BLACK HAND AT IRON MOUNTAIN

Member of the Common Council of That City Mysteriously Disappears and It is Believed the Black Hand is at Bottom of His Departure—The Story.

(Special to The Mirror.)
Iron Mountain, Mich., Feb. 9.—Alderman Angelo Gabardi, one of the most influential members of the common council, who mysteriously disappeared more than a week ago, is believed to have been threatened with death by the Black Hand.

Mr. Gabardi, who is a well-to-do meat and groceryman, left Iron Mountain a week ago Thursday night.

According to the Iron Mountain Gazette, his family knew of his plans, but aside from this he had not even told his most intimate friends of his intended departure.

His destination was Stockton, California, where he has relatives and friends. According to report, he has reached there.

Speculation is rife. The evening that Alderman Gabardi disappeared, a hack was seen to drive up in front of his meat market in the neighborhood of seven o'clock. He was seen to get in, and the hack drove away.

The day following, when he failed to appear at his regular post, friends interested themselves, and inquired the cause. Their queries falling of a satisfactory solution, speculation as to his sudden and unexpected disappearance became rife, and has remained rife till this somewhat late day, although, according to report, the problem has been solved in part.

Black Hand Letters.
It is persistently asserted that Alderman Gabardi received letters of a Black Hand nature, to the effect that if he did not leave Iron Mountain as soon as possible that he would leave it for the grave.

An article, which appeared in an Italian socialistic publication, three weeks or so ago, has been translated into English. The article in question consists of a "roast" for Mr. Gabardi, and several others. It is to the effect that a man in order to get a "job" must go to a butcher, policeman or a boss.

Just who the author or authors is or are of the communication or communications received by the alderman, is an affair which has not been definitely ascertained to this date. Whether the veil will ever be removed from this part of the mystery is a matter of mere speculation at this time.

AN EARLY OPENING OF NAVIGATION

Fishermen Along Bay Shore Report That Ice Near Chambers Island Has Gone Out—They Predict an Early Opening of Navigation—Circumstance is Unprecedented.

According to the Green Bay Daily Gazette, fishermen along the Green bay shore have reported that the ice near Chambers island has gone out and they predict an early opening. It is unusual and almost unprecedented but the chances are that navigation on the bay will open no earlier this season than it has in many past.

As a general rule when the ice is in such condition as to go out with a favorable wind the adverse wind prevails driving other floating ice into the harbors. There is still cold weather to prevail this winter and the ice will perhaps be given as good chance to get solid as during the earlier part of the season. The early snow perhaps aided considerably in keeping the ice from obtaining its usual depth and a long soft spell and favorable winds was all that was needed to drive out the ice in that section of the bay.

An early opening on Green bay would mean considerable to vessel owners, also to shippers. Activities along the river and bay ports will be noted within a short time. Regardless of the ice conditions, it is safe to say that most of the captains and owners will see that their vessels and tugs are ready for operation in time to be among the first to start work.

TORONTO ICE SKATER WINS THE HONORS AT ROCHESTER.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Lot Roe of Toronto carried off the honors last night in the amateur skating championship. He won the half-mile event 3:11 2/5. Edmund Lamy gave an exhibition to beat Roe's time in the half-mile, covering the distance in 1:26 5/8.

WOLGAST MEETS HIS MATCH IN "KNOCKOUT" BROWN

LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION HELD TO A DRAW IN SIX ROUND BOUT BY THE CLEVER LITTLE NEW YORK FIGHTER.

Wolgast's Showing is a Disappointment to His Friends—He is Unable to Solve His Opponent's Peculiar Delivery Until Near End of Fight.

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—Ad Wolgast of Cadillac, Mich., lightweight champion of the world, and "Knockout" Brown fought a six-round draw at the American Athletic club here last night. Although the New Yorker had a slight advantage in a majority of rounds, his blows lacked steam compared with those of the champion. Wolgast seemed unable to fathom the peculiar style of Brown and the latter many times landed on Wolgast tried all the tricks of the pugilistic profession to reach his opponent, rushing and roughing to such an extent that he was warned by the referee on two different occasions.

Brown never fought a better battle during his career, while the showing of the champion, especially in the early rounds, was a disappointment. As Wolgast became more accustomed to Brown's style, however, he fought in much better form. Digger Stanley, champion bantamweight of England, was defeated by Tommy O'Toole of this city; Joe Jeanette, the giant colored boxer, had the advantage over Jim Barry of Chicago, and Jimmy Carroll of California outpointed Young O'Leary of New York, all of these in the preliminaries.

Moha Outpoints Buckles.
Milwaukee, Feb. 9.—Bob Moha of Milwaukee easily outpointed Guy Buckles of Omaha in a ten-round, no-decision bout here last night. The men fought at catch weights. Every round was Moha's. He knocked the Omaha boy down eight times, the Westerner taking the count of nine on each occasion.

FORMER U. P. MAN GETS FINE PLACE

E. K. Mattlock, draft teller in the Lansing State Savings bank has been appointed an examiner in the state bank department, to assume his duties February 13. Mr. Mattlock was connected with a bank at Sault Ste. Marie for several years before going to Lansing about eighteen months ago. He has a number of friends in Escanaba who will be pleased to learn of his appointment.

BISHOP WHITAKER GOES TO HIS MAKER

(By Associated Press.)
Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 9.—Right Rev. Ozi W. Whitaker, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania, died at noon today.

FEDERAL TROOPS ON WAY TO JUAREZ

(By Associated Press.)
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 9.—There is an unconfirmed report here that General Navarro, who is on his way from Chihuahua at the head of 1,000 federal troops to relieve Juarez, has encamped ten miles south of that city. As far as can be learned the insurrecto forces have made no change in their positions.

BEVERIDGE LINES UP FOR TAFT

URGES DECIDED ACTION AT ONCE

INDIANA SENATOR, ONE OF THE INSURGENTS, FIRES FIRST GUN IN BATTLE OVER RECIPROCITY.

Makes Strong Speech in the Senate in Behalf of the Canadian Reciprocity Agreement—Welcomes Compact as Concrete Evidence of Relations That Ought to Exist Between United States and Canada.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The first gun in the congressional battle over the Canadian reciprocity agreement was fired in the senate today, when Senator Beveridge of Indiana, an insurgent, lined up on the side of the administration. Senator Beveridge welcomed the compact as the first concrete evidence of the establishment of such relations with Canada, he thought, the United States should maintain with a country so closely adjoined, physically and with a people so intimately allied with the Americans in kinship and interest.

