BALDWIN MUST STAND TRIAL

Judge Flannigan Overrules Motion to Quash Complaint in Case Brought Against Escanaba Editor for Alleged Criminal Libel of Chase S. Osborn—Story.

After having the matter under consideration for a month, Judge R. C. Flannigan has rendered a decision denying the defendant's motion to quash the complaint in the case of The People vs. F. L. Baldwin, charged with criminal libel of Chase S. Osborn, now governor of Michigan.

Copies of Judge Flannigan's decision have been received in this city by Clerk of the Court John A. Semer and the attorneys in the case.

Judge Flannigan's decision means that the case must now be tried upon its merits in circuit court. It may be on the calendar of the regular term, which convenes in this city Monday, January 23, but probably will not be tried here, for it is understood that the next move of the defendant and his attorneys will be to apply for a change of venue, which application will just as probably be granted.

Summary of the Case.
The facts in this case are well known to the public. Mr. Baldwin, editor of the Escanaba Journal, was arrested early last fall upon complaint of Attorney Frank H. Warner of Sault Ste. Marie, who charged that Mr. Baldwin in an article published in his paper had criminally libelled the character and good name of Chase S. Osborn, who was then a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan.

In due time Mr. Baldwin had his trial before a jury in Justice Emil Glaser's court, was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and serve 90 days in the county jail. From this judgment Mr. Baldwin took an appeal to the circuit court.

Makes Motion to Quash.
When the case came up in circuit court at the October term the defendant was granted permission to withdraw his plea of not guilty and then made a motion that the complaint be quashed on the grounds that the complainant did not charge any offense known to the laws of Michigan and that it was bad for duplicity.

Arguments upon the motion were made at length before Judge Flannigan at Marquette on December 8, after which the judge took the case under advisement, with the result above noted. In the case up to this point the People have been represented by former Prosecuting Attorney Henry R. Dotsch and Attorney N. C. Spencer, and Mr. Baldwin by Attorney A. H. Myall of this city and Judge C. R. Brown of Marquette.

FATHER LANGAN'S FRIENDS GRIEVED

Marquette Mining Journal Makes Kindly and Sympathetic Mention of Illness of Escanaba Pastor—Tells of His Great Work in Building St. Patrick's Church.

Marquette Mining Journal: Marquette friends of Father J. M. Langan, of St. Patrick's church at Escanaba, for many years pastor at St. Peter's cathedral here and later stationed at Ishpeming, will be grieved to learn that his condition at Escanaba is now so critical that little hope is entertained for his recovery and that it is feared his lease of life is short. Father Langan, whose health has been none too good for several years past, is suffering with a dropsical ailment which has latterly become acute.

Father Langan is one of the best known Catholic priests in the upper peninsula and has a wide acquaintance throughout the region. He has been at Escanaba for several years past. He was sent there by the bishop of the diocese when the Irish membership in the Catholic church was given permission to form a congregation of their own. Father Langan at once undertook the building of St. Patrick's church, and within eighteen months had erected one of the finest church buildings in the upper peninsula. The church property now includes a modern parsonage, and there is comparatively little debt on it.

HOUSE PASSES PENSION BILL

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—The house today passed the Sulloway general pension bill, which grants pensions from $12 to $35 a month to soldiers who served ninety days in the United States army in the Civil war or sixty days in the Mexican war and who have reached the age of 62 years. This bill adds forty-five million dollars a year to the pension roll.

ENOCH H. BROWN PASSES AWAY

Death Removes a Pioneer Citizen of Delta County—Had Lived at Van's Harbor and Fayette Thirty Years and in Escanaba Seven—Father of W. L. Brown.

After an illness of about two weeks from the infirmities of old age, Enoch H. Brown, for nearly 40 years a resident of Delta county, died about 6:45 o'clock this morning at the home of his son, Assistant Postmaster William L. Brown, 908 Cleveland avenue.

