BUT TWO CHANGES MADE IN OFFICERS

DR. W. A. COTTON IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF THE ESCANABA BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

J. E. BYRNS IS VICE PRESIDENT

S. M. Matthews Re-elected Secretary and Leslie French Retained as Treasurer—Three Directors Also Re-elected—Annual Meeting is Largely Attended and Enthusiastic—Retiring President Moran Makes a Speech—Details.

President—Dr. W. A. Cotton. Vice president—J. E. Byrns. Secretary—S. M. Matthews. Treasurer—Leslie French. Directors—Herman Sallinsky, C. M. Thatcher and M. J. Ryan.

These are the officers elected by the Escanaba Business Men's association at its annual meeting last evening to serve during the ensuing year. The meeting was held in the city hall and was largely attended and enthusiastic in spirit.

Dr. Cotton succeeds J. V. Moran as president. Mr. Byrns was chosen to succeed E. M. St. Jacques as vice president. Mr. Matthews succeeds himself as secretary and Mr. French is his own successor as treasurer. Messrs. Sallinsky, Thatcher and Ryan were re-elected as directors, the hold-over directors being F. H. Atkins, J. J. Cleary and W. R. Smith.

The election of officers followed the reading of the annual reports of Secretary Matthews and Treasurer French and a talk by Retiring President Moran. According to the reports, the association now has an active membership of 133 and a list of fourteen honorary members. During the year there was a net gain of fifteen active members. Nine were lost, two by death and the remainder through other causes. During the year the association expended nearly $1,000 in its work and now has a balance of $124.70 in its treasury.

The Election of Officers. The new president of the association was elected by ballot, that procedure being necessary under the rules and by-laws. The name of Dr. Cotton was proposed by W. R. Smith, who took occasion to throw some fine bouquets at Retiring President Moran for his great work as the head of the association during the last two years. All the association members, Mr. Smith said, sincerely regretted that they could not have the privilege of electing him president for another term, inasmuch as he found it impossible because of his future business operations to fill the office another year. That being the case, Mr. Smith said, he took pleasure in proposing the name of Dr. Cotton for the office. The name of J. E. Byrns was also placed in nomination and the ballot was then taken, result—

J. S. ROGERS LAID TO REST IN LAKEVIEW

The remains of the late James S. Rogers, who died at Racine, Wis., early last Sunday morning, were brought to Escanaba this morning and this afternoon given interment in Lakeview cemetery. They arrived on the 5:20 o'clock Chicago & Northwestern train and were taken directly to St. Stephen's church, where funeral services according to the Masonic rites were conducted at 2:30 o'clock by members of Delta lodge No. 195 of the Masons, of which order Mr. Rogers was a member. Present at the funeral were many friends of the deceased, who also went to the cemetery, where the remainder of the Masonic burial services were held at the grave.

Mr. Rogers' remains were accompanied here from Racine by his widow and her brother, W. H. Bliss of Chicago; William J. Hatton, William Slaughter and L. A. Nelson. The two men last named acted as an escort from the local division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Mr. Rogers having for many years been a member of that order.

Funeral services according to the Episcopal ritual were conducted over the remains of Mr. Rogers in Racine yesterday.

Flannigan that hearing upon applications for naturalization at the April term of circuit court for Delta county will be held next Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Semer therefore passes out the notice that all petitioners for naturalization must be present in court at two o'clock next Monday afternoon and have their witnesses with them.

Clerk Semer has also received notice from Chief Naturalization Examiner Merton A. Sturges of Detroit that a special naturalization examiner will be here to conduct the hearings on all naturalization petitions. The identity of this special examiner is not known here as yet. Up to the present time there are twenty-eight applications for naturalization on file for hearing at the April term. All are of aliens resident in Delta county.

ELEVEN MEN KILLED IN A STONE QUARRY

Five thousand tons of stone were thrown loose and covered the victims, killing them instantly.

COUPLE HAVE CLOSE CALL FROM DEATH

While Out Driving Together a Van's Harbor Hotel Keeper and a Fayette School Teacher Are Tumbled Over Steep Embankment and Escape Almost Uninjured.

(Special Correspondence.)

Fayette, Mich., April 12.—Nelson Rousseau, a Van's Harbor hotel keeper, and Miss Florence McKinnon, who teaches school in Fayette, had a narrow and remarkable escape from serious injury or death Sunday evening. While they were driving to Fayette from Section 9 and when almost opposite of the old lime kiln their horse slipped off the road and the whole outfit tumbled over the steep embankment at that point and went rattling down to the bottom, a distance of about 100 feet.

Mr. Rousseau summoned help from the Shelton house and when the rescuers arrived they found the horse lying partly on its side, with one thill under it and the other over it. They soon released the horse, which also escaped being hurt, and brought the rig back to the road. The buggy and harness were intact and Mr. Rousseau and Miss McKinnon resumed their trip, driving away as though nothing had happened. Mr. Rousseau sustained a slight cut on the back of his head and Miss McKinnon had a little cut over her eye as the result of the accident.

The steamer Charles McVea was in port Monday with seed peas and other merchandise. From here the McVea went to Washington Island. This was the first boat to dock at Fayette this year.

OFFICER COMES TO GET A PRISONER

Deputy Sheriff B. Wiltse of the sheriff's office in Saginaw arrived in the city last night to get Charles Keough, who was arrested here Sunday afternoon by Sheriff F. W. Aronson upon the request of the Saginaw authorities, who are after Keough on a charge of embezzlement. Mr. Wiltse expects to leave for Saginaw with his prisoner tomorrow morning. He says Keough's alleged offense consisted of buying clothing on the installment plan and then skipping out without paying for the goods.

Another young man, who is known to have accompanied Keough to Escanaba, is also wanted on the same charge and it is said the chances for his arrest in another town in the upper peninsula are excellent. He made his getaway from Escanaba before Sheriff Aronson was informed that he was wanted along with Keough. His name is William J. Ayres.

