RECORD VOTE IN BAY STATE IS PREDICTED

DRIFT OF VOTES IN MASSACHUSETTS PUZZLING

(With this dispatch David Lawrence starts a survey of public sentiment in the pivotal states of the campaign from the disinterested standpoint of a neutral observer viewing the presidential contest objective.)

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1928, by the Esplanade Press) Boston, Mass., Sept. 7.—Four years ago Massachusetts, proud of her favorite son, Calvin Coolidge, registered a big vote. But already the registration of both the Democratic and Republican parties exceeds that of 1924. If the Bay state can be taken as an index, the largest popular vote in American history will be cast this year.

This is not intended to be a forecast of Massachusetts or an indication as yet of the trend, for that is exactly what can not be determined in September, but enough has happened to set down these fundamental points:

State Is Doubtful.

First, Massachusetts is a doubtful state and the Republicans will privately express their fears but publicly will claim a substantial majority. Conversely, the Democrats are confident but it is the kind of confidence that is mingled with distinct apprehension lest the lead they feel they have today may not last till election.

Second, the two biggest issues in the campaign are, as one editor expressed, "religion and booze"—a strange combination but a powerful one. The personalities of the two rival candidates are important in attracting and holding a following but so is the tariff and so is the economic condition of New England. But more voters are being influenced to depart from traditional lines because of religious prejudice, on the one hand, and the prohibition controversy, on the other, than by any other single factor or group of factors in the campaign.

Third, both sides have already done in July and August more intensive work in getting out the vote than is normally done in a couple of campaigns.

Battle of a Century.

In short the trite characterization—"the battle of a century"—which so often is applied to a big contest, more properly applies to this political race than any other since the century turned.

Examining the effects of the two issues—religion and prohibition—the interesting thing so far disclosed is that while both have begun to tear apart the usual voting trends, nevertheless there is a strangeness about them both which is disconcerting.

For instance, many Republicans who impulsively declared the wet issue to be paramount and showed a desire to vote Democratic for the first time in a life time are beginning to be affected by the argument that it might not be worthwhile to change from one administration to another because of prohibition and that the subject is not partisan or presidential but really congressional.

In any event the Republican workers are trying that tack with some success, for it is useless in these wet states to take the dry side of the argument in order to win votes for Hoover. To argue about it is only to provoke the wets still more—for those who by conviction are dissatisfied with the present prohibition situation feel it deeply and are only made angrier when attempts are made to persuade them that perhaps prohibition isn't as bad as it is painted.

Divert Interests. So the strategy, especially in the cities, is to divert attention from prohibition to the consequences of Democratic rule—an argument much more easily absorbed because it has been credited before by the traditional Republican.

As for the Democrats, they are not so busy trying to persuade Republicans to change their votes as they are in finding the people—and there are millions of them—who would normally be Democrats if they ever took the trouble to register and go to the polls. That's where money will count most, for it takes hired workers who will work day and night to find the Smith sympathizers and pledge them to register. It is possible for Massachusetts to go Democratic entirely on the basis of new votes.

The intensive drive to corral the voter who has hitherto neglected his duty is the most outstanding fact revealed thus far about this presidential campaign.

Air Derby Planes at Fort Worth; Rowland Retains First Place

Ft. Worth, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Speeding southward across southern Oklahoma and northern Texas, at the same grueling pace he has set since Wednesday, Earl Rowland, of Wichita, Kan., led Class A, transcontinental air racers across the finish line here today to maintain his advantage for the third successive day. Rowland's marooned Cessna monoplane landed at Municipal Airport at 1:07 o'clock, 25 minutes in advance of Robert Drake's American Moth.

Fourteen of the remaining 27 entries had reached the night control point here by mid-afternoon. Albert R. Jacobs, Philadelphia, returned to Kansas City after having been forced down by engine trouble at Gardner, Kan., and Samuel H. Turner of Alexander, W. Va., arrived at Oklahoma City, later in the afternoon. The plane of M. E. Grevenberg of Toronto, Canada, a Travelair, arrived at Wichita late today.

Jackson Is Fourth. Despite the fact that a coal-black cat which he carried for good luck was stolen from him at Kansas City, Tex Rankin finished third, landing at 2:05.

Continuing to show speed which his plane did not exhibit when the air derby started, Dale G. Jackson,

TWO CHICAGO BANKS MERGE

Move Is Approved by Directors of Corporations

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Merger of the Continental National Bank & Trust company and the Illinois Merchants Trust company, described in LaSalle street as a billion dollar combine, was approved today by directors of the two banks in separate meetings.

The consolidated institution will be known as the Continental Illinois Bank & Trust company and will have combined total resources exceeding $1,000,000,000, the official announcement stated.

Capital of the merged bank will be $75,000,000, the surplus $65,000,000 and a reserve fund of $10,000,000 for contingencies.

As a result of the merger, stockholders of the Continental bank will receive share for share on their $35,000,000 capital stock and an extra cash dividend distribution equaling the investment in the Continental bank building which is to be sold. The building was estimated to be worth $10,000,000. Stockholders in the Illinois Merchants are to receive two shares in the new bank for each share of the $15,000,000 capital of the Illinois Merchants and also a cash dividend of $15,000,000, representing the sale of the Illinois Merchants bank building to the merged bank for its home.

Reynolds New Head. The merged bank will become the second largest financial institution in America, second only to the National City bank of New York.

George M. Reynolds, chairman of the board of the Continental, becomes chairman of the executive committee of the new bank.

Arthur Reynolds, president of the Continental, becomes chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the new bank, and Eugene Stevens, president of the Illi-

FISH, BIRD LAW CHANGES ADVOCATED

CONSERVATION COMMISSION DRAWS UP PLANS

Lansing, Sept. 7.—(AP)—A proposed revision of the state game and fish laws advocating reduced creel and bag limits for the season and in some cases for the day's take, is to be submitted to the legislature by the state conservation commission.

Meeting here today, the commission decided to investigate an entirely new system of regulating the bag of game birds. Commissioner Harold Titus proposed the issuance of tags and the removal of the day limit. He recommended letting hunters take their season limit in one day, if possible, and when their tags serially stamped, are exhausted, they would be through for the season. He claimed that under the present system of so many birds a day and so many for the season, it is impossible to enforce more than the day bag, whereas the tag system would definitely limit the number taken at any time.

The commission will recommend cutting possession of trout from 25 to 15, of large and small-mouth bass from ten in possession to five, and wall-eye pike to five in possession. This will make the number allowed in possession the same as a day's take.

DERBY DELAYED

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The twenty-four pilots entered in the Class B and Class C air races across the continent, chafing at the two days of postponements, gave their ships a final check tonight in preparation for a takeoff tomorrow at 6 a. m. weather permitting.

Poor visibility, fog and rain over the first lap of their journey to Los Angeles, prevented the start today. Yesterday it rained, and a fog from the sea was swept by wind into the Allegheny mountains. Even air mail pilots were unable to fly today.

ORDINARY WORLD'S CHAMP NO MATCH FOR ANDY PAYNE

Santa Monica, Calif., Sept. 7.—I got a wire today from Tex Rickard. He has booked the fellow that won the Olympic marathon to come over here and race and Tex wants to race him with Andy Payne of Claremore, Okla., best middle mile runner in America. Andy is the boy from home that won the foot and mule race from Beverly to Claremore. Why, Tex's man races only the miles Andy used to run every morning to limber up, to be ready to run 60 or 80 miles each day for a whole summer. Besides, I am going to make a Tunney campaign out of him. I got him reading Shakespeare and told him not to meet anybody that was not his equal. So we can't be monkeying with no foreigner.

MOVIES HAVE MUSIC AGAIN

Chicago Theatres and Musicians' Union Come to Agreement

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Movies in 250 outlying theatres flickered tonight to the music of jazz and sentimental ballads played by peaceful musicians whose Labor Day walk-out was terminated today with an agreement that both the exhibitors and the musicians hailed as a great victory.

The trouble, punctuated with a federal injunction restraining officers of the musicians' union from calling a strike, and with threats of moving picture machine operators and stage hands to tie up all Chicago theatres in a sympathetic strike, was settled after an all-night conference in which both sides made concessions.

The musicians agreed to cancel demands that certain outlying theatres employ orchestras of at least four members and that orchestras of six members be restrained in houses where talking movies were used, and the exhibitors in turn agreed to employ musicians for a stipulated period each year, and some of them that had not been hiring orchestras reconsidered.

The musician's union was restrained by federal injunction from calling a strike, but obtained an opinion from Clarence Darrow and other attorneys that the injunction did not prevent individual musicians from quitting their jobs. As a result the musicians walked out as individuals without any strike order being issued.

Delay Auction Sale of Road

Detroit, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The sale at public auction of assets of the Detroit United Railway, set for today, was adjourned until next Wednesday at the request of the Central Union Trust company, plaintiffs in foreclosure action. The assets are to be sold under direction of the federal court. The foreclosed mortgages aggregate $11,000,000.

Brothers Oppose Each Other in Menominee Race

JOHN COOLIDGE LANDS A "JOB"

Menominee, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Brother will be pitted against brother in the contest for prosecuting attorney of Menominee county in the November election. In Tuesday's primary, Kenneth O. Doyle, incumbent, was nominated for reelection on the Republican ticket, and his younger brother and law partner, Thurman B. (Sam) Doyle, won the Democratic nomination. They are sons of the late Michael J. Doyle, prominent Democratic leader.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 7.—(AP)—John Coolidge, the president's son is going to be a railroad man. His job is with the New York, New Haven and Hartford—Perhaps in the freight department—and he'll start at the bottom and work his way up.

News that young Coolidge had decided on his career came first today from Superior, Wis., where the executive offices of the summer White House are situated. It was quickly confirmed by E. G. Buckland, vice-president of the road.

John himself was rather non-committal. At the family home in Northampton, Mass., where he went earlier in the week, he said the report of his railroad job was "true as far as it goes," adding that any further comment by him might be embarrassing to the New Haven.

Mr. Buckland, however, made this statement: "The matter of employment of John Coolidge is having favorable consideration. It is his desire to begin at the bottom and depending solely upon his own efforts, to work his own way up and learn railroading. What kind of a job he will have or where he will be located is not yet determined."

The Superior dispatch John expected to make his start in the freight department, at Hartford, Conn., near the home at Plainville of Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the Connecticut governor.

Coolidge came east to meet Miss Trumbull on her return from Europe. He probably will be a guest of the family in Maine before reporting for work.

The president's son was graduated last June from Amherst college, his father's alma mater.

READY FOR WORK

Northampton, Mass., Sept. 7.—(AP)—John Coolidge, son of the president, is ready to go to work for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad "wherever and whenever" he may be assigned to work in New England, he said tonight. He had obtained, however, that as yet he had not been assigned a job with the railroad.

Despite reports from New Haven and Superior, Wis., that he was about to enter the freight department of the New Haven road to study the railroad business, young Coolidge tonight reiterated that he had as yet no definite arrangement with the company. He said he had seen E. G. Buckland, vice president of the road, while on a visit to New York this week, but that he had not heard from the railroad executive since. He added that any definite statement must come from the railroad.

