U. P. THEATERS IN NEW COMBINE

Managers of Iron and Copper Districts Are Officially Notified of Change in Booking Arrangements--Some of the Attractions.

The announcement sent out a few days ago from New York to the effect that John Cort, the well known theatrical manager, had combined his booking interests with the Shuberts and would hereafter supply the theaters of the iron and copper circuit with part of their attractions, has been confirmed.

Richard Lambert, who is now in charge of the publicity department of the Northwestern Theater Managers' association, with headquarters at 27 Knickerbocker theater building, New York, has officially advised the managers, including Manager P. M. Peterson of this city, of this circuit of the change in the booking arrangements, a change which will be one of the subjects to come up for consideration at a meeting of the Northwestern Theater Managers' association, which is called to be held in Milwaukee tomorrow and which Mr. Peterson will attend. Mr. Lambert's letter contains considerable information which may be of local interest concerning the booking plans for the coming season. It is as follows:

Cort Bars None.
"John Cort, the western theatrical magnate, who has made as much noise in amusement circles in the past few years as any has again demonstrated his capacity in his latest move. Mr. Cort has thrown the time in 148 playhouses open to all attractions and will hereafter book both the Shubert and the Klaw & Erlanger offerings to such extent as may be requested by the producer, and accepted by him. Mr. Cort bars none. He has been assured of at least thirty first-class attractions by the Messrs Shubert each season for the coming five years, but in this arrangement he does not deny Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger time for their attractions.

"In this generous policy Mr. Cort is followed by C. A. Marshall, director of the Copper and Iron circuit of some thirty-eight theaters in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, with headquarters at Duluth, and C. P. Walker, whose circuit is one of the most desirable in the country, and includes such cities as Winnipeg, Grand Forks, Fargo and others. These circuits are acknowledged as among the very best for combination attractions on this continent.

Includes the Best.
"This adopted policy of Mr. Cort and those affiliated with him was brought into operation through the unanimous demand of amusement seekers throughout their territory who have for several seasons been denied a great majority of the most prominent stars and plays. Mr. Cort has been assured of most, if not all, of the following attractions for the coming season: James T. Powers, Eddie Foy, Jefferson de Angeles, Lula Glaser, Blanche Ring, Ed. Sothern and Julia Marlow, Frank Daniels, Marie Dresser, Bertha Kalish, Madam Oily, Mme. Nazimova, Mary Manning, Bertha Galloway, Maxine Elliott, John Mason, William Faversham, Florence Roberts, Lew Dockstader, Bert Williams, Marie Tempest, Viola Allen, Wilton Lackaye, Walker Whitehead, Dustan Farnum, Bessie Abbott, Mabel Hite, May Irwin, Gertrude Ellott, DeWolf Hopper, Marie Cahill, Leslie Carter, Max Figman, Sarah Bernhard, Forbes Robertson, Lawrence Irving and Mabel Hackney, Sam Bernard, 'The Chocolate Soldier,' 'The City,' 'The Lottery Man,' 'Lulu's Husband,' 'The Midnight Sons,' 'The Jolly Bachelors,' 'The Kissing Girl,' and 'Alias Jimmy Valentine.'

Fought for Supremacy.
"The excellent theatrical conditions that already exist in the west will be greatly stimulated by the addition of these splendid attractions, many of which have never before been presented in that territory. "For several seasons past the opposing forces of the Messrs Shubert and Klaw & Erlanger have fought for supremacy throughout the country. In no section has the strife been greater than in the west. The result was the useless extravagance in the expenditure of money in the building of rival playhouses in towns and cities not more than able to support one first class theater.

"Mr. Cort, in his loyalty to Klaw & Erlanger, kept the western field almost intact for that faction. He let sentiment interfere with his better business judgment until now, when his time will be thrown open and he will book independently as stated above. He has permanently established his booking offices at his New York headquarters in the Knickerbocker theater building, where any and all producing managers can apply for open time on the Cort, the Walker, and the copper and iron circuits."

RECTIFIED BAD ERROR

Marquette Mining Journal.—Some months ago a majority of the board of trustees in Escanaba voted to dispense with music in the city schools, thereby bringing down unfavorable comment, both at home and abroad, on their heads. By a vote of four to two, the board has now ordered the restoration of music in the schools, and next year the music department will gain by its former basis. It will be the prevailing opinion that the board has rectified what was a bad mistake. Music adds color and interest to the school work. In the lower grades it is recreation; in the higher grades it enables the students to make their entertainments, class days and commencement more attractive; through the entire course it has an educational and cultural value that cannot be lost without greatly decreasing the significance of the training given the boys and girls. There is sound basis for the universal esteem in which the influence of music is held by the leading educators. Escanaba is to be congratulated on turning its back on its strange freak of showing music the door in its schools.

E. F. Murphy of this city has been transacting business in the copper country.

TO LOCATE IN DETROIT

Judge Claudius B. Grant, formerly of this circuit and later Justice of the State Supreme Court, is to become Member of Well Known Law Firm There.

Escanaba people and, in fact, those of the entire upper peninsula, will be interested in the announcement that Judge Claudius B. Grant, formerly Justice of this circuit and for twenty years a Justice of the state supreme court, is to locate in Detroit and become an addition to that city's professional life through his decision to enter the law firm of Shaw, Warren, Cady & Oakes. This announcement is made by The Detroit Free Press, which adds:

"After a long and honorable service in the supreme court of this state, Justice Grant last fall refused to be a candidate for reelection. His great energy, activity and love of work would not permit him to retire; but for some time he had been undecided whether to locate in Ann Arbor and take up some contemplated work, or comply with the urgent request of many Detroit friends and engage in practice here.

"Justice Grant held the position of circuit judge before going to the supreme bench, and in addition has held many positions of honor, including the regency of the University of Michigan. Although modest in the extreme, Justice Grant is recognized as one of the foremost lawyers of the country. On his retirement last winter he was tendered a banquet at the Detroit club, which was attended by all the supreme court judges, the local judges, both federal and state, and the leading members of the Michigan bar.

"The firm of Shaw, Warren, Cady & Oakes, already one of the foremost local firms, is strengthened by this connection. The firm has a large practice. Charles B. Warren, one of its members, will leave for Europe shortly to act as counsel for this government before the Hague tribunal.

"As the firm name is already long, it will not be changed, but Justice Grant's name will be added as counsel."

FUNERAL TO BE THURSDAY

The funeral of the late Charles G. Beck, whose death occurred yesterday forenoon, will be held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon from the family residence, 117 North Charlotte street. Rev. C. A. Lund, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, will conduct the services and the remains will be given interment in Lakeview cemetery. The pallbearers probably will be chosen from among the members of the North Star society or the Escanaba lodge of Elks, or both. Mr. Beck having been a prominent member of those organizations.

