START RELIEF WORK IN OTHER CITIES

Iron Mountain and Marquette Raising Funds to aid Homeless Settlers in Burned District. Movement Should be Taken up in Escanaba. City Recently Responded Liberally to aid Frisco Sufferers and Call for aid now Comes From Point Close to City.

Despite the fact that it is believed that all homeless homesteaders in the district north of Escanaba who were left dependent by the forest fires which swept that district on Friday, can be cared for without outside aid, reports coming this morning from Iron Mountain and points in Marquette county show that great suffering among homeless people is threatened.

At Quinnesec the need for assistance is said to be imperative.

Both clothing and provisions are needed at that place while at points in Marquette county the need is equally as great.

At both Marquette and Iron Mountain relief funds have been started and the people of these places are responding liberally.

The people of Escanaba should assist in this movement.

Those who have not visited the fire swept region can have no adequate idea of the destruction that was worked.

While the homesteaders and settlers living along the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior, in the territory contiguous to Escanaba who lost their homes is comparatively few, it must be remembered that the destruction of the home of those few meant to them the loss of their entire possessions and considerable privation for them cannot be prevented.

It must be remembered that the forest fires swept not only a district about the city of Escanaba but covering spots in a district comprising, it has been estimated 400 square miles. The homeless settlers close to Escanaba are not the only ones who are in want and need assistance. In the devastated district wherever the fire touched some loss was recorded.

The village of Quinnesec was practically wiped from existence.

A large number of people need assistance there.

People in other small villages touched by the fire also need aid.

Escanaba recently gave liberally with the remaining cities of the country to aid the stricken people of San Francisco and other Pacific coast points. The call for aid this time comes from a point close at home and while the catastrophe which makes help at this time imperative is not as great as the call of a few weeks ago, it is necessary that it should be given heed.

Mayor Parrou, who took an active interest in raising a fund for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers should investigate personally, conditions that exist in the burned district and following the lead that has already been taken in other peninsula cities start the movement to raise a relief fund for the fire sufferers.

Reports of new losses from the fire in different parts of Delta county continue to come in.

It was learned today that John Barron of Maple Ridge township was one of the heavy losers because of the fire. Cedar poles and ties belonging to Mr. Barron valued at $5,000 were burned in addition to a barn, blacksmith shop and all buildings at his farm were destroyed with the exception of his home.

Live stock at the farm was also burned to death.

Mr. Barron fought the flames unassisted for several hours but was able only to save his house. His face and hands were badly blistered by the heat from the flames.

According to a communication received by the Mirror this morning from Calvin Howard clerk of Escanaba township, standing timber in portions of that township was damaged to the amount of several thousand dollars and quantities of logs at several points taken out by independent jobbers were destroyed.

The loss sustained by Mr. Barron was the heaviest in that district however as the buildings destroyed in addition to logs, poles and ties, were of a permanent character and had but recently been constructed.

LOCAL BANK IS HONORED

State Savings Bank is Named by Treasurer as Depository for Public Funds of State.

By action that has been taken by State Treasurer Frank P. Glazier the State Savings Bank of Escanaba has been designated as a depository for the safe keeping of public funds.

Announcement of the action of the state treasurer was made at Lansing on Saturday and will be received with much satisfaction by friends of the local banking institution as the honor in being named as the depository for public funds is a considerable one.

Certain banks in different parts of the state are named by the treasurer at which state funds shall be deposited and the competition for the honor of receiving official notice from the state officers is in some cities keen.

JURY RETURNED QUEER VERDICT

During an early period in southern Indiana a man was found dead one cold morning with his skull broken, lying in the woods. The body was frozen. An inquest was held before noon of the same day. The coroner's name was John Clifford. The jury formed a hollow on the square about the body. Coroner Clifford, addressing the jurors, said: "Gentlemen of the inquest, there are three things to be considered when a man commits suicide by killing his neighbor: 1. Did he come to his death by accident? 2. Did he come to his death by accident? 3. Did he come to his death by the hands of the incendiary? Look at the body, gentlemen, and return your verdict." The jury looked at the body, counseled about five minutes and rendered the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that the deceased came to his death by accident, having put too much water in his whiskey causing him to freeze last night." The inquest was returned the coffin was made, the body carried to the grave and funeral services were performed before dark.

