

REMUS MUST ADHERE TO COURT RULES

FINANCES OF UTILITIES TO BE REVIEWED

SENATE TO CONDUCT INVESTIGATION OF INDUSTRY

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The financing of holding companies and the merger operations of public utility corporations will be the principal ground covered by the proposed investigation of the public utility industry.

"The federal trade commission," he said, "has narrowed the field somewhat by giving facts on the so-called power trust, but the material developed there will afford us a basis for inquiring into what has happened in the strictly financial side of the industry."

"No Federal Regulation. Is it your purpose to recommend federal regulation?" he was asked.

"Well," replied the Montana senator with a smile, "although it is not a fact of any importance, you might be interested to know that a very prominent republican was the first to suggest this inquiry to me and I have had visits from various persons interested in the investment of securities for institutions who have told me it is very important that the truth be disclosed. You may remember when the Teapot Dome investigation started some people called it 'political.' I am not comparing this inquiry with the Teapot Dome affair, for there has been no contact with the government in the utility business and the two things are entirely different; but whenever any effort is made to get at the facts, some of those who oppose it invariably think the motive must be political."

"We are going to invite students of the public utility field, engineers, financiers and all who can throw light on the subject to testify."

The senator said he felt sure there were enough votes to pass the resolution without referring it to a regular committee. He predicted that the resolution would be pressed for passage immediately on the opening of congress next month.

Parents Afraid to Ask for Aid; Baby Starves to Death

Avoca, Mich., Nov. 17.—(P)—A four-month-old baby girl lying dead in an improvised crib on the floor, two dead dogs lying on a porch and seven children, emaciated and suffering from exposure were found today in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Walters by coroner Albert A. Walk of Port Huron and two deputy sheriffs.

GIRL VICTIM OF MYSTERY SHOT

Killed as She Was Speeding to Escape From Police Officer

Selma, Ariz., Nov. 17.—(P)—The shot in the dark which killed Miss Louise Montebano as she was speeding along a country road Monday night was the subject of an investigation tonight with widely different tales told by the arresting official and the examining physician.

H. F. Blake, chief of police of Calera, said the girl had shot herself with suicidal intent after another officer had arrested her after a five mile chase. She was charged with violating the prohibition law and with speeding, the officer declared Monday night.

"Immediately after the shot was fired a bottle was thrown from the car," Blake added. "She shot herself with her own small automatic after the capture," he said.

Dr. F. G. Dubose, the autopsy surgeon, said there were no powder burns around the bullet wound. "Powder burns are almost invariably found in suicide cases," he added. The physician also said the bullet that caused the girl's death was of larger caliber than that used in the automobile she carried.

Dr. B. B. Ross, state chemist, is examining the girl's viscera for traces of alcohol.

Indiana Governor Will Start Fight to Escape Trial

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—(P)—Governor Ed Jackson will make his fight on Monday, November 21, to escape trial on an indictment charging bribery. George V. Coffin, Marion county Republican chairman, and Robert I. Marsh, former law partner of Jackson and attorney for the Ku Klux Klan, are named in the same indictment.

A motion to quash a true bill on the ground that the men are immune under the statute of limitations, will be argued at that time. Oscar S. Montgomery, of Seymour, Ind., special judge, set the date today after qualifying himself to sit on the Marion county bench.

A ruling on the motion to quash will decide whether the three men are immune from prosecution because the two year period of the statute of limitation expired before they were indicted. The state has contended that they have conclusive evidence showing that an attempt was made to conceal the commission of the alleged crime—the only grounds on which a prosecution can be based after the statute of limitations has expired.

PARTS OF NEW OIL LAND LAW ARE ANNULLED

STATE BARRED FROM CANCELLING DRILLING PERMITS

Mexico City, Nov. 17.—(P)—The Mexican supreme court today ruled in favor of the Mexican Petroleum company, an American concern, in the first decision investigating the new petroleum law. The court, by unanimous decision, granted the appeal restraining the department of industry, commerce and labor from cancelling certain of the company's drilling permits.

The court also declared unconstitutional the important sections 14 and 15 of the new law as far as this suit was concerned.

Section 14, in effect, substitutes fifty-year concessions for oil land titles acquired before 1917.

Section 15 forfeits titles to oil lands for which no application for confirmatory concessions had been made within one year from the effectiveness of the new law.

The fact that the supreme court's first ruling upon the new petroleum law should be unanimously in favor of the contention of one of the many foreign oil companies which have suits pending against the law, is interpreted by many observers as an indication of the policy the court may follow in the other cases.

Expect More Decisions. The decision is not one declaring the entire petroleum law constitutional or unconstitutional. Furthermore, the two sections which are declared unconstitutional in this particular suit are not in blanket terms declared unconstitutional for all purposes, but only as they apply to the Mexican Petroleum company in the issues presented in this case.

Thus, the court's decision does not once and for all answer the question as to whether the new oil law is constitutional, but those well informed think that it is an entering wedge for a series of similar decisions, which is made, would remove the features of the law which have been most objectionable to foreign interests.

The new Mexican petroleum law which went into effect January 1, last, is based on the theory of the constitution of 1917 that natural resources belong to the state.

The law required that foreign oil operators should apply before December 31, of last year, for concessions confirming rights and titles acquired before 1917. Foreign-owned oil lands for which concessions were not asked before January 1, may be assigned to other claimants.

The American government has held that the law is confiscatory and the foreign oil companies have opposed it from its inception.

ATTITUDE IS JUSTIFIED

New York, Nov. 17.—(P)—The decision today of the Mexican supreme court restraining the Mexican government from cancelling certain drilling permits of the Mexican Petroleum company, an American concern, justifies completely the attitude taken toward the petroleum law by a majority of the petroleum companies operating in Mexico," Guy Stevens, spokesman for the companies, declared tonight.

Stevens, who is director of the Association of Producers of Petroleum in Mexico, was unwilling to comment further on the significance of the decision until a copy of the court's written opinion was available.

"While the oil companies have not had an opportunity to examine the written opinion, in view of the past decisions of the Mexican supreme court, they felt confident my decision rendered must be favorable," Stevens said. He recalled the court's ruling in 1921 on suits by the Texas company against article 27 of the Mexican petroleum laws. He said in this case, also, the American company was upheld by the supreme court.

A more sweeping decision may follow, Stevens intimated, when three additional actions instituted by the Mexican Petroleum company are adjudicated. These were filed between January 1 and 13 last and at the same time of the filing of the suit in which the decision was rendered today.

Charles S. Mellen, Former Railroad Head, Dies in East

Concord, N. H., Nov. 17.—(P)—Charles S. Mellen, once known as "Carn of New England" railroads," who saw his empire totter and fall, died today at the home which he maintained here since his retirement in 1913. Estranged from his wife, with whom he made a private financial settlement when she withdrew divorce proceedings in Massachusetts in 1918, he had passed his last years quietly and out of the public eye. He had a country home at Stockbridge, Mass.

NO WORD FROM GREEN'S CAMP

18 Miles of Snowdrifted Road Block Way to Marooned Men

(BULLETIN)

Reports Thursday night that Governor Green had made his way to Newberry are denied at Newberry. Telephone reports to Newberry from Grand Marais and Seney Thursday night said that the governor and his party were still snowbound in Camp Kennedy. A Detroit hunter left Seney at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in a car, intending to break his way through to Camp Kennedy but nothing has been heard from him.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 17.—(P)—No word had been received here tonight regarding Governor Green and party of friends believed to be snowbound in a hunting lodge at Camp Kennedy, near Grand Marais, on Lake Superior.

The only road leading to the camp from the main highway of Grand Marais, a lane 18 miles long, is completely blocked with huge snow drifts, left in the wake of a Great Lakes blizzard that swept the district Monday. There is no wire communication with the camp. Although the party has been cut off from the outside world since Sunday when they passed through Grand Marais, enroute to the camp, little anxiety is felt regarding them. The camp is believed to be well stocked with provisions.

Thousands of other hunters who journeyed to the upper peninsula district for the opening of the deer season Tuesday, are believed to be in a similar predicament. An official search is being conducted for Leo Goodwin, 23, of Ironwood, Mich., who has been missing from camp for several days. Henry Bennett, 50, of Pitston, Mich., was found last night by a party of searchers after being lost in a swamp for 36 hours. He was taken to a hospital suffering from exposure.

ELABORATE ON PLEA FOR CUT IN COAL RATES

20c REDUCTION WILL SAVE RAILROADS FROM LOSSES

Washington, Nov. 17.—(P)—Southern railroads interested in the lake cargo traffic elaborated today at Interstate commerce commission hearings the reasons which induced them to attempt a 20-cent per ton rate reduction on coal. The commission, upon complaint of northern coal producers competing for the lake cargo business, refused last August to let the 20-cent reduction from Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee mines go into effect pending an investigation.

J. M. Dewberry, coal and coke agent for the Louisville & Nashville railroad declared that his company had to cut the rate on coal moving to the Great Lakes immediately, or face a loss of earnings which he estimated might run to $7,000,000 a year. When Commissioner Campbell, conducting the hearing, asked how many times the lake cargo rate question would have to be taken up by the commission and how far the southern railroads intended to cut rates to meet northern competition, the witness responded that they would "cut until they lost money."

The maintenance of rates from southern mines to the lakes low enough to keep lake cargo coal moving, Mr. Dewberry insists, is absolutely necessary, and he said, if not permitted the Louisville & Nashville would have to abandon about 250 miles of its line.

Could Handle Coal Profitably. Mr. Dewberry's assertion that his road already had lost tonnage on the lake cargo movement because Pennsylvania and Ohio producers received earlier this year a rate reduction, was challenged on cross-examination by E. S. B. Ballard, attorney for Pittsburgh producers. Ballard suggested that the Chesapeake & Ohio and Virginian had shown no such losses but the witness asserted that it was merely a question of time until they also will feel the effects.

Supporting Mr. Dewberry, R. C. Parsons, assistant to the president of the Louisville & Nashville, discussed the general cost accounts on the railroad's coal traffic. He contended that by reason of the heavy loadings and solid train movements, lake cargo could be handled out of the southern territory at a profit even after the reduction.

STRIKERS HEED MACHINE GUNS

Daily Demonstration Held at Columbine Mine; No Disorder

Denver, Colo., Nov. 17.—(P)—Under the threatening barrels of mounted machine guns, hundreds of I. W. W. miners and their sympathizers sang and cheered today in peaceful manifestation against operation of coal mines in Colorado's strike-affected mining districts. Gathering in their daily demonstration near the Columbine mine, about 50 miles north of Denver, the miners fully heeded the warning of operators of the mine that the guns would be brought into action if they invaded the property to picket. The Columbine is the only coal mine still operating in northern Colorado.

One machine gun was mounted over a barricade near the lip of the mine and another was placed at a point of vantage on a truck, commanding all entrances to the property. Colorado national guardsmen manned one of the guns.

Airplanes of the national guard which yesterday flew over the mining area were not on duty today. An anonymous warning was posted in Lafayette, a nearby town, last night, saying the planes would be shot down this morning. Officials, however, said the warning was not responsible for the non-appearance of the planes.

