ALL TO JOIN HANDS IN WORK FOR CITY

The Common Council, Business Men's Association and Trades and Labor Council Will Endeavor to Select Best Men Available for Charter Revision Commission.

Acting upon the suggestion and invitation of the board of directors of the Escanaba Business Men's association, the common council last evening took another step in the charter revision matter by authorizing Mayor Greenhoot to appoint a committee of five members from the council, with himself as a member, to act in conjunction with similar committees of five each from the Business Men's association and the Trades and Labor Council for the purpose of nominating the best men available to be elected as members of the charter commission.

The council committee as appointed consists of Mayor Greenhoot and Aldermen John P. McColl, Paul Jaegers, E. M. St. Jacques and John Garrity. Mayor Greenhoot stated that he would take it upon himself to confer with the heads of the Business Men's association and the Trades and Labor Council for the purpose of setting a date when the charter representatives of each should all get together for the purpose indicated.

It was desired, Mayor Greenhoot said, to select men for the commission who would be acceptable to their respective wards and to the city at large, so that their election on May 23 would be but a mere matter of form. Politics will not be permitted to figure in the selection of those men, the mayor stated.

The communication from the Business Men's association was sent to the council through President W. A. Cotton and Secretary S. M. Matthews and after being read was accepted and placed on file. Subsequent action being taken as already noted. It reads as follows, omitting the address and signatures: "In view of the approaching election of commissioners to prepare a new charter for submission to the vote of the people of this city and in view of the far-reaching effects of a charter revision and its great importance to all citizens and all interests, the board of directors of the Escanaba Business Men's association after careful consideration of the matter believe that it will be of the greatest benefit to all concerned that the ablest men and those best fitted for the purpose should be chosen to act on this commission. "To this end the board of directors of the Escanaba Business Men's Association begs leave to inform you that it will be glad to co-operate with your honorable body by appointing a committee of five of the members of the association to confer with a committee of five of your members and a committee of five members of the Trades and Labor Council in an effort to select men representing all interests such as commissioners so that when the charter prepared by the commis-

SUCCESS OF REPUBLICS DEPENDS UPON CITIZENS

Roosevelt Gives Stirring Talk in Paris to People of France--Summary of Lecture.

(By Associated Press.) Paris, April 23.—In his lecture today at the Sorbonne, Col. Theodore Roosevelt spoke on individual citizenship in the republics of France and the United States. In part he said: "With you here, and with us in my own home, in the long run, success or failure will be conditioned upon the way in which the average man, the average woman, does his or her duty first in the ordinary, everyday affairs of life, and next in those great occasional crises which call for the heroic virtues. The average citizen must be a good citizen if our republics are to succeed. The stream will not permanently rise higher than the main source; and the main source of national power and national greatness is found in the average citizenship of the nation. Therefore it behooves us to do our best to see that the standard of the average citizen is kept high; and the average cannot be kept high unless the standard of the leaders is very much higher. "It is well if a large proportion of the leaders in any republic, in any democracy, are, as a matter of course, drawn from the classes represented in this audience today; but only provided that those classes possess the gifts of sympathy with plain people and of devotion to great ideals. You and those like you have received special

STEAMER GETS LOOSE; BUMPS INTO BRIDGE

A long distance telephone message from Sturgeon Bay this morning says that the steamer Fannie C. Hart, which was tied up at one of the docks at Sturgeon Bay having repairs made, broke loose from her moorings about midnight last night and drifted into the big bridge. Both the boat and the bridge were damaged to a considerable extent and it is claimed that it will cost over $2,000 to settle the bills.

COURT TAKES RECESS UNTIL NEXT MONDAY

At 3:10 o'clock this afternoon Judge Flannigan finished his charge to the jury in circuit court in the case of Sarah Dewey vs. the I. Stephenson company and the jury then retired to deliberate over what should be their verdict. The other jury were excused until ten o'clock Monday morning and court took a recess until the same hour. Trial of the Dewey case was begun late yesterday afternoon and occupied all of this forenoon's session an about an hour this afternoon. The action is one instituted by the plaintiff to recover wages which she claims the defendant company owes her for services as a cook.

S. J. TODD CHOSEN STATE TREASURER

Escanaba Now Possesses Two State Officers of the American Yeoman—State Correspondent A. D. Dupuis Attends Meeting of State Yeomen Officers At Ironwood.

A. D. Dupuis returned last night from Ironwood, where he went to attend a meeting of the state officers of the American Yeomen, which was held in that city Thursday. Mr. Dupuis left Escanaba Thursday morning and arrived at Ironwood in time to meet the other officers and attend to the business the meeting was called for.

Mr. Dupuis holds the responsible office of state correspondent for the American Yeomen and it was part of the business of the session to go over his books and audit them. The other members present were: state foreman, F. A. Bruce of Menominee; state treasurer, L. P. Allard of Menominee and two members of the executive committee, Joshua Thomas of Bessemer and John Thompson, whose home is at Ironwood.

Before the close of the meeting, L. P. Allard tendered his resignation as treasurer, giving as his reason that the work took up so much of his time that it would be impossible for him to serve out his term, which has just started. The name of S. J. Todd of this city was suggested and all the members voted that he take the position as state treasurer in place of Mr. Allard and fill out the remaining portion of the term.

The members of the Yeomen at Ironwood were excellent hosts to the visitors and a considerable amount of entertainment was given in the way of a dance and banquet. The Ironwood band was also engaged and serenaded the state officers at their hotel, before the program for Thursday evening was commenced. By the election of Mr. Todd for state treasurer, Escanaba has two state officers of the State Homestead of Yeomen.

