WATER SAID TO BE O. K. NOW

Water Company's Bacteriologist Reports Results of His First Test of Water Taken from Plant—City Chemist Believes Report is Issued Prematurely.

According to a report prepared last evening by Henry Kneeland, the Escanaba Water company's bacteriologist, the water being furnished through the company's plant is now pure and wholesome and entirely safe for domestic use. Mr. Kneeland prepared this report following the completion late yesterday afternoon of his first scientific test of both raw water and water taken from the filtration well.

According to Mr. Kneeland's findings and report, the filtered water has an efficiency of 98.53 per cent, which is .53 per cent better than the state board of health's requirement. Another test is in progress and its results probably will be made known tomorrow.

City Chemist's Opinion.
Dr. A. J. Carlson, city chemist, was asked today in regard to Mr. Kneeland's report and he said that while he did not question its correctness, he was of the opinion that it was issued rather prematurely. He thought the test to ascertain the presence of absence of colon bacillus should have been completed before the report was issued. Dr. Carlson stated that from his own tests he had sometimes found the conditions stated in Mr. Kneeland's report, but that those conditions did not justify him in pronouncing (Continued on Page Six.)

MISS MARY POWERS BECOMES A BRIDE

Youngest Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Powers of Escanaba is Wedded to Thomas Sayvold of Glenwood, Minn.—Wedding is Solemnized at Glenwood.

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Miss Mary Agnes Powers, youngest daughter of ex-Alderman and Mrs. James Powers of this city, to Thomas Sayvold of Glenwood, Minn. The wedding was solemnized in St. Joseph's church at Glenwood at nine o'clock Wednesday morning, Rev. Father O'Connell performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayvold will make their home at Glenwood, where Mr. Sayvold holds a position in the train dispatcher's office of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railway. News of Miss Powers' marriage may come as a surprise to many of her friends here, but all will unite in extending congratulations and wishing unlimited matrimonial happiness to her and the man of her choice.

Miss Powers, now Mrs. Sayvold, left Escanaba last August, going to Glenwood with her sister, Mrs. T. C. Loftus, with whom she has since made her home. At Glenwood she followed the occupation of a music teacher and achieved considerable success in a comparatively short time, having secured a large class of pupils.

CIRCUIT CAN MAKE NO BETTER CHOICE

Marquette Mining Journal: The bar associations throughout Judge Flannigan's circuit have endorsed him for reelection. The layment generally agree that the circuit could make no better choice. Republicans and Democrats alike intend to nominate Judge Flannigan. It appears to be settled who will preside in our courts during the next term.

FEDERAL TROOPS RETREAT BEFORE THE INSURRECTOS

(By Associated Press.)
THE MEXICAN DISTURBANCE IS NOW GETTING PRETTY CLOSE TO THE BORDER OF THE UNITED STATES.

Mexican Army Has Small Loss, According to Their Report and Come into Juarez to Recuperate—Believe Loss Larger Than Reported.

(By Associated Press.)
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 2.—According to the federal troops that arrived in Juarez this morning, there was a clash between them and the rebels before daybreak this morning. They brought in three wounded and admitted that two others had been killed, but said that they were killed in wrecking a bridge to check the advance of the insurrectos to Juarez. It is believed that the federal loss was heavier than reported as many riderless horses have been coming into Juarez all the forenoon.

FIRE CHIEF IS A SECOND BURBANK

Chief Kaurath, of the fire department is a sort of a second Luther Burbank and pulls off some very astonishing stunts in horticulture. His last effort is the growing of lilacs and apple blossoms. He has several fine samples at No. 2 engine house and will fully explain the method that he uses to force the growth. Each summer the fire chief has a garden that is the envy of everyone in the lower end of the city. Take it all in all, the chief is a versatile fellow and does many clever things. He can make his own clothes from the cutting to the sewing on of the last button, but his favorite pastime is gardening.

SOME GOOD SHOWS COMING TO CITY

Good shows have not been very plentiful of late at the Peterson opera house, but Manager Peterson has booked some fine attractions to appear in his house within the next few weeks. DRUNKEN ROW ENDS IN DEATH

BOARDING HOUSE AT RUMELEY IS SCENE OF WHAT APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN DELIBERATE MURDER.

ALLEGED MURDERER IS CAPTURED

Austrian Laborer is Shot and Killed by Frank Orris, a Woodsman—Orris Escapes Following the Shooting, But is Pursued and Captured by Posse After Having One of His Knees Broken by a Rifle Bullet—Details of the Tragedy.

According to the Marquette Mining Journal of today, a Finnish boarding house at Rumeley, a few miles east of Chatham, was the scene of what appears to have been a cold blooded murder at six o'clock last evening, when Frank Orris, a woodsman in the employ of the lumbering department of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, shot and killed a fellow laborer, an Austrian, whose name has not been ascertained. After committing the crime, Orris escaped up the railroad track toward Chatham.

