STATE SENATE BUCKS OSBORN

With One Exception It Turns Down His Nominations and Confirms Those Made by Mr. Warner During Legislative Recess-- Osborn Issues a Statement.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 13.—The senate yesterday afternoon gave Governor Osborn a direct slap when in executive session it confirmed, with one exception, the recess appointments of ex-Governor Warner. The only Warner man to fall was Dr. George E. Potter of Detroit for member of the Detroit board of health. Dr. J. B. Kennedy of Detroit, the Osborn nominee, was confirmed.

Senator Moriarity and Fowle were with Osborn to the end. Senator James of Hancock voted for Richard Fletcher against Perry F. Powers of Cadillac. Fletcher was confirmed by the vote of seventeen to fourteen. Dr. E. A. Honey of Kalamazoo received the largest vote—24 to 5. George Harrington's vote was 20 to 3, and Dickinson's 19 to 12. Two senators were excused late in the session.

Governor Issues a Statement.

Concerning the action of the senate in turning down his nominations in favor of ex-Governor Warner's, Governor Osborn last night made the following statement:

"This is not a time to become ill-tempered. I do not expect to be able to accomplish the impossible. It was my hope that all the senators would feel their direct and special obligation to the people. The people of Michigan, irrespective of party, desire a clean, efficient and economical administration of state affairs, and the controlling party has pledged this. The senate has tied my hands in important directions and has embarrassed me, but I am still hopeful of carrying out measures that will be fruitful in good results.

He Is Not Discouraged.

"I shall not cherish a desire to punish those whom I consider recreant in the senate, but will continue to energetically oppose their animus which is so manifestly in discord with the expression of the people of Michigan at the polls. These early handicaps neither discourage nor dissuade me. I shall leave the entire matter with the people, confident that they will understand the motives and actions of those who have laid unnecessary obstacles in my pathway. To those senators who have been true to their delegated responsibilities, I am most grateful, and I am sure the public will remember them in keen appreciation.

Power, But No Right.

"I shall work with the senate when I can for the welfare and improvement of state affairs, and when I cannot have the support or concordance of the senate in doing what I consider necessary and right, I shall do the best I can without it. No executive can accomplish his maximum hopes unless every department is in sympathy and harmony with him. The possibility of this has been destroyed for the present. The senate has the power, but not the right to do this."

SNOW IS BEING HAULED AWAY

Street Commissioner Holmes put a lot of the snow which has fallen this morning clearing Ludington street of the snow that has fallen in the last ten days. There seemed nothing else to do but to haul it away and work was started this morning. Ordinarily the spreader attached to the street railway snow plow keeps the street in pretty good condition in the winter, but so much snow has fallen that it had become unsafe to drive on the main street. It will take several days to get rid of the surplus.

ICE COMPANIES PREPARING TO CUT

Escanaba ice companies have not yet begun to harvest their ice crop, but it is likely they will begin cutting within a week or so. The S. M. Johnson Ice company is planning to begin cutting sometime next week and Mr. Johnson is now in Chicago ordering a new outfit of modern ice cutting machinery. The Flat Ice company has not yet decided just when it will begin cutting, but will get busy just as soon as the ice acquires the desired thickness of from 14 to 17 inches. The Escanaba Brewing company has already begun to put up its supply for next year, cutting ice off the south shore.

How about your sidewalk today? With an effort The Mirror is able to refrain from suggesting that it is the proper place to show your sand, but don't you think it would be more serviceable as a walk than as a skating rink.

To Our Readers.

Saturday morning the work of moving THE MIRROR from its present quarters to the new location at 713 Ludington Street will commence. We will get the paper out early tomorrow and expect to be able to get the Monday issue of the paper out from the new quarters. After we are settled in the new location we will be in much better shape to handle the news and THE MIRROR will be better than ever.

Although situated in an out-of-the-way locality for the last 12 years, The Mirror has enjoyed an excellent patronage and would not move now only that it is necessary to have more room to take care of our ever increasing business.

CONTEST LIST IS NOW SHOWN

And It is Not Surprising that a Great Amount of Interest is Revealed in All Sections of County, As These Trips are to be the Finest Ever--The Details.

PLAN TO SETTLE ON FRUIT FARM

Escanaba friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. Kiedaisch, formerly of this city, will be interested in the announcement that they have given up their residence at Oshkosh, Wis., and gone to the Pacific coast, planning to visit the fruit growing localities of southern Oregon and northern California, with a view to settling on a fruit farm. Their furniture will remain stored in Oshkosh until they have decided upon a location. Mr. Kiedaisch, formerly manager of Ben's Theater in this city, was a member of a German opera company whose manager ran away with all the money while the actors were in Oshkosh last fall. The Kiedaisch home was thrown open to the stranded members of the company and largely through the efforts of the former Escanaba man a new company was formed and put on the road for the benefit of the players.

It is no wonder that a widespread interest has been aroused by the announcements in The Daily Mirror that four women are to be sent from Escanaba and vicinity to the beautiful Bermuda Islands, which are fast becoming one of the most famous all-the-year resorts that has been known in the world.

