LEGISLATURE LACKS CHIEFS

Nothing of Importance Has Been Accomplished So Far—Speaker and Clerk Clash—Suffragettes Invade Capital—Late News Events at Lansing.

(Special Correspondence.) Lansing, Feb. 1.—Although the legislature has been in session for three weeks, nothing of importance has yet been accomplished. The members of the house have indulged in a continual wrangle about the junket, and over in the senate about confirming the recess appointments, and other minor matters. Both houses have so far failed to respond to the call of Governor Osborn in passing progressive and constructive legislation. A number of bills have been introduced by the members favoring pet measures of purely local interest.

DOUBLE FUNERAL IS MOST IMPRESSIVE

From St. Ann's church this forenoon there was held a double funeral and it was a most impressive event. The decedents for whom funeral services were held were Edmund Fortier and Alfred Beaudoin. Mr. Fortier died Sunday night and Mr. Beaudoin passed away early Monday morning. As a part of the double funeral services a Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Menard, assisted by Rev. Fathers Sauriol and Blain. There was a large attendance at the funeral and the procession to St. Ann's cemetery, where both bodies were buried, was a long one. Besides the mourning relatives and friends of the dead there were present the members of L'Institut Jacques Cartier, of which organization both Mr. Fortier and Mr. Beaudoin were members.

SAYS AUTO SHOW IS REMARKABLE

Master Mechanic Frank Slater returned this morning from Chicago, where he went to attend the automobile show, which is now on in that city. Mr. Slater states that the present show is the finest thing in that line that has ever been attempted and that the display of automobiles is something remarkable. The total value of the exhibits is $3,000,000.

REV. DR. RICE IS AN UPLIFTING PULPIT ORATOR

HIS DISCOURSE ON "THE DEVIL TAKE THE HINDMOST" GIVES RARE PLEASURE TO AUDIENCE IN M. E. CHURCH.

It is a Sermon Rather Than a Lecture and Conveys a Message to All That is Best in Mankind—Tinged With Much Humor and Wit.

Those who attended the lecture, or sermon rather, delivered in the First Methodist church Tuesday evening by Rev. Dr. M. S. Rice of Duluth, Minn., under the auspices of the Epworth league, were well repaid for any inconvenience which their presence may have cost them. Dr. Rice more than sustained the reputation that had preceded him of being a pulpit orator of rare power and charm. In fact, he is magnetic and his discourse upon a subject which he has designated as "The Devil Take the Hindmost" was stirring, forcible and eloquent to a high degree.

It might be said that it was a trumpet call to all that is best and Christianlike in mankind and was at the same time a thrilling and earnest appeal for every man to help every other man in order that there shall be no hindmost for the devil to take.

Dr. Rice at the outset of his discourse stated that he is not a lecturer in the accepted definition of the word, but that he is first of all a preacher with a message to deliver and it is his purpose to deliver that message whenever and wherever the opportunity offers.

While treating his subject in all seriousness, Dr. Rice indulged in a number of pointed witticisms and showed possession of a well developed sense of humor by occasionally telling a humorous story that served to illustrate his thought or more forcibly emphasize the point he wished to make. His own humorous allusions were of such a character as to fairly convulse his auditors with merriment and yet made them more fully realize the meaning of the ideas being suggested.

Before Dr. Rice began his discourse, after being introduced by Rev. Fredrick Spence, the audience was given the pleasure of listening to a violin solo by Mr. Steiert, Miss Hollis Lanphear playing an accompaniment on the church organ, and a violin duet by Miss Ethel Dewey and Mr. Steiert. Both selections were finely rendered and greatly enjoyed.

ESCANABA 14th CITY IN STATE

THAT IS WHERE IT RANKS NOW IN POPULATION AMONG THE HUSTLING MUNICIPALITIES OF MICHIGAN.

LARGEST IN THE UPPER PENINSULA

Advance Census Reports Received by Local Real Estate Man Reveal This Pleasing Fact—Detroit is Within 30,000 of the Half Million Mark—Grand Rapids is the Second Largest City—State Capital in Eighth Place—The Figures.

How many people of the city know that Escanaba now occupies fourteenth place in population among the hustling and prosperous municipalities of Michigan? Well, it does, according to advance census reports received by L. M. Beggs, an insurance and real estate dealer of this city. And so pleased and proud is Mr. Beggs over the fact that he proclaims it in his advertisement published elsewhere in this paper.

Escanaba is not only the fourteenth city in size in Michigan, but it now possesses the enviable distinction of being the largest city in the upper peninsula, a fact which is now generally well known, but it will do no harm to again call attention to.

Enjoys Fine Growth. In the last ten years Escanaba has enjoyed a fine growth, something like 31 per cent, and it is prophesied that the next ten years will develop a still (Continued on Page Six.)

ARMAND CHOLLETTE OF SCHAFER DEAD

Armand Chollette, a young man quite well known in Escanaba, died Tuesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chollette, at Schaffer. Mr. Chollette had not been in very good health for some time, having suffered severely at intervals with diabetes, but his last illness was short and his death was quite unexpected.

