Receive No Word of Bremen Since Leaving Ireland

GERMAN PLANE OVERDUE ON NON-STOP HOP FROM BALDONNEL FIELD, IRISH FREE STATE, TO NEW YORK

New York, Friday, April 13—(AP)—A chill pall of silence enveloped the fate of the Junker plane Bremen and her crew of three at the beginning of the second day since she took off from Baldonnel Field, Ireland.

St. Johns, N. F., April 12—(AP)—Midnight, Atlantic time, 10:30 P. M. Eastern standard time, brought no word of the German trans-Atlantic fliers from the light houses, wireless stations and telegraph stations along the coast tonight.

(By The Associated Press) Fair weather was forecast for early today at the western end of the long route the German monoplane Bremen, bound for "Mitchel field or heaven," traveled if all went well with the big ship during the night.

The fact that the Bremen had not been reported since it cleared the west coast of Ireland two hours after the takeoff, caused no anxiety at the Baldonnel field.

James H. Kimball, of the U. S. weather bureau, said there had been no developments during the night to alter his earlier forecast that the plane would strike considerable wind resistance on the last few hundred miles of the trip.

Senators Mistake Bill. Before coming to the final vote on the bill itself, the senate rejected, 64 to 5, a substitute by Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, which would have provided for a direct government subsidy up to $600,000 to meet losses incurred by farmers in marketing their surplus crops.

NEARLY CRASH. Baldonnel, Irish Free State, Apr. 12—(AP)—After courting catastrophe by a delayed take-off, the German-Irish venture to conquer the Atlantic from east to west had an auspicious start from Baldonnel field at 5:35 a. m. on this morning (12:38 a. m. Eastern Standard time), and if all goes well, the silvered wings of the big Junkers monoplane Bremen, carrying three men, should be sighted in from 20 to 24 hours flying down the American coast toward New York from Newfoundland or Nova Scotia.

JUNKERS PLANE MET FATE OF THREE OTHERS?

The Bremen, German trans-Atlantic airplane, carrying Captain Hermann Koehl, German ace, Baron Gunther von Huenefeld, backer of the flight, and Col. James Fitzmaurice, Irish air hero, on its long journey from Ireland to Mitchell Field, New York, had not been heard from early this morning since two hours after taking off from the Irish field.

Government May End Case in Sinclair Trial Today

FIRST SESSION OF MEET HELD Michigan Safety Congress Opens at Lansing Yesterday

Lansing, Apr. 12—(AP)—Traffic violations and the accompanying toll of injuries, fatalities and property damage were pictured as the gravest problem of enforcing officers by speakers before today's session of the Michigan Safety Congress.

Frank E. Kistler, of Denver, Colo., chairman of the board of the Producers and Refiners Co., who was summoned as a government witness, failed to appear on account of illness. His testimony prior to the mistrial of the Fall-Sinclair case last October was read to the jury.

Facilities Were Inadequate. Amos Beatty, president of the Texas company in 1922; John C. Shaffer, former Governor R. B. Brooks, of Wyoming; Birch Brooks, in 1922 vice president of the Texas-Pacific Coal and Oil Co., and Leslie A. Miller, Cheyenne, Wyo., oil operator, all testified to efforts made to obtain information from Secretary Fall or his office regarding the possibility of leasing Teapot Dome.

Talk Directed at Police. James E. Sinke, Grand Rapids police commissioner, declared physical disability is responsible for most accidents. He urged statewide education and enforcement. Automobiles do property damage estimated at $10,000,000 a year, he said.

Northampton, Mass., Apr. 12—(AP)—Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the president, left for Washington at 7:25 o'clock tonight, ending the third visit she has made here since last January to see her aged mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, who is ill at the Dickinson hospital.

10 WITNESSES PLACED ON STAND YESTERDAY

Washington, Apr. 12—(AP)—Accelerating its previous rapid pace, the government took testimony from ten witnesses and read the previous testimony from three others today as it turned into the home stretch of its case against Harry F. Sinclair on the charge that he conspired with Albert B. Fall to lease Teapot Dome.

Owen J. Roberts, special counsel, then announced that tomorrow might see the wind up of the prosecution, with a likelihood that the defense would begin by Monday. While the central theme today dealt with the alleged secrecy which shrouded the Teapot Dome negotiations, testimony tomorrow is expected to take up Fall's famous Russian trip as Sinclair's agent.

HOUSE GETS MEASURE TO AID FARMERS

STILL CONTAINS FEATURES OPPOSED BY COOLIDGE

Washington, Apr. 12—(AP)—With the tax reduction bill still at committee hearings stage in the senate, a move was made in the house today to strengthen its stand against any revision of its $290,000,000 measure which the senate might make in favor of the $201,000,000 plan of Secretary Mellon.

Representative Garner of Texas, leader of the Democratic forces in tax matters, obtained an agreement from Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee on the floor of the house that he would have the house vote on any major change in the bill which the senate might make. This vote would be taken prior to acceptance by conferees of the senate and house of any major change in the house bill.

THOMPSON'S BOOM FOR COOLIDGE NIPPED

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1928, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, April 12.—Although the issues in Illinois were actually local, there is no doubt that the defeat of Mayor Thompson will have a significance in national politics.

