RASKOB SHOWS APTITUDE FOR HIS NEW JOB

LAWRENCE FINDS HIM WORKING ON TRAIN

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright 1928, by the Escanaba Press. En Route to Washington, Sept. 8.—John J. Raskob likes politics. He finds it as fascinating as business.

"How does it feel to be reading political reports?" I asked him.—"are you really enjoying your experience?"

Finds it Fascinating

"Yes," was the reply. "I find politics fascinating. Really one of the pleasant disappointments is that I am finding a higher grade of person in politics than is generally supposed."

"Do you think your work in business is in fact the training that a business man gets, is of value in political campaigns?"

"Yes, and for the reason that a campaign requires organization just as does a business. I believe the time is coming when corporations are going to want their executives to participate actively in politics according to their own preference."

He Has Resigned

Mr. Raskob was asked about his own status. He said that just as soon as he had accepted the national chairmanship he had submitted his resignation to the company but that there had been delay in acting on his resignation which accounted for the lapse between the time of his appointment and announcement of his resignation.

Separate Organization

Mr. Raskob talked not for publication about some of his campaign plans. There is no doubt that to the short time he has had to absorb so many details of the political game he has shown a great deal in one case, for instance, when rumors of bipartisan deals and agreements have always been current in the past, Mr. Raskob has a third organization at work with separate election watchers and political workers as to issue a square deal on election day and no 'delivering' to the opposition.

GENE KNOWS HIS SHAKESPEARE BUT NOT HOME BREW

Cleveland, O., Sept. 10.—Did you see in this morning's paper where Gene Tunney was drinking beer in Paris and said he didn't drink beer at home because our home brew was terrible? Now, listen, Gene, you can criticize our boxing skill, you can make light of our intellect, but you don't make light of our home brew. You are condemning the very spirit of our American homes. It's made by hand, not by factory. We have had nine years practice, and we don't want to be told we can't learn anything in that time. So you can stick to your books. You may know your Shakespeare but you don't know our beer.

Yours for the home brew industry, WILL ROGERS.

1 DEAD; 1 HURT IN GANG FIGHT

Philadelphia Bootleggers Nervous Over Investigation, Belief

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—(P)—One alleged gangster was shot to death and another seriously wounded tonight in what the police declared was an attempted "shake-down," probably used as a cloak for intimidation because of bootleggers' nervousness over the grand jury's investigation of their activities.

White Pasquale, 25, proprietor of the Atlantic Bottling and Supply company, was in the office of that concern, on South 7th street, an automobile, driven by a girl, stopped at the door. Two men entered, while the girl and the other remained in the car.

One of the men who entered brandished a pistol, threatening Livoy, while the other took a ring, $48 in money and a watch from him.

Livoy, police said, picked up an automatic shot gun which he had behind a counter and shot the man with the pistol dead. The victim was identified as Amelia Scranio, 36.

The other man fled, with Livoy in pursuit. They exchanged shots and finally the fugitive fell with both arms fractured by shot gun bullets. He was identified at the Pennsylvania hospital as James Fiora, 23.

The girl and two men in the car abandoned it and escaped.

Alien's Name is Too Unhandy So He Changes It

Detroit, Sept. 10.—(P)—"I want to take the name of an illustrious American," said Theodore Djaludewicz today when he appeared in federal court for final citizenship papers.

"Whose name do you want to adopt," asked the judge.

"That of former U. S. Senator Burton of Ohio," the applicant replied explaining that he considered Djaludewicz a "little unhandy."

The judge agreed and Djaludewicz is now Burton.

ROWLAND IS UNOFFICIAL RACE WINNER

KANSAS AVIATOR IS FIRST TO SPAN CONTINENT IN DERBY

Los Angeles, Sept. 10.—(P)—First to span the continent in the feature event of the 1928 National Air Races, Earl Rowland of Wichita, Kas., landed at Mines Field here this afternoon, the unofficial winner of the class A New York to Los Angeles Air Derby.

Rowland swooped down to the finish line in his Cessna monoplane at 2:35 p. m., amid the cheers of thousands of spectators gathered at the airport. He had led the race on virtually every lap since the start at New York last Wednesday.

Officials of the race withheld official announcement of the winner pending a careful check of the elapsed time of all the finishers and an inspection of the planes.

It appeared certain, however, that the Wichita pilot would receive the $5,000 purse offered for first place. In addition Rowland won several thousand dollars in lap prizes offered by cities along the route. He has a further opportunity to increase his winnings with other prizes posted for the National Air Races.

Ballooning Leading Class B Robert Dale, of Pittsburgh, Pa., piloting an American Moth plane, crossed the finish line in the dust stirred up by Rowland's propeller and appeared to be assured of the second prize of $2,500 on the basis of total elapsed time.

Meanwhile, three other flights of racing planes were pushing on toward Los Angeles.

E. E. Ballough of Chicago, with a 71 year old aviation enthusiast, Charles Dickenson, Chicago as a passenger in his Laird biplane, led the way to El Paso, Texas, in the class B, transcontinental race.

Ballough kept in front on the four hops of the day from Oklahoma City and unofficially was figured the leader in total elapsed time from the Pacific coast.