Even at this early moment, with the contest scarcely started, a number of acceptances have been received from young women who recognize that by a little hustling around they can get hold of those fine trips. It should not be at all irksome for the ambitious ones to get after the present takers of The Daily Mirror to secure their renewals in advance, or to seek out the great number of homes to which this paper is not yet a daily visitor. For the latter, double the number of votes are allowed, you know.

Would Be Very Glad.

Of course, there are hundreds of young women in this city, county and the surrounding towns who would be very glad to go just now on that tour of New York city and the Bermudas were it possible for them to have it without the exercise of any effort on their part. "To the victors belong the spoils," you know, and the chances are that those people who are not ready to demonstrate that they can be victors in a friendly competition of this kind would not appreciate the educational value of the trips. So, why not grant the anxious and appreciative ones the opportunity they crave of using their spare time to such good advantage? These are they who will make up the membership of The Daily Mirror's party that is going to leave this city for New York city and Bermuda, and which will come back benefited as much by reason of having come in contact with educated folks from all over the world who are constantly on the go in quest of new sights and scenes to satisfy the mind.

Each candidate for the tours offered by this paper will have an equal chance, as the votes that will add to her score can only be secured from bona fide subscriptions of either three months, six months, one year or two years, paid in advance. Knowing this, each contestant can enter heartily into the competition for the trip from her district, with full knowledge that her interests will be safeguarded just as though she had supervision of the records.

REMAINS OF PRIEST NOW LIE IN STATE

Those Who Desire to Take Their Last Look at the Features of the Late Rev. Father Langan May Now Do So—Funeral Monday to Be Most Impressive.

Surrounded and guarded by representatives of societies of which he was an esteemed member and chaplain, the remains of the late Rev. Father Joseph M. Langan are now lying in state in St. Patrick's church. They were placed there this afternoon and will remain there until Monday evening, with the exception of the time Sunday when the regular services in the church are held. During the progress of the masses on Sunday the body will repose in the parsonage.

Preparations for the funeral next Monday morning are steadily going forward and the indications are that the obsequies will be among the most largely attended and most impressive ever held in Escanaba. Priests and friends of the deceased from all parts of the Marquette diocese are coming to attend the funeral and to pay their last tribute of respect to one whom they had so well known and loved in life.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Eis of Marquette and Most Rev. Monsignor Langer of Negaunee will be among the prelates present and it is probable that Monsignor Langer will be chief celebrant of the funeral mass, his assistants being various priests of the diocese. Bishop Eis and Monsignor Langer are expected to arrive in the city Sunday night.

From Ishpeming a special train is to be run Monday morning for the convenience of those in Marquette county who desire to come here to attend the funeral. Before coming here Father Langan was pastor of the church of St. John the Evangelist at Ishpeming and prior to taking that charge was for several years connected with the cathedral at Marquette. He was very well known and had a host of friends in Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee, and it is expected that many of them will journey to Escanaba to pay their last tribute of respect to his memory.

Monday night the body of Father Langan will be shipped to Minneapolis for burial. It will be accompanied by those of his relatives now here and perhaps representatives of Catholic bodies affiliated with St. Patrick's church.

PEARY IS SURE TO BE REWARDED

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—The Bates bill providing for the elevation of Robert E. Peary to the rank of rear admiral was reported favorably in the house today by the committee on naval affairs.

MASON CANDIDATE FOR COMMANDER

Officers of the Escanaba division of the Second Battalion of the Michigan Naval Reserves have received notice that an election will be held at the Douglas house, Houghton, on January 31 for the purpose of choosing a successor to Commander Goodell of the steamer Yantic, whose term has expired and who is not seeking reelection. Lieut. C. D. Mason of the Escanaba division is mentioned as a candidate for the position and his election is not at all improbable, it is stated. It is expected that most of the officers of the Escanaba division will attend the meeting at Houghton and vote at the election.

BANQUET FOLLOWS AN INSTALLATION

Wednesday afternoon Iron Empress division No. 56, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, held its installation of new officers and following this a banquet was served. Besides the members of the division a number of Gladstone ladies were present to enjoy the festivities. Deputy Frances Valentine acted as installing officer and the officers installed were: President—Viola Greene. Vice-President—Mary Traude. Secretary-Treasurer—Alice Roland. Senior Sister—Mamie Alken. Junior Sister—Anna Heinze. Executive committee—Frances Valentine, chairman; Mamie Byers and Caroline Brassaw. Press Correspondent—Caroline Brassaw. Insurance Secretary—Frances Valentine. ## DR. H. B. REYNOLDS HEADS LOCAL BANK

At a meeting of the directors of the State Savings bank of Escanaba, held Thursday afternoon, the following officers of the bank were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. H. B. Reynolds; vice president, E. M. St. Jacques; cashier, H. H. Allyn; assistant cashier, E. O. Perron. Dr. Reynolds has served the bank several years as vice president and was elected to succeed A. R. Moore as president. M. St. Jacques, who succeeds Dr. Reynolds as vice president, has been a director of the bank ever since its establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cleary have returned from Beloit, Wis., where they went several days ago to attend the funeral of relatives of Mrs. Cleary.

