

SMITH LEADING IN DETROIT ELECTION

EXPECT FLOOD CONTROL WILL BE LIVE ISSUE

CONGRESS TO HAVE MANY PLANS TO WORK ON

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Nov. 8.—Control of the turbulent rivers of the nation will be the paramount issue before congress.

Congress will have many plans presented to it, including one from the Army engineers. Secretary Hoover, who is an engineer himself has drawn one of the most far-reaching plans the capital here has seen.

Water Power Is Obstacle. The sentiment in favor of scientific control of floods is unanimous but opposition will develop if it is attempted to link flood control with "waterpower" development.

There is a view, however, shared in to some extent by President Coolidge that if large dams are erected the government should in some way use the water power as a valuable by-product that may help to pay the cost of the dams.

Lease Water Power. The Hoover-Coolidge viewpoint on flood control, therefore, which probably will be presented in the president's message to congress will have to give definite assurance that the government is not going to enter the water power business if the flood program is to have clear sailing without opposition.

YOUTHS KILL AGED WOMAN

Grandson and Friend Confess to Murder and Robbery

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 8.—The brutal robbery and murder of an aged woman recluse of Zwingle, Ia., was solved here late today, police believed, with the arrest of two nattily dressed youths who said they were Leonard Cota, 18 of Bennettsville, Ia., and Harold Kramer, 19, of Great Falls, Mont.

The youths admitted, police said, that they slugged, bound and gagged and Mrs. McCricket, and robbed her of the cash and securities to night of November 1. Word was received from police at Dubuque, Ia., that Mrs. McCricket was found strangled to death in his cottage at Zwingle, near there, and her grandson, Cota, was suspected as he disappeared shortly after the crime.

"I sent for Kramer to help me with the robbery," Cota said. "I bought a second-hand automobile for $25. On the night of November 1, Kramer and I drove to my grandmother's cottage, which is on the outskirts of Zwingle. I knocked on the door and said, 'Grandmother, this is Leonard.' My grandmother was almost blind. She said, 'I don't know whether it is you or not, but I'll let you in.' She opened the door and I grabbed her.

"We found the money in bureau drawers, tied up in packages. We didn't stop to count it. We went over to her to see if she was breathing. She was breathing, so we left. We got in the car and drove to Dubuque. We got there about 2 o'clock in the morning."

GREEN ELATED BY COOLIDGE'S ANNOUNCEMENT

FAVORS REPEAL OF INHERITANCE TAX

Lansing, Nov. 8.—(P)—The announcement today that President Coolidge favors the repeal of the federal inheritance tax was greeted with elation by Gov. Fred W. Green.

The governor returned this afternoon from Washington, where with a legislative committee, appeared before the house ways and means committee to urge abolition of the federal levy.

"A few years ago the federal government took $17,000,000 out of Michigan from the Dodge estate. The wealth was built up in Michigan. In 1926, the federal government took $227,000,000 out of this state in various taxes," the governor said.

"The federal tax is neither fair nor just. If the federal government may take a levy on our estates it might also demand a share of our other state taxes."

The governor defended the principle of the inheritance tax, but insisted all the revenue should belong to the state. He suggested such amounts from this source are not needed for the primary school fund might be devoted to state building purposes.

Two Missing Aviators Were Killed by Bandits

Managua, Nic., Nov. 8.—(P)—Heroism and unflinching courage against overwhelming odds, marked the last stand of Second Lieut. E. A. Thomas and Sgt. Frank Dowell, American marine aviators, it was revealed today in advices from the interior stating that the flyers were killed by outlaws, just a month ago.

The report, which is believed here to be authoritative, came from Nicaraguans living in October, important town in northern Nicaragua, and the scene of a desperate battle some months ago between American marines and Nicaraguans, consisting of the followers of the former liberal General Sandino, the story finding its way to the coast at length, is felt to clear up definitely the fate of the two flyers who have been sought by their comrades ever since they disappeared in the thickets on Mt. Chipote on October 8 after their plane crashed.

VOTERS GO TO POLLS IN OFF YEAR ELECTION

ISSUES IN SEVERAL STATES ATTRACT ATTENTION

(By The Associated Press.) From the national standpoint, interest in yesterday's elections, held in a dozen scattered states centered in the fate of a proposed constitutional amendment in New York, opposed by Gov. Al Smith, the election of a governor in Kentucky, and the result of a referendum in Ohio and mayoralty battles in Philadelphia and Detroit.

In New York, incomplete returns indicated the rejection of the proposal, fought by Smith and favored by Republicans, to increase the term for governor to four years, beginning at the next election for president.

Scattered returns in Kentucky showed J. C. W. Beckham, Democrat, slightly in the lead of Flem D. Sampson, his Republican opponent, for governor, with the result in doubt. During the campaign Beckham, twice governor and once U. S. senator, advocated repeal of the pari-mutual race track betting law.

DETROIT POLICE OFFICER KILLED

Enters Gasoline Station When Holdup Is in Progress

Detroit, Nov. 8.—(P)—Thugs added their fourth victim to the 1927 roll of policemen slain in attempts to protect life and property here early today when they shot and fatally wounded Patrolman Henry C. Puffer as he was about to enter an oil station unaware that a hold-up was in progress. Puffer died on the way to Receiving Hospital.

Seven negro suspects are held by police. The two thugs, negroes, had just held up Thomas Kempster, attendant at the oil station, and robbed the cash register of $51.54 and a wrist watch, when Patrolman Puffer came to the door.

Without warning, the tall one lifted a pistol to within five or six inches of Puffer's chest and pulled the trigger," Kempster said. Although gravely wounded, Puffer followed the negroes several yards, emptying his revolver at them. The men escaped in a large sedan.

LODGE CUTS MARGIN TO 2,000 VOTES

DRY CANDIDATE OVERCOMING EARLY SLUMP

Detroit, Nov. 8.—(P)—John C. Lodge, drafted candidate began cutting down the big lead rolled up by Mayor W. Smith, wet standard bearer in today's non-partisan mayoralty election, as returns began pouring in from the outlying residential districts shortly after midnight. At that time returns from 333 out of 606 precincts in the city as unofficially tabulated by the Detroit Free Press gave Smith 52,387, Lodge 50,139.

At the same time Republican headquarters tabulating returns at the city hall claimed Lodge had assumed the lead on the face of returns from 482 precincts received there. The city hall figures gave Lodge 81,900; Smith 81,200.

EXPECT RECORD VOTE.

Detroit, Nov. 8.—(P)—Election officials predicted a record vote eclipsing all previous voting records in purely municipal elections late today when returns from every section of the city showed an unusually heavy poll. The keen interest in the mayoralty election following the aggressive campaign of Mayor John W. Smith and the unique silent campaign of John C. Lodge was considered responsible for the turnout, despite unfavorable weather conditions.

The vote of women was reported exceptionally large in a majority of the precincts exceeding in many cases over one-third of the vote cast. That the vote would exceed 250,000 was freely predicted.

Late this afternoon there were few reports of disturbance in any of the precincts and none that could be ascribed directly to the election.

Robert Tippins, 26, was arrested after casting his vote in the fourth district of the first ward when police reported he had given an address which was faulty. He is held on a disorderly conduct charge awaiting investigation.

For city commissioner—W. C. Morrey, 5,015; Maurice Heulan, 4,549; Philip A. Hahn, 3,577; Wesley A. Davis (incumbent) 2,591. (Two elected.)

An amendment to the city charter proposing the establishment of a municipal court to replace police and justice courts carried 4,658 to 2,738. A proposition to pave Westrup avenue, passing the new Jackson high school athletic stadium, lost in the balloting, though it had a majority, three fifths of the total vote being required. The vote was 4,195 for, and 3,363 against.

ELECT SAFETY HEAD.

