SENATE PAYROLL IS EXCESSIVE

Corporation Tax.

Undoubtedly the greatest proposition submitted to a Michigan legislature in years is Governor Osborn's idea of a corporation tax, which will yield sufficient revenue to take care of all the expenses of the state, and separate the collection of state and county tax entirely. Representative Lord of Wayne, chairman of the house committee on taxation, claims that such a tax is unconstitutional, but Governor Osborn states that he has the advice of some of the best constitutional lawyers of the state on the subject and that their advice is favorable. It is doubtful, however, if there is a member in the house big enough and who possesses the generalship to steer a corporation tax bill through the dangerous channels of private and corporation interests, which stand ready to oppose the passage of such measure to the last ditch.

No Floor Leader in House.

Up to this time, the lines between the administrationists and the anti's have not been tightly drawn. While as a whole the house will be with the governor with a large majority, cases will arise when local and personal interests will cause a hitch in the program. Speaker Baker has a number of friends among the members, but who will act as "whip" or floor leader, has not yet been decided. Representative D. G. Warner from Leelanau and Representative Flowers of Wayne are able men, good jurists and ready debaters, but both opposed Baker in his fight for the speakership, and it remains to be seen whether or not the clash at the beginning of the session has left any smarting scars.

Mine Inspectors Bill.

Senator James' bill providing for the election of a mine inspector in counties where copper mines are located was up for discussion in committee of the whole in the senate last week. Only a few minor amendments were made to the bill, which will receive considerable attention when it comes to the house. House members declare that the bill ought to include iron mines and argue that men employed in the iron mines have the same right of protection as the copper miner. Fearing the opposition of Senator Moriarty, who usually looks after the iron interests, Senator James omitted the iron mines from the act. It is possible that the bill will be amended and bring the mines under the supervision of the department of labor and make the inspectors appointive by the labor commission instead of elective by the voters of the county.

Townsend Elected Senator.

The election of Congressman Charles Townsend as senator, in joint session, was a quiet affair when compared with the excitement and wire pulling of former elections. In electing Mr. Townsend to the upper house of congress, the legislature only carried out the wish of the electorate of the state which was expressed at the September primary. Townsend received all the Republican votes of the members of the legislature, and one Democrat, Representative Taylor of Kent, also voted for the Jackson man, in compliance with some pre-election promises. The Democrats honored John T. Winship of Saginaw with a complimentary vote as their choice for United States senator.

Full Train Crew Bill.

Representative Jensen of Delta will introduce a bill known as the "full train crew bill." The Association of Michigan Trainmen held a meeting in Detroit the past week and adopted resolutions favoring such measure, urging its passage for the benefit of its members and the safety of the traveling public.

The bill provides that all trains shall have an engineer, one fireman, one conductor, one brakeman and one flagman. About twenty states have passed similar laws.

Representative Jensen will also introduce a bill abolishing the state land office and transferring all records and lands now in possession in that office to the auditor general's department. Maps After Palmer.

Peeved by C. A. Palmer's activity against the confirmation of the Warner recess appointees, Senator Mapes will advocate a bill limiting the salary of the insurance commissioner to $2,000 and which provides that all fees must be paid into the state treasury. Representative Lord, who cannot be charged with extravagance, believes that the insurance commissioner ought to be paid a salary sufficient with the great responsibilities of that office and in a bill has fixed the salary at $1,500. With workmen's insurance and employers' liability under supervision of the insurance commissioner, this department will become one of the most important in the state.

Lobbyists Appear on Scene.

The railroad interests, always on the alert, scent danger during this session of the legislature and have several experienced attorneys on the scene, ready to prevent any unfavorable action, if possible.

The mining interests are also alarmed, and, while there is no danger of the passage of a tonnage tax bill, the idea of a corporation tax as advocated by the governor does not appeal favorably to them. The interests will put up a strenuous fight against the two-cent fare bill for the upper peninsula, the full train crew bill, the bill providing for steel passenger coaches and better cabo ses for freight trains. The mines will fight the mine inspection bill, as well as the royalty bill.

It remains to be seen if the interests can influence legislation as they often have in the past, or if the application of the primary law will hold the legislators in greater terror of their constituents.

Excessive Appropriations.

The former members of the house are shocked at the estimates presented by the various boards of control of the state institutions. They believe these estimates are entirely out of all proportion, and unreasonable.

