R. C. Richards Gives Description of Plan Adopted by Chicago & Northwestern Railway to Decrease Number of Accidents Resulting in Death or Injuries.

Believing that its readers would be considerably interested in a description of the plan which the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company has adopted in order to bring about greater safety to passengers, employees and others, The Mirror recently addressed a request to R. C. Richards, general claim agent of the railroad, to furnish an outline of that plan and its practical workings.

In response, Mr. Richards has complied with the request and not only gives a lucid description of the plan but also a history of the movement that led to its adoption. Mr. Richards' article is herewith given entire and is worthy of the careful perusal of every reader of The Mirror. It is as follows:

Safety First.
Last spring the management of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company decided to inaugurate a movement to decrease the number of accidents on its road, in order that its employees, passengers and others might escape injury and death, and to prevent making railroad cripples, widows and orphans, as well as to secure greater safety and regularity in the operation of its trains.

Upon an examination of the statistics, furnished by the Interstate Commerce Commission, we learned that out of the THIRTY-THREE THOUSAND deaths occurring on railroads every year, THIRTY-ONE PER CENT OF THE ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND injuries occurring every year, EIGHT PER CENT OF THE SIXTY-SIX THOUSAND deaths and FOURTEEN-FIFTEENTHS OF THE INJURIES resulted, not from collisions, derailments or what is commonly known as "train accidents", but from the little accidents occurring every day, and which may, in part, be enumerated as follows:

- According to the last report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, by:
 - Adjusting coupler with foot—259 injured.
 - Adjusting coupler, cars accidentally started—12 killed and 77 injured.
 - Careless manipulation of coupling lever—75 injured.
 - Uncoupling without using lever, unnecessarily—8 killed and 120 injured.
 - Opening or closing knuckles when cars were near together, miscalculation—240 injured.

MUCH MONEY LOST BY LOCAL MEN ON FOOD STUFFS

PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN SAYS $25,000 IS A SMALL ESTIMATE OF THE LOSS TO THOSE WHO BOUGHT LAST YEAR.

Nearly All Products in the Food Line Have Gone Down—One Grocer Lost Over $100 On Butter Alone—Profits for Year Are Gone.

Many local dealers in provisions and produce will be obliged to take little or no profit this year on account of heavy buying last fall and the recent slump in the market for food stuffs and dairy products. In the little item of butter, one grocer man on Ludington street will lose over $100 besides the profit that he should ordinarily make on his sales. On each pound that he is selling to his customers, he is out five cents in addition to the profit that he expected to make.

Another merchant who bought heavily of mill stuffs says that he will be in great luck this year. He makes expenses. The reduction in the prices on nearly all lines really comes as a pretty hard blow to those who were liberal in buying last fall in order to protect their trade against high prices this winter and in the spring. To make matters worse it don't look like a very promising market and the prices are not very liable to go up any to help out those who have laid up a big stock at almost a top notch figure.

Dr. W. A. Cotton left last night for Lansing to attend a meeting of the state board of education, of which body he has been a member for several years. This will be the last meeting of the board which Dr. Cotton will attend, for his resignation, recently tendered to Governor Osborn and accepted, takes effect February 1.

MEETING POSTPONED UNTIL NEXT MONDAY

Illness of President and Lack of Quorum Prevent the Delta County Agricultural Society From Holding Its Annual Open Meeting at Time Originally Set.

Because of the illness of President A. J. Berckman, necessitating his absence, and the lack of a sufficient number of members to constitute a quorum, the regular annual meeting of the Delta County Agricultural Society, which was to have been held at the city hall Wednesday evening, was adjourned until next Monday evening, at eight o'clock.

In order to constitute a quorum for a meeting there must be a representation of not less than fifty members either in person or by proxy, a fact that should be remembered by the members and acted upon accordingly. The coming meeting is to be a most important one, as new directors and officers are to be elected and there is much business to be considered. One of the features of the program will be the adoption and signing of articles incorporating the society as a branch of the state agricultural society. It is particularly desired that a full representation of the society's membership shall be on hand at the meeting next Monday evening. It will be held in the council chamber of the city hall.

Wednesday evening the proceedings were short. Secretary Torval E. Strom called the meeting to order and explained that a postponement would be necessary owing to the lack of a quorum. In the absence of President Berckman and Vice President Herman Johnson, it became necessary to elect a temporary chairman and P. R. Legg of Gladstone was accorded the honor.

In taking the chair Mr. Legg made a few remarks relative to the situation and urged the necessity of getting together as early as possible to are for the work that lies before society in planning and making arrangements for the county fair next year. Following his remarks a motion was made to adjourn until next Monday evening and it was carried.

RYAN CLEARED OF LARCENY CHARGE

After being out about three hours the jury in the case of the People vs. Patrick Ryan came into circuit court shortly after two o'clock this afternoon and returned a verdict finding the defendant not guilty. Ryan was thereupon discharged from custody and immediately left the court room after thanking the jurors for their verdict. Ryan was charged with having on the night of January 7 last stolen $45 from Charles Johnson, it being alleged that he forcibly took the money out of Johnson's pocket. Ryan was defended by Attorney Thomas Riley, who had been appointed by the court for that purpose, and his success in winning this case, his first in circuit court, has brought him the hearty congratulations of his friends.

NOT-GUILTY VERDICT DIRECTED BY COURT

In circuit court Wednesday afternoon, after the testimony of the prosecution had been submitted in the case of the People vs. Charles McPherson, charged with forgery, the court instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty and the defendant was dismissed. McPherson was charged in the complaint against him with having raised an order for $8.65 to $18.65, but this could not be proved by the testimony introduced. It developed also that only the figures in the order and not the words denominated the sum payable had been altered.