The president's son was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hills of Northampton, old friends and neighbors of the Coolidge family, at a dinner given in honor of his twenty second birthday.

While reticent as to his railroad future, young Coolidge was definite in his statement that he would not go to New York next Monday to meet the Steamship Lapland on which Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the Governor of Connecticut, is returning from Europe. He said it was uncertain whether he would go to Hartford early next week to see Miss Trumbull after her return home.

Two More Nations Join Kellogg Pact

Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Guatemala and Nicaragua joined the nations favoring the war renunciation treaty by signifying today to the United States in official declarations their intentions to adhere to the pact.

Youngest Pilot Makes Long Hop

Rockingham, N. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Joe (Criss), 14, said to be the youngest authorized airplane in America, left here today on a non-stop flight to New York. Tomorrow he expects to Boston, his home.

COOLIDGE MAY HELP HOOVER IN CAMPAIGN

EXECUTIVE PLACES ADMINISTRATIVE WORK FIRST

Superior, Wis., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Although still believing his best contribution to the Republican campaign is to continue to so conduct public affairs that his administration may commend itself to the electorate, President Coolidge is willing to be guided by future developments, and, if necessary, to deliver a speech or two before election day.

HEADS POLICE ASS'N

Representative Newton of Minnesota, heads of the Republican campaign speakers bureau, conferred at length with Mr. Coolidge today regarding his party's plans to flood the country with Republican stumpers, and sounded out the chief executive regarding his willingness to lend his voice to the aid of the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

After the conference, Mr. Newton said he could not reveal the exact outcome of his conversation with Mr. Coolidge but stated that his call had been successful.

President Coolidge is at present engaged in correspondence with Governor Weeks of Vermont; regarding details of his projected trip to his state, and is awaiting advice as to a suitable time to undertake the journey.

Two Men Charged With Extortion; Sinclair Victim

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Charged with attempting to extort $35,000 from Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, for approving a $250,000 income tax reduction claim, two internal revenue agents were held in bail tonight, awaiting a hearing next Wednesday.

They are Edward F. Brown, an agent for five years, and Elmer F. Andrews, eight years in the department. They were arrested yesterday at the office of Reginald Ragland, Sinclair's attorney, and held in $2,500 and $3,500 bail, respectively, by U. S. Commissioner Cotter. At the time of their arraignment the name of Ragland's client was not disclosed.

Officials at the federal building today revealed that Sinclair who had claimed income tax reductions aggregating $2,000,000 for 1925 and 1926 was the man from whom the agents are charged with having demanded $35,000.

Brown and Andrews were assigned to investigate Sinclair's claim, Ragland said. It was charged that after several conferences in which they demanded $35,000 for approving the claim, Andrews came to Ragland's office yesterday and received $10,000 "on account."

As he left the lawyer's office, detectives arrested him on Ragland's complaint. They said they found the $10,000 in Andrews' hat. He said he had no idea how it got there.

Sinclair's deduction claims include $250,000 representing losses through his racing stables, $1,250,000 through the Selah Oil company, and $500,000 through bad debts.

Suggest League Help to Enforce Prohibition Law

Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The suggestion that the league of Nations be asked to help the United States to work out the enforcement of its liquor laws was related to other countries was made unofficially to prohibition commissioner Doran while he was in Europe to attend the international congress against alcoholism.

Doran, who returned yesterday said that while the expressions were entirely unofficial, those with whom he talked believed the league might help in dealing with smuggling. Doran advocated before the congress that other nations require ships sailing with liquor to produce a landing certificate on their return showing that the liquor actually was landed at the destination to which it had been shipped.

The commissioner said that smuggled liquor was shipped largely from a few foreign ports and a landing certificate would do much toward ending smuggling.

FACTION HEAD MURDERED BY TRIO IN LOOP

THOUSANDS ENDANGERED BY HAIL OF BULLETS

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Chicago's seething gangland again erupted tonight—this time in the heart of the loop and at the height of the rush hour.

The latest flareup cost the life of Tony Lombardo, president of the Unione Siciliana, a powerful gang leader and intimate friend of "Scarface Al" Capone.

Shot down beside him was a bodyguard, Joseph Ferrara, who probably will die. Both were shot in the back, just back from State and Madison streets, the busiest corner in the city.

Another bodyguard, Joseph Lofredo, fled from the assailants but was captured by police.

Frank Krzicia also was arrested at the scene of the slaying, but he claimed he was merely passing by at the time.

Thousands witnessed the shooting while on their way home. They passed afoot, in automobiles, streetcars and buses. Fortunately, none was hit by the fusillade.

The shots blazed forth without a second's warning. No one knows how many gunmen ended Lombardo's life—some say one, some say two, others three.

Bodyguard Arrested. Crowds swarmed to cover and in a moment the street was cleared, save for the bodies of the gang chief and his lieutenant. Beside them lay two pistols, dropped by their assassins. Then followed the return surge. The streets were crowded with curious thousands, while mounted police strove to stem the tide.

In the rear ranks a desperate struggle ensued as Policeman Leslie Finlayson arrested Lofredo. The policeman had heard the shots; he said there were four. He had seen Lombardo run and went after him. The pursued man drew his pistol but the policeman knocked it from his hand and threw himself on his captive.

When he was handcuffed, Lofredo asked: "Did they get Tony? We didn't have a chance."

He told police that he and Lombardo had just concluded a conference in the offices of the Italian American National Union on liquor distribution in Chicago.

"I think there were two men who shot at us," he said. "I only got a look at one of them, but I saw another out of the corner of my eye. I couldn't get my gun out, so I ran."

He denied ever having seen the gunmen before.

Lombardo has been marked for death, police said, since last year when he renounced allegiance to the Alieo gang and allied himself with Capone, rival of the Alieolos.

Carried Much Money. Last November, police found rivals had cached two automatic shotguns, rifles, and 37 sticks of dynamite in a house across the street from Lombardo's home, with the supposed purpose of slaying him. No prosecution followed, however.

Upon Lombardo's body was found $2,077 in currency. A bank book showed deposits of $25,337. His belt buckle was set with 41 diamonds, forming the initials, "T. L." Large diamonds set the knobs of his cuff links. He was clothed in the finest of silken underwear, and his shirt and socks were silk.

In each of the two coat pockets was an automatic pistol—neither pistol had been fired. Ferrara also carried an unfired gun. Neither had an opportunity to fight.

Lombardo emigrated from Sicily seven years ago and has been a resident of Chicago for five years. He became a citizen of the United States, April 2, 1927.

He was the father of two children, Salvatore, 6, and Rosaria, 3.

Fire Causes Heavy Damage on Farm of Bark River Man

Bark River, Sept. 7 (Special)—Fire of undetermined origin on the farm of S. Belanger, near here, early this morning, destroyed three barns and their contents which included machinery, harness, 300 bushels of grain and other property. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Four Bandits Get $10,000 in Holdup

Rensselaer, Ind., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Four armed bandits robbed the state bank of Rensselaer today escaping with more than $10,000 in currency and negotiable bonds of unknown amount.

TOLAN HEADS POLICE CHIEFS

Meeting Place of Association

Chief of Police John J. Tolan was elected president of the Michigan Association of Police Chiefs, and Escanaba was selected as the 1929 meeting place of the state organization at the closing session of its annual convention at Lansing yesterday.

The news was received yesterday afternoon in a telegram sent by Assistant Chief of Police Michael Eitenhofer, who attended the convention as Chief Tolan's representative. The Escanaba police chief was unable to go to the meeting because of a severe neck infection, which has caused him to be confined to his home for the past week. Assistant Chief Eitenhofer will return from Lansing today.

Chief Tolan served as vice president of the state police chiefs' association the past year, and his elevation to the presidency comes as an acknowledgment of the great interest he has shown in the organization's work since it was established. He was appointed chief of the Escanaba department on January 1, 1914, and served as a patrolman for ten years prior.

The selection of this city as the meeting place of the association next year is of especial interest as it has been the rule for the police chiefs to meet every year at Lansing. It is planned to hold the convention here during the U. P. State Fair week.

ASK DEATH PENALTY

Lansing, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The death penalty for major felons was advocated today by the State Association of Police Chiefs meeting here. A vote on the proposal to endorse capital punishment showed only four of the 18 chiefs present opposed.

Discussion, which preceded the ballot, revealed the enforcing officers believe drastic methods must be adopted to stamp out crime.

The chiefs recommended the establishment of a state crime commission and urged the legislature to provide sufficient funds to make possible a state-wide survey.

Delegates to the conference expressed their belief that every possible effort should be made to bring about the closest co-operation between law enforcing agencies and prosecutors.

John J. Tolan, of Escanaba, was elected president of the organization; O. J. Savarda, of Flint, first vice president; Roy Reynolds, of Royal Oak, second vice president and Don Leonard of the state police, secretary-treasurer.

Tropical Storm Helpful; Sand Removed Free

Fort Pierce, Fla., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Use for tropical storms has been discovered at Fort Pierce, according to Col. Gilbert A. Youngberg, army district engineer, who told the Fort Pierce Inlet commission that the blow of early August was worth $18,000 to them, in that it swept to sea tons of sand that would have cost that amount to remove with dredges.

ROAD SIGNS TO DIRECT FLYERS

Directions to Airport to Be Painted on New Highway

The word "ESCANABA" in large 20-foot letters, will be painted on the new highway US 41-2 near the fairgrounds so that aviators, not familiar with this part of the country, can get their directions while flying overhead.

This action is similar to that taken in Menominee and other cities which can boast of airports. The direction signs will be placed on the road before the opening of the state fair so that they might benefit the pilots of the 11 army planes which will come to Escanaba on September 29 to participate in the dedicatory exercises at the U. P. Airways field.

The city council also voted to appropriate $250 to defray Escanaba's share of the expense in bringing the army planes here. The money will be used for paying for gasoline, oil and other expenses in connection with the flight of the army aviators.

Woman's Name to Go on Ballots; No Legal Action

Detroit, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Unless some legal action is taken to prevent it, the name of Mrs. Margaret V. Stein, Republican nominee for the short term of sheriff of Wayne county, will be certified and placed on the election ballot in November.

The announcement was made today by Capt. A. E. Stewart, chairman of the board of canvassers, and Henry S. Hulbert, chairman of the county election commission.

A question as to the legality of Mrs. Stein being nominated for a "short term," or to fill out the unexpired term of her late husband, was raised today after the primary in an informal opinion by Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Toms. He said there is no provision in the revised election laws for election of a sheriff for an unexpired term. He has not indicated what if any action he will take.

Escanaba Youth Saw Plane Crash

Emerson Kidd, 213 North Twentieth street, was an eye-witness of the airplane crash at Keweenaw Bay Thursday in which Waldred Petaja, formerly of Escanaba, and a passenger were instantly killed. Emerson was a companion of Petaja when the latter was doing some commercial flying at the Baraga county fair a few days ago, assisting the flyer in making maintenance repairs on his machine. They intended to fly to Escanaba for the U. P. State Fair to be held September 17 to 22.

Young Kidd will return to Escanaba next week after attending the funeral services for Petaja at Ahmeek.

DIET AND HEALTH

By Lulu Hunt Peters M. D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

ONIONS ARE GOOD FOOD, HIGH UP IN VITAMINS.

