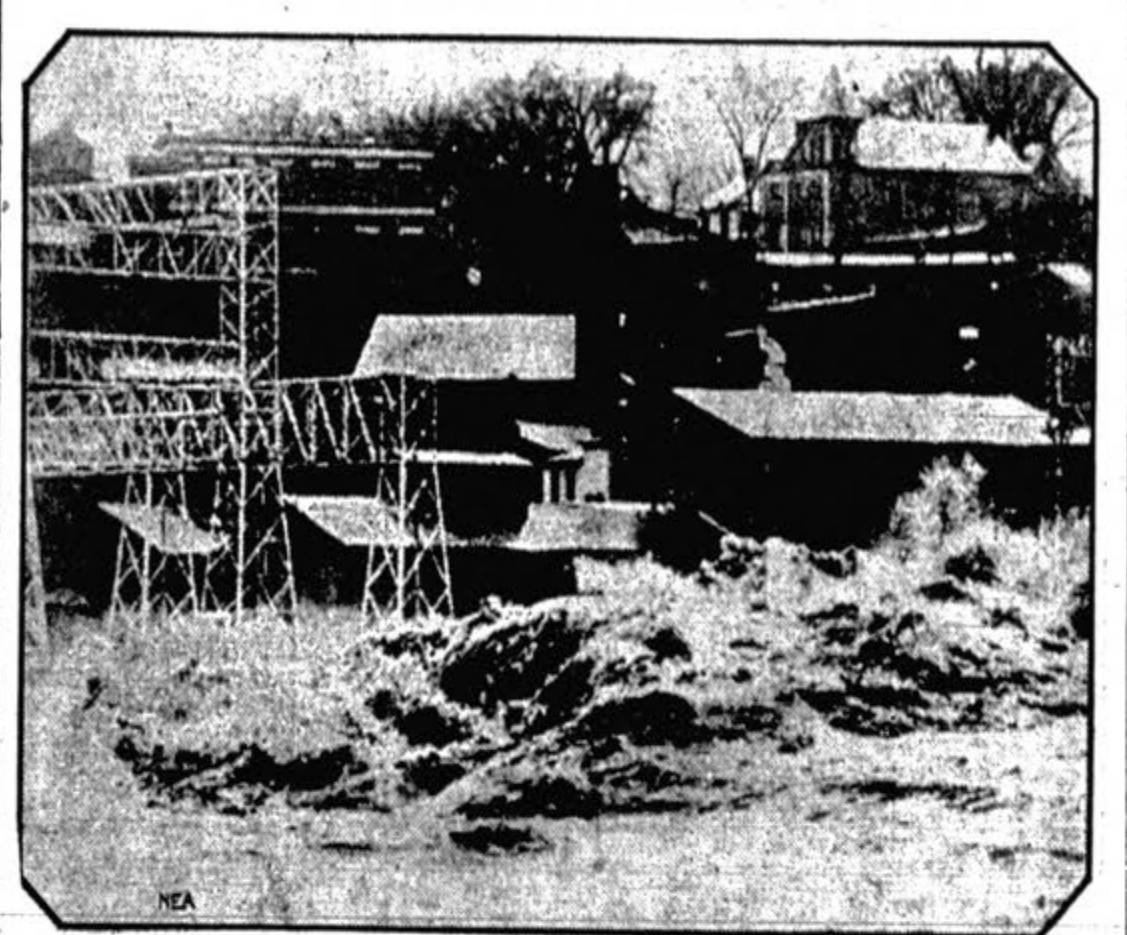

Graham declared producers would reduce the cost of automobiles by the amount of the tax, and argued that the treasury's classification of an automobile as a semi-luxury also might be applied to bath tubs, which like the automobile, were popular on the week-end.

Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association, said he voiced the views of that organization's 1,000,000 members in advocating repeal of the levy.

"We protest most emphatically against attempts by treasury officials to cloud the present issue by tying in the question of federal aid on roads. We have no quarrel with the railroads. Both railroads and automobiles have won their places in the realm of transportation."

Henry called attention that while the taxes on automobiles and pistols had been retained, those on sporting goods, chewing gum, furs, yachts, motor boats, art works, silk socks, jewelry, perfume and cosmetics had been

NEW ENGLAND FLOOD WORST IN HISTORY

A death list amounting to 132, and property damage of many millions were caused by the rampage of New England rivers. Above is pictured the Connecticut river roaring through Bellows Falls, Vermont, where it wrecked industrial plants and inundated parts of the city. It is hammering at the Babbitt paper mills here.

Backfires Started from Two Sources in Oil Lease Trial

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Backfires were started today from two different sources by those who have come under grilling in the government investigation of charges of tampering in the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial.

William J. Burns, founder of the detective agency bearing his name, gave life to the first with charge that the only agent who made contact with any member of the now dismissed jury was not a Burns' man, but an employee of the federal government itself. That employe promptly gave the "lie" direct to that accusation.

Edward J. Kidwell, celebrated juror No. 11, filed a petition with Justice Siddons asking for a contempt rule against the street car conductor and newspaper reporter who said he talked freely about the case during the trial and expressed the hope of getting an automobile a block long. Action on the petition was deferred.

The grand jury inquiring into the charges of attempts to influence the jury laid against Harry F. Sinclair and his confidential agent, Henry Mason Day, drove ahead steadily with its work, examining eight witnesses and preparing to continue its inquiry for many more days.

Employe, Reporter Talked. Burns, the first of the day's witnesses, started his listeners with a demand to know why the district attorney has not made public a complaint and affidavit filed by his agents with Justice Siddons last Friday making charges against a government man.

"The only person who has made contact with one of the jurors was a government employe and a newspaper reporter," he declared in a high-pitched voice that must have carried to the grand jurors in a nearby room.

There was a scattering of the news men, some heading for District Attorney Gordon's office and others for the chambers of Justice Siddons. The justice, who was

ONE KILLED IN SHANGHAI RIOT

White Russians Mob Meeting of Bolsheviks in Chinese City

Shanghai, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Celebration of the tenth anniversary of the bolshevik revolution of 1917 was marked by an attack upon the soviet consulate by "white" Russians, with the resultant death of at least one person and the injury of eleven others.

With the attacking mob dispersed, police tonight were patrolling the neighborhood of the consulate and no further disorder was expected. However, as an additional safety measure, heavy police patrols were stationed in the Chapel district, which is heavily populated by Russians, in order to prevent the gathering of further mobs.

The riot began during a reception in the consular building in honor of the anniversary. A group of white Russians, representing the classes that were expelled after the bolsheviks gained control, gathered about the building. As the crowd grew and began surging toward the doors of the building, some of its members hurling bricks at windows and attempting to break in the barred doors, shots were fired from inside over the heads of the crowd.

When the first pistol shots failed to disperse the crowd, the aim was lowered and individuals began to fall. Police said tonight that one man was killed and one woman and ten men were wounded.

A large number of tourists and society folk, gathered in the theatre house, were alarmed by the firing. The first sounds of shattering glass drew many of the guests in the crowded lobby to windows where they were endangered when the firing began. Some of the bullets glanced from the sidewalk and hit the front of the building, but none of the guests was injured.

WORKERS TURN TO RELIEF AS RIVERS RECEDE

AIRPLANES, TRUCKS CARRY SUPPLIES TO VICTIMS

(BULLETIN) Montreal, Que., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Reports from isolated districts continued tonight to increase the toll of lives taken by floods in the eastern townships of Quebec and western New Brunswick. Nine deaths had been reported up to late tonight. The latest report of a fatality came from Nicolet, Que., when Hubert Dess, a farmer, was drowned when a bridge which he was repairing collapsed. Earlier in the day the body of Alex A. Maciver, of Milan, Que., had been discovered near Black Lake.

Boston, Nov. 7.—(AP)—While the tale of the death from the flood that swept a large section of New England since Thursday last has not as yet been fully told, the latest reports from the flood areas indicated that at least 132 persons lost their lives in the flood and accompanying storms.

Vermont was the heaviest sufferer, with a total of 114. Of those 86 were in the Winooski valley, Massachusetts had 12, New Hampshire 4, and Maine 2.

PUSH RESCUE WORK. Boston, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Many agencies lending a helping hand in flood-damaged New England, with Vermont towns the chief objective, have turned from rescue to relief. Efforts to feed and clothe the sufferers bore increasing fruit today as those on the outside seeking to help the victims fought and won over many obstacles.

Trucks supplemented the airplanes of slight carrying capacity which have played a lone hand in the first succor, flying with medicine and food to dozens of towns struck by the flood.

There are no roads in many places for the trucks to use, but they pushed on anyway and relieved several acute situations where food was at a minimum.

Bolton, one of Vermont's chief sufferers, however, remained cut off and faced a problem of going hungry unless a way is found to furnish relief.

Major Gen. Preston Brown, commanding the first corps area, called the flood disaster the most serious that has come to the affected section, and he paid high tribute to the spirit of the people.

Pressing need, said Brown, is to rebuild roads and railway tracks that communication may be re-established with the areas.

Fire Aids Destruction. Troops are assisting civil authorities in the emergency and the army is furnishing blankets, bedding and food.

Many persons found themselves homeless in the lower reaches of the Connecticut river, but their troubles were slight compared with those of their neighbors in the north. Newport, Vt., isolated since Thursday, reported today that troops had been called to duty and the town was badly in need of yeast for bread making.

To add to the difficulties of two flooded towns today fire added its burden. At Ludlow, in central Vermont, and Cambridge, in the northwest, widely separated places, flames for a time presented an added menace. At Ludlow the bakery, an institution it could ill afford to lose, was burned.

Richford, too, found its bakery flooded when a check-up was made.

The people were still too busy coming back to estimate losses and "millions" continued to be the only guess.

JUDGE TO GIVE DECISION SOON

Lansing, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Judge Louis Fead of Newberry today sent his decision to the state printer. He expects the printed drafts will be completed in three or four days when they will be filed with the Berrien county clerk at St. Joseph, he served upon the colony and state and made public.

The decision promises to be long. It will not be made public until the printing, which is being done under Judge Fead's supervision, is finished and it has been filed in Berrien county.

The case attracted nationwide attention. The state charged that Benjamin Purnell ruled his bewhiskered followers with a control so complete it enabled him to convert the property they brought into the colony to his own uses. His teachings, the state alleged, were simply a cloak thrown around his own misconduct to protect him under the guise of religion, the state charged.

Hearings in the suit started last May 16 and final arguments were heard September 28. Scores of witnesses testified for both sides.

Man Drops Dead in Court As He Pleads Not Guilty

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—In a faltering voice, Frank Skala, 68, gashed out a plea of "not guilty" and dropped dead before the judge's bench when he appeared in court today.

