BUSINESS IS OPPOSED TO GOP POLICY SUPPORTS DEMOCRATIC STAND ON TAXATION

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright 1927, by the Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 26.—If there were a Rip Van Winkle of national politics and he returned today he would be amazed to find the Republican administration's policy on taxation in some important particulars opposed by "big business" and the Democratic view supported.

Public Debt. Although the chamber of commerce through its membership voted for a $400,000,000 tax cut which is what the Democrats have been saying could easily be accomplished, not withstanding Mr. Mellon's figure of $235,000,000 the most significant statement is that relating to the retirement of the public debt.

At the present rate of payment the American government will pay off its debt in less than twenty years. No other government in the world is doing it so rapidly. The treasury has consistently maintained that this is a wise policy because America is prosperous today and can afford debt reduction and that every dollar reduction on the debt means that much less interest and a better borrowing power for the refunding of future securities.

American business, however, according to the referendum of the chamber of commerce, is evidently sympathetic with the idea that debt reduction is proceeding fast enough as it is without having such a thing as $635,000,000 surplus as was the case in the last fiscal year. The fact is tax rates grow more and more productive as they are reduced and the chamber of commerce members are taking a leaf out of Secretary Mellon's book by urging that the rates go down so that business can feel more and more the benefits of equitable tax rates.

The backing of such a nationwide organization as the chamber of commerce is an important factor in tax legislation but it is even more important when the Democrats, who usually are not helped by business interests, find themselves sponsoring a program something like that of the chamber.

The significance of the event is that tax legislation will really be nonpartisan this time with the Democrats endeavoring to show that the cut in taxes can be deeper than recommended and with the Republicans more or less forced to go along with the Democrats as was the case in the last session. But President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon know that from their point of view it is much better to argue for a $285,000,000 maximum in November and take a cut of $800,000,000 or thereabouts in March or April than to yield an inch of ground at this time. The prospects for a big cut, however, have been improved by the announcement of the chamber of commerce.

British Farmer Hoaxes Bees; Gets Record Honey Crop

London—The busy bee has been hoaxed to make him bustle, and the trick has netted a gain averaging 17 pounds of honey to the hive.

Borlase Matthews, who long ago conceived the idea of waking hives up in the middle of the night with a flood of electric light so that they would eat more and lay more eggs, told the Electrical Association of Women the other day how he perpetrated a hoax on his bees.

The experiment was tried early in the spring. A beam of light, he said, was thrown on the entrance of the hives from electric lamps. This had the same effect as a dinner gong in a boarding house and stirred the bees to action.

The sleepy bees rubbed their eyes in anticipation and hurried out into the open to greet what they thought was the first real sunny day of spring. Stimulated by the electric rays which the bees thought came from Old Sol himself, the early bees scampered back into the hive to tell the queen bee and all the fellow bees that spring had come.

Matthews said his artificial sun caused such a commotion that he could not bear the thought of deceiving the bees further, so he prepared a feast for them. Directly in front of the bees' home a table was set and the lights kept burning. There were plates of nice golden syrup seasoned with salt and vinegar, plates of artificial pollen and other dishes with plenty of nice pure water.

In the end it was ascertained that the bees got out weeks earlier than they would have if they had waited for nature. They fertilized thoroughly the apple crop, which was a record breaker, while a gain of 17 pounds in honey was recorded this fall for each hive on which the hoax was worked.

Train Collisions Are Reduced First Half of This Year

A total of 9,559 train collisions resulted in 124 deaths and injury to 1,565 persons. It is stated in a summary made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission of accidents reported by team railways for the six months ended with June, 1927. This compares with 10,008 accidents, resulting in 150 deaths and injury to 1,667 persons, for the corresponding period of 1926.

Persons killed in collisions, train-service accidents and non-train, including industrial accidents, numbered 3,294 as compared with 3,145 in the corresponding period of last year. The number of persons injured was 52,124 as compared with 54,884.

There were 3,099 train-service accidents in the six months period, according to the summary, as compared with 2,963 in the corresponding period of last year, while non-train, including industrial accidents numbered 204 as compared with 182.

Of persons killed in train collisions, only two were passengers, while 776 were injured. In the corresponding period of 1926, there were 22 passengers killed and 656 injured. In train-service accidents, 38 passengers were killed and 1,206 injured.

Of the total fatalities in accidents of all kinds 1,364 are classified as involving trespassers and 830 non-trespassers. Of the latter, 729 were employees on duty, were passengers, and 1,161 were non-trespassers.

According to the summary there were 2,561 highway grade crossing accidents in the first six months of 1927, as compared with 2,644 in the corresponding period of 1926.

150 ARRESTED BY DRY AGENTS

Over $2,000,000 Worth of Liquor Seized in New Orleans

New Orleans, Nov. 26—(P)—One hundred and fifty persons, including several women, were arrested today during a series of raids on more than 100 restaurants, cafes, soft drink stands by prohibition agents, recruited from five states.

The raid, which has been carefully planned for several weeks, was directed by O. D. Jackson, prohibition administrator for the tenth district, over long distance telephone from Jacksonville, Fla., armed with 131 search warrants, the federal officers, assisted by local policemen, set out shortly after noon to dry up the city and continued their activity the remainder of the day, despite some determined opposition reported to have been encountered.

The arrests were so numerous that the commissioner had to move his office from the postoffice building to larger quarters in the court house. The alleged violators either made bond when brought before the commissioner or were taken to the detention home until they could arrange bail.

No attempt to estimate the value of the contraband was made, although the scope of the activities and results obtained was said to surpass the drive of August, 1925, which was so sensational, when liquor valued at $2,000,000 was seized.

Arrest Man Wanted for Two Murders

Montreal, Que., Nov. 26—(P)—Wanted in Pittsburgh, Pa. for two murders and three holdups, Stanley Bodziamowski, alias Woloczko, alias Murrow, was arrested today by Chief J. W. Geisler of the Pittsburgh police, and two local detectives. Bodziamowski is charged with leading a gang of five men who shot two payroll guards and robbed three paymasters in a series of holdups near Pittsburgh. A reward of $15,000 was offered for his capture and each of his four alleged companions carries a $5,000 price on his head.