"BABY MINE" CO. MAY SUE RAILROAD

Company is Unable to Fill Its Booking at Calumet Because the South Shore Road Did Not Get Its Baggage to That Place in Time—Story of the Incident.

According to the Hancock Copper Journal, the "Baby Mine" company, which played at the Peterson Opera house in this city Thursday evening, may pit itself in the courts with the Duluth, South & Atlantic Railway company, in a suit for the recovery of the alleged loss caused the troupe through its inability to fill its booking at Calumet Monday night, when, it is said, the stage effects and furniture of the show were stalled at a junction down the road. It was possible, according to the opinion of the head of the company, to haul the car through. Concerning the matter the Copper Journal says:

The "Baby Mine" people were slated to leave Ashland on Sunday for Calumet, where they were billed to play Monday evening. The train, with both the "Baby Mine" and "The Gen- (Continued on Page Six.)

OLD OFFICERS OF BANK REELECTED

Thursday the board of directors elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank of Escanaba held a meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year, with the result that all of the old officers were reelected. These are: President, F. H. Van Cleve; vice president, C. C. Royce, cashier, Leslie French; assistant cashier, E. G. Boyce.

FOUR ARE KILLED AND MANY INJURED

(By Associated Press.)
Batavia, N. Y., Jan. 13.—In a collision between passenger trains on the New York Central railroad here today four or more people were killed and eighteen seriously injured, some perhaps fatally.

According to Division Superintendent Everitt, the cause of the wreck was a disregard of signals by the engineer on the westbound express train. The bodies of those killed were so badly mutilated that identification is impossible.

Henry Abenstein today received a telegram from Rev. Father Henry Buchholz of Ironwood stating that the latter and Rev. Father Frank X. Barth, who had gone to Denver, Colo., to visit a sick priest, had received the sad news of the death of Rev. Father Langan and that they would be here to attend the funeral.

OSBORN TURNS DOWN BANQUET INVITATION

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 13.—Governor Osborn has been invited to attend a banquet in South Bend, but has declined the invitation, announcing that it will be his policy not to leave the state except if it is absolutely necessary during his term. He will get out among his constituents as much as possible, but will not accept invitations to functions outside the state.

NORTHERN NORMAL ASKS FOR $150,000

Among the appropriations that the legislature now in session has been asked to make is one of $150,000 for the construction of a new building at the Northern State Normal school, to be erected between and joining to the two wings already built and in use, known as Longyear Hall and Science Hall. The Normal school board has asked for this appropriation of several previous legislatures, only to be turned down, but the outlook this year seems to be more promising.

PASSES BILL GIVING ANNUITIES TO TARS

Washington, Jan. 13.—In the hope of inducing petty officers and enlisted men to continue longer in the navy and marine corps than they do now, the senate has passed a bill providing for their retirement with pay. The bill gives two fifths of the active duty pay upon retirement after sixteen years of service three-fifths after twenty years and three-fourths after twenty-five years. It is estimated that the total annual cost would be $369,362. The bill, which is strongly urged by the navy department, now goes to the house.

A BRICKLAYER BISHOP.

Dr. McIntyre of St. Paul a Union Member in Good Standing.

"I believe in trade unions," said Bishop Robert McIntyre of St. Paul during a recent interview in New York. Bishop McIntyre is one of the strong men of the Methodist Episcopal church. In St. Paul they call him "the fighting Scotchman," because he attacks sin wherever it shows its head. He had been asked what in his opinion was the strongest power for good—the labor union could exert in a time of strike.

"Christian charity and brotherly love," he replied, with a smile. "It is the strongest force in the world. It will do more to win battles, bring about justice and strengthen the arm of right than any other influence in the world."

"The labor unions are coming to see that more battles are won by moral force, accompanied by manly assertion of rights and righteousness, than were ever won in any other way. I am proud to say I am a member in good standing of Masons and Bricklayers' union No. 1 of St. Paul. I urge our ministers to join the unions, to work with them for the improvement of the race through the bettering of the condition of the workmen and working women and children."

"A country's prosperity depends upon the sterling character of its producing classes. Upon the moral health of the masses depends the happiness and prosperity of all the people. I urge our clergymen not only to join the unions, but to march with them in their parades, to use the talents that God has given them in the way of intellect and brains to the advantage of the unions and the working people, to be their orators, their spiritual advisers, their comforters in times of trial, of worry, of hardship."

"We are all wage earners. All the women in the world are our sisters; all the men in the world are our brothers. We are all, black and white, red, brown and yellow, his children. It is something to be proud of to be a wage earner. You will remember that the head of the church was a wage earner, and the only title that he had that he claimed among men was that of shepherd. In his youth he was a carpenter."

