OSBORN'S FRIENDS GATHER IN FORCE

Conference of the Supporters of the Soo Man for Governor at Marquette is a Well Attended and Enthusiastic Gathering—Upper Peninsula is Solid for Him.

According to the information brought back by the Escanaba men who attended the Marquette Mining Journal of today, the conference of the supporters of Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie in his fight to secure the Republican nomination for governor, held in Marquette last night, was in many respects one of the most remarkable political gatherings the upper peninsula has ever seen. It included representatives from every section of the district, and the reports which they made of the situation throughout the peninsula indicated beyond any question that the entire peninsula is solid for Mackinac to Keweenaw for Osborn for governor. But one conclusion was possible after the conference adjourned, and that was that Chase Osborn was the unanimous and enthusiastic choice of the Twelfth district, which is united in his behalf as it never has been united before upon any political proposition in the history of the district.

The particular purpose was the drafting of final plans for securing a large enrollment of Republican voters next Monday and the detailed character of the plans submitted by the various leaders showed that no stone was being left unturned to make every Republican vote in the district available, through enrollment, for next September's primary.

It was 8:30 o'clock when the guests seated themselves in the dining room of the Hotel Marquette to discuss the splendid menu provided. The dinner was followed by an informal discussion in which practically every one participated, and which was introduced by W. F. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie, who officiated as chairman of the conference. In introducing the discussion Mr. Knox said:

Osborn Sentiment Widespread.
"This conference of upper peninsula Republicans was called because of the critical importance in the impending election."

FAST ROLLER RACE PROMISED TONIGHT

Considerable interest has been excited among the roller skaters and others in the city by the announcement that a roller skating race has been arranged between Hugh Boyle, champion fast skater of Milwaukee, Wis., as announced in Mirror yesterday, the race is scheduled to come off at Peterson's roller rink this evening and it should attract a large crowd of spectators. Both Boyle and Wilkum are said to be in fine condition and a close and exciting speed contest is looked for.

The race will be called at nine-fifty-five o'clock and the winner will be enriched by the receipt of a fat cash prize. Although Wilkum has a well earned reputation as a fast roller skater, Boyle's friends think the latter has a chance to win and will back him to do so. There will be general skating before and after the race, it is announced. The rink will close tomorrow night for the season, so there will be but two more opportunities for local roller skaters to enjoy their favorite sport for a long time.

REMAINS REST BESIDE THOSE OF HUSBAND

The remains of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Duford, widow of the late John Duford, were brought to Escanaba this morning from Chicago and this afternoon were given burial in St. Anne's cemetery in a grave alongside of one containing the remains of the husband of the deceased. No funeral services were conducted here, they having been held yesterday at the church of Our Lady of Sorrows in Chicago.

The remains of Mrs. Duford were accompanied here by her brother-in-law, John Jones, and J. P. Hodgkinson, a funeral director of Chicago. From the train the body was transferred to D. A. Oliver's undertaking establishment, where it remained until taken to St. Anne's cemetery at three o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Duford, who was a former resident of Escanaba, died last Tuesday at the Monroe Street hospital in Chicago, whither she had been taken to have an operation performed. It was found, however, that an operation would not avail to save her life and death ensued not long afterward. She had been ailing all winter. She was fifty-years old and leaves no immediate family relatives surviving.

CHURCH SUPPER IS NOW IN FULL SWING

By the time The Mirror is delivered at the homes of its readers tonight the supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church will be in full swing. All day the women have been busy with the work of preparation and the church today was a scene of great activity. At four o'clock this afternoon all was in readiness and the lecture room of the church presented a decidedly attractive appearance.

The supper will be held from five till eight and judging from the quantity of contributions delivered at the church at a late hour this afternoon, there will be an ample abundance of the good things which are to be had at each supper given by the women of that church. The hope of the society is that the event this evening will be successful socially as well as financially, and if a prophecy may be made from the history of the past, the supper tonight will be a success in every way.

METHODIST CHURCH SUPPER A SUCCESS

Agreeable to anticipations, the annual supper given last evening by the ladies of the First Methodist Episcopal church in the basement of the church last evening was a complete success in all particulars. From five until eight o'clock the dining room was filled with people who enjoy good things to eat and none went away unsatisfied. The meal served was one of unusual excellence, the menu including chicken pie, mashed potatoes, brown and white bread, jelly, salad, assorted cake and coffee. Besides the supper there was a sale of aprons and homemade candies and this was also very well patronized. Altogether, the results of the supper and sale were entirely satisfactory to its promoters and socially enjoyable to its patrons.

NO NEW TRIAL OF SUIT FOR SLANDER

Judge Cooper Denies Defendant's Motion for a Rehearing in the Case of Ida Anderson vs. Frank Devet, Tried at the October Term of Circuit Court—Details.

The attorneys in the case of Ida Anderson vs. Frank Devet, an action instituted by the plaintiff to recover damages for slander and which was tried at the October term of circuit court in this city, resulting in a verdict awarding the plaintiff judgment for $100 and costs in the case amounting to $115, received notice today that Judge Samuel S. Cooper, before whom the case was tried, has denied the motion of the defendant for a new trial.