Onions and Arteriosclerosis
"My doctor said onions are included in the forbidden class, to be avoided in arteriosclerosis. I always thought onions were innocent and helpful. Please say a word."

I don't find onions mentioned in the forbidden class in any of my literature, J. However, they are apt to cause a gas formation which might give some distress, and perhaps that is the reason they were omitted by your doctor.

For those who experience no distress from them, onions are a good food. They are high in iron and vitamins, especially the anti-scurvitic, raw onions compare with the citrus fruits in their content of the anti-scurvy vitamin. The only objections to raw onions, with most people, are its "repeating" effects and the isolation from others which they should entail but, too often don't.

The diet in high blood pressure which has been worked out very successfully by Sansum and others, is the strongly basic diet, which means the avoidance, in a large measure, of the acid-forming foods—flesh foods, eggs, cereals, flour and the things made of it. This leaves the fruits, vegetables, milk and nuts for the alkaline or basic foundation. (Sugars and fats are neutral unless taken in excess, when they may cause fermentation.) Sansum used a bread made of lima bean flour. Potato flour may also be used.

Allen has been successful in cases by limiting all salt, even in cooking.

We have an article on Blood Pressure which you may have if you are interested. See column rules.

"What is best to do for fibroid tumors in the uterus if there isn't a great loss of blood, only a ounce or two each week or two? Would you let it alone for a while, as the surgeon I consulted advised? It is probably a four or five years' growth. Do you consider radium effective in such cases? Is it expensive? I am not very strong and would like to get out of this the best way possible."

"MRS. A."

If you have consulted a competent surgeon and he is matching you, it looks as though he thinks that when you come to the menopause the tumor will shrink and disappear, as they often do at the menopause (climacteric).

Fibroid tumors around middle age are very common, and unless they grow rapidly and give pressure symptoms, or unless they are so near the lining of the uterus that they cause hemorrhage and may be subject to cancerous degeneration, they are not considered dangerous.

It is not known why the uterus should develop these fibroid tumors. The same trouble frequently occurs in the prostate gland in men at their climacteric period.

Treatments with radium and the X-Ray are only used, I understand, if the tumors are small. A large tumor has to be surgically removed if it is causing any disturbance. Yes, radium treatments are expensive. And, as you know, a doctor's fees are more or less regulated by the income of the patient, just as is the income tax. He usually does a great deal of work for nothing or for very moderate fees for those who are poor, but those who can afford to pay larger fees should.

If you are interested, Mrs. A., we have an article on the Menopause and one on the Hygiene of Women. You can obtain these by following column rules.

Woman, 28, Held For Death of Man

Detroit, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Maggio, 28, mother of three children, the youngest 10 months old, is held at the women's detention home on a homicide charge in connection with the slaying this morning of her nephew, Mario Di Trapani, 33.

Mrs. Maggio, police said, confessed she shot and killed Trapani in the the Maggio home early today, but said she did it after he had attacked her. She said he had been making unwelcome advances for several months.

The nephew, Mrs. Maggio said, came to the United States two years ago from Cuba and since then had been making his home with the Maggio family here.

Circuit Judge Guy A. Miller, before whom the investigation was conducted, said he hoped to report his findings by the middle of next week.

The last witness today was Walter T. Sewell, treasurer of the Sewell Cushion Wheel company, Detroit, who is believed to have been called to give any information he may have had concerning alleged attempts to bribe candidates for the city council last fall in favor of a certain kind of sewer pipe.

One hundred miles an hour, the British motorcycle record, was recently made by C. W. Lacey at Brooklands.

Poisoned Alcohol Takes Two Lives; 100 Seriously Ill

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Doctors who have been attending poison alcohol victims in Old Forge and Sibley, five miles from here, said today that virtually all the nearly 100 that were made ill by the wet goods are out of danger.

Of those still in a serious condition two are blind and may be disabled permanently. They are Mrs. Mary Kropp and George Masloch, of Old Forge.

Two men have died from the results of the alcohol poisoning. They are Alex Hydrick and Andrew Govel, both married. Nineteen children were made fatherless by the two deaths.

The alcohol was discovered in a freight car in Old Forge by boys. Police believe it was meant for bootleggers but the cargo was labeled as auto radiator mixture. After the boys took a quantity of the alcohol and distributed it among groupies, some of the latter proceeded to carry off more of the liquid.

General drinking followed with some of the alcohol making its appearance at a firemen's parade celebration.

Authorities have learned the names of the boys, but lacking the name of the owner of the cargo, there has been nothing done in the way of criminal action.

Trooper Killed On Lonely Road

Tuxedo, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(AP)—State Trooper C. T. Wilder, stationed here, was fatally shot today while patrolling a lonely road between this village and Greenwood Lake. When found Wilder's hand was grasping a necktie which it was believed had torn from the neck of his assailant.

Wilder died in a hospital here from a bullet wound in the abdomen.

Troopers investigating the shooting said they believed the necktie in Wilder's hand indicated he had been on the point of making an arrest when he was shot by the owner of the tie or by a companion of that man.

Records of state police headquarters at White Plains list Wilder as the son of W. Wilder, of Little Rock, Ark. He had been in the state police service for two years. A year ago he married Inez Allen, of Monroe, N. Y., who died last spring.

Chief Bush, of the Tuxedo police, said tonight that Tuxedo Park has offered a reward of $2,000 for the arrest and conviction of the slayer.

WHOS WHO—AIMS OF INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE FOR PEACE DEFENDED.

By JANE ADDAMS
Chicago Social Worker

The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, of which I am international president, aims at uniting women of all countries to oppose war, exploitation and oppression, and work for universal disarmament. The league's members never have taken any pledge regarding participation in war.

We take no attitude toward people who differ with us. We believe in free speech and fair play for them, as for us.

I suppose the Daughters of the America Revolution consider it objectionable to renounce defensive war, but ten years ago every country in Europe was waging defensive war. They may also object to complete disarmament, but our plans naturally contemplate a mutual agreement and gradual process.

The D. A. R. made me an honorary member in 1900 when I helped obtain a prize at the Paris exposition for the D. A. R. exhibit. They were grateful and made me an honorary member for life, or perhaps only during good behavior, for I doubt whether my name is on their honor roll now.

I cannot imagine how membership in the International League for Peace and Freedom could conflict with a citizen's obligation to uphold the constitution of the United States. I swear every year to uphold the constitution because I have long been postmistress at Hull House.

BIG BOY

"THE WONDER LOAF"

Simply spread with butter or jam. "BIG BOY" makes a delicious and healthy after-school luncheon. Give the young folks all they want—"Big Boy" builds brain and body.

The best everything necessary gives into the making of "Big Boy"—A new process of bread mixing imparts a texture that adds much to its palatable appeal.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Church School Opens—St. Stephen's church school begins its fall work tomorrow at the time of the late church service, 10:45. It is urged that all members come fifteen minutes early in order that registrations be made and classes assigned. The pupils, especially the younger ones, may come with their parents inasmuch as the school and the late services are simultaneous. A pre-kindergarten department has been planned for children of two years of age and upward. The picnic originally planned for today has been postponed one week.

Vital Statistics—Twenty-nine births and 14 deaths occurred during August, according to the monthly vital statistics issued by Dr. H. J. Defnet, city health commissioner.

Bankers' Meeting—Three Escanaba men will attend the meeting of Group One, Michigan Bankers' association, at Marquette today. They are: William Warrington, State Savings bank; William Schmidt, Escanaba National bank, and E. G. Royce, First National bank.

St. Stephen's Fellowship—The Fellowship of St. Stephen's church will meet the rector, Rev. John C. Evans, at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning in the new Fellowship room. A study class will be conducted at that time for the young people, both boys and girls, of junior high and high school age. Social meetings of the Fellowship will be held at the direction of the membership.

Play at Schaffer—Indications point to a large attendance at the home talent play "Jocrisse" which will be staged at the parish hall at Schaffer Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, when a number of married women and girls of the parish will take part. Specialties will be given between acts by the Gas House Trio and Alfred Labranche and Leo Brunelle of this city. Many persons are planning to attend the entertainment, the proceeds of which are for the benefit of Sacred Heart church of which Rev. Fr. Jutras is the pastor.

Junior Mission Band—The Junior Mission band will hold its first meeting of the season this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the parlors of the Swedish Lutheran church. A good attendance is anticipated.

Indiana Pastor to Preach—Rev. F. W. Johnson of Lafayette, Ind., will preach in the Swedish Methodist church here Sunday night. It has been announced. Rev. Johnson has been enjoying a vacation in Escanaba.

New Church Schedule—The summer schedule of services at the First Presbyterian church has been discontinued and the new hours of service will begin Sunday morning, September 9. Bible school, 9:30; morning service, 10:45; and Christian Endeavor at 6:30. Rev. John B. Hubbard, the pastor, will preach Sunday morning. An out-of-town clergyman will probably be heard on the following Sunday.

Terrace Gardens—Eli Rice's Dixie Cotton Pickers, a nine-piece colored orchestra from the south, will feature the dance program at Terrace Gardens tonight.

Speeder Pays Fine—John LaChapelle paid a fine of $1 and costs in Justice of the Peace H. E. Ranguette's court yesterday on a charge of speeding. He was arrested by police early Thursday morning when he was traveling at a high rate of speed on Stephenson avenue.

LaCrosse Bound Over—William LaCrosse of Parkers' Spur was bound over to the next term of circuit court on a charge of forgery in connection with his cashing of an alleged false time order at the Alex Stein store a week ago. He obtained his release upon furnishing a $500 bond.

Parole Violation—Joseph Chouinard of Garden, who was paroled at the April term of court for two years upon pleading guilty to a prohibition law violation, will be arraigned before Judge Frank A. Bell at the next term of court on a charge of parole violation. Parole Officer John Judson and a sheriff's officer found some moonshine in his place Thursday night in a raid.

Starts Music Classes—Mrs. Cora Hicks Bruce will be in Escanaba today to resume the music classes with pupils at the same hour as last year for this week. All children wishing to enter the kindergarten classes are requested to send their names and addresses to the Ludington hotel.

D. of L.—The Daughters of Isabella will hold a regular meeting at the Knights of Columbus clubrooms at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

Dance—Lundin's new six-piece orchestra will play for a dance tonight at Ditttrick's pavilion at Ford River Switch.

Rotary Meeting Tuesday—The regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club has been postponed from Monday noon to Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock when Charles A. Boyd of Marquette will deliver an historical lecture on Upper Michigan. Mr. Boyd will use a stereopticon to illustrate his lecture.

Potato Specialist To Inspect Crops In County Sunday

J. E. Kotila, potato specialist of Michigan State college, East Lansing, will make the second inspection of the potato fields of Delta county farmers who have applied for seed certification on next Sunday, September 9.

Farmers who are raising spuds for certification are Anderson, Gasman and Peterson of Bark River.

SECRETARIES TO MEET AT SAULT

Lindsay to Attend Annual Convention, September 14-15

Harold P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, will attend the annual convention of the Michigan Commercial Secretaries Association which will be held at Sault Ste. Marie Friday and Saturday, Sept. 14 and 15.