In 1922 the gang is alleged to have held up the Beading Coal company, six miles from Pittsburgh, killing a guard and stealing $23,000. On Christmas Eve, 1925, police said, they held up the Molineux Coal company, 12 miles from this city, slaying a guard and stealing $47,000. Last March, it was charged, they blew up an armored car near Cloverdale, 13 miles from Pittsburgh, escaping with a payroll of $104,000. Three men arrested for the crimes shot their way out of a Pittsburgh prison and escaped, after visitors to their cells had smuggled revolvers to them.

Bodziamowski's trial came up here last week. He was identified today. Police said he had been living in Detroit.

Big Market Result of National Growth Says Exchange Head

For six years the stock market has had a remarkable growth. Trading has reached enormous volume. Prices have touched new highs and gone higher. Stocks have been split and the new issues have soared above the old. Reactions thus far have been temporary and limited.

Observers said it was a "bull" market and wouldn't last. But it has lasted. Then they called it a "Coolidge market." The president made his remark about not choosing to run in 1928. The market sagged, recovered and continued upward.

It seems to be a "new" market and the old explanations do not apply. It grows bigger and bigger day by day. Why? The Associated Press put that question to E. H. H. Simmons, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

New York—(P)—Growth of the stock market, which still holds up after six years, is due, among other factors, to an increase in the things that sustain it, suggests E. H. H. Simmons, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

His views indicate that the end of the "new" market is not in sight.

America's position as a credit-nation, expansion of the investing public and the natural growth of the country are among the factors to which Simmons attributes the over-growing market.

Continued Growth Seen. He ventured to predict that Exchange preparations to list foreign stocks further would enlarge the market and make New York an important financial center of the world. He envisioned world trade in securities as an important factor in promoting international peace and prosperity by making nations business partners and therefore interdependent. And he predicted the maintenance of stability he said the Exchange has given American business would be felt abroad.

In a few moments snatched from a busy day on the "floor," between committee meetings and the thousand and one other affairs that occupy the time of the 51-year-old executive who set out to be a physician and became four-term president of the country's greatest exchange, Simmons answered questions for the Associated Press.

What he said about himself may provide background for his views. As nephew of the late E. H. Harriman, railroad magnate, after whom he is named, it is possible Simmons has inherited a flair for finance. He started as a clerk in a brokerage office after leaving medical school, then entered the employ of a bank. He became assistant cashier of an exchange house and finally head of the brokerage which bears his name. In 1900 he purchased a seat on the exchange. Nine years later he was elected a governor and began a career of outstanding service. His first election as president came in 1924.

Factors Behind Market. "What are the fundamental factors behind the enormous volume of security trading in the last few years?" he was asked.

"It is always easier to analyze conditions in the security markets after the event," he said, smiling. "As yet few men have the proper perspective accurately to analyze the basic causes for conditions in the security markets during the past few years. Undoubtedly America's position as a creditor nation and the great expansion of the American investing public have been factors of primary importance."

"I should say that our large importations of gold, our relatively stable commodity price structure, our constant achievements in lowering the unit cost of production, our steady progress in exploiting and developing our wonderful natural resources and our material reduction of taxes applicable to business have also been significant factors."

"Finally, the recent considerable turnover in the market and function in respect to foreign governments by the comparative prices for their government and industrial securities made on the exchange.

Illustrative of the present large volume of business on the exchange, Simmons placed at $38,984,551,073 the total par value of listed bonds and at $23,764,231 the number of listed shares, both as of July 1, 1927. The total number of issues was 2,551, of which 1,476 were bonds and 1,075 were stocks.

On the same date 149 foreign government bonds, 106 foreign corporation bonds and 24 foreign stock issues were listed.

Women Catch Big Salmon

Women have been catching a larger number of big salmon in waters of Scotland than men this season, although there have been many more male than female anglers. A Miss Ballantine started the season by landing the record spring salmon for the Tay—a 64 pounder—and soon afterward a Miss Davey caught one weighing 59 1/2 pounds on the Wye. Miss Margaret Coats recently captured a 65-pound Awe salmon and Lady Ward brought in one weighing 10 pounds less. A Mrs. Kidd caught one weighing 40 pounds on the Beuly and Mrs. W. Leckie Ewing took a 36 1/2 pounder with fly in famous Loch Lomond.

INSANITY THEME OF REMUS CASE

Defense Opens Plea; Two Testify That Murderer Was Unbalanced

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 26—(P)—Insanity today became the theme of George Remus' murder trial when the state rested its case and the defense plunged into the attempt to establish in the minds of the jury that the defendant was temporarily unbalanced mentally when he ran down and shot to death his estranged wife, his "Beautiful Imogene," in Eden Park here seven weeks ago.

For a solid week the prosecution had emphasized a theme of cold-blooded murder, a slaying as the result of a four-cornered plot in which Remus acted out his part of executioner.

The defense had only an hour and a half left of the court session when it got its chance to strike the first blow in behalf of Remus.

It immediately whirled into its major theme, it called two men who had been in intimate contact with Remus in recent months, both lay witnesses with no knowledge of the medical descriptions of insanity, they asserted the bold belief that Remus was insane.

First came Leo A. Burke, lawyer. For six months he said he had advised Remus as legal counsel. Remus went off on a wild tangent repeatedly at the mention of the names of Mrs. Remus and Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., of Lansing, Mich., former department of justice agent. Then appeared A. Lee Beatty, former assistant federal district attorney and ex-legislator for Ohio. Remus appeared to him as an insane man at the mention of the Jack Daniels distillery case and more than once when it became necessary to move him from another of the nine prisons he has inhabited in the last five years.