This was a somewhat noted case and attracted considerable attention at the time of its trial. The parties to the suit were residents of Fayette. Attorney H. J. Rushton represented the plaintiff and prosecuting attorney H. R. Dotsch and Probate Judd Yeland the defendant, who by Judge Cooper's denial of a new trial will now be obliged to pay the judgment and costs unless he takes an appeal to a higher court. In his decision denying the defendant a new trial, Judge Cooper says:

"Defendant moves for a new trial from verdict against him, alleging as reasons therefor misconduct of counsel for plaintiff in arguing the case to the jury, newly discovered evidence and surprise or not having sufficient time to contradict unexpected evidence at the trial because of the distance witnesses who would contradict the evidence lived from the place of trial, and the difficulty in getting them in time for trial after plaintiff's evidence had been introduced.

"It is true that during the argument of counsel for plaintiff the court, without request from counsel for defendant or objection from any of them, objected to certain statements being made by plaintiff's counsel. No statements were made, however, which would justify the granting of a new trial. In fact, the court very promptly prevented any statements being made which might amount to error, and the case was fairly submitted to the jury. I am of the opinion that no diligence has been shown by the defendant to procure the evidence of the witnesses to deny a portion of the plaintiff's evidence, and in any event the evidence would be simply of an impeaching and accumulative character, and I am of the opinion no new trial should be granted for any of the reasons complained of by the defendant. The motion is denied, with costs to plaintiff."

NON-UNION MINERS GET RAISE IN PAY

(By Associated Press.)
Baltimore, Md., April 1.—Forty-five thousand unorganized coal miners who have been working in the mines of Maryland, northern West Virginia and southern Pennsylvania were much surprised this morning when they received notice that their pay would be increased five per cent all around.

These miners had not asked for a raise in pay nor had they made any attempt to leave their work. They are all jubilant over the raise and went home to dinner cheering their employers.

During the month of March there were fifteen marriage licenses issued from the office of County Clerk John A. Semer.

GALLUP TO RETAIN HOME IN ESCANABA

Attorney George Gallup expects to leave next Monday for Detroit, where he will establish headquarters for the purpose of looking after the interests of the French Gulch Mining company with which he is prominently connected. Mr. Gallup states that while he expects to spend considerable of his time in Detroit, he does not intend to give up his residence in Escanaba or relinquish his law practice here. He will continue to make this city his home, visiting here whenever convenient, and will entrust his law business to Attorney H. J. Rushton. The properties of the French Gulch Mining company are located in Montana and have heretofore been described in these columns.

D. J. TEAHAN LOSES ONE OF HIS FEET

While Endeavoring to Make a Coupling of Cars a Well Known Escanaba Railroad Man Has His Right Foot So Badly Crushed that Amputation is Necessary—The Story.

While trying to kick loose a coupling, at Campbell this morning, D. J. Teahan of this city, whose home is at 314 North Fannie street, had his right foot so badly crushed that it was necessary to amputate it upon his arrival at the Delta County hospital.

Mr. Teahan was braking on the north freight that leaves Escanaba about seven o'clock in the morning and when the train arrived at Campbell there was some switching to be done and cars to be added to the train.

It was while Mr. Teahan was about to couple together a box and flat car that the accident happened. The knuckle on one of the cars was not in the right position to work and not wanting to stop the train, which was backing down to get the car, Mr. Teahan attempted to open the knuckle with his foot. Before he could get his foot away or the knuckle open the train backed down and the foot was caught between the knuckles.

Other members of the train crew went to the assistance of the unfortunate brakeman and when he was released it was found that the foot was badly crushed. The conductor at once notified the officials in this city, who ordered the injured man brought back by the same train crew at once. He was taken to the hospital and after a careful examination it was found that the foot could not be saved and it was taken off just a little way below the ankle.

Mr. Teahan is one of the best known railroad men in this city and has made his home here for a number of years. He is a conductor the greater part of the time and was only braking during the winter months.

ONE VICTIM OF DOCK ACCIDENT IS DEAD

The remains of William Smith, who died at the Delta County hospital from the effects of injuries received Wednesday afternoon through a fall from the St. Paul dock, were shipped at eleven o'clock this morning via the Chicago & Northwestern road, to Watertown, Wis., the late home of the deceased, for burial. The body was accompanied by John Lakota, a friend of the deceased. Mr. Smith was about forty-two years old and is survived by a family, who live in Watertown. He came here about six weeks ago to assist in making repairs to the St. Paul dock. He had for eighteen years been employed as a carpenter by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road.

Following the accident that resulted in injuries to Mr. Smith and Max Kellerman, as related in these columns yesterday, it was hoped both would recover, but the hope was not realized in Mr. Smith's case, his death occurring yesterday. Mr. Kellerman, who is at his home in North Escanaba, is reported to be getting along nicely and not to be in danger.

BRAMPTON FARMER FINED FOR ASSAULT

Late yesterday afternoon Thomas Goedert, a Brampton township farmer was brought to the city under arrest by Sheriff F. W. Aronson and taken into Justice Glaser's court, where he was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery, the complaint having been preferred by Mrs. Victoria Johnson, also a resident of Brampton township. Goedert pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to pay a fine and costs amounting to $37.45, with thirty days in the county jail as the alternative. He made arrangements to pay the fine and costs and was released. Goedert's offense was committed on March 19, according to Mrs. Johnson's complaint.