The meeting will open with a banquet Friday night at the Hotel Ojibway.

Rudolph Haberman, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Battle Creek, will speak Saturday morning at 9 o'clock on "Airports" and will discuss ownership, equipment and other matters. He will be followed at 9:45 by Earl S. Weber, secretary of the Kalamazoo Chamber of Commerce who will talk on "Air-mail" and at 10:30 Karl Betts of the Detroit Board of Commerce will talk on "Airplanes."

At noon Jason E. Hammond, manager of the Michigan Retail Dry Goods Association of Lansing, will talk on "Future of Independent Merchandising." Talks will also be given by R. T. M. Sawyer of the Lansing Retail Merchants' Association, and W. A. Horke of the Saginaw Board of Commerce.

At 2 p. m. Lee H. Bierce of Grand Rapids will report on the Greater Michigan essay contest; at 2:15 George E. Bishop of the U. P. Development Bureau will talk on "What the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau is Doing." Ray W. Davis of St. Joseph will talk on "New Methods for Collecting Old Dues" and C. W. Otto of Lansing will talk on "New Thoughts on Industrial Exhibits."

John Wilson of Portland, Ore., is visiting friends in Escanaba. Mr. Wilson was engaged in the livery business in this city at one time, and also operated a large farm at Nowhall.

NATURE STUDY HOUR.

Some Intimate Studies of the Life and Habits of Quaint Creatures of the North Michigan Woods

THE ZOOLAK (voco magna) Naturalists long ago learned that the best time of year to study the habits of the zoolak is in February when the quaint little animal emerges from his nest to perch high on the branches of the banana palms and sun himself in the balmy breezes that blow, during that season, from the coral strands of Little Bay de Noc.

A diligent reader of the daily papers, the zoolak waits until he sees the item about the discovery of the first robin in Lake Shore drive. Then he tosses off his winter habiliments and with a joyous song, he makes his presence known. His mellifluous voice is, in reality, not a voice at all. It is created by striking his left hind leg against the lobe of his right ear. The ear, which is made of bell metal, peals out its resonant tone with great verve and timbre. It is believed that, with the zoolak, originated the phrase, "ringing in the ears." It has been noted that left-handed zoolaks strike their left ears with their right hind legs.

The zoolak lives principally on ripe olives, carrot seed and the nuts which fall from the dough trees. It is held in deadly fear by all of the other northwoods creatures and is held in the highest respect even by the fierce hog-dog and the ferocious squawk.

It ranges in size from that of the half-grown dingbat to that of a full-grown m-quad.

No museum or zoo in the country has ever been able to acquire a live pair. The animal will not live in captivity. However, it is authentically reported that Nate Hepson, of Misery Bay, had a tame one in the hollow date-palm in his back yard for several years, the animal falling victim, one morning, to a concentrated attack by a flock of mosquitos.

CHAPTER XIX

"I never give advice, Lynda," said Claire, "because I think that everyone should go her own way and abide by her own mistakes. However, I can't help saying to you:

"Hitch onto David, Lynda. He is very different from Ralph. He may not be marvellously thrilling, but he has more to offer you in spite of Ralph's money. Ralph can never be free to marry until that insane wife of his dies, and she is in splendid bodily health at the present moment, and by that time, whatever his intentions now, he will have grown tired. I know—I have seen him through too many of his flirtations since he left college."

"But I don't want to get married. I just want to do my work, Claire, as well as I can, and be paid adequately for it. I'm not looking for a husband but a job."

"Yes you are, old dear, yes you are. Every modern girl, in her heart of hearts, wants to marry quite as much as her mother did. It's her business, as well as her object in life. You may deny it to everyone, even to yourself, but that will not change the facts of the case. Nature and destiny make marriage a woman's vocation. You will fall in love my dear. Nature will take care that her only law is obeyed, and pray God it will be to some man who honorably proposes marriage to you. If you happen to be taken with some man who is tied to another woman, you can make up your mind you are done for. When you find out that the dreams you had can never be fulfilled, you get panicky."

Lynda started to say something, but Claire hurried on.

"No, dear, I'm not giving you a dish of applesauce. I'm just trying to say that the girl of today has lots of knowledge about some things that her mother wouldn't have talked about even to herself, but she has very little knowledge of some things that her mother knew all about. Your grandmother called it a question of morality. Your mother confessed to herself its expediency. We do not worry much about moral questions these days; in fact, I'm not sure that I know what morality means, but I have learned, more's the pity, what expediency means. There are so many cruel people in the world who call themselves moral, that I've passed the word up, but I'm selfish, my dear, and I want to live on good terms with myself, and some day I want to marry a good man. That self stands between me and many things. It stands between Fred and me—our love, rather my love, for him. It tells me always to throw Fred overboard, out of my life. But sometimes I grow tired, oh, so tired, and I'm afraid that the continual battle I must wage will in turn wear me out."

"After all what difference will it make? I sometimes say to myself, 'I don't amount to very much. I'm just one more girl.' People will forget me and my transgressions in a week, and besides, they have grown more forgiving of frailty than when the mother was young. Even reformers have grown more charitable since the stage and screen have left nothing to the imagination, nothing upon which to whet one's curiosity. You can't live by the old rules any longer. There must be individual rules for individual cases."

"Claire do you suppose I will ever know as much as you?"

"I hope not, dear child. I hope not! If the agony I have passed through is the only thing that can teach it to you it is an awful thing to love a man sincerely and come out of your dreams to find he is most unworthy."

Lynda looked at Claire in almost awe. Had love taught her all this? Timidly she asked:

"Do you still love Fred Blaque?"

"God help me, Lynda—he has been selfish and cruel, but I'm afraid I will always love him. I think I would go to him tomorrow, if it were not for his wife and children. For myself, it would not matter much, but some way, something within me balks at hurting another woman or helpless children. Perhaps it would have been different, if Fred had told me in the first place and allowed me to take my choice, but first you see he made me love him, and then—there, I guess I've dramatized myself enough for one day."

"She is good," said Lynda to herself, "and she has had the greatest temptation that could come, and she did not fall. I don't believe that Dad is right, after all. Oh, Mother! Mother! Why did you leave me to work all this out alone? Didn't you realize that some day I should need that?"

Lynd listened, for Claire again was speaking:

"Now, dear, I'm going to stop sermonizing; but some way you seem so sweet. I don't want you to go on in daily contact with Ralph Armitage without your knowing what you are up against. God knows I don't want you to go through with him, what I've had to with Fred Blaque. I have not only had to fight him, but myself. You don't mind if I tell you things, do you? By the way, if I were you I would use a lipstick."

"Why do you say that, Claire?" asked Lynda in surprise, thinking of what Ralph had said to her about one. "I've never reddened my lips in my life."

"Well, you had better begin now, my dear. That sensitive mouth of yours says too much. It tells the naked truth before you speak. You must dress it up, for most men today think that the naked truth is more immodest than the naked body."

Lynda blushed, but she determined that never again should her lips tell her secrets before her tongue. The next day, when she appeared at the office, discreet evidences of lipstick disguised her mouth from its childish outlines to almost a gamin's mischievousness.

TRAFFIC AT THE STRAITS.

DURING THE week or ten days just preceding Labor Day automobile traffic across the Straits of Mackinac was just about as heavy coming north, from lower to upper peninsula, as it was going south. This is quite different from other years when the north-bound traffic showed a sharp falling off during this period. It was commented upon by Frank F. Rogers, State Highway Commissioner, when he visited the Sault this week, as being a clear indication that the lower state touring public is being sold on the fact that the upper peninsula has good roads, and is taking advantage of them to make the "around Lake Michigan" and to a lesser extent, the "round Lake Huron" tours.

Automobilists used to plan their trips into the upper peninsula with the idea of venturing timorously up into the wild and doubtful country above the Straits, coming to the Sault or elsewhere within a comparatively few miles of St. Ignace and then heading down across the Straits to "safety" and civilization again. Now they realize that there are hundreds of miles of fine highways here, and they plan more extensive trips, and many of them see more of our north, and go home through Wisconsin or Ontario.

Speaking of automobilists and the Straits, we are not fully and completely in accord with the proposed plan to have the state ferries stop at the island. It looks very much as if this would slow up the service to an undesirable extent. There is also the consideration that the private ferries now operating would quit running, in which case the state ferries now operating would quit running, in which case the state ferries would have to continue during the rush months even if they desired to cut out the Mackinac Island stop.

Most important reason of all, however, is the fact that the state ferries are, first and foremost, for automobiles, their chief function being to take autos from lower to upper peninsula, and visa versa, as speedily as possible. Any step that tends to interfere with this function should be taken with much care.

We are fully in sympathy with those who desire to stimulate business on Mackinac Island, but this certainly ought not to be done at the cost of impeding traffic between the two peninsulas.—Sault Ste. Marie News.

right for them to look after state property.

However, not to admit too much, he adds, "But it is not all right to let them go into the several counties of Michigan and usurp the authority of sheriffs and other legal representatives of the people." And of course it isn't. But the question is not a question of usurpation at all, as far as the state police as an institution are concerned. (If there is individual abuse of authority or misconduct by a trooper or troopers, offenders should of course be disciplined, which, however, is another matter). The real question is a question of cooperation and aid, much needed and, we believe, generally appreciated by sheriffs and village marshals and other local peace officials who are hampered increasingly by the territorial limits of their authority and cannot hope to guard the countryside against automobile thugs and bandits, to whom political frontiers mean nothing, unless they are aided by representatives of law with a state wide scope of operations.

Any thing that tends to weaken the influence or strength of the Michigan state police is a direct aid to banditry; instead of being subjected to attack as something unnecessary or improper the state police ought to be encouraged in every possible way and strengthened.—Detroit Free Press

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON.

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS

Saturday afternoon represents an opportunity that few take advantage of. Of course a great many THINK they take advantage of Saturday afternoon—but do they? They use it more and more as the beginning of a week-end holiday. Or, in the case of some, it is well along on a week-end holiday which began on Friday. More and more Americans are coming to the British idea of a long week-end. But the real opportunity of Saturday afternoon is for work. Most people are doing something else. They are out of the office to interrupt and to trouble. More work can be done comfortably and easily on Saturday afternoon than on any full day of the week. This is a useless paragraph. Nobody will try it.

CIRCUS MEN

Who have contributed more to clean fun and a good time in this more or less sad world than the circus men? The famous ones have gone or are passing on. Barnum is dead, and so is Bailey. One Ringling left. John G. Robinson, who founded Robinson's circus, has passed away, and now his son, "Gil" Robinson, well-known showman and author of circus history, is dead.

The old showmen did a lot for human happiness. It is fortunate that there are those left who still carry on the big top.

"SHOW BOAT"

This is not an advertising column but the writer would be falling down on a good turn if he didn't advise tourists to New York to see what is perhaps the best musical comedy ever made—"Show Boat." It is a dramatization of Edna Ferber's novel. This show is clean—and it has everything. It has comedy, high, middle and low, and it has pathos. It has plot and it has music. If you work Saturday afternoon—as per advice in the first article in this column—you have a right to see "Show Boat" on Saturday night.

