

CARFERRY FOUNDERS; 20 PERSONS DROWN

Terrible Marine Disaster is Reported to Have Occurred in Lake Michigan Twenty Miles Off Sheboygan--Pere Marquette Carferry No. 18 Sinks and 20 Persons Are Said to Have Perished.

(By Associated Press.) Ludington, Mich., Sept. 9.—The Pere Marquette carferry No. 18 sank in Lake Michigan this morning 20 miles off Sheboygan, Wis., and twenty people including two women from Saginaw, were drowned. This is the statement that was received from a passing steamer and the information was added that among those lost were the entire set of officers on board the boat. Carried Crew of Fifty. The cause of the sinking of the Pere Marquette carferry has not been learned here yet. The ill-fated craft carried a crew of fifty men and had on board two women passengers from Saginaw. Particulars Yet Unknown. The boat was valued at $400,000 and she carried a cargo that was said to be worth $150,000. The details of the disaster will not be known until the arrival of Ferry No. 197, which responded to a wireless message for help. It is not known when the No. 17 will arrive in port. Only Three Saved. Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 9.—It has been reported here that only three people were saved from the Pere Marquette carferry disaster and that the entire crew were drowned.

CHIEF WITNESS FAILS TO APPEAR

Wednesday a man named John Watken was arrested and later arraigned before Justice Linden on a charge of having stolen $25 from the person of Tony Kokelax, with whom he had been rooming. Watken pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for this morning. When the case was called for trial it was discovered that Kokelax, the complaining witness, and a friend who had assisted in making Watken's arrest were not present and had, in fact, left the city, presumably to go to work in the woods. Without their testimony the case was no chance of convicting Watken of the alleged larceny and the case against him was therefore dismissed because of insufficient evidence and he was released from custody.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE NOBLE FUNERAL

Funeral services over the remains of the late Henry Martin Noble, who passed away early Thursday morning at the advanced age of nearly eighty years, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in St. Stephen's Episcopal church by Rev. E. E. Williams. Interment will be made in Lakeview cemetery. Mr. Noble was born at Cleveland, Ohio, on January 19, 1831, and was therefore within three months of being eighty years old at the time of his death. He was married on February 2, 1860, at Cleveland to Anna Gardner, who survives him. On February 2, last, the aged couple celebrated their fiftieth or golden wedding anniversary. Besides his widow, Mr. Noble's only surviving relatives are a

THE TEMPERATURE TAKES LONG DROP

The weather forecaster "called the turn" when he predicted yesterday that there would be a long drop in temperature. From 72 degrees at noon yesterday the temperature tumbled to 47 degrees at eight o'clock this morning and at noon today it had warmed up to only 58 degrees, 14 degrees colder than it was at the time yesterday. Today the weather man says there will be rising temperature tomorrow, but he predicts a frost for tonight. Get out your extra blankets.

EX-CONVICT SENT TO COUNTY JAIL

Joseph Miller, who was but recently released from the branch state prison at Marquette after serving a term for highway robbery, was arrested Thursday night for committing assault and battery upon a youth named John Miller. This morning he was brought before Justice Glaser and pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against him. The court could discover no extenuating circumstances in the case and gave Miller the stiff sentence of a term of 45 days in the county jail.

The Escanaba ball team and a team composed of players on the Gladstone and Rapid River teams will play a game at South Park tomorrow afternoon and also on Sunday afternoon.

LA PORTE'S SALOON IS BURGLARIZED

Observant Thief Effects Entrance Through a Window and Abstracts Sixty-five Dollars From Cash Register—Then He Fades Away and Is Yet Uncaught.

To be observing is considerable of a virtue and to be practical along with being observant oftentimes brings reward, even though that reward may not always be honestly obtained. Such, no doubt, is the reflection of a housebreaker, who, sometime during Thursday night entered the saloon of Napoleon Laporte, corner of Ludington street and Tilden avenue, and abstracted and confiscated sixty-five of "Poley's" hard-earned dollars from the cash register. Then he proceeded to fade away from the scene of his crime and is still at large, probably engaged in the gladsome occupation of spending another man's money. The thief, whoever he was, evidently knew that the windows on the Tilden avenue side of the building were fastened at the top of the sash with a catch and he also knew that it would be an easy matter to unfasten the catch on one of them before the place was closed for the night and then, after the proprietor had wended his way homeward, how simple it would be to open the window from the outside, enter the saloon and help himself to what he could lay his hands on. Why, to get the money this way would be like stealing candy from a baby. That evidently is the manner in which the trick was planned and carried out. Today Mr. Laporte earnestly declared that hereafter he will put his money in the safe before he goes home to retire for the night. The burglary was reported to the police, but thus far no clue to the perpetrator has been secured.

HE SHOOTS HIS ENEMY

Fred Robinson, a homesteader living near Northland, shot another homesteader by the name of Clement Smith this morning at Northland. Both men were brought down on the Escanaba & Lake Superior train this afternoon. Smith was taken to the hospital, where he will probably recover, and Robinson was taken to the county jail. Sheriff Aronson went to Northland by automobile to bring the prisoner to this city. Robinson claims that the shooting was the result of a long-standing quarrel and that Smith came to his house today to make trouble and that he shot him as the result.

ROOSEVELT IS IN CINCINNATI

(By Associated Press.) Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Colonel Roosevelt reached the exposition this noon and made a tour of the various buildings and examined the exhibits. He was then entertained at luncheon by the exposition officials. Chicago, Sept. 9.—Staiding last night in the presence of twelve hundred men, nearly all of them citizens of Illinois, Theodore Roosevelt brought his hearers to wild enthusiasm by a scathing denunciation of political conditions in Illinois. The great banquet hall at the Congress hotel never witnessed such a scene. Senator William Lorimer was not present at the banquet, his invitation to attend having been withdrawn by the Hamilton club following Colonel Roosevelt's declaration yesterday that he would not attend if Lorimer were present.

OSBORN TRULY MODEST

SAYS HE FEELS NO SENSE OF PERSONAL ELATION OVER VICTORY BUT SACRED GRATEFULNESS.

ISSUES A TRENCHANT STATEMENT Declares His Sole Aim Will Be to Fulfill Every Pre-Primary Promise if He is Elected Governor—No Distinction Now in His Mind Between Those Who Were for Him and Those Who Were Fairly Against Him—Will Abide by Party Platform

Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie, chosen at Tuesday's primary election by a magnificent plurality to be the Republican candidate for governor, has issued the following statement to the Republican party of Michigan: "I feel no sense of personal elation, but rather a sacred gratefulness for the confidence and approval of the Republican party in Michigan. My sole aim will be to dutifully fulfill every pre-primary promise if my nomination is followed by election to the governorship. The campaign was an earnest one and should make of every Republican a fighting veteran in the army of progressive government. Public Work Before Him. "Naturally I deeply appreciate the action of those who were for me, but as the candidate of the Republican party, there is no distinction in my mind between those who were for me and those who were fairly against me. No matter what my personal views may be, they will be properly subordinated to the platform that will be adopted by the Republican state convention at Detroit, October 6 next. That convention will no doubt reflect the party attitude more accurately and should be in more perfect sympathy with the desires of the people of Michigan than in any individual. "My public work is before me and I hope to be given the great light to see and the strength to perform. CHASE S. OSBORN.