TWO FUNERALS HELD IN THE CITY TODAY

The funeral of the late Miss Maud E. Carroll was held from St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock this morning and was largely attended. The services included a requiem high mass, celebrated by Rev. Father Langan, assisted by Rev. Fathers Bender and Filion and were of the most solemn and impressive character. The remains were given burial in St. Joseph's cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, testifying in a measure to the esteem in which the decedent was held. Among those present at the funeral were a number of relatives and friends of Miss Carroll from other cities. The pallbearers were County Clerk John Semer, Claude Farrell, Henry Beauchamp, James Mogan, John Riley and William Northrup.

The funeral of the late Leonard Carlson was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. C. Albert Lund conducting the services, and the remains were buried in Lakeview cemetery. There was a large attendance of Mr. Olson's friends at the funeral and the floral offerings were numerous and of great beauty. The pallbearers were:

Anderson, John Larsson, Carl Larsson and Gus Sterner.

GRANTS NEW TRIAL IN CASE OF SAILOR

Wilbert Smith, Who Attempted to Collect Wages from the Chicago Navigation Company After He Left Company's Boat, Will Have to Try it Again—Story.

Judge Samuel S. Cooper of Ironwood, who sat as circuit judge in this circuit during the last October and January terms of the circuit court, today handed down a decision in the case of Clyde Hayden, Assignee, vs. Chicago Navigation company.

This case grew out of a suit brought by Mr. Hayden as assignee of a sailor named Wilbert Smith, who endeavored to collect wages from the Boat company after he had left the ship at this port last September. He had signed articles for a round trip from one of the Lake Erie ports to Escanaba and return, but quit before the trip was ended. The Boat company claimed that he had forfeited his wages.

The case was tried in the circuit court in October, and created considerable comment on account of the numerous questions which were raised, and the case took considerable of the court's time, and resulted in a judgment for the plaintiff for the amount of wages claimed.

At the January term of court the Boat company, through its attorney, A. H. Ryall, asked the court for a new trial for several reasons, and lengthy briefs and arguments were submitted by both sides. Judge Cooper has held the case under consideration for nearly three months and by his order today a new trial is granted.

In deciding the case the judge said: "This suit is brought by plaintiff as assignee of one Wilbert Smith, a sailor, for wages claimed by Smith as a sailor. It appeared from the stipulations of parties that Smith quit the ship at Escanaba before the completion of the trip for which he had started. He had before shipping agreed to forfeit all wages if he failed to complete the voyage. A judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. The decision was made upon the theory that Section 4522 of the Federal Statutes, which provides for the forfeiture of

SOFT COAL MINERS ARE FACING A LONG VACATION

Thousands of Mine Workers Are Now Idle and Will Wait for More Pay, Before They Return to Work—Mines Closed Last Night.

(By Associated Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—While celebrating the anniversary of the eight hour day, 300,000 bituminous coal miners faced an enforced holiday of a far greater duration.

In many of the coal mining states the two year wage contract between the miners and the operators expired last night at midnight and all the men quit the coal pits, demanding their new contract, which provides for an increase in wages of 5.55 per cent on a ton on the screened coal and an equivalent increase on the "run of the mine" coal.

Miners Will Stand Firm.
The strike was the sole subject of the conversation today and many meetings are being held in the communities where the miners live, by the leaders of the strike.

The miners say that they will stand firm and that if the raise is not forthcoming they will seek other positions, where the pay above ground is equal to what they have been getting in the "pits."

The Output of Farm Schools.

There are three things at present making for success in the "back to the land" movement. The land is willing, thousands are ready to take the back track, and countless agricultural schools offer facilities for training amateurs in practical work.

As a rule, professional students expect to get to work in earnest on graduation. The instructor teaches his class the practice, not the theory, of law and medicine solely.

The president of a telephone company declares he favors the widest publicity of the affairs of corporations, "provided the people can understand."

One particularly commendable feature of the program adopted by the senate committee investigating the cost of living is the gathering of statistics bearing upon prices abroad through the United States consuls.

The proposed organization of head waiters to protect diners by "wrecking out" surly attendants is a practical movement for civil service.

Perhaps the investigators are agreed as to the cause of high prices and are now deliberating on a punishment to fit the crime.

ANGUS W. KERR SURELY CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Copper Country Man Formally Announces His Entry Into the Field Against Young.

Hancock Copper Journal: Angus W. Kerr, former prosecuting attorney of Houghton county, for many years an active worker for the Republican party in the Copper Country, and one of the leading members of the Houghton county bar, has authorized The Copper Journal to announce his candidacy for congress to succeed the Hon. H. Olin Young of Ishpeming.

The duty is a pleasant one: there is but one announcement which The Journal would make with better

ANGUS W. KERR.

Copper Country Man, Who Seeks Seat in Federal Congress.

Grant—that of his election by a good, round majority.

A complete canvass of the district has been made by Mr. Kerr before he took this decisive step. What he found has encouraged him to believe that his candidacy has every prospect of success.

Angus W. Kerr has a record in which it is impossible to discover the slightest flaw. As prosecuting attorney he acquitted himself so well that the board of supervisors saw fit to recognize his services with a handsome reward at the close of his last term last fall. It was Mr. Kerr, who, after a long series of victories against crime in Houghton county, secured the conviction of George Hamilton, charged with one of the most foul crimes ever perpetrated in the upper peninsula, winning the gratitude of every citizen of the Copper Country by placing that man behind the bars.

Mr. Kerr has resided in the district since early childhood. He has grown to manhood in this district, and the good use he has made of that manhood everyone knows. His first vote was a Republican vote; his last vote was a Republican vote, and all the votes in between were Republican.

