C & N W WOMAN'S CLUB FORMED

Chicagoans Present to Aid in Re-establishment of Organization

Wives, widows, mothers, daughters and sisters of C. & N. W. railway employes met at the Elks club Monday for two meetings, both being well attended. Mrs. Arthur M. Estes, general president of the C. & N. W. Railway Woman's club, assisted by Mrs. D. Gregg, general vice president of the ways and means committee, and Mrs. Michael O'Brien, general treasurer and chairman of the auditing committee of Chicago, came to this city to re-organize the local branch.

The forenoon session was well attended. Supt. F. R. Lloyd introduced the speakers. Mrs. Estes gave an excellent talk on the objects of the club, its rules, laws and benefits derived from being a member, and the good work done by the organization.

The afternoon attendance was away beyond the expectations of the members of the committee in charge. More than one hundred women whose husbands, fathers or sons are employed by the company attended.

Mrs. Estes is a forceful speaker with a thorough knowledge of the laws, rules and regulations of the organization, also a sympathetic understanding of conditions in some of the homes, qualifications which fit her for the position she holds, and her talk was greatly appreciated by the large audience who appeared several times during the afternoon.

Mrs. Estes told of some of the good work carried on by the club in other cities and stated that much could be done in this city with an organization of its kind, providing harmony would always be the keynote of the club. She impressed her listeners with many facts regarding help for members in case of sickness or distress and characterized the organization as one large family, working in a worthy cause.

"A railroad," she said, "does not consist of trains, engines, rolling stock and machinery. The men who are employed by the railroad company make the railroad, and the women play a major role. It is the women who put up the dinner buckets, who prepare meals for the men, who send them to their work with a smile and who greet them with a smile when they return home from their work. The women are valuable to the railroad and each one is a link in one great chain which goes to make the ensemble a fine working organization."

The C. & N. W. Railway Woman's club was organized shortly after the armistice was signed, and it originated while the C. & N. W. women were making bandages for the men in the service. The object of the club is to bring together wives, widows, dependent mothers, unmarried daughters and sisters of the company's employes and the women employees of the company for the promotion of their general welfare, the safeguarding of the home, the maintenance of good government and the rendering of aid and comfort to any employe, or member of his family, in time of need or trouble.

Stressing these facts, Mrs. Estes' message was one of sound judgment and was greatly appreciated by the audience who left for their homes greatly enthused and with firm resolutions to work in a body in this newly re-organized order.

Officers Elected.
Mrs. D. Gregg gave an interesting talk which was followed by a short talk by Mrs. Michael O'Brien. Others who spoke included Mrs. George Weade, Chicago; Mrs. H. Hagaman, past president of the G. I. A.; Mrs. L. L. Long, president of the Missouri Valley club; Mrs. J. J. Eggen, president of the Green Bay C. & N. W. Woman's club.

The following were elected to fill the offices until June when the general election will be held:

Vice President of Mutual Service—Mrs. R. R. Finley.

Sneezing Powder Stops Performance
Berlin—Sneezing powder proved the undoing of a theater cast at Weissfeld recently.
During a performance of the operetta, "Liebtrauenmilch," at the local civic theater, young mischief makers threw boxes containing sneezing powder against the curtain.
The effect proved disastrous: the actors had to sneeze so violently that they were unable to sing or speak a word. The show had to be interrupted.
When the chimney catches fire it can be stopped by closing all doors and windows; in the case of an open fireplace, a wet blanket held in front of the opening will stop the draught.

North Star Meeting— A special meeting of the members of the North Star society will be held in the North Star hall tonight. The subject of the building will be discussed and a large attendance is desired. All who are interested are urged to be present.

While feminine fashions have a bit the best of it today, we find, as we delve into history, that styles in men's wear have an interesting background of romance and tradition.

Consider the suspender in its drab usefulness, and then consider the immoral influences ascribed to it back in 1760 when a sober-faced delegation of Pennsylvania Quakers called on the Rev. Talbot to remonstrate with him for keeping his breeches in place with tape crossed over his shoulders, instead of by the drawstr prescribed by public decency and moral history, and remember of "we is not only a clear view of styles, but a peer just a future.

