LAW OF PROGRESS.

It is not alone by the dependency of inferior governments, necessitating protective or punitive intervention by stronger nations, that the peaceful equilibrium is destroyed; a state need not be morally and pecuniarily bankrupt in order to become a menace to its near or more distant neighbors. Financial or industrial instability resulting from unwise laws or bad management in any country makes itself felt the world around. The severest money panic in Great Britain during the past generation had its origin in Argentina. Minding one's business and all that is implied by the words, is the surest means for the attainment of universal peace and for the advancement of the human race, says Philadelphia Record. The twentieth century, thinks Ambassador Bryce, will be renowned for commerce, for progress in the manner and comfort of living, for the successful extraction from this world of all the boons it offers to those who are willing to go after them. "Every nation will strive for commercial supremacy; and this means that every one of its citizens will have to work toward this end." But the competition that will follow will be but an incentive to advancing each nation on the path toward perfection.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

When you are bilious there is always an excess of bad blood in the system. To cure biliousness, then, you should make no more blood for the present, because there is too much already; and since every drop of blood is made out of the food eaten, then this is a case where not one single mouthful should be swallowed; that cuts off at once the entire supply of what causes the mischief. The next step to be taken is to open the pores of the skin by a thorough cleansing with soap and warm water, and a vigorous scrubbing the whole surface of the body, in which there are many millions of pores or little chimneys, out of which, from the body, pass into the open air vapors, and liquids, and solids, all from the blood, and every particle of which, so passed out, diminishes, by so much, the amount of waste products. If, by active exercise, one sweats freely the quantity of bad blood in the body is still more rapidly diminished. The next thing to do then, is to take abundant, active out-door exercise. And remember he should abstain from eating for a day or two, but as much cold water or as much warm mild liquid may be drunk as can be taken with comfort. Bathing, sweating from exercise, out-door air, and fasting are the natural means of curing biliousness.

Did He Fall?

"I was surprised today."
"How was that?"
"Old Titewad asked me to have a drink."
"That is easily accounted for. I told him yesterday that you were on the water wagon."

FAIR LUNA TO PASS THROUGH SHADOW

Eclipse of the Moon Will Occur on the Night of May 23—Will Become Visible at 9:46 O'clock, the Middle Coming at 11:43—Visible Here—Details.

On the night of May 23 the moon our constant companion in space and nearest celestial neighbor, will pass through the earth's shadow and be totally eclipsed, the phenomenon being visible to North and South America, the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and in parts of southwest Europe, the western portions of Africa, and the extreme eastern part of Australia. This eclipse will be the second in a series of four, two of the sun and two of the moon, announced for the present year, beginning on the evening of May 23 and ending on the following morning, and it will afford an interesting exhibition well worth observing should the sky be favorable.

The moon will remain in the earth's shadow for 3 hours and 36 minutes. It will enter the shadow at 9:46 p. m. and will leave it at 1:22 a. m., the middle of the eclipse occurring at 11:43 p. m., central standard time, and the total phase will continue for almost one hour. As the moon's diameter is divided into twelve equal parts called "digits" the magnitude of the eclipse will be 13.2 "digits," so that it will be a little more than total.

The eclipse beginning when the moon is well elevated above the horizon, and at a convenient hour in the evening, it will occur under the most favorable conditions for observation, and next to the appearance of Halley's comet it will be the most important celestial event of the year. When the moon is immersed in the earth's shadow her disk will appear dimmed as if covered with a dark veil, and her unusual faintness at the time of her usual "full" cannot fail to attract attention if the clouds do not obscure the view. The total phase will begin at 11:09 p. m., and end at midnight, but the moon will not leave the outer shadow until 2:36 a. m., the entire eclipse lasting six hours and four minutes.

STARTS SUIT AGAINST TWO WIRE COMPANIES

Lansing, Mich., May 16.—The state of Michigan has, through Auditor-General Fuller, filed suit against the Western Union Telegraph Co. for a bill to foreclose a lien for taxes. The state assessed the telegraph company $31,909.97 on a $1,500,000 valuation and on April 28 the company remitted $20,673.31, claiming they were not liable for the larger amount. The remittance was accepted as part payment and the state now asks in circuit court that the company pay the remaining amount and in default asks for a lien on property belonging to the corporation.

Auditor-General Fuller also started suit against the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. for $1,550,50 taxes. The company was assessed $9,302.99 on a $400,000 valuation, of which the company remitted 7,752.49, which the state accepted in part payment.

THEATRICAL

Ben's Theater.—At Ben's theater this evening the Willard Stock company will appear in the picturesque western melodrama, "The Heart of the Siskiyous," and a number of fine specialty acts will be introduced. Mock Sad All and his wife, Billy Ireland and Arthur Holloway have joined the Willard Stock company, greatly adding to its strength. Mock Sad All is to take the management of the company and it is said that there will "be something doing" in consequence. Besides the regular performance and vaudeville acts, there will be several displays of moving pictures and an illustrated song, so that everybody will be sure to get their money's worth in good entertainment.

MAKES WORK EASY.

Escanaba People Are Pleased to Learn How It is Done. It's pretty hard to attend to duties. With a constantly aching back. With annoying urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier.

