FOREST FIRES RAGE

District one Hundred Miles Square, Flame Swept Causing Enormous Loss to Property.

MANY LIVES THREATENED

Hundreds of Refugees Flee Before woe of Advancing Flames, Railroads Strain Efforts to Give Relief and Believed That Greater Portion of Residents in Burned District Saved, Families of Several Homesteaders are Missing and Searchers are at Work.

One of the most destructive forest fires in the history of the upper peninsula swept nearly 100 square miles of territory yesterday afternoon and last night and is still raging in some districts today.

It is definitely known that three children were burned to death at Quinnesec and the families of many homesteaders throughout the burned section are missing and it is feared that they have been lost.

Driven by a heavy gale it is claimed that in some districts the flames advanced at the rate of 20 miles an hour and making the escape of homesteaders living in small clearings in the center of forests practically impossible.

It is definitely known that the following villages were either completely destroyed or sustained heavy fire losses: Quinnesec, Spring Valley, Saunders, Niagara, Wis., Talbot, Mich., Antoine, Cornell, Salva, Mich., Northland, Woodlawn and many other small settlements.

The fire raged in five counties of the peninsula including Menominee, Dickinson, Marquette, Alger and Delta. Relief trains sent out from Escanaba and points not threatened by the fire carried out several loads of people who were cared for last night and are being returned to the scenes of their homes today wherever such action is possible.

The companies sustaining the heaviest losses in this district are the I. Stephenson company of Wells, Escanaba, Woodens Ware company, Pittsburg & Lake Superior Iron company, Kellogg Switchboard & Supply company, Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad, Chicago & North-Western railroad and many mill owners throughout the district.

The officials of not any of the companies could give an estimate of their losses sustained up to this morning owing to the fact that communication with their camps and stations has been cut off and it will be several days before the full loss is known.

The heaviest loss sustained at any one point was at Quinnesec where the entire village with the exception of one building was destroyed. The fire was started at that point at 5:30 o'clock and despite the resistance of the residents with the assistance of fire fighters from Iron Mountain and other surrounding points spread rapidly.

In one instance a mother attempted to save a few personal effects and in carrying them to the street left her three small children in the home. When she returned a few moments later the entire building was in flames and the children were burned to death. Refugees brought into the city by the relief trains describe their experiences in escaping from their flames as terrible. In some instances crowds of people were taken from the stations when the flames had completely surrounded them and when the relief trains would themselves be set on fire by the flames raging on either side of the track.

Homesteaders who had fled before the advancing flames were found at all points along the right of way and were picked up and carried to places of safety. Searching parties have been organized and will travel through the burned district as soon as possible, in an effort to learn the fate of many missing homesteaders and their families. Following are the losses at each point in detail as far as could be learned with a badly crippled telephone and telegraph service up to late this afternoon: Quinnesec completely destroyed with exception of one house. Saunders, sawmill, boarding house and four dwellings destroyed. Fire raging when communication was cut off. Antoine saw mill, boarding house and several dwellings burned. Progress of fire stopped by excellent work of employees of North-Western road. Talbot station, saw mill and few houses burned. Progress of fire stopped by railroad employes.

Spring Valley, surrounded by fire with 300 men fighting its advance when last word received from that point.

Cornell, sawmill of John W. Coburn burned together with several houses. Store and other buildings saved.

Woodlawn station and boarding house burned. Log loader with 20 cars of logs also burned.

Salva, operator's station burned. Northland, two houses reported burned.

Foster City houses reported burned. Niagara, Wis., 50 houses reported burned.

From points above Northland no communication could be opened up to a late hour this afternoon.

It is known that the entire district along the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior road from Channing to Salva, a distance of 60 miles was swept by the flames and until men who have been sent to the different points, which cannot now be reached by telephone and telegraph, are heard from, the loss will not be known.

The loss of the I. Stephenson company will be confined principally to cut logs which were piled along the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior road both on the main line and on the Northland branch.