OF PARTICULAR INTEREST TO RAILROAD MEN

Beginning in another column on this page, The Mirror today, under the title of "Safety First is the Object," publishes an article which should be of the greatest interest to all its readers, particularly railroad men and those connected with them. This article was written especially for The Mirror by R. C. Richards, general claim agent of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, and is so lucidly worded and comprehensive in scope as to be readily understood by even those unfamiliar with railroads and their practical operation. In order that every railroad man may have an opportunity for reading and digesting Mr. Richards' valuable article, a large number of extra copies of The Mirror containing it have been printed for free distribution to those desiring them. Any person wishing to have a copy can get it by calling at The Mirror office, 713 Ludington street.

THE MAYWOOD MAY RUN TO GREEN BAY

Rumor in Circulation Has It That Escanaba Boat May Be Put on the Green Bay Run the Coming Season—Report as Printed in a Green Bay Paper.

According to the Green Bay Gazette, there is a report current in that city that the steamer Maywood of this city will during the coming season of navigation make regular trips between Escanaba and Green Bay. The Gazette says:

"On top of the announcement of the Hart Steamboat company that it would operate two steamers between Green Bay and Gladstone on Green Bay this season, comes a report in marine circles here that the steamer Maywood, of Escanaba, may be run regularly between the north port and this port during the 1911 season.

"The steamer Maywood is owned by a stock company of Escanaba merchants, and it is said that they believe they could make a success of the venture of operating their boat on Green Bay from Gladstone to Green Bay.

"It is said that the service given last year on Green Bay could be augmented to advantage next season and that steamers could carry large amounts of freight out of Green Bay, Marinette, Menominee, Sturgeon Bay, Egg Harbor, Escanaba and Gladstone daily."

NAMES SUCCESSOR TO DR. W. A. COTTON

According to advices received from Lansing, Governor Osborn will recommend to the senate the name of Thomas W. Nadal of Olivet to succeed Dr. W. A. Cotton of this city as a member of the state board of education. Dr. Cotton recently resigned, his resignation to take effect February 1. The senate has confirmed the nomination of John O. Maxey of L'Anse as a member of the board of control of the upper peninsula hospital at Newberry, and the nomination of E. E. Bodin of Bay City as a member of the state pharmacy board.

WILLIAMS FUNERAL SET FOR TOMORROW

The funeral of the late George Williams, whose death occurred at his home, 213 Ludington street, yesterday morning, will be held from St. Patrick's church tomorrow (Friday) morning at nine o'clock, Rev. Father Bender officiating at the service. Interment will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

CHANGE IN TOUR CONTEST MANAGER

John G. Evans, Who Started Contest for The Mirror and Did All the Preliminary Work Thereon, Leaves for Chicago—Morley Somers Takes Place as Manager.

John G. Evans, who came to Escanaba several weeks ago to start The Mirror's New York-Bermuda tour contest and has since done all of the preliminary work connected therewith, left last night for Chicago under orders from headquarters and probably will not return here.

Mr. Evans' place as tour contest manager has been taken by Morley Somers, of New York City, who arrived here yesterday with Mrs. Somers, and has already taken up the work where Mr. Evans left it.

The contest is now well under way and the excellent work done by Mr. Evans in bringing it up to its present status will be continued by Mr. Somers, assisted by Mrs. Somers.

Mr. Evans' departure will be regretted by the numerous friends he made during his comparatively short stay in Escanaba, and they will hope to meet him here again at some future time. From Chicago Mr. Evans probably will be sent to another city to inaugurate and organize for some paper a tour contest similar to that now being conducted by The Daily Mirror.

THREE BARBERS SIT ON THE SAME JURY

This afternoon the jury in the case of Peter Reiffers vs. the Escanaba Brewing company attracted attention by the number of barbers included in the personnel of the "twelve men tried and true." It also happened that these three barbers are proprietors of shops in this city and they were seated peacefully in the same row in the jury box. They were George Walker, Ralph Cantlin and Ed. Gervais.

SUNDAY IS CHINESE NEW YEAR'S DAY

Escanaba Chinamen, in Common With Those of Other American Cities, are Preparing to Celebrate the Great Holiday—Many Changes in Ancient Ceremonies.

Escanaba Chinamen, in common with those of other American cities wherein they abide, are laying in all sorts of delicacies from their native land across the sea, settling their bills and putting their laundries in order for the gala day of the Chinese calendar, New Year's Sunday, January 29.

The reform wave that struck China recently has wrought many changes in the ancient ceremonies. When the emperor told his subjects that pigtails were out of style he also gave them the tip to abolish some of their peculiar practices. So this year's holiday will be celebrated on more modern lines than usual.

Roast duck and chop suey in many styles and candied fruits will be drenched down local Chinese throats by tea and wine to the strains of oriental ditties squeaked out on imported instruments.

The Chinaman believes in starting out the New Year with a clean record. Every Chinaman pays up all bills before New Year's.

Escanaba has a small Chinese colony, every member of which expects to have a fine time in his own peculiar fashion next Sunday.

Mrs. Fred C. Carney, Jr., has returned to her home in Marinette after a short visit with relatives in Escanaba.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON IN CONDENSED FORM

NAVY DEPARTMENT DISCREDITS REPORT OF ACCIDENT TO GUNBOAT WHEELING, WHICH IS ON THE WAY TO CUBA.

House Orders An Investigation As to Delay of Ballinger-Pinchot Report—Honduran General Reported Killed.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Jan. 26.—The reports that have been circulated in regard to an accident on the gunboat Wheeling which is on its way to Guantanamo are not credited at the navy department. Nothing official has been received.

A report was received by the state department this morning to the effect that the revolutionists have been defeated near San Antonio and that down in Honduras, General Valasquez has been killed.

Owing to the slowness of the report of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee getting their report into the hands of its members, the house today ordered an investigation into the delay today.