SPECIAL STORM WARNING ISSUED

The Escanaba weather station this afternoon received the following special storm warning, issued at 12:30 o'clock: "There are great possibilities of a severe storm in the north-west, ranging from Duluth to Pequaing and the west shore of Lake Michigan. High northwest winds will continue tonight."

MRS. MARIA SWANSON JOINS THE DEPARTED

After suffering from an incurable illness for a long time, Mrs. Maria Swanson of Bark River township, died at the Cottage hospital in this city about three o'clock this morning. She was brought to the hospital about a week ago and her case at that time was considered hopeless. Her remains were taken from the hospital to J. B. Wilkinson's undertaking establishment, where they will be kept until the funeral, which will be held at two o'clock next Tuesday afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church. Rev. C. Albert Lund will conduct the services and burial will be made in Lakeview cemetery. Mrs. Swanson was forty-five years old and is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Annie Swanson, aged sixteen years. Mr. and Mrs. Swanson were former residents of this city, but for several years past had been living on a farm in Bark River township.

The announcement is made that Attorney T. C. Winegar of Norway, son of Capt. and Mrs. B. D. Winegar of this city, is to be married next Tuesday in Detroit to Miss Alta Poppleton of that city. Mrs. B. D. Winegar expects to attend the wedding.

ALBERT WOLTER MUST DIE IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

Degenerate Youth is Convicted of Fiendish Murder of 15-Year-Old Ruth Wheeler.

(By Associated Press.) New York, April 23.—Albert Wolter, a degenerate youth, nineteen years of age, who gloated over lewd pictures and was "crazy" about women, must die in the electric chair for the murder of Ruth Wheeler, the one hour and fifty minutes' deliberation, the jury in the case last night found him guilty of murder in the first degree. Wolter evinced no emotion when the verdict was announced. He had been asleep in his cell while the jury was deliberating. He will be sentenced Wednesday.

Wolter's Fiendish Crime. Ruth Wheeler was killed March 24. Falling to dispose of her body in a fireplace, Wolter cut it apart and left the bust and the head wrapped in burlaps on the fire escape from where it was pushed into the yard below. The youth was arrested March 26 and was placed on trial Monday last. He denied ever knowing Ruth Wheeler, but the testimony showed that she had been lured to his room, expecting to obtain work as a stenographer. There Wolter had attempted to criminally assault her and murdered her in the struggle, strangling her with a rope tied about her neck.

Writhed in Terror. The testimony for Wolter closed with his own story yesterday afternoon. He was cool and collected, but writhed in terror under the searching cross-examination of the state. When the counsel began summing up the crowd in the courtroom was the largest that has gathered in the criminal court building since Harry Thaw was on trial.

ESCANABA MAY HAVE EIGHTY-TWO SALOONS

At the meeting of the common council last evening several more applications for saloon licenses were accepted and the accompanying bonds approved. The bonds of Henry Thomey and John Bartels were referred to a special committee and the bond of Louis Anderson was laid over until the next meeting, which will be held next Friday evening.

It was determined by City Attorney Jennings last night that Escanaba would be entitled to eighty-two saloons the coming year, but no action was taken on the fact, it not being known just how many applications and bonds had been approved. The city clerk was instructed to compile a list of these and also the names of those who shall have paid their license fees by that time for presentation to the council next Friday evening.

ESCANABA TO BE IN WIRELESS BELT

The Great Lakes Radio Telephone Company Promises to Have a Wireless Station in Operation Here by May 20--Council Gives Permission to Erect the Tower--Details.

According to a statement made before the council last evening by a representative of the Great Lakes Radio Telephone company, Escanaba will have a wireless telegraph station in operation by May 20.

This promise was made by C. D. Rhinehart, a representative of the company, who appeared before the council and asked that his company be given authority to erect a wireless tower on a part of the land located on the south shore, adjoining the lighthouse and used for park purposes. This land is held by the city under a lease from the Riparian Land company.

Mr. Rhinehart intimated that if the city were willing to permit the use of the land for the purpose indicated, the Riparian Land company would not object.

Upon motion of Alderman Valentine, the Wireless company was given permission to erect its tower on the piece of property indicated, subject to the approval of the Riparian Land company, of which Attorney Frank D. Mead is the local representative.

In his talk before the council Mr. Rhinehart stated that his company desired to erect a station at this point to be operated in conjunction with six or seven other stations now being established at various points on the Great Lakes. He said that the Business Men's association had assured the company of at least $600 worth of business a year. This amount, of course, would not suffice to pay the running expenses of the wireless plant but the company is confident that it will get plenty of other business, for it will be in a position to give much better service than that afforded by any other system now existing and at twenty-five per cent less cost.

He stated that if the site desired by the company is secured and other details are satisfactorily arranged, the station would be in operation not later than May 20. The contract for the tower will be let at once and no delay is expected to follow the completion of negotiations now under way for the installation of the system here, Mr. Rhinehart stated.

A similar station has already been contracted for at Houghton and the next to be established will be at Cheboygan, for which place Mr. Rhinehart expected to leave today after closing his arrangements for the enterprise in this city.

PROGRAM IS COMPLETED FOR THE ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS MASS MEETING

It Will Be Held in the City Hall Tomorrow Afternoon--Five Doctors, a Lawyer and a Minister to Deliver Addresses--Details.

The program for the anti-tuberculosis mass meeting that is to be held in the city hall tomorrow afternoon, beginning at three o'clock, has been completed and is one that will assuredly prove of the greatest value and interest. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Escanaba Anti-Tuberculosis society, the membership of which includes many citizens from all walks of life who are aiding as much as they can in the universal fight that is being waged against the white plague.