The Kalamazoo asylum for the insane requests an appropriation of $21,000 for a horse barn. While the state public school requires one for $1,500 for a pigery to accommodate seventy pigs.

That these bills will be cut is a sure guess, but in the past the appropriations asked for by the boards of control were unquestioned and allowed, with the result that there always was a nice little nest egg in the treasuries of the institutions for a rainy day.

State Fair For Upper Peninsula.

An effort will be made by the upper peninsula delegation to have the state give financial aid to an upper peninsula state fair. A fair association will be organized by persons interested in the proposition shortly, and great results are expected from the advertising of the agricultural resources of the country above the straits.

Very Curious.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN ENJOYS RAPID RIDE

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—What is believed to be the fastest railroad trip ever made between Washington and New York occurred Monday when J. Pierpont Morgan, the financier, was whirled from one city to the other over the Pennsylvania railroad in the unparalleled time of three hours and fifty-six minutes. All the way the special train averaged more than a mile a minute. The distance between the two cities is 224.7 miles and express trains make it in five hours. The purpose of Mr. Morgan's visit was not made known.

VIOLATIONS OF GAME LAWS FEW THIS WINTER

State Game Warden Pierce asserts that law enforcement by his department is a mighty dull matter at present owing to conditions in the fishing and hunting country. He says there is from three to five feet of snow in the upper peninsula and an almost equal amount in the upper part of the lower peninsula. As a result there is but little hunting or fishing and the deputies are having but little trouble with law violators.

STATE SENATE PASSES MINE INSPECTION BILL

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 25.—The senate has passed the mine inspection bill introduced by Senator W. Frank James of Hancock. Nineteen senators were present, all voting in the affirmative. The bill provides for the election of the mine inspectors in the copper district by direct vote of the people, instead of their selection by the boards of supervisors. It also provides for the nomination of mine inspectors at the fall primaries.

THE BEST JOB ON EARTH.

"There's no job on earth to compare with that of commanding a fleet of battleships."

Thus says Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, better known as "Fighting Bob" Evans. The spirit which prompted the remark is worthy of emphasis. Evans has that great quality—love for his work. He thinks no other job comparable to that in the conning-tower. Another may think the same of his task of driving an automobile, making furniture, building a house or preparing a brief in a tangled lawsuit. The keynote is the same in the various cases, says the Houghton Daily Mining Gazette. The worth while man is the one who is "stuck on his job," who thinks it is better than any other job, who wonders, like Evans, how others cannot see its superior charms. Whether it is raising apples or practicing medicine, selling hardware or writing plays, running a street car, or running a string of gas plants, managing a gang of tracklayers or directing a complex business, the open sesame to success is the same—love of the work for the work's sake. It is this magic quality of enthusiasm which gilds common life.

After all, work is not merely a means for support. It is man's best excuse for being alive. However humble the task, he who is doing something necessary and useful has answered that question of the ages: "Why am I here?" The animals are driven to their task with whip and goad. They plod through the day without interest, without fire, without ambition. The man must hold fast to some ideal, some reason for doing what may seem a monotonous grind. He finds this ideal by elevating his work to a place where he can give it glad allegiance. He raises it to a point where he can respect and honor it. Then it means more to him than so many dollars a day. It becomes a mission in life. Through it the one who otherwise would be like the horse in the field finds a thread that will guide him through the maze of everyday existence. He can, if he will, do more than this. He can express himself, his individuality, that fleeting something which distinguishes him from his fellows, by the quality of his work.

The joy in work, the chance to speak a message that the world will pause to hear, is not confined to the arts and the professions. The humblest workman can be the craftsman, putting something of himself into what he is making, translating his personality into an inanimate thing that others will find useful or beautiful. To do this one essential precedes the spirit that spells success on both land and sea—all else. That essential is love of the work, pride in the doing of it, glory in that task before all others. "Fighting Bob" has

New Orleans and San Francisco are pulling each other's hair out by the handfuls trying to grab the great Panama Exposition, which will be held in 1915, when the canal will be opened to the world's commerce. San Francisco is trying to convince Congress of the importance of the large fund she raised for the affair, and is also calling attention to the beautiful scenery through which passengers will pass enroute to the exposition. New Orleans claims to be "the only logical point," and claims that it was Californians that fought the canal measure most viciously during the twenty years that Congress was discussing the measure. C. P. Huntington of California maintained a lobby, it is claimed, to corrupt Congress and kill the canal bill, as it would interfere with the traffic of the great Southern Pacific railroad, of which C. P. Huntington was president. They point to the fact that not until C. P. Huntington croaked did Congress enact a law for the construction of the Panama canal.