That Circuit Judge Richard C. Flannigan stands as high in the respect and esteem of the legal fraternity and people of Delta county generally as he unquestionably does in the other counties included in his judicial circuit was demonstrated this afternoon, when at a meeting of members of the Delta county bar a resolution was unanimously adopted, endorsing his candidacy for the position he now holds and pledging him their loyal support.

Judge Flannigan is serving the unexpired term of Judge John W. Stone, now a member of the state supreme court, and at the election in April will be a candidate for the next full term.

An Appropriate Time. Judge Flannigan is now presiding over circuit court in this city and the present time was considered most appropriate for taking the action here noted. The meeting of the bar members was held in the lawyers' room at the court house before the afternoon session of court opened and was presided over by Hon. John Power as chairman, Attorney H. J. Rushton acting as secretary.

Attorney John Commiskey offered the resolution and after its unanimous adoption, action was taken to ensure the circulation of Judge Flannigan's nomination papers throughout the county. Following is the full text of the resolution:

Pledge Their Loyal Support. "The stability of the American government."

SUIT FOR DAMAGES IS NOW ON TRAIL

Trial of the case of Peter Reiffers vs. the Escanaba Brewing company is now in progress before a jury in circuit court. The plaintiff is suing to recover heavy damages for personal injuries received while in the employ of the defendant company. Michael Reiffers also has a similar case pending against the same company. In the case at bar Attorney A. H. Ryall appears for the plaintiff and Attorney H. J. Rushton for the defendant.

The case of John M. and Walter A. Schrader vs. the I. Stephenson company was ordered continued over the term.

ing speed—17 killed and 225 injured. Opening knuckle, lost footing—12 killed and 95 injured. Riding on cars to uncouple, slipped off—15 killed and 69 injured. Caught by unexpected movement of car, due to mistake or misunderstanding in giving hand signals—8 killed and 43 injured. Went between cars unnecessarily and contrary to rule—13 killed and 121 injured. Getting on rapidly moving cars or engines, frequently for the purpose of riding less than 10 rods, and then jumping off—112 killed and 3,300 injured, and By failure to put out a flag before going under a car or engine to inspect or repair it. Failure to properly block frogs and guard rails. Faulty shaker bars on engines. Failure to properly protect dangerous machinery and places. Failure to comply with the positive safety rules; sometimes on account of ignorance of such rules. Failure to administer discipline when rules are disregarded, unless an accident is caused thereby, at the specific time. Accidents caused by carelessness and thoughtlessness, not only to those who are injured themselves, but of other employees. Accidents caused by taking desperate and unnecessary chances. Crossing the track between moving cars too close together. Failure of track-men to watch for the trains. Leaving tools too near the track. Stepping on nails projecting from boards. Failure to ring the bell before starting the engine. Failure to watch for switch lights and danger signals. Failure to read and understand running orders before starting the train. Leaving cars too close to a switch, so that they will not clear a man riding on the side of a car, on an adjacent track. By obstructions on the ground, such as rails, ties, coal, pieces of freight, draw bars, piles of dirt, and in the hundred other ways accidents are caused which it would take less time to eliminate than it takes to make reports of the accidents caused thereby. Many of the accidents which help to make up the EIGHTY PER CENT of the total number are preventable and can be avoided if the employees will only bear in mind the positive rules of the company and "REMEMBER THAT IT IS BETTER TO CAUSE A DELAY THAN TO CAUSE AN ACCIDENT."

Believing that if the matter were properly presented to the division officers, and to the employees, that many of these accidents would and could be avoided, and thereby, the risk to other employees in the service decreased, as every time an accident occurs, and an employee is killed or injured, if he is a competent or experienced man, and most of them are, taking him out of the service by death, or injury, increases the risk to all of the other men who are left, because a green or inexperienced man has to be put in his place, and at the same time, it also decreases the efficiency of the organization, frequently very seriously.

In order to bring these things to their attention, meetings were held with the division officers at the various division points, at which the matter in detail was explained to them, and their co-operation and interest in the movement secured.

Subsequently, meetings were held with the men, themselves, and the matter explained to them; figures were given them, showing the number of fatalities and deaths, not only on this road, but on all the roads in the country, and it was also pointed out how many of the accidents were caused, and how they might have been prevented, and it was shown to them that they and their families were paying the frightful toll, and that they, and only they, could stop it, if they wanted to, and would make the effort.

After holding these meetings, there was appointed on each division of the system an employee committee, designated as a SAFETY COMMITTEE, which consisted of an engineer, fireman, conductor, brakeman, trackman, station agent, and switchman for the purpose of securing their co-operation and assistance, in the way of making suggestions which would bring about improvements, and prevent accidents, and by their own example, which is most important, stop things being done wrong when they see them, and to teach the other men by example and precept, to do their work carefully and properly, and to do it in the safe way and in the way in which the rules of the company require it to be done, instead of doing it in the unsafe way and taking dangerous and unnecessary chances.

Similar committees were also appointed for the shops and round houses to inspect machinery, tools and appliances in order to bring about better and safer conditions in such shops and round houses.

These committees hold a meeting once a month, the company paying for the time so spent, at which, matters which they have noticed during the intervening time, are discussed, and an effort made to bring about safer operation. Specific cases, dangerous places and customs are brought to the attention of the division officers for the purpose of having methods improved or changed, and dangerous places made safe before, and not after an accident occurs.

There are now over 250 officers and employees serving on these committees, and when the plan gets in good working order, if each member prevents one accident a month, as surely they can, a very large decrease in the number of accidents will be made, and when the other employees catch the spirit of the movement, a still greater decrease will be made and greater safety will be secured.

Trips over the various divisions on trains especially provided for that purpose, are made by the committees, accompanied by the division and some of the general officers, at which times, tracks, yards, stations, roundhouses, machinery and shops are inspected, the party being divided up into sub-committees, and certain subjects being assigned to each sub-committee for special attention and inspection, for the purpose of discovering and remedying improper and unsafe conditions and methods, in order that injury to passengers and employees may be prevented. At the end of such trip, the sub-committees make their report to the full committee, and the various matters are discussed and the necessary action taken.