The telephone wires were at once made use of to notify residents of nearby towns of the crime and the escape of the murderer and in a short time posess were organized at Rumeley and at Chatham, who arranged to approach each other. As the snow is very deep, it was not thought that Orris would leave the track and take to the woods. About a mile and a quarter west of Rumeley, Orris was found inside a tent near the track, which had been placed there as a place for woodsmen to eat their dinners.

Wounded and Captured.
Realizing that Orris was probably armed, the volunteer police force took due caution and first fired several (Continued on page six.)

EXTRACT COMPANY TO BUILD COTTAGES

Several days ago operations at the Escanaba Extra company's plant, north of the Chemical plant, were started with renewed activity and within a few days the plant will be running to its full capacity. The Extract company is enjoying a big business and its prospects for the future are exceptionally bright.

It is understood that the company is planning to erect a number of cottages next spring in the vicinity of the plant for the occupancy of its employes. It is not beyond the bounds of possibility that the company will at some time in the future construct a dock from which the products of the plant may be loaded directly onto boats for shipment to their destination.

GRUENERT SENT TO REFORMATORY

Fritz W. Gruenert, who several days ago entered a plea of guilty to a charge of seduction, was sentenced in circuit court yesterday, afternoon by Judge Flannigan to an indeterminate sentence of from six months to five years in the state reformatory at Ionia. FAREWELL MASS BY REV. FR. BARTH

Church at Stephenson is Crowded With Former Parishioners of Zealous Priest, Now Stationed in Escanaba—Touching Incident—Presented With Substantial Gifts.

Wednesday morning at Stephenson Rev. Father F. X. Barth, now pastor of St. Patrick's church in this city, celebrated a farewell mass in the church of which he had been the pastor for 15 years.

The church was crowded with the people to whom he had ministered during the years of his pastorate. Father Barth delivered an address which was full of pathos. There was no effort on the part of the people to restrain the emotions which filled their hearts as they listened to the familiar voice of the pastor of souls, which had so often admonished, directed, guided and consoled them in the years now past.

At the conclusion of the services the former pastor greeted each man, woman and child, with individual words of farewell and a parting shake of the hand.

A touching incident occurred as a venerable man, weighted with advanced years, approached, and instead of extending his hand, he threw his arms about the beloved priest and impressed a kiss upon his cheek, as a father bidding a fond farewell to a departing son.

The members of the several societies of the congregation presented Rev. Father Barth with a substantial purse, while the ladies of the parish gave him a silk cassock.

RECEIVER HAS BEEN APPOINTED

(By Associated Press.)
Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 2.—The Michigan Trust company has been appointed receiver for the R. G. Peters Salt and Lumber company of Manistee and for R. G. Peters. The liabilities are $2,000,000 and the assets are believed to be in excess of the liabilities by at least $500,000.

Owing to the arrival of the Bermuda views in a damaged condition yesterday, we were unable to have them shown at the Grand Theater last evening. We have, however, sent for another set and will announce the time of their showing later. From what remained of the slides, we feel sure that their exhibition will prove most entertaining and instructive. They are made from actual photographs and colored by hand, giving when thrown on the screen, a most lifelike reproduction of the various scenes represented.

The young ladies who are now candidates for the beautiful tours offered by The Mirror, have really a twofold purpose for which to work. First, of course, is the trip itself, and then the desire and ambition to be the very highest of all at the finish.

Should Not Let Up.
There is no girl so far ahead at the present time but what an energetic young lady possessing the proper amount of spirit and ambition, could readily overtake her. This should be remembered both by the leaders and those contestants who are far down on the list. Let us analyze the truth of this statement. The highest vote means but five or six subscriptions and we have demonstrated to several of the young ladies how easy it is to obtain four or five subscriptions in a couple of hours of vigorous canvassing. After a practical demonstration of this kind, a contestant should continue the work and not let up until the close of the contest.

PYTHIAN SISTERS GIVE BALL TONIGHT

All the arrangements have been made and everything is now in readiness for the second annual ball of the Escanaba Pythian Sisters, which is to be held in Clark's hall this evening. The hall has been attractively decorated for the occasion and it is expected that a large number of people will attend the function in response to the invitations that have been issued. Brotherton's orchestra will furnish the music and the several committees will see to it that nothing is omitted that can add to the pleasure of the Pythian Sisters' guests.

This Great Grocery Department of ours has won its tremendous trade by reason of the merits of the food stuffs it sells, but, not content with offering quality and purity alone, the prices are made lower than are asked in the average grocery store, and on special occasions, such as tomorrow and Saturday, the low prices are cut still deeper, making it advantageous to home keepers and boarding house and hotel keepers to anticipate their present and future needs.

PROGRESSIVES NEW FACTOR IN POLITICS

Republican League Comprises Prominent Men in Party From West and Northwest.

Organization Headed by Senator Bourne of Oregon Plans Campaign to Popularize Principles—May Mean New Party.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON. THE National Progressive League is born. It is a new force in American politics, the effects of which no one can as yet foresee.

The officers of the new organization are as follows: President, Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., Oregon; first vice president, Representative George W. Norris, Nebraska.

Senators Beveridge, Brown, Cummins, Dixon, Gronna and La Follette. Representatives Cooper, Carey, Morse and Nelson of Wisconsin, Davis and Lindberg of Minnesota.