It means for one thing, that the republican delegation to the national convention in Kansas City will be for Governor Thompson first and second for Vice-President Dawes, depending upon which favorite son develops the greater strength in other states of the union.

The fact that Mayor Thompson attached himself to the "draft Coolidge" movement will not affect that activity in other states inasmuch as the effort of the Chicago mayor was palpably to corral votes from strong Coolidge supporters.

ED HOLMES, 47, ENSIGN, KILLED

Section Hand Struck by Soo Line Passenger Train No. 86

Ensign, Mich., Apr. 12 (Special)—Ed Holmes, 47, section hand, received fatal injuries when struck by Soo Line train No. 86 as the train was coming into the Ensign station at 8 o'clock this morning. He died at a Manistiquette hospital about 5:30 this evening.

Holmes was handling some posts and ties along the tracks while at work near the railroad station this morning. He had picked up a post and was standing about a foot outside of the rail when the engine cylinder head struck him, throwing him about fifteen feet and inflicting injuries to his back. No bones were broken, the physician's examination later disclosed, and Holmes never lost consciousness.

The engineer and fireman of the passenger train did not know the accident occurred, and were just leaving the Ensign station again when they received the signal to stop and take the injured man to Manistiquette. When brought to the hospital, much hope was entertained for his recovery and his death came as a surprise.

Holmes is unmarried and had lived on a farm at Ensign for several years. He is survived by a brother, James, of Rapid River, and four sisters, Mrs. Harry New, Gladstone; Mrs. John Rentzel, Rapid River; Mrs. William Laraby, Rapid River; and Mrs. Frank Barnhart of Escanaba.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Bruce, Famous for Tale of Woodchuck, Tells Another One

Various Standing Committees Named at Supervisors' Meet

Helmer Bruce, the genial supervisor from Bark River township, usually has a good story to tell whenever he comes to a meeting of the county board. Some of them may sound "fishy," but when Helmer steadfastly insists they are true, one is compelled to believe his wild tales.

At the October meeting of the board of supervisors, Bruce had a story about woodchucks, and yesterday he told one on a muskrat. The Bark River supervisor received considerable publicity from his woodchuck story for it was published in the Chicago and other metropolitan newspapers.

According to Mr. Bruce, woodchucks last summer had reduced a part of his farm to a veritable network of war-time trenches, and finally in desperation he devised a method to exterminate them. He attached a hose to the exhaust pipe of his automobile and by running the motor, filled the woodchucks' burrows with carbon monoxide gas, causing the woodchucks to die from asphyxiation.

One chemical company wrote to Mr. Bruce, explaining that they had read an account of his exterminating methods. They conceded that his plan had its merits, but argued they had a much better method. Under separate cover, Mr. Bruce received from the concern a package of chemicals with directions that it be placed in the burrows. Mr. Bruce says he will try it out.

Well, here's the muskrat story. While doing some looging in the woods last winter, Bruce said, he left his horses near a pile of hay during the meal hour. A short time later, he heard a lot of commotion from that direction and ran over to see what was wrong with the horses, only to find one of the team sprawling on the ground, violently kicking his legs in the air. A muskrat was biting away at the excited horse. Bruce said he immediately saved the horse by killing the muskrat. Believe it or not.

IN NEW YORK

New York—It's a dull day that fails to introduce some ingenious new "racket" to this slightly cock-eyed metropolis.

The latest is almost too good to be true. It reeks of the days of Jack Dalton, with his villainous mustache, and Sheridan Keen, the melodrama detective of many disguises.

Some months ago, so the story goes on Broadway, a make-up artist, who had served his apprenticeship in the theaters and movies alike, decided that a comfortable living could be achieved by disguising the average citizen of Manhattan. When he mentioned his idea to friends, they laughed heartily. The notion of individuals going about in eternal masquerade seemed just a bit too impossible for—well, even for New York, where, O. Henry has warned us, anything can happen.

"But," pleaded the make-up man, "Everyday we all hear of the embarrassment caused by men or sweeties, or wives, or enamored ones in the company of others. It would be so simple to supply them with wigs and whiskers and other bits of make up. They could slip through the crowds and never be recognized. The appearance of an average person can be changed beyond all hope of recognition by a few slick little make-up tricks."

Today, I am told by no less a Broadway authority than Bob Coleman, this man makes a comfortable fortune. Scores of blonds are going about nightly with brunet wigs and brunet eye-lashes. Scores of thousands enter night-clubs with their "girl

OUR SHRINKING NATION.

Maybe you haven't noticed it, but the fact is that our country has been shrinking steadily for a number of years.

In the Pacific northwest, farmers and business men are uniting in planning the greatest irrigation project the world has ever seen.

There are plenty of men and women still living who can remember when the northwest—Washington and Oregon and adjacent states—symbolized a vast, open country where there was room for all comers.

Behold, now, how we have shrunk! The great northwest would spend something like $150,000,000 to bring a desert area under cultivation.

All of this is only another way of saying that we're growing up. The country once seemed utterly limitless.

The result is that we now are in the second phase of our national development. The first phase was the era of exploitation.

