CONTEST IS REMARKABLE

Unusual Features Develop in Competition for Special Prizes in Bermuda Tour Contest-- Miss Hessel Wins First and Miss Lambert Second--Two Third Prizes.

First prize—Miss Mae K. Hessel, First District, 69,600 votes.
Second prize—Miss Myrtle Lambert, Second District, 65,800 votes.
Third prize—Miss Mabel Roland, First District, 51,700 votes.
Third prize—Miss Helen Barlow, Third District, 51,700 votes.

Not until after the count of the votes was completed by two prominent business men, whose certificate of the result will be found in another column of this paper, did anyone know, or could anyone tell, who the fortunate winner of the diamond ring offered as a special prize in The Mirror's Bermuda contest would prove to be. All day Saturday and particularly in the evening ballots, seemingly without end, were voted. First would come several thousand for one of the candidates, then a goodly number for another, until nearly 350,000 votes had been cast.

Remarkable Features Disclosed.

Voting continued until ten o'clock Saturday night, when the time for the receipt of ballots expired. The final count of votes not only returned the young ladies named as winners of the special prizes offered, but showed some really remarkable things. The difference between Miss Hessel's and Miss Lambert's totals, for instance, proved to be but 3,800 votes. Just think of it. Out of a total of 135,400 scored by the two candidates there was a difference of but 3,800. One two years' subscription or three, one year subscriptions would have changed the result as to the winner of the first prize, a valuable diamond ring. Miss Lambert having received the second greatest number of votes became the winner of the second prize, a ladies' gold watch.

Tied For Third Prize.

When it came to counting the ballots to determine the winner of the third prize, a still more remarkable result was found. Miss Roland and Miss Barlow each had 51,700 votes cast during the prize period. All present were amazed. That two young ladies should evenly divide 103,400 votes is, we believe, an absolutely unprecedented circumstance in a contest of this kind. A recount resulted in showing the same figures and it was then and there determined that both

PARTICIPATES IN NOTABLE SERVICES

Rev. P. B. Ferris of This City Preaches Principal Sermon at Services Held in Observance of the Fifteenth Anniversary of Popular Ishpeming Pastor.

Rev. P. B. Ferris, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, returned this morning from Ishpeming, where he delivered the anniversary sermon at the 15th anniversary of Rev. Dr. M. M. Allen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of that city.

A large audience filling every available seat of the auditorium was present at both morning and evening services, Dr. Allen preaching in the evening and Rev. Mr. Ferris having the chief address of the morning service. After the morning services were concluded, the congregation came forward to congratulate Mr. Allen and extend their greetings and best wishes for many more years as pastor of that church. The quartette choir with flute obligato rendered exceptionally fine selections and the whole service was both appropriate and helpful.

Rev. Dr. Allen, the pastor of the church, delivered the sermon in the evening, referring in a strong and appealing address to the many happy years that had been spent as pastor of that church. He spoke of the predecessors, who had laid the foundation for the work that is being carried on at the present time in that city and of those who now were a force in the growing church today.

In all the address was very forceful and with its touch of humor here and mark of pathos there, held the audience to the very end.

Rev. Mrs. Ferris speaks in words of highest praise of the reception tendered him by the Ishpeming people yesterday and states that the day was one of the big days in the history of the church in that community.

FIRE DRILL SAVES SCHOOL CHILDREN

(By Associated Press.)
La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 27.—Three hundred children were taken out of the Logan school today, while the building was on fire, without a single accident.

The children were accustomed to fire drills and marched out of the building in good order under the directions of their teachers, though the hallways were well filled with smoke.

The fire was in the basement and was taken care of by members of the fire department without loss to the property of any considerable amount.

CALLS HIS LECTURE A LITERARY TREAT

The Munising News has the following notice of Rev. Frederick Spence and the lecture which he recently delivered at Munising:

"A fair sized audience greeted Rev. Frederick Spence last Friday night at the Methodist church in this city. Mr. Spence's subject was 'The Calling of Dan Matthews' and those who failed to hear the lecture missed a literary treat they seldom have the opportunity of enjoying. Never was the reverend gentleman heard with greater pleasure by a Munising audience than on the occasion of his latest visit." Mr. Spence spoke with intense enthusiasm of the Boy Scout movement which he is directing in Escanaba in which boys of all denominations are enrolled. No one will be surprised if at the next Detroit conference of his church Mr. Spence is called to the pastorate of one of the leading Methodist churches in the state."

ENTIRE CABINET RESIGNS

PREMIER BRIAND AND THE OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CABINET OF FRANCE STEP OUT TODAY.

BRIAND SAYS HE'S "SICK OF IT."

Resignations are Presented at a Meeting Over Which President Fallieres Presides—Action Causes a Big Political Sensation and Leads Conservative French Newspapers to Sound Note of Alarm.

(By Associated Press.)
Paris, France, Feb. 27.—Premier Briand and the cabinet resigned this afternoon at a meeting at which President Fallieres presided.

The bare majority of sixteen which the government received Friday night in a vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies, following the premiers arraignment by the radical socialists, was a sore blow to the premier and his associates, who had been sustained many times in previous crises by larger votes. In the end, M. Briand declared that he was "sick of it all."

Causes Huge Sensation.

The resignation of the cabinet has caused an enormous political sensation. The conservative newspapers are sounding a note of alarm. They declare that the forces of extreme radicalism are triumphing over sane and progressive reform, regarding the clerical issue, which was raised in parliament, as a mere pretext to attain M. Briand's downfall. They point out that it is ridiculous to accuse the man who constructed the separation law of clericalism, and that now that the church and state are completely divorced M. Briand has been merely following out a general program of "appeasement."

Results of Intrigue.

The vote in the chamber of deputies, therefore, is interpreted as the result of intrigue among M. Briand's adversaries in his own party, who have been plotting his overthrow since the great crisis in the railway strike and have been blocking the premier's program of arbitration in labor disputes in connection with public service corporations.

