MILLIONS OF MONEY AND ANCIENT LINEAGE UNITE

Wedding of Marjorie Gould and A. J. Drexel Jr. Solemnized in New York Today.

(Special to The Mirror.)
New York, April 19.—Millions upon millions of American wealth and century upon century of ancient and noble European lineage were represented in the fashionable assemblage which filled St. Bartholomew's church today to witness the marriage of Marjorie Gould and Anthony J. Drexel Jr.

and Miss Dorothy Randolph, of Philadelphia.
Little Miss Ellen Mackay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay, and Miss Edith Gould, Miss Gould's young sister, were the flower girls.
Anthony J. Drexel Jr., is a scion of Philadelphia's oldest and wealthiest family, while his bride is the eldest musical program was rendered by the church choir before the ceremony. When Miss Gould had said the word which made her Mrs. Drexel, the guests proceeded to the Fifth avenue palace of Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, where a reception was held.

Both Rolling in Riches.
Armstrong Drexel, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Miss Vivien Gould, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Drexel, Mr. Drexel's sister; Miss Marjorie Curtis, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Holbrook Curtis; Miss Elsie Nicoll, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Nicoll; Miss Hope Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hamilton, daughter of George Jay Gould and Mrs. Gould, who was Edith Kingdon. The combined wealth which will be inherited by today's bride and groom is estimated at $100,000,000, thus proving the truth of the old jingle about marriage days: "Tuesday for wealth."

Outshines Them All.
Today's wedding between these two untitled Americans outshone all the international alliances which have heretofore been celebrated in New York. It will be remembered long after the young people who were the principals are old. It is one of the prices they have to pay for being rich and prominent. No doubt they themselves will be glad when it is all over. Both are simple in their tastes, considering how rich they are, and an abundance of money is no novelty to either of them. While the display at the wedding was unparalleled even for New York, yet it did not pass the bounds of good taste in the lavishness of its splendor and become simply an exhibition of new ways to spend money foolishly. Neither the George Goulds nor the A. J. Drexels ever have achieved any reputation in that way. But they have excelled in doing things thoroughly when it comes to com-

LOOKS GOOD TO MENOMINEE FANS

Although it is not yet definitely settled the prospects are that the Menominee Baseball Team will join with Delta County teams in playing schedule.

The management of the Menominee Baseball club has not yet come to a decision regarding the tentative arrangement made in this city Sunday afternoon for the admission of the Menominee team to a four team league which will also include Escanaba, Gladstone and Rapid River. According to The Menominee Herald-Leader however, the fans in that city appear to look with favor upon the proposition and there is a good prospect that it will be accepted. The Menominee paper says:

"They certainly have that four-team league arrangement between Menominee, Rapid River, Gladstone and Escanaba stacked up nicely. It looks like the prize which the fans have been long and hungrily waiting for. It acts just as if it would usher this beautiful city into the realms of near major league ball, and it may be a reality within a week, with Menominee one of the biggest of the biggest four-team leagues in the upper peninsula.
"Yesterday the nabobs of the four teams foregathered in Escanaba, Ray S. Mullins representing this city. According to Ray, there was enough enthusiasm to start anything from a Texas cypress down. The various representatives stated that the baseball enthusiasm had reached proportions never before heard of in their staid cities and they promised that if Menominee joined the golden alliance she would see some baseball that would make her sit up and take notice.
"A tentative schedule was made up which gives this city some excellent games, and what is best of all, is the fact that it gives her most of them in the city. The schedule lasts until Labor Day. C. J. Huebel has not decided as yet what action he will take on the matter, as there are many things to be considered before joining the league. He will make a decision within a few days."

WEATHER ANYTHING BUT SPRINGLIKE

Where is that early spring there was such glorious promise we were to have? For the last week the weather has been anything but spring like. Today it is downright wintry and disagreeable enough to belong to February instead of April. There was almost a snow fall this morning and the wind blew with an arctic breath. The sun shone occasionally, but its rays brought no warmth to speak of. The weather man, however, holds out a gleam of hope for better things. In his forecast today he says: "Cloudy tonight. Wednesday, fair, warmer; moderate north winds." Let us hope his prediction proves correct.

SOCIALISTS TAKE HOLD IN MILWAUKEE

(By Associated Press.)
Milwaukee, Wis., April 19.—The government of the city of Milwaukee today passed into the hands of the Social Democratic party, with Mayor Seidel as the leader. In his inaugural message today Mayor Seidel said:
"Before all things home rule and the right kind of self-government should be secured for Milwaukee."
Mayor Seidel has back of him, twenty-one aldermen, all members of his party. The minority consists of ten Democrats and four Republicans. The council chamber was densely packed this morning when the new officials took their places.

WHAT FOOTBALL GAME SHALL BE PLAYED?

(By Associated Press.)
Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—Representatives of the universities of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Drake, Ames, Washington and the St. Louis university and Agricultural school of Iowa met in conference here today to decide whether the American game of football should be abolished in the Missouri valley and the Rugby or English game substituted.

MENOMINEE MEN VISIT ARDIS FURNACE

Inventor Jones Claims that His Every Hope Has Been Fulfilled By the Iron Mountain Plant—New Epoch Marked in the Great Iron Industry—Details.

Monday afternoon a delegation of fifty prominent business men of Menominee went to Iron Mountain as the guests of John T. Jones, inventor of the famous Ardis furnace, which is now in successful operation at Iron Mountain.