There is just as much promise in the era as in the old one. There is still as much opportunity for ambitious ability as there was before.

HOPE EVERLASTING. You will find, if you look for them, accounts of regrettable and discouraging things in your daily paper.

Such a story appeared in this paper the other day. It told how two men, Dr. Warren Stratman-Thomas of Wisconsin and Dr. C. C. Chesterton of England, are going to the heart of the Belgian Congo to see if they cannot wipe out Africa's greatest scourge—sleeping sickness.

These doctors believe they have found a cure for this dreadful malady. They are going to allow themselves to be bitten by the tsetse fly, which carries the germs of sleeping sickness, and test their remedy on their own bodies.

There is no great reward in store for them, either way, judged by ordinary standards. They may add untold wealth to the world, but they will not share in it.

The answer seems to be that there is in human nature a force that impels men to sacrifice their lives for the good of others.

When Garibaldi summoned his men to the war of liberation, he said: "Men: I have much to offer you. I can offer you disease, starvation, nakedness and death."

There is a kind of nobility in mankind; a thing that drives men to throw away their lives, in African swamps and on storm-swept battlefields, for no apparent gain.

It does seem, sometimes, as if this onrush of women into jobs that have always been traditionally men's is never, never going to stop.

That is the sort of thing that makes the male blood run cold. If women can win places on baseball teams nothing is safe.

COLLEGE MEN'S PAY. Dr. John A. Tigert, director of the Federal Bureau of Education, reveals the fact that a college education has a direct effect on the pay envelope.

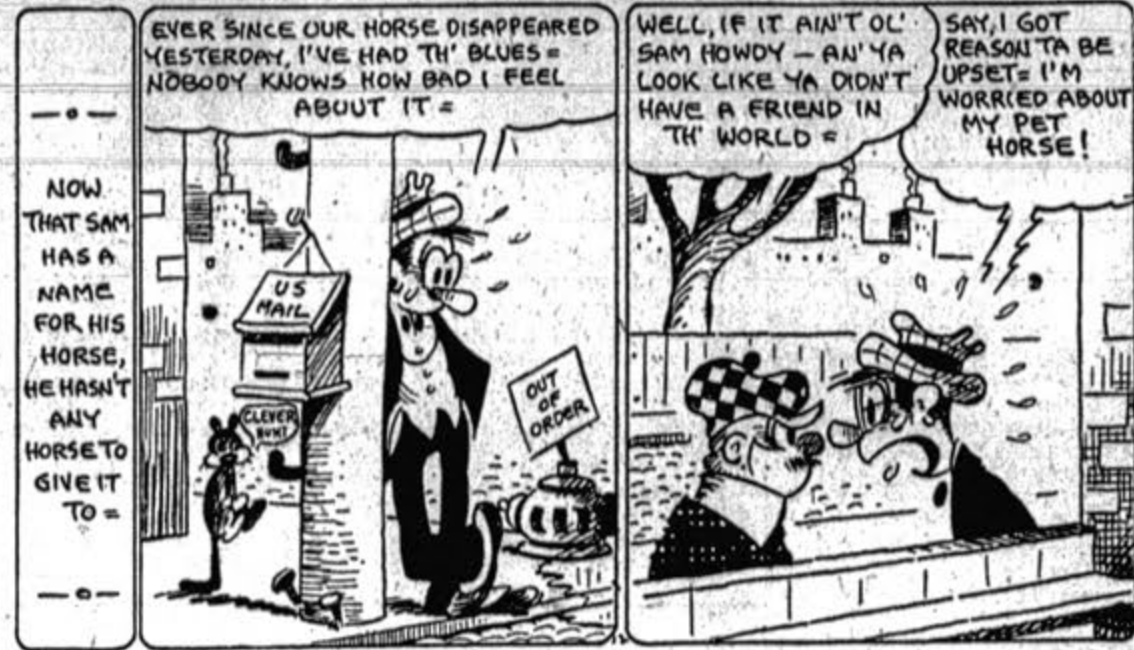

College graduates, he shows, average salaries between $1400 and $5000 yearly. For high school graduates the average runs between $850 and $2400.

Dr. Tigert didn't mention it, but a college education gives a man one more advantage. A man with a trained mind, broadened by contact with many phases of culture, can enjoy his life more.

IT'S JUST as we feared. The second coming of spring has lured the publisher of the morning mealticket from his desk, and he's out tonight, all alone in a sugar camp, listening to the dripping of the sap in the pails, poking up the fire and conversing with the owls.

When Garibaldi summoned his men to the war of liberation, he said: "Men: I have much to offer you. I can offer you disease, starvation, nakedness and death."

GIRL ALONE

CHAPTER XXIII The night was eerie with voices from unseen bodies, or bodies half-revealed in the flare of gasoline torches, as the business of loading the carnival proceeded.

A white roustabout at the corner of the street as she brushed past him on her way to join David. But she scarcely noticed, for there was David, his shoulders looming immensely broad in the dark coat he had donned in her honor.

She laughed shakily. "I'm getting older every day, David. Is it such a crime to be young? You're young, too, David—darling!"