LORIMER'S FRIENDS STRIVING FOR VOTE

But in the Meantime There is Considerable Spouting of Senatorial Oratory—Crawford Throws Some Hot Shot Into the Lorimer Camp—More Delay Expected.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Feb. 27.—Senator Lorimer's friends went into the senate this morning determined to secure a vote, even at the expense of a prolonged evening session. Senators Stone, Crawford, Root, and Owens are yet to speak, but they promise to be brief. Senator La Follette is still accounted as an uncertain factor, but the friends of Lorimer believe that despite his opposition they can bring about a vote.

Senator Crawford took the floor to reply to some of Lorimer's expressions in his own defense and spoke especially of Lorimer's criticisms of Governor Deneen. He had been of the opinion that the governor should have the opportunity of defending himself and with this in mind he had notified Governor Deneen of Lorimer's charges and the latter had telegraphed a reply referring to Governor Deneen's published statement and that Lorimer's election was not favored by him.

Characterizing Lorimer's discussion of the case as a charge against Governor Deneen of "usurpation and tyranny" Crawford criticized the Illinois senator's course as unjustifiable in view of the fact that the testimony had been closed and the governor foreclosed against reply. He then read Governor Deneen's newspaper reply to Lorimer's speech. Senator Crawford then asserted that in his campaign Governor Deneen was "hounded, not by Democrats, but by Republicans led by Lorimer." He reiterated that the election of Shurtleff as speaker and Browne as a Democratic leader were steps in the corrupt program.

Without having concluded, Crawford yielded the floor at three o'clock. That procedure presaged further delay in the Lorimer case, as yielding was to Senator Bacon, who was to speak on the popular election of senators, Rayner, however, immediately gave the floor to Senator Rayner, who entered upon a set speech upon that subject.

NEVER RECEIVED BETTER TREATMENT

In its writup of the triangular debate last Friday evening between the High school teams of Escanaba, Menominee and Marinette the Menominee Herald-Leader had the following pleasant paragraph for Escanaba people to read:

"Prof. C. C. Ritze, B. S. Kitson and Prof. Hawson were at the debate in Escanaba and they say that they never received better treatment any place than that given them in Escanaba. There were 700 people present to hear the debate. The school room was decorated in the colors of the Menominee High school, as well as those of the Escanaba school. Bouquets of flowers were placed at the table which was reserved for the Menominee team. The people were very enthusiastic in that city over the debate, and listened to the debaters with rapt attention."

HELP ORGANIZER OF OWLS TO JUBILATE

Charles Payne's Birthday Anniversary is Made the Occasion for a Surprise Party—Tendered Him by Friends He Has Made During His Stay in the City.

Charles Payne, one of the national organization of the Order of Owls, who has been in the city several weeks, was the recipient Sunday evening of an entirely unexpected pleasure in the shape of a surprise party, which was tendered him at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Metcalf, 215 South Elmwood street, where Mr. Payne and his wife and little daughter are stopping while in the city.

The party was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf, aided by Mrs. Payne, and the occasion for it was the anniversary of Mr. Payne's birth. During his short stay here Mr. Payne has made not a few friends and acquaintances and many of the former were included in the members of the surprise party.

The evening was passed in a most delightful manner with games and music, and delicious refreshments were served. Mr. Payne received not only congratulations and best wishes, but many happy returns of the day, and also a number of birthday gifts, one of which was a beautiful silver cigar tray.

FATHER TAKES HIS SON'S BODY HOME

The remains of Frank Peterson, the young man who was accidentally killed Thursday afternoon at McCafferty & Connors' logging camp near Ralph, were shipped this morning to East Lake, Mich., where the funeral will be held. East Lake was where Peterson came from. Had he lived until March 24 he would have been 21 years old. His remains were accompanied to East Lake by his father, Louis Peterson, who arrived in the city on an early train this morning.

THEATRICAL

THE GRAND—Charles Scofield, an old time minstrel man and banjoist, is at the Grand this week as one of the leading attractions and will prove a drawing card on account of his popularity with the show-going public. The other number is Irwin & O'Neil, a high class specialty act, in which talking and singing are the principal features. Those who attended the performance this afternoon speak very highly of the entire bill and say that none better has ever been given at the Grand.

THE PETERSON—Expert critics in New York, Paris, London and other world-cities where "Madame X" has been scoring so great a triumph, unite in the verdict that it is the most powerful emotional drama within memory. They have not hesitated to say that this play by Alexandre Bisson holds in the hearts of the present generation of play-goers a place comparable to that held in years gone by by such famous works as "Article 47," "East Lynne," "Camille," or the wonderful Sardou tetralogy "La Tosca," "Gismonda," "Fedora" and "Cleopatra." Added to the tremendous emotional power of "Madame X" there is a realism, a fidelity to the actual things of life, that sets it on an even higher plane than any of these famous forerunners.

Henry W. Savage, who has the producing rights of the play for America and all other English-speaking countries, has staged the drama exactly as it was done at the Theatre Porte Ste. Martin, Paris, preserving intact all the intricate detail of that presentation made under the author's personal supervision. Mr. Savage will offer "Madame X" at the Peterson on Friday evening, February 3, with a splendid company of metropolitan players.

THE PETERSON—Speaking of "Miss Nobody from Starland," the attraction booked for presentation at the Peterson on the evening of March 5, the Duluth Herald of a recent date said:

"Miss Nobody from Starland," a "bully" good musical comedy, with new musical characters, original lines, pretty songs, clever principals and a unique plot that covered a wide area in scope, played to two immense audiences at the Lyceum theater Saturday and left a happy impression with those who witnessed the performance.

The play abounds in clever and humorous situations. The chorus might be improved upon, but especial care seems to have been taken in the selection of the principals and they were happily cast.

The plot is about as substantial as stock in the south sea bubble and serves only to bring on situation after situation and introduce a number of pretty songs and clever dances.

Miss Olive Vail as "Miss Nobody" shares honors with Miss Bertee Beaumont, who impersonates an Italian girl, and does about as clever a dance as has ever been executed on the local stage.

"Miss Nobody from Starland" is a piece that one could witness a second time and still find plenty to amuse. Its engagement was for the one day only.

to allow the person being served to help herself to each vegetable in turn. The convenience of such a dish is evident for the family who "do their own reaching," and it is a novelty that will be acceptable to the housewife who is on the lookout for something new for her table service.