WEEKS

Henry Ford predicts automobile tires made out of common, roadside weeds, and motor cars fueled with alcohol. He is probably right. Edison has discovered that some sort of rubber can be made from almost every weed that grows. Oleander plants seem the best producers. No need worry about shortage of gasoline. Alcohol can run motor cars, and alcohol can be made of almost any vegetable matter.

The value of Ford is not altogether as a manufacturer but as a man who can keep the people thinking about new things.

France is the only big nation without a national sport. Gouging the tourists is strictly a business proposition.—Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

Nowadays when you see a woman sewing on tiny clothes, she may be making something for grandma.—Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

A LARGE ORDER.

THE MAYOR of Philadelphia got an inspiration the other day, and ordered his town to be shut up tight within 24 hours. It was quite an order, because 13,000 places, including speakeasies, gambling houses, racketeers' resorts and vice ring establishments, were said to be in operation.

The inspiration for Mr. Mackey came out of a grand jury investigation, which disclosed a gigantic rum ring and bribery of police and public officials by bootleggers. So he said to his crusaders: "Close everything."

Probably it was a good idea. Without doubt it was a fine gesture for Mr. Mackey to make, but it is questionable whether his program was feasible. The "unbearable conditions" found by the grand jury grew up gradually; to rectify them in a single day, by the magical snapping of a pair of fingers, looks like a super-human task. Possibly it can be done, but one cannot help being impressed with the idea that a requisite to cleaning up a bad town would be a house cleaning among the officials who were supposed to keep it clean in the first place.

Mayor Mackey has been in office about eight months, without apparently knowing what was going on. Somehow it would seem that he might have acquired enlightenment sooner and begun to exert pressure in the right direction. But if he can close up the town in a day he will deserve a lot of commendation, and then if he can keep it closed he will merit much more praise.

These 24-hour drives of righteousness are very impressive, but their thoroughness might be brought into question. A sustained, relentless effort lasting at least 24 days would offer prospects of being more effective. It's too bad we can't have fewer gestures and more brass tacks in the business of government.—Ann Arbor News.

THE STATE POLICE, A NECESSITY.

WILLIAM A. COMSTOCK says that "one of our departures from the representative form of government is the state police." If that is so, it also is true that one of our departures from the representative form of government is the municipal police, for broadly speaking, the municipal police perform in cities, the work which state police perform in the commonwealth.

But city police as far from being departures from the representative form of government. On the contrary they are its most necessary guardians. Without them, there would be very little effective and tangible government of any sort in American municipalities. In its place we would see chronic riot, crime and bloodshed. And what is true with respect to large centers of population is more and more becoming true with respect to rural areas. The state police have grown up because they are necessary to a peaceful state of society and the maintenance of some degree of respect for law throughout Michigan. Under normal conditions there can be no real protection for life and property without them.

Mr. Comstock himself seems to sense the situation in a way because after asserting baldly that there is "no place in our government for that organization" he concedes that "it might be all

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT.

Fred Thomson in "The Sunset Legion," the western star's latest Paramount production, came to the Delft theatre yesterday, and was proclaimed again by his host of fans. "The Sunset Legion" compares most favorably with his previous Paramount productions.

Thomson enacts a double role in this picture. For one he is known only as a black masked rider of the plains mounted on a black horse, and the other as being an unconcerned wayfarer, who is looked upon mostly as being a little "queer." In reality, however, he is a captain of Rangers, that famous body of hard riding men, who have so admirably written several thrilling pages in the pioneer history of America.

Her performance is sparkling. William Courtwright, as "Old Bill," owner of the gold mine which has been ransacked by thieves, adds to the merit of the picture, as well as Harry Woods, the villain.

AT THE STRAND.

Harry Hoyt, well known screen director, who literally startled the world with his sensational production of Conan Doyle's "The Lost World," directed "The Return of Boston Blackie" now at the Strand. This picture is Josephine Quirk's adaptation of the well known Cosmopolitan Magazine story by Jack Boyle. Corliss Palmer, Raymond Glenn and Strongheart, the dog star, head the cast. Others among the several favorites are Colt Albertson, William Worthington, Florence Mix, J. P. Lockney, Violet Palmer and Rosemary Cooper.

FOR THE REST.

If I can cheer my own sad heart,
And make my own lips smile,
If I can bravely play my part
For just a little while,
Whatever longings in my breast
Can try content to be,
That will be something for the rest,
The rest as well as me.

For cheer or sadness, smile or sigh,
One cannot wear alone,
The faces of the passerby
Are faces they have known.
I'll hide my sadness, if I can,
My sorrow, if I may,
And throw no shadow on the man
Or maid who comes my way.

Although I find a sad old earth,
I shall not call it so,
But give the world a look of mirth
So men will never know,
If life is but an empty shell
I'll make it look its best,
That will be something for myself,
And something for the rest.

FAIR GROUNDS WORK RUSHED

New Construction Will Be Completed by Next Week

As the time is rapidly drawing near for the opening of the Upper Peninsula State Fair on September 17, workmen are busily engaged in putting on the finishing touches to new buildings at the fairgrounds.

The performers' platform, 50 by 60 feet, was erected this week in front of the grandstand, just across the race track. The platform will be illuminated for night performances.

The new grandstand, which will seat about 4800 people, is completed except for the finishing of the electrical and plumbing work. This will be all done by the first of the week, however. A large safe has been placed in the fair treasurer's office, and desks have also been installed in the other fair offices under the grandstand. Counters for concessionaries' stands have been built under the stand.

Work of re-roofing the large exposition building was completed Wednesday. This structure is painted in white with green trimmings, similar to the new buildings. New display racks for the agricultural exhibits have been made, and several of the local exhibitors were preparing their booths yesterday. Large and attractive exhibits will be placed by the state conservation department, the department of health, agricultural extension department, public safety department, I. Stephenson company, National Grocer company, Fair Store, Economy Light company.

The aquarium exhibits of the conservation department will be located in the south wing of the exposition building, while on the outside cages were being built yesterday for housing the bears, coyotes, deer and other species of wild life.

The horseshoe pitching courts are located on the west side of the new poultry building. There is space and facilities to allow the playing of eight games at one time. The courts are enclosed within a three-foot fence.

The extension of water and gas service to the grounds is near completion.

Catholic Services On new Schedules

Services in all three local Catholic churches have been changed to the fall and winter schedule which will go into effect Sunday, September 9. Low masses will be read at St. Anne's, St. Joseph's and St. Patrick's churches at 7:30 and 9 o'clock. At St. Patrick's and St. Joseph's a 6 o'clock mass will be read and high mass at all three churches at 10:30 o'clock.

Benediction with the blessed sacrament will be held in the afternoon, St. Anne's at 2 o'clock, St. Joseph's at 2:30, and at St. Patrick's benediction will be given after the 10:30 mass.

Holy hour will be observed at all three churches Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The regular schedule is given in the Sunday issue of this paper in the regular church notice column. It is deemed advisable to clip the list of services and to refer to it when in doubt.

Articles Stolen From English Home Returned; Others Found Missing

When Ivan G. English of 500 So. 8th street, returned to his home from a trip down town Thursday night, he was reminded of the Christmas holidays by finding a nicely packed box on the porch. On unpacking the box he and the members of his family were overjoyed to find it not only contained the Paisley shawl taken from the home several days ago, but a large assortment of other stuff which must have been taken at the same time.

All the gloves that had disappeared, were returned. Three Chinese daggers presented to Mr. English years ago were there. Two gold watches a dozen rings and a Chinese jade bracelet, the latter given to Mr. English with the information that it was a magic bracelet and supposed to protect one from theft. Anyhow whether it does or not it with other things have been stolen twice and returned each time. Some time ago a letter was received by Mr. English telling him his home had been robbed and that for a reward of $30, he would be told who did it.

Some Stuff Missing Yet. Feeling that it was not a professional criminal but some youth who had momentarily yielded to temptation, he said he was not going to offer the reward but was going to give the house breaker a chance to return the stuff. He said by the appearance of the house as well as the varied articles carried off, he was convinced that the taker would come clean if given a chance—and apparently his confidence was well placed, but there are still some things that will have to be returned or left some place where they can be found, or the reward may yet be offered.

Since the article appeared in The Press Monday Mr. English discovered a number of other losses. For instance a winter overcoat was taken. The coat is one of rather a distinctive model and would be spotted any place if worn, Mr. English says. "It will have to come back, or I will have to know where to go and get it with the rest of the stuff."

"A pair of hockey skates belonging to my daughter were taken along with the shoes. They might as well be returned with the coat and the other things. "I got a laugh when I discovered that a puzzle had been stolen. It is a good one and could be done if one piece was not lost. I am saying this for the benefit of the taker, because I am glad he is retaining my goods and I don't want him to waste his talents on a puzzle that can't be done."

"Probably there is a lot of things missing that I have not been able to discover up to this time, so I will have to leave it to the prowler to return them. Whoever wants that reward will want it just as bad in a month from now as they do now, so it will be the wisest thing for the prowler to get it all back. He will then know he is not going to get in trouble with me."

"Possibly it would all have been returned Thursday night if there had been a chance to return it, but it was quite some risk to take to get back what was returned and I do not expect the prowler to take a lot of chances.

Police Have Clues. "I wish he would return other stuff that he has taken from other homes, if he is the same person who has been entering the many homes here during the past few weeks. The police and public are aroused over the house breaking and the police are in possession of what looks to me like important clues that may lead to arrests soon. The housebreaker might be playing safe by returning everything."

"Escanaba is not the only town that is afflicted with this class of crime. There is not a city in the United States that does not lose each year through prowls. There is no criminal so hard for the police to find after the crime has been committed."

"I see by a paper that last week ten prowls were caught in Cleveland, but in every case it was because some citizens happened to either see them when they entered the home or when they were leaving it, just as it happened when my home was looted."

"Returning the amount of stuff that he has, however, convinces me that the balance will be forthcoming. If not, as I said before, I am going to round up the fellow that carried it off."

Michigan Soldier Bonus Chief Will Visit Escanaba

Captain R. S. Dean, chief of the Michigan Soldiers Bonus division of the Adjutant General's office of Michigan, will spend two days in Escanaba this month, he has announced. He will also visit Manistique and Gladstone for the purpose of talking with anyone who desires to discuss state soldiers' bonus claims.

"The best results can be obtained only when I have the individual file cases with me," Mr. Dean writes. "Consequently, I am anxious that anyone interested get in touch with me, by mail, at P. O. Box 532, Lansing, Mich., giving the name of the ex-service man who has a Michigan bonus claims and sufficient information to enable me to identify his record."

Mr. Dean will visit most of the important cities of the peninsula. He will be at Hotel Ossawinamakee, Manistique, Sept. 12; the American Legion headquarters in Gladstone on the morning of Sept. 13; the Hotel Delta in Escanaba on the afternoon of Sept. 13 and the morning of Sept. 14; Menominee, Stephenson, Powers, Iron Mountain and the Range are the next on his schedule.

18 ADDED TO ENROLLMENT

Eighteen more students have enrolled in the Escanaba public schools this year than last, according to figures compiled by Supt. R. E. Cheney at the end of the first week of the 1928-29 school year.