"It is one of the sorrows of the age that the workmen have been dropping away from the church, and the church is to blame for it. Can any one expect the workmen to follow the church blindly, expecting something that it does not give? It is the duty of the church to make the working classes feel that they have in the church a firm friend. Then we shall see the workmen coming back to it for comfort and for worship."

LABOR IN AUSTRIA.

Trade Unions Win Many Victories. Fewer Strikes Reported.

The report of the ministry of commerce for 1900 indicates that there is a steady decrease in the number of strikes in Austria. There was a total of 580 in 1900 compared with 721 in 1908. On an average each strike lasted fifteen days. More than half the strikes were due to demands for higher wages, and one-fifth of them were for shorter hours. The workers were entirely successful in getting increased pay in seventy-one strikes. They were partly successful in 178, and they failed in 120.

Disputes regarding labor organizations and recognition of the representatives of labor caused eighty-one strikes. They resulted in victory for labor in thirty-six cases, partial victory in two and defeat in forty-six. The wage increases obtained varied from 2 to 55 per cent and the shorter hours fixed for a day's work from five minutes to two hours.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Henry Bower, Traverse City, Mich., says, "Since the first of the year I have been a very sick man. Have spent a lot of money in doctoring, have bought various kidney medicines and used them but to no effect. Foley Kidney Pills were brought to my notice through a friend and I decided to try them. After using them a short time I was greatly relieved and can honestly say that they did me a world of good." Sold by all druggists.

Art Calendars For 1912

Reserve your calendar order for us. Our 1912 line is now ready to show, and our representative will call on Escanaba merchants in a few days with samples.

The line consists of a big assortment of imported embossed panels, cut outs, tissue novelties, hangers and wall pockets and domestic mat board mountings hangers, etc., etc.

The entire line is twice or three time as large as outside agents are able to carry and in most cases our prices are lower. We do the printing on the calendars just before delivering them, so that should a merchant change locations after giving his order, we will be able to print his correct address in the card.

The Mirror distributes many hundreds of dollars every year in salaries, all of which is circulated in the city of Escanaba. The outside calendar man spends a couple of dollars here, gets all the money he can, all of which is spent to help build up other communities.

THE MERCHANT'S PROBLEM IN JANUARY.

Advertising in January is as economical as the proverbial stitch in time. A very moderate cut in values or emphasis on attractive leaders, will bring the buyers to your store. They will purchase with freedom, feeling that winter styles and fabrics are good for a couple of months or more, says the Saginaw Courier-Herald.

If you delay your special sales until February and March, you meet the objection that it is then too near the time for spring goods. Consequently the merchant must pay heavily at that time to clear his shelves of old stock. The public will demand lower prices as compensation for the probability of style changes, and for taking goods off your hands at an unseasonable time.

A dollar spent in advertising now saves several dollars lost in deep price cuts later. The average housewife understands this situation. Hence she searches the newspaper advertising very carefully just now. By so doing she is continually asking the merchant what he has to offer her today. A failure to advertise adequately is to remain silent when your customers are putting these questions, ready to look and listen if you have interesting offers to make.

AGITATING A "TRI-STATE" FAIR.

Minnesota people are agitating a project for a "tri-state" fair to boom the agricultural possibilities of the northern portion of the Gopher state and of Upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin. The scheme is endorsed by the press of Minnesota, but it least so far it has been received rather luke-warmly in the upper peninsula. Stating the sentiment in its state the Grand Rapids, Minn., Herald Review, which is published by a former Marquette man, prints the following:

"It's a good thing. It will accomplish much for the northern country. The tri-state fair and exposition would advertise northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan to an extent that could not be reached by any other method. Northern Minnesota needs publicity. It has much to offer those who are seeking new homes, but in order to attract desirable settlers the advantages to be had here must be made known in a convincing manner. The tri-state fair and exposition would serve as a great factor in bringing about the desired results. In brief, the plan is this: An annual fair and exposition to be jointly held by the northern half of Minnesota, north Wisconsin and north Michigan for the purpose of making known to the country at large the rich resources of the northern parts of these three states. The movement had its origin in Superior and that city is ready to donate a suitable site and much more to make the undertaking a success."

Two New Year's Resolutions

By A. N. JONES
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Jack Carmody couldn't meet a girl without making love to her, to the terror of his father and mother, who were always in dread that he would marry some one far beneath his social status. Jack woke up one New Year's morning, and the first words he said were these:

"I solemnly resolve on this first day of the new year not to pay the slightest attention to any girl for the whole twelve months. But," here comes a saving clause, "if I do pay any attention to any girl it will be only such person as my mother shall approve."

How pleasant one feels upon making a resolution! It seems as if all past weaknesses are dead and buried and a new pure life has opened up before the resolver. Jack had especial reasons to feel thus, for the night before he had seen the old year out with a party none of whom would have been admitted to his paternal domicile. One of them, a girl with whom he had been training for months, Moll Dugan, had been lying in wait for him and during the festivities had induced another girl to suggest a wedding with Moll as the bride and Jack Carmody as the groom. Having imbibed more than was good for him, he consented, but was saved by a friend, who put him into a closet and locked the door.