Port Huron, Nov. 8.—(P)—C. L. Boynton was elected commissioner of public safety in today's city election over Commissioner Hamilton Irving. All other city candidates including Mayor John J. Bell had been elected in the primary October 31. Today's vote: Boynton 3,597; Irving 2,658.

S. district engineer of that district for his recommendation and report has been transmitted at his suggestion for his advice as to landscaping the park. AL SMITH WINS ANOTHER FIGHT

Four Year Term for Governor Is Rejected by Voters

New York, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith, now serving his fourth term as chief executive of the Empire state, won another smashing victory at the polls today.

Almost single handed, he fought a proposition to amend the state constitution which called for a four-year term for governor and the indications late tonight were that the amendment was overwhelming defeated. At the same time eight other proposed amendments, all favored by the governor, probably will be written into the law of the state, judging from the incomplete returns.

The governor issued a statement claiming that all amendments, except the one relating to the governor's term, had been adopted. The governor, oddly enough, originally favored the idea of a four-year term, as part of his state reorganization plan. But the late legislature, dominated by the Republicans, put through a proviso that the election should be held during presidential elections.

Returns from virtually half of the state showed that the voters had rolled up a majority of more than 300,000 votes against the amendment. The New York City vote was 374,588 against it and 126,537 for it. The upstate vote was: yes, 108,908; no, 180,546.

The proposal to increase New York City's debt limit to $300,000,000, was leading by 504,901 to 299,881. The proposed amendment calling for increased salaries for governor, lieutenant governor and members of the assembly, was leading by 558,816 votes to 232,659.

MAKEY LEADING.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Returns from 375 of the 1517 districts in the city gave MaKey (R) for mayor, 74,280; Moore (C) 21,385. The same districts at the September primary gave MaKey 65,400; Moore, 27,146.

COYOTE FOE OF DEER.
Laramie, Wyo., (AP)—Forest officials here believe coyotes take a much larger yearly toll of deer, particularly fawns, than hunters do.

TARPON ON BASS TACKLE.
Cleburne, Texas (AP)—Vernie Dillion, Cleburne sportsman, returned from Port Aransas with a 75 pound tarpon which was said to be the largest ever caught off the jetties with a light bass tackle.

Dillion worked for nearly an hour to land his prize. The tarpon was 5 feet 2 inches long. Port Aransas is one of the fishermen's mecca, many eastern sportsmen having fished for tarpon there.

Tokyo—In front of the Hachiman shrine in Tokyo there have been a number of accidents recently in which women and children have been killed by automobiles and street cars.

Near the shrine is a famous tree known as the "Hachiman Maiden-Hair Tree." Superstitious natives believe that the spirit which is supposed to inhabit this tree is angry because some boys recently cut several branches off the tree.

Special prayers are being offered at the temple in the hope of appeasing the tree spirit and extra traffic policemen have been stationed nearby to try and obviate further serious accidents and to prevent further indignities to the "Maiden-Hair Tree."

Witnesses Request Examination to Be Made Under Oath

Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Efforts of house and ways and means committee members to trace the source of money used to defray expenses of witnesses advocating repeal of the federal inheritance tax were met today with a request from witnesses themselves that if anything appeared wrong an investigation under oath be ordered.

While this was developing at the capitol, the advisability of retaining the levy came in from discussion at both the White House and treasury. At the executive offices it was said President Coolidge felt the estate tax was a legitimate levy, but that he was prepared to sign a bill for its repeal.

The treasury also took occasion to reiterate its arguments in favor of repeal of the tax and in addition, Undersecretary Mills again warned that the total tax reduction proposed should not exceed $25,000,000. He said the department, in setting this limit had been liberal in its estimates and that a compromise cut of $325,000,000 as suggested in some quarters, undoubtedly would be felt in a deficit.

The meeting of the house committee with the inheritance tax question up for discussion developed into a stormy session. At one point Chairman Green banged for order, declaring proponents of repeal of the inheritance levy had "packed" the committee room.

The witness at that time, John H. Kirby, Houston, Texas, president of the National Council of State Legislatures, had just concluded a defense of the rights of states to levy estate taxes.

"This room has been packed by your organization," remarked Green. "We know how they are gathered." As the session proceeded, each witness was questioned closely as to the source of money defraying his expenses, with Representative Radney, Democrat, Illinois, taking the lead in the quizzing.

He examined William H. Blodgett, tax commissioner for Connecticut, as to who paid for his breakfast and the taxicab he used in reaching the capitol.

Organization Paid Expenses.
Blodgett replied he did not know who had paid the bill, but hoped the National Council of State Legislatures had footed it.

Governor Sorlie of North Dakota, told the committee the secretary of the Greater North Dakota association had requested him to appear to urge repeal of the levy. He said he had not been offered any of the money the committee referred to, although "I have found out that it was raised by collection."

When the governor asked Chairman Green if it was wrong to receive money for his expenses to Washington, Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democratic member, remarked that in his fourteen years of service on the committee the usual procedure was for it to summon witnesses and pay their expenses out of the federal treasury. It seems exceptional, he added, that an organization should raise funds for that purpose.

OVERSEAS MAIL ORDER ISSUED

Government Tells How to Handle Foreign Gift Shipments

Washington—Plans for handling international parcel post mails during the Christmas holiday period, which begins about November 15, have been sent to postmasters by the Second Assistant Postmaster, General W. Irving Glover, the Post Office Department has just announced.

Postmasters were also instructed to bend every effort to have foreign Christmas mails properly prepared for dispatch so as to avoid any reason for their return from an exchange post office to the post office of mailing to the annoyance or disappointment of the senders concerned.

Department Order.
The full text of the Department's announcement follows:

The "overseas" holiday period of mailing commences about November 15, and in anticipation of an increased number of international parcel post packages being mailed from that time up to the end of the holiday season, postmasters will observe particularly the tables printed on pages 207 to 418, inclusive, of the annual Postal Guide for 1927, which furnish information concerning the weight limit and dimensions applicable to parcels for each foreign country, state whether the parcels may be registered, insured, or sent C. O. D., the charges required to be prepaid, the number and kind of customs declarations to be employed in each case, what other form (if any) are necessary, and the articles which are prohibited transmission by parcel post.

Should Correct Tables.
These tables should be kept corrected so that they may be immediately available when needed.

Due to the failure of mailing post offices to see that the proper number or the correct forms are securely attached to parcels when mailed, the New York office finds it necessary to prepare and affix to such parcels a great many customs declarations. The same is true in regard to parcels for Argentina, Spain, Egypt, Switzerland, the New York office unaccompanied by Dispatch Notes, despite the instructions on page 204 of the current Postal Guide regarding the "Maiden-Hair Tree."

TRY TO TRACE MONEY SOURCE

Witnesses Request Examination to Be Made Under Oath

CENSORSHIP IS AGAIN RESTORED

Rumania Stirred by Arrest of Lieutenant and His Wife

Bucharest, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Rumania was just recovering from the shock of the alleged Manolescu plot to restore former Crown Prince Carol to the throne when the country was again plunged into a state of agitation and uncertainty, culminating in the re-establishment of censorship today, by the arrest of a border town of a lieutenant and his wife they were said to have been in communication with Prince Carol.

One opposition paper, "Adeverul" took advantage of its last edition before the censorship became effective, to charge that Premier Bratianu was preparing to establish a dictatorship along the lines of that of Gen. Primo de Rivera, in Spain. The paper calls for a denial from the government if its information is not correct, declaring that if no denial is forthcoming the opposition and all Democratic interests should prepare for a struggle against usurpation of the constitution.

Information received here today is that Lieut. Theodoru and his wife, who were arrested at a border city yesterday, were searched and in the automobile "most interesting documents" were found. The pair was brought to Bucharest today for further interrogation by the Rumanian secret police.

Theodoru was formerly attached to the aviation section of the army, of which Prince Carol once was chief. In official circles home it is said that Theodoru had an important mission to perform between Prince Carol and certain Rumanian political leaders.