The Barr, Jefferson and high schools show decreases in the enrollment, while the Franklin, Washington and Webster registration is higher than in 1927.

The complete enrollment of the public school system is, in reality, considerably larger because of the newly established county normal. Registration in this new department is not included in Mr. Cheney's figures.

The teaching staff has not been increased for the regular school system, remaining at 95. However, two additional instructors have been engaged for the county normal.

Following are the complete figures:

Jefferson	400	420
Washington	299	278

THE woman who is captivated with the charming and youthful lines of the Villa, will find in this all over Patent Leather Model a sufficient variation in dress effect from the Patent Leather and Suede combination to justify the presence of both models in her wardrobe at once. While the combination of two toned leathers is new and will be worn by smartly dressed women this Fall, the trim graceful lines of an all Patent model will more than hold its own. The real charm of this model however cannot be appreciated until the shoe is on the foot. Then, with its narrow strap in place, the picture is one of dainty elegance.

Fashionable women are discovering that beautifully shod feet need not be uncomfortable.

Delta Made Ice Cream

Everybody benefits by eating Ice Cream, but children need it most of all, in that it is so hard for them to get enough calcium for their fast growing little bones. Ice Cream gives them the calcium they need as well as the other food elements they ought to get. It is particularly rich in vitamins, the newly discovered requirement for healthy diet. Give the children plenty of pure, rich Cream and know that they will not be stunted from their diet. To know that they get the purest, richest and most wholesome Cream, see that it is made by

X-Ray Operator Is Given Certificate By National Body

Joseph N. Lequia, who for the past nine years has been employed in the X-ray department at St. Francis hospital, received his diploma yesterday from the American Register of Radiological Technicians of St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Lequia took the examination in January and spent two weeks at Marquette university in Milwaukee, in the early spring when he completed the course and studied advanced work in X-ray, physiotherapy, violet radiation and auto-condensation.

Since the arrival of new equipment at the local institution many persons have taken these various treatments and excellent results have been obtained. The Radiological Society of America is the only association of its kind in the United States and Canada and technicians must pass strict examinations before they are granted a certificate.

SOUSA BEGAN AS "FIDDLER"

Famous Conductor Tells of Progress of Band Music

Lieutenant Commander John Philip Sousa, who is bringing his famous band to the Delft on September 13 for two concerts, began his career as a violinist. He went on the road with theatrical and operatic companies and then in 1880 was notified that he had been appointed head of the U. S. Marine Corps band. "I had rather looked down upon bands—being a fiddler," he said recently. "But it wasn't long before I realized that the band had great possibilities. I decided to develop them. At the same time I determined to improve the repertoire of the band. Those pieces that were in the band's library were badly arranged and there was a dearth of good compositions. For instance, there wasn't any representation of Wagner, Tchaikowski, Berlioz and others of that type. Today they are in every good band's program lists. I soon had the great masters represented in the marine music and I managed to life the band out of the rut of polkas, cavatinas and national airs.

"Change in the orchestra has been going on for years. Eighteenth century music had a preponderance of strings. Later there were added woodwind, brass and percussion instruments. As a musical writer has said: 'The symphony orchestra has become a large wind band plus strings.' The brass band as we know it has woodwinds as substitute for strings. Modern composers take advantage of this to give to the band a more dramatic quality and naturally to add quality to performance. I do not advocate the playing of Haydn, Beethoven and Mozart by the band. Such composers as Wagner, Richard Strauss, Elgar, Dvorak and Tchaikowski permit particularly expressive use by bands. In fact, there is much in recent compositions that is better adapted to a wind combination than to strings. America wants the best in music. Everywhere there is evidence of this, what with numberless orchestras throughout the country, numerous festival associations, choral groups, grand opera companies, music clubs and the like. Instrumental and vocal soloists are

Tom Beaton Named Al Smith Chairman For Delta County

Tom Beaton, of Escanaba, has been appointed Delta county chairman of the Ex-Service Men's Smith for President club. It was announced here yesterday by O. J. Fjetland of Iron River, upper peninsula publicity director in the Democratic organization. Mr. Fjetland spent the day in Escanaba, interviewing Democratic leaders.

The ex-service men's national organization is headed by Gen. Henry T. Allen. Willis M. Brewer of Pontiac, state commander of the American Legion, is the vice chairman for Michigan. Mr. Fjetland is in charge of organization work in the peninsula, as well as general campaign publicity.

CLASS ADVISERS ARE SELECTED

Eskey Mortarboard Society Also Elects Its Officers

Miss Harriet Fragile was elected president of the Mortarboard society at the first meeting held at the Escanaba high school yesterday. Other officers named were: Vice president, Katherine Payne; secretary, Jane Glavin; treasurer, Nan Micheaux; adviser, Miss Eula Mack.

The senior, junior and sophomore classes have also elected their class advisers, and the freshmen will name theirs at next Monday's meeting.

The class advisers already chosen are:

Seniors—Mary Ellen French and George Grab.
Juniors—Virginia Hulbert and Edward Edick.
Sophomores—Helen Shipley and L. J. Shaw.

well patronized too and the talking machine and the radio give further evidence of music's popularity. The young composer should welcome America's verdict. It would be correct and just. Yes, this is a musical nation and the composer who realizes that fact will give evidence of the fact by being an originator—not obscure or materialistic.

Crowe, Southard Matched in Finals For Golf Club Cup

Competition for the cup in the Indian Lake golf club championship tournament has narrowed down to two entrants, and the first 18 holes of the final set will be run off this afternoon at 3 o'clock, with S. O. Crowe opposing Theron Southard.

Crowe defeated Benjamin Gero, Jr., third finalist, shooting the net total of 84, and will compete for cup honors against Southard, who drew bye. The deciding round will be completed Sunday.

Services Sunday Close Church Year

The M. E. church will have its closing service of the conference year Sunday. Services for the day have been announced as follows by the Rev. C. S. Risley, pastor:

10:00 a. m. The closing service of this conference year. We hope that every member will be present for this service. The sermon theme: "The Mind of the Master." The pastor will close the sermon with the "Church of My Dreams." We urge your attendance Sunday. . . . 11:15 Bible school. . . . A very good attendance last Sunday. . . . Everyone back in their place. . . . 7:30 Union services. . . . Presbyterians, Baptist and Methodist churches. . . . All others are invited to join with us in this service. . . . To our friends in Manistique. . . . Not only to the members of the church, but to friends outside, we extend to you a very special invitation to our service Sunday. . . . We have added very much to the beauty and worship of our church in its being newly decorated and memorial windows. . . . come to church. . . .

Thompson Couple Married Tuesday

The marriage of Laurence Otis Marlow and Minnie Peterson, both of Thompson, took place at Manistique Thursday, with the Rev. C. Mullenberg of the Presbyterian church officiating. Attending the couple were Mrs. Egnice Bradley, Thompson, and Edwin Cookson, Manistique. Mr. and Mrs. Marlow will reside at Thompson, where the former has a farm.

Banners Erected For County Fair

Street streamers went up yesterday announcing the annual Schoolcraft county fair, which opens at Manistique next Tuesday.

The banners were erected by the Manistique light and power company crew.

VISIT IN MANISTIQUE

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cameron are entertaining the following guests at their home on Michigan avenue: Mr. and Mrs. Collis Cameron of Ingersoll, Canada; Howard Cameron of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. George Cameron of Tilsburg, Canada, and Mrs. Maud MacKay of Dorchester, Can.

Six Million Ducks Year's Toll Of American Hunter

Geneva.—(AP)—From six to ten million ducks were killed in the United States last year, says Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson of New York, president of the American Audubon societies, who made fervent appeal for better protection of birds during the international conference here on bird protection.

Dr. Pearson created a stir when he said that one American sportsman had killed more than 50,000 ducks. Dr. Uchida, the Japanese delegate, reported that more than 500,000 ducks had been killed in Japan in six months.

The conference decided that commercialization of food and plumage birds, with innumerable disregard for the lives of other species of the feathered tribe, is the greatest menace to wild bird life.

Reports submitted declared that the netting and trapping of ducks on Lake Erie, in the United States, and along the coasts of Denmark, Holland, England and the Scandinavian countries is rapidly depleting the supply and that the slaughter of egret and paradise birds at the mating season, when the plumage is most brilliant, is leading to extinction.

Dr. Pearson said that although the killing of golden plovers is forbidden in the United States, they are served regularly on ocean liners. Netters in Holland take about 30,000 golden plovers every year, according to Dr. Einar Lonnberg of Sweden, recognized as the greatest living authority on bird life in Europe. Remarking that the plover lays only four eggs, Dr. Lonnberg said that the time is not far distant when the golden plover will be as scarce in Europe as they are in the United States. He demanded protection for this dying species.

A news dispatch says that Tom Bigger appeared at his office in Lansing the other day but that he was "silent." We have no doubt about the appearance; we respectfully question the silence.

Roads Will All Lead To Manistique; Opening Day of County Fair Tuesday

Three days crammed full of entertainment and instruction will be brought to Manistique next week with the opening of the 17th annual Schoolcraft county fair, and the whole county is stirring to activity in preparation for the exposition.

The fair opens on Tuesday, September 11, and closes Friday night, September 14, the last county fair preceding the first Upper Peninsula state fair. The Schoolcraft fair will hold forth three days and three nights, with midway and free attractions open to the public each evening, along with concerts by the brass band.

According to Secretary W. B. Thomas, this year's exposition will outclass any previous fair ever held in the county. More exhibits will result from better premiums, the free attractions are more and on a higher plane than ever before, more horses are entered for the races, and merchants and the general public seem to be taking more interest in the fair than in past years. All of which indicate that Schoolcraft county will have a banner fair week.

Expect 40 Horses

Latest word received of O. W. Huffer, superintendent of speed, indicates that there will be more than forty race horses here. This will be the greatest number to ever take part in a local meet.

A family affair, that is what this year's fair will be for President Harry Blandford has extended an invitation to every man, woman and child in this section to attend this year's big exposition which opens its gates at Manistique next Tuesday and will continue until Friday.

"Exhibits and entertainment features that will prove of interest to every member of the family have been arranged for this year's big show," declares Mr. Blandford. "Everything is in readiness. All that is needed to establish a record attendance is a favorable break in the weather, and officials are very hopeful of this."

President Pleased

Br. Blandford is very enthusiastic over this year's fair. Says he: "After months of planning and preparation we are ready to present our seventeenth annual fair. Our directors have given more thought and time in planning the features for the 1928 fair than any other year. The exhibit will be outstanding. The entertainment program will be a thrilling one." "This fair belongs to the people. We want every man, woman and child to boost for their institution by not only attending but in getting in touch with their friends and telling them all about the features on the program, Remember, it's your fair so be there. Come and bring your neighbor."

Shoulder Broken in Football Game At the Courtyard

Francis Multhaup, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Multhaup, Michigan avenue, sustained a fractured collar bone in a boys' football game in the court house courtyard at Manistique Thursday evening. The mishap occurred shortly after five o'clock. Francis was attempting to intercept Boyd Boltho, a player on the opposing side, and struck his shoulder sharply at the impact. After receiving medical attention, the boy was able to return to his home, and will resume his school work in a few days.