Deputy Sheriff Wiltse while here spent the time pleasantly in viewing the sights of the city and looking up some old acquaintances in company with Sheriff Aronson.

No boats are expected to arrive here to take ore from the Chicago & Northwestern docks before Saturday.

The county board of canvassers today completed its work of canvassing the vote cast throughout the county at the recent election and the results were about as have heretofore been reported. For circuit judge, Richard C. Flannigan received the entire vote cast, which was 2,964. On the proposition to nominate party candidates for circuit judge by direct vote there were 2,434 votes cast. Of this number 1,984 were in favor of the proposition and but 450 against.

SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS NOT YET ENGAGED

Teachers' Committee of the School Board to Meet Friday Evening to Take Action on Engaging Teachers for Coming Year—Proceedings of the Board Meeting.

No action was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the board of education last evening in regard to engaging teachers for the school year beyond deciding that the committee on teachers should meet in the office of Secretary S. M. Matthews next Friday evening for the purpose of making selections from the applicants for positions and preparing a report and recommendations thereon to be submitted at a special meeting of the board, which will be held on some evening of next week. The committee of rules and regulations will also be prepared to submit a report, it is expected, at the special meeting.

Last night's meeting was shorter than usual, lasting not quite an hour, but considerable business of a routine character was disposed of. Bills to the amount of $523.55 were allowed and ordered paid.

Secretary Matthews reported that the school treasurer's account was overdrawn to the amount of $500 and that it would be necessary to borrow at least $5,000 to meet the expenses of the schools until June 1, when the shortage will be relieved by the receipt of the primary school money from the state. Acting upon this information, the board authorized and instructed the president and secretary to borrow not to exceed $7,000 with which to meet school expenses until the treasury is replenished.

The purchasing committee was instructed to purchase two complete sets of the Century dictionary for the High school library and the secretary was instructed to order blank diplomas to be presented to graduates.

To the special committee having in charge the arrangements for the commencement exercises was left the matter of arranging for a baccalaureate address to the graduating class and also the musical program to be rendered at the commencement exercises.

The board gave its endorsement to a proposed exhibit of art and other work done in the schools during the last year and which exhibition it is planned to hold in the gymnasium of the high school sometime next month or early in June.

ROOSEVELT AND SON IN A FLORAL RAIN

Porto Maurizio, Italy, April 13.—Colonel Roosevelt and his son left this afternoon for Venice in a private car of the government. They were escorted to the train by city officials amid a veritable rain of flowers. As the train pulled out the military band played the "Star Spangled Banner" and the crowd shouted "Long live Roosevelt."

TWO BOYS FOUND DEAD FROM POISON

Pittsburg, Pa., April 12.—The two sons of Philip Badali, a wealthy Italian of Wilkensburg, were found dead in their bed early today. The youths were eighteen and sixteen years old, respectively, and their deaths were caused by poison, according to the statement of the coroner's office.

Whether the poison was taken by mistake or whether it was given by some person is a mystery that will tax the efforts of the police.

TRIPLE "F" CLUB GIVES FINE DANCE

Agreeable to expectations, the informal dancing party given in Clark's hall last night by the Triple "F" club was a complete success. The attendance of young society people was large, so much so, in fact, that at times the floor was a bit crowded for dancing. The crowding was no drawback to the pleasure of dancing however, and everybody had a splendid time to all appearances. The members of the club left nothing undone which could contribute to the enjoyment of their guests. The regular dance program included twenty-four numbers and it was one o'clock before the concluding number was reached. Excellent music was furnished by the Escanaba Ideal orchestra of four pieces.

THE SAILOR BOY COMES INTO PORT

The steamer Sailor Boy of the Hart Transportation company's line arrived in port about five o'clock this morning from Sturgeon Bay with a large cargo of seed peas, which was unloaded here for reshipment by rail to various points on the Chicago & Northwestern road. The Sailor Boy is not on the regular run from Sturgeon Bay to Escanaba and intermediate points, but for this trip took the place of the steamer Hon Aml., which is at Sturgeon Bay undergoing an official government inspection.

Escanaba on the second Tuesday of April, 1912, will have the honor and pleasure of entertaining the Knights and Ladies of the Modern Maccabees of Delta county in their biennial conventions. That much was settled at the biennial county conventions of the Knights and Ladies of the Modern Maccabees, which were held in Gladstone yesterday.

Members of the order from all parts of the county were present at the two conventions, Escanaba being especially well represented. The Gladstone tent of the Knights and the two wives of the Ladies had the arrangements for the conventions in charge and also gave the visiting brothers and sisters fine entertainment.

The conventions were held separate in the afternoon and following the business session a supper was served and an informal dance held. The Escanaba members of the order numbered about forty and they made the trip to Gladstone and return in four busses.

The Officers Elected.

At the convention of the Knights, Judson J. Adams of Escanaba was elected county commander for the next two years and J. Ambrose Shippy of Rapid River was elected county record keeper. Mrs. J. A. Lambert has returned from a pleasant visit in Calumet.

In spite of protests that J. E. Byrnes made to his friends who urged him to take a more active part in the affairs of this city he was elected as vice-president of the Escanaba Business Men's association last night and will have to take hold and push.

Roy Hammel was down from Gladstone last evening and informed some friends that much improvement is contemplated in Gladstone the coming year. Among other things steps will be taken to provide the Gladstone police force with a new hat.

Mount McKinley has been climbed at the cost several thousand dollars and nothing was found to show that Dr. Cook had been there. This settles any claim that Dr. Cook had up his sleeve to prove any of his statements.

The saloon keepers who filed bonds furnished by the Michigan Surety and Bonding company took the right step in the right direction. The proper and up-to-date method for obtaining any kind of bonds is to pay for them and not ask some friend to act as your bondsman for the honor of so doing.

