In order that people of Escanaba who wish to contribute either money, clothing or provisions to the families in the district about Escanaba, made destitute by the forest fires which raged last week, the Mirror has today opened a relief fund for that purpose. The Mirror will work in conjunction with the Ladies Aid society of the Union Congregational church of Wells who began the relief movement in this district and who have obtained information as to the need in different quarters of the burned district. Contributions of money for the fund will be received either at the office of the Mirror or by the Ladies Aid society of the Wells church and of which Mrs. W. E. Wells is one of the members. The aid society of the Wells church will receive contributions of clothing, provisions and furniture at the church tomorrow morning and arrangements for receiving donations of articles after that time will be made as soon as some central point of collection can be found. Herman Salinsky of the Fair Savings Bank Department store announced this morning that he will head the Mirror's relief fund with a donation of merchandise to the value of $50. The publishers of the Mirror will donate $10 to the fund.

PHYSICIANS HAVE CLUB

Doctors of Escanaba Form Organization for Mutual Benefit and Protection.

The Physicians' club of Escanaba is the name that has been given to an organization formed by all of the physicians of the city for the mutual benefit of the members of the profession.

A schedule of minimum fees, to be charged by the physicians of the city has been adopted and a penalty agreed upon to be inflicted upon the physician found guilty of making charges for services below the schedule.

The organization includes the 13 physicians of the city and the initial meeting, which was held on Tuesday evening was attended by all of the members of the profession of the city.

Dr. A. F. Snyder has been elected as president of the organization, and other officers chosen are: Dr. H. B. Reynolds vice president, Dr. H. W. Long secretary and Dr. John Groos treasurer.

The Physicians' Club of Escanaba has no connection with the Delta County Medical society but is organized expressly for the benefit and protection of the physicians of Escanaba alone.

The schedule of fees announced by the officers of the club today is that agreed upon by the members at the first meeting as the minimum charges that can be made by any physician of Escanaba. The schedule does not include the maximum charges that may be made, as conditions will be allowed to control the fixing of that charge.

Following is the schedule of minimum fees agreed upon:
Office consultation $1.
Visits in city from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. $1.
Visits in city from 6 p. m. to 8 a. m. $1.
Country visits $1 for each mile.

Visits at Wells $3.
Visits at North Escanaba $4.
Visits at Ford River, $2.
Vaccination $1.
Consultation $5.
Anesthetics for dental work and all other purposes $5.
Anti-toxin injection $1.
Small pox and diphtheria visits $2.
Life insurance examination $1.
Obstetrics $10.
Examination of heart and lungs $2.
A complete "dead beat" list has been compiled from the books of the various physicians and any whose names are entered on that list will be refused the services of any physician of the city until a satisfactory settlement has been made with the physicians, that the dead beat listed patient already owes.

It is claimed that there are several professional "dead beats" in Escanaba who have formed a practice of retaining the services of one physician until a considerable bill has been accumulated and then calling in another physician and refusing to pay the bill of either. It is against this class of

YOUNG PEOPLE GAVE SURPRISE

A large party of young people surprised Miss Grace Buchanan at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alex Buchanan, at 1704 Wells avenue last night the event being arranged in celebration of Miss Buchanan's seventeenth birthday anniversary.

A musical program was given and which with games made the evening an enjoyable one. Late in the evening refreshments were served.

Miss Buchanan received a gold chain necklace from the members of the party after a long surprise.

YOUNG HUSBAND HELD FOR TRIAL

New York, N. Y., May 24.—Special.—Edith Bugbee who eloped to Pittsburgh with Lloyd Rogers an electrician has become tried of him and says she was fooled by him and would now like to send him to prison. She testified in the children's court that he gave her a wedding ring and said that the ring was all that was necessary in the way of a marriage ceremony. Edith is only 14 years old. Rogers has been arrested for abduction.

GET MONEY FROM PARIS

New York, N. Y., May 24.—Special.—It is reported that several insurance companies have negotiated a loan in Paris for $15,000,000 to provide for the fire losses that they sustained in the San Francisco fire. The loan is said to be for one year at four per cent interest.

GIRLS CLAIM WERE KIDNAPPED

Chicago, Ill., May 24.—Special.—John Edwards, janitor of the Windemer annex was locked up at the Hyde Park station this morning, charged with kidnapping Kitty Nolan, aged 13 and Margaret Graves, aged 14, and locking them up in a basement room in the building. The young girls said that last Sunday a strange girl about 15 years old enticed them to the basement where they were held captive until today in spite of their cries and appeals to be allowed to go to their homes. Other little girls say that they were brought to the basement by the same girl, but were not made prisoners.

The Ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps will serve supper in their hall on north Charlotte St. on Decoration Day at 5 p. m. promptly, to the Old Soldiers and Spanish War Veterans to whom a cordial invitation is extended.

DOFF HATS BUT FAIL TO ACT

Certain Upper Peninsula Editors Allow Enthusiasm for Peninsula to Injure Cause They Would Advocate.

While the newspapers of certain upper peninsula cities are doffing their hats and proudly proclaiming that the upper peninsula can care for its dependent fire sufferers without lower peninsula aid, some of those same editors could work greater good for the district by advocating a local movement to care for the homeless people.

The devotion of much space to a declaration that the upper peninsula is fully able to cope with the situation without attempting to bring relief to those who have suffered is an injustice to the district.

The upper peninsula is a new country and its resources are great. The settlers that the district boasts must be held or the progress that has been recorded within the last few years will be lost.

It sounds well for an editor living 50 miles from the scene of the trouble to announce calmly and without show of emotion that "not twenty settlers in the entire district have lost their homes."

Those who have been over but a small portion of the burned district know that such a statement is as absurd as were some of the exaggerated statements made by certain city papers as to the loss that was caused by the fires in the district.

To belittle the conditions that exist to the outside world will not help the cause of the peninsula.

We have settlers who have lost their all and unless they are aided and given funds to reestablish themselves in their little clearings they will scatter to other communities and the magnificent freeheartedness of the people who might have aided them, will not be caused to remain here, will not be one of the stories that they will tell.

The upper peninsula is not a barren, bleached waste as some city papers have described the scene and the soil of the upper peninsula retains the same productive qualities with which the Almighty endowed it, but there are homeless people to be found in the spots that were burned over however; and those who are interested in the advancement of this district can best serve the interests of the territory by taking action which will keep these homeless people here by giving them funds with which to begin anew.

MOB MURDERED INNOCENT MEN

Grand Jury at Springfield Finds That Negroes Hanged for Alleged Murder Were not Guilty.

Springfield, Mo., May 24.—Special.—The grand jury has been investigating the mob which hanged and burned three negroes on April 14.

It has been found that there was no assault committed on Mrs. Mina Edwards, as was alleged, and that it was impossible for the negroes that were burned to have been on the spot where the crime was said to have been committed.

The jury also found that the sheriff and police department were negligent.

The story told by the woman was doubted at the time, but the mob was so inflamed by the story that they attacked the jail with the intention of lynching all the negro prisoners confined there.

The Ladies of the W. C. T. U. will celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of their reorganization at the home of Mrs. McCourt next Monday afternoon May 28. There will be a program and refreshments will be served, all friends of temperance are invited.

RELIEF MOVEMENT HAS BEEN STARTED

Ladies Aid Society of Union Congregational Church of Wells issues Appeal for Clothing, Furniture and Provisions for Destitute Families Living near Cornell and Woodlawn. Fair Savings Bank Store Arranges Special Prices for Fire Sufferers.

A movement to aid the settlers who lost their homes by forest fires in the district north of Escanaba has at last been started but it is not an Escanaba organization which has undertaken the work.

The Ladies Aid society of the Union Congregational church of Wells is the organization which will give aid to needy families who were left homeless by fires which swept clean, spots throughout the district.

According to the announcement that was issued by Mrs. W. E. Wells, of Wells, this morning it has been learned definitely that there are ten destitute families in the vicinity of Woodlawn and Cornell.

In the ten destitute families there is a total of 40 small children.

The Ladies Aid society of the Wells church this morning issued an appeal to the people of Escanaba for cast off clothing, furniture of all kinds and provisions.

Clothing for children is greatly needed, as is furniture.

Some of the destitute families lost their kitchen ranges with the rest of their house furnishings and gifts of cooking stoves of any kind will be appreciated.

The church at Wells will be opened on Friday morning when all supplies for the destitute people will be received by the members of the aid society.

On Friday all of the supplies collected will be sent to Cornell and Woodlawn accompanied by some man who will attend to the distribution.

All goods sent to Cornell will be distributed among the needy families by Nicholas May of that village.

Announcement was made by the management of the Fair Savings Bank Department store today that a discount of ten per cent will be given on all purchases made at that store by the fire sufferers.

