JOHN MOBERG SMOTHERS TO DEATH IN SAWDUST

Falls Into Dust Room at Wells Flooring Plant and is Dead When Found a Short Time Later

John Moberg, assistant engineer at the hardwood flooring plant at Wells, lost his life this morning by falling into the dust room and being smothered before he was missed by the other employes about the mill.

According to the information secured by The Mirror, Mr. Moberg went to the top of the dust room to see why more of the sawdust and waste material was not falling down to the conveyors that feed the battery of fire boxes and after some time his body was found in this place.

The Place of Death.

The dust room is a large room near the fire room, which contains all the waste from the saws and planers. Everything that is waste goes into it through conveyors and from this room it is fed to the fires by another system of conveyors. Occasionally, when the waste is not coming fast enough to keep up steam, a man goes to the top of the house and through a trap door looks for an obstruction in the way of a large piece of wood that may have lodged in some manner to stop the smaller waste from moving.

The room itself is always so full of fine dust that a handful may be grabbed in the air, and Moberg probably lost his balance while trying to locate some trouble and fell to his death, for it would only be a matter a few minutes that any one could live in the thick dust.

Body Brought to City.

Mr. Moberg was a single man and about thirty-seven years old. He lived with his mother, Mrs. Sophia Moberg, at 307 South Maple street. Besides his mother he is survived by two brothers and a sister, all of whom live in this city.

His remains were brought to this city and taken to D. A. Oliver's undertaking establishment, where they now are pending the making of arrangements for the funeral.

GIVES WIFE FARM TO KEEP OUT OF JAIL

Charles Kuback, a Ford River township farmer, was arraigned in Justice Glaser's court yesterday afternoon on a charge of having deserted his wife and two children and not providing for their support. He was found guilty and sentenced to a term of sixty days in the county jail, but Judge Glaser suspended the sentence upon condition that Kuback make good an agreement to support his family. As a guarantee that he would do this, Kuback deeded over to his wife a forty acre farm.

John Nichols, who stole two coats, one worth $10 and the other valued at $2, from the stable of William J. Martens, was convicted of larceny and sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail in default of paying a fine of $10 and costs. At the time of his arrest Nichols, who claims to hail from Detroit, was wearing one of the stolen coats, which were the property of Mr. Martens.

LOCAL EXPRESS MEN PROMOTED

By a well deserved promotion which came to O. F. Graves, for four years agent for the American Express company here, Nicholas Smith is advanced, he being selected to fill the position made vacant by Mr. Graves. The position that Mr. Smith vacates will be filled by Joseph Brown, who up to this time has acted as driver for the company. The advance in position that has been offered the three young men is considered as well merited by their friends in Escanaba. Mr. Graves is to take an important position with the company in Milwaukee.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS OWN MILWAUKEE

(By Associated Press.) Milwaukee, Wis., April 6.—Complete election returns show the plurality for Emil Seidel, the Social Democratic candidate, for mayor to be 7,109, which is the largest with one exception in the history of Milwaukee.

The new council will consist of twenty-one Social Democrats, ten Democrats and four Republicans. The new board of supervisors will be composed of eleven Social Democrats, three Republicans and two Democrats. The Social Democratic party also elected two out of seven civil judges.

(By Associated Press.) Springfield, Ill., April 6.—The election reports on the prohibition question show that thirty-nine towns went wet, nineteen wet towns went dry and seventy-two wet towns retain the sa- loons; 110 dry towns remain dry.

LIQUOR DEALERS ARE DENIED A REHEARING

Another Chapter is Closed in the So-called Boycotting Case of F. L. Baldwin Against the Escanaba Liquor Dealers' Association—Story of the Case.

By the refusal of Circuit Judge S. S. Cooper to grant a rehearing in the case of F. L. Baldwin, editor of The Escanaba Journal, against the Escanaba Liquor Dealers' association, notice of which refusal has been received in this city, another chapter has been closed in this somewhat noted so-called boycott case, which has excited much interest not only in Escanaba but throughout the upper peninsula since it was first begun in January, 1908.

It will be recalled that this case grew out of the alleged boycott of Mr. Baldwin and his newspaper, and also a secondary boycott, by the liquor dealers of Escanaba, because of his activity in the crusade which re-

The marriage of Miss Clotilda Foad, formerly of this city, but who has made her home at Marquette for a period of years, and Albert E. Herron of this city took place at Marquette this morning. The wedding was private, only relatives and a few intimate friends being present. The newly married couple will leave today for a wedding trip to Cleveland, Ohio, the home of the groom's family and on their return to Escanaba, will make their home at 400 Harrison avenue.

MRS. SAYLER TELLS OF HEARING SHOTS

(By Associated Press.) Watseka, Ill., April 6.—Mrs. Sayler, one of the defendants on trial here for the murder of her husband, testified today that her husband refused to take part in a game of cards and that after the game started he rushed into the parlor and taking a hatchet from under a couch threatened to kill Dr. Miller. Mrs. Sayler testified that she left the room and shortly after heard shots fired. When she returned to the room her husband was dead.

YEOMEN GIVE A PLEASANT SOCIAL

Although the weather last evening was anything but agreeable, a good sized crowd assembled in the North Star hall last evening to attend the card party and social hop given by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen. Those in attendance were well repaid, for they had a splendid time. Card playing occupied the earlier part of the evening. Refreshments were then served and the remainder of the evening was filled in with the pleasure of dancing.

ROOSEVELT TO QUIT ROME TONIGHT

(By Associated Press.) Rome, Italy, April 6.—This is the last day of the Roosevelts' visit in this city and it has been a busy one. Colonel Roosevelt attended several social functions and received a large number of prominent callers. The Roosevelt party will leave Rome at midnight for Spezia.

BOATS HEADED THIS WAY FOR LUMBER

J. E. Byrns has been notified that the steamer Nicks has left Manitowoc for Nahma and will probably arrive there tomorrow morning for a load of lumber for Chicago. Mr. Byrns is also expecting two boats to arrive at Wells not later than Saturday for loads for Chicago. The boats are the steamer Prentice and barge Halsted. "While this will be a busy season in lumber shipping, it is a little too early to make much of a forecast as to how it will compare with 1909," said Mr. Byrns, this morning when asked what the lumber outlook would be for the coming season.

TEACHER'S FATHER IS ELECTED MAYOR

Miss Veda McGillivray, teacher of the domestic science department in the Escanaba High school, has received the pleasing intelligence that her father, J. J. McGillivray, was yesterday elected mayor of Black River Falls, Wis. Mr. McGillivray is well known throughout Wisconsin and has held a number of important political offices. He is considered a strong man and made considerable of a record for himself along creditable lines while filling the office of state senator from his district. He is a manufacturer and will undoubtedly give Black River Falls a businesslike administration while he is at the head of municipal affairs.

DROWNED SEAMAN FLOATS TO SHORE

Body of Alex Vallier, a Sailor Who Fell Overboard from Steamer Runnells Last October, is Found on Beach Six Miles Below Ford River—The Details.