Mr. Chollette was but 22 years old and unmarried. He was a member of St. Joseph's court of the Catholic Order of Foresters, this city, and a delegation of the members of that court will go to Schaffer to attend the funeral, which is to be held tomorrow forenoon. The Foresters going from here are A. J. Henry, Marc Pepin, F. Moore, Joseph Heas, William Smith and William De Lar. They will drive to Schaffer, starting early from Marc Pepin's place.

SENATOR LORIMER BADLY SCORED BY NEBRASKA SENATOR

UNITED STATES SENATOR NORRIS BROWN OF NEBRASKA DECLARES THAT SENATOR LORIMER KNOWS ABOUT BRIBERY.

He Says That Lorimer Was the Silent Hand Behind the Scenes and That Nothing Was Concealed From Him by O'Neil Brown—Story of Shame.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Feb. 1.—That Senator Lorimer had full knowledge of bribery by which it is charged his election was procured, was asserted today by Senator Norris Brown of Nebraska in a speech before the senate today. He further declared that Lee O'Neil Browne concealed nothing from Lorimer and that Browne did nothing to further the election of Lorimer that Lorimer did not know all about at the time.

In closing his speech he said that the Lorimer election "tells a story of shame and ignominy unparalleled in the history of legislation."

Escanaba Commandery is Officially Inspected by Grand Commander of the Knights Templar in Michigan and Head of Detroit Commandery No. 1.

LATE A. S. BUCHANAN LAID IN HIS GRAVE

Funeral services over the remains of the late Alexander S. Buchanan, who died at his home in this city early Sunday morning, were conducted in St. Joseph's church this forenoon by Rev. Father Julius and were very largely attended. Among these present were the members of St. Joseph's court of the Catholic Order of Foresters in a body and many members of U. P. Tent of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees, Mr. Buchanan having been a most esteemed member of both organizations. The pallbearers were representatives of the orders named. These were: A. J. Henry, Edward Kirkpatrick, Duncan McRae, John Roemer, Joseph Gleich and A. D. Dupuis. Many of those present at the services followed the remains to St. Joseph's cemetery, where interment was made. An evidence of the high regard in which the decedent was held was demonstrated by the large number of floral offerings, among which were a number of most elaborate and beautiful set pieces.

LIGHTING PLANT NEEDS NEW OFFICE

As a gentle hint to the board of public works it might be suggested that that body take some steps to provide for a decent office for the municipal lighting plant. The present quarters are a disgrace to the city and are entirely inadequate for the purpose for which they are used. Some building on Ludington street should be rented or even a suite of offices operated in some office building would be better. Nothing would be better than to have the present location and it is by many business men and others who have business dealings with the lighting plant that some improvement will be made.

SUGAR TAKES SMALL DROP

New York, Feb. 1.—All grades of refined sugar were reduced today ten cents a hundred pounds.

Tuesday night, January 31, 1911, will go down on the record as the date of one of the most notable occasions in the history of Escanaba commandery No. 47 of the Knights Templar. Several circumstances contributed toward making the occasion one of unusual importance and interest to members of the commandery and visiting Sir Knights from other places.

In the first place it was a special convocation called for the purpose of an official inspection, and secondly it was one of the most largely attended meetings in the history of the commandery. And, furthermore, the inspection was conducted by no less a personage than Charles G. Graham of Ithaca, grand commander of the grand commandery of the Knights Templar of Michigan, assisted by Charles H. Rowe, eminent commander of Detroit commandery No. 1, Knights Templar.

Grand Commander Graham and Eminent Commander Rowe arrived in the city Tuesday from Menominee, where on Monday evening they inspected the Escanaba commandery, and Tuesday evening they performed a similar duty with the Escanaba commandery.

Visiting Sir Knights. From all reports, the inspection was very satisfactory in its results and extremely creditable to the Knights of Escanaba commandery.

Besides the local Sir Knights there were present at the convocation a number of Sir Knights from outside the city. These included: H. F. Barton, V. I. Hixson, R. B. Waddell, N. W. Fox, A. S. Putnam, W. F. Crane, A. H. Davidson, E. H. Jewell, C. R. Orr, A. M. LeRoy and Rev. J. R. Mitchell, all of Manistique; G. H. Hill, Sault Ste. Marie; H. G. Becker Ishpeming; J. B. Frechette and C. G. Huss, Bark River; W. R. Hudson, Garret.

Following the inspection and other business of the convocation the Sir Knights and their visitors sat down to a banquet and enjoyed a social hour or two.

BOAT LOAD OF DYNAMITE EXPLODES IN NEW YORK

Scores are Injured and Many Killed—Everything in Vicinity is Wrecked—Whole of Manhattan Island Shaken—Cause of the Explosion Not Known.

(By Associated Press.) New York City, Feb. 1.—A boat loaded with dynamite at the pier of the Jersey Central railroad exploded today, injuring scores of people and killing several.

It is not known as yet how many are dead, but it is believed that all on the boat were killed and that the bodies went down with the boat.

The explosion wrecked everything in the vicinity and shook Manhattan Island, Brooklyn and the country within twenty miles of Jersey City. In New York much damage was done on Wall street and that neighborhood, but no one was injured.

