

U. P. STATE FAIR OPENS MONDAY

WESTERN YORK STATE VOTERS FAVOR HOOVER

INTENSIVE FIGHT IS BEING WAGED BY G. O. P.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Copyright 1928, by the Escanaba Press) Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Western New York is not at all pliant about the presidential campaign. This is strong Republican territory but Governor Smith has always been able to keep the vote of his opponents down and on two out of five occasions has carried the city of Buffalo.

The job of the Republicans here is to increase the normal vote so as to help offset the known increase which Governor Smith will have in New York City and the lower end of the state. Governor Smith appears to have kept much of his following here but, of course, the test here has been on state rather than national issues and the Republicans are confident that the traditional feeling of the Republican who votes a straight ticket in presidential years but scratches it on state campaigns will abide.

Hoover Will Lead. Herbert Hoover may be expected to carry western New York by a substantial majority. But to be of any help to overcome New York City majorities he has to win every county by something in the fifty thousand class. To do so the Republican managers have started an intensive campaign. W. G. Andrews, one of the younger men in politics, has been made chairman of the campaign committee and is starting a drive for new voters. The feeling here is that the increased Republican vote must come from new voters. Various plans to carry the new voters are being made. No lists, of course, are available so the Republican newspapers are to carry coupons asking for the names of new voters and a meeting of as many as will attend will be held later in the campaign.

The Republicans are having some difficulty with the prohibition issue and have not yet developed a clear-cut way of handling it as the city of Buffalo is wet territory but lately the slogan "We Would Rather Eat Than Drink" has been effectively distributed in the factory districts where the usual argument about Republican prosperity is being made.

Intensive Campaign. Not since the McKinley days has such a dry campaign been made as is planned for the factory vote. Meetings to be addressed by prominent speakers are being arranged and the Republican management is working on the theory that every vote gained this time in western New York will be worth more than is customary in the total vote of the state.

Sentiment for the governor is strong in the factory districts and there is also a battle to line up the foreign-born vote where defections toward the Smith stand have been expected, especially since the Smith plan of liberalizing the immigration quotas has been talked up among the voters of foreign extraction. It is notable that while Smith support is considerable in the city, there is relatively little of it in Chautauque and Catawagus counties and the rural districts generally.

Heavy Registration. Prohibition seems to have developed an intense interest in those parts of the state and an increased vote is counted on there through heavier registration and more intensive work in bringing the voters to the polls. Preliminary surveys would seem to indicate that there is a drift toward Hoover among the women voters and that this is recognized by the Democratic managers who are working hard to overcome it. Western New York appears to be swinging toward Hoover with prospects of an increase over the normal majority.

Few Major Crimes in Detroit in Last Month, Says Report. Detroit, Sept. 15.—(P)—A decrease of 12.6 per cent in major crimes in Detroit in August this year, compared with the same month for the five preceding years, was reported today by Police Commissioner William P. Rutledge.

HOOVER READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Closes Desk as He Prepares for Speaking Tour in East

BY W. B. RAGSDALE (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, Sept. 15.—(P)—Herbert Hoover closed his desk today to do his battle armor and plunge into the active fight for the presidency.

Turning his back upon weeks of preparation and study, he preferred to invade enemy territory to deliver a speech at Newark Monday, a stroke on the very fringe of the home state of his Democratic opponent.

The old and the new will intermingle strangely when Hoover speaks at Newark. Surrounding the nominee will be the ballyhoo, torchlights and banners of an older political day. Before him will be a microphone to carry his voice in an ultra-modern way over an extensive radio hook-up into all sections of the country.

Optimistic Report. Before setting forth from his campaign headquarters, Mr. Hoover received today fresh views on the political situation in two widely reported states of New York, and Senator Nye who told of conditions in the western state. In addition, Hoover talked over conditions generally with Speaker Nicholas Longworth and with Theodore Roosevelt, Hanford MacNider and other former service men with whom he had luncheon at the home of Assistant Attorney General Donovan.

Senator Capper had an optimistic report for his chief, but Senator Nye declared that there was much feeling against the Republicans in his state because of the party's failure to give the wheat farmers relief through the McNary-Haugen bill.

HURRICANE IS HEADING NEAR U. S. COAST

STORM MAY BLOW ITSELF OUT OR DO MORE DAMAGE

(By Associated Press) The tropical hurricane that has spread desolation across Porto Rico, the eastern shore of Santo Domingo and the Virgin Islands, leaving the threat of famine and disease in its wake, was raging in the Bahamas today and was due, unless it should change its course or blow itself out, to hit the Florida coast tomorrow.

Tens of thousands of inhabitants of the stricken islands were homeless. Countless homes and business buildings, hospitals and mission schools and camps, were laid waste before the onslaught of the storm, described in despatches as one of the most ferocious and destructive hurricanes in the history of the Caribbean.

Appeals for assistance from the islands of the southern sea said that relief must be sent at once if famine and disease were to be averted. The stricken population, it was said, could live for three or four days, but when that was gone they would be faced with imminent starvation.

The American Red Cross yesterday appropriated an initial $50,000 for a relief fund and dispatched a trained disaster crew to Porto Rico on a naval ship from Charleston, S. C., on the reports of those relief experts after they reach the Caribbean and survey the scene of disaster will be based plans for systematic relief to the homeless, the hungry and the sick.

With their rich harvests of coffee and tobacco largely ruined, their banana and citrus plantations leveled, their homes and hospitals shattered, the islands were further afflicted by complete disruption of light and power and a cessation of their water supplies. One effect of their power failure was that newspapers could not be published and without this source of authentic news terrifying rumors ran unchecked among the frightened populace.

Task Growing. Washington, Sept. 15.—(P)—With its task growing hourly as additional appeals for aid were sent in from the storm-swept West Indies, the American Red Cross today issued an appeal to the American people for funds and set aside $50,000 of its own money for relief and rehabilitation.

The mobilization of resources was determined at a conference between President Coolidge, who is also president of the Red Cross, and John Barton Payne, chairman of the organization. Messages from chapters in Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands added to the serious complexion of the catastrophe as pictured yesterday by the chancellor of the University of Porto Rico in the first word received from the stricken island.

Illinois Aid Asked. News of the disaster continued meager. The Red Cross was informed by cable from its Virgin Island chapters at St. Croix that there was no communication with St. Thomas, the capital and largest city, that hundreds were without homes and that clothes and money were needed. The navy has radio transmitters at these two points and at St. Johns but had received no information of conditions on the island.

Score Injured in Hospitals of City

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 15.—(P)—The life-and-death side of Rockford's tornado tragedy stood tonight at eight. Hospitals, with more than a score seriously injured, may make the death reckoning higher. Six others are missing. They may be buried beneath the brick, timber and machinery of the storm-wrecked chair factory "B." The more hopeful theory of relief workers is the missing may have escaped, as did fifty others when the twister darted down out of the black Friday afternoon sky, doing damage that has been estimated close to $5,000,000.

A larger part of their task will be to keep crowds of curious from the ruins of chair factory "B" in which three of the eight fatalities occurred. The three floors of the long building crumbled before the wind, dumping tons of machinery and lumber into a tumbled pile. Firemen and volunteers worked all day, yet at nightfall were only a little nearer knowing what secret of death the ruins held.

A hundred yards from the chair factory stood a giant pile of fine sand, with not even a furrow in its light golden sides to show there had been any wind at all.

That was the way the tornado bounced—destroying a factory, a home here, skipping others. The two sections of the city that suffered most were approximately three miles apart, with blocks in between that escaped the storm's flight.

Relief was quick in organization—subscriptions to meet emergency needs of hundreds, made homeless and jobless. Plans also were formulated to rebuild at once and many of those thrown out of employment by destruction of factories were to be given work in reconstruction.

Accompanying the governor's party, will be the famous Capt. Raymond Collins, who is being sent to Detroit in "The Trustee," a junior Stinson monoplane, that not only is unique in the aircraft world, but will carry one of the most interesting characters in aviation. Capt. Collins has been referee of the last four national air tours, is an aviation expert of world-wide distinction, and has a remarkable army record.

It is expected that other planes from Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee, will be present. Speaking Program. The dedication program will begin at 2 o'clock. John P. Norton will be master of ceremonies, and will welcome the army flyers, the governor and his party and other visitors in behalf of the city of Escanaba. Other speakers on the program will be the commander of the army squadron, State Senator Herbert J. Rushton, E. J. French, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce airport committee, and Capt. Collins. The dedication address will be given by Gov. Green.

The army squadron will then take the air for a series of maneuvers. They will then be guests, along with the other notables, at the banquet, to be given at the golf club, by the Upper Peninsula Supervisors association and the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau officers and directors. Members of the board of managers of the state fair and other "well-knowns" have also been invited to attend.

The governor and his party, the army flyers, will spend Friday here, and will go to Hianey on Saturday. (Continued On Page Two.)

POLICEMAN'S SLAYER

PAUL JAWORSKI

Jaworski Enters Not Guilty Plea When Arraigned

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 15.—(P)—Paul Jaworski, payroll robber and self-styled slayer of "twenty-six men or more" pleaded not guilty today to the murder of a policeman killed in a fight here Thursday in which Jaworski was wounded and captured.

The plea was entered as Judge Walter McMahon, presiding judge of the criminal court, and a group of court attaches and officers stood around the wounded outlaw's bed in the hospital ward at city jail.

Judge McMahon went to the jail and conducted the arraignment as soon as the legal 24 hours had elapsed after the return of the indictment yesterday. Trial was set for October 22, and Edward C. Stanton, county prosecutor, said he would demand a death sentence.

The state is expected to rely heavily on a statement made by Jaworski to detectives soon after he was captured that it was he and not a companion that shot Patrolman Anthony Wiecek to death.

Upon arraignment today Jaworski said he had no funds for his defense and Judge McMahon announced that counsel would be named for him. At the same time, however, word came that unidentified persons in Pittsburgh were raising a fund for the employment of defense counsel. David Kammer, Cleveland attorney, said he had been called by long distance telephone from Pittsburgh and asked to defend Jaworski.