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

At that moment Swacker came in and whispered something to Heath. The sergeant rose with alacrity and followed the secretary out of the room.

Almost at once he returned, bearing a bulging Manila folder. Handing it to Markham, he said something in a low voice inaudible to the rest of us.

"I'll have to ask you to wait in the reception-room for a few minutes. Another urgent matter has just arisen." Cleaver went out without a word, and Markham opened the folder.

"I don't like this sort of thing, Sergeant. I told you so yesterday when you suggested it." "I understand, sir," Heath felt, was not an onerous task.

Markham did not argue the point. With a gesture of distaste he began running through the letters, looking particularly at the dates.

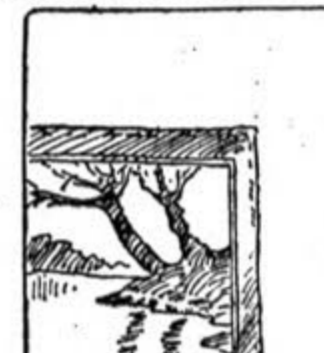

Two photographs he put back after a cursory glance; and one piece of paper, which appeared to contain a pen-and-ink sketch of some kind, he tore up with disgust and threw into the waste-basket.

"Not exactly," said Cleaver easily. "It was early in the month, though—during the first week, I think." Markham now spun about and pointed to the three letters he had segregated.

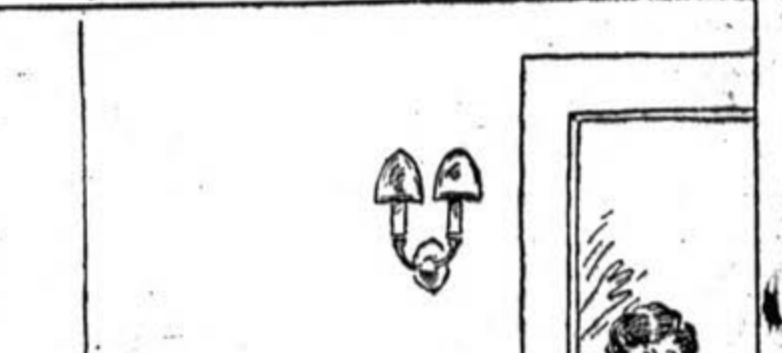

"How, then, do you happen to have in your possession compromising letters which you wrote to Miss Odell from the Adirondacks late in July?" Cleaver's self-control was perfect.

"I see," Cleaver laughed harshly. "Very well. The fact is, I—though I frankly don't expect you to believe me—I didn't pay my blackmail to Miss Odell until the middle of August, about three weeks ago. That's when all my letters were returned, I told you it was June in order to set back the date as far as possible.

DEATH TAKES J. A. SUNDQUIST

Ruptured Appendix Fatal to Prominent Bark River Man

John Alfred Sundquist, prominent farmer of Bark River, passed away late Sunday afternoon at a local hospital where he was taken Thursday suffering with ruptured appendix. His condition was critical when he was admitted and very little hope was held for his recovery.

Mr. Sundquist was born in Varmland, Sweden, May 18, 1877, and came to this country in 1890. He made his home in Escanaba for thirteen years and settled on a farm at Bark River, twenty-five years ago. He was highly respected among the residents of that village and was considered one of the most prosperous farmers in that vicinity. His death came as a severe shock to a wide circle of friends.

FINNS' ORIGIN IS EXPLAINED

Finnish people should be classified as of the Nordic race, and not the Mongolian, according to Rev. Hugo Hillia, well-known pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church of Jephreming.

In a talk given recently before the Town club at Jephreming, Reverend Hillia made the following comments on the subject: "As we know, Finns have been classified in the past as a branch of the Mongolian race, and even now our text-books perpetuate that teaching. Latest editions of the Western's new international dictionary has this to say about the Finns: 'Ethnologically a member of a race formerly held to be of Mongolian origin, but now held by many to be Caucasians closely related to the Teutons. Typically they are tall, dolichocephalic or mesocephalic (in skull formation long-headed like the Caucasians) and of a red-blond complexion. Cf. Nordic race.'