GIVES UP BLOOD TO SAVE HER SISTER

Well Woman Aids Surgeons in Removal of Tumor—Transfusion is the First Case of Its Kind Recorded in Wisconsin—Operation is Performed at Appleton—Story.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 27.—The first case of direct transfusion on record in Wisconsin was performed successfully here by Dr. Victor F. Marshall, assisted by Drs. W. H. Abraham and James S. Reeve. The operation was pronounced successful although the patient is in an extremely critical condition following a subsequent operation for the removal of a tumor.

Mrs. Fred Ness, aged 41, was the patient and the transfusion was resorted to only as the last means of saving her life. She has been suffering from a tumor and was too weak to stand an operation so it was necessary to infuse new blood into her system. Her sister, Mrs. James Mauthe, two years her senior, gave the blood.

In the presence of a dozen surgeons, six nurses and two newspapermen, the operation was performed at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Mrs. Mauthe was brought to the operating table on which her sister lay and an incision was made in her left wrist and the artery pulled out. Then

Mrs. Ness' right arm was cut just below the elbow and an artery severed and a moment later the two arteries were fastened together and for fifteen minutes blood was pumped from the well woman into the system of the patient.

After a few minutes it was plain to be seen that color was coming into the face of the patient while her sister became paler. After fifteen minutes the connection was severed and then Mrs. Ness was operated upon for the tumor.

To Renew Oiled Cloth.

When oiled cloth has been down for a few months and is losing the shiny surface it can be renewed easily and made to last twice as long if treated in the following way: Melt a little ordinary glue in a pint of water, letting it stand on the top of the oven till dissolved.

Wash the oiled cloth thoroughly and let it dry. Then at night when the traffic of the day is over go over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in the glue water. Choose a fine day for it, and by morning the glue will be hard and will have put a fine gloss as good as new on your floor.

FOUR GIRLS WALK OFF WITH THREE SPECIAL PRIZES

Miss Mae K. Hessel, Miss Myrtle Lambert, Miss Mabel Roland and Miss Helen Barlow.

Never before in the history of Delta County was there as much enthusiasm shown in a contest as was in evidence among the contestants and their friends who were competing for the Special Period Prizes. Too much credit cannot be given to those contestants, who, after indicating their willingness to enter into the competition, have worked earnestly and unceasingly throughout the last ten days with the object in view of winning one of the beautiful prizes and forging ahead to win one of the delightful free trips.

The contestants have, in many cases, received hearty and efficient co-operation on the part of their friends to volunteer to help, without which service it would hardly have been possible for the young ladies to advance as rapidly and systematically as they did.

However, we wish to call the contestants' special attention to the fact that in many cases some contestants who have not competed for one of the Special Prizes may be looked upon as dangerous opponents at the final closing on March 4th. Therefore we deem it advisable not to be too sanguine in regard to your present standing, but continue the same pace that you have already set for your rival if you desire to win one of the trips to New York and Bermuda.

For the story of the closing day of the contest for the Period Prizes, look at page 1 of this issue.

WHO PAYS FOR THE ADVERTISING?

A contributor to The Public, published in Chicago, has following very interesting discussion on "Who Pays for Advertising." "We were riding on a train, my friend and I, and what apted my remark was the fences of advertising that lined sides of the track. "Outrageous!" my friend growled. "Look at that now!" he exclaimed a moment later, pointing to a full-page newspaper advertisement of a standard commodity. "Look at that and think of the enormous waste going very day in advertising. All of it has to be paid by the consumer and the cost of the goods correspondingly increased. Yesterday I was told about a man in Chicago who made $100,000 a year in profits just placing advertisements. You wonder we are poor, eh?" And he glared at me as if I were to blame for it all. "I deny the waste, in the sense you mean," I said, "and I deny that the cost of goods is increased by the expense of advertising. Just think a moment. You are a manufacturer of a standard commodity like this one advertised. Any one may advertise it. How much would it cost a man to make just one of these articles for his own use?" "Perhaps $20, counting time and materials," he replied. "But, making them by the million, as you do," I said, "you sell them at $1 apiece and get a good profit, provided a million men are informed that you can supply them with this peculiar thing. Now, the advertising agent attempts to so inform them, and in so far as he succeeds in doing this he brings together the maker and those who want the goods. He is an essential factor in the co-operation and division of labor which the goods are produced, and because of his aid each advertiser has saved the equivalent of $19. "Further than this, many men are enabled to enjoy the commodity who would otherwise have to go without it by reason of their inability to obtain the materials, or because of their lack of time or skill to make it. The man who advertises for goods is a producer just as much as you are or the bookkeeper or mechanic in your factory. Hence he is as much entitled to wages as you or they are. And just as the wages of your employees do not come out of your pocket nor out of the pockets of your customers, neither do his. We, your customers, are poorer by your work, the work of your employees and the advertising agent, but richer to the degree you have helped to gratify our desires with the least effort. The real reason we are poor—why anyone is poor—is another question."

HOLIDAY CELEBRATIONS.

The celebration of Washington's birthday as usual produced a good deal of comment on the decline of our holidays, so far as it was observed by stopping business, there were hundreds of people who played games or went to the theater for other entertainments, to every one who attended patriotic exercises.

But under the tense strain of modern life, our holidays are not likely to be very serious affairs for years to come. All that you can ask is that people shall not try to cram a week of pleasure-seeking into a single day.

Patriotism and the true meaning of our holidays will have to be taught mostly in the schools. It is a pretty slow and tedious teacher who does not stop the routine drone of arithmetic and spelling in advance of a holiday, to tell the children a wonderful human interest story that lies at the back-ground of each of them.

The next Democratic majority in the next Congress may be wholly different about reciprocity. It will then be a question of what they must trade to get tariff favor for their own districts.

If Dorothy Arnold does not get home pretty soon, she won't expect her dinner to be kept warm in the oven much longer.

The Russian Duma considers abolishing the Jewish pale, this country the Hebrew pale is well filled at luncheon time with the best sandwiches and doughnuts.

California is afraid of the new Jap treaty. Anyone who is willing to work hard is an uncomfortable neighbor in that land of sleepy sunshine.