As nothing remains of the boat it will probably never be known what caused the explosion.

Whelan of Shiawassee county, asking permission for the three members of the house of 1909 on the upper peninsula prison committee to visit the Ionia institution for the criminal insane, for the purpose of investigating the mental condition of an inmate who, it is alleged, was transferred from Marquette prison to the Ionia institution after giving damaging testimony against Warden Russell of the Marquette institution, opened the way for the junket.

Representative Warner of Leelanau took advantage of the situation, and on the following day offered a resolution authorizing the committee on the state university to inspect that institution. Speaker Baker promptly ruled the resolution out of order. A spirited debate followed in which Representatives Warner and Graves contended that the speaker erred in his ruling and that an appeal from his decision should be taken. The speaker was overruled by a majority, and the committee will proceed on its trip.

The chairman of various other committees have already announced their intention to ask for leave of absence to visit their respective state institutions. The speaker, however, declares that every time when such resolution is offered he will declare it out of order and thus compel the members to either submit or overrule him, and be placed on record as favoring the much desired joy ride.

Speaker and Clerk Clash.

Speaker Baker and Clerk King of the house are at odds. The reason for this strange situation is the fact that the speaker discovered that the employees of the legislature were being paid for seven days a week. This custom has prevailed for the past fifty years. The speaker asked the attorney general for an opinion on this question, and the attorney general ruled that the employees can only draw salaries for days when actually at work. The speaker intends to be guided by the opinion of the attorney general, and in consequence save the state over $10,000 which otherwise would be paid to employees for days when the legislature is not in session. Clerk King maintains that he and his force are working longer than eight hours each day, and that the employees did not object to the long hours as long as they were paid for Sunday. He also cites the long established precedent and claims that during the legislature of 1907, when Speaker Baker was a member of the house, he did not object to drawing his pay for seven days of the week.

Will Reduce Number of Employees.

In response to Governor Osborn's special message to the senate, a committee of that body headed by Senator Kingman recommended a reduction of four janitors and four committee clerks. This reduction will still leave the senate with forty-eight employees, twenty more than the governor deems necessary. The senate has not yet acted on the recommendation of the committee. The question of patronage is a hard one, and each senator stands ready to concede a reduction in the number of employees as long as his own personal appointees remain in position, but there is no question that the reduction will be made during the coming week.

Abolish State Boards.

Representative Warner will probably introduce during the coming week the administration measure abolishing eighteen state boards who now have control of the various state institutions and substituting therefor a central board, composed of three members, who will be salaried officers and must give their entire time and attention to the management of the state institutions.

Considerable Opposition Can Be Expected Towards This Bill.

This bill has the hearty endorsement of Governor Osborn and is modeled after similar laws now in force governing the state institutions of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Missouri. This measure is very drastic and radical. It is aimed to do away with the inefficiency and extravagance which has existed in some of the state institutions.

Revision of Tax Laws.

No one can forecast at this time how far the legislature will go in revamping the tax laws. Representative Lord, who was secretary of the tax commission until he became a member of the legislature, is looked upon as authority on tax matters by his colleagues. Their confidence in him, however, was somewhat shaken when the member from Wayne county introduced a resolution which was admitted that the revision of the state was undervalued. This section, the members maintained, was an admission which would be eagerly taken up and made use of by the railroad companies, who are contemplating attacking the tax laws of the state on the grounds that the property of the state is not assessed at its true cash value and that the railroads are being assessed in excess of their true cash value.

Nothing has yet been done towards the introduction of the corporation income tax bill favored by Governor Osborn, although the attorney general's department is now busy drafting a bill along these lines. The sentiment in the house is divided as to the advisability and constitutionality of the proposition, and this is encouraged by the corporation lobbyists.

The tax commission has been reorganized, with Commissioner Thompson as president, Commissioner George B. Horton of Fruitridge, Lenawee county, former master of the State Grange, has succeeded Commissioner Hoyt of Oakland county as member of the commission.

Women Suffrage.

A number of good looking women lobbyists have been playing on the tender feelings of the representatives, with a view of getting their votes in favor of a constitutional amendment, to be submitted to the electors at the spring election, favoring women suffrage. The resolution is now before the house, and some action on it is expected during the coming week. This resolution will probably pass the legislature, and the issue of equal voting rights of both sexes will be placed squarely before the voters of the state at the next election.

Fishermen Seek Protection.

Representative Pearson of Charlevoix introduced a resolution in the house to appoint a joint committee of the house and senate to act with similar committees appointed by the legislatures of Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana, with the view of recommending uniform legislation for the states bordering on Lake Michigan. This legislation is very much desired, as the difference in the laws governing the fishing industry has often caused great inconvenience and friction among the commercial fishermen on Lake Michigan.

New Appointments.

John Baird was appointed by Governor Osborn as state salt inspector for the term ending Jan. 25, 1912, and was confirmed in open session by the senate. Thomas Nadal of Olivet college was appointed by the governor as a member of the state board of education, succeeding W. A. Cotton, resigned. MAX SOCHLA.