The names of the members of the safety committees are posted on the bulletin boards in the roundhouses and shops and places where the men congregate, for the purpose of notifying all other employees, who compose such committees, to whom they can go to with their suggestions and complaints, suggestions being invited from all employees. Each member of the committee is furnished with a safety button to indicate his office, and that he is authorized to take immediate steps to prevent an accident.

The division having the fewest accidents, in proportion to its business, is to be presented with a banner by the management of the company, in recognition of the success of the officers and employees of that division in bringing about greater safety.

The employees committee meets with what is known as the DIVISION SAFETY COMMITTEE, composed of the Division Superintendent, Division Master Mechanic and Division Engineer. These committees discuss the matters which are brought up by the employees committee and by the members of the division committee, and where a specific case or matter is local to the division, apply the remedy, if it is within their authority. If not within their authority, or if the matter is one which affects the whole road, it is referred to what is known as the CENTRAL SAFETY COMMITTEE, which is composed of two General Superintendents, Engineer of Maintenance, Assistant Superintendent Motive Power and Machinery, Supervisor of Motive Power and Machinery, Train Master of the Freight Terminals, Assistant Superintendent of Car Department and myself, as Chairman.

This committee meets once a month and considers matters which are brought to its attention by the various division committees and shop committees, as well as other matters which come to its knowledge, from personal observation or otherwise, and take action to make the operation safer and better. All these committees have adopted as their motto, "SAFETY FIRST."

Safety bulletins are prepared and issued to employees, calling their attention to the large number of avoidable accidents, and how they can be prevented.

A general effort is being made by the officers and employees on the system to exercise greater care in operation, and to make a more careful and thorough investigation of accidents when they occur, so that a remedy may be applied and a recurrence prevented.

It will, I think, be readily understood that on a railroad EIGHT THOUSAND miles long, stretching through nine States, with FORTY or FIFTY THOUSAND men on its pay roll, that it will necessarily take some considerable time to get a movement such as this perfectly organized as well as understood by the men who will be most benefited by it. Although the plan has only been in effect for a few months, it has already, we believe, brought about much better conditions, there being a decrease of some FIFTEEN PER CENT in the number of fatalities reported and TEN PER CENT in the number of injuries. The bringing together of the officers and employees in this intimate way has already resulted in more friendly and better relations between them, and it is confidently believed that in the months and years to come, as that acquaintance and intimacy grows, the relations will constantly improve, and with the joint efforts of the officers and the members of these committees, and the employees, generally, that the number of accidents and resulting deaths and injuries, will be greatly decreased, and that thereby we will secure what everybody desires, GREAT SAFETY AND REGULARITY.

DAILY LINE ON THE BAY ASSURED

Hart Steamboat Company Will Add Another Steamer on Green Bay Route—Official Writes Green Bay Paper Information of Interest to Escanaba and Other Ports.

The Green Bay Gazette is in receipt of a letter from the Hart Steamboat company, of Sturgeon Bay confirming the report that it would operate steamers daily on Green bay between Green Bay and the northern bay ports during the season of navigation in 1911.

The information is to the effect that the company intends to operate a daily line out of Green Bay, that is between Green Bay, Sturgeon Bay, Marinette, Escanaba, Gladstone and all intermediate ports.

Carpenters are at work now remodeling the steamer Sailor Boy and the Hart people will run that boat on opposite days to the steamer Bon Ami. The last named boat was run between Escanaba and Green Bay last summer.

The Green Bay Transportation company has not made plans for the approaching season and the owners of the steamer Charles McVey are advertising that craft for sale and may not be in the business next summer.

Naming the Baby in Japan.
Such lovers of picturesque ceremonies as the Japanese do not let an important event like the naming of the baby pass without proper observance. The infant's birth is immediately announced to the relatives and friends, who hasten to send congratulations and presents. Visitors used to insist upon seeing the mother and child, but the spread of medical knowledge is gradually changing this. On the seventh day after birth the child is named. The first born son is frequently called "Ichiro," which means "First." Others, as in Latin, are named "Second," "Third," and so on. Girls are more lucky, receiving picturesque names like "Snow," "Chrysanthemum," "Glory" and the like.—Wide World Magazine.

Keeping Boys on the Farm.
The Department of Agriculture is proving its value constantly in many ways, but in none more definitely and clearly than in the encouragement of American youth to adopt the cultivation of the soil as a career. It is vitally essential that the children of farmers should themselves till the land their fathers and their grandfathers have tilled. They are potentially the best farmers.

C. J. HUEBEL IN FAVOR OF LEAGUE

Former Baseball Manager at Menominee Says Cities Should Support Good Teams in Organization Composed of Escanaba, Menominee, Marinette, Iron Mountain, Gladstone and Norway.

Menominee Herald-Leader: Another champion of a baseball league has come to the front in the person of C. J. Huebel, owner of the original Menominee city team last summer before it was consolidated with the Peninsula Box & Lumber company line.

Mr. Huebel states that he has given the matter little thought, but is of the opinion that a league consisting of the cities named by Mr. Pangborn would pay. The cities suggested by Mr. Pangborn are Menominee, Marinette, Escanaba, Gladstone, Norway and Iron Mountain.

These cities are large enough to support a team, in my estimation," said Mr. Huebel, "providing the city has a good baseball field. If it does not have a good field, the fans will drop it like a hot iron, and in that city sport will be lacking could be a failure."

"But, again," added Mr. Huebel, "I think that if a league was organized and the managers of the teams had some object view in winning the games, that every city in the league would endeavor to get good material and play in a class like we did last year, they could not be sure of a game from one Sunday to another; the fans were not interested in the foreign teams, and did not support the team as they would a good nine in a league."