They cure backache. They cure every kidney ail. M. Brown, 406 S. Jennie St., Escanaba, Mich., says: "About two years ago I began to suffer from pains in the lower part of my back and after a hard day's work, I was so lame that I could scarcely straighten up. In the morning upon arising, I felt lame and sore and the kidney secretions were often scant. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I accordingly procured a box at the Mead Drug Co. My kidneys were soon strengthened through their use and the pains in my back were disposed of. Recently when I had a return of pain, I again used Doan's Kidney Pills and I am again well. Doan's Kidney Pills and I am again well. Doan's Kidney Pills and I am again well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Beware of cheap imitations. Doan's Kidney Pills are made in the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Don't buy a secondhand car if you do not understand anything about machinery or gasoline motors, for you not only throw away your money invariably, but the trouble and annoyances and additional expense it will give you would make it worth your while to buy a new one—that is, of course, with all due respect to the car that MIGHT be good. If you are insistent about buying a car that has already been used by some one else, remember that the owner does not usually want to sell his machine unless he has had some trouble with it.

The manufacturer who deals in the secondhand machines of his production can be more relied upon than a private owner. If you must have a machine that has "seen its best day," because the manufacturer has his reputation at stake. Most motorists can tell the make of a car that has broken down on the road.

Before buying a secondhand car from a man who tells you he simply wants to sell it to make room for a larger or more expensive car a reliable mechanic should be consulted. The cost of having the bearings examined and having all other parts looked into carefully will be saved many times.

Look over the rawhide gears on the cam shafts. Remember, these gears are very expensive to replace, and on the old car you will generally find the leather oil soaked and soft. In fact, these gears will be so deteriorated that the teeth can almost be picked to pieces with the finger nail.

The radiator should be thoroughly examined. If the radiator on the secondhand car is worn out and leaking in several places you will soon have the expense of a new one, which isn't small. The motor parts are all expensive. A piston ring costs considerable when you include the labor charges for putting it in place.

Then drill another hole so it will cut part of the first screw and proceed as before. Do this the length of the crack, and it should not leak a drop. It is much easier than putting on a patch and more likely to be perfectly water tight.

Testing Dry Cells.

Do not test dry cells for amperage while they are cold. A low temperature will cut down the efficiency of any dry cell temporarily, and a cell that while cold may appear nearly exhausted will show up as first class when warmed to normal temperature.

VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN REAL FAN; KNOWS BASEBALL AND ITS ENGLISH

SELDOM MISSES A GAME IF HE CAN HELP IT—CHAIRMAN HERRMANN'S PRAISE OF THE NORTHWESTERN LEAGUE — "BUGS" RAYMOND'S "REVOLT" SHORT LIVED.

VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN never misses a chance to attend a baseball game. Of course, his duties as presiding officer of the United States senate keep him away from the Washington grounds often, but if there is any opportunity for him to get out to see the game he goes.

The vice-president goes to the games because he knows how they ought to be played. He is a fan of the first water, but of course cannot be a roofer for any particular team. He probably has his opinions concerning the best players and the best teams, but he has to keep them to himself, for "he's where he is because the people put him there." A story is told of Mr. Sherman which shows what he knows of "baseball English." He was in a box with President Taft and other officials at a game when a long fly was knocked to right field. As the fielder got under the ball, one member of the party in correct English exclaimed: "He has it."

"What kind of baseball talk is that?" scornfully demanded the vice-president. "You should say: 'He's got it.'"

The vice-president tells a story of how he organized a team when he was fourteen years old, and although it was chiefly through his efforts that the money to purchase the nine's necessary paraphernalia was obtained, he was fired off the team the second day of its existence because he was what the fans call "rotten." He discovered later that it was bad eyesight that kept him from being a player.

The late Tom Loftus used to tell a story about taking the Cincinnati team out for a Sunday game in a little town on the Ohio river. "We were to play the game at 11 o'clock, in order to catch a train for New York," said Mr. Loftus. "When we started out to the park all the church bells were ringing, and I began to get scared. At the ball park I asked the owner of the home team about the chances for the game being stopped and all of us sent to jail. 'Oh,' said he, 'I don't think that will happen. The man selling tickets in the box office is the chief of police; the man on the gate is the town clerk—the only man who can issue warrants for arrests—and I, at your service, am mayor.' I didn't worry after that," said Loftus.

Chairman Herrmann sent to the Northwestern league on its opening day a message in which he said: "No baseball circuit in America is entitled to more credit for true sportsmanship than the Northwestern league. Planted in a territory that is comparatively new, made up of cities that cannot boast of the population which several other leagues have and far removed from the field that is supposed to produce the largest crop of players, the Northwestern league has made itself felt in organized baseball by the enterprise it has displayed in going after the best talent available and making for the highest class of sport possible under existing conditions. The Northwestern league is now looked upon by the major circuits as one of the most desirable organizations in America for the development of talent for the big leagues. That fact was demonstrated last fall, when more players were bought and drafted from that circuit than from a majority of leagues that are ranked in a higher class than the Northwestern. Baseball must glory in the continued success of a league conducted under conditions such as surround the Northwestern, and the best wishes of every man directly interested in the great national sport surely are with the enterprising and fearless men who control the destinies of the game in the far northwest."

Arthur "Bugs" Raymond, the New York National pitcher, again deserted the Giants. He packed up his personal property the other day and departed, making the following explanation: "I am no paraisit patient and don't need a keeper. If I can't play baseball I can make a living at my trade." Raymond has been watched pretty closely to keep him on the water wagon, and it is supposed that he took the action he did as a result. But the sequel is that, after a couple days' absence, he bobbed up from no one knows where and pulled a 5-to-3 victory from the Phillies in 13 innings.