He pointed out the importance of the principle involved and urged the necessity for prompt and decided action.

PLENTY OF WORK FOR THE COUNCIL

An important meeting of the common council is scheduled to be held this evening. Besides canvassing the vote cast at Monday's special election the council will dispose of the city's business that has accumulated since the last regular meeting, three weeks ago Tuesday evening. Among other things the council will consider the proposition made by the board of public works relative to the establishment of a fire station in the Seventh ward, as set forth in a communication drafted at a meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon and published in The Mirror the same evening.

COLD WAVE SAID TO BE DUE TONIGHT

We're going to have still more of real winter weather, if the weather man's forecast is not at fault. He says there will be snow flurries tonight and that they will be followed up by a cold wave. Tomorrow, however, the weather will be fair and not so cold, perhaps. Isn't he the nice man to tell us this?

FIVE PERISH WHEN CAR PLUNGES INTO SHEBOYGAN RIVER

OPEN DRAW OF A BRIDGE AT SHEBOYGAN IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THREE, AND PROBABLY FIVE DEATHS.

Conductor and Motorman Save Their Own Lives by Jumping from Car—Two Women and Child Drowned—Believed More Are in Car.

(By Associated Press.)
Sheboygan, Wis., Feb. 9.—Two women and a child are dead and it is thought that another woman and man are still in a street car which plunged into the Sheboygan river at the Eighth street draw bridge today. The motorman and conductor, who saved their lives by jumping when the car went into the open draw, say it is almost certain that the car, which is almost submerged will be found to contain two other bodies. The names of the dead have not been obtained.

Later—The dead are Anna Mather, Miss Olga Willomlight and Miss Van Owerkirk.

It has been positively ascertained that these were the only passengers inside the car when it toppled into the river.

Paul W. Elzold of Milwaukee, a traveling man who was standing on the platform, escaped by jumping before the car went down.

JAMES HALEY IS TAKEN BY DEATH

James Haley, who had made his home in Escanaba and vicinity for a number of years, died at the Delta County hospital this morning. Death was caused by peritonitis following an operation performed last Saturday for hernia. Mr. Haley was 45 years old, unmarried and had no relatives in this city. He had many friends who will regret his death. His remains are now at J. A. Allo's undertaking rooms, awaiting the completion of arrangements for the funeral. Mr. Haley was a member of the Escanaba aerie of Eagles and that order probably will attend to the funeral details.

PARENTS BEREFT OF INFANT CHILD

Mr. and Mrs. Phileas Doute of Schaffer, who have a number of relatives and friends in this city, are mourning the loss of the infant child, whose death occurred at the family home about eight o'clock Wednesday evening. The funeral was held from the Catholic church at Schaffer this afternoon.

ODD FELLOWS PLAN TO GO FROM HERE

The lodge of Odd Fellows at Ishpeming is to celebrate its fortieth anniversary Friday and Saturday, the program beginning Friday evening. Escanaba Odd Fellows and their families have received invitations to participate in the event and a number of the members of the local lodge are planning to attend. Some will leave here for Ishpeming Friday afternoon and others will go Saturday morning. Ishpeming plans to make the celebration the greatest in the city's history of that order.

Mrs. Louis Follo, wife of Alderman Follo, is very seriously ill at her home, 223 Elm street.

PART OF CASE TO BE REHEARD

Supreme Court Affirms Divorce Decree, but Orders Rehearing as to Award of Alimony in Case of Philomene DesChamplain vs. Odelin DesChamplain.

TIME OF SEVERAL TRAINS CHANGED

New Passenger Train Schedule on Three Railway Lines Issued—Copy of the Chicago & Northwestern Card Received—Goes into Effect Next Sunday.

The new passenger train schedule on the Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railway lines will go into effect next Sunday, February 12. Copies of the Chicago & Northwestern schedule have been received here and show that there will be a change in the arriving time of but two main line trains.

The train from Chicago, which now leaves that city at 6:30 p. m., and arrives at Escanaba at 3:50 a. m., will continue to leave Chicago at the same time, but will arrive here at 4:40 a. m., 50 minutes later than the present schedule. This train is No. 101 and is known as the Peninsula express.

The other change is in the time of train No. 102, known as the Copper Range and Iron Country Chicago express which now leaves Escanaba at 9:05 p. m. and arrives at Chicago at 7:25 a. m. Under the new schedule this train will leave Escanaba at 8:47 p. m., just 18 minutes earlier and reach Chicago at 7:35 a. m., the same as now. The time of the train coming north will be slower and that of the south bound train faster. The time of several freight trains has been changed and the trains are already running on the new schedule.

There is a change also in the arriving and departing time of the train running to Metropolitan on the Felch Mountain branch. After next Sunday that train will leave Escanaba at 7:45 a. m. instead of at 8:15 a. m., and will arrive here at 5:30 p. m., instead of 6:15 p. m.

The members of the Holy Family church at Flat Rock are planning to hold a big church fair early in May. New stations of the cross have been received by the church and they will be formally blessed on Sunday, March 5.

Because the award of alimony is deemed excessive, the state supreme court has ordered a rehearing of that part of the case relating to such award in the divorce action of Philomene Des Champlain, complainant, vs. Odelin Des Champlain, defendant and appellant.

The court's decision to this effect has been received by Attorney A. H. Ryall, who represented the defendant and appellant in the case before the supreme court.

It appears that about three years ago Mrs. Des Champlain instituted an action for divorce from her husband, Odelin Des Champlain. The latter supposed the action was for divorce only and did not make his appearance to contest the case when it was brought up in circuit court here before Judge John W. Stone.

Given Divorce and Alimony.
Mrs. Des Champlain, however, not only asked for a decree, but made a claim for alimony. In the absence of the defendant, who was not even represented by counsel, the complainant was given a divorce and as alimony was awarded all the household (Continued on page six.)

FOR PERMANENT TARIFF BOARD

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Feb. 9.—A strictly party vote, all of the Democrats in opposition, the senate committee on finance today voted to report favorably on a bill passed by the house to create a permanent tariff board. Several amendments were adopted.

SKIP JUMPS TRACK; THREE MEN KILLED

(By Associated Press.)
Bessemer, Mich., Feb. 9.—Yesterday noon a skip in No. 1 shaft of the Colby mine left the track 39-feet from the surface and three miners were killed. All were foreigners and two of them were married. They were John Martini, Anton Swaiger and Michael Kutrovitz.