New York State Will Not Elect Smith President. Chicago, Sept. 15.—(P)—New York state, having elected Alfred E. Smith governor four times, will flout his bid for the presidency and return a safe majority for Herbert Hoover, Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio declared today in a report to the Republican national committee.

The senator's report was made at the request of Walter H. Newton, director of the speakers bureau, and followed a survey of the New York situation at the time of his speech at Dunkirk, N. Y., a week ago.

DEDICATION CEREMONY, AUTO RACES TO BE FEATURES OF THE FIRST AFTERNOON PROGRAM

Weekly POLITICAL REVIEW

FAIR GROUNDS IN READINESS FOR OPENING

Gates of the Upper Peninsula State Fair Grounds in Escanaba will be thrown open to the public at noon on Monday. Exhibits were arriving rapidly Saturday. Many more are expected today, and will be handled by the fair staff. By Monday noon, when the fair officially opens, the buildings will be in full swing, ready for the formal dedication ceremonies which will take place at 1:30 o'clock.

Herbert J. Rushton, whose work in the state senate at the last session was largely instrumental in the creation of the fair, will act as the personal representative of Gov. Fred W. Green at the dedication. He will raise the American flag on the lofty new flag pole which, it is expected, will be one of the impressive features. Others who will participate will be August A. Lundgaard, of Cornell, president of the board of directors of the fair; A. W. Thompson of Iron Mountain, vice president; William H. Needham, mayor of Escanaba, and the Ironwood band.

Automobile Races. Automobile races, and the first performances of the splendid array of vaudeville and circus free attractions, will constitute the Monday afternoon program. Monday night the free attractions, with an elaborate display of fireworks, will be offered.

Months of effort, planning, energy and organization on the part of the board of managers and the executives, have produced abundant fruit, in the opinion of those who have watched closest the development of the fair project.

To organize for an enterprise of this kind, to formulate and carry out a building program entailing the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, to compile a premium list with hundreds of items and aggregating nearly $35,000, to procure entertainment features, and to insure the presentation of a worth-while, well-balanced program, truly portraying the agricultural, economic and industrial assets and progress of the upper peninsula, has been a task of gigantic proportions.

But it has been accomplished. Visitors will find that the first Upper Peninsula State Fair will, in every particular, be worthy of a rank among the best state fairs in the entire country.

The familiarity of Gov. Fred W. Green with fairs and fair problems has been a decided asset to the Upper Peninsula State Fair, ever since the state legislature, at the instigation of Senator H. J. Rushton, passed the bill creating the fair, appropriating a substantial sum of money for its development, and set up the machinery for its conduct. Herbert E. Powell, state commissioner of agriculture; Fred Chapman, of Ionia, manager of the Detroit State Fair; State Senator Chester M. Howell of Saginaw, secretary of the Michigan Fair Association; members of the extension staff in the peninsula of Michigan State College; the state department of conservation, and many other agencies and individuals, have given valuable advice and assistance in the preparations.

Board of Directors. Governor Green, after a careful study of available timber, selected fifteen men who were ideally equipped for the job of serving on the first board of managers. He named the following men: August A. Lundgaard of Cornell, A. W. Thompson of Iron Mountain, C. M. Sigler of Manistique, J. S. Weidman of Trout Creek, W. A. Munro of Munising, R. S. Buckland of Baraga, A. Wesley Clark of Sault Ste. Marie, Alvin L. Rummel of Wakefield, Earl D. McDonald of Calumet, L. A. Johnson of Iron River, W. T. King of Ahmeek, John T. Turnbull of Newberry, David Erskine of Alpena, Herbert E. Perkins of Marquette, and A. Saunders of Stephenson.

WEATHER OUTLOOK: For region of the Great Lakes: Probably local showers in north portion Monday and a more central shower period within latter half of week; no extreme heat or cold likely.

Temperatures—High

Table with 2 columns: Location and Temperature. Locations include Alpena, Boston, Buffalo, Calgary, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Detroit, Duluth, Escanaba, Galveston, Grand Rapids, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles, etc.

For the Upper Mississippi and the northern and central Great plains: Mostly fair in south portions; probably one or two shower periods in north portions; no extremes of heat or cold likely.

Mr. Lundgaard was elected president, Mr. Thompson first vice president, Dr. Sigler second vice president and Mr. Weidman treasurer. The board selected George E. Harvey of Escanaba secretary. Herbert E. Powell, head of the state agricultural commission is director general in charge. The county of Delta turned over to the state, tree of all indebtedness, its Delta County fair grounds. This, however, was not, in the opinion of the board, sufficient to handle the crowds and provide parking space. Another good-sized tract, adjoining the grounds, was purchased. Many New Buildings. A new grandstand, 372 feet in length, and seating 4,500 people, was constructed. The old stand has been moved to the other side of the track to adjoin the new structure. It will accommodate about 300 more spectators. Fifty-six race horses and their handlers can be taken care of in the new racing bars, declared by horsemen who have seen it to be one of the best in the country. Additional and thoroughly up-to-date accommodations for all types of livestock, agricultural exhibits, school and household arts departments, and commercial and industrial exhibits, have been provided.

The premium list totals nearly $35,000. Of this sum $8,226 is offered to dairy cattle and $2,955 to beef cattle. Horses will get $2,400, poultry $4,300, boys and girls clubs $2,500 and the remainder is distributed with substantial sums for sheep, swine, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, dairy products, needlework, domestic economics, school exhibits, agricultural education, arts and antiques.

Fixing the dates of the Upper Peninsula State Fair after all the county fairs are over, has made it possible for owners of blue-ribbon animals and exhibits to bring them here to compete in the Upper Peninsula grand championship classes.

Horse racing will, of course, have an important place on the program. It will be featured four days, beginning Tuesday afternoon and closing Friday. Purses for the horses total $5,500. H. E. Perkins of Marquette is in charge of this department. W. L. Parks of Lake Linden is secretary of speed and Leonard Morrison of Marquette, timekeeper. Jack Winnings of Montpelier, Ind., recognized as one of the best starters in the country, has been secured to handle this end of the work. No starter in America, fair men say, can keep a racing program going with greater snap. There are no tedious delays when he is in the starter's stand.

The automobile races, Monday and Saturday afternoons, will be under the personal direction of Chester M. Howell of Saginaw, a nationally-known figure in the motor racing game. Senator Howell had charge of the motor races at the state fair in Detroit, and has booked for Escanaba, ten of the drivers who competed in that event last week. The auto races, Monday, will begin at 2 o'clock.

Free Attractions
Some of the best "big-time" circus and vaudeville attractions in the country have been booked, in conjunction with the state fairs at Detroit and Grand Rapids.

These include Hoaglan's Hippodrome, with 15 people, 12 horses and other livestock, a fleet of polo cars and other race track, circus and rodeo novelties.

The Shannon Trio, acrobats; the Francis Trio, comedy acrobats; Cliff Curran, doing an acrobatic act on a 50-foot swaying pole; Harry Brooks, juvenile acrobat, and others. All of these acts will be presented between racing heats on a new stage, opposite the grandstand. With the horse-racing, they will make up a program lasting more than four hours of continuous entertainment.

Night sessions, every night, will offer elaborate fireworks displays instead of horse racing. All of the free attractions will be shown at night, the midway will be in operation and the exhibit buildings open.

Other special features include the horse-pulling contest, which will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings; the cow-calling contest, for the Upper Peninsula championship, Friday morning; the Upper Peninsula championship horse-shoe pitching competition, and many additional novelties.

All in Readiness
The exhibit buildings were being filled rapidly, yesterday. Industrial and commercial enterprises from all parts of the peninsula were moving into the spaces assigned to them. A half-dozen state departments were placing their wares and preparing for the "cordially endorsed" Smith, even Governor Dan Moody putting party loyalty above his bone-dry prohibition beliefs and promising his support go along with Smith supporters. In the Atlanta congressional district, Rep. Leslie J. Steele, a Smith advocate, was renominated by a good margin over the very dry and anti-Smith representative William S. Upshaw.

"Keep Religion Out"
The religious issue remained a dominant theme in the church field, a Tacoma, Washington, Methodist Episcopal bishop calling upon the clergy and laity to join campaign against Smith and "any move to bring liquor back to America." A Peoria, Illinois, Methodist Episcopal preacher urging his hearers to vote against the governor "because he is a drinking man," and a Sherman judge advocating withdrawal of "patronage from pastor who circulate 'false slanders' to alienate uniformed democrats.

As of to offset activities of others of the cloth, five midwestern preachers offered to take the stump on behalf of Smith, and in Illinois a Catholic bishop demanded in a letter to all his priests that they "leave outside the Catholic church the unholy, unjust, unwise and un-American task of dragging religion into politics."

Nebraska, here Governor Smith will make his first western speech, has given him the endorsement of its state labor federation and has given to Mr. Hoover a former anti-Hoover leader, Mark Woods, who led the Nebraska anti-delegation to the Kansas City convention, now is supporting the Republican candidate on the basis of the platform farm relief declarations. Nearby in North Dakota, however, Governor Maddock, an independent allied with the Republicans, and leader of the G. O. P. delegation to Kansas City, has decided to run for reelection as a Democrat and the regular Democratic nominee has withdrawn to facilitate matters.

Hoover Week's Winner
Leaders of big business, whose support is claimed and desired by both parties, continue to announce their retention or change on political indemnity. This week's prize stayed with the Republicans, Charles L. Mott, vice president of General Motors, endorsing Hoover and calling for a Republican congress for economic reasons. Others of the General Motors chieftains already have endorsed Smith and Hoover according to their personal dictates. The other development on the Hoover side was the decision of officers of the national women's party to support him, although he frankly told them he could not pledge himself in advance to work for an equal rights amendment to the constitution.