The 42 assists made by Milwaukee and Minneapolis in a game recently is mighty close to being a record.

DETROITERS ALSO COMING TO THE UPPER PENINSULA

Business Men of the Metropolis of Michigan Will Visit Lake Superior Ports Soon.

Houghton, Mich., May 16.—The business men of the Lake Superior ports and some of the inland towns are going to find themselves very popular the coming few weeks. The Chicago Association of Commerce is to travel to this region in June, on the steamer Theodore Roosevelt, and, as announced recently, will spend June, 15, from noon until 10 p. m. at this port. A letter was received here yesterday from H. F. Miller, the association's business manager, asking if it would be feasible to work in a side trip to Ishpeming.

The Chicago Association of Commerce, however, is to be beaten to the Lake Superior ports by the Wholesalers and Manufacturers' association of Detroit. The Detroit wholesale houses have not been getting their share of the upper peninsula business. The great bulk of it has gone to their Chicago and Milwaukee rivals, and the Wholesalers and Manufacturers' association is to pay the visit to the Lake Superior ports in the hope of improving the existing trade relations.

Start on May 26.

Like the Chicago men, its members will travel by boat, but the name of the steamer that has been chartered for the trip is not yet announced. The Detroit party will sail on May 26 and will arrive home on the return trip on June 2. The itinerary calls for stops at St. Ignace, Mackinac, Sault Ste. Marie, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock, and also calls for side trips to Ishpeming, Negaunee, Red Jacket and Laurium.

It is announced that already one-third of the reservations for the trip have been spoken for, and it is expected that the steamer will carry a full passenger list. The most important manufacturing and wholesale houses of the state metropolis will be represented in the party, and many of them will send four or more people.

Object of the Trip.

It is explained that "it is a business trip, taken with a view of getting in closer touch once more with the Wholesalers and Manufacturers' association being fully alive to the extent and importance of the northern trade. There already exists on the part of the people of the upper peninsula of the state a much better feeling toward Detroit, and it is to further cement this good feeling that the trip is planned."

Details of the arriving and departing time for the towns having a place on the itinerary have not yet been received, but when they are at hand the business organizations in the various towns will doubtless arrange to give the Detroiters a warm welcome, for their trip will furnish an excellent opportunity to draw the parts of the state closer together.

"KISS-NOT" CAMPAIGN IS BEGUN BY WOMEN

Cincinnati, O., May 16.—Mrs. J. Rechin, wife of a well known business man, has set out to do away with the bacteria spreading kiss through the World's Health Organization, of which she is the president. "Kiss not" is the motto of the W. H. O. It is emblazoned in red letters on a white button worn by the members. Hundreds of circulars are being sent through the mails, one part of which reads: "Why not stop kissing? It is a time-honored custom, and one person cannot stop it. It is only in unity that sufficient strength can be gained to convince the world that kissing is pernicious and unhealthful."

Attached to the circular is a pledge, which converts are urged to sign and forward to the president. It is suggested that the women wear "Kissnot" buttons to teas and receptions, where indiscriminate kissing is much in order; also that they be attached to the clothing of babies.

MOTHER EXHUMES BODY OF DEAD CHILD

Pittsburg, May 16.—Brooding over the death of her child, which occurred two years ago, Mrs. Peter Priscilla went to the cemetery, exhumed the body and carried it to her home.

The corpse was in an excellent state of preservation and the distracted mother was in the act of bathing it when relatives took the body away from her and returned it to the cemetery.

The child was two years old when it died. Mrs. Priscilla took a shovel and some flowers with her to the cemetery. She intended to plant the flowers on the grave relatives thought several saw her digging about the grave but paid no attention to her.

Mrs. Priscilla took the coffin out of the rough box and carried the coffin home where she removed the body. She first laid out some new clothing to dress the body and then started to breathe it.

The woman was frantic when forced to surrender the body.

CHINKS SEEM TO BE "UP AGAINST IT"

Minnesota Celestials Find Federal Inspectors Very Inquisitive and May Be Compelled to Return to their Native Land—Outcome of the Raid in Upper Peninsula.

Hancock, Mich., May 16.—Copper Country and upper peninsula Chinamen have been robbed of a distinction. Minnesota celestials have stepped into the notoriety zone, and two of them in Duluth are in danger of deportation. United States Commissioner T. H. Presnell, in digging up the past history of Neon Hin Han and Shew Chong has been forced to decide that their qualifications have been given a coat of veneer, and that they are not properly residents of the United States. He has ordered them back to their native heath and unless some intervention is made they will be taking the next ship out for the eastern Empire.

Their arrest and investigation is the outcome of the raid on Chinamen started last December, and which resulted in nearly every celestial in the upper peninsula being held in duress for a number of months.

There was a leak at the Soo and that Chinamen were being smuggled into the United States in great numbers, says the Duluth Herald.

A special set of officers was sent into northern Michigan and, acting on information obtained, they conducted raids in various towns, chiefly in the Copper Country. Twenty-seven arrests were made.

It was found that some Chinamen who had escaped the drag-net thrown out at that time came in this direction and some who had come to Minnesota were believed to have been smuggled through the Soo by Felix Wagner, the man under arrest and bound over to the next grand jury to meet at Marquette next month.