After being in the water for several months, the body of Alex Vallier, a sailor who was lost off the steamer Runnells while the vessel was coming to Escanaba last October, finally drifted ashore and was found about 5:30 o'clock last evening on the beach of Alex Dixon's farm about six miles below Ford River.

Mr. Dixon himself found the body and with the assistance of William G. Williams took it from the water. Coroner L. O. Kiratine was notified of the finding of the body and drove to the scene this morning, returning this afternoon. The body was also brought here and is now at D. A. Oliver's undertaking rooms. It is in bad condition from having been in the water so long.

The identity of the dead man as Alex Vallier was established by letters, cards and memoranda of various kinds found in the pockets of his clothing. Among the memoranda were a number of receipts showing Vallier to have been a member of the Cleveland branch of the Lake Seaman's union.

It is known that Vallier had a sister, Miss Addie Vallier, living at St. Ignace, or on November 12 last she wrote Coroner Kiratine to notify her in case her brother's body was found. Coroner Kiratine, under the circumstances, did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. He will, however, hold inquests into the deaths of John Moberg and Elmer DeWitt, accounts of whose tragic fates will be found elsewhere in this paper.

Miss Vallier has been notified of the finding of her brother's body and until she is heard from the remains will not be buried.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED HERE

While Picking Over Potatoes in the Cellar of a Local Boarding House, Michael Sheridan, Escaped Convict from Marquette, is Arrested By Officer Early—Story.

About 2:25 o'clock this afternoon Police Officer Hugh Early did a good stroke of business for himself and incidentally rejoiced the hearts of the authorities of the branch state prison at Marquette by capturing Michael Sheridan, who escaped from the prison about ten days ago.

Sheridan is under an indeterminate sentence in the Marquette prison for killing a man at Northland and has served about two years of his term. Since his escape the officers around this section of the state have been closely watching for him. That Officer Early should be the man to capture him and thereby earn a reward of $25 will be pleasing news to his friends.

The story of how Sheridan came to be captured is somewhat amusing. It appears that while Officer Early was at the station today he met Mr. Magnuson, who conducts a boarding house at 1200 Ludington street. With Mr. Magnuson was an old friend whom Early jocularly told Magnuson somewhat resembled Sheridan, the escaped convict.

Mr. Magnuson had not heard of Sheridan's having been in prison or escaping therefrom and after expressing his surprise he told Officer Early that he believed Sheridan was at his (Magnuson's) house picking over potatoes in the cellar.

Officer Early was not slow in acting upon this information and going to Magnuson's boarding house he found, as Magnuson had stated, that the man picking over potatoes was Sheridan. He placed him under arrest and took him to the police station, where he is now awaiting the arrival of an officer to take him back to Marquette. The officials of the prison were immediately notified of Sheridan's capture and said they would send an officer here to get him.

COMMON COUNCIL HAS BUSY SESSION

Considerable Business of Importance Comes Up for Consideration and Action Tuesday Evening—Treasurer's Report Shows Cash Balance—Summary of Proceedings.

As was anticipated, the session of the common council Tuesday evening was a busy affair and considerable business of importance came up for consideration and action. FALLS FROM TOP OF DOCK AND MEETS DEATH BELOW

Elmer DeWitt of Grand Junction is Victim of Fatal Accident This Morning—The Details.

While assisting in unloading planks on the top of No. 5 dock this morning, Elmer DeWitt accidentally fell off the dock and after hurtling through the air for sixty feet struck the ice below and was almost instantly killed.

When his fellow workmen on the dock rushed to his assistance he was still breathing, but unconscious, and in a few moments was dead.

His body was taken to D. A. Oliver's undertaking establishment, where it will remain until instructions as to its disposition are received.

Here But a Short Time.

DeWitt was a young man and came to this city but three weeks ago after having been at Brampton a short time. His exact age is unknown. His home was at Grand Junction Mich., and a telegram announcing his tragic death was sent to his parents, who also live there.

This afternoon a reply to the telegram was received and instructions were given to send the young man's body to Grand Junction for burial. The facts that the deceased came from Grand Junction and that his parents reside there were ascertained from a letter which was found in a pocket of his clothing and which letter was addressed to him at Brampton.

From all that can be learned, DeWitt's death was purely the result of an accident for which nobody could be held accountable.

COURT OF INQUIRY REPORTS ON BROWNVILLE CASE.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, D. C., April 6.—The court of inquiry that was appointed to investigate the discharge of the colored soldiers, who, it was alleged, "shot up" Brownville, Texas, about a year ago, today signed a report which they have made to the secretary of war. No intimation can be obtained as to what the findings are. Later:—The court of inquiry finds in their report that there is sufficient evidence to clearly sustain the charge that the shooting was done by the colored soldiers.

COMMANDER GOODELL LOOKS OVER YANTIC

H. S. Goodell of Painsdale, commander of the Yantic, the training ship of the Escanaba and Hancock Naval Reserves, has gone to Sturgeon Bay, where the Yantic is now undergoing repairs, and will spend a few days at the shipyard there. From reports received from Sturgeon Bay excellent progress is being made with the work on the Yantic, and the ship will be ready to go into commission in May. It is not probable that the Yantic will be seen in Portage Lake waters until July 4, as the Escanaba reserves desire to use the ship until then.

TURKEY FACES A REVOLT ON TAXES

(By Associated Press.) Constantinople, Turkey, April 6.—Fourteen battalions of Turkish troops have been ordered to North Albania, where a revolt has broken out over the new taxes that are now ready for collection. The people claim that the government wants too much money altogether and declare they will not pay it.

The Escanaba Grocers and Butchers' association will hold a special meeting tomorrow evening for the consideration of important business. It is expected that one of the subjects to be discussed will be the proposed establishment of a central delivery system in this city.

WATERMELON.

Watermelon is not, as many think, indigestible, if ripe, unless it be improperly mixed with other foods. Dr. Tanner broke his memorable 40 days' fast on watermelon. Many foods that digest readily when eaten alone digest with difficulty when mixed with others. This is especially true of fruits and nuts. Melons and fruits should preferably not be eaten with meat or eggs, from which they differ most in composition, and therefore in process of digestion. It is important that the melons, like fruits in general, should be ripe; otherwise they may be as indigestible as green apples.

OMAHA BOYS TO TAKE CENSUS OF THE CITY

(Special to The Daily Mirror.)

Omaha, Neb., April 6.—nearly a hundred high school boys, working under the direction of Census Enumerator Charles L. Saunders, of this district, began today to take a preliminary census of the city of Omaha. It is expected that the work of the boys will be of great assistance in taking the official count, which begins April 15, and will aid the regular nose-counters in finding every man, woman and child in the Nebraska metropolis. It is confidently predicted that the census will show that Omaha's present population is nearly double what it was ten years ago when it was 102,555.

This plan was evolved by Mr. Saunders and will be paid for by the business men of Omaha. Official enumerators have been hard to secure in Omaha. Feeling it necessary to have some means of checking them, Mr. Saunders proposed the boy census takers.

The government furnishes enumerators with all the preliminary blanks they need, printed on white paper, with the schedules on one side and directions for reporting on the other. These schedules will be taken out by the high school boys and one left for each family in the city.