Delay Departure of Byrd's Ship

New York, Sept. 15—(AP)—Departure of the Eleanor E. Bolling, supply ship of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, was postponed today by Commander Richard E. Byrd because of adverse weather conditions outside of New York harbor. The commander said the ship will sail early tomorrow.

The full fair staff will remain on the grounds all day today to receive and check-in exhibits. The carnival company, which will occupy the midway, is expected to arrive early today and begin its work of setting up its rides, shows and booths at once. "Visitors Monday afternoon will find us ready for them," said Secretary George E. Harvey last night.

The Chamber of Commerce committees in charge of the local dedication consists of Harry D. Brackett, chairman, M. E. Bissel, E. J. French, Herman Gessner, L. J. Jacobs, T. F. Kessler, Dr. A. S. Kitchen, Harold Sanderson, W. R. Smith, C. J. Byrnes, Torval E. Strom and William Warrington.

Gov. Green's presence at the fair Friday, coupled with the fact that it will be school day, will undoubtedly make the day a record-breaker in attendance and interest. The governor will address the state fair crowd in the afternoon.

Comstock Sends Answer to Green

Detroit, Sept. 15—(AP)—In a reply to Gov. Fred W. Green's letter of September 12, urging his Democratic opponent to "throw away his check-book," William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, characterized Gov. Green's letter as "undignified, peevish and childish in the extreme." He said it was "apparent that something in my letter penetrated deeply to bring such a reply."

Mr. Comstock's letter follows: "My Dear Governor: Your letter of the twelfth in reply to mine regarding primary campaign funds accounting is undignified, peevish and childish in the extreme. It must be apparent to the most casual observer that something in my letter penetrated deeply to bring such a reply.

"You charge me with bad faith in thus writing you. Let me charge it to misplaced confidence.

"Your reference to the barrel and the check-book prompt me to say that were I in politics either as a business or as an aid to business, I would find it much more lucrative to be a Republican.

BEAUTIFUL CALICO POLKA-DOTTER TELLS HOW SHE RISKED ALL FOR LOVE—AND MADE IT PAY

(From True Revelations Magazine)

I AM regarded by my friends as more than usually good-looking, but I am not the least upstage about it. Compliments never make me cheery. I get too many of them. I am a blonde (natural) with expressive blue-eyes which cause men to fall on their knees in my presence. My luscious red lips have been compared by many of my admirers to ripe strawberries. I am tall, but not too tall, and plump but not to plump. An artist, who once painted a Bull Durham sign on the side of our house told me I should be a model in some famous painter's studio. So much for my figure.

I came from a refined family. In fact, I think I have got plenty of license to chirp that my family was the finest one in the neighborhood. My father would have tore himself to shreds if he ever caught one of us kids eating pie with a knife. Father always gossiped his pie with a soup-spoon. He insisted on wearing his coat at the table, even though, most of the time, he did not have a shirt on. The hardest bearing-up I ever got from the old gent was for not being refined. I used the words, "Ain't that a hell of a note!" It made him sore for anybody to say "ain't" when he was sticking around. He said it wasn't refined.

When I had emerged from childhood into my middle thirties, I fell in love with a textile manufacturer, an unscrupulous bum by the name of Antonio MacSwenson. My folks did not think much of him. He was not refined enough. I will say for him, though, that he had a peach of a line. He fed me a lot of mush and being a refined girl, knowing little of the ways of men, I swallowed the works. He gave me a job in his factory and I learned how to put the polka-dots on calico. For this he paid me $9 a week and sometimes took me out to a night club, or a gin-joint or some other refined place for an evening's enjoyment.

Well, I trilled along with this big boy for eight or nine years. I hoped, all the time, he would get more refined so I would not have to be ashamed of some of the raw things he said. Finally, I went out of town for a visit and he put it in writing. Believe me girls, he wrote me a plenty. On each letter he said "please burn this." What a sap he must of thought I was.

He did not want his wife and kids to find out about it, of course, so I promised to not see him for breach of promise. That would not be the refined thing to do, anyway. But it cost him plenty to get those letters back. Believe me, I am not polka-dotting calico now. I am sitting pretty.

It shows that a girl can win success in this world and still be refined.

Chapter XXVI

LYNDA GOES TO RALPH'S HOME

Lynnda smiled when Emily asked her if she blamed Ralph Armitage for having a good time. "Would you really call dislocating your collar bone and breaking your ribs a good time?" she asked.

"You're darned literal, Lynda. You know very well I meant flirting around with the girls. He gives us all a good time when he is taking one himself. I will say that for him. He isn't selfish about it. He'll be asking you to come out there. See if he doesn't. Perhaps he isn't hurt as much as he would make out. Perhaps it is just to get you out there. Mind your step, Lynda, mind your step."

With this Emily left, smiling maliciously.

Emily had hardly left the office before someone asked over the phone:

"Is this Miss Fenton, Mr. Armitage's secretary?"

"Yes."

"This is Mr. Armitage's man. He wanted me to ask you whether you would bring his mail out to the house tomorrow morning?"

"Will you please tell Mr. Armitage that I have already taken his personal mail to his father? I will bring the morning's mail out to him tomorrow," said Lynda, her knees getting rather wobbly as she said it, for she remembered what Emily had just told her.

"Mr. Armitage says that you are to bring all his mail tomorrow, and be prepared to stay until after luncheon."

"Will he be able to dictate, do you think?"

"He says he will, Miss Fenton. I am to bring the car in for you at half-past nine."

Lynnda hung up the receiver. Emily had hardly left the phone before a message came from Mr. Armitage, senior, asking her to come again to his office.

As she opened the door, he exclaimed:

"I see, Miss Fenton, that the evening papers have gotten hold of my son's accident, and it is probable that you will have visits and telephone calls from the reporters soon. They will want a follow-up story. I think you had better shut up the office and go out for the afternoon."

Lynnda bowed.

"Ralph has just told me that he has instructed one of the men to come down here tomorrow morning and take you out to the house."

"Do you think he will be well enough to do any dictating, Mr. Armitage?"

"Yes. The doctor has bandaged his shoulder and set his ribs, and bandaged his arm to his side. When I came away this morning he seemed still to be in a great deal of pain. Since then the nurse has phoned me that he has had a little sleep, although he seemed very restless, when I called up right after luncheon. It will be much better for you to go out there than for him to come here—something he might be headstrong enough to do."

As soon as possible, Lynda started home, and by the time Claire

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON.

WAY OF THE WORLD—SUNDAY—DEVOTION

Washington, with the tower of London in the offing, or a gallow on a lonely hill, was willing to forsake his luxurious home at Mt. Vernon and join himself to a ragged band which sought to make a nation out of the American colonies. It's easy enough to throw your fortunes with almost any cause when you have nothing to lose. How many propositions there are which appeal to us because "we have nothing to lose and everything to gain." Washington, a prominent and rich colonial, had everything to lose and little to gain. With the war won he faced a far less serene and comfortable life than he had in the old pre-war days. Nietzsche said: "Live dangerously." It is a fine thing to live dangerously when you also live devotedly and when your adventure is hooked on to a great cause.

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES

The large purpose of advertising is to create a reasonable degree of dissatisfaction in the minds of the people—so that they will want better things than they have, and more of them. Thus, advertising is an amazing, creative work in the world. By creating new wants and an ever-widening market it is doing more to raise the standard of living than almost any other constructive force.

NOT MERE MEMBERS

There is a passion for size in this world. Every village wants to be a big town. Every big town aches to be a great city. Why bigness? What is bigness but volume? And a volume of bad is worse than a little bad. There are but 250 names in the National Academy of Sciences. A late edition of "American Men of Science" contains but 9,500 names. The American Association for the Advancement of Science has but about 12,000 members. It has been said that out of this world's numbers—a billion and three-quarters of people—there are not more than 100,000 who are doing the creative work of the world. Probably that is a much too liberal estimate. A few are responsible for the advancement of human knowledge.

Take 500 names out of history, says Wiggam, and you have no history worth making a record of. What would philosophy be without Aristotle, Plato and Kant? Where and what would be the history of the natural sciences if there were no Darwin, Huxley, Newton, Copernicus? And so on for the other branches of human understanding.

Plan Air Service to India

Air service from England to India is to be started next April, according to an agreement just made between the operating company and the British Air Minister. Weekly trips will be made each way. The company will receive subsidies decreasing from $1,675,000 for each of the first two years to $340,000 the tenth year.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

Copyright 1928 by Douglas Malloch

I HAD A FRIEND.
 I had a friend in Harry D.
 For years and years and years,
 Yet friendship often may not be
 As firm as it appears.
 Once in a foolish hour I wrote
 To come and spend a week,
 I let him run my motorboat,
 And now we hardly speak.

I had a friend in William G.,
 I let him take a ten,
 A friend I often used to see,
 I seldom have since then.
 An enemy may hate you more,
 And yet forgive you, too,
 But seldom friends forgive you for
 A favor that you do.

I had some friends, X., Y. and Z.,
 But now I know them not.
 I told them confidentially
 It doesn't matter what.
 Although the strangers I have met
 Were faithful to the end,
 I find it doesn't pay to get
 Too friendly with a friend.

THE FAIR.

THE FIRST Upper Peninsula State Fair will open its gates to the public at noon tomorrow.

Thousands of dollars and months of arduous labor have been expended in the preparation of this event. That it will be a fair worthy of comparison with other state fairs throughout the country may be seen by a survey of the premium book, the program, and the widespread interest in it.

The exhibits will be the most complete ever gathered in the peninsula, giving the spectator "a cross-section of the Upper Peninsula's prosperity and progress in one gigantic show window." Blue ribbon winners, in all classes, from every nook and corner of the upstate district will be on display. The entertainment features are the best the fair management could procure.

The fair belongs to the whole Upper Peninsula. Every county is represented on its board of directors. Its departmental executives, chosen because of their ability, also come from every section of the upstate district.

But it should not be forgotten by the people of this immediate territory that the largest share of the responsibility for the fair's success rests upon their shoulders. Just as the state fair at Detroit necessarily draws most of its attendance from the city of Detroit, so must the state fair in Escanaba draw most of its gate patronage from the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone and the territory nearest these cities.