Mr. Brown before coming to Escanaba about seven years ago to make his home with his son had lived for 30 years at Van's Harbor and Fayette. He was quite well known in the county and had many friends. Since coming here Mr. Brown had not been engaged in active business. He is survived by his widow and but one son, W. L. Brown.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the home of W. L. Brown. Rev. Frederick Spence will conduct the services and interment will be made in Lakeview cemetery.

MISS LIESEMER BECOMES A BRIDE

Cards have been received in Ishpeming announcing the marriage of Miss Lulu Liesemer to Edwin White, on Saturday last, to the home of Miss Liesemer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Liesemer of Ann Arbor, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. White are very well known to Ishpeming people, Mrs. White having been a member of the High school faculty there for the greater part of last year, while Mr. White is chief geologist of the Cleveland children should be there every day. The announcement cards state that they will be at home in Ishpeming after March 1st.

SMART SET TAKE TO SNOW SHOES

Strange tracks in the snow were found this morning by many citizens when they left their firesides for the business cares of the day. These tracks were three feet or more long and a foot or two wide. Front door yards were matted up and the beauty of the snowscape ruined. There was no harm done, however, and the tracks were not made by some big prehistoric creature as might have been supposed by some new arrival to this land of snow.

It was only the first snow-shoe meet of Escanaba's "smart set" of young women, and the big tracks were presumably made by pretty little feet.

FLORISTS PREPARE FOR MCKINLEY DAY

The florists of Escanaba and of the entire country in fact, are preparing for January 29, the anniversary of the birth of William McKinley, one of the three martyr-presidents.

Since the death of McKinley it has become customary to wear a red carnation, which was his favorite flower, on the anniversary of his birth, and each year the number of people who do this increases. The Carnation League of America organized for the special purpose of arousing interest in this custom and spreading its observance, has sent circulars to all parts of the country, telling of the history of the movement and urging its observance by all citizens.

HOT SHOT FIRED AT LORIMER

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—In an exhaustive and carefully prepared speech, Senator Crawford of South Dakota today denounced the alleged methods employed by the agents of Senator Lorimer in the Illinois legislature, and declared that in his conviction that Lorimer is not entitled to retain his seat in the United States senate.

In the face of Senator Lorimer's repeated protestations of innocence, Senator Crawford flatly charged that the late was signant of the questionable practices of his lieutenants. Would Vote to Unseat Lorimer.
The evidence taken by the subcommittee, in Senator Crawford's opinion, showed conclusively that the election of Lorimer was the outcome of a carefully laid plan, beginning with the election of Edward Shurtleff, whom he described as the "bitter enemy of Senator Hopkins and the political henchman of Lorimer," to be speaker, and Lee O'Neill Browne as leader of the minority.

WEDDING BELLS DID NOT RING

According to a report which has reached The Mirror, there was to have been a wedding in Escanaba today, but it did not take place because, so it is stated, the prospective bride changed her mind and declined to accompany her fiance when he called at her home with a carriage to take her to the church where the marriage was to be performed. The marriage, it is said, was to have taken place yesterday morning, but the prospective bridegroom forgot to obtain the marriage license in time to permit of its taking place at the hour set and it was put over until this morning.

Delta County Board of Supervisors Meets in Special Session and Transacts Some Business—Sale of Bridge Bonds to Be Ratified Tomorrow—Other Matters.

At eleven o'clock this forenoon the Delta county board of supervisors convened in special session, but adjourned almost immediately until two o'clock this afternoon.

At the session this afternoon all the members of the board were present except Supervisors Arnold, Greenhoot, Henke and dMacLean.

The report of Capt. A. H. Rolph, who had audited the books of the several county officers was presented and referred to the county committee.

A resolution was offered providing that the board take action for the ratification of the sale of the $40,000 bridge bonds and it was made a special order of business for tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock.

Several bids from banks desiring to become the depository of the county's funds were received and referred to the finance committee.

WHY ARE PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSED?

Protest Made Against Practice of Holding But One Session of School When Weather Happens To Be Severe—Claimed It Is Unjust to Children and Parents.

Editor The Mirror—Where are all the boys and girls of Escanaba all the afternoons of the days when it happens to snow or rain?

Are they in school? No, they are not. Some are at home, many on the street playing in the snow, and the remainder you will find at a moving picture show.