With Dr. W. A. Cotton as president and J. E. Byrnes as vice-president the Business Men's association have a team that will be pretty hard to beat. Dr. Cotton has been a resident of this city for years and knows what the town wants and needs to make it all that it should be, and J. E. Byrnes has the necessary progressive views to see to it that the city is not forgotten by the country at large. Mr. Byrnes is a sure enough hustler from Chicago.

Much credit is due to County Clerk John A. Semer for the manner in which he is caring for the new citizens who are filing papers for naturalization. Mr. Semer has spent much time with this class of business and the foreigners are high in their praise of his patience and willingness to aid them in accomplishing something that is none too easy under the new law. Mr. Semer has more than made good along all lines as the clerk of this county and when it comes time for election he should have no opposition.

HOM DIN'S HEARING DELAYED TO APRIL 21

Hancock, Mich., April 13.—The examination of Hom Din, charged with extortion of money from his fellow countrymen was put off until April 21, by request of Harry Edsall, United States Chinese inspector. Mr. Edsall telegraphed the local authorities asking them to postpone the examination, which was set for Monday.

Joe Pang, the Chicago Chinese lawyer who is here to attend the examination, said that there is no doubt that Hom would get "his." There will be about a dozen local Chinamen willing and anxious to testify against the alleged blackmailer. When the case comes up it is sure to attract considerable interest among the local people as well as the Chinese.

Din has been practicing this easy get-rich-quick scheme among his people for several years, it is said, and results were very plentiful. He, it is alleged, also touched several of the local men, but a year or so ago, according to little Joe Pang, who was the main factor in the recent arrest of Hom Din, the latter met a snag in a Calumet Chink who refused to be parted from his hard-earned coin of this country.

Din, after having been rebuffed by the Calumet man, swore out a warrant against the former, stating as his grounds that the Calumet Celestial was running a gambling house, at which he, Hom Din, lost $700. The case was to be tried about a year ago in March, but when the Calumet man appeared in court, Hom was missing and never turned up to fight the case.

MILWAUKEE GIRL TO BE GARDENER.

New York, April 13.—Miss Marjorie Snyder of Wellesley college, one of two seniors who announced their intention the other day of turning to farming as a vocation after completing their college course, has acquired options on three valuable pieces of truck gardening land on Long Island. Miss Snyder, whose home is in Milwaukee, has told the real estate men that she intends to grow shrubs and flowers, raise fine vegetables for the higher priced markets and breed Angora cats.

AMERICAN PEARL WORTH $20,000.

New York, April 13.—An American pearl weighing 187 grains has arrived in New York from White River, Ark. It is as round as a marble and is said by New York dealers to be the largest fresh water pearl ever seen in this country. The gem is a beautiful pink in color, and is valued at $20,000 by Maiden Lane appraisers.

The prices of American pearls are nearly fifty per cent higher this year than last, on account of decreased supply. The value of the mussel shells has also advanced.

MISS MOORE PAID BACK LARGE SUMS OF MONEY

Receipts Show She Made Desperate Efforts to Meet Obligations—May Have Been Insane.

The Menominee Herald-Leader of Tuesday prints another interesting chapter concerning Miss Jennie Moore whose sensational suicide at Marinette last Friday evening was of local interest. The Menominee paper in its reports of the latest developments in this remarkable case says:

How many luckless victims of their own cupidity have contributed to the sum total of $7,925 which Jennie Moore, who committed suicide on Friday to escape arrest, had paid over to her creditors within the last nine months? From a list compiled by The Herald-Leader, which is appended below, it is shown that the woman endeavored to the best of her ability to meet all the claims made upon her. Failing to do so, she committed suicide.

The following is a list of the people who drew out twice as much as they had invested in some cases, and in others received substantial payments on their accounts:

May Have Been Insane.
 As the investigation continues, proof seems to point strongly to the fact that the woman was insane. Her evident faith in her ability to pay all her creditors and her generosity when she was alive, and above all her conflicting statements made when there was no necessity for it, would indicate that she was unbalanced with a mania for stock selling.

According to reports, she was paying the sum of $20 per week for board. Mrs. W. Y. Church with whom she stayed, states that she offered to repair the house and did, having extensive alterations made. Since her death, the bills for the work have been coming in rapidly. Whenever a child went on an errand for her she always handed him fifty cents or a dollar.

In a letter to John J. O'Hara of this city, Mrs. M. C. Rupp of Bessemer, Mich., states that Miss Moore owed her $408. Part of it is for board at $2 per day, part borrowed money and the balance for stock which she purchased in the mine but which she never received.

In her statements to Mrs. Rupp, she told her that she had 1,000 shares of Calumet and Arizona stock which is quoted at $125, but she borrowed $20 from her to pay off some of her creditors.

Took Out Accident Policy.
 It was learned this morning that Miss Moore took out an accident policy in the Travelers Accident Insurance company for $5,000 about eight months ago. The beneficiary named was Mrs. Alice Church of Marinette. The policy, which was written by George Graves of Marinette, states that she had three brothers and two sisters but their names and addresses are not given.

As the accident policy contained the suicide clause the money cannot be claimed by the beneficiary named in the policy. It is said that the dead woman carried three or four life insurance policies, each for the sum of

LOVE'S REVOLUTION
 By EDGAR FALES MOODY
 Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

They lived beside a river. There had been a love match, and love matches are not often made on any other principles than love. They had been brought up in affluence and kept house on little or nothing, illustrating the saying, "When poverty comes in at the door, love flies out through the window."

No, this is not true. They loved each other deeply—more deeply than when they were married. But they were overstrained. Moreover, they fell into the habit of giving vent to their feelings, and the more they gave way in this respect the more they were egged on by tired nerves to do so. Their quarrels grew more frequent and more violent. He would growl at the table that there was nothing on it fit to eat, and she would tell him that he was responsible for the quality of the food or the lack of it. From that it would be criticism and recrimination till they would both be trembling with anger.