Thorough Study. "Finnish scientists have made a thorough study of this subject since the year 1831, when Finnish Literary society was established, and as a compilation of the data so obtained, Prof. U. T. Sirellus wrote in 1925 a booklet in English, 'The Genealogy of the Finns,' published by the government printing office, Helsinki. He says in part: 'No scientific lecture made by the famous Finnish philologist, M. A. Castron (1813-1852) among others, that the Finno-Ugric languages might be related to the Mongolic or Turko-Tataric. More adherents have been gained for the view which supposes a relationship between the Finno-Ugric (Finnish-Hungarian) and the Indo-Germanic groups, in view of certain ancient common roots. Neither is there any conclusive proof of the assertion that the Finno-Ugrians are physically related to the Mongolians. When these peoples are compared, one difference immediately strikes the inquirer, namely that the Finno-Ugrians lack the Mongolian eye wrinkle. The cephalic index (skull measurements) of the Finno-Ugrians is 78.3, but that of the Mongolians is 84.55-87, and there are also differences in the position of cheekbones, color of skin, etc.'

Light Hair, Blue Eyes. "Even in the interior of Finland, where intermarriage with the Swedes and other peoples has not caused racial changes, the majority are light haired and blue eyed. "About Lapps Professor Sirellus says: 'It is thought that they have lost their original language and adopted the Finno-Ugric tongue. They differ from the Finns in numerous anthropologically important physical features, such as certain characteristics of the teeth and the skull. The average height of the Finns is 170.9 centimeters, and in some localities as much as 172.4, ranking them among the tallest peoples of Europe' while the average of the Lapps is only 158.9 centimeters. "The supposed relationship of the Finno-Ugric peoples with the Mongolians was based solely upon linguistic, and not racial grounds, but even the languages of the two groups have nothing in common, so this now obsolete hypothesis is being wiped out of our reference and text books, as it rightfully, in the name of scientific truth, should be."

BEATING OLD MAN PAR
 If any specific reason be required to explain why Macdonald Smith has been the outstanding golfer of the winter campaign, the fact that he has been giving Old Man Par a consistent drubbing should be satisfactory enough.
 You can't get around par figures. They might not be good enough to win every time, but they are good enough to make the other fellow wonder how the heck he can beat them. And they don't get beaten so often.
 Mac Smith, by his success in California and the southwest will be worth watching in the big summer tournaments. The other members of the golfing clan know this and are uneasy.
 He has been hammering away long for an open title, but so far has been unsuccessful at every turn. He may get it this summer, especially if he continues to roll out par figures as regular as clockwork.
 Smith has shown golfers no less every requisite for greatness. Time and again he has shown courage, headwork and technique in his game. Perhaps this is his year.

Awarded the Crown:
 Knute Rockne having been established as the greatest developer of football coaches in this country, the Oklahoma Aggies are eager to impress the fact that their wrestling coach is the greatest developer of wrestling coaches.
 Of course, there is no reason to doubt the statement of the Oklahomaans, and no one will. So one takes for granted that E. C. Gallagher, the Aggies' wrestling coach holds the same position to wrestling that Rockne holds to football.
 Among the coaches who owe their present success to the training received from Coach Gallagher are Lookabough at Kansas, Stuttele at Illinois, Patterson at Kansas State, Cliff Keen at Michigan, Paul Keen at Oklahoma, Bowman at Kemper, and Voyles at Illinois.
 That, however, is only a beginning. There are about 15 athletes trained by Gallagher who are wrestling coaches at prep schools scattered about.

 Gallagher, to be frank, has turned out some of the greatest collegiate wrestling teams in the country and his grapplers annually have played a prominent part in national meets.
Hard Job for Riddle
 It is no easy task "Doc" Riddle, one of the most prominent trainers of race horses, faces in keeping Justice F. in condition for the coming Cofroth handicap.
 Justice F., you remember easily won the recent New Orleans handicap, stepping away from the other entries to take away the $50,000 purse.
 When Justice F. won the open-favorite for the job at this time. He played in 38 games for the Senators last summer and compiled a batting average of .259.