As a taxpayer and one interested in the public schools and the advancement of the children of our city, I beg to ask the question: "Why is it just to the children or parents of their city to keep the children until 1 p. m. and then close school for the day?"

This happens every time it snows or rains and it is not right. The children should be at home for their dinners at noon and attend school in the afternoon. They cannot study during the hour from 12 m. to 1 p. m.

The days of school are short enough land-Cliffs Iron company of that city, minute that they should be in session. On Monday, January 9, at noon time the walks in general were cleared and there was no storm, but the children played in the snow and the schools were closed.

The taxpayers must heat the schools, pay the teachers and janitors and watch their children play out or in when their places are in school. It is not right, and time that we stop it.—A Taxpayer.

THE WORLD ALMANAC FOR 1911 IS GREAT

All the phenomenal growth and development that have marked the progress of events throughout the world in 1910 are reflected and recorded in The World Almanac for 1911. To enumerate its new features would be to enumerate everything new and important that has taken place in the last year.

The completeness with which the subjects are treated is shown by the facts concerning the new "Science of Aviation," "The High Cost of Living" is another subject treated at length in detail.

All the important laws of congress and of state legislatures are clearly summarized. The progress of science, art, government, religion, education, labor, industry, commerce, finance, navigation, exploration and a thousand or more subjects are set forth concisely, making The World Almanac for 1911 a complete library in one volume.

12,608 SUICIDES IS RECORD OF 1910

Increase of More Than Two Thousand Over Previous Year—Shown by Statistics—6,673 Were Despondent—Nearly Twice as Many Men as Women Self-Slayers

The record of suicides for 1910 shows a considerable increase over that of 1909, the number being 12,608, as compared with 10,230 in the latter year. The proportion of suicides as between men and women remains about the same as in 1909, being 8,252 males and 4,356 females. Physicians, as usual, head the list among professional men, the number being 51, as compared to 27 in 1909 and 42 in 1908, and clergymen come next, 11 of them having taken their own lives.

The most significant feature of these figures is the increasing number of those who were led to suicide by ill health. Of the total number 4,202 shot themselves, 4,054 took poison, 925 asphyxiated themselves, 1,682 drowned themselves, 984 cut their throats, 656 jumped from windows or roofs, 56 threw themselves in front of locomotives or electric cars, 27 stabbed themselves, 14 killed themselves by fire and eight by dynamite. Thirty-four unfortunate quit life by suicide pacts.

BUSINESS NOT HURT BY 'SWEARING OFF'

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—The Athletic Association of the University of Pennsylvania at a secret meeting a few days ago passed an eligibility rule which will prevent all but academic students taking part in any 'varsity' events. This rule, which was passed at the suggestion of Dr. Carl Williams, means that Penn again will take its place in the "Big Four" football game and practically all games with western colleges, after next fall, will be eliminated. After next year there will be no Michigan-Pennsylvania football game, but instead will be substituted a Harvard-Penn game.

There are two reasons for the new rule. The most important is that Penn wishes to compete with Yale, Harvard and Princeton on the gridiron; the second because experience has taught that games with the western colleges are not a success financially and fall absolutely when it comes to claiming the championship football eleven for Penn when the hardest game of the year is with Michigan, which has not matched strength with Yale, Harvard or Princeton.

M'FARLAND TO FIGHT WELSH IN ENGLAND

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—Packer McFarland has received a bid of $4,500 from the National Sporting club of England for his fight with Freddy Welsh. Hugh McIntosh has already offered $1,500 and 25 per cent of the gross receipts. McFarland said he would accept one of the offers. In either event, the fight will take place in England.

Tigers to Meet Harvard?

A definite movement has been started by recognized authorities for a Harvard-Princeton football game in 1911, probably at Princeton. Gossip regarding such an event has been very persistent for more than a year, and it was announced recently that tentative plans have been drawn up by William F. Garcelon and J. W. Larley of Harvard, the former the athletic manager and the latter one of the athletic advisers, and William J. Roper, head coach of the Princeton team.