NEW AUTO ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

This morning the Peterson Garage company received a new White gasoline touring car and it has been the center of attraction among the local automobile enthusiasts since its arrival. The White Automobile company has a wonderfully established reputation as the manufacturers of steam cars, but up to the last year had not entered the gasoline field.

Finding that there was a demand for a light gasoline car that has seemed to reach the limit in finish, lines and smoothness of running. The car received this morning is painted a drab, with white trimmings and the seats are upholstered in black.

The equipment includes top, windshield, combination clock and speedometer, robe rail, trunk rack and complete tool outfit. The White gasoline car is listed at $2,000 without any of the above noted equipment.

Hon. John Power and Matt Fillion left Sunday night for Port Huron to attend the state convention of the Knights of Columbus as representatives of Escanaba council No. 640 of that order. The convention opened this morning.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS THROAT SPECIALIST

(By Associated Press.)
Berlin, Ger., May 10.—The Roosevelt party arrived here this morning and are guests at the American embassy. The crowds at the station gave the party a most friendly greeting. In the absence of Emperor William, who, but for the death of his uncle, King Edward, would have personally received Colonel Roosevelt, the official party of reception was headed by Secretary of Foreign Affairs Schoen, who represented the emperor. Colonel Roosevelt's voice is still bothering him slightly, and one of his earliest appointments today was with a throat specialist.

PERU GETTING READY FOR POSSIBLE WAR

(By Associated Press.)
Lima, Peru, May 10.—Active preparations for a possible war with Ecuador are being continued. In this city and vicinity 24,000 soldiers are quartered, while an additional 10,000 are stationed near the frontier.

GIVEN A CHANCE TO KEEP OUT OF JAIL

Norman Palmater of this city was arrested at Kates yesterday by Under Sheriff T. J. Curran and brought back here to answer to a charge of non-support of his wife and five children. The case was tried in Justice Linden's court and Palmater was sentenced to a term of thirty days in the county jail. Sentence was suspended, however, upon Palmater's faithfully promising to return to work at Kates and give proper support to his family. Unless he does this the sentence against him will be enforced.

FANS TURN OUT WELL TO HELP THE TEAM

The Dance Given for the Benefit of the Escanaba Baseball Team Was Largely Attended and Productive of Much Enjoyment—Good Music and Unique Dance Program.

That baseball benefit dance in Peterson's hall last night was a winner—same as the Escanaba team hopes to be in most of its games this season. There was a large attendance of fans and fannies and the enjoyment was simply unlimited. Although the hall floor was not in the best of condition at first for dancing it was made better later by a judicious application of wax, and then the only drawback to the perfect enjoyment of terpsichorean exercise was practically removed. The music for the inspiration of the dancers was supplied by the Escanaba Ideal orchestra of eight pieces and it was of the best. The regular program consisted of twenty dances, but that was not enough to satisfy and a number of extras were tacked on. The program was of the wall variety and was something unique in its get-up. Here it is:

Escanaba to Bat, waltz; Enders' Favorite, two step; Olmsted's Bunt, waltz; Aronson's Single, two step; Beitzer Over the Fence, waltz; Wals' Nick's Out, two step; Walsh Mike's Sacrifice, waltz; Lentz Fouled Out, two step; Connors "Three Strikes," waltz; Nolden Out Drop, two step; Olmsted Monte "Wild," waltz; Nelson Nellies, two step; Five to Three, waltz; Clean Up, quadrille; Sign Up, Jack, two step; Rapid's a Good Bunch, waltz; Leading the League, two step; Boost, Don't Knock, waltz; The Game First, business After, two step; Clean Ball, waltz.

About 300 tickets for the ball were sold and after all the expenses of the affair are paid a neat little sum will remain to be added to the treasury of the Escanaba Baseball team, for whose benefit the dance was given.

The Escanaba Naval Reserves were given a thorough signal service drill last evening. When the Yantic is brought to this port next month it will be possible for the Reserves to hold boat drills.

BISHOP IS OPTIMISTIC

Head of the Episcopal Diocese of the Upper Peninsula Lets Fall Some Cheering and Practical Words While Making a Visitation in the Copper Country.

The Rt. Rev. G. Mott Williams, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church in the upper peninsula, who was in Escanaba recently, was a visitor in the copper country Saturday and Sunday and on the latter day confirmed a large class at Trinity church, Houghton. Incidentally, Bishop Williams permitted himself on Saturday to be interviewed by a reporter of The Marquette Mining Journal and delivered himself of the following encouraging and optimistic remarks relative to some of the practical conditions, as he views them, in the copper country.

"The people of Houghton and the copper country should begin to recognize that there is more than the one thing, copper, in this world. They would not then have these periods of gloom. They should cheer up and get ready for the Copper Country Fair.

"Houghton county people should not be dependent on cold storage houses. They should not allow all their fish to be sold outside. They should open up their farms and develop them. The upper peninsula could support itself and make a profit from its farms. Houghton county people should go to Menominee and see the Menominee county agricultural school and build one like it. It is not a college; just a school for plain meat and potatoes people.

"You might say," continued the bishop, "that King Edward is going to be greatly missed, because he was in touch with what might be called the prevailing ideas of the English people. He knew all about them. He never committed the sin of being brilliant, but I think this was intentional, because while he was of sufficient education he knew that brilliancy would take him away from the common people. I was acquainted with King Edward, though I hasten to say I do not believe he was acquainted with me." The bishop explained this by saying that on the occasion of a visit to London he had been presented at court.

COMPANY CAN GO ON WITH ITS CONTRACTS

In circuit court this afternoon Judge Flannigan made an order that the case of James B. Moran and Coleman Nee vs. the Northern Construction and Engineering company be submitted in briefs and that in the meantime the defendant company may proceed with its contracts for street improvements. The action was instituted by the plaintiffs to secure a bill for an accounting.

Judge Flannigan entered a similar order in the case of James A. McFarland et al. vs. Cora L. Hayward and Charles E. Hayward, an action in ejectment.

The case of the People vs. Austin McCauley, bastardy, was ordered continued upon application of the defendant, whose bail bond continues in force.

The case of Amelia Lusardi Fillion, as administratrix, vs. Manizep Perron was ordered referred to Torval E. Strom for adjudication.

CALLED TO OSKOSH BY MOTHER'S DEATH

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Tolan left last night for Oshkosh to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Catherine Fullam, Mrs. Tolan's mother, who died yesterday morning at the advanced age of eighty-five years. Mrs. Fullam's death occurred at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Martha Lennon, 361 Division street, Oshkosh, and was quite sudden as notwithstanding her advanced years she appeared to be in good health. Besides her two daughters, Mrs. Tolan and Mrs. Lennon, the deceased is survived by a son, George Fullam of Oshkosh, with whom she made her home most of the time. Her funeral will be held tomorrow or Thursday, the exact time not having been learned in this city.

ESCANABA IS TO HAVE SANE FOURTH

Mayor Greenhoot is Thoroughly in Accord With the Movement for Safer Celebrations of Independence Day--Explosives to Be Barred Here.

