

PRESIDENT STARTS LONG TRIP TO WESTERN STATES

WANT IT CALLED "GOVERNORS' UNION"

Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 15.—The third annual governors' conference came to an unexpected close here late today, after the conference had waited two hours to hear Governor Dix of New York, who was delayed in reaching Spring Lake. Although the program was to have extended through tomorrow, illness and inability to attend on the part of several of the scheduled speakers led to the discovery today that there would be no matters claiming the attention of the gathering and the idea of holding a session tomorrow was abandoned.

Will Meet at Richmond Next Year. Fifteen governors who met at the afternoon session today held what they termed an experience meeting. Governor Shafroth of California discussed the state prison law and other reforms in his state, and Governor Tener of Pennsylvania likewise told of reform movements in his state. "This," Mr. Tener said, in conclusion, "deserves a better name, perhaps, than the governors' conference. This is the Ancient & Amalgamated Order of Governors—the governors' union."

EXECUTIVE CALLS OFFICIAL CANVASS

Augusta, Me., Sept. 15.—Governor Plisted has called a special meeting of the governor and council to be held next Monday, when the official returns from last Monday's election will be opened and canvassed. It may be as late as Dec. 1, according to the provisions of the law in regard to constitutional amendments, before the official findings may be announced, but Governor Plisted made it plain last night that there will be no unnecessary delay in determining just how Maine has voted on the prohibition amendment.

JOHNSON DECLARES HE IS NOT GUILTY

Madison, Wis., Sept. 16.—A letter from John A. Johnson, now in prison, declaring his innocence of the murder of Annie Lemberger, was received today by his attorney Emerson Ela. Attorney Ela declined to make public the verbatim contents of the letter, but says that in substance, Johnson wrote that he is not the guilty man and that the real murderer will be found. He said, furthermore, that he pleaded guilty through fear of mob violence and wanted to get in a safe place as soon as possible. In no place in the letter, his attorney stated did Johnson mention the Lembergers.

GIVE BANQUET FOR RETIRED PASTOR

The Young Men's and Young Women's Bible classes gave a banquet in the basement of the First M. E. church last evening in honor of Rev. Frederick Spence, the retiring pastor. The tables were prettily decorated and an excellent menu provided by the young ladies of Mr. Cole's class.

A program of addresses followed the luncheon, in which the young people thanked the pastor for his interest in them. On behalf of the class, Harry Compher presented the pastor with a substantial token of regard.

Talks At Syracuse Fair This Afternoon

(By Associated Press.)
Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 15.—President Taft arrived here early this morning and will stay until 3:40 this afternoon. At the state fair here this afternoon he delivered the first address of his western trip. He also made a brief address at a breakfast given him by the Chamber of Commerce.

Urges Conservation. In his fair grounds speech he spoke of the necessity of improved methods of farming and urged the conservation of the soil. To support this he quoted statistics to show how the acreage of farms had increased but four per cent in ten years, while the population had increased twenty per cent. He also pointed out that the value of farms had increased enormously and to maintain their value, farming must be done intelligently.

Boston, Sept. 15.—President Taft left here at 7:35 o'clock last night on his speaking tour of 13,000 miles which is to embrace twenty-four states and is to continue until Nov. 1. His departure in the special train prepared for his party was signaled by an enthusiastic demonstration from several hundred persons gathered at the railway station to bid him Godspeed.

Mayor Fitzgerald Cheers. Mayor John F. Fitzgerald led the cheers. The mayor had acted as spokesman a few minutes earlier for the United Charitable Irish society of Boston in extending to President Taft an invitation to address that body on the occasion of its 150th anniversary March 17, next. The president said he could not make any appointment so far ahead, but would keep the matter in mind.

A drizzle of rain marred the president's motor trip from his summer home at Parramatta at Beverly to this city. Midway on the road, he was forced, with other occupants of his automobile, to alight and get into the automobile of the secret service men, owing to a slight accident to his own machine.