The city has been divided into ninety-three districts. Each boy will have a district and will be expected to leave a schedule with each family and also to make a count of his own.

All the report each boy will have to make is on small cards about the size of a postal card. On these he writes the number of every house in his district, together with the total number of people sleeping in that house. His count ends there, and he leaves the schedules to be picked up later by the official enumerators if they are filled in; if not the enumerators must ask the questions and do the filling in.

The boys' cards will show the total number of people in each district, and working in the same districts the official enumerators will be expected to get an equal number or be sent back over their routes.

The campaign to get every one counted will be extended after the official count, the Omaha business men having published thousands of cards to be mailed or sent in to the Commercial Club by people who did not see the census man. The city wants to get into the 200,000 class.

CLEANER CITY IS STILL GOAL OF CITY FATHERS

Proposed Ordinance Providing for Disposal of Garbage is Introduced in the Council.

That the members of the common council of Escanaba are still aiming at the goal of a cleaner and more sanitary city was manifested at the meeting last evening, when Alderman Priester introduced an ordinance drawn by City Attorney I. C. Jennings, "providing for the disposal of garbage, offal and refuse matter in the city of Escanaba, for the licensing of a garbage master, and providing penalties for the violations of the ordinance."

"There was not much discussion of the proposed measure, but it appeared to meet with favor and doubtless will be passed when it comes up for final action. It was referred to the committee on ordinances, which probably will report thereon at the adjourned meeting of the council tomorrow evening. In view of the importance of the proposed measure and the general interest it will be to the local public, The Mirror herewith publishes it in full. It reads as follows:

Text of the Ordinance.
THE CITY OF ESCANABA ORDINANCES:

Sec. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person residing within the limits of the city of Escanaba or elsewhere to deposit, throw or place any garbage, offal, dead animals, manure, paper, straw, dirt, ashes, swill, stagnant or filthy water, putrid or unwholesome meat, decayed vegetables, tin cans, crockery, glassware, bottles, wire, or any rubbish or refuse matter, whether offensive or not to the public health, in any lane, street, alley or public place in the city of Escanaba; nor shall any person place, deposit, or throw any garbage, offal, dead animal, manure, paper, straw, dirt, ashes, swill, stagnant or filthy water, putrid or unwholesome meat, decayed vegetables, tin cans, crockery, glassware, bottles, wire, or any rubbish or refuse matter upon any private property, whether owned by said person or not; unless the same shall be enclosed in proper vessels, cans, tanks or boxes which shall be kept in the rear of the house, or in the basement, area, or passageway, or in the alley back of said premises in such situation as will not prevent the use of the alley as a thoroughfare and never upon the street, or sidewalk; and all such tanks, vessels, cans or boxes shall be promptly delivered to the collector when called for and shall be returned by him to said place or places without unnecessary delay, and no person, except for such purpose, shall in any manner interfere with said vessels, tanks, cans or boxes, or with the contents thereof; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that this section shall not apply to any person who immediately destroys, by cremation or otherwise, satisfactorily to the board of health of the city of Escanaba, such garbage, offal, dead animals, manure, paper, straw, dirt, ashes, swill, stagnant or filthy water, putrid or unwholesome meat, decayed vegetables, tin cans, crockery, glassware, bottles, wire, or any rubbish or refuse matter.

Board of Health Powers.

Sec. 2. The words "garbage" and "offal" as used in this ordinance shall be held to include every refuse accumulation of animal, fruit, or vegetable matter, liquid or otherwise, that attends the preparation, use, cooking, dealing in, or working of meat, fish, fowl or vegetables.

Sec. 3. Said board of health is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into a contract with any suitable person or persons for the collecting and removing of all garbage, offal, dead animals, manure, paper, straw, dirt, ashes, swill, stagnant or filthy water, putrid or unwholesome meat, decayed vegetables, tin cans, crockery, glassware, bottles, wire or any rubbish or refuse matter in the city of Escanaba, and for furnishing the necessary vehicles and teams for such work, in the manner directed by said board. Said board of health shall have the power to make such rules, regulations and requirements to be contained in said contract, as said board of health deem for the best interests of the city; and said board may also divide said city into convenient garbage districts. The person or persons thus entering into a contract for the collection and removal of such garbage, offal, dead animals, manure, paper, straw, dirt, ashes, swill, stagnant or filthy water, putrid or unwholesome meat, decayed vegetables, tin cans, crockery, glassware, bottles, wire, or any rubbish or refuse matter, as hereinbefore stated, shall upon the recommendation of the said board of health receive a license for that purpose, issued by the mayor of said city, and no license shall be issued to any other person, firm or corporation for the gathering of such garbage and refuse matter. And such person or persons licensed, shall give a bond to the city of Escanaba, with sufficient sureties, and in such amount as may be required by said board of health. The condition of such bond shall be that said person or persons, so licensed, shall in all things carry out the provisions of the contract thus entered into between himself or themselves and the said board of health, acting for the said city, and such rules and regulations as may from time to time be made by said board of health. Said contract and bond shall not go into effect or become operative until the same are approved by the common council of the city of Escanaba.

No Pay From the City.

Sec. 4. The garbage master thus licensed, as heretofore stated, shall receive no compensation from the city of Escanaba, but shall be permitted to make such arrangements with the citizens of said city, in the various districts that may be established by said board of health, for the collecting and removing of garbage, offal, dead animals, manure, paper, straw, dirt, ashes, swill, stagnant or filthy water, putrid or unwholesome meat, decayed vegetables, tin cans, crockery, glassware, bottles, wire or any rubbish or refuse matter from the premises of the owner or occupant of property: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that the patrons so furnishing garbage, offal, and other refuse matter as aforesaid shall not be subjected to a weekly charge of more than ten cents for each household and not more than ($1 dollar a week for each hotel, restaurant or boarding house. And said licensed garbage master shall gather said garbage and other refuse matter and remove the same to the city dumping grounds as often as the board of health shall direct.

Sec. 5. The person or persons so licensed and authorized as hereinbefore stated, in collecting and removing garbage and other refuse matter as aforesaid shall provide and use therefore only vehicles which shall be water tight and kept so, and covered on top, so as to prevent the contents or any odor escaping therefrom; and all vehicles used for the collection and removal of garbage and other refuse matter shall have attached thereto on both sides a sign with the words "garbage wagon" painted thereon, together with the number of the wagon, in black letters, not less than four inches in height, on a white ground.

Sec. 6. Any and every person or persons failing to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, or of the rules and regulations made under and by virtue of the same, shall, for every offense, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than twenty-five dollars and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment at hard labor in the common jail of the county of Delta, at the discretion of the court or magistrate. This ordinance shall take effect twenty days from and after its passage.

THE THEATRES

The Peterson: Eugene Walter, coming forth with a great play in "The Wolf," which enjoyed a long run at the Lyric Theatre in New York, clearly proved that the great success of "Paid in Full" was no accident, and further demonstrated this when he produced "The Easiest Way." Of these three great plays, undoubtedly, "The Wolf" is the strongest. With its baring of the hearts of man, its picturesque characters of the north-west woods, it is big and searching. Mr. Walter frankly called his play a melodrama, which is, of course, the highest form of dramatic writing, when correctly applied, to a well-written and consistently constructed drama of human beings, people that live and move, not puppets pulled here and there by the hand behind the scenes.