Other firms of the city will probably follow in arranging special prices for the families who lost all or any portion of their property by the forest fires.

The people of Escanaba should respond to the appeal that was issued by the Ladies Aid society of the Wells church, as the cause is a most worthy one and one which should have before been taken up by some organization of Escanaba.

QUEER METHODS ARE DIVULGED

Preliminary Hearing of Ex. Aid. Smith had Results Which Were not Expected.

One of the results of the preliminary hearing of Ex. Aid. Edward Smith, charged with malfeasance in office, which was held before Judge O. V. Linden yesterday was to show to the people of Escanaba, the methods that have been employed by the Escanaba Journal to obtain political patronage.

The probable cause for the sudden shifting of the Escanaba Journal from espousing the cause of one candidate for another in the late campaign was also divulged and the situation as developed, can be considered only in the light of the ludicrous.

That a publisher of a newspaper should pledge the support of his paper to any candidate in consideration for the promise of being given a paltry city office is at least interesting.

That after the first issue of the paper favoring the candidacy of a certain man has appeared, the publisher should appeal to that candidate to "fix" the city treasurer in deferring his demand for payment of back taxes against the newspaper, is also interesting.

It is claimed by the candidate that the publisher of the Journal asked him to pay the back tax claim against his plant as an additional consideration of the support of the paper.

That charge is denied but it is admitted by the publisher of the Journal that he did appeal to Mr. Smith to "fix" the city treasurer.

What construction the publisher of the Escanaba Journal placed on the word "fix" is not known and as the word has many meanings an opinion cannot be expressed.

The members of the Escanaba city council recently awarded the contract for printing the proceedings of the council to the publisher of the Journal.

NOTED CROOK IS IN TOILS

Edward Guerin, International Crook is Arrested in London for Robbing Bank at Lyons.

New York, May 24.—Special.—Police headquarters in this city have received notification from Scotland Yard that Edward Guerin, one of the best known and most dangerous of the so called international crooks who have conducted their operations on both sides of the Atlantic, is in the toils again.

Guerin, who is about fifty years old has a remarkable history. In 1888 he was arrested in London on a charge of robbing a bank at Lyons, extradited to France, and sent to 10 years' penal servitude. About a year after his release from prison he was again arrested in connection with a daring safe robbery at the American Express Bank in Paris and sentenced to penal servitude for life, being transported to the French penal settlement at Devil's Island.

About a year ago he and other convicts succeeded in getting away from the island on some kind of a raft. They landed in Dutch Guiana, after a long and hazardous voyage, in the course of which they were attacked by sharks, whilst Guerin had to keep his companions in order by the aid of a loaded revolver. On landing he struck out on his own account, and, after many thrilling adventures he ultimately reached civilization again. A short time ago it became known to the police that he was probably in London. He was recognized and arrested by the same London police officer who had taken him up in 1888.

ALL COMMITTEE MEMBERS WORK

All Arrangements for Reception of Large Class of Candidates into Escanaba Council of Knights of Columbus Nearly Complete.

Every committee having in charge the arrangements for the initiation of a large class of candidates into the Escanaba council of Knights of Columbus on Sunday are bending every effort to make the occasion one of the most notable in the history of the organization in Escanaba.

It is expected that nearly two hundred visitors, including candidates from surrounding cities of the peninsula, will be in Escanaba on Sunday. At the banquet which will be served at Peterson's hall on Sunday evening following the reception of a large class of candidates, it is expected that over 500 people will be served.

Invitations to the banquet have been limited to the members of the order and one member of their families as it is expected that even under those limitations that the seating accommodations at the hall will be severely taxed.

A force of men has been at work at the hall throughout this week arranging the decorations and placing the tables and the greater part of that work is now completed.

Following are the members of the different committees having in charge the reception of visiting knights and plans for the banquet:

President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad system, which is represented in Michigan through one of the state's important lines, the Grand Rapids & Indiana, believes that the railroad rate bill, which passed the senate last Friday and will undoubtedly be approved by the house of representatives, will accomplish a good purpose. "I have for several years believed," said Mr. Cassatt, "that the national government, through the interstate commerce commission ought to be in a position to fix railroad rates whenever the rates established by the railroads themselves are found after complaint and hearing to be unreasonable; provided, of course, that there shall be the right of appeal to the courts." It is interesting as well as important to have this frank statement of favor for the rate and rate bill from one who will be influential in having all its merits and better purposes recognized and adopted.