One night they quarrelled till he felt that if he did not go away from her he should do or say that which would be irreparable. He opened the door and went out into the front yard. The air was balmy, and the full moon shone down from a clear sky. He went out to the gate, through it, and as it swung back the latch caught with a click.

She heard it and said to herself: "He is gone. I shall never see him again. My dream has vanished. I do not care to survive it."

He went across the road and looked down at the river. At first he did not see it. His brain was whirling and could take nothing in through his eyes. But presently he saw the water peacefully flowing, reflecting the silent heavens from its bosom. An irrepressible desire overcame him to put an oblivion to his troubles by sinking himself and them in this place of rest. He turned and walked a short distance down the stream to where there was a bridge. Going on to the bridge, he stood, looking over the rail. The bark of a dog came faintly from a distance.

There was a sound above as though some one had thrown something into the river. He listened, but heard nothing more. Then, mounting the rail, he let himself down on the projecting planks beyond and stood there, listening to two voices. The one said: "Go back to her. Soothe her. Say to her, 'Let the past be passed; we will begin anew; we will bring back the love we felt before we were married.'" The other voice said: "She will not listen, or if she does the reconciliation will not last. At the first annoyance she will lose her self control, I will lose mine, and we will rush again into a whirlwind of passion."

He listened to the fast voice and made up his mind. Just as he was about to take the final plunge he saw something on the surface of the water floating with the current toward him. What was it about this undefined something that awoke a new tempest within him—a tempest of a reverse of that under which he had been wrecked? The floating object looked like a piece of cloth buoyed dome shaped over the water. There was a human being under that dome.

In another moment it was nearly beneath him. Dropping from the bridge, he caught it as it passed. He and it floated with the current under the bridge. He knew that he held the body of a woman and was raising the head. As they floated out into the moonlight he recognized in the colorless face the woman whom not long before he had led to the altar.

Had he before they parted plunged a knife into her heart he could not have been more fully conscious that he had murdered her. It was the nonresistance of that pale face that changed him. But one overwhelming impulse possessed him. He must save her. If he failed the world would indeed be the horror he had a few moments before conceived it to be. Life might still throbb faintly within her, and if he could get her ashore before it ceased he might atone for all he now conceived himself to be responsible. Like lightning, power ran down through his nerves, to his muscles and made them firm. With one arm about her, holding her chin above the surface, he struck out with the other, and a few strokes brought him and her to the shore. Once there he took her up in both arms, climbed the bank and ran with her to his house.

On bringing her back to life depended whether that house should be home or whether he should be an outcast and a wreck.

He was successful. When she opened her eyes and saw him and where she was a look of infinite pain passed across her face.

"Live, dear heart," he moaned; "live that I may atone for the wrong I have done you."

"You, it was I, I should have suffered in silence."

"No matter. I know a way to prevent trouble between us in future. Some wise person has said, 'For the causes of disagreement look first within yourself.' Hereafter I shall blame myself and not you. And, blaming myself, you will not move me to anger."

"I never blamed myself till you left me tonight."

A year from that time baby came, and there was another revolution in which love was triumphant.

NEXT FRIDAY BEST TIME TO SEE COMET

Washington, April 13.—Friday, April 15, at 4:15 o'clock in the morning, will be earliest time at which it will be worth while trying to see that tramp of the skies, Halley's comet, which is returning to ken of earth's inhabitants after an absence of more than seventy years. This information was furnished by one of the sky gazers at Georgetown University's observatory. Those who rise bright and early to greet the comet, it was suggested, can remain up to meet the census taker, as that is the day on which "Uncle Sam's" enumerators will begin to count noses throughout the United States.

During April and the early part of May the comet will be visible in the east before sunrise, a few degrees north of east. By May 17, it will be too nearly in line with the sun to be seen in the morning, but from then on will appear in the west in the evening as soon as it gets dark enough. On May 20 it will set two hours after the sun, with the interval growing longer each night.

The Case Against Dr. Hyde

COLONEL SWOPE.

A TRIAL that promises to arouse almost as much interest all over the country as the Mollnoux, Leutger, Guinness and other famous trials of the past is that now engaging the attention of all Missouri—the Hyde affair. With eleven indictments returned against him by the grand jury, three for murder and eight for attempted murder, Dr. B. C. Hyde will be brought to the bar in the Swope murder cases on April 11. The affair is a startling one.

Up to the 3d of last October Colonel Thomas H. Swope, the eccentric millionaire bachelor and public benefactor, resided in his beautiful mansion at Independence, Mo., where he made his home with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Swope. As the donor of Swope park, a woodland tract of some 1,400 acres, constituting one of the finest recreation grounds in the middle west, and as a liberal giver to many worthy causes he was considered one of the great benefactors of the community. Colonel Swope provided handsomely for his nephews and nieces, but he liked to talk about his will and said that he ought to give a million and a half or so to charity—that he was leaving too much to his relatives. He was contemplating a change in the provisions of his will when death overtook him.

The reader will be better able to follow the case if Dr. B. C. Hyde is now brought into it. He is the physician who is charged with the murder or murders. In 1905 Dr. Hyde clandestinely married Miss Frances Swope, a niece of Colonel Swope, on June 21 of that year at Fayetteville, Ark., against the wishes of her mother, Mrs. Logan O. Swope. As a result of the marriage Dr. Hyde and his wife's family were alienated until a short time ago, when a reconciliation was brought about. The physician's wife, being one of the Swope heirs, would of course inherit all of the old man's vast wealth after the demise of the other heirs.

Colonel Swope's health had been a matter of concern to him for years, and for upward of a generation he had been accustomed to predict his momentary death. So his last days were full of care and trouble. He was weakening under the strain of exhausted vitality, for he was an old man. His race was nearly run. The provisions of his will still failed to satisfy him, and while he contemplated a change in the provisions of that instrument he was suddenly seized with convulsions, following the administration of a capsule at the direction of Dr. Hyde, whose wife, as stated, would inherit a large share of the unhappy old man's wealth.