The Canadian parliament votes against annexation, thus rowing away endless river and harbor and public buildings "pork" by one rash act.

The best way to free any given district from the Mexican beetles would be to offer them a woodpile to saw in return for lumber.

Leather collars are the latest fashion freak, and they would be strikingly appropriate to leatherheads.

MEASURING EARTH IS EXTENDED JOB

Washington, Feb. 27.—When it was disclosed in the house that the United States for the last 22 years has been appropriating $1,500 annually as this country's share as an "adhering" member of the International Geodetic association for the measurement of the earth, several members inquired how things were going with this "modest little undertaking." Mr. Austin of Tennessee, suggested a thousand years as the probable time for completion of the work. An informal suggestion was made that we had "adhered" about long enough. "However," the United States is committed by treaty and the annual appropriation was allowed to stand.

This upper peninsula county, in fact, leads the state, and has led it for the last six years. The attendance last year was 94 per cent. The record for the next highest county was 87 per cent, while the average for the state was 74.

GLADSTONE MAID BECOMES A BRIDE

The Wilson correspondent of the Menominee Herald-Leader writes as follows relative to the marriage of a young woman well known in both Escanaba and Gladstone, the latter place having been her home: "The marriage of Adolph Groleau, and Miss Ida Metazzar of Gladstone, was solemnized Monday morning at the St. Francis Xavier Catholic church at Spalding, Rev. Father Filion officiating. A number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties attended the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Metazzar of Gladstone and is a well known and popular young lady of that place, having spent most of her life there. The young couple left Monday noon for her home at Gladstone. The bridesmaid was Miss Rosaline Le-Clair of Wilson and the best man was a brother of the groom. Everybody wishes them a happy journey through life."

Davis Elkins Succeeds Father And Is Senator For Few Days

DAVIS ELKINS, the son of the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins, has the unique distinction of having been appointed to fill the vacancy in the United States senate caused by the death of his father. Young Mr. Elkins is but thirty-five years old, but he has for many years been the practical manager of his father's vast enterprises and he is a good business man. It is thought that his appointment to an office which he could hold but a few days was for the purpose of giving him prestige that would aid him in making a canvass for the senatorship in 1912. When Dave Elkins, as he is called by his intimates, was named by Governor Glasscock for the place made vacant by his father's death the commission was hurried to Washington so that he could take his seat at once, as the legislature was soon to convene to elect the man who will finish Senator S. B. Elkins' unexpired term.

WHOLESALE PRICE OF FISH SLUMPS

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, Feb. 27.—With Lent only two days away, a cut of from seven to three cents a pound in the wholesale price of fish was announced here today. The mild weather and the unprecedented winter catches in the big lakes of Canada is said to be responsible for the drop in price.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist. SUDDEN CHANGES DISORGANIZE NUTRITION. Any farmer knows what to expect if his cows spend a day in the cabbage or turnip field, instead of the pasture, or if his horses suddenly quit an exclusive diet of hay for growing clover, but he may go through life without observing the same principle in his own case. Indiscriminate mixing of foods tends to disorganize nutrition to a large extent, as the serious effects of sudden change should suggest. The importance of a simple diet in sickness is recognized, and it is just as true at all times that marked benefits are derived from simplifying the daily diet, as a means of conserving the energy expended in adaptation, and improving health and working capacity. SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

The history of the prize ring, past and present, is full of stories related concerning former champions of the squared circle who tried to "come back" and falled dismally.

Forbes began boxing in 1897, and from the beginning showed the unusual speed and punching power that helped to make him a world's champion in the future.

Just a year ago the fighting fever was again rampant, and he resolved to tempt fortune between the ropes again.

Forbes was knocked groggy by the fall, and for six rounds he fought mechanically, being sent to the floor repeatedly and frightfully punished.

It was this victory which convinced Forbes's friends that he was as good as ever. In a bout at Troy he lost a decision to Abe Attell.

Desert Adjunct to Be Restored English Royalty.

One indication of the way in which things are changing in England's reign is the announcement that George has caused it to be known among those persons with whom he may be dining during the coming season that he does not insist, as has the custom hitherto, on the absence of finger bowls at dinner.

These desert conveniences were introduced from the royal tables of the century and a half ago at a time when certain adherents of the young tender were wont to drink the health of "the king over the water" by fanning their wingglasses across the table and thereby signifying their adherence to the old regime.

This custom of doing without finger bowls obtained throughout the reign of Queen Victoria and King Edward even when the latter was Prince of Wales and dined out privately with intimate friends, but the new despises these old fashioned customs and traditions, and hence the usual accompaniments to dinner will appear on the royal tables of the tables of those who enter the royal household.

YOUNG GIRL'S COIFFURE

What to Do With Hair Beyond "bed" Age.

Many mothers are puzzled days to decide how to arrange the hair of the little daughter when she beyond the age of "bobbed" hair curls tied with a bow.

Simplicity and becomingness both be achieved and the tastes of girl herself taken into consideration. For a young girl, say, from thirteen to fifteen years who is too tall to have her hair hanging loose about the neck and most becoming way of arranging it is to divide the front back hair to make a pompadour held in place by a bowknot of ribbon, the back part then caught in the center and tied with a pleated, the end again braided and braid doubled back and caught the same piece of tape with a ribbon tied over it in a pretty bow.

By no means the least important part of the coiffure is the tying of hair ribbon. Nothing makes a young girl look so untidy as a hair ribbon not carefully tied or one that is a good color for the gown with which it is worn.

The method just described of arranging the hair possesses the great advantage that while it leaves the hair comingly loose about the face the bon is at the same time held secure and will not be constantly falling as when it only catches the hair in center of the back with nothing to keep it in place.

NEW POSTALS WON'T BE KEPT IN STOCK

Postmaster H. W. Coburn of this city has been notified of the issuance of a new postal card. The local postoffice will not issue these cards, however, unless demand is made for them in good-sized lots. In other words, no stock of the new cards will be carried, and if any are wanted in quantity special requisition will have to be made for them.