SAVES 68 WHEN BUILDING BURNS

Nun Rescues Children in Dormitory Blaze; Three Dead

Bernardsville, N. J., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The picture of a nun, rescuing 68 children, carrying some to safety from a building transformed into a roaring furnace, rose today above the confusion and hardship which came after fire destroyed a dormitory of a school at Peapack by the Baptistine Sisters of the Nazarene, taking the lives of three little inmates. When floor boards were burned beneath her feet, she skipped from beam to beam with her burdens.

The nun was Sister Mary Gabriel. One of the children became confused and wandered back into the dormitory and died in the flames after the sister set him down at the door. Sister Mary Mark, in charge of eleven other boys occupying the dormitory; rescued nine before the fire drove her back.

The dead children were Joseph Muzita, Raymond de Mauero and Joseph Milino, aged 4, 4 and 6, respectively, all of New York. The ruins of the large dormitory tonight were tumbled upon 75 tons of coal which had burned itself into a molten mass and was expected to prevent efforts to recover the bodies for at least a week. $100,000 Damage.

The fire was discovered shortly before 2 a. m. and was believed to have been caused by a defective furnace.

Again and again the nuns groped their way to the cribs of the children, ranging in age from 3 to 10 years, Sister Gabriel collapsing three times. The last few boys were handed to the male at-

SENATOR WEEPS IN COURTROOM

Bahorski Breaks Down on Witness Stand During Examination

Paw Paw, Mich., Nov. 8.—(AP)—State Senator Joseph Bahorski of Detroit on the witness stand today in circuit court, on a charge of fraud, in connection with obtaining of a signature on a bond for release of two alleged rum runners, broke down and wept when questioned relative to the sorrow brought to his family since his arrest last spring, the chambers of the state senate. The court ordered a brief recess to allow Senator Bahorski to regain his composure.

Senator Seth Q. Pulver of Owosso, defense counsel, was questioning Senator Bahorski about his five children in an attempt to show the court the suffering of the senator's family when the defendant began to weep. Senator Pulver introduced a motion to dismiss the charge which was figured by Judge Glenn E. Warner, postponed a decision to allow the filing of briefs.

Senator Pulver declared the bond, signed by John Burns, local hotel keeper, had been prepared improperly, in that one bond was drawn, while the order of the court was for two bonds of $3,000 each. Because of this impropriety, Senator Pulver argued, Burns could not be held responsible for his share.

Burns instituted suit when the rum runners defaulted, charging that Bahorski represented a party by the name of Charles V. King, as a wealthy property owner, whereas the property offered as security could not be found.

Senator Pulver also argued that Senator Bahorski had been tricked and had derived no benefits from obtaining Burns' signature on the bond. He said he would call as character witnesses for his client five circuit court justices and Robert M. Toms, Wayne county prosecutor.

EXAMINATION OF NASH IS ASKED

Was Plotting to Import Leprosy Germs into United States

Portland, Ore., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Police today asked a sanity test for William Nash, arrested here last night, while they continued their investigation of letters in his evidence purporting a plot to import germs to spread leprosy and anthrax in the United States.

The authorities had virtually decided to hold Nash as a victim of insanity when they received a telegram from Edmund Baltush, a special investigator at Tacoma, Wash., declaring he has additional details of "this international plot." Baltush's telegram said:

"Hold Nash. No bail until I can reach Seattle federal officers. Have all details this international plot. My report already in Washington, D. C. This man important link."

Police were notified by one prominent resident of Portland that Nash had threatened four years ago to bring disease germs into the city.

A letter which Nash left on a table in a cafe and was later thrown into a rubbish pile, led to his arrest when he sought to recover it. The letter, police said, was mailed by a brother of Nash in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, and was signed "Ant" and declared the writer was sending leprosy germs. A waitress turned the letter over to police who arrested Nash.

Bones of prehistoric men discovered in East Africa covered 41 different types, but none of them was what is now known as the negro type.

RELIEVE PILES QUICK WITHOUT OPERATIONS

Internal Remedy Ends Pain And Suffering In Few Hours Users Say AMAZING DISCOVERY WORKS VERY SIMPLE

I'll say frankly I was skeptical about any pills swallowed with a glass of water, helping my long standing case of piles, but now I want to tell the world they help the pain almost instantly and soon cause all the distressing symptoms to vanish as if by magic," declared another long suffering man, Frank Peters, of Attleboro, Mass.

It's nice to know that at last, no matter how long or how severely one has suffered, they can forget nasty salves, suppositories, or ugly operations and be relieved in a simple, scientific, harmless fashion. Thanks to modern chemistry they now put herbal medicines into a tablet, which relieves the pain, help nature eliminate the cause, and banish such troubles. These tablets are then coated with a new substance impervious to gastric juices. You swallow a couple each meal with a glass of water and they pass through the stomach into the bowels where they dissolve, heal and soothe as no external application could possibly do.

Thousands of tests prove internal treatment most effective for real and lasting results. Be certain are results, several local drug stores offer to refund users money if not relieved completely. Certainly no one suffering the pains and discomfort of piles or hemorrhoids need feel badly suffer longer. All good druggists here in town have Colic Pile Pills by now.

Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Jurors in the Fall-Sinclair criminal conspiracy trial were approached with improper questions within the very shadow of the courthouse, two of them disclosed today as they became grand jury witnesses in the latest of the oil scandals.

Their startling statements led federal agents on the trail of the questioners, thus far men of mystery and sensations.

John J. Costinett, an elderly tailor, and Gardner P. WITNESSES REQUEST EXAMINATION TO BE MADE UNDER OATH

Witnesses Request Examination to Be Made Under Oath

Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Efforts of house and ways and means committee members to trace the source of money used to defray expenses of witnesses advocating repeal of the federal inheritance tax were met today with a request from witnesses themselves that if anything appeared wrong an investigation under oath be ordered.

While this was developing at the capitol, the advisability of retaining the levy came in from discussion at both the White House and treasury. At the executive offices it was said President Coolidge felt the estate tax was a legitimate levy, but that he was prepared to sign a bill for its repeal.

The treasury also took occasion to reiterate its arguments in favor of repeal of the tax and in addition, Undersecretary Mills again warned that the total tax reduction proposed should not exceed $25,000,000. He said the department, in setting this limit had been liberal in its estimates and that a compromise cut of $325,000,000 as suggested in some quarters, undoubtedly would be felt in a deficit.

The meeting of the house committee with the inheritance tax question up for discussion developed into a stormy session. At one point Chairman Green banged for order, declaring proponents of repeal of the inheritance levy had "packed" the committee room.

The witness at that time, John H. Kirby, Houston, Texas, president of the National Council of State Legislatures, had just concluded a defense of the rights of states to levy estate taxes.

"This room has been packed by your organization," remarked Green. "We know how they are gathered." As the session proceeded, each witness was questioned closely as to the source of money defraying his expenses, with Representative Radney, Democrat, Illinois, taking the lead in the quizzing.

He examined William H. Blodgett, tax commissioner for Connecticut, as to who paid for his breakfast and the taxicab he used in reaching the capitol.

Organization Paid Expenses.
Blodgett replied he did not know who had paid the bill, but hoped the National Council of State Legislatures had footed it.

Governor Sorlie of North Dakota, told the committee the secretary of the Greater North Dakota association had requested him to appear to urge repeal of the levy. He said he had not been offered any of the money the committee referred to, although "I have found out that it was raised by collection."

When the governor asked Chairman Green if it was wrong to receive money for his expenses to Washington, Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democratic member, remarked that in his fourteen years of service on the committee the usual procedure was for it to summon witnesses and pay their expenses out of the federal treasury. It seems exceptional, he added, that an organization should raise funds for that purpose.

The building destroyed was a long, low two-story structure reconstructed from a carriage house. It was valued at $100,000.