No special appeal for the support of the people in this area should be necessary. They surely must realize that the fair has been, and will continue to be, of tremendous benefit to them.

Only by their attendance can they show the State of Michigan and the other counties of the peninsula that they appreciate, fully, the honor of having this community selected as the location for the Upper Peninsula State fair.

The gate-receipts will tell whether this community deserves the honor.

diminished expenditures by vacationists, who stayed away when news of the disease was broadcast. A decade or so ago the business leaders who felt this loss would have stormed the newspaper offices demanding that stories about the epidemic be "played down" so that vacationists would not be scared away. Now they are wiser.

Instead of asking a policy of concealment, civic leaders are planning a big medical campaign to eradicate the disease. Strict public health measures will be enforced; next summer, if it is humanly possible, the Berkshires will not have any septic sore throat cases.

How much better than the old-fashioned effort to suppress news! This new method of attacking the problem indicates that we are making progress.

Campaign managers of both parties are issuing warnings against "whispering" tactics. We've heard a lot of political discussion, but we have yet to hear anyone whisper. On the contrary...

BEAUTY AND INSANITY.

A BEAUTY-PARLOR is being opened at a Pennsylvania state hospital as an experiment in the treatment of women with unbalanced minds. The theory is that pride in appearance will assist in the return to normalcy.

All the facilities of the modern beauty salon will be provided—except the device producing the permanent wave. The reason for that omission was not explained, but presumably there was one. Eventually, we think, it will have to be supplied, because the mere fact that the wave cannot be obtained will make it seem most desirable in the minds of the women patients.

Be that as it may, the tribute of the experimenters to the institution called "beauty parlor" is of no mean significance. The "parlor" is playing an important part in affairs of the feminine world and no doubt, as a consequence, making for happier homes in many instances. Woman was born with a desire to be beautiful, and the treatments now available have worked almost scientific wonders in transforming plainness into attractiveness and in emphasizing desirable features where they existed. The beauty parlor must be given credit, in large measure, for a better looking world, on the whole, than the one that existed fifty years ago. Of course, there are instances of going to extremes, but with those we are not dealing. It is the more conservative, constructive "treatment" by experts that deserves notice as offering benefits.

At first glance the opening of a beauty parlor in an insane asylum, as a feature of the treatment of mental cases, has its ridiculous aspects. One might wonder, for instance, how the prospective pride in appearance could be expected to cure a patient that was "crazy" about herself. But it should be considered that ego is importantly involved in many cases of mental unbalance, and obviously pride in appearance is closely related to ego.

It is entirely possible that the experiment will achieve worthwhile results. Queer things do happen in the world, such as, for example, the discovery that liver as a food exerted a beneficial influence on persons suffering from anemia. It is not unreasonable to suppose, then, that beauty can exert a good influence on an abnormal feminine mind.

Strange expedients sometimes perform strange marvels.—Ann Arbor News.

When a woman attorney in Brooklyn pleaded for her client an outfit of linen knickers and sleeveless blouse, the newspaper photographers returned a verdict in her favor without leaving the room.

Who's Who in Timely Views

IMPROVED RADIO RECEPTION PREDICTED.

By DR. J. H. DELLINGER, Physicist.

I rejoice that the federal radio commission has taken the action necessary to improve radio reception. After the most intensive study of all sorts of palliatives, the examination of every possible expedient, and the consideration of innumerable suggestions, the commission has determined that a major operation is necessary to cure the ills of broadcast in general.

The whole set-up of broadcasting stations has been readjusted, in the new allocation now ready for announcement, in accordance with a definite, practical plan.

Radio reception will be materially bettered for practically all listeners as soon as the stations are adjusted to the new allocation. This allocation is worked out in accordance with principles recognized as sound by all radio men.

It is noteworthy that, while all classes of listeners benefit under the new allocation, the farmers will be the chief gainers. They will not only be able to receive more stations reliably without interference, but practically all points on the radio dial will be free from the curse of heterodyne whistles. The city listeners will gain through their various local stations and also reception of distant stations free from interference.

In order to bring about these improvements, and introduce order into the broadcasting chaos, the commission was faced with two alternatives, either the abolition of several hundred stations, or the use of such expedients as

Student Flyers Can Get Permit in Day

Washington (AP)—A new system designed to facilitate the issuing of student aviator permits has been adopted by the aeronautics branch of commerce.

Under the plan it is possible to take a prospective student to decide to take a flying course in the morning, interview the school heads, make out his application and begin flying instructions the same day. In some cases heretofore the issuing of permits has been delayed for a month.

Under the new method the student makes out his application for a permit in duplicate, one copy being sworn to, and attaches to it two photographs of himself, head and shoulders only. He may take this application to the authorized examining physician, who will check it for correctness and accept it. If the student successfully passes the medical examination, the physician will give him a letter of authority, allowing him to operate pending receipt of the actual permit.

STYLE-BOOK MISSIONARIES.

OLDER FOLK in Turkey, in China, in Afghanistan and in other remote sections of the world are also doing a good deal of fretting about the "younger generation."

Women of prominent Turkish families are appearing on the streets without their veils. Bobbed hair and silk stockings have found their way into Chinese cities. And in Afghanistan, members of the royal family have adopted the European type of garb for all save the most formal and traditional of court functions.

Oriental religions are rooted, for the most part, in the soil of oriental customs. When customs change, the roots are loosened. It undoubtedly will be easier to discuss Christianity with women who dress as Christians dress, than with women who are wearing the veils and shrouds and robes of the Mohammedan faith.

The fashion-maker, it appears, is doing his bit to extend white civilization and culture to the other races of the globe.

"The Rising Tide of Color," about which we used to hear so much is not likely to deluge the nations from which the women procure their dress-up clothing.

As we understand it, the prize in a non-stop flight goes to the flyer who made the fewest stops.

SORE THROAT AND SUPPRESSION.

AN EPIDEMIC of the mysterious malady known as septic sore throat struck the Berkshire section of Massachusetts this summer. It caused a number of deaths, medical science not yet having found a sure way to master it; and it probably cost that part of Massachusetts $1,000,000

Marathon Dancers Are Still Going Strong in Quest of $2500 Prize

The $2500 marathon dancing contest at the Coliseum went into its twenty-ninth hour at 3 o'clock this morning with the entire eleven starting couples still going strong. Scores of persons dropped in at all hours during the night to witness the grueling grind which compares favorably with the famous six-day bicycle races of Madison Square Garden.

There is a very glow of determination and hope to win the coveted prize in the eyes of each contestant despite the fact that the loss of sleep is gradually sapping their endurance powers. While with some of the dancers the contest is only an undertaking entered in spirit of adventure, there are others who are laying serious plans for the future, all feeling confident that they will win.

Plans On Fur Coat.
"I'm going to buy a fur coat with the money I win," declared Eunice Johnson of Powers with a confident air. A number of residents of Powers came to the Coliseum last night to see the hometown girl dancing about the floor with her partner, Frank Decaire of Escanaba.

A brother and sister, Peter and Anne Staudohar of Iron Mountain, were both in a serious mood last night, determined to be the last to fall out of the competition. They rarely smiled. They danced slowly, taking no unnecessary or fancy steps lest they lose that energy that will be needed at the finish.

Linda Ehrinberg, a frail little girl weighing not more than a hundred pounds, was happy to be in the contest. For nine hours Friday she looked around for a male partner to join her in the dance. Just about when she began to despair of entering in the race, Henry LaValley stepped into the hall. LaValley had just come from the woods where he had spent the entire week at hard work, and was much fatigued. "I'll be your partner," he told the girl, and the dance was on.

Get Regular Rest Period.
The dancers rest 15 minutes every hour, and are given an hour for sleep in the morning between 5 and 6 o'clock. They eat their meals while dancing, devoting all their spare time periods to complete rest.

Many of the dancers were developing muscle cramps yesterday, and their needs were attended to by Bernard Schram, who is the official rub-down man. Schram recently returned from Chicago where he took a course in massage and bath science at the Post Health school. He is assisted by a trained nurse. A physician calls regularly at the Coliseum to examine the contestants to determine whether they are fit to continue in the marathon.

Two vaudeville acts were presented last night for the first time. The extra attractions will be staged every evening until the end of the contest. Joyner and Flute, colored performers, who have played the Keith and Orpheum circuits, gave a comedy song and dance feature which provoked much mirth. They are the originators of "The Slow Motion Dance," which has been a riot wherever presented. The other act was the Fleury Brothers, specialists in Hawaiian music, both vocal and instrumental.

Parts Stolen from Steam Shovel of Railway Company

The theft of valves and other fixtures on the Escanaba and Lake Superior railway company's steam shovel near the county farm at Wells was reported to the sheriff's department yesterday.

Apparently, boys are pilfering brass and copper parts from the machine to sell to the junk dealer. Sheriff Elmer Swanson stated that an extensive investigation of the case would be made, and all boys responsible would be dealt with severely, terms in a reform school not being improbable.

Again we Say—

It would be utterly impossible both from financial standpoint and a conservative business policy, for us to guarantee our tire vulcanizing if we did not employ the most modern methods and Firestone Factory trained experts.

Despite the fact that our volume of vulcanizing and tire repair business is the largest of any upper peninsula garage, we have had less complaints in this department in the past four years—since the installation of the Firestone system—than in a week period under previous methods—methods that many tire repair shops still employ. We can safely guarantee our tire repairs because they NEVER come back for the same cause.

Is Your Car Pigeon-Toed?

A sharp jab into the curb, a sudden drop into an unexpected rut or hole and accurately aligned front wheels often lose their balance. Pigeon-toed cars have been known to wear new tires to the fabric in less than 500 miles. If your front tires show undue wear drive in have them checked—It only takes a moment.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Campaign Seems More Like a Family Quarrel Than a Political Election; Most People This Year Know the Names of Both of the Candidates

BY WILL ROGERS.
 All I know is just what I read in the papers. And newspapers are at a mighty low ebb when they have to resort to politics to keep em alive. Every four years we have politics. Every seven years some people have the itch in a malaria country every other day people are scheduled to have a chill, every forty years France and Germany fight, and there is just hundreds of these calamities that hit us every once in a while. But of all of them I think politics is really the most disastrous.

