

REMUS INSANE WHEN HE LEFT PRISON

CAPITAL BUSY AS OPENING OF SESSION NEARS

DISCUSS MANY ISSUES THAT WILL BE BROUGHT UP

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright 1927, by the Escanaba Press. Washington, Nov. 29.—Congress might just as well be in session judging by the activity going on here a full week in advance of the opening. Not since 1911 when the democrats, who won the 1910 election, took charge of the lower house has there been so much excitement. This is partly due to the fact that the senate is virtually a tie as between the major parties and the progressives hold the balance of power. But it is also due to the large number of issues which have caught the attention of the public. All this would be interesting by itself were it not for presidential nominating conventions a few months hence but the coming campaign will have a powerful influence on the course of events.

Gathered in the foyer, so to speak, ready for the raising of the curtain are powerful groups of American businessmen intent on the one hand of preventing unfavorable legislation and urging on the other hand protection or relief as the case may be.

Dominating the whole situation to a remarkable extent is the flood problem. The far west with its fear of a flood in the Imperial Valley, the Mississippi valley alert that no delay shall be encountered this time and the New England aware now of what their dangers may be from overflowing rivers—all these elements combine naturally to give flood control right of way. Memories of the recent disasters are fresh in the minds of returning members of congress.

Wrapped up in the flood question is that of water power uses and the development of inland waterways. Problems of government ownership or operation of water power have been debated for years but never have they occupied such an important place on the legislative stage. There is no real likelihood of a government ownership program as a whole but the policy that should be followed with such projects as Muscle Shoals has never been definitely decided and may have to be when the building of dams and the generation of power is brought before congress as a concrete matter to be dealt with in spending money for flood control.

Other Major Problems. Already the public utility industry has indicated its opposition to any program of government ownership or operation and wants such water power as is developed to be leased by the government as are ships or air mail contracts. President Coolidge is opposed to the government doing anything that private industry can do as well or better.

In the background also is the investigation sought by Senator Walsh of Montana as to the methods by which holding companies are being financed and utility properties gathered in by large companies. Then there is the senate investigation of the eligibility of Senators-elect Smith of Illinois and Vare of Pennsylvania and the aftermath of the Illinois primary election expenditures in which Samuel Insull of Chicago has not yet completed his testimony.

If this were not enough to make the December session an interesting and busy one, the congress has two other major problems to settle. One is the revision of the tax law which runs into the question of the national budget and appropriations, generally and the agricultural export controversy. Progress is being made on the tax bill. It may be out of the house by Christmas and in the senate shortly after.

Indications are that more will be accomplished by the coming session of congress than any session in ten years though on the surface the political obstacles in the way would seem to contradict such a promise. But the compelling nature of the problems to be solved will make it bad politics for any individual or group to obstruct. It will be a rivalry in achievement with a contest afterwards as to which party or individual is entitled to credit or reward at the polls.

Bay City School Commissioner Dead

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 29.—(AP)—John B. Laing, 57, for 25 years county school commissioner here and widely known in state educational circles, died tonight. He had been ill for some time and death occurred at a hospital where he was taken about six weeks ago.

MRS. SNYDER IS AGAIN DEFEATED

Chicago Alienist Will Not Be Admitted to Death House, Ruling

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, slayer of her artist husband, today met her second defeat within a week in her fight to escape the electric chair. After a conference of Governor Smith, Warden Lawes of Sing Sing prison, and Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, state commissioner of correction, it was announced by Dr. Kieb that Dr. C. A. Neymann, a Chicago alienist, would not be admitted to the death house at Sing Sing to test Mrs. Snyder's mental condition. Dr. Kieb said it was the belief of the conferees that there was no reason why Dr. Neymann, who is not licensed to practice medicine in New York, should be allowed to visit the death house and that, furthermore, the state placed about its wards in prison every reasonable safeguard that they would not be injured. He explained that Mrs. Snyder, like every other prisoner confined in the death house, had been under observation by three competent psychiatrists from the day of her admission, and that exhaustive examination of her mental condition would be made soon, probably next week.

Must Present New Facts. Egar F. Hazelton of Mrs. Snyder's legal staff said he believed that Dr. Kieb did not quite understand the purpose of the Snyder defense counsel in requesting that Dr. Neymann be permitted to see the condemned woman. The attorneys had claimed that Mrs. Snyder, never insane, but that she was a psychiatric case and suffered from neurosis. The courts, he said, have settled the question of Mrs. Snyder's guilt.

When he appears before Governor Smith to urge executive clemency, he explained, he must be able to present some new facts to the governor that have not been passed upon by the courts, and for that reason he wanted to be able to show that Mrs. Snyder's case was psychiatric. In a prepared statement, Mr. Hazelton said: "The law of this state says a person is legally sane when he knows the nature and quality of his act, and is able to distinguish between right and wrong. This is as far as the law goes at this time. It does not take into account those who may be mentally ill, but still fall to come into our definition of legal insanity. May Ask High Court. "We want to ascertain whether or not any condition existing upon the part of Ruth Snyder and over which she had no control, caused her to do the act of which she has been found guilty. "Mr. Hazelton said that in the event he was not able to obtain permission from Dr. Kieb for Dr. Neymann to examine Mrs. Snyder, he would apply to the supreme court for an order permitting the visit.

Asked whether he would oppose the granting by supreme court of such an order, Dr. Kieb said he would "state the facts." The case of Henry Judd Gray of East Orange, N. J., Mrs. Snyder's paramour, who is also awaiting execution, was not touched upon at today's conferences.

COOLIDGE TO ADDRESS GOP COMMITTEE

MAY EXPAND "DO NOT CHOOSE" STATEMENT

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Interest in the selection of a convention city here next week by the Republican national committee was over-shadowed today by speculation regarding the announcement that President Coolidge contemplates an address to members of the committee when he receives them in the East room of the White House.

The announcement was not accompanied by any indication as to what the president intends to say but the fact that it was made at a regular White House press conference gave weight to the suggestion that his remarks may be of more than passing interest to the public.

