LEADERS SEE DEADLOCK IN G.O.P. RANKS

"DRAFT" FACTION PLAYS WAITING GAME

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—The rift in the ranks of western senators over farm relief stood out in bolder relief today when Senator Brookhart of Iowa, one of the independent Republicans, launched his expected offensive against the McNary-Haugen bill and put forward as a substitute a government subsidiary bill of his own.

Senator Brookhart and Senator Mayfield, Democrat of Texas, a proponent of the McNary-Haugen measure, were the only speakers of the day, the agriculture measure giving way during the afternoon to the pending District of Columbia appropriation bill.

Mayfield declared the proposal would go a long way toward putting the farmer on a permanent stable basis; Brookhart contended it was inadequate and would fall in its purpose.

The Iowa advocate of his measure which would have the treasury bear the cost of marketing surplus crops up to a limit of $600,000,000. This limit, he said, equaled the subsidy given by the government to railroads after they were returned to private ownership. In fact, he declared that if the government went as far for the farmer as it had for the railroads since 1920, it would pay out $2,000,000,000.

Brookhart would establish a farm board, nominated by farm organizations, with power to fix a price for products when surplus arose. He would have this price based on cost of production plus a return of five per cent to the farmers on capital invested.

His bill does not include the controversial equalization fee provision and Senator Brookhart made it clear that he had no sympathy toward this feature of the McNary-Haugen bill, which also is opposed by President Coolidge. He branded the fee as "unsafe and unsound."

Mayfield, on the other hand, defended it, declaring it had been grossly misrepresented and differing with the low in his contention that it would prove unpopular among cotton producers. The Texas senator declared the bill afforded adequate machinery for stabilization of cotton prices.

Brookhart called attention that the proposal of the McNary-Haugen bill to give farmers and farm organizations loans from a government fund of $500,000,000 had proven unsatisfactory in principle through the operation of the war finance corporation and government land banks.

Explaining his change of attitude on the McNary-Haugen measure, the Iowa declared that the pending bill differed radically from its predecessors and that he had "learned to love" the original one.

Celebration of Jewish Passover Feast at Sundown

The celebration of Passover, the Jewish Feast of Emancipation, will begin with sundown today. It is ushered in with an elaborate dinner, unsurpassed in beauty of symbolism, known in Hebrew as the "Seder," and it is celebrated for full seven days, during which period only unleavened bread is to be eaten. This festival ranks as one of the most significant holidays in Jewish life. The idea of freedom upon which it is founded constitutes one of the basic principles in Judaism, and the basic cause for which mankind fought these many centuries.

The feast of Passover has a twofold background. The remote origin of it dates back to the time when the ancestors of the Jewish people dwelt in Palestine and occupied themselves with agriculture primarily. To them the advent of spring marked the most joyous period of the year. Then was the barley harvest reaped, and its first fruits were brought to Jerusalem and offered at the Temple with great joy and singing. Hence, Passover was instituted as a nature festival to celebrate the arrival of spring.

But with the flight of time, this agricultural background of Passover was almost entirely lost. And with this loss came the emphasis that Passover marks the anniversary of the deliverance of the Jewish people from Egyptian bondage—an episode in Jewish history which wielded a tremendous influence upon on the progress of mankind at large.

Over three thousand years ago a great number of Jews dwelt in Egypt, and were made slaves to the mighty Pharaohs. Their life grew bitter from day to day with heavy toil and suffering. By their sweat they built the mighty cities of Pithom and Rameses. Palaces and pyramids they wrought by the toll of their hands. And all this physical slavery, likewise, signified the extent of their spiritual slavery.

But at that time of mortal bitterness was Moses born. From his youth he championed the cause of righteousness and fought for the rule of justice in a land based upon slavery and idolatry. He beheld the affliction of his people, and his sense of righteousness was stung to the core. He rose up, and with prophetic fire he thundered to all Egypt. Charged with this holy ideal, he finally cowed the mighty Pharaoh into submission. And on the fourteenth of Nisan, he led the Jewish people out of the gates of Egypt, so that the children of Israel might serve God and become a holy people unto God in the eyes of the whole world.

As reminiscent of this historic epic, the Jewish people cite this event every year to their families and children. For out of this story, of Exodus mankind draws its strength and inspiration in its eternal struggle against slavery and tyranny. And by celebrating this feast of Passover, Jewry the world over raises its cry against the oppression and spiritual slavery current in many lands today.

FALL'S TESTIMONY.

The testimony of Albert B. Fall, implicating Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, former Senator Irving I. Lenroot of Wisconsin, and a "former cabinet officer now in Europe" as his advisors in the ranch-oil-bond transactions, will carry little weight with the public.