This meeting is intended to give an impetus to the local efforts that are being made to aid in the great fight and was arranged in compliance with the special request of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, which designated Sunday, April 24, as "Anti-Tuberculosis Sunday," and requested ministers everywhere to preach sermons on that day against the great white plague. Nearly all of the Escanaba ministers will comply with the request and tomorrow will preach such sermons at either their morning or evening services.

At the mass meeting the program will include addresses by five local physicians, a lawyer and a minister, and at its conclusion it is planned to reorganize the Escanaba Anti-Tuberculosis society by the election of officers and a board of directors and by the naming of a committee to draft a constitution for the society, temporary organization of which was effected a year or so ago.

At the opening of the meeting, which all citizens of the city are urged to attend, Dr. A. F. Snyder will make the introductory address, in which he will explain the purpose of the meeting, etc. He will be followed by Dr. Charles Girard, who will discuss the question, "What is Tuberculosis?" Then in order will follow these addresses:

"What is Being Done to Stamp Out Tuberculosis," Dr. O. C. Breitenbach; "The Legal Aspect of Tuberculosis," City Attorney Ira C. Jennings; "What You Can Do to Help the Cause," Rev. Frederick Spence, pastor of the First M. E. church; "What the Layman Should Know," Dr. W. A. Lemire; "The Health Officer and Tuberculosis," Dr. Harry Long.

The program for the anti-tuberculosis mass meeting that is to be held in the city hall tomorrow afternoon, beginning at three o'clock, has been completed and is one that will assuredly prove of the greatest value and interest. # MODERN MACCABEE FIGHT LOOMS ON THE HORIZON

Some Unusual Departments Are Promised for the Great Review at Kalamazoo in June.

From present indications the biennial review of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees to be held in Kalamazoo next June will not be without fireworks of some kind. While they are not expected to surpass those of two years ago in Toledo, it is expected that some unusual developments will take place before the various delegates have said their farewell to the celery city. A Port Huron dispatch says:

"This afternoon a convention of the St. Clair county Maccabees was held in this city for the purpose of selecting delegates to the great review. The delegates were chosen and they are all of one frame of mind apparently, judging from the resolutions unanimously passed by them.

"Foremost among the matters of importance was the indorsement of John B. McIlwain for the office of great counselor, to supplant Frank N. Jones of Ann Arbor. McIlwain, it will be remembered played the role of the martyr at the Toledo convention two years ago, when he sacrificed his office of great counselor at the eleventh hour to make the run for great commander in opposition to George S. Lovelace, the present incumbent. He not only lost the great command, but lost the great counselorship, which has a fat salary attached to it. The reason for McIlwain's sacrifice was that Maj-

Boynton, who was to have run for the high office, was taken ill and McIlwain was substituted in his stead.

Other Officers Endorsed.

The resolutions indorsing McIlwain for this office adopted by the county convention say in part: "Sir Knight McIlwain is recognized by the fraternal world as one of the best informed lawyers on insurance law and his services have been appreciated of which he is now vice-president of the legal section."

"Among the other great camp officers indorsed at the meeting are: Great Commander George S. Lovelace, Great Record-keeper Mort Shay and Great Medical Examiner Talbert H. Steneau.

"However, the strangest thing of all, and the one which presages a scrap at the coming review was the election of Albert A. Graves as county commander and chairman of the St. Clair county delegation. Two years ago Maj. Graves held the office of deputy, but when the Lovelace forces won out at the convention he was deposed without ceremony. Now he will return to the review to put himself right in the eyes of some of the delegates.

"A resolution was also adopted today deploring the long, serious illness of Major N. S. Boynton, congratulating him on his partial recovery and expressing hope for his full restoration to health and activities."

pared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year. A bulletin issued on Wednesday by the interstate commerce commission shows an increase in the number of persons killed of 301, and in the number of injured of 5,645, as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1908. The total number of persons killed was 1,091 and the total number injured 22,491.

Automobile Notes.

HOW TO BUY A MOTOR CAR.

The Same Automobile Is Not Suitable For All Purposes.

POINTERS FOR THE PURCHASER

Good Ignition, Power to Carry Load at Required Speed, Flexibility, Quietness and Lack of Vibration Important Tips to Buyers.

Automobile buyers these days are learning that a machine suitable for one purpose is not necessarily suitable for another, and types have been evolved with reference to many special uses. Design and construction are so far standardized that the purchaser who wishes some certainty mixed with his experiment can find it in his choice of a well tried and popular machine. If the right choice is made he can get a car which, mile for mile, will cost no more than a horse, and probably much less, and will far outdistance the horse.

The knowing purchaser's choice resolves itself around the question of carrying capacity, speed, convenience and taste in body style, supplemented by his mechanical knowledge of the car. When you buy a car it is a good idea to choose along the following lines:

See that the car seats the number of passengers you desire and seats them comfortably, as pleasure is the prime requisite of a car.

Observe whether the car has sufficient power to carry its load at the required speed and that it picks up speed and is able to negotiate hills on high gear without pounding or undue effort. Quietness and lack of vibration is the first item in economy of upkeep. Note the flexibility in the range of speeds on the throttle without changing gears. How slowly it will run on high gear without clutch-slippping. Flexibility is most important, as it avoids gear changing and enables the car to cover a greater distance in a day's run.

A good motor should be able to accelerate and pick up speed on high gear almost at a touch. A sluggish motor is dangerous, as there are often times when quick and immediate action is necessary. Your car should start at a turn of the crank. Two separate ignition systems are an advantage and are an anchor to windward.