The loss sustained by the Pittsburg & Lake Superior Iron company, the Escanaba Woodens Ware company, and the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply company is also confined to the wiping out of camps and the destruction of great quantities of both cut and standing timber.

Small forest fires which have been burning for the last week at different points throughout the district were fanned into dangerous propositions early yesterday afternoon when seemingly within a single hour the different small fires had joined together to form a veritable inferno.

Homesteaders in isolated districts fled from their homes carrying only a few personal effects to the railroad lines where they believed that they would be carried to places of safety.

The officials of the Escanaba & Lake Superior road and of the North-Western road were notified of the conflagration that was sweeping many districts along their lines. All freight traffic was suspended and the full strength of the companies was directed in carrying the residents of threatened villages to places of safety and in fighting the advance of the flames.

In some instances entire villages were surrounded by flames which threatened to bring death to the small body of excited men and women who were gathered there waiting for relief to be sent to them.

The messages received from the excited operators at those points added to the confusion of the employees at the central offices where all efforts were being strained, with the aid of a badly crippled telephone and telegraph service, to send relief trains to the threatened stations.

On the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad, one train was engaged throughout the afternoon in carrying the refugees from one threatened station to another as the fire advanced.

Other trains which could not be communicated with were left to run as free lances in carrying out the relief work over an unsafe track where in many places it was necessary to install new rails before the train could pass.

The fire sweeping across the right of way had warped the rails badly at many points and a construction crew was carried on each train to repair the track wherever such conditions were found.

On the Northland branch of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad engine No. 4 used in switching logging cars, turned completely over on striking a warped rail and that the fireman and engineer were not instantly killed is considered remarkable.

Both the engineer, who was William Foster of Escanaba and R. A. Gaylor of Kates were scalded by escaping steam but it was not thought today that the condition of either of the injured men would become serious.

Several cars loaded with logs at different points along the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior were burned but the exact loss of rolling stock by that company will not be known until communication is opened with points above Northland and on the Northland branch.

It is definitely known that the I. Stephenson company's camp No. 1 on the Northland branch, was completely wiped out.

Employees of that camp together with a number of horses were driven through the woods for a distance of six miles before the advancing flames to the Princeton mine where they were given shelter. A telephone message announcing the safety of that crew was received at the office of the company yesterday afternoon and relieved much anxiety that had been felt.

The fate of other camps through the burned district is yet unknown. Several jobbers operating for the I. Stephenson company lost their entire camp equipment and escaped only with their horses and their small crews of men.

For the last two years the country about Woodlawn, Cornell, Kates, Northland and in fact at all points along the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad has received many new settlers. From reports received today it is believed that practically all homesteaders throughout that district have lost their homes and all improvements on their clearings which represent their entire savings since settling in this district. Much suffering will be caused by the fire among the homesteaders until new homes are erected and many are completely without funds to undertake that work.

The damage along the different lines of the North Western road through the burned district while great was not as serious as was first reported last night.

Many stations were damaged by the fire but in several instances large forces of men by working heroically for many hours succeeded in saving portions of the villages.

According to the report brought into the city last night by a North-Western engineer the fire swept the entire district from Sande to Goose Lake and when the North-Western train passed through that district the flames at times kept pace with the train which was running at the rate of 35 miles an hour.

Owing to the fact that but few stations are located in that district the loss will not be heavy but many homesteaders who have settled there lost their homes and all of their belongings and were carried out to places of safety on trains sent out by the North-Western road.

On the Felch branch of the North-Western road the loss to the company was light but the loss sustained by settlers will be heavy.

Most pitiable are the stories that are being told today by the train crews who aided in the rescue work along the Felch branch, of the homeless settlers who were found fleeing wildly to the tracks to escape a terrible death which was steadily advancing with the flames that followed them.