It was the serious contemplation of this escape that led Jack, waking up at 11 o'clock on New Year's morning, to make the resolve mentioned.

To one who makes a resolution with a saving clause, the moment temptation comes the clause looms up splendidly. Jack found it dull associating only with men, so he looked about him for some nice girl of his own class with whom he might pass an occasional idle hour. Miss Gwendolin Kingsbury was a very ladylike young woman to whom Jack's mother had introduced him, trusting that the two might make a match. It made very little difference to Jack who was the girl, and he became—much to his mother's joy—quite devoted to Miss Kingsbury. But just as Mrs. Carmody was congratulating herself that her son was about to close the deal with her favorite her husband took it into his head to buy a ranch. Thereupon Jack announced his determination to go west and become a ranchman.

Mrs. Carmody was in despair, and Miss Kingsbury was both miffed and disappointed. But Jack comforted his mother by reminding her of his resolution not to devote himself to any girl of whom she would not approve and to return before the end of the year and "fix it up" with Gwendolin. "You see, mother," he said, "where a man thinks of marrying a girl he should be sure she is going to be constant. If Gwen is fancy free, I except for me, when I come back I'll lead her to the altar and you can give us a bang-up wedding."

Jack had no sooner got settled as a ranchman than, centering along a road, he met a little greaser girl centering in an opposite direction. She was about sixteen years old and pretty. When she came to be twenty-five she would probably be a hag, but beauty is not what it will be, but what it is. Her costume was tawdry, but calculated to catch an eye that had begun already to miss seeing feminine apparel. Jack doffed his hat and joined the greaser girl.

Unfortunately or fortunately, as the case may be, the greaser girl had a greaser lover. Nevertheless month by month Jack became more and more enraptured with her, and the greaser lover became more and more dangerous so far as Jack was concerned. The girl was really true to the man of her own class, but her parents did not propose that she should throw away the chance of a lifetime and insisted that she should throw over the man of her choice for a gentleman and a fortune.

In November Jack wrote a letter of twelve pages to his mother, stating that he was about to marry the daughter of a Spanish grandee and explaining in detail why the match was a very advantageous one for him. The missive threw his mother into a fever, but she wisely said nothing about the matter to Miss Kingsbury.

The next letter Mrs. Carmody received from her son stated that the match with the Spanish girl was off and he would be at home by the end of the year.

Something had intervened. It was this: One morning the greaser lover met Jack riding with the "daughter of the Spanish grandee." Love and jealousy long pent up burst their bounds, and the greaser opened fire on Jack. Jack drew and wounded the greaser, whereupon the girl pulled a pistol from her holster and opened fire on Jack. In the scuffle all three were wounded, though none of them dangerously. Since the girl preferred the greaser Jack was disentranced. Jack arrived at home on New Year's eve, went to bed at 10 o'clock and woke up the next morning at 7. His arm was in a sling and a scalp wound was bandaged. He made the following resolution:

"I solemnly resolve that I will today propose to Gwendolin Kingsbury and that if she accepts me I will ask mother to lock me up till we are married."

He kept the first part of this resolution, and since his mother watched him carefully till the wedding the second was not necessary.

THE QUEEREST EVER.

A Muff That You'd Probably Not Recognize if You Met It.

THE LATEST FREAK MUFF.

The rug muff came, saw, conquered and has passed from fashionable interest, and in its place there arrived the barrel shape, which is new this season. But the very, very latest is the shape pictured, which might as well be a laundry bag or a shoulder scarf held carelessly in the hand as a really truly muff.

The pelts used are white fox on the inside and black skin of the same kind on the outside. The ends of the wide long pieces of fur politely called a muff are held together with a looped bow of black velvet ribbon.

Fetching Boxes For Gifts.

One girl who has more minutes than money is making attractive boxes to send away her Christmas presents in. While she undertook the manufacture of her own boxes primarily as a means of saving the money that it would take to buy them, she wouldn't revert to the ready-made kind now if she could, for her own are so much daintier and more original.

She makes them any size she wishes by cutting the sides from pieces of cardboard and covering them with the remnants of old bedroom wall paper which her attic holds. The sides are then laced together with gold cord or penny baby ribbon.

A similar way would be to cover ordinary pasteboard boxes that happened to be of suitable size with the flowered paper. The lid should be punched with a couple of holes, so that a ribbon could be put through and tied in a smart bow either with or without a sprig of holly.

Was Eve the First to Speak?

"Who spoke first—Adam or Eve?" This question is up for debate before a woman's club in Boston. "What language did she use?" This is another poser the learned females of the Hub have set themselves to decide. Recently at a feminine gathering in Washington the honor of being the first to utter human language was awarded to Eve. The subject was a favorite one with the metaphysicians of the middle ages, and such an austere and philosophical writer as Dante has a long and learned essay on the subject. Dante, who had wide experience in matters feminine, seems to believe that Eve first uttered the language, though he does not commit himself as to which tongue the first mother made known her thoughts to Adam. This question opens a wide vista for the suffragists.