On Oct. 1 last James Moss Hutton, one of Colonel Swope's confidential advisers, who was also named as his executor, died of apoplexy, and two days later Colonel Swope after suffering great agony also passed away from what Dr. Hyde declared also to be apoplexy. In December an epidemic of typhoid fever raged in the Swope household, the victims being the cousins and nieces and nephews of the dead millionaire who were his heirs. Of these Chrisman Swope died on Dec. 6 under conditions that caused much apprehension among the attending nurses. John G. Paxton, the executor, and Mrs. Logan Swope, mother of Chrisman, instituted an investigation.

In January the bodies of Chrisman and Colonel Swope were exhumed and autopsies held, and the experts engaged testified that the aged man died from strychnine poisoning. Dr. Hyde's declaration of apoplexy to the contrary notwithstanding, and the coroner's jury rendered a verdict placing the responsibility on Dr. Hyde. Later the grand jury began an investigation and returned indictments as stated in the foregoing.

In justice to Dr. Hyde, however, conclusions should not be hastily drawn, the law holding that every man is innocent until proved guilty.

MICHIGAN'S CROP OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Lansing, April 13.—Crops are better now than they were a year ago, according to the report issued by the state department. Wheat is reported at 88 per cent against 76 last year, and rye 92 as against 83 in 1909. The meadows are in better condition and the fruit crop is fully two weeks in advance of what it was a year ago. If the state escapes a frost, indications are that Michigan will have the greatest fruit crop in its history.

In reply to a question sent out throughout the state as to whether the wheat had suffered from climatic conditions during the last winter, 210 in the southern counties say it has, while 123 replied in the negative. In the central counties only 42 thought the weather too severe, while 89 declared that it was unharmed.

MARCH A BUSY MONTH FOR GAME WARDEN

Lansing, Mich., April 13.—According to the regular monthly report of Game Warden Charles Pierce, last month was a busy one for his department. The deputy game wardens investigating 105 complaints of alleged violations, started 63 cases against those who hold the game and fish laws lightly. During March the department secured the conviction of 57 violators, one was acquitted, two cases were dismissed and three are pending. The fines and costs collected during March amounted to $1,266.52. There were 17 violations of the game laws and 46 violations of the fish laws. The report shows 27 seizures.

MENOMINEE CHINKS TO GET CERTIFICATES

Lum Doc Foo and Lum Tow, the two Menominee Chinamen arrested some time ago by United States officials on a charge of having violated the Chinese exclusion laws, will not have to go to Marquette in May to receive new certificates which will entitle them to reside in this country. Inspector Edsell of the Soo states that the certificates will be issued to the two men at their home in Menominee and that it will not be necessary for them to take a long trip to receive the same. The two men are elated over the decision of the officials to give them new certificates. They made the claim that they both had certificates at one time but that they had become destroyed.

A Merchant Must Make It Pay You to Read His Ads!

Whatever he does to make his store of more importance to you than is the store of his competitor must be explained, hinted or suggested to you—and he can only do that by enchainning your attention to his ads.

He is aware that you "know things" about stores—about goods—values, prices. He, therefore, knows that to advertise something that is actually high-priced—or, not actually priced on a profit-dividing plan—is to merely give proof of the nonusefulness of his store to you.

Now, the merchant knows that his store is useful to you. And he knows that he must make it more and more so. So his problem resolves itself into this:

THAT AS ONLY GOOD VALUES OFFERED MAKE GOOD ADVERTISING, HE MUST MAKE EVERYTHING IN HIS STORE ADVERTISABLE. Thus, to make store-keeping pay he must be a big advertiser and to make advertising pay he must make it pay the person who reads it.

The inexorable logic of modern business, therefore, compels the merchant to make it pay you to read his ads.

NEW CURVES DISCOVERED.

Young Pitchers Invent Twisters to Fool Star Batters.

FISH BALL THE LATEST.

Twirler Parsons of New York Has Bender That Will Make Sluggers Strain Their Backs, Say His Team-mates—Slide Ball Another.

As is the case every year around this time, many new curves are discovered by the young and old pitchers at the training camps or in the practice games—curve balls that are unhittable and such puzzlers that even the star batters will break their backs trying to connect with the ball—then when the season is a few weeks old these same twisters are hammered all over the diamond. Members of the New York Nationals are so enthused over the unexpected brilliancy of Parsons, the former star of Bucknell college, that the annual christening of new curve balls has become a fad.

"They have their squeeze balls, their whiff balls, their slinker balls, their stop balls and all that line of stuff," said Catcher Wilbur Robinson recently, "but I ain't kiddin' you when I say that this fellow Parsons has got a curve that is absolutely new to baseball. The only thing I can think of as a name for it would be the fish ball."

It was thus recorded. Parsons has the "fish ball," and if anybody can stop that for a brand new curve it's just like money in his hand.

At Robinson's invitation one doubting Thomas took the mitt and began the work of catching the phenom.

"Say, Skinny," Robby yelled to Parsons, "shoot him that wabber!" Parsons wound up and turned loose a ball with a side arm movement that was a wonder. The ball took a very peculiar wabble, waving from side to side like the tail of a fish.

New York American league players are high in praise of a new bender that Russell Ford has perfected, which is called the slide ball. He will

ROGER BRENNAN, ST. LOUIS STAR CATCHER AND MANAGER.

[Big things are expected of Roger Brennan and his St. Louis Cardinals this season. "Not a Roger" made a fairly good showing last year with a team that was considered one of the weakest in the National league. Since the close of the 1909 campaign Brennan has made many trades, and at present the Cardinals appear to be a strong second division club. Roger recently announced that he would come near finishing in the first division.]

Introduce it on the boys this season. Ford's teammates say that is not one of those joke new curves we hear so much about in the magazines to be put on the shelf when the season rolls along. Ford worked it in the Eastern league last season, and it went along fine.