 In some counties it appears not to be fully understood that county conventions are to be held as usual for the election of delegates to the Republican county conventions will be held in every county in the state on the same day, Monday, June 18. Delegates to these county conventions are to be selected in the various towns and precincts by the enrolled Republican voters of election districts, and therein is the only change from past procedure so far as delegates to the state convention are concerned. The election of delegates to the county conventions takes place Tuesday, June 12, on the same day in every county.

"The tariff is going to be a leading issue this year and the Republicans can't dodge it." This statement from an authoritative Democrat source will not be at all disturbing to Republicans. If a straight-from-the-shoulder issue is presented by the opponents of the tariff on any debatable grounds the republicans will do the rest. The average Republican would about as soon think of dodging the tariff issue as would the small boy of avoiding a circus parade.

IS IN COURT ON TWO POINTS

New Primary Election Law will get First Hearing Before Supreme Court Soon.

On two distinct points the new primary election law has come before the supreme court. Louis C. Cramton, editor of the Lapeer Clarion, through his counsel, State Senator W. E. Brown, secured an order from the court Monday requiring the secretary of state to show cause why he should not accept the petitions of 20 per cent of the enrolled Republican voters of the seventh congressional district as sufficient for the submission of a referendum on direct nominations in that district June 12.

Attorney-General Baird has held that the petitions should contain the signatures of 20 per cent of the total Republican voters for governor in the seventh in 1904, and that only the signatures of republicans who enrolled April 3 were legal. The order is returnable Thursday next. Senator Brown was one of the two stand-pattiers who voted against the final passage of the primary election act in the upper house.

The petition of Henry K. Gustin, of Alpena, for a mandamus on the secretary of state to accept the petition signed by 517 persons in Cheboygan county for a referendum in the twenty-ninth senatorial district will probably be filed. It is understood that Gustin has the opinion of the attorney-general's department to support his claim. Gustin claims that the time for accepting petitions did not legally expire until Monday, May 14, instead of Saturday, May 12, and that his petitions were in Lansing before the legal time expired.

If the provision of the law with regard to the time for filing petitions is directory, then the secretary of state must accept them, according to the attorney-general's department. The department is inclined to think that the provision is directory only. If the supreme court holds with the department, the referendum in the twenty-ninth will be ordered.

COMES QUICKLY.

Don't Have to Wait For Weeks.

 Waiting is discouraging. Prompt action pleases everybody. A burden on the back is a heavy weight. Hard to bear day after day. Harder still year after year. Lifting weight, removing the burden. Brings appreciating responses. Escanaba people tell of it. Tell how it can be done. Tell of relief that's quick and sure. Here is a case of it.
 Mrs. Joseph Perry, 380 Mary St., Escanaba, Mich., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they cured me of backache after I had suffered for a long time. There was a constant aching across my loins accompanied by a weakness and misery that it is hard to describe. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended by our most reliable citizens and sent to the Mead Drug Co's. Store and got a box. The quick relief I obtained from this remedy astonished me, and it resulted in a permanent cure. I have had no return of my old trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills."

HE MUST STAND FOR THE CIT

The decision of Judge Stone in the case of Under Sheriff T. E. Burns against Menominee county, a suit for the collection of a certain reduced bill for officer's fees, denies the petition of Burns for a writ of mandamus. Burns petitioned the court to grant mandamus against the Menominee county board compelling it to audit and pay his bill for officer's fees as rendered. This bill the board at a recent session had reduced to the extent of something over $50. In his opinion Judge Stone stated that the original bill was not itemized in the petition for the writ, which fact was alone sufficient to justify the county board in its position. In its answer the county board contended that it did not know whether all the cases reported by the under-sheriff, with others, were legal arrests or not. During a period of a little over two months the only something over eighty arrests were made to which the charge of drunk and disorderly was attached. The board held that this seemed an unreasonable number of arrests upon that charge during so short a time, especially for a city the size of Menominee, from which most of the cases were reported.

CATASTROPHE AS IT WAS

Complete in detail and a truthful story of the most terrible catastrophe of modern times, the marvelous moving pictures of the San Francisco earthquake and fire taken by the Frisco Motion Picture company are to be exhibited at the Peterson opera house tonight.

A wierd and life-like reproduction of a calamity of the magnitude of the San Francisco affair was hardly expected by the country at large, but skilled operators on the ground, with a plant which escaped destruction in the earthquake, secured a magnificent series of views which portray exactly as they happened the heart-rending scenes which followed the crushing of the beautiful California city by the terrible earthquake on the morning of April 18, and display in detail the progress of the holocaust which followed in the wake of the earth's convulsion.