"BULLS" STILL RULE IN MART

Speculators for Advance Push Prices to New Highs

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL Associated Press Financial Editor

New York, Sept. 7.—The New York Stock Exchange today was the scene of one of the wildest "bull" markets in history.

The "bull" movement gathered such terrific momentum from the unexpectedly small increase of $54,000,000 in brokers' loans that prices were whirled upward $2 to nearly $20 a share before the usual weekly profit-taking checked the advance.

Reports Confusing. So great was the avalanche of buying orders that poured onto the floor from all sections of the country, and even from ships at sea and from foreign capitals, that the ticker quickly fell half an hour behind the market, and remained that way all day.

Wild confusion developed in many of the leading commission houses because of the inability to get prompt reports of orders from the floor. From time to time, word was flashed that active stocks were selling on the floor several points away from the prices being printed on the tape.

Secret Radio Talk Possible. Secret radio talk without the use of codes is possible, according to the inventor of a reflector for radio waves which is being tried out at a Nauen, Germany, transmitting station.

Large Sales Made. The return of the stock market to newspaper front pages throughout the country resulted in drawing crowds to the stock exchange visitors' gallery and elevators and halls there were crowded, even though comparatively few persons were admitted.

Sales of blocks ranging from 5,000 to 20,000 shares were recorded at frequent intervals on the beated ticker tape. Despite apparent stringency of money, which held steady at 7 1/2 per cent, as banks called upwards to finance such purchases running into millions of dollars.

The optimism of the stock market spread to the curb market, although not to such an extent, but the bond market paid little heed. Trading there was about as dull as at any time during the past few months. Montgomery Ward was the feature of the day in the roaring stock market, soaring nearly $20 per share to $242 and then slumping to around $236, as compared with the year's low price of $117.

Sears Roebuck emulated its example, climbing to a new record high price of $157 before it yielded to $154.

United States Steel common, Tidewater Associated Oil, American Safety Razor, Brunswick Balke Collender, Electric Autolite, International Nickel, Purity Baking, Timken Roller Bearing, Commercial Investment Trust, Fox Film "A" and Gold Dust were among the issues to establish new high prices for the year or longer.

Rails took little part in the day's advance.

Sight-Saving Classes For Pupils Increase

New York—Sight-saving classes for the education of children with defective vision in 15 years have made their most progress in Ohio, Michigan and New York.

The announcement is based on a survey covering the work of 292 classes in 80 cities of 18 different states.

Ohio is ranked first because its 57 classes provide one for every 19,740 children of public school age, and Michigan is second because its 33 classes provide one for every 22,272 school children.

The regular Aid program will be observed, followed by a luncheon.

Ladies' Aid Meets Thursday Afternoon

The Ladies' Aid of the St. Pauls Lutheran church will meet next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Mathy, Wisconsin avenue.

Cuba Would Use Condemned Men In Research Work

Havana, Cuba—Whether it's going to be formal, official execution for the condemned convicts of Cuba or death in the name of science, is being discussed in the newspapers as a consequence of a request made to the government by Dr. Matias Dague, member of the national sanitation board and leading Cuban physician.

He asked to be allowed to experiment with cancer cure through the medium of condemned convicts whom he would inoculate with the virus of that dread disease.

The issue is being roundly debated. Convicts condemned to death now are executed by the "garrote," which chokes them.

Those present were, Christine MacMillan, Charlotte Marble, Anita Rosenblum, Cornelia Henderson, Claire Clark, Helen Erickson, Marie Mann, Georgia Zinke, Ruth Norriss, June Woodhall and Mesdames O. N. Maechtle and L. K. Carson.

Big 4 Committees Meet Sunday A. M.

A meeting of members of the Big 4 committees who arranged and carried through so successfully the Labor Day dance at the Rialto, last Monday, is requested by James A. Mackie, chairman of committees.

The meeting is being held to make a final checkup on the net proceeds from the affair so that they may be turned over to the Parent-Teachers association. Representatives of each lodge are asked to be at the Rialto lodge rooms between 9 and 10 o'clock Sunday morning, Sept. 9th.

AT THE RIALTO

Monte Blue in Warner Bros. "Across the Atlantic" is thrilling audiences at the Rialto Theatre this week. The thrills are not make-believe thrills either, the stunts, so Hollywood onlookers say, having been done, not by "doubles" but by the redoubtable Monte himself.

The story is by John Ransome. Harry Gates did the adaptation and Howard Bretherton is responsible for the splendid direction. Principals in support of Mr. Blue are the captivating Edna Murphy, Burr McIntosh and Robert Ober. Blue has been cast in all sorts of plays from Westerns to the most sophisticated comedy. But he has never had a part more suited to his two-fisted personality than that of Hugh Clayton, the wounded ace who is long believed dead by his father, brother and sweetheart.

These three go abroad to visit the French village from which he last wrote—and it is then that the hero escapes from a hospital, confiscates a plane and flies to France to find his brother about to marry the girl. Thrilling, human, real. All lovers of red-blooded drama and glamorous romance should see Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic."

Railway Conductor's Meeting on Sunday

There will be a regular meeting of the Gladstone Division, No. 340, Order Railway Conductors, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Rialto hall. All members are requested to be present.

FAVORS CROP INSURANCE Washington (AP)—V. N. Valgren, federal agricultural economist, believes that insurance against severe crop losses is needed by farmers and would be practicable if limited to two-thirds or three-fourths of a normal yield. Lack of proper demand, he says, is one of the most difficult phases of the crop insurance problem to be solved.

Dinner Given in Honor of Grand Lodge Officials

Two officers of the Grand Lodge, F. and A. M. State of Michigan, were guests of the Gladstone Lodge, No. 396, Thursday evening at a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the local lodge rooms. It was attended by about seventy-five members of the local lodge and Delta Lodge, No. 195 of Escanaba.

P. Homer Newton, Pontiac, Grand Master, and Frank O. Gilbert of Bay City, Grand Lecturer were the honored guests. Albert J. Young of Escanaba, Junior Grand Warden, was also present. The visit was the Grand Master's first trip to the upper peninsula and he was very enthusiastic and keenly delighted with its beauties.

The banquet was followed by a school of instruction and work in the F. C. degree. The Order of Eastern Star, Minnawasca Chapter, No. 36, prepared and served the banquet menu.

The event had been arranged by the entertainment committee composed of G. E. Dehlin, Claude E. Hawkins and James T. Jones.

MARKET NEWS STOCK PRICES JUMP UPWARD

STOCK SALES AVERAGES. Date Twenty Twenty Today x 215.50 214.51

BY STANLEY W. PRENSIL Associated Press Financial Editor

(x)—Ex-dividend 15. (xx)—Ex-dividend 125.

New York, Sept. 7.—(P)—Wild speculation for the advance in today's stock market carried to

The unexpectedly small increase of $4,000,000 in Federal Reserve Bankers' Loans, announced after the close yesterday, released a flood of buying orders which nearly swamped the trading facilities of the exchange.

The ticker fell 30 minutes behind the market before midday and never caught up. While powerful pools whirled their favorites up at a dizzy pace, the public jumped into the market in ever increasing numbers.

Call money held steady at 7 1/2 per cent all day. Banks called more than $20,000 in loans, but new funds were quickly forthcoming to take their place. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady. Sterling exchange dropped to a new low level for the year, and Wall Street revived stories of an early return flow of gold from Europe.

Price movements bore little relation to the day's news although market letters and flashes of the leading commission houses called attention to the excellent prospects for fall business and repeated many of the dividend and merger rumors in circulation throughout the financial district.

One of the most significant developments of the day was the monthly steel ingot production report of the American Iron & Steel Institute, showing that last month's output had exceeded 4,000,000 tons for the first August in history.

Auto production in August also set a new high record. M. Ward Soars Montgomery-Ward was the sensational feature in today's market, soaring 1 1/2 points to 242, partly at the expense of a harassed short interest, and then dipping to 236 1/2.

Nearly a quarter of a million shares of Tidewater-Associated Oil changed hands, the stock touching a new high at 25 on buying influenced by reports of an early increase in California gasoline prices.

Briggs Manufacturing crossed 49 to a new high on a tremendous turnover, with the demand stimulated by reports of large orders from Chrysler and other leading manufacturers.

New high records for the year, or longer, also were established by such widely diversified issues as American Safety Razor, Associated Dry Goods, Brunswick Balke Colender, Chrysler, Commercial Investment Trust, Central Alloy Steel, Electric Auto Lite, Fox Film "A", Gold Dust, International Nickel, Motor Products Corporation, Purity Baking, Russia Insurance, Sweets Co. of America, and Timken Roller Bearing.

Rails Are Sluggish Except for a moderate advance in the Missouri Pacific issues, the rails took little part in the day's advance. His was probably due to the disappointing freight traffic report, which was attributed to the delayed crop movement caused by low commodity prices.

Commodity prices moved within extremely narrow and irregular limits. Wheat and cotton closed practically unchanged, coffee quotations were slightly firmer and the raw sugar futures market was easier.

Sterling Cables sagged to $4.85 1-8 for the first time this year. Other foreign exchanges showed only normal fluctuations.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(P)—Hogs, receipts 11,000; market closed fairly active mostly 10 to 15 higher than yesterday's average; top 13.20 paid springling for choice 180 to 215 pounds; shippers took 5,000; estimated holdover 4,000.

CHICAGO POTATOES

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(P)—Potatoes, receipts 98 cars; on track 210 cars; total U. S. shipments, 624 cars; trading fair; market steady; Kansas and Missouri sacked Irish cobblers 65 to 80, mostly 70 to 75; Minnesota sacked early Ohio 75 to 90; Wisconsin sacked Irish cobblers 95 to 1.00, mostly 1.00.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(P)—Grains settled down today on a little firmer foundation to await the work of the government crop forecasts. Trading was inactive, but beneath the surface was a more confident sentiment and the principal grains all closed at net advances for the day. Wheat owed its relative strength largely to unpropitious weather indications northwest and the reticence of northwest sellers. Hedging sales went almost unnoticed on the Chicago market.

Wheat closed firm, 1-4 to 3-4 higher; Sept. 1 1/8 1-4; Dec. 1 1/8 3-8 to 1-3; March 1 1/8 7-8 to 1-20, and May 1 1/8 5-8.

Shorts in corn appeared to be impressed with the steady demand for high priced cash corn and took cover heavily in September today. Again there was a dearth of country offerings. There were 105,000 bushels sold for cash with the basis unchanged to one cent higher.

September at one point touched 97, but receded at the last. Deferred deliveries were up fractionally with September. Weather conditions were favorable on the whole. September closed 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher, at 95 1/2 to 5-8; other months ending unchanged to 1-2 up; December 75 3-8 to 1-2; March 77 1-2, and May 79 7-8.

Buying of oats was stronger than of late and shorts covered on the way up. All months scored independent gains, finishing 1-2 to 1 1-4 higher; September 49 1-8 and December 41 1-4.

St. Francis Hospital

The home of Maurice Coll, 201 North Eleventh street, has been filled with friends since the body was removed from the Alto Funeral Home Thursday afternoon. Mr. Coll was widely known in the city and surrounding places and numbered his friends by the score.