"Write in the record that he was not guilty," said Judge Harry Hamlin, as they bore the body away. Skala was charged with disorderly conduct. A heart attack caused death.

Detroit Policeman Killed by Negroes

Detroit, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Patrolman Tom Puffer, was shot to death here tonight by two negro holdup men when he came upon them while they were holding up a filling station. The negroes escaped in an automobile.

Senators Bahorski of Detroit on Trial

Paw Paw, Mich., Nov. 7.—(AP)—State Senator Joseph Bahorski of Detroit, whose arrest in the senate chambers at Lansing this spring, during a session of the 1927 legislature caused a sensation, went on trial before Judge Glenn E. Warner in circuit court today charged with obtaining bail for a client through misrepresentation. Senator Bahorski waived his right of a jury trial. John Burns of Paw Paw, the plaintiff, testified that he had furnished $8,000 in securities as bonds for an alleged run runner who was represented by Bahorski.

BODY OF REBEL LAID TO REST

Hold Funeral of Mexican General and Nephew at Capital

Mexico City, Nov. 7.—(P)—The bodies of Arnulfo Gomez, former presidential candidate, and his nephew, Francisco Gomez Vizcarra, who were executed several days ago, were buried this afternoon at the end of a long row of graves in the French cemetery where lie the bodies of Gen. Francisco R. Serrano and several others who were slain in the recent Mexican attempt at revolution.

General Serrano and 11 of his assistants were buried some time ago in a row side by side, with Gen. Alfredo R. Quijano at the end. Today the row was extended to include the two others who paid with their lives for the attempt to overthrow the Calles government.

The bodies were lowered into the graves and the excavations were filled without any services or other formalities except a brief funeral oration by Vito Alessio Robler, an old friend of Gomez', at whose residence the two bodies rested in state after they were brought from Mexico City.

No close relatives of Gomez were present. Gomez' wife and children being in Los Angeles, Cal., and his mother at Navajon, Sonora.

TWO EXECUTED. Mexico City, Nov. 7.—(P)—Two more rebel officers of the Gomez forces have been captured and executed in the mountains of Vera Cruz. It was announced today at presidential headquarters. One of the rebels was Gen. Fernando Reyes, a long-time revolutionist, who once fought with Villa. He had not been attached to the federal army in recent years, but joined the Gomez-Serrano movement.

Gen. Silvano Garcia was the other rebel executed. For ten years he had been the leader of outlaw bands in the hills of Vera Cruz. Both Reyes and Garcia were captured near where Gomez was taken, and summarily court-martialed and executed.

Bellhop Sold Booze to Officer; Asking Padlock for Hotel. Detroit, Nov. 7.—(P)—The Post Tavern of Battle Creek, one of the finest of Michigan's hosteleries, and a treasure house of paintings and relics gathered by the late C. W. Post, may be padlocked because a bellhop sold a bottle of liquor to a federal prohibition officer, Daniel Vaccarella, assistant administrator for prohibition enforcement in Michigan, said today.

Vaccarella's men visited the hotel Saturday on a search warrant after the purchase but found no liquor. The federal official said today he would ask for a padlock warrant. The bell hop eluded officers. The Post Tavern was erected by the late founder and proprietor of the Postum Cereal company over 20 years ago, and was considered one of the finest hotels in the state. It became a hobby with Mr. Post, who placed many of his expensive paintings and relics gathered in his trips to foreign lands on the walls, and in the reception rooms. These paintings and relics are valued at many thousands of dollars.

Theatre Owner Has Walker Arrested. Redbank, N. J., Nov. 7.—(P)—Edward C. Walker, otherwise known as Mickey Walker, middleweight boxing champion of the world, was held in $500 bond today on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Walter Reade, middle-aged and owner of a chain of movie theatres on the north Jersey coast.

An altercation occurred in Reade's office, it was said, over the possibilities of Walker's obtaining a lease on a projected $2,000,000 theatre and amusement pier in Asbury Park. Reade and Walker disagreed as to who struck the first blow. Reade's forehead was bruised. Walker was hailed before a justice of the peace.

TWO LABORS OF LOVE IN NEW YORK THEATRES. New York (P)—Broadway, the street with a reputation for lack of sentiment, has witnessed two "labors of love," this theatrical season.

They are the play "Pickwick" and the revival of "The Mikado." Cosmo Hamilton, who has written some 30 plays and novels, and Frank C. Kelly, a comparative newcomer among theatrical producers, are loyal admirers of the works of Charles Dickens. So they collaborated in writing "Pickwick," which critics found to be a reverent dramatization of "The Pickwick Papers." The "local color" with which the play was strongly tinged is attributed to Hamilton's familiarity with the subject. The author's interest in Dickens was aroused by his mother, who was enthralled by Dickens' stories. Enthusiased by her accounts of the legends of old London and her reading of Dickens' tales, Hamilton often visited the Dickensian landmarks. Just before writing the play, he made an intensive study of these places in order to recapture the proper "spirit."

holding court, said he had received no such "complaint and affidavit" in the case. Gordon asserted he had never seen anything like it and that Burns was in error if he contended, as he did, that the facts recited were in the reports seized by government agents in the raid on the Burns men's headquarters at the Wardman Park hotel.

Attorney Was Watched. Later, Burns made public copies of what purported to be affidavits of two of his operatives, William V. Long and F. J. O'Reilly. That by Long told of following an automobile bearing the license P-1738 to the Potomac river from Washington, where the occupant talked with N. J. Glascock, juror No. 10. This was on October 22, ten days before the government had a mistrial declared. O'Reilly's affidavit was that the car bearing the license P-1738 was owned by Harris R. Lamb, a special assistant attorney general, who reports of the operatives showed, was shadowed for days and nights, or at least the car bearing the license was.

FALL WEAKER. Washington, Nov. 7.—(P)—After a protracted coughing spell today, Albert B. Fall was considerably weaker and lost some of the ground which he had gained since illness confined him to bed last Friday. He rested comfortably, however, late in the day.

TRANSYLVANIA HUNTS BANDITS

Dangerous Criminals Are Pursued by Pack of Dogs

Dausenberg, Transylvania, Nov. 7.—(P)—A determined effort to run down a gang of dangerous bandits who pursue their nefarious calling with the aid of a remarkably well-trained pack of dogs, is on in the fastnesses of the Transylvania hills. The gendarmerie of the town of Marmaros Stiget is striving to end the operations of the gang which in the past three months has obtained vast booty. The robbers operate with trained wolf hounds or Alsatians, known in the United States as police dogs, which do the spying. It is said, while the robbers are sequestered in the forests.

The dogs raise no alarm when they see police or soldiers, but when civilians appear, the dogs dash forward, surround the wayfarers, show their teeth and bark. They are so trained, however, that they do not hurt victims unless they resist or try to escape. On the appearance of the robbers the dogs stand guard watching for uniformed men while their masters rob the victims. The dogs have been known to hold up caravans with as many as 10 coaches, halting the horses by jumping at their throats. Recent victims who fraternized with the marauders learned that it took a year to train the dogs, which never molest women or children. The band never has killed any of its victims unless they themselves were threatened with firearms.

Child Killed by Automobile; Third Lost in Accidents

Detroit, Nov. 7.—(P)—An automobile that struck and killed six-year-old Robert Hendron here today, took the life of the last of three children of Mr. and Mrs. James Hendron of Sedalia, Ky., all of whom were accident victims during the past two years.

The Hendron family came here from Sedalia, Ky., and Mr. Hendron went to work in an automobile factory. A few months later an automobile struck and killed Edmund, their youngest son. Their three-year-old daughter, Marian, was killed several months ago when Robert found his father's pistol and accidentally discharged it, the bullet striking the girl.

Tonight, the parents, grief-stricken, were making arrangements to return to Sedalia.

Mrs. Corbin Is Released From Insanity Hospital

Los Angeles, Nov. 7.—(P)—Mrs. L. A. Corbin, mother of Virginia Lee Corbin, 17-year-old film actress, was released from a psychopathic ward tonight when her daughter withdrew a charge of insanity she had filed against her mother yesterday. Still semi-conscious from an overdose of sleeping potion which the police said she took yesterday in a suicide attempt, Mrs. Corbin was removed from the hospital by the actress. Miss Corbin said she would place her mother in the care of an authority on mental ailments. "I know Mother took that stuff just to scare me," she said. "She's done it before. Mother has been acting strangely ever since Father died several months ago. She needs rest." Yesterday, in signing the insanity complaint, Miss Corbin accused her mother of taking all of the money earned by the actress.

MAYOR FLAYED BY VANDENBURG

Methods Used by Thompson Threatening to Real Patriotism

Niles, Mich., Nov. 7.—(P)—Challenging the methods used in recent anti-British campaigns, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Grand Rapids publisher, tonight told an audience here genuine patriotism had been threatened by "circus exploitation" and "tabloid politics" of Mayor Thompson of Chicago.

Mr. Vandenberg, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for U. S. senator, discussing the slogan, "America First," took Mayor Thompson to task for "threatening this dynamic and essential slogan with disrepute," through his "bizarre and ridiculous interpretations."

"The gravest dangers to the true genius of 'America First' needs are internal rather than external," he said. "The oaks of the constitution are threatened more by dead roots than by foreign lightning. We are far more likely to succumb to the vices of a pithy and licentious people than to be surrendered to King George. The latter thing is entirely impossible, whether 'Big Bill' persisted in fighting it or not. The former has uncomfortable reality."

"America first." Mr. Vandenberg said, needs to be saved from extremists at both ends of the line. "Save us," he said, "on the one hand from the apologetic American who suffers an inferiority complex and who is absolutely certain America always is wrong in all her foreign contacts. Save us, on the other hand, from the bombastic American who would carry a chip on his shoulder and who mistakes fanfare for fidelity. Meanwhile, let us from the faithless American who takes all the privileges of citizenship and is contemptuous of all its obligations."

DOTO SETS NEW SKATING MARK

Iron Mountain Lad Goes 15 Hours and 20 Minutes

Philip Doto, of Iron Mountain, set a new record for non-stop roller skating when he skated for 15 hours and 20 minutes at the Coliseum Sunday. Starting his long grind at 7 o'clock in the morning, Doto finished the marathon at 10:20 o'clock Sunday evening. Raymond VanEnkevort of the Escanaba police department was the official starter, and during the day the skater was watched by a committee of patrons and Manager Richard Flath. Patrolman Joe I. Perrow and Earl Williams were the officials at the end of the marathon. Doto finished in good condition, highly pleased with the result of his accomplishment. After a short rest, he was able to walk to his hotel without assistance. Doto is 21 years of age, and is of small stature, weighing 104 pounds. "Now I am confident that I can meet the best of the skaters, and am sure that I will be able to complete my marathon from Green Bay to Chicago next spring," Doto said after setting the new record. Although there is no official title to be claimed, there is nowhere on records that can be found, any skater that has equaled or nearly equaled Doto's new mark of 15 hours and 20 minutes.

