CITY CHEMIST AND CITY VETERINARIAN RETAINED BY CITY

CITY COUNCIL DECLINES TO ADOPT ORDINANCES PROVIDING FOR TEMPORARY ABOLISHMENT OF OFFICES.

THE VOTE IS EQUALLY DIVIDED.

Mayor Lindsay Reappoints Peter Holmes as Street Commissioner and N. C. Blanchette as City Poor Commissioner—Appointments are Unanimously Confirmed.

Through the action of the common council, taken at an adjourned regular meeting Monday evening, the offices of city chemist and city veterinarian will be retained, for the time being at least.

An ordinance section No. 1 of the old ordinance providing for the appointment of a city chemist and defining his duties, was introduced but failed to pass, the vote standing 6 to 6.

Mayor Lindsay voted for the ordinance to break the tie, but that was of no avail, for City Attorney Ryall gave an opinion that to pass such an ordinance as the one in question would require a majority of all the aldermen-elect, which would be eight.

Another ordinance making a similar amendment to the ordinance creating the office of city veterinarian and milk inspector was also introduced and this also failed of passage, the vote standing 7 for and 5 against.

Appointments Are Deferred. The object of these ordinances was to make it possible for the council to suspend or temporarily abolish the offices of city chemist and city veterinarian or to fill them for any length of time. In any event, it was provided that neither should hold office after the first Monday in May, a year after their appointment.

There was considerable debate on these proposed ordinances before the vote was taken. Alderman Priester leading the fight in their favor and Alderman Garrity against.

Later in the evening Mayor Lindsay started to name his appointees to the offices of city chemist and city veterinarian, but decided after some consideration to defer the appointment until the next meeting, by which time the finance committee would be ready to make recommendations as to the salary that should be attached to each office.

Two Succeeded Themselves. Mayor Lindsay announced his appointment of Peter Holmes to succeed himself as poor commissioner and N. C. Blanchett to succeed himself as city poor commissioner. Both appointments were unanimously confirmed and the mayor thanked the aldermen for their action.

Alderman Priester moved that the poor committee meet with the poor commissioner and go over the list of those receiving aid from the city and see if it cannot be reduced somewhat.

It is understood that this action was taken at the request of Poor Commissioner Blanchette, whose administration of the office has been made the subject of some attack.

FORTY-SIX FASTEST AUTOS TO COMPETE

Elimination Trials of Candidates to Start in the 500-Mile International Sweepstakes Race Will Be Held on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Next Friday.

(By Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—Highly "tuned" and mechanically as perfect as the skill of the modern motor car maker can produce, forty-six of the fastest racing automobiles ever assembled are at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, awaiting the elimination trials next Friday, which will determine whether they are eligible to start in the 500-mile international sweepstakes race on Memorial day, May 30.

Every car must show speed of at least 75 miles an hour to qualify for one of the greatest races in the history of the motor contest sport. When the entries to this event were closed May 1, there were forty-six cars entered, manned by a list of drivers which includes every well-known pilot in America, as well as several who made their reputations in Europe before coming to the United States.

It has been nine months since the initial announcement of this contest was made by the promoters and each month has witnessed an increase of interest on the part of the public as well as the manufacturer. Almost six months ago the first entry was made, when a Case car, with Lewis Strang as the driver, was entered. From that time on the entries were sent in steadily until the largest field ever drawn together for one event was announced when the entries were closed. The greatest number of entries in any one contest previous to this time was twenty-six.

NORTH ESCANABA PROBABLY WILL GET FIRE STATION

COMMON COUNCIL ACCEPTS PLAN AND INSTRUCTS CITY CLERK TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS FOR CONSTRUCTION.

HARTNETT AVENUE IMPROVEMENT. Some of the Aldermen Want to Take Money Set Aside by Board of Public Works for Fire Station and Use it in Repairing Hartnett Avenue—They Lose on the Showdown.

Following a long and at times spirited discussion over the question of whether it would be best to take a certain available sum of money for the improvement of Hartnett avenue or to build a fire station in the Seventh ward, the common council Monday evening decided to refer the Hartnett avenue matter to the street committee and to accept the plans and specifications that had been secured for the fire station.

In connection with the acceptance of the plans, the city engineer was instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of the building.

The matter was brought up by Alderman Priester, who stated that Hartnett avenue is in such wretched condition that its repairing or repair is imperative and he suggested that the $6,000 that had been taken from the earnings of the lighting plant for the purpose of building a fire station be devoted to the improvement of Hartnett avenue. He maintained that the sum was not sufficient to build and equip the fire station and that it should be used for the purpose he indicated.

Alderman Long combatted the idea that the money could be transferred by the board of public works to the building fund and also maintained (Continued on Page Six.)