Tough Luck Victim.
 It might be said that tough luck has hovered about West for the past two seasons.
 About mid-season of 1926, while hitting away at a .340 clip and leading the southern organization with 16 homers, he was hit in the head by a pitched ball and forced out for the rest of the season. For a time it was thought his baseball career was over.
 Last year he was troubled with a bad leg. Despite that, he took part in 38 games, batted .239 and showed prospects of proving a good outfielder.
 He has the inside track on the job, and Griffith and Harris are very sweet on Gansel, another Southern League graduate, who in a few more than a dozen games last fall did some very healthy clouting.
 It must be remembered, however, that the pitching in the fall end of the season is not as good as it is in the days before the pennant winner is about decided, and Gansel will have to repeat his hitting this spring if he wants the job.
 Gansel is related to John Gansel, who played several years ago with several big league clubs. He had a very good season in the minors last year and showed considerable promise.

This May Happen.
 It is no great secret that center field is a very important position for any club and that the Washington field is a sun field and a very difficult one to play.
 For that reason it may turn out that Rice or Goslin will be shifted to the middle sector by the Senator bosses and one of the youngsters be given the right field position.
 Perhaps these two veterans will take charge of left and center field for the Senators, although either Gansel or West may so impress Harris at spring training that they will be given the job to have and to hold until they show they are incapable of calling it all their own.
 This is not worrying the Senators as much as some folks might believe the departure of Speaker should worry them. In fact, one might almost believe that Speaker won't be missed so very much by the Senators.
 If Gansel or West should approach the degree of play believed capable of them, the Washington club will have one of the best all-around outfielders in the league. Both of these young men are fast, good hitters, and clever.

Roughhouse Gang Beats Psalmsingers, 20-13; Meets Press in Finals

The North Escanaba Roughhouse Gang stepped into the finals of the City Amateur Basketball League last night by disposing of the Swedish Methodist Psalmsingers, 20 to 13, at the high school gym.
 The Gang will meet the Daily Press Typesingers at the high school gym Thursday night to decide the city league championship. The Typesingers, who were in the three-cornered tie with the Psalmsingers and the Gang, drew a bye. All three teams had completed their eight scheduled games with all victories and no defeats.
 At the game last night, the Psalmsingers nabbed the lead, but were unable to hold it, the first period ending in a 3-all tie. With the opening of the second period, the North Town cyclone broke loose. The Gang netted nine points during this quarter while the Psalmsingers had to be satisfied with three. The half ended with the score 12 to 6 in favor of the Roughhousers.
 During the third period, the Psalmsingers attempted a comeback, netting 7 points, their last for the game, but were unable to hold the pace. The Roughhousers added four points to their total during this period.
 In the closing frame, the Psalmsingers were held scoreless, while the Gang added four more

New Jersey Board Seeking Changes in Boxing Rules

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 27.—(P)—The so-called Altman assembly bill to permit decisions in boxing matches and 15-round bouts instead of 12, both at the discretion of the state athletic commission, was passed in the senate tonight. The measure requires signature of the governor or a majority vote over possible veto to become law.

Mello's hard right to the stomach when the round was 45 seconds old, landed low, and the westerner went to the canvas in great pain. Referee Brassill then awarded the fight to Hudkins.

531 men in the Sun Shipyards relieve muscle lameness this way

IT'S A REAL man's job—the work of the men on the ways in the big shipyards. It takes all the strength—the skill—the courage a man's got.
 How do men who do this heavy work relieve the effects of strain and exposure? How do they treat the occasional minor injuries that are bound to occur?
 We made a canvass among the workers in the yards of the Sun Shipbuilding Company of Chester, Pa., one of the largest shipbuilding concerns in this country.
 531 told us, "We use Sloan's."