Mr. Kerr was born in Ontario, May 24, 1872, and when a small child accompanied his parents to Lake Linden. He graduated from the Lake Linden high school in 1891, and then entered the college of law in the University of Michigan.

He is a man of sound ability, tried and proved during his long public career; is personally magnetic, and a fast maker of friends, and he has made himself popular throughout the district. The Twelfth district of Michigan could have no better representative in congress than Angus W. Kerr.

WILL SEARCH FOR MISSING HUNTER

Southern Michigan Men Determined to Find Remains of Robert Bellby, Who Was Lost and Undoubtedly Perished in the Wilds of the Upper Peninsula.

Equipped to search for weeks if need be in the wilds of Northern Michigan, a party of Berrien and Cass county hunters have left Benton Harbor to search for the body of Robert Bellby, the Cass county farmer, who on November 16 last left the camp of comrades near Kenton for a lone hunt and never returned.

With the aid of expert guides who know the territory, the woods and country for a radius of fifty miles will be thoroughly searched for the remains. Now that the snow is off the ground the chances for the recovery of the body are good, unless the hunter, Robert Bellby, was attacked and eaten by wolves.

Bellby became lost after the party had been in camp but a week. All were experienced hunters and had gone north for their annual deer hunt. One morning Bellby left camp alone, never returning. After the absence of two days, efforts were made to find him, but without success.

Whether Bellby was shot by mistake by some unknown hunter, whether he became lost, wandered until his strength gave out and perished from hunger and cold is not known. It is in the hope of solving the problem and bringing the body back to the widow who has grieved throughout the long winter, that the son has headed the expedition north.

When Bellby was lost last fall his son offered a large reward for the recovery of the body and for weeks people living at Laird and Kenton searched, but without result. Not a single trace of the man was found. Later a party of lumbermen located a camp near where Bellby was last seen and began a systematic search, but there was too much snow and they gave up the attempt, intending to resume the hunt this spring.

Only a few weeks ago the sheriff at Milwaukee, Wis., received a letter from Mrs. Bellby in which she asked him if he did not kill her husband. Mrs. Bellby heard a rumor that the sheriff had accidentally shot a man while hunting in the upper peninsula and she thought that her husband might have been the victim.

UNCLE SAM IN NEW ROLE; NOW AN AID TO COOKS

Gets Out a Book Telling How to Contrive Elaborate Meals at Small Cost—Details.

The secretary of agriculture's cook book is out. In it Uncle Jim Wilson, through his experts, tells the country how to make poor cuts of meat taste as good as the best and also how to get just about as much nourishment from them.

The experts who prepared the cook book are C. F. Langworthy, Ph. D. and Carline L. Hunt, A. D. They have found that the cheaper cuts of beef, such as the brisket, chuck rib, flank and neck, are just about as rich in the substances which build and repair important tissues of the body as porterhouse and sirloin steaks.

For instance, in a chuck rib there is 19 per cent of protein, as compared with only 21.9 in a porterhouse steak. Also in regard to the flavor of meats the department's cook book says there is a general misapprehension. Most persons believe expensive meats are the best flavored, while in reality the cuts on a side of beef often are richer in the extractives which produce the flavor than the higher priced cuts.

Much Unnecessary Waste.
The secretary's experts find that there is a good deal of unnecessary waste in the average home in treating the fats that come on the high-priced cuts of meat. The loins and ribs of beef, for instance, contain from 20 to 25 per cent of fat. Instead of being thrown out into the garbage can this, according to Secretary Wilson's cook book, ought to be utilized.

"If butter is the fat used in making crusts for meat pies and in preparing the cheaper cuts," says the official cook book, "there is little economy involved. The fats from other meat, therefore, should be saved, as they may be used in place of butter in such cases, as well as in preparing many other foods. The fat from sausage or from the soup kettle or pot roast, which is savory because it has been cooked with vegetables, is peculiarly acceptable."

The experts think no chance should be overlooked to utilize gravy. Also they recommend a greater use of the bones. Almost any bones can be used for soup, they say, and especially the rib bones. If they have a little meat left on them, they can be grilled or roasted into palatable dishes.

"In this connection it may be noted," says the cook book, "that many of the dishes popular in good hotels are made of portions of meat such as frequently are thrown away in private houses, but which with proper cooking and seasoning, make attractive dishes and give most acceptable variety to the menu."

One Way to Economize.
The government lays down a receipt for extracting the marrow from bones. "Bones are cut in convenient lengths," say the experts, "the ends covered with a little piece of dough over which a floured cloth is tied, and cooked in boiling water for two hours. After removing the cloth and dough the bones are placed upright on toast and served. Prepared as above, the bones also may be baked in a deep dish."

One way to economize on your meat bill, according to the book, is to "extend the meat's flavor" over a certain number of substances that are not meat. For instance, serve meat with dumplings and pie crusts, or on toast and biscuits. You get the idea then that you are eating meat, when really you aren't. Borders of rice, hominy and mashed potatoes on meat dishes also are good for carrying out this delusion.

A page or so of the report is devoted to dumplings and farina balls. The best dumplings are made from two cups of flour, four teaspoonsful of baking powder, two thirds of a cup of milk, half a teaspoonful of salt, and two teaspoonsful of butter. You mix in the butter with the tips of the fingers, and the milk gradually, roll out to a thickness of one-half inch, and cut with a biscuit cutter.