General appearance, comfort and durability are points that can easily be judged by the reputation of the makers. Beauty of body lines and upholstery are external points which mark the high grade car and can never be faked. Last and not least is the care of the car after you have bought it. Will the firm stand back of its product and give you prompt and cheerful service when you need a repair part, etc.?

All these are points which the prospective purchaser should weigh well and look up before purchasing.

Radiator Heating.

Many owners of cars are bothered with radiator heating on short trips. The pump may be in good condition and the radiator hose new. Still the autostill will have his troubles. For such cases the following will no doubt prove valuable:

When new hose is put on the timer a coating of rubber is sometimes forced inside of the pipe instead of outside, thus causing a clog. Disconnect the radiator, pour water in the filler pipe and see if it runs out freely at the bottom. If not, the radiator is clogged and will need cleaning. Does the pump vane revolve in the right direction? It has happened in other cases that the vane was removed for inspection and replaced so that the arms were shaped wrong for the direction of rotation. The vane should revolve as per cut.

DON'TS FOR THE AUTOIST.

If every automobilist would observe the following rules there would be fewer motor accidents and more friends of the horseless vehicle.

Don't disobey the rules of the road.

Don't forget that pedestrians have the same rights as vehicles at street crossings.

Don't forget that your rate of speed should never exceed the legal rate.

Don't argue with trolley cars, express wagons, brewery trucks or other heavy bodies found in the public thoroughfare.

Don't expect women and children to get out of your way.

Don't run any unnecessary risks.

THEATRICAL

The Peterson.—When Charles Klein wrote "The Lion and the Mouse" he delved into a great problem, which he solved in a splendid dramatic way, holding the breathless interest of his audience throughout and making the play a huge success. Since its production by Henry B. Harris, Mr. Klein has constantly searched for another subject equally convincing and real, and the success of "The Third Degree" proves only too well that his quest was not in vain.

As the title implies, the play is founded on the great police system of inquisition, something we hear of in a mysterious, indirect way, but about which few of us ever know anything at first hand. The drama deals with human emotions and the attitude of the police towards suspected criminals, and while it treats honestly of this theme it does not in any sense reek with crime and criminals as a casual glance at the title would lead one to believe. Withal it tells a powerful story, human, clean and real and is a fitting companion to its predecessor, "The Lion and the Mouse."

Henry B. Harris is sending his best cast of players to interpret this great drama at the Peterson on Sunday night, May 1.

Ben's theater.—tomorrow afternoon and evening only will be shown the great special moving pictures of "Roosevelt in Africa" at Ben's theater. The pictures were taken on W. D. Boyce's scientific expedition for his Saturday Blade and Chicago Ledger and show scenes made famous by Colonel Roosevelt. Among these scenes, which will be shown for the first and perhaps only time in Escanaba, are: A native wrestling match; interesting group of high and low caste natives awaiting the first ascension of the Boyce balloon; John T. McCutcheon, the famous cartoonist, taking a "joy ride" in the Boyce balloon; Mrs. C. E. C. Akely of Cleveland taking a trip among the clouds; arrival of the governor of East Africa and Boyce expedition at Mombasa; trolley in Mombasa propelled by native leg power; the wonderful Boyce caravan off for the jungles, with four bullock wagons and 400 natives; the Boyce expedition fording the G'Uszo Nyrio at the point where the Roosevelt expedition was encamped a short time previous; Natives making ropes from fibrous weeds; herd of zebra; moving picture of Colonel Roosevelt, taken at Messina, etc.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertises Can AFFORD to Sell It For LESS.

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an enterprise advertiser is sure to sell it for less than the merchant who does not advertise.

For, in spite of his advantages in buying—buying in large quantities, for cash or short credit, taking instant advantage of buying OPPORTUNITIES—his selling-advantage is the decisive factor. For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store-profits on the days you buy. If you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fifth of his profits.

If you are fairly "good at figures" you will quickly convince yourself that you ought to buy advertised things!

JENNINGS' PHILOSOPHY.

Hughie Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers, was seated on the bench and Beckendorf was hitting the ball to the infield at San Antonio. Delahanty was playing deep second and Dush was located near third. Beckendorf hit the ball hard. It started for second. There seemed little chance of Delahanty reaching it. "Let it pass," yelled Beckendorf to Delahanty. "Get it!" yelled Hughie. "Never mind that. Let it pass." Don't call that this year. What you want to yell is, "Now get it!" It may look as though a man hasn't a chance to get a ball, but you never know till he tries to get it. It may hit a stone in the infield or the bag and bound well for the infielder. A man never knows what he can get and what he can't get. Often the easiest kind of grounders prove the hardest, and those that seem impossible prove easy."

WORE TIGHT SHOES MAY LOSE A FOOT.

Menominee, Mich., April 23.—Ambrose King, an employe of the N. Ludington Co., will have good reason to commend all that is said on the evils of wearing tight shoes. Last week Mr. King went to a dance wearing a pair of tight shoes and awoke the next morning to find his feet badly inflamed. It continued to grow worse and he is now at the Menominee River hospital in grave danger of losing his foot.

LONG "DRY" SPELL IN GARY TO BREAK.

Chicago, April 23.—The long "dry" spell in Gary, Ind., will be broken next Monday, owing to the result of the recent election. Already licenses for 180 saloons have been issued and before the saloon doors are thrown open Monday, it is predicted the number of licenses will have reached 250.

OYSTER IS RICH WITH PEARLS.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 23.—The most valuable oyster ever opened in Atlantic City was found the other day by a local restaurant owner. It contained fifty-four pearls, all of small size, but good quality. Experts say that eight is the highest number ever found in one oyster.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

LEADERS of the TEAMS in the AMERICAN LEAGUE

THE great battle is on. For the next six months Pittsburgh, Chicago, New York, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Brooklyn and Boston, the cities composing the National League, will be cutting one another's throats in the great baseball war.