One mother with 14 children who had become separated from her husband was found on that line, nearly crazed with excitement and grief. The head of the family had been engaged in the woods when the flames approached and it is supposed was cut off by the fire and prevented from returning to aid in the rescue of his family. The mother with her army of small children one but a babe and another who had just learned to walk, remained at the home awaiting the return of her husband until the flames had reached nearly to the house and then carrying two of the children and with the others following started for the track. With the mother and all of the children weeping hysterically the fatherless family was found by a train crew and were taken to the nearest point of safety where they were cared for last night.

At another point was found a settler with his wife and 12 children. The mother and father each carried two children while the remaining members of the family carried a few personal effects. One of the little girls carried a small kitten, which was evidently represented her entire possession and as the great clouds of smoke swept over the family, grouped at the side of the track as the relief train approached the efforts of the child to subdue the fears of her pet cat as it attempted to escape, attracted the attention of many people. Throughout the trip to the nearest station the child clung to the kitten and when last seen was marching proudly with the members of her family, with the cat scratching wildly and evidently not impressed with the idea that its life had been saved by its little mistress.

One bridge on the Felch branch was saved by fire fighters after it had been attacked by the flames and the regular train schedule on that portion of the company's line was not affected today. A complete inspection of the Whitefish and Beaver branches of the North-Western system had not been completed up to late this afternoon.

W. D. Cantillon, assistant general manager of the North-Western road, was notified last night of danger to the company's property in this district and arrived in Escanaba this morning accompanied by Asst. Div. Supt. C. E. Andrews he left the city early this morning to inspect both the Beaver and Whitefish branches.

Late this afternoon word was received that the officials had been able to proceed on the Beaver branch as far as Barron's landing where the inspection train was stopped by a stretch of badly warped rails and which masked the path of the flames as they swept through that district. The officials then proceeded to the Whitefish branch, where it was expected that great damage would be found, but no word had been received from the members of the party after entering that branch, at the general offices of the company.

Late this afternoon communication with points on the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior road as far north as Northland had been opened and completed details of the loss at the different points between Wells and Northland was obtained.

No word has yet been received however from points north of Northland or from the camps on the Northland branch. The losses at the different stations between Wells and Northland it was learned this afternoon was practically as was reported early this morning. At all of the stations buildings were burned and the homes of settlers throughout the district were completely wiped out.

At Cornell it was learned late this afternoon that in addition to the store building the home of John W. Colburn and Nicholas May, both of whom are well known in Escanaba, were saved together with a few other buildings.

How many of the camps of the I. Stephenson company have been wiped out had not been learned up to late this afternoon and definite information cannot be received until messengers who have been dispatched there by the company have returned.

It is known however that that entire district was swept by the flames and it is not believed that any of the company's camps in that district will be found standing.

It is definitely known that camp No. 1 on the Northland branch as completely wiped out and as several other large camps were located in the same district it is not believed that they could escape.

Many woodsmen in the camps located at different points in the burned district are missing and owing to the excitement that prevailed it is feared that many fled into the woods and becoming confined were surrounded by the flames and were burned to death.

SAVED BODY OF DEAD BABE

Father Carried Casket Containing Body of Child to Railroad Track and Escapes Flames.

One of the most pathetic incidents connected with the burning of many homes in the district north of Wells by a great forest fire, which swept that district yesterday, is that which is being told today of the family of Joseph Zepila—a homesteader, who lived near Woodlawn.

Charles, the three weeks old son of Mr. Zepila died on Thursday night after a short illness and the body of the babe lay in the home prepared for burial yesterday when the wall of flame was seen approaching the homestead.

Neighbors were fleeing to places of safety but for a time the father and mother with their remaining child, remained at the side of the dead babe.

When it was seen that their home was doomed, the father taking the casket in his arms and followed by the mother and their remaining child made his way to the railroad tracks where the family was picked up by a relief train.

The body of the babe was brought to the city late last night and today was interred at St. Joseph's cemetery after a short funeral service.

Yesterday Mr. Zepila was one of the most prosperous farmers living in the vicinity of Woodlawn and today he is homeless and penniless.

The loss of their child was a great blow to the parents and to have that loss followed by the wiping out of their home has made it seem that a course of ill luck is following the family.