The building housed 73 boys and was one of two main dormitory buildings comprising the institution. Eighty-one boys and girls were ordered out of a building 300 feet away, but were allowed to return after danger passed.

HOLD SUSPECTS AT HURLEY JAIL

Believed to Have Committed Robberies All Over U. P.

Ironwood—That "silence is gold" seems to be the motto which the four men, held in the county jail in Hurley in connection with the robbery of the Northern hotel in Mercer, Friday morning, are following, for they all stand mute when questions are asked.

Tom Busko, Woodruff, seemed inclined to give a little information Friday morning when questioned but upon a closer examination the following day he declined to answer, saying, "Many an innocent man has been convicted on his own testimony."

Woodruff Man Nervous. When brought into jail, the Woodruff man was exceedingly nervous and his appearance Saturday afternoon and yesterday morning seemed to point that his nervousness had not subsided to any great extent. Friday he was a farm hand and Saturday he was a chicken fancier with connections in Woodruff. It has been disclosed to officers that he has been living with a woman there who is running what has been called a soft drink parlor.

No new developments are reported in the case. However, officers are watching closely and believe that in a short time it will be possible to connect the gang with several other cases in the northern part of Wisconsin and Michigan. A more thorough investigation is being made on the robbery of the North-Western station at Alpha, Mich., about three weeks ago, and also of the theatre at Iron River about the same time, with the idea that it is possible some of the same gang are responsible.

Leaders of Gang. Monahan and Houck seem to be the real leaders of the gang although at first Leslie "Spot" Dawson of Rhinelander was believed to be the mainstay in the group that attempted the Mercer job. They have done the greater portion of the talking with the exception of several stories told by Busko. Mouck was the one who voiced the most objections to a $10,000 bail bond for each one of them.

Claims of drunkenness are still predominating all answers and with those also come statements of a long lapse of memory from the time they left Woodruff until they arrived at the county jail in Hurley. Officers were of the opinion that the entire gang must have been on "some drunk" with emphasis on "some," taking the lack of memory as a basis for the conclusions.

M. E. CHURCH TO HAVE BIRTHDAY

Dr. Frank L. Leonard Will Be Speaker at Sunday Service

The fifty-seventh year of Methodism in the city of Escanaba, and the twentieth anniversary of the present church building will be held Sunday, November 13, when appropriate services will be conducted. Rev. Frank L. Leonard, D. D., the newly appointed superintendent of the Marquette district, will preach the anniversary sermon at the morning service. Dr. Leonard is not a stranger to the upper peninsula, for several years he was known as the lumberjacks' "sky pilot," and as pastor to a score of Methodist churches where there were no resident ministers there he endeared himself, sparing neither time, money or himself that he might prove himself "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

At the session of the annual conference held at Port Huron last September, he was promoted to the northern district, a reward he well earned, and of which he is well worthy. The people of Escanaba will remember him, as the man who at the anniversary services last year he thrilled a large audience with his lecture, "Millions, Millions, Millions." He comes to this city again assured of a great welcome, and a large congregation is expected to greet him.

Special musical numbers will also feature the morning service when anthem, solo and organ music will be rendered by capable artists. At the evening service a sacred cantata entitled "The Two Harvests" by Ferris Tozer will be presented by a chorus choir of about twenty voices, directed by Mrs. Edward Lucas, with Miss Gertrude Rockburg at the organ. In addition to the cantata Mrs. Ethel Dewey Mark-crashed into the 175-pound buck and turned over three times before it came to rest in a ditch with its two occupants injured. The buck was dead with one antler broken off. It was reported at Powers today that the owner of the sedan was threatening to attempt to seek damages from the state for his ruined car.

The owner of the machine, a Norway man, said the deer was in the road with its head down when struck and the horns of the buck caught in the wheels of the car. Neither of the men in the car was seriously hurt.

SHEEP SURVIVES ARROW
Bozeman, Mont. (AP)—A mountain guide recently brought in the skull of a Rock Mountain sheep in which was imbedded an Indian arrowhead. It was apparent from the growth of bone around the arrow that the wound had not been fatal and that the bighorn probably carried the arrow point in its head many years before death.

AIR NEEDED IN PAPER MAKING

Few Realize Important Part It Plays at News-print Mills

When the average American newspaper reader picks up his favorite newspaper, he little realizes that the very air he breathes has played an indispensable part in making possible the finished record of the world's news which he reads, according to leading engineers in the news print paper industry.

For the American newspaper—the speediest product of the ultra-modern art of printing—is turned out in countless millions every day that requires thousands of tons of paper manufactured by revolutionary methods developed through the science of air-conditioning and controlled air.

News print paper is made from wood pulp and when the pulp is brought into the paper mill it is placed in machines which remove two pounds of water for every pound of paper produced. And in the process of removing this water, more than forty times its weight in air must be pumped into the machines to take out the moisture, the engineers declare.

In other words, each machine in the average large mill has a capacity of producing 180 pounds of paper per minute but requires 15,000 pounds of air every sixty seconds to remove 360 pounds of water. How these pounds multiply by the minute is indicated by the fact that one big mill turns out 700 tons of paper every day. To remove heavy vapors which pour from the machines into the rooms of the mill, powerful exhaust fans are used to drive them to the outside while blower fans are used to pump air in from the outdoors and force tons of air into the machines to remove the water. The mills are efficiently ventilated to drive out destructive moisture. The paper pulp which goes through each machine every minute is 21 feet wide and 800 feet long for a total of 16,800 square feet.

When the wood pulp is first brought into the mill it is two to three per cent solid and the balance is water. This pulp is dragged along over special screens at a rate of 800 feet per minute and as much water as possible pressed out. After this process and when the pulp is ready for the fan treatment, it contains three parts of water to one of solid. The completed paper, as it appears in the daily newspaper contains from five to ten per cent water.

Various kinds of wood are used for paper manufacture but these are chiefly divided between pine, fir, hemlock and spruce. For news print paper, the wood is ground but in other kinds of paper manufacture, such as that used for certain types of magazines, for stationery and other purposes, the wood is chemically disintegrated to obtain a longer fibre.

News print paper production at the present time is averaging 7,700 tons per day in Canada and 5,838 tons per day in the United States, according to figures compiled by the news print bureau.

After the newspaper is read and tossed away it eventually finds its way back to another type of paper mill where it is ground into board, often known as "card-board." Here again controlled air plays a part in the process of manufacture although a more spectacular application is found in the manufacture of coated paper. In this industry the paper is floated by air action created by special fans to prevent it from marking until the "coating" dries. Controlled air also is used for drying the "ground coating" of all paper which is turned out at the rate of 1,000 rolls per hour in one plant. Each roll is 24 feet long.

Don't Ignore Acid Scalp!

We have all been too close to people whose hair had a noticeable odor. It is due to an acidity that soap and water are powerless to prevent. You may not have an acid scalp. Or you may have it and not know it. But dandruff should make you suspicious, and hair that "strings" is a sure sign. When hair has a dull, "dead" look after curling—and the wave is all out a few hours after use of the iron—it is time to use Dandergine. Just a few drops of this highly scientific preparation will check acidity, and give your hair such lovely softness that dressing it will be a delight. It will arrange easily, and stay as you arrange it. Every particle of scale will be dissolved. It makes an amazing difference. And for only thirty-five cents, your druggist will give you a bottle of Dandergine that will last for weeks!

A New Yorker in Paris

London.—So this is London! Left hand traffic. Perhaps you can escape with your life since I did. . . Piccadilly Circus at night. . . A semi-circle, the bright lights of which tell you that Broadway has completely captured Europe. . . Three English plays to every five American productions. . . Sidney Howard, the playwright, introducing "The Silver Cord," which the Theater Guild did in New York last season. . . And with his wife, Claire Ames in the lead. . . American actors all over the lot. . .