Platform is Progressive. Rather strong array of names that at last there seems to be something doing in this land of the free.

The platform of the league bears out this idea. It is as follows: We, the undersigned, associate ourselves together as the National Progressive Republican League.

Under existing conditions legislation in the public interest has been hindered and defeated. This is evidenced by the long struggle to secure laws, but partially effective, for the control of railway rates and services.

Just in proportion as popular government has in certain states superseded the delegate convention system and the people have assumed control of the machinery of government.

The direct election of delegates to national conventions, with opportunity for the voter to express his choice for president and vice president.

Direct primaries for the nomination of all elective officials. The direct election of delegates to national conventions.

Many Campaigns Planned. Senator Bourne says that the league will organize an aggressive campaign, form state leagues, push progressive legislation in Democratic as well as Republican legislatures.

Plan is Praised. It is a fact that may or may not have bearing that on Dec. 19 I sent an article elaborating the plan for a progressive league to the Outlook.

The officials of the league say that it is not designed to advance the fortunes of any man. For this reason both Senators Cummins and La Follette, who have been mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination in 1912, are not included in prominent positions, but are plain members. More significant still, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is not a member.

A New York paper printed a story to the effect that it was due to suggestions of league officers themselves that the colored did not sign the roll.

The third significant fact is that one of the planks of the league platform adopted at Washington provides for the direct election of delegates to the national convention and popular expression of preferences for president and vice president.

Owing to the peculiar conditions in Washington it was probably formed in what seemed to its founders the most practical way. As it grows it will inevitably broaden in scope and walk out and make an Independent nomination. Senator Beveridge and other members of the organization have indignantly denied such intention.

To me the launching of the Progressive league is of peculiar interest for the reason that just after the last election I proposed the starting of a precisely similar institution. In a two column signed article headed "A National Progressive League" I outlined the plan.

In subsequent articles I continued to urge the idea and asked that any leagues formed under this plan should notify me, so that the first one in the field could have mention made of the fact.

One of the most hopeful planks in the league platform is that favoring a corrupt practices act. This suggests a practical work that could be taken up by the body at once.

Whether or not the Progressive league means a new party time alone can determine. My greatest faith is in God Almighty and the common people.

MICHIGAN ALUMNI STRONG IN CONGRESS

The State University Has the Largest Number of Lawmakers in Washington--Harvard is Second and Yale and University of Virginia are Tied for Third Place. New York, Feb. 2.--The Eastern alumni of the University of Michigan will give a dinner in this city next Saturday evening. At least twenty-seven former members of the university who are members of the Congress of the United States will be present at the dinner.

The record of twenty-seven which the University of Michigan claims includes four United States senators--Shively of Indiana, Warner of Missouri McCumber of North Dakota and Sutherland of Utah.

FOR PROTECTION OF PASSENGERS

Superintendents of railways operating in the upper peninsula as well as those of railroads of the lower peninsula have received from the Michigan railroad commission copies of a circular letter of some public interest. The letter states that the commission has decided that all railroads within the state must adopt a block signal for the protection of passengers, and each road is required to answer the following two questions:

NUMBER OF IDLE FREIGHT CARS GROWS

The number of idle freight cars in the United States and Canada as shown by the current report of the American railway association is in the increase. On January 18, the date on which the report was completed there were 122,297 idle cars, more than twice that of January 19, 1910, when 51,836 idle cars were reported. There is an increase of 11,319 idle coal cars, while the surplus box cars have decreased 832 cars, due to increased demands for box cars in the west and northwest.

PONTIAC ADOPTS THE COMMISSION PLAN

Pontiac adopted a commission form of government by voting for the adoption of the new charter submitted to the electors at a special election last Monday. Only about half the normal vote was polled but the odds were heavily in favor of the new system.

Our Daily Short Story

Red Archie's Woe

"It don't make no difference what the hollerday happens to be—I always feel just like this when it's over. Mad! Plumb mad!" Thus spoke Red Archie, chief of the "Twenty Devils" of room 4, as he dug his hands into his pockets and tried to look tough by bunching his shoulders and stuffing his tongue into his cheek like a quid of tobacco.

"I might have ate just haaps more Thanksgivin' dinner just as well as not," lamented Red Archie. "Now, that turkey—you fellers all had turkey, 'f course? Well, by the time I'd ate a drumstick and a wing and the liver and a hunk of white meat and just one or two other pieces and some 'aters and with gravy and stufin'—"

"With chestnuts in?" interrupted an eager voice.

"Sure," said Red Archie. "With chestnuts and some gravy—"

"Swimmin' in gravy?" The suggestion was urgent.

"And brown and thick?" chimed in another of the group.

"Sure," agreed Red Archie. "Well, after I didn't eat hardly any more than that I couldn't eat no more. Then there was cranberries, all red and squashy! Gee, I'm sick for some now! But Thanksgivin' day I ate only three helpin's of cranberries. Don't know what was the matter with me! Gee, I could eat a gallon this minute!"