Escanaba will this year have a sane and safe Fourth of July.

That is, it will if Mayor Greenhoot, backed by the police power of the city, can bring it about. Last Saturday The Mirror published an interesting dispatch from New York relative to the movement which has been inaugurated to devise plans for a safe and sane yet glorious celebration of Independence day.

Today a reporter for The Mirror interviewed Mayor Greenhoot on the subject, asking what he thought about it. In reply, Mayor Greenhoot said: "I am thoroughly and emphatically in favor of any movement that will tend to make celebrations of the Fourth of July safe and sane and shall do all in my power, both as chief executive of the city and as a private individual, to make this year's celebration here free of danger to life and limb and property.

Warning Given in Time.
"I had intended when the proper time came to instruct the police officers and notify the citizens of the city that the firing of dangerous explosives and the indiscriminate setting off of fireworks in all parts of the city will not be permitted. Perhaps it is just as well that this determination be announced now, in order that dealers in Fourth of July explosives and fireworks may be cautious in ordering such goods for sale. "There will be no objection to harmless noisemakers nor to a display of fireworks at some safe place along the bay shore, when the fireworks are handled by some competent person or persons; but it will not be permitted.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., May 10.—Judge Chambers of this city, was today appointed third arbitrator in the controversy between forty-nine of the railroads west of Chicago and the firemen and engineers.

JUDGE FLANNIGAN FINDS FOR COMPANY

Judge Flannigan Decides Most Interesting and Hard Fought Case Against the Plaintiff, an Escanaba Attorney, Who Sued on Sailor's Claim for Wages—Story.

About six o'clock last evening trial of the case of Clyde Hayden vs. the Chicago Navigation company was concluded in circuit court, when Judge Flannigan awarded a judgment for the defense, holding there was no cause for action.

This case has had four different trials and its nature is such as to make a review of it at this time of considerable interest. The plaintiff is At-all over the city, and the police will be instructed to that effect later. "I thoroughly believe it is high time that the dangerous and foolish celebrations of Independence day should be abolished and in their place be substituted observances that shall be safe and sane and yet none the less patriotic. The movement in that direction started by the mayors of Connecticut and the governors of twenty-four states, as stated in your dispatch from New York, has my cordial endorsement and I shall do all I can to help it along in the city of which I have the honor to be chief executive."

In reply to a question, Mayor Greenhoot said: "Yes, I am in favor of holding a public Fourth of July celebration in Escanaba this year. Last year we had no such celebration because the new federal building was not ready for dedication and this year I believe it is fitting that we should have a celebration of some sort. It is up to the business men and people of the city generally, however, to decide whether they will have a public celebration of Independence day and then to decide on the plans, but I will give all the assistance I can. Funds will be needed if it is decided to hold such a celebration, and I will gladly do what I can to secure an appropriation toward the celebration fund from the common council. Such an appropriation has been made for this purpose in previous years and I know of no particular reason why it should not be made this year if the people of the city decide that they want to have a celebration."

The blowing of one of the Chicago & Northwestern railway shop whistles about 11:45 o'clock this forenoon caused something of a fire scare. At first it was thought there was a fire in the railroad yards and a grand rush in that direction began. Then it developed that there was no fire in that section and it was soon learned that the whistle fire alarm had been sounded because of a fire, it was reported, in the Northwestern company's tie preserving plant at North Escanaba. Fortunately, this was not the case. Instead the alarm was caused by the burning of a bush fire in the vicinity of the plant. The fire was speedily extinguished before it gained much headway and did not get into the grounds of the plant at all, it is stated. The fire department stood ready to make the run to the scene of the fire, but its services were not needed. There was really no occasion for the alarm at all, it is stated.

Auditors have been placed on the Chicago & Northwestern's two passenger trains running between Watersmeet and Ashland and on the Ironwood "scoot" train.

WOMAN ENDS HER OWN LIFE IN MARINETTE

Marinette, Wis., May 10.—Mrs. Victoria Hemenway, aged forty-nine years the wife of Dr. Henry B. Hemenway, a prominent physician of Evanston, Ill., committed suicide here at the home of Mrs. John Lindem.

Mrs. Hemenway was the victim of melancholia, and was on her way to a summer resort to spend the summer in charge of Miss Lindem, a trained nurse. Miss Lindem had left the room for a few minutes and when she came back found the woman had stol- to the basement where she had gotten a rope with which she had hung herself.

Mrs. Hemenway was the mother of Ruth Hemenway, a noted reader and elocutionist. Her husband is a great traveler. She herself was a famous musician.

Why, of Course!

CONGRESSMAN YOUNG DEFINES HIS POSITION

Writes an Open Letter to His Constituency Throughout the Upper Peninsula.

In a letter addressed to his constituency throughout the upper peninsula, Congressman H. O. Young has the following to say concerning his political position. It is plain and to the point:

"My Dear Sir: As you are probably aware, I expect to be a candidate for renomination for congress, at the primaries, in September. I would very much like to meet you and talk this matter over, but you will appreciate the fact that the district is so large and my official duties are likely to detain me in Washington so long, that I will not have time to see all whom I should wish to see, and therefore take this means of communication with you.

"Angus W. Kerr—backed by Senator Charles Smith, as chief supporter, and certain other Houghton county gentlemen—is also a candidate for the place. In a circular letter, sent out by his campaign manager, Mr. Kerr announces that he has no platform other than the will of the people. Does this mean that if the people in the next election declare for free trade and free silver, he will be for those measures also. I shall never be for them whatever the result of the election. I shall still stand, as I do now, on the platform and record of the Republican party and ask the support of the people on that record and my own.

"I have supported every one of the so-called Roosevelt measures, which came before congress for its action. Among them were the railroad rate bill; the pure food and drug law; the meat inspection law; the quarantine law; the employers liability law, making railroad companies responsible for all injuries received by their employees in the course of their employment, with the amendment to that law just passed the senate, giving the injured party the right to sue in state as well as federal courts; the Asphan law; the bill limiting the hours of labor of trainmen; the child labor law; the provision for the investigation of the causes of accidents in mines, and the establishment of a bureau of mines and minerals and all of the conservation measures dealing with the subject of arid lands and forestry reservations in the west; and if re-elected shall continue to support like policies.

"I have voted for liberal appropriations of money, to punish violations of law by railroad companies, large corporations, timber and land thieves and grafters generally. At the same time I have believed that corporations are a necessity and that they should be protected in the enjoyment of their rights when they obey the law.

"I made the best fight I could last winter for a duty on iron ore, for the protection of the men who work in our mines and was to some degree successful.

"I have succeeded in obtaining appropriations, in the last river and harbor bill, for every river and harbor project in the northern peninsula of Michigan, which has been recommended as feasible, by the board of engineers.

"If my course in congress commends itself to your judgment, I should greatly appreciate your support and aid in obtaining a renomination, for I know you can do a good deal for me if you feel inclined. If you think somebody else could represent the district better, I recognize your right to support that other and it will in no way cause a breach of friendly relations between us.