The department ordered the officers to follow the cases up to the iron range country of Minnesota, where those who escaped were supposed to be. Of the five men arrested at Hibbing at least three are believed to have been smuggled through the Soo.

In not all instances were the men handled at the Soo original entries, but a great many who could not submit to all of the requirements of the United States Government in order to make a trip to China, were smuggled into Canada, established a residence there, passed through the port of Vancouver going to China and returning, and were again smuggled into the United States. For his services the smuggler is said to have received $150 to $175 for each and the government officials say that they have evidence that he reaped a rich harvest.

Why He Was Sad.

Seymour—Did Grimmer seem to be very sad after his auto had run down those two men?
Ashley—Not at first; but when I met him a few days after the accident he was the saddest man I had ever seen. He told me he would have to pay $2,000 in damages.

Studies in Gratitude.

"All I got for my trouble was a 'thank you,'" said the man who begrudges friendly effort. "You're lucky," replied the billionaire philanthropist. "I'm expected to say 'thank you' to people who find me a suitable method of giving my money away."

Unkind Intimation.

"That woman's conversation is as deep as a well."
"Yes; but she never dries up."

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertises Can AFFORD to Sell It For LESS.

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an enterprise advertiser is sure to sell it for less than the merchant who does not advertise.

For, in spite of his advantages in buying—buying in large quantities, for cash or short credit, taking instant advantage of buying OPPORTUNITIES—his selling-advantage is the decisive factor. For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store-profits on the days you buy. If you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fiftieth of his profits.

If you are fairly "good at figures" you will quickly convince yourself that you ought to buy advertised things!

Our Daily Short Story

THE MASKED WOMAN

By ALICE T. SHERWIN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

During the protectorate of Oliver Cromwell there appeared in one of the stalls (or shops, as we would call them) in the Royal Exchange, London, a masked woman who sold small articles, such as gloves, laces, neckwear and other goods, called by the Britons haberdashery.

One day the Marquis of Larenton, who since the defeat of the Cavaliers had kept himself away from London, passed that way. The estates of his father, the Duke of Eitelstone, had been forfeited on account of the family's adherence to King Charles I., and the marquis was in sad straits for a living. He stopped at the stall of the "masked woman," as she was universally known, and entered into conversation with her, prying such articles as he saw on her counter. Then, with a sigh, he turned away, saying:

"I would fain buy of your goods, mistress, but I am without means."

"Select what you wish, sir, and pay when Charlie comes home."

Now, the term "when Charlie comes home" meant in those days "when Charles, eldest son of the beheaded king and legitimate heir to the throne, is revealed to assume his rights as sovereign of England."

"I see," said the marquis, "that you are a royalist. Mayhap you are, like myself, an impoverished noble."

"I am a royalist, but I am simply the masked woman making an honest living. These gloves would, I think, fit you. Will you let me try them on your hand?"

The marquis permitted her to try the gloves on him, but not with the expectation of buying them. He liked to feel her fingers on his own.

"There," she said when she had finished; "it is a perfect fit. Take them and pay, as I said, when Charlie comes home."

But the marquis stubbornly refused to accept credit, especially from a commoner, for the woman had said, "I am simply the masked woman," and he went away.

But there was something in the figure, the voice, the carriage of the masked woman that appealed to him in a way he could not account for. Wherever he went the masked woman in fancy went with him. Waking or sleeping, he saw her moving about in her little booth and heard the sweet sounds of her voice.

So it was not long before he again found himself at her counter pretending that he came to look over her goods, though in reality he came to get another glimpse of her.

"What can I sell you this morning?" she said.

"Indeed, Mistress Masked Woman—I know not your name—I am lounging today, and I like to come here to see you sell your wares. I would that I could give you my custom; but, alas, I have none to give. The Round-heads have taken my all."

"Mayhap they have spent it for psalm books."

"What they have spent it for I know not, but this I know—it is hard for me, who have always had a sufficiency, to get on with nothing."

"May I sell you the gloves today?"

"Alas, I have no more the where-withal to pay for them than when I was here before."

The masked woman took up the gloves the marquis had tried on the day before and, making them into a packet, handed them to him.

"Would you give a poor woman pleasure?" she asked softly.

"I would not rob a poor woman," he replied, drawing back.

"I ask you to permit me to do you this favor."

There was that in her tone which appealed to him. He took the packet and kissed the hand that gave it.

The marquis was seen no more at the masked woman's stall after that for some time. Then one day he drove up in his carriage and purchased the whole stock of the masked woman. When she congratulated him on coming to his own he told her that a cousin had died and left him a legacy.

When the marquis drove away he did not take the stock with him, though he left the money for it. That was his last visit to the masked woman's stall, for soon after "Charlie came home." There was great rejoicing among the Cavaliers that after the rule of the Puritans the rightful king had returned from France. Then the masked woman disappeared from the exchange.

But the marquis thought of her by day and dreamed of her by night. His estates were restored to him, but he was not satisfied, because he longed for her and knew not where to find her.

One evening he drove to a fête given by the king. The young dowager Duchess of Abergild, whose husband had fallen in the late war, was present and approached the marquis.

"Have you still the gloves?" she asked archly.

The marquis recognized her voice as soon as she spoke. "I have," he replied, "but have never worn them. I hold them too precious to be used."

The duchess, having been cut off from her income during the protectorate, had the choice of emigrating to France and there being supported by the French king or earning her own living. She had chosen the latter alternative.

Before the marquis came into the dukedom he married the masked woman.