PARK POLICEMEN ARE RECOMMENDED

Should the council take favorable action upon a recommendation, made by Chief of Police Iverson and endorsed by the board of park commissioners, the city parks will be watched over by special policemen. Chief Iverson recommended to the council Monday night that Patrick Gallagher be appointed as a special park policeman, to be on duty from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., and that John Nordin be appointed as special officer and park foreman, his hours of duty to be from noon until midnight. It was recommended that the pay of these officers should be $2 a day and paid out of the park fund. After some discussion, the matter was referred to the ordinance committee and the city attorney.

PRESENTS REPORT ON THE CITY WATER

At the meeting of the common council Monday evening City Health Officer H. W. Long presented a report on two samples of city water that he had sent to the state board of health on May 3 for analysis. The report on one of these samples, taken from the Hill drug store, stated that the water was safe, while the second sample, taken from the office of the American Express company, was slightly contaminated. "The result of the latter," said Dr. Long "may be due from possible imperfect securing of that specimen." The report was accepted and placed on file.

ESCANABA PUZZLE IS SOLVED TODAY

Where and How "Mr. Waffles, the Mysterious Stranger," May Be Found is Disclosed and Many Inquirers Will Be Satisfied—He'll Be at the King's Sons' Breakfast.

During these last ten days there have been numerous inquiries concerning that "Mysterious Stranger, Mr. Waffles." Many have been confident that the name was only a name, and that it meant no one in particular, but everyone has been curious to know who "Mr. Waffles" represents.

The idea was conceived by a band of young men, that on a certain date, which was kept by them each year, they would have present at a certain time and place "a mysterious stranger," one who being approached in a certain way and addressed in a given manner would disclose his identity and suitable reward would be given for the one who makes the great discovery.

The questions where and who will "Mr. Waffles" be, have been greatly discussed by the young people especially, during these past ten days, and not a few of the older people have asked concerning the new arrival in this city.

To the question, where will Mr. Waffles be? The young men have decided to make that public today. "Mr. Waffles will be in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, the morning of the King's Sons' breakfast, next Saturday morning, May 27. If you find him you will have a two-fold reward.

But you must approach him in a certain manner and say to him: "Good morning! Let's see your necktie—Red? Like those of the King's Sons? Are you the mysterious stranger, Mr. Waffles? Were you at the King's Sons' breakfast last year? and the year before? But this one is the best ever seen? It? Glad to have met you Mr. Waffles—it has solved a mystery. We'll meet you at the King's Sons' breakfast next year—wont we? Good morning Mr. Waffles."

Learn this little address before next Saturday morning, or take the paper along to help you and approach someone bearing that first mark of identity, "the red necktie" and if you find your man, you will receive a suitable reward. Remember the formula! and the place where you can meet "Mr. Waffles."

LARSON MAY NOT PLAY WITH WINONA

Sib Larson, who some time ago decided that he would not play with the Ishpeming baseball team this season, made application for a place on the Winona, Minn., nine and the management has offered to take him on with the understanding that he pay a fine for having left there without a proper release—two years ago. Under the circumstances, Sib is not certain that he will play at Winona.

RIGHTERS IS THE TEAM TO PLAY SOO

The Mirror is informed that the Escanaba team which has been secured to play the Sault Ste. Marie team at the Soo in a series of games on July 1, 2, 3 and 4 is the Richters, not the Continentals as stated in the Sault Ste. Marie dispatch published in these columns yesterday. Last year it was the Continental team that played at the Soo, but that team is not in existence this year and the Soo engagement next July will be filled by the Richters, who constitute one of the strongest amateur teams in the county.

H. S. GODDELL IS ELECTED HEAD OF NAVAL BATTALION

ELECTION IS HELD AT HANCOCK AND ATTENDED BY OFFICERS OF HANCOCK DIVISION AND LIEUT. C. D. MASON.

SUCCEEDS HIMSELF IN OFFICE.

Had Not Goodell Consented to a Re-election Lieutenant Mason of the Escanaba Division Would in All Probability Have Been Chosen Commander—Yantic Stays at Hancock Now.

H. S. Goodell of Painesdale, commanding the United States steamship Yantic and the upper peninsula battalion of the Michigan Naval brigade, was Monday night elected commander of the battalion, to succeed himself. The election was held at the Hancock Naval Reserve armory and was participated in by the officers of the Hancock division and Lieutenant Charles D. Mason, commander of the Escanaba division.

Commander Goodell consented to re-election only because of his interest in the battalion and particularly because the Hancock division wished him to remain in command, thus retaining the Yantic at Hancock. Had he stuck to his original resolution to leave the service Lieutenant Mason of the Escanaba division undoubtedly would have been elected and he would have taken the Yantic to his home station. At least so the Hancock division argued. The Yantic will now remain at Hancock.

Commander D. V. Duffield, senior officer of the brigade, commanding the Don Juan de Austria and the lower Michigan battalion, was in Hancock Monday and he inspected the Hancock division Monday night, after the battalion election.