BROWNE IS NOT GUILTY

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, Ill., Sept. 9.—After considering all the evidence brought to light during the investigation into the charge that State Senator Lee O'Neil

Browne had bribed members of the legislature to vote for the election of Senator William Lorimer, the jury returned a verdict this afternoon of not guilty. The case was given to the jury yesterday afternoon at 5:25 o'clock. Browne's first trial ended in a disagreement.

COMMITTEE GETS INTO BAD TANGLE

CANCER OF STOMACH RESULTS IN DEATH

Peter J. Anderson, of Stonington, a Former Resident of Escanaba, Succumbs to Disease After Long Illness—Leaves Widow and Three Young Children.

Peter J. Anderson, formerly a resident of Escanaba but for the last six or seven years engaged in farming near Stonington, died at the Delta County hospital early Thursday morning. Cancer of the stomach, from which Mr. Anderson had long been a sufferer, was the immediate cause of death. He had been failing in health for some time and as a last resort he was brought to the hospital on Wednesday. His condition at that time was so critical, however, that nothing could be done for him except to make his passing away as easy and painless as possible. Mr. Anderson was nearly 43 years old and is survived by a widow and three children, the eldest of whom is a daughter fourteen years old. He was quite well known both here and across the bay and had many friends who deeply regret his demise. The body was taken to Stonington today on the steamer Maywood and the funeral will be held from the Swedish Lutheran church there at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Emil Westlund acting pastor, conducting the services. The pallbearers will be old and intimate friends of the deceased, as follows: Andrew Hanson, John Engberg, John Olson, Ole Peterson, James Miller and John Nystrom.

TRIAL OF BALDWIN CASE IS ADJOURNED

In Justice Glaser's court this forenoon trial of the case of the People vs. Francis L. Baldwin, charged with having criminally libeled Chase S. Osborn, Republican candidate for governor, in his paper, The Escanaba Journal, was continued until two o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. The defendant wanted the case continued for three or four weeks, claiming that it would require considerable time for him to secure witnesses who reside in the west to testify in his behalf. The court declined to continue the case for so long a time and set the date for its trial as noted. Mr. Baldwin's bail was continued in effect. At the proceedings today the People were represented by Prosecuting Attorney H. R. Detsch and the defendant by Attorney A. H. Kyall. It is understood that Mr. Osborn will be present in person at Mr. Baldwin's trial next Tuesday afternoon.

NO SHOW PROBABLE NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT

"Across the Great Divide," which was booked for presentation at the Peterson next Sunday evening, September 11, probably will not be seen here. Manager Peterson has received no advertising paper or advance notices or met no representatives of the company who should have been here to make the necessary arrangements and therefore does not believe the company will play here on that date. He received a telephone message from the manager of the company stating that its advance representative is ill, but that the advertising paper would be here today. The paper has not come, however, and the engagement probably will be cancelled. Manager Peterson in speaking of the matter said that "Across the Great Divide," should not be confounded with "The Great Divide," which played here last year and gave such splendid satisfaction.

Three Members of Ballinger-Pinchot Probing Body Refuse to Attend Meeting Today--Chairman Turned Down When He Suggests Adjourning to Chicago--Denby of Michigan Scores Verdict.

(By Associated Press.) Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 9.—Only six members of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee were present today when the session opened. As this was one less than a quorum it was impossible to transact business. Sutherland of Utah, McCall of Massachusetts and Denby of Michigan refused to attend the meeting. Chairman Turned Down. The members present sent after the absentees, but they refused to respond to the summons. Chairman Nelson, after suggesting an adjournment to Chicago, on September 15, and the committee declining to accept the suggestion, left the room. Chairman Nelson later sent a notice that the meeting would be adjourned to meet again in Chicago on September 12. The committee men present denied his authority to take such action. Denby Denounces Verdict. Representative Edwin Denby of Michigan, a Republican member of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation committee, last night denounced the action of the five members who on Wednesday adopted a resolution declaring that Secretary Ballinger "was not a faithful trustee of the people's interests" and should be removed. He said: "It would seem a manifest absurdity to meet these five gentlemen for deliberation when they have already promulgated their decision. Their proceeding is the most extraordinary, indefensible and unjust that partisan politics could devise."

IRON MOUNTAIN GIRL TO WED ESCANABAN

Iron Mountain Gazette: Mr. and Mrs. John Watsic of East Hughtitt street, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Watsic, to E. R. Hill, of Escanaba. The wedding is to take place with the next few weeks at Escanaba, following which the young people are to visit Chicago and Decatur, Ill., on their wedding tour. They are to take up their residence in the south. The bride-to-be is a well known Iron Mountain girl, while the groom-to-be is a traveling salesman.

BIG PRODUCTION OF 'THE CITY' TONIGHT

"It is not an easy matter," says a local drayman, "to handle the baggage and paraphernalia of a big theatrical company. Especially when the company has four or five loads of scenery and stage gettings." The private baggage car of "The City" company arrived here from Menominee today and has kept some local draymen pretty busy getting all the stuff down to Peterson's opera house. The company has a working force of 19 men who attend to the stage properties. The company played at Menominee last night and, according to reports received here, the attraction was actually one of the best that ever visited that city. "The City" is by no means a cheap melodrama, but is a great play of everyday life in the city and claimed to be the best modern drama on the stage today. The original company that played so long at the Lyric Theatre, New York, arrived this afternoon from Menominee and will

LEAD OF TOWNSEND AND OSBORN GROWS

Detroit, Sept. 8.—The plurality of Chase S. Osborn for the Republican nomination for governor has grown to 33,000, with the probability of attaining still larger figures before all the belated returns come in. Townsend's majority over Burrows for the senatorial nomination also is increasing and now promises to exceed 40,000. Burrows has carried only seven counties. John Q. Ross of Muskegon has carried Wayne county by a plurality of 5,000 in the race for the nomination for lieutenant governor, and this, it is believed, will give him second place on the state ticket.

KELLY SHOWS THE TRUE BLUE SPIRIT

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 9.—Chase S. Osborn has received the following message from Patrick H. Kelly: "The contest is over and you have won. Please accept my congratulations on your nomination. Now for a united party for the November election." Mr. Osborn is literally swamped with congratulatory messages and offers of support. Thousands have poured in since it became known that he was the choice of the Republicans for chief executive of the state. Every nook and corner of the Wolverine commonwealth is represented, as well as every state in the Union, and they come from men in every walk of life.