Presumably because Mr. Coolidge has made unusual close counsel with himself regarding his political plans since he issued his "do not choose" statement in the Black Hills, the committee men are coming to Washington professing more or less perplexity as to the president's intentions. Although a number of them declared themselves to be so earlier in the fall when they met here at the call of Chairman Butler, Mr. Coolidge did not avail himself of an opportunity to enlighten them at a White House breakfast to which they were invited.

Meeting to be Tuesday. Since then, however, the White House has felt it necessary to regulate an attempt through the circulation of petitions to force the drafting of him as the Republican nominee next year, but whether the apparent inability of the public to make up its mind as to the exact meaning of the Black Hills statement has moved Mr. Coolidge to contemplate some additional remarks is something totally in the realm of speculation.

The exact time at which the members of the national committee will be received at the White House still is to be determined, although it probably will be Tuesday. After an executive meeting of the committee Monday, the question of a convention city will be taken up by the whole committee Tuesday with a selection Wednesday expected.

Meanwhile, a group of cities is waging campaigns for the convention with San Francisco, Detroit, Cleveland appearing to be most prominently in the discussions in the committee. In addition to selecting a convention location, the committee will decide upon a temporary chairman.

EXPECT SOVIET TO GIVE PLANS

Will Propose Non-Aggression Pacts to Aid Peace

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Non-aggression pacts between the nations including Russia, as the surest means of increasing international security and improving the chances of success of disarmament efforts, will, it is reported in league circles tonight, be proposed by the Soviet delegation. Maxim Litvinov and his Soviet colleagues, however, declined to reveal their line of action at the meeting of the preparatory disarmament commission, which opens at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The most reliable information is that the American delegation probably will decline to be represented on the special committee for the study of security, the appointment of which is the main question on the agenda. Both the United States and Russia as non-members of the league, have been invited to sit on this committee.

As both Russia and Germany will insist on a general discussion of disarmament, with Germany advocating an early conference based on existing security, some opposition will doubtless develop to any plan which France and her friends may have to thrust the disarmament conference temporarily aside. The general impression tonight is that the nervousness existing in several regions of Europe, especially the Baltic, owing to the Polish-Lithuanian dispute and in southwestern Europe because of rivalry over Albania, will have the effect of postponing the disarmament conference until international peace is guaranteed by additional pacts of non-aggression, which the Russians are expected to propose.

Former Detroit Man Hanged in Florida Prison

Detroit, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Louis Everhart, convicted of slaying a Florida policeman, was hanged today at the state prison at Clearwater, Fla., according to a special dispatch to the Detroit Free Press. A companion, Laverne Haynes, convicted of complicity in the slaying, is awaiting execution.

Both men were former residents of Detroit. Prior to their arrest in Florida, according to police, they figured in the robbery of the Dix Fur store at Saginaw for which they were arrested, and went to Grand Rapids, from whence they made their way south. A few days after their arrival in Florida they shot the officer when he sought to prevent the robbery of a grocery store at Tarpon Springs.

DRY LAWS ARE BEING ENFORCED

Prohibition Officials Speak at Methodist Meeting

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Substantial progress in the enforcement of prohibition was claimed today by the chiefs of the government dry forces before the annual meeting of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

While Assistant Secretary Lowman of the treasury and prohibition Commissioner Doran reviewed improvements in the enforcement methods, Bishop William F. McDowell of Washington, president of the board, warned that a program of education of the public in the benefits of prohibition was needed to attain ultimate success. He urged the dry forces not to cease their campaign to bring about complete enforcement.

The work of the coast guard in preventing smuggling of liquor into the United States had resulted in more effective stoppage of the traffic than a year ago, Lowman said. He emphasized the need of temperance organizations continuing "prohibition educational campaigns" instead of leaving this phase of the problem in the hands of the government.

Inaugurate Dry Program. Commissioner Doran declared that the raising of the standard of prohibition officers would render more effective enforcement.

A program of temperance education through text books, motion pictures and pageants, has been inaugurated by the board of dry forces, announced, Rev. Raymond V. Johnson, announced. He said the young people of the church were lecturing on prohibition throughout the country, adding that in his opinion the best way "to defeat Governor Smith and other wet candidates," was to send a team of "young Methodists on a tour of every large city, especially New York." Such a group of speakers, he declared, "would kill many of the wet aspirants as candidates for political positions."

That alcoholism had increased in all European countries since the war and was rapidly spreading into Turkey and other Mohammedan countries, was the assertion of Dr. George Macklenburg of Wheeling, W. Va.

PINCHOT BEGS G.O.P. CHIEFS TO OUST VARE

DECLARES PARTY'S FUTURE HINGES ON ACTION

Washington, Nov. 29. (Special)—In an open letter to the Republican National committee, made public here today, Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania, urges the committee to use its influence to prevent the seating of William S. Vare and Frank W. Smith, senators-elect from Pennsylvania and Illinois, when congress convenes.

"I address you," Mr. Pinchot tells the committee, "because of my official knowledge as a former Republican governor, and also because as a member of the Republican party I am keenly anxious that my party shall not lay itself open to the charge of having winked at or profited from a bought-and-stolen election."

Mr. Pinchot recalls how, as a governor refused to issue the customary certificate of election to Mr. Vare, setting forth instead that "William S. Vare appears to have been chosen," and following it with a letter of explanation. The open letter then continues: "The fraudulent character of Mr. Vare's nomination and election is neither accidental nor exceptional. This is not an isolated case. Purchase and theft are normal in elections under the Vare machine, and premeditated murder for political purposes is not unknown." Such frauds, Mr. Pinchot alleges, have actually continued since the nomination of Vare.

Tremendous Expenditures. "At the recent Senatorial primary in Pennsylvania the sums of money spent to influence the vote were the largest ever disclosed to the American people. The report of the Senate Special Committee Investigating Expenditures in Senatorial Primary and General Elections (a majority of whose members were Republicans) sets the amount uncovered at $1,800,000 for Mr. Pepper, who was defeated; and for Mr. Vare, who won, at $800,000. I spent $187,000 and was defeated. Stated in another way, these sums amounted to $1.29 for Mr. Pepper, 62 cents for Mr. Vare, and 13 cents for myself—per enrolled Republican vote.