Senator Aldrich calls his financial scheme a "reserve association", but some people will see the horns and hoofs of a central bank protruding through the tag.

Quite a part of the money we used to spend for nutritious food now goes into the fancy box used to enclose and decorate a smaller portion of that food.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY WALDO PONDRA WARREN

LOOKING AHEAD

THE outlook for the future of human industry is inspiring to every earnest and thoughtful person. The undeveloped possibilities of nature are amazing. Millions of acres of forests and fields, mines and mountains await—not merely development, but even the recognition of their actual existence. The very contemplation of the possibilities of industry should awaken the ambition of every sincere man—an ambition to take some effective part in making available to all humanity the necessities, the utilities, and the wholesome accompaniments of life.

How shall a man equip himself to take a worthy part in the work of development which the coming years must surely bring?

Millions ask themselves this question as they realize that the years ahead will require of them a deeper measure of effective activity than they have given thus far. And they are answering it for themselves in their present efforts for self-improvement—by acquiring sound business and social principles, the understanding of cause and effect, the broadening of their sympathies, the breaking of unnecessary limitations of thought and action, and the detection and correction of erroneous theories and actions, and uplifting of thought, ideals, hope, energy and endeavor.

The best is yet to be. Are you increasing your ability to appreciate it and take part in it, or are you merely passing your time away?

P. BOOMERS PLAN BIG THINGS

Organization of Publicity Bureau Will Mark New Business Era.

INTERESTS WILL CO-OPERATE

Railroads and Large Land Owners Heartily Approve of Movement, and Advertising Campaign of Elaborate Proportions is Assured—Public Invited to Attend Big Meeting at Menominee.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 24.—It has developed through an extended interview with officials representing all of the roads centering in the upper peninsula, including the Soo line, South Shore and Northwestern lines, as well as other parties interested in the organization of the Upper Peninsula Publicity Bureau, that the plan is based on even broader lines than was at first anticipated.

The railroads and large land owners are already interested to the extent that an advertising campaign of very large proportions is now assured for the upper peninsula as a whole. If the residents themselves take a hand and show the right spirit in promoting the proposed new organization at the coming meeting at Menominee, interests endorse plan.

The plan has met with the hearty cooperation of all of the interests at the Soo and other points where broached, augurs well for final and permanent success and justifies the belief that a colonization movement of large proportions is at last about to take place in the northern peninsula. It is not at all improbable, according to the statements made by the officials who are behind the movement, that in addition to all the possibilities of this country being exploited on a large scale, it may be possible to enlarge on the permanent advertising plans and eventually include a scheme for the permanent displays of our products in the large cities, and also include a display car to tour the country after the manner of the N. P. and G. N. campaign, which have been so successfully employed in colonizing their territories in the west and northwest.

Public's Co-operation Solicited.

One feature of the present effort to organize all the interests of the upper peninsula into one effective exploiting machine should not be overlooked by such of the residents as can make it convenient to attend the Menominee meeting. That is, the invitation is open to all individuals who are interested enough to attend, and the project will be entirely in their hands. The date of this meeting has not as yet been fixed, but the date will be publicly announced later, and it is hoped that there will be a large representative delegation from every section of northern Michigan.

The citizens of the Soo and of the county in general have shown the proper spirit in the matter, and it is pleasing to note that arrangements have been made for a good representation at Menominee. The board of supervisors have selected delegates representing both the Grangers and business interests of the city to attend the meeting, and the Business Men's association will have a man there as well. A number of the prominent Grangers of the county have also signified their intention of being present when the organization is effected, as they realize the importance of the movement and what it will mean to the agricultural interests of the entire northern peninsula.

To Benefit Whole U. P.

It is not the intention of the bureau to exploit any particular portion of the peninsula to the exclusion of other sections, but to make the advertising general and such that every county will receive equal benefit with others. The claim is that by working in conjunction and as a general organization much more can be accomplished for all sections than there could where many improvement associations were working separately and along individual lines.

For instance, if a county organization raised one or two thousand dollars for exploiting its resources, after the payment of a secretary or a manager to look after the business, but a small amount would be left for general advertising purposes. On the other hand, were all of the counties to pool their resources and place it in a general fund with a general advertising scheme, every part of the peninsula would receive the benefit of the other fellow's money. And it is this which the bureau hopes to accomplish.