"Then I ate just two pieces of mince and three pieces of pumpkin pie. And they wasn't quarters, neither—just sixths! And I had only one helpin' of puddin'! Gee, it makes me wild to think back! I tell you I must have been doped."

Red Archie's tongue lingered on the word "doped"—it sounded so exhilaratingly tough.

"We had cider, too. I had only five glasses—whatchu know about that? Gee, I could drink a whole—hoghead! How many gallons does the 'rithmedic say's in a hoghead?"

"Forty-three!" The suggestion was faint and doubtful.

"Most likely it's 143," sneered Red Archie. "Anyway, that's what I'm good for if I had the cider."

"Did you fellers have ice cream in three colors? We did! Gee, it makes me want to kick myself. We had it last, with the cake, the nuts and raisins and candy. I ate only one dishful, and I never put a tooth into but twelve pieces of candy. It was chocolate candy, too, with big, fat nuts on top!"

Red Archie dug his fists deeper into his pockets.

"Pals, I could eat a bushel of ice cream this minute, and 'bout a trunkful of chocolate candy. But what else

THE DIME NOVELS.

Life is full of misnomers. Many things are called by what they are not. Words and names become twisted until they stand, in the public mind, for quite the different thing from what they are intended to represent. One of the most notable cases of this is the use of the term "dime novel," says the Milwaukee Daily News.

Just at present there is a wave of juvenile crime sweeping over the country—similar waves have swept over it before—and from many sections, including the town of Lake, come reports of youths playing desperado with guns in emulation of "dime novel heroes."

There have been some criminal toned stories sold for 10 cents, just as the same class of literature has been sold for other sums; but the original dime novel—the books that created that term—were not such as to bring on crime waves. The old-time dime novel, the issues that gave a name to their class, were the beginning of the cheap literature age in this country.

At the time when everything entering into the construction of a book was much higher priced than it is now, a New York firm began the issue of what was called "Munro's Dime Novels." These books were written by authors of high rank, were well done, and while they frequently dealt with sensational subjects and were full of action, they were clean and high moraled and taught good, wholesome lessons. In their teaching of respect for the law and for high morals in individual, family and public life, they ranked with the best. They did deal with Western life as it was understood in the East in those days, but with the scout, the soldier and the cowboy, the Indian fighter and trapper—not with the desperado and the criminal. And where they brought in the criminal they showed him as he was, a criminal overcome by the upright men of justice and honor.

The immoral story that eulogizes crime and criminals and makes bad men heroes, inflames weak minds and fosters criminals, came after the dime novel was well established, and was generally known as the "nickel library."

The dime novel, proper, is the father of the cheap book, the cheap magazine. To it is due the credit of being the agency that made, the vast majority of the people of this country readers. And many have advanced from that popular style of literature to the greater works. It awoke in the people a desire for better things in literature, and marked the beginning of a new era in the literary life of the country.

Progression, that lively magazine published at the Soo, offers the following to its readers and its application may be taken right here in Escanaba as well as anywhere else: "Don't go to the poor, persecuted business man every time you have a ticket to sell for a 10-cent tea, or a dollar concert. You may think that a quarter or a half dollar doesn't mean much to the merchant with a cash register full of money, but with so many drains on his income the burdened merchant has reason enough to get worried about the outcome. Very frequently, if not usually, the ticket-seller is a highwayman or a highway woman. It is a case of 'your money or a little piece of your business life.' The victim is afraid that he might lose the trade of this society or that sewing circle and so he throws up his hands and coughs up the price. Have a little mercy on the merchant."

Although Governor Dix promises to probe the state departments of New York, the public will hardly be satisfied unless there are some amputations.

John Mitchell says 100 workmen are killed every day in this country. Dusty Rhode's profession looks like the only conservative one under these circumstances.

The Honduran gunboat "Hornet" has been captured by our navy. Had it borne some peaceable sounding name like "John Smith" or the "Lilypad," it might have got by.

Madame Bernhardt's performance in doing two emotional roles in a day is marvelous, but could she come into some of our kitchens and do one of these emotional scrimmages with the cook?

THEATRICAL

"Madame X," the sensational emotional drama, which Henry W. Savage is soon to offer here in its massive entirety, following record-breaking runs in Chicago and New York, is referred to in theatrical circles as a "dramatic Merry Widow" because of the unprecedented financial returns its presentation has attracted both in Europe and America. Just as "The Merry Widow" established new high-water records of attendance in the field of light opera, "Madame X" is proving the most potent box-office magnet yet given to the dramatic stage, and it is asserted that Manager Savage's profits will be as great as the fortune earned by the famous Lehar opera. "Madame X" has been booked for presentation at the Peterson on the evening of March 3.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

MORAL VENTILATION

THE mental and moral atmosphere of a business deserves ample consideration; it is a matter of great importance to the development of the individual.

A man who had been employed in an office where progressiveness and good feeling prevailed left to take a position at a much higher salary with another concern. But he quickly learned that the spirit of the new place was not like that of the old one. Men quarreled with each other over trifles, the manager was gruff and overbearing, the conversation was either made up of criticizing each other or of matters equally unwholesome. The man soon discovered that the additional salary was more than offset by the unrefining influences, and he was glad of an opportunity to return to his old position at his former salary.