Osborn decided to go into the newspaper business on his own account in a smaller field where there was an opportunity of "growing up with the country." He purchased the Florence Mining News and ran it for four years, developing marked ability for business as well as maintaining his old reputation for understanding how to make a newspaper. In 1887 he sold the paper at Florence and went into a larger newspaper venture at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, which, like his former undertaking, proved highly successful. He was prosperous in real estate and general developmental enterprises, and steadily rose to his present position of one of the leading men of the state.

His career is interesting as showing what can be done by an American boy. Whether or not the Michiganders choose him for governor or send him to the United States Senate, will of course depend upon contingencies of politics. But as public man or private citizen he will always be popular, and every honor that befalls him will afford hearty gratification to those who knew him in his early days.

RELATING TO OSBORN.
 Here is what the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin, one of the Badger state's leading newspapers, had to say of Chase S. Osborn, Michigan's Republican candidate for governor, on the day following the primary election and before the full extent of Mr. Osborn's triumph had been revealed by a complete count of the votes:

"The report that Chase S. Osborn is in the lead for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan is gratifying to his many Milwaukee friends, who will feel that Michigan is to be congratulated if he wins out in the count of the votes at the primaries and in the final election.

The young manhood of Mr. Osborn was spent in this city as a newspaper reporter. He was without means, and his youth had been passed with less than the average educational advantages, but he had a bright mind and indomitable determination and energy. He overcame obstacles that would have disheartened average individuals, and pushed steadily upward. Having made a reputation as a news gatherer, and won a large circle of friends, Mr.

MORMONS MAY QUIT UTAH FOR MEXICO

(Special U. T. Service.)
 Galveston, Tex., Sept. 9.—Hamilton Smith, a priest of the Mormon church, who has participated in the close of a sale of 50,000 acres of land to the Mormons in the State of Coahuila, Mex., is authority for the statement that President Diaz has assured the church that polygamy and all other practices of the church will be permitted without interference in Mexico. Dr. Smith also states that his people will abandon Utah in the not far distant future and settle in Mexico, where they will not be prosecuted for their religion and its practices. The Mormons already own 65,000 acres of land and have a well established colony in Mexico adjoining the 50,000 just acquired.

OLD WAR SURVIVORS ADJOURN FOREVER

(Special U. T. Service.)
 Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 9.—"It now becomes my sacred duty to adjourn the National Association of Mexican War Veterans to meet again on that beautiful shore. I ask you to rise and declare the National association adjourned forever.

With these words, Mrs. Moore Murdoch, secretary of the association, disbanded it at the close of its final convention. The twenty-eight survivors were too old, it was felt, to keep the organization together. None of the delegates present was under 79 years of age.

UNCLE SAM USES MANY MAIL POUCHES

He Has Twenty-Eight Different Kinds and Uses Most of Them in His Business—of Transporting Mails—Made of Various Materials and at Different Prices.

Uncle Sam has 28 different kinds of mail bags in service, and they range in cost from 22 cents to $21.56 each. There are mail pouches for almost every conceivable use, and you can ship almost anything that comes within the postal regulations with a minimum of loss and breakage. Probably the most peculiar bag is the one arranged for carrying bees. Sending bees by mail was a difficult operation before the "bee bag" was adopted. Usually the bees arrived at their destination dead or so exhausted that they were of little use. Now these little honey makers can be shipped by mail several thousand miles in the "bee bag" without suffering, and can obtain air and a good supply of food during their transit.

Mail bags are made of various material. The cheapest are of cotton and the most costly of leather. Those used on fast expresses are reinforced, with metal, so that they can be flung from fast moving trains without damage. Even then these bags, or "catcher pouches," do not last much more than a year and a half, while some of the cotton bags used for the work will remain in service upward of ten years.

In parts of the West, where the mail must be carried for many miles on horseback special pouches are in use for slinging over the animals' flanks. In the far frozen North special bags are made for sled transportation. Harper's Weekly informs us, that in the cities a bag in use for pneumatic tube service is made of a composition called "leatheroid." The ordinary cotton mail bags are woven so closely that they are practically waterproof, and in the weave there are 13 stripes of blue. Each country marks its own mail pouches in some individual way, so that if one gets lost in a far country its ownership can be readily detected.

CAR SHORTAGE TO BE WITH US AGAIN

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 9.—While the railroads of the Northwest just a few weeks ago were complaining that business was comparatively dull, causing much of their equipment to lie idle, they are coming close to the time of pressure. From now on until the snow flies the carriers will have a great deal to do, and every bit of available equipment will be utilized. Conditions in the Northwest are much better than have been reported, as has been indicated by the fact that there has not been a month this year that he Minnesota Transfer has had more cars to handle than for corresponding periods last year. The crops of this year are being moved to market in heavy volume.

THE SOO LINE IS PLANNING THINGS

The Soo Line is making many improvements on the Ashland division and many more are coming. The old roundhouse on Ninth avenue east is to be torn down and a new twenty four stall roundhouse is to be erected, which will make the "Soo" round house the biggest on the division. Besides this, the Ashland division will be extended to the Cayuna range in Minnesota, with Ashland the terminal for the purpose of handling ore from the range. Five hundred more new steel ore cars are ordered, making the total number of ore cars 2,700; 1,000 steel cars and 1,700 wooden cars. The line to Mellen will be extended to St. Paul, and it will be the shortest route to St. Paul. Passenger Agent Fisher states that a steamship line will run from Port Huron to Duluth next year, and in two years will run in here. In addition to all this, the transcontinental line will be changed from Canada to the United States and will run through Ashland. All these improvements are not only planned, but are assured.

RAG SORTER'S JOB VERY GOOD THING

Newark, N. J., Sept. 9.—Herbert Streuble finds the job of rag sorter at a paper mill in Whippany, N. J., a most remunerative position. His wages are only $6 a week, but during the last week he has cleared $1,800 from valuables which he found concealed among the old rags and waste which daily passes under his rake.

Five days ago he picked up an old stocking which contained two diamonds worth $500 each. One day this week he came upon a large sapphire and a ruby tied in a handkerchief.

As a result of the recent publication of the finding of precious stones in waste rags and paper the superintendent of the factory has received several letters from people who say they have lost precious stones. A woman writing from New York said that she lost diamonds valued at $2,900 which were tied in wrapping tissue paper.

KNOX MENTIONED FOR STATE CHAIRMANSHIP

Menominee Herald—Editor: Press dispatches from the lower part of the state indicate that W. Frank Knox of Sault Ste. Marie is mentioned for the chairmanship of the state central Republican committee. No better man could be found for this office. Mr. Knox is undoubtedly one of the leading political generals of Michigan, his management of Osborn's campaign having been masterly. His election to the office of chairman of the Republican state central committee would be a fitting recognition of his service to Mr. Osborn and the state of Michigan.

It is also interesting to note that Paul King, manager of the Townsend campaign is mentioned as secretary of the Republican state central committee. The Townsend campaign marks Mr. King as a genius in the work of political organization. With Knox and King working together for the welfare of the Republican party of Michigan the best results would be assured.