TAKEN TO PEN BY AIRPLANE

Among the "firsts" of recent aviation history, Joe Schuler is believed the first to be taken to the pen by airplane. Sentenced for a year for driving while intoxicated, Schuler (right) was taken from Waterloo, Ia., to the penitentiary at Fort Madison by Pilot John Cable (left) and Detective E. A. Steffen (center).

Modern Law of White Man Sends Indian to Prison for Ten Years

HOP TO HAWAII BALKED BY FOG

Giles, British Aviator, May Start Flight Today

San Francisco, Nov. 17.—(P)—Adverse elements today again balked Capt. Frederick A. Giles, British aviator, in his projected hop to Hawaii, the first lap of his overseas flight to Wellington, New Zealand. Heavy fog shrouded Mills Field this morning and prevented a take-off, although weather conditions at sea were reported to be the best that could be expected at this time of the year. Captain Giles planned to point his biplane, the Miss Wanda, toward Honolulu again tomorrow, hoping for an early lift of the fog.

The captain had planned to start at 9:30 a. m. today so as to permit him to make accurate sextant "shots" of the sun in mid-morning. The fog still was heavy at 10:15 a. m. and the flyer decided it was too late to start the flight today.

Bad weather at sea has caused several postponements in the flight. Last Saturday a storm over the ocean caused Captain Giles to delay the takeoff and on Monday he was forced to another postponement because of a rain-soaked runway. Again on Wednesday the weather bureau warned him of a storm brewing 1,200 miles over the ocean directly in his course.

Had it not been for the fog today, which was entirely local, Captain Giles would have had good flying weather, the weather report said. The plane was said by Captain Giles to be in good condition for his expected takeoff tomorrow.

Hold Man for Death of Aged Employer

Cheboygan, Nov. 17.—(P)—Arthur Watten, 60, is being held here on a charge of murder in connection with the burning to death last February of his employer, Albinus L. Todd, 74, a justice of the peace, on Bois Blanc Island. Watten, who was arrested yesterday, will be given a preliminary hearing Sunday in a justice court at St. Ignace. The state will attempt to prove that Todd was slain and not accidentally burned to death in the fire that destroyed his home as was held by a coroner's jury at the time.

RIGHT TO ACT AS ATTORNEY THREATENED

JUDGE ISSUES WARNING AFTER GIVING DECISION

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 17.—(P)—George Remus got a pointed warning from the bench today that continuation of his participation as counsel for himself in his trial for uxoricide depended on his adherence to rulings of the court.

Remus clashed spectacularly and wordily with Charles P. Taft, II, Hamilton county prosecutor, and continued a one-sided debate after Judge Chester Shook had rendered a decision. He was brought up short, however, with this from the court.

"Now, Mr. Remus, if you are going to remain in this case as an attorney you must abide by the ruling of the court."

Remus sat down with a muttered "I beg your pardon, your honor."

Attorneys said that the warning did not necessarily consider Remus' status as a disbarred attorney.

For the fourth time in the four days of the tedious period of examination of veniremen Remus provided the fireworks which lifted the court session from dreary routine to the status of vivid drama.

George Awrey, 67-year-old retired buyer of oil property, was under examination as to his qualifications for jury service when the storm broke.

Roaring out in his great voice which even its middle tones filled the court room, then crooning as if to a baby, Remus fired questions at Mr. Awrey which depicted for the full jury box Remus' estimation of his position.

"The fact my life is in the balance would not influence you, would it?" Remus asked in low and sincere tones.

"No," was the response.

Taft Makes Objection. "And the fact that I am an ex-convict, an ex-convict and a disbarred lawyer," Remus boomed, with his face grimacing and a tone of scorn in his voice as he analyzed himself, "is that going to influence you? Are you going to charge that against me?"

"No," came again from the venireman.

It was when Remus softly asked the aged venireman if he would not consider all circumstances surrounding the case, that Taft leaped to his feet with an objection.

Heated exchanges between the two included the prosecutor's demand that the jury be sent out and Remus' assertion that a suggestion for such a maneuver was "ridiculous."

Judge Shook got control of the situation and delivered his ultimatum to the defendant-counsel, the only break in the dry routine of qualifying jurors.

At the adjournment two women and nine men sat as tentative jurors, the same as at the opening of court, excepting that seven faces had been changed by the prosecution exercising two and the defense five peremptory challenges.

Examine 84 Veniremen. The defense still had six peremptories left and it was thought there was small chance of obtaining a jury tomorrow.

There will be no session of court Saturday.

A total of 84 veniremen has been examined in the four days of the trial. Forty-four have been excused because of opposition to infliction of the death penalty and despite the great many news stories printed about the slaying of Mrs. Remus only four veniremen have asserted fixed opinions as to Remus' guilt.

In the day's big argument Taft asked that Remus be told not to repeat an objectionable statement and Remus said he would conduct the examination of veniremen in legal manner but "not by dictation from the prosecutor."

While Remus was interrogating Awrey he stated in a question that he sought no sympathy nor compassion and in a direct remark that he would hold it against no juror who heard full evidence and sentenced him to death.

Brings Up Dodge's Name. He asked Mr. Awrey if he had ever had any family difficulty and the venireman fairly boomed as he shook his head and said: "No, very, very happy, indeed."

"I congratulate you," said Remus, inclining his head with an audible sigh.

Mr. Awrey formerly lived at Ann Arbor, Mich., and Remus used its proximity to Lansing to bring into the case anew the name of Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., former prohibition agent, who Remus says is responsible for his conviction and sentence in federal court and for bringing about conditions which led him to shoot and kill Mrs. Remus here October 6, last.

Defense witnesses, some of whom could speak only their native Choctaw tongue, requiring an interpreter at the trial, testified Major Locke and Battiest had quarreled over the young tribesman's advances to girls in the tribe. Major Locke as a chieftain looked upon the Indians as wards whom he felt obliged to protect.

Was Out On $25,000 Bond. Just before the shooting, the testimony developed, the major's aged father, Dick Locke, was cursed and struck in the face by Battiest when the former remonstrated with the young Indian for his relations with the girls. Hearing of this, Major Locke followed Battiest and shot him to death.

That Locke formerly in comfortable circumstances, had been virtually penniless for four years was brought out in the testimony. Witnesses said this condition had changed him from a happy, carefree man to one addicted to brooding. Major Locke in 1923, was dismissed as superintendent of the five civilized tribes. He has been at liberty on $25,000 bond since soon after the killing but was taken into custody by the sheriff when the jury gave its verdict. His attorneys announced they would appeal.

Soviet Leader Takes Life; In Ill Health. Moscow, Russia, Nov. 17.—(P)—Adolph Joffe committed suicide tonight by firing a bullet through his temple. He was one of the great leaders of the soviet system, but in later years had endured much physical suffering.

During his stay in China as soviet ambassador M. Joffe contracted a malady which the physicians could never diagnose accurately. He suffered intensely from periodic polyneuritis (inflammation of several trunk nerves) aggravated by myocarditis and an affection of the kidneys. His pain recently had become unbearable, necessitating the use of narcotics, which, however, only partly relieved his agony.

He had planned a trip abroad to take the cure next week but the persistent pain caused mental depression under which he ended his life.

BODY OF NEGRO SENT TO HOME

Flowers Made Debut in Same Ring Where He Fought Last

New York, Nov. 17.—(P)—The same ring in which Tiger Flowers made his New York debut also was the scene of the last fight in his colorful boxing career during which the Georgia negro and the former middleweight champion of the world earned near to $500,000.

This was disclosed by Walk Miller, first and only manager of the Georgia negro before leaving on the Crescent Limited for Atlanta with the body of Flowers who died last night after undergoing a minor eye operation.

"The negro's first fight here was just like his last," said Miller.

Flowers started against Lee Anderson, a light heavyweight, and knocked him out in the fifth round at the Commonwealth club in Harlem. His last fight was against Leo Gates, a heavyweight last Saturday, and Flowers won by a knockout in the fourth round in the same arena. They have changed the name from the Commonwealth club to the Olympia, but otherwise it is the same place.

Friends and notables including Gene Tunney and Mickey Walker, who took the middleweight title from the negro, paid tribute today to Flowers. Scores visited the funeral parlor where his body was taken after his death at the private hospital of Dr. W. G. Fallick.

Miller not only served as manager for Flowers' fights, but also was advisor to the boxer in other affairs. Miller estimated Flowers earned half a million dollars during seven years in the ring, not deducting his expenses and other details involved in about 200 matches. Since losing his title to Walker last December, Flowers had campaigned against 19 opponents.

Flowers was the only negro who held the middleweight championship. He was very religious and a deacon of the Baptist church in his home town.

Before the operation Flowers made a will, bequeathing property valued at $100,000 to his wife and six-year-old daughter.

The body of the former champion will lie in state at the Flowers home in Atlanta on Saturday. The funeral will be held Sunday.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—(P)—A national program calling for internal improvements, development of the country's defense and the promotion of peace was outlined tonight by President Coolidge in a cautioning address "the test of prosperity," facing America.

Speaking before a distinguished audience of business leaders at the Union League of Philadelphia in a brief visit to this city, Mr. Coolidge gave a comprehensive report of the nation's affairs and then detailed his hopes for the future in the most complete way he has ever attempted outside of a message to congress.

The president spoke after he had been given the gold medal for distinguished public service and honorary membership in the Union League, the only president to receive both awards from this organization founded in civil war days.

Cal Stresses Need of Internal Improvements

Stresses Need of Economy. Flood control, development of waterway systems, construction of cruisers and submarines for the navy, encouragement of commercial aviation and attention to the Colorado River and Columbia basin project were mentioned by the president as he emphasized that "we can begin to consider internal developments."

While a moderate tax reduction is in sight, he warned again that this depended on strict economy and again he urged rapid retirement of the public debt, the "greatest weakness in our line of national defense."

Mr. Coolidge took cognizance also of tariff reduction talk and he emphatically gave word that he would not consider it. Any material reduction, he declared, "would ultimately result in a drastic deflation of agricultural and industrial values. In the rate of wages, and in the standards of living."

Dines With Leaders. The president came to Philadelphia late in the day, leaving Washington just as the tornado struck that city. He was informed of it upon his arrival here and asked for all details.

William C. Sprull, president of the league, and former governor of Pennsylvania, headed a welcoming committee which escorted Mr. Coolidge from the station to the Union League club where he dined with a group of Pennsylvania leaders before entering the auditorium.

Of the 3,000 members of the league, about 200, including some outside guests, were at the dinner.

Mrs. Coolidge did not accompany the president on his hurried trip to the league exercises where no women were present.

Indiana Editor Is Head of Fraternity

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 16.—(P)—James Stuart, managing editor of the Indianapolis Star, was elected president of Sigma Delta Chi Journalistic fraternity, at its national convention here today.

Franklin Reck, Detroit, of the editorial staff of the American Boy was elected first vice president; Bristol Adams, director of the Cornell University School of Journalism, second vice president; Robert Tarr, city editor of the Pontiac, Mich., Press, secretary; Edwin V. O'Neil, Indianapolis Times, was named alumni secretary and Maurice Ryan, editor of the Devils Lake, N. D., World, treasurer.