Many men get started in the wrong kind of business atmosphere and do not always realize that there are places where things are very different; and not appreciating this they do not make the effort to get into a better atmosphere or to purify the one they are in. Instead they spend a large portion of their lives under conditions as unwholesome as a closed room in summer.

When a man gets a "better offer" in salary, let him not fail to give attention to the moral atmosphere, for it may have a far greater influence on his career than any increase in salary can have.

MAIL ORDER SWINDLES ARE BECOMING SCARCE

Fake Promoters are Being Fast Put Out of Business by the Postal Authorities.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Mail order frauds are growing more scarce all the time. Postmaster General Hitchcock has made the crusade against these swindlers, one of the features of his administration, and with such success that the schemers, who are usually the cleverest of men and women, are beginning to see that they can no longer ply their trade through the postoffice.

Among the odd types of schemes which have now practically disappeared are those which depended for their revenue upon what is termed "catch penny" advertisements. For example, articles offered for sale would be described in misleading language, but so ambiguously as to render it possible for the advertiser to answer complaints by saying that the complainant had misconstrued the advertisement. These advertisements were printed in a certain class of weekly or monthly publications. Readers were induced to believe that they could obtain valuable jewelry for a small sum of money. The jewelry actually furnished, the post office inspectors say, was invariably of a cheap kind.

The "Work at Home" Fraud. The so-called "work at home" schemes, through which women were victimized for years, have been almost wholly abandoned. These enterprises, the inspection department of the post office service says, were particularly odious, because they usually preyed upon women in strained circumstances, who were seeking out some honest way of helping out their insufficient incomes, and who actually suffered in being robbed of the money of which these schemes swindled them.

"Astrologers" Driven Out. During the last year a large number of self-styled "astrologers" have been driven out of business. These men advertised in periodicals appealing to the credulous to have their "fortunes told by the stars," and promising to read the past, present and future of the patron for a small remittance. Strange to say, many persons sent money to these "astrologers" before the post office department interfered. No horoscope was cast and the "reading" furnished was a form of letter identical with that sent every other person whose date of birth fell within the "signs." These letters were prepared in large quantities and comprised, as a rule, twelve forms, one for each sign. The only service performed by the "astrologer" for the money paid him was to select the form letter covering the sign under which the patron was born and send it to him.

No More Endless Chains. Besides fraudulent enterprises, a large number of lotteries and schemes of that nature have been driven out of business since Mr. Hitchcock became postmaster general. The "endless chain scheme" which formerly flourished throughout the country, is now practically a thing of the past. "Guessing contests" are now projected only sporadically. The old "diamond contracts" have also disappeared, and many investment propositions modeled on the same principle have gone out of existence.

Good Form

Behind many closed doors and drawn blinds there lie grim tragedies, and many of them may be traced to seemingly trivial slackness in the courtesies of love. This is the rift that has made the music mute. Take care of the courtesies and the grand passions will take care of themselves.

The Desirable Guest. The person who can talk entertainingly is the best type of guest at social gatherings, for she who chatters incessantly is almost more undesirable than one who is too quiet, for the latter gives opportunity for other persons to express themselves, while with the former to say even one word is often a struggle.

The Torpedo's "Homing Instinct." It appears that naval torpedoes, with war heads on, have a remarkable tendency when they miss the mark to sweep about and return to the vessel firing them. This dangerous homing instinct is likely, in the case of fleet frigates, to have disastrous results.

Extremes in Temperature. The extremes of temperature on the Sahara are such that while the day be oppressively hot, at night it freezes.

PENCIL POINTS. We all have our opinions, but none of us know much. It's enough to make a woman sick if she can't dress well. There are two kinds of small boys—bad ones and sick ones.

Intoxicating strains of music seldom come from a barrel organ. It's always better to throw bouquets than it is to hand lemons. It's generally cheaper to stay married than it is to pay alimony. Before going out a woman should be sure her complexion is on straight.

FOR THE MATRON. Here's a Winner in Evening Gowns of High Degree.

Yes, at first glance this gown has all the earmarks of extravagance; but, madam, just look a little closer and use your "gumption" a little bit, and it will suddenly dawn upon you that you have a black chantilly lace shawl that will make up beautifully into a model fashioned after the costume illustrated. It is a delightful mingling of black and white laces arranged over white charmeuse. The embroidery handling used as "bridgework" on skirt and bodice is a very new treatment. So is the collar ornamentation—pearl cabochons connected with jet chains. A jet and pearl buckle fastens the wide black velvet neck ribbon.

A Remarkable Chapsau. A new hat designed especially for the woman who has retained all the instincts of her savage ancestors is a helmet shape covered with tallies ermine and bordered with royal blue velvet. The decorations consist of two roses, each of which is made of twelve humming birds laid flat, with their bills meeting in the center.

FULLER PROPOSES SEVERAL CHANGES

Auditor General Drafts Three Bills For Consideration of the Legislature—Each is of Importance to Its Subject—Would Change Some Present Laws.