HOLDER FOR THE HATPINS

Another Good Use to Which the Accumulation of Odds and Ends May Be Put.

One of those things that can be made from almost any little odd remnants of silk, lace and ribbon is a hat-pin holder, for hanging over the post of a looking glass, and in our sketch may be seen a very pretty little holder of this description.

The interior of the pocket is formed by a piece of thin cardboard, bent round and fastened together at the edges with small paper fasteners. "A" in the sketch illustrates this. The cardboard may then be covered with any pretty little piece of silk or brocade, cut longer than the cardboard, so that it forms a pointed bag at one end. The upper edge is trimmed with a lace frill, and at the base there is a bunch of narrow ribbons. A long loop of the same ribbon, with a bunch of ribbons at the top, serves to suspend this useful and decorative article from the post of the glass. Tucked into the bottom of the holder there should be a little ball of cotton wool, in which the points of the pins may be inserted, and which will serve as a cushion and also prevent the points of the pins wearing through the silk.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Those who are prone to neuralgia and rheumatism will find that relief may be had by adding a little oil of turpentine to a warm or hot bath.

Children who suffer from swelling of the glands should have an abundance of fresh air, both by day and night, and a complete change of air as often as possible. Plenty of good nourishing food should be given them, and cod liver oil or emulsion is also helpful in putting things right.

The hair will last much longer in both color and quality if it is brushed regularly and shampooed at stated intervals. A good tonic should always be kept on hand, no matter how well the hair seems to be. Particularly in the autumn and spring the hair needs toning up to prevent it from falling or fading.

When the system needs fats and it is impossible to take them inwardly in the form of olive oil, cod liver oil or butter, much good results from rubbing olive oil into the body twice a day. This can be done by one's self, but the results are better if the oil rubs are given by a trained masseuse. Cocoa butter can be used in the same way, but is not so beneficial as the oil.

A trained nurse says she finds a remedy that is almost infallible for a cold when taken soon enough, is a half teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, a half teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia and a half cupful of boiling water. Take this when the first creepy sensations are felt, if possible just before going to bed, and by the next morning the cold has disappeared.

Success in Dinner Giving.... Success in dinner giving is something like success with flowers. The guests must be grouped as artistically with regard to congeniality as the flowers are with reference to color and form, and both must have the right sort of environment. The room must be cool, but not too cool, and the viands must be well chosen, well cooked and well served. The lights must neither be too dim nor too bright, and the flowers should have but little odor, for, however delicious the fragrance of flowers grows heavy as the evening wears on. With all this and congeniality, a dinner cannot fail, and in those few hours one can get better acquainted with those on either side than would be possible in weeks under less favorable circumstances.

The Tilt of the Hat. "Is my hat on straight?" is no longer the interrogation of the eternal feminine—for now the tilt is the thing.

The hats are worn far down on the head; they droop at the right, and the proper tilt over that eye is the delicate question.

There is danger of a ridiculous extreme in this tilt, and there is the possibility of a most fetching piquancy.

A hat must be placed upon the head before the mirror and experimented with until the correct adjustment becomes second nature; then one can wear the tilted brim with the saving grace of knowing that the best has been made of the new line.

Roses Made of Ribbon

which to cut out a pattern of paper from which the ribbon petals may be cut. By trimming away a little of the edge, to reduce the size, a second pattern for a smaller petal is made. Another slight trimming away will make the pattern for the third or smallest sized petal.

Millinery foliage, which has seen service, with buds and stems, is easily freshened up and used with these pretty roses, so that one may make a half dozen for a wreath at a small expense.

The method of making them is simple. Place the circles of ribbon in pairs together, with the satin face of the ribbon turned inward. Machine stitch these disks in a seam one-eighth of an inch deep. Cut the double disk thus made into halves. Each petal is made by gathering or plaiting the semicircle resulting along the straight edge. Sew the petals about the center of stamens or bud, and wind a bit of thread about the stem, finally tying it firmly. Sew the smallest petals first, then the next in size and finally the largest ones. For a cluster make one large and two small roses. Finally fasten them by winding thread or small wire about their stems and the stems of the foliage and buds.

These roses made in light pink, pale blue, maize and pale green make an exquisite decoration, set about the brim of a lace or net hat or on a mid-summer straw or hair braid. Rose pink in several shades and cream color look well together. All white and pale buff make another beautiful color combination. These roses make no attempt to follow nature in coloring, and are very handsome on one-color hats made in a color like that of the straw. Gray or blue look particularly well.

If a very large size petal is made it is better to tack a tiny wire (called tie wire) along the seam to aid in shaping the petal after it is sewed to place. The edges are to be curled back like those of the natural rose. The picture shows very clearly the appearance of both the large and small roses when finished.

SHIPS CAR OF FIRE INTO MENOMINEE

The Chicago & Northwestern railway performed the unique feat of bringing a fire into Menominee at noon Saturday and then calling the fire department to extinguish it. After the fire had been put out the train moved on with its burden of scattered freight.

Somewhere between Escanaba and Menominee a carload of cedar billed for Oconto caught fire, either from sparks from the engine or from a forest fire, several of which are smoldering along the Northwestern road. The train crew noticed it, but as there was no way of extinguishing it and as the wood was green and was burning very slowly, they waited until they got to Menominee, before they called the department. The car was in the middle of the train, and had the fire been strong it would have placed the freight in a bad predicament. As it was the cedar was badly damaged.