Much sympathy for the family was expressed today and it is probable that a relief fund will be raised for their benefit.

WOODMEN PARTY WAS SUCCESS

The Party Given by the Woodmen of this City was Attended by a Crowd of Dancers.

One of the most successful as well as one of the prettiest dancing parties held this season was that given by the members of Escanaba lodge of Woodmen at the Elks' hall last night.

The hall was crowded with dancers and the color scheme artistically arranged by the lodge to set forth the name of the order was lightened by the bright gowns of the women. The deep green of the pine tree branches, the white stumps, logs and hewn timbers were so arranged that a very pretty effect was given.

The music was unusually pleasant as was shown by the frequent encores, that were called for.

THREE DEATHS IN FEW MONTHS

Miss Sarah Lynaugh is Third Member of Family to Pass Away in Four Months.

After but a short illness Miss Sarah Lynaugh, who had many friends in Escanaba, died yesterday at Gould City where she had lived for several years.

The body was brought to Escanaba, accompanied by the members of her family, last night and funeral services were held at 8 o'clock this afternoon at St. Joseph's church. The Rev. Father Eusebius conducted the service. Interment was at St. Joseph's cemetery.

With the death of Miss Lynaugh at Gould City yesterday morning three deaths have occurred in that family within the last four months.

 Official in Charge

The declaration made by John F. Bible, Democrat candidate for lieutenant governor two years ago, at the Muskegon Democrat banquet last week that "we have in our party in Michigan men who put on the garments of the saint and like the Pharisees of old boast of their superior wisdom and virtues," will not be questioned or denied. As a matter of fact, Democrat boasts of superior virtue and alleged saintliness formed almost the entire burden of their last state campaign in Michigan. John Bible's charge or confession, as he may please, was not needed as a matter of information to Michigan voters, but it will serve a useful purpose for future reference.

The desire of the candidates for state offices, from governor to the last candidate on the ticket, to avoid complication through the coming state campaign with individual ambitions in the direction of United States senator, seems to meet the approval of most Republicans in all sections of the state.

It is to the interest of every candidate for office in all the counties of the state that friction and conflict shall be avoided in the state and district conventions as far as possible. Present conditions are such as to assure a Republican victory fully as sweeping as that of two years ago, and present conditions can be and should be retained.

The suggestion made at a recent Democrat semi-official gathering that a declaration for one-cent railroad passenger rates should be included in the next Democrat state platform, vividly illustrates the cheap demagoguery of which some of the leaders of that organization are willing to descend. It would seem that a declaration favoring immediate confiscation of all railroad property and imprisonment of railroad employes and managers would better meet the purpose in view and would be just as sensible and effective as Democrat campaign material.

BIRDS BURROW IN THE SNOW

Burying themselves in the snow, the willow grouse and other Swedish fowl imported by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., avoided the severe storms of the winter. Under the covering of white into which they would burrow like moles, they would sleep until the storm had subsided. Then they would come out in quest of food.

A. O. Jopling who has charge of the game preserve, which is on Grand Island, says that all the birds wintered well. The gamekeeper on Grand Island are obliged to maintain incessant warfare against hawks, owls, foxes, fasnars and other creatures destructive to bird life.

Oscar Bowman, Lebanon, Ky. writes: "I have used Foley's Kidney Cure and take great pleasure in stating it cured me permanently of kidney disease, which certainly would have cost me my life."

CATTLE HAVE TUBERCULOSIS

Kenosha, Wis., May 18.—Special.—State Veterinarian E. D. Roberts of Madison came to Kenosha this morning to take charge of the cattle on the farm of former Congressman Isaac Stephenson of Marinette, in the town of Somers. Notice for the appointment of appraisers to determine the value of the cattle to be taken by the state was filed in the justice court here today and the state official and his assistants began the work of testing the cattle this afternoon.