The new one-cent postal card, known in postoffice circles as No. 5, is designed primarily for index or library purposes. The size is three by five inches. The card is white and is printed in red ink. The subject of the stamp is a profile head of Abraham Lincoln looking to the left. The background is solid, and is surrounded with an elliptical border bearing in capital letters the words "U. S. Postal Card." This border resting upon a base containing the denomination appears the name "Lincoln." A spray laurels extends from the base two-thirds up, and outside of, the border on either side of the stamp. To the left of the stamp appears in a horizontal line of Gothic capitals the inscription, "This side of cards is for address only," within a frame of plain lines.

"SAFETY BEFORE SPEED NOW ON PAY CHECKS

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company Adopts a New and Novel Method to Impress the Need of Caution Upon the Minds of its Trainmen—The Details.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company is endeavoring to increase the efficiency of its employes by an education campaign. The leading purpose of the present effort is to decrease the number of accidents on the road and to make travel safer for the employes and patrons of the road.

Notice has been given to the public through the press of the endeavor of the company to lessen if possible the number of accidents. However, the last step, taken by the company, when it printed mottoes on all checks issued to employes, will still further interest the traveling public.

"It is better to cause delay than to cause an accident." "Remember you are responsible for the safety of others as well as yourself." "Safety Before Speed" are some of the mottoes printed on the pay checks issued a few days ago. This is an innovation and was done for the purpose of impressing upon all the necessity for safety in travel.

Two years ago the company had signs: "Safety before Speed" placed over the engineer's window in the cabs of their engines.

A BOY WITH AN ODD NAME.

Can you imagine a worse name than Jehoshaphat Jenkins? Jehoshaphat couldn't. He was always spoken of as "that poor little Jenkins boy," and he certainly was rather a forlorn little chap.

To begin with, his mother had died when he was a tiny baby, and his heartbroken father had gone away, leaving him in the care of Aunt Jane without even so much as expressing a wish as to what his baby should be named. So Aunt Jane, after a great deal of careful thought, had decided upon "Jehoshaphat," and as he was in her care the rest of the scandalized family had nothing to say about it.

He grew up, although no one thought he would with that name, and until he was eight or nine years old was as happy as a lark. Then he began to appreciate the fact that no one else seemed to be called Jehoshaphat, although there were plenty of Willies and Tommies, and also that people always smiled when he told them his full name. And it ended by his being miserably unhappy over it.

He was nearly ten years old before Aunt Jane would let him go to school. Then troubles began afresh. His classmates shrieked with laughter when the first day, in reply to the teacher, the "new boy" bravely arose and amid a dead silence gave his name as "Jehoshaphat Jenkins." There was no peace for him that day. The boys nicknamed him "Hoss," "Old Horse," "Jehu" and many other titles that only small boys of ten could think of. Finally he could stand it no longer. Going to Aunt Jane, he begged her with tears in his eyes to send him away to another school, and at last she consented.

Jehoshaphat had a plan in his head, way down deep, so no one knew it was there, and this is how he carried it out.

The school was a new one, quite a distance off, and it just happened that Jehoshaphat didn't know another boy there. The opening day came, and, as usual, the teacher asked each scholar his name. When it was Jehoshaphat's turn to answer the simple question of "What is your name, boy?" he arose, and without hesitation replied, "Reginald Marmaduke Jenkins!" This made a deep impression on the boys at once.

"Any fellow with such a name must be no end swell," plain Harry Brown said to plainer Willie Smith, and "Reginald" was immediately king of the play yard. There was a weight off his mind. To do him justice, he really did not know that he had told a most awful whopper, and he thought of nothing except that he was free from the taunting remarks about something he couldn't help.

One day at recess time a carriage drove to the schoolhouse gate, and a man Jehoshaphat—that is, Reginald—had never seen entered the yard and pleasantly asked, "Which of the boys is Jehoshaphat Jenkins?"

"There ain't anybody of that name here," you-heard Willie Smith.

"Yes, there is," came from a well known voice from the carriage. To his horror, Jehoshaphat saw Aunt Jane's head suddenly appear.

"There he is now, right in front of you. Here's his father home from China, and I guess he wants to see his own son."

Then came the most awful moment of Jehoshaphat's short life. There was nothing to do but confess, and confess he did, and Aunt Jane was horrified. But, strange to say, father laughed and thought it a great joke. Jehoshaphat left school that very day, and what do you think happened to his name? His father was so horrified at finding what Aunt Jane had called his son that he lost no time in taking him to court and having Jehoshaphat changed to plain John. So Jehoshaphat Jenkins no longer exists, and all this time and so long ago that John Jenkins has only a dim recollection of the fact that he was once called Jehoshaphat.

OUTLOOK IN THE IRON TRADE IS IMPROVING

Developments of the Last Few Days are the Most Encouraging Indications for the Vessel Business Since Navigation Closed—Prospects are Brighter.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 27.—Developments of the last few days in the iron and steel market the first encouraging indications for the vessel business since navigation closed. Higher prices, increased orders and reports that stocks at the mills are approaching a point where they are manageable working quantities would indicate the ore at the mills and on docks will soon be heavily drawn upon for consumption.

It does not, however, mean vessel interests will be called upon to haul ore from the head of the lakes at the opening of navigation. The activity which has been manifest during the first three weeks of the month means the prospects of the season are brighter and there is something tangible to warrant a prediction of at least a fair amount of shipping later in the season.

It is unlikely there will be such a demand for carriers as there was in the closing months of the season of 1909. Experience has apparently taught its lesson. Some of the shippers who were unable to fill orders which were offered late that season say they will not take any more orders than they positively know they can deliver by the close of navigation.

COST OF RAISING MAINE MAY REACH A MILLION

Washington, Feb. 27.—The total cost of raising the wreck of the battleship Maine, now lying in Havana harbor, is "a gamble," according to Major Cavanaugh, the engineer officer in charge of the work. The cost may be close to $1,000,000. Ma. Cavanaugh told the appropriations committee of the house.

"I do not think congress could safely fix a limit of less than $700,000," said the officer.

Rep. Walter I. Smith of Iowa, said the American people would not want the Maine raised at a cost of $1,000,000.

The present appropriation for the undertaking is $300,000.