MONTE OLMSTED WINS FIRST GAME

With Monte Olmsted in the box and "Bill" O'Connor at the receiving end, the Menominee Herald-Leader says: "To Monte Olmsted, the new Menominee southpaw, belongs the credit for putting a crimp in Iron Mountain and winning the first game of the season, with the count standing 4 to 1 and the end of the last inning. Monte did, and did it decisively. He allowed but one hit during the nine innings of play, fanned 14 helpless Mountaineers and gave but three base on balls, which is some control, considering the cold day."

The Herald-Leader also speaks in terms of praise of O'Connor's work behind the home plate and with the bat. He got two hits and the Menominee paper includes him as one of "the wrecking crew" that figured prominently in Iron Mountain's defeat.

C. & N. W. ROAD HAS ORE CONTRACT

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway company has a contract to ship about 5,000 tons of ore from the Star West mine, on the Cascade range, which is owned by the Corrigan-McKinney company. The Star West has been inactive for the past four or five years and some 8,000 to 10,000 tons of ore are in stock. The ore will be loaded by a steam shovel used at the Empire mine, on the Cascade range, and the loading will be started today or tomorrow.

NON-COMMITTAL AS TO CABINET RUMOR

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 23.—When asked concerning Washington rumors to the effect that he already had been tendered a place in President Taft's cabinet or would be offered such a place in the near future, Governor Osborn, who spent Sunday and Monday here with members of his family, refused to confirm or deny the report.

"I am going to serve the state of Michigan for the next two years. My duty lies at the head of the state's government and I am going to give my time to it," he said.

The governor left Monday evening to return to Lansing.

MANAGER IS TO BE APPOINTED

Important Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau is to Be Held at Iron Mountain Next Saturday—"Booster" Buttons.

HUMAN SLAUGHTER WAS RAMPANT IN CITY OF TOERREON

CAPTURE OF MEXICAN TOWN BY REBELS FOLLOWED BY MASSACRE OF CHINESE AND GENERAL PILLAGING.

NO MERCY SHOWN TO ORIENTALS.

More Than Two Hundred Chinese Butchered, According to Reports Just Received at Mexico City—Rebels Engage in a Veritable Race Riot—Today's Dispatches.

(By Associated Press.) Mexico City, May 23.—Official reports reaching here tell the story of a massacre of 206 Chinese at Toerreon, following the rebel occupation of that city last week. Upon the receipt of the news at the Chinese legation, the charge d'affaires immediately made formal representations to the Mexican government.

The details of the story of the three days' battle and the sacking of the city of Toerreon are replete with incidents of cruelty that show clearly that the rebel leaders did not hold their men in control or that they deliberately turned them loose to not give the number of dead, but takeless people. The official advices do prey upon a conquered and defending the 206 Chinese as a basis it is certain that the number is large.

Rebels in Race Riot. Always antagonistic to the yellow race the Mexican rebels engaged in a race riot. A great part of the business of Toerreon is conducted by Chinese, some of whom are wealthy, and according to reports received here the rioters shot down or stabbed without mercy every Oriental encountered. That the Chinese charge d'affaires will be able to secure indemnity for many of the victims is doubted here, for almost all had taken out naturalization papers.

Diaz to Visit Europe. No effort is being made now to disguise the fact that General Diaz will leave the country at an early date. It is expected he will spend several months visiting in Europe. By an immense majority, the chamber of deputies last night passed the bill providing amnesty to political prisoners. It becomes effective at once.

Chinese Fired First. Eagle Pass, Tex., May 23.—The Chinese at Toerreon, Mexico, were under arms when the rebel troops entered that city after a three days' battle May 15 and fired the first bullets that culminated in a concentrated attack by the insurrecto soldiers and the practical extermination of the Chinese colony in that city, according to W. T. Lampe, editor of the Toerreon Enterprise, who arrived in Eagle Pass last night. No anti-American sentiment was manifested by the revolutionists, Mr. Lampe declared, and no foreigners other than Chinese were killed.

"MAGIC FOOD DRAFTS" BRANDED AS A FRAUD

"Magic Food Drafts" is a widely exploited humbug from Jackson, Mich., advertised internationally, consisting of a mass of pine tar and some other ingredients spread on a piece of oil-cloth and sold to simple-minded people to apply to the soles of their feet. The value of the plaster mass for one pair is estimated at one-third of a cent; they sell for a dollar a pair, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association. They are supposed to draw the rheumatic poison from the whole system through the soles of the feet.

According to Samuel Hopkins Adams in his Great American Fraud set to the barn door. The analyses of the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture showed that these plasters consisted of poke root, 30 per cent; pine tar, 62 per cent, and corn meal, 8 per cent. A number of the officers of this company are said to be interested in other fraudulent medical companies. The amusement which the promoters of this fake find in selling a mass of cold tar, corn meal and poke root to draw poison out of the feet of gullible suckers must be almost enough to compensate them for carrying on the business, to say nothing of the enormous profit.