The players have named it the "slide ball." Ford wets his third finger near the knuckle, winds up and lets the ball go. It floats up and breaks in, and every time it did Catcher Mitchell would say, "Why, that's a peach, Russell; let's have it again." Ford would then shift and wet the thumb, and the ball would break the other way. He delivers this ball with the same motion as he does other throws, and all of the Yankee players have brought in a verdict that this new one is a pretty fine thing for the big league.

An increase of eight patients at the end of January is shown by the January report of the Eastern Michigan Asylum, located at Pontiac, the total being 1,351—709 males and 642 females. Nineteen new patients were admitted, 15 returned from parole, while twelve were discharged and 14 deaths were recorded.

The population of the Jackson state prison grew ten at the end of January making the total number of prisoners 746 as compared to 736 at the end of December. One death took place at the institution and 24 prisoners were admitted there for the first time, eight prisoners were paroled during the month and five were discharged.

The Psychopathic Ward, located at Ann Arbor, showed a decrease of one patient at the end of January over the end of the previous month. However, during the month there was a total of 60 patients but at the end of the month the number had decreased to an even 40. GREAT GATHERING OF SMITH FAMILY

Spokane, Wash., April 13.—Members of the Smith family of Washington, Idaho, Utah, northern California, Oregon, Montana, Colorado, the Dakotas and the provinces of British Columbia and Alberta have been invited to the Smith Day celebration in Spokane on April 19, when John Smith and Mary Smith, both of this city will be married in the state armory. Attendees, flower girls and the ring bearer have been chosen from house of Smith, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Robert A. Smith, pastor of Bethel Presbyterian church. "Philadelphia Tom" Smith, 73 years of age a scion of Delaware Indian stock, will lead the grand march over the broad path, strewn with spring blooms and evergreen.

"We expect to have not less than 3,000 Smiths at the celebration and we will give them a time of their lives," said Tom Smith, who has been appointed master of ceremonies of the festive occasion. "As this is the first genuine Smith Day celebration in the Northwest, we hope to make a showing of forces, so that April 19 will go down in annals as an epoch making event.

"It is not unlikely there will be several weddings among the Smiths on that day. W. P. Edris, postmaster of Spokane, whose forebears were Smiths, who has been named chairman of the general committee of the festival, advises me that it is likely the states of Montana, Idaho and Or-

At that rate there should be about a million of them on the continent, or one for every 100 inhabitants.

WANTED THE WINGS OF BEES CLIPPED

Columbus, Ind., April 13.—An amusing story of how a neighbor "got even" is being told by a local attorney, who withholds the name of client and also the name of the neighbor who "got even."

According to the story, a farmer who has some growing wheat called at the attorney's office a few days ago and complained that he had a neighbor whose chickens were eating his wheat. He said the neighbor's chickens damaged his wheat last season and that they were making the growing wheat disappear this spring.

He wished a damage suit filed but the attorney decided that a letter would do just as well. Accordingly, the lawyer wrote the neighbor a letter in which he stated that he had received a call from the farmer and that the latter declared the neighbor's chickens must be kept at home. The attorney advised the man to clip the wings of his chickens.

The next day the farmer who owned the wheat received a letter from his neighbor. The neighbor said he had clipped the wings of his chickens and that he would see that they remained home thereafter. Then he brought up a new subject. It called attention to the fact that the farmer owned several stands of bees and he said that of his own certain knowledge he knew that these bees had for several years invaded his property and stolen honey from his flowers, his clover blossoms and from the blossoms of his fruit trees. He had never mentioned this before, he said, but now he wished the nuisance stopped. And the neighbor added that unless the farmer clipped the wings of his bees and kept them at home he would file an action for damages to reimburse him for the honey.

FLIRTS HIS HARD EARNED CASH AWAY

Chicago, April 13.—One thousand dollars was the price paid by Frank Franta for a moment's flirtation with a number of pretty girls in front of a 5-cent theater at Blue Island avenue and Troop street last night, when in pulling out a handkerchief to wave at them he accidentally drew out a roll of paper money amounting to $1,000, the savings of five years.

Franta, who later told the police of the Canalport avenue station that he had been afraid to place the money in a bank, carried it wrapped in a cloth and tied with a string. In pulling out the handkerchief he said he must have pulled the money out with it, but failed to notice his loss until he had been unsuccessful in his search, and had walked two blocks from the scene.

Then he returned to the spot where he had pulled out the handkerchief and found the cloth and string but the money was gone.

RATS WELCOME GUESTS IN THE COPPER MINES

Condemned Elsewhere as Carriers, Underground They Prevent Disease—Story.

Houghton, Mich., April 13.—Rats are classed as vermin in the minds of most people and alike hated and feared. They are pursued to their death wherever found, yet in the copper country they are protected by the most powerful influences known here, the mining companies. A rat in the dark depths of a copper mine is a very prince of rodents, a pampered pet of a powerful corporation. The rats are the scavengers of the mines and a miner caught killing one would probably be instantly discharged.

Destroy All Waste.
It is manifestly impossible to preserve sanitary regulations of any but the crudest sort in the subterranean depths of copper mines—excavations which, in the Michigan copper country, are sunk to depths exceeding a mile. Hundreds of miners eat their cold luncheons in the levels and slopes of the mines at noon and at midnight and from their lunch baskets fall immense quantities of waste food which would speedily rot and produce unhealthy conditions were not some means provided for removing it. The feared and hated rat is the instrument.

Where White Rats Flourish.
The passage of the superstition regarding the white rat is shown in the Champion mine, where there are none but white rats. These sometimes petted rodents were imported by the Champion management a few years ago and they have driven out their gray and brown cousins. The reason for the adoption of the white rat in this mine has not been given out by the management, but probably it is because of their more clean habits and less repulsive appearance. Hundreds of them are seen in this mine. They run around in the darkness, paying no attention to the miners and unheeded by them.