John H. Livingston, Aurora, Ill., flying a Waco, was the second class B, flyer to reach the night control at El Paso, and J. H. Wood, Wausau, Wis., was the third.

C. W. Mayse, Tucson, Ariz., was listed as lost, hours after taking off from Oklahoma City. He had failed to reach Fort Worth, the first stopping place, and he is believed to have been forced down by motor trouble at some remote spot in southern Oklahoma or northern Texas. His passenger was C. W. Wallace, Tucson.

Stuart F. Auer, Milwaukee, who was delayed by a crash in Pennsylvania Saturday, overtook his competitors in class B, today after a Sunday night flight from McKeesport, Pa., to Wichita, Kas. The racers in both classes B.

Straton to Speak in Florida Day After Al Smith

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 10.—(P)—Dr. John Roach Straton, here for an anti-Smith address, stated today that friends in Oklahoma City have arranged for him to use the same hall there on the night of Sept. 21 that Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, will use on the preceding night.

Mr. Straton, who is pastor of Calvary Baptist church, New York, declared his intention to challenge the Democratic nominee to a "face to face debate" over there in the west where things are lively, splitting time with me either on his or my night at the hall. Will hear Smith talk on the night of the 20th and I hope that he will hear me on the night of the 21st. I shall have plenty to say.

There is "an awful revolt" going on in the south, he added, in speaking of his tour of several southern states under the sponsorship of the Anti-Saloon league.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 10.—(P)—Permission for the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton to use the city's bay front park auditorium tonight was granted a delegation of W. C. T. U. women by the city manager today only on the explicit understanding that the New York pastor "will not discuss religious issues."

Woman Stabbed Man to Death, Police Charge

Detroit, Sept. 10.—(P)—Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Laise, who vied with each other to assume responsibility for the slaying early today in their home of Augustino Martilotti, 26, were both held tonight by police, but officers said they had established that Mrs. Laise was the real slayer.

Sifting of the evidence established, police said, that Mrs. Laise shot and stabbed Martilotti to death because he threatened to kidnap her 15-year-old daughter, who spurned his attention.

Laise, according to police, merely attempted to assume responsibility for the slaying to protect his wife.

The mother's story was that Martilotti, jealous, had threatened to kidnap the girl and kill other members of the family because she spurned him and accepted attention from another suitor. She said Martilotti came down stairs with a revolver this morning and that she stabbed him and then shot him twice.

No charges have yet been filed against the mother.

COOLIDGE ON RETURN TRIP

President's Party Ends Stay at Summer White House

Superior, Wis., Sept. 10.—(P)—Standing bareheaded in a drenching rain, with the crowd whistling, and singing "for he's a jolly good fellow" President Coolidge tonight said goodbye to residents of the head of the lakes.

Two thousand persons were waiting on the front lawn of the Superior high school when the president and Mrs. Coolidge arrived by automobile from Cedar Island, Lodge, where they have been the last three months. Factory, engine and steamboat whistles were blowing as the chief executive entered the city for the last time, and they resumed their blasts as he left the building, which has served as the executive offices this summer, for his train.

Apparently as oblivious to the rain as the crowd that anxiously awaited his farewell, Mr. Coolidge stood smiling some fifteen minutes with his head uncovered. Cheers and applause interrupted the president so often he had difficulty in completing his task.

Pleased with Progress

"I have had a chance to see more of this locality and region than ever before," said President Coolidge. "It is an enterprising, growing region and you may well be proud of it. You have accomplished in 40 or 50 years that which others have accomplished in centuries of effort."

"It is with great satisfaction that as president I see such progress and realize this flourishing empire is a part of the United States."

Mr. Coolidge thanked the residents of the head of the lakes for the entertainment accorded him and Mrs. Coolidge, adding, "I do not know whether I will be able to return next year. I would certainly like to."

He was interrupted by long applause and stood smiling as the rain beat against his face, ruddy from long weeks in the crisp air.

"I think this is a coming region for those who seek recreation," continued Mr. Coolidge. "As to fishing, I can testify personally. The climate is wonderful and has done much for Mrs. Coolidge and myself. It is invigorating and refreshing. We return to Washington much refreshed."

Mayors Greet Coolidge

Mr. Coolidge said he realized it was a big task to entertain a president of the United States, and he appreciated the fact that a great deal of money had been spent in making the summer pleasant for him.

The president was greeted on the steps of the school by Mayor Fred A. Baxter of Superior and Mayor F. S. Sivaly of Duluth. Immediately after his talk he left for his train, accompanied by members of his party, which included secret service operatives, household servants, newspaper men and photographers.

ONLY TWO IN GROUP STILL AT LIBERTY

THRILLING FIGHT OCCURS BETWEEN BOATS

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 10.—(P)—Led by two desperate men, a group of prisoners attempting to shoot their way to freedom out of the state prison camp here last night left a record of dead, dying and wounded, but only two were still at large tonight.

In a short but bloody battle two men were known to have been killed, four others were reported by prison authorities to be dead and a score wounded.

Starting in the prison yard, the gun fight spread outside the prison gates and into the middle of the Mississippi river where the convicts and guards, in separate boats fought it out until the four remaining convicts surrendered.