"I am not concerned to fix with exactness the precise degree of Mr. Vare's guilt nor to answer the arguments of James M. Beck, his attorney, whose recent appointment to Congress by Mr. Vare adds lustre to the scandal. But I am concerned to point out that the American people are convinced, and rightly convinced, that Mr. Vare is guilty, and well assured that the purchase and theft of his seat ought not to be ratified by the Senate of the United States. In this conviction and assurance the decent people of Pennsylvania emphatically join.

"The first question to be considered is the question of right and wrong. Upon that there can be no division. But even apart from that basic consideration a political advantage bought at such a cost can never be worth what is paid for it. Quotes Roosevelt. "There is no obligation on the Republican Party to seat Vare just because he is a Republican. On the contrary, in face of the known facts the obligation is precisely the other way. Roosevelt said: "I am a good party man, but I am an American first. When we come to questions affecting the vital principles of American life, I know no party. When such a question as corruption is involved, we cannot afford to divide on party lines. I take just this much account of party in such a case. While I will do my best to get hold of the thief of the opposite party, I will try, if possible, a little harder to get hold of the thief in my own party."

"The underlying argument for the seating to Mr. Vare (and Mr. Smith) is that if they are seated the Republicans can organize the Senate. They will organize it anyhow, but even if they could not, no amount of special pleading will eliminate from the coming National Campaign this simple question: "Did the Republicans in the Senate of the United States vote to seat the beneficiary of the purchase and theft of votes, or did they vote to exclude him?"

"If the answer is that they voted to let him in, then it will be charged that the Republican Party voted a man who had no right to be seated in order to secure a

Mosquito Blamed for Blood Stains on Mrs. Lilliendahl's Stockings

Mays Landing, N. J., Nov. 29.—(AP)—The Jersey mosquito, famed for its stiletto stinger, was driven into the legal lists today in defense of the innocence of Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, charged with Willis Beach with the murder of her aged husband, Dr. A. William Lilliendahl.

Most of today's afternoon session of the murder trial was taken up with a long technical description of the way in which a chemist had determined that tiny stains on the colthing of Mrs. Lilliendahl were the day of the killing were human blood.

Most of the stains, the chemist said, were no larger than fly specks and the largest was a quarter of an inch across. When the testimony was completed, Robert H. McCarter, chief counsel for the widow, rose and faced the witness, Dr. Louis H. Meyers of Atlantic City.

"Expert Explains Test. "Did you never yourself," he thundered, "have blood stains on your stockings from mosquito bites?" "No," the witness replied. "And you live in Atlantic City?" McCarter sneered, and the court room broke into laughter.

McCarter made Dr. Meyers, who qualified as an expert over strenuous defense objection, relate in detail just how stains are proved to be human blood. The witness had testified that he had found such stains on Mrs. Lilliendahl's dress, her belt, her stockings, her pocketbook and three of five dollar bills, that were in the pocketbook.

He said that the stains were dissolved in water, mixed with chemicals and drops of the solution placed on filter paper. "When a blue ring appeared on the paper," he said, "we knew that the solution contained blood." "But no human blood?" he was asked.

Prove Blood Human. "Not necessarily," he replied. "Any kind of blood would have brought out the blue ring. To find if the blood were human, we mixed some of our solution with anti-human serum taken from the veins of a rabbit. That mixture was placed in a test tube which was heated to 38 degrees for three hours. At the end of that time we examined the test tube and found a white substance at the bottom."

"And what did that prove?" "That showed beyond question," the chemist said, "that the stains on Mrs. Lilliendahl's garments and other belongings were made by human blood."

It was then that McCarter brought the mosquitos into his argument. Nineteen witnesses went through the legal hopper today, the second day of the trial, bringing the total to 29 of the 100 the state expects to call.

FORMER JUDGE TESTIFIES IN MURDER CASE

LOST CONTROL OF SELF WHEN HE SAW EMPTY MANSION

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Deterioration of George Remus' mind was traced by a witness in his murder trial today to the time he was told Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., had assisted in packing for removal, the furniture stripped from his show-place home here.

The occasion was when Remus, just released from Atlanta penitentiary where he had been for violation of the prohibition law, still clad in the clothing given departing convicts, went to his Cincinnati mansion for a change of apparel.

The witness was Benton S. Oppenheimer, former judge of the court of common pleas here. At the time, he represented Remus in a divorce suit which had been brought by the wife he later was to slay.

"Remus passed from room to room, wringing his hands and uttering cries of amazement that he had been treated in that manner," said the judge.

He followed William Mueller, for eight years caretaker at the Remus home, to the witness stand. Mueller had just pictured Remus departing for the Atlanta federal penitentiary from a lavishly furnished mansion and returning to a house stripped to "kitchen table and a gas range." Remus seemed to lose control of himself, testified Oppenheimer. He acted like a man beside himself, he said. The outbursts came frequent and violent, the attorney testified and he finally felt compelled to withdraw from representing Remus.

Remus seemed to lose control of himself, testified Oppenheimer. He acted like a man beside himself, he said. The outbursts came frequent and violent, the attorney testified and he finally felt compelled to withdraw from representing Remus.

Mueller was the first witness to bring into the trial any direct testimony connecting Dodge with Remus.

Tried to Hide Identity. Dodge, it was who, as an agent of the federal department of justice assigned to prohibition work, obtained the conviction which sent Remus to prison. Later, according to Remus' plea, there grew up an association between his wife and Dodge which drove him mad.

Thrice, Mueller testified he saw Dodge at the Remus home while the master served his sentence. Twice Dodge was driving expensive automobiles owned by Remus and twice Dodge sought to hide his identity, Mueller swore.

Both Mueller and Oppenheimer testified to the opinion that Remus was insane prior to the time he shot and killed Mrs. Remus in Eden Park here last October 6.

The day's third and last witness, Alan Curry, former federal district attorney at St. Louis, added his opinion that Remus was insane prior to the time of the shooting.

His observation covered only an hour and a half, however, he testified. In his official capacity, he had summoned Remus to St. Louis in connection with an indictment returned in the Jack Daniels distillery case.