CAN YOU BEAT THIS HEN FOR SMARTNESS?

Tarrytown, N. Y., May 22.—The white leghorn hen owned by John Grohan of Ghentville, which a few weeks ago followed him to the trolley car to pay his fare with a nickel he had forgotten, has again proved her devotion to her master.

Yesterday Grohan enjoyed a half day and he started to build a small chicken coop. The hen stood by and watched him pick up the nails and drive them home. After he had picked up a dozen the hen walked over and picked up one with her beak and dropped it in his hand. This was simple and Grohan was getting along well with his job when he smashed his finger.

With this handicap he couldn't hold the nails. The hen, seeing that something was wrong, held a nail in her beak. Grohan placed the hen's head near the board and with a gentle tap started the nail, and the hen then picked up another nail.

After that the hen held the nails against the boards and Grohan drove them home and the coop was soon completed.

MICHIGAN HAS BEST CONSERVATION PLAN

Lansing, Mich., May 22.—Secretary A. C. Carton, of the public domain commission, has just returned from a trip through several western states, and he asserts that Michigan has the best policy of conservation outlined of any of the states he has visited. "We are making real progress here, but those states are not sure whether they are or not," said Mr. Carton to day. "Our soils are better adapted to reforestation, and Michigan offers far greater opportunities in the settlement of waste lands than do those states. Michigan loses nothing by a comparison with any of them."

WOMAN MAYOR FEELS HURT TO SENSITIVE

Topeka, Kas., May 22.—"Smile and do not take too seriously the comment made by citizens. When one enters public service, he or she must be prepared to take criticism."

This was the advice sent Mrs. Ella Wilson, mayor of Hunnewell, Kas., in a letter by Attorney Gen. John S. Dawson.

The mayor had complained to Gov. Stubbs that the councilmen refused to meet at the place she named, and she also told of a cartoon from a Glasgow, Scotland, paper, in which the woman police officer of Hunnewell was shown arresting a burly burglar. "Don't twist my arm," says the burglar, "I'll go quietly."

TIED HIM TO TREE TO BURN HIM ALIVE

Lockport, N. Y., May 22.—A sensation has been caused here by the arrest of two 17-year-old school boys on a charge preferred by Avery Murphy, 14, who claims that they tied him to a tree and attempted to burn him alive in Indian fashion.

Murphy testified that the accused boys waylaid him and tied him to a tree. Then his captors whopped around him like Indian braves. Finally, he says, they gathered papers and twigs and started a fire at his feet. He became hysterical and screamed, but succeeded after several desperate efforts, in stamping out the fire beneath him and releasing himself after the older boys had left the scene.

PAYS $50,000 TO KEEP CARS FROM PALACE

New York, May 22.—No noisy street cars will disturb the slumbers of the Countess Szechenyi, who was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, in her palace in Budapest. She has just signed a contract to pay that city $50,000 in order to keep a projected line of tram cars away from her neighborhood.

She threatened to quit Budapest if the city carried out its plan. After various negotiations, the municipality decided to take the $50,000 and send the cars to their destination by a roundabout route.

UNITED STATES MAIL (ORDER) BAG

THE PARABLE OF THE MISSPENT MONEY

Once upon a time in the land of Uncle Sam a colony of people organized themselves into a Town. The Town grew and waxed fat upon the produce of the Land roundabout, and the people dwelt happily under their own Vines and Fig Trees, and the Tradesmen built Emporiums of Merchandise, and all was well. More people joined the Colony from year to year until the Town was a place of Population and Prosperity. But the time came when into the midst of the Town crawled a Serpent of Discord, yelet the Mail Order Catalogue, which whispered into the ears of the people a Siren Song of Big Bargains, the same being a Fable and a Fake. Threat the people thought they saw a Good Thing, and they Bit. In the course of events the merchants closed their doors and removed to other Towns wherein as yet the Mail Order Serpent had not entered. Large Hollyhocks grew up before the closed doors, and Grass grew in the streets, whereof the Cows ate bountifully. It was fun for the Cows, but death to the Town.

NOW SKYSCRAPERS ARE TO REALLY SHOOT UP

Building Interests Said to Have Secured Control of Remarkable Cement Gun Project.

Special to the Mirror.
New York, May 22.—Not content with putting up forty story steel structures in six months time, a new inventor has appeared in the field, with big capital behind him, who actually proposes to shoot walls into place with a rapid fire gun.

The new invention will accomplish as much in a single day as the united effort of 25 men could create under old methods. The ancient cement mixer is to give place to the cement gun.

No procession of men wheeling laden barrows will clog progress where the cement gun is utilized. Instead, liquid cement is actually shot into place by means of compressed air.

Thomas A. Edison's prediction that cement was the means by which building construction would be revolutionized seems in a fair way to be realized. He planned building by filling giant moulds. The inventor of the cement gun seems to have fairly outdone Edison himself.