Two slipped away when the shooting started and two possessed by bloodhounds searched along the riverfront without success. Prison officials said the plot was originated by Cleveland Owen, until his incarceration five years ago a New Orleans contractor. He took into the plot Stephen J. Beck, sentenced from New Orleans for bank robbery, and Jim Ward, of Assumption Parish, serving a ten-year sentence for store robbery.

Charge Gun Room

They planned to make the break alone, commander a steam boat, cross the river, steal an automobile and escape. Accomplished had smuggled them three pistols. But news of the impending break spread among the prisoners and some dozen insisted on joining. Owen and Beck disagreed on the time to make the attempt, but Beck yielded.

"I am going now," and stuck his pistol into the back of a guard.

The others followed his example and charged the gun room, where they armed themselves with shotguns. In the gun room, Arnold David, a convict trusty, attempted to stop the men but was felled with the butt of a shotgun. Remaining consciousness, he killed Arthur Kichen, one of the breakers. The others rushed into the yards, using two guards, C. H. Hingstotham, and Frank Peoples, as shields.

Earl Swanson, robber, and Lawrence Collier, murder, slipped off into the woods and escaped. In rather orderly fashion, the group, still holding the guards before them, continued toward the river. They attempted to take over the steamer William Edenborn of the Louisiana Railroad and Navigation company, but the crew set off into midstream. Seeing a row boat manned by Archie Walters, they ordered him to bring it ashore and opened fire on him. Wounded and terrified he brought the boat in.

Thrilling River Fight

Eight convicts with two guards as their captives set out into the stream in the small craft.

As the boat floated away J. B. Broom, a trusty serving a life term for murder, ran up on the levee pleading:

"Don't do it men. You all will be killed."

Response from the boat was a bullet from Owens' pistol and Broom pitched forward to the grassy levee, dead.

Captain John Singleton, of the guards, came on the run, arming his guards and trusties as he came. He sprang in, shouting: "I'm going after them. I am not going to order any of you to go with me, but there is plenty of room."

Trusties and guards piled on board and as the guards boat came up Owens and Beck, leaning around behind the two guards, opened fire with shot guns. Captain Singleton was hit with scattered shots and the hat of a trusty was shot away.

The guards' boat returned the fire and the battle was on. Owens went overboard with a fall load of shot in his face, Beck followed with a heavy load in his body, and other valley carried Stanley Proctor, New Orleans hold-up youth over the side and similarly Jack Martin, up for robbery from St. Landry, disappeared beneath the river waters.

SEEK GOVERNORSHIP

William T. Gardiner, (left) Republican candidate for governor of Maine, has apparently won the election from Edward C. Moran, Jr., (right) Rockland, Me., business man, seeking the office of state executive on the Democratic ticket, as returns from two-thirds of the state's precincts report, the G. O. P. ticket holding nearly a three to one lead.

Find Body of Man at Benton Harbor; Is Victim of Gang?

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 10.—(P)—The mystery of the death and identity of a well-dressed man, whose body was found on the shore of Lake Michigan near here yesterday, remained unsolved tonight, but county authorities clung to a theory that he was a victim of Chicago gangland warfare.

Officers proceeded with the investigation of the theory that the man had some connection with the slaying in Chicago Friday of Tony Lombardo, gang leader, although they had only meager evidence.

The man was shot thought the right temple and a revolver lay beside the body. Police said that every means of identification, including trade marks on the man's clothing, had been removed.

The investigation today led to discovery of a burned automobile on an unfrequented road in Hagar township. The license plates had been removed and, police said, there were indications that gasoline had been poured over the car before it burned.

They said it had been driven to Wickwire bridge, not far from where the body was found. The investigators also found a five-gallon gasoline can, almost empty, in a vineyard half a mile away. The engine and serial numbers of the car were taken and an effort is being made to trace its ownership.

One circumstance leading police to believe the slain man was connected with the Lombardo slaying is that gun found beside his body was blue steel. Chicago police were informed that one of Lombardo's slayers was seen carry a blue steel revolver as he fled.

Color Slides Are Reported Stolen

Detroit, Sept. 10.—(P)—Six boxes of color projection slides used by Professor William Sandoz in travel lectures and valued at more than $50,000 were reported missing today from the Detroit Institute of Arts where they are stored.

Professor Sandoz, said the slides, many reproductions of etchings, gathered in Paris, Versailles and the Louvre and the Luxembourg, represent his life work and have been collected over such a period of time and in so many unusual places they cannot be replaced.

Officials of the Institute recalled that the slides had been stored in the building, and said they probably were lost in moving from the old institute to the new one this year.

Motorman Killed When Streetcar Hits Gravel Wagon

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10.—(P)—L. E. Hubbell, 52, motorman of an interurban car, was killed near here tonight when his car crashed into a loaded gravel wagon at a crossing. The force of the collision caved in the front end of the car, trapping Hubbell.

GARDINER AND HALE HOLDING BIG MARGINS

G. O. P. VICTORY ASSURED AS PRECINCTS REPORT

Portland, Maine, Sept. 10.—(P)—William T. Gardiner, Republican, was elected governor of Maine today by a majority over Edward C. Moran, Jr., Democrat, which stood at 67,488 on returns from 534 of the 633 precincts in the state. U. S. Senator Frederick Hale, Republican, was re-elected by a similar margin over Herbert E. Holmes, Democrat.