It is admitted that no definite understanding has been reached, principally because of absence in Europe of Head Coach P. W. Haughton of the Harvard team.

If a game is arranged it is expected that it will be played at Princeton either on November 4 or 11.

Harvard Lacrosse Schedule. The Harvard lacrosse team scheduled has been announced as follows: April 8, Springfield Training school at Cambridge; 15, Johns Hopkins at Baltimore; 19, Navy at Annapolis; 21, Army at West Point; 29, Carlisle at Cambridge; May 5, Columbia at Cambridge; 13, Hobart at Geneva, N. Y.; 15, Cornell at Cambridge.

TOY AEROPLANE BUILDING

Any boy can build a toy aeroplane which will fly faster than he can run. There is no more fascinating toy in the world than these model airships, and thousands of boys here and abroad are actually conquering the air with these craft of their own making. A variety of models may be made inexpensively and the great feats of the bird men reproduced with a remarkable realism. Already the boys in widely scattered cities have organized themselves into amateur aero clubs and flown their airships in many thrilling races and competitions.

or more of age. While there are few of these model aeroplanes for sale in the shops—and these are likely to be very expensive—a surprisingly practical model may be built with materials costing only a few pennies. Many simple and helpful directions as to how to build model airships are given in detail in the "Boys' Book of Model Aeroplanes," by Francis A. Collins. More than fifty photographs are shown of model aeroplanes actually built and flown by boys.

The material necessary for constructing a model airship is very cheap and easy to obtain. Surprisingly good models are built with dowel sticks, which cost but a cent apiece and can be bought at almost any hardware store. The wings, or planes, may be made of pieces of silk or light cloth, which any boy may borrow from the family scrap bag. A few hairpins will answer for the metal parts of the simpler forms. Boys will do well to begin by building gliders—that is, a perfect model airship without any motive power. Briefly, the wings may be made by joining the sides, made of dowel strips, to form long rectangles, the ends being tied and glued together. The covering should then be stretched tightly over its frame and glued down. These planes should then be fastened to a central axis, or backbone, in imitation of the large aeroplanes. By adding a weight to the front of the aeroplane it may be balanced so that it will glide fifty feet or more. Many of the best model aeroplanes have been made by boys, using their own designs. One of the most successful of these amateurs, Ryan Bentley of New York, who has received a gold medal and other prizes for his work, says that practically any model, if carefully made and equipped with a strong enough motor, will really fly.

The motive power is easily supplied. First a propeller about one-third the width of the planes should be cut from a piece of tin in the form of two long ellipses connected by a strip and the edges turned slightly in opposite directions. This should be mounted with a hook of wire attached to the center which turns smoothly in a block of wood attached to the rear of the central axis of the backbone. The motive power is supplied by looping a number of rubber bands over this hook and running to the extreme front of the plane. By turning the propeller about 150 times, enough energy will be stored up to turn the propeller for twelve or fifteen seconds, which should be enough to fly the model for from 100 to 200 feet. Boys will find it a very easy matter to copy the simpler forms of aeroplane, and their own ingenuity will soon enable them to devise original models of their own.

BOSTON TROT IS NEW DANCE IN EAST

The "Boston trot" is the name given to the latest dance, the rapture of London ballrooms. It was introduced by Mrs. "Billy" Carter, now known as Lady Ronalds, social dictator in London.

The Boston trot is several dances together like a combination of a two-step and a barn dance with the suggestion of a schottische thrown in, and all executed in waltz time.

Society's devotees are practicing the curious combination of steps which makes this latest dance the most difficult and at the same time the most graceful of all the ballroom dances.

It sets a ballroom full of dancers into phirling maze of skipping, prancing figures, some of whom are seemingly running, some doing the original "Boston" and still others executing a sideways hopping figure that defies description.

To describe the "Boston trot" as the freakiest dance produced is said to be putting it mildly. It is a combination of dances and all of them must go at top speed.

QUEEN OF BELGIUM. Popular Ruler Suffering From Pneumonia.