These cities are rivals in many ways. There is constantly a battle between them for business. Their great manufacturers and wholesalers have salesmen on the road fighting daily for trade, but the struggle they put up in the commercial world never is fiercer than the fight for honors in the great national pastime.

Clarke, Wagner, Leach and Adams of Pittsburgh; Chance, Brown, Tinker and Evers of Chicago, and McGraw, Matthewson, Witse and Raymond of New York, may be called the "drummers" who are out to bring the baseball honors to their cities and so on down the line.

Of course, all hope to win, but the season, which began April 14, will not be far advanced before some of the managers will know that they have little chance. The wisecracks of the baseball world agree that the fight, as in the last three seasons, will be between Pittsburgh, Chicago and New York. Some give Cincinnati a chance, but the consensus of opinion seems to be that the final test will be between the old rivals, the Pirates, Cubs and Giants.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are practically the same team that won the championship last year. Manager Fred Clarke, one of the greatest baseball generals that ever led a fight, has stood pat on his 1909 lineup with the exception of first base. Here he has Sharpe instead of Abstein. Of course he has some youngsters who will be given a chance, but the hard work will fall upon the old timers.

Manager Frank Chance of the Cubs likewise is standing pat. His infield and outfield is the same as in 1909, and there is little likelihood of any change unless Beaumont, purchased from Boston, takes Jimmy Scheckard's place in left field. If Johnny Kling goes behind the bat the catching department will be strengthened. In acquiring Harry McIntyre, the spit ball artist, from Brooklyn, President Murphy added strength to the twirling corps that may play an important part. McIntyre has been a stumbling block for Pittsburgh even when backed up by the weak Brooklyn team. With the Cub stars behind him McIntyre should do even better against the champions.

John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, has not lost hope of beating out his rivals, Clarke and Chance. The Giants, like Pittsburgh, were weak at first base, and McGraw tried hard to find a youngster who could cover the initial sack satisfactorily. He failed and will again depend upon Fred Merkle, the Springfield, Ill., boy who forgot to touch second base and lost the championship for New York in 1908. Of course great dependence will be placed on Christy Matthewson, probably the greatest pitcher who ever threw a baseball.

Clark Griffith does not agree with the Cincinnati fans who say the trouble with Catcher McLean will put the Reds out of the running. The scrappy manager declares he will be in the race from start to finish and expects to land the team well up in the front rank.

Charley Doolin, the new manager of the Phillies, declares he will put the Quaker city on the map so far as the National league is concerned. In recent years the American league team in Philadelphia has won the honors for the city. Doolin says he will deprive Connie Mack of the honors he has held in Quakerdom.

Roger Bresnahan of St. Louis, "Bill" Dahlen of Brooklyn and Fred Lake, manager of Boston, are laying no claims to the pennant, but each says he expects to do better than last year. However, the fans figure that the "cellar championship" again lies between these three teams.

League President's Salary $500.
 President Henry Slevens of the Nebraska league was first given a salary of $400 for the year. It has now been raised to $500, but out of it he is paying all of his traveling expenses and the expense of his secretary. He is simply a loyal devotee of the game, though never a player himself. He managed the Grand Island team when it picked up such men as George Graham of Omaha, "Paddy" Ryan of the Portland (Ore.) team and Kelly Welsh a few years ago.

Clarke Bars Spit Ball.
 Manager Fred Clarke of the Pittsburgh club is the first National league club leader to take action against the spit ball. Clarke has ordered his pitchers not to use the spitter. "I think the spit ball will pass out of the major leagues entirely within a very short time," says the leader of the Pirates.

Angel Food for Pitcher.
 Cy Hardgrove, who is having a trial with the Indianapolis team, pitched 14 double-headers last season for the Monmouth (Ill.) club. Cy won 12 of the bargain snaps and was presented an angel food cake by a fair lady fan.

STATE UNIVERSITY HAS NEW FIELD SONG

Prize of $100 for its Composition is Awarded—Will Be Used at Mass Meetings and on Athletic Field—"We'll Yell Till the Last Echoes Tell Victory for Michigan."

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 23.—This is the new field song for the University of Michigan, to be used in mass meetings and on the athletic field to arouse enthusiasm in U. of M. students: Brave men who battle for glory. Winning praises for the Major and Blue. You are playing your best for the Queen of the West. We are singing and cheering for you. Chorus—Strong in the strength of our thousands, They can never fight in vain. Swift for the goal they are plunging. And they honor the prize they gain. Victors in spirit and daring. They will fight as true men can. We'll yell, yell, yell, till the last echoes tell "Victory for Michigan."

Fear not the East or the Southland, Win the game for the name we love. With our heroes of old will your names be enrolled On our banner that's streaming above. A St. Paul alumnus, who stipulated that his name remain unknown, offered a prize of $100 to either student or alumni for the best field song, and of the 25 songs submitted this was chosen. The words were written by Lyman Bryson, '10, lit, from Omaha, Neb., and the music by Roy Welch, '09 lit, and at present on the University School of Music faculty.

The copyright to the song will be held by the Alumni association of the U. of M., although the right to the sale has been given to a local music house, with certain royalties to the association. These royalties will be set aside as a separate sum to be used eventually to offer another prize for another song, or to publish a new collection of the latter Michigan songs. The music is especially catchy, easily learned but hard to forget.

A REPUTATION.