The Ardis furnace has been running for over a week without a stop and the inventor states that his every hope is more than fulfilled. Low grade ore is being metallized at a cost much less than even he estimated. The labor is less than in making pig iron, as through the Jones system, nearly all of the labor is automatic.

The second step plant will be in this plant the silica will be removed from the product of the first step furnace by a squeezing method. The third step and the fourth step will convert the low grade ore, hitherto useless, into a muck bar which is selling at $12 a ton more than the present price of pig iron.

The new Ardis furnace marks a new epoch in the great iron industry. It means the using of millions of tons of ore which before were thought useless. It means that foundries will be established in this region, and above all, it means to Menominee alone many thousands of dollars in shipping as that city will be the port of entry for all the ore which will go in and out of Iron Mountain.

MEETS OLD FRIEND IN THE CONDUCTOR

John Stoddard returned this morning from Bath, Maine, where he has spent the time since February at the state home for soldiers. He returned over the Michigan Central and was much surprised to find that one of his old friends, a former resident of this city, was the conductor. T. E. Hodges was the man and there are but very few people now living in Escanaba who can remember him.

Miss Mabel Coffey of Manistique is in the city the guest of Mrs. M. Shipman.

HEIGHT IS NOT THE ONLY OBJECTION

H. A. Webber, Superintendent of Construction of United States Public Buildings, Corrects a Misapprehension Relative to Lamp Standards at New Postoffice.

Monday The Mirror published a news item a statement that the pedestals in front of the main entrance to the new postoffice building had been found an inch higher than called for by the specifications of the contract and that they had therefore been taken down. There were other details in the item, which appear to have been not entirely accurate because of having been based upon misinformation or a misapprehension of the facts. These errors are clearly pointed out in the following letter, which fully explains the matter in question:

Escanaba, Mich., April 19, 1910.

"Editor The Mirror: Will you permit me to correct a very misleading article that appeared in your paper yesterday, under the heading 'Pedestals Were An Inch Too High.' The article evidently referred to the cast iron lamp standards that were in place at the front entrance to the postoffice building now being completed under my charge in this city, and gives a very wrong impression of government methods of doing work.

"If the true or only objection to these standards had consisted in their being an inch too high, as you state, that would have been a small matter, and could probably have been adjusted. But the fact is that, whereas the standards are required to have a brass collar, to hold the globes, they were actually made with two collars, one of cast iron, cast in one piece with the standards, so it could not be opened, and the other of brass, fastened on top of the iron. This error was pointed out to the contractor as soon as the standards were delivered, three months ago. The change served to make the top portion of the standard nearly three inches higher, instead of one inch as you state, and four inches greater in diameter, than required. These figures might not impress one who has given no thought to design or proportion, but almost any one could appreciate the incongruity of a man's wearing two collars where custom prescribes only one.

"Respectfully,
H. A. WEBBER,
Supt. of Construction, U. S. Public Buildings."

LAKE MICHIGAN NOT A DUMP FOR REFUSE

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., April 19.—The Mann bill, which prohibits the dumping of refuse into Lake Michigan within eight miles of the shore line of Cook county, Ill., and Lake county, Indiana, was reported favorably to the house committee today.
This bill is of the utmost importance to the people of Chicago and all of them will be glad to see the bill go through without any amendments.

MISS BERTHA ELIE GIVEN PARCEL SHOWER

Last Friday night many of the friends of Miss Bertha Elie surprised her at the home of her uncle at 1313 Ayer street and each one of them took a parcel with her, the party being a parcel shower. On April 26 Miss Elie will be married to John Stockimer and many parties and showers have been planned by her friends to take place during the week of her citizenship in the United States.

COLONEL SWOPE KEPT HIS WILL SECRET FROM ALL

Attorney for Dr. Hyde Outlines the Defense That Will Be Made in Trial for Murder.

(By Associated Press.)
Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—Attorney Walsh made his opening statement in the defense of Dr. B. C. Hyde today and said that the defense's testimony would show that Dr. Hyde and his wife had always lived in perfect contentment and that this one point would have great bearing on the case. He also told how Colonel Swope had kept his will a secret from all of his friends and relatives, with the exception of his office partner, and that neither Dr. Hyde nor his wife knew, prior to Swope's death, whether Mrs. Hyde would share in the residuary portion of the millionaire's estate.
Walsh stated that for the last twenty-five years of Colonel Swope's life he had made a practice of drinking every afternoon and his custom of taking a tonic containing strychnine was also mentioned.

Denounced in Harsh Terms.
The attempt to show that Colonel Swope was not friendly with Dr. Hyde was denounced by Attorney Walsh in harsh terms. In reference to the death of Moss Hunton, the attorney said that Dr. Hyde was not his regular physician and was only called in to aid in the case and that Hunton died from an attack of apoplexy. In the treatment of the case of Hunton, bleeding was suggested and adopted, but it was not Dr. Hyde who made the suggestion, but Dr. G. T. Twyman, the state's witness whose death occurred yesterday.
Dr. Twyman was the Swope family physician for years and so valuable did the state consider his testimony against Hyde that at one time Prosecutor Conkling thought of dismissing the jury and awaiting the recovery of the physician before beginning the trial.

NAVAL RESERVES WILL BE INSPECTED TONIGHT

The naval Reserves were unable to resume their drilling last evening because the lights in their armory were not sufficient for the purpose. The roll was called, however, and notice given that this evening the Reserves would be inspected by Adjutant General Cox and receive the money due them for services on the last cruise.