IS SENTENCED TO FERRIS INSTITUTE

John Bullman of Big Rapids, aged 24, convicted of forgery in having raised a grain check giving credit for three bushels to 48 bushels, was sentenced Monday by Judge Palmer of that city.

"I'm of the opinion that if you are given an opportunity you may yet make a useful citizen," said the judge to the young man. "I therefore sentence you to an indeterminate term at the Ferris institute, whereby you will receive a business training, in the hope that it will enable you to earn an honest living."

STRONG OATH IS REQUIRED

The judicial oath in the Isle of Man is not so quaint as to deserve printing. It runs thus: "By this book and the holy contents thereof, and by the wonderful works that God hath miraculously wrought in heaven above and the earth beneath in six days and seven nights, I do swear that I will without respect of favor or friendship, love or gain, consanguinity or affinity, envy or malice, execute the laws of this isle justly between our sovereign lord and king and his subjects within this isle, betwixt party and party, as indifferently as the herring's backbone doth lie in the midst of the fish.

YOUNG COUPLE ARE MARRIED

Miss Charlotte Kemp and Frank Nugent Took vows Before Rev. H. A. Whitlock Last Night.

Completely surprising many of their friends Miss Charlotte Kemp and Frank Nugent were married at 8 o'clock last night by the Rev. H. A. Whitlock at the First Presbyterian church at the parsonage of that church.

The wedding was a quiet affair and but two witnesses were present at the ceremony.

Miss Mable Boudreau accompanied the bride and John Koefer acted as groomsmen.

The marriage license, which it is said was issued late in last week, was suppressed at the office of the county clerk and all arrangements had been made to keep the marriage a secret until such time as the young couple decided to make the announcement.

Rumors were circulated this morning that the ceremony had already been performed and on investigation they were confirmed.

It is probable that the young couple will make their home in Escanaba.

YOUNG WOMAN BADLY BURNED

Miss Laura Alrey Near Death as Result of Having Clothing set on Fire by Sparks From Burning Forests.

According to letters that have been received in Escanaba the forest fires of last week seriously threatened the village of Hermansville and burned the homes of many settlers near that point.

According to one letter that has been received in the city Miss Laura Alrey, who lives with her parents two miles from Hermansville, was severely burned and now lies in a precarious condition at the home.

Sparks carried from a forest fire burning a short distance from the home caught in the clothing worn by Miss Alrey and in a few minutes her body was enveloped in flames.

Her cries attracted the attention of her mother who after considerable effort succeeded in extinguishing the fire after all of the clothing had been burned from the young woman's body.

The hands and face of the mother were badly burned in saving the life of her daughter.

BOILER EXPLODES 600 ARE BURIED

Plant of New York Glucose Company Wrecked by Terrible Explosion This Morning. Bodies of 35 Employes are Recovered and Total Number of Dead may Exceed 100. Bursting of Water Mains Makes Fire Department Powerless to Fight Flames now Consuming the Ruins.

New York, N. Y. May 22.—Special.

—Twenty boilers exploded in rapid succession at the works of the New York Glucose company, this morning. The plant is located at Shady-side, N. J. opposite One hundredth street.

Six hundred people who were at work in the next building were buried. Within half an hour 35 dead bodies were taken out of the adjoining buildings in addition to many mangled and crushed forms, several of whom died before the hospital was reached.

Three of the buildings took fire. Several people who were working outside of the building were killed by the first explosion. A feed pipe burst first and then the boilers went in rapid succession.

The fire engines were unable to do much towards fighting the fire on account of a break in the water main that was caused by the explosion. The fire tugs and boats that were in the harbor are fighting the flames.

MUST SPRINKLE PAVED STREETS

Street Department Should Take Action at Once to Provide for Comfort of People Living Along Paved Streets.

The city of Escanaba needs more street sprinklers and greater activity for those that are now being operated.

Every pavement of the city constructed of asphalt, crushed stone and gravel should be sprinkled each day during the dry season and unless the street department shows a greater activity in providing for the comfort of people living along the paved streets a great bowl of disapproval will go up.

With the coming of the slightest gale of wind the dust gathered on the asphalt pavement of Ludington street, and the powdered limestone of many other streets is caught up and sent in rolling clouds into business places and residences.

Last year it was announced that arrangements would be made early this spring to sprinkle regularly every paved street of the city.

The time to bring about such action arrived early in the spring and up to this time but a half hearted attempt has been made to sprinkle any of the streets of the city.