Accidents Take 3 Lives in Detroit

Detroit, Nov. 7.—(P)—Three men died here today as the result of accidents. Edward Monk, 39 years old, died as the result of drinking a poison which he had mistaken for cough medicine. Samuel H. Hill, 54, was found dead in his room in an apartment house by friends. The room was filled with gas issuing from a jet. Clarence Hatfield, 54, was instantly killed when he fell down a long flight of stairs at his home. Two other men were seriously injured.

Millicent Rogers and Ramos Married

Southampton, N. Y., Nov. 7.—(P)—Millicent Rogers, former wife of Count Ludwig Salm, was married this afternoon to Arturo Peralta Ramos, Argentinian, after a sudden change in plans, the bride's father, Col. H. S. Rogers announced after the ceremony. Col. Rogers' secretary, who made public the announcement, declined to give out the details of the wedding, beyond saying that the wedding day had been pushed forward because of the critical illness of the bride's grandfather, George Hilliard Benjamin.

It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Ramos left immediately for New York where they will stay until they sail for South America Thursday.

wiped out. Cut May Be Larger. "The automobile tax has yielded a total revenue of more than $1,068,000,000. The tax is in principle a transportation tax and to retain it when all other transportation taxes have been repealed is a further mark of discrimination."

Governor Green, besides advocating repeal of the estate levy, joined in supporting demands of those seeking elimination of the automobile sales tax. Representative Hudson, Republican, Michigan, contended that automobile purchasers should be relieved of the excise tax, and under questioning by Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat of the committee, said he thought the treasury limit of $225,000,000 on total tax reduction was low and that a cut of $300,000,000 or $350,000,000 appeared possible. F. W. Proctor, Baltimore, speaking for the Automobile Equipment association, and S. M. Jett, representing the Rubber Association of America, also advocated abolition of the automobile sales tax. L. F. Gates, Chicago, representing the Chicago grain exchange committee, and C. D. Sturdevant, Omaha, Neb., for the Grain Dealers National association, sought repeal of the on-curt tax on future sales in grain, cotton and produce, holding the levy was a nuisance tax and troublesome to both the government and exporters.

Levi Cook, Washington, representing the cereal beverage manufacturers, asked abolition of the tax of one-tenth of one per cent on cereal beverages.

VICE CRUSADER RETURNS HOME

Nation-Wide Search Was Conducted for William King

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 7.—(P)—William L. King, vice crusader, missing for several weeks, quietly returned to Pittsburgh today, it was revealed tonight when an announcement was made that King had resigned as executive secretary of the Citizens League of Pittsburgh. A nation-wide search had been conducted for King without success. King, object of the search for several weeks, returned to the city unnoticed this morning and immediately was greeted with league officials. "Questioned as to where he had been," he said, he had realized his usefulness to the league was at an end and that he had gone out west to seek another position. On reports that Mrs. King had gone to Reno, Nev., to seek a divorce and that later the couple had met in San Francisco, and became reconciled, King refused to comment, except to say that his wife had not been with him. "That is a private matter," said King, "and it's nobody's business. I shall say nothing as to my marital affairs."

The league announcement expressed the organization's "sincere appreciation" of King's work and "reiterated the league's confidence in his integrity and character."

DISPENSATION GRANTED

New York, Nov. 7.—(P)—The New York American will say tomorrow that the wedding today of Millicent Rogers Salm followed close on the heels of a dispensation granted the bridegroom, Arturo Peralta Ramos, by officials of the Catholic church sanctioning the marriage. "Well, she married a Catholic. It's up to her whether she wants to become one or not."

Avoid Poorly Balanced Breakfasts. Start the day with Quaker Oats—food that "stands by" you. If you feel tired, hungry, "fidgety," 15 hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have energetic mornings because they start the day with wrong breakfasts. To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen. Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 65% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today. Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers you. Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2 1/2 to 3 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

BERNSTEIN PAYS VISIT TO FORD

Jewish Playwright, Who Sued Manufacturer, Goes to Dearborn

Detroit, Nov. 7.—(P)—Herman Bernstein, New York author, editor and playwright, whose libel suit against Henry Ford, based upon articles in the Dearborn Independent, former Ford weekly magazine, was settled out of court recently, paid a visit to the manufacturer at his Dearborn office today. "We met as old friends," Mr. Bernstein told the Associated Press, "and spent some time together discussing a number of vital subjects. With regard to his (Mr. Ford's) retraction of the Dearborn Independent articles, Mr. Ford said, 'I never had any animosity against the Jewish people. My retraction was made absolutely without any mental reservation.'" "I showed Mr. Ford," Mr. Bernstein said, "that by his manly and vigorous refutation of the Dearborn Independent articles on the international Jew he has dealt a deadly blow to bigotry and race prejudice everywhere."

Ford Was Cordial. Mr. Bernstein had not met Mr. Ford since the latter's famous expedition to Europe in his "peace ship." The libel suit was filed in the federal court in New York four years ago, based on later repudiated articles dealing with "the international Jew."

"Mr. Ford was most cordial and we had a delightful conversation," Mr. Bernstein declared. "He said he had intended calling upon me in New York but had been delayed by the many duties which are his."

Mr. Bernstein left tonight for New York. He had lectured here Sunday before the Jewish Forum on Anti-Semitism, Bolshevism, Fascism and world peace.

Stalin, Trotsky Quarrel Serious, Newspaper Says

London, Nov. 7.—(P)—The Westminster Gazette claims to have received from Russia information on the seriousness of the struggle between the followers of Joseph Stalin, Russia's "man of steel," and the followers of Leon Trotsky, former commissioner of war. Trotsky is said to be employing exactly the same tactics against the Stalin party which he himself and Lenin employed to bring about the fall of the czarist regime, and later the Kerensky government. The Trotsky party has a number of secret printing presses and has established "cells" not only in the civic and local bodies and factories, but in every regiment, for pushing its propaganda, and belief is expressed that an open fight is inevitable.

British Writer Has Article in School Journal

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(P)—Mayor William Hale Thompson, J. Louis Coath and some of the other leaders in the fight on William McAndrews, suspended superintendent of schools, out of which grew the mayor's warfare on pro-British or anti-American propaganda, were in Washington today fighting for flood control, but the battle they left behind rolled merrily along.

The Chicago Daily Journal made a revelation it calculated in its news columns would split the two, and might even go so far as to cause Coath's dismissal as head of the Chicago school board. The newspaper found in the October issue of the Chicago Schools Journal a leading article entitled, "Education and World Citizenship," from the pen of Norman Angell, whom it identified as British-born. The schools journal was described as the official publication of Coath and the other school board members before whom Mr. McAndrews is called for trial once a week, some weeks. "A storm raged in the 'America first' camp today when contents of the publication became known," said the journal.

Bus Exceeds Speed Limit; Hold Hearing

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 7.—(P)—A hearing on charge that a bus operated by the Adrian-Ann Arbor Motor Coach company over an interstate route without a permit violated the law when it exceeded twenty miles an hour, was held in Tipton, Lenawee county today. The company asked the utilities commission for a permit to operate from Grand Rapids, Jackson and Adrian into Ohio. The permit had not been allowed but the bus was put into operation. The law provides that buses having permits may travel 40 miles an hour, otherwise they are limited to 20. Public utilities commission inspectors arrested the driver when they claimed he was going 44 miles an hour.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda. Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes stomach troubles as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty-cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

STRIKE HAS NO DIRECTING HEAD

Police Arrest All Agitators in Colorado Coal Field

Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—(P)—Striking miners in Colorado's coal fields tonight found themselves without a directing head following a concerted drive by state police which resulted in the arrest of all known strike leaders including a score of I. W. W. agitators. Imprisonment of 30 of the strike heads effected a total stamping out of picketing in the southern strike area. The state's determination to suppress such activity by the strikers was emphasized by the strengthening of a special state law enforcement unit. Gov. W. H. Adams revived this department last week to meet the strike emergency, exercising a statute that had been unused for many months. Among the strike leaders held incommunicado in jail tonight were Roger Francisco, chairman of the national executive committee of the I. W. W., and Kristen Swann, in charge of all I. W. W. activities in coal and metal mines. While order prevailed in the southern section following the arrests, pickets prevented an attempt to operate the Imperial mine which had been leased by 35 miners.

Twenty Seven In Citizenship Class

The citizenship night school held its first session at the Webster school last night with twenty-seven in attendance, nine of which were women. The number is the largest that ever enrolled for night school work here. It is expected that many more will sign up to attend the class beginning next Thursday night. Mrs. Arthur Peterson and Principal Clem Flannigan are the instructors, in the subjects needed for application for naturalization papers. The school is conducted on Monday and Thursday nights during the winter months. Anyone who desires to attend the classes are asked to be present at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night. CONVICTS SEEN HERE, BELIEF

Walter Pearson Sights Men Resembling King and Farnsworth

Two men, bearing close resemblance to Owen King and Austin Farnsworth, two prisoners who with Joe Perrin, the "Wolverine," escaped from Marquette prison last Tuesday, were seen by Walter Pearson, 316 South Fifteenth street, Saturday. Mr. Pearson reported to the police that he saw the two men, dressed in lumberjack costume, walking south on Fifteenth street about 1 o'clock Saturday shortly after he had left his home.

The men probably were heading toward the old state road, intending to go south to Menominee.

Mr. Pearson said he was attracted by the suspicious actions of the pair as he passed by them, but at that time he had no knowledge of the appearances of the two convicts. When he saw the pictures of the escaped prisoners in Sunday's issue of the Escanaba Daily Press, however, he identified the photographs of King and Farnsworth as those of the men he had seen. When Mr. Pearson was shown the original photographs sent out by the Marquette prison officials and read a description of the pair, he expressed himself as being more certain of his identification.

Later reports received from Michigan were to the effect that only one man, believed to be Perrin, was seen coming out of the store early Saturday morning and that his two companions were not in sight. This man lost his cap in a scuffle with the town marshal and also dropped a quantity of clothing he had taken from the store. The cap was identified at the prison as one worn by Perrin. This leads authorities to believe that Perrin is playing a lone hand and has separated from the other two fugitives, and that it is very probable Owen and Farnsworth passed through Escanaba.

When Farnsworth escaped from the prison on a previous occasion, he went west to Champion, south to Iron Mountain and then came east to Escanaba, finally being captured in the eastern part of the peninsula.

Called to Nahma, Sheriff Elmer Swanson and a force of deputies were called out to Nahma late Sunday night to investigate reports that a man, believed to be Perrin, has robbed the clubhouse at Nahma and had also held up a motorist on the highway near Nahma. Upon investigation, it was found that a young man had become hoisterous in the clubhouse but had not made any attempt to hold up the place. A gun, which the young man was reported to have carried, was only a bottle.