Remus raved to such an extent that he could not discuss the case in question, testified Curry. Trusted His Wife. "That man Dodge has taken the affections of the one thing in my life that is precious to me, my little wife," he asserted Remus had raved. Remus walked the floor, wrung his hands, jabbed himself in the side, pulled his hair and tears ran down his cheeks, and perspiration stood upon his forehead, according to Curry's picture. "He raved that way for probably 10 or 15 minutes. "He said that he had trusted his wife and given her everything and then that "Franklin Dodge has taken her away from me and ruined my life."

ALLOW WORKERS TO ENTER U. S.

Canadians Employed in This Country May Cross Border

Washington, Nov. 29—(AP)—An arrangement under which, it is believed, foreign-born citizens, now commuting across the border to employment in the United States, will be able to adjust themselves to American immigration laws without hardship, was announced tonight by the state department after prolonged conferences with the labor department. The situation as it now stands is understood to be satisfactory to the Canadian government.

The new plan calls for the back-dating of applications for immigration visas required of foreign-born Canadians under immigration order No. 86, which becomes effective at midnight tomorrow, to the date of their application for border crossing cards they now hold. The result will be to give this group, in the event they have made application for immigration visas, advantages of priority in the granting of visas and enable them to evade the long waiting list at the bottom of which they would otherwise stand.

Coupled with this plan for expediting immigration visas for 1,000 or so individuals investigated is the fact that examination by immigration officials at the border under the new order will require considerable time, which it is expected, will permit virtually all of the foreign-born Canadians in this class to obtain visas before it is necessary to deny them entry.

temporary advantage by controlling the organization of the Senate, and to that charge there will be no answer. Party's Reputation at Stake. "If Vare is seated the American people will adjudge the Republican Party guilty of conniving at the purchase and theft of an election and of doing so for its own political benefit. "No political windfall, whether temporary or permanent, whether in the organization of the Senate or in the support of powerful leaders in the greatest Republican State, can offset the cost of yielding to the wrong in matters which go as straight to the heart of American institutions as the sacredness of the ballot, the integrity of the Republican Party, and the honor of the Senate of the United States.

Expect Judge Fead to Sign House of David Decree Dec. 2 Lansing, Nov. 29—(AP)—A decree of the House of David receivership case may be signed December 2 when a hearing is held before Judge Louis H. Fead at Newberry. The hearing originally was set for November 30 in Sault Ste. Marie. The decree will make detailed provision for banishing Benjamin Urell from his followers, placing the colony property in the hands of a receiver and opening the way to claims for fraud by members and former members. Immediately upon the filing of the decree in the Berrien county court it is anticipated the colony will appeal to the state supreme court. Litigation reaching to the United States supreme court may ensue. According to reports received here W. J. Barnard, defense attorney, is not disposed to accept Judge Fead's decision without a fight.

ENSIGN STORE, P. O. ROBBED

Five Dollars in Cash and Wearing Apparel Missing

The Magnuson Brothers' general store was entered sometime either Monday night or early Tuesday morning, and a quantity of clothing taken, in addition to five dollars in currency from the cash drawer of the postoffice department, which is in the same building.

Entrance into the store was gained by breaking one of the front windows. The sheriff's department investigated the robbery early yesterday morning, finding several fingerprints and other clues. The tread marks of an Oldfield tire, which it is believed was on the robbery car, were found near the store. Judging from the size of the tire marks, the automobile used by the robbers probably was a Ford, and this leads authorities to connect the incident with the robbery of a roadhouse and gasoline station at Marinette Sunday night.

After holding up the roadhouse proprietor, the three bandits commandeered a Ford touring automobile and drove to Coleman, where they held up the gasoline station owner. Sheriff Oscar Dahl had the highways to Oconto and Green Bay closely guarded, and as they were not captured it is thought that the bandits may have come north. The mysterious shooting of Waldemar Flink of Escanaba early Monday morning on M-35, about 18 miles south of Escanaba, may have some connection also with the Ensign robbery as the Marinette county robbers may have escaped in that direction.

Three pairs of socks, six shirts, some jumpers, and other small articles, the total value of which is about $50, were taken in the store. This is the second robbery of a village postoffice in this section within the last few weeks, the Wells postoffice having been entered recently. Oral Smith, who accidentally shot himself while crossing the Soo Line bridge, after he had committed the robbery, was sentenced in the last term of circuit court to serve a term in Marquette prison.

U. S. Postal Inspector O. L. MacDougal has been notified, and probably will arrive here this morning, where they will visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. F. L. Fuhrmeyer of Chicago who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kjelberg, Sr., South Fourteenth street, has returned to her home.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

A tired business man who doesn't fall for one of the most alluring and provocative vamps who ever vamped, introduces a new twist in screen plots.

It is one of the many amusing and highly entertaining features of "Lonesome Ladies," which heads the bill at the Delft Theatre. Lewis Stone and Anna Q. Nilsson head the cast, and Jane Winton is the "super-vamp."

Stone, of course, is the T. B. M. in question, and it might not seem logical to watch him resisting the best efforts of Miss Winton to entice him, if it were not for the fact that Miss Nilsson plays the role of his wife!

If the vamping fails to produce the usual results, it's as thrilling to the spectator as it is embarrassing to the hero. The picture abounds with clever human touches, comedy and some genuine drama for purposes of contrast.

THAT PINT OF GIN.
The National Constitutional Liberty League has decided to place before the United States supreme court, the case of Fred Palm, convicted in Lansing of being a habitual criminal and sentenced to serve a life sentence in prison under Michigan's new criminal code.

These facts were not concealed from the voters. They were headlined in the newspapers throughout the land. They were issues—very direct issues—in the elections.

The habitual criminal law was not passed merely as a prohibition enforcement measure. It was designed to keep habitual criminals where they belong—behind the bars.

The Blazing Horizon

CHAPTER VI.
Joe Craig rode up the gentle rise and when he reached the top he reined in his horse. "Just pull up a minute, Tony," he called to his companion. "Ain't that a pretty sight?"

From their little eminence they could see the rough ranch house of the Bar K. South of them flowed the Salt Fork of the Arkansas, several miles away; and in between was a vast herd, munching peacefully at the succulent grass.