Members of the executive council elected were Robert V. Kerr, Chicago, associate editor of the American Lumberman; Walter Humphrey, Fort Worth, Tex., Press; Charles Snyder, Daily Drivers Journal, Chicago; Norman J. Radder, department of journalism, University of Indiana.

The 1928 convention will be held at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.

Girls Study Ethics at South School to Fight Modernity

Paduach, Ky.—Education which steps with the customary courses of study is likely to fail unless it is supported with a "sound moral sense," believe officials of the Augusta Tighman high school here.

So the girl students are attending a school of ethics as a part of their regular study. Miss Olive Parrish, dean of girls, is in charge. Informal talks on ideals of conduct are delivered each week by leading men and women.

"There is evident among the girls of today a deplorable lack of respect for those conventions which have always nourished and sustained our civilization," says Miss Parrish. "Furtive of this lawless tendency by our girls is bound to endanger their chances for wholesome and successful careers as wives and mothers, or as independent self-sustaining women."

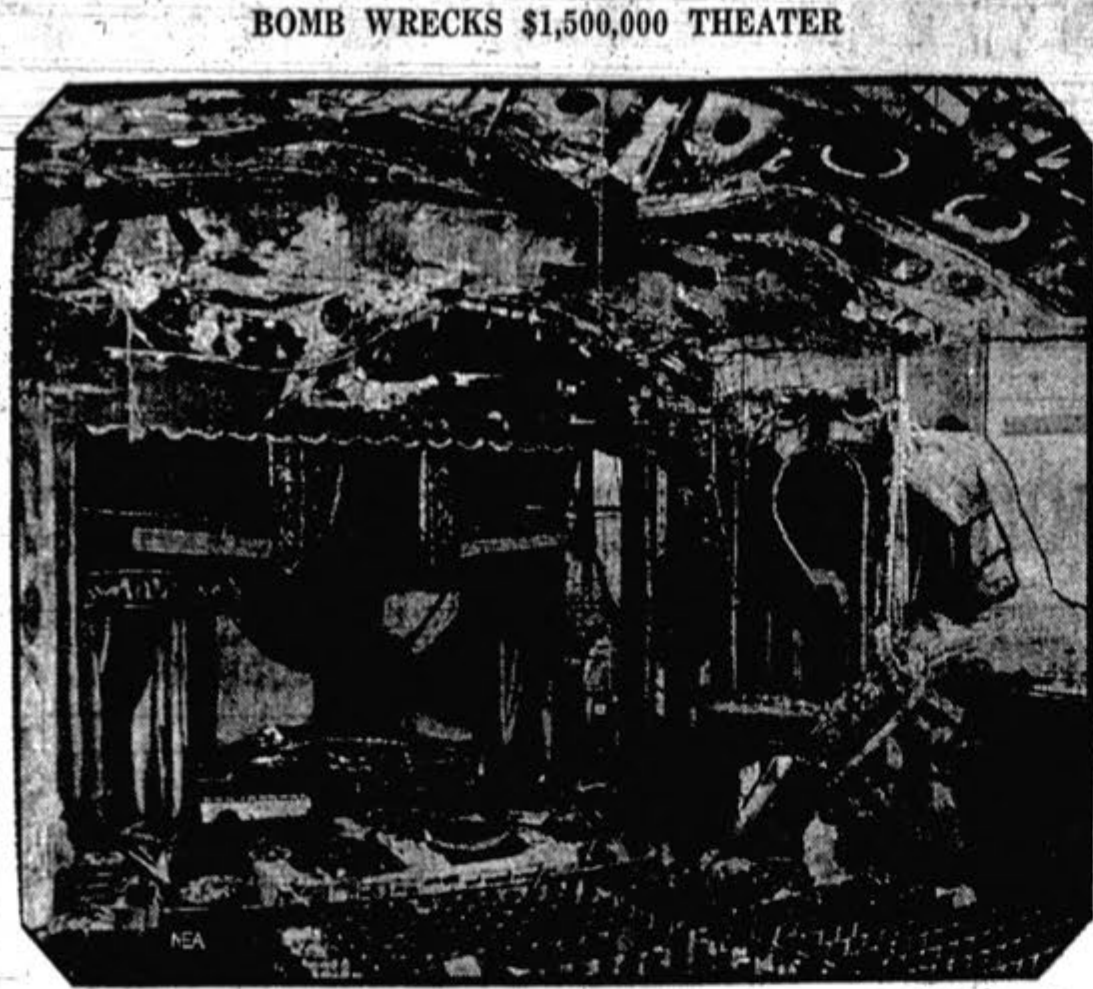

"We hope by ethical instruction to reveal to the girls under our care the obligations of the individual to society to instruct them that an individual can not hope to live as a law to herself without grave danger of failure and unhappiness, to say nothing of the damage to the tried and true social institutions."

"The girls are taught there must be limits to self-indulgence and that the individual must regulate her life according to the good of the whole body of society. They are taught respect for work, regard for the feelings and property of others, the power of knowledge, initiative, its meaning and value to the possessor, perseverance, attention to details, the need of fair play, the beauty of sacrifice and self denial, will all be stressed in these seminars."

At the close of the school year the students will prepare a code of behavior by which they hope to live.

Belgian Team Leads Six Day Bike Race

Detroit, Nov. 17.—(P)—The Belgian team of Wynsdau and Vermeirbergen, forged its way into second place tonight in the six-day bicycle race here, after trailing far down in the list since the start of the race Sunday night. At 11 o'clock tonight, only two laps separated them from the leading team of Beckman and Debaets. At the present time, the racers have covered more than 1500 miles.

Here is a picture of the $600,000 wreckage of the $1,500,000 State theater in Hammond, Ind., which police say was caused by the bomb of a novice or fanatic. Above the theater is a dance hall, while across the street is a church. There was no labor trouble during construction of the building.

WASHINGTON HIT BY WIND STORM

Tornado and Rains Result in One Death; Houses Are Unroofed

Washington, Nov. 17.—(P)—A tornado, followed by two heavy rain storms that drenched the city struck two sections of Washington and neighboring communities today, leaving in its wake at least one death, more than a score injured and several million dollars damage to property.

The storm, descending first around 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and abated by a 53-mile gale and blinding rain, struck in the southeast and northeast quarters of Washington, tearing off roof tops as if they were hand box lids, blowing down trees and transmission wires and sending hundreds scurrying to safety within their homes. The only person known to have been killed was Mrs. Jane Carter, who was struck by lightning.

Most of the damage resulted to small dwellings, although many automobiles were turned over and several persons were injured in this manner.

That path cut by the tornado was at least a mile in width and about 20 miles long, Alexandria, Va., on the south and Hyattsville, Md., on the north, reporting having felt the blow and rain, with slight damage to wooden structures.

Police tonight were erecting barriers in the affected area by placing blown-down trees at intersections to keep out possible looters.

Secretary of War Davis offered to place troops in this section at the disposal of city authorities, but none had been required tonight.

Northwest Washington where most government buildings and the larger residential structures are situated knew little about the damage to the east, although the two torrents of rain, both deluging the city with half an inch of water in less than 10 minutes on each occasion, and low black clouds hung over the entire city and tied up traffic generally.

Start Flight to New Zealand Today

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—(P)—Weather permitting, Captain Frederick A. Giles, British aviator, planned to hop off tomorrow morning for Honolulu on the first lap of a 12,000-mile three-stop flight to New Zealand.

His navigation charts were prepared and his Bluebird biplane Wanda was in good condition. "Unless it rains upon the runway, I will take a chance with whatever weather may be had out at sea," Giles said.

The flyer planned to take off between 9 and 9:30 a. m., Pacific coast time, and he expected to arrive at Wheeler field near Honolulu at about 1:30 p. m. Friday. "I did not make arrangements to land there, but I guess it will be alright," he added.

A storm was reported brewing over the Pacific ocean path mapped out for the flight, but Captain Giles was to receive another report on conditions from the weather bureau before the hop-off. His financial backer, W. H. Rosewarne, of Detroit, today telegraphed Captain Giles to "wait until present atmospheric disturbance subsides, then proceed immediately afterward."

Jack Dempsey Will Bring Counter Suit If Kearns Wins Case

Newark, N. J., Nov. 17.—(P)—In the event that Jack Kearns wins a verdict over Jack Dempsey in the former's suit for $333,333.33, charging breach of contract, Dempsey will counter with a suit for a half million dollars, Richard J. Mackay, of the former heavyweight champion's counsel said today.

Mackay declared that sum represented money due Dempsey and which he never received from the Brennan fight in Madison Square Garden on August 23, 1923, and the Tom Gibbons fight in Shelby, Mont.

The Dempsey counsel indicated that these claims would be disregarded unless the jury found that the contract under which Kearns is suing, valid.

SIX PRISONERS ARE RANSOMED

Moors Held Group Captives in Mountains for Many Weeks

Kasba, Tadia, Morocco, Nov. 17.—(P)—Six French prisoners, two of them women, and two of them little girls, who have been held by Moors for weeks past for ransom in the Atlas mountains, returned to civilization today, while 2,000,000 francs in gold, ($400,000) laden on the backs of camels and mules found their way into the mountain recesses.

Stumbling over the snow-covered passes of the middle Atlas range, Yves Steeg, nephew of the French resident general, Jean Mallet and their two woman companions, Baroness von Steinhilber and Mme. Marie Prokoff, and the two children of the Arnaud family, were delivered into the hands of French officers at Aguenous by Moorish brigands who had been negotiating on an even plane with the French protectorate officers.

The 9- and 11-year-old girls, whose parents had been murdered when they were abducted, were the first to be surrendered by the mountain brigands. They looked pale and tired, and their feet bled.

Then Steeg and Mallet and the two women were turned over to General Frydenberg, the French commanding officer in the region and hero in the war against Abd-el-Krim, who appeared to relish little the situation.

Moors Shout "War!" "Allah is great; he desires to return to the prisoners!" said Sidi Mohammed Ben Nocer.

In order to show that the Moors still possessed ammunition 100 men headed down the plain firing in the air. "Baroud!" they cried. "Baroud" means "war," but the caravan bearing the 2,000,000 francs in gold was then moving into mountain passes and there was no war.

"Where are our father and mother?" asked the Arnaud girls when they reached French headquarters. They were not aware that their parents had been murdered, but had been informed that they returned home. The girls are to be the guests of Mme. Theodore Steeg at Rabat, wife of the resident general, until their future may be assured.

WATERS RISE IN VERMONT RIVERS

Northern Part of State Again in Danger of Flood

Hurlington, Vt., Nov. 17.—(P)—Northern Vermont, still counting the cost of one disastrous flood, faced a second menace of its rivers tonight. Just two weeks from the day when a downpour of rain had set moving the worst flood in the history of the state, another rain storm today threatened to swell the rivers to another danger point.

With the prospect of a 24-hour rainfall the Red Cross tonight sent up the Winooki river valley where the floods exacted their heaviest toll of life two weeks ago, warnings of possible new trouble to come. At the behest of the weather bureau in Washington, Montpelier, Barre, Rutland, St. Albans and other centers also were notified.