Mr. Fall's story, related in his own home under the protection of physicians, does not explain his protracted silence, his frantic resorting to all sorts of legal technicalities to bring about delays in his trial, and many other angles and ramifications of the dealings with Edward Doheny, E. B. McLean, Harry Sinclair and others.

One wonders, however, whether "the former cabinet officer now in Europe" will suffer a physical collapse over there which will make it impossible for him to take an ocean voyage.

MEN STILL HAVE PISTS.

The pioneers Had hairy ears, They did not stop at trifles— So runs the ancient song, telling of the amazing he-manness of our two-fisted predecessors in the American wilds.

We delight in reading and hearing of the exploits of men harder than ourselves. In this age, when the greatest peril the average man faces is the danger of being sideswiped by a rival motorist in heavy traffic, and when the height of discomfort is represented by an unexpected failure of the electric lights on a festive evening, it is stimulating to consider the prowess of the pioneers.

GIRL ALONE

CHAPTER XV While Ross Willis, awkward and embarrassed, shuffled to the canvas chair with the speller, whisked forward, Sally reflected that there was no need for her to remember any of the multitudinous instructions with which Mrs. Bybee had primed for her job of "sestress."

"Yes'm I mean, sure, Princess," Ross Willis stuttered, and the crowd laughed, pressed closer still. Two or three women waved quarters to attract the attention of Gus the speller, who stood behind her, to aid her if necessary.

"You are—what you call it?—a farmer," Sally went on in her seductively deepened voice. Oh, it was fun to "play-act" and to be paid for it!

"You marry with these girls, have three var-y nice childs, all right on delightedly. After all, why shouldn't Pearl marry Ross Willis, since she could not have David? 'Zo! That sees all I see, I see a girl-ri, a beeg, pretty girl-ri with red hair an' blue eyes. Ees it not zo?" Her little low laugh was a gurgle, which started a shout of laughter in the crowd.

When she reached the tent door, the Barker leaned down from his booth, behind which was set a small platform, and beckoned her to mount the narrow steps of her to mount the narrow steps of her to mount the narrow steps of her.

"The next seeker after knowledge of 'past, present and future' was not so easy, but not very hard either, for the applicant was a girl, a pretty, very urban-looking girl, who wore a tiny solitaire ring on her engagement finger and who had been clinging to the arm of an obviously adoring young man.

Quarters were thrust upon her thick and fast. Because of the brisk demand for her briefcase of "readings," and that it was a winter of a middle-aged farmer she gave a bumper wheat crop, a new eight-cylinder car, a prospective in-law for the girl whom Sally had unerringly picked out as his unmarried daughter, and the promise of many splendid grandchildren.

Some of her prophecies, such as twin babies for the newly married couple, brought shouts of laughter from the crowd, and of the past went very wide of the mark, as the applicants did not hesitate to tell her—the old maid, for instance, who looked so motherly that Sally lavishly endowed her with a husband and three children.

GIANTS CLAIM HURLING FIND IN BILL WALKER

New York—One of the best left-handed pitchers to stray across the paths of John McGraw in recent years is Bill Walker, the $25,000 beauty from Denver. Walker may make the grade as a regular hurler for the Giants this season, but if he doesn't he will in a year or two. Travis Jackson, Giants' captain and shortstop, is one of Walker's most enthusiastic boosters. "That kid will make a great pitcher one of these days," he says. "He has a real fast ball, a good curve, and is working on a slow ball now. He'll win plenty of games before he gets through as a pitcher or I'm all wet."

LOANS CUT OFF MART ADVANCE

Airplane Stocks Feature in "Bull" Movement

New York, April 3—(P)—Wall Street's celebration over the resumption of the "bull" market on the New York Stock Exchange today, which was featured by the creation of new altitude records by the airplane stocks, was suddenly cut short after the close by the announcement of an unexpected increase of $317,535,353 in stock exchange member loans, bringing the total to a new high record of $4,401,174,172 on March 31.

The gain in loans was about twice as large as most earlier estimates and its probable effect on the market tomorrow overshadowed every other interest in the financial district tonight. The weekly loan statement by the New York Federal Reserve bank had showed a gain of only about $120,000,000 in the four weeks of March, indicating that large loans had been placed either outside the federal reserve district or through banks or corporations the loan figures of which do not appear in the New York Federal reserve totals.

Wright Aeronautical corporation's common stock was the sensational feature in today's market, soaring $32 a share to a new high record at $132, as against a low of $69 earlier in the year. Wall Street had several theories to explain the rise, including the existence of a "technical corner," open market buying for control and a widespread public demand based on the reported receipt of new government contracts.

Radio, Motors in Background. Curtiss Aeroplans was not far behind, climbing more than $25 a share to a new top at $92, but slipping back to $85 on profit-taking. Packard Motors, which is also engaged in the manufacture of airplane engines, was marked up more than $5 a share to a new high record at $72.50.