How the Thing Works.
First, there is a long tube of sufficient textile strength to withstand the pressure of both compressed air and water. This is the gun barrel. There is a valve just forward of the breech of the gun and another near the muzzle. Compressed air is admitted through the first, and water through the second.

FALLING COCONUTS.

Dew Makes Most of Them Drop From the Trees at Night.
"In the tropics when the coconut is wanted for planting," said an importer of the fruit, "the nuts are picked up when they fall from the tree where they have hung for about fourteen months in ripening. It is a fact not generally known that a majority of the nuts drop at night, which probably accounts for the small loss of life by coconuts falling upon the heads of the natives."

The action of the heavy dew at night loosens the seal with which nature has provided the nut and allows it to fall. The nuts wanted for planting are either gathered into heaps or placed under shade, where they are allowed to sprout before planting in order that good, healthy nuts may be selected, thus avoiding the possibility of planting "bited" nuts that will not sprout, in which case much time would be lost in starting the coconut walks, as the orchards are called. When holes are dug, about three feet deep and twenty feet apart, the nut is carefully placed therein and covered with about a foot of soil. The hole is filled as the sprout grows until the latter reaches the surface, then it is left to itself, requiring no further attention.

Size of Red Sea.
The Red sea would extend from Washington to Colorado, and it is three times as wide as Lake Ontario.

AN UGLY DUCKLING.

Hans Christian Anderson tells a pretty little fairy story of how the Ugly Duckling of the family, the homely child, after many adventures, came back to the home roost covered with honors which made him the observed of all observers, and brought to him forgetfulness of his physical ugliness.

The moral of this story evidently has never taken a hold upon the hearts and consciences of a couple down at Aurora, Ill., if they have ever strained their mentalities to read such highly moral and altogether beautiful sentiments as found in the fairy tales of the Danish children's writer, says the Milwaukee Daily News.

This couple, so the news story goes, have offered their baby for adoption, because it does not meet their standard of physical beauty. Which is an exceptionally poor, not to say cruel, addition to the list of reasons for abandoning children.

Now everyone admires physical beauty. And many people cannot appreciate mental force. Nor need the two necessarily be apart. But a perusal of the portraits of any gathering of people of ability will show that physical beauty and mental force are not always correlative. In fact it shows that the larger number of the great leaders of this world, in every field, would have a hard time before the judges of a beauty show.

Beauty is only skin deep, one of the old philosophers tells us. Which brings the suggestion that that Aurora couple's appreciation of parental love is only as deep as their own very tender epidermis. They know nothing about handsome being as handsome does.

It's all right enough to be proud of the pretty baby—and to the right kind of parents all babies are pretty; that is, all of their own. But the right time to judge of the beauty of a baby is after it has stood the trials and vicissitudes of life and proved the depth and truth of its own soul—which is the moral of Anderson's tale, a moral as deep and true as is natural, healthy, parental love.

It's a pretty well established fact, says the Marinette Eagle-Star, that in all lines of business that it pays the employer in the long run to give his employes an annual vacation. Only one servant fails to work the better throughout the year for a week or two rest in the summer time. That servant is advertising. Advertising has no understudy. No one can fulfill his functions. When he quits everything lags.

THE PROBLEMS OF PATENTS.
Why wouldn't it be a good thing to amend the patent law of the United States in such a way as to enforce the use of patents within a reasonable time on the penalty of loss of the patent right?

A patent is a monopoly. The excuse for the granting of such monopolies is that they stimulate invention by holding out to inventors the promise of wealth if they devise what is of benefit to the public. From the standpoint of the inventor an invention is property, created by the inventor's brain. But the public has rights as well as the individual, says the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

There is an international aspect of the patent-right problem which is brought into prominence at the present moment by the conference of delegates from several nations that assembled at Washington on Monday and contemplates continuing its sessions for several weeks. The main object of this conference is the standardizing of international agreements affecting patents.

Sooner or later there is bound to come a popular demand for radical revision of the patent laws in the interest of the people. There are students of the subject who affirm that patent monopolies do far more than the tariff to make possible the gouging of the public by trusts.

OUR TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM.

President Hill of the Great Northern railroad again sounds a warning to the country that it has transportation difficulties ahead. Our tonnage, he says, is increasing at the rate of 10 per cent a year. At the same time only 1 1/2 per cent is being added annually to our railroad capacity.

The entire capitalization of the New York Central, says Mr. Hill, would not suffice to buy its present right of way from Yonkers to Forty-Second street in New York City. This statement if true is startling. Of course there is no great necessity for new roads entering the city but there is need for an extension of the facilities of those roads now doing business and it is evident that an enormous amount of capital will be required for this.

In the meantime the excess of business over transportation facilities is piling up. Where is it going to end? Now they are trying to amend the Sherman anti-trust law. As it will take four years to pass such a law, and six years to carry a case through the supreme court, the trust people are not doing much "thinking in bed" about it.