SUFFRAGISTS LOSE FIGHT AT LANSING

House Turns Down a Resolution to Submit to the People a Constitutional Amendment Which Would Give Women of Michigan a Right to Vote—The Details.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 1.—By a vote of fifty-five to forty-four, a resolution to submit to the people a constitutional amendment relative to the right of women to vote was lost yesterday afternoon in the house, a two thirds vote being necessary to pass a measure of this kind.

The vote was taken late yesterday afternoon, after over an hour of speechmaking. Representatives Flowers of Detroit, Rankin of Ypsilanti, Stewart of Grand Rapids, Graves of Adrian and McBride of Holland supported it, while Representative Warner of Frankfort spoke against it. Sixty-seven votes were necessary to put the measure through.

The vote of the upper peninsula representatives on the question was: Yes—Field, Jensen, Lucas, McEachern and Parks; no—Ewing, Holland, Kappler, Knight, Symonds and Morgan. Representative Edwards of Atlantic Mine was not present. The hall and the galleries were filled to capacity and much enthusiasm was shown. Nearly seven-eighths of the spectators were women.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE NEAR RAPID RIVER

In a fire which occurred at Fish's Corner, near Rapid River Tuesday, a saloon and boarding house owned and conducted by William Garvin were completely destroyed. Two barns were also burned and but few of the contents of either the house or barns were saved, making the loss considerable. The fire is said to have been caused by the falling of a stove pipe in the saloon part of the building, Sparks flying from the pipe set fire to surrounding work and the blaze was not discovered until it had gained considerable headway and by the time the volunteer fire department arrived from Rapid River there was no possibility of saving either the building or the barn. Mr. Garvin's loss is almost total as he carried but a small amount of insurance.

MAGNIFICENT TRIP WELL WORTH WHILE

Opportunity that Offers Itself to Any Young Woman in Escanaba or Delta County is One that Should Be Taken Advantage Of—Friends Will Help.

Now is the time of all times when the opportunity of taking the most delightful trip imaginable is within the reach of any ambitious young woman who proceeds along the lines of the successful. The trip to New York and Bermuda, made possible by this offer of The Daily Mirror, is many times more valuable than is the amount of effort required to win it, and this is being realized by each contestant. The ladder to the goal is not reached by one single round. Persistent effort, careful planning, and a little patience will keep up the spirit, and make one's possibilities surer and easier.

Get into the race "at once"—it's worth the effort. The only manner in which wealth can influence the voting in this contest is by securing by this means the paid-for subscriptions which count up so rapidly, as against the "single" ballots clipped from the paper. The contest is so arranged that only the contestants in any one district compete against each other, and they have nothing to do with candidates in other districts, although a candidate can go into any district to get votes.

Nothing To Equal It.

All to be given for the asking. Why not be one of them? Do it now. No expense will be spared to make the trip a success, and the amount of splendor to be thrown around it will confer the highest honors upon those who win. Will you be one of them? Is there anything crowded with more interest, more pleasure in anticipating than a trip away from home—over sea and land—where new scenes, new faces, hold sway? To one who has not traveled extensively there is nothing that equals the thrill of genuine pleasure than a trip such as The Mirror is offering. It broadens and widens one's horizon; you will be enabled to see how people live—daily. And all of these are to be enjoyed by a party of young ladies as guests of The Mirror—an honor and a memory never to be forgotten. There is but one course to pursue to become successful, and that is to "get busy," "get votes" and "vote them."

Friends Anxious To Help You.

When you obtain a subscription, turn it in at the office and obtain the voting ticket to which you are entitled, which may then be voted at any time. This will start the paper to the subscriber, who can then clip the daily coupons for you, thus adding still more to your total vote, when turned in. And besides, the rules require that the subscription must be reported. There are many people to see—friends, near friends and will-be friends. If your friends are already subscribers to The Mirror, ask them to pre-pay their subscription for six months or twelve months. The carrier will receive his compensation just as though he had collected weekly or monthly as before, and you will receive the credit for the number of votes which you are entitled.

If any of those who see do not take The Mirror, then that now is their opportunity to Escanaba's representative paper—something they will be glad to do—and your count will increase proportionately. Your friends wish to help you—they are anxious to help you. They are wondering why you have not asked them to subscribe. They are wondering why you delay while others are getting busy. GET BUSY A WINNER. Subscription Mirror and vote.

Such a league did put it over on anaba, Menominee, Marinette and Escanabas ought to be that. They were easy winners in their territory last year, but were defeated by Neegaunee for the upper peninsula championship, and at the close of the season the Marquette and Neegaunee teams were running a neck and neck race.

If Escanaba desires to travel in the fastest baseball company in the upper peninsula, it will give serious consideration to any offer from the Marquette county teams, putting out of its memory the happenings of a year ago.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist.

LIVING ON A SINGLE FOOD.