"Hoping to hear from you frankly in regard to the matter, I remain, yours sincerely, H. O. Young."

LINCOLN MEMORIAL GIVEN A REVIVAL

Washington, May 10.—Senator Cullom of Illinois, the only surviving member as far as known of the twenty-nine original trustees of the Lincoln National Monument association, chartered by congress in 1867 to collect funds to erect a memorial to Abraham Lincoln, will be asked by the subscribers' committee to name other trustees so as to perpetuate the organization and carry out the original aims of the association. Only $2,000 is in the treasury.

BREWERS WILL AID THE POLICE

Chicago, May 10.—Thirty breweries including some of the largest in the country, have joined with the Chicago police in a crusade against selling liquor in the tenderloin districts. CHANGES SENTIMENT.

Detroit News Acknowledges Success of Osborn's Campaign.

The Detroit News has been anything but friendly to Chase S. Osborn since he entered the gubernatorial campaign. But the News has been compelled to acknowledge the force of Mr. Osborn's campaign. In a recent issue, commenting on the situation in the state, the News says:

"Osborn's picture is appearing in more state papers than Kelley's or Musselman's. But Osborn has been an editor himself and still owns an interest in a paper. This may account for it. Judging from reports emanating from various sources, his style of whacking at Governor Warner's administration and at Cannonism and Aldrichism and Ballingerism and some other things which bear the official stamp of the great old party and which the Julius Caesar Burrows stand-patters regard as sacred, is helping him. It is not so much the specific things he is alleging as the way he is doing it. One of the old party veterans expresses the case in these words: 'The people of the country have been unconsciously educated by Colonel Roosevelt, and now they side with the candidate who hits with a hickory stick or a slap-stick, as against the candidate who never uses a weapon more wicked than a sugar-coated club of straw. The merits may not always be with the wielder of the hickory stick and the slap-stick, but that doesn't make any difference. By the way, you recall that Mr. Pingree's favorite weapon was a stout club, and he was everlastingly cracking the heads of the stand-patters of his party. Were the masses with him? I guess yes.'

"Osborn is already engaged for a Memorial day address at Bellevue, with State Senator Frank Shields of Howell as a speaking partner."

BAY TURNS FLETCHER DOWN.

Kelley Leader is Badly Worsted in His Own Billwick.

Labor Commissioner Richard H. Fletcher, field general for the Kelley forces, was badly beaten in the spring elections in Bay City. The council, of which he was a member, refused to allow him to name his own election inspectors, and then his ward went Democratic in spite of the efforts of "Dick." The trouble occurred over the gubernatorial situation originally, but general dissatisfaction with the regime of the "Boss of Bay" was the cause of his final defeat. Early in the spring Commissioner Fletcher tried to line up the employees of the county road commission for Kelley, but he was opposed by Road Commissioner Chatfield. Fletcher vowed vengeance on Chatfield and attempted to beat the road commissioner for renomination. Chatfield had the convention with him, however, and "Dick" was afraid of a slow of strength and withdrew his candidate. While Bay county was conceded to Kelley three months ago, it is now apparent that Osborn will carry it easily.

KISS TO YOUR HEART'S CONTENT, SAYS PROF.

Cambridge, Mass., May 10.—Harvard has officially put her O. K. on kissing, Dr. A. M. Worthington of the Medical School, an expert on bacteria, not osculation, says that there is no reason whatever why healthy and well intentioned couples shouldn't indulge in kissing to their hearts' content. Incidentally, his statement shatters the theory advanced many times by professors of other universities that kissing is dangerous, because it makes a swap of microbes and illness in one or both parties to the union often follows such diversions. Said Dr. Worthington:

"Kissing harmful? Certainly not! No, sir! There is no possible reason in the world, or proof in the world, why when two self-respecting, whole, some persons meet lip to lip they can't break away without upsetting the bacterial balance. Perhaps the only serious danger springing from such a union would affect the heart only."

Dr. Worthington also ably defended our friends the "microbes," referring to them in other circumstances. He asserted that if bacteria were driven from the land the world would become a desert scattered with the world's dead. Germs are humble in their needs, but stupendous in their life work.

HOW I WIN

By HUGH JENNINGS
 Manager Detroit Tigers, Champions American League
 Shortstop for Baltimore Orioles, Three-Time Champions

I win because my team does. Possibly part of the credit is due to me, and I am not modest enough to disclaim any credit. I strive to keep them fighting, working hard all the time, and cutting out the pace for the other teams, because I believe we have the best ball club and the game, and the one that will wear down the others and beat them out. I am not much of a stickler for harmony and do not care whether there is harmony among the players or not—so long as they are harmonious on the ball field and will do or try to do what they are told to do and not do anything that will hurt the club.

Devotion to the club itself is all the harmony necessary, although it is pleasanter to have it. Sometimes 20 or 30 fighting, aggressive ball players are hard to harmonize, but it can be done, as far as the game itself is concerned. The best infield work I ever did was with a player who didn't speak to me all season except to call me if I came slow—and you bet I came and he came.

In the first place, when a team starts training there is one thing every man should keep in mind, and that is that they shall condition themselves so that no further strenuous work will be necessary after the season starts. In other words, to get into such condition that after a certain period players can devote their time and attention to the perfecting of team work and not be burdened with any superfluous flesh or strained muscles. A fellow with a sore arm cannot keep his mind on the signals, and a man may begin thinking how his Charley horse hurts and lose a ball game.

Of course, when this is accomplished there is also the essential requirement essential in a ball player, and that is that he shall be able to arise to the situation when it presents itself and show the necessary stamina and nerve to carry him through these trying periods. The general public does not know how much courage, moral and physical, is necessary to carry a player through a season, or the heavy strain under which he labors at all times.

Plenty of time should be given over to figuring out the intricate problems of the game and studying up the good points and weaknesses of opposing players. Striving to overcome honestly any little defects he may have will do more to make a successful player than all the instructions and advice that may be given by a manager, coach or fellow player. The player who forgets the game when he takes off his uniform is not a good player, and the one who sits all evening arguing with a fellow on some point of play generally outlasts him and becomes a better man for himself and his team.

Summing it all up, it really is up to the player himself, after he becomes a major league man, as to whether he goes to become a big factor in the game or remain just a mediocre player. Many players are satisfied when they reach the major league and forget that they must continue to advance or go back, and self-satisfaction has sent more good men back to the minor leagues than any other element in the game. No man ever became a star who did not give the greater part of his time to the study of the game from all angles, and he must keep it up or the ones who do study will beat him out. The player who thinks he knows enough is a failure before he starts. Good arms, legs, hands and feet cannot play ball if they are disconnected from the brain.

Mitchell Studies the Game.