"The Wolf" will be seen at the Peterson on Sunday evening, April 10.

Ben's Theatre:—The theater goes of Escanaba have a treat in store when "A Texas Ranger" comes to Ben's Theatre on April 10th, matinee and night. This is one of those quiet melodramas that burns little powder.

GENERAL WOOD IS NOW HEAD OF FEDERAL ARMY

New Chief of Staff Has Had a Brilliant Military Career--His Phenomenal Rise.

(Special to The Daily Mirror.) Washington, April 6.—Army prophets who many years ago predicted a brilliant military career for the young surgeon, Leonard Wood, had their predictions verified today when Major General Leonard Wood's appointment as chief of staff, to succeed Major General J. Franklin Bell, was confirmed. This appointment places Major General Wood in command of the entire army of the United States.

9, 1891 was commended for "gallant and hazardous service, courage and energy" in the campaign against hostile Apache Indians in Sonora, Mexico, during which he commanded the detachment of infantry. He joined the army as a contract surgeon on June 9, 1885, and participated in the campaign against the Indians in Arizona and Mexico. He was with Lawton's expedition against the Apaches under Geronimo from June, 1886, to February, 1887, commanding the infantry detachment and scouts in Arizona, New Mexico and Northern Mexico, and served in the field in Arizona from February, 1887, to July, 1889.

ed States. Many other promotions will follow that of General Wood.

Here briefly is the phenomenal rise of General Wood in the army:

Assistant Surgeon, January 5, 1886.

Captain and Assistant Surgeon, January 5, 1891.

Colonel First United States Volunteer Cavalry, May 8, 1898.

Brigadier General, United States Volunteers, July 8, 1898.

Major General, United States Volunteers, December 7, 1898.

Honorably discharged, April 13, 1899.

Brigadier General, United States Volunteers, April 13, 1899.

Major General, United States Volunteers, December 5, 1899, to June 30, 1901.

Brigadier General, United States Army, February 4, 1901.

Major General, United States Army, August 8, 1902.

Major General Wood's rise in the army is all the more remarkable from the fact that it has met with opposition at more than one stage, but he has had the favor of three presidents, and this favor, it is the unanimous opinion here, has been won by merit.

Received Medal of Honor.

When General Wood was made a brigadier general in the regular army by President McKinley, it gave President Roosevelt the opportunity later to make him a major general, despite the general impression which now exists that it was President Roosevelt's promotion alone that made it possible for Major General Wood to head the army. His friendship with President McKinley grew out of his attendance on Mrs. McKinley as her surgeon and with President Roosevelt through his association in the Santiago campaign with the Rough Riders.

MOTHER SAVES HER CHILDREN FROM FIRE

Marinette, Wis., April 6.—Mrs. John Tweedie proved herself a heroine when in the face of the greatest danger she saved her five children from the flames which destroyed her home. Hugh, the baby of the family, was taken from the house after the bed clothing was on fire and even the pillow upon which the child's head rested, was in flames. Mrs. Tweedie's hair caught fire and her life was threatened, but she succeeded in extinguishing the flames and escaped uninjured.

NEW FOOTBALL RULES MAKE A SAFER GAME

SIX CHANGES ADOPTED BY COMMITTEE FOR THE INTER-COLLEGIATE GRIDIRON CONTESTS.

SAFER football and the elimination of the danger of having the gridiron game wiped off the list of sports at the big colleges are aimed at in the six changes made in the rules by the intercollegiate football rules committee which met in New York a few days ago.

The first change adopted was the removal of the present restriction that a runner receiving the ball directly from the snap back must run five yards to one side. This, in the opinion of the committee, will give the quarter back greater opportunities to make good runs; will offer an opportunity for quicker plays, and create a need for the exercise of more strategy.

The second change provides that seven men be kept by the offense on the line of scrimmage. This will prevent the drawing back of linemen for offensive plays and is a direct blow at mass plays.

The third change is the prohibition of the diving tackle. The fourth change consists in the division of each half into two periods of 15 minutes each. This change is made so that there may be better opportunity to determine the physical condition of players.

Another clause under this fourth division directs that a player compelled to leave the game may return during a subsequent quarter if he recovers sufficiently.

The fifth change provides that no pushing or pulling of the runner with the ball is to be allowed.

In analyzing the source of injuries to players the committee found that the diving tackle and the repetition of massed attacks at one point were the chief causes of harm.

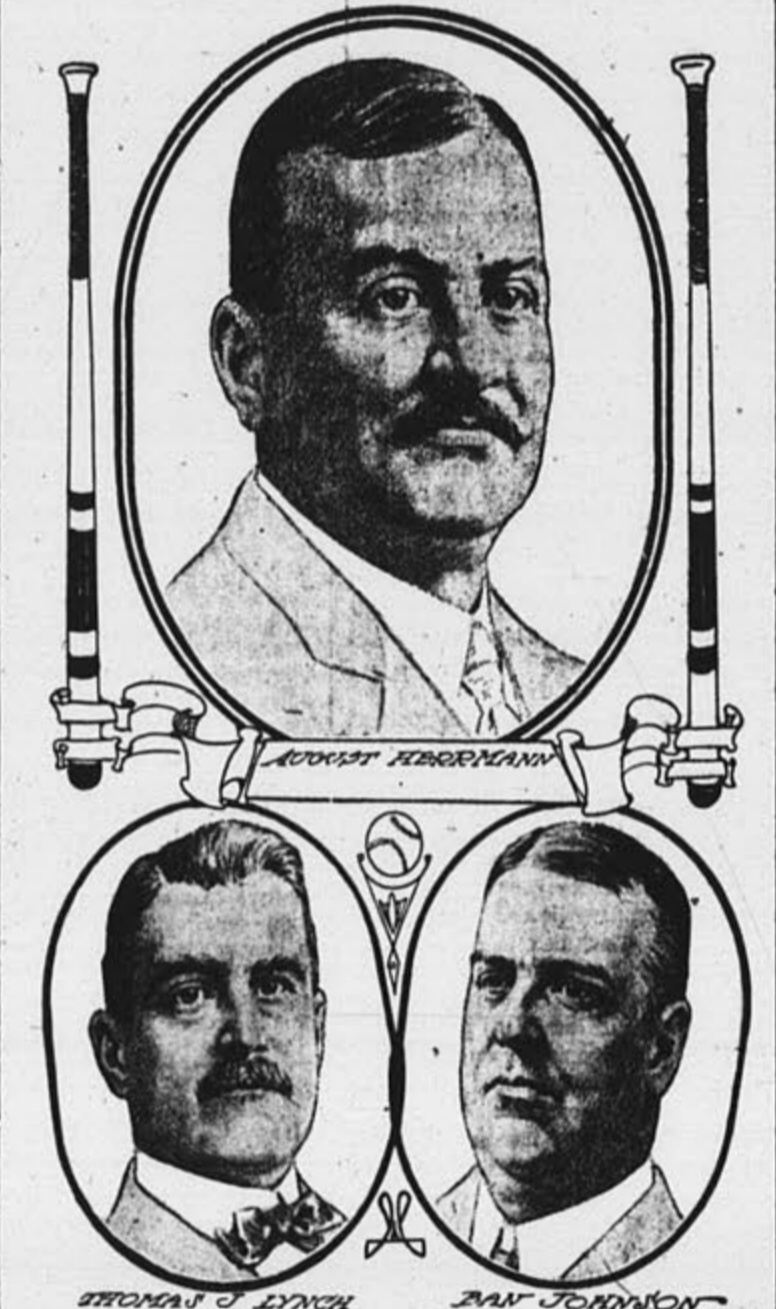

The sixth change prescribes that an onside kick must advance the ball 20 yards from the line of scrimmage. That is, if the ball strikes the ground short of 20 yards the offense becomes offside. This rule is also aimed at mass plays.