LIGHTNING WRECKS ROOM; SPARES CHILD

Fairmont, N. D., Sept. 9.—The only complaint Ethel, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Nelson of this city had to make when lightning almost entirely wrecked the room in which she was sleeping, was that she was getting wet. Rain was pouring in through a hole in the ceiling that had been made by the lightning. The child, however, was uninjured although almost every piece of furniture in the room with the exception of her crib was broken.

 Decide to Do Cash Business.

We have hereby decided to carry on a strictly cash business, on and after August 1, 1910.

Our reasons for doing so are as follows:
 FIRST: Our accounts being necessarily small, an endless amount of confusion and expense is entailed to an injurious degree, and the loss in collections and time and attention it requires we can give to our work rooms and insure a higher standard of work.
 SECOND: Our current expenses are cash and must be paid when due. The stand we have taken is one we have been forced into and we hope all will lend us their aid.

THE NEW CRIB.

The up to date mother, you say, doesn't approve of cribs—she thinks the motion of rocking upsetting to the little one's nervous system? Well, the crib hasn't gone out of commission yet, even if she does not approve of this form of bed, and the latest invention in cribs is mighty apt to win over the most stubborn anti-cribble.

It is the most hygienic thing so far made in this line. The framework is of iron painted white. The sleeping quarter is suspended from the framework and made of strong white duck canvas. At will this crib may be turned into a walking chair or a chair in which baby may safely sit surrounded with toys while mother works or reads. The price of the crib is only $4.50.

A Daughter's Part at Home.
One of the sweetest things a girl can do is to receive friends graciously, particularly at home. In one's own house a cordial manner is peculiarly fitting. Do not stand off in the middle of the room and bow coldly and formally to the friend who has called. Walk over to meet her; give her your hand and say pleasantly that you are very glad to see her again. A daughter's part is to assist her mother on every social occasion. Apart from and more important even than her manner to a guest who drops in for an hour or a day is the manner of a daughter to her father and mother. The father returns to his home after a weary day at business. He is tired in body and mind, says Woman's Life. Coming back, as his latchkey turns in the home door he throws off care; he is joyous at the thought of the dear ones he will meet after hours of absence. His young daughter, in a pretty gown, with the bloom and freshness only girlhood wears, should be ready to give him the attention he loves—the kiss, the cheery word—to help her mother and the rest in letting her father see how much he is loved at home. Men give up a great deal for their families—their time, their strength, the knowledge they have gained in life's experiences. They spend everything freely for their home's sake, and the home should pay its debt in much outspoken love.

Do It Now.
If you are one of those people who keep putting off doing little tasks about the house until they are piled up mountain high, try the following plan:

Get a notebook and write down in it a list of all the various things you have been meaning to do, but never have time to—such as sending off a recipe to a friend, returning the song you borrowed or mending the hole in the curtains. When the list is completed set aside the first afternoon or evening you can possibly spare and work off as many as you can. As soon as you have finished one score it off with a pencil, and you will be surprised to find what a pleasant sensation it is to see the list growing smaller.

Very likely you will clear the things off so quickly that you will be looking round for other things to do.

Of course some people have taught themselves to do things just the moment they are noticed or as soon after as they can possibly manage it and don't need reminders, but the notebook will help those who have not acquired the "do it now" habit.

A Stork Shower.
The women friends of a young matron and expectant mother arranged for her a stork shower which was both useful and pretty. Each friend undertook to contribute some needful article for the little expected newcomer, suitably her pocketbook in the selection. The arrangement of the shower was extremely pretty. Four stuffed cranes (which pass muster for storks) were secured in a Japanese shop. They were represented as flying and were suspended from the ceiling toward the four corners of the room. Pink and pale blue ribbons were swung from one bird's bill to another, diagonally arranged so that they crossed, and to these various pretty things were pinned.

The phrase that "troubles never come singly" was originated by a married man.

Good Form

The girl who is popular is she who makes a study of the things that are better left unsaid. One need not be aggressive in speech to be a social failure.

Oh, those things that mean no actual harm, yet make us squirm!

Sometimes thoughtlessness is, at fault, again a too hasty tongue, more often lack of fine feeling.

There is nothing, for instance, in announcing you have been invited to a certain luncheon or dinner, yet, when that announcement makes another woman realize she is a fill up, far better would it be to say nothing about it.

You may think it shows how popular is your guest to remark the number of things that are being given in her honor. Tell of this entertaining to a friend who feels she should do likewise, but is prevented by poverty. It is one of the things far better left unsaid.

If you are the hostess who has achieved at much trouble two tables of bridge or a simple family dinner for a friend's house guest, don't you feel when that friend announces that she was compelled to turn down an elaborate luncheon for your invitation that the information might with better taste have been suppressed?

Better unsaid is the gloomy greeting to an imaginative friend: "How pale you look! Have you been sick?"

To the average fat woman far better unsaid are discussions on flesh, dumplings, big hips and double chins. The hundredth woman may not be sensitive, but the ninety-nine secretly resent being asked, "How much do you weigh now?" or "Aren't you stouter than the last time we met?"

The Notes to Write.

A girl need not be a brilliant writer to send out pleasing wedding notes. What is needed is sincere gratitude, gracefully but not gushingly expressed. Overpraise is almost as annoying as indifference.

Never be guilty of a set form; your friends are sure to compare notes and laugh over ready letter writer effects. Aim to give the individual touch, to introduce the few words that make the sender realize that she is really being thanked, not a job lot of givers.

It is customary to include your name in thanking for a wedding present. Though the gift comes to the girl, it is actually for both and should be so acknowledged.

It is also the custom to tell your friends you will be glad to have them come in and see your presents. This is particularly necessary when there is to be no reception and you are to live out of town. Set hours may be mentioned if you do not wish to be bothered with a run of visitors.

Many brides write notes to their own friends and work a substitute for the friends of their husbands. This is a great mistake, since strangers have often no other way to judge the bride than by her note of thanks.

The Chaperon Question.

Is the chaperon growing less necessary? Is it always necessary for a party of young people to have a chaperon? asks an anxious mother.

The good fellowship which prevails among young men and young women at the present time has lessened the importance of the chaperon. At all times a chaperon is considered best form, and no matter how well a party of young people may know one another the presence of a chaperon gives dignity to whatever good time they may have on hand and also safety in case of an unforeseen disaster, as an older woman presumably has her wits about her in an emergency and can decide what is best to be done. Well bred girls and men would not for an instant think of going off on any expedition unless a chaperon accompanied them.

On Good Breeding.

A great part of our education is sympathetic and social. Boys and girls who have been brought up with well informed and superior people show in their manners an insatiable grace. Fuller says that "William, earl of Nassau, won a subject from the king of Spain every time he took off his hat." You cannot have one well bred man without a whole society of such. They keep each other up to any high point. Especially women; it requires a great many cultivated women—salons of bright, elegant, reading women, accustomed to ease and refinement, to spectacles, pictures, sculpture, poetry and to elegant society—in order that you should have one Mme. de Staël.—Emerson.