NOT A SINGLE VOTE IS LOST

Votes Cast in Competition for "The Burgomaster" Tickets Also Count in the Bermuda Tour Contest--The Real Race is Just Beginning--Story.

"Do the votes cast for the theater tickets also count for the trips?" This question has been asked a great many times today. For the benefit of those who have any doubt on the subject, we wish to explain that each vote cast during the contest counts for the New York-Bermuda trips, but that just now the same vote also counts for "The Burgomaster" seats. Evidently a great deal of interest is taken in The Mirror's offer of yesterday and the table of votes will no doubt show some very surprising changes within the next few days.

Late Starter Does Well.
A young lady who started her campaign for the first time yesterday, brought in enough subscriptions and votes to give her a very commanding position in her district. Her one day's work was so good that she seriously threatens the leaders. Anyone can do just exactly the same thing.

It is only a question of trying, with, may be, a little of our aid in the way of suggestions as to how to go about it so as to procure the best results. Don't you think it a good idea to step in and consult use. It takes but a few minutes of your time and perhaps we can whisper one or two hints worth while. Have you thought of enlisting the active services of your brother or your uncle in your behalf? Are either of them or any other male relative or friend, employed in a place where there are a number of men? If so, we have something to say to you that will produce very great results. Come in and hear what it is.

Only Waiting to Be Asked.
The vote exhibit is an indication of how easy it is for one with a little ambition and energy to reach the top place. Figure out for yourself how many subscriptions it would take to put yourself in the place of the leader in your district, and you will realize that your chances are as good, and may be better, than hers. Only a very small percentage of our contestants. They are only waiting to be asked. You can hardly expect them to come to you and ask you to take their votes. The girl who reaches any individual first is the one who will have his votes. Most of our subscribers have more than one friend among the candidates and will naturally favor the one who shows the most energy and spirit. The only way you can show him is by going to him and asking for his support.

Write Your Friends Also.
It is not alone the votes you will get by reason of his subscription, but his good will and his help. He may know one or two people who will dispose of their votes as he suggests, and he will give you their names. So that very often a call on one gentleman will be productive of two or three subscriptions. Don't forget, too, to write to your friends. Tell them that you are determined to go on this delightful trip (the chance for which may never occur again,) and that you need their support to be able to accomplish that desire. Don't forget the butcher, grocer, baker and candlestick maker. They are all interested in your success and will be only too glad to help. Think, too, what it means to have all those people save the daily coupons for you. Lay out your campaign in a systematic way, and you can be assured that the final outcome will be just what you want.

Not a Moment Wasted.
First to New York City, there to be entertained like princesses. We will show you everything worth seeing and there are certainly lots of them. You will be housed in one of the best hotels in that city of good hotels, which is to say that you will live at one of the best hotels in the land. You will have every comfort which the ingenuity of man can devise. While there, and so as to miss no point of interest, the means of transportation will be autos. The party will be in charge of an agent of a well known travel bureau. The tour conductor, of course, knows just what is worth seeing and what is best to be left out, so there will not be a moment wasted or a dull second during your entire trip. You will have no worry about baggage or about time tables, or how to get from the hotel to the steamship or in fact, about anything else. Your whole duty will be to enjoy yourselves, and there is no fear that you won't perform that duty most commendably. And just to think of it—all these delights are yours without one copper of expense.

The Mirror Pays all the Bills.
The Mirror pays the bills, even the smallest of them, such as transportation, tips to waiters, bell boys and others. And if the trip went no farther than this, wouldn't it be well worth while? But from New York to beautiful Bermuda, there to bask in the rays of the tropic sun and to see things which you will never forget and about which you will never forget and about which you will talk to your family and friends for many a long day afterward.

Let us help you to be one of the happy party. We will do our full share; will you do yours.

THEATRICAL

THE PETERSON—The Duluth Herald of a recent date speaks in flattering terms of "The Burgomaster," which is to appear at the Peterson on the evening of March 15. In part the Herald's criticism is as follows: "Gus Weinberg and 'The Burgomaster' delighted a fairly large sized audience at the Lyceum theater last evening. The word delighted is not in the least overdrawn, for the work of Mr. Weinberg, who has been playing the part of Peter Stuyvesant, the Dutch governor of New Amsterdam for so long that one past 40 hesitates to recall the initial production of the piece, proved a rare treat and he was recalled time after time and finally forced to make a curtain speech.

"The Burgomaster" is one of the older school comic operas. It's music is dainty and catching and has also something that the lighter music of today often lacks. The lines are good, too, and though the present company is not as large as the original company the opera lost nothing in its presentation. * * * The revival of "The Burgomaster" brings back kindly remembrances of one of the quaintest and cleverest of the American light operas, and it is safe to say that many in the audience last night had witnessed the piece at least once before. Nevertheless they enjoyed it, for it is an opera that can be enjoyed keenly on its second or third visit.

"Madame X", the great emotional drama, of which the theater going public has heard more perhaps than of any play in the past decade because of its sensational success on both sides of the Atlantic, is soon to have its first presentation in this city by Henry W. Savage who will stage the Bison masterpiece here in the identical manner in which it was seen by a succession of crowded houses in Chicago.

THE EARLY SALE OF VALENTINES GOOD

The early sale of valentines is fairly good, Escanaba dealers say, and many local stores have their line of love missives complete. The expensive types of valentines seem to be "going out" and though a number are sold every year, there will likely be not as great a demand for them as in other years.

There are many new and surprisingly attractive valentines which are being featured in windows and which will be chased by the seekers after novelties. Paper dolls seasonably arrayed with movable heads, arms and legs are attractive.

"The valentine post cards are to be seen by the hundreds and there will be as popular as ever. Some dealers hold the comic valentine is dying out, while others declare it is as popular as ever.

Every year there is more and more of a tendency to give books or flowers as valentines, in fact so many of each are sent that the merchant dealing in either is quite likely to think that he has a monopoly on the valentine business.

The positions will pay a salary of $1,200 a year at entrance.

The announcement specifies that the applicants must be men, at least twenty years old, and possessed of at least one season's experience in handling range stock, together with at least one year of technical training in specified botanical studies.

HOLDUP AT GREEN BAY ENDS IN DEATH

Green Bay, Wis., Feb. 9.—John Servalis, a clerk who claimed he was attacked by two men, beaten and left to his own fate last Friday night in this city, died yesterday noon. An inquest was ordered by the district attorney. Servalis on his deathbed repeated his account of the assault. He claimed the men approached him from behind and that both struck him, felling him to the walk and knocking him unconscious. He leaves two children, four sisters and three brothers.