And then down to the Strand, where an all-night church receives the vagabonds who have no money for lodging. The Thieves' Market. . . Actually an open-air hock shop. In years ago, they tell me, thieves actually peddled their ill-gotten loot and Scotland Yard kept an open eye. . . Today the pawn brokers take their wares there and crowds gather to pick up bargains. . . They tell me, also, that here come many once rich folk, who have fallen into poverty and offer for sale their silvers and baubles. . . One may be purchasing parts of the household of royalty. . . There clings to it a colorful mystery. . . And one can buy anything from furniture to candlebrads. . . The trading is done directly from the pavement. . . Everything is spread out and the bartering is fast and furious. . . Prices frequently are suspiciously low. . .

And there is "Petticoat Lane" in Heligate, where, upon Sunday morning, the "ghetto" of London does its trading from wheelbarrows and barrels. . . Seemingly it is my destiny to arrive late. . .

For they tell me the colorful coster-mongers are no more, though I defy anyone to understand their English. . . French is a far easier language. . . But their checked shirts and many buttoned vests are no more. . . They wear the clothing of Sixth Avenue, New York. . . Only their talk betrays them. . .

In a carefree moment, before leaving New York, I purchased some English tweed that I might feel quite a home in London. . . Yet the first five people I met in London told me they knew me "as a foreigner" immediately by my American clothes. . . "How come?" I inquired. . . "Oh," they replied, "But," quoth I, "these are English tweeds." . . And I proudly displayed a label in the coat lapel. . . To which reply came only hearty laughs. . . It seems that few Britishers actually wear tweeds. . .

And those flittartuous Scotch, Irish and English maids in Regent street. . . It seems that, since the war, there are 3,000,000 more women than men in London and these are a bit desperate. . . To those seeking easy conquest I would suggest an immediate trip to London. . . French maids have those "oo. . . lall la" eyes, but British maids openly smile upon you and wait on the corner for you. . .

Those old women who come to the pubs for beer in the morning. . . And the very pretty blond maids who sit by themselves slipping porter in the evening. . . The Victorian faces that flash down from the windows on Queen's road. . . And those shawls, the like of which you haven't seen since grandma died. . . The barmaids, quite the healthiest female animals you are likely to see, not excluding the farmer

Those who have died included Dr. Purely A. Baker, for years general superintendent of the league; Dr. John Collins Jackson, editor of the American Issue; Harry B. White, the league's first field secretary, and Wayne B. Wheeler, probably the most striking crusader of all. Dr. F. Scott McBride, now general superintendent, joined the league 17 years ago.

Bought Her Freedom for Ten Cents!

Keeping the System So Clean There Are No Body Odors. A lot of people who never have to take a laxative eat a candy cascaret now and then. Do you know why? They have found that cascars sweetens the whole system—brings an immaculacy of person that means everything. It prevents bodily chemistry from ever making one unconsciously offensive to others. And what a perfect regulator of the bowels! Salts affect the lining of the bowels. Mineral oils leave a coating that the blood must carry off through the pores. How much better to cascarate the system, and cause the bowels to expel everything by normal muscular contraction! To say nothing of the cleaner, sweeter condition that lasts for days—a wholesome condition that makes the use of deodorants quite unnecessary in January or July! Men and women whose years have brought on sluggishness often find that a cascaret only once a week is all the tonic they need. Cascara is splendid for children, too, and they love the taste of this candy laxative which every drugstore has for 10c and 25c.

Death Thins Ranks of Dry Crusaders

Columbus, O. (AP)—There will be no more reunions of the veterans who launched the fight for prohibition back in the early '30's. Death has thinned the original band of crusaders to one. Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, 73 and white-haired, but still militant, is the only one left. Dr. Russell founded the Anti-Saloon League of America and now is associated general superintendent of the organization.

LARGE TRACT TO BE CLEARED

Foster City Land Owner to Remove Timber from 100 Acres.

Foster City, Nov. 8. (Special)—With the removal of timber now in progress on both sides of the road leading north of S. J. Peterson farm here a new and favorably opportunity for farming has presented itself in this township. The cutting of this timber has opened a way by which 1000 acres of land is made available for farming. The scenic beauty along the road-way has not been marred to any great extent as a sufficient number of trees and foliage still remain to preserve its beauty.

Eight teams and a crew of forty men are employed in getting out the timber while a number of men and teams will be employed in the village where the timber will be loaded out and shipped to the mills, resuming in some degree an air of activity such as existed in former days in Foster City.

Before the advent of maple timber in the markets and when pine was the chief timber in use Mr. Peterson purchased this tract and some of his friends considered his action as being unwise at the time. However, Mr. Peterson's foresight has been upheld and today there exists in Breen Township a large tract of land as fertile as any to be found in Michigan.

ST. JOSEPH'S OBSERVES WEEK

National Education Program Is Being Carried Out Here.

St. Joseph's school is observing American Education week, by carrying out, in detail, the program suggested by the National Catholic Welfare conference. This program, a statement explained, was prepared "in order that Catholic schools may dedicate themselves to their high purpose of training genuine American citizens, consecrated to the noble task of perpetuating America's free institutions."

Monday's studies were based on the constitution, its development, its expression of the sovereign will of the people, its guardianship of the people's liberties and its grant of powers.

Tuesday was "Health Education" day, stressing the necessity of physical and spiritual training along with mental training, in the complete education.

Today is Religious Teacher day. Topics which will be covered include: (1) Great religious educators; (2) School progress depends on effective cooperation between the home and the school; (3) The role of the religious teacher in the Catholic school system; (4) What constitutes a vocation to the religious life?

Thursday will be Catholic Patriotism day; Friday will be Patriotism day; Saturday will be Catholic high school and college day; and Sunday, Religious Education day.

Moral Training Vital.

The Bishops' pastoral letter of this occasion, says: "The exclusion of moral training from the educative process is more dangerous in proportion to the thoroughness with which the intellectual powers are developed, because it gives the impression that morality is of little importance and thus sends the pupil into life with a false idea which is not easily corrected."

Pythians Planning Unusual Gathering at Menominee

Menominee, Mich.—A two-state convention and roundup of Wisconsin and Michigan Knights of Pythias, under the auspices of the Upper Peninsula Pythian league, will be held in Menominee in June, 1928. This will be the first two-state convention of the order ever attempted and as the Pythians never held a national convention it is expected to bring together the greatest gathering of Pythians ever assembled, in the opinion of L. O. Bowman, president of the U. P. league. Charles Folio, Escanaba, is vice-president of the league and D. G. Wilson, Menominee, is secretary.

The convention will be for one entire week and while the main purpose of the occasion is an educational program of Pythianism, extensive preparations are being made for the entertainment features. Plans for the big event are already well under way.

Crack Teams Coming.

All the different degree work will be exemplified by crack teams from Wisconsin and Michigan and by members of subordinate lodges, the two grand lodges and the supreme lodge. Uniform rank teams will put on military drills, Pythian hands and drum corps will compete and an elaborate parade of plumed, helmeted and uniformed delegates will feature a great parade about the cities of Menominee and Marinette. Marinette Pythians are members of Menominee lodge No. 107.

The Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan will hold their ceremonials and the Pythians Sisters, too, will be here. Each lodge in the two states will be asked to bring some feature for the big parade. Competitive drills will be put on at the Walton Bleach field. The date in June to be selected for the convention will probably be after June 20 so as not to conflict with commencement week.

Farming Conditions About Normal-Babson

Babson States What He Would Do If He Were a Farmer.

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 7.—A number of statements have recently been made by Mr. Babson on the agricultural conditions in certain sections of the country. He has been asked which sections of the country and which agricultural lines give the most promise to the farmer and livestock raiser. As his answer is of general interest, to business men as well as farmers, we give his reply as follows:

Farming a Business.