He became so interested in his girl friend that he forgot to get off at Negaunee, where he intended taking a street car back to Ishpeming. He did not realize that he had passed Negaunee until the conductor called the second time for his ticket."

GIVES LAND TO THE MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

R. P. Lamont of Chicago Makes Over Twenty-six Acres of Land Adjoining the University Observatory—Announces Telescope to be Used in Two Hemispheres.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 27.—R. P. Lamont of Chicago has notified the board of regents of the University of Michigan of a gift of twenty-six acres of land adjoining the university observatory in this city, the gift being subject to a small mortgage. Mr. Lamont also made known the fact that he is having constructed a twenty-four inch refracting telescope, which will later become the property of the University of Michigan, but which will first be sent to the Argentine Republic for use in making observations in the southern hemisphere.

Beginning with the first of July, this year, the University of Michigan will cooperate with the University of La Plata, in Buenos Ayres, in astronomical work. The observatory of La Plata will be under the direction of Professor W. J. Hussey, head of the astron department of each year at each university.

So long as this cooperation between the two universities exists the gift of Mr. Lamont will be used in South America, but when this relationship shall be severed, the refracting telescope will be returned to Michigan University.

JUMPS IN FRONT OF PASSENGER TRAIN

Lawrence Vincent, a woodsman who has been employed at the camps of the Sagola Lumber company at Witbeck, during the early part of the winter, attempted to commit suicide at Channing the other day by jumping in front of a passenger train on the Escanaba & Lake Superior road as the train was pulling out of the yard.

The engine struck him cutting a bad gash about twelve inches long from his back across the right hip. The train backed into town with the injured man and Dr. Dockery of Sagola was summoned to dress the wound.

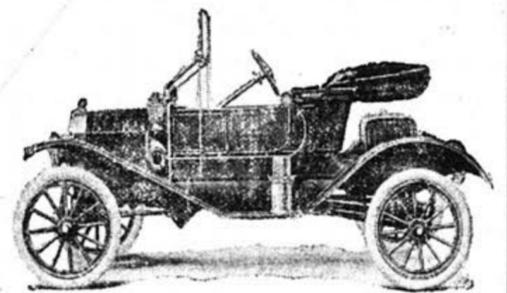

Vincent went to Sagola, where he is under the care of the doctor for a few days and then will be sent to the hospital at Iron Mountain.

MARTINDALE IS IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 27.—Secretary of the State F. C. Martindale has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor in 1912.

"Governor Osborn has definitely announced that he will not take a second nomination to which he is entitled if he desired it," said Martindale, "and in view of the attitude taken by my friends and following their suggestions, I think it is well to now state my position. Of course I will not start my campaign at this time," said Mr. Martindale.

THE medical profession is one that usually requires instant service. The doctor's time is never his own day or night. He must answer calls promptly or lose his practice. The horse and buggy used by the doctor to hasten his call is fast being pushed into the background and supplanted by the motor car.

In design the Ford Torpedo Runabout is the ideal car for the doctor. It is speedy on the road and always reliable. The old saying that "Time is money" is more than true in the case of the professional man. In this light and powerful Ford car the doctor can cover double the ground and make twice the calls that would be possible with the horse and buggy. As to economy in upkeep it is impossible to find a superior to the Model T Ford. On account of its design, light weight and strong construction, gasoline, oil bills and general upkeep have been reduced to the minimum. The many hundreds of doctors who are today using Ford cars are getting from 25 to 30 miles from a single gallon of gasoline. It's this economy in all Model T cars that has made Ford the popular car for the busy profession.

JUDGMENT GIVEN AGAINST COMPANY

John E. Olson Sues the Continental Insurance Company to Secure Double Indemnity for an Injury While Riding on a Street Car in Chicago.

In Justice Linden's court this forenoon John E. Olson was awarded a judgment of $178 and costs against the Continental Casualty company. The defendant offered no defense at the trial, but will take an appeal and fight the case out in circuit court.

The action was brought by Mr. Olson to recover indemnity on an insurance policy which he held with the company for personal injuries which he received while riding on a street car in Chicago last August. Olson's policy is claimed to be good for an indemnity of $50 a month and double that amount if injury occurs while the holder is traveling.

Olson sued for the double indemnity of $100 a month for the period of one month and 28 days, the length of time he alleged he was disabled by the injury. Olson was represented in court by Attorney H. J. Rushton, while Attorney John Cumiskey appeared for the defendant company. John E. Olson is a son of Peter Olson, a well known merchant tailor.

SUES NORTHWESTERN ROAD FOR $50,000

John Trotter, injured at Iron Mountain last October, is Unable to Come to a Settlement With Railroad Company and Begins Suit—Story of Accident.

John Trotter of Iron Mountain, who has relatives and friends in Escanaba, having been unsuccessful in his attempt to secure a satisfactory settlement with the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company for the injuries he received last October in the yards at Iron Mountain, has decided to commence suit for damages in the United States district court at St. Paul, the Iron Mountain Press states.

It is said that the Northwestern company volunteered to pay Mr. Trotter $5,000. Mr. Trotter will demand damages in the sum of $50,000. It is expected that the case will be tried at the May term of the court. Mr. Trotter has engaged Barton & Kay, a well-known St. Paul legal firm, to handle the case for him.

Mr. Trotter was employed by the Northwestern road as switchman. He was on the last car in a string of ore cars that were being set out on a siding. The pinlifter, which another switchman attempted to manipulate, refused to work, and Trotter was thrown to the track. The cars were released at the second attempt to pull the pin and ran over Trotter. The left leg was cut off above the knee and the right leg near the ankle.

Mr. Trotter has received his artificial limbs and is now engaged in learning to walk.

NO "DAY LETTERS" FOR THE POSTAL

Taking cognizance of the fact that the Western Union Telegraph company is about to inaugurate a new class of telegraph service, to be known as "day letters," the Postal Telegraph company has issued the following announcement through the manager of its Escanaba office.