Having made these six changes to throw safeguards around the game, the committee took up a discussion of two plans for directing the style of playing and strengthening the offense sufficiently to balance the new opportunities for defense. The first plan contains two main features—first, the limitation of the forward pass to territory behind the line of scrimmage; second, limitation of the width of scrimmage lines.

Curious Properties of Minerals. Certain minerals exhibit the curious optical property known as asterism. That is to say, they show a star-shaped figure when light is reflected from them, or transmitted through them. This is seen, for example, in the star stone, a sort of sapphire, and in the star ruby. A note in Knowledge describes and figures the asterism of mica. The photograph of a lamp taken through a plate of mica shows a beautiful six-rayed star, with six fainter radiations between. Outwardly star mica resembles the ordinary form and shows the same phenomena under polarized light. When examined under the microscope, however, the star mica is found to contain fine needles of another mineral, and these are regularly arranged at angles of 120 degrees. To these needles the star seen by transmitted light is due.

'SUPREME COURT' OF BASEBALL WORLD

National Commission Divided by Decision Which Permits Johnny Kling to Catch for the Chicago Cubs This Season.

THE National Commission, composed of Garry Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Reds, Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National league, and Ban B. Johnson, president of the American league, after months of discussion, has decided to let Johnny Kling catch for the Chicago Cubs.

The finding of the commission is that Kling shall pay from his own pocket a fine of $700; that he cannot play with any other club for a year, and that the Chicago club shall not pay Kling more than $4,500 a year.

Probably no case has ever come before the National commission, "the supreme court of baseball," that attracted so much attention. Every baseball fan knew that Kling was without a peer as a catcher. His work with the Cubs, winners of pennants and world's championships, was a standard of excellence at which young catchers aimed. With him out of the game the Cubs fell to second place in the National league race last year, and while Archer and Moran did excellent work behind the bat there were many who said that Kling's absence cost Murphy's club the National league pennant and probably the world's championship. Whether Kling's absence from the game for a year will interfere with his playing remains to be seen. He played a few games last year and it was because he was associated with some ineligible players that his case took on a more serious aspect.

It was claimed that Kling had written permission from Charles W. Murphy, president of the Cubs, to remain out of the game for a year to take charge of his billiard room in Kansas City, but Kling was unable to produce the letter when the commission asked for it. However, two Kansas City sporting writers made affidavit that they had seen the letter before Kling lost it. Murphy produced a copy of the letter, the genuineness of which was not questioned.

It was over the punishment that was to be meted out to Kling that the National commission had its wrangle. Johnson—who, by the way, is not friendly to Murphy—wanted to impose a fine on Kling. Herrmann, the chairman, and Lynch, the other member, would not agree to this, so when the written agreement was prepared it was signed only by Herrmann and Lynch, Johnson objecting to his name being attached to it.

Kling announced that he was ready to start training with the Cubs at once, and, having practiced daily in Kansas City while waiting for the commission to render its decision, will be in good condition before the season is far advanced. With Kling, Archer, Moran and Needham as catchers, the Cubs are stronger in the backstop department than any other club and Chicago fans are predicting another world's championship for the Windy City.

It is not unlikely that the case has started a row in the National commission that will not be easily patched over and fans are expecting further trouble in that august body.

"I believe a mistake has been made by the commission," said Ban Johnson, "but I shall offer no criticism of the work of Messrs. Lynch and Herrmann."

sulted in the seizure and subsequent burning of a number of slot machines in this city early in January, 1908. At that time the liquor dealers, it was developed at the trial of the case, held two meetings in Lemmer's hall and as a result of these meetings a committee consisting of Peter Lemmer, Phillip Dupont, Irene Marchand, Bert Boddy, Jacob Miller and Nels Ahlquist was appointed to wait upon the business men of the city.

Mr. Baldwin claimed that this procedure was for the purpose of intimidating and coercing the business men into refraining from patronizing The Journal, but the members of the committee claimed that it was only for the purpose of inducing the business men, who were friends of Mr. Baldwin, to wait upon him and endeavor to influence him so that he would not continue his fight against them and their business in his newspaper.

One year later, on January, 1909, Mr. Baldwin, by his attorney, A. H. Ryall, petitioned Judge John H. Stone, who then presided over this judicial circuit, for an injunction restraining the defendants from boycotting or in any way interfering with his business. A restraining order was issued by Judge Stone, and upon the preliminary hearing of the case in April, 1909, a temporary injunction was granted by the court.

At the October term of circuit court, and in his decision rendered last December, Judge Stone made the injunction permanent against J. J. Cleary, A. G. Crose, Peter Lemmer, Phillip Dupont, Irene Marchand, Jacob Miller and Nels Ahlquist, ex-Mayor M. Perron, who was also one of the defendants, was not held by the court in the injunction order.

The defendant Baldwin had claimed $10,000 damages and in his bill of complaint he asked the court to assess the damages. In his final decision Judge Stone allowed Mr. Baldwin $1,600 damages and costs.

At the term of court last January, Attorneys John Power and Cumiskey & Spencer for the defendants presented a motion for a rehearing of the case, claiming that one of the material witnesses for the plaintiff had, since the hearing of the case, expressed the opinion that he had been mistaken in his testimony. This motion was argued by the attorneys before Judge Cooper, who was presiding in the court at that time, and taken under consideration. Upon the motion Judge Cooper has finally rendered a decision in which he refuses to grant any rehearing. Judge Cooper's decision is as follows:

"A motion for rehearing in this cause is made by defendants in substance for the following reasons: "First. That there is not evidence to support the conclusions of the court and the decree entered.

"Second. Because of a mistake made in testifying by one of the witnesses, Herman Salinsky. "I am of the opinion that there was evidence to justify the conclusions of the able judge who heard the case and a rehearing therefore should not be granted for that reason.