Says Reds Threaten India

If India is Bolshevized and thrown into utter confusion, as China has been, the world outlook will be black indeed, declares the Maharajah of Burdwan, one of the greatest Indian nobles and respected in Europe for his intelligence and foresight. In an interview granted recently, he said that India is the pivotal point in the Moscow campaign against Western civilization, and that the Soviet is making extraordinary efforts to stir up the North-West Frontier tribes. The Maharajah added that in the old Czarist days the risk to India from Russia was much less grave than it is today.

Husband Blamed for Death of Wife and Doctor; Is Sought

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 26—(P)—Mrs. Artie McGough, 33, formerly of Philadelphia, and Dr. Charles Dryer, 38, well known Cincinnati physician, died tonight within two hours after they were discovered wounded in Dryers downtown office. Both died of abdominal wounds soon after being removed to a hospital. Both blamed their wounds on Mrs. McGough's former husband from whom she had been separated for some time. The attacker escaped and police tonight were searching the city for him.

According to their statements to police, Mrs. McGough had just entered Dryer's office with food for a lunch when Andrew McGough burst in upon them, shouting: "Now I've got you," and fired six shots. Two of them struck Dryer and another hit Mrs. McGough.

A man believed to have been the slayer was seen by an elevator operator as he ran down the stairs and disappeared down a side street. The operator said she called to the man and asked if any one was hurt. He replied that two persons on the floor above had been injured.

COSTLY FAILURE!

Failure to declare a $20,000 diamond bracelet and several trunks of clothing cost Mrs. Lily Busch, 85 (above), and her two daughters $56,363, as they returned to New York from Germany. Customs officials assessed this maximum fine in lieu of prosecution for smuggling. Mrs. Busch, widow of Adolphus Busch, and the daughters, Mrs. Charles Greenough of New York and Mrs. Nellie B. Loeb of Chicago, paid it at once. An unnamed tipster will receive a $14,000 reward from the government.

Says Reds Threaten India. If India is Bolshevized and thrown into utter confusion, as China has been, the world outlook will be black indeed, declares the Maharajah of Burdwan, one of the greatest Indian nobles and respected in Europe for his intelligence and foresight. In an interview granted recently, he said that India is the pivotal point in the Moscow campaign against Western civilization, and that the Soviet is making extraordinary efforts to stir up the North-West Frontier tribes. The Maharajah added that in the old Czarist days the risk to India from Russia was much less grave than it is today.

Mexican Steamer Aground; Report Passengers Safe

Mexico City, Nov. 25.—(P)—All passengers aboard the Ward liner Mexico, aground three miles off Vera Cruz, have been removed safely, says a telegram from that port to the headquarters of the Mexican railroad. The vessel was still believed in danger.

After the passengers were removed the crew and longshoremen began taking the cargo ashore in lighters.

Late in the afternoon it was uncertain whether the ship could be refloated from the reef just outside the harbor, according to messages received by the Ward line and the Mexican National railways.

The messages which do not explain how the ship was grounded, say that half the vessel's length is on the reef. One message says there is a good chance of refloating the vessel and another says a strong north wind is blowing and if it increases the Mexico may be pounded to pieces.

The Holland-America steamer Marsdam has been assisting in salvage operations.

1928 Auto Plates Are Received Here

The 1928 automobile license plates have been received at the State Savings bank, but officials said yesterday they had not as yet received notice from the state department as to when the licenses would be placed on sale.

Five thousand passenger and one thousand commercial car licenses were received. The plates for next year are of green background with white lettering and numbering.

A recent change in the automobile regulations permits the use of 1928 plates on or after December 1 of this year. This order will allow persons who purchase automobiles at this time to enjoy the use of the car without having to secure 1927 license plates, which heretofore was the case. It is expected that the plates will be placed on sale early this week.

Silver-gray chinchillas are almost priceless and only a few are to be found in the English metropolises.

WHO CARES?

THE TINYMITES

Story by Hal Cochran—Pictures by Knick

"So, now you're good," wee-wee said. And then he shook a little head. "I have my doubts, at even so, I hope that you are right. If falling in that little stream's to blame I'm glad. It's like a dream." And then a Buddy answered, "Yes, we're good when we are white."

"That water washed the black from us and now not one of us has a speck of black on our face. We will all be very gay. That's something we can prove to you. Just tell us what you'd like to do, and we will gladly join in whether it is work or play."

This puzzled Clowzy for a while, and then the Buddies heard him yell, "Let's take our wagon on the stream before it breaks in two. I will come in handy, and then you all may want to ride again." The Buddies cheered, and said this was the proper thing to do.