ARONSON HAD A CLOSE CALL

Undersheriff had Thrilling Experience in Woods Near Cornell on Friday.

One of the many thrilling tales being told by people who were in the woods north of Escanaba on Friday afternoon when forest fires swept that district is that related by Under Sheriff F. W. Aronson who was caught in the woods west of Cornell and forced to remain in a swamp for the greater portion of that night.

Mr. Aronson went to Cornell on Friday morning to serve legal papers on a settler west of that village.

On the trip into the settlers' home Mr. Aronson saw much fire but paid little attention to it although at several points he was forced to take long circuits to escape from being caught in its path.

He started to return to Cornell early in the afternoon and after proceeding but a short distance found that the wind was increasing in velocity and was driving the fire before it.

He ran for some time through the woods in an attempt to reach Cornell ahead of the flames but as the fire was gradually gaining on him he sought refuge in a large swamp. Owing to the abundance of vegetation in the swamp the fire was unable to enter but the smoke settled over the lowlands and threatened to suffocate him.

Lying on the ground and with his face buried in the soft earth he was able to breathe freely and he remained in that position for several hours until the fires had subsided.

Mr. Aronson says that during the time that he was in the swamp he saw many deer, bear and hundreds of rabbits all in a wild state of confusion but mingling freely together as the common danger to all had brought them on a friendly footing.

Mr. Aronson remained in the swamp until late at night when he made his way back to the home of a settler which had escaped destruction, and on Saturday morning traveled over the burned district to Cornell.

The May number of the Journal of Political Economy contains an article upon Municipal Ownership in Great Britain which students of municipal problems will do well to read. It is full of information and draws attention to some phases of the municipal ownership question which often are lost sight of. The author is Everett W. Burdett, of the Boston bar, who, assisted by a statistician, devoted much time last year to a careful investigation of municipal conditions in Great Britain. His conclusions are worth noting.

As is well known, the municipal ownership idea is carried to great lengths in Great Britain. It is not confined to street railways, water works, gas and electric light plants. Many other enterprises are undertaken by the municipalities. Mr. Burdett finds that although the extent of the practice is wide there is no unanimity of public sentiment as to the results. There is a growing public conviction that municipal trading, as it is called in Great Britain, is not successful. In some cases the cost of the service is a little less than that furnished by private companies, but this advantage is offset by the fact that the service is supplied to a comparatively few persons. The consumers are few and they reap an advantage at the expense of the many, the taxpaying non-consumers.

Mr. Burdett pays particular attention to the municipal supply of electricity for light, traction and telephone service. He finds that there are other results which offset the advantage of the smaller costs of service. One of the most serious of these results has been the check upon the development of the electrical industry in Great Britain, which is far behind the United States in this respect. Much of this has been due to legislation, which has been antagonistic to private concerns. At least, it has been always in favor of the municipal industries and has frequently been brought about by the all-powerful Municipal Corporations association.

The consequence of the movement and attendant legislation has been the "abnormal enlargement of the functions of local government." This in turn has discouraged private enterprise and created a large and increasing body of officeholders. It has also resulted in a very marked and rapid increase in municipal indebtedness. And it has created a class of voters "who can be relied upon to support extravagant expenditures." The reason is that these expenditures mean profit of themselves.

It is not possible to give an adequate review of Mr. Burdett's interesting article nor to state all of his conclusions. The article itself should be read. It is a real contribution to the literature on municipal ownership.

BIG MERGER IS PLANNED

New Corporation will Control Four Prominent Copper Properties.

It is proposed to organize a new corporation under the laws of Minnesota capitalized for $20,000,000 with the same management as present companies, to absorb the Calumet and Pittsburg, Lake Superior and Pittsburg, Pittsburg and Duluth and the Junction Mining companies.

Official announcement of the terms of the merger were made at Calumet yesterday and notices were sent to all stockholders. All four mines are located near Bisbee, Ariz., adjoining the Calumet and Arizona and Copper Queen properties the Calumet and Arizona being under the same management. Owing to the four mines being so located as to be interdependent, shafts of each being situated so as to be necessary to economical development of its neighbors, and one of each property being desirable to complement one of the others to make the most satisfactory smelting mixture or economical operation, it was decided to broach the plan for a consolidation to stockholders.