A Vacation Hint.

Young girls who land unaccompanied by escort of any kind at an out of town resort, as it is sometimes necessary for business women to do, need to be careful of the acquaintances they make. If some perfectly unknown man is assiduous in his attentions the unprotected girl should make a point of sitting under the wing of some elderly woman guest at the same house until the man has proved his worth.

WOOD BLOCK PRINTING.

Charming Effects Gained From This Work.

CUSHION WITH WOOD BLOCK DESIGN.

Curtains, porch and bungalow pillows, portieres, couch covers, table runners, bags of all sorts—in fact, anything that can be stenciled—can just as successfully be printed by the wood block process.

If one cannot draw a design for a carved wood block it is perfectly possible to adapt one from something at hand. Designs suitable to be traced and then carved on wood blocks can be obtained from wall paper or fabrics with conventional designs.

A little practice will soon teach the worker what to eliminate and what to keep to make a well balanced, harmonious design suitable for this charming craft.

Sailboat Girls Like to Pose.

Woman's place in the sailboat is a problem now agitating amateur sailors. The mariners who take their summer vacation as their only opportunity to sail the tricky catboats have found that most of their accidents have been due to the recklessness of their women passengers. It seems to be an inveterate feminine longing to pose about the decks after the manner of girls on magazine covers. The woman who sits on the cabin top is the hardest to deal with. Whenever the boom jibes the swing of it is likely to knock her into the water. Now it has been discovered that the place for women on catboats is in the cockpit, but this will probably kill sailing as a pastime for women, because it keeps them almost completely hidden.

A Woman's Plan.

Mrs. Ellen H. Richards' proposition for working people to live in hexagonal buildings fifteen stories high and literally surrounded by sunlight and air is not aesthetically, but it is rather terrible from an architectural point of view. But that needn't matter if these "towers" will but solve the congestion of cities and aid in the improvement of sanitary conditions.

Now's the Time to Buy Lingerie Gowns.

This is the season of the year to buy a lingerie gown cheap. The shops are all marking down their best models, and one sometimes can purchase for less than half the original price a frock that in the beginning of the season was prohibitive.

Then if one does not care for ready made clothes there is at present the

IT'S FRENCH, BUT MAY BE EASILY COPIED. opportunity of obtaining at greatly reduced rates pieces of lace and lovely lengths of insertion and flouncings.

The lingerie gown illustrated is a French creation; but, as you see, it may be copied at small cost. The materials used are all over eyelet embroidery flouncings. The skirt consists of two deep pieces of the flouncing put together with a wide insertion of val lace. At the bottom of the skirt, under the scalloped edge of the flounce, is a scanty ruffle of the Valenciennes lace. The peasant bodice is formed of eyelet and lace. Outlining the round neck is a piping of black velvet.

LIFE AND LIMB

Are the Most Precious of All of Michigan's Possessions.

That the State of Michigan holds paramount human life and limb to all else within its confines is emphasized by the many wise laws passed to that effect. The people of Michigan enact that he who soever willfully takes the life of his brother or sister within Michigan's domain shall pay the penalty therefor by imprisonment for life.

The people of Michigan further enact that no man shall carry concealed weapons—that all mills, mines, factories, railroads and all other transportation lines be equipped with the latest approved safety appliances to save the life and limbs of its citizens. It further enacts that no man be allowed to buy poison of his own cognizance. By law you cannot buy poison in this state, but what you show your druggist a doctor's prescription for same. And for all these safe guards on the part of the people of Michigan? To foster, protect and save human life and limbs—the most precious possessions that Michigan can boast of. Just try to buy poison from your druggist, and under whatever pretext you are a mind to choose and see if he will not ask you for that doctor's prescription. And what for? For the simple reason that if you should happen to poison one of Michigan's citizens instead of, as you might have claimed, some innocent rodent, the State of Michigan will take you in charge right on the spot, for they have the drop on you. They can tell you where and on what day you purchased said poison and the next step of saddling on you a foul crime, has often been proven to be as easy as "rolling off a log."

There are different kinds of poison. There is the slow working poison and there is the poison which will send you to kingdom come within a rather short space of time. The quick acting poison is a God send in comparison with its slow working brother; for it relieves you of a long drawn out suffering and a faltering hope of an eventual recovery. He who soever administers the former through either hatred, malice, personal gain or from whatsoever cause, is an angel compared to him, under the guise of a friend will administer to you the opposite, or slow working poison.

The deadly poison will not leave you in doubt any great length of time. That it is high time for you to consult medical authority with its attendant remedies of which latter there are quite a few. The slow working poison will give you no such warning—not any more than a mere displeasure—a mere ailment; it will simply throw you off your guard, dear reader, until such time as it will get the upper hand of you—until it is ready to do, you to a finish. Writer just said that he who soever administers the deadly poison and be the reason whatsoever it might be, at best may kill, but that one victim of his, while the one who poisons by the slow process of contagious diseases kills friend and foe alike, and these in turn will do the same to yourself—to some one dear to you by coming in contact with them. They are well—there does not seem to be much the matter with them—they are simply ailing, and their ailing in a very short time is very apt to be your ailing without them being to blame for it in the least themselves. Is writer admonished? Beware of all slow working poisons and contagious diseases. We have filtered water—we have a milk ordinance, and were we not told that when we did have these last named there would be left no possible chance for contagious diseases in Escanaba. And, dear reader, is your memory so short as not to remember but part of the sickness which this city went through last winter? You have clean water and pure milk—so sickness cannot possibly come from these sources. What have you left to infer that it possibly can come from? The air we breathe is one—the vegetables and meats we eat is another. As writer explained to this community before—air—no matter how bad—at no time stays with us long enough to do us any great bodily harm. Meats and vegetables are next in line to contaminate the springs of health to this community. And what do you use most—meat or vegetables? Writer claims that we use more meats than we do vegetables. Henceforth our next greatest danger lies in the consumption of the meat sold in this city. Nicely per cent of all meats sold within your city limits are U. S. Inspected, unassailable as to the healthfulness thereof, the other 10 per cent is handled by peddlers. Of what use is your pure water, your milk ordinance, as well as all of your other ordinances for the protection of the public health when you allow a possible 10 per cent of contaminated meats to be sold broadcast throughout this community. Just as well not have any safeguards to public health as to leave your doors wide open for hauling in disease under some other head. Of this 10 per cent but one single diseased critter may start in this city, a calamity whom nobody would ever care to be responsible for. There are these who are honest and upright and there are those who are the very reverse. There are those who would furnish this city, but the healthiest of meats, and there are those who for a paltry gain's sake would poison this entire community. It is up to you, gentlemen. The writer feels that he has done his duty by the unsuspecting people of this community at large, in

Will you continue a state of affairs in this city as it exists at present?