"Affidavits are filed showing that the witness, Herman Salinsky, committed error in his testimony and this appears to be admitted by Mr. Salinsky in a counter affidavit filed by the complainant. I am of the opinion, however, that the error is one that does not justify a re-hearing of the case. The witness in question testified at the hearing to a conversation held with a committee of the liquor dealers who visited his place of business. In his testimony he stated that the conversation took place before the committee in question went upstairs, whereas he now admits in this counter affidavit that such conversation took place after the committee came down from upstairs. The conversation was the important feature of his testimony and he would not change his evidence as to what was said in this conversation. In view of this fact it is immaterial whether the conversation took place after or before the committee went upstairs.

"The motion for rehearing is denied with costs to complainant."

OLD MAIDISM NO REPROACH

Spinsterhood In These Days Has Come to Be a Badge of Honor. Why Stigma Has Passed From the Term "Old Maid."

It is not so long ago that the term "old maid" was regarded as a sort of reproach. Not so today. The expression has almost dropped out of the vernacular, and when it is spoken it means nothing to be dreaded and carries no sting with it. In the days of our grandmothers spinsterhood was always glossed among the awful possibilities, and it was the purpose of every girl's best endeavor to steer clear of it. Early marriages were the rule, and the woman who elected to live the single life was comparatively rare.

There are several reasons why the old time matrimonial limit has been extended. The most potent of these is the development of the business and self supporting woman. The college bred woman is another obstacle in the way of early matrimony. She does not in most cases succeed in getting her diploma until she is in her twenties, and should she go in for postgraduate honors she will not be ready to "settle down" until the quarter of a century mark is reached. The cost of living is playing its part in the prolongation of single blessedness, and the fact that the old ideals of simplicity in the home life are no more is also to be taken into consideration.

So the stigma has passed from the phrase "old maid." As an independent factor in our present social scheme she is indispensable and fits in everywhere most admirably. The time is actually come when we should find it embarrassing to do without her. It is wonderful, too, how well these "bachelor maids" succeed in preserving their good looks and womanly charm. The old fashioned dogma that business knowledge or a too comprehensive education unfits a woman for living the life for which she was created is as dead as a doornail.

Aside from the merely material possibilities of a trade or profession, the woman so trained makes a better wife and mother. There are those who will carp at this, but as a proposition it will stand. It requires no new argument to prove that the married woman who has the broader outlook which comes from a business life is better qualified to understand her husband and to counsel him and sympathize with him in his plans to succeed in the battle with the world. She will be able to administer her household affairs in accordance with business principles.

PAPER DOLL PARTY.

Novel Affair Planned to Amuse the Little Ones. A clever hostess provided an enjoyable party for her little girl, something that was truly pleasant for all. It was called a paper doll party, and the children had no idea, of course, what this party was to be like until they arrived and the hostess informed them that a good fairy had come the night before and left pretty paper dolls for them, but they would have to go in search of them. The yard was very large, so it was a long time before they found the paper dolls hidden among the rosebushes and flowers. In one place would be a very large doll; another very little doll, so tiny it could scarcely be seen, was found among the hollyhocks, and dolls of every description were picked up by the children. The hostess was clever enough to dress all dolls in green crape paper dresses, so the search for them among green leaves was not so easy as you might imagine. Of course the little girl who found the most fairy paper dolls received a reward, but it was merely a paper doll much larger and more nicely dressed. This would be great fun for the wee tots and something entirely new.

Children's parties often result in much loss of china, for the best brought up youngsters until they reach years of discretion cannot be relied upon to restrain their destructive tendencies. One's own boys and girls can be controlled when they are by themselves, but when they have youthful guests parental authority is harder to exercise. That drawback to the average juvenile entertainment is offset by using paper articles for the table. A single small box contains a whole outfit. First there is a table cloth neatly folded and looking exactly like damask. The pattern is so beautifully imitated that a few feet away it is impossible to distinguish the flimsy paper tablecloth from the expensive linen one. A little care has to be taken in smoothing the paper "cloth" on the table, for the paper tears easily. Paper plates are so cheap no one need hesitate about laying in a large stock of them, and as they require no washing they are a labor saving investment for a party. The paper dinner napkins and center spreads specially designed for party use are decorated to match the plates.

RAIL RATES MUST RISE, SAYS HEAD OF SOO LINE

Conditions Demand a General Freight Increase, Mr. Pennington Declares—His Views.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 6.—"The railroads must and will increase their freight rates. On one side the states and the general government are dictating to us, and on the other side are the unions, practically dictating their wages. The only recourse the railroads have is an increase in rates; the more the outgo the more the income must be."

Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo line, thus declared himself upon his return from three weeks vacation, spent at French Lick Springs and in New York. In New York he attended a dinner given to a number of railroad presidents by President Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio, where it may be presumed, the "hemmed-in" position of the railroads was at least informally discussed.

Have arrangements been made for the Soo to raise rates in the near future?" he was asked.

General Advance Coming. "No; no date has been set, and the Soo line could not take such a step independent of the other roads. There will be a general advance in rates, in keeping with the increased cost of operation and the curtailed receipts.

The same rules as to wages resulting from strike settlements and the fixing of rates and traffic conditions by state and national authorities are made to apply to all railroads, regardless of whether one is in a better condition to conform to them and pay dividends than is another. The pursuance of this policy will mean that some railroads will be forced into bankruptcy. The public does not want bankrupt railroads, but it will surely come.

"It makes some difference whether a railroad can pay dividends on a capitalization of $35,000 a mile and whether it can do so on a capitalization of $70,000 a mile. If it cannot pay dividends under the conditions prescribed the result is that the road falls rapidly into a bad state of repair. Ties and rails wear out and wrecks, entailing loss of life, become frequent. This is the inevitable result of inflicting impossible business conditions on a railroad. The Soo Line was built on merit, almost dollar for dollar invested; but the Wisconsin Central is capitalized at $70,000, almost twice that of the Soo, and it can be seen that enforced wages and rates work a correspondingly greater hardship on it than on the Soo.

Rates Drop as Taxes Rise. "The general tendency of freight rates in the past has been downward, but in ten years our taxes have increased from $160 a mile to $370. The railroads do not hoard their money. They put it into improving their lines, which gives an immediate return to the people along them in helping to build up their country. In most every other mercantile business profits are invested in property to lie idle, or nearly so, waiting for property around it to be improved and thus increase the value of the holding. The railroad takes the lead in investments that help to uphold property values.

"We have just one thing to sell and that is transportation, and we are going to keep on selling it just as cheap as we can, consistent with good service and good business policy. But these are factors which we must consider and as a result freight rates must be increased to correspond with the increased burdens that have been put onto the railroads.

CENTRAL DELIVERY IS A GOOD THING

Editor of The Soo Times Believes the System is a Good One and Should Be Adopted in Sault Ste. Marie.— Tells What He Personally Knows About It.

The editor of The Soo Times in noting the fact that the retail grocers and butchers of Escanaba have taken steps toward the establishment of a central or cooperative delivery system here, takes occasion to commend the idea and suggests that it would be a good plan for the Sault Ste. Marie grocers and merchants to adopt. He declares he has personal knowledge of the operation and success of such a plan and gives his readers the benefit of his knowledge in the following article, which may be of local interest as well:

"The Times would suggest the feasibility of such a move for Soo merchants. The writer has personal knowledge of two southern cities where the central delivery system was made a complete success for both merchants and patrons. The Soo covers a large area for its population, and it is almost impossible for the larger grocery stores and meat shops to make prompt deliveries even when they keep two rigs in operation. Under the central system less than one-third of the wagons and men now employed for delivering by grocery stores and meat markets alone could care for the entire delivery business of the city, including the dry goods, clothing and other lines as well.