Destroy All Waste.
The mining companies recognize the value of the rat as a sanitary agent and while it is not known that there are actually any written rules for the protection of the rats, it is certain that hundreds of thousands of them swarm in the depths of the mines and are almost tame, so much so at least that they come up to the miners when they are eating, to await their own feast.

STATE POLITICAL NEWS

(Special to The Daily Mirror.)
Lansing, Mich., April 13.—It is getting almost time for the automobile campaign to open up and it is understood that some of the candidates are soon to begin that means of visiting different and difficult localities. In this way some of the candidates expect to visit many small places.

Glen Munshaw, state supervisor of trespass, is doing some good work in his department in suppressing trespassers on state lands in the northern part of the state. Criminal cases are to be started in two cases in Alcona county and some sensational developments are promised. It is claimed that much timber is being stolen from state lands.

Grant Fellows is not inclined to be a quitter according to statements he has made during the week. He is still in the race for attorney general in spite of the fact that Frank Kuhn has been allotted the pole. Other earlier candidates do not seem to be quite as active as two months ago.

Nathan F. Simpson, manager of Senator Burrows' candidacy, frequently stops over in Lansing while going about various sections of the state and is very pleased with the outlook for his candidate and that everything is as good as could be expected.

With the city and township elections over, local option is settled in 36 counties for two years under the present law, people will now have more time to listen to would-be state officers and it is safe to say that the candidates will not lose much time in getting busy or at least getting their press agents busy.

Frank A. Stearns, for several years chief clerk of the Michigan Insurance department, has resigned to accept another position. Walter E. Otto, who has been connected with the department for two years, has been appointed to the vacancy caused by Mr. Stearns' resignation.

Wm. M. Smith of St. Johns is one of the wavering candidates who earlier had his eye firmly fixed upon the attorney general's office. Just at present he doesn't care to affirm or deny his candidacy but is waiting to see just what the actual outlook will be.

The Zach Chandler Republican club banquet will be held in this city Wednesday, April 27th, many prominent speakers from other states will reinforce the governor, gubernatorial candidates, congressmen and others of this state and it is proposed to have a banquet that will go down in history as the greatest in the club's history.

The gubernatorial candidates have been very quiet for some time, but occasionally a press notice states that either Messrs. Musselman, Osborn or Kelly, left today for or that place to look after their interests. It is safe to say that they are all awake.

Several counties are pretty busy trying to line up representatives for this fall. In some re-elections without opposition will be the order while in others, some representatives, who would like to return will be obliged to assert all the strength at their command in order to accomplish the feat.

The upper peninsula promises to send down a number of new representatives to the next legislature. Several are not candidates for re-election while others have seen the handwriting on the wall and will retire—at least temporarily.

It is hardly likely that many districts will leave the senatorial situation entirely to one man, but there are a few such places. A number of new faces are the indication in this branch of the legislature next year.

As the result of Cong. Townsend's announcement that he withdrew as a candidate for re-election to the lower house, W. W. Wedemeyer of Ann Arbor announces himself as a candidate for the place. Henry C. Smith of

THEATRICAL

The Peterson:—In the company appearing in Frederic Thompson's "Polly of the Circus," with Miss Fay Wallace in the leading part, which will be seen at the Peterson this evening, there are, in addition to a score or more of well known actors, a number of circus people and circus acts which contribute to the success of the play.

The big third act sawdust scene represents a circus in actual operation—one of the most realistic stage pictures ever shown on a stage. One of the many features of "Polly of the Circus" is a trained horse, one of several carried by this attraction. The animal is called Bingo and is a thoroughbred. He was brought to this country by Barum & Bailey's Circus and afterwards sold to the New York Hippodrome when Frederic Thompson was the managing director. During the summer time Bingo is one of the features of that great amusement place, Luna Park, Coney Island, New York City. Miss Wallace and Bingo are great friends. That little actress says that her horse "can do almost anything but talk."

Patrons of the Peterson opera house will have the rare opportunity of seeing Bingo and a number of other famous animals. "Polly of the Circus" is one of the most unique plays presented in many years, and is attracting full houses everywhere.

The Peterson:—The Mock Sad All company at the Peterson last night presented "The Red Cross Nurse" in a capable manner and pleased a large audience. The play was well acted and the company made many new friends. This is one of the best balanced stock companies appearing in this part of the country and they are deserving of good patronage.

The company tonight will make room for "Polly of the Circus" and will open again Thursday night, presenting the greatest of all western melodramas, "At the End of the Trail." All new and up to date vaudeville acts are introduced between the acts. See Santos Saamarro in his marvelous mind reading and telepathy. One lady will be admitted free with each thirty cent ticket if purchased before 6 p. m. Thursday.

THE LICENSING OF AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

Lansing, Mich., April 13.—Secretary of State Martindale has requested Attorney General Bird for his conception of the law regarding the licensing of automobile drivers. The state requires all paid drivers to pay a yearly fee of $2 and the question has been raised as to whether this extends to testers employed by automobile manufacturing concerns. It is the opinion of Mr. Martindale that testers came under the same head as chauffeurs and he says that a majority of the manufacturers are willing to pay the fee in order to protect themselves. There has been several instances in Detroit where automobile drivers who became mixed in accidents claimed that they were representatives of some automobile concern. If every tester is supplied with a badge that he is a licensed chauffeur the big auto companies will escape considerable blame which is not coming to them.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN CAUSES A FLUTTER

Democratic Leader, Writing from Brazil, Declares Taft in His Lincoln Speech and Republican Leaders Generally are Now Endorsing Old Democratic Proposition.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., April 13.—A letter by William Jennings Bryan, written from Brazil, which will be read tonight before the Democrats who will attend the Jefferson day banquets here and in Indianapolis, was made public today. The letter contains the usual anti-trust declarations, but the portion which has caused a flurry among politicians is contained in these paragraphs:

"But there is another item of news which has just come to my attention. President Taft in his Lincoln speech at New York, on February 12, attributes the present high prices mainly to the increase in the production of gold, and the consequent enlargement in the volume of money.