It hits a country like a pestilence. There is no telling where it will hit. People that you would think was smart and would know better are sometimes struck by it, and when they are they are as dumb as the dumb ones. This year the churches are hit by it harder than usual. It has been the text of more sermons than the Lords supper. A Minister cant pray without asking divine assistance in the election of his man. Before he says Amen he takes a poll vote. Half the contributions go into the campaign funds. The Saviour was never asking more impudently to enter politics than he is this year.

Not Always Severe.
 Course we have these things every four years but we dont have em this bad. Most of the elections heretofore it didnt matter much who was elected, except to the fellow drawing the salary. It just happened that they by accident named two men who were pretty well known to run this year. It generally takes to November to explain who each of their respective Candidates are. But this year each side went out and got a couple of headlines. Hoover is known wherever Calamities are known, a National Catastrophe without Herbert wouldn't make the Editorial page even. He has fed more hungry people than Childs restaurants. He has been in Coolidge Cabinet ever since Coolidge was old enough to have a Cabinet. He and Mellon have made Cabinets Popular. The Democrats even wanted to run him a few years ago on their side, but after looking them over and finding they had NO side at that time, why he just waited till he got a better offer. Not a Candidate—A Victim.

And the Democrats they went stark crazy this time and did the right thing, by nominating a man that needs no introduction. He is a man that has worked steady even when his whole party was laying off. He seemed to have made himself so valuable that even the Republicans engaged him. He was born under the shade of

So We'll Just Sit Back and Watch the Smoke Fly.

Brooklyn Bridge, but he didnt set in the shade long. He went out and got him a Political office, and every time he would see a little higher one with nobody sitting in it he would make a dive for it, and he has never had the chair pulled from under him yet. He is one emigrant in our Country that makes no claim of having arrived on the Mayflower. His father was a truckman and if he had lived he would have been kept busy just moving his son's Derby hats from one office to the next higher. He has defeated the Republicans in his home state so much that they dont Nominate a Man against him any more, they Draft him. They tell him "You are not a Candidate, you are just a Victim."

So its on account of having these men run that is causing all this excitement. Women are voting who havent left a Bridge game that long in years. The voting booths wont be ballot boxes, they will be fashion parades. Milliners will sell millions of hats, just to be voted in. School children this year know the Candidates names. Children that ordinarily only know their fraternity yell. Why it don't seem like a Political election, it seems more like a family quarrel. Thousands and thousands of new voters that don't know a ballot from a laundry slip will be trying to write down their votes on November 4th.

Watch the Smoke.
 Both are fine men and would run the country perhaps equally as well, but if you listen to either side you would think that for either opponent to get in would be a return of the whole country to Slavery, Free Silver, "empty dinner pail," Long skirts, bustles, and suspenders. So that's what makes this the prize calamity of all political time. Why we have got people that are really taking the whole thing serious. They think a President has got something to do with running the Country.

So we will just sit back and watch the smoke fly. And here is a funny thing even the Vice Presidential Candidates are well known and great fellows. And Money, say that's the thing that is bringing the big response. The Democrats never had any money before, while this year they are right in the market for good-A. No. 1 votes.

Somebody is going to make some money out of politics this year besides the politicians, and that's just about what is making it an unusual political year. (Copyrighted 1928. By the Me-Naught Syndicate, Inc.)

SOCIAL

Thomy-Degnan.

A marriage of unusual interest is that which was solemnized at St. Joseph's church Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Eugenia Mary Thomy was united in marriage to James G. Degnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Degnan, 295 So. 16th St.

Rev. Fr. Bertrand Labinski, O. F. M., read the nuptial mass and performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the couple. Miss Eva Cosette played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengren as the bridal party entered the church. During the mass, solo numbers were rendered by Mesdames Joseph Klingler, Frederick Hira, Arthur Walch, Miss Alta Todd and Dr. Gordon Gleib. During the offertory Frank Hira sang "O Salutaris" by Wigand, and after the mass Mrs. John Kress sang Schubert's "Ave Marie." During the marriage ceremony Miss Cosette played "Cantelene" by Faulkes and Mendelssohn as they left the church.

The bride gown was of rose beige chantilly lace over pink silk, with pink hat and corresponding accessories, the shower bouquet was of butterfly roses and swansons.

The maid of honor, Miss Jeanette Guillaume, of LaCrosse, Wis., a cousin of the bride, wore a gown of light green georgette with a hat of gold metallic cloth and carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses and baby breath. Patrick Degnan was his brother's attendant.

After the church ceremony a breakfast for thirty guests was served at Jay's Tea Room at handsomely appointed tables. Mr. and Mrs. Degnan left immediately after the breakfast for a motor trip and will be at home after October 1st at their new residence, 1421 First Ave. So.

Mrs. Degnan was employed at the First National Bank for several years and Mr. Degnan is a member of the firm of Moersch & Degnan of this city.

Reception for Teachers.

An informal reception for teachers of the Escanaba schools was given in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church Friday night by officers of the various church organizations. The program included an address of welcome and a "semi-official communication" from the city council, both by Rev. John B. Hubbard; vocal solos by Clyde Wilson; cornet solos by James Beland; and a magic skit by Hal Rammel. Refreshments were served.

AMUSEMENTS

TODAY'S PROGRAMS. At the Delft: "United States Smith" with Eddie Gribbon, Lila Lee and an all-star cast. At the Strand: "The Law and the Man," a melodrama with numerous notables in the cast.

AT THE DELFT. Great figures of Russian history have emerged from the shadow, to re-live upon the screen at the Delft Monday and Tuesday; events which once rocked Europe.

Revivified for Emil Jannings next starring picture, "The Patriot," which Ernest Lubitsch directed, such mighty names as Cesar Paul the First, Count Pahlen, Mile. Lappoukhine and the Countess Ostermann, forgotten for a century, were in everyday use among the players and technical staff engaged in preparatory work.

"Napoleon overshadowed nearly all the men of his day but there were other mighty soldiers and statesmen who have never received their due because of the great Frenchman," said Lubitsch. "We have brought back some of these people and make them live with such vividness that audiences will look upon them as familiar characters, human, well remembered people."

AT THE STRAND. "Beware of Blondes" is a crook drama of an unusual sort. For the production, which is coming to the Strand Monday, there were constructed a number of massive sets and engaged a strange assortment of players. Among the sets are a palatial jewelry store, ocean liner and street in Honolulu. The players come from all quarters of the globe. Matt Moore, Roy D'Arcy and Dorothy Revier have the featured roles.

DUCK SEASON OPENS TODAY. Hordes of Hunters to Jaunt to Favorite Hunting Spots.

Hundreds of nimrods, who have contented themselves for some time now with pot-shots at clay pigeons and other miscellaneous but inanimate targets, will venture forth early this morning to the lakes, bayous and marshes to hunt the duck and other wildfowl. The season opened today and continues until December 31. Portage Point, the rice beds near Kipling, the inland lakes and marshes north of Rapid River and other favorite duck hunting spots will be crowded today with eager nimrods.

The amended laws of 1928 are specific in what the hunter may and may not do. The more important regulations provide, first that all persons over 17 years of age must secure a license to hunt; second, the use of automobiles, power boats and aircraft are prohibited in the hunting of water fowl; third, it is unlawful to use swivel or punt gun, or gun of greater size than 10-gauge or more than six shots at any one time while hunting water-fowl. Further, no duck hunter is allowed more than one gun.

Then, on the other side of conservation, hunters are warned about putting out fires and destroying electric lines by ill-timed shots. The bag is 15 in one day, 30 in possession at any one time and 50 for one hunter in one calendar week. It is further unlawful to have duck in possession more

CHRYSLER Plymouth. Winning public preference because of greater dollar value. With the arrival of the new Chrysler-built Plymouth the search for greater dollar value in the lowest-priced field is made surprisingly simple. It is so unmistakably in a class by itself—with its full size, its new and original style, its fine quality of finish and fittings. But the contrast in Plymouth's favor becomes still more startling in the matter of performance—in its speed, pick-up and power, from its new "Silver-Dome" high-compression engine using any gasoline; its smoothness and roadability; its safety because of light action internal-expanding hydraulic 4-wheel brakes. The buyer who seeks dollar-value first will inevitably choose the new Plymouth, after observing the very significant contrasts in greater dollar-for-dollar value it presents to every other car in the lowest-priced field. ### JOSEPH DUPUIS, AGE 98, PASSES

Old Resident Lacked One Month of Reaching 99 Years

Joseph Dupuis, 98 years old, the oldest man in Delta county, died at his home, 330 South Eighth street, Saturday morning at 7:45 o'clock, having slept peacefully away.

Mr. Dupuis had been failing for the past three days. His family noticed that he slept most of the time and was unusually quiet. He had been out for his usual walk of about ten blocks Sunday and would have walked the first of the week but for the inclement weather. Thursday he was outside but did not care to take his walk. He retired about 6 o'clock Friday evening and when his wife went to call him about 7:45, found him dead. Mrs. Dupuis had spoken to him less than an hour before and he had gone back to sleep.

Joseph Dupuis was born at St. Edwards, province of Quebec, Canada, October 14, 1828, and would have been 99 years old had he lived another month. He migrated to this country at an early age with his parents, who settled at Buck Brook, N. Y. He came to this city in 1852 and has lived here most of the time with the exception of a few months at Ford River, Masonville and Negaunee. When Mr. Dupuis came to Escanaba there were no streets, no railroads, only one general store which housed the postoffice. Merchandise and groceries were brought to this city by stage via Marquette where the goods were shipped from Cleveland and other points by boat.