It is claimed that seventy-five head of the cattle are affected with tuberculosis and Mr. Stephenson has notified the state official that he will demand the slaughter of every animal affected. The herd is considered the most valuable herd of milk cows in the United States. The Marinette man has spent thousands of dollars in bringing the herd to this rare form and his loss as a result of the slaughter of the animals will be a tremendous one. The cattle have already been tested by the managers of the farm and there is no doubt but that many will be killed. The cattle have been valued at $200 a head, but they must be turned into the state at $35 or less.

SHOW AUTOS ARE SAFE

Statistics Compiled at Chicago Demonstrate That Comparatively few Accidents Caused by Cars.

The persistent belief still held by some people in Escanaba that automobiles are dangerous contrivances and always liable to cause accidents on the slightest provocation will receive rather a staggering blow when they come to peruse and digest some of the following extracts regarding accidents and resulting deaths taken from the coroner's report in the city of Chicago. The coroner's report for 1905 showed the following statistics for the city of Chicago:

There were more than ninety suicides for every death caused by an automobile.

More than seventy deaths were caused by railroad accidents for every death caused by an automobile.

There were forty-four people killed from falls for every person killed by an automobile.

There were thirty-three burned or scalded to death for every one killed by an automobile.

There were more people kicked to death by horses than were killed by automobiles.

There were more people accidentally choked to death than were killed by automobiles.

There were twelve people killed by wagons to every one killed by an automobile.

On December 31, 1905, there were about 4,100 surface street cars in service in the city of Chicago; at the same time there were about thirty-six hundred automobiles owned and operated in the city of Chicago.

During the year the coroner took charge of 1000 cases of deaths of which only five were caused by being struck by automobiles.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Disease. Profit by Escanaba People's Experiences.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are common early symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time, but return with greater intensity if there are symptoms of dropsy—puffy swellings below the eyes, bloating of limbs or ankles, or any other part of the body, don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up the treatment until the kidneys are well, when your old-time health and vigor will return. Cures in Escanaba prove the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

William Anderson, painter, of 1222 1/2 Ave., Escanaba, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a bad case of kidney complaint and backache from which I had suffered for a long time. I thought it was the turpentine and lead used in painting that affected me. The terrible pains through my back often extended up to my shoulders. I had dull headaches, my eyes pained and watered and my limbs became swollen. I consulted a physician and used medicines but could not get much relief. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking three boxes the swelling left my limbs, I have none of the pains in my back, headaches do not bother me and my eyes do not pain and water, and I am still in the painting business. It was my kidneys that were sick and Doan's Kidney Pills produced the whole results I have mentioned. I am very glad to recommend them to others."

MANY CHANGES IN FOOTBALL
 American Intercollegiate Committee Strikes out Many Objectionable Features.

The American intercollegiate football rules committee has finally adopted playing rules for 1906 which will tend to make the game more open, eliminating in a large measure unnecessary roughness and brutality. Walter Camp and William T. Reid, well known football experts, will arrange the new code which will be presented at a meeting of the committee on April 14. The committee will then make such alterations as it deems necessary.

The distance to be gained in three downs has been doubled. Ten yards will now be required instead of five. Six men only are to be on the line of scrimmage. These changes will make the game less a rough and tumble affair as more open work will have to be indulged in to make the required distance. Forward passes are to be allowed and whenever a forward pass crosses the line it shall count as a touch back.

Reforms in methods of tackling, holding and interference have been provided, and penalties for fouls have been severely stiffened. All this will tend to discourage brutality. Among important new provisions are the following:

Disqualification—Striking with fist or elbows, kneeling, kicking, striking the runner carrying the ball in the face with the heel of the hand on defense, meeting with the knee, striking with locked hands by men in breaking through and roughing the fullback after he has kicked the ball shall be punishable by disqualification of the guilty player for the rest of the game and the offending team shall lose half the distance to its own goal line. Upon being disqualified a second time in a season, a player will be declared ineligible to play football for one year from the date of the second offense; also that this same penalty shall apply to deliberate injury of the opponent, not including the offenses specified or included in the next succeeding section.

Unsportsmanlike conduct: To include the use of abusive or insulting language to opponents. Penalty, suspension for the remainder of the game.