LOCAL SALOONIST HEAVILY FINED

Louis Trotter, who conducts a saloon at 300 South Charlotte street, and who pleaded guilty in circuit court yesterday to having kept his saloon open on a Sunday, was this morning sentenced by Judge Flannigan to pay a fine of $95 and costs. Trotter was arrested upon a complaint sworn to by Rev. C. H. Rutledge of Ishpeming and John L. Judson of this city, who charged that he had kept his saloon open for business on Sunday, February 20. In justice court Trotter waived examination and was held for trial in circuit court. When his case was called yesterday he entered a plea of guilty. The heavy fine imposed upon him would indicate that Judge Flannigan will have little mercy upon violators of the state liquor laws brought before him for sentence. The customary punishment for the offense to which Trotter pleaded guilty has been a fine of $25 and costs.

EX-MAYOR MILLER IS RINGED AND WATCHED

Gladstone Firemen and City Officials Give Exceptional Testimonials of Their Regard for Retiring Chief of Fire Department and Mayor of the City.

Former Mayor W. A. Miller of Gladstone, who was defeated for reelection by Walter F. Hammel after serving three years, and who resigned as fire chief last week, was presented with a ring set with diamonds by the firemen as a token of their esteem. Following this lead the city officials of Gladstone, at a meeting of the council Monday evening, added their own testimonial of regard for Mr. Miller by presenting him with a small amount of gold watch.

Mayor Hammel in his inaugural address before the council Monday evening outlined his policy for the coming year. He is in favor of making necessary street improvements and strongly advocates a campaign of advertising the city as a desirable location for industries, etc.

STATE POLITICAL NEWS

Lansing, Mich., April 19.—Chase S. Osborn states that he does not expect to devote much time to the upper peninsula expecting that to take care of itself while he devotes his time to the country below the straits.

Then, too, there are those who believe Mr. Osborn's method of campaigning would not be popular in all sections of the upper peninsula. In lower Michigan denounces Cannonism and Aldrichism; above the straits he has not been making any such campaign, evidently believing that regular Republicanism would be more popular in that strong Republican section.

Lieut. Gov. Patrick H. Kelley, candidate for governor, is steadily at work and as the time draws nearer to the primaries he believes his outlook for the nomination is growing stronger and that he will receive the nomination without difficulty.

Elliott Schantz, who has been in the state tax commissioner's department for the past two years, has gone to Detroit to enter the office of the Burrows' senatorial headquarters in the capacity of stenographer.

It's getting almost time for Amos S. Musselman to give a few more amendments to his platform. Local option—not prohibition—seems to be a good theme for him and now that a number of more dry counties have been added to the state, it's up to him to speak up.

STEVENS TO SUCCEED MORAN AT THE SOO

Appointment of New Manager of Soo Branch of the National Grocer Company is Announced—National Grocer Company Not Boosting for Amos Musselman.

According to an announcement just made at Sault Ste. Marie, Edward Stevens will on May 1 assume the position of manager of the Soo branch of the National Grocer company, taking the place of J. V. Moran of this city, resigned. Mr. Stevens has been a resident of Sault Ste. Marie since 1889 and during all the years since he has been engaged in the grocery business. At the same time Mr. Moran retires from the management of the Soo branch of the National Grocer company he will retire from the management of the company's branch in Escanaba, his successor here being M. J. Ryan, as previously announced in this paper.

B. B. Cushman of Detroit, secretary and treasurer of the National Grocer company, who was in the Soo Saturday and officially announced the appointment of Mr. Stevens as manager, expressed himself as being particularly pleased in being able to announce the change and also in having such an able man in charge of the business there.

In discussing the retirement of Amos Musselman as president of the company, Mr. Cushman said that the new head of the company was F. C. Letz of Chicago, who formerly held the position of vice president. He also stated that any impression that might have gotten out that the National Grocer company as an institution or as individuals was boosting the candidacy of Amos Musselman for governor was an error and that the company or its employees were taking absolutely no part in the campaign nor would they at any stage of the game. Mr. Musselman has not only retired as president of the company, but also from the board of directors.

Our Daily Short Story

A Plucky Woman

Story of a Press Gang
By EDGAR FALES MOODY

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

A hundred years ago there was a Connecticut farmer named John Clough living on the shores bordering on Long Island sound. His wife Katherine dearly loved her husband, and their union was blessed with ten children.

One evening when Katherine had prepared John's supper and was waiting for him to come home and eat it a small boy with eyes-a-stare came running to the house crying:

"Missus Clough, your man's carried off!"

"What d'ye mean?" asked the frightened woman.

"Some men came along while he was a seedin' and took him by the arms and run him down to a boat. They put him in and are rowin' him out to a warship."

"Oh, my gracious, the press gang!" She ran out of the house and on to an eminence in time to see the boat pulling for a ship at anchor bearing the British ensign from her peak.

John Clough had been pressed into the British service. Katherine was so fond of him that she could not bear the idea of waiting for him to come home after a long term of service and resolved to join him if possible. The ship remained at anchor that night, and the next morning, leaving her children in the care of her sister, Mrs. Clough cut off her hair, put on a suit of John's and, taking a boat, rowed out to the man-of-war. There she offered herself for enlistment. She was gladly accepted without a physical examination and donned a sailor's uniform. She was soon recognized by her husband, but she gave him a look of warning, and he did not betray her.

The Britisher sailed about for some time in American waters, her captain here and there impressing a man into his service, desiring to fill up his crew, which was incomplete.

As soon as possible John and Katherine concerted to make their escape. Katherine's plan was to assist John to get away, after which she might declare her sex and get discharged. But they both knew that so long as the ship remained on the American coast a very sharp watch would be kept on those Americans that had been impressed, so this task would not be easy of accomplishment. And if they made an attempt and failed one or both would be put in irons.