Book Can Be Had Free.
The cook book gives a long list of meat pies that can be used to supplant beefsteaks, chops and prime rib roasts. Meat turnovers, Turkish pilafs, pork and beans, bacon and cow peas, Mexican beef, and a haricot of mutton are some of the dishes that the experts find can be set on the table at small cost and at the same time give satisfactory nourishment. The cook book tells how to make use of left-over corned beef hash.

"A slice of toast is sometimes used under hash," say the experts. "This suggests a way of utilizing a small amount of corned beef hash which would otherwise be insufficient for a meat." The investigators find stewed shin of beef a fine dish. They took four pounds of shin, one medium sized onion, one whole clove, and a small bay leaf, one sprig of parsley, one-half teaspoonful of flour, one small slice of carrot, one-half tablespoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of pepper, two quarts of boiling water, and one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter on savory drippings. All ingredients are put into a stew pan and brought to a boil. Then the pan is set where the liquid will just simmer for six hours. With butter, flour, and soup from the bone a brown sauce is made, and to this is added the meat and marrow.

The cook book will be furnished free to all who apply to the department.

BASKETBALL TEAM MAKES FINE RECORD

(Special to The Daily Mirror.)
Spokane, Wash., April 1.—South Central high school basketball squad of Spokane, composed of George Pynn, captain; Elmer Miller, manager; Harry Goetz, Robert Peddy-cord, Leon Henderson, Roy Rails-back, Leon Wiese, George Dalbow and Max Zabel, has completed its series of thirteen games against the strongest high school teams in eastern Washington and northern Idaho without a defeat. The quintet scored 497 against 219 by its opponents, thus establishing a record probably without equal in any other part of the country.

The team, which was coached by T. G. Cook, physical director, however, cannot make a claim to championship honors in the northwest, for the reason the boys did not meet any of the coast teams. The squad was made up of new material and with only one "first team" man from last season. The girls' team of the same school also coached by Cook, won four out of seven games, scoring 50 to 37 by its opponents in Washington and Idaho. This is looked upon as a good record, considering the squad was made up of beginners.

PRETTY GIRLS ARE TAKING DAILY 'HIKES'

Oxford, Mich., April 1.—A dozen of Ortonville's prettiest girls can be seen nearly every day now, dainty feet encased in boots, trim limbs protected by fancy leggings, tramping through the mud and water of the highways in this vicinity. The girls recently formed a walking club and each day take a "hike." The recent thaw has not made walking most pleasurable but, undeterred, the girls are taking their daily hike, while the "hired men" throughout this part of the farming district are spending half their time on the highway fence, waiting for the "parade" to go by.

Ruskin's Protest.
Utopianism: that is another of the devil's pet words. AMATEUR RIDERS TO SAVE RACING

Gentlemen's Events to Be Big Factor on Turf This Season.

MOVEMENT HAS BEEN STARTED

Many Men Connected With the Sport of Kings Say That the Amateur Events Will Give More Sportmanlike Tone to Horse Racing.

When the eastern thoroughbred horse racing season starts on its career April 15 the sport of kings will have an important factor in the person of an amateur. And he has come to stay. When the game was rolling on the crest of the wave of prosperity the amateur was seldom heard of. In fact, when his name was mentioned it was treated as a joke. There was no room for the simple pure turfmen. The man who rode a thoroughbred for the simple pleasure of the chase was shoved aside to make room for the professional jockey. The lightning changes in the racing game during the past few years have been nothing less than startling. The anti-racing legislation, which cut down the attendance from many thousands to simply the regulars, reduced the game to almost ashes. And the amateur has now come forth in the character of the phoenix. The evolution of the sport has brought about many changes. And the most important one is that "sport for sport's sake" will be the slogan of the future.

This does not mean that the professional rider is to be cast into the discard. On the contrary, he will be as prominent as ever. But the man on whom the revival of the sport will fall is the man who is going to devote his time and services to try to restore racing to its former high standard.

The inception of this scheme started last year, when a call was issued to all the hunt clubs in the country to attend a conference and draw up rules which would govern at all amateur meets. The success of the plan was greater than anticipated by the promoters. Representatives from all the big hunt clubs attended the meeting and willingly agreed to do all in their power to foster the sport. In consequence there were more amateur meets held last year than ever before. At the end of the season the returns were so gratifying that it was resolved to enlarge the scope this year.

Frank J. Bryan was selected as the proper manager to handle the movement this season and was elected secretary of the hunts committee of the National Steeplechase and Hunts association. Under his capable management there are forty-nine hunt clubs on the roster of the N. S. H. A. These clubs are situated all over the country, and their membership rolls contain the names of some of the most representative men in the United States.

One of the most valuable additions to this new body is Thomas F. Ryan, the former traction king, who retired from active life last year. Down at his vast Oak Ridge farm, in Virginia, Mr. Ryan has constructed one of the most up to date race courses in the country. His intention is to hold meets there during the year for the pleasure they will afford his friends and himself. At the same time Mr. Ryan has a number of blue blooded stallions and mares on his farm and intends to join the ranks of breeders.

In addition to Mr. Ryan's establishment in Virginia, there are some of the greatest hunt clubs situated below the Mason and Dixon line. In New England the Brookline meet is famous in

PASTE THESE IN YOUR NOTEBOOK.