Professor Garrlott had the full confidence of his chief and his quiet and cordial manner made him exceedingly popular.

HORSE GETS JOLLY

Chicago, May 16.—An intoxicated cab horse, named Barney, blocked traffic here and caused such a commotion that the police were called. Neighing shrilly and kicking at everyone that came near, Barney was finally led off to a near by livery stable after a deal of trouble. Barney was standing at a curb when a large cask of wine fell from a passing truck and broke open. As the liquid ran into the gutter the horse plunged his nose in and drank freely. In less than half an hour Barney was decidedly drunk.

For several weeks past he has been wearing one himself whenever he went driving or autoing and he has kept a considerable supply of extra vests for those friends and neighbors and friends who have accompanied him. Now a score or more homes in Tarrytown boast possession of a Rockefeller paper waistcoat, presented by the oil king and cherished a souvenir of an April auto ride about the Pocantico Hills estate.

NEW MOTOR BOAT BILL REGARDED WITH FAVOR

It Probably Will Become a Law During Present Session of Congress—Its Provisions.

The new motor boat bill, which has been passed by the senate and which will probably be passed by the house, is attracting considerable attention from motor boat owners. The new bill is considered by them an improvement on the regulations which now govern their craft. It divides the boats into classes and takes them out of the scope of the general navigation laws, some of which did not properly apply to motor boats, but has to be applied to them because of the lack of any other.

Motor Boat Defined.
The bill divides all boats of this kind into three classes, as follows: Class one, less than 26 feet in length; class two, 26 feet or over and not more than 40 feet in length; class three, 40 feet or over and not more than 65 feet in length. Every motor boat that is more than 65 feet in length is not a motor boat, according to this proposed law, but will come under the general laws of navigation covering all steamers. A motor boat is described in the bill as any vessel not more than 65 feet in length and driven by machinery, thus taking in steamers within the prescribed size, as well as boats driven by gasoline engines.

The Several Classes.
The bill provides that class one shall carry a white light aft to be visible all around the horizon and a green light to starboard and red to port and to be visible to two points abaft the beam, each on its own side. Classes two and three are to carry a white light forward, constructed to throw an unbroken light over twenty points of the compass, ten on each side; also a white light aft to show all around the horizon; also on the starboard side a green light to show unbroken light over an area of ten points of the compass, and on the port side a red light to show the same on that side.

Every motor boat must have a whistle or other sound-producing mechanical contrivance capable of producing a blast of two seconds or more in duration. Every motor boat of classes two and three must carry a bell not less than eight inches across the mouth.

Measures for Safety.
Every motor boat must carry life preservers, life belts, buoyant cushions or ring buoys sufficient to sustain afloat every person on board and so placed as to be readily accessible. All motor boats carrying passengers for hire must be run by a person duly licensed for such service.

Every motor boat is required to carry fire fighting equipment, and this also applies to gasoline boats more than 65 feet long. A fine of $10 may be inflicted for any violation of the law, collectors of customs being made responsible for its enforcement.

Conscience.
It is not history which teaches conscience to be honest; it is the conscience which educates history. Fact is corrupting, it is we who correct it by the persistence of our ideal. The soul moralizes the past in order not to be demoralized by it. Like the alchemists of the middle ages, she finds in the crucible of experience only the gold that she herself has poured into it.—Amiel's Journal.

Charm in Expression.
An amiable expression while thinking is like an agreeable inflection of the voice while speaking. An exaggeration in either case brings unnatural and many times quite unpleasant results.—From an article in the Circle.

Lesson Well Taught.
One of the wisest of warnings is worth a whole wilderness of warning.—Lowell.

Popular Novel Built Up Town.
Blackmore's "Lorna Doone" was responsible for the popularity of Lynton and Lynmouth. Hotels sprang up as if by magic, and it is estimated that Blackmore's work increased the value of real estate in the section mentioned at least 100 per cent.

The Limit.
A bridal pair recently had a street fight because the wife insisted that the husband carry her pet poodle. Notwithstanding the unusual excellence of this excuse for a squabble, street fighting is bad form.

Not His Habit.
"Our church committee called on old Mr. Miserly to ask him to come to church tomorrow and give thanks. He refused."
"Of course he did. Was he ever known to give anything?"

CARS MAY BE RUNNING BY FIRST OF JUNE

Gladstone Delta.—There is track now from the head of Delta avenue to the Escanaba traction company's bridge across the river, and the job of stringing the trolley wire is about ended. The work of ballasting the track will begin next week, and the first of June will see it possible to take a car at the Soo depot for Ludington street. The fare from Gladstone to Escanaba will be twenty-five cents. The work of laying the track on Delta to Sixth street, where it stopped last fall, will be carried on steadily, but will require a couple of weeks longer time.

COMET PARTIES ARE NOW "ALL THE RAGE"

Perhaps Escanaba Hasn't Had Any Yet, But They are Quite the Thing Among the Elite of the Larger Cities—Other Social Diversions Religated to the Background.

Have you been to a comet party yet? No? Well, perhaps there hasn't been any such parties in Escanaba up to date. They are "all the rage" among the elite in the larger cities, however. Bridge has almost been forgotten in the parlors of the rich, solitaire has been abandoned by the men at their clubs, tea parties, receptions, and even surprise parties, have been forced into the background by social activities that have been the result of the comet. It is the most novel way to offer entertainment to friends, and not for seventy-five years will people be able to entertain again in this manner, and by that time most of the social stars of today will be entertained somewhere else.