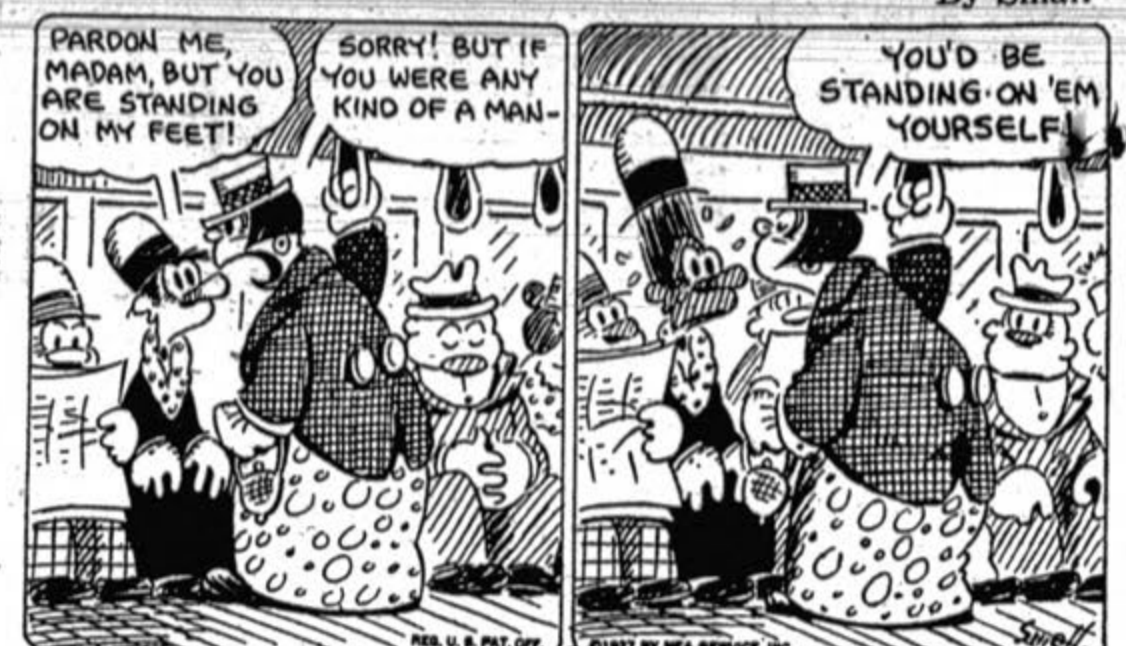

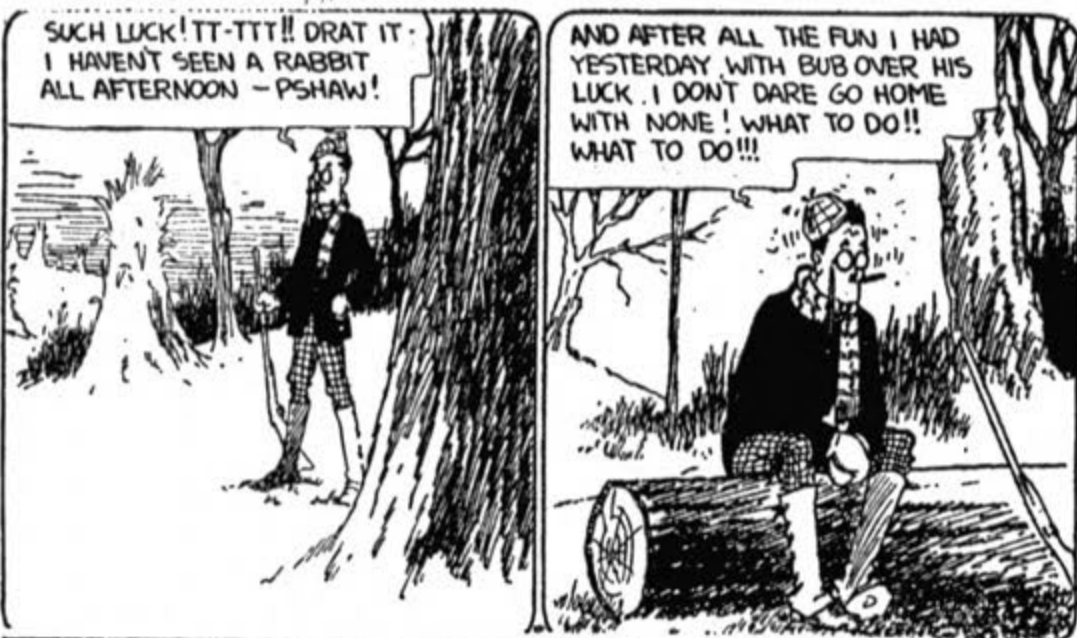

Down to the stream they gaily went, and 'bout a half an hour was spent before they got the wagon out, and safely on the shore. They had to work with all their might. Some rocks had held the wheels fast tight. Poor Clowzy tugged away so hard it made his muscles sore.

They all sat down to rest a while. One Buddy then began to smile. "I'll tell you what we'll do," said he. "It's Clowzy's turn to ride. We'll pull him in the wagon far, to where the other Buddies are." Then Clowzy jumped up to his feet. "That will be fine," he cried.

So, in the wagon Clowzy jumped. He was so thrilled, his wee heart thumped. "I'll see you all the other Tinymites," said he. "Hurry!" The Buddies quickly grabbed a hold, and o'er the hill the wagon rolled. They laughed and shouted merrily, when they were on their way.

Escanaba Merchant Has Been in Business for 39 Years

Peter Olson, pioneer merchant and tailor of Escanaba, announced today that he will retire from his business with the city's oldest store, the Olson store, located at 1109 Ludington street.

Olson came to go on a visit to Sweden last spring to see to some of his sisters, whom he not seen for 44 years. After his return he was joined by his wife, Mrs. Olson, who also came to see to some of her sisters. They are now in Escanaba, where they have a home.

Mr. Olson was born in Sweden, where he was 20 years old when he came to the United States, where he worked for a short time in Chicago, Ill., before coming to Escanaba. He has been in the clothing business for 39 years.

Olson's store is one of the oldest in the city. It was founded by his father, Peter Olson, who came to Escanaba in 1888. The store has since been operated by Peter Olson's sons, John and Charles.