The rumors regarding the holding up of a motorist proved to be unfounded. It was learned that a motorist, who had run out of gasoline, had stopped an automobile to make a request for a loan of some gasoline so that he could drive to the nearest oil station.

OBITUARY

RUDOLF JOHNSON.

Many sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral services which were held for Rudolf Johnson at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, 306 No. 14th street Sunday afternoon at two o'clock when Rev. C. A. Lund, pastor of Swedish Lutheran church officiated.

The many beautiful floral tributes, tokens of esteem from a wide circle of friends, banked the room in which the body lay.

The close friends who carried the casket to and from the funeral car were Al Meiers, Rudolf Lindstrom, Edward Christensen, Conrad Anderson, Ed Loeffler and Fred Peterson.

Out of town relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Johnson of Iron Mountain.

Burial was in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

MRS. DELIA TREPANIER.

Many friends attended the funeral services held at St. Joseph's church Monday morning at nine o'clock for Mrs. Delia Trepanier, 113 So. 10th street, when Rev. Fr. Herbert Klosterkemper was the celebrant at the requiem high mass.

Members of Third Order of St. Francis, Married Ladies' Altar Society and The St. Croix Society Branch No. 3 U. S. C. F. attended the services in a body.

The three organizations also assembled at the home to recite the rosary Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening.

The pallbearers were Gust Trottier, Ray Villette, H. J. Cholette, Eli Cousineau, Peter Blake and Harry Perras.

Burial was in Schaffer cemetery.

'BEN HUR' IS GREAT MOVIE

Lew Wallace's Famous Novel Faithfully Transferred to Screen

"Ben-Hur's" one Arabian night!

Amid all the luxury and exotic atmosphere of a wealthy sheik of the first century—costly perfumes, flash of brass and golden objects, listless banquettes resting to their lips golden wine goblets, exquisite tapestries glittering with silver dishes heaped with fruits of the East, dark-skinned, beautiful male and female slaves filling the goblets of the guests with rich red wine from leathern flasks. And watching it all, Ben-Hur, princely in his tunic of black velvet held together with large gold links.

This is but one of the many interesting scenes filmed by Director Fred Niblo for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer "Ben-Hur" spectacle which is now being shown at the Delft Theatre.

Raymond Navarro plays the part of Ben-Hur, while May McAvoy is cast as Esther, Carmel Myers as Iras, the exotic, passionate vampire and daughter of the wealthy sheik. Other players in the cast include Francis X. Bushman, Kathleen Key, Claire McDowell, Mitchell Lewis, Nigel De Bruiler, Leo White and Frank Currier.

AT THE STRAND.

For the first time in the history either of stage or motion pictures, a dramatic super-crook story has been presented without a single scene of bloodshed or gunplay. This is the novel fact about the Columbia production, "Obey the Law," starring Bert Lytell, which will conclude a two day engagement at the Strand theatre.

In the supporting cast are Eugene Gilbert, Edna Murphy, Larry Kent, William Welsh, Hedda Hopper and Sarah Padden. Al Raboch, artist, writer and actor.

Making Study on Growing of Birds-Eye Maple From Seed

M. Y. Pillow, member of the research staff of the forest products laboratory at Madison, Wis., has arrived in Escanaba to make the preliminary studies in the investigation that will be made by the U. S. forestry service to determine whether birds-eye maple can be grown from the seed.

In this research work, an effort will be made to answer the old question: "What puts the eye in birds-eye maple?" Old-time lumbermen, forestry experts and others have offered various theories in reply to this question, but never has there been a general acceptance of any of the ideas.

ROTARY HOLDS WEEKLY MEET

Pays Tribute to World War Heroes; Rev. Hubbard Is Speaker

Members of the Escanaba Rotary club sat in silence for one minute yesterday, to individually visualize the sacrifices made in their behalf on the battlefields of France, as a part of the club's observance of Armistice Day. It was at the command of Rev. John B. Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, speaker of the day, that this impressive method of gaining the significance of Armistice Day, was carried out. It proved a highly impressive incident in a program that will stand as one of the high lights of the present Rotary year. Rev. Hubbard's address, which was a severe analysis of the causes of war, was the subject of much enthusiastic comment following the meeting, when the speaker was showered with compliments. Rev. Hubbard argued that many of the platitudes and euphonious phrases, usually resorted to in the observance of Memorial Day, Armistice Day and other national holidays, are largely meaningless, because the people who hear them can no longer visualize the events and the sentiment that prompted the observance. He asserted that wars develop merely because, in spite of vaunted civilization, man wears but a thin veneer of decency over his beastial instincts. He urged that man must overcome those instincts before universal peace is established.

He pointed with pride to the record of the United States, which has steadfastly withheld itself from war, until conflict was forced upon the nation. He called the abandonment or crippling of the army and navy as foolhardy, until all nations are able to come to an amicable disarmament agreement.

BY FRANK LEA SHORT For NEA Service

New York.—John Galsworthy, the celebrated novelist-playwright, holds the sound notion that average sympathy swings to the lawbreaker when a man-hunt is on—provided, of course, that the fugitive is not of the bloodthirsty variety.

When Galsworthy posed this idea by writing "Escape," London found groups from the salons of Mayfair to truck drivers in the street tearing at each other's hair while debating this point.

In America, Galsworthy's idea seems to be winning acceptance without argument. Certain "Escape," produced in New York by Winthrop Ames, is "packing them in." It already is assured of a long, prosperous season.

Briefly, this is the situation "Escape" presents:

A young man of fine background and education—an Oxford graduate and all that—finds himself suddenly in the role of a murderer. While strolling, he has been accosted by one of the scarlet profession and is engaged in a philosophic discussion with her on the subject or original sin when a plain clothes officer interposes.

There is a struggle and the officer falls, striking his head on a rail. The young man escapes and thereafter, with the countryside searching him, he meets one person and then another—a society woman, a judge, a farmer and even a minister of the gospel. They all know he is the convict and they all help him. The minister is even about to lie for him when a policeman arrives—but the convict will not allow this. He surrenders to save the person from another original sin.

Galsworthy, as usual, is keen on making his nonconformists the most interesting and delightful people and on slyly showing how "original sin" spreads pretty generally.

The choice of Leslie Howard for the leading role in the Galsworthy play is a happy one. Howard is one of the most engaging players to be found in America.

Some years ago I had the good fortune to be in a Booth Tarkington play with Howard, and I was able to observe at first hand the reason for his popularity as a man and his ability as an actor. He is the kind of a man who would land in China and make friends over night.

In 1920 he came to America and walked into the hearts of everyone with whom he came in contact. He made his first appearance here in the play "Just Suppose," and earned his way into the hearts of many audiences in such plays as "The Truth About Blayds," "Aren't We All?" "Outward Bound," "The Green Hat" and "Her Cardboard Lover."

In Galsworthy's "Escape" Leslie Howard gives one of the finest performances of his career.

The production "The Taming of the Shrew" in modern dress at the Garrick Theater, featuring Basil Sydney and Mary Ellis in the leading roles, proves nothing except the hardihood of Shakespeare's comedy. That this play Auxiliary Meeting—There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the American Legion at the club rooms at 7:30 p. m., Wednesday. As there is important business to be transacted, a large attendance is desired.

Kiwanis Club: The Kiwanis club's regular weekly luncheon will be held at noon Wednesday in the Ludington Hotel; the date having been changed so that Norton J. Williams of Neenah, prominent Wisconsin Kiwanian, could be present. Mr. Williams will make the principal address at the Wednesday meeting.

C. & N. W. Boosters' Meeting—The regular meeting of the C. & N. W. Boosters' club of the Peninsula division will be held this evening at the council chambers of the city hall at 8 o'clock. G. B. Vilas, general manager, and E. D. Dunham, superintendent of the car department, will be at the meeting and will give interesting talks. A smoker and lunch will follow the business session and a large attendance is anticipated. Every employe of the C. & N. W. is urged to attend the meeting which will be of interest to all.

Marriage License—William Norden and Veronica DeChantelle, both of Escanaba, have applied at the county clerk's office for a marriage license.

Washington P. T. A.—Members of the Washington Parent-Teachers association will meet at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, November 9, at the kindergarten room. After the business session, a program of could be played in black-face or as Chinese, or in cap and gown, and still score, no one doubts. Therefore filling the stage with radios, automobiles, moving picture machines, etc., in an endeavor to modernize the play merely emphasizes the value of the play per se.

The latest Shubert musical comedy called "The Love Call," found on Augustus Thomas' "Arizona," doesn't make as successful a start as might have been expected from the colorfulness of the original play. It has been rumored that the production was staged in order to beat out Russell Janney's incoming production "The Squaw Man." From present indications "The Love Call" will not do much damage to Mr. Janney's effort.

In the production of Lord Dunsany's "If" at the Little Theater, I felt convinced that the group now known as "The Author-Managers," but who originally gained our affection and confidence as the Neighborhood Playhouse group, would give a fine account of themselves. I am sorry to say that it was a disappointing evening. "If" is written with rather a heavy hand, and the Grand Streeters handle this whimsy in a manner to carry it still deeper into the doldrums.

music will be given. Miss Mary Meighan, school supervisor, will give a talk. All interested in Parent-Teacher association work are cordially invited.

W. R. C. Meeting—The Women's Relief Corps will hold its regular business meeting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Grenier's hall. Important business will be transacted. A large attendance is desired.

Committee Meeting—A committee meeting of Cora Hive and Escanaba Hive of this city, Rachael Hive, Gladstone, and Rapid River Hive, L. O. T. M., and the Sir Knights of the Maccabees will be held at Grenier's hall this evening, to make plans for the county rally which will be held in this city Saturday, November 12. State Supreme Commander Thompson will attend the rally. Mrs. Ida T. Cox of Manistique will be present at tonight's meeting.

C. E. at Masonville—The Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church conducted their regular Sunday services at the Masonville church Sunday afternoon. About twenty-five members of the society made the trip for the day. The topic for the day was, "What should a Christian's attitude be toward war?" Howard Stude presided over the meeting. The program included a talk by Rev. J. B. Hubbard, cornet solo by Robert Thick, violin duet by Rudolph Schwartz and William Little, and a selection by the girls' chorus.

C. E. Special Meeting—There will be a special meeting of the Christian Endeavor society at the church parlors at 7 o'clock this evening.

Stolen Car Abandoned—A sedan, owned by Mrs. Joseph LaFleur, was stolen from its parking place in front of the Kip Bartley home, Second avenue south, about 9:30 o'clock Sunday night, and was found abandoned on the Ford River road near Gunderson's Beach about 11 o'clock.