Itching, bleeding, protruding or caked piles yield to Doan's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved, finally cured. Druggists all sell it.

MANY LETTERS ARE WRITTEN

People of United States are Next to Great Britain in Number of Letters Mailed.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—Special.—Consul McNally writes from Liege that the publication of the world's postal statistics by the Universal Postal Union at Berne, develops some interesting facts from which he infers that from the amount or nature of a country's correspondence one cannot estimate its commercial activity or development along other lines. Following is the arrangement in the order of their importance of the number of letters and postal cards passing through the postoffice for 1905 of countries having over 20 per cent: Great Britain, 78.3 per cent of population; United States, 67.6; New Zealand, 66.1; Switzerland, 59.7; Germany, 58.9; Denmark, 41.6; Austria, 38.2; Argentina, 37.8; Luxembourg, 34.6; Holland, 31.1; Holland, 31.1; Belgium, 29.4; Sweden 28.4; France, 26.2; Norway, 20.5.

It is evident that the development of instruction cannot be seen from the greatest correspondence, for countries having compulsory education, such as France, Denmark and Norway, hold a mediocre place, while other countries noted for the percentage of illiteracy are well in the front. It is singular to note that the citizens of Austria and Denmark write more letters than do those of France. Belgium ranks eleventh in the list. A commercial status or other development does not figure, or both France and Belgium would hold a better position. It is seen that those of Anglo-Saxon blood correspond more frequently than do those of the Latin races.

Great Britain derives the greatest profits from her postal system, netting annually about $23,438,627, the second country being Russia with $20,566,596 profits. Russia is not considered a letter-writing country, and its printed matter is restrained, and yes upon its peculiar system it derives good profits. The Russian postoffice department employs 65,187 persons, while Germany employs 263,817. Japan employs 61,430, or almost as many as Russia, but its profits are comparatively small.

Female Weakness

"Last Fall," writes Mrs. S. G. Bailey, of Tunneton, W. Va., "I was going down by inches, from female disease, with great pain. After taking Cardui, Oh! My! How I was benefited! I am not well yet, but am so much better that I will keep on taking Wine of Cardui till I am perfectly cured."

Despite the envious attacks of jealous enemies and rivals, Cardui still holds supreme position today [as in the past 70 years] for the relief and cure of female diseases. It stops pain, tones up the organs, regulates the functions, and aids in the replacement of a misplaced organ.

CHASED BY WOLVES IN DENSE MICHIGAN WOODS

Desperate Flight of a Lone Night Traveler in Desolate Northern Mining Region.

Ontonagon, Mich.—Chased by a large pack of gray timber wolves, George Bigge had a thrilling experience in the wilds of Carp lake township. He was hauling a load of provisions from here to his home, at the old Nonesuch mine. The distance is 20 miles and the way lies through a practically unbroken forest.

Night overtook him before he had covered more than half the distance. He continued on his journey, and between nine and ten o'clock he was startled by the howling of wolves close at hand. He had no weapons with him. He urged his horse to a faster gait, but as the road is up a heavy grade, progress was slow at best. He had only gone a short distance further when he noticed 25 or 30 of the animals emerge from the brush into the roadway just behind him. On the front of his conveyance was a lantern with a reflector. Mr. Bigge seized this and turned the strong light upon the wolves. It frightened them and they slunk back into the shadows of the woods. But they soon became bolder and commenced closing in upon their prey.

Mr. Bigge realized that he was in a desperate plight. In the sleigh was a tin pail and a quantity of hay. Filling the pail with hay and taking it to the rear of the conveyance he applied a match. The flames cowed the animals. The fire was kept burning brightly and at the same time the team was lashed and urged onward.

The wolves were kept in check for a time, but they gradually came closer, advancing along the sides of the sleigh. The supply of hay was giving out. Mr. Bigge, in desperation, tore open a box of canned goods and commenced hurling cans at them with some effect, checking their progress for the third time.

Just as he was about to give up the struggle, a small clearing was entered. The wolves dropped behind and the man hurried the jaded horses into one of the old mine buildings and, closing the doors as securely as possible, passed the night there. The robes which were left in the sleigh were found in shreds in the morning and the snow round the building was packed solid by the animals in their endeavors to gain entrance.

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITIES

Chances Lost Sight of Man Who Was Making His First Public Speech.