Returns from 534 precincts gave For governor: Gardiner (R) 115,117; Moran (D) 47,689. For senator: Hale (R) 112,959; Holmes (D) 45,870.

In the second district, where the Democrats had made their most determined stand, Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., Republican, was leading Albert Delleveau, Democrat, 18,982 to 6,632 on returns from 23 of the 145 precincts in the district.

Republican candidates for congress in three other districts held substantial leads.

Four years ago the total vote for governor was 253,907. Brewster, Republican, defeated Pattangall, Democrat, by a margin of 36,655.

Among the larger cities as compared with the 1924 vote for governor the total today fell off by 1,742 votes in Bangor, 734 in Augusta and 1033 in Biddeford. In the first eight cities to report their results the falling off was heavier in the Democratic vote than in the Republican, and in four of these cities the Republican vote was larger than that of four years ago.

IS "BAROMETER"

Portland, Maine, Sept. 10.—(P)—Maine voters turned out in large numbers today to express their choice for state and congressional offices in the first state election of the year and one to which party leaders attached special significance in view of the coming contest between Herbert Hoover and Gov. Alfred E. Smith for the presidency.

The balloting, according to reports from many parts of the state, was unusually heavy and it was freely predicted that the total number of votes would approach, if not exceed, the previous high mark.

Declaring that the results of today's election would forecast the political trend in the nation, Republican leaders predicted a decisive majority. Some Republicans placed their margin of victory at 75,000. More conservative estimates were as low as 35,000. Democrats were hopeful that the outcome in Maine, which is normally Republican, would indicate a definite swing to their party.

The principal contest was that for the governorship in which William Tudor Gardiner, Republican, opposed Edward C. Moran, Jr., Democrat. U. S. Senator Frederick Hale was a candidate for re-election and was opposed by Herbert E. Holmes, Democrat, a strong supporter of Gov. Smith.

NOTIFY HOOVER

Portland, Maine, Sept. 10.—(P)—Telegrams informing Herbert Hoover and Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee of the Republican victory here were sent tonight by Daniel F. Field, chairman of the state committee, and Joseph W. Simpson, national committee man.

The telegram to Hoover said: "With returns nearly complete Main has given a Republican majority in excess of 75,000, which is much higher than any governor ever received before."

Chairman Work has sent the following message: "The voters of Maine have demonstrated that they still favor Republican rule and leads the way to a great victory in November by giving their state candidates the enormous majority of 75,000."

TO EFFECT ELECTION?

Portland, Maine, Sept. 10.—(P)—U. S. Senator Frederick Hale, Republican, tonight claimed "a remarkable victory" for the Republican party in today's state election in which he was a candidate for re-election.

"The Republicans of Maine won a remarkable victory in the election today, a victory that will have, I believe, a far-reaching effect in the presidential election in November. The people of Maine have shown in no uncertain way their confidence in our governor-elect, Mr. Gardiner, and our candidate for president, Herbert Hoover. I am naturally very much pleased by my own vote and am very grateful to the people of my state for their loyal support."

Mr. Frank Trudell ENJOYS EVERY MEAL SINCE TAKING DRECO

C. & N. W. Employee Was Very Rundown and Lacked Appetite Before Starting On New Remedy.

It's been three years since I've felt as good as I do today," declared Mr. Frank Trudell in a statement given to the Dreco man at the Drug Dept., The Fair Store. Mr. Trudell is employed as a sheet metal worker at the C. & N. W. R. Shops.

"Before taking Dreco I had but little appetite and the food that I did eat caused sour acids and gas to form in my stomach and distressed me greatly. In addition to the trouble with my stomach I also suffered a great deal with pains in my back and limbs and would wake up every morning with a bad taste in my mouth and an offensive breath. "Dreco surely proved just what I needed, however, and now I am enjoying every meal and eating more heartily than I have in years. The distress in my stomach has disappeared as have the pains in my back and limbs and when I wake up in the morning I feel refreshed and am not troubled with the offensive breath or the bad taste in my mouth. When you feel tired, rundown and worn out, lack appetite and suffer with constipation, indigestion and annoying little aches and pains thru the body, the chances are that this new plant and herb compound Dreco, which did so much for the party mentioned above, will also help you. Try it today. It costs no more than ordinary medicines. The Dreco Man is now at the Drug Dept., Fair Store, where he is daily explaining the merits of Dreco to numerous local people and presenting everyone who is interested with a valuable health booklet free. Bus Driver Takes Wealthy Children To and From School

Henry Kaufman, whose family resides at 314 Stephenson ave., will return to Chicago this evening to resume his work. Mr. Kaufman left this city several years ago for Chicago and holds a rather unique position. He operates a bus line which transports the children of well-to-do families to and from select schools.

Each day the drivers, who are also deputized police officers and who are armed while at work, call for these children, whose ages range from five to 18 years and take them to and from school. Some of the children are accompanied by nurses and guides and none of them walk from the home as far as the curb without an escort or a member of the family. They are placed in the care of these bus drivers who are held responsible for their safety and transportation and return to the family home.

Mr. Kaufman says he has often been offered bribes from various sources. He has been asked to furnish a list of names of these children and was offered as much as $50 per name. He tells them that he can not give the list offhand and will furnish it to them next day or mail it to their address. In the meantime the police are notified and additional protection is given the children.