The Naps never had a man more willing to learn the game than Willie Mitchell, who Jim McGuire is confident will develop into one of the best left-hand pitchers in the country. Willie only left school a year ago, and his two months' experience in the Texas league didn't give him enough time to get up to all the many fine points of the game. He spends considerable time every day studying a rule book. He reads the records of players in all leagues, in addition to the work of making himself letter perfect in the rules.

Murray's Claim Settled.

The claim of William J. Murray against the Philadelphia National league baseball club has been adjusted at a meeting between Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National league; former Manager Murray and officials of the Philadelphia club. The terms of the settlement of the claim, which was for the uncompleted term of his contract as manager and for back salary, were not made public.

Walsh Breaks His Hoodoo.

Big Ed Walsh, the great pitcher of the Chicago Sox, was under a hoodoo until the team met the Detroit Tigers for their second game in Chicago. It took fifteen innings to trim Jennings' men, but Walsh persevered even with the men behind him playing a ragged game. He struck out Bush, the star shortstop of the Detroit, five times in the game and the great Ty Cobb whiffed twice.

Cubs' Boss Escapes Fines.

The national baseball commission has decided that the owner of the Chicago Cubs need not pay the $200 fine assessed for sending a contract to Johnny Kling while the catcher was under suspension. The commission decided that it would not be fair to punish Mr. Murphy, as it was necessary for him to send the contract in order to hold the player, whose old contract had expired.

WHITE SOX VETERAN PLAYING GREAT GAME

Billy Purtell, surrounded by youngsters on the Chicago American league team, has been setting a fast pace for the new boys, both in playing his position and at bat. He is a great favorite of the fans.

TRADES WIFE FOR SIX KEGS OF BEER

St. Louis, May 10.—John Roehn of Granite City, Ill., has a mania for barter that would make a Sioux Indian jealous.

He had been figuring for some time on the value of his 15-year-old wife, May Roehn, and decided to trade her to Jerry Hopper, 16 years old, for six kegs of beer and ten gallons of whiskey to boot.

Hopper and Mrs. Roehn will apply for a license to wed, and if successful will be married immediately.

The father of the prospective bridegroom has placed $300 in the hands of John Kline, a saloonkeeper, to be given to his son Jerry as soon as he is married.

Young Hopper is very enthusiastic over his bargain, and thinks he will encounter no trouble in marrying the girl.

He is sure, he said that his verbal agreement with his sweetheart's husband will be accepted by the state of Illinois in lieu of a divorce decree.

MICHIGAN STANDS TENTH IN POPULACE

Washington, May 10.—E. Dana Durand in giving out figures on the census says they are completed from the best data available at present. These figures are estimated by the census bureau to show the estimated population on June 1, 1910.

Today the estimate of population of states was given out showing that Michigan stood tenth with a gain of 272,585—with a total population of 2,693,567.

Officials of the census bureau said that it might be several months before the final official figures taken from the count would be available.

The census bureau makes a special practice of estimating population and in the bureau are data collected during the years for this purpose. The experts have perfected the system to a remarkable degree and the advance figures in most cases have been nearly identical with the later official statements.

The estimated total population of the United States is 91,424,423.

MAKING NEW OR UNLOADING RECORDS

Ashtabula, Ohio, May 10.—New ore records are being made frequently this season, and perhaps the most interesting figures yet out were made on Friday afternoon.

With 8,067 tons of Beaver ore on from Superior, the steamer W. A. Paine was put under the Hoover & Mason machines at dock No. 10 at noon, Friday, and was unloaded three hours and 49 minutes of actual working time.

But a short time ago a cargo of 10,160 tons of ore was taken out in 6 hours gross time, or 5 1/2 hours of actual working time. The men operating the ore unloaders at Fairport thought they were "going some" when they unloaded 10,324 tons in five hours and 49 minutes actual time. This new record is the fastest yet in Ashtabula.

GIVES AN ORDER FOR 750,000 "SMOKES"

Probably the largest order for cigars ever given in Houghton county was written in Houghton the other day, when a Houghton firm gave to the representative of an Eastern house an order for 750,000 cigars of one brand. The cigars are to be delivered within the coming year. It is thought the order is worth close to $30,000.

This is an indication of the extent of the cigar business in the copper country, which is surely a very large business, judging from the number of firms engaged in it in a wholesale way. A cigar man who discussed the order yesterday said that the cigar business must be one of the biggest businesses in the United States, because the cigar maker's trade is the most numerous trade in the country.

LOOK FOR BIG JULY BUSINESS

Cleveland, Ohio, May 10.—It is predicted that July will be one of the biggest business months ever had on the Great Lakes. A prominent vesselman reviews the season as follows: "The reports from the upper docks show that there were over one and a half million tons moved last month, which was very good for April. I will make this prediction: The month of July will be one of the biggest we have ever had on the lakes. I look for the biggest coal movement in the history of navigation on the Great Lakes for the coal is needed in the northwest. Then, too, the consumers up there are bound to get in a good supply this year, for they are determined not to get caught again in case of a threatened strike as they did this year.

OLDEST MARINE ENGINEER IS DEAD

Detroit, Mich., May 10.—John M. Croneweth, said to have been the oldest marine engineer on the Great Lakes, died at his home here at the age of eighty years. He began his career as a marine engineer in 1849 as assistant on the steamer Odd Fellow. He held a similar position on the Bell, and subsequently was chief of the General Taylor and Mineral Rock. From 1864-68 he was chief engineer on the steamer Meteor, being on that vessel at the time of the collision that sank the Pewabic. Later he was chief engineer on the River Queen, John Marti and J. W. Wetmore. He entered the employ of Alger, Smith & Co. in 1880 as chief engineer of the raft towing steamer Torrent, remained until Alger, Smith & Co. disposed of the vessel interests.

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it's ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

Cautious Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

MORE ROOM NEEDED AT STATE CAPITOL

Next Legislature Will Be Asked for the Funds to Pay for Making Enlargements to the Building—Outside Parties Now Getting Large Sums for Rentals—Details.

Lansing, May 10.—Recognizing the need of additional room at the capitol, it is said that efforts will be made by certain state officials to induce the legislature at its next session to cover the expense of erecting an addition to the present building, so that all of the state offices can be placed under the one roof instead of being scattered all over the city, as is the case at the present time. During the session of 1909 Representative Myles F. Gray, of this city, introduced a bill providing for an appropriation for the purpose of erecting an addition to the capitol building but the measure was pigeon-holed by the committee and was never heard of again.

At present the state is paying to outside parties the sum of $3,549 each year for office rental and more than half of this amount goes to State Dairy and Food Commissioner A. C. Bird, who owns the Oakland building in which the offices of the state railroad commission and the offices of the game warden are located. The books of the auditor general show that A. C. Bird is paid $1,800 each year for permitting these two branches of the state government to transact business, in his building.

Several offices of the supreme court justices are located in the Hollister building owned by R. E. Olds and these cost the state $540. The state tax commission transacts business in the City National Bank building and these offices rent for $1200 per year. The building at the corner of Washington avenue and Allegan street, in which the offices of the dairy and food commission, state highway commission, state labor commission and state geological survey are located, is owned by the state.