Abner Bangs Discusses Deer Season With Southern Crew

Misery Bay, Nov. 26 (To the Editor) I have had the lucky good fortune to spend most of my total spare time the last ten days in a camp with a party of Southern hunters which I was, their guide and expert counsellor, and I am quite sure certain some of the conclusionary opinions formulated by me during those weary hours will be of vast benefit to the state conservation commission. In the (1) first place, the deer season and the trout season ought to be combined making it legally lawful to shoot deer during the months of May, June and July and August, and to fish trout during the months of October, November and December. It is a hardship for so many of the nature-lovers from the South to have to come to the peninsula twice during the year. In the second (2) place, the peninsula is so primitive it is hard on even a real out-door man that likes to rough it. Up at the camp where I was at, the gasoline engine that runs the electric light system went out of working order and the electric ice box was useless for six or seven hours. Most of the alligator pears spoiled during that interim, the whipping cream soured and the cook had to use snow to freeze the sherbert for dinner. These things has got to be remedied or some of our Southern guests will refuse to come back. We Are Careless. Thirdly (3), some of our home people have been carelessly negligent in getting ready for the venison invasion. There was nine in our party and after searching high and low; only seven deer could be found hung up in advance for sale. This caused some spirited competition counter-bidding, and as a resultant consequence that the prices went up and seven of the men had to pay more for their deer than they ever paid before, while even sadder, two of them had to go out and try to slay their own. This condition is unbearably intolerable. It must not be repeated or they will boycott us in the future. Fourthly (4), the law should ought to be changed so that all the deer will wear large-sized antlers. Then everybody that shoots one would not be ashamed to take it to a taxidermist and have it stuffed. Too many of our deers have not got big enough antlers which makes stuffing them worth while. Also the Southerners then would not be able to go back home and tell how there was so many does killed that they could not walk in the woods without stepping on their carcasses. Automatic Licenses. Fifthly (5), all hunting licenses should ought to be accompanied by dressed camp deers, so that the hunters would not have to go out and kill their meat in camp. A Southern hunter likes to have a little venison now and then. The diet of Long Island ducklings, roast geese, squabs-on-toast, whitefish livers, broiled baby lobsters and other rough victuals which they bring with them gets monotonously tiresome. Sixthly (6), The state should ought to do something about (a) the high prices for having deer hides made up into gloves; (b) the weather; (c) the roads; (d) the climate; (e) the mail and telephone service; (f) the over-production of snow; (g) the temperature. There are too many game warden hell-bent on doing their duty. Somebody ought to invent a way to put a deer on a side of a car without using ropes, straps or chains. There ought to be a free bridge across the Straits of Mackinac. Trusting that these suggestions will be gave to the state for per-

ESCANABA HENS IN 2ND PLACE

Paulson Leghorns Make Fine Record in International Contest.

A pen of Escanaba white leghorn chickens was in second place at the end of the second week of the International Egg Laying contest being conducted at East Lansing, it was announced here yesterday. The chickens are the entry of N. E. Paulson, owner of the poultry farm on the State Road near the outskirts of the city. They produced 95 eggs during the first two weeks.

The contest will continue for one year. The entries include pens from one of the most famous breeding farms in the United States and Canada. One hundred pens of a wide variety of breeds are represented in the contest and the winning pen will be universally recognized as international champion.

"The performance of the Paulson birds during the first two weeks is remarkable," said J. E. Turner, county agricultural agent yesterday. "It demonstrates that the poultry growers of this locality rank with the best in North America. The contest still has fifty weeks to run, but I am sure its finish will find the Escanaba hens well up among the leaders."

SCHOOL NOTES

The Junior class were the hosts of a Thanksgiving party at the gym Tuesday evening. The entire high school was invited and the teachers and several parents chaperoned the affair. The evening was spent in games and dancing and at eleven o'clock an original lunch, consisting of pumpkin pie a la mode was served. The dining room was beautifully decorated in Cardinal and White, the class colors.

The schools were closed Wednesday for the Thanksgiving vacation.

The basketball team has been under severe training for the past week. The team has greatly improved under the instructions of Mr. Nelson and they are expecting to play their first home game some time next week.

A number of high school boys met at the gym Wednesday night for the purpose of repainting the basketball court and the backboard. They have completed the court and have some work left on the backboards. It will improve the appearance of the building a great deal.

A play is under way for raising funds for the gymnasium. It is being directed and coached by the public speaking instructor Miss Ditch. The cast consists of students and teachers.

Miss Olga Messenger returned from Marquette where she has been attending Normal for the Thanksgiving vacation.

Louis Messenger, Jr., and Beth Olson transacted Junior class business in Gladstone Tuesday.

Report Revolt in Balkan Country

London, Nov. 25.—(P)—Revolutionary activity in Ukraine accompanied by severe fighting, was reported today in dispatches from Bucharest, Rumania, but tonight had failed to receive confirmation from continental news centers.

The report rests entirely on the authority of the Bucharest newspaper Dimineata and since the first dispatch was received from Bucharest at 10:30 this morning nothing further in regard to the report came through all day. Whether this was due to censorship could not be learned here.

For some time past there have been occasional reports of revolutionary tendencies in the Ukraine with rumors of uprisings but these usually have been traced to anti-Soviet sources in Riga, Latvia, Warsaw, Poland and other cities. They never were verified, however, but none of the previous reports contained as circumstantial detail as were published in Dimineata today.

AMUSEMENTS

TODAY'S PROGRAMS
AT THE DELFT: "Adam and Evil," a drama featuring Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle.
AT THE STRAND: Art Acord in a western melodrama, "Loco Luck."

In a distinguished cast of stage and screen celebrities chosen by Allan Dwan for "East Side, West Side," which comes to the Delft Monday and Tuesday, Frank Dodge stands out as the one important character who never has had any experience before the footlights or Kleigs.

He is a partner in the firm of Dodge and Castle, well-known builders of studio scenery, and in the Fox production just mentioned he plays the role of Judge Kelly.

Frank Dodge is an extremely successful business man, and never would have sought screen work on his own accord. In fact, he protested quite vigorously at first that it was a shame to take the job, when so many real actors were warming benches in casting offices. But Dwan insisted that in the dozen or more people he had interviewed for the part there was no type that exactly fitted the character as Dodge did.

It seems that Mr. Dwan and George O'Brien, who plays the lead in "East Side, West Side," wandered into the Lambs' Club one evening and saw Frank Dodge sitting by a window reading a paper.

"There's your Judge Kelly," said Dwan. "Let's get him to play the part."

"I never saw him before," said George. "Who is he?"

"I don't know," answered Dwan, "but we'll find out." When they found out that he was not the character actor they had supposed, Mr. Dwan suggested that he become one, and finally succeeded in persuading him to report at the studio.

Frank Allworth helped with his first make-up.

AT THE STRAND
"For Ladies Only," which comes to the Strand Monday and Tuesday is a colorful tale of modern American office life, which was directed by Henry Lehrman and Percy Cohn, vice-president and supervisor of production.

The story hinges on a clash of wills between the hero, Clifford Coleman, and his secretary, Ruth Barton. Fun is introduced in the persons of Getty Long, the switchboard operator, and the office boy, Joe Doakes.

Coleman, the office manager of the Amalgamated Hallock Company, is a woman-hater. When he is installed in the new office he almost promptly fires the girls; then his secretary plans her revenge, and—she gets it. He falls in love with her.