A. DAHLBERG PASSES AWAY

Veteran C. & N. W. Employee Dies After Long Illness

Andrew Dahlberg, 64 years old and a resident of Escanaba for the last 48 years, died at his home, 1401 Sheridan Road, Sunday after an illness of several months' duration. Death was due to carcinoma. His condition for several weeks had been serious. As the end became visibly near messages were dispatched to his children some of whom arrived Monday morning and others will arrive today. The entire family had been called home several weeks ago when he suffered a sinking spell but had returned to their homes.

Andrew Dahlberg was born at Pitaa Sweden, February 5, 1864 and came to this city in 1880. He was married September 14, 1893 to Miss Caroline A. Peterson. The family has lived here continuously for 48 years. He was employed in the car department of the Chicago & North Western and was widely known.

Mr. Dahlberg is survived by his widow, two sons, and three daughters. They are Algott Dahlberg, Ann Arbor; Walford A. Dahlberg, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. Michael Farrell, city; Mrs. Carl Turnquist, Virginia, Minn.; and Miss Lillian Dahlberg of Minneapolis, Minn. A daughter, Miss Nan Dahlberg, died October 3, 1927, this being the second death in the family in eleven months.

Rosh Roshanah to Be Celebrated by Jews of Escanaba

Jews of this city and surrounding places will celebrate their high holy season with Rosh Hashanah, or New Year's Day at sundown Friday, September 14. The holiday will continue until sundown Monday, September 17. Rosh Hashanah marks the beginning of the new year 5,689 from the creation of the world, according to national Biblical reckoning. This religious calendar begins with the new moon each month and is used in setting the dates of feasts and fasts of the Jewish calendar.

The New Year Festival is also known as the day of Memorial, a day of memory and the searching of the heart. The Orthodox, pious Hebrew confesses before God the sins of the past year and turns over a new leaf for the ensuing year.

It is also known as the Day of Judgement and forgiveness is granted him on the Day of Atonement which falls ten days later. Business houses of local orthodox Jews will be closed during the holiday and a rabbi missionary will arrive this week from New York to conduct the services here. It is expected that several families will come to this city for the celebration.

A railway costing more than $2,600,000 is to be built in the Netherlands East Indies.

- Safety-feed, Roller Water Remover, with flexible top roll and hard bottom roll. Spares the buttons. Self-reversing drainboard, automatic tension adjustment.
- Cast-aluminum, heat-retaining, non-breakable tub; removes all the dirt, without hand-rubbing.
- Handy Hinged Lid and adjustable legs.
- Enclosed, silent steel gears.
- Big capacity, an entire washing in an hour.
- Compact; occupies a space 25 inches square.
- Lifetime construction, beautiful lacquer finish.

ONE year ago, I announced the New Maytag as our latest and greatest achievement. Noteworthy refinements and striking improvements, including a new method of soap and water removal, were incorporated in the new washer. It set standards of convenience and washing efficiency that had never been known before.

During the year that has passed, hundreds of thousands of NEW Maytags have been introduced into as many homes, and each time subject to the famous Maytag trial basis: "If it doesn't sell itself, don't keep it." Rigorous, exacting washday tests assailed the New Maytag, and it has emerged victorious to a degree exceeding my highest expectations.

A year ago, the New Maytag enjoyed a prestige inherited from Maytags of the past. Today the New Maytag enjoys a prestige in its own right, won by demonstrated performance. It has advanced still farther in its world leadership.

OLD MAN PAR GETS BEATING

Golfers Turn in Exceptional Scores in Brae Burn Tournament

BY ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
Brae Burn Country Club, Newton, Mass., Sept. 10—(AP)—Old Man Par, figured to outpoint the boys without much trouble in the battle of Brae Burn, took two solid wallops on the chin and the long count before the opening day's skirmish was finished.

They were administered by George Voight, of New York, who wasn't good enough to qualify in last year's tournament, and Harrison (Jimmy) Johnston, the Minneapolis veteran, who specializes in quick getaways.

Each emerged from the woods and yawning hazards of this rugged course with scores of 71, one under par, and thereby set the pace for the rest of the field of some 140 contenders for the national amateur golf championship at the close of the first 18 holes of the 35-hole qualifying test. An other 18-hole round will be played tomorrow to determine the 22 survivors for the match play starting on Wednesday.

In more or less solitary glory, while the galleries socked after the game's more conspicuous figures, Johnston and Voight turned in two of the best performances this ancient course has ever witnessed. Their marks stand as a record for the new championship course, lengthened to a distance of 6,643 yards and correspondingly toughened. They are only two strokes short of the all-time record for Brae Burn, a 69 turned in by Bob Gorton of the home club, who needed 76 to cover the revamped layout today.

Gets Two Birdies.
But for two slips, one on the eighth and the other on the eighteenth, Voight might have performed the astonishing feat of breaking 70 and equalling Gorton's old record. The former Washington district star, after laying a marvelous iron out of the fourth green, saw his put hang on the lip of the cup. On the last hole, after a beautiful drive over the bunkered creek that crossed the fairway 205 yards from the tee, Voight took out his caddy, then shifted to a midiron, only to find himself short and in a bunker near the green. He took five to get down, missing a short putt for par four that would have put him out in front.