But why can't we, David? she persisted, her love giving her amazing boldness. "I'll never love anyone else. I'll wait for you, for years and years. Until I'm 18 and you're 23. You're almost 21, aren't you, David?"

Ecstasy was wiped from David's face, leaving it hurt and bewildered. "So you're going to find her? Go back to her? I suppose I'm glad."

"No," she shook her head drearily. "I can't marry you or anyone, David. My mother was not Mrs. Nora Ford. I don't know who she was. I don't even know what my name really is—"

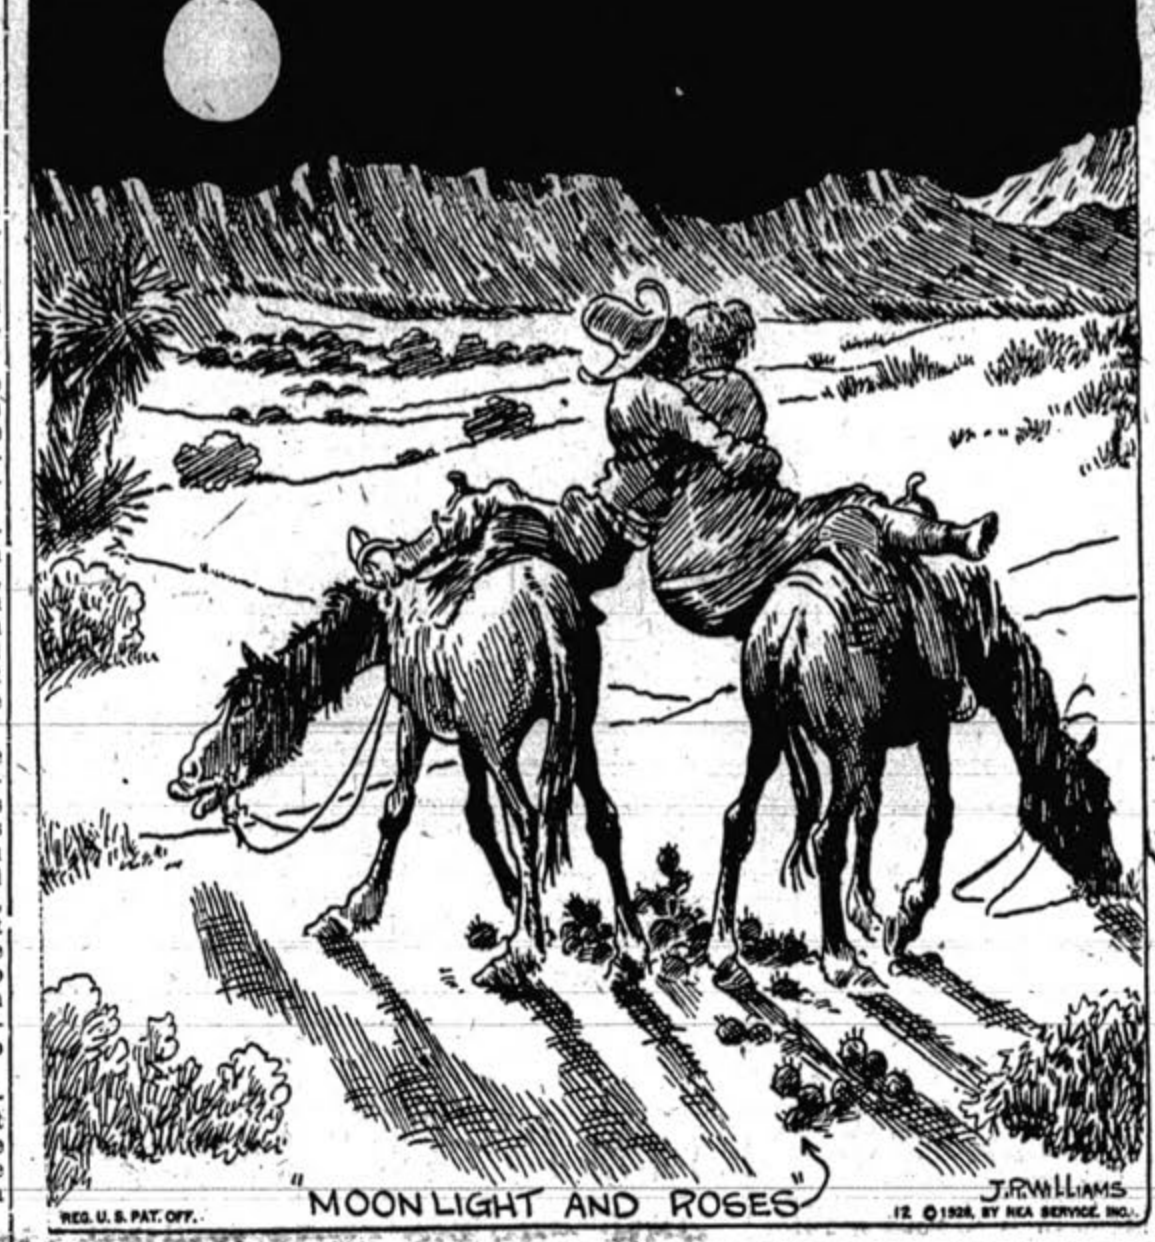

"I want David," she said simply. "At right!" he cried, flinging his arms wide in a gesture of utter abandonment. "We'll run away tonight. We'll keep going until we get out of the state. We'll lie about our ages. We'll find some one somewhere to marry us, and we'll—"

He exultant young voice and his arms demanded her, but she held back strangely, while her face went ghastly white and old in the moonlight.