WOULD CELEBRATE FAMOUS BATTLE

Philadelphia, Pa., May 10.—Satisfactory progress in the arrangements being made for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg in July, 1913 was reported today by the Pennsylvania commission at a meeting at the Union league. Letters have been received from the governors of nearly all the states, cordially approving the plan and promising their cooperation. It is expected that within a few weeks representatives will be appointed by all the states in the union and that by October the project can be taken up at a meeting to be held on the battlefield. The delegates will meet at Harrisburg, Pa., pay their respects to Governor Stuart and from that time on be the guests of the state of Pennsylvania. The cooperation of President Taft and of the national government is already assured, according to a report of a special committee which recently visited Washington, and resolutions for national support will be introduced in congress in the near future.

BELIEVED THERE IS GOLD IN MICHIGAN

Lansing, May 10.—Although there are some valuable deposits of gold in Michigan State Geologist R. C. Allen says that if every specimen submitted to him which is supposed to be gold proved to be the genuine article, this portion of the country could be regarded as a veritable Klondyke.

Hardly a day passes that some ruralist does not enter the private office of the state geologist, and after discussing the weather and the prospects of a bumper crop of corn for a few minutes, slyly extract a package from his pocket and placing it on the geologist's desk says "What is it?" Invariably the inquisitor thinks he has discovered some of the precious metal and wants the sanction of the geologist before he advertises his property for sale upon which the substance was found. Generally the sample which is submitted proves to be of no value.

The other day a farmer submitted a sample to the state geologist which really proved to be gold. He claimed to have found it in a well which was being dug on his farm, but the specimen was so small that Allen concluded that it was nothing more than a gold filling which had doubtless dropped as he was bending over the excavation.

Blanche Walsh in "The Test," at the Peterson Opera House, Tuesday evening, May 10.

THEATRICAL

The Peterson:—Miss Blanche Walsh considers the role of "Emma Ellynge" in which she appears in "The Test," even greater than the emotional part she played in "Resurrection." She scored such a phenomenal hit in this work that Tolstol wrote to her and complimented her personally. Following her triumph in "The Test," New York critics declared it was even superior to "Resurrection"—in fact they characterized this newest work of Jules Eckert Goodman as one of the few genuinely strong plays produced in New York in many years. Miss Walsh, supported by an unusually strong and well-balanced company, will present "The Test" at Peterson's opera house this evening and should be welcomed by a large audience.

The Peterson:—The version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" which Al. W. Martin's big company will present at the Peterson Wednesday, May 11, is the original and is one of the purest and most instructive stories ever told. The element of sympathy is very pronounced, the pathos is genuine, and even the comedy is such as to make a distinct appeal.

Ben's Theater:—The next offering of the Willard Stock company at Ben's theater will be "The Light in the Harbor." It is a masterly play, dealing with themes which appeal to all people alike. There is not a dull line in the entire play. Among the scenes are the great safe robbery, the illuminated pier in the harbor and the den of thieves. The moving pictures to be shown tonight include "Red Girl's Romance," "Hero of the Italian Independence" and "Mysterious Major." The illustrated song will be "Moonlight, the Rose and You," by Mercer Wright.

STRAWBERRIES CAN BE RAISED IN U. P.

Raising strawberries in upper Michigan has become an horticultural industry of no small importance. The soil is particularly suited to the growth of the fruit and the berries are large and luscious and are in eager demand both in the home and outside markets. The fruit does not ripen until the crops to the south have been harvested and owing to this fact and to the superior quality of the berries the upper peninsula product commands the highest prices. Many thousands of cases were marketed last season, and this year the harvest will be even larger. There are few farmers who do not devote some area of the ground set apart for the purpose ranging all the way from a small patch to fields acres in extent, and each year sees the acreage increased. The strawberry crop is safe and profitable in upper Michigan and probably more so than any other.

STEAMER EDDY IS IN BAD SHAPE

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., May 10.—The steamer Charles A. Eddy, which stranded on Gravelly island, in Poverty passage, early Saturday morning, is in bad shape. The tug Smith, which went to her release from here with a lighter, returned Sunday for two larger pumps. The stranded boat is full of water and is said to be badly twisted, having run upon a rocky ledge while under a speed of ten miles an hour. The ore cannot be taken out of her until the water has been pumped out. Doubtless the boat will not be worth much, even if released.

Will Hold Office Permanently—Has Big Case to Keep Him Busy at the Soo.

Houghton, Mich., May 10.—H. T. Looney, for the past several months temporary referee in bankruptcy for the northern division of the United States court for the western district of Michigan, has received from Judge Arthur Dennison of Grand Rapids his appointment as permanent referee. Mr. Looney's territory includes the entire upper peninsula. He was appointed temporary referee by Judge Loyal E. Knappen when Referee B. O. Pearl of Marquette was incapacitated by ill health and Judge Dennison's appointment comes because of the fact there is no hope of a restoration to health of Mr. Pearl.

Mr. Looney is appointed at the solicitation of attorneys from every part of the territory from the Soo to Ironwood and the copper country. The copper country attorneys at one time made an effort to have this district set apart as a separate division under Mr. Looney but Judge Dennison could not be brought to see the expediency of such a change.

Frank Perry Case at Soo.
Mr. Looney will begin his duties as permanent referee today at the Soo, where he will take up the case of Frank Perry, a former upper peninsula lumber baron, who has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Mr. Perry's liabilities will amount to half a million dollars. Mr. Perry's failure is the biggest one in years in the upper peninsula.

He has operated a lumber business with headquarters at the Soo for a quarter of a century and has owned Canadian mines, fleets of vessels, immense lumber camps and logging railroads. His failure has been brought about by the condition of the lumber market, prices making several of his big contracts unprofitable.

Mr. Perry was the second man to be elected mayor of Sault Ste. Marie after that place became an incorporated city. He is one of the most respected men in the Soo and his failure will undoubtedly create consternation in that city.

Frank Perry conducted lumbering operations in Houghton county, near Elm river, twelve years ago. Angus Campbell of Houghton was foreman of his operations in this county. Mr. Perry is well known to many Houghton people.

OSBORN FAR IN LEAD Soo Man Looks to Be Winner For Governor.

Kelley Strength Dwindling as Campaign Progresses—Osborn People Claim Primary by 50,000—Musselman Last—Campaign is Analyzed.

It is predicted in Detroit by close followers of politics that Chase S. Osborn will win in the gubernatorial primary by more than 50,000. Enthusiastic Osborn supporters declare that it will be nearer 75,000, while none of the seers in the state's metropolis put the Soo man's plurality at less than 35,000.

It is conceded by everyone who follows politics here that never has there been such a switch in public sentiment in such a short length of time as has been witnessed in the present fight for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan.