"We give such a fast day service that there is no occasion for any deferred service. Besides which, we are not a deferred company. We rush our traffic through the destination within a few minutes from the time it is handed to us. We do not believe the public has any use for a deferred day service because the present day service, which would be no different from the night lettergram service in its practical workings. A deferred day service would get mixed with our regular day service, and would hamper and delay it. Fast service is what the public wants, not a deferred or slow service."

expenses should be pooled and defrayed equally between the four teams in the proposed league and that in addition, the Marquette county teams should give the Escanaba team a bonus of $25 for the season. As the Escanaba team would have approximately $300 more of traveling expense than the Marquette county teams this amounts to a bonus of $125 from each Marquette county team, or $25 for each team less than the terms that were proposed at the Ishpeming conference.

Also Confronts Other Teams.

Some of the Escanaba directors expressed apprehension that they would not be able to make ends meet in the support of their team. Last season they played forty-six games, and the proposed schedule for the league gives them only eighteen home games for which they would take all the receipts. But this is a condition that also confronts the teams in this county, and a number of Escanaba directors commented that if Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee were able to support their teams on that number of games, Escanaba, with the expense equalized, certainly ought to be able to do it.

Counting in the bonus to Escanaba, it is said that the expenses of the Marquette county teams will be approximately the same as they were last year, when Crystal Falls was in the league whereas Escanaba is certain to greatly outdraw Crystal Falls on the Marquette county grounds.

It is likely that something definite will be heard from the Escanaba management before the close of the week, and those who have been interesting themselves in the matter expect to know within ten days whether the proposed league will be a go.

DINNER WITHOUT MEAT.

Ascending Butcher's Bill Has Something to Do With It.

A dinner without meat, especially in the winter time, is less of a surprise to meat eaters than it used to be. Only avowed vegetarian families whose names were written boldly in the Vegetarian society's records would once have submitted to such a bill of fare. Possibly the family doctor who in season and out has preached "less meat" for some years is as responsible as any one person for the change in diet. Possibly the ascending butcher's bills have had something to do with it. Whatever the cause, less meat is eaten now than ever before in the memory of persons who are living or of their immediate ancestors. But a vegetarian diet in a house where a variety of appetizing food is demanded does not decrease the cost of living. To have variety without meat a well set table means vegetables out of season and quantities of nuts and fruits that come high.

At a dinner served by a young housewife of advanced ideas the other evening the bill of fare included bean stew with dumplings, mock turkey, mashed potatoes, squash, lettuce salad with toasted cheese crackers, orange sherbet and coffee. For the stew the common white dry beans used for baking had been soaked the previous night and the next morning parboiled in water with a little soda and then rinsed thoroughly, covered with water and stewed tender with a large onion and carrot, both chopped coarsely, a cupful of stalk celery cut fine and a red pepper cut in pieces. When the beans were soft they were seasoned with salt and black pepper and the dumplings were dropped in. For the dumplings sift two cupfuls of flour with a couple of tablespoonfuls of baking powder and mix with half a cupful of milk. Drop the batter by spoonfuls into the hot stew, cover closely and boil for twelve minutes without raising the cover. Turn the stew into the middle of a deep platter and arrange the dumplings around the edge.

Household Hints.

Very little water should be used in washing oilcloth, as some of it will seep through to the cloth beneath and rot it. Use a flannel cloth well wrung out and wipe the floor until clean. Salsoda will aid greatly. Wipe the white spots caused by spilling any hot liquid on the oilcloth with a few drops of spirits of camphor. To sweep a stair carpet hold a dust pan under each step and brush with a whisk broom. Freshly spilled ink on carpets may be removed by taking up as much as possible with a spoon, then pouring on old water repeatedly, taking it up with a spoon. Lay a cloth around the spot so it will not spread. Then apply a weak solution of oxalic acid, sponging this up quickly, and if the color is altered apply ammonia water. Green tea may be sponged with green tea and wound around a bottle to dry. Be careful not to place it near a fire, as it will make the lace look rusty.

To remove wine stains sprinkle the spot when the wine is spilled with salt and you will find that the stain will wash out quickly; otherwise spread the spots over a bowl and pour on boiling water with force.

Orange Fritters.

Florida oranges, which are just coming into season, are the best for orange fritters. The following rule is recommended by a high culinary authority: Peel the oranges and cut them in thin slices. Divide each slice in half, dip it into a fritter batter and fry in smoking hot fat. After frying and draining dip each fritter in powdered sugar. For the batter put a cupful of flour into a bowl, mix with it the yolk of a raw egg, a level teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of salad oil and enough water to make a batter that will not run. Just before using the batter beat the white of an egg to a stiff froth and mix it lightly with the batter.

In Justice Linden's court this forenoon John E. Olson was awarded a judgment of $178 and costs against the Continental Casualty company. The defendant offered no defense at the trial, but will take an appeal and fight the case out in circuit court.

The action was brought by Mr. Olson to recover indemnity on an insurance policy which he held with the company for personal injuries which he received while riding on a street car in Chicago last August. Olson's policy is claimed to be good for an indemnity of $50 a month and double that amount if injury occurs while the holder is traveling.

Olson sued for the double indemnity of $100 a month for the period of one month and 28 days, the length of time he alleged he was disabled by the injury. Olson was represented in court by Attorney H. J. Rushton, while Attorney John Cumiskey appeared for the defendant company. John E. Olson is a son of Peter Olson, a well known merchant tailor.

NO "DAY LETTERS" FOR THE POSTAL

Taking cognizance of the fact that the Western Union Telegraph company is about to inaugurate a new class of telegraph service, to be known as "day letters," the Postal Telegraph company has issued the following announcement through the manager of its Escanaba office.

"We give such a fast day service that there is no occasion for any deferred service. Besides which, we are not a deferred company. We rush our traffic through the destination within a few minutes from the time it is handed to us. We do not believe the public has any use for a deferred day service because the present day service, which would be no different from the night lettergram service in its practical workings. A deferred day service would get mixed with our regular day service, and would hamper and delay it. Fast service is what the public wants, not a deferred or slow service."

had won the third prize and that each should receive a gold bracelet.

Now that the smoke of the skirmish has cleared away, we are all ready for the real battle and it promises to be a battle royal. If the winners of the period prizes can gather anywhere from 30,000 to 70,000 votes in ten days' time, cannot you, who have not yet put forth your best efforts, be able to do as well and even better?