CATS DO NOT KILL BABIES, AS THOUGHT

The Belief That Children's Lives are Extinguished By Felines Sucking Their Breath is Exploded—What One Physician Says Relative to the Matter.

There is nothing in the story that cats kill babies by sucking their breath, according to physicians.

"Cats are undoubtedly attracted to children by the smell of milk on their breath but I have never known of an infant to die because a cat had sucked its breath. There is not a single case on record of a cat killing a baby by sucking its breath," said a doctor. "The other day I read an article in a medical journal by a man who had investigated the reported cases for several years and in all of these he found that the cat did not play any part in the child's death. 'Personally, I do not believe that it is possible for a cat to expel enough carbonic acid gas to kill an infant and if that is true, it is likely that the child would wiggle and squirm so that it would get the necessary air. 'The facts are that many infants die suddenly during the first year of their life and if there happens to be a cat in the room when the baby died the story is reported that the baby had its life breath sucked out. 'The only danger that I can see that there could be in having a cat in the room with a baby is that it might smother the child by lying on it.'"

Fat Reducing Ideas Are Proven Nature's Best

Fat is food turned into the wrong kind of material for the body. Instead of the blood taking up the food we eat and giving it to the body in the form of good, hard, sound flesh, nerve and bone, fat is thrown into the tissues and is packed around the organs and beneath the skin. This at last tears down all the vital forces of the system and destroys not only mainly health and comeliness, but likewise results in death. The sure way and the best way is to take Marmola tablet after each meal. You may then eat what you will, and when you will, and the stomach and digestive organs will turn the meal into the very kind of nourishment you most need. Fat is stopped at once and the fat you have is removed in a way that nature herself suggests, at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day, and there are no flabby rolls of skin and deep wrinkles left to remind you of the days when you were fat. Every druggist sells these tablets, which are made after the famous Marmola Prescription. They are harmless, but thousands prove that they do reduce fat just as we say they do. If you can't buy them from your druggist or you do prefer send 75 cents, the price of a case, to The Marmola Co., 952 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and they will send same to you by return mail in a sealed and unmarked package.

PEOPLE OF WEST MUCH INTERESTED

(Special to The Mirror.) Chicago, Ill., Feb. 9.—"More than ordinary interest is manifested by the people of the west in the 19th sessions of the National Irrigation congress in Chicago the second week of next December," said Edmund T. Perkins, president of the Chicago Irrigation association. Continuing, he said: "Chicago is the home of capital and the principal recruiting station for settlers in the western districts. Our people have money to invest and they are anxious to find the right place to invest it. Our city also is the gateway to the western country, in which we are keenly interested. We want to assist in developing the western districts for mutual benefit."

LARGEST LOCOMOTIVE IN THE WIDE WORLD

It is Being Built in England and Will Be Used on the Mountain Line of the Mexican Railway—Fifty-Six Feet Long and Fourteen Feet High—Other Details.

The largest locomotive ever built in the United Kingdom, and the largest of its kind in the world, is now under construction in the workshops of the Vulcan Locomotive Co., Limited, at Newton-le-Willows, Lancashire.

It is designed for hauling exceptionally heavy loads long distances over very hilly country, and is being built for the Mexican National Railway company, who have ordered a number of the same type from the Vulcan Locomotive company.

The weight of the engine, without the tender, is 140 tons. It is a tank engine, and has an immense tank engine, and has an immense single boiler, the length of which is over forty feet. It is nearly three times as long as the boiler of an ordinary tank engine on a British railway.

Firing and driving are controlled from the center of the locomotive and a double cab is built round the middle of the boiler. Driver and fireman have separate cabs on each side.

There are two separate furnaces, and a funnel at each end of the locomotive to draw off the gases from these. Behind each funnel is an immense sandbox, so placed as to keep the large bulk of sand absolutely dry. Portholes look from the central cabs to either end of the engine, which are both furnished with cow catchers.

The total height of the engine is over fourteen feet, and the length fifty-six feet. The two sets of six-coupled driving wheels are only four feet in diameter. It will haul a load of 400 tons up the steepest gradient encountered in the mountainous country traversed by the Mexican Railway.

EXPLANATION OF POPULAR OLD RHYME

"The London Globe," attempts an explanation of the rhyme, "Sing a Song of Sixpence." Here it is: "The four-and-twenty blackbirds represent the four-and-twenty hours. The bottom of the pie is the world. The top crust represents the sky. The opening of the pie is the break of the day, when the birds begin to sing, and surely such a sight is fit for a king. The king is in his counting house counting out his money is the sun. The money the king is counting represents the golden sunshine. The queen, who sits in the parlor, is the moon. The honey she is eating is the moonlight. The industrious maid who is working in the garden before the sun has risen is the day dawn and the clothes she hangs out are clouds. The bird who so tragically ends the song by nipping off her nose is the hour of sunset."

A FARM FABLE.

Jolly Season That Brings Woe to Barnyard Folk.

On a farm not far from here there lived two very fat pigs and a large, proud turkey. Every day the turkey would strut about with spread tail and say ugly things to the pigs.

"You dirty pigs," he cried, "you are not fit to associate with the likes of me! I would have you know that I am your superior in every way."

"Superior, indeed!" grunted the pigs. "See my glossy feathers," continued the turkey. "I'm considered very beautiful. My comb is enough to give me distinction."

"Ho, ho!" laughed one of the pigs. "You're all right in size. You'll make a fine dish for Christmas dinner."

"Oh, you animated sausage! How dare you talk like that to me?" shrieked the turkey. "The very odor of your pen is obnoxious to me. I can't stand it." And the disdainful turkey walked proudly away.

Inside the farmhouse sat the farmer and his good wife, discussing the coming holiday.

"I think I'll invite all our city folks down on Christmas," said the wife. "What do you say, Bill?"

"That will be a real old-fashioned Christmas. What will you give them for dinner?"

"I suppose two fat roasted pigs and a turkey will satisfy their hunger."

Two days before the coming of the relatives the farmer went into the barn to kill the meat for the dinner.

"Aha," cried the turkey as he saw the farmer, knife in hand, approach the pen. "It serves you right for talking to me as you did the other day!"

"Oh," groaned the pigs, "that we should live to see this day!"

"I'm sorry for you, but"—and at that moment a hand was laid on the turkey's neck, and the farmer said, "I want you too!"