Points For Mothers. Do not fail to keep strict watch on the baby's feet. If they are allowed to get cold the little one will be surely cross and run the risk of illness, as warm feet are a symptom of health.

During the winter months use woolen stockings, or if these shrink too much there is a mixture of silk and wool which wears much better, though more costly.

When floors are drafty it is advisable to line shoes with a flannel sole pasted on the inside of shoe. Cork or rubber soles are used for children who are of walking age. This does away with the need of incessant putting on of rubbers on days that are damp.

If the child seems fretful, before scolding or feeding feed the hands and feet. If they are cold and clammy the circulation is at fault. Put the hands first under hot water, then under cold and rub briskly. Make the little one rise upon his toes if old enough; if not, bathe with the hot and cold water and rub well.

A little hot water slipped slowly from the end of a spoon will often start the circulation and prevent baby from having a bad cold.

Rubbing feet with damp salt will not only tend to warm them, but will strengthen weak ankles. This treatment is often used to overcome bowed legs.

For a tiny baby it is well to warm the feet by means of a small hot water bottle incased in a flannel bag. This wards off many a nasty attack of colic.

Nursery Furnishings. The furnishings consist of a low table and four kindergarten chairs placed where the light is best, two low, strong couches on which the children sleep at night, a large box for toys, the top of which makes a comfortable seat against the wall, and a cabinet in which are kept all kinds of kindergarten and school supplies—pencils, crayons, clay, pencils, paper, peg board, scissors, etc. On the wall hangs a large blackboard, and in the two wide doorways hang a pair of flying rings and a rope swing. A punching bag, boxing gloves, Indian clubs, etc., are in evidence, and an electric railroad system finds all the room it wants to meander around the floor at the will of our small boy.

ISAAC STEPHENSON'S POCKET IS PICKED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—If Senator Lorimer hopes to have the good will of Senator Isaac Stephenson, he had better hasten to tip the Chicago police to find the pickpocket who took the Wisconsin senator's pocketbook on his way east. Senator Stephenson was making his way through the holiday crowd at the La Salle street station with Mrs. Stephenson on his arm. There was much confusion and enough eastern passengers to warrant a second section of the eastern train running directly to Washington. When Senator Stephenson pushed his way up the steps of the Pullman a man of rough manner came down. He brushed against the Wisconsin man. Instinctively the senator's hand went down to his trouser's pocket. It came back empty. He shouted that he had been robbed, but the thief escaped in the crowd. Senator Warren of Wyoming and Representative Kuestermann of Wisconsin offered assistance, but Senator Stephenson patted another pocket with a show of affection and declined with thanks. In the lost pocketbook was about $50.

SILENCE SAVES THE NERVES, SAYS DOCTOR

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Women stand little show of curing themselves of nerves and temper, according to Dr. Enrico Serafini of Italy, who says silence is the only cure for neurasthenia and all nervous disorders. Dr. Serafini professionally supports the finding of the Rev. Samuel Lombard, who, at a congress of psycho-therapeutics, held that talk is the source of these troubles. These experts admit women talk too much.

"Nervous depression and neurasthenia are due," said Dr. Serafini, "to a tendency to talk too much. Now, 'to talk' does not mean to sound letters, but a mental effort which excites the entire nervous system.

"Persons who are not loquacious, medical records show, have always been remarkable for their good health and this silence is directly related with the first order a doctor gives his patient, that of absolute quiet. Silence is a good cure for the nerves."

Here, then, they spend their days in healthy, constructive work and play, and here they sleep at night with windows on two sides wide open and little white nightcaps on their heads to protect them from the drafts. The result has been that numerous other children of the neighborhood think our flat about the most interesting place they know of, and so our little ones always have company and are happy and contented at home, where we love to have them; also they do not annoy us, because they have so many interesting things to do that they do not find time to bother with big folks.

Given freedom, room, things, and especially companions of their own age, all children cease to be "trials" and become a blessing, as they should be.

To Give Baby.

The christening presents given to the infant of today differ much from those chosen for his grandfather or his father.

His grandfather probably had a Bible and prayer book and his father a silver mug, a knife and spoon in a case and possibly a silver egg cup or a napkin ring. But the new baby has a far wider range of offerings.