Escanaba people have not had more than a passing glimpse of the itinerant star during the last few days. The sky has been cloudy or been curtained with a pall of smoke that has destroyed whatever degree of brilliancy might have remained. The comet now arises about 2:28 a. m., its tail appearing first. It grows brighter as it mounts the sky on account of the decreasing thickness of atmosphere through which it is viewed. Hence it will shine at its best between 2:45 and 3:30 a. m.

GREAT DAY FOR THE EPWORTH LEAGUERS

They Celebrate the Twenty-First Anniversary of the Birth of Their Great Organization—Services Held in First M. E. Church—New League Officers Installed.

At the First M. E. church Sunday morning and evening there was observed in a befitting manner the twenty-first anniversary of the organization of the Epworth League, the great young people's society of the Methodist Episcopal denomination. At seven o'clock in the morning there was a young people's prayer meeting at which were present not only Epworth Leaguers but young people from other Protestant churches of this city. At 10:30 o'clock the annual service for old people was held and was largely attended. The old people were guests of the Epworth Leaguers at this service and were given special attention. They were brought to the church and taken back to their homes in carriages and presented with red and white carnations, the colors of the league. In addition, Rev. Frederick Spence, pastor of the church, preached a sermon especially appropriate to the occasion, his theme being "The Promises of God."

At 6:15 o'clock there was a young people's rally, which was attended by Epworth League members and the members of the young people's societies of other churches, many of whom also attended the special services at 7:30 o'clock.

These were conducted by Rev. Frederick Spence and were of a most interesting character. Besides remarks by Mr. Spence, the program included a reading entitled "Camille," written by Thomas Bailey Aldrich, by Miss Louise Kent; a most interesting report of the Laymen's Missionary convention by T. M. Judson; a solo by Mr. Spence; singing by the choir and congregation and the installation of the newly appointed officers of the Epworth League by the pastor, who delivered an impressive charge to each. The officers installed are as follows: President, F. A. Wademan; first vice president, Miss Mayme Judson; second vice president, E. A. Gurnwood; third vice president, Miss Anna Foster; fourth vice president, Miss Marshall; secretary, Miss Gertrude Foster; treasurer, Milton Hill; organist, Miss Hollis Lamphere. The services were well attended and followed with the greatest interest. The talks given by Mr. Spence and Mr. Judson were especially interesting and uplifting.

BOARD OF PARDONS GRANTS 15 PAROLES

Marquette, Mich., May 14.—The members of the board of pardons and Secretary Quigley left yesterday afternoon for the lower part of the state, after a three days' session at the Marquette prison. Over twenty cases were heard and fifteen paroles were granted. The case of Erick Kangas, given life for murder, in which influential copper country people are interested themselves, was brought up, but was passed for the time without action.

WILL VISIT THE STATE SCHOOLS

Lansing, Mich., May 14.—A visiting board of two citizens will soon be named by L. L. Wright, superintendent of public instruction, to visit the School for the Deaf, State Public School, School for the Blind, Home for the Feeble Minded, Industrial School for Boys, Home for Girls and the Agricultural college, and make a report as to conditions they find in these institutions as regards maintenance and methods of education. Mr. Wright secured authority from the board of auditors to pay these men's traveling expenses.

GOODRICH LINE TO RUN BOAT TO SOO

For the first time in its history the Goodrich Transit company will inaugurate an extensive service to the Soo this summer. This new department is made in compliance with the demand for such a schedule from resorters and persons desiring to take lake trips.

In the past the line has operated steamers as far north as Mackinac during the summer. Under new schedule a boat will leave Chicago once a week for the Soo, touching Milwaukee and intermediate points on the trip and three boats will be operated on the run to Mackinac.

The steamer Georgia will be placed on the Soo schedule. Leaving Chicago Thursday afternoon the boat will arrive at the Soo Sunday morning. Leaving the Soo the same night, on the return train, the boat will arrive in Chicago Tuesday afternoon. Boats leaving Milwaukee Tuesday and Saturday nights at 8:30 o'clock will return the following Friday morning at 8 o'clock and Tuesday night at 10 o'clock.

The service to the Soo will be inaugurated on July 2. The steamers Carolina, Arizona and Georgia will be used on the Mackinac schedule.

Clergyman's Son's Testimonial of Tuberculosis Cure

To neglect a cold, bronchitis, lung trouble or consumption is dangerous. We all know how prone people are to deny they have consumption. It is a flattering disease, and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call Consumption by its own dread name—and then take Eckman's Alternative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt about its efficacy is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following: Amenia, N. Y., July 9, 1909. Gentlemen: Prior to Feb., 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with LaGrippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 125 to 125 lbs. I coughed weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alternative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 125 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alternative. E. H. COWLES. Eckman's Alternative is good for all Throat and Lung troubles, it is on sale in Escanaba by W. C. Ammerman Druggist. It can also be obtained at, or procured by your local Druggist. Ask for Booklet of Cured Cases or write for Evidence to the Eckman Laboratory, Phila., Pa.