Even the most loyal Osborn man will acknowledge that if the primary had been held about Jan 1 that Lieutenant Governor Kelley would have been the winner.

But with the opening of the "banquet circuit," Chase Osborn literally gained thousands of votes daily.

When Mr. Osborn took up the active end of the campaign he was unknown to the bulk of the people in the state.

But with his first speech he became almost a popular idol. His campaign was opened at Greenville, where he was unknown, but within a month the result of that speech had been to shatter the Eleventh district, acknowledged previous to that speech as a Kelley stronghold, and to make that district an even chance. And so it was with every speech.

Osborn was an even money proposition by Feb. 1, but from then on he gained by leaps and bounds. At St. Johns he was given an ovation only equalled by those given to presidential candidates. In two speeches at Detroit he made a tremendous impression, and the Kelley workers practically gave up in Wayne county.

Probably the greatest indication of how Mr. Osborn has turned over the state is shown by Bay county. Here State Labor Commissioner "Dick" Fletcher reigned supreme, and there was betting by the Kelley adherents that the lieutenant governor would carry this county 5 to 1 over Osborn. But the Osborn sentiment reached a point in March where, on a direct Osborn-Kelley issue, Fletcher was beaten in a county convention, something that hadn't happened in years before.

Many reasons are responsible for the Osborn sentiment. First of all comes the personality of the man. He is the most magnetic speaker in Michigan, and he makes votes with every word he utters during a speech. But coupled with this is the feeling against the present state administration, which is typified by Mr. Kelley, and the fact that the entire state machine is laboring with might and main to elect Mr. Kelley, or at least to nominate him, for there is a growing feeling in the state that if Mr. Kelley is nominated he has but slight chance of being elected.

This very fact has lost him a great deal of support, county delegates feeling that he will weaken the ticket and hurt their own campaign if he should head the ticket.

Getting down to the matter of figures, the Republican enrollment in the upper peninsula was 44,000, which means that Osborn will come to the straits with a plurality in excess of 32,000. This is a tremendous vote for any candidate to overcome, and there is not one chance in 500 that Mr. Kelley can accomplish this.

Wayne county is solid for Osborn, and a number of bets have been made here that Osborn will have 15,000 plurality in the county. This goes as well for Saginaw, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo, Port Huron, Benton Harbor, Muskegon, Manistee and Ludington.

He will carry the Tenth district by a big majority, and also the Eleventh, although the latter will be closer. The Fourth district is apparently the closest in the lower peninsula, with Mr. Kelley having a shade; but Osborn will offset this by his vote in the Third district and in the Second. The Fifth is also conceded to Osborn, with the Ninth, and the Seventh will offset any Kelley gains in the Sixth. The development of the congressional fight in the Sixth may work to Osborn's advantage. Congressman Sam Smith is likely to be opposed by Senator Frank J. Shields of Howell. If Senator Shields gets in he will keep the Pontiac man so busy with his own nomination that he will not have time to aid Mr. Kelley very much.

Mr. Musselman will play but a small part in the race. If he had stood firmly by his original declaration for prohibition he might have become a factor through the straight "dry" vote he would have secured in addition to the support he was sure of in any event. But his later straddling of the liquor question has disgusted all factions.

Sizing it up from all sides, the claim of the Osborn people that Mr. Osborn will be nominated for governor of Michigan by 50,000 looks like a perfectly reasonable one.

Philosophy.
There are some people—and I am one of them—who think that the most practical and important thing about a map is still his view of the universe. We think that for a landlady considering a lodger, it is important to know his income, but still more important to know his philosophy. We think that for a general about to fight an enemy, it is important to know the enemy's number, but still more important to know the enemy's philosophy. —Gilbert K. Chesterton.

A Husband's Pledge.
A wealthy middle-aged divorcee who married a good looking and companionable young fellow, penniless himself, is said to have exacted from him, as part of the marriage contract, the pledge that he would spend every evening of his life with her. They were inveterate theater-goers until his death, which seems to corroborate the curious story. Many women would like to have the same power of keeping their husbands at home.—New York Press.

Sex Inequality.
It doesn't cost much to get a man ready to be married. He buys a new suit of clothes, two suits of underwear, three extra pairs of socks, has his hair cut, and is ready. But think of the stuff a girl thinks she must buy when she gets married! Are girls so superior to men that they cannot get married without fifteen or twenty times more clothes?—Atchison Globe.

MICHIGAN IS "INSURGENT."

Feeling Against Old Order of Things is Strong in State.

A number of writers have been touring through the states of the west telling of the growth of the so-called "insurgent" movement. While Michigan has been skipped by these investigators, this state can be classed with the real "insurgents." Michigan is a solidly Republican, but there is a distinct feeling that there should be a cleaning up in many quarters, particularly with reference to the present state administration. Chase S. Osborn has voiced the sentiment in the whole state in declaring against "Balfingerism, Cannonism, Aldrichism and Warnerism." It may not please some of the old line politicians, but it echoes the spirit of the people of today.

OSBORN IS VERSATILE.

Offers Unique Means of Expression in Campaign.

Some of the politicians around the state are wondering just how it would be possible to stump Chase S. Osborn before an audience. During the round of the banquets he made a different speech every night, while his opponents were making the same speeches in each town. He was the guest of honor at a mythic celebration in Detroit and delivered an address on Damon and Pythias and an illustrated lecture on traveling in Sicily. He has spoken in a great number of churches about the state and has actually filled the pulpit on several occasions.

BIG U. P. ENROLLMENT.

A Total of 44,000 Republicans Declare Themselves.

A total of 44,000 Republicans enrolled at the spring election north of the straits. This is the greatest enrollment which has occurred in the state, and the candidacy of Chase S. Osborn of the Soo for governor is responsible for it.

Every Republican in the upper peninsula was anxious to enroll so that he might vote in the party for Mr. Osborn. On the basis of this enrollment, it is said that Mr. Osborn will carry the upper peninsula by more than 35,000. The total Osborn vote will approximate 40,000.

ESCANABANS WILL VISIT IN THE EAST

Last evening a party of Escanaba residents left on an extended trip to various points of interest in the east, including Niagara Falls, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Washington and Detroit. They expect to be gone about a month. They will make their first stop at Detroit, where the national convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is being held. From there they will go to Buffalo and other eastern cities, returning by way of Chicago. Those in the party are: Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Connell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. PRESIDENT TAFT IN AN OPTIMISTIC MOOD

(By Associated Press.) Washington, D. C., May 10.—President Taft returned to Washington at 7:20 o'clock this morning.

Passaic, N. J., May 10.—In a speech before the Passaic board of trade here last night in which he discussed the legislative situation at Washington, President Taft declared with great emphasis and amid outbursts of applause that the railroad bill had not been emasculated in any vital way and predicted that a satisfactory law would be passed. He said: "The bill still retains its important features, and I am hopeful that within the next few weeks we shall see the passage of the bill in both houses, the adjustment of the differences between the two houses and its final enactment."