"The independent plan seems to be more favorable than the cooperative for under that the cost is regulated by the amount of goods handled for each separate concern. Under this system the company operating the same places the necessary number of teams in commission, divides the city into districts and designates the hour of delivery for each. The merchants contracting with the company are given cards for each district, and the driver stops only where cards are displayed when making his collections for each trip. One company now in operation handles the business of a little city of 8,500 with eight teams, and the deliveries are more prompt than when each merchant had his own driver and team. The expense is said to be only about twenty-five per cent of the cost of maintaining separate driver and teams for each merchant.

"Since minimizing the expense of operation is the keynote of success in business today, the central delivery system offers an alluring inducement, and is worthy of an investigation by the Soo grocers, and meat men."

PROMINENT OHIOAN CHARGED WITH LIBEL

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., April 6.—John A. Penton of Cleveland, Ohio, secretary of the Merchants' Marine League of the United States, was placed under arrest today as he stepped from the room in which a committee is investigating the alleged ship subsidy lobby. The arrest of Penton was on an indictment for criminal libel upon Representative Steenerson of Minnesota and appeared in an article published in the official paper of the Marine League. The basis of the article was an attack that seemed to reflect upon the congressman's honesty and patriotism.

LABOR PARTY RULES FOSTER CITY AFFAIRS

Ticket of That Party is Elected Without Opposition—Vote in Favor of Local Option—Mine Closes Down and Many Men Are Thrown Out of Work—Other Notes.

(Special Correspondence.) Foster City, Mich., April 6.—The labor party candidates for the township offices were elected Monday, being the only ticket in the field, as follows: Supervisor, R. W. Pierce Jr.; clerk, Daniel Malloy; treasurer, A. J. Scott; board of review, A. P. Farrell and Magnus Swanson; justices, Charles Pearson and Stephen Farrell; constables, Charles Richards, Olof Olson and Charles Terrien; pond master, Fabian Rosseau.

The vote on the local option went 66 in favor of and 33 against.

The Calumet iron mine, located in this township, has closed down on account of the poor quality of ore being mined. The pumps were taken up April 4 and will be removed with the other machinery to some of the other mines belonging to the same company. The shutting down of the mine comes as a surprise to many, who expected a good shipping season from there this summer. Between fifty and 100 men are thrown out of employment, many of them being married, who moved to the mine this spring with their families.

of conditions in the zone, a good deal of which appears to have been well founded. The housing of the laborers, their insanitary environment and various other matters came in for a share of the criticism. The women's clubs undertook to remedy these matters, and by hard work and persistent endeavors they have done much toward making the canal zone a fit place for the habitation of human beings. Not only has much of the general cleaning up been done at the suggestion of the clubwomen, but reading rooms and other public places of recreation and culture have been established mainly through their efforts. The wives of some of the officials connected with digging the canal are prominent clubwomen, and, though far removed from their native spheres of action, they do not propose to enjoy south sea siestas all the time, notwithstanding the fact that the climate of the canal strip induces to languor.

THE COMET MAY GET YOU IF YOU DON'T WATCH OUT

On May 18 the Earth Will Pass Through Tail of Halley's Wanderer Through Space.

Have you made your plans as to what you will do on May 18? You haven't thought about it, you say, and you don't know why you should make plans? Well, it's time to think, because MAYBE you'll never have a chance to make plans after May 18.

Why? Just because that's the day we're going through the tail of Halley's comet. We are to be in the tail for two hours and five minutes, and we have never been in a comet's tail but once before, and that only for three minutes.

If, as some people think, the comet's tail is composed of deadly gases, then the probability is that on May 18, there will be no one left to think, but those who ought to know say there is no danger at all.

There are various ways suggested by which bad effects of contact with the terrible tail may be avoided. One bright mind has advised every one to get a can of oxygen and a helmet like divers wear, and sit with head encased in this life-giving atmosphere for the two hours and five minutes while our terrestrial ball whirls through the terrible tail.

Scientists Quiet Fears.
Another has suggested that if submarine craft could be supplied who cared to save their lives might dive down to the depths of the ocean, remaining until the tail had gone its way.

Some others think that the population might hide itself in mines, hermetically sealing the shaft, and not issuing forth for the prescribed two hours and five minutes. Still others have other plans.

One of the greatest objections to the mine scheme would be that if part of the population went down and the remainder staid up, those who were on the surface of the earth, instead of entombed in its bowels, might see wondrous sights while going through the tail and come out without any injury; and the cowardly ones who went below would always regret that they, too, had not stayed aloft and seen the grand spectacle.

Scientists generally have quieted all fears by saying that they do not believe there is the slightest danger to the earth because it is to be enveloped in the vaporous tail; and whether they are right or not, there is little use worrying or preparing for the event. It's another case of "let come what may, as come it will."

ORE CARRIERS GET READY FOR BUSINESS

Big Lake Vessels are Being Fitted Out for the Year's Work—Plan to Move Fifty Million Tons of Ore This Season—First Trips to be Made About April 15.

The big ore fleet is beginning to fit out for the year's work. The vessel owners have a big job to do, and are bestirring themselves. They plan to move 50,000,000 tons of ore before the ice again locks up the lakes. This is by all odds the biggest contract the lake carriers have ever undertaken, and the big fleet of ore carrying ships will soon be in trim to start on it. It must be accomplished between the middle of April and the first of next December—seven months' time—so there are no days to be wasted.

In Escanaba and at every port on the lakes there will soon be bustle on the docks and in the holds of the ore carriers. The ore fleet numbers between 200 and 300 big ships, owned by the steel corporation, the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, and several other companies and individuals. The steel corporation owns 102 of these vessels, and is the heaviest ship owner in the world, as well as the largest owner of iron mines and iron works.

To put the ore carrying fleet in training for its season's task is a job that requires the combined effort of an army of experts of high and low degree. When the ships lay up in the fall they are generally out of repair to some extent. A few of them get to their winter resting place in time to go into dry dock, and as long as the ice is not strong enough to prohibit navigation of the bay, with the aid of an ice crusher, the docks are kept busy putting boats in shape for the next season. But when winter settles down in earnest this must stop, and freighters which need serious repairs must wait until spring. Those which are not in bad shape, whose machinery may need some attention, for instance, continue the work, however, and are in condition before the machinists leave them. Some of them put the work over until a week or two before navigation opens in April. These are the ones upon which little work was required, and they are now receiving attention.