This God forbid, and that he also forbid the writer of these articles from ever uttering another word, should he have been actuated by motives other than the public welfare, is the prayer of he—who had he ever been possessed of any mercenary instinct, he might be well enough off by this time so as to not be obliged to have to sling soup bones for a living. Our Daily Short Story

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP

By ELIZABETH BOND.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Jennie Dwyer, having but two weeks' vacation from her duties in the office where she was employed and having to take them after everybody else in the concern had been accommodated, was obliged to wait till autumn for her outing. Then she went into the country, stopping at a farmhouse not far from a village.

Jennie's was one of those many cases where a girl brought up in comfort finds herself obliged to get on as best she can. So long as her father lived there was a plenty, but, nothing being laid up when he died, his income ceased; consequently Jennie, who had the refinement of a lady, was obliged to work like any other poor person.

Jennie's chief recreation on her vacation was taking long walks. There was a handsome place on one of her routes which reminded her of one she had lived in when she was a little girl. Her father had then been rich and surrounded his family not only with comforts, but with luxuries. This place which attracted her attention appeared to be vacant except for a caretaker and his wife, who lived in a cottage on the premises. How Jennie longed to enter and stroll about over the pleasant grass and in among the trees and the flower garden! Being a timid little thing, she was a long time screwing up her courage to do so. She satisfied herself that there was no dog on the place and found that there were some loose pickets in the fence at a distance from the house where she might enter unobserved.

So one morning when the air was fresh and crisp she pushed the pickets aside and timidly advanced, keeping at a safe distance from the house. But there is always something to tempt a lawbreaker, and Jennie saw in the garden certain flowers of a lovely nature that had not yet succumbed to the early autumn cold snaps. She dearly loved flowers, and from the trees she cast covetous eyes on these, which were rather too near the house for her to safely reach. However, there was not a person in sight, and, leaving cover, she started for the garden, but haltingly, stopping now and again to make sure no one was observing her.

Though she did not know it, some one was observing her. Tom Marryweather, the son and heir of the owner of the place, a graceless scamp, had come down from town to get a gun he had left there, and at the moment the girl was advancing on the flower garden he was standing back out of view looking at her through a window. He had his gun in his hand, being about to carry it downstairs. He waited while Jennie hesitatingly moved on the garden, cast a final distrustful look at the house, then began to appropriate the flowers. Tom, being of an artistic turn of mind, was quite enraptured with the scene of a shy girl so fond of flowers that she could not resist the temptation to steal them on this beautiful autumn day. He was also dramatically disposed and wondered what kind of scene would result if he were to adopt measures usual with poachers. Presently, when Jennie stopped to take another furtive glance at the house, Tom, advancing to the window, gun in hand, cried:

"Stand, you robber!" Jennie did stand, though it was all she could do to keep her legs, while one by one the flowers she had plucked dropped from her hand. Tom was not near enough to discern the terror he had inspired, so he proceeded further: "Don't you know," he cried in a stentorian voice, "that the wages of sin is death?"

There was no reply to this. Suddenly Tom discovered that he was playing with dreams with a vengeance. Jennie, taking the realistic scene in earnest, collapsed. Tom saw her stagger sidewise, then sink down in a heap.

Jumping out of the window, he landed on an extension roof, from there dropped to the ground and ran like a deer for the girl.

When Jennie recovered consciousness she found herself in the arms of a man who was looking into her face eager to know whether he had killed her. Swelling her open eyes and looking straight at him, a great relief came into his eyes. He was about to cover her face with kisses when he remembered that he had not even been introduced to her. But he did not consider her sufficiently recovered to stand alone. At any rate, he held on to her till she of her volition disengaged herself.

The rest of this story is just like any other love story. Tom, who, as I have said, was artistically inclined, was captivated by the picture he had seen from his window. He is not the only man who has been caught by a girl unconscious that she is making herself attractive. But Tom's fate was sealed when the crisis came and he saw what he had done. Long after Jennie had forgiven him he kept up his protestations of regret, calling himself every bad name in his vocabulary. He loaded Jennie with flowers, begged her to come and take all she wished and insisted on getting out a horse and his two wheeled cart and driving her home. The house at which she was boarding was a mile distant, but Tom failed to get there in less than a dozen. Instead of going back to town and thence to his shooting club, he remained in the house as long as Jennie's vacation lasted. The courtship ended in the winter.

Difficult Tasks

Become Easy in "A Classified Advertising City"

THE people of this city could get along without street cars, gas or electricity with less discomfort—with less stagnation, less stoppage of the city's activities—than would follow the total elimination of classified advertising as a factor in the city's daily scheme of living.

For the want ads have come to be indispensable in the conduct of modern business. They make INITIATIVE possible. They help those who PLAN to also EXECUTE. They afford SERVICE, and of a hundred-sided sort.

Without the classified ads. no one could be SURE of "making it pay" in a hundred minor and auxiliary occupations. To keep boarders would be a risk—to try to sublet furnished rooms would be an uncertain venture—to try to find tenants for any sort of vacant property would be a weary process of "waiting," and to sell property to any advantage would be a mere hope.

Truly, these are want ad. times—this is a want ad city, and ours are a want-ad-using people.

weather and advantage of the fine exhibition field at the fair grounds, exhibitions such as are seldom if ever seen will result.

Unusually Keen Interest. Railroad facilities for handling the crowds will be the best ever provided. The officials of the roads entering Detroit have been sounding out the prospects in all parts of the state and all report there is an unusually keen interest in the state, in every county of the state. The fact that the fair is two weeks later this year means that many more farmers will be able to attend, hence arrangements are being made to run many special trains into Detroit during fair week.

Many of the hotels and boarding houses report and everything considered record breaking crowds will be the rule during fair week. Reduced rates of a fare and a half will obtain on all roads.

OLD LADY TAKES TO WATER LIKE A DUCK.

(Special U. T. Service.) St. Louis, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Andrew Brandenberger, 60 years old and weighing 170 pounds, swam five miles today in the height of one of the heaviest rain storms in this city's history. She swam from the east end of Eads bridge at the heart of the business section to St. Louis Altemheim at 5:48 South Broadway. She was unassisted, being accompanied only by a row boat and motor boat. John C. Meyers, a noted swimmer of this city, declared the swim the most remarkable he ever saw, considering Mrs. Brandenberger's advanced age. She was quite fresh at the conclusion of the swim and climbed a flight of 455 steps from the levee where landed to the top of the hill.

COINAGE OF GOLD MAY BE SUSPENDED

(Special U. T. Service.) Washington, Sept. 9.—Coinage of gold in the United States will be suspended for an indefinite period if plans now forming in the treasury department are carried out. The idea is to issue gold certificates for all gold bullion and foreign coin turned into the mints instead of coining them into eagles and double eagles. It is understood that Treasurer McClung in his annual report will endorse the plan, which was originated by A. Platt Andrew, now assistant secretary of the treasury, when he was director of the mint. The reasons are to save a large sum in mint expenses and to stop coining gold at the expense of the United States for the convenience of foreign money markets.