Reckless Driving—Charles Olson, 520 South Fifteenth street, Escanaba, was arrested by state troopers yesterday afternoon on a charge of driving recklessly in the streets of Gladstone. He will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Phil Hupp today. Two companions of Olson have been charged with disorderly conduct. The state troopers said the men had been drinking.

The reason why gasoline has remained cheaper as compared to pre-war prices than most commodities, is that the percentage of gasoline recovered from crude oil has risen from 21 per cent in 1917 to 34.7 now.

CONTRACT FOR ANNUAL IS LET

E. H. S. Students to Start Soliciting Advertising Today

The campaign to solicit advertising for the 1928 Escanaban, annual publication of the Escanaba high school, will start today, according to an announcement by Hugo Swanson, annual staff adviser.

Frederick Foster is business manager, and he will be assisted by the following advertising solicitors: Helen Snyder, Edna Hodson, Clyde Lambert, Eleanor Hendrickson, Milton Reidy, Gerald Brown, Raphael Richards, Riola Reynolds, Margaret Kehoe and Wellington Hulse.

Advertising solicitors' permits have been received from the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and sales instructions have been given to the group so that they are all prepared to start the canvass of the business district today.

The printing contract for the 1928 annual has been awarded to the Escanaba Daily Press company and the engraving work will be done by Jahn & Ollier, Chicago, one of the largest commercial engraving concerns in the country. The annual will have a hard cover, and will be of dark green. According to tentative plans. Almost all the photographs to be used in illustrating the book have been taken. A large number of action pictures of home games of the Escanaba high school football squad will be used and it is expected that the athletics department of the 1928 annual will be one of the finest ever produced here.

Nervous Clinic to Be Held Thursday

Dr. J. T. Redwine, assistant superintendent of Newberry State hospital, will conduct a clinic for nervous and mental diseases in Dr. H. J. Defnet's office in the Escanaba city hall, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 10, from 1 to 4 p. m. Dr. Redwine will be pleased to consult with any of the relatives of patients who are now in the Newberry hospital.

Mother!

Child Gets Sick, Cross, Feverish if Constipated

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has a stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruity laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing." Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company."

PUBLICITY CAN DAMAGE.
Overtouting has ruined many a promising big leaguer. It has considerably slowed up others because of the responsibility they felt due to the many flattering advance notices.

More recently, the press-agenting of some promising football players, since publicity has become a very necessary feature of the college sport, has played havoc with the hopes of many coaches.

There is no more striking example of overtouting than that of Elmer Marek, Ohio State half-back. A great prospect as a freshman, he has failed to come even close to expectations.

Marek has been only a fair player, yet as a freshman he gave promise of rivaling Red Grange.

Was High School Star
I recall well the first time I saw Marek in action. It was a game at Toledo, against one of the leading prep school teams of that city. Marek was a member of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, high school eleven.

Literally, he ran wild that day, giving one of the most remarkable exhibitions of ground gaining ability I've ever seen in a high school athlete turn in.

Marek looked a second Red Grange, and in certain phases of play seemed to have greater possibilities.

At the time, I was informed that Marek in his work that day, was simply maintaining his standard.

Knowing he would be a much sought after athlete, I spent many a moment wondering what college he would enter.

Remarkable Promise
Some months later I learned that Marek had decided on Ohio State. With a star like him to build around, I felt that that school was "in" for several big years. Likewise Marek.

One afternoon four years ago, I visited the Ohio State stadium to watch Coach Wilce's athletes prepare for the game with Illinois. Scrimmage was being indulged in as I walked on the gridiron. On the first play I was startled by seeing a youngster dash through the Ohio State varsity team for a 60-yard run. That player was Elmer Marek.

One of the assistants told me that happening was almost a daily occurrence with Marek.

Scribes Overdo Praise
It was only natural of Coach John Wilce to expect great things of Marek as a sophomore. Unfortunately for Coach Wilce, Ohio State and himself, Marek failed to deliver as expected and predicted.

Naturally, Marek was the subject of much newspaper comment in which the scribes painted beautiful word pictures of what Marek would do, but seldom did any of them materialize.

I have heard it said that these many complimentary notices did not tend to shrink the size of Marek's hat. If so, that was doubly unfortunate.

Now, as the Ohio State team failed this year against Northwestern and Michigan, as did Marek, we have the word of Coach Wilce that his entire team has been over-touted. Possibly so.

Publicity is a fine thing if it isn't overdone. When it is, the reaction is usually very costly.

GRANGE EXPECTS TO PROFIT $50,000 FROM PRO GAMES
New York—Approximately $50,000 is the sum Red Grange expects to reap from his third season of pro football.

The Gallop'n' Ghost of Illinois played before 75,000 fans in his first five games, and had 13 more to go. He expects to play before 400,000 fans this season.

Next to Grange, Benny Friedman, former Michigan star, will get the highest sum out of pro football. He is looking for close to $25,000 for his toll as a pro this year.

MAGRUDER CHEERS FOR THE NAVY

Right in the center of cheering for the Navy when its football team met and defeated Penn at Philadelphia was Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, the department's severest critic. You see him here between two of the 'midshipmen's cheer leaders.

Freshman Class Elects Officers

The following class officers were elected at Escanaba high school yesterday by the freshman class: Wheaton Strom, president; Leslie Rose, vice president; Betty Leighton, secretary; Virginia Stewart, treasurer. This completes the election of class officers for the year. Officers for the other three classes were elected earlier in the year. It is a custom at the school to wait until the grades for the first term are in before the freshmen elect their officers. This plan enables the school officials to ascertain the capabilities of the nominees.

"Bully" Van De Graaff, coach at Colorado college, was a star football player at both Alabama and West Point.

Outside the British Isles there are fewer than 18,000,000 white people in the 13,000,000 square miles of the British Empire.

The NUT CRACKER

Tom Heehey, Australian blacksmith, came from behind to beat Johnny Risko the other night. He did all of his forging ahead in the final rounds.

This win entitles him to fight Jack Sharkey, and the Anzac has already promised to make the sparks fly.

"Here I was under the impression Heehey came from Australia," said Mr. O'Goofy, after reading about this "two-fisted battler from the Antipodes."

ODE TO THE VARSITY
Oh the day is cold and dark and dreary.
It rains and the winds are never weary.
The charge makes holes in the enemy wall
But our trusty quarterback fumbles the ball
And the day is dark and dreary.

We figured the new Fords would cause a lot of trouble. Even the Ohio State alumni are dissatisfied with their old coach.

"Hold 'em Yale," said the jailer as he clamped the padlock on the cell of the three desperate criminals.

ST. XAVIER ELEVEN AVERAGES FIFTY POINTS PER GAME

Cincinnati—The leading football scoring machine in the country. That is the claim made for St. Xavier College of this city. The records distinctly prove the right to such an honor.

In six games played since the opening of the grid season, St. Xavier has scored 325 points, an average of better than .50 per game.

Four more games remain on the schedule, so by the close of the season, St. Xavier should boast a total reminiscent of the days of "Hurry Up" Yost's point a minute teams at Michigan.

The U. S. Marines and the Haskell Indians are two of the four teams still to be faced and greatly feared.

DINING OUT

A New Yorker in Paris

London.—Just across the channel, flags and bunting decorate the boulevards of Paris. At night great arches of light bid welcome to visiting veterans of the late war.

But here in London. Well, it was in the Strand of a Saturday night. I had seen a crowd gathering on the sidewalk and pushed my way through. On hands and knees upon the sidewalk a man was making chalk replicas of ancient Rembrandts.

If you wished, he would attempt a pastel seascape. For the sort of thing they attempted to be, they were very good. When he had finished you showed your appreciation by pitching pennies into a convenient hat.

When he looked up you saw that his arm was gone. When he looked up you saw, pinned to his breast, a number of war medals. When he looked up you saw a slender line of combined colors that told you of rewards of service. And then he turned back to count the pennies tossed him.

What price glory, thought I.

Just across the channel, bands were playing and men were marching. They were wearing gay uniforms and carrying banners. They were stopping in bars for refreshments and were being hailed by blaring bands and shouting thousands.

But here in London my taxi stopped at Oxford Circus and a beggar opened my door. To his breast were pinned medals of valour and wound stripes were on the faded sleeves of his coat. I stopped again at a movie theater and the man who was taking tickets had a lapel trimmed with medals. I stopped at a "pub" and the man who opened the door fairly glistened with medals.

Finally I stopped to have my shoes shined. And the fellow who bent over my boots looked up and again I saw dangling medals. Hurriedly I excused myself, slipped him a few shillings and walked on, leaving him dumb with amazement. I could not bear to have a hero blacking my boots. What price glory, I said to myself. . . . and went on . . .

I found myself in front of a prominent hotel. Here stood a tall blond man selling papers. Like all London newsboys, stand displayed huge signs, telling the headlines of his papers. As I walked over to buy one, I saw that his coat was covered with more war medals than I had ever seen outside a New York pawn shop.

And one of them was the Victoria Cross, the proudest badge of all. Later someone told me his story. He is known to all London as "Scotty." His was the fate of so many returned soldiers of Europe. Away five years, he came back to find he had no means of livelihood. Because he wore so many medals police new to the beat arrested him as an impostor, but his credentials always proved his case and he was acquitted.

"Scotty" used a number of rocks to hold down his papers. Once a hold-up occurred just across from his corner and he witnessed it. With the same presence of mind displayed in the war he took the rocks and hurled them at the bandit, knocking him senseless. Then he returned to his stand. From that time the police have not molested him. "Scotty" stands on the hotel selling his "supper" papers.

And just across the channel bands are playing and they are acclaiming the heroes of the war. —GILBERT SWAN.

Built for comfort, what I mean!

COMFORT and lots of it. I'm talking about Prince Albert, Gentlemen, the National Joy Smoke. Why, there's friendliness in the very aroma of P.A., as you open the tidy red tin. Some fragrance it is, too.

The first pull on a pipe packed with P.A. tells you the taste is equally friendly. Cool and long-burning. Sweet as grape-clusters, hanging on the vine. Mild as arctic sunshine, yet with plenty of good, rich tobacco-body to let you know you're smoking. So mild, in fact, that you can load-up and light-up from breakfast to bedtime.

Now, I'm not one to mix in on other people's affairs. But this pipe-thing is different, somehow. I can't resist tipping you off to what I consider the greatest pipe-tobacco in the world. Get some P.A. now and get some of this comfort I've been telling you about.

VIGILANT GAME SQUAD SEIZES ANOTHER DEER

Conservation officers, working in Schoolcraft county, seized their third illegally killed deer of the week Saturday afternoon in the Thunder Lake country. Al Huber, Cocks farmer, who was in that vicinity, was arrested and brought to Manistique to face a charge of violating the same law.