Death made them equal.

Art Calendars For 1912

Reserve your calendar order for us. Our 1912 line is now ready to show, and our representative will call on Escanaba merchants in a few days with samples.

The line consists of a big assortment of imported embossed panels, cut outs, tissue novelties, hangers and wall pockets and domestic mat board mountings hangers, etc., etc.

The entire line is twice or three times as large as outside agents are able to carry and in most cases our prices are lower. We do the printing on the calendars just before delivering them, so that should a merchant change locations after giving his order, we will be able to print his correct address in the card.

The Mirror distributes many hundreds of dollars every year in salaries, all of which is circulated in the city of Escanaba. The outside calendar man spends a couple of dollars here, gets all the money he can, all of which is spent to help build up other communities.

NEWSPAPERS AS PUBLIC EDUCATORS.

Newspapers have been called the great public educators. As chroniclers of the important or interesting happenings of the day they serve a great purpose. As entertainers to the multitude they are eagerly welcomed by the entire reading world. Man is interested in man, and if mankind as a whole were forced to choose between newspapers and the other literature of the world, the one he condemned to be destroyed, the newspaper would be saved, says the Saginaw Courier-Herald.

But it is not only as chroniclers of the day's events that newspapers serve well their readers. They perform a service other than the mere printing of the news of the day. In every paper, from the four-page country weekly to the forty-page metropolitan daily or the voluminous "Sunday", there is educational matter, the study of which tends to make the world brighter and better, and the paths of the readers smoother. There is matter that merely entertains. There is matter that awakens the sympathy of man for man. There is matter that makes more effective the charity and uplift work of man.

While newspapers aim to give their readers what those readers want, they never turn a deaf ear to the better things, the uplifts of life. Without the newspapers few of the great uplifts, the great charity movements could live.

Papers are read and destroyed in many cases. But some are kept and from the files of newspapers carefully preserved in libraries, students of history gather many of their facts. And in so doing come into intimate touch with the spirit of the days they have passed.

It is as educators that newspapers fill their greatest place. And if readers would carefully clip, mark and preserve those articles that interest them, that tell them something they wish to remember and in future to use, they would find that they were assembling an encyclopedia of useful current knowledge worth, many, many times the cost, care and trouble.

ON WITH THE DANCE.

All hands around is now the social slogan, particularly in the circles where the approach of Lent means something more than a black mark in the almanac.

It seems rather a pity that dancing with its capacity for pumping oxygen into one's heart in place of stewed air should be the sport mostly of quite young people. Middle-aged business men and house-wives need quite as much the thrill of rhythm and the stirring of lazy livers.

One reason for this, it is whispered, is that married women don't get dance invitations. After their day of social glory, they can't reconcile themselves to the decadent estate of the wall-flower.

If so, in these days of equal opportunity for women, it may become necessary to extend the suffragette movement to the dance floor and give woman the equal right to invite men to dance. It does seem incongruous when the fluttering debutante can triumph over her elders, and wrest from them the physical exercise and social relaxation that they need.

They have had two feet of rain in 17 days in San Francisco, and if the wicked were treated on business principles as they were in Noah's day no tickets for an ark excursion would be sold around there.

After reading Germany's saucy talk about potash, we want to remind the emperor that if he expects sausage for breakfast right along, he must speak kindly to the American dog.

Governor Wilson of New Jersey says a good deal about publicity. But he will never get the politicians to put on squeaky boots as long as gum shoes are to be had.

Fallings signs have caused some deaths in recent gale. We used to read about the "sword of Damocles," but that gentleman would not have swapped his position for one under some hanging street signs.

In the New York Legislature they are still voting for Depew. While we have given up expecting Uncle Sam's clerks to do much work, we at least are looking for some new stories.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

GAINING CONFIDENCE

ANY young man makes a mistake by insisting on doing things his own way. There are several reasons why this is not always the best thing to do. In the first place it is the privilege of an employer or manager or department head to have the work done the way he wants it done, and it is to gain this end that he employs the young man. The latter may think his own way is just as good or even better, and we may say in a general way that he is entitled to have his opinion, but he must remember that he is not employed to run the business his way, but to help run it the way his superior wants to run it.

In the next place it should be remembered that it is to the young man's interest to gain the confidence of his superior, and this cannot be done when the young man cannot be depended upon to catch the spirit of his instructions and do the work in the desired manner. A man is usually given more responsibility and more latitude for individual work, not in proportion to his personal opinions, but rather in proportion to his ability to perceive intuitively and rationally how his superior would act under certain circumstances and his willingness to put his own opinions aside and carry out the policies of the superior. When the employer gains confidence in the young man he will be glad to give him more latitude.

Waiting for George

"By all means, Marjorie," said that young woman's married sister. "You're a goose to hesitate. Call up George and just tell him that two tickets to a concert were sent to you and that you would be pleased if he would go with you. George will be delighted, I know."

"Perhaps so," responded Marjorie, "but I dislike calling up any man. His mother, sisters, brothers, aunts, uncles, brothers-in-law and the stranger within his gates always know all about it. The only man I don't object to calling up are orphans. Still, this time I will accept your motherly advice; so here is where I drop my nickel."

She left the room. A few minutes later she returned, saying: "He knew my voice immediately, so I didn't have to tell my name. Now, Mrs. Know-it-all on our line can't talk about me tomorrow. He said: 'Of course, I'll go, but I may be a trifle late.'"

As the clock struck eight that evening Marjorie remarked to her married sister: "Don't you think George is rather late? He's always so punctual."

"He'll be here presently," answered the married sister. "May be he cut himself shaving and he can't find a piece of court plaster."

"He never shaves himself," responded Marjorie.

"Well, maybe the barber shop was so crowded he could not get a chair. I know what a time Billy has getting shaved," said the married sister.

After a long silence Marjorie said: "The concert began at eight. It's 8:30 now. Where in the world is that man?"

"Phone him again and discover the cause of this delay," suggested the married sister. "Maybe a long-lost brother arrived unexpectedly from Timbuctoo."

"He hasn't any long-lost brother," objected Marjorie. "He knows the exact position of every member of his family."

At 9:30 Marjorie jumped up, exclaiming: "I'm going to put on my $1,000 silk kimono and read the last book Harold sent me, eat the candy that came from Arthur today and forget there ever was such a person as George or so impossible a thing as a Tuesday-night concert."

"I'm dreadfully sorry, dear," said the married sister. "I don't think I understand it. George would never break an engagement except for something overwhelmingly important. He's not that kind. Maybe his house is on fire and he is saving the family heirlooms."