"What I would like to know, however, is whether or not it would be the intention of the men to have a game every day, or just two or three days of the week. Saturday, Sunday and Monday are suggested to me as being the best days if the playing was done but a portion of the week."

"Still, there is a possibility of the cities upholding a team even if games are played through the week. If they got right interested, like we did in the Marinette and Menominee games, I am quite sure they would support the team."

"For myself, if satisfactory arrangements can be made, I would like to see a league organized."

HE KNEW. She—How can I appear young? He—Associate with women 15 years older than yourself.

HIS GAIN. "What did you gain in your deal with Smith?" "A great deal of respect for Smith's business ability."

NO ROOM. Doctor—When you go upstairs to bed take a hot mustard foot bath, and— Patient—Can't, doc. You see, I live in a flat.

HER IDEA. Mrs. Cutting (in department store)—These down pillows are marked $3 and yesterday they were only $2.95. Saleslady—Yes, ma'am. They've advanced. Mrs. Cutting—I don't see how they can be down pillows if they have gone up.

Sign Posts for Aviators.
A German aeronaut has devised a system of orientation which will help the German aviator, at least, in finding his way through the air. Each German province is provided with a number, and every community is provided with a letter. A guide book to be carried by the aviator contains a list of provinces and towns similarly designated. Thus, if an aviator sees the character "40 A 1" painted upon the roof of a house in Rhineland he knows immediately where he is by referring to his book. At night these signs are to be illuminated. The system is now actually being installed in Germany.

LOGGING JOBBERS ARE SADLY DISAPPOINTED

Present Season Said to Be One of the Worst They Ever Had in This District.

"This winter is the worst that the old logging jobbers in the district between here and Escanaba have experienced in many years," said a timber contractor, who buys a considerable portion of the output of that district. "The small jobbers, and larger dealers as well, have had reason to feel discouraged ever since the season opened. Some of them had only begun their work when winter set in. The snow kept piling up, until now it is from five to six feet deep on the level. None of the jobbers have yet been able to make satisfactory roads, as the swamps are not frozen.

Car Service Not Satisfactory.

"The jobbers are not satisfied with the car service this winter, and a number of them have either given up their operations or will do so very soon. Some of them have not attempted to haul out any of the timber that they have cut, but they may try to haul it before the break up, provided there is a good thaw followed by a freezing spell. Operators who have attempted to make roads following the several storms that have occurred this winter have spent more money on that work alone than will be represented in the profits they will receive on the sale of their timber. I doubt if any of the jobbers will make a profit on this season's work.

"There is still some fine timber in the district below here along the Northwestern line, and it will be many years before the stumpage is cleaned out. I believe that in twenty years, from now there will be as many operators in the field as there are at this time, as the small land owners are cutting only a small portion of their timber each winter. I understand that B. J. Goodman & Son who are among the heavy operators in the district, own sufficient timber to keep their Little Lake mill going for the next fifteen or twenty years, to say nothing of the large quantity of timber that they buy annually from other operators."

AN EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Several papers in different parts of the country, especially New York World, are asking the president to call an extra session of congress to repeal the tariff on foodstuffs and clothing. The World, in this connection, calls attention to the fact that the congress elected as a result of the demand for cheaper goods will not convene, under the ordinary rule, until next December, thirteen months after it's election, and that it will be months more before it can get down to real work in the interests of the people. An extra session in March could grant relief within six months of the election.

This is true. The World further says that the new congress having been elected for the purpose of reducing the tariff do so regardless of its mixed political complexion. If there is a delay for the regular session, the country will be in the midst of a presidential campaign and little attention will be paid to work that is not of a partisan issuing nature.

The demand for the taking of the taxes from food is real. They will be taken off by a mixed congress in which each party is struggling for the advantage, as viewed from the position of the practical politician, is not within the realm of present. Partisan advantage has always been the rule in such cases.

If congress at an extra session would get down to business, to partisanship and act solely for the good of all the people, an extra session would be desirable and worth all it would cost. There is good reason to believe that the time would be spent in talking and counter checking, in striving for partisanship advantage, just as the regular sessions too frequently spend the time. As The World says:

"Extortionate taxes upon food and clothing have for the past generation obliterated party lines. As hunger and cold have no political bias, so there need be none in the legislation that relieves them. Yet to be exact and complete, justice must be done and it must be granted not as a favor, but as a matter of right."

This is true. But will it rule congress?

Our Daily Short Story

THE MAN IN THE CAR

Roland Hallam was a young man who during his short life had displayed a remarkable faculty for getting what he wanted in the world. As he was one of the favored sons of wealth and society, when he announced to his friend, Bernard, that he had determined a certain young lady they had just passed upon the street should become his wife Bernard quietly believed that he would succeed.

"But who is she, and where did you meet her, and why didn't you bow to her?" Bernard asked.

"Never met her. Never saw her until yesterday. Didn't bow because she doesn't know me from Adam. But I have found out who she is. Her name is Annette Lindel, daughter of Jason Lindel—the man who made a fortune out of the milk trust."

"Hum!"

"You can hum all you want to. The girl is all right and I propose to marry her."

"Of course you can do that. Any girl will stoop to pick up the handkerchief that Roland Hallam, the millionaire, condescends to drop."

That set Roland to thinking. Next day a clean built, neatly dressed young man called upon Jason Lindel with an application to become his chauffeur, and he was accepted on the spot.

"And now for the conventional love drama," murmured Roland, alias George Bronson, chauffeur.

Coincident with the engagement it was announced that Roland Hallam had gone west for the season.

As the days passed Roland had many chances to present himself in his most attractive light before the lady of his heart. Annette evidently looked upon her chauffeur with something akin to admiration.