The sky was flawless, and the earth a carpet of green. They had just returned from Colonel Chivington's ranch near Turkey Creek with a small herd of yearlings. Other matters had intervened to delay their trip several days, but the job was done and the yearlings turned out to graze on some choice bottom land of Joe Craig's selection.

Craig sighed. "You know, Tony, I sometimes think I should of been born a poet."
Tony Harrison smiled.
"Yes," Craig continued, "I should of been. You know, it ain't right to look on a landscape like this without being able to express your feelings in the proper kind of words. I guess I would of been a poet, too, only I just couldn't seem to make the words rhyme. I can rope a steer with the next man and tame the meanest cayuse that ever reared back on two legs and pawed at the sun. But it just ain't in me to assemble words together so's they sound pleasing to the ear."

"Take the Salt Fork, for instance; the only words I could ever rhyme with them two was salt pork—and this is beef country, Tony."
Tony threw back his head and laughed—and the laughter fell like music on Joe Craig's ears. The shadow of tragedy that had fallen on Tony Harrison had not yet gone, but it was lifting, and under the magic of Joe Craig's warm companionship the blow had softened and the boy's moroseness was disappearing.

His appearance, too, had undergone a change. Already he was healthy tanned, and a week of ranch life, with man-sized meals for a razor-keen appetite, had been like a tonic.
Joe Craig regarded his young friend in a pleased silence. He tilted his head and was about to speak when something in the direction of the ranch house caught his eye. It was moving toward them like a comet, only it was on a horse.
Tony saw it, too. "Who's that, Joe?"

Joe smiled. "That? Oh, that's a cyclone, I reckon."
He spat carefully at a dandelion. "It's got red hair, ain't it? Your eyes are younger'n mine."
Tony squinted. "Yes, it has. It looks like a little girl. She rides like a Comanche."
"Son, you're all wrong. She rides like all hell turned loose. She's 12 years old and she's been in the saddle pretty near ten. That's Colonel Moore's daughter, Marguerita, and she's the boss of the outfit."

He urged his horse forward. "Come on, Tony. We'll go and meet her before she breaks her neck."
But Tony stayed irresolutely. He frowned. "You go ahead. I'll ride over by myself."
"Why, Tony, that'd be downright impolite. You can't treat the ladies like that. Come on, son."

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT THE NEW FORD CAR

Complete details of the new model will be available this FRIDAY in this city

FRIDAY of this week will unquestionably be one of the most important days in the entire life of the automobile industry. On that day, complete details of the new Ford will be available in this city.

You will be surprised when you get the facts about the new Ford car, for you never have dreamed that such a really fine car could be produced at a low price. As Henry Ford himself says—

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

The new Ford car is distinctly a new and modern car, designed to meet new and modern conditions. It is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

*An entirely new car
in every respect*

The minute you see it—ride in it—you will realize that it is not a mere refinement of the former model T Ford, but a new car from radiator cap to rear axle. Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments. Some are wholly new in automobile practice. There is nothing quite like it in quality and price.

The new Ford car has exceptional beauty of line and color. It is, in every respect, a new and modern car, designed and created to meet modern conditions.

The new Ford car has unusual beauty of line and color. . . . It has a 40-horsepower engine. . . . It will do 55 and 60 miles an hour with ease and has actually run 65 miles an hour on road tests. . . . It is quiet and smooth-running at all speeds. . . . It is remarkably quick on the get-away. . . . It has specially designed mechanical four-wheel brakes. . . . It has hydraulic shock absorbers. . . . It has a standard, selective gear shift. . . . It is quick and easy to handle in traffic and steady and sure on the open road. . . . It runs 20 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline, depending on your speed. . . . And it has the stamina and reliability that you need for mile-after-mile and year-after-year service.

The new Ford car will sell at a surprisingly low price

When you think of such features as these, you think instinctively of a car costing much more than the new Ford. The low price is as unusual as the appearance and performance of the car itself.

The low prices of the six body types are undoubtedly lower than you thought they would be when you first heard that Ford was making a new car. They are, in fact, lower than we thought they could possibly be when we started to make this car.

We determined to bring new comfort, beauty, speed, safety, economy and reliability within reach of everybody who drives a car, and then forced ourselves to find ways to make the low prices possible.

The new Ford car is the result of years of careful planning. Every part of it has been tested and retested in actual practice. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it is the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the lifetime of the Ford business.

Some of the features of the new Ford car

In this connection we call your particular attention to the new engine; the new pump, splash and gravity oil system; the multiple dry-disc clutch; the new pump and thermo-syphon cooling system; the new battery, coil and distributor ignition; the low center of gravity and minimum unsprung weight which combine with the hydraulic shock absorbers to make the new Ford such an easy-riding car; the irreversible steering gear, with the column and the housing of the steering gear mechanism welded into a single all-steel unit; the seamless, all-steel torque tube; the new one-piece, welded, steel-spoke wheels; the three-quarters-floating rear axle in a forged-steel housing of exceptional strength; the theft-proof coincidental lock; and the aluminum pistons which were selected after many tests because of their light weight and heat-conducting qualities.

*"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles.
We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."*

Henry Ford

Steel forgings are used throughout except, of course, for the engine castings. More steel forgings, in fact, are used in the new Ford than in almost any other car, regardless of price.

WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs. Because we own our own ore mines, coal mines and timber lands and the source of most of our raw materials. Because we make virtually every part used in the new Ford car. Because it is the Ford policy to make a small profit on a large number of cars, rather than a large profit on a small number of cars.

There is nothing like it in quality and price

No other manufacturer can possibly duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do. The public made this business possible. We believe we should share our profits with the public by continually giving greater and greater value for the money.

There are good and substantial reasons, therefore, why the new Ford car is the most unusual value ever offered in a low-price car.

By all means, learn about the new Ford on Friday when it is officially announced in this city. You will know then that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

Sleeping car service has been finally established on the Russian transcontinental railroad as the result of an agreement just made between the Russian railroads and the Wagon-Lits Co. Tickets covering both railway and sleeping-car accommodations across the Russian continent to Japan, China and Vladivostok may be purchased at the Paris office of the Wagon-Lits Co. In purchasing through tickets, however, it is necessary to allow five days to enable the company to telegraph to Moscow for the current charges on Russian railway. These charges fluctuate so frequently that it is not possible to deliver the ticket without previously telegraphing for confirmation.