Mr. Sidener had made his first public speech. His subject was good—the iniquities of industrial economy—and he hoped his treatment had been adequate. He was not sure. He waited for his wife's verdict, but she was strangely silent, relates Youth's Companion.

She had listened to him from the gallery of the town hall, and he had half-expected her to meet him at the door afterward, and to say as soon as they were out of hearing: "Oh, it was simply great, Eddy!" But they were half-way home, and she had said nothing of the kind.

"Well," he began, awkwardly, when he could bear it no longer, "what did you think of my speech?"

"What you said was all right," she answered, with guarded enthusiasm. "But it seemed to me you didn't make the most of your opportunities."

"Opportunities?" repeated Mr. Sidener. "What do you mean, Edie?"

"Why," Mrs. Sidener replied, "you had ever so many chances to sit down before you did."

Miss Bertha Coplan left last night for Chicago and Milwaukee where she will visit for several weeks.

TRAPPER LOST IN MOUNTAIN STORM

WANDERS FIVE DAYS AND NIGHTS IN BLIZZARD.

SUCCOR FINALLY REACHED.

Falls Unconscious in Snow at Door of Mining Cabin—Is Taken In and Nursed Back to Health.

Denver.—Lost for five days and nights in the mountains, wandering blindly and half starved in the terrible blizzard that whirled down the bleak, cold canyons of Arapahoe pass, Robert Stuart, the most prominent and oldest trapper and prospector in Middle Park, or in the state, came near forfeiting his life in a bold attempt to get out of his cabin before he became snowbound. When he finally covered the five miles that lay between his lonely little cabin and the Lonesome mines, the distance of which in ordinary weather could easily be traversed in less than half a day, he was in a raving delirium from the cold and exposure and the half-starved condition in which his wanderings without food had left him.

The other day "Bob" Stuart resolved to leave his cabin and spend the rest of the winter at the Lonesome mines. It is usually Stuart's habit to winter at Eldora, but Arapahoe pass was snowed in and considered very dangerous for travel. His stock of provisions was low—barely enough for one good meal. He scraped together what he could to eat and set out for the mines Saturday night. When he left, the snow about his cabin was about seven feet deep and was of the soft, slaky sort that refuses to pack. The snowshoes he wore were small, and every step he took brought him floundering to his knees. To make matters worse, about midnight a blinding snowstorm came up and the old trapper, for the first time in his life, lost his way. All that night he wandered aimlessly around the mountain tops, striving in vain to come upon the trail.

Speaking of the night, Stuart said that "if he had a million dollars he would have given it for one biscuit," so great was his hunger. All day Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and half of Friday the old man wandered. Twice he was within a few feet of the cabin of the mine bosses, but it was so completely covered up by the heavy fall of snow that he passed right on by. On Tuesday he lost all consciousness and can remember no more. Instinct guided him to safety the rest of his perilous journey.

Late in the afternoon of Friday three men were eating in the little cabin near the workings of the Lonesome mine. In the middle of the meal a faint knock was heard at the door. Opening it they found Stuart in a dead faint and half frozen, lying on the doorstep.

Hastily summoning Dr. W. E. Rammel, of Denver, the owner of the mines, the man was given stimulants. For days he remained in a stupor, unable to tell where or who he was. Part of the time he was raving mad and in his delirium would imagine that he once more was wandering about the bleak mountain passes half starved. For five days he had gone without food, and, according to Dr. Rammel, had he gone one day more he surely must have perished from the pangs of hunger.

Robert Stuart is 55 years old and is one of the oldest prospectors that the state has. Just how many years "Bob" has lived in his little cabin at the foot of Arapahoe peak is not known, but every fisherman, hunter and prospector that has ever had occasion to enter Middle Park knows "Bob" Stuart. He is guide, mine locator, fisherman and prospector. He has several claims now near his cabin that may prove to be valuable some day. The grizzled prospector was taken to Eldora, where he will spend the rest of this winter.

WALKS TWO MILES IN SLEEP.

Nashville, Ind.—All known records for sleep-walking have been broken by Ora Taylor, who lives near here, and who, the other night, dressed only in his nightclothes and in his bare feet, walked two miles to the home of a friend. On the way he waded through an icy stream, but even the cold water failed to awaken him. Believing him to be mentally unbalanced, the friend put Taylor to bed, where he slept soundly until daylight, and was surprised beyond belief to find himself in a strange bed. He said that he was conscious of nothing from the time he went to bed at home until he awoke in the morning.