Bermuda's Palm Fringed Highway

Something Concerning Bermuda

Winter travel today is so expeditious and luxurious that all the discomforts which that inclement season brings to so many people may be easily avoided by a pleasant journey to a more congenial climate.

Even though it may not be practicable to spend the whole season in this manner, the benefits and pleasures of a brief respite from the winter's storms and stress are so marked that thousands of business and professional men and women seek every year renewed strength and energy in a short trip to the tropics.

The winter voyage from a northern port to Bermuda is a delightful experience worth taking the trip to enjoy. The passenger disembarks with the mercury far down in the tube, a disagreeable chill in the air, and a cheerless aspect upon the sea. Within twelve hours the water of a much higher temperature has enwrapped the vessel, and its genial warmth has thawed the blood and the spirits of those on board. Deck life becomes attractive, wraps are thrown aside, the temperature mounts as the steamer progresses southward; and when—within two days—the verdure-clad coral islands of Bermuda push their palm-fringed tops above the southeastern horizon, the tourist in summer garb, prepares to step ashore in a land of perpetual springtime and flowers.

Once on shore, the visitor finds that he has reached a land of matchless beauty and boundless hospitality. The prodigality of nature is the most impressive feature for the newcomer. On all sides color; birds of brilliant plumage, fishes of equally bright shades and fantastic form, and flowers past all belief. Stately palms of many species, the broad leaves of the banana and plantain, the great spikes of the Spanish bayonet, huge aloes, the spreading fans of the palmetto, and many other tropical trees and shrubs abound on every side.

BULLETIN ON FROST IS OF MUCH VALUE

The United States weather bureau has just issued a bulletin on the subject of frost, which should be of considerable interest and value to agriculturists and horticulturists. The bulletin discusses the theory of frosts are likely to occur and measures to prevent their damaging vegetation. Observations extending over a period of years have shown that ground that is moist and at low elevation and not near a large body of water is most susceptible to killing frosts.

In fighting frost, the campaign laid moist soil, however, is less susceptible than that which is only partially saturated. It has also been found that frost attacks moss covered or weed covered ground more readily than it does soils that are cultivated and clean. A moist atmosphere above has been found out by the weather bureau contemplates giving accurate advance information of the occurrence of frost, applying preventive measures during critical hours and preventing the sudden warming of chilled fruit, or a too rapid thawing out. There are three principles used in frost-protection devices. Adding heat, saving heat and mixing or stirring the air. Glass and other screens are most used in order to conserve heat, fires are burned in some places to add heat to the air, but as yet no device has been invented for setting the overhead air currents in motion. The wind does this and for that reason frosts seldom occur on windy nights.

Something to Learn. Unfortunately we do not learn the value of staying where we belong till we have wandered where we don't—Blue Ball.

Curious to Know. Little Paul had been taken by his father to hear the band play. He listened a while and then said: "Papa, why don't these men stop playing and go to work?"

Good. Our idea of "false" modesty is for a woman to hate to be caught with her hair on the dresser.

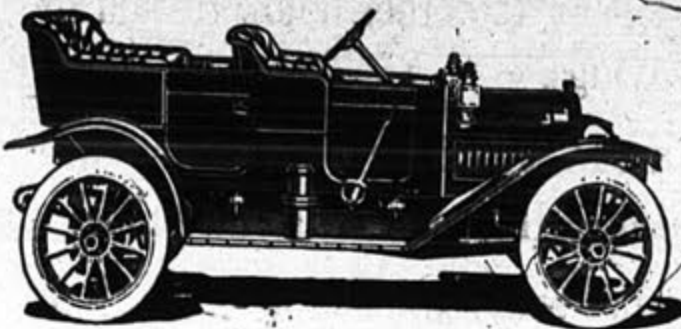

Bond of Sympathy. Tramp (to lady of the house)—"Is that your husband going down the street?" Lady—"Yes." Tramp—"I know, then, that you will not be in sensible to some slight bond between us when I tell you that I asked that man for a dime!"

More important. Fair Girl—My father made his fortune when he was a young man. Would you like to know how he did it? Gallant Youth—Not particularly; but I would like to know if he still has it.

Electric Lighted Planes. In the canal zone it is the custom to keep electric lights burning inside planes to prevent the wires rusting.

Regal "Thirty"

The car that has and can prove quality.