Longest distance throw was made by John Hatfield in Brooklyn Oct. 15, 1872; distance 400 feet 7 1/2 inches.

The greatest number of stolen bases was made by Harry Stovey of the Athletics in 1883, when he pilfered 156 bags.

Longest major league game was twenty-four innings and was played between the Athletics and Boston, at Boston, Sept. 1, 1900; score 4 to 1.

The strikeout record in a nine inning game was made by Charles Sweeney of Providence, when he made twenty-one Boston players fan the air in 1883.

The greatest number of games pitched in a season was seventy-two, by Radbourne of Providence in 1884.

The strikeout record for a season by a pitcher is held by Rube Waddell, that of 301 made by him in 1903.

The record number of consecutive games won by a major league club is twenty, made by the Providence national league team in 1884. Greatest number of consecutive games lost is twenty-six, by the Louisville American association in 1880. Pittsburgh lost twenty-three straight in 1890.

The record of the shortest game is forty-four minutes, made Sept. 24, 1904, between the Atlanta and Shreveport teams.

The greatest number of victories in a playing season was made in 1906 by the Chicago Nationals, when they captured 116 games.

The racing there is attended by crowds running up to the thousands. The Brookline meet is in a part of the country where there is no real race track within a hundred miles. The enthusiasm shown by the spectators at the many affairs held there is indisputable evidence that where sport predominates in racing it is bound to be a great success. On Long Island the Cedarhurst and Meadowbrook hunts bring out any number of folk who never visit the regular tracks. Again, there are any number of private meets given by wealthy people which furnish more excitement than at any of the large courses.

To show the real interest taken by the amateurs it is only necessary to point out the course of the United Hunts adjoining Belmont park. This course is laid out on the plan of a regular track, with courses for flat runners and a steeplechase field. There is no revenue in this organization, and none is looked for. A good day's sport is all that is asked. A glance over the list of some of the main supporters of the amateur sport proves that they are necessary to help in the rekindling of the popular pastime. With August Belmont are his two sons, Raymond and August junior, both of whom are able horsemen. F. Ambrose Clark, James Butler, Jr., Malcolm Stephenson, David Gows and E. H. Carle are also a few others in this state who are devoted amateurs.

It is the intention of the hunts committee to have the various local racing associations put at least one amateur race on the weekly program. It makes no difference whether it is on the first course or over the steeplechase course. The innovation is sure to call out any number of friends of the participants. By this method the sport is bound to add a number of new friends to its list.

ATHLETES TO VISIT ENGLAND

Sheppard and Gissing to Sail For Europe Shortly.

Fired by the success of Nat Cartmell, the former University of Pennsylvania sprinter, Melvin M. Sheppard and Harry Gissing, two of the greatest runners in the country today, are planning an invasion of England. The pair are to sail shortly and expect to be abroad until the end of the summer. Sheppard has been anxious to return to England since the London Olympic games, nearly two years ago, when he disagreed with the majority of the American athletes who were members of the United States Olympic team and declared that the British athletic authorities had accorded him fair and impartial treatment. Since that time he has always been outspoken in his praise of the British athletic fairness.

The two athletes will be watched closely by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and the Amateur Athletic Association of England, although it is freely predicted by prominent athletic authorities here that the pair will follow the example of Cartmell and turn professionals should inducements do so prove satisfactory.

There is one point about the trip that is puzzling to the Amateur Athletic union officials, and that is how men of the moderate means of Sheppard and Gissing can afford to spend the summer in England. The cost of the trip, including the passage by steamer, will be not less than $1,000 each, irrespective of the loss of salary during the summer months.

In the London Olympic games two years ago Sheppard won the 800 meter run in 1 minute 54.45 seconds and the 1,500 meter event in 4 minutes 32.5 seconds, creating new records in each event. Emilio Lunghi, the Italian, was second to Sheppard in the 800 meter race, while Wilson was runner up in the long distance event. Both of these men competed in this country last summer under the Irish American Athletic club colors and are in England at present. This quartet constitutes the fastest middle distance runners in the world and will furnish some spectacular races in England the coming summer.

BOYS GET LIQUOR AND CIGARETTES

So It is Declared in Letters to State Superintendent of Public Instruction—Officials of Cities Asked to Enforce Law—Some Replies from Cities.

Lansing, April 1.—Superintendent of Public Instruction Wright is satisfied that the state law prohibiting the sale of cigarettes and liquor to pupils of the schools and colleges is not being enforced in many Michigan cities. What convinces him is the report compiled from letters received from a large number of superintendents of public schools. Wright has written to the heads of the police departments in these cities asking them to take up the matter.

Out of several hundred letters received from superintendents in the state, replies have been mailed to the following cities, asking the mayors and police commissioners to cooperate in enforcing the law:

Albion, Benton Harbor, Stanton, Adrian, Manistiquette, Manistee, St. Joseph, Bessemer, Calumet, Saginaw, Ionia, Wyandotte, Lake Linden, Owosso, Escanaba, Petoskey, Port Huron, Marine City, Marshall, Marquette, Norway, Charlotte, Crystal Falls, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Bay City.

The law generally is observed in many other cities, including Lansing, Three Rivers, Big Rapids, Albion, Dowagiac and Saginaw, west side.

Extracts from letters received from superintendents follow:

Manistiquette: "Students, frequent pool rooms, and liquor sold to them by one saloon man."

St. Joseph: "Law better enforced than few years ago."