This unexpected endorsement of our party's proposition in 1896, when we demanded more money as the only remedy for falling prices, is very gratifying. How valuable that admission would have been to us if it had been made during the campaign that year when the Republican leaders were denying that the value of money had much influence on prices and asserting it did not matter whether we had much money or little provided it was all good. We may now consider the quantitative theory of money established beyond dispute and proceed to the consideration of other questions. But the president and his predecessors have admitted the correctness of the Democratic position on so many questions that further argument is hardly necessary on any subject. We may now take judgment against the Republican party by confession."

GRANGE MEETING IS THE BEST EVER

Grangers From All Parts of Delta County Attend the Gathering of Hope Pomona Grange at Bark River—Program of the Day is Full of Interest—The Details.

From all reports, the meeting of Hope Pomona Grange at Bark River Tuesday was the largest and best of any similar event ever held in the county. Of the twenty branches of the grange in the county nine were represented by good sized delegations and written messages of cheer and good will were sent by all but one of the remaining eleven granges. It is estimated that at the afternoon session there were fully 150 persons in attendance and they were all given royal entertainment by the members of the Bark River grange, who were in direct charge of the meeting. Dinner and supper were served in the Grange hall by the good people of Bark River and it seems needless to say that the meals were of the best.

The afternoon program was one of the greatest interest. It included musical selections and a number of excellent addresses. Among the speakers was Ralph Soward of Stephenson, deputy state master, who has supervision of the grange work in Delta, Menominee and Dickinson counties. Mr. Soward gave a most interesting talk on grange work and incidentally urged the farmers to make a good observance of Arbor day by planting trees and shrubs. He also conducted a school of instruction in the secret work of the grange.

Other speakers were F. L. Baldwin of the Alton grange and August Johnson of the Danforth grange, all of whom spoke on subjects of particular interest to grange members. Mr. Baldwin discussed the parcels post question, taking the affirmative side, and brought out many instructive points. He maintained that the greatest opposition to the parcels post plan comes from the express companies, whose business would be the first to suffer if it were adopted by the government.

At the business session it was decided to hold the next meeting of the county grange at Payette on June 28. It is intended to make this meeting the greatest ever held in Delta county and a committee of five was appointed to start right in to make the necessary arrangements and prepare a program. The members of this committee are: August Johnson, Danforth; George Jensen, Ford River; Neils F. Johnson, Alton; Herman Johnson, Rock; and F. L. Baldwin, Escanaba.

It was also decided to give a prize of $5 to any member of the grange who shall exhibit the best ear of home grown corn at the fair this fall of the Delta County Agricultural society. Another prize of $5 will be given to the woman grange member who exhibits the finest bouquet of home grown flowers at the same fair.

The evening session was devoted principally to sociability and it was greatly enjoyed.

ing in thirty-five votes for Cotton, twenty-three for Byrns and three scattering. Dr. Cotton was duly elected.

Mr. Byrns was then unanimously chosen vice president. Mr. Matthews was reelected secretary despite his protest that he did not desire the office again. The names of Attorney Torval E. Strom and County Clerk John A. Semer were proposed, but those young men declined and boosted for Matthews. Thereupon the latter was reelected without a dissenting vote. Mr. French was also unanimously reelected as treasurer, and the same honor was paid to the retiring directors, Messrs. Salinsky, Thatcher and Ryaa.

Retiring President Speaks.
In his address before the association, prior to the election of officers, Retiring President Moran gave an interesting review of the work done by the association during the last three years and some of the beneficial results accomplished through its efforts. He said that it is good to have such an association, for there is always something coming up affecting a city's welfare that demands the concerted attention that an organized body is best fitted to give. He believed the association has been a real benefit to the city. It has had a hand, he said, in bringing about some of the improvements that have been found so desirable.

Referring to his own work as head of the association, Mr. Moran said that if he had been successful in accomplishing anything it was because he had been given the loyal and capable assistance of the board of directors and members of the association in general. He gave the directors high praise, saying they were always alert and willing to give freely of their time, attention and efforts to any enterprise of public benefit to the city.

Praises the Newspapers.
Mr. Moran also gave great credit to the newspapers of the city. He said they were largely responsible for much of the good accomplished. Their assistance had been most valuable, he declared. He was not saying this as "hot air," he said, because it was the truth. The papers have done their full share, they have done more than the ordinary individual could do, and he wanted the fact known and appreciated.

Mr. Moran spoke of some of the things accomplished during the past year, saying the most important perhaps is the matter of charter revision, toward which the preliminary steps have been taken. He said he would call on Mayor Greenhoot later to explain the charter revision plan and asked the association members to give the mayor and council all the assistance possible in procuring for Escanaba the best charter obtainable.

Mayor Also Speaks.
Mr. Moran asserted that Escanaba is taking on new life. It is a substantial and progressive little city—a better one can nowhere be found—and a fact that he regretted more than he could tell is that within the next thirty days he probably must leave here. He advised the citizens of the city to bury all the differences they may have and work in unison and harmony for the upbuilding of the city in every way. If they do this, setting aside all selfish interests, they can in five years make Escanaba the best little city on earth, he said. "Bury your hatchets, get into the band wagon and boost for Escanaba," were Mr. Moran's closing words and they were greeted with applause.

Mayor Greenhoot, when called upon spoke briefly in regard to the charter matter, explaining its present status and giving his ideas of future procedure. He advised all citizens interested to meet and select a representative from each ward and three from the city at large and from these choose the members of a charter commission which must be elected before the actual work of revising the charter can be begun. Mayor Greenhoot said he would do all in his power to help the charter matter along a thoroughly satisfactory conclusion.

Before the meeting was adjourned, upon motion of Mayor Greenhoot, Retiring President Moran was given a rising vote of thanks for his services as president during the last year.