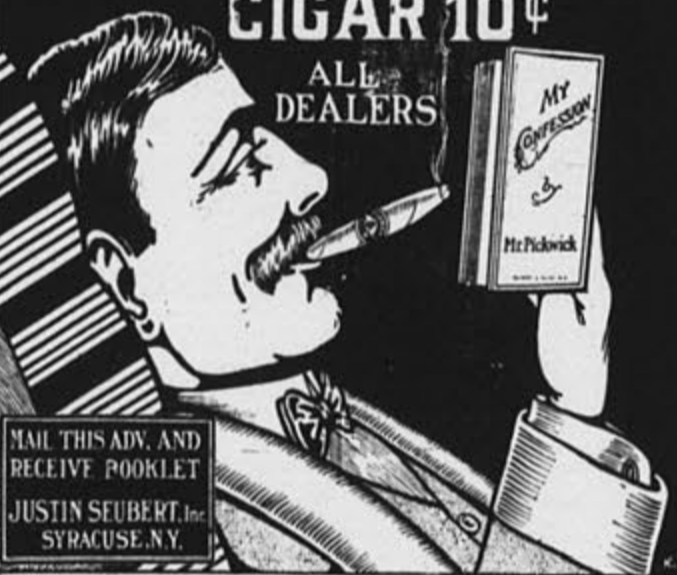

The engineer's crew for each boat arrives in port long before the other sailors, and where it is not full it is at once organized and set to work on details. The navigators generally come about the same time, and at once set to work getting their crews together, which is a big task, as each vessel takes from twenty to twenty-five men. These sailors are usually of the unsettled kind, and the skipper is often at his wit's end where to find sufficient hands. But those who follow the lakes for a living usually drift back about the time the season opens, and there is seldom much trouble in filling the ship's list.

Pitting a ship in the spring includes laying in a stock of provisions and other necessities, which in a big port is so large an item of trade as to be important to the mercantile interests.

The handling of 50,000,000 tons of ore is a task that few people appre-

COMMON COUNCIL HAS BUSY SESSION

discussion referred to the ordinance committee with instructions to report thereon at the adjourned meeting of the council to be held tomorrow evening, at which time the vote cast at Monday's election will also be canvassed. On page two will be found the full text of the proposed garbage ordinance and in another column will be found mention of the peddlers' ordinance.

The city treasurer's report, which was presented and ordered placed on file, showed that for the first time in several months there is a cash balance in the treasury. According to the report, there was $19,922.77 to the city's credit on April 1, as against an overdraft of $26,134.18 on March 1. The cause of the plethora of money was the collection of taxes.

A resolution approving of the assessment for the improvement of the Ford River switch road was adopted. The improvement is to cost approximately $2,000, of which amount the property owners benefitting by the improvement are to pay one-half, or $1,000.

Upon recommendation of the committee to which the matter had been referred, a petition was granted for an extension of the water main in Oliver avenue from North Tenth street to North Eleventh street and east on North Tenth street to Hartnett avenue.

Poor Commissioner Blanchet's report showed that the poor had cost the city $430.33 during the month of March, and Street Commissioner Holmes in his report stated that he had expended $358.97 in his department during the month.

The reports of Justices Glaser and Linden and Chief of Police Rowe showed a total of twenty-four arrests during the month and a collection of $70 in fines.

City Veterinarian Firkus presented a report that he had given the tuberculin test to seventeen cows and that all but one of the animals were found to be free of tuberculosis infection.

Following the transaction of some minor routine business and the allowance of a large number of bills, came the introduction of a resolution providing for further steps toward the securing of property for a public dock and the opening of an alley leading thereto (the proposed peddlers' ordinance and the garbage ordinance). The resolutions relative to the dock and alley were adopted and action upon the garbage and peddlers' ordinances was taken as noted elsewhere in this paper.

The council then adjourned until Thursday evening.

PUBLIC DOCK LOOKS LIKE SURE THING

The Common Council Adopts Resolution Authorizing the City Attorney to Institute Proceedings to Condemn Property Needed for the Purpose—The Details.

At the meeting of the common council last evening another long step toward the establishment of a public dock in Escanaba was taken when a resolution was adopted authorizing and instructing the city attorney to institute such proceedings as may be necessary to carry out the object in view by condemning private property needed for the purpose. At the same time a resolution was adopted directing the city attorney to take the same steps to secure the opening of an alley leading to the proposed dock.

The property needed for the dock is owned by the I. Stephenson company and is located in Block 3 of the original plat of Escanaba. It begins at a point on the east line of Tilden avenue 160 feet north of Ludington street, running thence easterly and parallel to Ludington street to the waters of Little Bay de Noc, thence northwesterly along the shore of the bay to the point of beginning.

The property needed for the opening of an alley twenty feet wide extending east and west across Block 3 and which would give access to the dock begins at a point on the east side of Tilden avenue 140 feet north of Ludington street, running thence easterly and parallel to Ludington street, to the shore of Little Bay de Noc, thence northwesterly along the shore line to a point 160 feet north of Ludington street, thence westerly and parallel to Ludington street to the east line of Tilden avenue and thence north to the place of beginning.

That the council is in earnest in the matter of securing a public dock for the people of Escanaba was manifested by the promptness with which both resolutions were adopted without a dissenting vote. City Attorney I. C. Jennings is now at liberty to institute condemnation proceedings in probate court whenever he is ready.

DELTA COUNTY'S VITAL STATISTICS

The state board of health's vital statistics for February, just received here, show a total of sixty-two births and twenty-six deaths in Delta county during that month. The birth rate was 25.4 per 1,000 of estimated population and the death rate 10.7. Of the deaths six were those of children under one year, three were of persons aged between one and four years and five were of persons sixty-five years and over. The others were those of persons between four and sixty-five years.

Escanaba is credited with thirty-five births and but nine deaths for the month. The birth rate is 34.9 per 1,000 and the death rate is 8.7 for that month. The birth rate is high and the death rate exceptionally low. The statistics for March, will not make such a good showing as to the mortality.

SLEEPER TO BE AROUSED TONIGHT

The Powers Hypnotic Comedy company is still pleasing at Peterson's Opera house. Tonight occurs the awakening of the forty-eight hour woman sleeper, who has been sleeping at 721 Ludington street since Monday night. Tomorrow in the same store, a young man hypnotised, will play the piano for twelve hours without taking his fingers off the keys. This is a very novel test and will undoubtedly draw large crowds to witness both his playing and awakening.

OBJECT IS TO RID CITY OF PEDDLERS

Last evening there was introduced in the common council the draft of an ordinance which has for its primary object the ridding of the city of itinerant hawkers and peddlers and incidentally the protection of the people who patronize them and the merchants as well. Alderman E. M. St. Jacques presented the measure and moved its adoption, but later withdrew the motion and consented to have it referred to the ordinance committee, which will report upon it at the council meeting to be held tomorrow evening.

There was considerable discussion over the proposed ordinance, which some members of the council thought too drastic in its provisions, but the general opinion expressed was that some measure of the kind should be passed in place of the present peddlers' law and thoroughly enforced.

At the invitation of Mayor Greenhoot two of the business men present as spectators at the council meeting addressed the common council upon the subject. These were Frank H. Atkins and Ed. Erickson, both of whom made strong arguments for the adoption of the ordinance under consideration or something similar that would meet the requirements. There was also presented a petition, signed by about seventy-five business men of the city, asking the council to adopt the ordinance presented by Alderman St. Jacques.