They kept a sharp watch for an opportunity, but so strict was the watch that none occurred. Finally preparations making for a voyage warned them that the ship would soon sail away and if they were to put any scheme into execution they must do so without further delay.

One day Katherine left the collar of her sailor jacket open just low enough to betray her sex. A petty officer was the first to discover the fact and reported it to the officer of the deck. Katherine was summoned before the commander and acknowledged her deception. The officer would have put her ashore at once, but she begged to be allowed to remain, for a time at least, as cook. Her request was granted, and she was transferred to the galley. But as there was not a woman's garment of any kind aboard she must needs retain her sailor togs.

One evening when the ship was at anchor off New London John told his wife that he could swim ashore if he could only get away from the ship. But this was impossible, for marines were on watch, and any one jumping overboard would be shot. If he were not shot a boat would be lowered, and he would be captured before he had swum a hundred yards. The sailors had got wind of the intention of the captain to sail the next morning for England, and the Englishmen of the crew were much delighted at the prospect of going home.

Though the night was not dark, the Cloughs determined to make an attempt. About eight bells a great flare of light appeared in the galley, and Katherine, who had secretly collected as much inflammable stuff as she could conceal and had touched a burning brand to it, raised the cry of "Fire!"

A fire on shipboard, especially on a wooden man-of-war, where there are a magazine and more or less ammunition always ready for use, is a danger needing paramount attention. All hands were called either to the galley or to the pumps, and all hands except John Clough obeyed. He was on the forecastle at the time watching the marine nearest him. The man was too good a soldier to leave his post, but was too much interested in the fire that might cost him his life to think of anything else. John Clough scuttled to the bowsprit, got down on to the chains, dropped noiselessly into the water and swam for the shore.

The fire in the galley was soon extinguished, and unfortunately as it at first appeared for Katherine there were evidences that she had been an incendiary. Had she been a man she would have probably been hanged to the yardarm. Even had the ship been in an English port she would have been turned over to the civil authorities. As it was she was considered a fit person to get rid of and was sent ashore.

Meanwhile John had landed safely without even having been shot at. The next evening the pair met at their farm, embraced, hugged their children and enjoyed a good supper.

WILL MAKE TURPENTINE OUT OF USELESS STUMPS

Company is Organized at Grand Rapids to Carry on Unique Industry in Michigan—Details.

Hancock Copper Journal: At last a use has been found for the millions of acres of charred and blackened stumps with which the cut over lands of the upper peninsula abound. An enterprising corporation organized at Grand Rapids intends to convert these stumps into a high grade of turpentine, and it is flooding the northern counties with offers of stock at $10 a share, with promises of big dividends and a great advance over the par value.

The company, in its circulars, states that the Norway pine produces a very high grade of turpentine, which sells on the market at a price well above that which the southern product can command. There is a large acreage of Norway pine stumps in the northern peninsula and in the upper half of the lower. The company proposes to buy up these stumps at a nominal cost, transfer them to its reducing plants and extract from them millions of gallons of turpentine.

The plan on its surface appears feasible. In fact, it is one which has long been under consideration by Hancock men. J. H. Jasberg, following a recent tour of the lower peninsula, stated in a conversation with a Copper Journal man that he believed money could be made buying up the vast amount of stumpage in the northern counties and transferring the waste timber into high grade turpentine and charcoal.

To Establish Four Plants. There is of course a question as to whether the cost of "rooting out" the stumps and transferring them to the reduction plants would not be so great as to cut down the earnings to nothing. The Grand Rapids company expects to overcome this difficulty by establishing four plants in the upper peninsula at points centrally located as regards the stumpage available, thus minimizing the cost of transportation.

In one of its flowery circulars, the company says: "Millions of acres of pine barrens, hitherto worthless legacy of the pine barons, are feeling the magic touch of the chemist's hands, and already the humble and worthless pine stump is being transferred into gold. Not only do these billions of charred and blackened stumps represent millions in money when retort and test tube have done their work, but the land from which they have been torn is arable and tillable, ready for the plowman's share.

"Thus is chemistry and the reaction against the extravagant waste of natural resources accomplishing for Michigan something that will reclaim millions of acres of land, and add millions to taxable property, and furnish homes and a livelihood for thousands of agriculturists, where now stand only the reminders of former forest glory.

Pull Stumps With Steam. Less than six years ago the transformation of the pine barrens into cultivated land and the use of the stumps for the manufacture of chemicals was scoffed at by land men and the capitalists alike. But since that time the plants have been built, the turpentine had been produced, and the farmer has had his land cleared, not only for nothing, but to his profit in cash, while the manufacturer had his profit. The first actually successful turpentine plant was opened less than six years ago. Prior to that time the plants that had been erected were not satisfactory. It cost too much to get the stumps out of the ground by the old method. The chemical processes were not complete. But these difficulties now have all been overcome.

The company proposes to use steam in pulling stumps, and asserts that by this method it can be done at a quarter the expense involved in pulling with horses. The company expects to clear from four to six thousand acres of land each year, and will leave the land in such condition that the actual settler can locate immediately upon his farm and produce a crop the first year.

If the company will do all that it promises to do it might be well for local people to encourage the establishment of a plant here. It will mean the gaining of a prosperous industry, as well as the clearing of thousands of acres of Houghton county lands, which would thus be opened to the homesteader and farmer.