No more than six men shall be on the line of scrimmage on defense, the balance to be clearly behind the feet of all the linemen and inside the men on the ends of the line. There shall be no tackling below the knees except by men on the line of scrimmage, on the defense, and of these, the two men on the ends of the line of scrimmage cannot tackle below the knees. The penalty for tackling below the knees is the loss of five yards.

Harding in the open field is prohibited. Such harding to consist of jumping over an opponent who is still on his feet. Harding through the line is prohibited. The penalty is a loss of fifteen yards. The penalty for coaching from the side lines is a loss of 15 yards.

WILL BE ENFORCED
 Ordinance Relative to Constructing Buildings Within Fire Limits Must be Observed.

Chief of Police Peter Beitzer prevented a property owner from constructing a wooden building on upper Ludington street within the fire limits yesterday. The ordinance relative to constructing fireproof buildings in the fire limits is very strict and it is to be rigidly enforced. Property owners should see that they are within the ordinance in order to ensure themselves against loss.

The fire limits are as follows: Commencing at a point in the center of the alley between Ludington street and Wells avenue on the west line of Smith Court; thence west on a line in the center of said alley to a line in the center of Maple street, thence north on a line in the center of said Maple street to the center of Ludington avenue; thence west to a line parallel with the center of Stephenson avenue; thence north on a line in the center of said Stephenson avenue to a line parallel with the center of the alley between Ludington avenue and Thomas street; thence east on a line in the center of said alley to Tilden avenue; thence due east across block three (3) of the original plat of said city, to a point in Little Bay de Noc directly north to the place of beginning; thence south from said last named point to the place of beginning.

It shall be unlawful from and after taking effect of this ordinance, for any corporation, firm or person whomsoever, to erect or place any building or part of any building within said limits, except as hereinafter provided, unless the same be constructed in conformity with the following provisions: The outside and party walls of all buildings hereafter to be erected within said limits shall be of brick, stone or other fire proof material. The roofs of all such buildings shall be composed of metal, slate, gravel, or other fire proof material. The gutters of all such buildings shall be made of metal. The cornice shall be of metal, brick or stone and securely fastened. All division walls shall be of stone or brick and shall at least extend one foot above the sheeting of the roof and in no case shall the sheeting of the roof extend across any division walls or end walls, and all openings in division walls and rear walls shall be protected by iron doors.

BIG AUDIENCE AT THEATER
 Amateurs Drew Large Crowd to Manager Salinsky's Amusement Place.

A good audience last night witnessed the regular weekly amateur performance at Ben's theatre when one of the best programs ever arranged by Manager Salinsky was given.

The judges, William Brown, Patrick Maguire and Zepher Beauchamp awarded the prizes as follows:

Pearl DuCan violinist first, Freddy O'Donnell dancing and monologue, second, and Mabel Kessler, singing, third, Richard Perow, Jr., the amateur hand-cuff king who does an act which is equal to some and superior to many acts of the kind done by professionals and Judson Courtney who was excellent in a buck and wing dancing act both merited recognition by the judges, but the sympathies of these gentlemen were evidently with the younger contestants and awarded the prizes accordingly.

The regular specialties were all given and well received. Miss Palm was in good voice and sang her numbers with the usual degree of excellence.

Next week's attractions which have been booked for this popular place of amusement will include some of the best features in vaudeville and will consist of Coleman & Mexis, promised as the greatest riffs experts ever seen in this city. The Simons children, in up to date songs, dances and melodies. Dolly Legray, contralto, in ballads and sentimental songs, and Ida Lacroix in illustrated song "Jennie Lee." The moving pictures beginning tonight promise to be the best ever shown at this theater, and will include "Raffles the Crackman" in 18 splendid scenes. "Playing Truant" and others of equal merit.

NOTES FROM LABOR WORLD

Never before in the history of the Northwest has there been such a shortage of labor as exists at present, and this condition is true in spite of the fact that wages now offered are at a record breaking figure.