Arraigned before Justice W. A. McKinney Monday morning, Huber denied that he was guilty of illegal hunting, claiming that he had been in the woods merely for the purpose of looking over some timber. He pleaded not guilty, and asked an examination which has been set for Monday, November 14. Recognition of $500 was required for his appearance.

Huber was carrying no gun when the officers arrested him in the woods. They connected him with the shooting by means of tracks in the snow leading to his car, some distance away. Officers reported the deer was killed with buckshot, and found a 10 gauge shell nearby. Complaint in the case was filed by Julius Thorsen of the conservation department.

The deer, like those previously confiscated, was turned over to authorities at the county poor house.

Chamber Commerce Monthly Session at 6:15 Tonight

Opening with the usual luncheon at 6:15, the regular monthly meeting of the Manistique Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight at the Elks Temple. Officials of the organization reported yesterday that arrangements were being made for a speaker, and it was expected that something of unusual interest would be offered for the members. A number of business matters of timely interest are slated for round-table discussion.

Seek First Hand Data on Game in Hunting District

In an effort to collect first-hand information on game conditions, the state department of conservation, under Director George R. Hogarth is sending out questionnaire post cards to be filled out by deer hunters and returned to the department. A supply of the query cards has been received at Manistique by County Clerk G. L. Bouscher, and one will be given out with each deer hunting license.

The reserve side of the card to be filled out by the hunter reads as follows: "To assist us in planning for more and better game protection, please give us the following information:

In what county did you hunt? Did you get a buck? Near or between what towns? (Illustration: 10 miles S. E. of Vanderbilt; or, between Seney and Gernsfaak.) If not, how many days did you hunt? If so, how long did you hunt before killing your buck? Number of points on his antlers. His weight. How many deer did you see? Bucks. Does. Fawns. Did you get a bear? If not, did you see a bear? Name. Address.

TARZAN STORY AT GERO.

Introducing a brand new character to the screen, that of Liu Yu-Ching, the Chinese Giant, a big African social, "Tarzan and the Golden Lion," comes to the Gero tonight. Liu is not only the tallest living Chinaman, standing 8 feet and a half inch in his stockinged feet, but is one of the "longest" men in the world. A few months ago he was brought to this country to appear in the prologue of a Chinese film, and was selected for the "Tarzan" picture because of his gigantic stature and imposing presence.

While Liu has been in America for nearly a year, his chief trait is homesickness, according to his interpreter. Liu speaks only Mandarin, the court language of China, and the Pekinese dialect, and as there are few natives of Peking in this country, he rarely finds anyone to talk to. His main interests are in his wife and three children.

PARENTS WILL BE PUPILS TO 'KNOW SCHOOL'

One of the features of education week in Manistique will be "Know Your School" Day, which will be observed this evening at the Lakeside, Westside and Riverside schools, Wednesday and Thursday night at the junior high and high school.

All parents and any others interested in the way school work is conducted are invited to attend. Programs will start at 7:30 and continue until 9 p. m., during which time there will be short class periods in all grades at each school, with the parents and visitors acting as pupils. The daily schedule of work will be carried out to give people inside data on the machinery of the modern school.

The first demonstrations are scheduled to start at 7:30 sharp tonight at Westside, Riverside and Lakeside. Those planning to attend are urged to be on time, as the daily program will be carried out punctually, with brief periods allotted to each class. The classes are open to parents, guardians, citizens, or anyone interested, and previous education will not be considered in the conduct of the adult "classes."

Reuben Larson Is Given Surprises

A group of about 50 friends and neighbors staged a surprise party Sunday afternoon for Reuben Larson, 525 Michigan avenue, who has been disabled for some time. The visitors, including both young and old, gathered at the Larson home to give Reuben a complete surprise. They brought a substantial purse from scores of friends, which was presented by John Soderbeck, and there was a short devotional service led by Rev. V. E. Holmstedt. A bounteous luncheon closed the program for a very pleasant afternoon.

This was the second similar surprise party given in honor of Mr. Larson in the past two weeks. On a previous occasion, another group of friends came to his home and presented him with a purse of money.

Mr. Larson was highly pleased by the thoughtfulness of his friends, and has expressed his sincere thanks to all those responsible for the parties and the assistance given him in his time of trouble. His injured limb is now reported to be improving slowly.

TEAMS WRITING TO MANISTIQUE FOR CAGE TILTS

Will Manistique have a city or Legion basketball team this season? Inquiries are already coming in from teams who desire to book games in this city within the next month or two. A recent letter from the Neenah-Menasha Yellow Jackets states that they are seeking an engagement here for some time within the dates of December 1 and 15 when they make their tour through this section.

If Manistique decides to sponsor a basketball team there is ample assurance of plenty of good games for an attractive schedule.

NARMA CHURCH SERVICES.

There will be services at the Community church this evening at 7:30. Rev. C. S. Risley of Manistique will be present and will speak. His subject will be "The Golden Rule." What do you think of it? Is it workable? It is hoped that there will be a large attendance. A cordial welcome to all.

CITY BRIEFS

An eight-pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Oliver of Manistique Sunday morning. The mother was reported to be getting on favorably.

The following Manistique people motored to Gladstone Sunday and were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carlson, Minnesota avenue: Mr. and Mrs. Emil Carlson and son, Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hagquist, Mrs. Earl Cline and son.

A meeting of the Presbyterian Guild will take place this evening at 7:30 in the church parlors. Mrs. George Miller and Bessie Olson will be the hostesses.

Mrs. John Schuster and Mrs. Charles Kendall will act as hostesses at the regular meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Aid, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the basement of St. Francis de Sales school.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will meet Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the church recreation rooms. Mrs. Fred Kempf, Mrs. L. Laux, Mrs. J. Carney and Mrs. McGahon will be the hostesses.

Plans are complete for a public supper to be served Saturday by the M. E. Ladies in the reception rooms of the church. The serving will start at 5 p. m. and continue until all are cared for, with the following menu: Roast beef and pork, mashed potatoes, cranberry jelly, cabbage cold slaw, white and rye bread, apple and pumpkin pie, coffee.

Mrs. Shuler of Gladstone was a guest at the home of Mrs. M. White, Garden avenue, Sunday.

Miss Helen Thorell left Saturday evening for Chicago, where she will receive medical attention at the Augustana hospital.

Miss Ingrid Neuman of Gladstone visited at the home of John Larson, Michigan avenue, Sunday.

Manistique Band Meeting Thursday

A rehearsal and special meeting of the Manistique W. O. W. band has been announced for Thursday evening by Director George Hamill.

Members of the band are notified to report for practice at 7 p. m. sharp. The session will be a short one, but requires the attendance of every one of the players.

Young Folks Enjoy Afternoon at Rink

A party of young people from Manistique motored to Escanaba Sunday afternoon and spent a very enjoyable time at the roller rink that evening. The group included the following: Elsie LaBar, Mary Walding, Kathryn Paulson, Inabel Peasley, Mede and Nettie Arrowood, Evelyn and Millie Mulhaupt, Millie Johnson, Art Edwards, Ellsworth Larson, Wilfred Walding, Jack Archambeau and Orville Klages.

Central P. T. A. Has A Meeting Tonight

Progress made so far in plans for the medical and dental clinic at Central school will be discussed at a meeting of the Central Parent-Teachers' association in the junior high building at 7:30 tonight. A report will be given on what has been done up to the present time, and additional details will be formulated.

Fire Burns Hole In Shingle Roof

Sparks from the chimney were given as the cause of a fire at the Elks Temple Sunday evening. Neighbors were first to report the blaze when it appeared on the shingles, coming through from the chimney.

Perkins Aid Meets Thursday

The Ladies' Aid society of the Perkins Lutheran church will have a meeting Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Peter Nelson home. Mrs. Nelson will be hostess. All are cordially invited to attend.

CIRCULATION IS INCREASING

Records of Gladstone Library Show Steady Gain in Patrons

Library circulation for the month of October has shown a big increase over the preceding month, the records completed by Miss Cornelia Henderson, librarian, show.

The total circulation in the Gladstone library for the month just past was 1992, an increase of 162 over the circulation in September.

The circulation surpasses the highest record previous, that of March, 1927, by 182, the record for that month being 1810.

Circulation, the records show is steadily increasing and indications are that this year's circulation total will be far in advance of previous records.

In listing the circulation total, Miss Henderson also made announcement of a number of new books for juvenile readers and a group of new books for adults.

The juvenile books include: "Secret of Spirit Lake," by Ames; "Mother's Away," Ashmun; "Emily's Quest," Montgomery; "Shadow on the Dial," Seaman; "Dr. Doolittle's Garden," Lofting, as well as a number of books for first, second and third grades.

New fiction in adult reading includes, "The Mad Caraway," by Martha Ostenso, author of "Wild Geese," and "Dark Dawn," and "Lost Ecstasy," by Rhinehart.

Adult nights, on which the library will be reserved for adult readers only are being observed each Tuesday and Thursday of the week. No students with the exception of seniors are allowed and they must have permits to use the library on the two nights. Miss Henderson will be in charge one adult night for consultations concerning reading.

THEATRES

"BEN HUR." "Ben Hur," the $4,000,000 picture which will be presented at the Rialto Theater beginning today portrays the glory of the ancient Romans with a magnificence and grandeur unequalled by any previous spectacle of stage or screen.

The Romans excelled in war, athletic prowess and speed contests on the chariot race course. In the first-named, "Ben Hur" shows a sea battle of Nisenum, in which more than 100 Greek and Roman ships are engaged. The Romans defeat the Greeks, but not without the loss of the head trirreme to the piratical Greeks who ram and board the ship, kill the crew, then set fire to the disabled, sinking craft. This is the most terrifying action ever shown in a picture.

For race-track thrills, nothing can compare with the great chariot race scene. In the Roman modus a chariot course was built with half-mile laps, and this was surrounded by a circus maximum with a seating capacity of 100,000 spectators, the whole guarded by great gladiatorial figures in the heroic style of sculpture and ornamented with Roman eagles, warriors and amazons by the artists Carmelo Barbara and Carlos Romanelli.

Twelve quadrigas or four-horse chariots enter the race, which is seven times around the course. Midway there is a wreck, in which several of the teams, drivers and chariots are piled one upon another. It is Ben Hur and Messala's race-duel toward the finish. Messala's wheel is torn off, he is smashed beneath his chariot and his team. The other goes on to win amid the plaudits of the vast crowd.

AT THE LYRIC.

Some men are born to trouble; some achieve trouble; and some have trouble thrust upon them.