"Mildred Morton Morse," exclaimed Marjorie, "I beg of you not to 'maybe' me any more. With that wonderful imagination of yours Peter Pan himself is put to shame. How did that matter-of-fact husband of yours ever win you? And you and he seem crazy about each other, too. This is a peculiar world," added she. "Kiss your disappointed sister good-night."

"Listen!" said the married sister. "There's the door bell. It's George, at last."

"Where have you been?" exclaimed the sisters, in chorus.

"Speak now, or forever hold your peace," added Marjorie.

"First let me get my breath," gasped the offender. "I'm exhausted. Marjorie, I'm horribly sorry that I've spoiled your evening. But we'll make up for it somehow. Listen to my story before you order me shot at sunrise."

"When you called me up, Marjorie, you remember, you asked: 'Do you know who this is?' As you are always so stinging about calling up a fellow, I never dreamed it could be you. Well, anyway, I thought it was Dorothy. Honest, I did."

"There being a breakdown on the car track this evening," George continued, "it took me just one hour to arrive at the wrong girl's house. Her father answered the door bell. Before I could explain that I didn't come to stay, he grabbed my hat, coat and gloves, thrust a cigar into my hand, pushed me into an armchair and told me to watch a champion bridge game between three old cronies and himself."

"Then I managed to say: 'I'm waiting for Dorothy.'"

"You'll have a long wait, my boy," replied her father. "Dorothy is in Lake Forest. She's been there for a week—some bridal doing, I think."

"But she telephoned to me to take her to a concert tonight," I said.

"It must have been some other girl," he laughed. "The joke is on you."

"With that he and his friends shouted with laughter. I believe they are laughing yet."

"You poor boy," said Marjorie's sister.

Marjorie remained silent.

"I grabbed my hat, coat, gloves and cane," George proceeded, "and rushed to the nearest drug store. A suspicion as to the real owner of the voice that called me up today had dawned on my dense mind. It took ten minutes for the highly-perfumed clerk to give me a slug for my nickel, then I waited 15 minutes more before I discovered that your phone was out of order."

"Well, I'm here at last, and I can say to you that I'm positively crestfallen. But you will forgive me, won't you, Marjorie?"

"Would you, Mildred?" asked Marjorie.

But the married sister was in paroxysms of laughter, so she could only nod by way of assent.

PRIMARIES MARCH 1; JUDICIAL ELECTION APRIL 3

Circuit Judge, Several State Officials, County School and Road Commissioners, Mayor, City Clerk, City Treasurer, Aldermen and Supervisors to Be Chosen.

Two elections are to be held throughout the state of Michigan this spring, the first a general primary election of all parties to nominate candidates for the office of circuit judge, which will be held March 1, and the second a general spring election on Monday, April 3. In this judicial circuit, the primary election March 1 is likely to be a tame affair, as there is no opposition whatever, to the nomination of Judge Flannigan and he is expected to receive the endorsement of both the Republican and Democratic parties. Judge Flannigan was appointed less than a year ago to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Stone, and this will be his first opportunity to receive the endorsement of the voters of his circuit at the polls.

At the spring election on April 3 the following state officers are to be voted for: Two justices of the supreme court, two regents of the University of Michigan, superintendent of public instruction, member of the state board of education, two members of the state board of agriculture and one circuit judge of the 25th judicial circuit.

With the exception of the circuit judge, who will be chosen under the primary law, Republican candidates for these offices will be nominated at a state convention to be held in Saginaw early in March.

In the county a commissioner of schools to succeed Peter R. Legg and a member of the board of road commissioners to succeed John Gasman are to be elected. Mr. Legg probably will have no opposition, but it is understood that Soren Johnson of Gladstone will oppose Mr. Gasman for the road commissionership.

In the city of Escanaba a mayor, city clerk, city treasurer, one alderman from each ward and a supervisor and constable in each ward are to be chosen. From present indications local interest will be almost entirely centered on municipal officers, although thus far prospective candidates have not uttered a peep loud enough to be heard.

The aldermen whose terms are to expire are: First ward, Ernest Wickert; Second ward, John P. McCall; Third ward, Paul Jaeger; Fourth ward, F. T. Long; Fifth ward, Louis Follo; Sixth ward, A. J. Valentine; Seventh ward, Carl J. Johnson. It is understood that several of these will be candidates for reelection. City Clerk M. J. Lyons and City Treasurer Frank J. Hess probably will be candidates for reelection.

AS "JIM HANDS" PUTS IT.

"Women gets the worst of it in this world."

"Inspiration is the big danger in being literary."

"Many a crooked lawyer will make an honest judge."

"There's a whole lot of excitement in what folks call drudgery after all."

"I'd like to feel just once for a moment that I was everything to somebody."

"God never put instincts into human beings to have 'em hampered by 'social standing'."

"There's some folks ain't got enough money sense to buy a nickel cigar and come away with the right change."

"He looks like one them rich men who don't smoke cigarettes or say 'my good man' to a laborer, and hasn't never got a divorce."

PAVEMENT PHILOSOPHY.

There's this about the mechanical talking machine: You can shut it off.

It doesn't disturb the average poet any to be put in the same class with a lyre.

The wit of being "short," or brief, depends altogether upon where it's located.

The man who is a good fellow down town and a good fellow at home is rather hard to—but what's the use?

People are so fussy about getting married nowadays that the old-fashioned church wedding seems to be mostly out of date.

The wisest merchant is the one who advertises intelligently and persistently in the dull season. There is still some money to be exchanged for good bargains and The Mirror is an excellent medium through which to tell the people about them.

HIGH COFFEE PRICE NOW CURTAILS ITS USE

Big Increase in Price Means a Cut in Consumption of the Popular Beverage—Demand for Substitutes for Coffee. Takes a Big Advance—Details.

The fact that the prices of even the cheapest grades of coffee have risen from 8 to 9 cents a pound wholesale within six months is doing more to curtail the consumption of the stimulating beverage than all the lectures of the physiologists. The jump in prices is causing large numbers of people to abandon real coffee and use substitutes which are generally of a much less harmful nature if not as popular.

The cheapest grades of coffee that six months ago sold for 14 and 15 cents a pound now demands 23 cents. The price of all coffees rose 2 cents a pound within the past month or less.

The same situation was observed in the meat line last year when the high prices of certain cuts turned many people to substitutes or induced them to give up a large part of their meat diet.