The secret organization of a street railway employes' union in Baltimore, with a membership of 700, has been announced.

Railway trackmen to the number of 400,000 on every railroad line in the United States, have begun a campaign for better wages.

The International Typographical Union announces that it has obtained the eight-hour day in 45 cities.

A woman's federation of labor has been organized in Grand Rapids, Mich., composed of factory girls, shop girls and domestics.

The rate of increase in the number of women wage earners between 1890 and 1900 was much greater than the increase in the female population.

The Actors' National Protective Union will meet in annual convention in New York city during the coming week.

The Iron Molders' Union of North America gained 4,614 members last year.

The United Mine Workers of Illinois have voted $5,000 to aid in the defense of the officers of the Western Federation of Miners, about to be placed on trial for the assassination of Governor Stearns of Idaho.

The Cigarmakers' International Union has under consideration a plan to lend the surplus funds of the organization to members on easy terms for the purpose of building homes or starting in business.

The coppersmiths have joined the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' National Alliance.

Arrangements are being made by the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor to mail literature explaining trade-unionism to the farmers of that state.

During the past winter members of the Trades Council of Cleveland have been delivering lectures in the evening in the public schools.

JOHN F. DUNCAN PASSED AWAY

John F. Duncan formerly in partnership with John A. Stromberg in conducting the Cash Mercantile store in this city died in Minneapolis yesterday morning. He was a member of the Sandy Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America and is well known in this city.

His many friends were greatly shocked by the news of his death which reached here yesterday afternoon.

Word has not reached here yet as to time or place of interment.

OLD BIG MINE TO BE OPERATED
 The Champion will be Reopened by United States Steel Corporation.

It is the expectation now that operations will be resumed at the Champion mine, western Marquette range, about July 1. The property has been idle for upward of two years, or before its purchase by the United States Steel corporation, at which time there were nearly 300,000 tons of ore in stock at the mine. The Champion is one of the biggest and best mines on the range, and it is one of the deepest in the Lake Superior region as well. It produces a fine ore, Bessemer in grade, both the specular and magnetic varieties, but an ore that is hard and requires crushing.

There has been a great overhauling of the old machinery plant, and this work continues. For more than a year a force of twenty-five or thirty machinists has been employed steadily in this connection. Every important piece of machinery has either been overhauled or replaced.

Systematic exploratory operations are to be undertaken in the Swanzy district, south of Negaunee, by the Steel corporation, lands owned in fee by the North Western railroad, and located next to the Princeton mine property of the Cleveland-Cliffs company being first to receive attention. The Swanzy field has been receiving considerable attention during the last few years, principally by the Cleveland Cliffs company, but the amount of ore found has not been as large as has been currently reported. It has been found a possible extension of the ore measure that the Cleveland Cliffs people have been directing much attention. The company's Austin mine has shown up a nice body of hematite that will yield a fair tonnage for several years, but the property does not yet give evidence of being a big mine.

WILL PLAY AT IRON MOUNTAIN
 Baseball Game Scheduled with Iron Mountain will be Played There.

The Escanaba base ball team will play the game scheduled with Iron Mountain at Iron Mountain instead of at Escanaba as was announced Thursday. The fans of that city are growing very enthusiastic over the game and they fully expect to win the game.

The Escanaba players are also confident that they can defeat the Iron Mountain team.

The team will leave tomorrow morning.

Although complete arrangements for the game had not been made by the fans of this city this afternoon it is probable that the line-up of the Escanaba team on Sunday afternoon will be as follows: Klinger catcher, Nolden pitcher, McDonald pitcher, M. Walsh first base, Paul Joerges second base, Clarence Lehr third base, Lentz short stop, Walsh left field, J. Flash center field and Sullivan right field.

A beautiful bound volume, fully illustrated, telling the story of the great San Francisco disaster will be sold to Mirror readers for one dollar. Regular price $1.10. Telephone order.

NEW GARAGE IS OPENED
 Escanaba Cycle Works now has Three Establishments in Escanaba.