Archie Butt With the Party. When the special train, which was run as the first section of a regular over the Boston & Albany railroad left the South station, the president's immediate party consisted of Secretary Charles D. Hillea, Major A. W. Butt, military aide, and Major Thomas L. Rhodes, U. S. A., the president's physician. Three secret service guards and nine newspapermen accompanied the party.

REV. FREDERICK SPENCE WILL SPEAK WEDNESDAY IN LOW- ER MICHIGAN.

The Social Message of Jesus," will be the subject of Rev. Frederick Spence of the First M. E. church of Escanaba, at the annual Detroit Methodist conference which will be held in the Garland street church in Flint, beginning Tuesday and continuing until Monday, September 25.

The program includes a number of speakers whose equal has seldom been gathered in one conference. Bishop William F. Anderson, D. D., L. L. S., of Tennessee will preside.

This state has two conferences, the Detroit and the Michigan. The Michigan conference embraces the western half of the lower peninsula and has nearly 400 ministerial members. The Detroit conference takes in the eastern half of the state and the entire upper peninsula and has 430 members.

At the coming session the local pastor will address the gathering on Wednesday afternoon. Bishop Anderson will give an address on Tuesday following the opening of the gathering with prayer by Rev. Howard A. Field, vice-president of the conference. The Epworth league societies will hold their meeting on this day.

Rev. George Elliot, D. D., will give his famous address, "The Evolution of the Social Conscience," on Thursday. Speakers from all over the United States will be heard and the entire membership of the conference is expected to attend.

OTTO KEMPT GIVEN RELEASE FROM TEAM

CATCHER AND OUTFIELDER
MISS TRAIN FOR NEGAUNEE—
WILL GO TO CHICAGO.

Otto Kempf, catcher and outfielder, who came here a few weeks ago from Manistee, of the Michigan State league was today released from the Escanaba baseball team.

This morning the team left on the 4:40 train, which was almost an hour late for the Negaunee series opening at the park there this afternoon. To gether with Joe Lindquist, Kempf was late in catching the train, the tardiness arising from a defective alarm clock, borrowed from Gene Conolly, captain of the team, who set the clock last night, when both retired early.

When Kempf missed the train he was told to get his check and today obtained it. He will depart tomorrow evening for Chicago, accompanied by Lindquist, where he will become associated with his brother in the coal business, his regular winter occupation. Kempf has been leading the stickers of the team with a percentage well over 400, and in two different games made four hits.

BECOME PROPRIETOR OF VAU-DEVILLE HOUSE.

G. W. Malone, who has had the management of The Grand Theater for several months will leave the latter part of next week for several of the cities of the east. Mr. Malone will close his contract as the manager of The Grand this evening and is considering the purchase of a new vaudeville house in the lower part of the state. Since he came to Escanaba, he has made a large circle of friends that will regret his departure from this city and wish him success in future enterprises.

INSTALLING LARGER MAIL BOXES AT P. O.

The largest sized boxes that were installed in the new postoffice when the fixtures were put in have proved much too small for a few of the business firms in this city. Today three extra large boxes and ten of the largest size that has heretofore been in use are being placed in the office to take care of the increase in business. One of the extra large boxes of which there are three will go to The Daily Mirror and the other two will probably be taken by The National Pole Co. and The Delta Hardware Co. The Daily Mirror gets the largest amount of mail that comes to this city for any one firm or individual. Some days it would be almost a load for the letter carrier and the publishers have always called for it to save them the extra work. The mail is composed of newspapers from all over the United States. Government reports also make up a large part of it and the different magazines add to the bulk.

ARREST KIDNAPER OF MANITOBA TEACHER

(By Associated Press.)
Hannab, N. D., Sept. 15.—Joseph Miner, who it is alleged, kidnaped and attacked Miss Prince, the school teacher of Snowflake, Manitoba, was arrested on a farm near here today. He had gone to the farm house for his breakfast and while he was at the table one of the farm boys mounted a horse and rode to the nearest telephone and notified the police in this place. When the officers arrived Miner had gone to another farm, but was caught, unarmed in a hay mow and surrendered. He was then taken to Langdon by the sheriff.