Model "L. F." 30 H. P. Four Door Type $1050, F. O. B. Detroit. Wheel base 107 inches, tires 32x3 1/2 inches. Dual ignition system. Standard equipment.

STILL ANOTHER PLAN FOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

Manager of Last Year's Menominee Team Suggests That League Be Formed of Cities in the South Part of Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin.

Menominee Leader-Herald: There will be a baseball league formed of cities in the southern part of the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin if Redmond Pangborn, manager of last year's team, has his say. In an interview with him this morning he states that he is very much in favor of a league, and urges the formation of one.

To that end he asks that a meeting be held in Menominee within the next two weeks, of baseball enthusiasts of the different cities that have an intention of becoming associated with such an organization. In speaking of the cities to be considered, Mr. Pangborn suggested Norway, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Gladstone, Menominee and Marinette.

These cities have a combined population of over 50,000, and it is believed they would support a team were they organized and joined in the league.

It is believed that Menominee and Marinette would be greatly benefited by such an association. With a league, a ball game would be played in one of the two cities every Sunday, at least. This would give the sporting fraternity of both Menominee, and Marinette ample opportunity of witnessing a game every Sunday.

Mr. Pangborn is strongly urging the formation of a league and says he will do everything in his power to get such an organization started. If a meeting were held the last of this month or the first of next, and arrangements made, the plans could be worked out and a first class league started the first of the season.

The Unkindest Cut.

Father (to his son, a doctor)—If this isn't the limit! I pay all that money for you to study medicine, and the first thing you do is to cut me off my drinks.

A CAMPAIGN PROMOTER WILL HELP CANDIDATE

Planning and Keeping a Regular Organization is Vital Necessity in Contest of This Kind—The Hustlers Can Be Distinguished.

Well, candidates have you secured the manager for your campaign? If so, you are to be congratulated. If not, be sure to do it today. The tip given was a real "live one," as you probably will realize later if you neglect to be guided by it.

The Bermuda Contest manager has been planning and working to make the road to success as smooth as possible for you, and that is the best thing yet figured out—the value—which amounts almost to an absolute necessity—of having some gentleman friend who will assist you in your campaign.

There are so many persons he will come in contact with daily whom it might prove difficult to see. He can mention to his men friends that he is interested in seeing you win, and secure their aid.

Ask Any Questions.

Now consider again, take a speculative glance at the splendid trip. The Daily Mirror is offering. Remember that, no one's chances for winning are a whit better than yours.

The Bermuda Contest manager is primed with answers to all questions. Ask all the questions you like, phone or write, if you can't call. Fire away. Do not be bashful or timid. Ask what you want to know. View the situation as it exists today, then, after doing so you should, under no circumstances neglect enrolling your name, for you can never tell how much success you will meet until you have tried.

You should see those who are already in the contest, and realize the difference between bright hustlers with individuality and sparkling personality, and those who in a weary tone tell you "they will win if they have luck." Luck will never win. Ambition first, then energetic efforts—then success.

Only Way to Do.

As the season advances, even though some of us may already have had some kind of a vacation, our turn to a trip somewhere away from the daily routine and the humdrum existence, to surroundings different from the too familiar scenes around home. There is a craving for a sight of new faces, for the ever changing panorama that falls to the lot of the traveler.

The candidates who are leading are the ones who have organized a regular force to assist in their campaign, both for the collecting of the single ballots and the securing of subscriptions. That is the only way to do. Organize your friends into regular channels of vote-getters. Work systematically, and you cannot help but realize pleasing returns.

THEATRICAL

THE PETERSON—The interest in the play "St. Elmo" is not confined to any class or age of men and women. The book has been very popular with the last three generations and the management asserts that it is no unusual thing to see three generations of one family at a performance.

Readers of fiction recall "St. Elmo" as one of the most beautiful love stories of the language. The character of Edna Earl is undoubtedly as appealing as any in fiction and the regeneration of St. Elmo through her love is a tale of which one never tires.

Miss Grave Hayward, who dramatized the book, has taken few liberties with the story, and the result is a play that fully satisfies, wholesome and true to the last degree. The appearance at the Peterson next Sunday evening, January 29, is one of the most promising events of the year. The original company and production are guaranteed by the management.

In Virginia. A few Sundays since, in a small school at Independence, Va., the subject was "The Wise and Foolish Virgins." One of the teachers asked the class the following question: "Which of the invited guests did not have their lamps trimmed and burning?" The one to respond was a pretty little girl. "Can you answer the question, Molly?" asked the teacher. "Oh, yes, sir," said the little girl, "it was the foolish Virginian."—National Monthly.