To make up for these two slips, the only ones he made, Voight bagged birdies on the fourth and thirteenth holes with his putter. Johnston's play, on the other hand, was marked by a series of sensational recoveries. The Minneapolis star was in the rough off the tee at least a half dozen times but his irons never failed him. To offset such mistakes as he made on the fourteenth, where he took three putts, Jimmy chipped into the cup from the rough for a birdie two on the eighth and sank a 35-footer for another birdie on the tenth.

While Bobby Jones, the defending champion, among a lot of others, was having his troubles and forced to rally to do as well as 77, six strokes back of the pace setters, par was subjected to a lot more punishment than the experts had expected. The old man was held to a draw by C. Ross Somerville, sharpshooting Canadian champion, whose fine 72 gave him third place, a stroke in front of George Von Elm, the Detroit star who is regarded as an outstanding title threat. Von Elm, who missed a six-footer on the home green for a perfect round, shared the fourth position with a dark horse from the Chicago district, D. J. Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., each with 73. Behind them came Don Moe of Portland, Ore., and Fred Wright of Boston, each with 74.

Three Ex-Champs Out of Tourney

Detroit, Sept. 10—(AP)—Elimination of three former champions marked the first day's play in the Michigan Professional Golfers' association tournament on the Western Golf and Country club course today. Al Watrous of Grand Rapids and Jake Fassezke of Owosso, tied for medal honors with 75's, while Jommy Kinnear, the home pro, Frank Sprogel of Saginaw, and Davey Robertson failed to qualify.

Watrous and Charlie Guest of Tam O'Shanter, provided some excellent golf in the first round of match play. The Grand Rapids pro turned in three birdies in a row to defeat Joe Koval, 6 and 6, while Guest had to execute a trick putt on the eighteenth hole of his engagement with James Anderson of Aviation, to obtain a half and carry the match an extra hole.

Anderson pitched his shot to within an inch of the cup and laid Guest a stymie. However, Guest pitched his ball into the cup on the fly from two and one-half feet, and won the match on the next hole.

Other first round matches saw Fassezke defeat Orin Beaupre, 2 and 1, while Nick Weber of Grand Rapids eliminated Stanley Hancock by the same margin. Arthur Ham beat Ken Matrin, one up, and Joe Devaney defeated Wilfrid Reid by the same score in 19 holes. Frank Dufno was defeated by Eddie Kirk, 5 and 4, and Emerick Kooles, interscholastic champion, downed George McClean, 5 and 4.

BRANDT CASE TO HIGH COURT

Mrs. Minnie Brandt, 310 Ludington street, waived examination on a charge of liquor violation when her case came up for hearing before Justice of the Peace H. E. Ranguette yesterday afternoon and she was held to circuit court. She furnished bonds of $500 for her release.

Mrs. Brandt was arrested by police in a raid upon her place after the Julius Lemance suicide episode. Lemance, it was alleged, obtained liquor at her place before he went to the Olcer coal dock and committed suicide by drowning.

Charles Huban paid a fine of $25 and costs on a charge of reckless driving upon arraignment before Justice of the Peace Ranguette yesterday morning. He was arrested Sunday by the sheriff's department near Wells.

Vilho Lacto, Rock, will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace James S. Doherty at 2 o'clock this afternoon on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while drunk. Lacto was arrested Sunday afternoon after his car collided with another driven by Gordon Boomer of Wells, the Boomer car being considerably damaged in the accident.

Gust Eastman of Chicago, who while on a drunken spree, posed as a federal prohibition agent at Goodfellow's pool room, paid a fine of $17.75 upon pleading guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly before Justice of the Peace Doherty.

Must Treat Patients With Proper Respect

Paris—The familiar form of address, the singular of "you," used toward children, servants and inferiors, is barred from the hospitals of Paris.

This form, used in a quite different sense from the old "thou" in English, implies a condescension that is offensive to patients, says the order of Dr. Louis Mourier, head of the public relief department. The instructions are issued to the nurses and internes, but doctors are expected to take the hint.

The war put millions of people in close contact and broke social barriers while peacetime economic upheavals badly disarranged the class system. The formal, plural "vous" was turned on very short acquaintance into the familiarity of "tu," but many people resent the informality or the implication of superiority.

Minnesota Doctor, 94, Still Active

Rochester, Minn.—Dr. William A. Allen of Rochester was told almost 20 years ago that he had only one chance in 100 to regain his health.

He recently turned his 94th year and expects to become a centenarian. Dr. Allen makes between 20 and 40 calls a day, driving his own car. His colleagues believe he is the oldest practicing physician in the United States.

Coming to Minnesota from Indiana 56 years ago seeking a climate that would be better for his health, since then he has occupied but one office, one of the first on Rochester's principal business street.

The well-worn stairs to the second story waiting room creak under the weight of his patients, who in winter are warmed by an old coal heater that did duty in the days when the "base burner" was the aristocrat of heaters.

While he lived in Indianapolis, Dr. Allen saw the funeral train of President Lincoln moving westward. Previously he had traveled in a covered wagon to a homestead site west of the Mississippi river, but returned to Indiana when the frontier life palled.

Dr. Allen has no recipe for longevity.