Heavy rain set in in this city at 11 o'clock this forenoon and continued throughout the day and evening. No appreciable rise was noted in the Winooki river but it was generally remarked that the storm was similar to that which ushered in the previous flood. At Montpelier where the rain began to fall at 9:30 the fall was somewhat lighter.

A message received from the river and floods division at Washington today said the storm would continue for 24 hours, possibly turning to snow tomorrow. All towns in northern Vermont were to be warned as well as those in New Hampshire.

The Red Cross assumed the task of spreading the news.

London Awaiting Word from Flyers

London, Nov. 17.—(P)—An anxious London still awaited word tonight of the fate of Capt. R. S. McIntosh and Bert Hinkler in the monoplane, "Princess Xenia," which was many hours overdue at Karachi, India, on its attempted record-breaking distance flight.

The plane left Upavon early this morning with enough gasoline for approximately 50 hours in the air and observers are sure that the plane must have come down somewhere by this time as its fuel could not have lasted beyond this afternoon.

Not one report indicates where in the vast spaces in the 4,000 miles intervening between England and India, the flyers might have come down as they have not been heard from since they passed 120 miles from their starting point.

Chicago Wins First League Hockey Game

Montreal, Nov. 17.—(P)—Chicago won the opening game of the National Hockey League season here tonight, defeating the Montreal Maroons, 3 to 2. A solo rush by McKay broke a tie with only a half minute of the game to go.

Skating Available in Midwest States

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(P)—Skating and sleigh riding were available to several states of the prairie regions as sub-freezing temperatures prevailed throughout the district swept by the storm of a few days ago.

The weather man's repeated promise of snow for Chicago and Northern Wisconsin and Michigan were making of the snow-fall that blocked roads, marooned deer hunters and closed schools during the early days of the week, a source of recreation. Ponds and lakes were frozen.

The lowest temperature of the middle west was reported from Minot, N. D., where the thermometer fell to 19 degrees below zero. Devils Lake, N. D., had a minus 20 record.

The storm-battered Canadian tug, Butterfield, from Port Arthur, Can., arrived at Ashland, Wis., today after encountering Lake Superior in its angriest mood. Apprehension had been felt for the vessel's safety. Although many hunters and a number of farmers were snowbound from 24 to 48 hours in the upper sections of Michigan and Wisconsin, no loss of life has been reported.

AMENDMENT IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Ways and Means Committee Drafting New Tax Measure

Washington, Nov. 17.—(P)—An amendment to the revenue law designed to prevent holding corporations from evading the tax on corporation incomes was approved today by the house ways and means committee for incorporation in the tax bill, which it is now drafting.

Chairman Green said today that the committee after considerable discussion approved a provision that would materially strengthen section 220 of the present act, which deals with the tax on incomes of corporations that fail to declare dividends to stockholders.

The question of either rewriting entirely or revising that section has been a contested subject. The recommendations of the advisory committee of the joint congressional committee on internal revenue legislation was bitterly opposed by several members and Mr. Green indicated that the provision approved reported somewhat of a compromise.

During the day at the White House a delegation representing the automobile industry appealed to President Coolidge to exert his influence in behalf of the repeal of the 3 per cent tax on automobile sales and at the capital. Speaker Longworth said he believed the $225,000,000 recommended by the treasury as the maximum tax cut advisable and the $400,000,000 slice suggested by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States represented the extremes for prospective tax reduction.

While the speaker himself did not propose a specific figure, he said he hoped it would be possible for congress to repeal all of the present excise taxes, including those on automobile sales, theater tickets and club dues; reduce the tax on corporation incomes from 13 1/2 per cent to at least 12 per cent and provide a downward revision for surtax rates on incomes in the intermediate brackets.

The automobile bill of the American people is over $14,000,000,000 a year.

Dartmouth Will Meet Georgetown for Flood Benefit

Boston, Nov. 17.—(P)—Dartmouth will meet Georgetown in a post-season football game for the benefit of the Vermont and New Hampshire flood sufferers in the Harvard stadium on Sunday, November 27, provided Harvard will donate the use of the stadium for the game, Larry Bankart, member of the Dartmouth athletic council, announced here tonight.

"Dartmouth will pay all its expenses to and from the game and so will Georgetown," he said. "Neither of us can afford to pay rental for the field, however, and that phase of it will be up to Harvard."

"I hope to arrange a conference here tomorrow between myself, Father Flanagan of Georgetown and Director Bingham of Harvard to talk over possibilities."

Bankart added that the Dartmouth athletic council today received a telegram from Notre Dame athletic authorities asking that Knute Rockne's famous team be allowed to compete against Dartmouth or Georgetown in the post-season flood benefit encounter.

"We would like to play Notre Dame," Bankart said, "but inasmuch as the first suggestion was for Georgetown and due to the fact that Georgetown has already accepted, we cannot."

Thompson Hunts in Wisconsin

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(P)—Mayor William Hale Thompson's instrument for exposing his reasons for renewed patriotic avowals was not functioning today while his medium for revivifying aivism was busily endeavoring to enlist members for the "American first foundation." The mayor himself is now devoting himself to hunting in Wisconsin.

Having written into the record of the trial of William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of schools, the reasons of Charles Edward Russell, socialist writer, for fearing English influence in the United States, the hearing adjourned until next Wednesday.

One legal phase of the Thompson anti-British crusade was scratched off today when a motion for an injunction to restrain the mayor and U. J. "Sport" Herrmann, a library board member, from destroying library books, was dismissed.

PROBE WORK OF "FIREBUG" HERE

Bundle of Burning Papers Thrown Into Andrews Office.

Investigation of the apparent attempt to set a fire in the office of James R. Andrews, lumber broker, 701 Ludington street, early Wednesday night was being investigated yesterday by the police and fire departments. Although authorities are of the opinion that this incident has no connection with the fire at the United Cigar Store a half hour later and the destruction of the Ambrose Clement barber shop, Stephenson avenue, by another fire yesterday morning, they feel certain that a "firebug" is active here.

Dr. G. R. Treiber discovered the blaze in the Andrews office at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday night when he went up to his office, which is in the same building. The flames could be seen through the glass pane of the door, and forcing open the locked door, Dr. Treiber found a bundle of papers afire behind the door.

Thrown Through Transom?
The transom above the door was open, and from all indications the flaming fagot had been thrown into the room through this aperture. There is little probability that the paper was ignited by a carelessly thrown match during the afternoon since there were no match stubs or wastepaper baskets in proximity of the paper bundle. None of the occupants of the Andrews office, also, had any recollection of such papers being in the office.

The fire at the United Cigar Store had its origin in the basement, and apparently was caused by a defect in the furnace or overheating. The blaze was discovered at 7:40 o'clock when the presence of smoke aroused Michael Finn, one of the proprietors, to make an investigation in the basement. About twenty minutes before this, Mr. Finn had gone down in the basement to put more coal in the furnace and at that time had not noticed anything wrong.

Holiday Goods Destroyed.
It is unlikely that the fire was incendiary for there is little chance that anyone could have set the blaze without being detected. Entrance into the basement was possible only by entering a trapdoor in the rear room of the pool hall. An outside rear door was securely locked and escape through this passage would have been impossible.

A large amount of holiday goods, which had been recently received and stored in the basement, was ruined. Billiard tables, cues and other equipment were so badly damaged that repairing them will be out of the question. Some of the stock in the front of the place was also destroyed.

Considerable damage was done to the building, which is owned by Frank Greenlaw. The flames spread almost the entire length of the floor underneath, upward within both side walls and in the rear to the top of the roof. The interior of billiard room was charred, necessitating much redecorating work. Mr. Finn and Fred Olmstead, proprietors, carried $6000 insurance on the billiard room equipment, but the stock of candies, cigars and specialties was not protected.

Considerable smoke damage was done in the Vanity Shoppe and Hoyler's Tea Room-adjoining.

Barber Shop Burns.
The small building at 226 Stephenson avenue, which was occupied by Andrew Clements, barber, was virtually destroyed by a blaze at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Clements had come down to shop about 7 o'clock to light an oil stove used in heating water, and then returned to his home for breakfast. When he returned, he found the shop in flames. A barber chair and other barber supplies were lost in the fire. The total loss is estimated at $500.

Fire Chief Arvid Johnson had a narrow escape from asphyxiation when he went into the smoke and gas filled basement of the United Cigar store to make an investigation. A leak in the gas pipe in the basement caused the flow of a large amount of gas, the leak having been caused by the heating of the gas meter. Chief Johnson was almost overcome by the gas and smoke, and managing to get near one of the basement windows, he called for several of the men, who assisted him in escaping from the basement. This escaping gas also hampered the work of the firemen as did the large volume of smoke which was slow in escaping from the building, there being scarcely any outlet.

The fire department responded to another call at 9:15 o'clock last night to the Jepson building, 1323 Ludington street, where fire of unknown origin had started in the floor of the apartment occupied by the George Powell family. Little damage as done.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Iron Trade Review today says: Expanding order books of many steel producers continue to contrast sharply with the difficulties of maintaining a 65 per cent average operating rate. Further heavy rail and pipe business has been placed and the advance of $1 per ton in bars, shapess and plates has driven in considerable tonnage, but speculations for immediate rolling show little change.

With the larger users of heavy steel covered for the rest of the quarter at 1.75c, Pittsburgh, and 1.85c, Chicago, carload and larger orders are now being entered at 1.80c and 1.90c, respectively. Another advance may be promulgated next month, establishing the current increase for the first quarter. Prices on light products, such as sheets and strip, still are irregular.

Pig iron is tinged slightly brighter. A more active market is developing at Cleveland, as carry-over iron is exhausted and interest in the rest of this quarter and the first quarter grows. The melt is slightly heavier at Chicago and St. Louis and more first quarter feelers are out. Sales at New York and Buffalo are lighter, with one merchant stack at Buffalo out. A sanitary ware manufacturer seeks 5,000 tons for Louisville, Ky. Southern furnaces have booked well over 100,000 tons in their recent drive.

Increased demand for very steel products stimulated by the $1 rise, is not generally taken to denote a turn to consumption. Many users have anticipated their requirements for the remainder of the quarter, and prospects of a further advance may prompt somewhat heavier stocks. Bookings and consumption, therefore, may not run parallel the next few weeks. Producers of track material and steel pipe will shortly swing into heavier schedules and help neutralize the customary year-end contraction in other lines.

Coke is generally weaker. Many of the larger carriers having distributed their 1928 rail needs, they are now giving attention to track fastenings. Rail orders of the past ten days, including the 177,140 tons by the New York Central, 94,000 tons by the Southern Pacific and 35,000 tons by the St. Louis-San Francisco, total fully 300,000 tons. Fresh rail inquiry at Chicago, totaling 55,000 tons, brings pending tonnage there to over 100,000.

A light week in structural steel is featured by the award of 18,200 tons for the new terminal approach at Cleveland to the American Bridge company. From 50,000 to 75,000 tons of steel for the new Hudson river bridge at New York is being distributed among Pittsburgh district mills.