For Bitter Medicines.

Nauseous medicine has been ere now disguised in fruit and jelly, covered with sugar, drowned in wine and coffee, but it remained for a western woman to discover the taking of cream as an alleviation of the bitter taste. She says a spoonful of cream in the mouth before and after taking makes the worst medicine harmless. Certainly it is worth trying, though whether the effect will wear away for the habitual taker deponent saith not.

A Present to Make.

A New York girl is making Christmas gifts for some of her friends that will be sure to please. They are telephone book covers of leather or heavy linen which just fit the books. The telephone book is certainly not of itself a thing of beauty, but slipped into its artistic cover, which harmonizes with the hangings of the room, it becomes quite as pleasing to the eye as it is a convenience in the day's activities.

THEATRICAL

THE PETERSON.—More impossible situations to the square inch than have been found in any other farce comedy presented at the Peterson during the past two seasons marked "Baby Mine," played to a comparatively small audience by a capable company last night. The farce handles a delicate subject none too delicately, and indicates that its authoress, Margaret Mayo, has fallen under the influence of the French school of playwriting, which embodies an amount of risqueness not altogether relished by the average American audience.

The proof of a farce, however, is its fun and laugh-producing effectiveness. In this respect there is nothing lacking and "Baby Mine" as produced last night was a complete success, making the audience laugh uproariously for two hours, paroxysms of laughter following each other in continuous waves from the first rising of the curtain to the final going down of the same.

Miss Consuelo Bailey, who impersonated the role of Zoie, the wife who foists three stolen infants on her unsuspecting husband as his own, gave an exceedingly clever and pleasing interpretation of the part and showed extraordinary agility in vaulting over the end of the bed and assuming a graceful appearance among the pillows at each appearance of her husband, to whom she must appear as an invalid. Her gymnastics and facial acrobatics were funny, but were rather overworked as the scenes progressed, although the audience did not appear to tire of her. George Probert was very amusing in the role of the proud and happy father. Earle Mitchell was fairly acceptable in the comical role of Jimmy, on whom devolves all the work and troubles of securing the infants and who is in reality the "goat." Miss Natalie Perry, as Aggie, Jimmy's wife, acts capably in what is less competent hands might be a dull part. Miss Glida Varesi as the Italian mother offered an excellent bit of character drawing, as did Richard Collins as the Irish father. Harry Davies presented that rarity, a stage policeman who seemed to be a real policeman. The minor characters were in capable hands and the play was well mounted and costumed.

THE PETERSON.—It required but two rehearsals of "The Genius" to convince Mort H. Singer that he had chosen another success for his favorite star, Mr. Henry Woodruff, who will have the part of "Jack Spencer" in the new song comedy by William and Cecil DeMille, which will be the society event of the season here. The young producer is much inspired with the play, the music, the cast and the chorus, consequently he is confident it will be a more emphatic success than "The Prince of To-Night" the play Mr. Woodruff was featured in last season. "The Genius" will be produced at the Peterson theater this (Friday) evening.

THE AMERICAN BOY SCOUTS.

Ready, Always Ready!

If every one adopted a motto as good as that adopted by the boy scouts the world would be a happier place. "Be Prepared" are the words and sign under which the youthful soldiers go forth to conquer. The boys are taught the dignity of labor and the value of its fruits. They are taught to be honorable in their dealings with each other and the world at large. They are taught to live right, think right, act right and be "prepared always" for any emergency, even to the facing of death in the cause of humanity. The work is made attractive to the boys first by giving them a military training and teaching them the necessity of obeying orders. It takes them into the open air, where they learn nature as it exists in the fields and woods.

Boy Scouts in Paper Chase.

It was a good old fashioned hare and hounds chase for the boy scouts of the Fourth Pennsylvania troop that took place a few days ago. Dwellers on the outskirts of the city saw the sprightly youngsters searching for the mysterious chalk marks on the sidewalks; the dwellers in the open country watched the ruddy faced lads scrambling over their hedges and stone walls, down their embankments and through their cornfields, hot on the scent of the paper scrap trail.

Fifty neat little chaps in heavy shoes and sweaters faced their starter, George D. Porter, scout commissioner of Philadelphia and scout master of their troop. There were Panthers and Buffaloes, Silver Foxes and Wolves, Black Bears and Lions on hand for the chase. The lions were the smallest boys in the menagerie. It was rough going as a general thing. The hares didn't intend to be caught, and they tried their chasers a pretty chase. Even at that, the kill came near taking place before the finish mark was crossed. The distance was three miles, and the hares finished two minutes ahead of the fastest hounds. Every boy was in at the finish.

An English Boy Scout Field Day.