Can one live on a single food? Yes, if it contain all the elements necessary for nutrition. We all do it, for about a year, usually, and many of the lower animals continue to do it, largely or entirely through life. The chamols and others of the goat kind, the healthiest of all animals, live well on mountain grass and water. Many Arabs live long periods exclusively on dates, and they are noted for superior endurance. The woodchuck lives on grass and the tortoise attains a great age on watercress. Men have lived many years on whole cereal bread and water, in better health than the average man on the average mixed diet. In case of sickness the "monodiet" often becomes necessary, and everyone can gain in health, in efficiency and in good feeling by approximating it, by avoiding the habit of excessive mixing of foods, which is so wasteful of vitality that can be put to better use. The mixtures most to be avoided are those of foods digesting principally in stomach and intestine, respectively—meat and milk, meat and rice, bread and fruit, for example.

YOUNG WANTS TO BE SHOWN

According to the Washington correspondent of the Detroit News, Congressman H. O. Young of this district is not favorably disposed toward the proposed reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada, the adoption of which is much desired by President Taft. Mr. Young says:

"I am not convinced that I should support it. I believe that it would not reduce the cost of living, nor will it materially hurt the farmer. But it will hurt our lumber and print paper industry in the upper peninsula. I will have to be shown before I support it."

Mr. Young does not attach significance to the reduction on iron ore, because Canada has not yet developed much high grade ore.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WORDS.

A prize offered by Grenville Kleiser to pupils of the Public Speaking club of America in New York for a list of twenty-five most beautiful words in the English language was won by James Shea, a lawyer.

Words were judged according to their beauty of sound and beauty of meaning, and out of twenty-five submitted by her twenty-one words were accepted. Grace, justice and truth were rejected. The harshness of g in grace and the j in justice disqualified them, and truth was turned down because of its metallic sound. The words accepted as the most beautiful in the language are: Melody, Splendor, Adoration, Eloquence, Virtue, Innocence, Modesty, Faith, Joy, Honor, Radiance, Nobility, Sympathy, Heaven, Love, Divine, Hope, Harmony, Happiness, Purity, Liberty.

Sixty-five persons submitted lists. Mr. Kleiser prepared list and found afterward that only one of his words had been submitted in the other sixty-five offered and that just one person used that.

An amusing feature of the contest was that Shea made a speech accepting the prize in which he did not once use any of the words he had submitted.

BUYING NEWSPAPERS.

The testimony by Business Manager Dodsworth of the New York Journal of Commerce, of alleged attempts to buy that newspaper's support by subsidy interests, by the Spanish government, and others, is a striking testimony to newspaper power.

It is sometimes said, in these days of impersonal journalism, that newspaper influence has waned. Advertisers and politicians, 'tis said, muzzle the editor's teeth.

And yet when testimony comes along indicating that a single newspaper's silence is worth $100,000 to some one, it looks as if the newspaper press was still the greatest creator of public sentiment, even if the editorials are written in some parlor by a man whose picture never gets into print.

When an intelligent man writes down his honest thought, he right or wrong, and if he bases his argument on the facts practical men's experience, his voice will loom high above the modern tumult of misinformation and unworkable theory.

There's no occupation on earth more fascinating to a certain class of people than knocking the newspaper, particularly if the paper chances to be a home institution, says an exchange. These knocks, of course, do not come from men who knock things themselves—as a rule they are too busy making good to find time for dissecting the press—but from a class no, having made a failure of their own business, feel themselves called upon to run that of others. Any paper appreciates and welcomes honest criticism, but when it is a matter of knocking for the mere joy of wielding the hammer it comes irksome.

Referring to the story that he may be playing his cards to create a demand that he be given a second term Governor Osborn is quoted as saying: "I shall welcome a change in the institution that will extend the term of governor to four years and will be in such form as to make me ineligible for reelection at the expiration of my present term. All I ask the people to do is to watch carefully the persons who are crying out a warning against me lest they may be the very ones who have the 'stolen property' on their persons and are shouting 'top thief' to distract attention themselves."

Montana people ask to have Senator Lodge's election investigated. Our advice to them is to sit tight, or the price charged the Consumer for their legislative seats may be reduced by the commerce commission.

Women teachers claim they should get as much as housemaids, but they won't until girls like to do housework as well to teach school.

If that American who has bought Liszt's organ for $50,000 takes it out on the road with a hand crank and a monkey, we hope he plays something besides "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Our Daily Short Story

Superfluous Things

"See, I have brought an advance Christmas present for myself," said the collector, who stood in front of the office looking glass trying on a new beaver hat.

The young woman stenographer looked up coldly.

"Don't you like it?" asked the collector in an anxious tone.

"Yes, I like the hat. Also the man under it," said the young woman stenographer. But—

"Ah, those kind words of appreciation are—"

"A preface to some plain truths. What did you do with your old hat?"

"Ordered it sent here."

"Just as I thought. There is no use of my trying a longer. It is hopeless."

"Wait until I get a match and a cigar. There—go ahead. Tell me your trouble."

"Long ago," said the young woman stenographer, "the chief threw out a strong hint that I'd be a great comfort to him if I kept the vault in perfect order. He said it never had been done. That was my cue for working toward approval and incidentally an increase in salary." The stenographer sighed. "Well, every time a salesman returns from a trip—whether he has been to New York or to Kansas City—he rushes out, buys a new hat and sends the old one here."