Some quiet closing of steel pipe has supplemented the 150,000 tons placed last week. Pipe orders thus far in November have undoubtedly set a new high mark.

Ford Motor company has bought sheets for 15,000 cars and further orders are expected, but producers of sheets, like those of strip and cold finished bars, continue to languish on account of slack automotive buying.

Speculation concerning the tin plate for the first half of 1928 names $5.25 and $5.35, compared with the nominal $5.50 price this half.

Increased bar, plate and shape prices proved inadequate to stem the downward trend in other products and the Iron Trade Review composite of 14 leading iron and steel products declined nine cents this week, to $35.35.

ORE SHIPMENTS END THIS WEEK

Mines in Iron Range Section Prepare to End Season's Work.

Iron River, Nov. 17.—With only three mines still loading the shipment of iron ore to the Escanaba docks will come to a complete stop for the 1927 season late this week, according to advices from the North Western and St. Paul railroads.

Although figures are not obtainable, it is expected that the 1927 output will be slightly lower than last year. Weather has been a contributing factor in mines being able to ship their ores late this year.

Practically every mine in the Iron River district, and there are more than 18, has cleaned up its stock-piles and is now stocking for the 1928 shipping season. Mines that are still shipping are the James, Homer and Rogers, Steam-shovels at those operations will stop about Friday.

At least seven train loads were made up in the district throughout the summer, the same average as last year. The annual output from this district will not be made known until figures are received from Escanaba.

Stock Piles Clean.
The cleaning up of nearly every stockpile, however, is an indication which points to normalcy in the iron industry, and it is expected that all mines in the district will maintain their payrolls throughout the winter.

Among the properties which have cleared away their stock-piles are the Dober, Wausaca, Berkshire, Zimmerman, Baltic, Fogarty and James. These mines shipped from the pockets up until last week.

The Speg mine did little shipping this season.

The BENSON MURDER CASE

by S. S. VAN DINE CHAPTER LXVI

(Thursday, June 30; noon) On leaving the apartment, Markham took with him the pistol and the case of jewels.

"When, in the morning, Alvin was found shot with an army coil, who but the Captain would be suspected? The Major knew the Captain lived alone, and that he would have difficulty in establishing an alibi.

"You observe, I trust," said Vance when we were in the taxi cab headed for the Criminal Courts building, "the great advantage of my methods over yours. When one knows at the outset who committed a crime, one isn't misled by appearances.

"But if, as you say, you knew from the first that the Major was guilty, why, in God's name, didn't you tell me, and save me this week of anxiety?"

"Don't be ingenuous, old man," returned Vance. "If I had accused the Major at the beginning, you'd have had me arrested for criminal libel.

"And yet, not once did I actually lie to you. I was constantly throwing out suggestions, and pointing to significant facts, in a list of what I called 'facts in your favor'."

"I see what you mean. But why did you keep setting up these straw men and then knocking them over?"

"You were bound, body and soul, to circumstantial evidence," Vance pointed out. "It was only by letting you see that it led you nowhere that I was able to foist the Major on you.

"Even with all my finessing you fought every inch of the way, objecting to this and that, and doing everything imaginable to thwart my humble efforts."

"According to your theory, the crime was rather hastily conceived," Markham's statement was in reality a question.

"The details of its execution were hastily conceived," corrected Vance. "The Major undoubtedly had been contemplating for some time eliminating his brother. Just how or when he was to do it, he hadn't decided.

"Then, on the thirteenth, came the opportunity: all the conditions adjusted themselves to his purpose. He heard Miss St. Clair's promise to go to dinner; and he therefore knew that Alvin would probably be home alone at 12:30, and that, if he were gone away with at that hour, suspicion would fall on Captain Leacock."

M. BEAUCHAMP DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Attack Fatal to Man While Visiting in Jackson.

Moses Beauchamp, aged 45, formerly proprietor of the New Way Cleaners Shop in this city, died suddenly at the home of a cousin, Michael Murphy in Jackson where he was visiting. Mr. Beauchamp left this city the first part of October for Flint where he was employed as a tailor and had gone to Jackson to spend a few days with relatives.

Mr. Beauchamp was born in St. Polycarpe, P. Q., Canada, May 27, 1882, and came to this city about 2 1/2 years ago. He spent seven years in Lake Linden and returned to this city where he had a wide circle of friends who were shocked to hear of his death.

Mr. Beauchamp is survived by one daughter, Yvonne, aged seven and the following brothers and sisters: Antoine Beauchamp, Mrs. Ambrose Theorot and Napoleon Beauchamp of Flatrock; Mrs. Flavian Joint and Joseph A. Beauchamp of this city. His wife who was formerly Miss Rose Martin of this city died suddenly a year ago.

The body will be shipped to this city and will be taken to the Allo Funeral Home. Pending the arrival of the body no definite funeral arrangements have been made.

He was a member of St. Anne's Branch of the Holy Name society, and a devout member of St. Anne's church.

Woman's Club.—A book review of "The Child's Own Library" will be one of the features of the meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club, to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Carnegie library. The meeting was originally scheduled for next week, but the date was changed to November 18 because of the conflict of Thanksgiving activities. The program also will include the club song, the flag pledge, special music and a business session. Mrs. Gildeen Stegath is chairman of the day and the hostesses will be Mrs. H. D. Brackett, Mrs. Axel Erickson, Mrs. L. K. Edwards and Mrs. F. Prelm. The meeting will close with a social tea.

Marriage License.—Application for a marriage license has been made at the county clerk's office by Arthur Bracke, Gladstone, and Rose LaVerdure, Norway.

Epworth League.—The Epworth League society of the Swedish Methodist church will hold its monthly social meeting tonight in the church parlors beginning at 8 o'clock. The Misses Ellen and Alma Gauhn will serve as hostesses. A good program will be given. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Talks on Health

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

OUR SKIN CHANGED BY DIET, CLIMATE

Unquestionably the human skin has changed in the progress of man from an earlier day to the present. Apparently all races of man have developed from a common ancestry, the diverse types being the result of adaptations to different environments in the course of thousands of years.

It is interesting to know that the length of prenatal life in man and in the higher apes is approximately 280 days, whereas in the lower apes it is 220 days. Anthropologists are inclined to believe that the 60 days' difference is required for the growth of the brain and head of man, which are parts of man that differentiate him from the lower animals.

In the development of man from a lower stage to his present form he changed his diet. The eating of fleshy foods provides larger and more rapid supply of heat than did the foods which man formerly ate.

Evaporation of Heat
One of the functions of the skin is to permit the evaporation of heat from the body so as to secure a constant temperature within. A strong active man in a cool climate may emit 3200 calories of heat per day, whereas the man in the sedentary life under tropical conditions will emit only 1500 calories of heat.

In a consideration of the relationship of the character of the skin in its relationship to questions of race and health, Prof. H. J. Fleure of the University College of Wales points out that the darker colorings of the skin occur where the sun's rays are most powerful, but that it is impossible to classify races of men on this point alone because migration, conquest, and other factors have modified this point as well.

He believes that the earliest types of men had brown skins, the pigment being developed soon after birth as a resultant action of the skin to the influence of light. The earliest forms of men also had hairy skins and indeed the new-born baby of today is likely to be covered with a slightly downy coat.

In Africans the hair on the skin disappears rapidly and there is little of it, such skin permitting more rapid evaporation of heat than one which is covered with hair. Indeed the whole Negro organism, as pointed out by Prof. Fleure, seems to be specialized to secure the maximum amount of emission of heat, and this is particularly the case in regions of moist heat and cloud.

Dry Heat, Brown Coloring
Where the heat is of the dry type, there is a tendency toward brown coloring. It is likely that the earliest men had pigmented skins, since theories have been developed to account for the depigmentation of later types.

Part of this resulted from travel into districts of lessened heat. An additional factor suggested by one observer is the fact that persons who travel north would change to a diet containing a considerable amount of salt and salted foods, and that this had to do also with the disappearance of pigmentation of the skin.

In this discussion of the subject, Prof. Fleure points out that the fairest skinned Europeans have a high power of heat evaporation and an activity of body and mind that is more suited to rural than to town conditions.

This type is free from serious tuberculosis when it remains in the country, but is prone to the disease when depressed into industrial conditions. The character of the skin and hair is itself an indication of the general constitution.

OBITUARY

MISS ADELE RABIDOU
Funeral services for Miss Adele Rabidou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rabidou of Rapid River will be held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Charles' church at Rapid River with Rev. Fr. J. Guertin as celebrant at the requiem high mass.

Burial will be in Rapid River cemetery in the family lot.

MRS. MICHAEL CAIN.
Mrs. Michael Cain, aged 65, passed away at a local hospital Thursday morning at 4:30 o'clock following an illness of several weeks due to chronic myocarditis.

Mrs. Cain was born in Liberty, Manitowish County, Wis., and after her marriage made her home at Menominee, Mich., for 35 years. After the death of her husband she came to this city and made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Tobin, 611 Ogden avenue.

Mrs. Cain is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Tobin, six grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. John Roddy of this city and Mrs. Justin Martin of Green Bay.

The body was prepared for burial at the Allo Funeral Home and will be shipped to Menominee this morning at 10:40 o'clock and will be removed to the Lemous funeral parlors where it will remain until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock when funeral services will be held in St. John's church with Rev. Fr. Cleary as celebrant at the requiem-high mass.

Burial will be in the family lot in Menominee cemetery where her husband was buried ten years ago.

MRS. ISRAEL FOURNIER
Funeral services for Mrs. Israel Fournier of Whiteland were held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Allo Funeral Home with Rev. H. C. McDonald, pastor of the First Baptist church officiating.

Many beautiful flowers were received at the funeral home where the body lay pending the hour of the funeral services.

The funeral cortege left this city about ten o'clock for Manistique where the burial will be in the family lot in Manistique cemetery.

Out of town relatives included Israel Fournier, Whiteland, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. George Wining of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. A daughter, Mrs. Fred Bowen who spent two weeks in this city at the bedside of her mother who was making her home during her illness with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wining at Bay View left Tuesday morning for her home at International Falls, Minn. The members of the family have the sympathy of a host of friends in their loss.

MICHAEL KEHOE
The body of Michael Kehoe will be removed from the Allo Funeral Home to the home of his son, John Kehoe, 208 South Thirteenth street where it will remain until the hour of the funeral services which will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church.

Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM FARRELL.
Mrs. William Farrell, aged 72, passed away Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Romeo Martin, 210 North Thirteenth street, where she and her aged husband had making their home for the past few years, since they left Hardwood where they had resided for 35 years.

Mrs. Farrell had been suffering with rheumatism and diabetes for a number of years but had always been active and had returned from a visit at the home of a daughter at Schaffer two weeks ago. Complications set in after her arrival home and Tuesday she remained in bed. Members of her family were at the bedside when she died.

Mrs. Farrell is survived by her aged husband, two daughters and three sons, Mrs. Thomas Rice, Schaffer, Mrs. Romeo Martin, Leslie and Archie Farrell of this city, and Truman Farrell of Detroit. Seven grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. John Ferguson of St. Catherine, Quebec, Canada, also survive.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home and will be removed to the home of her daughter, 210 North Thirteenth street, this afternoon. Funeral services will probably be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Pending word from a son in Detroit the funeral arrangements are not complete.