Calumet: "No particular effort made to enforce the law."

Saginaw: "Law not very strictly enforced in this city."

Wyandotte: "Law is a dead letter as far as Wyandotte is concerned."

Owosso: "My opinion is law is not enforced. A number of men would have to cease doing business if minors and school children were not allowed in their places."

Petoskey, Port Huron, Ionia: "The law is not generally obeyed."

Jackson: "Absence of saloons makes the task easy, and the law is generally observed."

Crystal Falls: "Law grossly violated."

Ann Arbor: "Morally certain that in many cases—students frequent such places."

Bay City: "Cigarette fiends and other boys are disorderly in the extreme."

LOST SAILOR'S BODY FOUND AT MARINETTE

Menominee, Mich., April 1.—The body of Edward Irons, the missing wheelman from the steamer Thomas Wilson, who disappeared in Marinette on November 21, 1909, was found late Wednesday afternoon floating in the Hamilton & Merryman slip. The body was discovered by Willaw Morreau, an employe of the Republic Lumber company.

Mr. Morreau was walking out on the boom to close the pocket, when he sighted an object among the driftwood which appeared to be a man. He immediately returned and found his fears to be correct. He pulled the body to shore with his pikepole and then notified Sheriff Smith, District Attorney Schwittay and Coroner Tweedie.

The body which had been in the water for nearly five months, was so badly decomposed that identification was difficult, but a large silver open-face watch found on the body helped to prove that the floater was the missing sailor. Besides the watch a purse containing $11 was also found.

The steamer Wilson was moored at the N. Ludington dock on the night that Irons disappeared and it is now certain that while returning from a trip downtown with the engineer of the steamer, Irons lost his footing and fell into the Menominee river. The body when found was about 500 feet from where the sailor fell into the icy waters.

Irons was about forty-eight years old and unmarried. The reward of $100 which was offered by Mrs. Irons for the recovery of her son's body will be claimed by William Morreau.

DRAGGED TO DEATH WHILE STEALING RIDE

Menominee, Mich., April 1.—While stealing a ride on the rods under the sleeper of the northbound Chicago & North-Western passenger train which reaches here at 3:35 a. m., John Boye of Oconto sustained terrible injuries from which he died at St. Joseph's hospital shortly after six o'clock Thursday morning. His body was dragged along the ties for a distance of five miles before the train stopped at Peabigo and his legs were literally torn to ribbons. One leg and a foot fell off while the train crew was extricating him, and it was wrapped in a newspaper and brought to the hospital with the dying man.

For Women Readers.

SOME WOMEN OF INTEREST

Best Dressed Ones in Washington. Only One Girl Among 600 College Men—Kentucky's Oil Queen Was a Stenographer.

WASHINGTON, the nation's capital, naturally has many women who vie one with another for superiority in dress. There are gathered representative women from every state and territory of our own land and from all the nations of the earth which send diplomatic agents to the United States. It would be unfair to several other "congressional ladies," perhaps, to say that Mrs. Edwin Y. Webb, wife of one of the congressmen from North Carolina, is the best dressed woman in Washington. Yet there are those who do say it. Mrs. Webb is shown in the illustration garbed in a gown made in the Philippines from pineapple fiber. She is a handsome young woman and attracts much attention in society. Another well dressed woman of the congressional set is Mrs. Polite Elvins, wife of the Missouriian who is next to the youngest member of the house. Mrs. Elvins is described as a spirituelle beauty, dainty as a dream. She comes from the great lead mining region in southeast Missouri, her home town being named for her husband's own family.

One Co-ed Among 600 Men.

How would you like to be the only girl student among 600 men? That is the distinction enjoyed—yes, and really enjoyed, it is said—by Miss Helen Cook, who is the first girl to matriculate in William Jewell college at Liberty, Mo., since 1896. It is a Baptist institution, founded in 1849, but the educational idea seems never to have been popular there. Next June Miss Cook will be graduated. Then she will sail for Europe, where she intends to continue her French and German linguistic studies. The college professors say she easily leads her classes in the recitation rooms, and the college boys are said to fall over themselves for the honor of being her escort at local functions. Miss Cook is called "the college divinity." Her friends say she is compelled to exercise much tact in order to get sufficient time away from her admirers, her fellow students, to pursue her own studies.

Stenographer Is Oil Queen.

Thirteen years ago a stenographer at $10 a week, today one of the richest women in Kentucky and known as "the oil queen"—that is the brief story of the rapid rise of Ora Hood. When she was eighteen years of age she worked as a lawyer's stenographer, then became amanuensis to a minister who was writing books. She met an oil operator named Russell, whom she married. The match was unhappy, and they separated, but Mrs. Russell had learned something about oil as well as matrimony. She had become an oil "spotter." Down in Venezuela she saw oodles of oil land, and she tried to interest American capital without avail. But on a trip to Kentucky she discovered traces of oil and took leases of many thousands of acres. The first "shot" developed oil of amazing richness and flow. Mrs. Russell now lives on the shady side of Easy street. She halls from Bloomington, Ill.

"Marrying Judge" a Woman.

There's a woman in Kansas, Mrs. Mary H. Cooper of Beloit, who performs more marriage ceremonies than any other probate judge within a hundred miles. In Kansas the probate judge is empowered to tie the nuptial knot. Mrs. Cooper serves in that office for her county. Couples from other counties often engage her services. She leaves out the word "obey," for she declares it's a relic of the times when a woman was a chattel. "Nowadays," says Mrs. Judge Cooper, "the word is puerile in the marriage vow. If a woman loves a man she will obey him; if not, no silly vow will alter the sad and grim condition."