RETURN WITHOUT A TRACE OF HUNTER

Searching Party Reports Bellby Hopelessly Lost in the Woods of Northern Michigan—Two Weeks' Search is All in Vain—Story of the Tragedy.

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 19.—Clothed in the deepest mystery that has ever attended a death in the north woods of Michigan, the circumstances surrounding the strange disappearance of Robert Bellby, a hunter of this section who went north last fall with a party of Berrien county sportsmen to shoot deer, are to forever remain a secret of the trackless wilds.

Yesterday there arrived here a party of searchers who a fortnight ago invaded the north for the purpose of finding Bellby's remains or at least some trace of him. Two weeks of systematic hunting, of dragging of creeks and small streams, of search through swamps and forests where the vegetation grew luxuriantly as to make passage almost impossible, failed to disclose a single clue which would indicate his fate.

Bellby, father of two children and the husband of a woman who is grieving herself to death over his tragic disappearance, lived just across the Berrien line in Cass county. He was an expert woodsman and a hunter. Sixty-five years of age, he had been north on deer hunting expeditions a number of times. Last fall in company with his son he started north for his annual outing in the woods. With him were neighbors and veteran deer hunters. Camp was established near Sidnaw.

One day Bellby and another member of the camp started out. They had tracked a deer for some distance when the "run" separated. The hunters parted company, Bellby disappearing over the ridge. That was the last seen of him. Heart sick and disappointed, the son and others of the party came home, to break the news to the widow. To satisfy a mother's whim the son headed an expedition back up north to hunt for the body this spring. This week the party returned, empty handed, and with the word that the woods refuse to give up the secret of the deer hunter's end.

There are many theories concerning Bellby's strange disappearance. A startling one, but one which the lost hunter's companions say is probable, is that Bellby was mistaken for a deer, shot by a stranger and his body buried to hide the mistake. Others believe that Bellby, exhausted and bewildered, wandered away into a trackless swamp, a victim of cold and hunger.

POET CONVICT GOES FREE FROM PRISON

St. Paul, Minn., April 19.—Shortly after the noon hour Monday, Gov. Eberhart's executive clerk, J. A. O. Preus, delivered to Warden Wolf of the state prison at Stillwater the order for the release of John Carter, the convict who won his freedom by writing a poem.

Carter, who is twenty-four years old, was awaiting the order in the office of the warden. As soon as the formalities were over, he walked forth a free man. He wore a suit of dark clothes, including an overcoat, given him by the state, and carried $25 of the state's money, which is furnished every discharged prisoner.

Besides this he had about $200 which he had earned by his writings and extra pay allowed him for work as prison librarian and teacher of the night school. One of the first things Carter asked for while waiting for his discharge was "a good cigar." "I have almost forgotten what a good cigar tastes like," he said. He talked freely of his plans, but said that before deciding definitely on what occupation he would take up for a livelihood he would first consult with Judge Willis of St. Paul.

NEW CREAMERY IN DICKINSON COUNTY.

The new creamery in Felch township, Dickinson county, will commence operations the first of May, it is now expected. The creamery is owned by a stock company composed almost entirely of farmers in the vicinity. It is assured of a good supply of milk, as the farmers are pledged to increase their herds. The plant is an excellent one, and the venture is expected to be an entirely successful enterprise.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney and bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine.

THEATRICAL

The Peterson:—Charles Klein has given the American playgoers splendid intellectual stage material in the past, but his "The Third Degree" is said to excel even his former success "The Lion and The Mouse." "The Third Degree" exploits a phase of modern life and customs that is at once interesting and irresistible. It gracefully and intelligently discloses, in the most fascinating manner, the savage methods of the police and the pitiable blindness of justice in certain criminal proceedings against suspects. It proves conclusively that these methods are nothing short of barbarous and at the same time are decidedly uncertain channels of procedure against the suspected or the criminal.

It is universally admitted that torture will make a man "confess" anything, in order that he may gain respite from his miseries. For proof of this we have only to refer to the "Spanish Inquisition." Human nature and mental and physical endurance have not changed since those days. A confession, wrung from the lips of an accused while he is being tortured, does not prove his guilt, as the records of our respected tribunals of justice show. Rather does it excite the pity and sympathy that are ever present in the breast of man for his fellow-being.

In "The Third Degree" the accused is acquitted after being publicly condemned through circumstantial evidence and his alleged confession. The play is truly a wonderfully interesting psychological study.

The presenting company is one of exceptional ability and includes Paul Everton, Fernanda Elisca, E. A. Eberle, Margaret Drew, Alfred Moore, T. L. Coleman, Francis Bonn, A. H. Symmons, H. H. Foreman and Ralph Ramsay.

It is under the direction of Henry B. Harris, who has produced more successes in the past five years than any other manager. It will be presented here on Sunday, May 1, at the Peterson opera house.

ROLLER SKATING BAD FOR NECKS.

Ypsilanti, Mich., April 19.—Physicians have discovered a serious result of the sidewalk roller skating craze, especially among young girls. The constant stretching of the neck, leaning forward and the jerking ahead at breakneck speed induces an overdevelopment of the muscles of the front of the neck, and an unsightly "big neck" results that may lead to permanent disfigurement.

BIG BOAT BLOCKADE AT THE SOD LOCKS

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 19.—Boats are now arriving steadily—quite a number are now tied up both above and below, awaiting locking. The Canadian government has a small patrol boat directing them and keeping them in locking order and they are being handled as rapidly as possible and consistent with safety. Nothing can be learned as to the opening of the American locks yet.