Why She Refused. "Yes," said the thoughtful girl, "I was obliged to refuse him when he asked me to marry him." "But I thought you esteemed him so highly." "I do, but he told me I was the first girl he had ever proposed to. If I had said 'yes,' he'd have been too confident and egotistical. He'll have to be rejected a few times before he talks matrimony to me."

Value of Graphite. The fact that graphite is nearly pure carbon, is relatively inert chemically and volatilizes only at high temperatures, makes it of exceptional value in the manufacture of crucibles for the steel, brass and bronze industries, etc.

CANDIDATE FOR ROAD COMMISSIONER

Soren Johnson of Gladstone is brought to the front by the Gladstone Delta as a candidate for the office of county road commissioner, a place which is to be filled at the coming spring election. The term of John Gasman of Bark River is about to expire and the Delta asserts there is an insistent demand that he step down. That paper says: "There is a feeling at this end of Delta county that Gasman's interests have been looked after long and well enough. Two years ago, when H. W. Reade defeated Basilio Lenzl, it was generally understood and agreed that a man from the upper end of the county should be put on the commission in 1911. No candidates have as yet offered, but in Soren Johnson Delta county possesses a man whose ability and familiarity with the county's business and requirements cannot be denied, etc.

KERMIS YOUNG MEN TO GIVE A DANCE

A dance is planned by the young men who took part in the Kermis. The informal event will be given at Clark's hall tomorrow night. The Kermis, which proved such a success, has also given the young people a very delightful season of social intercourse. Many parties are being arranged for the next fortnight and the boys and girls are delighted with the prospects of the coming winter months of social enjoyment. Some of the number declared today that they were greatly pleased with the outcome of the Kermis and said if there was any chance of another being given at any time they wished to speak for a place in that performance.

PHILLIPS LOSES FIGHT FOR LIFE

Noted Author Shot by Eccentric Musician Goldsborough Dies of His Wounds—Retains Consciousness Until Within Quarter of an Hour Before the End.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Jan. 25.—David Graham Phillips has lost his brave fight for life. He died at Bellevue hospital late last night, a victim of Fitzhugh Coyle Goldsborough, an eccentric and emotional musician who, although of refined tastes and aristocratic Southern stock, shot the novelist down for a fancied grudge and then killed himself. Mr. Phillips fought valiantly to live, but six bullet holes were too much even for his grit and sturdy constitution and as 11 o'clock came and passed he died.

The wounded man was conscious up to within a quarter of an hour of his death. The immediate cause of death was hemorrhage of the right lung, which had been pierced by one of the steel-clad bullets from Goldsborough's automatic pistol.

AMENDMENT TO MAKE BONDS LEGAL

City Clerk Lyons today received from Spitzer & Co. of Toledo, the purchasers of the city's $30,000 gas plant bonds, a draft of the amendment to the state law governing cities of the fourth class, which the firm's attorney believes must be adopted by the legislature before the bond issue is valid beyond all question. City Attorney Jennings now has the proposed amendment, which will be sent to Lansing to be introduced in the legislature.

ACTUAL WORK ON BRIDGE IS BEGUN

No time is being lost by the Delta Contracting company in beginning work on its contract for building a new bridge for the county over the Escanaba river at Wells. Even before the contract was formally ratified and signed the other day the company had men at work looking over the site of the proposed bridge and now actual work has begun in preparing to drive piles for the superstructure. Holes for the piles are being cut through the ice and after the piles are in place the pile driver will get into operation.

WOODSMAN DIES RATHER SUDDENLY

August Bengston, a woodsman about whom little appears to be known here, died about nine o'clock this morning at the Delta County hospital and his remains are now at D. A. Oliver's undertaking establishment awaiting burial. Mr. Bengston was apparently in good health yesterday morning and spoke about going into the woods to work, but a few hours later he was seized with illness and taken to the hospital in the afternoon. Medical attention was given him, but he continued to sink until death came. Bengston's age is not known and it is not believed he has relatives here.

W. L. MARBLE HAS MANY PATENTS

W. L. Marble of Gladstone has received the three latest patents issued him, making about thirty he holds. One is for the lock at present used on the Game Getter, and another for an arrangement for separate hammers, which will probably be applied to later models. The third is an improved and simpler model of the flexible rear sight, with three sizes of aperture, and a target disc which may be readily slipped on or off.