EDWIN FISK MORRIS, FORMERLY OF HERE, TO WED WEALTHY
HEIRESS IN PANAMA.

(Special to The Mirror.)
Panama, Canal Zone, Sept. 15.—Edwin Fisk Morris of Escanaba, Michigan, and Miss Myrtle Belle Fairbanks will be married tomorrow morning in the Methodist church in this city. The bride is the daughter of Chester M. Fairbanks formerly of Nashua, New Hampshire and one of the wealthiest men now living in the canal zone. The Fairbanks have lived for eight years in the south, much of the time in Cuba.

Edwin Fiske Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris of this city, where Mrs. Morris still makes her home. Mr. Morris, the father is in Panama and has been down there for the past five or six years. Escanaba people will remember him as having been in the bicycle business here some fifteen or sixteen years ago.

GREEN BAY TEAM GOES TO MARINETTE

The Green Bay team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league which was defeated here yesterday, 2 to 1, in a close contest with the Escanaba league team left last night for Marinette, where two games, beginning today will be played. Second Game of Series Goes to Escanaba 2 to 1

LEO LOVE GIVES BUT TWO HITS
AND STRIKES OUT ELEVEN
GREEN BAY PLAYERS.

Two scattered hits were all taken from the flinging of Leo Love yesterday by the Green Bay barnstormers in the second game on the local grounds, Escanaba grabbing the win of 2 to 1.

Eleven of the Door County sluggers fell before the benders of the youthful twirlers and breezily fanned the atmosphere inconsistently. Never before on a local diamond did Love throw such a game and the big league style he exhibited was a welcome surprise to the fans. Not once did his repertoire give out. All through the nine innings of close and magnificent baseball did he shoot over the fancy stuff. A shutout would have been obtained by Escanaba had not two errors been perpetrated at critical moments. Love gave but one complimentary and that in the ninth inning.

Wells Works Good. Pitted against him for slab duty was "Smiley" Wells, the boy with the built in grin and a dangerous man in the box. Wells passed but one and succeeded in striking out six of the Escanaba swatters.

Wells lined out a grounder to Aronson in the eighth that went without handling and put him on first. Wal-lacher went to first and Wells obtained the second sack when Lantz missed up on another grounder.

Scores in Eighth. Cole shot the ball to Aronson at

ATTEMPT TO FIND OLMSTED FUTILE

LOCAL MANAGEMENT CANNOT
TEAM LEAVES.

The Escanaba baseball team departed this morning on the 4:40 train over the Northwestern road for the Negaunee series, which begins this afternoon. Scanton will likely be used to pitch. Telegraph wires were kept heated last evening in an attempt to get in touch with Monte Olmsted, the former Escanaba performer who was with Dayton in the Central league.

It was impossible to reach him at Menominee, where he is visiting and efforts are being continued today. The telegram requests him to put in appearance here immediately to finish out the season. This is being found necessary as with the critical import of the remaining games, it is not deemed practical to attempt the playing of them with but two pitchers.

Negaunee will clinch the bunting if it wins both of this week's games.

GLADSTONE TEAM HAS HEAVY HITTERS

The Gladstone baseball team has five 300 stickers according to the fixtures just issued. Manning Logan, the new player, who has participated in the past eight games, has a figure of .393, getting 11 hits out of 28 times at bat. The others are: Burroughs, 370; Boyer-Boyer, 344; Mallongree, 336; Cannon, 333.

WILLIAM BURCH MEETS WITH ACCIDENT AT ESCANABA VENEER CO. PLANT.

William Burch, who has been employed by the Escanaba Veneer company met with an accident yesterday morning, whereby he lost three fingers from his right hand.

At the time of the accident he was endeavoring to remove a large silver that lodged in a saw and his hand in some manner was drawn in. He was attended by the company surgeon, who found that the amputation of three of the fingers were necessary.

W. FITCH OF DULUTH VISITS ESCANABA

W. M. Fitch of Duluth, superintendent of the Duluth South Shore and Atlantic railway and at one time superintendent of the Peninsula division of the Northwestern road has left here after the first visit to Escanaba in 26 years.