The fleet at anchor promises to be continually increased rather than diminished, as the greater number of freight steamers, in order to dodge the Friday hoodoo, when marine insurance went into effect, waited until Saturday before starting out on their initial trip, which brought them to this port in a bunch.

IS THE COST OF FOOD ON WANE?

New York, April 19.—According to dealers in foodstuffs the cost of living is decreasing steadily and will continue. Since April 1, they say, pork has fallen $2 a barrel, lard 1 cent a pound and hogs $2 a hundred. Corn is 20 cents a bushel lower than in April, 1909, while oats and grain are off.

For Our Boys and Girls

Swimming on Dry Land.

Until a couple of years ago a majority of even the seamen of the British navy would have drowned if they had been tumbled into deep water. Finding how few of the enlisted men of the British navy could swim, the English government authorities determined to make the ignorant learn this useful art, beginning by exercises on the decks of their warships. Instructors were obtained and classes of sailors were formed. Uncle Sam also teaches his sailors to swim.

The lessons begin by having the seaman lie upon his stomach on a broad stool and learn to make the proper movement of the arms and to kick out with his legs. It is a humorous spectacle to see a big man lying upon his stomach across a stool and kicking and waving his arms about in a foolish fashion, but it has been found that all the necessary swimming movements can be taught in this way, so that one drilled in them could if he fell overboard save himself easily from drowning even though he had never before been out of his depth in water. Often in the preliminary dry drills the learner must leave the stool, lie flat upon deck and go through the swimming movements while his comrades stand about and criticize him. If he is awkward and clumsy the comrades make sport of him mercilessly and uproariously.

After the mechanical movements are thoroughly learned by the sailor upon the deck of his ship he is obliged every morning to attend swimming drill in the water. Tanks or pools of deep water are provided for this purpose. It seems very strange, but some of the big grown men, even after they have learned the swimming movements, are scared half to death at the thought of going into the water. You will see from this how much better it is to learn to swim when one is young and small. "It seems another odd fact that children are often naturally far more fearless than grown persons.

A Royal Rebuke. The members of the Society of Friends decline to uncover the head in the presence of the highest earthly dignitary, even royalty itself. They say that this is a token of reverence which should be kept for God alone. The famous William Penn, who was longed to this sect, kept on his hat when he was first presented to his sovereign, Charles II. The king rebuked this apparent rudeness in a manner no less happy than good natured. When the sturdy Quaker was shown into his presence his majesty took off his own hat, saying, "Friend Penn, it is the custom of this court for only one person to remain covered at a time."

She Comes, She Comes. This game becomes more interesting with the number of the players. One player selects some object in plain sight and tells the other players the letter it begins with. The player who guesses correctly is the one to select the object the next time.

A Better Way to Wash Clothes

WITH CLEAN, warm water and a cake of Lenox Soap, any woman can do good work, BUT SHE CAN DO BETTER WORK—and do it easier—if she uses Lenox Soap solution.

THIS IS THE WAY TO MAKE IT. Take a cake of Lenox Soap, cut it into small pieces, dissolve these in three quarts of boiling water. Keep water at boiling point until a solution is formed.

Wet the clothes, rub soap solution on the soiled parts, fold and roll each piece separately, pack in a tub, cover with warm soapy water and let stand over night. Next morning, you will find that the really hard part of washing—rubbing the clothes up and down the washboard—is not half as hard as usual.

A Merchant Must Make It Pay You to Read His Ads!

Whatever he does to make his store of more importance to you than is the store of his competitor must be explained, hinted or suggested to you—and he can only do that by enchainning your attention to his ads.

He is aware that you "know things" about stores—about goods—values, prices. He, therefore, knows that to advertise something that is actually high-priced—or, not actually priced on a profit-dividing plan—is to merely give proof of the nonusefulness of his store to you.

Now, the merchant knows that his store is useful to you. And he knows that he must make it more and more so. So his problem resolves itself into this:

THAT AS ONLY GOOD VALUES OFFERED MAKE GOOD ADVERTISING, HE MUST MAKE EVERYTHING IN HIS STORE ADVERTISABLE. Thus, to make store-keeping pay he must be a big advertiser and to make advertising pay he must make it pay the person who reads it.

The inexorable logic of modern business, therefore, compels the merchant to make it pay you to read his ads.

BIG LEAGUES USE

20,000 BALLS.

New York, April 19.—It is estimated that 20,000 balls are used annually by the major league clubs during the training trips and championship campaigns. John Arnold Heydler, secretary-treasurer of the National League, reports that last year the teams in his organization called on the manufacturers to furnish them with 800 dozen spheres. The Cincinnati Reds used the most balls, and then came the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Chicago Cubs, the New York Giants, the Phillies, the Boston Doves, the Brooklyn Superbas and the St. Louis Cardinals.

PRIZES FOR ESSAYS ON OUR HISTORY.

Detroit, Mich., April 19.—The plan of giving prizes to the children in the schools of Michigan for essays on American history was discussed at length at the annual meeting of the Michigan Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. While there was some opposition to the plan, there was also much favorable comment, and the question was referred to the committee on patriotic education, of which Dr. Lee McClester is chairman.

How I Win

By Herman Schafer
Formerly of the Detroit Tigers, Now
Washington's Second Baseman.

(Copyright, 1910, by Joseph B. Hawley.)

Work hard and think hard, and keep working and thinking all the time, whether you are winning or losing, is the way to win in baseball. I have been with losers and been with winners, and my system of losing is the same as that of winning.

People have an idea baseball players are some special make of men. The fact is that hard work and steady practice is what makes one man better than another in the game, provided they start with equal strength, health and speed, and have determination and grit and no strain or streak of yellow.