Mr. Taft denounces club black-balling at Washington. Some men's idea of a club is a collection of fashion plates and clothing store dummies.

Former President Elliot of Harvard comes out in favor of "New Agriculture." From our experiments in the garden this spring, we are convinced that the same amount of muscle is required to propel the hoe and spade as ever before.

Arbitration treaties are being negotiated with England and France, but the Senate would rather see a war some day than give up any of its traditional privileges to vote on it.

The Mirror contains more news and more advertising than any other paper in Delta county.

THE KNIGHT OF THE SILVER STAR
A Romance Of Dragoonland
By Percy Brebner

Copyright, 1907, by R. F. Fenne & Co.

Did O'Ryan grasp my hand more firmly than was necessary? I might have spent the night wondering but when he had gone I broke down for the first time during my imprisonment. I shed tears of impotent rage, pacing my cell frantically, cursing and beating its stone walls like a madman. It was horrible to know that Daria would be laid on that hideous couch to have her fair limbs broken; that her death, heroic though it might be, as I believed it would be, should be witnessed by such loathsome wretches as the men who had just left me and perhaps only by them. Only when I was thoroughly exhausted did I throw myself on my rugs and fall asleep to dream—what mockery it was!—of pleasant fields and sunshine.

I awoke refreshed. Perhaps the very dreams I have recalled at gave my sleep its power to refresh me. My first thought was of Daria, my second of O'Ryan. Had he pressed my hand last night with some meaning? Surely it was impossible, seeing how he had helped to ruin me, but a man in dire necessity sees hope in anything.

It was not until the afternoon that I had any visitors that day. I had been left alone altogether when Costa came in and bound me, as usual. "More fools with too much leisure," I said wearily.

"An old friend this time," said a merry voice in answer, and Lady Aldrida entered, followed by two or three men. It was easy to see that they were her captives as surely as I was a prisoner in the fortress.

"This was an old lover of mine, gentlemen," she said gayly. "He was foolish enough not to value my friendship. Behold the result."

She was a pretty picture, much as I hated her; I could not deny that. She had evidently ridden to the fortress, for she carried her whip in her hand. "Do all men who displease you come to this?" asked another of her cavaliers.

"I am not so unmerciful. Sir Verrall and I are old friends, or enemies—whichever it is!" she turned to me. "Enemies," I answered shortly. "True, and you are in my power."

"That does not trouble me." "You have yet to learn the terrors this fortress holds. You shall have one spectator, I warrant you, when a slow turn of the lever draws that body of yours into agony. For all your boasting, these walls, solid though they be, will hardly drown your cries, and if you have sense left to hear anything you shall hear my laugh."

"I shall be glad of a spectator," I answered. "It gives a man courage." "You shall not profit by my coming. I will pour all I possess into the hands of the executioner if he but kills you slowly enough."

I could laugh at this threat since the executioners were my friends. "Count Vasca would be king in Yadsara, yet with all your beauty he would not make you queen but for the fact that he might be afraid to make an enemy of an accomplice."

"Is it not time we were going, Lady Aldrida? Our horses will be getting restive," said one of her companions. "Besides, the man is a prisoner. Why not leave him in peace?"

"You can go if you will. I have no need of you," she said angrily. He bowed low to her and left the dungeon. "Your friends are even now finding you out," I sneered.

"You make me angry, Sir Verrall. I came on an errand of mercy. It may not yet be too late. I have the ear of the king. Why not ask me to plead to him for you?"

"I have never yet asked quarter from an enemy."

CHAPTER XXIII.
NOT until the dungeon door was shut did Costa and his men release me.

"I almost wish we had come a moment too late," Costa said. "I should have killed her!" I hissed. "I believe you would."

"It was a fool not to do it the night she attempted to plunge a dagger into me."

"You were," he answered. He evidently had no doubt that he himself would have done under similar circumstances.

Fortunately the blows had missed my eyes, on one side by less than a quarter of an inch. Had she struck a little higher I had not lived to write this history. I should have perished miserably on the rack. For before me I had work which required keen sight, although I did not know it just then. As it was, the blows had struck deep, laying one cheek open to the bone. I carry the mark to this day, an angry flame across my face. I am never likely to forget the woman who put it there. Under Costa's care, however, the wounds healed rapidly. He had an herbal ointment which did wonders, but it seemed a mockery that I, who was so soon to be tortured to death, should be so carefully tended for what was, after all, a minor evil.

"When is my day coming, Costa?" I asked. "It is weary work waiting." He shook his head. "It has been longer than I expected," he answered.

"Can that woman do me any harm with the executioners, I mean? She threatened that she would pay them well if they turned the levers slowly enough."

"You may trust them. They are not made of sentimental stuff and think more of one man than they do of a hundred women."