He was surprised at the advance the city had made in that time and voiced his approval to many friends. In his opinion Escanaba has forged ahead wonderfully and he believes that more is in store for this city. He returned to Duluth last evening.

Rev. Frederick Spence Ends Six Year Pastorate

LAST SERMON BY PASTOR OF
FIRST M. E. CHURCH TO OC-CUR NEXT SUNDAY.

EXPECTS ASSIGNMENT SOON.

Will Be Given New Charge at Coming Conference in Flint, Where he Speaks—New Minister Will Then be Sent to Escanaba—Accomplished Much Good Work Here.

Rev. Frederick Spence, for the past six years pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Escanaba, will deliver his last sermon, and end his services with the local congregation tomorrow.

The theme of the morning sermon the evening he will talk on "Why I Stay in the Ministry." The public is invited to attend both services and as Mr. Spence has made many friends outside his congregation, while here, it is expected that the church will be filled to hear his farewell address in the evening.

Leaves Monday. He leaves Monday morning for Flint, Mich., to attend the annual conference of the Detroit division of the church which includes the upper peninsula clergy.

Coming here from Munising six years ago, Mr. Spence has established the First M. E. church on a footing that places it in a position to compare favorably with any church of its denomination in the state. During his term as pastor $28,000 for improvements and church work has been raised. He has seen the congregation grow from 85 to the 210 members that it now has, regardless of the handicap occasioned by the removal of 81 members from the city.

Departure Causes Regret. His regime has marked the most successful term in the history of the church and it is with genuine regret that his departure is experienced by the congregation. His successor will be appointed at the conference next week. He will be assigned to a new post at this meeting, either to Detroit or the Soo.

Near the end of this month Mr. Spence will spend a few days in this city preparing for removal to his new home.

Carl Morris a Failure as White Hope; Jim Flynn Wins

OKLAHOMA MAN BADLY BATTERED IN TEN ROUND GO LAST NIGHT IN NEW YORK.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Sept. 16.—Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, fought a winning fight of ten terrific rounds with Carl Morris, the gigantic heavyweight of Oklahoma, at Madison Square Garden last night. At the end of the Oklahoma man's face was battered to a pulp, while Flynn was unmarked save a lump over the left eye.

As a possible "white hope" for the championship class, Morris is a failure. He had nearly fifty pounds in weight and five inches in height as advantages over the Pueblo man, but he failed to daze Flynn at any stage. Morris really had only one round, the third, and in all the others Flynn was the master in ring work.

All through the fight Morris kept using his great weight and strength to weaken Flynn, but the latter invariably had the better of all the close work. His left hooks and jabs soon set the blood flying, and at all times he was willing to take punishment in order to send back worse than he received. Morris landed many hard lefts and rights in every round, but Flynn seemed to be impervious to the grueling he received.

It was the bloodiest fight ever seen in this city and many of the spectators around the ringside were astonished at the stamina of both men, which carried them at a wonderfully fast pace through the half score of rounds. There was no denying the verdict of the onlookers as to who had won, for Flynn was cheered vociferously as he followed his seconds to the dressing room, while only pity was expressed for the Western giant.

The SKY PIRATE

PROLOGUE.
The sea pirate has long been a fascinating figure of romance, but the march of progress has driven him into well deserved retirement, and he has now been replaced, in fiction at least, by the sky pirate, who is even more mysterious, more daring and more romantic than his predecessor. Read and there will unfold before you the extraordinary story of Captain Alfonso Payton and his airship, the Chameleon; of William Grayman, the richest man in the world; of his beautiful daughter, for whose ransom $10,000,000 was demanded; of Lieutenant Allen of the revenue service, of wonders by wireless and of fierce battles above the clouds.

CHAPTER XII
 MISS GRAYMAN TRIES FLIGHT.