According to a dispatch from Lansing, Auditor General O. B. Fuller has drafted three bills for the consideration of the legislature. One relieves the state from liability for coroners' claims in cases of non-residents and provides that the fee shall be collected from the county. Mr. Fuller urges that under the present system the state is put to a heavier expense than counties would be if the claims were audited by boards of supervisors.

Another requires the service of notice on the auditor general in case to set aside delinquent taxes. The present law only requires the service of notice on the prosecuting attorney and the auditor general states that in several instances the state has lost several hundreds of dollars of delinquent taxes without any opportunity to present a defense as a result of not having notice that such suit had been started.

It is also proposed to require counties to bear the entire expense for patients sent to the psychiatric hospital at Ann Arbor by probate judges. Under the present law counties only pay the expense at the rate of maintenance of patients in the asylums which is about 50 cents a day, while at the hospital the expense is between $1 and $1.50 per day, the state having to bear the difference.

The Torpedo's "Homing Instinct." It appears that naval torpedoes, with war heads on, have a remarkable tendency when they miss the mark to sweep about and return to the vessel firing them. This dangerous homing instinct is likely, in the case of fleet frigates, to have disastrous results.

Sometimes there is poetic justice, even in so unpoetic a subject as practical politics, says the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News.

Eleven years ago Chase S. Osborn was a candidate for governor. Those were the halcyon days of the packed caucus and convention, when the man with the biggest roll "looked good" to the gentry who ran the caucuses and conventions "on strictly business principles." The present governor went down to the state convention with the solid U. P. delegation behind him and a few scattering delegates from below the straits. His only chance was on a deadlock when the convention might break to him.

Among the delegates from Schoolcraft county was George E. Holbein, then as now, publisher of the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune, George was also, by way of turning an honest penny on the side, deputy oil inspector. When the pressure for votes in the exciting contest between Bliss, Ferry and Stearns became intense they put the screws on George.

"If you don't quit this foolishness of voting for Osborn and vote for Bliss, we'll get your goat," quoth one of the Bliss lieutenants to Holbein. "Go get it, if you can," answered Holbein, "I'm for Osborn until the curling's good in Hades."

And they got it, with punctuality and dispatch, the cancellation of his commission arriving at Manistique pretty nearly on the same train that brought Holbein home.

Ten years passed and Holbein's candidate was nominated and elected governor. He proved to be a governor. He proved to be a governor with a long memory. The first new commission as deputy oil inspector which Governor Osborn signed was that making George Holbein inspector of oils for the district including Schoolcraft, Chippewa, Mackinaw, Luce and Alger counties.

Having waited ten years for the chance, George's laugh is long, loud and bolstered.

Tea in the British Embassy. Hot bread is served instead of cold sandwiches at the afternoon teas in the British embassy in Washington. Mrs. Brice has set a new fashion in this respect. Steaming milk toast and sweet muffins are always part of the tea in the embassy. Then comes rich plum cake or golden pound cake. Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German ambassador, serves her coffee in dull chased brass on hammered brass tables. Her cups are of dull gold porcelain and all the utensils are of gold. The coffee is "a la Turque," that is, the grain is pulverized and a spoonful is stirred into each cup with boiling water. Then the sugar and cream are added. Cheese sticks and honey cakes are tasty with coffee, followed as they are by creamy cake. On formal occasions the countess and her daughter, Countess Alexandra, serve fruit loaves in crystal punch cups.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Governor and Mrs. Chase S. Osborn are Among the Guests at the Fiftieth Anniversary Observance of the Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fisher of Florence.

Governor and Mrs. Chase S. Osborn were guests Tuesday at a golden wedding celebration at Florence, Wis., when the fiftieth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram D. Fisher's wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, quite well known in Escanaba, are pioneers intimately associated with the history of the two states of Michigan and Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Osborn, who in common with all who know the Menominee range and its people, cherish Mr. and Mrs. Fisher among their dearest friends.

Hiram Damon Fisher was born in Vermont in 1832 and came to Wisconsin in 1855. Mrs. Fisher, who is the last of a celebrated Keyes family, was born at Lake Mills, Wis., July 22, 1843. They were married at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Keyes at Menasha, Wis., Jan. 31, 1861.

Mr. Fisher is secretary and treasurer of the Florence Land company. In 1871 he packed 81 miles to the Menominee range in quest of mineral wealth. Two years later he discovered the Florence mine, located the Commonwealth mine in 1874 and for years explored the territory, locating lodes which have developed into valuable properties. In 1880 Mr. Fisher platted the village of Florence, where he has still large and valuable holdings.

Florence, northern Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan united in honoring Mr. and Mrs. Fisher on the occasion of their golden wedding. Rev. H. A. Miner of St. Paul, who married Mr. and Mrs. Fisher in 1861, again tied the nuptial knot with the fervent wish of all that it may endure for many years.

UPPER PENINSULA
FEATURED ON MAPS

The Upper Peninsula is due for a raise!