Then came a narrow escape for him. As he was standing by the auto, waiting for Miss Lindel, Miss Graham, with whom he, in his proper character as Roland Hallam, had carried on a mild flirtation the previous summer, passed the Lindel residence. He turned quickly to avoid recognition, but was too late.

"Why, Mr. Hallam, I thought you had left the city. I certainly heard you had gone west, and I have not seen you for ever so long. What are you doing here? Calling on Miss Lindel?"

Just then the door of the Lindel residence opened and Miss Annette appeared. But Miss Graham, passing on with a smile and a nod, did not see her.

"What was Miss Graham saying to you?" Miss Annette asked suspiciously.

"She was admiring your new car," the chauffeur replied with a touch of the hat.

"Ah, indeed!" with a searching look at the chauffeur.

"He is a real gentleman," she confided to her father the evening after the Graham episode. "I shouldn't wonder if he is one who has met with reverses."

"Shouldn't wonder," was the father's brief comment. "Hallam gave him a fine recommendation."

"Roland Hallam!" repeated Annette, and then suddenly she began to do some serious thinking.

As a chauffeur, she said to herself, "I could be polite. As Mr. Hallam, masquerading—well, I think he needs a calling down and I believe I am the girl that can do it."

But the incident had this advantage in Roland's favor. It caused Annette to study her chauffeur more than she otherwise would have done, and then to compare him with other men. What was he here for? A wager? She resented being a party to it. The thought of this being one way of wooing never entered her practical head.

Her riddle was solved one day when Roland, tired of futile waiting, turned to her abruptly as she was seated in the auto before her father's office.

"Miss Lindel, will you be my wife? I am not entirely destitute. I once had a fortune and it is not absolutely necessary for me to be a chauffeur."

"Oh, indeed!" murmured Miss Annette demurely.

"And if you will be content with a modest flat—I have one on Ninety-third street."

"I adore flats."

"Then you will be my wife?"

"I confess I rather like you."

"There is no time like the present. I will take you while you are in the notion," said Roland as he spun the car around and headed it for the nearest church.

"But the license?" the princess asked.

"I have it here," the chauffeur replied.

"Ah!" in a tone and with a flash of the eye which boded no good to the confident man.

As they were leaving the church half an hour later Roland said:

"Now for the Ninety-third street flat."

"Yes, Roland, no doubt it is very nice, but why not go direct to your own home on Fifth avenue?"

Profound.

"Was Doctor Borum's address very learned?"

To Remove Mildew.

If kid gloves have become spotted with mildew they should be placed in a bottle with a lump of ammonia about the size of a walnut; cork the bottle tightly and leave them for a short time, when the mildew spots will quite disappear. If left too long, however, the ammonia will rot the stiches; so they must be watched. An air-tight box will do equally well to a bottle.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

WEIGH YOUR WORDS

FEW men in authority really appreciate the effect of their casual words upon those working under their directions. I heard of an incident the other day which is typical of the carelessness of some men who have a measure of authority over others. A young man had worked hard all forenoon arranging a stock of merchandises. Filled with enthusiasm, and craving a word of approval, he showed his work to his superior. "See, Mr. Smith, I've done all that since nine o'clock." And this was Smith's brutal reply: "Pshaw, boy! You ought to have done twice that much."

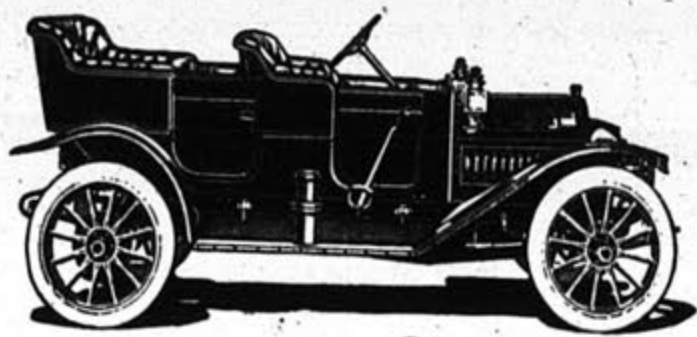

Think what a rare specimen of manhood it would have taken to have withstood such a blow! Being merely human, the poor young man could only grit his teeth and mutter.

Would you hit a delicately adjusted typewriter a blow with a hammer and expect it to go on performing its work correctly? The mental mechanism of men and women should be handled with care. Do you always remember that?

GROVELAND TO HAVE POSTOFFICE

The postal authorities have decided to establish a postoffice at Groveland, Dickinson county, for the accommodation of the men employed at the mine. The office will be named Youngs in honor of George W. Youngs, of Iron River, general manager of the Groveland Mining company. An examination for postmaster will be held by the civil service commission at Randville Saturday, Feb. 4.

GORDON IS GOOD MAN IN POSTOFFICE

Gordon J. Murray, postmaster at Michigamme, has received his commission for another term. On the first of this month the Michigamme postoffice was advanced from the fourth to third class. Mr. Murray, who is well known in Escanaba, has held the office of postmaster continuously ever since Dec. 21, 1897. During the time he has been in charge the business has increased yearly. The postoffice is located in Mr. Murray's own block.

UMPIRE TALKS OF BASEBALL

Hank O'Day, Veteran Arbitrator, Believes Sport Has Not Reached Limit of Its Popularity.

Baseball may have done some remarkable growing in the past, but none of its performances in that line will come up to what it can do in the future, according to "Hank" O'Day, the veteran National league umpire. O'Day doesn't agree with the people who say that baseball has reached the highest point it can in the way of popularity and great attendance, writes Lester E. Smith in the Chicago Evening Post. On the contrary, it will keep on climbing to such an extent that the problem of the magnates within a few years will be not how to get the crowds, but how to take care of them, in O'Day's opinion.