Anyone who is timid, who gives up quickly or lacks gameness never can become a winning player. We had a test with the Detroit team that proved good. Every man in the team was supposed to take chances in running bases, and to take chances in preventing the other fellows from running. In blocking runners, or in sliding a player voluntarily risks getting hurt, and it was a point of honor with the players not to whimper if they got cut or bruised. The ones that complained did not last long.

I think my best success as a player has been in keeping thinking all the time, both at bat and in the field, and in trying to keep the spirit of the team up when we seemed licked. They say the Irish never know when they are licked, but an Irishman found it out first and told me I was licked the first time, and then I wouldn't believe him. When I was a boy I played on a team in Chicago that lost 14 games and won two, and after every game I had a battle with anyone who said our team wasn't the best. I guess that is what makes winners, never knowing when they are beaten.

I think the way I have won (which is too seldom) has been by hard work and by studying the game all the time, taking advantage of every new thing that comes up. When I was in the minor leagues I must have been a bad ball player, as several clubs released me, but I never thought so, and kept up both ambition and confidence. If a fellow loses either of these I think he is gone, and I would rather lose a foot than either. I try to keep in condition, to be there every day, and work hard and keep fighting until the last man is out, and then go back at them just as hard the next day. If there is any other way of winning I don't know it. I have found that the coolness and ability to keep my head in exciting situations helps a lot to win, especially if the other fellows get excited. The cool-headed player may make a play that will turn the whole game, just when the excited team has its best opportunity to win. I'd rather be a good loser than a bad winner, and win or lose, I believe a fellow ought to come out of every game feeling he has done his best. If he feels that way all the roasting the crowd can give don't hurt.

RAILROAD MEN'S PAY RAISED $35,000,000

Approximately Half Million Men Have Been Advanced in Wages Since First of Year.

It is estimated that the general advance now in progress in the wages of railroad employees will amount to $35,000,000. On account of the various forms in which the announcements of increases have been made, it is impossible to arrive at any definite figure, but the above may be taken as a moderate estimate.

The new schedules offered by the New York Central, the New York, New Haven & Hartford, the Boston & Albany and the Pennsylvania involve an aggregate increase of nearly $20,000,000 annually, and these are only four of the railroads upon which advances have been announced.

Most of the advances granted since the first of the year have been percentage increases. Some, however, are in the form of so many cents an hour, and still others in the form of so many dollars a month. Two of the roads have simply announced the annual total which the advances granted would cost their treasurers, without giving details.

Half Million Advanced.

The number of men benefitted by these advances has ranged from a few hundred, in the case of some companies, to as many as 200,000 in the case of the company with the largest pay-roll. The number of employees who have received wage increases since the first of the year will not fall short of half a million.

The principal advances so far announced have been made by the following roads:

Second in Four Years.

This general advance in the wages of railroad men is the second in a period of four years. The last previous raise came in 1906-1907. Soon after, in the fall of 1907, came the panic, but the railroads, despite the falling off in business, did not reduce the wages then. Thus the present increase comes on the top of the one four years ago.

To illustrate: an employee earning $150 a month in 1906 on a road where a ten per cent. advance was granted, received $15 more under the higher scale. A seven per cent. advance this year carried his pay to $176.55 a month. This represents a net increase of 17.7 per cent. over what he received in 1906.

FISHING IN STATE IS A BIG INDUSTRY

According to Dwight Lydell, superintendent of the Mill Creek state fish hatchery, commercial fishing netted the people of Michigan two million dollars in round numbers last year. Lake trout lead in the point of value with whitefish second. Herring lead in point of weight with the rather astonishing total of 29,681,760. The value of herring was $345,476.50. Lake trout weighing 9,326,390 and valued at $526,168 were taken.

The weight of whitefish was 5,194,870 and the value $422,000.62. Wall-eyed pike were fourth in point of value with a total of $162,250.50 and total weight of 2,073,000 pounds. Suckers rank next in value with an aggregate of $145,245, but this variety was third in point of total weight which was 5,431,000 pounds. Perch weighing 2,795,400 and valued at $89,274 were taken.

Sturgeon is disappearing, but the commercial fishers caught 97,644 pounds of this variety and the value was $15,733.40. In the miscellaneous column were recorded German carp, rock bass, grass pike saugers, etc. The miscellaneous weight aggregated 3,755,810 pounds and the value totaled $97,924.60. The total weight of fish taken by commercial interests in Michigan waters was 48,755,814 pounds and the value was $1,804,667.

NEWS PICKED UP AROUND LANSING

(Special to The Daily Mirror.) Lansing, Mich., April 19.—Land Commissioner Huntley Russell has a new scheme for booming the upper counties of the state. He proposes that the public domain commission shall set aside in each county 40 acres of state reserve land to be turned over to horticulturists for experimental orchards where the farmers of the county can be shown how to plant and care for fruit trees and make fruit growing a profitable investment.

Sylvester Greusel of Hastings, factory inspector for the Fifth district, appointed to succeed Isaac Bloom of Kalamazoo, has started upon his duties. He is well qualified for the position, being a practical factory and machine man.

Burton farmers, Shiawassee county, are facing arrest upon complaint of the pure food department. Milk Inspector Howe secured samples and they did not stand the tests.

The last monthly report of State Game and Fish Warden Pierce shows that 705 complaints were filed against alleged violators of the state fish and game laws, and 37 convictions secured. Of this number 17 cases were started for violations of the game laws and 46 for violations of the fish laws. A total of $1,364.52 was collected in fines.

one man being charged with watering the milk he sold and the other with skimming it. The pure food department caused the arrests.