The Upper Peninsula from now on is going to be shown in large letters on the maps of the United States, the central states and the American continent, and as large as possible on the maps of the world as that part of Michigan that lies north of the Straits of Mackinac and which is as much a part of the state of Michigan as the city of Detroit, the county of Wayne or the "thumb" district of Saginaw are, and that it is as important and as vastly rich in its agricultural possibilities as it is far above them in wealth of its mineral productiveness.

This is about the gist of an interview with James Robertson, assistant general freight agent of the South Shore. Mr. Robertson is taking a very lively interest in the movement towards the establishment of the Upper Peninsula Publicity Bureau, which has for its object the dissemination of knowledge regarding the agricultural possibilities of the Upper Peninsula throughout the United States.

JANUARY TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT ENDS

With the disposition of a number of chancery cases, circuit court for the January term came to a conclusion at ten o'clock this forenoon. Judge Flannigan left on the eleven o'clock train for his home at Norway and Court Reporter George C. Higbee left this afternoon for Marquette. Judge Flannigan will open circuit court at Menominee next Monday. The term here covered a period of about nine days.

UNCLE SAM DOING BUSINESS IN TIMBER

Washington, Feb. 2.—Uncle Sam is rapidly becoming one of the largest lumber dealers in the world. An evidence of this is seen in one transaction which will be brought to a head probably at San Francisco next April, when about 1,940,000,000 feet of standing timber will be sold at auction.

This large quantity of yellow pine, sugar pine and some other hard and soft woods is available for harvest on the Trinity forest reserve in northern California. Under the terms by which bids are invited the timber must be cut according to forestry methods during a term of ten years. The government will not accept less than $1.50 per 1000 feet for the first five years and less than $2 for the cut during the second five years.

The timber is on 219,000 acres, now inaccessible for transportation purposes. The purchasers will have to build a railroad for a considerable distance.

MANY SANE PEOPLE IN FEDERAL ASYLUMS

Washington, Feb. 2.—Many sane persons are being received in the government hospitals for the insane, according to members of the committee appointed recently by Secretary of the Interior Ballinger to investigate conditions at the institutions.

A radical change in the method of handling insanity cases, it is said, will be recommended to Congress, the present system of examining alleged insane persons in the United States courts being characterized by the committee as "archaic and unjust."

An Ambition.

In addition to their own ambitions some day to own two pairs of suspenders and more than one dress shirt, at this season of the year we become possessed with an itching desire some day to have one of those Arnold Daly overcoats, with the muskrat lining and the deep black curly collar. We don't know, but we have the idea that we'd present an imposing appearance on the avenue in one of those classy fur-lined garments. Already we have 60 cents and the promise of a dear, kind old lady's fur cape when she's through with it, towards attaining our ambition, and who knows but some frosty morning we may blossom forth in all the glory of a he-music teacher or a Charley Frohman tragedian.—Detroit Free Press.

BOTH STATE SENATE AND HOUSE VOTE TO PAY OFFICERS AND EMPLOYES FOR SEVEN DAYS
EACH WEEK.

Speaker Baker Announces, However, That He Will Act Only on Advice of the Attorney General—Supreme Court May Decide the Question.

Lansing, Feb. 2.—Director that the speaker and the clerk of the house and the president and the secretary of the senate be instructed to certify the pay of the officers and employees of the house and senate for seven days in each week was given in a resolution which yesterday afternoon unanimously passed the senate, and in which the house concurred by a vote of 64 to 33. In the house a motion to lay the resolution on the table was lost by a vote of 41 to 36.

On the resolution Representatives Ewing, Field and Lucas voted no, while Representatives Holland, Jensen, Kappler, Knight, McEachern, Morgan and Parks voted yes. Representatives Edwards and Symonds were not present. As a result of the action it is probable that mandamus proceedings will be started, and that the question will be finally settled in the supreme court.

Speaker Baker announced after the vote that he should act on the advice of the attorney general as regards signing the vouchers. He also stated that he would not refuse service, if it was given, it being understood that as the speaker, he would be exempt. He said that he would in no way delay the settlement of the question by the supreme court.

The action is the result of a fight in which at the close of last week the Baker forces were victors. The men who are led by Representative Warner are now in the lead. The resolution came in this afternoon, after a meeting of the judiciary committee of the house at which it was decided by a vote of five to three not to report out the resolution, which was last week referred to that committee.

The committee on state affairs tendered its report on the matter of cutting down employees. The only employees recommended for discharge were Sherman M. Townsend, assistant sergeant at arms, and Fred L. Fisher, a committee clerk, resigned. The committee asked for more time in which to consider mor dismissals.

Reconsideration of the women's suffrage bill was taken up in the house yesterday afternoon. Following this, it was laid on the table.

A motion that the bill which passed the house forbidding the intermarriage of Caucasians with blacks, Chinese or Japanese be brought back from the senate was lost.

The senate yesterday afternoon confirmed the following appointments in executive session: Calvin H. Palmer, Manistee, insurance commissioner; Charles F. Backus, Detroit, member board of trustees, state asylum at Ionia, and Dr. Thomas M. Koon, Grand Rapids, and Dr. John P. Kellogg, Battle Creek, members of the state board of health.