"The farm continues to be the principal subject of discussion in the Pullman smokers. There are those who believe that farming is a business and, like any other business, is subject to fundamental economic laws. They believe that the only law worth while is the law of supply and demand and that all other laws are useless and should be wiped off the statute books. Then there are those who believe that the farmer is the basis of all prosperity and should be subsidized and maintained like the Army or Navy. Both these positions are extreme.

"Farming should be allowed to work out its future through the survival of the most efficient, the same as must the automobile, textile, and steel businesses. Farming is subject to the same temptations and opportunities as other lines, and the farmers must expect to suffer or prosper according to their industry, judgment, and progressiveness. On the other hand, it should be recognized that the prosperity of all of us is vitally dependent upon the prosperity of the farmers.

Farmers Making Money.

"Information which I have received from seventy-eight leading centers, representing all sections of the United States, leads me to believe that the farmers of the country, on a whole, are making more money. At any rate, only a small percentage of agricultural workers are losing money today. The information that I have, clearly shows that out of seventy-eight localities, sixty-three register farming as profitable, both to the man who tills the soil and the man who raises livestock; four localities limit their profits to the livestock

Hunters Ordered Shot—by Camera

Archangel, U. S. R. (P)—Archangel's bravest hunters who wouldn't shy at a grizzly bear, are not pleased by the new edict ordered them all to be photographed. The catch in the new law is that no photographer has ever trod many parts of the adjacent hunting territory.

From the immemorial Archangel's vast forests have literally been a happy hunting ground. So much so that the province developed its own rifle industry, which thrived under the Czar, suffered a decided setback during the first days of the revolution, and began to recuperate only in recent years.

It is, this entire country and Canada have enjoyed a beautiful fall which has enabled the crops to mature in nearly all sections.

"As a result of the favorable weather conditions, the United States should this year produce crops to a total exceeding $10,000,000,000, while Canada will add to this amount another $900,000,000. This means a total of $10,900,000,000 will be added to the gross wealth of America during 1927. Furthermore, if we include Mexico and Central America there would be several hundred more to be added. Of course, this is not net wealth as from this amount must be deducted what has been consumed, wasted and otherwise destroyed. Even after this has been done there still will show a net gain for which the people of the United States and Canada should be duly thankful on Thanksgiving Day. As a result of this crop situation the Babsonchart should tend upward during the balance of the year. Today it is registering just about normal compared with 14 per cent above normal a year ago.

Late Fall Very Important. "Considering the lateness of the crop, especially the corn crop in the Middlewest, the American people have a good deal to be thankful for on the coming Thanksgiving Day. There has not been a year for a long time when the farmers were so late in getting the seed into the ground on account of excessive rains and the cold spring. An early freeze would have cost this country hundreds of millions of dollars. As

Trees Added to 'Hall of Fame'

Washington (P)—Two more living historical monuments have been added to the American Tree Association's Hall of Fame. For Trees here, One, at White Plains, N. Y., gave shelter to the leading figures of the Revolution; the other, at Tulsa, Okla.; marked the end of the "Trail of Tears" for the Creek Indians when they were ordered by the government from their old Alabama homes to Indian Territory.

The White Plains tree, nominated for the association's Hall of Fame by Mrs. Jeremiah T. Lockwood of that city, stands beside the house where George Washington maintained his headquarters during the Battle of White Plains, October 26, 1776, and again from July 16 to Sept. 20, 1778. Not only Washington, but Alexander Hamilton, George Clinton, the Count de Rochambeau, General LaFayette, General Israel Putnam, Aaron Burr, General Charles Lee and James Monroe have passed under its branches.

The history of the Tulsa Council Tree is more sentimental. Mrs. Lillian D. Lindsey, placing it in nomination, told how it came to mark the new Buck Grounds of the Creeks. When they left Alabama, a warrior placed in an earthen kettle part of the embers of the last fire on their old Buck Grounds. The embers were kept alive, and at the end of each day's march a new fire was kindled from them, all along the "Trail of Tears," until, arriving in Indian Territory, they furnished the sparks for the new Council tree. It stands on property now owned by Charles

Does your daughter attend school regularly?

MANY GIRLS are absent from school for a few days each month because of illness. In many cases this is unnecessary because young girls—as well as older women—can be strengthened by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Girls suffering from run-down condition, sleeplessness, nervousness, and loss of appetite, should gain new strength and vigor from this Vegetable Compound.

The following testimonials show what the Compound has done for other schoolgirls.

NERVOUS AND DIZZY

Charleston, Illinois—"I gave my fifteen-year-old girl Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did her a wonderful lot of good. She was nervous, weak and dizzy. At last she was so good off that she was out of school for four months. The Vegetable Compound has improved her in every way and she has gone back to school. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other mothers with girls who are not as strong as they should be." Mrs. Alice Louthan, Route 2, Charleston, Illinois.

SICK AND WEAK

Camden, New Jersey—"When my daughter was twelve years old she was hurt at the play-ground. She was sick and weak for some time after that and was not able to go to school regularly. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped her wonderfully, and she now goes to school every day. She has gained in weight and has better appetite than she had before taking it." Mrs. Ada McKim, 1044 Linden Street, Camden, New Jersey.

OLYMPIC BOARD AT PEACE AGAIN

Expect American Organizations to Enter Meet in Harmony

BY W. W. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
New York, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The dove of peace is about to settle over the organization of the American Olympic committee again, bringing together the warring groups of athletic interests that split apart exactly a year ago and furnishing a harmonious background for the nation's entry into the 1928 Olympic games at Amsterdam.

To all intents and purposes, the breach already has been healed between these rival groups, one headed by the Amateur Athletic Union as the controlling factor in the American Olympic organization, and the other led by the National Collegiate Athletic association. It has been brought about by acceptance by the executive powers of the N. C. A. A. and its allies of an invitation to join in the Olympic work, extended by the new president of the Olympic committee, Maj. Gen. Douglas McArthur of Baltimore.

The success of peace offerings, although known to have been under way for some time, was disclosed today for the first time in connection with a call for the annual meeting of the N. C. A. A. in New York December 29, issued by Brig. Gen. Palmer E. Pierce, the president. Gen. Pierce's notice to members contained this significant paragraph:

Controversy Over Policy, Cause.—An invitation of the president, Gen. Douglas McArthur, of the American Olympic committee, which has in charge the participation of the United States in the Olympic games of 1928, has been accepted by the executive committee of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, the Y. M. C. A., National Collegiate association and the authorized representatives of the navy, marine corps and western conference, to join in the work. This acceptance by the N. C. A. A. is subject to the approval of the delegates present at the 22nd annual convention.

Controversy over matters of international athletic policy and control of the Olympic organization, caused the split last year between the A. A. U. and N. C. A. A., the latter opposed bitterly the election of William C. Frout of Boston to the presidency of the Olympic association. The rift widened when the N. C. A. A. and its allies, chief among them, the Y. M. C. A., Western Conference "Big Ten" and the N. A. A. F. withdrew all support from the Olympic body.

The terms of peace have not been disclosed but it is assumed they will include adequate representation on the Olympic committee of the N. C. A. A. and its allied bodies and a consequent voice in Olympic affairs, even though it is not a controlling voice.

Spanish Games Thought 'Fixed'

San Sebastian, Spain (AP)—Professionalism is causing the rapid decay of Spain's national sport—the Basque ball game—which formerly held its own with the national spectacle, the bullfight.

Since professionalism is introduced, the public has suspected that the matches are decided according to the betting, for on several occasions a well-known player holding a strong lead is beaten on the winning point by an inferior performer. This has created scandal in the playing courts and has led to bloody fights between the spectators.

This refers, however, only to the public courts where entrance fees are charged to witness the games, and where bookmakers gather in large numbers to shout the odds and, according to common report, enter into collusion with the players to falsify the play.