"The stock of the present companies will be exchanged for stock of the new corporation in the following proportions: One share of Calumet and Pittsburg for 135.00 shares of new stock, one of Lake Superior and Pittsburg for 135.00, one of Junction for 125.00 and one of Pittsburg and Duluth for 135.00. Upon a deposit of 50 per cent of the outstanding stock in each of present companies the new company will be organized and temporary receipts issued.

It is proposed to sell 100,000 shares at a par of $10 each to stockholders to provide $1,000,000 working capital. Five hundred thousand shares of the new company will remain in the treasury. Each stockholder of the new corporation will have privilege of taking one share of new stock at par for every fourteen shares he secures by exchanging his old stock. Responsible parties have agreed to buy at par without commission all of the 100,000 shares not so taken by the stockholders of the new corporation. Application will be made to list the stock of the new company on the Boston stock exchange as soon after the organization as arrangements can be perfected.

TO HOLD A MASS MEETING

A call for a mass meeting of all of the members of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Escanaba and all friends of that congregation has been issued by the Rev. Frederick Spence, pastor of that church.

It is announced that a matter of great importance, involving the future activity of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Escanaba, will be proposed and discussed at that time.

What important question will be submitted to the congregation and its friends tomorrow night would not be disclosed by the Rev. Spence today but the full plan will be announced when the meeting is opened.

It is said that the Rev. Spence has been working on the plan which he will propose for several weeks and is prepared to furnish full details.

It is urged by the Rev. Spence that all members of the congregation and friends of the church shall attend the meeting unless the action is taken at once the opportunity that is now presented will be lost.

GAME LAWS ARE ENFORCED

Warden Chapman says more Respect is Shown for Department Than Ever Before in History.

"The state game warden's department is in better favor today than at any time since I have been in office," said Chas. H. Chapman of Sault Ste. Marie, state game and fish warden, at Marquette. "The commercial fishermen, a few years ago our worst enemies, are now among the most earnest supporters the department has."

They realize that the protection of fish means stability and perpetuity of their business, and we received the greatest aid from the very men who strenuously opposed state surveillance of the waters of the state when the department was created. The fisheries of Michigan represent an investment of several millions of dollars, and at least 7000 men are employed in the industry so its importance is unquestioned.

"Since April 1, the department has had more complaints for alleged violations of the fish laws than at any time since I entered the office. Most of the complaints are for netting and speering in the inland lakes and rivers of the lower peninsula, and our force of deputies is now at work on these cases. One of the greatest drawbacks to the department's efficiency is the employment of incompetent deputies. This is not a criticism of the deputies now employed by the state for I believe we have the best officers we ever had. It is, however, difficult to employ men who are competent to enforce the law, and at the same time diplomatic enough to leave no "sore spots" in the community where the cases are prosecuted. The department is in better favor in this respect than it ever was, and the rational enforcement of the law is sought and commended by the people of the state who believe that game and fish protection is right."

"We have had some trouble with game law violations in the western part of the upper peninsula during the past year, but the recent arrests there is having the effect of stopping offenders from carrying on illicit traffic in deer skins, and our work is generally endorsed by the county officers and lawabiding citizens in that region. All this talk about the impotency of the fish and game laws is not based on the facts. I believe the department is stronger than it ever was, and its usefulness is felt more and more every year."

Mr. Chapman is on a tour of inspection of the several counties of the upper peninsula, his purpose being to meet and consult with the county wardens relative to matters connected with the administration of affairs of the office.

The Richest Man in the World.

The richest man in the world can not have his kidneys replaced nor live without them, so it is important not to neglect these organs. If Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at the first sign of danger, the symptoms will disappear and your health will be restored, as it strengthens and builds up these organs as nothing else will. Oscar Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: "I have used Foley's Kidney Cure and take great pleasure in stating it cured me permanently of kidney disease, which certainly would have cost me my life."

OPPOSITION IS NOT PROBABLE

The Hon. H. Olin Young of Ish. will Probably Again be Unanimous Choice for Congressman From This District.

Despite the agitation of disappointed politicians in certain portions of this congressional district it is not likely that card ladies will be named to oppose the Hon. H. O. Young in the campaign.

From all of the present indications Mr. Young will again be the unanimous choice of the Republicans of this district as their representative in the lower house at Washington.

It is certain that the Republicans of Delta county will present a united front for Mr. Young.

J. W. Wells of Menominee is the only candidate to be mentioned as a possible opponent to Mr. Young and Mr. Wells has announced that he has not been seriously troubled by the buzzing of the political bee and will not be in the race.