Fritz W. Gruenert, who was sentenced in circuit court yesterday afternoon to a term of not less than six months nor more than five years in the state reformatory at Ionia, will be taken to Ionia tonight by Deputy Sheriff George Curran.

Peter Majcunich was arrested and brought before Justice Linden yesterday to answer to a charge of assault and battery. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for this afternoon. The case was adjourned, however, until next Saturday.

SURPRISE PARTY AT PERRONVILLE

Escanaba Friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Laviolette Remember Birthday Anniversary of the Former in Very Pleasant Manner—Everybody Has a Fine Time.

Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock about fifty Escanaba people left the city in two large sleighs and several cutters and drove to Perronville, where they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Laviolette and gave Mr. Laviolette the surprise of his life. Mrs. Laviolette was not astonished, for she was in on the deal and in fact helped to arrange the event in honor of Mr. Laviolette's birthday.

The visitors arrived at the Laviolette home about 6:30 o'clock and after paying their unexpected respects to Mr. Laviolette all adjourned to the Perronville hotel, where an elaborate supper awaited them. After disposing of the meal the merry-makers adjourned to the Perronville hall, where dancing was indulged in, the music being furnished by Le Duc's Superior orchestra of Escanaba.

Everybody had a great time and Mr. Laviolette was presented with a valuable Knights of Columbus seal ring and Mrs. Laviolette with a beautiful brooch.

At a late hour the Escanaba people started for home, arriving in the city about nine o'clock this morning, pretty well tired out but greatly pleased with the fine time they had enjoyed and the happiness they had conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Laviolette.

THE GROUNDHOG TAKES LOOK AROUND

Today is Candlemas day, when the groundhog is supposed to emerge from his burrow and furnish a forecast of the weather conditions for the next six weeks, according to whether he sees his shadow or not. Well, he didn't see his shadow, for there was no sunshine, and so, according to the tradition, the remainder of the winter is to be mild and there will be an early spring breakup. It is pretty safe to guess, however, that this section of the country will get its customary strong winter weather, the groundhog theory to the contrary notwithstanding.

Later—if that groundhog happened to be out of his hole after one o'clock he may have caught a glimpse of his shadow on the snow, for the sun did a little shining after that time.

WATER SAID TO BE 'O. K. NOW

The water safe unless several tests similar to the one now being made by Mr. Kneeland had the same satisfactory results. These results, Dr. Carlson stated, had not yet been attained by any of the tests he has made since he first found the water to be impure and impregnated with dangerous bacteria.

Mr. Kneeland's report, signed by both himself and Superintendent Hatton of the Water company, is as follows:

Mr. Kneeland's Report.

Examination made January 31, at 5 p. m.

Two samples of raw water, 1cc each were sown in lactose agar and incubated for 24 hours at blood heat.

They gave counts of 142 and 132 bacteria, respectively. Two similar samples of water from the clear well were examined in the same way, each showing a growth of two bacteria per cc.

1cc samples of both water were examined for the presence or absence of B. Coll Communis. These tests are not completed at the time of writing, but the indications are that the results will be positive in the raw and negative in the clear.

The above figures show that in bacterial removal the plant is running with an efficiency of 98.53 per cent and turning out a water perfectly safe and satisfactory for any domestic use.

could not obtain at least ten subscriptions in and about the tent in hope of driving their quarry out. A half hour expired and Orris made no move. Then brush was collected, placed in a circle around the tent and set fire to, which soon brought Orris out into the open. In the confusion that followed, several shots were fired, one of which, a rifle bullet, struck Orris in the knee, breaking his leg after which he was easily captured. A double barreled shot-gun and two boxes of cartridges were found in his possession. He was at once taken to Chatham, where his wound received medical attention. He will probably be removed to Munising today.

Details of the Tragedy.

Only meager reports of the shooting have been obtained, but it appears that both men had been at Chatham yesterday and were the worse for liquor upon their return to Rumeley. They at once went to the boarding house in company with others, and shortly after got into a quarrel, their respective rights to the contents of a bottle being at' d to have been the cause of the dispute.

Finally, Orris, picked up a shot gun and notified all but his intended victim to leave the room, and it is said, even forced them out at the point of his gun. One man, however, is said to have witnessed the shooting. It is stated that Orris leveled the gun upon his companion and pulled the trigger, the contents of the shell at short range entering the Austrian's left side just above the heart. The victim lived but ten minutes. In the confusion following the tragedy, Orris made his escape with the gun still in his possession.

Liquor the Cause.

Sheriff Conroy of Munising and the Deputy Sheriff at Chatham were at once notified of the crime and the escape of the murderer. Orris was about thirty-five years of age and has been working at the Rumeley camp about three months. Nothing is known of his previous reputation or former residence. He is supposed to be unmarried.

The murdered man had worked at Rumeley for about the same length of time as Orris and his past, too, is unknown. He was about twenty-five years of age. Whether there was a quarrel between the men of long standing, as some believe, cannot be learned, but the general opinion at Rumeley is that the trouble originated yesterday and that had not both men been half crazed with liquor, no crime would have been committed.