LANE IS PROUD OF AMERICAN RAILROADS

Delegate, Just Returned From International Railway Conference at Berne, Switzerland, Says American Lines Are Best—Europeans Ahead in Some Things.

(Special U. T. Service.)

New York, Sept. 9.—"I return from the international railway conference at Berne, Switzerland, with much greater enthusiasm over the American railroads as agencies of transportation than I ever had before."

This statement was made by Franklin K. Lane, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission who was one of the representatives of the United States to the international railway conference.

"The conference establishes beyond question, I think, the supremacy of the American railroad from the standpoint of efficiency," continued Mr. Lane. "One of the questions that is left in my mind is as to how the European railroads manage to pay 4, 5 and 6 per cent in dividends with the small volume of traffic that they have compared with the volume we have. I have seen more freight moving in a single hour at Chicago, Pittsburg and Jersey City than I saw in an entire month in Europe. Of course the answer of the European railroad man is that their systems are entirely adequate to the needs of their countries, and that probably is true.

"One thing we have got to do in this country that Europe is far ahead of us on is in providing pensions for our civil employes. Europeans regard our methods as barbarous and say frankly that they have outgrown them by fifty years.

"Another thing in which we are far behind Europe is in the matter of employers' liability. Every man in England has to pay damages for an injury that is suffered by his employe."

PRACTICES LAW AT THE AGE OF 95

(Special U. T. Service.) Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The sight of a 95-year-old attorney appearing in city court today to present a case to Judge McConnell caused a great deal of interest at City Hall. The attorney was Lawrence J. Goodale, who is the oldest lawyer in northern New York, and probably the oldest practicing attorney in New York state. The action this morning was brought about by Mr. Goodale on behalf of a client to dispossess a tenant in a house owned by the plaintiff. An order was directed by the court to that effect.

GIRL BITTEN BY A RATTLER IS DEAD

(Special U. T. Service.)

Marshall, Mich., Sept. 9.—The curiosity of little Fern Luscomb, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Luscomb, prominent residents of Newton township, five miles west of this city, resulted in her death yesterday afternoon, the bite of a big rattlesnake proving fatal, despite the efforts of local physicians. Last Tuesday as the child, accompanied by her mother was on her way to see a playmate, she was attracted by the snake and stopped to pick up the reptile. The snake sank its fangs deep into the little girl's arm. When killed, the rattler was found to have 15 buttons.

ALL PLANS ARE WORKING SMOOTHLY FOR BIG FAIR

Management Confident that the Coming State Show Will Surpass All Others.

(Special to the Mirror.)

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 9.—As the time approaches for the opening of the 61st annual Michigan state fair the officials feel more confident than ever that this year's exhibition will surpass anything ever seen in the state. There is so much of unusual interest to be seen; such a healthy growth in all departments; so many things which will interest not only people from the country but from the cities as well, that the prediction concerning the coming fair, instead of seeming extravagant, are believed to be very conservative.

It isn't often that in arranging an exhibition of this kind, one combining entertainment and educational features, that all the plans outlined months in advance will work out smoothly. Yet this is just what has happened in preparing for this fair. Big things were in the minds of the management months ago and now, on the eve of the big exhibition, big things are all completed and will be ready when the gates swing open and the turnstiles begin their merry count at 8 o'clock Monday morning, September 19.

Sent Entries in Early.

The steps taken months ago to secure big, unusual attractions for the fair, served to advertise the fair extensively. Exhibitors everywhere sent in their entries early. Many plans were made by these exhibitors to make a better showing than ever before. The best class of concessioners in the country turned their attention to the Michigan fair. So many applications were received that the management could afford to pick and choose from among these concessioners and the result is that the grounds will be filled with the best class of concessioners ever gathered together. A rigid scrutiny of all shows was insisted upon and, moreover, it was made a stipulation in every contract that each stand every show must be on the grounds, complete and ready for business, by 8 o'clock Monday morning. Will Open on Time. There will be a "Midway train" run especially to accommodate the shows which are to appear at the Michigan fair. This will be made up of shows playing at Toronto, the New York state fair at Syracuse, Coney Island, and other eastern parks and exhibition grounds. This train is scheduled to arrive Sunday at the fair grounds which will mean everything in readiness Monday.

This same rule applies not only to the entertainment features but also to exhibits in all departments. Department heads have made it a point to insist on "opening on time" Michigan's fair in this respect will be unique.

The hundred thousand dollars spent for new buildings has resulted in added interest in these departments. The machinery hall, which is practically completed, will house fully one-third of the exhibits in this department, while the automobile building will present the biggest automobile show ever seen in Michigan.

In the Front Rank.

The seven new barns in the swine, sheep and speed departments are models of convenience. Shower bath sleeping quarters and other conveniences for the barnmen are considerations which mean much to the exhibitors of expensive stock, and this new equipment places Michigan in the front rank as far as equipment goes.

Advices from the Wright brothers at Dayton assure the finest aeroplane exhibitions ever seen anywhere. Aviators Brookins and Hoxsey will do the operating and those who saw them in their Elks' week performances in Detroit are looking forward with keen delight to their coming appearance. Michigan is the only fair in the country to secure two of these marvelous machines. These two, it is believed will be the latest models perfected by the Wrights. One may be the new five-passenger machine spoken of in the dispatches recently, and Hoxsey will probably have his new speedy "cross-country" machine, capable of doing 75 miles an hour. With this equipment, fair

HUBBY KEPT "LOG" ON KISSING; WIFEY FINDS IT Then Big Troubles Follow and Wife is Suing for Divorce—Entertaining Story.

"Loves dearly."
"Kisses constantly."
"Very affectionate, but very sedate."
"Cautious."
"Sticks closer than flypaper."
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Above are some of the impressions jotted down in stenographic form in his notebook, of 185 girls wooed by Roscoe H. Sanborn of Brooklyn, according to his wife, Mrs. Edna Sanborn who is today hunting her husband to serve papers on him in a suit for divorce.

Sixty-three of the young women, Mrs. Sanborn says, will be named by her in her suit for divorce. Some are married, and all of them, Mrs. Sanborn alleges, wrote to her husband letters, hundreds of which she discovered in a strong box.

Girls in a Dozen States.
The list had been made out neatly and in column form. First would come the name of the girl, then her address, finally her age, and a stenographic description attesting to the warmth of her affection.

An examination of the letters showed that Sanborn had apparently been corresponding with girls and women in a dozen states. A girl signing herself "Grace" and giving her telephone number of "170 Albany," wrote to him to meet her on the train.

"I'll die if you don't meet me," the letter read.

"Ethel," writing from Rockland Park Rockland, N. Y., said: "If you can't find time to write a letter, a postal card will do. I must hear from you."