MUSIC FILLS THE AIR—AND THE MILK BUCKET, TOO

Regardless of the impression that so many have concerning the efficacy of modern research, the evidence seems to warrant the belief that it is devoted for the most part to practical problems of economic interest to the human race.

German investigators recently have made available the results of a study of the amount of milk obtained from the cow under various circumstances. In the period preceding the milking of the cow, some milk collects in the udder; while the milking is taking place, additional milk is secreted rapidly by the glands.

There seems to be a tradition in Germany to the effect that the cows give more milk when the cowherds and the milkmaids sing. It was even reported that some cows would give milk only when they heard a certain song.

Concerts for Cattle

An investigator in Statten-Aystetten performed the experiment of giving concerts for the cattle in their stalls and reported that the cows were particularly susceptible to the gramophone and the violin, but paid little attention to the trumpets.

On days when the cattle heard music, the milk was increased by 6 per cent. The amount of solid material in the milk was diminished, but even under these circumstances the total amount of solids was more than on days when there was no music.

The German investigators attempted to apply these observations to human nurses in a large hospital for children. The nurses were placed in quiet surroundings and on certain days were permitted to listen to the gramophone previous to and during the nursing period.

Previous to the nursing period operatic airs were played, but during actual nursing lively tunes and marches were played.

Experiment With Humans

The results showed an increased amount of milk during the entire experimental period; that is, on the days when there was music. As soon as the nurses were removed from the experimental rooms to their own quarters, the milk supply diminished.

Although the experiment has in it many of the elements of humor, the actual evidence assembled seems to indicate the necessity for careful study and observation of the effects of emotions on glandular action.

Pictures and Charts Will Introduce New Car Friday

Photographs and descriptive charts of the new Ford car which is to succeed the famous Model T will be on display at the Northern Motor Company in Escanaba and the H. J. Norton garage in Gladstone Friday where the public will be given the complete story of the new Ford car. Later, various models of the new Ford line will be on display.

Four-wheel brakes, standard selective gear transmissions, extraordinary acceleration, a speed of sixty miles an hour and more, a practically vibrationless engine, and unusual beauty in line and color are among the outstanding features of the new Ford cars, according to the Ford Company's announcements. The generator, oiling system, steering gear and rear axle are of new design, and the 40-horse-power engine has been so designed that it runs 20 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

So far, the new cars have been examined only by those who will have charge of the first showings and demonstrations. Salesmen

Scientists Explain Abortions, Misses in Raising Foxes

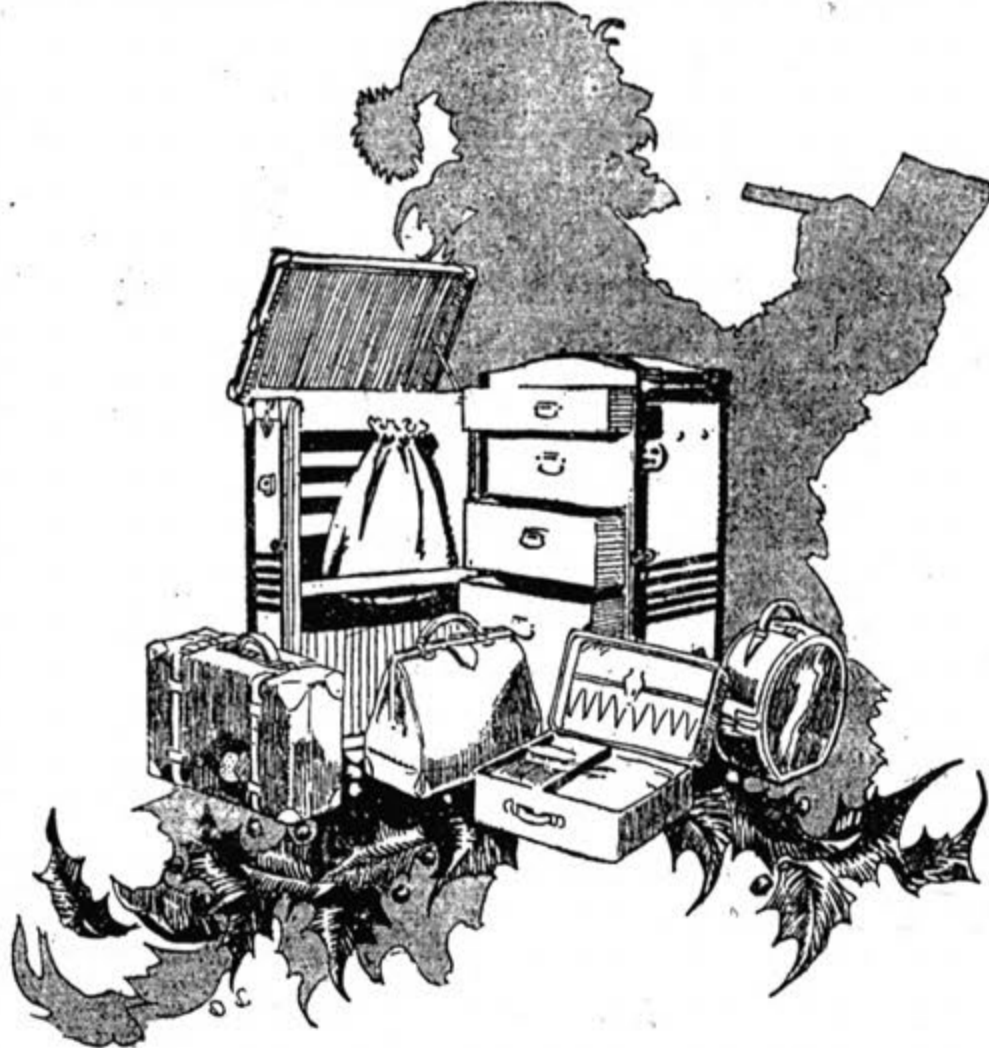

This season on some of the ranches, quite a number of abortions have taken place, and more misses, that is foxes who were known to mate not producing any litters. This matter was taken up with a number of scientists and expert fox men, and as a result have received very many opinions. Some scientists state positively that abortions are caused from either feeding milk or meat from abortive cattle, while others claim that this is not so. However, it seems that no one really knows what is positively the cause. As to misses, it has been pretty well established, that feeding has considerable to do with the matter. In some cases the foxes are over fed, and are too fat, and then again if they do not have the proper kind of feed misses will occur. One rancher says, that his theory is that because the sale of live foxes has fallen off as regards exorbitant prices, that too many of the ranchers are trying to cut the feed bill too much and as a result are feeding anything that is cheap. He states that he feels confident that both misses and abortions will come from feeding meat that is in any way spoiled, and also from lack of proper sanitation. Another rancher says, make your foxes happy and contented and it will go a long way toward increasing production.