INJUSTICE TO THE DEPENDENT CHILDREN

St. Louis, Mo., May 16.—In an address on the "Dependent Boy vs. The Delinquent State" before the National Conference on the Education of Backward, Truant, Delinquent and Dependent Children here today, the Hon. C. E. Faulkner of Minneapolis arraigned the states of the union for their failure to make proper provision for the protection of dependent children. He contrasted the manner in which dependent children are treated with the treatment accorded delinquent children and concluded that "it cannot be truly said that the juvenile court secured to dependent children the just equivalents for advantages lost by the transfer of their causes from the probate or guardian courts.

The largest docket of the juvenile courts is the cases of delinquent children and adults who contribute to their delinquency, and the atmosphere is unavoidably that of the criminal court. Delinquent children compelled to go from city to farm do not enjoy equal privileges with farmers' children to attend schools where farming is taught.

No state secures to its wards this necessary schooling and all states are thus delinquent debtors to the children whom they compel to become farmers. Through the mistaken kindness of judges, many border line cases of semi-delinquent children are committed to an association with innocent dependent children, upon the theory that a bad boy will not harm so many good ones, but may himself be reformed through the association. The courts must respect the law of social quarantine or stand condemned by their own rulings.

ROAD CONTRACT AWARDED TODAY

At a meeting of the Delta county road commissioners, held at the court house today, the contract for grading, draining and macadamizing that portion of the Bay Shore county road between the Mashek Chemical Works and the town line was awarded to the Solid Rock Paving and Construction company, whose bid of $6,997 was the lowest of the three bids received. The other bidders were: Delta Construction company, $6,331.50; August Peterson of Gladstone, $6,130. The contract calls for the entire completion of the work by August 1, 1910.

Aside from awarding the contract noted the commissioners did little besides allowing bills and transacting other routine business. All of the commissioners—John Gasman, H. W. Reade and Erick Anderson—were present at the meeting.

FROST WILL PITCH FOR MARQUETTE

According to The Marquette Mining Journal, W. O. Frost, the well known Munising pitcher who twirled for Rapid River in the opening game of the season with the Escanaba team yesterday afternoon, has arranged to play with the Marquette team during the season, which opened Saturday. He was not able to go to Crystal Falls with Marquette Saturday as he had previously agreed to play with Rapid River here on Sunday, but it is stated that he will hereafter alternate with Scholtus in doing the pitching for the Marquette team for the Saturday and Sunday games. If this statement is true, Frost will not remain with the Rapid River team this season as had been supposed.

WILL KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE WIRELESS

The members of The Chicago Association of Commerce who go with the steamer Theodore Roosevelt on the cruise of acquaintance to the cities along Lakes Michigan and Superior will be kept in constant touch with Chicago during the entire trip. While at sea wireless telegraphy will enable them to send and receive messages and the Chicago Telephone company has arranged to send along a portable telephone outfit for use on the boat. The company has arranged with the telephone companies at each of the cities (including Escanaba) to be visited by the Chicago delegation, to have wires laid to the docks at which the steamer Theodore Roosevelt will land so that attachments may be made as soon as the boat reaches her moorings, thus enabling those on board to call up their Chicago offices from their quarters on the steamer.

ESCANABAN'S SISTER CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. Marie C. Reynolds a sister of Samuel Atkins of this city, died at her home in Fond du Lac last Friday night and her funeral was held in Fond du Lac from the First M. E. church Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Reynolds was sixty-eight years old and a pioneer resident of the town of Oakfield. Besides her brother, Samuel Atkins of Escanaba, she is survived by another brother, Dr. E. E. Atkins of Fond-du Lac, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary George of Chicago and Mrs. Emilie Wright of Oakfield.

ESCANABA SOON TO HAVE THE WIRELESS

Work on the local wireless station is progressing rapidly and it will only be a short time before Escanaba is receiving wireless messages from all the boats on the lakes as well as from the different towns about the lakes where a wireless equipment is located. It is expected that the tower in this city will be completed within two or three days and the office building, where the equipment will be installed, is almost finished. The instruments will be put in as soon as the carpenters are done with the interior work.

(By Associated Press.) Lima, Peru, May 16.—A transport carrying artillery and ammunition sailed today for Tumbes on the northern boundary of Peru. Official advices from Ayavaca, just south of the Ecuadorian frontier, report troops of Ecuadorian soldiers approaching.

We Welcome Small Deposits

Did you ever stop to think that a hundred small accounts make a bank stronger than a dozen large ones? That is one of our reasons for urging the man of limited means to transact his business with us.

Large accounts are welcome too, for it is our purpose to serve ALL the people.

It matters not what amount of money you have to deposit—we will accept it at this bank. We welcome the small depositor, we extend to him the same consideration and courtesies accorded all of our patrons.

Our customers all know this.

EQUALIZATION BOARD IS NOW IN SESSION

The board of equalization met this morning in the office of the city clerk at the city hall and with the full membership present, work was started on the tax roll. No one will be allowed to file objections until next Thursday morning, when all those who have any fault to find will be allowed to appear with full argument and make things lively for the board.

"JIM" AND "JACK" DO SOME BOXING

Ben Lomond, May 16.—Jeffries delighted the crowd Sunday afternoon by going four fast rounds with Bob Armstrong. Jeffries seemed in excellent spirits. Referee Charley Eytton, of Los Angeles, expressed himself as astonished at Jeffries' splendid condition.

San Francisco, May 16.—Jack Johnson did his first gymnasium training Sunday afternoon. Before a crowd of two thousand persons Johnson went through an ordinary routine of exercise and wound up by boxing eight full three-minute rounds. That he could get ready for the coming fight in three weeks was the general opinion.