A sum of money may be invested in the infant's name or he has a banking account opened for him.

Another favorite gift is a piece of old silver expected to amass value as time goes on, and a third, if the recipient be a girl, is a chain and locket or pendant.

Other gifts are elaborate robes for the small wearer exquisitely embroidered, perambulator covers and a monogram clip for the child's minor belongings, such as his veils or bits, representing the new initials of the little one intertwined in silver.

Plenty of Sleep For the Little Ones.

In these days of hygienic living it should not be necessary to say, "Put the children to bed early," but to those who are careless about a regular bedtime for their little ones I would like to say a word of warning. Many mothers would say, "My children always go to bed early," but these same mothers allow the little ones to "sit up" on the slightest pretext—the late arrival of a guest or a little dinner party—and then wonder why the children grow pale and nervous. Plenty of sleep is absolutely necessary, says Woman's Life, if the boys and girls are to be free from nervous diseases in later life. Frequently the school work is blamed for a child's ill health when in reality the only trouble is want of regular sleep.

A Gift For a Baby.

A charming gift for a new baby is a set of washed gold safety pins. These are not the small sets connected by a chain used to fasten the little frocks, but are ordinary safeties specially gold washed for the purpose.

CAPT. DAVIDSON TO QUIT PRISON BOARD

Capt. O. C. Davidson of Iron Mountain has tendered his resignation as a member of the board of control of the branch prison at Marquette. SINGER BUILDING, NEW YORK.

A Talk with Those Who Desire to Travel But Have Lacked Opportunity

This Chance to Visit Spots Perpetuated in Song and Story is One of a Lifetime, and the Way Will be Smooth For Energetic Women.

Sit down, young lady, we want to have a straight little heart to heart talk with you. We know you like the song of the sea and you like the fields and woods and waters. You like new faces, new peoples and new customs. You have often longed for some time away from humdrum home surroundings, to get out into this broad, wonderful world of ours, out into the world of travel.

In the good old school days how often have you roamed in fancy through the sights and scenes of the different countries, or later in life, when more mature, read of the happenings in history in the states to the eastward of our own Michigan.

With what longing anticipation do we watch for the time which will mark the commencement of one's annual vacation—if we are so fortunate as to get one. How we plan and figure on the time that will be spent within a comparatively short distance of home. How eagerly we look forward to the short lake voyages of exploration among these new nearby places.

Now, The Daily Mirror has planned a splendid eighteen-day tour to the metropolis of the new world—New York, and to Bermuda—"The Land of the Lily and the Rose." The duration of each phase of this delightful trip on land and water will alternate in just the right proportion, and the joy of future anticipation will merge with the happiness of present realization.

The height of all ambitious girls is to win a trip of this kind.

You aspiring Delta County young Ladies should get busy in this contest.

VALUE OF REPETITION IN ADVERTISING.

In his attempt to win the public attention to his offerings, the merchant confronts a problem going far down into the roots of mental action. A thousand claims press themselves on public attention day by day. An impression given once or twice without much repetition is soon chased out of the field of attention by the throng of new ideas. You become acquainted with a new face and ten to one you do not recognize it on the street next day. If you do meet the face daily for a week or two, you then recognize it.

Many merchants fail to get all they might out of the money spent for advertising, because they do not know the necessity and value of persistent repetition. They make a good start with a liberal spread and large type, but the thing would have been more effective could the same money have been split up into a smaller and more regular advertisement, in which new ideas could be placed in the space and changed every few days. Where such an advertisement is repeated day after day people become interested in the way it is written, in the story of business enterprise that is told here. They turn to it with pleasure, just as you turn with satisfaction to a familiar face on the street. Even if a reader does not recall a thing you have said in your advertising the effect remains. If day after day you have seen a certain man's advertisement, you gain a distinct impression, even if nothing else, that the man is awake, that he is reaching out for new business, that he is enterprising.