The president declared that the newspaper reports of the crippling of the bill had been greatly exaggerated, and he set out in detail the provisions of the measure as it now stands. He said he hoped the provision which permits a railroad owning fifty per cent of the stock of a competing road to acquire the remaining stock would be restored.

Further discussing the sections stricken out, Mr. Taft said that those permitting traffic agreements as well as several others had been withdrawn because of the fear of some senators that the efficiency of the anti-trust act would be impaired. The commerce court section, he said, had been retained, which he said he deemed the most important clause of the bill.

In his review of the pending legislation, Mr. Taft expressed his belief that the following measures will become laws:

Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico.

Postal savings bank bill.

The anti-injunction measure.

The so-called validating bill of the conservation legislation.

Publicity of campaign expenditures. The railroad bill.

In his comment on the delay in the passage of the statehood bill, the president acknowledged that there was "hesitation" on the part of some Republicans of the senate to pass a bill which is "so likely to add four Democrats to the senate." He added: "Or, if not Democrats, Republicans of that radical type that are entirely out of sympathy with the more conservative notions of the east."

In spite of this the president said that he was anxious that the party should carry out its statehood pledge, and he did not think he would be disappointed.

BRYCE IS STRONG IN ADVOCACY OF PEACE

(By Associated Press.)

Hartford, Conn., May 10.—Although unable to attend the New England Peace and Arbitration congress, which convened here today, Ambassador James Bryce of Great Britain sent the following letter—embodying his views on peace and arbitration:

"It is a matter of great regret to me that I cannot attend the meeting of the New England Peace and Arbitration congress owing to the numerous other engagements which I have for the week in which it is to be held.

"I rejoice to know that a demonstration of opinion in favor of peace and arbitration so large and so earnest as that which this conference is expected to give will proceed from the people of New England.

"The importance of the question itself cannot be exaggerated and you are right in thinking that it ought to be constantly kept before public attention.

"Though the feeling disclosed at similar congresses in the past has been most encouraging, and though now now ventures openly to oppose the propaganda in which you are engaged, there are still some disquieting symptoms which cannot be ignored. All the great nations profess to desire peace, yet all maintain enormous naval and military armaments which impose an almost intolerable burden upon the peoples. Of course, each nation declares that these armaments are only for its own protection, intended in fact to secure peace, and that it has no aggressive designs against others. Yet each nation does not seem to credit the others with the same pacific intentions it professes for itself and so an atmosphere of general suspicion reigns.

"Allegations of intended attacks by one nation upon another, however, recklessly they are made, however improbable in themselves, are constantly scattered forth and receive an amount of credit surprising to those who know the real facts of the case. You doubtless recall an instance of this kind which occurred not long ago affecting your own country. Each such story, each such alarm, has the effect of increasing the demand for a further increase in naval and military preparations. The alarm usually passes away after a few months, but the result remains in the increased armaments and in the stimulus given to the latest but ever present warlike sentiment that seems to exist in the less educated and less thoughtful part of the population. This sentiment when some cause of international dispute arises, which, though possibly real, is capable of pacific adjustment, tends to inflame men's minds, and has sometimes been found to hurry a nation into war.

"Your deliberations will doubtless be addressed to some means of reducing these still present dangers to peace, and of endeavoring to dispel the atmosphere of mutual and usually groundless suspicion, in which the great nations of the world seem to be living.

"With every good wish for the success of your congress, I am faithfully yours, James Bryce."

BOAT ARRIVES HERE IN BAD CONDITION

(By Associated Press.)

The big steamer Annie C. Misch arrived at No. 6 ore dock last evening with two large holes in her bottom near the bow. In order to prevent sinking and to enable the necessary work to be done upon the vessel it was necessary for her to be grounded. While on the way here the ship got aground on what is known as the Gravelly shoals and in getting off the damage was done.

Pumps were started and the boat was kept afloat until this port was reached.

The steamer C. A. Eddy, which left here a few days ago with ore for Lake Erie ports, is aground at Poverty Island and the captain came to Escanaba with the Poverty Island life saving crew yesterday to communicate with the owners as to his course of action.

torney Clyde Hayden of this city and the defendant, the Chicago Navigation company, is understood to be a subsidiary of the Pittsburg Steamship company, which is the ore carrying branch of the United States Steel corporation.

It appears that, going back to the beginning of the case, a sailor named Wilbert Smith, signed articles at Conneaut, Ohio, with the Chicago Navigation company to go to the head of the lakes and return on one of its vessels at wages of $50 a month. When he got to Escanaba he had worked five and one-half days, which at $50 a month would amount to $9.13.

Smith left the boat at Escanaba and did not make the return trip according to his contract, but demanded his pay for the five and one-half days. The captain refused to pay him and he assigned his claim for wages to Attorney Hayden for the purpose of suing the company.

Suit was started on the 16th day of September in Justice O. V. Lindén's court, where the plaintiff recovered a judgment of $9.13 and costs. The Navigation company appealed the case to circuit court, where Judge Cooper confirmed the judgment of the justice court, giving the plaintiff a judgment of $9.13 and costs. After this, upon motion of the Navigation company, Judge Cooper granted a new trial, which took place yesterday before Judge Flannigan. Judge Flannigan decided the case in favor of the defendant. There are three law points involved in this case:

First. Under the general maritime law a sailor forfeits all wages due by deserting the ship before the trip is completed for which he has signed. The plaintiff claimed that the general maritime law had no application here because the case was not in a maritime court, but was in a state court, a common law court, and that under the common law there is no such thing as a forfeiture of wages. It was admitted all around that the sailor had a right to waive his maritime lien on the boat and sue the company in a common law state court.

Second. Under a United States statute a sailor forfeits his wages by desertion. The plaintiff in this case contended that this statute could not be availed of by the defendant because, according to the contention of the plaintiff, the company had made no entry of the desertion in the ship's log, which would be required by the statute.

Third. According to the written contract the sailor agreed to forfeit all of his wages if he did not complete the contract. The plaintiff's contention on this point was that this provision of all wages in the contract was a penalty and void. The plaintiff also contended that the plaintiff had performed valuable services for the defendant which the defendant had received the benefit of and that he should be paid the reasonable value of those services unless the defendant company could show that it had been damaged by the plaintiff breaking his contract, wherein he agreed to make the return trip upon the lakes. As the defendant company did not offer any evidence of this damage, the plaintiff contended that he should be paid for the benefit which his labor had conferred on the defendant.

Attorney Hayden, who has fought the case all through, entirely at his own expense of time, efforts and money, believes it should be taken to a higher court, as a most important issue is involved and one which should be definitely settled for all time, but he does not feel able to longer continue the fight unless he is given the support and financial backing of the laboring men most interested. It is not known at this time, therefore, if an appeal will be taken from the judgment of Judge Flannigan. In the several trials of the case Mr. Hayden appeared for himself, while Attorney A. H. Ryall represented the Chicago Navigation company.