The many floral and spiritual tributes speak eloquently of the high esteem in which he was held. Mr. and Mrs. Schelf, and her sister, Lois, have left for their home in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, 830 Sheridan Road, are the parents of a son. James McDonald has returned to St. Clair after having been treated for an infection in his hand.

Ed Larson, 1206 Stephenson avenue, who was a surgical patient has sufficiently recovered to return to his home. Joseph Duchene of Rock has returned to his home. Patients who have been dismissed include Berger Olson, Soo Hill, Mrs. H. J. Lynch, Gordon Bentzen, Lawrence Wills, Rapid River, and Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Lamorj of Rock.

Selma Bentzen, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bentzen, 622 Stephenson avenue, submitted to an operation for the removal of her appendix and is as well as can be expected. No visitors are allowed for a few days. Alice Norstrom of Gladstone will return to her home Sunday. Kathryn Scheib of Chicago who was injured in an auto accident Monday forenoon and her parents.

OBITUARY

JOSEPH CADREAU

Joseph Cadreau, 64, of Bate De Wasig, Sugar Island, remembered as a famous pilot who rode the rapids for 25 years without a single accident, died suddenly at the War Memorial hospital at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Thursday morning, of acute indigestion.

Mr. Cadreau, one of the best known pilots of the rapids of the St. Mary's river, was known to sportsmen throughout the county by his experiences has been told by his friends and companions.

He is survived by his wife and four sons, Wilfred, James and Archie of Sugar Island, and John of Detroit and one daughter, Mrs. Hortwick of St. Jacques, Mich. Besides two brothers, Louis and Henry of the Sault, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. Mary McDonald of the Sault.

Mr. Cadreau was born in Sault Ste. Marie, May 29, 1864, and was a member of the Catholic church. Funeral services will be held Saturday at the Sacred Heart chapel on Sugar Island, Rev. Fr. William Gagnier, S. J., officiating. Burial will be in Sugar Island cemetery at Bate-De-Wasig.

Yanks and Athletics Go Into Tie for 1st Place

HUGMEN DROP 2 TO SOLONS

Washington Hurlers Aided by Tight Fielding in Double Victory

New York, Sept. 7.—(P)—The Yankees dropped into a tie with the Athletics for first place in the American league by losing both ends of a double header to Washington today 11 to 9, and 6 to 1. Virgo Marberry gave the Yanks nine hits in the second game after Irving Hadley had shut them out with only three in the opener.

While the Yankees were losing the Athletics took two games from the Red Sox to go into a tie for first. Each team now has won 27 games and lost 47.

Phillies, Braves Split Double Bill

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—(P)—The Phillies divided a double header with the Boston Braves here today winning the first game, 4 to 0, but losing the nightcap, 4 to 3, in eleven innings.

Milligan, pitching for the Phillies, didn't allow a hit until two were down in the seventh inning of the second game. With two out and Boston one run ahead in the ninth, Cy Williams hit the ball over the fence for a home run. Bengie pitched splendidly in the opening game after filling the bases and one out in the first inning.

Cub Batters Pound Lucas and Luque for 19 Safeties

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(P)—The Cubs pounded Lucas and Luque for 19 hits and routed the Reds, 11 to 1, in the opening game of their series today. Root pitched perfect ball for the Cubs and was never in any trouble, allowing only four hits. The Reds got their lone run in the fifth on a single, a walk and an infield out.

Barrow-Taxi Problem Big.
What to do with street hawkers is a problem that is bothering the police of Paris, along with that of getting speeding taxi drivers to behave. They say they are practically helpless against the peddlers who block traffic with their barrows. When questioned by a Paris alderman recently the Prefect of Police said that no fewer than 21,976 arrests were made last year. One hawker, he said, was arrested on 300 different occasions, but still persisted. The nuisance, however, continued unabated, and the law would have to be changed to deal with it, he added.

CARDS BUNCH HITS TO WIN

Pittsburgh Defeated by St. Louis; Score Is 6 to 3

St. Louis, Sept. 7.—(P)—Again ousted, the St. Louis Cardinals bunched their efforts for a 6 to 3 victory here today, winning the second game of the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates. As in yesterday's battle the Pirates held the edge in pounding out safeties by a 7 to 6 margin.

Earl Adams of the Pirates muffed his first try in 236 chances in the eighth to allow the Cards their sixth run after Bottomley had scored the fifth on Maranville's sacrifice. Brickell's homer with no one on in the ninth failed to molest the Cardinal lead.

Peace Medals to Be Sent Abroad
New York.—The Kellogg treaty outlawing war is to be made the basis of a friendly gesture between the high school students of New York and the students of advanced schools in London, Berlin, Paris and Rome.

A group of good will medals, commemorating the signing of the Kellogg treaty, are to be sent by the New York students to those across the Atlantic, the American Cooperation in Government committee announces. Alfred C. Bossmom, former New York architect now living in London, has offered to sponsor the awards.

ANIMAL AMBULANCES
Berlin (P)—Ambulances for animals are the latest addition to the city street scene. The local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals put two motorcycles with side-cars into service to care for animals—cats and dogs chiefly—that meet with street accidents.

FRENCH TENNIS TEAM LEADING

International Contest Is Leaning Toward Invading Players

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 7.—(P)—Carrying on where they left off here last summer when they won the Davis Cup, French tennis players swept to victory in three matches out of four today to take a commanding lead in the Franco-American team contest which will be concluded with five matches tomorrow. The invaders need only two more wins to clinch the series.

Sadly missing the services of Big Bill Tilden, the disqualified star who learned to play on these same courts, the United States was able to win only one match. John Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., downed Jacques Brugnon by scores of 6-3, 6-2, but George Lott, of Chicago, was beaten by Henri Cochet, 6-1, 6-3, and John Hennessey, of Indianapolis, bowed to Jean Borotra, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, in the other singles.

With a chance to square matters in the doubles match with the French youngsters, Christian Bousus and Pierre Landry, the youthful John Doeg, of Santa Monica, Cal., and Wilbur F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City, were added to the list of U. S. casualties by scores of 6-2, 7-5.

Cochet Is Star.
In an exhibition match Miss Helen Wills, woman champion of three nations, met Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, former inter-collegiate champion and present No. 11 in the national ranking. With Allison hitting out as severely as though playing a man, Queen Helen of Berkeley was beaten by scores of 6-1, 6-1.

For those who see these matches as significant of American chances against the French in future Davis Cup play and in the national singles championships next week, the day was a dreary one. As a singles player Cochet stood out clearly above the rest. He was favored to beat Lott but not by any such crushing margin.

Borotra, too, showed brilliant tennis in overcoming the stubborn resistance put up by "Smiling John."

Wells Reserves To Meet Aristocrats

The Aristocrats and the Wells reserves, two amateur baseball teams of the county, will cross bats Sunday afternoon at the South Park diamond. Both teams boast enviable records for the season and outlooks are bright for an even battle Sunday.

Either Perryman or McGee will do the hurling for the Aristocrats with Fitzharris on the receiving end. Miller and Hardy will compose the Wells battery. Play will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

SAINTS GIVEN SNAPPY DRILL

Coach Leo Brunelle, of the Saint Joseph high school football team, quickened the pace for his squad of footballers last night, and found the lads capable of meeting his demand for speed and lots of it.

Falling on the ball, shadow blocking and other fundamentals of the game were stressed, with plenty of snap but no chances being taken with early injuries. The backfield was given some drill in pivoting, turning and change of pace, and the linemen got a touch of footwork, too.

Vincent McGee, who played guard for the Saints three years ago, but dropped out of school, reported to Brunelle last night. He weighs 180 pounds and is in excellent physical condition. He is expected to contribute a lot of power to the parochials' forward wall.

The Saints open their season at Vulcan on Sept. 22.

With 125 people to the square mile, Salvador is now one of the most densely populated countries in the world.

LOMSKI WINS FROM LATZO

Detroit, Sept. 7.—Leo Lomski of Aberdeen Wash., won the referee's decision over Pete Latzo, Scranton, Pa., light-heavyweight in a slashing ten round fight here tonight.

Lomski, in superb condition, piled up his margin through some terrific punching in the early rounds, but was hard pressed to maintain the advantage. Latzo apparently solved the style of the westerner in the closing rounds and was rapidly cutting down the lead when the final bell sounded. The verdict in favor of Lomski was greeted with mingled cheers and jeers from the capacity crowd that attended.

Both boys started off a terrific clip with Lomski carrying the fight to his opponent and landing effectively with a right uppercut that several times spun the Scranton miner around. Lomski maintained his lead until the sixth round but the pace had been so fast that both fighters were arm and leg weary when the session ended. Latzo showed the better recuperatory powers and assuming the aggressive was volleying hooks and jabs to the head with only an occasional return during the closing rounds.

The referee gave Lomski a slight edge in tie first four rounds, scored the next three even, and awarded the last three to Latzo.

PLAN 'WIG-WAG' AT 23RD STREET

Bell-Light Signal to Be Placed at C. & N. W. Crossing

A proposal by the Chicago & Northwestern railway to install a wig-wag warning device at the Twenty-third street crossing was approved by the Escanaba city council at its meeting last night. The crossing is located on the new US 41-3 highway, near the Birdseye Venter plant.

D. B. McIntyre, assistant superintendent of the Chicago & Northwestern, appeared before the council to explain the safety measure. Because of the double tracks at this point, Mr. McIntyre stated, it was felt that the wig-wag light and bell signals, similar to the one at the Wells crossing, would be more effective than the use of a flagman. He explained that at double track crossings there is always the possibility of a motorist, after he has waited for a train to pass, to advance and be struck by another train coming from the opposite direction on the further track. With the signal device, however, the motorist would remain stationary until the bell ringing has stopped and the warning light simultaneously discontinued.

The signal would operate twenty seconds before the train reached the crossing, according to the plan, Mr. McIntyre explained. "This is a sufficient warning, he said, for it has been found that when motorists are forced to wait an unreasonable long time they finally disregard the signal and attempt to beat the train to the crossing."

At the Stephenson avenue crossing, just east of the passenger depot, a flagman is used. It was explained that the reason a wig-wag signal would not be advantageous there is because there so much switching done in that territory that such an electrically-controlled warning device would be in almost continuous operation, causing traffic disorder. The state public utilities commission must also give its approval before the safety device is installed.

Paving Orders Approved. The council ordered the payment of $8,402.25 to the Delta Contracting company for the share of the street improvement work already completed on Fourth, Sixth, Eighth and Thirteenth streets. The amount covers excavation work, putting in of curbs, gutters and catch basins on these streets, which are to be paved. The paving work will be started next week, all the preliminary work being about completed.

New Schedule of Masses on Sunday At St. Joseph's

Beginning with Sunday, September 9, the winter schedule of services will prevail at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

The first three masses will be low masses, at 6, 7:30 and children's mass at 9 o'clock; the last mass will be a high mass at 10:30. Baptisms will take place at 1:30 in the afternoon, and at 2:30 there will be vespers, instructions for the school children and benediction of the most blessed sacrament. The week-day mass will be at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lemmer have returned from a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, New York City and Washington, D. C., and will leave today for Marensico, where they will make their home. Mr. Lemmer is in the employment of the Vilas County Lumber company.