How It Was Made and Retained in Escanaba.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement, of scores of Escanaba residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says: Mrs. E. Stelnke, 615 Wells Ave., Escanaba, Mich., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for a number of years and would not be without them in the house. The statement we gave for publication several years ago, was correct in every respect and I am perfectly willing to have my name used in the local papers as an endorsement of this remedy. Doan's Kidney Pills can be procured at the Mead Drug Co. and will never fail to bring relief if given a fair trial." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and

LOCAL OPTION MEET TO BE IMPORTANT

Lansing, Mich., April 23.—It is expected that all of the local option counties will be represented at a meeting to be held in the senate chamber at the capitol Wednesday, April 27, to decide whether the time has arrived for a move toward statewide prohibition and whether the spread of the local option propaganda shall be continued and the legislature next winter asked to revise and strengthen the laws regulating the sale of liquor in this state. Speakers and men prominent in furthering the local option movement are to be present and it is expected that a state organization will be effected.

"WHITE SLAVERS" ARE SENTENCED.

Belleville, Ill., April 23.—Louis and Philip Watchmann, brothers, were fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail for pandering. Their conviction is the first in southern Illinois under the "white slave traffic" law, effective in July last. The brothers were convicted of soliciting girls in East St. Louis for Chicago resorts.

SUCCESS OF REPUBLICS DEPENDS UPON CITIZENS

cial advantages; you have all of you had the opportunity for mental training; many of you have had leisure; most of you have had a chance for the enjoyment of life far greater than comes to the majority of your fellows. To you and your kind much has been given, and from you much should be expected.

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least falls while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Man Should Be Trained.
"Shame on the man of cultivated taste who permits refinement to develop in a fastidiousness that unfits him for doing the rough work of a workaday world. Among the free people who govern themselves there is but a small field of usefulness open for the men of cloistered life who shrink from contact with their fellows. Still less room is there for those who desire or slight what is done by those who actually bear the brunt of the day; nor yet for those others who always profess that they would like to take action. If only the conditions of life were not what they actually are.

"I pay all homage to intellect, and to elaborate and specialized training of the intellect; and yet I know I shall have the assent of all of you present when I add that more important still are the commonplace, every-day qualities and virtues.

"Such ordinary, every-day qualities include the will and the power to work, to fight at need, and to have plenty of healthy children. There are a few people in every country so born that they can lead lives of leisure. These fill a useful function if they make it evident that leisure does not mean idleness. But the average man must earn his own livelihood. He should be trained to do so, and he should be trained to feel that he occupies a contemptible position if he does not do so; that he is not an object of envy if he is idle, at whichever end of the social scale he stands, but an object of contempt, an object of derision.

War a Dreadful Thing.
"In the next place, the good man should be both a strong and a brave man; that is, he should be able to fight, he should be able to serve his country as a soldier if the need arises. There are well-meaning philosophers who declaim against the unrighteousness of war. They are right only if they lay all their emphasis upon the unrighteousness. War is a dreadful thing, and unjust war is a crime against humanity. But it is such a crime because it is unjust, not because it is war. The choice must ever be in favor of righteousness, and this whether the alternative be peace or whether the alternative be war. The question must not be merely, is there to be peace or war? The question must be, is the right to prevail? Are the great laws of righteousness once more to be fulfilled? And the answer from a strong and virile people must be, 'Yes,' whatever the cost.

"Finally, even more important than ability to work, even more important than ability to fight at need, is it to remember that the chief of blessings for any nation is that it shall leave its seed to inherit the land. It was the crown of blessings in Biblical times; and it is the crown of blessings now.

Sterility Greatest Curse.
"The greatest of all curses is the curse of sterility, and the severest of all condemnations should be that visited upon wilful sterility. The first essential in any civilization is that the man and the woman shall be father and mother of healthy children, so that the race shall increase and not decrease. If this is not so, if through no fault of the society there is failure to increase, it is a great misfortune. If the failure is due to deliberate and wilful fault, then it is not merely a misfortune, it is one of those crimes of ease and self-indulgence, of shrinking from pain and effort and risk, which in the long run nature punishes more heavily than any other. If we of the great republics, if we, the free people who claim to have emancipated ourselves from the thralldom of error and error, bring down on our heads the curse that comes upon the childless, then it will be an idle boast of breath to prattle of our achievements, to boast of all that we have done. No refinement of life, no delicacy of taste, no material progress, no sordid heaping up of riches, no sensuous development of art and literature, can in any way compensate for the loss of the great fundamental virtues; and of these great fundamental virtues, the greatest is the race's power to perpetuate the race.

Must Hold His Own.
"In short, the good citizen in a republic must realize that he ought to possess two sets of qualities, and that neither avails without the other. He must have those qualities which make for efficiency into channels for the public good. He is useless if he is inefficient. There is nothing to be done with that type of citizen of whom all that can be said is that he is harmless. Virtue which is dependent upon a sluggish circulation is not impressive. There is little place in active life for the timid good man. The man who is saved by weakness from robust wickedness is likewise rendered immune from the robust virtues. The good citizen in a republic must first of all be able to hold his own. He is no good citizen unless he has the ability which will make him work hard and which at need will make him fight hard. The good citizen is not a good citizen unless he is an efficient citizen.

Will Demand Liberty.
"There are plenty of men calling themselves Socialists with whom, up to a time point, it is quite possible to work. If the next step is one which both we and they wish to take, why of course take it, without any regard to the fact that our views as to the tenth step may differ. But, on the other hand, keep clearly in mind that, though it has been worth while to take one step, this does not in the least mean that it may not be highly disadvantageous to take the next.