Radio and General Motors, which have divided leadership of the market since the present "boom" started more than a month ago, were shunted into the background today although both scored moderate gains. Radio closed $3 a share higher at $190 after touching $195.75 and General Motors showed a net gain of $1.75 at $185 after having sold as high as $187.

Reviving activity and strength of the railroad shares, particularly those of roads in the eastern district, was accompanied by reports of a decision by eastern executives on the trunk line consolidation plan which has long been in a deadlock. Reports were persistent that L. F. Loree had agreed to abandon his

WATCH THE CHILD FOR INTESTINAL SYMPTOMS

Dr. Reginald Miller of a famous children's hospital in London has developed a classification for a group of sick children whom he calls "intestinal children."

He writes cleverly in classifying his group, saying that such a child brings to its parents little satisfaction and no credit, for its appearance suggests exhaustion from spell of debauchery, and its deportment is frankly impossible.

Sins of the Children

In these days when the sins of the children are visited upon the fathers unto the third and fourth generation, the parents of the intestinal child are little to be envied.

Children who suffer from chronic absorption of poisonous material from their bowels are unhealthy and unhappy. They have bad complexions, their eyes are dark-ringed and the lids heavy, the tongue is coated and the breath has a foul odor.

Such a child is without appetite, usually feverishly active, it sleeps badly and has bad dreams, frequently perspires freely at night. Such children also suffer with pervasions of appetite, such as dirt eating and gnawing of the bed clothes.

Occasionally chronic irritation from absorption of poisonous material is associated with neurotic symptoms in the form of restlessness, irritability, cantankerousness and ill-humor. It is remarkable that when the condition is properly cared for in these cases the child begins to improve, develops an appetite, sleeps ambitious plan for a fifth trunk line and work with other executives for the concentration of the eastern roads in four large systems. For this action Mr. Loree has been offered the chairmanship of the Nickel Plate.

The plan, which is expected to come before the executives at a meeting next Friday, assigns the Lackawanna to the New York Central. The Baltimore & Ohio is to be given the lines of Wabash east of the Mississippi river, and the Reading.

Chicago Grand Jury May Be Called Upon to Protect Voters

Chicago, Apr. 3.—(P)—Federal authorities tonight maintained the upper hand over Chicago police in a clash over efforts by federal agents to clear up the turbulent atmosphere before the primary election of next Tuesday and make preparations to avert violence at the polls but did not think or act quickly enough to prevent outbreaks during an election in the suburban municipality of Cicero.

In that city, several Democratic poll workers were slugged by persons said to be aligned with "Scarface Al" Capone, who has been a leading beer baron around Chicago ever since he came west from New York City. Some of those attacked even averred that Capone himself dashed through the streets of Cicero to see that the election went to suit him. The candidate supported by Capone won handily, Joseph Z. Kienha, Republican, winning the election by a wide wide margin.

While the ballots dropped and black jacks fell on the scoundrels of several political workers in Cicero, Federal Judge Wilkerson was instructing a new federal grand jury at the suggestion of District Attorney Johnson, on its duties in assuring citizens of freedom from intimidation and disfranchisement at next Tuesday's primary.

Chicago, April 3.—(P)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today swore in the April grand jury with instructions indicating it would be called upon by the federal government to take steps in protecting the voters at the April 10 state-wide primary. It was the first such charge by a judge here. Judge Wilkerson read the federal code showing that the jury could act in cases of intimidation or conspiracy against preventing a citizen from exercising his right of suffrage.

The small daughter of Richard Flath, manager of the Coliseum, whom Bloom was carrying, was only shaken up.

Servant was driving east on First avenue at a slow rate of speed and Bloom, carrying the small child, was proceeding north on Ninth street. He stepped into the path of the oncoming car, not noticing its approach.

Bloom will be confined to the hospital for several days.

Here's the Inside Story of How the Affiliated Stores Buy Clothing.

When the foremost mills of the country announce the opening of any new lines of woolsens, they are shown immediately to the clothing buyers of the Affiliated Stores.

The best patterns are selected and a bona fide order is placed with the woolen company for three hundred pieces of goods. An order such as this in advance of their regular selling season, warrants a saving in the price of the material alone, of $2.00 to $3.00 per suit, in addition to receiving patterns months ahead of any other stores.

This woolen goods is then given to a tailoring company who are known for their fine workmanship. Due to the fact they are anxious to keep their factory working during quiet months of the season, they do this work at actual cost. There are no selling costs, no overhead attached. The savings on the trim, cut, and making of a suit of clothes by this method is from $5.00 to $8.00 per suit. This assures the clothing buyer of obtaining the newest styles in fine made clothing at a saving of $10.00 per garment.

As the old saying goes, "the eye is quicker than the ear", careful examination of these suits will quickly convince you what our affiliation with one hundred and ninety-six stores means to the clothing buyers of this community.