WATER SUPPLY IS DISCUSSED

Escanaba Can Have Artesian Wells If Desired, Says Speaker

Artesian water, free from impurities, "soft" enough to make it excellent for domestic and boiler uses, and in quantities large enough to offer adequate fire protection at all times, is available if the people of the community really want it, those who attended a forum dinner of the Chamber of Commerce in the Delta hotel last night, were informed.

F. M. Gray, Jr., of Milwaukee, head of a well-drilling concern, which has supplied water to scores of cities and industrial plants, large and small, was the principal speaker. Mr. Gray, after reviewing geological conditions here, explained some of the newer practices in tapping underground water supplies, and told what he would be able to do along that line here.

Backed by Guarantee.

The opinion that artesian water is invariably "hard" water is erroneous, Mr. Gray declared. One of the wells his company drilled recently in Chicago, in which careful casing methods were employed, contain only 1.84 parts of solids per 1,000,000 parts. The water of Bay de Noquet is only slightly "softer" than that, and Mr. Gray would be willing to post a bond, he said, that water he could secure from a well here would contain less than 250 parts of solids per 1,000,000. The artesian well of the Chicago and North-Western here, in fact, is slightly less than 250 parts.

He would guarantee, also, that from two artesian wells, a supply of 3,000,000 gallons of water a day—the average consumption here—could be obtained.

The entire job, he said, including pumps and all other equipment, could be done for about $80,000.—In fact, his company would be willing to accept a contract guaranteeing the supply, the purity, the "softness" and the price.

Cost Not Excessive.

The tendency of cities, where lake water is available, is towards artesian supplies, he declared. He named a dozen cities which have discarded their old lake plants in recent years and turned to wells in order to get water which was free from objectionable tastes, impurities, and the necessity for chlorination and filtration. Some of them have had to go as far down as 2,000 feet to artesian water, while Escanaba would have to go only 800 to 900 feet.

O. I. Bandeden, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in a short talk, reviewed some of the figures he has gathered in his recent studies of the situation. The 3,200 city water customers now pay approximately $52,000 a year for city water, he said. The average consumer, therefore, pays about $16.50 a year. The artesian project, financed over a 20-year period, would make the cost of the average consumer to about $24 a year, he said.

Crowd's Opinion Asked.

Mr. Bandeden emphasized that the Chamber of Commerce position in the matter was merely to rather the facts and present them to the people. "The subject has been widely discussed," he said. "Water is something in which everyone is interested. Artesian water seems to offer the only practical solution. We have collected the facts regarding the supply and the cost, solely for the purpose of informing the people."

Questionnaires asking for an expression of opinion of those present at the meeting were distributed and will be tabulated today, so that some idea of the views of the crowd can be obtained as a basis for future work.

Many women were present and all were intensely interested in the discussion.

A. J. Young presided at the meeting.

Iron Trade Review

Cleveland, Apr. 12.—Consumption of steel continues on so high a plane that, despite practically record-breaking shipments by the mills in March, operating rates in the Pittsburgh and Chicago districts have been increased slightly, says Iron Trade Review, Cleveland. Consumers are not making many fresh commitments, already being well covered for the new quarter and fearing nothing from the price situation, but they are converting raw steel into finished products at a rate exceeding the first quarter's best.

So dominant are the favorable factors and so greatly has the tension been relieved with the advent of the second quarter, from which not so much is expected, that sentiment is noticeably improved. For specifications to expand, even moderately, on the heels of the best first quarter in history is impressive. The decline of only 62,983 tons in the unfilled tonnage of the Steel corporation as of March 31, leaving this barometer 362,332 tons higher than at the beginning of the record quarter and 782,066 tons greater than a year ago, is another good omen.

Automotive interests still are the largest single market factors, their demand being reflected not only in purchases of basic materials but also in the distribution of parts orders. Although one large maker appears at the moment to have over-run dealer demand, another good thirty days at least is ahead of the industry. With the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific placing 4500 freight cars, requiring upward of 46,000 tons of heavy steel, April car orders already have passed the 2698 of all March. Building steel awards continue ahead of a year ago. There are increasing signs of reviving all country demand for piping and tanks.

Contracting for pig iron is only fair, to be expected so soon after the turn of the quarter, but shipments show no abatement from their recent high levels. By-product coke prices are weak in most districts but the beehive coke market exhibits the effect of more closely regulated output.

Specifications against heavy steel contracts of Chicago mills have made the past week the third largest of the year; new orders and specifications combined have ex-

BOARD OKES SCHOOL PLAN

Supervisors Pave Way for Establishment of County Normal

Approval of the plan to establish a county normal school in Escanaba was voted yesterday at the meeting of the Delta county board of supervisors, who voted an appropriation of $600 as the county's share of the annual expense of maintaining the proposed institution.