The cast includes such well-known players as Jacqueline Logan, John Bowers, Ben Hall, Edna Marion, Templar Saxe and William H. Straus.

Housewives Against Dole

Housewives of England are against the dole, for it is the cause of the shortage of servants, they claim. Harassed queens of the homes are compelled to do their own work because, they say, girls are finding it easier to accept unemployment assistance from the government than to go to work, and they add that if the dole were removed there would be a different attitude toward positions in homes. The scarcity of those trained in domestic work has caused girls to be independent and many refuse to enter homes where there are children when they can secure places with only two in the family at $20 a month, with every thing found.

THEATRES

AT THE LYRIC TODAY

Hard riding, hard fighting and stunts of daring that thrill every nerve are the outstanding features of Buck Jones' splendid picture of the Basque county of the Pacific Southwest, which had its first showing at the Lyric theatre yesterday.

There is not a dull moment in this story of the cowboy who comes to the settlement of the Basques seeking vengeance for the death of his brother and finds romance and adventure as well as the sinister thing he seeks. Natalie Joyce is the dainty little Spanish beauty who is the girl in the story, and she gives a perfect performance. But it is Buck, the hard-riding, dare-devil cowboy, who furnishes the thrills and laughter. Here is a picture that will make you forget your trouble, because it will just take you out of yourself. And in addition to a rip roaring thriller you will enjoy seeing some of the most beautiful country ever shot by the camera.

Coming Monday An unusually entertaining picture is the feature at the Lyric theatre Monday and Tuesday. The cast is excellent, the photography beautiful, the direction flawless, and the story unusually well told and directed.

Jacqueline Logan and Robert Frazer who portray the leading roles are both excellent in their portrayals with the former bringing to the screen a rare beauty and winsome personality.

The picture opens with the heroine engaged in a tennis game after which she is beset by a

Christmas Doll On Sale To Dress Others

An opportunity to buy a beautifully dressed doll to delight some little tot's heart at Christmas and at the same time, through the purchase, furnish material to dress other dolls for the Christmas baskets, is awaiting someone who wishes to add in this manner in the furnishing of Christmas cheer to children of the city.

The doll has been dressed by someone actively interested in the Christmas basket work and the proceeds of its sale will go toward dressing other dolls.

The doll is now on display at Swenson Brothers where it may be seen by all those who are interested.

young society man to become his wife. She agrees if he will enter her car and leave her drive as fast as she pleased. He attacks it out, and she reluctantly accepts him. Soon after, she and her three girl friends go to her father's estate in the mountains where an engineering job is in progress.

"GARDEN OF ALLAH" Never has the city of Gladstone viewed a motion picture as enthralling and as beautiful as "The Garden of Allah," which opens this Monday and Tuesday at the Rialto Theatre.

A preview supports the glowing praises of leading critics elsewhere that the picture is one of the most tense and gripping ever filmed. It seems certain to top the first ten pictures of the year.

It is not surprising therefore to find it credited to Rex Ingram, the great director who produced "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Sera mouche," "Mare Nostrum" and other thundering dramas. He filmed it abroad for Metro-Goldwyn.

Enacting the principal roles in this new Ingram masterpiece at the Rialto are names, with few exceptions, wholly new to America. Alice Terry plays the leading feminine role and she is more beautiful, exquisite and divine than she has ever been before. A new side of her is shown in this picture—a melting humanity that will wind picturegoers around her aristocratic fingers.

Ivan Petrovich, Miss Terry's new leading man, is an astonishingly handsome, athletic actor. He has the dark complexion of Miss Terry's former leading men—Valentino, Novarro and Moreno—but a stronger face than any of these. He is beyond question Rex Ingram's greatest discovery since Valentino.

Others in the brilliant cast are Marcel Vibert, leading supporting role, H. Humberston Wright, Mme. Paquerette, Armand Dutertre, Ben Sadour, Gerald Fielding, Michael Powell, Basil Hambrough and Claude Fielding.

This picture's central idea is the struggle of conscience against passion.

NOTICE TO MASONS All members of Gladstone Lodge, Number 396, F. & A. M., are requested to be at the Masonic Temple at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon to be in attendance at the funeral of the late brother, John P. Holm.

Army Defeats Navy, 14 to 9, in Thrilling Battle

WILSON LEADS CADETS TO WIN

Stage Rally to Defeat Middies After Poor Start

BY J. ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.

Polo Grounds, New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Rallying from a poor start, Army conquered the Navy today, 14-9, under the indomitable leadership of the blonde "Light Horse" Harry Wilson.

While a colorful, wildly yelling crowd of 76,000 looked on, Wilson pulled his wobbly team together between halves came out to lead a charge that saw him twice cross the Navy goal line and then stand foremost in the defense that checked the desperate and dangerous closing spurt of the sailors.

Army's victory over a gallant team that played superior football in all but the third period was a personal triumph for the veteran Wilson, playing his last year for the Army and his seventh against the Navy in a varsity career that began in 1910 at Penn State. Wilson plunged in and tackled with his forwards as they put up a stone wall defensive barrier in the first half, beaten back and once yielding a safety on a blocked kick, but also twice stopping the Navy at the threshold of the goal line. Once the Middies were turned back with only five yards to go, but even more disheartening, in the second period which the Navy thrust that was stopped by the Cadets only a foot short of a touchdown.

It was Wilson who came trotting out in the second half to lead a thrust that turned the tide and clinched the game.

"Light Horse" Harry was a whirlwind dervish as he took a Navy punt on the latter's 46-yard line to dash 18 yards, then carried the ball across the Middle goal in five successive dashes. Sidestepping and straight-arming Wilson frequently dragged three or four tacklers along with him as he fumbled off 25 yards to the goal line.

Army Outplayed in First Half.

With the winning spark thus ignited, "Red" Cagle, fleet running mate of the Army captain, grabbed opportunity—in the form of an intercepted pass—and raced 36 yards to the Navy's four-yard mark. It took only two bucks by Wilson to put the ball over and Cagle's toe added the extra point for the second time.