Carried Mail in 1863. In 1863 and 1864 he carried mail on foot from Marquette to Ontonagon and from Marquette to Menominee, via Groon. The path on which he traveled was known as

JOSEPH DUPUIS

Delta county's oldest resident died at his home here yesterday. Had he lived another month he would have been 99 years of age.

The Snow Shoe Trail and in all his travels he never was lost or afraid in the woods. He received a salary of $50 per month for this work and his board cost him very little as the people were so glad to get their mail that they gave him his meals free of charge and served him the best they had in their homes.

He made charcoal at Negaunee before charcoal kilns were over thought of. The wood was cut and placed in huge piles which were covered with leaves and then the fire was started. Later it was smothered with sand and left for a number of hours before the charcoal was removed. Mr. Dupuis was employed as sexton at St. Joseph's church for many years and sexton at St. Anne's and St. Joseph's cemeteries for more than thirty years. He prepared graves in the old cemetery which was then located at what is now known as Hessel's addition to Stephenson and Hartnett avenues as far as Eighth avenue north and west to Twenty-second street. Many of the bodies buried there were removed to the new cemetery on Ford River road, and the plot is now built up with homes. Many residents of this city never knew that section of the city was formerly the Catholic cemetery. Mr. Dupuis had a remarkable memory. Graves were not marked with monuments and very few had small wooden crosses. When the land for the cemetery was purchased and the process of removing the bodies began, Mr. Dupuis could locate everyone who had been buried there without any difficulty. After the cemetery on Ford River road was ready, he walked to and from work and was given many lifts by passing vehicles.

He often walked from Negaunee to Cedar River to spend Sunday with his friends, a distance of 107 miles by railroad. He never called a physician, as his health was very good. He knew the various kinds of herbs and roots and made his own medicine when he needed it. He stopped smoking 59 years ago but chewed tobacco until his death. He split wood and carried it to their flat on the second floor until he was 95 years old. Mr. Dupuis was interested in all civic and political affairs and registered and voted at the last primary. When he was given a ballot he said he would like to vote just twice more, that after he became 100 years old he would not care to vote.

Mr. Dupuis was married twice. The first marriage took place at St. Mary's church, Marquette, Ill. The second marriage was solemnized at St. Joseph's church in this city by Rev. Fr. Langier, one of the first pastors of the church. Mr. Dupuis had always been a member of St. Joseph's parish, and often attended services at St. Anne's church, across the street from his home.

Mr. Dupuis is survived by his wife and the following sons and daughters: Fred Dupuis, Cleveland, Ohio; Levi Dupuis, Detroit; Francis Dupuis, Flint, Mich.; Mrs. J. W. Harder, Eau Claire, Wis.; Mrs. Peter Murray, Miss Helen Dupuis, Mrs. Ewald Beck, and a foster daughter, Mrs. E. J. Badwin, of this city. Eighteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive. The body was taken to the Alto Funeral Home and will be removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Baldwin, 339 South Eighth street, this afternoon. Funeral services will probably be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, with Rev. Fr. Bertrand Labinski as celebrant at the requiem high mass. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mother of Dr. Towey Killed When Auto Overturns in Road

Mrs. Thomas Towey, mother of Dr. J. W. Towey, superintendent of Hillcrest Sanatorium at Powers, was killed near Claremont, Minn., when the automobile in which she was riding struck loose gravel and overturned. The automobile was a part of a funeral procession. Four other persons were injured.

Mrs. Towey, her daughter, Miss Agnes Towey, Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman of Spokane and their daughter, Luverne Coleman, 13 years old, were riding in one automobile when the fatal accident occurred.

Their automobile was one of several accompanying the body of William Coleman from St. Peter to Winona, where funeral services for him were to be conducted. The Towey machine dropped behind the procession and was hurrying to overtake it when the front wheels struck loose gravel and the car overturned. Mrs. Towey was killed and the four other occupants of the car were injured.

Public Sun Baths for Scots Edinburgh, Scotland, will introduce sun baths as part of the municipal bath house at Portobello Baths. ### Weeping and Wailing and Gnashing of Teeth

From "a thing of beauty and a joy forever" to a worthless mass of bent and broken metal in less than twenty minutes, describes the average auto fire. Let a fire once start and it spreads like a piece of gossip in a village. Your weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth are of no avail. When the first faint shoot of the flame shows up, the one ray of hope across a cheerless prospect is your remembrance that you didn't neglect to buy some insurance. Cars do burn. Statistics prove it. Obviously the one safe plan is to protect yourself with insurance.

SPECTACULAR SUCCESS

is proving it "Chief of the Sixes"

In the tremendous success which Pontiac Six is enjoying... in the spectacular sales which have placed more than 350,000 Pontiacs on the road within thirty-two months of its introduction—in these impressive facts is ample reason for designating this great General Motors car "Chief of the Sixes".

Never has any new car risen so rapidly in the estimation of motor car buyers, for during the first six months of 1928, over 136,000 Pontiacs were sold—the largest volume ever achieved by any car in the first half of its third year in production!

This overwhelming public endorsement and public approval tells more of what Pontiac provides for $745 than even the most complete listing of such features as Fisher bodies, 186 cu. in. engine, the G-M-R cylinder head, cross-flow radiator, foot-controlled headlights, coincidental lock etc., etc. Come in for a ride today and learn for yourself why Pontiac Six sales continue their sensational upward sweep!

2-Door Sedan, $745; Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $745; Phaeton, $775; Cabriolet, $795; 4-Door Sedan, $825; Sport Landau Sedan, $875. Oakland All-American Six, $1045 to $1265. All prices at factory. Check Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

THRILLS AND MORE ON LAST DAY OF FAIR

Horse Races Spectacular; Crowd Sees Opening Football Game

Determined to make up for the idle time during Friday's rain, which caused a postponement of racing events on the Manistique Fair program, the entrants displayed a closely contested program of horse races, made more spectacular by a spill in the first heat of the 2:18 trot or pace, and by thrilling finishes in every heat of the three events.

In the first heat of the 2:18 second race of the afternoon, three horses were pilled up on a back curve of the track. They were Beasie Gano, owned and driven by R. Cheveriot of Negaunee, Peter Wilkes, owned and also driven by his owner, G. Frasier of Manitoaba, Canada, and Yankee Boy, owned and driven by J. Hayes, a Chicago and Northwestern railroad man of Green Bay, Wis.

In the pile-up, Hayes suffered serious injuries to his foot, the member being badly crushed but no bones were broken. He was taken to a local hospital, where it was said he will be laid up for several weeks. He was unable to finish the race, but he substituted as a driver, and his horse, Yankee Boy, after taking seventh position in the first heat, came back to take first in the second and third in the final heat.

Beasie Gano, Cheveriot's horse sustained a badly cut leg and had to be withdrawn from the race.

The Football Game The fair crowd was given an unexpected treat when, due to the delayed program, they were given an opportunity to see the opening football game of Manistique's season. The Manistique high school eleven walked off with the honors of the game, 6 to 0, after a fierce struggle.

Unable to break through the Manistique defense, the visiting team continued to lose the ball on downs and made their lone touchdown on a recovered punt. They were unable to make good on the opportunity for the added point.

This battle counts in the standings of the Little Five conference, including St. Joseph, Munising, Manistique, Baraga and Newberry high schools.

Newberry, playing their first conference game, emerged victorious over the Baraga Parochial aggregation, giving the teams in the western side of the conference.

GYPSIES LIFT $125; SHERIFF GETS IT BACK

Folks who lift other people's bank rolls have little chance to get away with it in the jurisdiction of Sheriff J. M. Hewitt.

A party of gypsies found this out Friday at the Schoolcraft county fair grounds, where they had been telling fortunes during fair week. The Romaney clan was not molested while they confined their activities to predicting other people's fortunes, but when they started to improve their own fortunes by means of other people's money the law took a hand.

Following a visit to one of the palmist's tents, Axel Soder, Indian Lake, found that he was some $125 poorer than when he went in. He got back all but some $30, but the Romaney chieftain started to vamoose, and Sheriff Hewitt was notified. He arrived in time to meet the gypsy king at the gate, just as the latter was starting for parts unknown in a big Cadillac car. The money was recovered and restored to the loser, and the entire band of "fortune" tellers was given the "go" signal by the sheriff. Under the supervision of the sheriff and chief of police tents were torn down, and the gypsies were directed to leave Schoolcraft county behind them as soon as possible. This course was adopted as the quickest means of ridding the community of undesirable and insuring the safety of the public pocketbook.

HOLD DEGREE SESSION Masons of Manistique will have their third degree work Monday evening at their hall. All are requested to be present.

Save Film Lectures. The "Urania" known throughout Germany as the home of scientific, geographical and astronomical lectures and films, may be saved. The demolition of the institution's quarters to make way for a bank building has aroused the sentiment of the many who have attended the popular-priced educational entertainment. These hope to have the "Urania" reestablished in another building. The Planetarium has superseded the astronomical activities of the "Urania," but Berlin has no other place for the showing of cultural films, and the desire is to save this feature at least.

CARRYING GUN COSTS DETROIT HUNTERS $34.70

Lester Harden, Detroit, one of a party of summer visitors, paid a fine and costs of $34.70 to Justice W. G. Stephens Friday for carrying a shotgun in an area frequented by deer and small game, without having a permit or license.

The arrest was made in Thompson township by Julius Thomson, conservation deputy. Harden pleaded guilty when arraigned, and assumed responsibility for the ownership of the gun.

Board Bill Paid; Pair Discharged

Settlement was effected without court action in the case of Bert Williams versus Albert Jordan and Elwyn Knapp, Houghton Lake boys charged with defrauding Williams out of a board bill.

Counter claims were presented by the two young men, and the principals were discharged after a compromise price was agreed upon and court charges paid.

SISTERS MEET MONDAY

A regular meeting of the Pythian Sister of Manistique will be held Monday evening, Sept. 16, at eight o'clock in the Pythian Hall. A full attendance is desired.