Saginaw County Clerk Is Found Guilty of Forgery
Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Sam Burns, deposed Saginaw county clerk, in circuit court here late today was found guilty of forgery and uttering a forged instrument and sentenced by Judge William H. Martin to serve on one and a half to 14 years in Iona reformatory. Deliberating an hour and 15 minutes the jury decided Burns was guilty on both counts.

The verdict ended the second trial growing out of an investigation of Burns' administration of the county's mothers' pension fund. He was charged with obtaining a mother's pension check, forging the endorsement and cashing it with intent to defraud.

Tonight friends of the former county clerk were preparing to file a bond of $2,000 fixed by Judge Martin pending an appeal of the case.

"I Am Very Glad With The Order"

In far away Sao Paulo there are tiny shops where one may purchase carved fans of sandalwood and filmy lengths of real lace, but Senor Silva wanted a vacuum bottle and a leather belt, and he wanted them to be of excellent quality and at a price his modest salary could afford.

So he wrote us a long letter in Portuguese explaining his wishes, and in due time the Bottle and the Belt departed for South America. Apparently, Senor Silva was pleased with them, because the other day we received this letter:

"I am very glad with the order. Thank you."

You may smile, perhaps at the phraseology, but to us it represents an ideal of service.

Every night when the last parcel has left our counters, we wonder if deep down in the heart of every customer we have served that day is the thought, "I am very glad with the order. Thank you."

We hope so. This is the success we hope to achieve.

STATE GAS TAX YIELDS CASH

September Collections Are Million More Than Last Year.

With the advent of the three cent gas tax on September 5 of this year the State collected a total of $3,088,081 during September alone, according to figures made public by the State Highway Department and the Detroit Automobile club. During September of this year under the three cent law, the State collected $2,085,236.05 more than during the same month last year.

This tremendous increase in the gas tax funds is attributable, according to Thomas P. Henry, chairman of the anti-gas tax committee of the automobile club, to the fact that the State in September under the new law not only started the three cent collection, but also started to collect from gasoline companies on all gasoline contained in storage prior to its sale at retail.

This, Mr. Henry says, resulted in an additional amount being paid into the state coffers although several companies had refused to pay this tax before selling it to the ultimate consumer. It can readily be seen, however, Mr. Henry points out, that if the Supreme Court declares the gas tax constitutional or refuses to grant a referendum on the act as per any of the cases now pending before it, a tremendous amount of money will be collected by the State this year on the third cent tax.

Mr. Henry points out that the largest month that the State ever had in its collection of the gas tax was August of this year, when it collected $1,318,528.95 under the old two cent tax. He estimates that during the heavy touring season next spring and summer, if this act is allowed to stand, the State will collect double this amount.

IN NEW YORK

New York—Leaves from last week's notebook: To Texas Gulon's new club for a party in honor of Ines Haynes Irwin, the writer. . . . And it seems she wrote a most popular book called "Gideon," which I have not read. . . . And when she asked me if I had a copy of "Gideon," I replied, "Sure, I stole one out of a small town hotel room five years ago." . . . But someone told me it wasn't a Bible but a name which referred to a "male flapper," whatever that is. . . .

And Will Irwin, her husband, was also there and fell to telling how busy he kept himself at writing. . . . And of how he got up at 5 o'clock in the morning to type. . . . And while I envy anyone so industrious, I would hate to have the adjoining apartment. . . .

Finally I discovered that my hostess was none other than Stella Karn, who, many years ago, came to my newspaper desk in San Francisco with pieces for the paper about Al G. Barnes' wild animal circus. . . . Now she tells the world all about the musical output of Mons. Leo Feist and can afford evening gowns and such. . . .

Next day to lunch with Walton Hall Smith, who comes from Kansas City and writes books with such alluring titles as "Shadow River" and "Hidden Ivory." . . . And he fell to telling me tales of the African jungle and of how he was head of a trading station in the heart of the Belgian Congo. . . . He had plunged into the land of ivory, fever and quagmire almost as soon as he had left Kansas City behind. . . . "It was a job where men last a year and sometimes a year and a half. . . . You go wading through morass and water and mud up to your waist until finally your stomach rebels. . . . And as he talked the roar of traffic was far away. . . . And when we left we walked past a movie palace in front of which were posters showing a heroic African explorer dressed in immaculate khaki. . . . And it did seem to me he laughed a bit more bitterly than was necessary. . . .

Then to a piano recital by Rudolph Gruen, the 27-year-old composer. . . . And someone told me he made his first appearance in St. Louis at 16. . . . He went on the road and broke into the "big league" in true Horatio Alger fashion. . . . Caruso was making a tour and deemed an accompanist in a hurry. . . . Young Gruen was given a hurried try-out and accepted. . . . Thereafter he was taken on the remainder of the tour as an assisting artist. . . . How full New York is of such romances! . . . And so to call upon Andre Maurois, who wrote "Ariel" and whom I met on the steamer coming home from Paris. . . . And I learned that he was the son of a spinning and weaving manufacturer in Normandy and had been plunged by his father into a business career. . . . He was 33 before he was able to break away and begin to study literature, which he had dearly loved, and a couple of years more before he did anything worth while. . . . All of which was cheering to one who, like myself, finds himself fast leaping into middle life. . . . Then to meet Roland Pertwee, who writes for the Saturday Evening Post and such-like publications and who came over from England to see his play, "Interference," the first drama he has done. . . . And he told of the fun he had traveling ancient chivalry into subway elevateds, office buildings and modern life in general. . . . And it did seem to me this would be a pleasant way of earning a healthy living.

TWO AUTOS TRIED TO CLIMB SAME TREE

Four Mishawaka, Ind., high school students who lived in the country were late in starting for school. Driving at a 55-mile-an-hour rate, their car skidded and struck an apple tree, with the result the picture shows. Berenice Snyder, 15, driving, was thrown through the windshield and sustained fatal injuries, while the three boys riding with her were injured. Note how the tree was punctured by the car's frame.

ASPIRIN

The whole world knows Aspirin as an effective antidote for pain. But it's just as important to know that there is only one genuine Bayer Aspirin. The name Bayer is on every tablet, and on the box. If it says Bayer, it's genuine; and if it doesn't, it is not! Headaches are dispelled by Bayer Aspirin. So are colds, and the pain that goes with them; even neuralgia, neuritis, and rheumatism promptly relieved. Get Bayer—at any drugstore—with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monosodiumsalicylate of Salicylicacid

Nimble-Lively-Quick!

In cold weather or warm—up hill or down—on a ribbon of road or through a hard pulling stretch—Solite makes your car easy to handle—speedy and powerful and smooth.

Solite is a light gasoline that makes no compromise with power to attain speed. It drives the piston the full stroke under power. It gives speed backed by power.

And the flexibility of the engine makes it a pleasure to drive! Fast! Slow! Quick pick-up and speed again! Wherever you want to go—however you want to go! The engine obeys with ready ease and a smooth purr!

It costs only a few cents more to feed your car Solite—you'll agree it's worth it.

FRESHMEN AT THE University of Oklahoma have passed at least one examination this year—their taste for beauty seems to grade about 100 per cent. They chose Miss Marguerite Croy (above) of Drumright, Okla., as class queen.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER RARELY gets a chance to snap two of the great figures of a city together. Here is the result of one of those chances, showing Samuel Insull, Chicago traction magnate (left) and Jullus Rosenwald, head of the Sears-Roebuck mail order house and other Chicago enterprises. The two men appeared at a recent public gathering.

DIEUDONNE COSTES (left) and Joseph Le Brix, French fliers, photoed beside their "Nungesser-Coll" Breguet biplane just before they hopped off from Le Bourget aerodrome, Paris, for St. Louis, Senegal. Thence they winged the South Atlantic to Pernambuco and Buenos Aires, South America.

EDWARD E. STAFFORD, new national commander of the American Legion, was greeted in true conquering-hero style by his buddies when he returned to New York from the Paris convention. They hoisted him on their shoulders as he descended the gangplank and carried him to a waiting auto.

FERN ANDRA, beautiful American star in German films, has been sued for divorce by Kurt Prenzel, former middleweight boxing champion of Germany. The actress announces she will fight the suit, which charges conduct unbecoming a wife.

A ONE-MAN movement to free Georges Quen, serving a 20-year sentence at Clairvaux, France, for the betrayal of the nurse, Edith Cavell, to the Germans, has been started by M. Roc, Quen's jailer. Quen recently was a cellmate of Bennett J. Doty, American boy who was freed after serving a sentence for infractions of Foreign Legion rules, and Doty described him as a "most miserable wretch." Quen is pictured above. Below is a scene at his trial. Quen blames the deed on a "double" named Cavier.

MISS PHYLLIS GIBBS, chosen beauty queen of Australia, didn't have any trouble finding employment. She is on her way to Hollywood with a contract from Cecil B. De Mille tucked in her pocket. Miss Gibbs was one of the few long-haired beauties in the national contest.

A CHARMING studio close-up of Mme. Lilli Dillenz, the Venetian beauty, who is flying to America via the Azores with Fritz Loose.

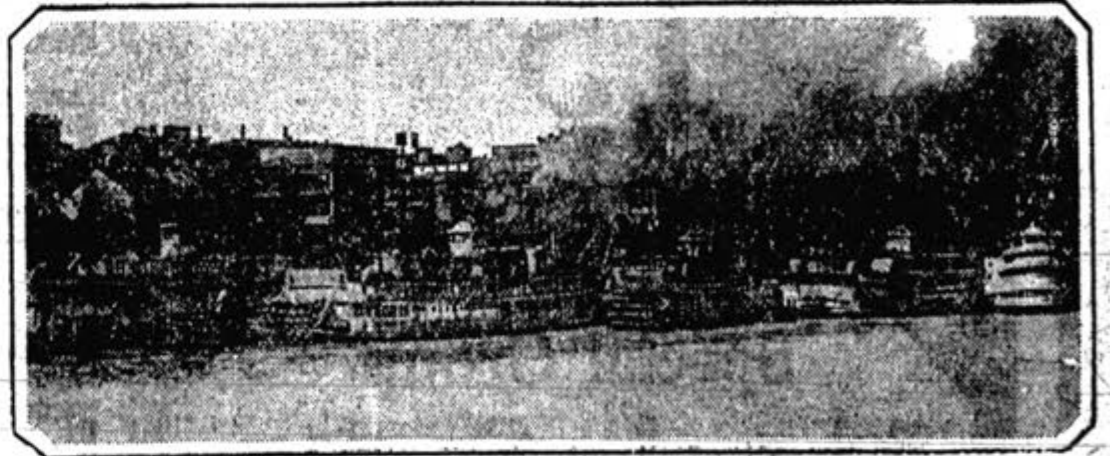

AS A LION-TAMER, Daniel was a piker compared to Captain Schneider, whose antics among big circus cats is all the rage of Berlin. Pictured here is one of the Captain's little before-breakfast stunts, guaranteed to whet your appetite—or satisfy the lion's!