With the rapid increase in the number of automobile owners in Escanaba, within the last few months a new and paying industry has been opened in repairing and repairing the machines.

A new garage has been opened by the Escanaba Cycle Works at 603 Ludington street and L. K. Edwards who has had considerable experience in automobile repairing will have charge of that branch of the company's business.

With the opening of the garage at the Escanaba Cycle Works now has three complete establishments in Escanaba and the new venture is assured of success as the demand for expert automobile repair men in Escanaba has been greater, up to this time, than the supply.

RABBITS STOP PASSENGER TRAIN

That a passenger train on the North-Western road was forced to come to a standstill in coming into Escanaba by a great drove of rabbits which had been driven to the right of way by the forest fires that were raging on both sides of the track is the claim made by the train crew.

It is claimed by the crew of the train that rabbits filled the right of way for a distance of several rods and it was feared by the engineer to run the locomotive into the drove of moving animals without lessening the speed. The conductors of the train reported to Supt. W. B. Lindsey that four car loads of rabbits were bunched on the track at that place.

OLD RESIDENT PASSED AWAY

She was especially well known in Escanaba among the French residents of the city.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock on Monday morning at Schaffer.

TROUBLE FOR A PRINCE.

Russian Husband of Grant's Granddaughter Faces Revolt of Peasants on His Estate.

New York.—Much interest has been excited in this country in the uprising which is reported to have taken place among the peasants on the estate belonging to Princess Cantacuzene, mother of Prince Cantacuzene, because of the latter's marriage to Miss Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brig. Gen. Fred D. Grant, U. S. A., and granddaughter of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. It is said that the peasants have refused to plow the land and have driven away the employees of the estate.

These extensive land properties are at Poltava and are said to be held by the Dowager Princess Cantacuzene, and will be inherited at her death by Prince Michel Cantacuzene, her son, whose marriage to Miss Grant was such a great social event at Newport, R. I., several years ago.

The prince and princess, upon their return to the famous estate in Russia after the wedding, were welcomed by the peasants in the quaint custom of offering bread and salt as presents. Arches were erected and decked with sheaves of wheat and poppies, in honor of the homecoming of the prince and his American bride, and the prince was carried on the shoulders of the peasantry to the castle, flaming torches lighting the way.

The Cantacuzenes contemplated visiting the United States, but the present troubles will probably interfere with their plans. They are now living, it is said, in Paris or some of the European cities.

CONTINUES SUFFRAGE WORK

Miss Mary Anthony Upon Whom Has Fallen the Mantle of Her Sister, Susan B. Anthony.

Portland, Ore.—Miss Mary B. Anthony, sister of the late Susan B. Anthony, has begun in this state active work in the campaign for the enfranchisement of women, an issue which is now before the people and which issues the voters of the state will decide at the polls next June. A year ago Miss Susan B. Anthony began the fight here and on her deathbed she designated her sister Mary as the one who should continue the work she was forced to lay down.

fragists, is 78 years old, but she enters upon her new mission with hope and courageous purpose. In speaking of her work Miss Anthony says:

"I am beginning this work at a late day in life, but it seemed to have been the unanimous desire of the women that I take up the reins of leadership. I am going to put my very best efforts into it, but I do not believe that I ever can do the good that my dear sister did.

"You know I used to be a school-ma'am. I was principal of the Rochester high school. Just before leaving home the girls in the school gave me a purse of $50. I am going to use every cent of it in the campaign in Oregon. "Mayor Moore of Portland has declared himself in favor of woman suffrage, and they are going to take a referendum on it. I am going to stay in Oregon until June 5, when the campaign will come to a close, and if earnest effort and hard work will win we will."

Juggling With Dynamite. Is no more dangerous than to neglect kidney disorders. Foley's Kidney Cure corrects irregularities and has cured many severe cases after other treatment has failed. It builds up the worn out tissues and restores health and vigor. "I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years," writes A. H. Davis of Mt. Sterling Iowa, "but two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure." Ellsworth's Drug Store.