"The first hat I wrapped up carefully and put into the vault. The second I stuck into an old bandbox. The seventh and eighth I jumbled into a bag. For six months those packages were moved from one side of the vault to the other. Sometimes they were on the floor and sometimes on the shelf—always in the way. But I pictured to myself the gratitude those men would show when I brought out their hats the next season, scarcely used and as good as new."

The collector grinned. "Did they wear them?" he asked.

"No; still, they wouldn't let me throw those hats away. Finally I put Mr. Wolcott's hat on Mr. Barker's desk. Mr. Barker had no scruples about getting rid of it. A guest-off hat of Mr. Barker's I put on Mr. Hammond's chair—I didn't have to do it twice. This method I pursued systematically until there wasn't a superfluous hat left."

"You are a deep, designing woman."

The stenographer shook her head, and continued. "Just your mentioning Christmas makes me shudder. Last year, for weeks before Christmas, mysterious packages kept arriving and had to be stored in the vault. My real trouble, however, began after Christmas. What do people mean by giving such presents as they do? Look at the cushions on that settee. Regularly I have to rip off the covers, take them to the cleaners, bring them back and sew them on again."

"What would you have the chief's friends give him?"

The stenographer scowled. "I wouldn't have them give him fancy calendars that have to be adjusted every morning—"

"Hang a monthly calendar in his office and stop fussing."

"Is that a joke? Look at the walls in his office. Is there space on them for even a postcard? I had the photographs of at least thirty of those men framed for him and the clerk in the picture store acted just as if he thought I was making a collection of matinee idols. After the office was repapered the janitor and I hung pictures at the rate of one a minute."

"I noticed that you put the three ballet girls in the darkest corner and that you had the picture of the Johnson-Jeffries prize fight framed in black."

"Look at the chief's desk," said the young woman stenographer with a deepening sense of injustice. "That portfolio holds two sheets of paper and two one-cent stamps. The silver rim of that fancy blotter has to be mended weekly. No store in Chicago keeps the right-sized leads for those fancy pencils. I've tried 'em all. The only thing that lavender notebook holds is dust. Who gave him that fountain pen? Every time he uses it I feel as if I ought to put on a rain coat and stuff my ears with cotton."

"For eleven months a perfectly good shelf in the vault has been used for his Christmas gifts. Yesterday he brought them to his country home and when I looked at the perfect order the vault I began to have hopes for more salary, but the Christmas shopping today boy with your hat!"

Out of the vault came Dim Post.

The Roman theatrical managers had told Seneca his dramas, while showing unquenchable ability, were unfit for the stage.

"Are they?" he asked, with a broad smile. "Then I'll be produced in the twentieth century. In any event, my fame is secure."

But Seneca did not foresee that the twentieth century would have plenty of unfit dramas.

He stood.

Innocents do when they are asked the eager lie.

"I—just stand and watched you."

"What did you fire at him?"

"I—just stand and watched you."

POLITE CONDUCTOR ENRICHED BY WIDOW

Hammond, Ind., Feb. 1.—Four years ago, when Frank L. Bunnell, a passenger conductor on the Nickel Plate railway, bowed politely as he handed Mrs. Jennie Schofield, a rich widow, her ticket, after punching it, he did not realize that his politeness would bring him a fortune.

The widow was so touched by Bunnell's courtesy that when she died, in 1908, she bequeathed him her entire estate, valued at $100,000, ignoring her blood relations, Edward Howard, her brother of Indianapolis, and William Howard, her nephew, of Kenosha, Wis.

The Howards sought to break the will in the Court of Common Pleas at Norwalk, Ohio. Mrs. Schofield's home in Hammond, won the case. The Howards then appealed to a higher court, alleging that Mrs. Schofield was of unsound mind. Today the decision of the lower court was affirmed.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS BY WALDO PONDRAY WARREN. A MOTIVE FOR ACTION. TO allow ourselves to be cheated out of an opportunity is not only unfair to ourselves, but it is unfair to others, for it also cheats them out of the good we might be able to do them if we had taken advantage of the opportunity. Let us hope that there are few men selfish enough to maintain that a man owes nothing to his fellow men. It is a commonly accepted thought that a man has certain moral obligations to others, and that he who willfully neglects them forfeits his right to the respect of his fellows. Most of all, a man owes a good example. The endeavor to attain proficiency in any wholesome line of work, to surpass the standards of merit that have been attained by others, and to improve continually on our own past achievements, is the spirit of the honorable life. It is not for ourselves alone that we strive to attain a high standard, but it is our share in the general progress of the world. To see it thus gives new energy to our endeavors and makes success more sure. A man's interest cannot be entirely separated from that of his fellows. The highest success cannot be attained without something of altruism in our motives, for that lifts our thoughts to a higher capacity than selfishness can possibly do. In order to do your best for yourself you are forced to be an altruist. (Copyright, 1911, by Joseph B. Davis.)

WILL ELECT CITY OFFICERS AS USUAL

A number of the voters have expressed doubt as to whether the primary law applies to the municipal election to be held in April. In answer to this query it may be stated that the law makes it optional as regards primary elections in cities of less than 70,000 inhabitants, and that until the city votes to adopt the primary system, the usual method of electing city officers will be continued. A vote for and against adopting the primary system of nominating city officers can be taken at any time, on petition of 20 per cent of the electorate.