Winning over the state-wide competition, Mary Howard and Anna Hagquist of Schoolcraft county annexed the title of state champion sewing demonstration team at the Michigan State Fair last week. The honor is a signal one for the two girls, as only one team in each project is eligible to this award.

Chief Laughs Last; Experience Costs Sailors $15 Each

Two sailors who thought they had "slipped one over" on Chief of Police John A. Peterson last week came back with an apology, and learned a lesson on observance of the law. Ray Radke, 25, of Milwaukee, and Albert Baddalate, 23, also of Milwaukee, both members of the crew on the lighthouse tender Sumac, came ashore at Manistique on Labor Day to celebrate, and were arrested by Chief Peterson on a charge of drunkenness. Taken to the city lock-up, they gave their names as Henry Walls, 23, of Texas, and Roy Adke, 25, of Manistee. Here they enlisted the aid of Chief Peterson's home to effect their release. When informed that they must stay in the city jail until their fines were paid, the two sailors finally agreed to pay up, providing they were allowed to go back on board the Sumac and get the money from their quarters. Chief Peterson agreed to this arrangement in good faith but once the pair got aboard the ship they defied the head of the Manistique police department, reminding him that he had no authority to come aboard the government boat and get the money.

Baltimore and San Francisco, Leaders in Public Music

New York-San Francisco and Baltimore lead the country musically in point of annual appropriations for public concerts and operas. A national survey by the Journal Singing and Playing shows that these cities, in proportion to population, spend more on the promotion of musical enterprises than any other American cities. New York is some distance down the list. The total amount taken yearly from Father-Klueber's purse for music, says the publication, is about $27,000. Baltimore, with only an eighth of New York's population, affords $72,000. San Francisco, with its new $6,000,000 opera house, is easily in the lead for the last 12 months. In addition to the sums being spent for construction and organization, the city of San Francisco still has $100,000 for public band concerts, symphony concerts, municipal chorus, spring festivals and music week.

After a five run spree by Wells in the fifth, Gladstone came back with one in the sixth and two more in the ninth to tie the score. In the last half, with two down and the count two and three, Gardner scored from second on Gafner's single. Derwin's hitting was a feature of the contest. In five trips to the plate, Pete slammed out a triple, two doubles and a single.

THEATRES

Patrons of the Rialto Theatre are about to be introduced to a new Richard Barthelmess. On Wednesday and Thursday, they will be presented to the first National star's newest feature production, "Out of the Ruins," a fast-moving and dramatic screen version of the well-known short story of Sir Philip Gibbs.

In "Out of the Ruins," Barthelmess will be seen for the first time in years in a role strictly calling for love scenes rather than character delineation. In his previous productions, the star has been noted for his extraordinary character studies, such as in "Broken Blossoms," "To Have and Have Not," "The Patent Leather Kid" and "The Noose."

For the first time, Marion Nixon is seen as the heroine and the combination of Barthelmess-Nixon is said to be of great romantic promise. The cast is one of the usual Barthelmess standards, including such superlative players as Boddie Rossing, Eugene Pallette, Emile Chantard and Robert Frazer. John Francis Dillon, whose excellent direction of "The Noose" won for him national recognition, was director of "Out of the Ruins." Henry Hobart was production manager, and Ernest Haller cameraman.

AT THE RIALTO

A squad of police, armed with machine guns, routed a band of gangsters in a desperate street battle, shooting down doors to capture their quarry, and sweeping a street with bullets, as one of the details of "Diamond Handcuffs," Cosmopolitan's vivid drama of love, diamond and the underworld, now playing at the Rialto Theatre.

The scene was one of the most daring ever filmed in a studio. While actors, as police and gangsters, battled with blank cartridges, professional marksmen, with real bullets, sent a hall of steel over their heads to shoot down doors and windows in the scene. An entire street at the M-G-M studios was riddled with bullets in filming the battle.

This scene is one of the dramatic highlights in the new picture, a vivid drama of society and the underworld, the central theme being the adventures of a great diamond, from its discovery and theft in the African diamond mines through intrigue, tragedy and theft into the underworld, and through a sensational underworld war.

John McCarthy directed the play, in which three separate casts of screen notables appear, each sequence—the one in the African mines, the one in society and the one in the underworld—being enacted by a different cast. Eleanor Boardman, Conrad Nagel, Lawrence Gray, Gwen Lee, Sam Hardy, Lena Malena, Carlos Molina, E. Alyn Warren, Charles Stevens, George Cooper and many others of note are in the cast.

A sum of $175 will be presented the Parent-Teacher association for its playground fund, as the gift of the Big Four—Brotherhoods, Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Brakemen, it became known yesterday.

The sum, a generous gift, was raised by the Big Four through their program and benefit dance held here on the Labor Day holiday.

In closing the business connected with the staging of the celebration, the Big Four placed on record a vote of thanks to all members of the Labor Day committee for their untiring work which made the program and the dance so successful.

The committee, in turn, asked that its thanks be extended the public for its splendid cooperation, the Boys' Band and all others taking part. The committee also announced that the program and dance will probably become an annual event, with a movement to establish them as such now well under way.

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And how good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

Paris—The French army's search for a gorgeous uniform to be worn by officers only at ceremonies and functions is meeting considerable criticism. "Why put the officers in a masquerade costume?" asks one objector. "There will be no prestige attached to a dress that is not worn when the officers win fame."