In the villages and small town of Vasconia and Navarre the game continues to be played for the pure love of the sport. Every inn in these regions possesses a court, which summer and winter is utilized by the farmers and their laborers after their long day of hard work to decide who is to pay for a round of drinks. The amateur players generally use their hands in the same way as in American handball, but many among them know how to wield the heavy cesta—a kind of basket in which the ball is caught, to be swung back to the wall with terrific force.

Wolverines May Still Capture Big Ten Title

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 8.—(AP)—There is a persistent rumor floating about the University of Michigan campus that the Wolverine football team, defeated by an unbeaten Illinois squad, may yet snatch the Western Conference football championship by defeating the husky, driving Minnesota team in the final game of the season, November 19. To accomplish this Michigan expects co-operation from Chicago and Ohio State, the opponents of Illinois.

Michigan scouts were present when Coach Spears of Minnesota was compelled to display his tricks at South Bend in the hard-fought 7-7 game between Minnesota and Notre Dame. In no other game this season has Minnesota been so extended even in the starting line game with Indiana, with Capt. Herb Jostling on the sidelines.

igan has cultivated an annoying habit, from the viewpoint of Minnesota of turning back the attack aimed to regain the traditional emblem of victory, the "little brown jug."

Defeat of Minnesota would at least place Michigan in the enviable position of runner-up in a conference season, marked by decided upsets, Ohio State and Northwestern, both dangerous teams at the start of the season, are out of the race.

However, the Wolverine squad centered their attention today on Navy plays aimed to stop the drive of strong Navy backs, and a line as powerful as the one which tipped over the Wolverines at Annapolis last year. The reported statement of Coach Ingram that the Michigan line is weaker this year than last is hardly considered important news to the Wolverine followers who have witnessed the defensive play of Oosterbaan, Baer, Harrigan, Bovard, the sophomore center, Palmeroll, Heston and others.

BILLY EVANS Says

TY COBB ACTS WISELY IN WRITING FINIS TO HIS BRILLIANT CAREER

Ty Cobb has probably played his last game in the major leagues. I see that he has made an unofficial announcement to that effect.

It is in keeping with what he said to me late in September. Working back of the plate at Philadelphia in a game between the Cleveland Indians and the Athletics, a recurrence of an old knee injury caused me to retire early from the game. I was taken to the quarters of the Philadelphia trainer in the clubhouse for treatment.

A few innings later Ty quit the game to catch the early train for the west in order to make connections at Chicago for a hunting trip he had planned in Wyoming.

Coming into the trainer's first aid station, he shook hands with me and remarked:

"I think today's game was the finish of my big league career. I have had a good season and, if I'm smart, now is the time for me to quit."

Both of us then enjoyed a laugh over a retort that I would always hand Ty when the two of us had some slight difference of opinion. It's the same old chatter that umpires always spill to stars during the heat of a dispute.

Often, when Ty would question my own judgment or eyesight, I would ironically reply that possibly all he said was true but that I expected to be doing business at the same old stand when he was all washed up.

"Looks as if you would outlast me and make good on that sarcasm that you used to slip me as well as the other boys about being up in the big show after the rest of us had taken our final shower," said Ty.

That conversation strengthens my belief in Cobb's statement that he has played his last game as a big leaguer.

It is a rather interesting coincidence that Cobb and I broke into the American League at practically the same time. He played a few months in the fall of 1905; I made my debut in the spring of 1906.

It so happens that Ty Cobb, at the close of the 1927 season, was the only player still in the majors who was a member of the American League when I started.

Cobb has seen hundreds of players come and go in his 23 years. Yet his last season was one of his best! He finished in the first five batters.

It is to be hoped that Cobb is sincere in his decision to retire and I feel that he is. It would be a shame for him to keep on going when he physically fit to do his best, thereby dimming the many remarkable accomplishments credited to him.

Unquestionably Cobb is the greatest ball player I have seen in action covering my career of 25 years. It is reasonably safe to say, without fear of contradiction, that he is the greatest ball player of all time.

How to Bowl

BY JIMMY SMITH.
ORGANIZATION A FIRST ESSENTIAL IN THE MAKEUP OF A REAL BOWLER. STORY XI.

My interest in and love for the good old game of bowling inspires me to write a few words on why all bowlers should join their bowling association and take an active interest in its work. As a matter of fact, I can truthfully say that, although you may have reached the stage where you bowl big scores, do it easily, regularly and gracefully and are able to cope with best in the game, you are still not a Great Bowler, unless you belong to your local association, and help to carry on its work.

Only a small minority of the hundreds of thousands of bowlers in this country are not members of these associations. Why this minority should be so backward in this respect is a mystery to me. It should need no argument to convince bowlers of the value of these organizations, nor reasons why they should do their share towards making them successful and universal.

No sport ever reached distinction nor attracted public interest without organization. It is absolutely essential that some recognized visible body shall exist and function for the systematic and orderly conduct of the game. We must have rules and they must be made and enforced by a recognized authority.

Match games, leagues, tournaments, championships could not exist, and mean absolutely nothing unless they are conducted by standard rules and under official sanction and authority. Perfect scores of 300 would be a joke and attract no attention unless they were made on alleys of standard length and width, with legal sized balls and according to official rules for scoring. Your bowling association is the body which puts the official stamp on things of this kind.

Uniform Conditions. When you step on a bowling platform and indulge in a few games you are taking advantage of conditions adopted and regulated by a bowling association. Deadwood is removed from the alley because there is a rule made by a recognized association which says it shall be removed. When you knock all the pins down on your first ball, it is called a strike, because there is a rule covering the event; and so on through the whole category of your bowling.

Now, he is a poor sport, in my way of thinking, who makes use of all the advantages and labor and thought of the other fellow and does nothing in return! He should at least join his association, which has labored hard and faithfully to make his game one of orderly and standardized enjoyment and thus give it his moral support. If he is a real, live bowler, one who is interested in the future of the game, he will do more than this; he will attend the meetings, help to work out some of the problems and ideas which come up from time to time and thus do his share towards elevating the game, keeping it clean and wholesome.

Many bowlers seem to labor under the idea that only good bowlers should join these bowling associations; in fact, I once heard a very prominent bowler make this statement. Nothing is farther from the truth, the same reason which impels good citizens to come out and vote at election times whether they are interested in politics or not, should induce you to join your bowling association. You believe in good government which is reason enough for voting. You should believe in good, clean sport which is ample reason for showing your belief by joining an organization which has just that organization for its motto and is the reason for its existence. If your conviction and desire for a good clean sport is not equal to the sum of membership which in most cases does not exceed 49 cents a year, then don't ever shout from the housetops that you have such a belief; and don't ever whine when you run across something not to your liking in the game.

Bowlers in the West are far better organized than in the East. Their tournaments there prove that and the records of the various numerous city and state associations. And if you want any further proof of the fact that they realize the immense value of organization, just glance over the entry lists of some of their tournaments. All the astounding data you will see is the direct result of enthusiastic support by the bowlers in their local associations.

Equipment Uniform. A few years back, bowlers complained much about some of the alleys they bowled on and derided the high scores made by other bowlers on other alleys because of neglect or some change made in them by the alley owner. These complaints were brought to the attention of the American Bowling Congress, the national organization which conducts the world's title tournaments and legislates for the bowlers. They appoint the city associations to correct this bad condition. The local associations appointed a committee who went around and measured every alley as to length, width, distance between pin spots and all details affecting the game. Those which were found to be correct were given official certificates testifying to the fact, and rules were made forbidding recognition for any scores rolled on unaccepted alleys.

This is just one example, strikingly illustrating the value of an association and the authority it exerts over the welfare of the game and consequently the protection of the bowler. Are you one of those who expects such protection and then won't support the body which has the power and the desire to give it to you?

Another Auto Victim. Sussex, N. J.—The rowboat has joined the horse as a victim of the motor car's popularity. The owner of a once popular boat livery complains: "Nobody hires boats any more. Automobiles have made people too lazy to walk or row. To get people on the lake, I have to give them a motor boat. I have $300 worth of boats and get less than a dollar a day from the lot."