The next step will be the holding of a special election in the city so that Escanaba's qualified school electors may authorize the creation of the county normal. It is probable that this election will be held within the next two weeks. It is also required by law that the board of education in which the normal is to be placed also vote approval, and this has been done already by the Escanaba school board.

The county normal classes will be conducted in two rooms in the Webster school annex, according to the plan. No more than thirty students can take the one-year course if there are more than thirty applicants the selection of the students who may attend shall be made by the county normal board in accordance with the state law. There is no tuition to the student who is a resident of Delta county. Only two instructors will be necessary.

William J. Miller, supervisor from Masonville township, presented the resolution asking the board of supervisors to approve the county normal project. He also explained the entire matter in detail.

Under the state school laws, Mr. Miller said, the state pays $3000 for the maintenance of a county normal, and it is estimated that the total annual expense will be about $4000. The remaining expense is to be borne by the county and the city.

In outlining the advantages of having a county normal, Mr. Miller stated that since 1925, teacher's certificates are given only to those who have completed at least a year's study in a normal college. There are 123 rural schools in Delta county and it is necessary to hire about 80 new teachers each year. There are many parents who cannot afford to send their children to the normal schools at Marquette and downtown cities because of the expense involved, which is estimated from $600 to $1000 yearly. The county normal provides opportunity for students of limited means to secure a year's normal training at a low cost.

By the establishment of a county normal in Escanaba, 30 high school graduates from the county can take the one-year normal course which will entitle them to a three-year teaching certificate. The year spent at the county normal will be given credit at any state normal and will be equal to three-fifths of a year's course at a university.

As at Pittsburgh, automotive demand as evidenced in heavy shipments to forging interests and cold bar finishers is the mainstay of bars.

Carryover business of some makers in automobile sheets at 4.00c, Pittsburgh, has proved so extensive that other makers have met this price for the second quarter. It is increasingly easier for large users to shade black and galvanized sheets. Demand, especially for automotive sheets for prompt delivery, has forced some Mahoning valley mills to capacity and supported an average of 85 per cent for the entire industry.

HOOVER LANDS SOLID SUPPORT

Wolverine Delegation to Stick With Him to End

Lansing, Apr. 12—(P)—A Michigan delegation to the national Republican convention which cannot be stamped away from Herbert Hoover is assured, Governor Green and other Hoover leaders asserted today.

County conventions were held throughout the state yesterday. They had been preceded by caucuses. With very rare exceptions the causes and conventions went to suit the Hoover supporters. Assurance was received in Lansing that in nearly every case the slates of delegates selected by the local gatherings are prepared to send only men and women to the Kansas City convention who will stand hard and fast, for a number of ballots at least, for the choice of the state preferential primary.

There remain only the district and state conventions to complete the Michigan delegations to the national conclave. The delegates named in the county conventions yesterday will ballot in district conventions for two delegates to the national gathering from each congressional district. Then they will go to the state convention in Detroit, April 25, to select seven delegates-at-large. Thus there will be twenty-six delegates chosen by the district conventions and seven by the state convention, or a total of 33 in the state delegation to Kansas City.

Green to Lead Party.

Among those who may be chosen as delegates-at-large by the state convention are Governor Green, who is frankly a candidate since Herbert Hoover won the unopposed expression of the state primary; Frank D. McKay, state treasurer; Bina M. West, of Port Huron, Republican woman leader; Joseph W. Fordner, of Saginaw, former congressman and mentioned as a possible senatorial appointee until Arthur H. Vandenberg carried away that honor; James McNaughton, of the upper peninsula, and Charles Beecher Warren, of Detroit. These names have been mentioned by Governor Green and staunch Hoover boosters other than the governor. Of course the slate is entirely subject to the will of the delegates to the state convention.

Hope for Stamped.

It is certain that on the first ballot in Kansas City, Michigan will cast 33 votes for Herbert Hoover. If the most ardent Hoover enthusiasts are correct there will be little need for further ballots. They claim the secretary of commerce will come to the convention with enough votes to put him across.

Those not so ardent, however, are fairly certain more than one ballot will be required. In the first place, several states will send delegations pledged to favorite sons, which later may switch to Hoover. But if it takes one ballot or a dozen, if Herbert Hoover is nominated the Michigan delegation undoubtedly will be voting for him. This is true because after the first few ballots the trend of sentiment will become discernible. If it looks as though Hoover has the best chance, or a good chance, to come through, there would be little chance of Michigan deserting him as long as such devotees of the Hoover candidacy as Governor Green, Warren, and others, are exhorting the delegates to stay put.

No Second Choice.

If Herbert Hoover is not mentioned, however, only a prophet could tell where the Michigan votes would swing when all hope for Hoover was lost. These will be those among the district delegates who will favor Dawes, and others who want Lowden. And then, too, although it has been loudly proclaimed there will be no hotel room compromise nominated this year, several grains of salt must be sprinkled over things before taking. If a deadlock occurs, with Hoover and Lowden, or Hoover and Dawes supporters tied in a knot, national leaders are going to get together and decide what to do. And if that time comes, the gentlemen they agree upon prob-

The Fifth Annual Seventh and Eighth Grade Public Speaking Contests sponsored by the Orange and Black society will be held at the Escanaba high school auditorium this evening, starting at 7:15 o'clock. Permanent possession of the public speaking banners will be awarded tonight to the school having won the most number of points in the five years existence of the Orange and Black contests.

