

NORTHERN STATE FAIR TO BE CONTINUED UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT

FAIR DIRECTORS DECIDE TO HOLD OVER ATTRACTIONS UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT; EXHIBITS WILL ALL REMAIN IN PLACE

Disagreeable Weather Occasions Action of Board of Managers This Morning

GREAT ATTENDANCE AT GROUNDS TODAY

Rain, rain, rain. Why is it that a county fair is the greatest thing in the world in the way of stopping a dry spell. Last night it rained so hard that one of the big exhibit tents could not withstand the downpour any longer and many of the exhibits were ruined. Today the weather is threatening and before evening it may rain again.

This morning a good sized crowd went out to the grounds and the exhibitors who were put out of business on account of the rain last evening hastened to replace damaged goods and arrange something new. Secretary Strom announced this morning that owing to the fact that the weather man claims nice new pleasant weather for Saturday, the fair will be continued one day longer and will close Saturday night instead of tonight. Saturday is going to be a fine and a bumper attendance will be the result it is hoped by everyone. All the attractions will be run another day and the band will be on the grounds to furnish a musical program.

School Work Attracts.

No exhibit at the fair was more interesting this morning than the practical demonstration that was conducted by the public schools. Everyone on the grounds congregated around the school booths to watch the class work which was being conducted under the kindergarten instructors. Little tots from four years old to six went through the work just the same as if they were in school and after each class had finished they were given hearty applause.

This afternoon the same interest was taken in the work of the different classes and a crowd was congregated around the booths at all times. The display made by the schools has aroused the people to a considerable amount of pride and enthusiasm over the local schools and will cause many more people to visit the schools in the future.

Mertz Exhibit Wonderful.

When the prizes for garden truck are handed around, it is safe to say that Otto Mertz of Gladstone will get one of the big ones. He has an exhibit at the fair that would be hard to beat. In the first place his "farm" measures 42x68 and on it he has grown forty different kinds of vegetables and fruit. Many of the things are odd and have never been seen in this section of the country before. Peanuts are among the other things and there are also muskmelons and Brussels sprouts. Otto certainly did not waste any space in his garden and has an exhibit that is a wonder.

ATTACK MADE BY DISGRUNTLED ONE

Because he rigidly enforced the quarantine rules, it is believed, a mean attack with intent to do damage to the home of Dr. H. W. Long, health officer, 420 South Elmore street was made last night.

Some person, evidently with no fairness in his make-up, threw a heavy rock through a front window of his home, narrowly missing Mrs. Long with the missile, as she sat in a chair inside. The identity of the culprit could not be learned as he apparently dashed away after the perpetration of the affair. The police are quietly working on the case and expect to land the guilty man.

Because of the disagreeable weather that has been experienced in this city during the progress of the Northern State Fair, the directors this morning decided to continue the event until tomorrow night. This was to be the last day of the fair. The free attractions will perform and all displays will remain in the usual places.

FAIR NOTES.

The lahpeping band have been complimented many times, since they have been in the city. They are a fine bunch of musicians and are not stingy with the music. The weather has been pretty cold for out of doors playing, but as yet they have been on the job without any complaints.

The Eddy fish cleaning machine does not attract the attention that it would if it was given a practical demonstration. This would be very impossible, however as the machine will clean about 80 fish a minute.

The Fair Savings Bank exhibits are under the management of Mr. Olmsted, who has been one of the busiest men on the grounds since the gates opened.

Both Grinnell Bros., and the Columbian Music House had handsome displays and both were fortunate in not having anything damaged by the rains.

The Hill Drug Store has a well presented display at the fair, but whether it is the girls or the gum that is attracting the admiration of the multitudes it is hard to decide. They both dress about the same.

The teachers got their checks Thursday—just in time to spend the money for tickets to the fair.

Victor Blomstrom has his eyes on all the people who come near his display of watches with a label pinned on them bearing the legend, "I am Out For a Good Time."

The only flying machine exhibited at the fair is in the hardware display of A. Baum. It is used for killing flies and is commonly known as a "fly swatter."

The loed watch that has been displayed by Blomstrom & Peterson has attracted much interest and resulted in quite a number of orders. Their exhibit was one of the most attractive on the grounds.

The exhibit of Robb's Studio which was damaged by the rain last night was the center of photographic interest at the fair as Robb had the only exhibit of its kind on the grounds.

Charles Gunderson, who has a large display of farm machinery and gasoline engines is well satisfied with the results and claims the business that came his way will many times more than pay for his trouble.

Edward C. Oliver was not at his booth this morning. The cold weather kept him at home. In spite of the cold weather, his fans were in great demand and were carried out by the grounds by the hundred.

SEND RESTAURANT KEEPER TO ASYLUM

ANNIE GRANDBERG ADJUDGED INSANE AND WILL BE TAKEN TO NEWBERRY HOSPITAL.

Annie Grandberg, a restaurant keeper here, was today taken by the sheriff charged with being insane and immediately plans were made to have her examined. She was found to be suffering from insanity by physicians and will be taken to Newberry either today or tomorrow. Last night she kept the occupants of the jail awake and stringent measures were required to keep her from injuring herself against the bars of her cell. She broke up the furniture of the cell and created other damage within her power.

ORE TRADE SUFFERS MUCH THIS SEASON

FIGURES ISSUED FROM WASHINGTON TODAY ARE THAT TONNAGE IS DECREASED.