When people start out to make a certain purchase they often go directly to some store where they have read of a certain bargain being offered, otherwise they usually follow certain vague impressions existing in their minds as to which dealers are the most enterprising. They see a merchant's advertisement in the newspaper a dozen times for every once they look in his store window. Hence, the impression created by advertising is much greater than that derived from a conspicuous location in a large sized store or attractive show window.

Hold up men went through a Southern Pacific train in Utah, but as the California hotels would have had all the money in a week by similar methods, it's about even up.

Now that the Congressmen are at it again, we regard it as their painful duty to get out of bed by at least 10 a. m., so as to put through some days' work.

Governor Dix of New York says economy, but he can hardly bring it about, any more than other fashions of the dark ages.

It looked at one time as if the aviators would soon be living among the millionaires, but they seem to prefer the more restricted quarters of cemetery lots.

A singular manner of saying Happy New Year is common with many people, with their Jan. 1 summons to pay for the dead horses of 1910.

They have a new telephone discovery that enables ten conversations to be carried on at once, but it will hardly become popular out along the cross roads, unless you can also hear them all simultaneously.

The big lumbermen of the peninsula, who by the way, own practically all of the uncultivated land of the peninsula, are discussing the feasibility of placing "no trespass" signs on their holdings, thereby preventing hunters from going on said lands. If the parties are found hunting on the lands they will be ordered off, and if they do not go they will be arrested. The reason for this action is the fact that cruisers will not work in the woods during the hunting season owing to the danger of being killed by careless gun toters. The idea is a good one and if enforced, will do more toward preserving deer than all the legislation on earth, says the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune.

The Panama libel case is lost. It is not always desirable to gag people even if they do say bad words sometimes.

Gallagher, who shot Mayor Gaynor, and goes to prison 12 years, is declared sane. The insanity plea is getting worked, and intending murderers may some day be required to secure their lunacy certificates in advance.

The London anarchists perhaps enjoy being martyrs more than they would the servile bondage of doing a day's work.

Queer contradictions in education. Half of the West Virginia college girls have to take spelling lessons, while college boys in science and art are put up to the primary classes in common schools.

It is somewhat difficult to tell whether the sound of cackling in the air comes from a poultry show or the meeting of the sewing society.

The government gets $40,000 each for rebating by the Reading road and other corporations, but as it will take twice this for a public building at Lonsomehurst, we shall not see any of the money.

TRICKS IN CATCHING BASE-RUNNERS

Pitcher Ed Walsh.

Catching runners off first base is an art few pitchers have developed. Jimmy Collins, at one time the greatest third baseman in the game, is an authority on baseball. He says in discussing the art of nailing runners: "Ed Walsh of the Chicago White Sox," says Collins, "is the hardest pitcher I have ever played against when it comes to getting a lead off first. Let me tell you right now that Walsh has the most baffling motion of any pitcher in the country, bar none. I, myself, think it is a clear case of balk when Walsh winds up and then slaps the ball over to first. But no umpires have called him for it, except in one or two cases, where the offense was palpable. "There are only a few runners, men like Eddie Collins and Ty Cobb, who dare to take more than a couple of feet lead off first when Walsh is in the box. They depend on excessive speed to beat the ball to first, but sometimes even they are fooled. You never can tell what Walsh is going to do until you actually see the batsman swing at the ball. Then you know that Walsh has pitched to the plate. "Next to Walsh I place that crafty Indian, Bender of the champion Athletics. You simply have to keep your eyes on Bender all the time while you are loafing around first base or he will outguess you. For that matter, he often outwits you even when you are watching him. I think that's one of the reasons Bender has developed into a leading pitcher.

ASCOT PARK UNDER THE BAN

HIS $9,000,000 DUE TO WIFE'S COURAGE
Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—Joseph C. Trees, head of an oil company, which has sold his Louisiana oil holdings for $9,000,000, declared all his success was due to his wife. He then unfolded the story of the spirit and foresight of his wife when she, fourteen years ago, insisted he go on groping for oil, assuring him that he was certain to make a success. According to Trees' own statement he had drilled eight wells, all of them dry, and had decided to work as a laborer for the rest of his life, as it would take him all time to pay the debts he had incurred in sinking the eight dry holes, but his wife would not let him give up. His next attempt resulted in a "strike."