It was just as well for the Army that they produced this third period scoring punch, for they had been outplayed decisively by the Midshipmen in the first half and in the final quarter they were menaced by a Navy comeback that netted one touchdown and threatened another before the last whistle blew.

This Navy touchdown, throwing the brigade of Midshipmen into hysterical excitement as the end of the game neared, was accomplished by a spectacular forward pass. Hurling by "Whitey" Lloyd from near midfield, it was grabbed by "Ted" Sloane, former Drake end as he slid across the goal line to complete the most thrilling play of the game. The Middies had the ball on Army's 25-yard line at the time, but Lloyd's tremendous heave

ESCANABANS WIN HONORS

Local Boys Leaders in Many Activities at State College.

East Lansing, Nov. 26. (Special)—Students from Escanaba, are not only distinguishing themselves scholastically at Michigan State College but are also leaders in various branches of campus activity, according to a check-up made here this week.

Almon Arnold who was graduated from Escanaba High school in 1925 recently was picked from a large number of candidates for the State varsity debating team. Arnold was on several victorious debating teams while in high school.

John Gafner will win the Freshman numerals, having played regular end on the yearling eleven this fall. When basketball practice starts Monday Gafner and "Bud" Gibbs, of Perkins, former Menominee star, will represent Not only in basketball but also in baseball Gafner and Gibbs are being watched by local sports scribes as future State luminaries.

When ever the Varsity and Frosh elevens scrimmaged this fall two Escanaba men opposed each other at end, Christensen, Varsity man, playing opposite Gafner. Although the captaincy next year will probably fall to some backfield man, "Keddy" is being mentioned for the honor as he is one of the most popular players on the squad.

Thomas, of Iron Mountain, former all upper peninsula center, will win a service sweater for distinguishing himself at the pivotal position on the yearling squad.

ALMA AND DETROIT POLICE TIE, 13-13

Local Boys Leaders in Many Activities at State College.

Detroit, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Matching clever team work against a weighty line, Alma college, champions of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic association, today battled the Detroit Police eleven to a 13-13 tie. It was the first appearance of the Detroit police aggregation against a college eleven this year. Although outweighed and unable to gain through the stiff line, the M. I. A. A. champions presented a brilliant co-operative machine which pushed across two touchdowns to tie the score.

"STATE" GLAD TO GET KIPKE

Famous Michigan Star Adds Strength to Coaching Staff.

East Lansing, Nov. 26. (Special)—With the signing of Harry Kipke, former All-American half-back of the University of Michigan, as head football coach at Michigan State, Ralph Young, director of athletics, feels that he has rounded out a strong and competent staff.

Kipke will be given free reign in choice of assistants and installation of his system, says Director Young. Miles Casteel, Kalamazoo college and Barney Tryon, Colgate, have aided Young during the past year in coaching the varsity football team.

The name of Kipke is no new one at East Lansing. A younger brother, Ray, won two letters at end under Coach Young although he tipped the scales at only 140 pounds. Another brother, Herbert, is now a freshman and Harry should find him on the varsity squad next fall when he assumes command.

First Inspiration

Harry himself tells how the Green and White clad teams of years ago gave him his first football inspiration. Wading the Red Cedar river he used to sit, wet and shivering, in the stands of old College Field and watch the Argies of a decade ago build for themselves a national reputation. That historic gridiron is now the practice field and it will be the laboratory next fall in which Harry will try out his own coaching ideas.

Versatility has marked the brilliant career of the elder Kipke. He won nine letters at Michigan, a feat with little precedent in modern sport. In basketball and baseball he was almost the star that he was on the gridiron.

With Kipke in charge of football, Director Young points out that State has one of the finest coaching staffs in the west, with only Big Ten schools and Notre Dame exceeding the Spartans in capable mentors. These same men also serve to make the new physical education department of Director Young a success.

Ben Van Aalstyn, Colgate, is head basketball coach and helps with freshman football. A great success at Ohio Wesleyan, he is building teams at East Lansing that are noted for a slashing offensive.

John Kobs, Hamline, is head baseball coach and works with Van Aalstyn on the freshman football field. For three years his State teams have been consistent winners and victories have been scored over Notre Dame, Michigan, Syracuse and other schools of national reputation.

Young Coaches Track

Director Young himself handles the track team and State's power on the cinders is proverbial. Fred Alderman and Bohn Grim, his products, graduated with enviable records. Last year his team won major honors at the Illinois, Texas, Rice, Ohio, and Pennsylvania Relays, in addition to winning the Central Intercollegiate, the Michigan A. A. U., the State Intercollegiate, and all dual meets. Casteel and Morton Mason, Oregon Aggies, are his assistants.

Ralph Leonard, former Penn State coach, directs the Spartan wrestlers. Last year, his first at East Lansing, he won the Michigan A. A. U. title and a majority of his dual meets, including victories over Notre Dame, Chicago, and Ohio University. Leonard also has charge of the soccer lacrosse teams.

W. Sterry Brown, formerly at Illinois, is head swimming coach, and like Leonard he turned out a winner in his first year at East Lansing. Working with L. D. Burhans he has charge of the physical education classes.

L. L. Fridovich, assistant athletic director, takes a hand in coaching freshman teams and directs a very complete intra-mural athletic system.

Carl Schultz and Paul Anderson have assisted with the freshman football team during the past year. They both are former State ends under Coach Young.

Rock Quintet Will Start Play Nov. 30

Finnish Runner Wins 6-Mile Race

Rock, Nov. 26.—(Special)—The Rock high school will open its basketball season here Wednesday evening, November 30, against Hermansville, the additional game on its card having been scheduled this week.

The team's earlier plans were to start its season on December 2 when it will meet Baraga Parochial at Marquette.

Coach George Weingartner reports he has five regulars back this year, and from all indications will have a fast quintet. In the inter-class games played recently, the Seniors beat the Freshmen, 29 to 22, and the Seventh Graders triumphed over the Eighth Graders, 10 to 8.