Miners, steel workers, policemen, firemen, stevedores, farmers—all who do hard muscular work know Sloan's. It is the liniment that always kills the aches that come from exposure to cold and wet, from heavy lifting—from strains, sprains and wrenched muscles.
Workers in every trade praise Sloan's
 Read what this garage worker writes: "One night when I came in from my work my left leg pained me and the next morning it was swollen up and worried me when walking. I applied Sloan's Liniment to it that night and the pain nearly all left, but the swelling was still there so I applied it again and the next day the swelling was all gone. For aches and pains I find nothing to beat Sloan's Liniment. I keep a bottle in the garage where I work."
 T. E. Jacob, 1213 Reynolds St., Shreveport, La.
 Sloan's Liniment is pleasant and clean to use. You don't even have to rub it in. Just pat it on gently. At once you feel a tide of fresh, healing blood rush to the aching spot. Sloan's heals by helping nature. It isn't a drug—it is absolutely safe and cannot harm anyone. Keep a bottle always in the house. All druggists—35 cents. Use it for:

 Sciatica Stiff neck

CHILLY WEATHER HALTS PRACTICE

Major League Training Activities Hampered

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Belated visits of winter's rain and chills have a damper over major league training activities today in Florida baseball camps, either hampering or preventing customary workouts for a majority of the squads.

Most of the ten managers now on the scene seized the opportunity for brief workouts between drizzles before calling it a day. Those hit hardest by the inclement weather were the Washington Senators at Tampa, the Boston Nationals at St. Petersburg, the Brooklyn Robins at Clearwater, the Philadelphia Nationals at Winterhaven and the Red Sox at Bradenton.

Although skies were overcast and a chilly breeze whipped across the Gulf of Mexico the Yankees were in uniform at St. Petersburg for a short time this morning. Lou Gehrig was among the lot, but Babe Ruth was not on the field, having announced that he would avoid baseball all this week in favor of golf. Already appearing in excellent condition, only a few pounds overweight, Ruth has obtained Miller Huggins' permission to delay his training until all regulars have reported.

The Robins also were handicapped in their opening work at Clearwater, abandoning the morning session. Wilbur Robinson, herded his squad of 16 batters on the field for a short session during the afternoon.

"Bubbles" Hargrave, Cincinnati catcher, and Captain of the Redlegs, helped Manager Hendricks round up his squad at Orlando.

At Tampa, the Senators had just opened their workout when rain sent them hurrying to hotel quarters. The St. Louis Cardinals, however, had fine weather at Avon Park.

Dan Howley of the St. Louis Browns, training at West Palm Beach, declared today that his squad had not suffered a sore arm since the conditioning started. He attributed this to one workout a day.

Lou Blue and Heinie Manush, former Tigers, donned Brown uniforms for the first time today.

At St. Petersburg, only five members of the Brave squad are missing, all are expected daily. The Cleveland Indians worked out at New Orleans during the day, despite the cool weather.

The Chicago Americans are expected to leave for Shreveport tomorrow.

MILLER HUGGINS SAYS: Many fans are wondering why the New York club purchased Lary and Reese and have been making overtures for another first baseman, when in Gehrig we have the premier player at that position in the major leagues.

In buying Lary and Reese for 1929 delivery, we are looking into the future. True, there is little chance of either of these players displacing Lazzari or Koenig; yet both of these players are only human and, therefore, susceptible to injuries and illness. We are protecting ourselves for any emergency that may present itself.

Within two years we must develop a new third baseman. Joe Dugan cannot hope to go on forever. It is just possible that either Lary or Reese may be shifted to third base and acceptably fill the vacancy when Dugan passes out.

First base is the one position at which the New York club is not fortified, other than by Gehrig. An injury to him would place the Yankees in a rather unfortunate position. We have several players who could fill in for a short space of time, but there is no one on whom I could bank to play the position regularly.

Although we hope Gehrig plays every inning of every game, we would like to have a capable understudy. True, the Yankees are a pretty strong aggregation, but any move that will make the club more formidable is always advisable.

Mr. Edward Barrow of the New York team is at odds with Mr. Urban Shocker. Mr. Shocker is taking up the merchandising of neurodynes and that ilk. This is a strange situation, inasmuch as few followers of the national diversion have abandoned it while still able to crawl about the field of action.

KNOW SPORTS

What is Gene Tunney's record since he entered the ring as a professional? Which world series in baseball has been most remunerative to the players? Gene Tunney has scored 30 knockouts, won 15 decisions, fought 14 no-decision contests and lost once, the latter to Harry Greb in 15 rounds in 1923.

The 1927 world series, while the total receipts were smaller because of the shortened series, was most profitable to the players. The Yankees split 27 full shares of $5,702.25 each, while each member of the Pirates received $3,885.48.