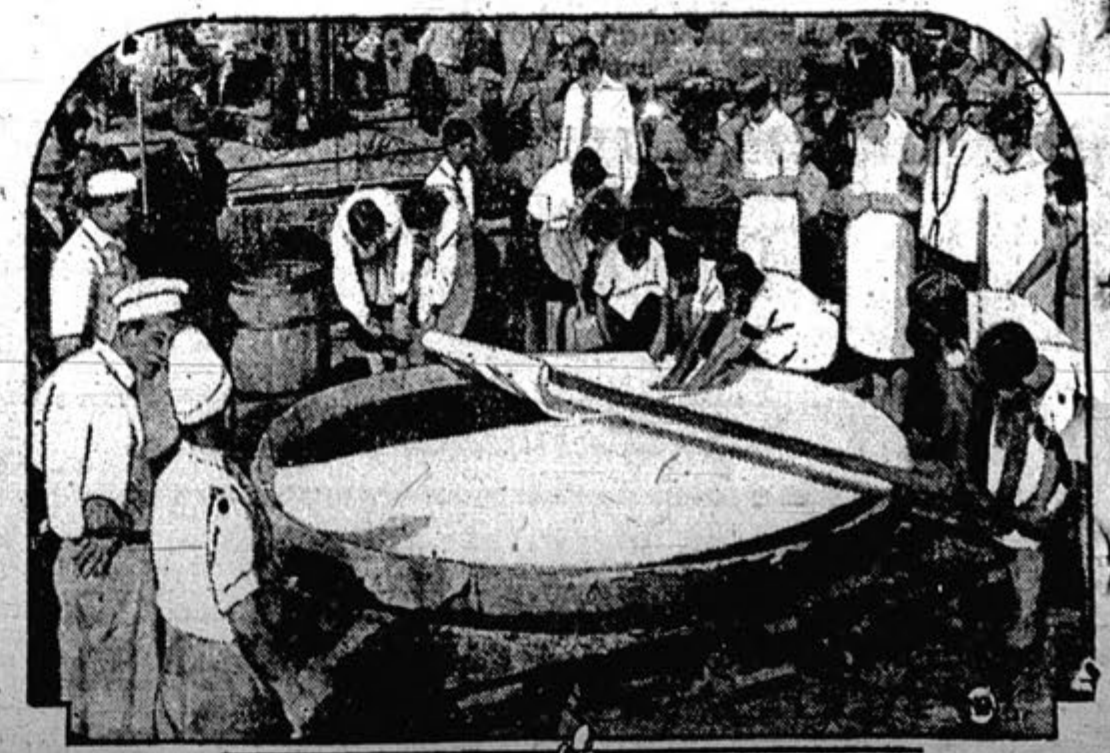

HIGH-HAT in family background only is Nelson Rockefeller (center) son of John D. Jr., when he and his green and white blazer take the soccer field for Dartmouth College. Nelson, pictured here on the bench, is really only a sub, but when he gets into the game—how he socks 'em!

CLAIRE LUCE, THE BEAUTIFUL Parisian dancer pictured here, may not have been one of the reasons why the American Legion picked Paris for its convention this year. But maybe she is one of the reasons why the boys stayed so long in the French capital. She's not such a strain on the eyes, anyhow.

TONNAGE BEING CARRIED on the Father of Waters by the packet boats and barge lines has increased so in the last few years that commerce is again almost as great as in the glorious '80s when the river was the chief carrier of the Mississippi valley. Here are pictured steamboats at the St. Louis levee, about to depart for points along the river from Kookuk, Ia., to New Orleans. Last year more than 1,000,000 tons of river freight moved through St. Louis alone.

JOHNNY'S ALWAYS ASKING for more pie; What do you suppose he'd say if this morsel were set before him? The one-ton pastry was baked in Yakima, Wash., as a feature of Apple Week. Two thousand boys and girls watched the baking. Lots of apples out there.

MARKET NEWS

STOCK PRICES MOVE UPWARD

Table with columns: Date, Industrials, Railroads. Rows: Thursday, Wednesday, Week ago, Year ago, High 1927, Low 1927, Total stock sales.

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Stock prices were cheered today in rather brisk fashion today with gains outnumbering losses at the close.

Continued ease of money rates coupled with a strong reinvestment demand and reports of improving conditions from some of the basic industries continued to provide the chief background for the advance.

Although U. S. Steel common, General Electric and some of the other so-called barometric industrial stocks were in rather free supply throughout the session, the average of 20 leading industrials compiled by The Associated Press established a new high record for all time at 179.1, or nearly 3-4 of a point above the previous high established on September 13.

Brokers' loans as reported for the week ended November 16, showed the record-breaking total of $3,456,110,000, an increase of $71,556,000 above that of last week.

American Can common was run up 2 1/2 points to 72 5/8, the highest price since the recapitalization of the company in the early part of 1926.

Call money held steady at 3 1/2 per cent all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

There was little interest in the commodity markets outside of cotton. Wheat closed practically unchanged, sugar held steady and coffee quotations showed moderate recessions.

The advance in sterling towards the gold export point, was temporarily halted today, demand bills ruling 1-16 of a cent lower around $4.87 3/16 but Belgian franc and Norwegian kroner continued their march to new high ground.

COLD WEATHER HINDERS DRILLS

Big Ten Teams Prepare for Closing Battles of Season

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note, as Coach Spears took his Minnesota football squad out of Minneapolis today on its last trip of the year, but it was victory rather than obsequies the Gophers were headed for, in Michigan's $2,000,000 stadium Saturday.

A 150-piece band and 5,000 rooters will follow and cheer the Gophers.

Each battling for a piece of the Western Conference football championship these old-time rivals are expected to stage one of the most desperate gridiron struggles of the Big Ten season.

A heavy snowfall blocked outdoor practice at Ohio State today but was kept off the field where the Buckeyes entertain the conference-leading Illini Saturday by a rubber blanket. The downy covering will insure a good playing field but interferes seriously with Ohio closing drills.

Fred Grimme, Ohio's best quarterback, has practically recovered from a sore leg, wiping out the disabled list at Ohio.

It will be long passes against long runs in the Buckeye stadium Saturday. Ohio snatched victory over Chicago in its first conference win by a 50-yard pass saved for just such emergencies.

Coach Zuppke has built up an interference at Illinois that skirts the ends for enough yardage to equal several first downs in a bunch.

Indiana Meets Purdue. Unlike Coach Spears, the little Illinois coach believes in a hearty send-off and several thousand cheered the "Fighting Illini" as they left tonight for the battleground. Cold weather seriously interfered with the final workouts at Illinois, too.

There is considerable at stake in the Iowa-Northwestern fray at Ankenston. The loser is likely to be the sole occupant of the bottom compartment of the Big Ten, as they are tied for that position now, along with Wisconsin.

Several trick formations have been prepared by Coach Phelan of Purdue for the entertainment of Indiana at Bloomington Saturday. Twice these worked for long runs to a touchdown against the reserve eleven and all are so arranged that either Cotton Wilcox or Ralph Welch can be used as the ball carrier.

OPEN PRACTICE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Basketball Squad Reports to Roels for First Workout

Basketball practice was started last night at the Escanaba high school by Coach Roels. Seventeen cage men were called out for the first workout and it is probable that more will be called out as the season progresses.

New basketball equipment has been ordered and is expected to arrive soon. Coach Roels has five lettermen—Stegath, Gundersen, Olson, Gustafson and G. Snyder—as a nucleus for his squad. There is a wealth of unexperienced material at hand, also, around which Coach Roels can develop his team.

The first basketball game will be played at Manistiquie on December 9. The squad called out by Coach Roels last night is: Stegath, G. Snyder, Olson, Gundersen, Gustafson, Jensen, DeMars, Paltin, Lambert, Lough, R. Snyder, Burns, Breitenbach, Don Anderson, Swanson, Hanson and Lander Johnson.

Because the student season ticket sale in football was so successful, the athletic association has decided to put season basketball tickets on sale for students only. The students who purchase them will see six home games for one dollar. Single admission tickets for each game will be twenty-five cents. The six home games are: Ishpeming, Gladstone, St. Joseph, Menominee, Soo and Iron Mountain.

THE REFEREE

Please describe "tripping" as used in football.—C. K. L. Tripping is obstructing a player below the knee with the hand or with that part of the obstructing player's leg that is below the knee. Mere diving under the play is not tripping.

Does Ogilthorpe play Loyola of New Orleans this year?—O. B. Yes, in a post-season game at Atlanta on December 17.

Who is the best first sacker in the American League this year?—G. T. R. Lou Gehrig was termed the best first baseman by Billy Evans in a recent story based on opinions of leading players, managers, and umpires.

How long has George Toporcer been with the Cards?—G. L. Toporcer has been with the Cards since 1921.

BOXING

Members of the Industrial Bowling League will swing into action next week at the Arcade alleys, with ten teams participating. The Elks Bowling League will also start its bowling season next week.

Members of the K. C. loop will play at the Arcade at 8 o'clock tonight, and tomorrow night there will be a match between the Arcadians and the Arcade All-Stars.

The high score last week was made by Marshal Perrin with 258.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

REALLY USED HIS HEAD.

Burt Shotten, who is to manage the Philadelphia Nationals, a rather unenviable job, figured in one of the most unusual plays I have ever seen on the ball field.

At the time he was playing center field for the St. Louis Browns. A chap by the name of Bill Hogan was in left. The game was played at Washington.

Two runners were on the bases at the time for Washington, there were two out and St. Louis was enjoying a one-run lead. The batsman hit a long fly to left, which is the sun field at Washington park.

Both Hogan and Shotten started after the ball. Hogan called for it but at the last minute lost it in the sun, covering his face with his hands to protect him from injury.

The ball struck him squarely on the head, bounded high in the air and Shotten, who was backing up the play, caught the ball on the fly, retiring the side as the two runners whose tallies were necessary to put Washington into the lead scampered over the plate.

Personal football is harder than the college brand. Red Grange is of the opinion that the going is tougher in the colleges.

"I've been out of the game three weeks with a bad knee and it isn't well yet. Had the same thing happened at Illinois, I would have been back in the game inside of 10 days, at the most," says Red.

"The urge of the coach, the skill of the trainer and the old college spirit which makes you yearn to get into the big game, even before you're ready for play, would have hastened my return."

While Grange rather evades the question, I am inclined to think this will be his last year in football. He feels that he has a future in the movies and intends to confine himself to that endeavor.

Grange has had a number of offers to coach, but has spurned them all. "That is the toughest job in the world, not excepting that of a big league baseball manager," is the way "Red" puts it.

ALL PRAISE FRIEDMAN. Getting back to Benny Friedman. He continued to play the same spectacular game as a pro as he did in college. This hasn't been true of Grange. Perhaps that explains the opposite stand they have taken on the professional sport.

"He's the greatest football player I have ever seen," is the way an All-America end who turned professional this year sizes up Friedman.

"If there ever was a triple-threat player, Friedman is the guy," was the remark of a famous southern guard now identified with the pro game.

"Friedman has six threats instead of three. He can pass, also receive, he can run through a broken field, he can carry the ball, he can kick and how that baby can think."