"Some years ago I told James A. Hart that the time would come when they would have to be double-decked grand stands in order to handle the crowds at a baseball game," remarked O'Day during a chat of fans. "He didn't believe me then, and a whole lot of other people to whom I said the same thing laughed at the idea. They thought then that baseball had reached a climax and that if it did anything from that time on it would diminish in popularity rather than increase.

"However, the sport kept right on growing and in that way dumfounded the folks who couldn't appreciate its possibilities. They thought that the astonishing growth of baseball was abnormal and bound to result, ultimately, in an untimely end for the whole thing.

"I predicted double-decked grandstands as a makeshift to accommodate the throngs, but they came a great deal sooner than I expected. They are obliged to have them now even in the minor leagues, while the major league club owners are striving to devise new ways to seat the great throngs who flock to see important games.

"Having called the turn on the double-decked grandstands, I would like now to make another prediction along the same line. I think that within a short time they will build double-decked bleachers, and that they will be constructed in nearly every park in the two major league circuits. In Chicago here they have a row of reserved seats built up over the bleacher seats, but I think that before long they will have an upper deck to the bleachers that will seat just as many people as the lower. There is no other way to accommodate the crowds for it is difficult to get larger fields."

Turning his thoughts into other channels, O'Day remarked during the same conversation that he thought hitting would be more plentiful next year if the big leaguers continue using the same balls that were employed last fall.

"It appears to me they are a great deal livelier," he remarked, "and they certainly ought to satisfy the fans who have always been crying for 'more hitting.' I have noticed that these balls do not have to be hit very hard to go a long distance. Since their adoption long-distance smashes have been more frequent than ever before."

O'Day is in favor of continuing the use of lively balls, but he does not believe the magnates ought to change the rules in order to give the fans more hitting.

"The rules are all right as they are," said he, "and it would be foolish to make any changes at all to provide for more hitting. There never was a more popular rule than that of calling the first two fouls strikes, and that was a change that took a good deal of hitting out of the game."

It may be remarked that O'Day himself was the originator of the foul-strike rule.

Attell's Good Record.

Abe Attell, who can make the featherweight limit, 122 pounds, held Nelson to a draw in fifteen rounds, and outboxed Wolgast in eleven rounds, besides easily holding his own in six bouts of a total of seventy-two rounds with Owen Moran. Two of the bouts with the Englishman were twenty-five and twenty-three rounds at Los Angeles and San Francisco, while he has gone ten rounds at New York and six at Philadelphia with Owen recently.

Tommy Burns to Fight.

Tommy Burns has cabled his acceptance of the Bill Lang fight at Sydney, N. S. W., for April 17. He will also meet the winner of the Lang-Langford fight in London. The latter mill is scheduled for February 15.

NOTABLE NAMES ON REGISTER OF HOTEL

On One Page There Appear the Names of the President of the United States, the Only Living ex-President and Twenty Other Famous Men—Valuable Souvenir.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—Souvenirs of the National Conservation congress held in St. Paul last September have been sent recently to President Taft, Col. Roosevelt, Gifford Pinchot, James R. Garfield, James Wilson, Senator Beveridge and other prominent men who participated in that memorable convention.

Charles G. Roth, manager of the Saint Paul hotel declares the souvenir, which was originated and copyrighted by E. S. Bowman, chief clerk of the hostelry, represents the most remarkable page ever recorded in a register of an American hotel. The reproduction of the page shows the names of the President, the only living ex-President and twenty others who are known in all parts of the civilized world. Were it left to a penmanship teacher to grade these men on their writing, Governor Hay of Washington probably would head the class, and President Taft would be second. It is feared that Theodore Roosevelt would be near the foot.

Taft and Roosevelt write just about the kind of hand expected of them. The President has an easy, graceful swing. Roosevelt writes as he acts. The strenuousness of the man is shown in the way he bears on the pen. His positiveness is asserted and his lack of care for frills is definitely portrayed. Pinchot used his own gold fountain pen to write his name. It is of the stub variety and makes a good black line. There is a similarity in the penmanship of Senator Beveridge and James J. Hill, which would not be expected from those knowing both men. Hill always is cool and collected, while Beveridge is high strung and fiery in his nature.

STATE TEACHERS TO ASSEMBLE IN DETROIT

School teachers from all over Michigan will gather in Detroit for the annual state convention of the State teachers' association during the latter part of next October or first week in November. The selection of Detroit for the state was made by the executive committee of the association in session at Detroit recently.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

Good luck is merely escaping bad luck.

Teachers can cultivate brains; they can't create them.

Most people spend their time either eating or talking about it.

The Lord must take care of good women, for certainly men don't.

The first time a man wins a bet the devil writes him down in his books to lose 50.

A girl who will wear big, fat rubbers, however bad the weather, doesn't want to get married.

A wise child learns to like to be spanked so as to get a lot of spolling to make up for it right after.

The crafty thing for a man to do would be to convince his wife he loved her so much he hadn't any left for her relatives.

It's worth thinking about how mad a man can be at first with a girl for refusing to marry him and how grateful to her afterward.

It's just human nature for an old bald-head to want young girls with a mass of curls to pretend they can tolerate him.—New York Press.

Horse Defends Master.

Lieut. Robinson, an English officer in the Royal engineers, has a horse which he thinks ought to receive the Victorian cross for gallantry in action. Lieut. Robinson was leading a party in Afghanistan, when they were suddenly attacked by a band of Ghazis. The fighting was furious for a few minutes, and during the height of the battle the lieutenant was speared by a young Ghazi and brought to the ground. The warrior came up to finish him, when the faithful horse turned his heels and lashed out at the Ghazi every time he approached the wounded man. This defense he maintained until help arrived and the assailants fled. As the horse is not vicious, the lieutenant is firm in his belief that the horse knew his master was in danger and defended him.