The Situation Analyzed.
Let us analyze the situation for a moment. In the first district 20,000 votes separate the leaders. That may look like a very great many, but what does it really amount to? Four new two years' subscribers or ten new yearly ones would more than offset the advantage. And if you have been able to get together 50,000 in ten days, as you have done, you certainly can do as well, and probably better during this week.

The leaders in the second district, though somewhat further apart, are still close enough together to assure a spirited contest. And in the Third district they are so close together that only a soothsayer can predict the result.

You who are not among the leaders can do just as well as they if you will but try. Those leaders may, for all you know, have exhausted their resources. You have not even tapped yours as yet.

Go to it, girls, and may the best ones win.

SUES NORTHWESTERN ROAD FOR $50,000

John Trotter, injured at Iron Mountain last October, is unable to come to a Settlement With Railroad Company and Begins Suit—Story of Accident.

John Trotter of Iron Mountain, who has relatives and friends in Escanaba, having been unsuccessful in his attempt to secure a satisfactory settlement with the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company for the injuries he received last October in the yards at Iron Mountain, has decided to commence suit for damages in the United States district court at St. Paul, the Iron Mountain Press states.

It is said that the Northwestern company volunteered to pay Mr. Trotter $5,000. Mr. Trotter will demand damages in the sum of $50,000. It is expected that the case will be tried at the May term of the court. Mr. Trotter has engaged Barton & Kay, a well-known St. Paul legal firm, to handle the case for him.

Mr. Trotter was employed by the Northwestern road as switchman. He was on the last car in a string of ore cars that were being set out on a siding. The pinlifter, which another switchman attempted to manipulate, refused to work, and Trotter was thrown to the track. The cars were released at the second attempt to pull the pin and ran over Trotter. The left leg was cut off above the knee and the right leg near the ankle.

Mr. Trotter has received his artificial limbs and is now engaged in learning to walk.

ESCANABA WILL PROBABLY JOIN

expenses should be pooled and defrayed equally between the four teams in the proposed league and that in addition, the Marquette county teams should give the Escanaba team a bonus of $25 for the season. As the Escanaba team would have approximately $300 more of traveling expense than the Marquette county teams this amounts to a bonus of $125 from each Marquette county team, or $25 for each team less than the terms that were proposed at the Ishpeming conference.

Also Confronts Other Teams.

Some of the Escanaba directors expressed apprehension that they would not be able to make ends meet in the support of their team. Last season they played forty-six games, and the proposed schedule for the league gives them only eighteen home games for which they would take all the receipts. But this is a condition that also confronts the teams in this county, and a number of Escanaba directors commented that if Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee were able to support their teams on that number of games, Escanaba, with the expense equalized, certainly ought to be able to do it.

Counting in the bonus to Escanaba, it is said that the expenses of the Marquette county teams will be approximately the same as they were last year, when Crystal Falls was in the league whereas Escanaba is certain to greatly outdraw Crystal Falls on the Marquette county grounds.

It is likely that something definite will be heard from the Escanaba management before the close of the week, and those who have been interesting themselves in the matter expect to know within ten days whether the proposed league will be a go.

DINNER WITHOUT MEAT.

Ascending Butcher's Bill Has Something to Do With It.

A dinner without meat, especially in the winter time, is less of a surprise to meat eaters than it used to be. Only avowed vegetarian families whose names were written boldly in the Vegetarian society's records would once have submitted to such a bill of fare. Possibly the family doctor who in season and out has preached "less meat" for some years is as responsible as any one person for the change in diet. Possibly the ascending butcher's bills have had something to do with it. Whatever the cause, less meat is eaten now than ever before in the memory of persons who are living or of their immediate ancestors. But a vegetarian diet in a house where a variety of appetizing food is demanded does not decrease the cost of living. To have variety without meat a well set table means vegetables out of season and quantities of nuts and fruits that come high.

At a dinner served by a young housewife of advanced ideas the other evening the bill of fare included bean stew with dumplings, mock turkey, mashed potatoes, squash, lettuce salad with toasted cheese crackers, orange sherbet and coffee. For the stew the common white dry beans used for baking had been soaked the previous night and the next morning parboiled in water with a little soda and then rinsed thoroughly, covered with water and stewed tender with a large onion and carrot, both chopped coarsely, a cupful of stalk celery cut fine and a red pepper cut in pieces. When the beans were soft they were seasoned with salt and black pepper and the dumplings were dropped in. For the dumplings sift two cupfuls of flour with a couple of tablespoonsful of baking powder and mix with half a cupful of milk. Drop the latter by spoonfuls into the hot stew, cover closely and boil for twelve minutes without raising the cover. Turn the stew into the middle of a deep platter and arrange the dumplings around the edge.

Household Hints.
Very little water should be used in washing olecloth, as some of it will seep through to the cloth beneath and rot it. Use a flannel cloth well wrung out and wipe the floor until clean. Salsoda will aid greatly. Wipe the white spots caused by spilling any hot liquid on the olecloth with a few drops of spirits of camphor.
To sweep a stair carpet hold a dust pan under each step and brush with a whisk broom.
Freshly spilled ink on carpets may be removed by taking up as much as possible with a spoon, then pouring on cold water repeatedly, taking it up with a spoon. Lay a cloth around the spot so it will not spread. Then apply a weak solution of oxalic acid, sponging this up quickly, and if the color is altered apply ammonia water.

Black lace may be sponged with green tea and wound around a bottle to dry. Be careful not to place it near a fire, as it will make the lace look rusty.
To remove wine stains sprinkle the spot when the wine is spilled with salt and you will find that the stain will wash out quickly; otherwise spread the spots over a bowl and pour on boiling water with force.

Orange Fritters.
Florida oranges, which are just coming into season, are the best for orange fritters. The following rule is recommended by a high culinary authority: Peel the oranges and cut them in thin slices. Divide each slice in half, dip it into a fritter batter and fry in smoking hot fat. After frying and draining dip each fritter in powdered sugar. For the batter put a cupful of flour into a bowl, mix with it the yolk of a raw egg, a level teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of salad oil and enough water to make a batter that will not run. Just before using the batter beat the white of an egg to a stiff froth and mix it lightly with the batter.