A few forest fires in various sections of the state have been reported to the forest and game warden and additional warnings are being sent out to use the utmost care in setting fires.

At a recent meeting of the state board of health Dr. F. W. Shumway was elected delegate to the National State and Territorial Boards of Health, which will be held in Washington, April 28, 29 and 30.

PATRIOTS CELEBRATE WITH A MARATHON

Boston, April 19.—Sport-loving patriots of Boston and vicinity will again celebrate the anniversary of Lexington and Concord by witnessing the fleetest runners of the United States and Canada compete for honors in the fourteenth renewal of the American Marathon. The race, which is under the direction of the Boston Athletic Association, starts at Ashland at noon and will finish at the clubhouse in this city. Canada has especially strong representation in today's field, and it would not be surprising if the Maple Leaf came home in front again, as in the days of Ceffery, Sherring and Longboat.

The distance of the race is twenty-five miles. The record for the course is held by Tom Longboat, who, while an amateur, made the run in 2 hours, 24 minutes and 24 seconds. That was in 1907.

WHISKY "BLENDERS" LOSE IN DECISION

Washington, D. C., April 19.—The "blenders" lose in a decision of great importance to the whisky trade rendered on Monday by Secretaries MacVeagh, Nagel and Wilson, acting as a board appointed by the president to prepare regulations to put into effect his ruling as to "what is whisky."

Manufacturers of neutral spirits made from molasses and beets, claiming to represent two-sevenths of the total production of neutral spirits in the country, appealed to allow blenders using their products to label the mixture a "blend of whisky and neutral distilling."

The board decided against them and held that such a mixture must be labeled "compound."

This upholds the original decision of the president which was that whisky can be made only from grain and that only mixtures of grain distilling can be called "blends."

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulets act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Green stuff is coming into the local market from the southern field. Florida sends tomatoes, string beans, celery, green peppers and new potatoes. The head lettuce comes from Louisiana, while the cucumbers and radishes are raised in hot houses in and about Chicago.

HARLAN P. BIRD HAS APOPLECTIC STROKE.

Menominee, Mich., April 19.—Harlan Page Bird, state senator from Wausaukee, a former Menominee resident and member of the Bird & Wells Lumber company, was stricken with a slight stroke of apoplexy while teaching a class in Sunday school at the Presbyterian church in Wausaukee Sunday morning. At first it was thought that the venerable senator who is over seventy years of age, had succumbed to heart disease, but an examination proved the diagnosis to be wrong. While his condition is at present critical, late advices to Dr. H. A. Vennema, who was called to attend him, state that he has a chance for recovery.

JUDGMENT OF LOWER COURT SUSTAINED

In circuit court this morning Judge Flannigan directed a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding him a judgment of $100 and costs, in the case of Lyman M. Beggs vs. Benjamin Salinsky. This case was an appeal taken by Mr. Salinsky from a judgment rendered against him some time ago in Justice O. V. Linden's court, and the decision of the circuit court sustains that of the lower court. Mr. Beggs has sued to recover a commission of $100 for effecting a sale of certain property belonging to Mr. Salinsky and which was not consummated after all the details had been arranged. Attorney James Clancey represented Mr. Beggs, while Cumminskey & Spencer appeared for Mr. Salinsky.

TAKE NO ACTION ON CENTRAL DELIVERY

The Grocers and Butchers' Association Hears and Accepts Report Made by Special Investigators, but Takes no Further Steps Toward Establishing System.

Contrary to the expectations of some, the members of the Escanaba Grocers and Butchers' association at their special meeting last evening did not take any further steps toward the establishing of a central delivery system in this city.

About the only thing that was done was to hear the report made by Secretary John A. Stromberg and E. M. St. Jacques, who had conducted a personal investigation of the central delivery system in operation at Ann Arbor at the request of the association.

Both Mr. Stromberg and Mr. St. Jacques reported strongly in favor of the cooperative system in use at Ann Arbor and expressed the belief that it would be a good system to adopt here. Their reports were accepted but the members of the association took no further action, preferring to consider the matter further before coming to a definite decision.

While a majority of the association members are apparently in favor of establishing a system here, it may be some time yet before it is in operation.

SMALL BOY MAY LOSE HIS RIGHT THUMB

While playing with a number of companions around the flat cars in the rear of the street railway power house yesterday afternoon, Leland Tuxford, aged five years, had the thumb of his right hand smashed in such a manner that it may be impossible to save it.

The boy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Tuxford of 203 Stephenson avenue, was upon the platform of one of the cars and apparently wanted to assist his companions in making a coupling to another small flat car that was being hauled up by the other boys with a long piece of rope. As the cars came together Leland was unable to get his hand away quickly enough and the thumb of his right hand was caught between the bumpers of the two cars. His brother, who is a few years older, went to his rescue and after releasing him from his painful position, took him home.

Your Checks are Receipts

"Pay as you go" is an excellent maxim provided you "pay-by-check." It's foolish to carry money on the person, except for the smallest purchases and incidentals, for aside from the care and inconvenience there is always the danger of theft or loss.

But with a check-book of this bank in your pocket the inconvenience and worry is eliminated. You write out a check for the exact amount of each purchase, your check-stub is a record for reference and the check itself will later be returned to you by the bank and may be retained as a receipt.

Some persons may think of the check account as being complicated. Nothing could keep books for you and there is a record for your every transaction.