"The good citizen will demand liberty for himself, and as a matter of pride he will see to it that others receive the liberty which he thus claims as his own. Probably the best test of true love of liberty in any country is the way in which minorities are treated in that country. Not only should there be complete liberty in matters of religion and opinion, but complete liberty for each man to lead his life as he desires, provided only that in so doing he does not wrong his neighbor."

AIDS TO NAVIGATION ON THE GREAT LAKES

Washington D. C., April 23.—The places at which aids to navigation are provided for in the $1,100,000 omnibus lighthouse bill agreed on by the house interstate commerce commission were announced today.

They include: provision of $140,000 for an oil station at Michigan and Gull Island in Lake Superior; $75,000 for a light vessel on Lake Erie near Buffalo; light vessel at North Manitou Island, Michigan, $70,000; barge for lighthouse depot, St. Joseph, Michigan, $7,000; range lights, Lorain, O., $19,800 and Huron, O., $3,800; oil house, Detroit, $3,500.

WILL TRY TO CLIMB MOUNT M'KINLEY.

Seattle, Wash., April 23.—When the revenue cutter Tacoma sails for the Behring sea, she will carry an expedition organized by New York and Portland newspapers to climb Mt. McKinley. The Tacoma has orders to sail April 24, but probably will not be ready until the middle of next week.

WINS CIGAR SMOKING CHAMPIONSHIP

Washington, April 23.—The long distance cigar smoking championship of the world was won by Harry McKeldin, a telegraph operator, who smoked a mild cigar, standard size, for ninety-four minutes and thirty seconds without relighting it.

'COST OF LIVING IS TOO HIGH.'

New York, April 23.—John D. Rockefeller, caught in a jovial mood, admitted that the cost of living is "too high." He went to Hoboken to bid farewell to his daughter, Mrs. E. Parmelee Prentice, and her husband, who sailed on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. Mr. Rockefeller traveled in the Hudson tunnels and when asked why he did not use an automobile, said: "Oh, the cost of living is too high."

LIVES 93 MINUTES AFTER HEART STOPS

Galveston, Tex., April 23.—That a man can live one hour and thirty-three minutes after his heart ceases to beat, is the statement of three reputable physicians at Shepard, San Jacinto county, on Thursday when Thomas P. Lewis, thirty-eight, was struck by a locomotive. It was thought he had been instantly killed.

Dr. W. H. Beazley found Lewis still breathing, but pulseless. Hypodermic injections of strychnine produced no effect.

Doctors Wilborne and Sampson were summoned. Each made a critical examination and declared positively that the heart was still, even while the man breathed.

Electricity and other heroic measures were resorted to, and after each a careful examination. The man breathed for just ninety-three minutes after his heart ceased to beat.

FOR GIRL GRADUATE

GIFT OF APPROPRIATE BOOK WILL BE PRIZED.

May Be Bought, or Put Together at Home, as Desired—Some Quotations That Should Find Place in Pages.

In years gone by it was flowers only for the sweet girl graduate, but now while flowers are still given they are often used only as the medium of sending some gift of intrinsic value, concealing the parcel among the blossoms or tying to the bouquet. There are regular books now prepared, or they may be made by an artistic friend, to contain all the memory notes so dear to girlish hearts, pages for pasting in programs and samples of frocks, for there are several special gowns that each graduate seems to think necessary to be graduated properly. There is the frock for the baccalaureate sermon, the senior party frock and the graduating gown, which ranks next in importance to the wedding gown or the debut dress. The class colors, the college yell, spaces for senior pictures, the class day program, for newspaper clippings; all these find a place in the book, and there are probably many other items that the individual will want to put in, so several pages are left blank. For those who may wish to make such a book I append a number of suitable quotations:

For the cover:
A day to June.
For the graduate as a freshman:
An unlearned girl, untaught, unpracticed:
Happy in this, she is not yet so old.
But she may learn. —Shakespeare.
A photograph as she looked during a vacation:
The world is so full of a number of things,
I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.
Under a picture of the school:
Still sits the schoolhouse by the road.
—Whittier.
To go under a picture of teachers or pupils:
I count myself in nothing else so happy,
As in a soul, remembering my good friends. —Shakespeare.
This under the college president's likeness:
Taught thee each hour one thing or another.
—Shakespeare.
A bevy of fair women. —Milton.
That do converse and waste the time together,
Whose souls do bear an equal yoke of love. —Shakespeare.
Under class pictures these are appropriate:
For the college colors use this:
Thoughts, master, are masked under such colors. —Shakespeare.
And this for the college jokes:
A college joke to cure the dumps.
—Dean Swift.
The space reserved for clippings will need this quotation:
Praise me not too much,
Nor blame me, for thou speakest to the Greeks,
Who know me.
Bryant's "Homer's Iliad."
And at the last use this:
Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever;
Do noble things, not dream them, all day long.
—Charles Kingsley.
The child is a woman, the book may close

DESIGNS FOR PLACE CARDS

Hostesses This Season Have Many Novelties From Which They May Make a Selection.

A novelty in place cards shows a tiny tropical bird of gay plumage carrying in its beak a cord with a narrow gilt-edged card pendant from it. Each bird perches on the edge of each goblet in a fascinating way.

Hostesses who do much entertaining have their individual place cards specially engraved. These they keep on hand and use for all occasions, except where a special bridal for holiday luncheon or dinner make appropriate designs preferable.

These cards are generally quite simple with no other decoration than the monogram of the hostess in heavy raised gilt letters. Sometimes the marking is done in white or there are colorings to match special decorations.

Where one does not wish to put much expense into place cards interesting sets of picture postals are used, particularly for holiday events.

Where the hostess has a knack at photography she utilizes appropriate blue prints or pictures finished in gray or brown tones. The pictures should have a meaning or some connection with the guests.