Enterprising business men are always ready to take advantage of any change in the markets and the result of the coffee rise has been a sudden stimulus in the realm of mock coffee or substitutes.

BOOKS OF THE OLD ROMANS.

Many boys while they are at school have to learn in the course of some of their lessons about Roman history and the home life of that remarkable people of Italy in the olden time. It is no wonder that our boys have been surprised at the great achievements of the Romans, for they were indeed a fighting and conquering race.

Some people may say the Romans were not as clever as the Greeks. Perhaps not, still they were wise, and, besides war, they understood arts and sciences. Many of them could speak and write well. They made good use of the books which they had.

The Romans had many books and turned them to good account, though they never had any printed books, magazines or newspapers, such as we have in abundance.

When Rome was at the height of its prosperity most of the well to do citizens had their libraries. The books of the Romans were really rolls. Therefore it would seem they did not arrange them on shelves, as we put our books, showing the titles at the backs. They were distinguished, however from each other by strips of parchment on which the title was written in red, but it is not certain whether they fastened the strip to the roll so as to hang down in front or stuck it flat on the outside.

When people dug up the remains of the city Herculaneum they found a room which had been a library, and there was proof that the rolls had been kept in cupboards placed along the wall. Some say it was also usual to keep rolls in what we now call pigeon-holes. A stick or piece of reed was secured to the last page of the roll or written book, the ends of which had knobs, gilded or painted, or of ivory. To keep it better protected a parchment wrapper was often put upon a roll as a cover.

These ancient books or rolls were mostly made of the bark of the Egyptian papyrus, a sort of water reed, which was carefully prepared, and made a stout paper, of which there were several qualities. Pliny says they made eight kinds from this reed. The best was called Augustus, after the emperor. The coarsest could not be written upon and only served for packing up parcels.

Parchment was the material selected for some rolls, but the objection to this was its cost. We read sometimes about a composition being written upon silk. This, however, was only used in special cases. Of such rolls only a few existed. Leather also was sometimes covered with writing. But, whatever the material which was chosen, it only had writing upon one side, so that when the words on a roll were nearly rubbed out or the work was no longer to be preserved it was easy to write upon the blank side. Most of the rolls upon which the Roman children did their sums and wrote their exercises were those which had become old or useless.

The outsides of rolls seem to have been washed over with an aromatic liquid of a yellow color to keep off the attacks of insects.

The Romans and probably the ancients generally used an ink thicker than ours, something like India ink, so that the writing seemed to be raised above the page—in fact, it was a sort of paint. But it is said that they also used a black fluid obtained from the cuttlefish. The pen was not the quill of a bird, but a reed, carefully pointed and split.

mixture of food at noon in a rush to get back to business is extremely pernicious. Relaxation from the forenoon's strain will improve the mental condition for the afternoon's work, but hurried eating is always bad, and especially when work is to be immediately resumed.
We are slaves of habit in eating more than in anything else, because eating is the fundamental habit, and I have learned the need for caution in advising a beneficial change, especially to the man who has not as yet the fear of the sanitarium or the hospital before his eyes, but the average business man would do better to eat at noon only a little fruit or crackers, spend some time in the open air and depend more for his "nutrition" upon the evening meal, eaten as early as possible.

NEGAUNEE BOWLERS
COMING SATURDAY

The Negaunee bowling team, which defeated the five-men team from Escanaba Sunday afternoon, will come to the Sandy City for a return match next Saturday. The scores in the contest at Negaunee were as follows:

United States Court of Appeals at Cincinnati Denies New Trial to Frank Higgins, Former Assistant
Postmaster at Sault Ste. Marie—
Story of the Case.

Frank L. Higgins, former assistant postmaster at Sault Ste. Marie, must serve fourteen months in a federal prison and pay a fine of $1,118, the amount of his alleged shortage, his petition for a new trial having been denied by the United States court of Appeals at Cincinnati yesterday. Higgins was tried in United States court at Marquette a year ago last fall and his trial was followed with much interest by upper peninsula people.
The Soo postoffice was robbed on Sunday, Dec. 13, 1908, Higgins being alone in the building at the time. Later he was found bound and gagged and his defense was that he had been attacked and robbed. The prosecution contended that Higgins tied himself up and largely feigned his injuries, and that it all was a scheme to cover up a shortage in the postoffice account. After being out a long time the jury returned a verdict of guilty of embezzlement. Since the trial, Higgins has been at the Soo under bonds, but he will now be taken to prison to begin his sentence.

WHITELY," REAPER
KING," NO MORE

Springfield, O., Feb. 9.—William N.
Whitley, the former "Reaper King," died here after an illness of one week.
He was 76 years old and was widely known. His remarkable genius developed the Champion reapers, mowers and self-binders in use in almost every land. He was the inventor of the knoter and binder that has made harvesting so easy. He erected in the eighties the great East street plant, the largest of its kind in the world, and employing 4,000 men.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment.
It cured me permanently."—Hon. John
R. Garret, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

BIG PARTY START
TO TOUR HOLY LAND

With a passenger list of over 600 names from more than forty states and the dominion of Canada, the Clark cruising steamer Arac, left Saturday on her annual trip to the Mediterranean. The itinerary of the trip comprises a total distance traveled of 14,940 miles. The party will visit Spain, Algiers, Turkey, the Holy Land, Egypt, the Nile, Italy and the Riviera, and will not return until April. The annual cruise is a well established feature and is favorably known throughout the United States.
Among the list of passengers from Michigan are R. Skiff Sheldon and Mrs. C. D. Sheldon of Houghton.

EASY CHANGE.
When Coffee is Doing Harm.

A lady writes from the land of cotton of the results of a four years' use of the food beverage—hot Postum.
"Ever since I can remember we had used coffee three times a day. It had a more or less injurious effect upon us all, and I myself suffered almost death from indigestion and nervousness caused by it.
"I know it was that, because when I would leave it off for a few days I would feel better. But it was hard to give it up, even though I realized how harmful it was to me.
"at last I found a perfectly easy way to make the change. Four years ago I abandoned the coffee habit and began to drink Postum, and I also influenced the rest of the family to do the same. Even the children are allowed to drink it freely as they do water. And it has done us all great good.
"I no longer suffer from indigesttion, and my nerves are in admirable tone since I began to use Postum.
We never use the old coffee any more.
"We appreciate Postum as a delicious and healthful beverage, which not only invigorates but supplies the best of nourishment as well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

"Please."
There was a small person who couldn't spell "please."