FRANCES WARD.

Will Stick to Dad.

"Come, indoors immediately!" called a nurse to a small boy whose father was going out. "You won't go to heaven if you're so naughty." "I don't want to go to heaven," was the aggrieved reply; "I want to go with father!"—Brooklyn Citizen.

China Restoring Congenial Occupation For Girls With Artistic Tastes.

It would be hard to find a more delightful profession for a girl with practical artistic tastes than that of the little known art of china restoring. It is a special craft which has hitherto been known to very people, the secrets of the trade, as a rule, being handed down from father to son for generations. But now that women are invading every sphere of usefulness the art of china restoring has not escaped them. The Dresden coach seen in the illustration was a complete wreck, but was restored recently by a girl who has taken up the work professionally.

BOUNDARY TREATY AFFECTS VAST TERRITORY

TERRITORY INVOLVED IN TREATY UNDER CONSIDERATION

CHICAGO.—Half a million square miles of territory are affected by a most important boundary treaty which has been pending between the United States and Great Britain since early in 1909 and which now is under consideration by the Canadian government. The pact relates to the boundary waters between this country and Canada and takes away the old dividing line in a measure by throwing open these waters to the use of both nations for domestic and sanitary purposes, for navigation for commerce, and for power and irrigating purposes. It provides for the creation of an international commission with full power to pass upon questions arising under the treaty and to enforce its decisions.

 ing contest for governor that the full Republican strength of the Twelfth district be enrolled on next Monday. Its purpose is the discussion of plans for the achievement of that result. While our fight for Chase S. Osborn in the upper peninsula will by no means be concluded next Monday, at least one of the most important details will have been cared for.
 "I cannot exaggerate in anything I may say the psychological affect which a big enrollment up here will have upon the political situation below the straits. A heavy Republican enrollment next Monday will be the most effective substantiation it is possible to secure to the claims which Mr. Osborn's friends have been making that the upper peninsula stands solidly and unitedly at his back in this fight.
 Brings Best of Good Cheer.
 "Regarding the situation below, I bring you the best of good cheer. There has been during the past month, the most striking and remarkable movement in every section of lower Michigan toward Osborn as the logical candidate of the party for governor. This landslide in his direction may be noted everywhere, it is on every man's lips and has resulted in a very general admission that Osborn has within the past thirty days easily gained the pole in the race.
 "This condition is the result of two causes, the character of campaign waged by Osborn, which has been unique in its fearlessness and vigor, and the withdrawal of Judge Montgomery from the contest, and the almost complete enlistment of the Montgomery forces under the Osborn banner. Add to this the undeniable existence of a widespread demand for a change in state administration, which is universal, and it must be admitted that Osborn in this game now holds the winning cards.

 "Your coming here tonight gives tangible evidence of the loyalty for Osborn which is rampant in every portion of the peninsula, and I say to you that this loyalty and unanimity in Mr. Osborn's behalf in his home district, just as it made his candidacy formidable in the first instance, will also make his nomination sure in the finals."

Escanabans Among Speakers.
 The next speaker introduced was Mayor Frank P. Sullivan of the Soo, who eloquently worded the deep sense of appreciation of Chippewa county for the support which the balance of the district was giving Chippewa's favorite son.

He was followed by John Cumiskey of Escanaba, who described the unanimous character of the Osborn following in Delta. Myron J. Sherwood declared Maquette county second to none in the district in its loyalty, and similar assurances were made by Dr. F. P. Bohn of Newberry, Ira C. Jennings of Escanaba, Frank A. Bell of Negaunee, A. F. Dixon of Stambaugh, Thomas Conlin of Crystal Falls, L. T. Sterling of Iron Mountain, Robert J. Shields of Houghton, R. B. Webb of Crystal Falls, F. G. Jenks of Marquette, Dr. Gunn of Marquette and W. R. Oates of Laurium.

The meeting adjourned with enthusiasm for the upper peninsula candidate at a high point and with a determination to spare no effort to secure a full enrollment on Monday, the 4th.

RAILROAD BILL IS GREATLY CHANGED

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., April 1.—The administration railroad bill was reported to the house today with many of its original features eliminated. It still retains, however, provisions for a commerce court, regulation of railway agreements, consolidations, securities, rates and routes.

The minority report opposes a commerce court, change in the law requiring notice and hearings on restraining orders and the provisions legalizing agreements among carriers if filed, even if not approved by the interstate commerce commission. The minority objects to the commerce court being authorized to legalize consolidation by permitting the acquisition of one competing line by another.

It Shows In The Baking

Occident Flour is a few cents higher in price than ordinary flour. This enables the millers to raise the quality to highest grade in the world. And the difference shows in the baking.

Occident Flour

Famous food experts and expert bakers test it at the mills constantly. They guarantee it to suit you better for every flour purpose than any other made. Order a trial sack from your grocer. If baking with it does not convince you that Occident is the only flour for you to use—it costs you nothing.

Your grocer is authorized to refund without argument the full purchase price of any package of Occident Flour which you do not find satisfactory. Please try a sack at our risk. For Sale By F. H. Atkins & Co. Escanaba, Mich.