WHILE these preparations for her rescue were under way the unconscious prisoner in Labrador had at last awakened to a realization of her position. While rummaging among the books in the library she had come upon the autobiography of Henry Morton. It was not a book likely to attract the attention of a young woman, but she turned over its leaves, thinking more of the gap which the absence of Commodore Brown had left than of what she was idly looking at. Presently she saw the title in another place a letter sheet wedged between the leaves lay exposed full to view: Captain Alfonso Payton: My Dear Captain—The damage to the Chameleon from our accident after carrying off Miss Peterson of Peoria is more serious than you supposed. I find that four or five days will be required to repair her. I have sent you to a shop here and will report to you as soon as she is ready. Respectfully,
 ABRAM SNELLING, Lieutenant.

Cincinnati, July 1, 1911.

Miss Grayman was aghast. Her hands convulsively grasped her throat as the truth burst upon her. The name of the Chameleon alone was enough, but now she suddenly remembered to have heard or read of "Captain Alfonso Payton." This, then, was the man who had succeeded in awakening so much personal interest in her. And she was his prisoner. This was the romantic adventure that her fancy had conjured up, invented by her friends, approved by her father and so innocently and joyously entered upon by herself. Oh, what a fool she had been! Oh, how she detested this villain, who had hoodwinked her and drawn from her smiles and sentiments, for which she now bated her eyes!

She read the letter again, and the name of "Snelling" struck her. She had heard Payton address one of his men by that name. But no more confirmation was needed. The scales had dropped completely from her eyes. Stimulated by indignation, strength and resolution came to her.

"Susan!" she called.

Susan came running in, alarmed by her mistress' accent.

"Get our wraps, quick!"

"Why, Miss Helen, what?"

"Don't stand there questioning. Run! Quick! Quick!"

The bewildered girl obeyed and in a minute returned with the garments.

"Come with me to the canoe!" commanded Miss Grayman, whose self control was growing with the emergency.

As they ran down the steps from the veranda and along the short path to

MANITOWOC CHIEF ANSWERS ATTORNEY

Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 15.—"We build fire boats for Milwaukee in our town."

This was the ready response which Fire Chief Kratz of this city made to attorneys in the prosecution of the Clancy case at Milwaukee when while Chief Kratz was on the stand as a witness for Clancy, some slur was made by Attorney Kanneburg, who appears in the prosecution. Kanneburg sought to belittle the testimony of Chief Kratz relative to what constitutes discipline in a department, intimating that a man in a small department had no license to talk about discipline. Chief Kratz got to Kanneburg, with whom he had several tilts during his appearance on the stand and created a laugh by the remarks which opens this article. Chief Kratz was one of seven prominent fire heads of cities in Wisconsin and Illinois who appeared as witnesses for the defense.

ENROLLMENT AT MARQUETTE LOWER

The enrollment in the grade rooms of the Marquette public schools is about 200 less than last year, due principally to the opening of the parochial school in connection with the French Catholic church. Most of these pupils have been taken from the Fisher, O'cott and Ely schools, and Superintendent Gehrand is now busy moving pupils about so that all the teachers will have about an equal number under their charge. The high school enrollment is slightly larger than last year.

Haven't You a Job

Of Work for a Want Ad to Do?

It needn't be some task so easy that it will almost do itself. You can entrust it with some errand that is difficult—that only a want ad. can do WELL AND INEXPENSIVELY.

The person who finds jobs for want ads. to do is the sort of chap who looks at you rather quizzically when you try to tell him that business is dull, or that you can't rent that apartment, or office, or store, or house, or that you can't find a position. For, you see, he has gotten into the habit of accomplishing things—which is a habit within the reach of any person with half a will and three-quarters of a purpose.

As they ran down the steps from the veranda and along the short path to the landing place Miss Grayman glanced fearfully around. Thank heaven, Mrs. Williams was occupied somewhere about the house, and not a person was in sight.

"Into the canoe!" said Miss Grayman in the same imperative voice, though she spoke hardly above a whisper, and Susan obediently obeyed her. Miss Grayman seized the paddle, and in a few seconds they were out on the lake.

"Where are we going?" asked Susan wonderingly.

"Not a word!" said her mistress.