Many think nothing can exceed the glory of the horizon blue uniform in which the soldiers fought. Marshal Franchet d'Esperey, nevertheless, is working with an army commission on the problem of a really impressive dress uniform that will keep pace with the outfits of ambassadors, loaded with pounds of gold lace. There is no thought of having these used in any military reviews, but only at social or official functions where dress is important.

The navy for some time has been puzzling over a dress uniform for state occasions, but with more justice because French naval officers complain that at public receptions abroad they appear much like street car conductors when compared with the handsomely uniformed captains and admirals of other nations.

KIWANIS HEARS ABOUT ENGLAND

Rev. R. C. G. Williams Is Speaker at Club Meeting

England is being submerged by a wave of socialism, communism, spiritism and atheism, and only a return to the old-fashioned Christian gospel can avert a revolution more terrible than the War of the Roses, Rev. R. C. G. Williams of the First Methodist church, told the Kiwanis club in an intensely interesting address yesterday.

Mr. Williams recently returned from a summer spent in the British Isles where he visited old friends and old familiar scenes, and mingled with the people more intimately than would be possible for the ordinary tourist.

"The changes that have swept over the country in the last few years have been terrific," he told the Kiwanians. In the Welsh coal fields, conditions are particularly pathetic and depressing. England today and Wales today have 1,500,000 idle men. Of this number, 200,000 joined the ranks of the unemployed last year. As I was leaving England, one of the richest of the northern coal fields was being closed down, contributing thousands more men to the jobless population. All of the collieries and most of the retail stores in the coal districts are now in the hands of receivers.

Church Losing Grip.
"I stood on one corner for more than an hour, watching a parade of jobless workers march past. The procession contained almost every flag except the British national emblem. Nearby, on a building, the British flag was flying. The marchers hooted, hissed it, and shouted scornful and vicious remarks about it.

"Can you imagine such a thing happening in the United States?" the speaker asked.

The industrial paralysis in the coal districts has brought about frightful poverty and a lessening of moral standards, he continued. The church has lost its hold on the hearts of the people. Clergymen have lost their enthusiasm. The young people are turning to mysticism, spiritism and atheism. "During all the time I was in England, I did not hear one good sermon," Mr. Williams said, "although I attended church at least once and usually twice each Sunday."

Mr. Williams gave the club some interesting highlights of his observation of educational conditions, taxation, the housing problem, and other phases of present-day life in England and Wales.

The tobacco habit among women and girls has a firm grip, he said. Women are smoking on the streets, in public places as well as in their homes. Young and old have taken it up.

Thrill in Home Coming.
Concerning prohibition, he asserted that "as one walks down the streets of some of the English cities, past barrooms filled with men and women drinking together; with poverty-stricken children carrying booze from these places to the homes, one thanks God, fervently, that the eighteenth amendment forever swept the open, licensed saloon from the United States of America."

is a place of indescribable beauty, "one old charred stump, on which a single black crow was perched, as we arrived in the upper peninsula, gave me a thrill of a lifetime," Rev. Williams said. Italians Resent Viennese Operetta

Vienna — Unofficial protests were made by Italy on the occasion of the production of a new operetta entitled "Czarevitch" by Franz Lehár, in which a humorous Neapolitan character named Dodolo is made to say objectionable, non-sensical things offensive to Italians.

Several Italian journalists who attended the opening performance rose in unison when Dodolo appeared and walked out of the theater. The Viennese press supports their indignant protest and says the offending passages should be deleted from the play.

Home Tested Recipes

If the following directions are carefully carried out the fruit and pickles will keep from spoiling.

Test all jars for leakage before using. To do this, fill with water, put on rubber and cover, seal and invert.

Sterilize all utensils, jars, covers, etc., by covering with cold water and boil for ten minutes. Use only new rubbers and dip rubbers in boiling water before using.

Use a wide mouthed funnel when filling jars to avoid loss of material and keep jar rim clean.

Fruit should be sound, firm and not over ripe. All fruit should be carefully prepared. Clean fruit, clean hands, clean utensils and a clean kitchen, free from flies, are essential for safety and success. Keep products in cool place. Avoid freezing in winter. Use porcelain utensils; never use aluminum kettles for canning or pickling.

BOOSTER CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

"The Fair of the Iron Horse," a motion picture showing the history and development of transportation, will be one of the features of the Chicago & Northwestern Booster Club meeting at the city hall at 8 o'clock this evening. A large attendance of members is expected.

The film was taken at the centenary exhibition and pageant staged by the Baltimore & Ohio railway at Baltimore last fall.

The motion picture will portray the unfolding of the full scheme of inland transportation in the United States from earliest times up to the present as was shown at the "world's fair of transportation" at Baltimore. Included in the spectacle is first, the Indian mode of travel, the primitive prairie schooners, stage coaches, post chaises and so on through the horse-drawn age, "Tom Thumb," the first locomotive of American make in 1825, the curious "grasshoppers" of the thirties, the odd-looking camelbacks of the forties, veteran engines of the Civil War, and on up to the steel giants of today. Exhibits showing the development of other railroad equipment were also a feature of the Baltimore fair, and much of this