Mrs. Sanborn was Miss Edna Gate-chair of Brooklyn, known to the stage five years ago as Edna Earl, a youthful dancer. She appeared prominently in a vaudeville playlet with Dan McAvoy.

The young man's mother would not countenance his desire to marry the dancer.

Finally came an accident that ended Edna's stage career. Not only was she disabled for further work in her profession, but for a time it was thought that she would die. Reports of the accident and the apparent gravity of her condition were printed. Sanborn hastened to her. Marriage followed.

NATAL DAY NOT SO DEADLY AS OF YORE

(Special U. T. Service.)

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Although the list of the deaths and the accidents due to the celebration of the Fourth of July is still appalling, the "sane" observance of the day this year has brought about a notable improvement, according to statistics compiled by the Journal of the American Medical Association. The decrease in the number of accidents is most marked in the sections where restrictive legislation is effective, says the Journal.

The summary shows that 2,923 persons were injured July 4 this year, of whom 131 died. When the Journal began its record in 1903, 4,449 persons were injured, of whom 466 died, 406 of them as a result of tetanus. The grand total for the eight years shows 37,526 persons injured, of whom 1,662 died, 694 as a direct result of injuries and 968 from tetanus. One hundred and twenty-two persons lost their eyesight.

The figures for 1910 show the accidents due as follows: Blank cartridges, 386; firecrackers, 1,050; cannon, 212; firearms, 229; powder and fireworks, 976. The decrease from 1903 to 1910 is due to the more intelligent methods of celebration. Massachusetts had this year only one-seventh of the injuries it had the previous year. Illinois and Ohio reduced the casualties to one-half, while Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin show larger totals than a year ago.

CITY HEALTH OFFICER PICKS UP POINTERS

Dr. H. W. Long Returns From Milwaukee Where He Secures Valuable Information About Isolation Hospitals and How to Best Conserve the Public Health.

Dr. H. W. Long, city health officer, returned this morning from Milwaukee, where he attended the annual convention of the American Public Health association, which was held in that city this week.

Dr. Long did not on his return trip stop off at other cities to visit isolation hospitals, as he had planned. There was no necessity for his doing this, he states, for at the convention he obtained all the information necessary relative to the establishment and conduct of isolation hospitals and also a great fund of knowledge that will be of value to him in his work as health officer and a conservator of the public health. This information was derived from the addresses of able and experienced physicians and public health officials from all over the country, Mexico, Canada and Cuba, who gave the results of their experience before the convention.

Dr. Long states that the convention was a pronounced success and remarkable for its many notable features. He expresses the hope that the common council will soon take the necessary steps for the erection of a model isolation hospital in which all cases of infectious and contagious diseases may be properly cared for.

"SPECIALS" WALLOP THE "UNION GIANTS"

At South Park Thursday afternoon there was pulled off a ball game that caused all other diamond contests this year to pale into insignificance. It was played by two aggregations of former baseball stars, one styling themselves the "Escanaba Union Giants" and the other the "Wells Specials." It would be too harrowing to describe the game in detail and it may simply be stated that the "Specials" walloped the "Giants" by a score of 19 to 10. Some snapshots of the players taken by The Mirror's "special artist," during the progress of the conflict will be found on page five of this issue and are worth looking at.

Among the mighty players in the "Specials" lineup were: Stephenson, Kates, Fisher, Thompson, LeMire, Shupeck, Raaba and McKie, while with the "Giants" were such diamond lights as George M. Mashek, E. C. Voght, M. N. Smith, T. E. Strom, J. A. Semer, Dr. R. E. Hodson, A. H. Groesbeck and George Haberle. Clarence C. Smith, once manager of the Princeton University football team, now visiting here, had the courage to act as umpire and came through the fray unscathed, but it is said he had several narrow escapes from annihilation.

PEROW WANTS TO KNOW SOMETHING

Richard Perrow, whose appointment as deputy sheriff and turnkey at the county jail was revoked by Sheriff Aronson, as noted in these columns yesterday, wants to know the identity of the French citizens at whose alleged demand the sheriff's action was taken. Mr. Perrow says:

"Sheriff Aronson in his announcement discharging me as deputy sheriff states that he was asked to do so by a committee of prominent French people. I believe that it is due me as well as my friends that I should know the names of the members of the committee who waited upon the sheriff. I fought Mr. Curran fairly and openly and I believe that I am entitled to know who asked for my release from the position that I held. I have been to a number of the leading French people of the city and none of them know anything of a committee waiting upon the sheriff to ask for my discharge. Signed, Richard Perrow."

ESCANABA ACTOR HAS LEADING ROLE

A Courtney White, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. White of this city, appears to be "making good" in the theatrical profession. Last season Mr. White had an important role with the "Shepherd King" company and this season is the leading man of a company presenting "As the Sun Went Down," according to advices received here. This company played all last week at the National Theatre, Chicago, and is to return to Chicago to play another week's engagement, beginning September 18, at the Crown theatre. Following the closing of the "Shepherd King" company's season last spring Mr. White came to his home in this city and remained until August 7, when he went to New York in search of another engagement in his chosen profession. He speedily found it with the "As the Sun Went Down" company.

THEATRICAL

Ingenious, daring, stirring and powerful is "The City." Clyde Fitch's posthumous play with Messrs. Shubert produced during the latter part of 1909. "The City" might aptly be said to have made stage history on the memorable night upon which it was offered to the public. Given to various "openings" New York has never witnessed a performance so charged with sensationalism and the ovation or torrents of applause which greeted the play, caused the news of the wonderfully tragic drama to spread like wild fire. The word was not confined to New York alone. Visitors, before they came to Manhattan, were well versed in their knowledge of the Fitch epic with the result that the engagement at the Lyric Theatre proved one of the most remarkable in the annals of American stage life. The Messrs. Shubert are sending "The City" to the Peterson opera house tonight.

WORK ON CHARTER NEARER COMPLETION

There was not a ripple of contention or excitement at the meeting of the charter revision commission Thursday evening and considerable work was accomplished. All of the chapter devoted to Appropriation of Public Property was considered and passed with a few minor amendments and the chapter on Miscellaneous Matters was also disposed of. The undisposed of sections relating to Special Assessments, which were the subject of some controversy at a previous meeting, were not taken up owing to the absence of Commissioner Mead, who had given notice that he would propose some important amendments.

At the next meeting of the commission, to be held next Monday evening, the report of the committee on parks and public property will be considered and possibly the report of the committee on streets and public improvements.

It is expected that the work of revising the charter will be completed within the next two weeks. It will then be prepared and engrossed and sent to the governor of the state. If it meets with the executive's approval it will then be submitted to the electors of Escanaba at the general election in November.

BARBERS' UNION TO GIVE A DANCE

The Barbers' Union is getting ready to give another of its popular dances at Clark's hall on Thursday evening, September 22. In arranging for the music, Brotherton's orchestra has been engaged and this in itself speaks for a large crowd and a pleasant evening.