SIGLER STORE ROBBED; TWO COLTS MISSING

Two automatic revolvers, a Colt 32 and a 45, were taken from the show window of the Sigler hardware and sport shop at Manistique sometime between 11 and 11:30 p. m. Friday. Entrance was made by smashing the glass in the front door, a feat that was accomplished while all street lights were on, and a number of people in the Sandwich Shop next door, also in the Central Pharmacy just across the street. Several heard the crash of glass, but no one took the trouble to investigate.

The broken door was first noticed by Donnell Sigler, who came down to the store to get some stationery. Marks on the door showed that an attempt had been made to force the lock, and falling that, the glass had been crashed. Officer Mike Bond, who was making his rounds, had noticed two men in grey caps leaving the Sigler store doorway as he turned the corner at the Putnam store, but he thought nothing of the incident until notified of the robbery later. The revolvers displayed in the show windows were the only articles missed. Chief of Police John A. Peterson and other officers maintained a vigilant search until early Saturday, but found no clue.

Information Booths Close for Season

After a busy three months, tourist information bureaus at Manistique were closed for the season last week.

Frank Wharfield, who maintained an information station and refreshment stand at the river, bridge on US 2, announced Friday that he had locked up for the year, and the Chamber of Commerce building, which has been in charge of J. H. McLellan, completed the season Saturday.

Garages and filling stations throughout the city are well equipped to furnish information to travelers, and the balance of the season will be taken care of through these mediums.

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL Associated Press Financial Editor

New York, Sept. 15—(AP)—Strong support was provided in today's stock market, which faltered in impressive fashion under the leadership of the railroad shares. Week-end profit-taking sales were well absorbed and there was an absence of any concerted "bear" selling such as unsettled the amuseusement shares in yesterday's late trading. Although the observance of the Jewish religious holiday kept many traders away from the market, trading was fairly heavy for a half holiday session, the day's sales aggregating 1,829,100 shares.

Bullish enthusiasm was created by the statement of President Walter C. Teague of Standard Oil of New Jersey concerning a world curtailment of production, by the advance in copper prices to 15 cents a pound and by the prospect of easier call money rates next week. Sterling Exchange continued to hover around the point where further gold imports would be profitable, arousing hopes of additional shipments from London to New York next week.

Railroad shares, which have taken relatively little part in the advance this month, were under accumulation on the prospect of a sharp increase in freight traffic in the last quarter of the year. St. Louis Southwestern Common, which has never paid a dividend, was a strong feature, soaring 33 points to a new high record at 196, as against a low of 94 in July.

Warner Bros. issues, which broke nearly 20 points and unsettled yesterday's market, snapped back briskly when large buying orders made their appearance, the common showing a net gain of 10 points and the A stock closing 8 points higher. Fox Film and Stanley Co., of American also made good recoveries.

New high records for the year, or longer, were established by Columbia Carbon, Electric Auto Lite, Fleischman, Granby Mining, Mid-Continent Petroleum and a few others.

CHICAGO POTATOES

Chicago, Sept. 15—Potatoes, receipts 41 cars on track 111 cars, total United States shipments 73 cars; trading light, market firm on good stock; Wisconsin market Irish potatoes, 7c at 11.10, according to condition; Nebraska sacked Irish potatoes, mostly $1.40; Minnesota sacked early Ohio, 9c at $1.00.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 15—Flourish buying of September delivery of corn led to spirited rise in all grain values today. With the end of September approaching and the heavy million bushels of corn contracted for here but no adequate stocks in sight, traders who were short became anxious bidders, and forced prices up from the start. The wheat market appeared also to have been seriously overvalued, and with Liverpool quotations showing surprising strength wheat rose briskly with corn.

Closing quotations on corn were buoyant, 1/2 to 3/8 net higher, wheat 5/8 to 1/2 up, oats showing 1/2 to 3/8 advance, and provisions varying from 1/2 decline to a rise of 1/2.

Newly-arriving announcement that Canadian deliveries of wheat for a single day have broadened out to 6,100,000 bushels, which price followed the corn market upside. Best traders took sharp notice that today's receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth totaled but 1,250 cars against 1,700 cars a year ago. This circumstance was regarded as confirming existence of systematic plans to hold wheat supplies back from terminal markets. Oats and rye paralleled the action of wheat.

ABNER BANGS

Sage of Misery Bay Points Out Several Oversight of the Upper Peninsula State Fair Management.

MISERY BAY, Sept. 15 (To the Editor)—I wonder if you have ever stopped to pause in the hum-drum of your every-day existence to ponder about how lucky Delta County and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, is to have a man of my caller always on hand ready and willing to point out their mistakes.

I do not wish to be misunderstood in this matter. I am not a find-faulter. I am a constructive critic. My voice is being lifted at all times to point to bigger and better things for our beloved Hiawatha Land of Clover.

For that reasonable cause, I have decided to crave the boom in your paper of asking for sufficiently enough space to point out some things that is wrong with the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

In the first (1) place, when the state decided to have a state fair in Escanaba, I was not consulted. That was the opening mistake they made in the beginning. My advice and counsel would be worth many oodles of money to the commonwealth.

So, without getting my views on the matter, they went ahead and proceeded to get ready. If they had asked me, I would of insisted that they buy twice as much land, put up twice as many buildings, build twice as big a grandstand, and make the track a five mile track instead of a palsey 880 yards.

Think of what that would of meant! With twice as much space and facilities, they could of accommodated twice as many people. That would of doubled the gate receipts two times over, and the money derived thereby as a consequence would have been two times as much.

With the fair twice as big they would have been justified in charging more money to see it, and think of the inflated profits that would of rolled in.

It stands to reason that if a man will pay fifty cents to set in the grand stand to see a horse race a half a mile, he would pay two times fifty cents to see it race a whole mile, and ten times fifty cents to see it race ten times as far. Anybody that has even a scamping of knowledge of arithmetic can figure out that ten times fifty cents is $5, which would also increasingly raise the incoming revenue of the fair quite a little materially.

Another devious oversight they made was by not putting me in charge of the department of advertising publicity. I would not of used the newspapers at all but would of got up a word-of-mouth system that would of achieved results far in advance beyond expectations.

For instance, I would of started in Misery Bay and told Nate Heppson's wife there was going to be a state fair in Escanaba and told her to keep it secret. She would of told 100 or more people before night and admonishingly warned them not to tell a soul. They would of told 100 more each. Every one of these people would of told 100 others and the chain would of been under way. Using the well known system of arithmetic procrastination the fair would of been advertised to 1,396,575 people by oral verbirosity before the end of the first week.

I hate to say anything about the next complaint; it being a personal matter, but I feel it is a matter of deep vital concern to the public in general.

You remember, I told my myriams of readers about 1 (one) year ago that Andrew Skaggs, who he is also a member of the board of school trustees, had invented a new hair tonic that would even made the grass grow on the side of a concrete barn. Well, in order to give the stuff a thorough tryout, I got Andy to give me a bottle of it and I used it on one of the younger members of my sheep flock. The result was that the sheep produced nine crops of wool. It has kept two of my boys busy doing little else save shear that sheep all throughout most of the summer.

I know some of the people will take this assertive statement with a grain of salt, which is only natural, the same being somewhat out of usual ordinary ruts in the common channel. But I have got the sheep to prove it. And I offered to bring the sheep, and the shear that it was clipped with, and not charge the fair nothing for it except a moderate per diem per day payment plus expenses. Well, George Harvey said he did not think there would be any prizes offered for hair tonic exhibits, but if I wanted to enter the animal as a common sheep exhibit he would be glad to receive the same. Think of it! Making a sheep like that associate with common sheep! Of course I respectfully turned him down. I am going to write to Gov. Green about it when it is over.

And another thing. I wrote at least two letters to the Chamber of Commerce and the Upper Peninsula Airways, which I insisted that the new airport at Misery Bay should be dedicated at the same time the flying squadril from Selfridge Fields comes up here. We have got a airport second to none in Ford River township, or will have when we get a few more of the stumps cleared off. They told me that I would have to remove the rest of the stumps or they could not use it. Anybody knows that of a airplane is it that can not fly higher than the top of a stump?

So take it all and all, I am pretty much disappointed in the way the state fair is being run. It is very doubtfully unopositive whether I will be there.

Sincerely and Truly, Abner Bangs, cog.

PS: The school teacher that boards at my place thinks that my promients ought to entitle me to a free complimentary ticket. Of course in that case, maybe the fair would not be so bad, after all.

C. & N. W. Laying New Tracks Near Treating Plant

A total of 2540 feet of tracks is being laid in the Chicago & Northwestern railway yards here to expand the storage facilities at the treating plant. With the additional trackage, the plant will be able to handle 1,500,000 ties as compared to 1,000,000 heretofore.

The four tracks will run north and south along the north shore between the coal chute and the tie plant. Three of the tracks are already completed, and the fourth will be paid by October 1. About twenty-five men are employed in the work.

Auto Races Feature of Monday's Fair Program

STAR DRIVERS TO COMPETE

Escanabans to Have Chance to Witness First Class Event

MONDAY'S AUTO RACE PROGRAM

Qualifying trials.
Five mile race (5 starters).
Five mile race (5 starters).
10 mile race (8 fastest).
10 mile race (10 starters).

Escanaba is ready for its first automobile races which will be held Monday afternoon as the thrill program of the first day of the Escanaba state fair and Secretary-Manager Geo. E. Harvey has been fortunate enough to secure an entry list of star drivers who have come from various parts of the country for a real regular "three-A" race program, a race which bears the sanction of the contest board of the American Automobile Association.

The drivers and cars arrived in the city last night, the first driver to arrive being Burt Karant, who will pilot the famous No. 38 car, the green and red creation, a front wheel drive and Miller Special which was one of the 29 starters in the last Indianapolis race and which has a speed of 140 miles an hour.