I satisfied myself every morning that Daria was still safe, putting Costa on his oath to be truthful to me.

One evening my dungeon door opened and Costa entered with O'Ryan and a guard of half a dozen men.

"By his majesty's command you will tomorrow be questioned as to your knowledge of various matters his majesty wishes information upon. You will be questioned in such a manner as shall insure the truth, and since there is no limit to the mercy his majesty may extend toward you you are advised to answer quickly. But since certain knowledge has come to his majesty's ears concerning you—that by suture or by artifice your limbs are coarser than is usual with men and that by reason of this and other causes you may not be induced to speak truly, the pain able to be inflicted not being sufficient—and since it is considered necessary to strike where there is most likelihood of success it is his majesty's pleasure that you shall first be taken from this dungeon to that of the woman sometimes called the Princess Daria and shall there be a witness of her questioning."

Costa recited the sentence in a monotone without feeling, as though the matter were of no real interest to him. Then he gave a word of command to the guard, who trumpeted out of the cell and left me alone with Costa and O'Ryan.

"That she devil is responsible for this," he nodded. "Can I trust the executioners?" "Yes. She will die quickly, but"—he paused. "Well?"

"If this woman or Count Vasca or some other special enemy is there they may say that the executioners bungled at their work and demand that others shall deal with you. There would be no time to make friends with them."

PITCHERS' ARMS "GO BACK"

Bill Bernhard, Former Major League Player, Says Throwing Wings Weaken Rapidly.

"I hear ball players say that their arms are as good as ever," says Bill Bernhard, manager of the Memphis club, and formerly a Cleveland pitcher. "I hear players say that they have not gone back. This is especially true of the pitchers. Many, many pitchers tell you that the old arm is as strong as ever. My arm feels good too, this spring, but it is not as strong as ever. "If it was I wouldn't be in the Southern League, and if the arms of those other pitchers were as strong as ever, they also would not be in the minor leagues."

COST OF BASEBALL PLAYERS

Experts Figure Nearly 400 Players Will Receive $800,000—McGraw In $12,000 Class.

Baseball sharpshooters that before the pennant races end the magnates will have paid out more than $800,000 for services. It is conceded that the players in the National and the American leagues this year will receive more money for their labors than ever before in the history of the game. There is no salary limit and the stipends range all the way from $1,500 to nearly ten times that amount.

In the New York Nationals John McGraw, manager, who is not a player, will receive about $12,000 for his work this year. Christy Mathewson is believed to be the highest paid ball player in the profession. He signed a five year contract last winter at an annual salary of $10,000, it is said. The two dozen other players on the New York team will average about $2,750 each, swelling the total salary list to more than $85,000, a record in professional baseball.

The New York Americans also will receive liberal salaries. Manager Chase will draw about $7,000 for his services as manager, captain and first baseman, with a chance to receive a substantial bonus if the hill men win the championship. Russell Ford, the team's star pitcher, will get close to $5,000 and the season's pay roll will foot up in the neighborhood of $55,000.

Among the other big league teams the pitchers will, as usual, be the star performers on the salary list. According to current reports, the wages of some of the more important men will run about as follows:

Coombs and Bender, Philadelphia, $5,000 each; Walsh, Chicago, $6,000; Mullen, Detroit, $5,000; Adams, Pittsburg, $5,000; Brown, Chicago, $5,000; Collins, Philadelphia, $7,000; Lajole, Cleveland, $7,000; Wagner, Pittsburg, $8,000; Cobb, Detroit, $8,000. Virtually all the big league clubs

Weaver is the Overall of 1911. Giants are not slowing up appreciably.

Managing a major league ball team is no bed of roses.

Connie Mack's men do not seem to be able to get out of the rut.

Ninth inning rallies appear to be as popular as ever with the Tigers.

Titus and Magee apparently have discovered the way to slug the cork.

The Boston scribes already are calling Fred Tenney's team the Florion Hopes.

Weaver promises to be as great a surprise this season as was "King" Cole last year.

President Fogel probably is glad by this time he allowed Manager Doolin to have his own way.

Artie Hofman evidently thinks he has to smash all his bats in order to keep Kaiser out of the lineup.

Weaver was dubbed a second Mordecai Brown by the fans, on account of the nerve he showed in a ninth inning pinch.

The Cubs can play ball without Chance in the battle line. If you don't believe it ask any member of the Pittsburg team.

Ping Bodie likes a heavy bat. He used to tote one that weighed in the hundreds and says he does not mind a few ounces added to his war club.

Roy Patterson, the old Sox twirler, has an assortment of brand new curves this year, and he is likely to be back in the big league next spring.

Cleveland O., May 23.—A Cleveland manager has made some comparisons between 1907 and 1911 operations and four of the items will give some indications how the earnings will decrease this year.