She tried it with double "e" just as in cheese.
She thought that it might have a "k" as in sneeze.
Or else that the letters were placed just like these.
Impatient, she cried that the word was a tease!
But that didn't help her—how strange!
to spell "please."

The Beekeepers.
The Tower of London, the city's ancient fortress and gloomy state prison of the olden days, has wardens who wear a strange costume and have a queer name. The beekeepers are all old soldiers of meritorious service.
Probably the name is a nickname which was given to the ancient yeomen of the guard because they looked so well fed or because rations of beef were regularly served to them while on duty. Many of the wardens wear decorations of honor.

AMATEUR ACTORS
PLAY TONIGHT

With their final rehearsal last evening the members of the Alpha Dramatic club are in trim to make their bow before an audience at the Peterson opera house tonight in their first presentation of "A Tender Attachment" and "The Virginia Mummy." The young men did very well at their rehearsal and promise to do still better tonight. In addition to the plays a number of specialties will be introduced, so that the audience is sure to be well entertained. The members of the Alpha club have received the benefit of instruction from Rev. Father Herbert and will do their best to show that they have profited thereby.

CONVICTED OF
ASSAULT CHARGE

Peter Majcunich, a bartender employed in a North Escanaba saloon, was convicted in Justice Linden's court this afternoon of assault and battery upon a woman who had gone into the saloon to try to get her husband to come home. Majcunich was sentenced to pay a fine and costs amounting to $25. He paid. The case was prosecuted by Prosecuting Attorney Strom and Attorney John Cumminskey appeared for the defendant.

FATHER BENDER
GOES TO IRONWOOD

Through an order issued by Rt. Rev. Bishop Els, Rev. Father Bender, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, is to be transferred to Ironwood, where he will be assistant to Rev. Father Buchholz, pastor of a large Catholic church there. Father Bender will leave in a few days for his new charge. He has been assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church for more than a year and during the illness of the late Father Langan was practically in sole charge of its affairs. His departure from Escanaba will be deeply regretted by the many friends he made while here, both in and out of the parish.

K. OF P. TO GIVE
DANCING PARTY

At a meeting of Escanaba lodge of the Knights of Pythias Wednesday evening it was decided to give a dance before Lent opens. Preliminary arrangements were made for the affair, which probably will be held in Clark's hall on the night of February 28. The exact date was not selected, but it is thought it will be the 28th inst. Arrangements for the dance are in charge of a committee, which will endeavor to "make it equal the ball recently given by the Pythian Sisters.

One game will be played between the High school girls' team and the Alumni girls' team and the other by the High school Boys' team and the Manistique High school team. The first game will be called at eight o'clock sharp. It is stated that only the gymnasium will be thrown open for the games. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

WATER IS "O. K."
SAYS DR. CARLSON

Dr. A. J. Carlson, city chemist, stated last night that the water being furnished its patrons by the Escanaba Water company is now pure and fit for any kind of domestic use. This conclusion was reached by the city chemist following daily tests of the Dr. Carlson's findings corroborate water for the last eight or nine days. Those of Professor Kneeland, the water company's bacteriologist, and will be received with great satisfaction by the general public. Dr. Carlson is of the opinion that the water should remain pure and wholesome as long as the filtration plant is properly conducted along scientific lines, as it is now under the direction of Professor Kneeland.

PART OF CASE
TO BE REHEARD

When Mr. Des Champlain learned of the alimony decree, which practically took away from him all he possessed, he made a motion for a rehearing of the case insofar as it related to the alimony award. The motion was argued before Judge Cooper, who denied it. Thereupon Mr. Des Champlain took an appeal to the supreme court, which has decided, as already noted, that the case must be reheard as to the alimony award. Following is the text of the court's decision, which was written by Justice Blair:

Supreme Court's Decision.
"This is an appeal from a pro confesso decree of divorce, a petition for rehearing having been denied by the circuit judge. The only point made in this court is that the award of alimony was excessive. It appears from the record that the home and household furniture awarded to complainant comprise substantially all of the property of the defendant and that the circuit judge may have been influenced in making the award by statements of counsel, doubtless made in good faith, that the officer who served the subpoena reported to him that 'if she wanted to get his house she was welcome to it.'"

"We deem this to be a proper case to apply the practice adopted in Ferguson vs. Ferguson, 145, Mich., 290.

"The decree is affirmed except as to the award of alimony, and the case is remanded for a rehearing upon that subject, with costs to complainant."

SENATOR BRISTOW
TAKES HIS STAND

Addresses the Senate in Advocacy of Popular Election of United States Senators—Invites Attention to Deadlocks and Cites Trouble Over Lorimer's Election.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Sharply antagonizing the position of Senator Lodge on the use of corporation influence in politics, Senator Bristow of Kansas today addressed the senate in support of popular election of senators.

He invited attention to the deadlocks over senatorial elections in several states at the present time. Senator Bristow declared that the American people may be trusted in such matters as they are conservative and not controlled by passion or prejudice. He cited the trouble of the Illinois senator as an example of legislative debauchery that has occurred in recent years in numerous senatorial elections.

HURTS HUBBY IN
PLAYFUL SCUFFLE

Casey Van Buren, a Menominee machinist, was badly injured in a playful scuffle with his wife, who in fun, threw a pillow at him which struck his pipe and rammed it into his throat. The pipe stem entered near his tonsils and went nearly through his neck.

GLADSTONE MAN
IS FOUND GUILTY

In Justice Linden's court this forenoon John Larson was tried on a charge of being a disorderly person in that he failed to properly support the family. He was convicted, but imposition of sentence was temporarily withheld in order to give Larson an opportunity to file an appeal or effect a settlement in some manner that will be of benefit to his family. Prosecuting Attorney Torval E. Strom appeared for the People and Attorney G. R. Empson of Gladstone represented the defendant.

AT SCHOOL DEBATE

Mayor Solomon Greenhoot and City Attorney I. C. Jennings were visitors this morning at the Escanaba High school and while there heard a discussion by members of the debating class on the question, "Resolved, That Escanaba shall purchase and use five snow plows." Mr. Jennings remarked after hearing the debate that both the mayor and himself had learned something during their visit. One of the debaters insisted that "we need these snow plows in order to clear the way to the cemetery and enable us to bury our dead." The students taking part in the debate were: Affirmative Frank Compher, Madeline Greenhoot and Helen Moran; negative, Jack Christie, Jessie Pulley, and Marguerite Greenhoot.