Tennis Manners Draw Criticism

London (AP)—This is the day of bad manners in tennis, declares A. D. Prebble, vice president of the Lawn Tennis Association, but his remark has raised a storm of denial in sporting circles.

The remark was prompted by an incident in the final round of a tournament when a player's opponent continued to discard the second ball, so as to leave his left hand free when his delivery was put into play. Prebble asserts that a player should not throw his spare ball away.

"It is the sort of thing," he contends, "that players of years ago would never dream of doing. But in these days of bad manners one has to deal with all sorts of things which ought to be left to the sporting instincts of the player."

Tournament competitors at the West Side Country Club, Ealing, discussed the criticism with animosity. At other clubs Davis Cup players and Lawn Tennis Association councilors disagreed with their vice president.

Hamilton Price, a well known referee, emphatically denied that tennis manners today were worse than frequently. He contends they are quite the contrary.

"In the old days court manners in lawn tennis tournaments were dreadful. I have only one criticism of the youngster of today. His strong point is not punctuality in arriving on the ground. Miss Suzanne Lenglen, too, I have noted, is often several minutes late.

"The sportsmanship of the modern girl, however, generally is a class ahead of that of the men players. I believe."

Disqualified Jockey Pleads Case in Vain

Baltimore, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Earl Sande today pleaded in vain with the Maryland racing commission for restoration of his jockey license revoked for alleged foul riding in the Pimlico futurity Friday.

Chairman James A. Lataman indicated Sande's suspension would continue indefinitely, but would not be permanent. The noted jockey cried when he left the hearing.

He was accused of fouling Chick Rand, riding Reigh Count the favorite, in the Fall classic. Sustaining charges of Pimlico officials, the commission disregarded Sande's statement and the testimony of three jockeys competing in the race.

SNOW FAILS TO STOP PRACTICE

Hilltops Preparing for Gladstone Battle Friday

The first snowfall of the year failed to prevent the Hilltoppers from putting in a hard football practice in preparation for the big game on their schedule with Gladstone on Armistice Day. Coach Roels is not taking any chances on having his men unprepared for a snow field that they may have to play on this Friday.

The same spirit that rejuvenated the Roellers last week has appeared again in the Hilltop camp to aid them in their battle against the Keillits this week. The general atmosphere at the high school and on the practice field with the athletes seems to be filled with fight, pep and confidence. Demars' return to the lineup will bolster the Roellers' offense. Gustafson will be back in his halfback berth, and Capt. Snyder will play his last grid game for Escanaba high school at the position he has held regularly for three years, right end. Erdman who last week played his first full game since he was laid up in the Manistique fray, will again occupy a right tackle position. Erdman's return to his position covers up a spot that Coach Roels has had great difficulty this year in placing a dependable man as the veteran from last year. Powers or Burns will start the game in the other halfback position. LaChapelle who last Saturday proved his ability as a pass snatcher and defensive back, may also see service in the Armistice Day battle.

High school officials are confident that rain, snow or shine, every seat in the bleachers will be occupied long before the opening kickoff and that by the time the game starts there will not even be a standing room left.

Virtually Certain King and Farnsworth Were Seen Here

That Joe Ferrin, Austin Farnsworth and Owen King, the three men who escaped after Marquette prison last Tuesday, a week ago, have made good their getaway from the upper peninsula, was the opinion expressed by authorities yesterday.

Search of the woods near Michigamme, where Ferrin is believed to have escaped after robbing a home late Saturday night of a supply of foodstuffs, failed to reveal any trace of the notorious robber, who about thirteen years ago terrorized Delta county by his sensational holdups of the Soo Line railway depots at Gladstone and North Escanaba.

Officials of the Marquette branch believe that the trio separated shortly after making their getaway, Ferrin going alone to the Michigamme region and Farnsworth and King together heading south for Escanaba. The prison officials were notified that two men, resembling King and Farnsworth, were seen by Walter Pearson, Escanaba jeweler, in this city Saturday noon, and they expressed the opinion that it is very probable they were the two convicts.

What adds strength to this belief is the report received late Monday that two men were seen last Thursday passing through the large tract of land owned by the North Woods club, near Negaunee. The club's warden said that he saw them walking hurriedly in the direction of Alfred and Northland country. This is the section through which Ferrin traversed while he was being hunted by posse after the Gladstone station robbery, and it is believed that he directed King and Farnsworth to make their escape through this section and follow the Escanaba & Lake Superior railway into Escanaba. Ferrin at one time lived near Northland, and he knows the surrounding territory well. As Ferrin would be easily recognized in this region, it is believed

It is expected that all of the rural teachers of Delta county will attend the institute. Teachers receive their regular salary for attending the meeting.

Welfare of State Depends on Child

It is a trite statement, oftentimes repeated from school platform or lecture stand, that the welfare of the State of tomorrow depends upon its children of today. Like many truisms to which our ears have become accustomed, in practice nobody believes it; and the ardent social or political reformer would as soon think of directing his propaganda to the Hottentots of Africa as entrusting his ideas for an improvement of humanity to young citizens of ten. Yet could he do so, and then sit back patiently for another 10 or 15 years to await results he might behold his Utopian dreams enacted upon earth with as much ease as they now represent difficulty when he tries to insert an opening wedge of them into the resisting mentality of the average adult. For the de chose to travel alone and make his escape by going westward to Ironwood or Duluth or southward into Wisconsin. When Perrin held up the bank at Republic four years ago, he obtained about $10,000. Some of the loot was recovered when he was arrested in Ohio later, but there was several hundred dollars which was never accounted for. It is thought that he might have hidden some of the money near Republic, and that after his prison break he made an attempt to reach his hiding place.

adult's brain is molded and shaped, perhaps dulled by the harsh struggle to succeed in a material world, or ossified by lack of use. The child's mind is plastic. He represents the natural and unique material upon which to build a new and better world.

Those who realize this are jealously careful of the sources from which the child is gathering the material which shapes his character and his ideas. They are eager to direct and encourage it along proper and fruitful lines. To do so requires knowledge, both of the child and of the books available for children. The average parent knows something of the first, but very little of the second.

That is why a great many organizations which have the welfare of the state and that of the child at heart—among them the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and the Public Libraries—have set aside the week of November 13 to 19 as Children's Book Week. Its ninth annual celebration this year will be accompanied by many interesting programs in the clubs and schools, by fascinating displays of approved books for children of all ages in the libraries and bookshops. The event should find fathers and mothers and all lovers of childhood better informed and more enthusiastic than they were nine years ago, and should leave them better equipped to build an ideal state,

ROBERTS BACK FROM FRANCE

Flat Rock Young Man Studied Painting Under Noted Masters

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Roberts arrived Monday night from Paris, France, where Mr. Roberts completed two years of study under several famous painters, and will spend the winter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts, Sr., of Flat Rock.

Mr. Roberts rose to prominence in Detroit art circles two years ago when he won the Whitcomb prize with one of his paintings. The Whitcomb prize provided for furtherance of his art studies in Paris. He was born in Flat Rock and spent his early years there. About six years ago he went to Detroit where he enrolled at the Wicker School of Fine Arts. His work has received high praise from art critics, who declared the Flat Rock young man had much promise as an artist. Winning the Whitcomb prize, he went to Paris where he established a studio and studied under Watts, one of France's most noted painters. He spent several months also traveling throughout southern Italy and Spain, returning to Paris where he continued his studies in earnest for another year.

Last June, Mr. Roberts was married to Miss Margaret Goubley, a member of a prominent Parisian family. Mrs. Roberts is not a painter, but takes a keen interest in the art. She had devoted herself mostly to literary work, and has done considerable writing. Mr. Roberts intends to paint scenes of his childhood in Flat Rock during his stay there during the winter.