At a recent field day of the public schools at Saverneke forest, England, the Winteland army (Winchester and Wellington cadets) met the Khakiland army (Bradford and Marlborough cadets) in mimic battle. The picture herewith shows the Khakiland army attacking the Winteland troop in thick undergrowth in the forest. American boy scouts will note that the young English scouts wear caps instead of the cowboy hats that are worn by the boy scouts of this country.

Boy Scouts in Factory.

The organization of patrols of the Boy Scouts of America, which heretofore has been practically confined to associations, clubs and churches, is now to extend into at least one Newark factory, the plant of the Whitehead & Hoag company.

The directors of this concern are so impressed with the boy scout movement that they have taken steps toward forming patrols among all boys between fourteen and eighteen years of age in their employ. It is believed this is the first time that the movement has been taken up by any manufacturing concern in this country.

Boy Scouts Celebrate.
Philadelphia boy scouts under the leadership of George D. Potter, scout commissioner of Philadelphia, celebrated the anniversary of Daniel Boone's birth by a field day.

Troop No. 7 of the organization went into scout camp at a spot in the woods four miles below Marlton, N. J. This troop is a recent accession to the ranks of the scouts and is composed of three patrols. Scout Commissioner Potter's own troop, No. 4, engaged in the regular scout games after a hike through the woods.

Dear Santa Claus—I've hung my sock in the corner of the big hall clock. I'd like some cheese, a big fat slice. And please to last our family twice. And, Santa, dear, I've set my heart on a little piece of apple tart. I hope the writing you'll excuse. The pen's quite large for a mouse to use. I'll mail this in the chimney flue. So you'll see it when you first come through.
But Santa, don't tell Mrs. Cat where my stocking's hanging at!

STILL ANOTHER

Editor The Mirror:—In reply to the "Father of Girls" regarding the one session of schools on stormy days and his surprise at the "injustice" of the article published on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11, allow the writer of that article to express his surprise at the injustice of such a father to his girls.

The morning was surely a stormy one and not fit for little girls to go out of doors. I am sure had I sent my little girl to school that morning her clothing would not have been in any condition to sit there from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m., and fasting the last hour and a half at that. At noon time, however, her clothing would have been dried and as the walks were generally cleaned by that time, there was no excuse for omitting the afternoon session.

My little girl did not attend the morning session, as it was not fit, but her brothers did. At noon time she could have gone and there was no school. Consequently both the boys and girls were deprived of the school work we are paying for.

So you can readily understand that the writer of that article is not only a parent of boys but of girls also, and has the interest of parents, girls, boys and taxpayers at heart. Boys are generally more rugged than girls and their mode of dress allows them greater freedom in the snow, so that to go to school last Monday morning was only fun.

However, it is not just to the boys to be deprived of their school work on stormy days, because fashion does not decree that they shall wear skirts. It seems that the habit is growing to safeguard the girls and the boys must wait with their school work until it is pleasant enough for the little girls to attend school.

Let us safeguard all interests, parents, boys, girls and taxpayers—A Taxpayer.

KERMIS NOTES.

"Throw your pennie to the gypsies."

The rehearsal will be held in Peterson's opera house Saturday.

All the participants will be sorry when the rehearsals come to an end. This has been a fortnight of great joy for the young people.

Mona Robertson and Phil Beath are a great team in the Irish tilt. Phil employs two pocket handkerchiefs and is getting into better training every day. After this event, every Irishman in the city, will salute Phil as a member of the clan.

Several people from other cities have declared that they will be on hand, at the Peterson, Jan. 19 or 20, to enjoy the Kermis. "Welcome to our city!" Everyone will be taken care of.

You'll wonder how they could give such an entertainment for so small a price after you have seen the first performance. And you'll want to come again. You have our invitation.

The Kermis, is a gorgeous, spectacular Carnival of all nations. This one will be the best ever. 260 elegantly costumed performers. You can't afford to miss it.

Meldred Hewa, Katherine Cuthbert, and Katherine Turner, appear as the "Yankee Doodle girls" in the American number and these forty-five girls are going through their drill with well trained accuracy.

"Doesn't it beat the Dutch." That saying does not carry much weight with the Kermis followers. For they are largely of the opinion that there will be very few numbers that can compare with that put on by the Wooden shoe brigade.

Those beautiful "Geisha girls." All from the land of the flowing Kimonos. One of the prettiest number of all. The "soldier man" will be sung by Ethel Briggs and chorus. We cannot tell you about it. You will have to see it.

The Dutchmen have a song to sing. You cannot understand what they say, but that doesn't make any difference, you can see the Dutchmen and get the harmony of the song.

The Indian words used in the great pow-wow are real Chippewa phrases, given to the director of the Kermis, by the later Peter White of Marquette. Mr. White was a great friend of this tribe of Indians. Once, while at the reservation, the Indians were greatly delighted when Mr. White joined them in their war dance.

When the Salinsky boys went home and told the folks that they were going to be "Indians," the wisest one of the household remarked, "That's good you will not have to rehearse much."