"Don't talk! Don't make any noise!" She turned the canoe toward the inlet and paddled with all her might. As they passed under the overhanging

Cincinnati disposed of five of the recruits recently gathered in through draft and purchase. All go to Columbus, O. They are pitchers Brausewein from Charleston, N. C.; Bruck from Lynchburg, Va.; Romaine from Maysville, Ky.; Catcher Murphy from Champaign, Ill., and infielder Grieves of Huntington, W. V.

Napoleon Lajoie, second baseman of the Cleveland Americans, received word from Woonsocket, R. I., of the death of his oldest brother, Jerry Lajoie. He left for Woonsocket with Mrs. Lajoie tonight, and will rejoin the team at Boston after the funeral.

Disgusted with the way men on his team have been playing ball. President Frank Farrell of the Yankees asked for waivers on two of the Yankee pitchers. Big Jim Vaughn and Jack Quinn are the men who will be let out by the Highlanders. What is more there may be some more changes before winter. Vaughn has not been of much use to the New York club this year. He pitched a brilliant game of ball in the opening game of the season against the Athletics in Philadelphia and that is about all he has accomplished. As for Quinn, he has been uncertain.

The St. Louis Browns have released Outfielder Meloun to Toledo, Pitcher Curry to Louisville and Catcher Southwick to Clay Center, Kan.

With The Fighters

Pennsylvania sportsmen hope to have a boxing commission law, patterned after that now in force in New York, passed at the next session of the Pennsylvania legislature. Representative C. J. McInerney of Pittsburg will introduce the bill and within a few weeks it is expected that sporting men will name a committee of representatives to visit New York city and Albany to learn in full detail everything concerning the law now in force in New York.

Champion Ad. Wolgast has decided to take a rest for at least a month and there is no chance of the McFarland-Wolgast bout being staged in any other city for a while at least. Wolgast is going back to his farm at Cadillac, Mich., today and will remain there for several weeks. Manager Jones has gone to Chicago and may arrange for the bout in Frisco or New York. He now demands $25,000 for Wolgast's end.

Eddie Murphy, the Boston lightweight, started training yesterday for several matches. On September 25 he will meet George Memsie at Gury over the ten-round route. Two days later Ray Bronson will be met at Indianapolis in a ten-round bout, and on October 15 Jake Barada will be taken on at St. Joseph, Mo., in a fifteen-round go.

Mickey McBride acting for Eddie Murphy, the South Boston lightweight, yesterday signed articles to put his bid against George Memsie before the club offering the best inducements. Doc Krone represented Memsie, who is at present in the west. The boys will weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Greek Antone had a shade on Kid Lepper, both of Milwaukee, in their ten-round bout at Monroe, Wis., last night. Charley Gray and Kid Allen went six rounds in the preliminaries.

Ernie Zanders, who recently graduated from the lightweight to the welter weight class, has been matched to meet Paul Koehler at Cleveland or Canton the latter part of the month.

Tony Caponi, the Chicago Italian middle weight, has broken relations with Larney Lichtenstein and now is under the management of Hughie Gatens.

LAKE FREIGHT MARKET NOW WORSE THAN BEFORE

Cleveland, O., Sept. 15.—That the lake freight market is in worse shape now than it has been at any time this season is the opinion of some of the vessel men and shippers. The volume of business is greater than it was early in the season, but there is more tonnage seeking employment and the movement of freight is not heavy enough to take care of the capacity.

The week opened with a liberal supply of tonnage in the market at both ends of the route, with no indications of any increase in the demand in the coal or ore trades. Grain will move a little more freely from now, but that trade will not take care of all the vessels that are offered for down cargoes.

Aside from a few small vessels, the ore shippers are taking very little tonnage and most of the wild carriers are on the markets for grain. The trade is light and a number of big steamers that were on the market at the head of Lake Superior yesterday for early loading could not be placed at 7-8 of a cent on wheat to Buffalo. Two Cleveland steamers were placed at that figure late last week and they will load during the next few days.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made From Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, with out even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature is restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Get a bottle today, and let it do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

QUICK JUSTICE AT MADISON.