Since the opening of the pro football season I have talked with a score of the leading professionals, many of them former All-America stars, and all are united in saying Friedman is outstanding.

Can Learn Until Old, Says Educator. Cleveland—The old adage, "you can't teach an old dog new tricks," has been shattered as the result of recent psychological and educational experiments, believes Dr. Charles W. Hunt, dean of the Cleveland School of Education.

"Nobody is too old to learn," Dr. Hunt says. "Modern psychology has given emphasis to this fact through experiments which prove that the seasoned mind of the adult is more effective than the 'callow mind of youth.' The conclusion changes the whole aspect of adult education."

BILLY GIRARD TO MEET MARX

Promoters Are Arranging for Match in Chicago Coliseum.

Gladstone, Mich., Nov. 17.—(Special)—William F. Girard of this city will meet Wilbur Marx of Eau Claire, Wis., next May to decide the world's log rolling championship, according to tentative plans of Chicago promoters.

The title match will be staged in the Coliseum at Chicago during the holding of the Out-Door Life Exposition and Motor Boat Show, where Girard and his partner, George Glazier of Washburn, Wis., were previously scheduled for birling exhibitions.

Milo E. Westbrook, manager of the outdoor show, communicated with Girard yesterday, asking the well-known Gladstone birler whether he would be willing to clash with Marx to clear up the bitter controversy as to which birler has a rightful claim to the title.

Girard replied that he would be willing to meet the Eau Claire birler, and, no doubt, if Marx also expresses his willingness to engage in the encounter the event will be staged.

The Coliseum, scene of many boxing shows and other events, has a seating capacity of more than 15,000 and with the erection of a giant tank, it will be an ideal place for the contest.

Girard won the world's birling title in tournaments at Cloquet, Minn., and Washburn, Wis., in 1925, defeating the leading log-rollers in the world. This year, Wilbur Marx of Eau Claire triumphed in the Washburn tournament, but Girard disputes his claim to the world's title because he was not given an opportunity to defend his title.

Marx is a clever birler, and has the advantage of age over Girard. The Eau Claire youth was runner-up to Girard in the 1926 tournament at Washburn, and this year he had little difficulty in disposing of his opponents. Girard, although several years older than Marx, still has as much speed as any log roller in the game and probably because of his long experience is the trickier of the two.

Girard weighs only 118 pounds, while the Eau Claire birler tips the beam at about 160, giving him a decided advantage in strength, which comes in handy when the birlers resort to "snubbing" or the sudden checking of the log when they are treading it at a terrific pace.

Devotees of the sport are of the opinion that the matching of Girard and Marx will bring together the two best log rollers in the history of the game.

You'd Be SURPRISED!

BY BILLY EVANS

GERALD THOMPSON RETURNED A KICK-OFF 99 YARDS FOR A TOUCHDOWN...

In football, the forwards never enjoy the spotlight as do the backfield men, simply because the eyes of the spectators are always on the ball carrier.

Despite this, few sensational runs have ever been made without the aid of interference on the part of teammates of the man carrying the ball.

One of the big thrillers of last year in the grid sport was the run of Gerald Thompson of Georgetown, against Lebanon College, for what the record books say was 99 yards. Coach Lou Little

GOPHER SQUAD STARTS JAUNT

Customary Send-off for Team Lacking; Out for Victory

Minneapolis, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The University of Minnesota football team, 32 strong, left Minneapolis today for Ypsilanti, Mich., where it will encamp until the annual classic of mid-western football in Michigan's new stadium which is a few hours away.

The customary send-off ceremonies accorded a Minnesota team preparing to revenge the defeats of past years were strangely lacking as the team's special was pulled out of the Minneapolis station. The 130-piece Gopher band and several thousand rooters, preparing to follow their team tomorrow were silent at the request of Coach Spears. Minnesota is determined to defeat Michigan this season.

A short workout in the Michigan stadium tomorrow afternoon is planned by Coach Spears and then rest until game time. Coach Wieman is planning to take his squad to a country club, away from disturbing influences.

The probable lineup of both teams follows the choice of both coaches in their late season games. The Minnesota lineup will probably include the following: Haycraft and Tanner, ends; Gary and Nagurski, tackles; Hanson and Gibson, guards; Mackinnon, center; Almqvist, quarterback; Nydahl and Barnhart, halves, and Capt. Herbert Joesting, fullback.

The probable Michigan lineup: Nyland and Captain Gosterbaan, ends; Pommerening and Gabel, tackles; Palmeroll and Baer, guards; Boward, center; Miller, quarterback; Gilbert and Puckolwartz, halves, and Rich, fullback.

Nobel Prize Winner Starts Swedish Saga

New York (AP)—The saga of a Swedish family is being created by Selma Lagerlof, only woman to have won the Nobel prize for literature. The first volume of the series by the "grand old woman of Sweden," called "Charlotte Lowenskind," is the seventh novel to be published by the "grand old woman of Sweden."

Two years ago Miss Lagerlof wrote her autobiography, "Marbacka." The book took its name from the old family homestead in Varmland, which she recently remodeled according to plans which her father made before his death. The author personally superintends the 140 acres of her farm and devotes much time to the education of the peasants on her land.

Hard Battle When Detroit Clashes With Carnegie Tech

Detroit, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A clash of wits, as well as physical power is expected when the University of Detroit and Carnegie Tech football teams meet at Pittsburgh Saturday.

Both teams are coached by former football strategists and both teams have displayed a similar versatile attack throughout the season. Walter P. Steffen of Tech was chosen All-American quarterback in 1926 by the late Walter Camp, when he was playing with Chicago. Gus Dorais, University of Detroit coach, piloted Notre Dame from 1910 to 1913, inclusive, and was the passing part of the Rockne combination of those days.

The deceptive spinner play in which the quarterback takes a pass to one-half back only to turn and deliver it to another back has been effective by both teams. University of Detroit has gained considerable ground consistently with the mixture of this deception with other line smashing formations.

Though Carnegie Tech has lost three of its major games this season the scores were close and both Dorais and Steffen have sought to round out an effective defense and alert offense.

BALDWIN PICKS NEW DIRECTORS

Fisher Brothers' Representatives on Board of Control

Philadelphia, Nov. 17—(AP)—The directors of the Baldwin Locomotive Works today completed the organization of the board by electing the three new members recently authorized by the stockholders.

Two of the additional members, Fred J. Fisher and Clarence R. Bittings, representing Fisher Brothers of Detroit, were "invited" to sit with the board two months ago pending their election today and Arthur W. Cutten of Chicago was named a member of the board at today's session.

Thus ends a struggle for representation on the board that continued for many months and sent the common stock from the low of 143 for the year to 256. It was to have been a fight for control of the company, but how much stock the Fishers and Cutten succeeded in obtaining has not been revealed. It was reported that the Fishers held 120,000 of the 200,000 shares of common stock. There are 200,000 shares of preferred outstanding with equal voting power with common.

Mr. Cutten was reported to hold a substantial amount of preferred, but it is said that his holding is common predominate.

Meeting Is Brief

During the contest for representation on the board many rumors were in circulation as to the object behind the move but most of them were denied. Fred G. Fisher, recently attracted to the Baldwin property merely as an investment proposition as an outlet for their capital.

Today's meeting was brief, the only announcement made in addition to the election of the three new directors was that the regular quarterly dividends of 3 1/2 per cent on the common and preferred stock had been declared. No intimation came from the board room as to whether any change of policy was in contemplation or whether the company would branch out into other fields.

One other change was made in the board today through the resignation of Dr. Thomas G. Ashton, due to illness and the election of his son-in-law, Joseph N. Ewing, a Philadelphia lawyer, as his successor.

Faculty Members Practicing For Play December 9

The faculty members, who are presenting their second annual play on December 9, have been practicing regularly for three weeks now in preparing to make their play this year, "A Lucky Break," a complete success. "A Lucky Break" is a three-act comedy farce that is specially suited to the talents of the faculty artists. It is riotous from the opening of the curtain for the first act until the curtain is lowered for the last act. Miss French has been making rapid progress in developing the play and the faculty guarantees full value for the entertainment price. The proceeds of the play will be used to purchase new lighting equipment for the stage and to pay the final payment on the cyclorama stage scenery purchased last year by the teachers.

Pre-Thanksgiving Service at First Presbyterian Church

Following the custom of the past several years, the First Presbyterian church will hold a pre-Thanksgiving service on the coming Sunday night at 7:30 in the church auditorium, at which time an offering of food stuffs will be received for the work of the Salvation Army in this city. Receptacles will be found in the rear of the church, into which the articles may be placed as people enter. There will be special music by the girls' chorus choir. Rev. John B. Hubbard, the pastor, will speak upon the theme, "Holiday of Holyday."

SHE WENT FROM BAD TO WORSE

Down to 98 Pounds—Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—"After having my first baby, I lost weight, no matter what I did. Then a doctor told me I would be better if I had another baby, which I did. But I got worse, was always sickly and went down to 98 pounds. My neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it helped her very much, so I tried it. After taking four bottles, I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework now without one bit of trouble."—Mrs. M. Rinsinoza, 10004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

If some good fairy should appear, and offer to grant your heart's desire, what would you choose? Wealth? Happiness? Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy and surely health is cause enough for happiness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you better health.

TAKE PETITION OUT OF COURT

Kidwell's Counsel and Government Make Agreement

Washington, Nov. 17—(AP)—One of the knots in the oil jury tampering tangle apparently was removed today when the government and counsel for Edward J. Kidwell, juror No. 11, agreed to take Kidwell's petition for redress temporarily out of court.

Kidwell was accused by Don K. King, Washington newspaper reporter, and J. R. Ackers, a street car conductor, of having said he expected an automobile as long as a block at the end of the trial of Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair. He denied the charge and petitioned the court to hold King and Ackers in contempt for having talked to him about the case.

Inasmuch as Justice Siddons has appointed a committee to determine if there was any contempt anywhere in the events which led up to a mistrial in the case, Kidwell's counsel agreed to wait for the report of this committee before proceeding further if the justice would agree to such a course. This attitude will be made known in court tomorrow when the juror's petition is scheduled for hearing.

There was no further grand jury activity apparent today in connection with the case. Henry Mason Day, who together with Sinclair and Selden Clark, are charged with conspiracy in connection with the activities of Burns detectives in shadowing the trial jury, failed in an attempt to have his bond lowered from $25,000 to $10,000 when the government objected.

The district attorney's office contended Day and Clark, both Sinclair officials, received representatives from the Burns agents. Both declined to testify before the grand jury and today Assistant Attorney Burkinshaw argued that Day had no regular place of residence in the United States and that therefore, $25,000 bond should stand. Day will be given a hearing Monday.

Attorneys for H. M. Blackmer, the western oil man who refused to respond to a subpoena calling for his attendance at the oil trial, announced in New York today that they would place $100,000 in a bank designated by the government to cover the seizure offer issued yesterday against Blackmer. This order was possible through a law passed at the instance of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, who prosecuted the senate's oil inquiry.

Blackmer will try to regain possession of the money through a fight in the courts against the constitutionality of the Walsh act.