Ned Moran keeps his folks awake nights practicing the Indian words. They cannot understand his new manner of speech, but they report that from his actions, he gives every indication of being on the "war path."

It did not take long for Frederica Yockey and Helen Moran to become proficient as Mexicans. Some of their partners in this number accuse them of "practicing between acts. At any rate they know their part.

Shaw! Shaw!—Leta and Hazel—of that name, occupy the ends of the group of Highland "fingers." Each one in this dance will gain recognition on the opening night. They are at doing their parts creditably.

George Cobb has his place in the Kermis and has kindly consented to manipulate the spot-light. Everyone is boasting. Good things are being said of the business men and all who have been asked to aid. Everybody wants to help.

PORTUGESE SOLDIERS AGAIN START TROUBLE

(By Associated Press.) Paris, France, Jan. 13.—A news agency dispatch from Madrid says that the news has been received there that the soldiers in the fortress at Eiva, Portugal, have mutinied and that the laboring men in the city have struck in sympathy. The mutiny and strike is for increase in pay.

Footprints Remind Us. "Then you don't want to leave footprints upon the sands of time?" "Nix," answered the politician guardedly. "All I want is to cover up my tracks"

ALLEGED VIOLATOR OF LIQUOR LAW

Rock Miron of Escanaba township will have his preliminary examination in Justice Linden's court tomorrow on a charge of selling liquor without a license. Miron was arrested by Under-sheriff Rowe on complaint of Supervisor John Dausey, who secured evidence which he considered sufficient to prove that Miron was conducting a "blind pig" at his home. When Miron was arraigned he pleaded not guilty and demanded an examination.

BYRNS RESIGNS FROM BOARD

Charles J. Byrns of Ishpeming, collector of customs in this district and who is well known in Escanaba, has forwarded to Governor Osborn his resignation as a member of the board of trustees of the U. P. Insane Hospital at Newberry. Mr. Byrns has been a member of the board since 1903. Mr. Byrns, in his letter to Governor Osborn, expressed his pleasure at the relations he has had with the other members of the board and his regret that he felt that the duties of the collector's office made it advisable for him to resign the post.

Companies, pulled out of Ashland safely. Henry Woodruff was taken along to Ishpeming without delay, baggage attached. The members of the "Baby Mine" company reached the Copper Country after several hours on the road, but were unable to show when they did arrive because, it is said, the baggage car had been sidetracked at a junction, a hundred or so miles away. The date was annulled.

Manager McIntyre of the "Baby Mine" company, in conversation this morning with a reporter for The Copper Journal, declared he could not say what move would be made. He added that he had wired William T. Brady at New York, advising him of the happening, but that no steps would be taken until official orders were sent out from the head office.

He hinted, in conclusion, that suit, on a possible charge of discrimination by the South Shore in favor of "The Genius" company, might be brought under the inter-state commerce law.

Milady's Mirror

"If a woman were so situated that she might have either a brush for cleansing her teeth or dental floss and a mouth rinse which would you consider she should choose?" was asked a well known dentist, and there was not a moment's hesitation in his answer.

"Floss and the rinse," he declared. "Dear me, if I could impress upon my patients the truth of this my income would decrease almost immediately. "You see," he continued, "few persons apply a brush as it should be, and even when it is employed to the utmost it cannot remove all particles from between the teeth as thoroughly as would a piece of dental floss. If more persons would realize that minute pieces of food decay and create acids, and these constantly acting on the enamel cause cavities to appear, they would remove food particles after every meal and then use a mouth wash to disinfect the teeth and preserve the enamel.

"A brush is hardly more than a buffer for polishing the surface. "Polishing the surface is necessary, of course. But when a toothbrush has been used in this fashion it should be held and drawn down on the upper jaw so that the bristles start at the top of the teeth, finishing at the edges. This operation is reversed on the lower jaw by bringing the brush up. By this process many particles will come out.

"Following such treatment a piece of dental or soft silk embroidery floss should be passed between the teeth, and finally the mouth should be rinsed. Brush, floss and rinsing make the ideal care. Failing that, I should say use floss and a rinse.

"A mouth wash that is pleasant and effective is made by putting half a teaspoonful of spirits of camphor into a wineglassful of water.

"Another is made from one ounce each of tincture of myrrh and compound tincture of cinchona, diluted when used with twice this quantity of water.

"These are inexpensive and, if kept bottled on the washstand, can be used easily."

Good Aid For Beauty. Do not go to bed tired and cramped and brain weary in a close room and lie in a huddled, tense heap, thinking for hours and tossing about. If you can't get relief to your lungs by fresh air before retiring insist upon plenty in the sleeping chamber. Undress and think and busy yourself in some trivial manner in a comfortable lounging robe. Do all your thinking before the light goes out, then go to sleep. Try to get the blood away from the head, not into it. To eat something light has this effect and induces sleep when reading would have the opposite effect. When you finally get ready for bed, draw some deep breaths of fresh air and lie down, not in a heap, but comfortably relaxed, a little on one side, preferably the right, so as to allow the heart free play.