INSURANCE by the GALLON!

Buy this Special Winter Insurance for your car

Buying Ivo Radiator Glycerine is in effect buying insurance against frozen radiators and cracked water jackets. And in comparison with the cost of radiator repairs you will agree that the "premium" you pay on an "Ivo policy" is a very modest one.

Ivo Radiator Glycerine is distilled glycerine of the proper strength for radiator use. In the opinion of thousands of motorists it is the ideal anti-freeze, for Ivo does not evaporate, will not burn or explode, will not injure the finish of a car if accidentally spilled upon it, is odorless and will harm no part of the cooling system.

Ivo is more economical in the long run than volatile anti-freeze mixtures for these reasons:

First—Since it does not evaporate, it needs no replacement during the entire Winter driving season. Barring leaks in the cooling system, the first cost is the last.

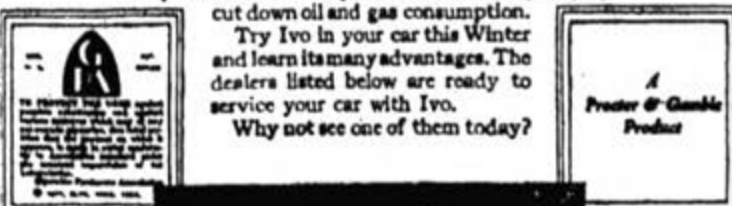

Second—Because of its higher boiling point it actually permits your motor to operate in Winter at Summer efficiency.

This latter fact is particularly important, as many a motorist knows who has attempted to warm up his motor in freezing weather when the cooling system is filled with a volatile anti-freeze mixture. His protection begins to boil away long before the proper operating temperature is reached.

The boiling point of Ivo, on the other hand, is sufficiently high to permit running the motor at a temperature where it operates best, thereby helping cut down oil and gas consumption.

Try Ivo in your car this Winter and learn its many advantages. The dealers listed below are ready to service your car with Ivo.

Why not see one of them today?

- CAUTION: Before filling with IVO, or any other anti-freeze, it will pay you to make sure that the cooling system is leak-proof. Tighten—and renew if necessary—all hose connections, cylinder head gaskets and pump packings.

Bucknell Gets Another Kostas

For fifteen years, Bucknell has had a member of the Kostas family as a player on its football teams. Joseph Kostas was the first. He entered school in 1912 and in his senior year was captain of the Bucknell eleven.

Then came Stanley, who played tackle and Tony, who captained the team in his final year.

Martin followed, but left Bucknell to enter Schuylkill, where he is captain this year.

The fifth Kostas is Frank. He entered school this year and is a center. He weighs 190 pounds. If precedent holds good, and Kostas' play as a freshman has been very encouraging, the fifth Kostas will play center for the varsity next year.

And, perhaps, he too will captain the Bucknell eleven.

FIRE DESTROYS PERKINS HOME

All Contents of Gibbs House Burned; Loss Is $10,000.

Perkins, Nov. 26 (Special)—The large two-story home, owned and occupied by Horace Gibbs, Perkins merchant and lumberman, was destroyed by fire early Friday evening, causing a loss of $10,000. The blaze had its origin in the basement near the furnace.

The house burned so rapidly that it was impossible to save any of the contents, all the furniture, wearing apparel and personal belongings of the Gibbs family being destroyed.

The fire was discovered at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon when the rooms commenced filling up with smoke. A bucket brigade, composed of about one hundred men, started hauling water, and the Gladstone fire department was called. The firemen ran a hose from a water-filled stone quarry about 900 feet away from the home, all attending are required to wear hard-time clothes. Lunch will be served.

For Immediate Sale

Modern 6-room practically new house—hardwood floors throughout, oak woodwork, newly painted walls, full basement, 2-foot stone foundation, furnace, gas, water, lights, full lot, fine lawn and garden. Must be seen to be appreciated. If interested call at

417 So. 18th Street, or

but it fell short of reaching its objective. Efforts were then concentrated on saving the parish house of the Catholic church and other adjoining buildings, which as a result were not damaged.

The firemen were hampered by the large volume of smoke in the Gibbs house and the fire had gained considerable headway by the time the department had arrived. The building was burned to the ground within about two hours. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

SCOUT IN PLANE.

Fishermen in Choshi, Japan, have jointly purchased a hydroplane to be used by its scouts in searching for schools of fish. The fishermen say that fish can be located from the air much easier than from the water. The fishing fleets will be directed from the air hereafter as war vessels are now directed by naval aircraft.

Big Still Seized on Schaffer Farm

A forty-gallon still, which was seized at the home of Arthur Chaput, at Schaffer, was confiscated by the sheriff's department yesterday. The still had not been operated for some time, and no moonshine or mash were found at the farm home.

Chaput was arrested by police yesterday morning on a charge of drunkenness, and officers found a bottle of moonshine whiskey in one of his pockets. He told the officers that he had a still on his place, but that he had not operated it for some time. It was found that Chaput is the father of 11 motherless children, and that he is in dire straits. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ranquette. Chaput promised to refrain from drinking liquor and manufacturing it and was paroled to the sheriff for a period of one year.

CAPE COAT.

A new version of the evening cape is a flared skirt section of the coat, with the top & fitted cape, with moleskin edging the sleeve slits.

To Our Friends in Escanaba:

Last February the E. H. S. Faculty Play was presented to 800 people. They were so enthusiastic about the performance that a second showing was urged, but the demand came too late. However, when a few days ago, it was announced that the E. H. S. Faculty is making ready to present the comedy, "A Lucky Break," it was immediately suggested by many that the play be given two nights. Naturally we would rather play to 1200 people in two nights than to 800 in one. For one thing, it means about $200 more in equipment for the high school stage. We want you to see "A Lucky Break." If there's a solemn moment in the comedy we haven't found it. But we do guarantee you laughs and laughs and laughs.

And so we are announcing another LUCKY BREAK—THURSDAY, DEC. 8TH, as well as Friday, December 9th.