TWO REDHEAD GIRLS CHANGE THEIR NAMES

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 1.—Two pretty girls who arrived on the White Star liner Laurentic were booked under the name of Gladys de Clifford and Lena de Clifford. The immigration inspector learned that the girls in buying their tickets had said that De Cliffords was their mother's maiden name.

Gladys is 20 years old and her sister a year younger. Both admitted that they used their mother's name. It took much questioning before they would give their father's name. He is William Redhead of London. Both were admitted.

STATE SECRETARY SENDS LETTER TO CHIEF OF POLICE THAT IS OF INTEREST TO OWNERS OF MOTOR CARS.

Calls the Latter's Attention to the Desirability of Enforcing the Automobile Law—Valuable Information Given in Summary of the Law.

Chief of Police Iversen of this city has received a letter from Secretary of State Martindale, calling the latter's attention to the desirability of better enforcement of the automobile laws throughout the state.

The motor vehicle law requires each motor vehicle operated upon the highways of the state to be equipped with number plates furnished by the secretary of state.

Since Jan. 1, all machines must have 1911 plates; 1910 plates cannot longer be used. The new plates have a reverse color scheme to those of 1910.

CASTLE GARDEN TO BE ENLARGED

New York Plans to Make It World's Largest Aquarium.

A MILLION FOR CHANGES.

Historic Edifice, Erected as Castle Clinton Fortress in 1807, Became Theater About 1830 and Heard Jenny Lind in 1850—Lafayette, Jackson and Tyler Welcomed There.

New York may have a new aquarium, to be the largest and best equipped institution of the kind in the world, and the city will be asked for a bond issue for the erection of a new building.

It is understood that the city will be asked for a total of about $1,000,000, to be appropriated in installments as needed. In addition to the cramped quarters for visitors, the tank space has been found to be inadequate.

Owing to the enormous amount of space lost in the present old building on account of the thick walls and bomb proof compartments the amount of space actually available for the work of the aquarium as it now stands is a very small percentage of the amount of area covered by the building.

CASTLE GARDEN MADE HISTORY.

Castle Garden, the building which the aquarium now occupies and will continue to occupy, is one of the most picturesque structures in New York. The general government erected it in 1807, when the site was about 300 yards from the mainland.

Fifteen years after its completion its necessity as a means of defense passed away, and the federal authorities ceded it to the city in 1822. Two years later it was leased to private individuals as a place of amusement, and its floor was laid out elaborately as an indoor garden.

In the thirties it became a playhouse, and in 1847 the Havana Opera company began an engagement there, singing such operas as "Ernani," "Norma" and "La Sonnambula."

Castle Garden's career as a theater ended in May, 1855, when the building was turned into a depot for the reception of immigrants. In 1870 its interior was destroyed by fire, but the thick walls remained intact.

The Rev. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburg, who is worth $20,000,000, and his wife as much more, is experimenting on monkeys in the hope of finding a serum or cure for infantile paralysis, the disease from which less than 15 per cent of its victims recover.

He now has sixty monkeys in a cage in the pathological department, and they are being utilized daily for an exchange of blood with sufferers from the dread disease.

COUNTRY'S HEAD SCORES ONE GREAT VICTORY

BY A VOTE OF 186 TO 93 THE HOUSE PASSES TAFT'S BILL CREATING A PERMANENT TARIFF BOARD.

First of the Administration Measures to Get Through—Bill Provides for Body Organization of Five Members—Details of Story Follows

(By Associated Press).

Washington, Feb. 1.—After considering the matter for more than seven hours, under a special rule, the house by a vote of 186 to 93, passed the bill providing for a permanent tariff board of five members. This is the first of the legislation recommended by President Taft to be adopted in the house at this session.

The bill creates a permanent tariff board in lieu of the present board, which is a creature of a provision of the sundry civil appropriation bill and which will expire by its own limitation on the 30th of June next.

The board is to consist of five members, not more than three of whom shall be of the same political party. The term of office shall be six years each and those first appointed shall be for terms of two, three, four, five and six years, respectively, to be designated by the president.

The president is also to designate one of the members to be chairman. The salaries of the members are $7,500 annually for the chairman and $7,000 each for the other members.

The board is to have its principal office in Washington and is empowered to sit in any other place in the United States or in foreign countries.

PRESIDENT TAFT TO VISIT HOUGHTON

On his return to Houghton from his recent visit to Washington and New York, President F. W. McNair of the Michigan College of Mines stated that he had a conditional promise from both President Taft and George W. Perkins of New York to attend the Michigan College of Mines reunion at Houghton on August 6. They promised to attend if they possibly could arrange it.

President McNair had personal interviews with the president and Mr. Perkins and feels confident that Houghton will see them next August. He also says that the New York alumni of the mining college will come to the reunion in a special compartment.

KNOWING WHEN SORTS EGGS FOR FARMERS

Johnstown, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Giles Freeman, a farm hand employed by Eddie Hale, owns a brown leghorn hen of fine pedigree and a remarkable nature.