STATE FAIR DID WELL LAST YEAR

Reports read at the winter meeting of the directors of the Michigan agricultural society showed that the state fair in September made $12,000 in cash and $7,000 outstanding, part of which has been collected. The report of a certified accountant who has been going over the books showed that the cash was one cent over, so the directors had this suitably engraved and presented it to the retiring president, Fred Postal.

NEXT SUNDAY IS CARNATION DAY

Next Sunday, January 29, is the late President William McKinley's birthday, and the anniversary probably will be observed in Escanaba as much as in any city of its size in the west. An organization known as the Carnation League has come to the front in this country with the request that the people of the United States wear a carnation on that day. This was McKinley's favorite flower, and the wearing of one on that day will be a fitting observance of the memory of a man who lost his life while serving in the capacity of chief executive of the United States, January 29 will be McKinley Day. While this day is not observed in many states as a legal holiday, a movement has been started to that end, and it is believed by many that it will be but a question of time when the people of the United States will observe it as a national holiday.

English Cotton Spinners Complain.
English cotton spinners have passed through the worst twelvemonth of the last twenty-five years, according to tabular statistics which have just been published at Manchester. Particulars are given of seventy-three cotton spinning companies in Lancashire with a total paid up capital of $12,818,580 and an aggregate loan capital of $5,394,955.

The period under review is the year ended November 30 last and the total loss after paying interest on loans and allowing for depreciation is $1,315,215. This works out an average loss of $18,015 a company as compared with $14,625 last year. The percentage of loss on share capital is 10.26 per cent., as against 7.73 per cent. in the previous year.

Value in Petroleum.
In the earlier days of refining petroleum the residuum left in the retorts after the refining process had been completed was thrown away as worthless. In 1875, while a chemist was experimenting in his laboratory with some of this stuff, he discovered that it contained many valuable commercial substances, processes for the separation and recovery of which were afterward invented. At present, over 200 different chemicals and preparations are made from it. Probably in the development of no industry has the service rendered by science been more important, for, by unlocking the treasures hidden in this one substance, not only have thousands of people been made rich, but many lives have been saved.—Columbian.

Modern Hospital Needs.
What are these needs of modern hospitals which necessitate so much more space than was ever thought of in the days of the primitive barrack type of wards, some of them erected even within the past decade, and how have such needs arisen? Briefly, they may be said to include all that is done for the patient apart from the giving of food and medicines, and they have arisen from the extraordinary progress of medical science, particularly in the fields of bacteriology, serum-therapy and pathology, and in the adaptation for medical use of the recent discoveries in the electrical and mechanical sciences. Moreover, the hospital has become a center for investigation, research and education to an extent never imagined before.—The Century.

The Anient Incubator.

Few of those who wrestle with the chicken-incubator problem, and often fail to solve it, realize how old an art they are struggling to master. Thousands of years ago Egyptians in one part of the world and the Chinese in another had the art of incubating eggs so highly developed that it was an hereditary profession, the secret guarded with religious sacredness and handed down from father to son. The odd stoves called "mammals" that the Egyptians used as incubators date back to remote antiquity. Even before the French Revolution the Paris markets had incubator chickens, thanks to an apparatus, which was invented in France in 1777.

Great Gift to Humanity.

Of all the good gifts that ever came out of the wallet of the Fairy Godmother, the gift of natural gladness is the greatest and the best. It is to the soul what health is to the body, what sanity is to the mind, the best of normality.—Bliss Carman.

Art Calendars For 1912

Reserve your calendar order for us. Our 1912 line is now ready to show, and our representative will call on Escanaba merchants in a few days with samples.

The line consists of a big assortment of imported embossed panels, cut outs, tissue novelties, hangers and wall pockets and domestic mat board mountings hangers, etc., etc.

The entire line is twice or three time as large as outside agents are able to carry and in most cases our prices are lower. We do the printing on the calendars just before delivering them, so that should a merchant change locations after giving his order, we will be able to print his correct address in the card.

The Mirror distributes many hundreds of dollars every year in salaries, all of which is circulated in the city of Escanaba. The outside calendar man spends a couple of dollars here, gets all the money he can, all of which is spent to help build up other communities.

BOATS WILL FOLLOW THE 1910 SCHEDULE

The Green Bay Transportation company and the Bay Shore Steamboat line's schedules for the coming season will be similar to that followed in 1910, which gave daily service on Green bay between Green Bay and Escanaba and Gladstone, and in addition one trip a week to Mackinac Island and Cheboygan. All intermediate points were touched under the schedule.

Announcement of the arrangements for 1911 was made at Green Bay Wednesday by officials of the two companies, which own the steamers Eugene C. Hart and the Charles McVea. The boat lines named expect to begin overhauling their boats about March 1 and will put them in shape for the freight and passenger business.

Reputation is Like Gold. It will be to the everlasting benefit of the contestants to obtain the reputation of persistency. It will be of more value to you in the future than money or influence, as it will give others faith in your ability and power to accomplish what you undertake. Such a reputation is like GOLD—it is current the world over at par. No matter what you may think about it, the fact remains that there is a never-fading demand for the woman, who, despite difficulties and hostile criticism, pluckily pushes ahead until she has gained the goal her ambition has set out to reach.

EAT AND GET THIN

This is turning an old phrase face about but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat and also averse to physical exertion and likewise fond of the table and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds; do this: Go to your druggist (or write the Marmola Co., 952 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) 75 cents. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim slim figure. He will hand you a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription), one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day. That is all. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

If Mrs. Jones buys her coffee at Smith's each week—

If the coffee in your store is better than Smith's and cheaper—

Why, TELL MRS. JONES!

Don't dash wildly across the street to tell her, though; she'd laugh at you. Insert a sane, forceful advertisement in this paper about your coffee.

We'll catch her eye by making your ad attractive. Then all that is left for you to do is to take in the money for the coffee Mrs. Jones buys.