As it did in the Zinda case in Milwaukee, justice moved swiftly at Madison when "Dogskin" Johnson, after strenuous denials, confessed yesterday the atrocious crimes which ended the life of pretty little seven-year old Annie Lemberger.

Bloodhounds on his track did not frighten Johnson to an avowal of his guilt but covering in his cell, in error of what would happen to him should outraged public sentiment take the form of mob vengeance, he made a revelation of his morbid wickedness, evidently with the view of being taken from the Madison jail to the state prison at Waupun, where he fancied that his life would be more secure.

Early in the day Johnson had been arraigned in Judge Donovan's court and had entered a plea of not guilty, and a lawyer had been assigned to defend him. When he changed his plea to guilty he did so with the consent of his attorney, who had no doubt of his guilt. In forty minutes he was in an automobile with the sheriff, on his way to Waupun. To have kept him in Madison would have been unwise.

The fiendish character of the crime and the general reputation which Johnson has borne among his neighbors raise a question as to his sanity, though this is a subject upon which there are differences of opinion. In view of the fact that years before he had been guilty of the placing of an obstruction on the railway track, the fact that he was a dangerous man to be at large was obvious.

There are many desperate individuals abroad in this country who ought to be locked up for the safety of the community. Americans are careless with the vicious and the irresponsible, and foolishly unmindful of the duty of protecting the community from crime.

SUGAR FAMINE THREATENED.

For a number of months the price of sugar has steadily climbed upward, until today it is almost twice what it was a matter of six months, or so ago. Scarcely a day goes by without the announcement of another advance in price, and although each notch thus gained is only the inconceivable sum of ten cents, the total advance from the low point now amounts to about $3 per hundred pounds, the present wholesale quotations being well above the $7 mark. And what is still worse—at least from the viewpoint of the consumer—is the prediction that more of the same will follow; in other words, that the price of this every day necessity is destined to go still higher and may even reach, or exceed, $14 per hundred, or ten cents a pound.

The seriousness of this situation is best appreciated, no doubt, by the good housewives of this country, who are just at the present time immersed in their annual duty of preserving and canning good things to eat for the coming season that intervenes between seasons of fresh supplies. In all such operations sugar is required as one of the most essential items of favorite recipes, and when "mother" calls up the corner grocery to place an order for sugar, and learns the height to which the price has gone, while she had failed to keep track of the daily quotations, she is very apt to give vent to her feelings in a series of surprised and surprising ejaculations, coupled with remarks more or less derogatory to the sugar trust.

WHY THE BOY HATES TO GO TO SCHOOL.

Did you ever see a boy that would admit that he liked to go to school? If he did admit it, was he any good in after life?

From lusty juvenility a practically unanimous protest goes up against the call of the school bell.

This is true even with a great many children of a mature habit of mind. At home they will ask any amount of questions about facts in geography and history, indicating that the subjects they are handling in school seem to interest them.

The essential trouble undoubtedly comes from the attempt to convert the youngster over from the savage into the civilized state. It is the theory of educators that every young life goes through all the periods. Every boy has a period when he conforms very closely to the habits and ideas of the old American Indians.

When you reflect that it has taken 2,000 years to turn the untutored tribes of Europe into the civilized people of today, it is no wonder that it takes several years to convert a potential Sitting Bull into an ordinary hum drum merchant or mechanic.

It would evidently be $5 in the pocket of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., if he had never been born.

These Ohio legislative grafters seem to be of the kind that can resist everything but temptation.

We had expected to subscribe for coal and groceries for the indigent holders of stock in the dissolved Standard Oil Co., but it now looks as if they would get through the winter unaided.

If President Taft will discuss on his trip the great question whether New York or Chicago will get the National League pennant, the people will listen to him gladly.

Father Ryan of a Boston church criticized tight skirts, puffs, and cosmetics Sunday. Why does he not attack evils that might be remedied like murder or arson?

It is said that the circuit judges made 62 errors on the Harriman merger suit. How in thunder do they ever expect to get a good feeding average?