The Mining Journal has the following concerning the situation in this congressional district:

John W. Wells having pleaded not guilty to a congressional race, the district is temporarily without candidates to succeed H. O. Young of Ishpeming. Nor, indeed, is it at all likely that any candidate will appear, though hasty friends from time to time may try to push possible aspirants into the field. Mr. Young's services have been of a high order of ability, and at home his treatment of his constituents has been fair and honorable. He has his enemies, no doubt, but they are not numerous, and for the most part their enmity can be ascribed to disappointed ambitions—ambitions which centered in their own welfare. Such enemies are not very dangerous. The mass of voters, men who want nothing for themselves, feel that Mr. Young has made a creditable congressman, that he is heard respectfully, that his colleagues value his opinions and counsel, that he works honestly and tirelessly and that he is exceedingly loyal to the interests of his district. Individual may differ from him in opinion as to the wisdom of his stand on some questions, but they can be of only one opinion in regard to his devotion to duty and the real ability that he has brought to his congressional work. In the light of these facts, The Mining

HIGH OFFICIALS AT LOS ANGELES

Lake Charles, La., May 22. Special.—Public officials, members of congress and other representatives of the states of Texas and Louisiana were present in force today at the opening of the intercoastal canal convention. The gathering is in the interest of the movement to procure the construction of an inland canal for light-draft boats from the Mississippi river at Bayou Lafourche and Bayou Plaquemine to the Rio Grande river. It is argued in favor of the project that the proposed waterway would not only result in much expansion of commerce along the coast, but would prove invaluable in connection with the defense of the west Gulf coast should that become necessary. Expert engineers have pronounced the plan entirely feasible and it is hoped to induce the government to take the matter up and make the necessary appropriations.

It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. Ellsworth's Drug Store.

VETERANS WILL ATTEND SERVICE

Annual Memorial Service will be held at First Baptist Church on Sunday Morning.

Following the annual custom members of the C. F. Smith post G. A. R., the Women's Relief Corps and Spanish American war veterans, will attend memorial services at the First Baptist church on Sunday morning. Each year memorial services are held at some church of the city on the Sunday preceding Memorial day and this year the First Baptist church was selected as the place for holding the annual services.

All of the old soldiers and sailors of the city, together with the members of the Relief corps and the Spanish American war veterans will meet at the office of Judge Emil Glaser at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning and will march in a body to the Baptist church where the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. J. C. Rooney.

Because of the fact that a band can not be provided for the formal observance of Memorial day an elaborate program will not be planned.

The regular ritual of the G. A. R. will be carried out, the graves of veterans will be decorated and a salute will be fired over the graves of the dead soldiers but there will be no martial music to quicken the heart beats of the veterans in carrying out their regular program.

BODY STILL

UNCLAIMED

Despite the determined effort that has been made by the authorities to locate relatives of Peter Lafond who was suffocated in a toothhouse at the I. Stephenson company's camp No. 1 during the forest fire of last Friday, the body still lies at the undertaking rooms of D. A. Oliver, unclaimed.

Telegrams have been sent to several addresses in Canada where relatives of the dead man were supposed to reside but up to this time no answers have been received to the inquiries.

ILLINOIS HAS HEAVY QUAKE

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Special.—An earthquake shock in southern Illinois early Monday afternoon caused general alarm at Louisville, Ill. The shock was preceded by a low rumble. People in Louisville, Flora and Clay City ran out of their homes for safety. No damage was done.

GOOD BILL IS OFFERED

The new bill of specialties presented by Mr. Salinsky at Ben's theatre for this week is one of the best lists of specialties that he has provided for some time. The Semons opened in an up to date act composed of songs, dances and medleys, which took the house by storm and their popularity throughout the week is assured. Little Miss Semon is a charming little actress and both she and the older Semon have excellent voices which blend well. The advance press notices of Coleman and Mexis have not in the least exaggerated the excellence of the clever work done by these experts in shooting with rifles and revolvers. Some of their work was attended at times with so much risk to the non shooter as to cause a creepy feeling and many in the audience gave a sigh of relief when the acts were over.

Dolly LeGray was given an ovation. She has a rich contralto voice and her songs were rendered in such a manner as to make her hearers loath to let her go.

The illustrated song and moving pictures are among the best ever shown at that theatre.