In the latter class that Bill and Shorty belong, they being two peevishly inclined cowboys who carry the principal part of the action in "Pals in Peril," the Pathe picture showing today at the Lyric theater. These two complacent knights of the saddle, enacted by Buffalo Bill, Jr., and George Ovey respectively, ride into town at the opening of the story, not even dreaming of such a thing as trouble. Their only desire is to satisfy the cravings of their ravenous appetites, but before they have an opportunity to accomplish this peaceful pursuit they are thrust into a maelstrom of turmoil. They inadvertently and unknowingly come in contact with Blackie Burns, ranch boss of the L.F. outfit, and he proves to be a most dangerous man to run foul of. Right then trouble starts with a vengeance, and it maintains a constantly increasing pace throughout the five gripping reels of the story. The tale was concocted by Walter J. Coburn and in its fiction form was published in Adventure under the title of "Paid Off."

More than 2,000,000 pounds of copper were required for the minting of $5,145,875 one-cent and five-cent pieces which the United States turned out last year.

HALF-HOLIDAY ARMISTICE DAY

Announce That Business Will Be Suspended at Noon

A general suspension of business activities at noon Friday in observance of Armistice Day in Gladstone was announced Monday.

Announcement of the closing, requested by the Escanaba and Gladstone Legion posts and sponsored by the Gladstone City club, was made in behalf of the stores of the city by E. A. Erickson, president of the club.

The Marble Arms & Manufacturing plants and the Marble Card will close at noon. It was announced. At the offices of the Northwestern Co-operative company it was said there was not definite information in regard to the matter as yet.

Gladstone will join Escanaba in an Armistice Day celebration in keeping with the observance of the day.

Ball in Evening. There will be military maneuvers in which service men of the two posts taking part at the Escanaba Athletic field between halves of the Escanaba-Gladstone game.

A banquet will be held in the early evening. The military ball, which will be given by the two posts, will be held in the evening at Terrace Gardens with the Midnight Entertainers playing.

LADIES' AID DINNER PLANNED WITH SALE

The serving of a dinner in connection with annual fancy work sale of the Dorcas society, Swedish Lutheran church, which will be held November 30, was decided upon at the last regular meeting of the Aid.

Announcement that the members of the Ladies' Aid would take complete charge of the dinner which will be served in the church parlors during the early evening hours of the sale, was made yesterday and further announcement of the menu and of the committee in charge will be made later.

The fancy work sale is an annual affair conducted each fall by the Dorcas society. It has been the custom to serve light refreshments in connection with the sale, but this year the dinner will be served in place of the usual lunch.

Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal. Adv.

NO INJURIES TO MICHIGAN TEAM

Chicago and Northwestern Suffer Serious Casualties

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Roll call at the camps of the three leaders in the Western Conference football race, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan, found no serious casualties tonight, but Chicago and Northwestern of the hopeless contenders were nursing many cripples.

The Michigan team nearly earned an "iron men" reputation in Saturday's conflict with Chicago, for no substitutions were necessary until the last few minutes of play. Even Louis Gilbert, the center of the enemy attack for four weeks, and more brittle than the average backfield star, came through unscathed and ready to outrange the Navy at Ann Arbor.

Wisconsin and Indiana had easy opponents Saturday, and came through with only an average workout. Purdue's two great runners, Wilcox and Welch, have a fortnight's rest before closing their Big Ten careers as a backfield team against Indiana.

The Northwestern cripples have the added depression of three straight defeats. In Iowa's case, though, that is only the beginning, for the Hawkeyes have ten straight conference defeats to rally from, and the greatest line in the Big Ten to crash against Saturday at Wisconsin.

Indiana began the second week of preparation today for Northwestern, with a light drill.

Chicago is battered and broken, defeated twice in a row, and with Capt. Ken Rouse, the keystone of the defense line at center, among the cripples, Old Man Stag is priming his team for its greatest rival, Illinois, next Saturday, in their 31st annual struggle at Urbana.

Illinois has coasted through two of its three conference victories without distressing Coach Zuppke's entire lineup.

Minnesota, Ohio State and Purdue started a week of easy drills today, with the regulars excused for a few days.

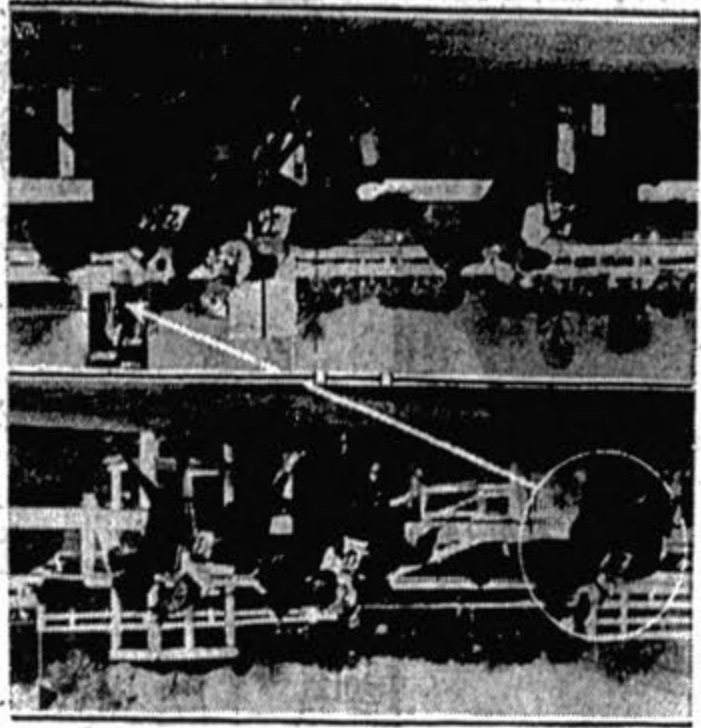

CARLETON STEPPING HIGH IN GAME WITH ARMY.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Just how does Carleton College get that way, having a place on the 1928 schedule of the Army?

That's what fans in this section are asking since the announcement was made that this small college had scheduled a game with the West Point outfit for 1928.

Carleton is at Northfield, Minn., and seldom plays schools in the Big Ten. In her class, in the Mid-Western Conference, she has been a steady winner. Northwestern swamped her in 1926, but several years ago she gained a victory over Chicago.

AND THE LAST SHALL BE FIRST!

Last in this picture of the start of the Riggs Handicap at Pimlico, Baltimore, was Bostonian, Workman up (circle, above). But when the wire was reached, as viewed below, he was first—and winner of a $25,000 purse.

Sparks Outpoints Mickey Roberts

Flint, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Ward Sparks Detroit heavyweight, outpointed Mickey Roberts in a 10 round boxing contest here tonight. Perry McPherson of Lima, O., won from Frenchie Stubar of Montreal, in an eight round semi-final. Jess Sorbantes of Flint stopped Bud Kemple of Lima in five rounds. Dutch Lelzer of Elkhart, Ind., beat Tommy Dale of Flint, in six rounds and Johnny Huxtra of Niles won from Dutch Otto of Saginaw, in four.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, New York featherweight, tonight knocked out Billy Henry, Chicago, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the arena. Henry weighed 130 and Canzoneri 129 pounds.

Famous Football Referee.

Many times a foul for interference with a fair catch is called and people will shout their disapproval, stating that the man has never made a signal indicating that he was to make a fair catch.

As a matter of fact, he doesn't have to signal. A man has an opportunity to make a fair catch as long as it is possible for him to reach a ball, kicked by an opponent, before it touches the ground.

Whether he signals for a fair catch or not, all opponents who are off-side must keep out of his way, and interference of any kind, or anything which would interfere with his reaching the ball, whether by accident or design, is construed to be interference with this man's opportunity to make a fair catch.

CLOSE SEASON HERE FRIDAY

Cup Offered to Winner of Armistice Day Game

The Escanaba Highlanders will close their 1927 football season here on Armistice Day with Gladstone high school furnishing the opposition. Never before in the history of the schools have the teams been so evenly matched as they seem to be this year. The Gladstone school has never defeated Escanaba in a grid game, their best showing being a scoreless tie in 1925. Coach Roels' men are set on advancing this record up one more year, but the Kellmen are just as much determined to win their first game against the Orange and Black lads.

Coach Roels, the Escanaba mentor, was quite satisfied with the offense of his team in the Negaunee game last Saturday but expects to give this squad plenty of work during the next few days both on offense and defense. DeMars, who was ineligible for the Negaunee game, has returned to the squad and will be seen in action against the Uplay lads. Snyder will be back at his old position at right end. The Esky boys who will be playing their last football game this week for Escanaba high school are: Captain G. Snyder, Erdman, Vandenberg, Olson, Labre, Gunderman and DeMars.

The Gladstone game was originally scheduled for November 12 but the date was changed to Armistice Day in accordance with the wishes of the American Legion posts of Escanaba and Gladstone. The posts of the two cities are offering a silver cup each year to be awarded to the high school winning the Armistice day game.

K. C. Organizes Bowling League; Open Season Friday

The K. of C. bowling league will swing into action next Friday night at the Arcade alleys. A six team league has been organized, and they will bowl one night a week each Friday at 7:30 o'clock.

A trophy cup will be given at the end of each season to the winning team, with the team name and each member's name engraved on it, to become the property of the K. of C. club and placed in the council club rooms.

The following are the teams:

Team No. 1—John Finn, Con Driscoll, Ed Maloney, Wm. Hartel, L. Murray.

Team No. 2—Paquin, John Berigan, G. O'Brien, Ralph Finley, J. P. Kennally.

Team No. 3—Con Desletts, Ed. Finn, Harry Moreau, Henry Bucholtz, Chas. O'Connell.

Team No. 4—Carl Franzen, Henry Moreau, Mike Bink, F. Fitzgerald, Reine Labre.

Team No. 5—Dr. Corcoran, Jos. Feller, Jas. Frenn, Wm. Kelley, Hec. Labate.

Team No. 6—W. Schuldes, E. L'Heureux, Fred Boddy, C. Murphy, Chas. Ford.

The foul line rule will be enforced for all match games and for all league bowling.

Next week the industrial league will get in action. The following teams have already signed up for the league:

How to Bowl

BY JIMMY SMITH.

INCREASING YOUR AVERAGE.

STORY X.

Study, practice and experience are the biggest factors in boosting your bowling scores. You will find all high average bowlers reached their station through careful and earnest study of themselves as to how they deliver their ball, etc., of the alleys they are bowling on and the conditions surrounding them, and of other bowlers and their methods; by regular and frequent practice which is the only method by which you can perfect your control and acquire machine-like action; and experience gained by the bowling on as many different pairs and under as varied conditions as you can.

"Finding" an alley, as we say, is merely studying the action of your delivery on the alley beds. In this respect I have had wonderful success and the experience I have been able to gain through extensive travel on my bowling tours which provided me with great opportunities to bowl under all conditions is largely responsible for my ability to bowl good most anywhere.

Alleys Vary.