GOODBY
By FRED L. YOUNG
Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

When I was fourteen my mother took a little girl to live with us. She was a demure creature with flaxen hair and blue eyes. Her mother had been a bosom friend of my mother's and on her deathbed had begged mother to look out for her child. Violet—her name was Violet—was twelve years old when she came to our home, and she and I grew up together.

When I was seventeen I went to college. I was to remain there till the summer vacation. At the time of my departure Violet and I were on the eve of a change from childhood to youth. I no longer carried her in my arms over the brook nor put my cheek close to hers when we were reading out of the same book. On my departure for college I was at a loss what to do about the goodby. The day I left mother was not at home. She had been called to see a sick friend and had not returned.

"Violet," I said, "it's too bad mother is not here that I may say goodby to her. Mother never likes me to go anywhere without a kiss."

"Oh, but you can't give her a kiss if she's not here!"

"I might leave one for her."
"How could you leave her a kiss?"

"Why, I might kiss some one and that some one might give it to mother."
"You could do that, I suppose."
She stood looking at me perfectly innocent of what was coming.

"The next thing to decide," I went on, "is to whom shall I give the kiss for transmission?"

"I don't know anybody who would do."
"Except yourself."
The only reply to this was the dropping of two soft eyes to the floor.

"There's the carriage coming," I exclaimed. "Goodby."
I put one hand on her waist and, with the other under her dimpled chin, raised her face slightly and kissed her lips. Then, going out to the carriage, I was driven away.

At the end of my first year I went home. Violet was not quite such a stripling as when I went away, but she was as innocent and modest as ever. Instead of looking me in the face she looked anywhere else. But I knew she was glad to see me.

"Violet," I said, "do you remember something I left with you for mother when I went to college?"

"Yes," she said in a very low voice. "Did you give it to her?"

"No."
"What did you do with it?"

"Nothing."
"Do you think it honorable to keep anything left in your charge for another?"

I feigned to be so serious about it that the poor child more than half took me to be in earnest. Her lip began to tremble a little.

"The only thing you can do to redeem yourself," I added, "is to return it to me."
I bent over her and waited. She looked in my eyes to learn if I was in earnest and, not seeing anything there to the contrary, put up her lips, and I did the rest.

When I went away again in the autumn I told Violet that I wished to give her a chance to redeem herself for her last year's failure and in this way made a convenient excuse to kiss her goodby. I kept up the pretense that I was very much in earnest about it, and she was not sure enough of my not being in earnest to poopooch the whole thing. So, leaving a special extra kiss for my mother, I went away again.

When I returned for the middle vacation of my college course I had a mustache, and, Violet, who had grown considerably, had her dresses pretty near down to the floor. An enormous rope of hair reached almost to her heels. She was getting too far advanced in the ways of the world for me to work the mother's kiss racket any longer, and I thought I must invent something else.

"I haven't given mother the kiss this year either," she said, smiling.

"You haven't!"

"No."
"Why not?"

"Why, you kissed her before you left."
"But the one I left with you was an extra."
"I know, but that made two for mother."
"Well?"

"Where did I come in?"

"She looked at me archly, and I knew that the innocent period between childhood and youth had gone. She was a woman."

We played battledore and shuttlecock with the kiss during my vacation, and just before I returned to college I asked her if she would marry me when I had finished my college course. She replied that I had two more years in the academic department and since I was to study a profession three years must be added to that. Doubtless before that time had elapsed I should have been engaged several times. I protested that I would be true for a dozen or a hundred years for that matter, but she would promise nothing. However, she consented to take another kiss from me to my mother.

And so every year when I came back she said she had failed to give mother the kiss, and every time I went away I gave her another for the same purpose, and when seven kisses had accumulated she consented.

"I thought sure I had lost my bank book recently. I called up the cashier and asked him what I could do so the finder could not draw my money. He told me there was no danger of that. Even if a dishonest person should find my bank book he cannot withdraw the money without a written order from me. They have my signature on file so no one can forge my name.

"I found the book later, and when I got my pay envelope today I deposited ten dollars first thing. I'll not spend THAT ten foolishly.

"I think I can bank fifteen next month. Of course I'm not spending as much as I used to, but this bank book sure looks good to me."