KERMIS NOTES.

Tickets are now on sale by an enthusiastic group of children. A reward is to be given to the child who makes the best showing and each child is eager for the honor.

Two hundred and thirty seven will take part in this entertainment. The directors are greatly pleased with the progress that is being made daily and predict that this Kermis will be a banner one.

The dates of the Kermis as will be noted in "dates ahead" are Jan. 19, 20 and 21st. The performance of the 21st will be a matinee. All children will be admitted for 25c, adults 50c. This matinee will be arranged especially to please the children, but may be counted on to please an adult audience also.

The Irish octette are doing well in their number. And if any one thinks that no one but an Irishman can put on an Irish act let them come and see a few Irish and Germans working together in this one.

The Japanese dance is one of the pretty numbers of the Kermis. Many handsome costumes will be worn in this number, and the many participants make it one of the novel features of the entertainment.

From the clatter of wooden shoes heard in the opening march at the last rehearsal, one would have thought that all Holland had arrived in Escanaba. Half of the noise was made by George Wright, a Welch-Dutchman, who shines in this, which bids fair to be the most popular number of the Kermis.

The Indians have raided every store on Ludington street looking for Indian "togs." One merchant asked if this were to be an Indian medicine show or a Kermis. Take our word for it, it's a Kermis and a fine one, with a tribe of real Chippewas and many other interesting and entertaining features.

Miss Ruby MacDonald is the champion of the Swedish dance, and it is an event of which any one would be glad to be a patroness. The children do their dance in a most charming way. They would be ready to go on the stage of the Peterson today and take their parts before a large audience.

The Kermis is an event held in many of the countries of the world, Kermesse or Kermis are from the Dutch and Flemish, Kermis or Kermis are from the German being Kirmess or Kirchmess from kirk (church) and mess (mass). These fairs were held in Holland, France, Germany, Russia, Poland and many other countries.

Notes of the Kermis will appear from time to time in The Mirror. There are many happenings each day that will be of interest to the public.

THEATRICAL

THE GRAND—Escanaba's theater beautiful was taxed to capacity last evening and if applause counts for anything the audience were pleased with this week's vaudeville. Dobs & Borel open the show in a neat classy singing act. They do not tell funny stories or act ridiculous, but depend entirely on their ability as singers to get by and all music lovers will certainly appreciate the quality and rare execution of these clever entertainers. Sergeant Mears is next on the bill; and he certainly is a novel entertainer. His work on the bugle is very clever, his imitations being excellent. There is but one criticism to make. Sergeant Mears appears to be inclined to "jolly" much with the audience. His act, which is high class, would be better appreciated if he cut out that feature of it. The moving pictures are out of the ordinary and unusually good.

THE PETERSON—Whether you come prepared to laugh or whether you come undecided, will make no difference after you get to the Peterson and see "Baby Mine," which will be the offering at that theater next Thursday night. The one result of an evening spent in watching "Baby Mine" is one long, lingering laugh, as one play reviewer said when he saw the farce in New York. It is still playing at Daly's theater, but the company that is there is not the original company. The original company is the one that comes to the Peterson. It is the organization that caused Chicago to chortle over its fun-making possibilities during the past summer, and two theaters were needed to keep the supply of performances up to the demand. The two theaters were the Princess, where the engagement started, and the Garrick, the theater where it was continued.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY—AN APPRECIATION.

L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good I derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney troubles. Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." Sold by all druggists.

ALMOST A THAW; COLD WAVE COMING

Following the cold and stormy weather of the past week or two there was a very perceptible rise in temperature and correspondingly fine weather today. In fact, so moderate was the temperature that there was almost a thaw. The temperature at eight o'clock this morning was 27 degrees above zero; at 10 o'clock 32, and at noon, 34. Our season of beautiful weather is to be brief, however, if the predictions issued by the weather man are verified. He forecasts "snow and colder tonight and Wednesday; much colder Wednesday with cold wave; brisk to high shifting winds, becoming northwest."