At present, the Washington grade school is ahead of the four other public grade schools with four points towards permanent possession of the seventh grade banner. The Barr school ranks second with three points. The Jefferson and the Franklin schools are tied for third place with two points each. The Webster school is holding one point toward permanent possession of the banner. First place in any of the four previous contests count two points, and a second place counts one point. In case, after tonight's contests, a tie results for the permanent possession of the seventh grade banner, the third places won in the five contests in the last five years will also be counted as points.

The speakers in the seventh grade contest tonight and their declamations in the order in which they will speak are:

Lindsay Speaks at Club Meeting

The History club of the Escanaba high school was given a treat at their regular meeting held last evening at the Carnegie Public Library when Harold Lindsay entertained them with his popular talk on Abraham Lincoln. About 20 members of the club were at the meeting and were highly pleased at Mr. Lindsay's speech. George Erdman, president of the organization, presided at the meeting.

THEO. FARRELL FUNERAL TODAY

Last Rites for Aged Citizen to Be Conducted at 2:30 O'clock

The funeral of Theodore Farrell, pioneer railroad engineer and prominent in Escanaba fraternal and civic circles for nearly sixty years, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, 417 First avenue south. The body arrived here yesterday morning.

Mr. Farrell died last Sunday in California where he and Mrs. Farrell had gone to spend the winter months. He was 85 years of age and had lived in Escanaba since 1870 when he arrived here, by boat from Green Bay, with one of the first locomotives to see service on this branch of the Chicago & North-Western which now is known as the Peninsula Division. He remained actively in the service as an engineer until 1912, when he was placed on the road's retirement roll.

The funeral service this afternoon will be in charge of the Escanaba Masonic lodge in whose affairs Mr. Farrell had played a leading role for more than a half-century, and over which he presided, as Master, for two terms; the Chapter, of which he was a Past High Priest; the Commandery, of which he was the first commander; the Consistory and the Shrine of Marquette, with which he was affiliated; the Order of Eastern Horn, Jim Grant, Clifford Sutter, Negative—Herbert Van Horn, Neil Fillmore, Jim Mingay.

The subject to be discussed is "Resolved, That the horse is a greater benefactor to mankind than the whale." The play has considerable comedy, and it promises to be very amusing.

Star, of which he was Worthy Patron for 30 years; the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of which he was one of the founders and the secretary, and other local organizations will be officially represented at the service.

Masonic Rites at Grave.

The Rev. John B. Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. The Masonic burial service will be conducted at the grave in Lakeview cemetery.

Among the out-of-town relatives here to attend the funeral are: Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Farrell of New York City, Captain and Mrs. Wallace Van Dyke of Ludington, Mich.; Mrs. L. T. Corning, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. John Green, of Huron, S. D., and Mrs. Cora Green of Waukesha, Wis.

LABRE NAMED COUNTY CLERK

Board Recommends Bark River Man to Succeed Harvey

Rayne H. Labre, Bark River, was recommended by the Delta county board of supervisors to Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell for appointment as county clerk to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George E. Harvey yesterday. Mr. Harvey's resignation is effective May 1.

Judge Bell, no doubt, will abide by the recommendation.

Mr. Labre is at present time assistant cashier of the Bark River state bank. He was elected township clerk in the April 2 election, and has been identified with Bark River township politics for some time.

At the meeting of the county board yesterday afternoon, Mr. Harvey announced his resignation that he may be able to devote his entire time to his duties as secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula State Fair. His resignation was accepted with regrets by the county board, which passed a resolution expressing appreciation for the fine service rendered by Mr. Harvey while in the county clerk's office.

Took Office in 1922. Mr. Harvey took over the office six years ago on appointment to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Albert J. Pepin. He was elected to the office in 1924 and returned to it by the voters in 1926. Mr. Harvey has won the distinction of being one of the most efficient clerks to serve here. His outside activities were also outstanding. He took a prominent part in the organization of the Upper Peninsula Supervisors' association and made frequent trips to Lansing on various projects of immense benefit to Delta county. He was elected head of the Michigan County Clerks' association during his tenure and took a leading part in the activities of that organization.

With the cooperation of the county board, Mr. Harvey effected great savings in the various county departments. In 1926, the state tax amounted to $55,987.23 but in 1927 it increased to $73,697.96, but nevertheless by a careful handling of the budget, enough of a saving was effected in the county taxes to offset the increase in the state tax.

Urges Support of Fair. In a brief talk at the meeting yesterday afternoon, Mr. Harvey thanked the members of the board of supervisors for the cooperation given him during the past, and expressed the hope that he would receive as splendid support in his management of the U. P. State fair. He outlined briefly the plans for the fair, pointing out that it has great possibilities and that it is a project of real magnitude. He earnestly requested that the county board, city council and other organizations and individuals bend every effort to make the fair project a success from every standpoint.