The cost of provisions compared with 1907 shows an increase of 13 1/2 per cent, and insurance will cost 32 per cent more. The net freight rate on ore is 32 per cent lower than it was in 1907, and the low draft of water at the Soo will reduce the earning capacity of the boats 9 per cent.

The boats were employed pretty steady during the greater part of 1907. This year many of the freighters have not started and the indications are that it will be some time before a number of the wild carriers turn a wheel.

SAGINAW GETS THE FORESTERS' MEETING

Saginaw, May 23.—The triennial session of the Michigan Independent Order of Foresters, which was to have been held in Alpena, will be held in Saginaw June 21 and 22, at which time the new temple of the local court will be formally dedicated. Saginaw's temple is the only one outside of Toronto, Ont., owned by the organization.

Three hundred are expected at the gathering. Among those of the supreme council who will be present are Supreme Chief Ranger Elliott G. Stevenson of Detroit and Assistant Grand Master Albert E. Stevenson of Port Huron.

except Boston will exceed the $50,000 mark in their salary lists.

Aside from the players' salaries, the expenses of each club will include about $8,000 for railroad fares, $6,000 for hotel accommodations, $6,000 for clerical work, $10,000 for rent and $5,000 for uniforms, equipment and incidentals, or about $35,000.

McConnell Unlucky.
Amby McConnell is one of the unluckiest players in organized baseball. He is liable to injury more than most ball players because he takes such daring chances and he has been injured often. When Amby took off his shoe the other day after being spiked his foot was covered with blood, but he gamely walked to the car without assistance after Trainer Buckner had cauterized the wound.

"The Targets Move."
Ray Fisher, the big boned Vermonteer, is a shrewd fellow. When asked whether he found it much harder to pitch in the American than in the Connecticut league, he drawled: "Well, the ball is the same size and weight, but the targets move here."

Their action controls your health. Read what Foley Kidney Pills have done for your neighbor. Mrs. C. R. Thorpe, 1218 So. Saginaw St., Int. The results were wonderful as I commenced to get better at once and the kidney action became normal and regular. I wish

STANDARD OIL CO. CALLS DEAL OFF

Its Representative Instructed to Drop for the Present the Matter of Securing Permission to Locate Distributing Plant Here.—Common Council Matters.

One of the purposes of the common council in holding an adjourned meeting Monday evening was to take action upon an ordinance which should grant to the Standard Oil company the right to construct and maintain oil tanks and other buildings to be used in the formation of an oil distributing plant, which was to be located inside the city limits, but in an isolated spot.

That action was not taken, however, for when Alderman Garrity of the committee, to which the matter had been referred for investigation, started to make a verbal report, Mayor Lindsay stated that he had been informed by Lyman Beggs, the company's representative in the negotiations for a site here, that the latter had received instructions from the company to let the matter drop for the present.

No further explanation was given. Alderman Garrity was saved the trouble of making a report and the council relieved of the necessity of taking action on the ordinance, which had already been prepared.

There was considerable business transacted at the meeting and some of the matters disposed of are reported elsewhere in these columns.

Upon motion of Alderman McColl, it was decided to retain Miss Valeska Ecker as stenographer in the city clerk's office at a salary of $40 a month. It was shown that the work in the clerk's office is of such a nature and extent that an assistant is absolutely necessary. Mayor Lindsay himself approved of the idea of retaining the clerk's assistant.

The council accepted a bond in the sum of $5,000, with J. J. Cleary and M. N. Smith as sureties, from Kratze Bros., to ensure their compliance with the provisions of the fire limits ordinance in regard to the conversion of a frame building recently moved by them from the corner of Ludington and Jennie streets to another site within the city limits into a practically fireproof structure.

Upon recommendation of the sewer committee, a catch basin was ordered placed at the northwest corner of First and Charlotte streets and connected with the storm water sewer on Mary street.

A requisition from the city engineer for supplies which are necessary for the conduct of his office was received and referred to the purchasing committee with power to act. The presentation of this requisition started a long discussion over the affairs of the city engineer's office. Alderman Garrity asserted that ex-City Engineer Brotherton and his predecessors in the office had retained all the city's records and that the city has nothing. City Engineer MacKilloan explained the situation and assured the council that when he went out of office the city would have everything to which it would be entitled.

Alderman Kirkpatrick suggested that Mr. Brotherton should be required to produce any records belonging to the city, if there is any way in which this can be done. City Attorney Ryall was asked for his opinion about the matter and stated that the former engineer could be made to turn over such city property, but that it might be an extremely difficult matter to prove just what records and other data in his possession does belong to the city.

The report of Auditor A. H. Rolph on the books of the city clerk and city treasurer for the year ending May 1, 1911, was read by the city clerk, accepted and ordered placed on file. It was a very long affair and touched comprehensively upon every department of the city's financial receipts and expenditures. Mr. Rolph stated that on the whole the books of the clerk and treasurer were well kept and he commended those officials for their work during the last year. He also made a number of recommendations for the consideration of the council.