FIND BIG DOE IN BACK SEAT OF AUTOMOBILE

Three Manistique boys were brought before Justice W. A. McKinney on complaint of Peter Bauers and George Gish, conservation officers, charged with possession of a female deer in violation of the state game law. The group included: Frank Dahms, Jr., Ronald Thibault and Russell Bunker. Each pleaded guilty, and fines of $25 and costs were levied on each of the trio. The young men were arrested Sunday night near the Big Hill on the Hiawatha road. The officers stopped to search their car, and found the entire dismembered carcass of a large doe piled in the back seat.

HUNTER FINED FOR LOOSE TAG

Failure to properly attach his license tag to a buck deer brought a fine of $50 and costs for William Dobbrastine, a lower Michigan nirod arrested in Inwood township by George Gish and Peter Bauers of the conservation department. Dobbrastine's buck was supplied with a tag which had been wrapped loosely around a leg, but not fastened with the self-seal, making it possible to remove the tag and use it again. A plea of guilty was entered before Justice W. A. McKinney, and Dobbrastine requested the officers to wire home for money to pay his fine.

ORDINANCES INTRODUCED

New Traffic Regulations Outlined in Accordance With State Law. Three new city ordinances were considered, the tie road on the South Hill was ordered closed and a number of matters of routine disposed of at the regular meeting of the Gladstone commission Monday night. The ordinances include one city traffic which formulated in accordance with the new state traffic regulations, will constitute a repeal of the present ordinance on traffic and which will make it possible for city officials to take drunken drivers under city regulations rather than under state law. The ordinance, the most important of the three is entitled, "An Ordinance to Regular the Operation and Parking of Vehicles on Highways, Prescribing the Law of the Road, to Establish School Zones and to Provide Penalties for Violation Thereof and to Repeal Conflicting Provisions." Section One of the new Ordinance gives detailed definitions of terms used; Section Two deals with drivers under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs; Section Three with reckless driving; Section Four with restrictions as to speed, naming fifteen miles an hour in business districts, twenty miles an hour in residential districts. The sections up to thirty detail other regulations in regard to driving. Sections Thirty through Thirty-three deal with the penalties for violations of sections of the ordinance. A second ordinance considered is that "to License Hawkers and Peddlers and to Provide for a Penalty for the Violation Thereof." The third is "License and Regulate the Conducting of Business by Transient Merchants and to Provide a Penalty for the Violation of this Ordinance." All three ordinances were carefully considered and discussed and laid on the table for action at a later meeting. The Road Closed. The commission passed a resolution closing the tie road on the South Hill, which has become dangerous. The tie road will be blocked and the sand road will be used as a one-way roadway for vehicles traveling down the hill from the bluff. Authorization was given for the payment to the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce of $173.96, ten per cent of the cost of litigation in defending the constitutionality of the Primary school law, in which Gladstone and Escanaba are both vitally concerned. Mayor Bushong presided at the meeting and all members of the commission were present.

"BELOVED ROGUE" ARRIVES

John Barrymore in "The Beloved Rogue," his first independent film, will be seen at the Gero theater tonight, Manager B. Gero announces. As Francois Villon, the immortal French beggar-poet, Barrymore loves 'em and leaves 'em in 15th century Paris; he plays pranks on the king and the Duke of Burgundy, leads his beggar band in routs and jousts, composes undying roundels in hovels while carousing inhabitants of the strange Court of Miracles jostle each other; he loves and loses Charlotte de Vauxcelles, and wins her at the end. Barrymore is Villon, the heart and fall breaking idol of the underworld of Paris, the crackling personality that inspired the pens of Swinburne and Robert Louis Stevenson. Conrad Veidt, the great German character actor, is King Louis XI—his first role in an American production. Marceline Day is Charlotte. The cast of experienced players supporting Barrymore includes, aside from Veidt and Miss Day, Lawson Butt, Mack Swain, Henry Victor, Lucy Beaumont, Slim Summerville, Nigel de Bruiler and Jane Winton. Beggars, courtiers and lovely ladies-in-waiting are so plentifully supplied that more than 1,500 actors are in the cast of "The Beloved Rogue." Lawrence B. Watson and Prin. C. C. Strickland at a football banquet this noon, at which Jack Blott, former Michigan star, will be the principal speaker. The banquet will be served at the Rialto building. The principal after-dinner talk will be delivered by the visiting football star, who is now on a tour of the upper peninsula. The former star, who made the All-American in 1923, and who is now assistant coach at Michigan, will come here from Manistique and will go from here to Escanaba where he will talk at the football banquet there tonight. Impromptu talks by others present will complete the program. Arrangements for the football banquet are in charge of a committee of which Robert J. Riley is chairman.

AT THE LYRIC. Manager Creten of the Lyric theatre announces that he has booked Victor Schertzinger's colorful drama of life in New York's bohemia set, "The Secret Studio," for early showing. He further states this is one of the most important films of the current season with Olive Borden, the brilliant young Fox Films star, the pivotal figure in the play. "The Secret Studio" is an adaptation of Hazel Livingston's widely-read newspaper serial and has to do principally with the activities of Rosemary Merton (Olive Borden), a New Jersey village girl who decides to give up a college career and become a wage earner in New York. In time Rosemary meets Nina Clark, a fashionable "gold-digger" who introduces her into the smart bohemia set which makes a rendezvous of the studio of Larry Kane (Ben Bard), a portrait artist on the crest of the popularity wave. Rosemary becomes a model for Kane and it is the maestro of exciting and tragic events into which she is plunged that provides the shifting panorama of the play.