Nine Sought Job. There were nine candidates for the appointment, six making written application and the three others being nominated by members of the board. The complete list was: William J. Miller, Rapid River; R. E. Allingham, Jesse Owen, Duncan MacRae, Peter F. Geneisse, William Petre, C. W. Flannigan, Rayne Labre and Harry Hall, DeLance.

Four ballots were taken before the required total of at least half of the number of members of the board present was obtained by Mr. Labre. On the last ballot, the vote was: Labre 15; W. J. Miller 8; Jesse Owen 3.

A motion, providing that the county clerk be sent as Delta county's representative to the county clerks' convention to be held in Petoskey, July 10 to 12, and also to invite the county clerks' association to hold their 1929 meeting in Escanaba carried.

TO DEED LAND FOR NEW ROAD

Board Transfers Pioneer Trail Right of Way to State

The Delta county board of supervisors at its meeting yesterday voted to deed to the state of Michigan the right of way through Pioneer Trail park, from the Escanaba River to the C. and N. W. tracks, for the construction of the proposed Escanaba-Gladstone highway.

In the discussion of the resolution, Supervisor John K. Stack raised the question as to whether the state would continue to maintain the present road after the new concrete highway is completed or if the road would revert to the county.

Supervisor Stack explained that it was his understanding that since the completion of the new highway, US-2-41, west of the city, that the stretch of road from Escanaba to Ford River Switch, known as old M-15, was no longer being maintained by the state. Although he had been informed that the state highway department intended to retain M-35, the present Gladstone-Escanaba route, Mr. Stack said, he believed that it would be a good plan to make an effort to have the state highway department subscribe to a written agreement to maintain M-35 north to the junction of the new route near Terrace Gardens.

Motion Offered, Withdrawn. This was put into a form of a motion by Mr. Stack, and was supported by Supervisor Hoyer. The motion was withdrawn shortly afterward, however when a vote on Supervisor Geneisse's resolution, requesting the deed of the right-of-way, was taken.

Several supervisors registered disapproval of Mr. Stack's plan to ask the state highway department to agree to maintain the two roads. Supervisor Bruce declared that Delta county had asked for a road and had secured it, and it appeared there would be a danger of antagonizing the state highway department by such a move. Supervisor J. P. Cameron supported the stand made by Mr. Bruce, and Supervisor Lundgaard expressed the opinion it would be far better to get a new concrete highway between Escanaba and Gladstone than to save the cost of maintaining an old road.

Hamilton Appointed.

A special committee was appointed to confer with the other counties in this judicial district with a view of purchasing all paintings of the late Judge R. C. Flannigan for the various court rooms in the circuit. Supervisors Miller, Bruce and Cameron were named on the committee.

Charles Hamilton of Masonville was appointed member of the county poor commission to succeed the late J. P. Holm of Gladstone. Eugene O'Leary was named a member of the board of county canvassers to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Gerald Cleary.

The expression "The game's not worth the candle" arose when candles were expensive and card-playing for money was prevalent.

SENIOR CLASS SELECTS PLAY

The senior class of St. Joseph's high school has selected the comedy, "Kathleen," for the annual senior play. The play is very clever and amusing. Its setting is Oxford college. A group of young men have formed a literary club. A letter written by Kathleen to "Jo" falls into the hands of Kenneth Forbes who happens to be looking for an inspiration for the first chapter of a serial story due at the meeting of his literary club. The letter starts an interesting plot, in which every member of the club becomes interested in Kathleen. What they do to change interest into acquaintance furnishes the subject of the play, for which the following cast has been chosen:

AMUSEMENTS

NEW SERIAL AT STRAND.

In the interior of China, in the midst of the rebellion, are finally located two sisters who are heiresses to one of the largest fortunes in the United States. To claim it their presence is required in Los Angeles, and when James Brisbane, bank teller, frustrates a daylight bank robbery, he is promoted to the responsibility of going to China and bringing the girls safely home.

But, in a velvet hung underground den operates one whose face is ever hidden beneath a hood—who is believed to be a man without a face by the poor wretches he has in his control and who are forced to do his bidding. One such chap is Ray Ellis, who must choose between life imprisonment and going to China and seeing that the heiresses never get to the United States.

Thus starts the new Patheserial, "The Man Without a Face," adapted from the story by A. M. Williamson, directed by Spencer Gordon Bennet and starring Alene Ray and Walter Miller. Miller plays the role of the bank teller, who has a lot of adventures trying to protect the girls. Miss Ray and Jeannette Loff play the sisters, Gladden James is the mystery man's chief henchman and E. H. Calvert is the man who holds the fortune in trust.

The first chapter of "The Man Without a Face" is to be shown today at the Strand theatre, a chapter following each week on the same days for nine successive weeks.

"The Warning," with Jack Holt, Dorothy Revier and other screen notables is also on the Strand's Friday-Saturday program.

AT THE DELFT.

A gold digger who, in reality, is anything but the type, is the plight of Gwen Lee, who plays the role of Maizie, a hard-boiled girl of the east side in Fox Films' "Sharp Shooters," which opens a two day showing at the Delft theatre today.

Miss Lee, however, always believes in doing the thing you can do best and as the directors always cast her in such roles, she complies with their wishes and comes through with flying colors.