LONG ILLNESS PROVED FATAL

After an illness of several months following a severe stroke of paralysis which she sustained early in this year Mrs. Leocadie Chabotte, wife of Adolphus Chabotte, died yesterday at the Delta county hospital. Mrs. Chabotte had been a patient at the hospital for several months and her death was not unexpected.

She was well known especially among the French residents of Escanaba and it is expected that the funeral services, which will be held over the body at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at St. Anne's church, will be largely attended.

The Rev. Father Menard will conduct the service. Interment will be at St. Anne's cemetery.

MUCH INTEREST IN HEARING

Several Witnesses are Summoned for Preliminary Hearing of Ex. Aid. Edward Smith.

Much interest is centered in the preliminary hearing of Ex. Aid. Edward Smith who was arrested one week ago charged with malfeasance in office on a warrant sworn out by Ald. John J. Tolson, which will be held before Judge O. V. Linden at 9 o'clock tomorrow.

Several witnesses have been summoned and it is expected that much interesting testimony will be introduced.

If Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at the first sign of danger, the symptoms will disappear and your health will be restored, as it strengthens and builds up these organs as nothing else will. Oscar Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: "I have used Foley's Kidney Cure and take great pleasure in stating it cured me permanently of kidney disease, which certainly would have cost me my life."

OPPOSITION IS NOT PROBABLE

The Hon. H. Olin Young of Ish. will Probably Again be Unanimous Choice for Congressman From This District.

Despite the agitation of disappointed politicians in certain portions of this congressional district it is not likely that candidates will be named to oppose the Hon. H. Olin Young in the campaign.

From all of the present indications Mr. Young will again be the unanimous choice of the Republicans of this district as their representative in the lower house of Washington.

It is certain that the Hon. Olin Young will present a united front for Mr. Young.

A. W. Wells of Muskegon is the only candidate to be mentioned as a possible opponent of Mr. Young and Mr. White in this district and he has no chance of being elected by the backing of the political boss and will not be in the race.

The Mining Journal has the following to say about the situation in this congressional district:

John W. Wells having pleaded not guilty to a charge of libel, the district is temporarily without candidates to succeed H. Olin Young of Ishpeming. Now, however, it is all likely that any candidate will appear, though heavy friends from time to time may try to push possible aspirants into the field. Mr. Young's services have been of a high order of ability, and at home his treatment of his constituents has been fair and honorable. He has his enemies, no doubt, but they are not numerous, and for the most part their enmity can be ascribed to disappointed ambitions—ambitions which centered in their own welfare. Such enemies are not very dangerous. The mass of voters, men who want nothing for themselves, feel that Mr. Young has made a creditable congressman, that he is heard respectfully, that his colleagues value his opinions and counsel, that he works honestly and tirelessly and that he is exceedingly loyal to the interests of his district. Individuals may differ from him in opinion as to the wisdom of his stand on some questions, but they can be of only one opinion in regard to his devotion to duty and the real ability that he has brought to his congressional work. In the light of these facts, The Mining

PLANS ARE NOT YET PREPARED

New Expected That Architect J. D. Chubb Will Submit Finished Plans for High School This Week.

Complete plans for the new high school building, the construction of which it was expected would be begun early in this summer have not yet been prepared by Architect J. D. Chubb of Chicago. Mr. Chubb was in Escanaba on Saturday and brought with him preliminary drawings but the completed plans were not prepared to be submitted to the members of the board of education as had been expected. It was announced by Mr. Chubb however that he expected to complete all work on the drawings some time this week and expects to return to Escanaba late in the week when a special meeting of the board will be held to pass upon his work.

The members of the board are anxious that the plans for the building shall be completed at once and will exert every effort to allow the beginning of actual construction work as soon as possible.

HIGH OFFICIALS AT LOS ANGELES

Also Charles, Ia., May 22.—Special.—Public officials, members of congress and other representatives of the states of Texas and Louisiana were present in force today at the opening of the international canal convention. The gathering is in the interest of the movement to procure the construction of an inland canal for light-draft boats from the Mississippi river at Bayou Lafourche and Bayou Plaquemine to the Rio Grande river. It is argued in favor of the project that the proposed waterway would not only result in much expansion of commerce along the coast, but would prove invaluable in connection with the defense of the west Gulf coast should that become necessary. Expert engineers have pronounced the plan entirely feasible and it is hoped to induce the government to take the matter up and make the necessary appropriations.