When to Suspect Acid Scalp. It isn't age that dulls the hair. Nor frequent washing or curling. If your hair lacks all life and lustre, it may be due to a condition you can correct in twenty-four hours. Acid scalp. Neutralize the acid secretions of the scalp, and your hair will have the lovely sheen that makes any hair so attractive. A few drops of Danderine will do this; and as its name implies, Danderine is a scientific dandruff solvent. Five minutes after Danderine is applied, every particle of dandruff has been dissolved! Acid scalp should be suspected if your hair is at all stiff or stringy, or won't hold a wave. Another sign—not so easily detected in one's self—is an acid odor to the hair when it is warm, or after exercise. And for thirty-five cents at any drugstore, you can get a bottle of Danderine that will keep your hair soft and sweet and on its good behavior for weeks!

Correction: The article on the football banquet should have mentioned that Jack Blott is a former Michigan star.

The Discovery That Brought Peace of Mind! Corrects the Chemistry that Make One's Pores Offend. Do you know why thousands of people who never have to take a laxative, do eat a candy-cascaret now and then? They have found that cascara sweetens the whole system—brings an immensity of person that means everything. It prevents bodily chemistry from ever making one unconsciously offensive to others. And what a perfect regulator of the bowels! Salts affect the lining of the bowels. Mineral oils leave a coating that the blood must carry off through the pores. How much better to cascade the system, and cause the bowels to expel everything by normal muscular contraction! To say nothing of the cleaner, sweeter condition that lasts for days—a wholesome condition that makes the use of deodorants quite unnecessary in January or July! Men and women whose years have brought on sluggishness often find that a cascaret only once a week is all the tonic they need. Cascara is splendid for children, too, and they love the taste of this candy laxative which every drugstore has for 10c and 25c.

MARKET NEWS

BULLS FORCE PRICES HIGHER

STOCK SALES AVERAGES. Twenty Twenty Tuesday -- 181.85 149.53 Monday -- 180.28 146.44

New York, Nov. 29.—(P)—Renewal of speculative operations for the advance synchronizing with lowering of the call money rate from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent today carried the general average of industrial prices to a new high record for all time.

Although several commercial houses urged caution in the making of new commitments on the theory that a further correction of the market's technical position was likely, pools resumed their operations with confidence, acting on the theory that much of the $300,000,000 to be distributed in the form of interest this month, would find its way into the market.

Speculation was quite pronounced on the shares of companies likely to benefit from Henry Ford's business. Briggs Body advanced nearly 3 points on a turnover of 80,000 shares, on reports that the company was to construct 500,000 bodies for the new Ford models.

AUTO LICENSES ON SALE DEC. 1

Numbers on Plates to Be Sold Here Run Into Seven Figures

The 1928 automobile license plates will be placed on sale at the State Savings bank here tomorrow, C. W. Malloch, manager of the Escanaba automobile license sale branch, announced yesterday.

The 1927 application blanks should not be used in applying for the new licenses, Mr. Malloch said. These blanks can be obtained at the bank. As usual, the certificate of title must be presented by the applicant and, according to state law, it is the duty of the applicant to have the application filled out before presenting it at the branch manager's window.

The numbers on the license plates allotted to the Escanaba branch run into seven figures. The 5,000 passenger car license plates start at 1,021,401 and end at 1,026,400, while the commercial car plates are from 1,291,301 to 1,292,300.

The charge for passenger car licenses is computed at the rate of 55 cents per 100 pounds or major fraction thereof, while the license rates for commercial vehicles is computed on a graduated scale of 65 cents to $1.25 per hundred weight or major fraction thereof.

The following schedule with regard to commercial automobiles is, in effect: Up to 2,500 pounds, inclusive—65 cents. 2,501 to 4,000 pounds, inclusive—80 cents. 4,001 to 6,000 pounds, inclusive—$1.00. Over 6,000 pounds—$1.25.

Want Organization to Serve Supper

Some organization, interested in boys' activities, is needed to prepare a meal for a large group of high school lads on December 9, at a price of thirty-five cents a plate.

Boys from Gladstone, Hermansville, Menominee, Manistique and Escanaba will be present at the H-Y conference to be held here on that date. The boys will pay for their own suppers and it has been decided to limit the cost to thirty-five cents each.

Arrangements are in charge of the Orange and Black society of the high school. I. W. Soderberg is faculty advisor of the society. Any organization in the city interested in preparing the meal is asked to get in touch with Mr. Soderberg at the high school.

Saint and Sinner

Faith heard Cherry gasp, saw her extend a small hand slowly, her bright head, crowned with its rioting copper-and-gold curls, tilting upward, as if she were looking upon a man of great height.

"What you sit down?" Bob broke the tension by asking with casual cordiality. "We wrote you for two reasons—because we thought you would be uneasy about your sister, and because we have every reason to believe she has a voice worth cultivating."

"Nils! Don't be angry with me! Oh, Nils, I'm glad to see you!" Rhoda cried, tears slurring her beautiful voice.

His body filled the door which Rhoda tore open, thrusting Cherry aside. In that first glimpse of him Faith had the bewildered impression that a giant had descended upon them, that the living room, spacious though it was, was not large enough for him.

"Mrs. Hathaway, Mr. Hathaway, this is my brother, Nils!" Rhoda cried, pride making her voice vibrate like a plucked violin string.

Faith and Bob went to meet him, hands outstretched, but before they had measured their height against his, Faith had begun to feel like a pygmy. For he was at least six feet three inches tall, and big in proportion.

"I'm glad to know you. It was mighty nice of you to take care of my little sister for me." Faith almost laughed aloud. She hardly knew what she had expected from this magnificent giant who had journeyed from Minnesota at Cherry's request, but it seemed odd that ordinary words could come from a mouth like that.

"Nils! Don't be angry with me! Oh, Nils, I'm glad to see you!" Rhoda cried, tears slurring her beautiful voice.