There never was and probably never will be two alleys which are just alike. Even brand new alleys vary, some seeming to "take" more hook than others due to some condition of the surface or grain of the wood which is hard to explain. Kickbacks, that is the wooden sideboards at the pit end also have much to do with the pinfall; some of them seem to give more rebound to the pins than others. These are some of the things you have to study out and determine just what kind of a ball to bowl and from what spot to bowl it. Very often in working out on an alley, I discover something about its action which reminds me of a similar alley and this helps me to pick the right ball and method; using your head and storing up facts and points for future use are part of the equipment of a good bowler.

Practice of course, is a big essential; plenty of practice not in hit or miss big bunches of games but regular, frequent systematic practice. Great piano players, even after they become great, find it necessary to devote hours each day to nothing but finger exercises in order to keep their technique up to proper pitch. In practice difficult things become easy. If the ten pin is a tough spare for you, for instance, practice will make it an easy pin.

To do all your bowling on one or two certain pairs of alleys will not give you the experience necessary to become a great bowler, even though you practice continually. You may become a champion on these particular pairs and any "dub" will be able to beat you on any other alleys. Visit all the alleys you can; try them out, get used to the various surfaces and conditions; this will give you confidence, poise and coolness.

Competition Helpful.

Do not do all your practicing alone. Competition is needed to develop nerve and courage under tension; you will find after a bit you will bowl much better and will get a new thrill out of the game as you begin to topple over your opponents.

At first it will be a trying experience to face audiences and listen to the cheers for the other fellow; but granted you have the will and desire, this will eventually nerve you to greater effort and better bowling—you will become a thoroughbred in other words. And when you have "found yourself" watch your average jump like the mercury on a hot day. Heart, mind and body will concentrate completely on placing that ball of yours accurately in the 1-3 pocket; that is all you will think about and all you will be conscious of. Step out, therefore, just as soon as you find you are making creditable scores in your practice and join a tournament or a league for your first trial at competition then pick out some of your fellow bowlers of about your ability and take them on for friendly matches. Perhaps you will lose all the first ones, but stick to it; it is the only way to boost your average and the only way to find out whether you have the "sand" and "grit" to become a great bowler.

WELLS FOR ARGENTINE.

Buenos Aires—The Argentine senate has been asked to appropriate more than $2,000,000 to permit the ministry of agriculture to initiate a deep well boring program in sections where there is a scarcity of water.

heave and other open formations have made it difficult for any coach to provide a defense that isn't impenetrable.

Winning the game regardless of the score is now the slogan of the major teams, who once believed it a disgrace to have a minor college eleven cross its goal line.

CHANGE IN PLAY SURPRISED ALL

Michigan Team Converted to a Line Crashing Machine

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 7.—(AP)—The University of Michigan football team which turned loose a fierce line crashing attack in Saturday's game with Chicago, worked out leisurely today apparently none the worse for their bone bruising offensive.

The sudden return to the game made famous by Fielding H. Yost's point-a-minute teams, and by Johnny Maulbetsch, All-American "German bullet" of other days, startled even the most observing followers of the Maize and Blue.

The second great drive of George Rich, Michigan fullback, which ended when Oosterbaan received a long pass from Louis Gilbert across the goal line for a touchdown surpassed the feats of great Michigan fullbacks including in more recent years Cappon, Molenda and Weber.

Heretofore, at least in the games following the days of Harry Kipke and Cappon, the Wolverines have played their waiting game, preserving strength until within enemy territory when the forward pass or wide runs from the deceptive kicking formations furnished the scores. The attack driven for the most part through center and through holes opened by Ray Baer, last Saturday, caused the Chicago defense to come in giving Oosterbaan and Gilbert their chances for successful forward and lateral passes. From a waiting team "Tod" Wieman has developed a machine capable of the most varied attack.

New Combination Dangerous.

Whatever the plan of attack for the strong Navy team which invades the new stadium here Saturday it is certain Michigan will not be outclassed and will carry as strong a threat in most departments as the Navy 54-0, passing, running, kicking, completely demoralizing their opponents.

The history of gridiron relationship between Michigan and the Navy is brief, extending over but two years. The 1926 Navy team at Annapolis stopped the hitherto untopped passing combination of Bennie Friedman to Bennie Oosterbaan and triumphed, 10 to 0.

In the words of Coach Ingram, of the Navy, the present combination of Bennie to Louis, is more dangerous than that presented last year. If this is true Michigan may be revenged for a defeat which last year marred an otherwise perfect

Commission Takes Licenses of Boxers

Lansing, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The state athletic board of control, meeting here today, suspended the licenses of Frank Grover, Kalamazoo lightweight and Jake Lashaw of Battle Creek, his manager, for failing to appear at weigh-in time for a bout at Battle Creek.

Charles Moore, manager of Detroit boxers, was reinstated. He was suspended some time ago for arguing with E. W. Dickerson of Grand Rapids, who refereed a bout in Bay City.

A report to the board showed earnings of $43,896 this year under Thomas Bigger, boxing commissioner, as compared with $14,000 during the entire year of 1926.

Bigger announced that the next board meeting will be held in Detroit December 8, and will take the form of a general discussion of changes that might be made to improve the boxing sport. Promoters, ring officials and representatives of clubs will be invited to attend.

record of victories in the Western Conference and early season games. Michigan has been defeated this year, and is faced by another dangerous foe beside Navy, the crushing Minnesota team.

The importance of the inter-sectional battle is testified by approximately 86,000 persons who own all the tickets available for the classic. There will be no sales at the ticket windows Saturday because there are no tickets to sell.

The big difference in Walter Johnson and Calvin Coolidge leaving Washington is that Washington will get another president.

Now is the time for all good alumni to start panning the coach. There's a football player named Pappenheimer whose name entitles him to the All-America ranks.

Tunney says he wants his next fight to be over a long route. Mr. Dempsey suggest he try six-day bicycle races.

Famous Football Referee

Heretofore, piling up was called when a player of the defense threw himself on an opponent after the whistle had declared the ball dead.

Now, however, in order to prevent injuries, rule 21, section 3, has been revised to read: "There shall be no piling up on a player after the referee has declared the ball dead, or after the player in possession of the ball has been downed and is in the grasp of an opponent."

Now a man can be guilty of "piling up" before the ball has been actually declared dead.

FOOTBALL FUNDAMENTALS

As Told By Famous Coaches TO BILLY EVANS

DEFENSIVE TACKLE

There have been few great big league baseball clubs that lacked stars at short and second. In like manner, much of a football team's success hinges on the play of the tackle. Much of the grid play pivots around them.

A good tackle must be fleet of foot. The biggest, fastest and strongest linemen is invariably used as defensive tackle.

It is customary for two or more players of the offensive team to be delegated to keep the defensive tackle out of the play when the ball is sent into his territory. The tackle is responsible for the area between his position and that of his end.

Strong forearms, wrists and hands are invaluable to a defensive tackle. Most good tackles on defense usually stand fairly high before the ball is put into play. The arms are extended, but not so far as to encroach on the neutral zone between the two lines of scrimmage.

The defensive tackle stands high because he must get a good view of the offensive backs, thereby enabling him to see what happens to the ball and permitting him to adjust himself to existing conditions.

When the ball is passed, he grabs his opponent and charges straight through him without deviating an inch to left or right. To do otherwise would leave a hole for the ball carrier to sift through.

The two defensive tackles are the players expected to block all kicks possible and rush the forward passers in the hope of spoiling the play by making for inaccuracy on the part of the man or men handling the ball.

If the defensive tackles fall in their duty, it gives the offense plenty of time to get off its kicks and passes and makes such plays practically unstopable.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

SCIENCE STILL PUZZLED ON FUNCTION OF SPLEEN

In the abdomen lies a large, pulpy organ known as the spleen, which, according to popular tradition, has some association with emotions of anger. The phrase to "vent one's spleen" had relationship to a release of wrath.

Strangely enough, the exact functions of this organ in the human body have not yet been satisfactorily determined although much time and money have been spent in research.

Not long ago certain investigators asserted that the spleen could be observed in contraction under certain conditions. The theoretical explanation was offered that this contraction was due to a discharge of blood from the organ.

Blood Cells Theory
For some time it has been thought that the organ was especially concerned with the chemistry of the blood and with the manufacture of new blood cells. Quite recently British investigators have developed some ingenious experiments which throw new light on the functions of the organ.

In animals it is possible to insert a celluloid window into the body and to watch the functions of the organ directly. It is also possible to study its relations under the X-ray, particularly when air or gas is injected into the abdomen. Again it is possible to transplant the organ outside the abdominal cavity and thus to observe its action under various conditions.

The organ is insensitive. It seems to be involved in the control of the blood volume. If an animal exercises severely the spleen shrinks due to the discharge of blood from it into the circulation. In exercise also it contracts and seems to act as a sort of fine adjustment toward controlling the amount of blood in circulation.

Reservoir of Blood
It is possible for the human body to supply blood to one organ at the expense of another. The British observers found that in the most active exercise of which an animal is capable, the kidney may be deprived of blood to the extent of being actually injured.

Obviously it is desirable to have a reservoir like the spleen to take care of adjustments and prevent damage to an organ of the importance of the kidney.

In times of great struggle the physiologists point out, it is desirable to have a reservoir like the spleen to take care of adjustments and prevent damage to an organ of the importance of the kidney.

Feel Good
Most ailments start from poor elimination (constipation or semi-constipation). Intestinal poisons sap vitality, undermine health and make life miserable. Tonight try KID-NATURE'S REMEDY—all-vegetable corrective—not an ordinary laxative. See how it will aid in restoring your appetite and rid you of the heavy, loose, poisonous feeling. Mild, safe, purely vegetable—25c.

surable that the animal should survive as the result of muscular strength, even though some damage to the kidney may result. The muscles must have the last ounce of blood they can get, in order to save the animal's life.

In less severe occasions the spleen can provide the extra blood needed and save the draw that otherwise might be made on the vital organs. It is interesting to know that psychological or emotional processes that are likely to culminate in violence also cause the spleen to become pale and to contract somewhat, anticipating the actual exercise.

The contraction of the spleen seems to be subject to control through the nervous system, which serves also to link up its action with the brain centers during strong emotions.

Victor Gustafson Nahma Postmaster

Washington, Nov. 7.—Victor Gustafson was appointed postmaster of the third class office at Nahma, Delta county, succeeding Edward C. Tobin, who had been serving as acting postmaster. It was made known today by Rep. F. P. Bohn of Newberry who recommended Gustafson to the postmaster general.

Athens, Ga.—This McCrary, who plays fullback for Georgia, has feet so peculiarly shaped that he has to have his football shoes made specially for him.

McCrary possesses feet with heels very small and the fore portion large, much bigger than the usual run. And to avoid having his star fullback troubled with sore feet, Coach Woodruff sends him up to Atlanta every now and then during the season to get special footwear.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster without the burn. You feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu."