Before he bought the fowl from Hale, Freeman noticed whenever the hen was put on a new setting she would kick several eggs from the nest.

Marking these eggs and placing them under other setting hens, Freeman found not one would hatch. The remaining eggs invariably brought forth chickens.

Tired of buying setting eggs for a hen to scatter over the floor, Hale sold the fowl to Freeman. He christened her Minerva.

Freeman now uses her only to sort worthless eggs from the settings of farmers who come for miles to have the bird pass judgment on their assorted eggs.

WORLD'S SKATING RECORDS BROKEN

(By Associated Press.)

Boston, Feb. 1.—Two world's records were broken in the first ice skating meet ever held in Boston for the New England championship under the auspices of the International Skating union last night. In the 220-yard race, Fred J. Robson of Toronto bettered his own mark of 19 1/5 seconds by doing the distance in 18 seconds flat and establishing a new figure. The second record to go was for the high jump, the best previous mark being 4 feet 1 inch. Wm. H. Quinn of Harvard, after three trials, made 4 feet, 3 inches.

ABE ATTELL MAY NEVER FIGHT AGAIN

Cleveland, Jan. 1.—Abe Attell, the featherweight champion pugilist, had one of the bones of his right arm broken in the fourth round of a scheduled ten-round bout with Tommy Kilbane here Monday night. According to the doctors, he may never enter the ring again. The boys were boxing only at fair speed when the accident occurred. They were in a clinch and while wrestling fell to the floor. Attell's arms were linked about Kilbane's neck, and though it was apparent to the spectators that he was under a severe strain, few realized that he had sustained severe injuries even when he complained to the referee after rising. Later he fell to the floor in agony. He was quickly removed to a hospital.

Life-Saving Service for Miners.

The inauguration of a life-saving service for the rescue of miners in time of disaster is one of the first steps taken by the new Bureau of Mines. Recently six specially constructed cars, manned by a corps of miners trained in rescue work and equipped with the latest rescue apparatus and first aid to the injured appliances, have been sent to the mining districts.

The saving of human life will be the emergency feature of a general campaign of educational work among the miners, who will not only be taught the use of the rescue apparatus, but also the proper way to take care of an injured miner. There will also be lectures on many phases of the mining problem.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS

Are you disposed to give men credit, or hell?

Men are never as crazy about the women as women think they are.

Some people want to make up a quarrel so they can have it all over again.

It may be said of secrets, however, that they are about as well kept as promises.

Sometimes a great deal can be said in two words. For instance, "Surviving aviator."

Where one man will consider you a "good talker," a dozen men will vote you a big bore.

When a man is enthusiastic about another man, he is generally figuring on getting something from him.

Women often say, "She has such an awful temper that when she loses it, she gets sick and has to go to bed."

A reporter can be careless, but he always does a lot of investigating before he accuses a man of stealing a horse.

We once knew an optimist who considered working on a railway section for a dollar twenty a day a pretty good job.

The Domesticated College Girl.

In what other country would you find a college educated woman doing all of her housework, including washing and ironing, and often turning from presiding over the washtub to go into the parlor to help one child in its practice of a difficult passage of Beethoven or Chopin, or who, after ten hours of cooking and cleaning, sits down to tutor her boys in Latin and Greek for their college preparation? Yet this is no sporadic instance, but a type of wide representation, particularly throughout the west.

Krupp Works' Vast Profits.

The great armor and gun making firm of Krupp announces a ten per cent dividend for the year on the share capital of $45,000,000, as compared with eight per cent last year. The gross profits for the year are given at $9,000,000, half of which is written off and the rest devoted to the reserve, to dividends and to contributions to the invalid and pensions fund for the firm's 70,000 employees, which now aggregates $9,500,000. The employees have in addition on deposit with the management $8,750,000. Krupp's contribution to the workmen's state insurance fund amounted this year to $1,220,000.

PROMINENT TURFMAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

FIRST SHOWING New Silks for Spring and Summer 1911

IT IS HARDLY NECESSARY for this house to say anything about silks. We are more enthusiastic than ever about our early showing of new dress silks for Spring. Our customers seems to be very much pleased with our assortment. We know we have more than double the amount of any other store in the Peninsula. Every day we are selling more silks than all the other stores in Escanaba combined. Even now, so early in the season, at certain hours during the day, it is almost impossible to get near our silk counters. When a store has a reputation for selling nothing but best quality of silks, then let it be known that they charge less than other stores—we would like to know how you are going to keep people from a store that does business on those principles.

For the next few weeks you will hear women all over the city say "If You Want Good Reliable Silks at a Saving Go to The Fair Savings Bank"

Comencing tomorrow we offer women the opportunity to secure sufficient of the new silks for spring and summer dresses and waists at a price that is much less than same quality of silk can be bought for elsewhere. Many beautiful pieces of Pau de Cygnes--Messalines--Taffetas--Louisines--Foulards--Pau de Soies--Shantung etc. are exclusive with us and the minute women see and touches them she will appreciate their exceptional quality.