Harvey enthusiastic Drivers and cars were assigned to hotels and garages immediately on their arrival and Sunday will find the speedsters testing out the track in preparation for the races which start at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Secretary-Manager Harvey in speaking of the races which start Monday and will also run Saturday said last night: "We have been fortunate in the caliber and class of the drivers that have entered our auto races. Being so far in the north and out of the beaten path of auto races we never dreamed that we would be able to attract such a list of star drivers as we have. We look for speed and thrills. Just for example, I had a set-to Saturday morning with Senator Howell who is the representative and a member of the A. A. A. contest board. All these rails have to come down. It is a rule of the contest board and is all right I guess because if a driver goes through the fence with the top rails up, the rails would catch his head. We compromised by agreeing that the drivers would take down the rails."

Top Cars Ready
"We do not want any unnecessary accidents at the race track for we have a splendid program arranged for Monday and Saturday, a program that gives sprint events one day and a 50-mile race on Saturday. I hope that all the speed lovers of this section of the state will be in the stands Monday afternoon for I understand we are very liable, because of the banking of our new track, to have a new state record for a mile distance and we may have to our credit several records."

The complete program for Monday, listed above, shows that 10 cars and drivers are to participate and there will be five cars on in two different events, eight in another race and 10 in the final event of the day. This should give plenty of action.

ROCK GRIDDERS BEAT SECONDS

Marquette Reserves Unable to Check Running Attack of Villagers

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 15 (Special)—Rock gridders won their second start of the season, defeating the Marquette reserve squad, 19 to 0, in the preliminary to the Marquette-Soo game here this afternoon.

It was the open field running of Larson, who scored touchdowns with runs of forty and sixty yards, and the line plunging of Fosterling that spelled defeat for the "B" squad.

Rock scored in both the first and second periods on Larsons sensational runs, Babeau adding a point after the first score. The final score came in the final period, Fosterling carrying it over on a series of line plunges.

Rock lost the services of Sayen, for several weeks when he was removed from play suffering from a minor fracture.

The work of Lautner, right tackle, featured the play of the reserves.

RAILS TO PLAY LLOYDS TODAY

Murray Boyle to Hold Down Second Base for Locals

Two evenly matched teams will meet on the Chicago and North Western baseball lot, North Fourteenth street, this afternoon in a contest which is expected to attract a large number of fans. The Chicago and North Western nine, still stinging from a defeat handed them by the Lloyds a few weeks ago, will clash with their conquerors from Menominee, bent on securing vengeance.

To lose a ball game after battling on even terms for ten innings is like turpentine in an open wound for the Railroaders, and they are not going to let a eleventh inning blowup rob them of a victory again. The Lloyds beat the Rails by a 6 to 3 score in a thrilling over-time contest.

Murray Boyle, who is one of the leading figures in upper peninsula baseball, will be seen in the Railroaders' uniform this afternoon, playing second base. William Puckelwartz, coach of the Escanaba high school and former University of Michigan baseball and football star, will again carry around the outer garden. Puckelwartz' fielding has been one of the bright spots of the recent contests.

Van Effen, who has been pitching good ball all season, will start on the slab, while Hughie Brotherton and Chamberlin will be available for relief work. Moreau will again be seen behind the bat. Lester Brotherton of Sullivan will play at first, Destlets will be the shortstop and L. Rangette will be on third. Schram, Olson and Puckelwartz will play in the outfield.

The Lloyds will have their usual lineup.

Officials—Referee, Heart of Marquette; Umpire, Hedgecock of Marquette; Head linesman, Cook of Marquette; Timer, Smoker of Marquette.

CARDS GAIN ON GIANTS; WIN 2

Phillies Lose Double Header to St. Louis Nationals

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The pace-setting Cardinals galped half a game on the runner-up Giants by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader against the Phillies here today by scores of 3 to 2 and 8 to 6. Both games were won by late rallies, the second on a drive for five runs in the eighth.

A tiny flash of the drama of 1926 was added to the second clash when Grover Cleveland Alexander entered the box to defend a two-run lead the Cardinals stopped in their big rally, old Alex stopped the Phillies, and brought the game safely home.

The Giants won their single game against Brooklyn today, but the Cardinals advanced into a lead of one and one-half games by taking their two contests here.

GIANTS 5; ROBINS 4

New York, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Although the Giants pulled a hard-fought game from the very shadows of defeat here today in their farewell engagement against Brooklyn this season, the Cardinals stretched their lead half a notch to one and one-half games by the simple process of winning two, while the New Yorkers were taking only one. The Clan McGraw rode into a 4 to 4 tie with two out in the ninth, and finally earned the decision in the thirteenth.

White Sox Down Boston, 4 to 3

Chicago, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The hitting of Art Shires, one of Manager Lena Blackburne's newest rookies, and poor Boston fielding gave the White Sox a 4 to 3 win over the Red Sox in the opener of their series today.

Shires slammed out two singles and a double, drove in one run and scored the other three himself.

Bobby Jones Defeats Tom Perkins, 10 Up and 9 to Go for Title

BY ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) Brae Burn Country Club, Newton, Mass., Sept. 15.—(AP)—The rather stoutish but exceedingly business-like young man who dominates American link stroke up and down the hills of Brae Burn today, wielding a minkie that dealt death and destruction to the hopes of British golf in general and the ambitions of Thomas Phillip-Perkins in particular.

While a pop-eyed gallery of some 6,000 spectators scrambled to watch him in astonishment, Bobby Jones crushed the champion of Great Britain, 10 up and 9 to play, in the most one-sided match for the amateur championship of the United States in thirty-three years.

The great Georgian, reaching a higher pinnacle of achievement than ever before in his amazing career, thus completed his ruthless march to a fourth national amateur title in five years and his eighth triumph in six years in either an American or British national tournament.

Has Great Record

His fourth, and by long odds most decisive amateur victory equals the record of Jerome D. Travers, only other man to win the American crown four times. Bobby's achievement is even better, however, for he has been a finalist five straight times while Travers spread his triumphs over a seven year period.

In these last five championships, Jones has won 23 out of 20 matches, losing only to George Von Elm in the 1926 finals in compiling the greatest record any American amateur has ever known. If there has ever been a colossus of golf it is this chunky, fair-haired son of the south who annihilates old man par and his opponents with complete impartiality.

Perkins, the first Briton to reach the American finals since Harold Hilton was victorious in 1917, was no match for Jones today. The promise of a keen fight, indicated by the brilliant manner the youthful Englishman had known his way to the finals, was quickly dissipated. Whether it was because he could not forget the 13 and 12 thrashing he absorbed two weeks ago at the hands of Jones or whether the tension of the title match was too much for him, the invader's game went almost completely to pieces.

Had Decisive Scores

Perkins won only two holes, the first and seventeenth. His approximate medal score, at best, was 17 strokes over par for the 27 holes while Jones was exactly even with standard figures.

Jones has won all four of his championships by devastating margins but never as decisively as this time. He beat George Von Elm for his first title, 9 and 8, in 1924. In 1925 he beat his fellow townsman, Watts Gunn, and in 1927 conquered Chick Evans, both by margins of 8 and 7.

Washington Batters Get 19 Hits Off Two Pitchers

Detroit, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The Washington Senators pummeled Whitehill and Holloway for 19 hits, totalling 28 bases today, and won the first game of the series, 12 to 2. Braxton was touched for 10 safeties, but after the first inning was strong with men on the bases. Cronin led the Senator onslaught with four hits in five times at bat, while Goose Goslin, American league batting leader, improved his degree with a double and a triple in five trip trips.

TRAP SHOOTING RANGE PLANNED

C. & N. W. Employees Organize Gun Club; 50 Members

Preliminary work has been started on the range for the Chicago and North Western Trap Shooting Club, which will be located along the north shore near the Reiss Coal Company's docks.

When completed, the spot will be one of the most ideal ranges in the middle west, according to the plans. A clamshell digger will be used in excavating the site for the trapshooting and leveling off the ground. The work is expected to be completed within a week or two.

The Chicago and North Western Trap Shooting Club is composed of about fifty members, who are employees on the peninsula division. H. O. Brotherton, for many years an enthusiastic devotee of the shotgun shooting, is chairman of the organization. Mr. Brotherton captured first place in the trapshooting event held during the field meet held by the railway company at Chicago in August.

Most of the members of the club are excellent marksmen, and indications are that this feature of the railway company's athletic program will attract considerable interest. Some shooting will be done this fall, and by next spring the activities of the club are expected to be well under way. It is planned to hold meets next year in which trapshooters from all parts of the railway system will participate.

The trap, clay birds and other required paraphernalia already have been secured by the club.

Braves and Cubs Split Double Bill

Boston, Sept. 15.—(AP)—After dropping four straight doubleheaders to the Giants, the Braves had a short taste of victory today by defeating Chicago, 5 to 2, in the first game of another double bill, only to drop the second contest, 6 to 1.

The Braves used six pitchers in the second game in a futile attempt to stem the tide after Brandt had been knocked out of the box with none out in the first inning. Spectacular fielding by English and McGuire of the Cubs were features of both games.

"Alvin E. Loucks, properly rated among the best coaches of the Northwest, has lined up a team of ex-high school stars for his Duluth junior college football eleven this coming fall, which should place that school firmly on the college gridiron map. Loucks is a former University of Michigan tackle and guard, who came here four years ago to coach the Morgan Park high school team, where he made a most enviable record. Confidence in Williams' flying ability was expressed by his wife, Mrs. Carrie T. Williams of Richmond Hill, N. Y., who was here with her husband.

The plane remained tonight in a hangar at the Scarborough airport near Portland. It will be flown here and refueled before the actual takeoff.

To Use Flagmen at New Crossing During the Fair

The Chicago & Northwestern railway will place a 24-hour flagman service at the Twenty-third street crossing on new highway US 2-41 as a protection to motorists and other traffic enroute to and from the U. P. State Fair this week.

The flagmen will be kept in service until the automatic "wig-wag" signal devices are installed at the crossing, which is located near the Birds Eye Veneer company's plant. Application has been made by the railroad to the public utilities commission for permission to install the bell-light type of signal at the crossing, and as soon as the permit is received the installation will be made.