For a bridal or engagement luncheon a kodak picture or series of pictures of the guest of honor should adorn one corner of the cards. One hostess who had a hobby for gardening took a number of pictures of her garden, which she put on place cards, coloring each one in natural tones.

For a luncheon to be given at a country home pictures of the house, both interiors and the outside, are sometimes used where the guests are intimate enough to warrant it.

Where one is entertaining artists, musicians or scientists, seek to make the place cards appropriate. There could be tiny prints of the world-famous pictures of heads of great painters and sculptors for the artists; well-known musical strains with gilded staff and notes for the musicians to read at sight, and models of the world's latest inventions for the scientists.

The cleverest place cards are often home made. One need not be an artist to evolve them, as scissors and past with a knack at rhyming go far.

FOLLOWED QUARRY TO DEATH

Hawk Unrelenting in Its Pursuit of Partridge Selected for Its Prey.

Some men working in the fields west of Moscow village the other day saw a hawk start a partridge in a wheat field and attempt to catch it. The partridge was too speedy of wing, though, and for a short distance it flew straight for the village, after attempting to elude its pursuer, thinking, perhaps, that in the habitation of man there was protection from its merciless foe.

The two birds flew down Main street in front of the stores and people on the street, but the hawk was so engrossed in the pursuit of its prey that the presence of men did not frighten it off. The partridge flew about the buildings on Main street and then to the residence section.

It was rapidly tiring from its long flight, and as the hawk, which was stronger of wing, seemed about to clutch it in its talons the partridge attempted to fly in the window of A. J. White's residence, but the window was closed and the bird struck the glass with force enough to break its neck and shatter the pane in many places.

The crashing glass frightened the hawk and it quickly flew off, evincing a desire, however, to take the dead body of the partridge with it.—Mount Morris Correspondence Rochester Herald.

OSTEOPATHIC TALKS

By DR. B. F. BAILEY.

What is osteopathy? To answer by a single word, I think that my work is chiefly adjustment; that the greater part of adjustment is to TAKE OFF PRESSURE, that is to free the nerve force and the blood stream, either of which interfered with, disturbs the body's ease marking the beginning of disease.

Locating and removing a disturbance to the nerve force of the blood stream aids nature in a common sense way, the same as to lift your foot from the cat's tail for her comfort, or to draw a sliver from your flesh that it may heal instead of fester.

My adjustments likewise free distressed nerve or the disturbed organ and sometimes will prevent decay as surely as to draw a sliver. It is common knowledge that by rapid muscle action we get warm and sweat, and we know that the pores of the skin are then opened wide and to cool off too rapidly will close the pores rapidly not permitting them to throw off what they should, thus compelling nature to care for those waste products and surplus heat units by other means, thereby necessitating the increase of some other activities, sometimes many fold—for instance the frequent use of the handkerchief at the nose instead of wiping off the sweat.

LISTEN—muscle action stopped, some rapid cooling off induced in, such as a fan, an open window, standing or sitting in some place where cooling goes on rapidly—result, a cold. If localized it is easy to see why.

Contraction stiffness, tenderness and congestion are all in evidence to the osteopath, who knows how they come and how to make them go.

Try a treatment just once and see for yourself what benefits may be derived from it.

Stack Block.

HAD TO BE HUSKY.

Lady of the House—Why is it that so many of you tramps and beggars are such strong, husky looking men? Tramp—Well, ma'am, since you women have gone in so strong for home gymnastics it takes strong lookin' fellows to beg without gettin' hurt.

There is no truth in the rumor afloat today that a burglary was perpetrated in the city last night.

During the storm last night one of the big east windows in the office of Register of Deeds C. W. Malloch in the court house was blown out and destroyed and loose papers were scattered about in great confusion.

The strange part of the incident is that the glass was blown out from within, not from the outside, a fact made evident by there being none of the broken glass falling into the room.

FLAT CAR COLLAPSES, TRAINS ARE DELAYED

In addition to the fierce snow storm that visited this section of the country during the past twenty-four hours, to hinder the railroad companies from making their schedules, the Chicago & North-Western railroad had an accident on the main line near Big Saumico.

On a southbound freight was a carload of logs that probably overtaxed the capacity of the flat car and the car broke down last night.

Until the wreckage could be cleared away trains could not get by and for that reason all trains coming from the south to Escanaba were several hours late today.

The accident was not of a serious nature and very little damage was done, according to the local railroad officials, but the inconvenience to traffic was greater than that occasioned by some wrecks where hundreds of dollars worth of damage is done.

ESCANABA AGAIN IN THE GRIP OF WINTER

Gentle Spring is Chased Away and Old Boreas Cuts Loose With the Worst He Has in Stock, including High Winds, Rain, Hail and Snow—Almost a Blizzard Rages.

Wind—snow—hail—rain—if there's anything else in the weather line that Escanaba has not had in the last twenty-four hours, the people here would like to know what it is.

Rain changed into hail and hail into snow and the wind blew them all about with stinging ferocity.

Walking was about as bad as it could be and the vocabulary of the most expert slingers of profanity was exhausted in anathemas provoked by the conditions and the prospects of some more of the same.

The weather man offers little consolation or prospects for immediate relief, for in his forecast today he promises snow for tonight and says Sunday will be partly cloudy and have high north-west winds.

That the wind blew something more than a gale is evident from the fact that shortly after two o'clock this morning it attained a velocity of forty-six miles an hour.

Winter has certainly come back for a spell and chased spring back into the woods or somewhere else. We might have expected that something of the kind would drop, for such weather as we have had until lately was not natural to this latitude.