A loss of more than 10 per cent in the domestic freight tonnage shipped between ports on the Great Lakes during August of the present year is shown by the monthly figures of lake shipments, just made public by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor. These shipments totaled 11,543,123 short tons, compared with 13,066,118 short tons in August, 1910, and 12,548,057 short tons in August, 1909. Assuming that the relative losses for the succeeding months of the present season, as compared with last season, will not exceed the losses for August, the 1911 domestic freight shipments on the Great Lakes are not likely to exceed 72 1/2 million short tons, as compared with 86,732,316 short tons in 1910 and 80,974,605 short tons in 1909. The total domestic lake shipments for the 8 months of the present year aggregated 45,584,366 short tons or about 19 per cent less than in 1910. Of the total loss of over 10.7 million short tons about 10.3 million short tons represent the loss in iron ore shipments alone. The iron ore shipments for the month aggregated 5,341,626 long tons, compared with 6,872,278 long tons shipped during August, 1910. Iron ore shipments for the year will probably not exceed 30 million long tons, compared with 41 1/2 million for the preceding season.

BANQUET FOR REV. SPENCE TONIGHT

RETIRING PASTOR WILL BE GIVEN DINNER BY KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

This evening Rev. Frederick Spence, retiring pastor of the First M. E. church will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given him by the Knights of Pythias, of which lodge he is a member. Committees have made all arrangements for the affair and various speeches will be made by prominent members and men of the congregation.

Rev. Spence announced today that he would grant the request of the congregation that he conduct the services Sunday morning and will officiate at that time. His successor, Rev. Beach will arrive in this city next Tuesday morning, coming by way of Chicago.

SECRETARY TORVAL STROM ENTITLED TO GREAT CREDIT FOR SUCCESS OF BIG FAIR

HAS WORKED INCESSANTLY DURING PERIOD OF CONTEMPLATION—A BOOSTER.

Delta County has had a very successful fair considering the bad weather that has stepped in occasionally to dampen the ardor of the exhibitors and ruin many of the exhibits.

In order to make the fair a success a lot of detail work was necessary and on account of not having buildings in readiness the work was made much harder than it otherwise would have been. Some one had to do the planning and after the plans were made see to it that they were carried out—that some one was prosecuting Attorney Torval E. Strom, secretary of the agricultural society.

While others have worked and worked hard to make the fair a big success, Secretary Strom has put in more time, more work and more thought than all the rest together. He has been incessant in his attention to details. Since the fair has been opened he has spent all the time on the grounds, meeting the farmers, arranging the exhibits, answering all questions and at all times appearing happy and never getting out of patience over the multitude of grievances, and petty round or irritating annoyances that have been a regular thing at county fairs since the first one was instituted.

Mr. Strom is a real "booster" and too much credit can not be given him for his work in making the fair a success and everyone happy.

WAR BEGUN BY ITALY ON TURKS

UNSATISFACTORY ANSWER TO ITALIAN ULTIMATUM PRECIPITATES CONFLICT.

(By Associated Press.)
Rome, Sept. 29.—Italy has declared war on Turkey.

The minister of Marine is believed to have sent a wireless order to the Italian fleet off Tripoli to act immediately. This action followed a meeting of the cabinet at 11 o'clock at which it was decided to proceed with measures previously determined on.

It was officially announced here that Italy and Turkey are in a state of war, beginning at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The reason given, is that Turkey has failed to meet the demands contained in the Italian ultimatum. Steps have been taken by Italy to blockade the entire coast of Tripoli and Cyrenaca immediately and notification of this act will be sent to all neutral powers.

The announcement of the action of the cabinet in declaring war created the greatest excitement about the city. Turkey's reply to Italy's ultimatum, it is understood, completely conceded Italy's economic claims in Tripoli, but evaded the direct answer demanded by the Italian government that would not resist the proposed occupation of Tripoli and Cyrene. Instead Porte sent conciliatory notes suggesting further delay. It was known at the same time that Turkey had transmitted a note to powers in which it is assumed that she represented herself as the injured party and by interference, at least, sought their intervention.

The royal government decided to stand absolutely by their ultimatum and in the absence of the reply called for, to declare Italy and Turkey in the state of war.

ATTENTION—PUPILS.

Because of the extra day of the fair the same public school program as given today will take place Saturday. The kindergarten exhibition begins at 10 a. m. Children taking part in the various events are requested to attend at the regular time tomorrow.

Negaunee Wins for Tenth Time From Escanaba 5 to 3

HANCOCK FIGHTS TO RETAIN YANTIC

PEOPLE OF CITY WILL COMBAT PROPOSED REMOVAL OF BOAT TO THIS PORT.

The city of Hancock will combat the removal of the Steamer Yantic to this city. The Yantic has been in that port for so many years that it is now believed to be an established portion of the municipality and the inhabitants look with horror upon the probability of the craft's removal.

Regarding the proposed removal the Evening Copper Journal says: "Officers of the Hancock division say they do not know what turn the situation will take. The Escanaba and Traverse City officers who were in Hancock on Monday intimated at that time, and in fact practically declared, that the Yantic would sail to Escanaba; and that before the winter of 1911-'12 set in.

"Hancock, however will not give up the ship without exhausting every means at its disposal to keep it here, it is said. Just at present the outlook does not seem pleasant, as Escanaba and Traverse City hold the balance of power.

"The city division is of the belief that it holds prior claim to the ship as the Hancock sailors have been recognized, ever since the year they were incorporated as a division, as the highest ranking division in the state. This fact may carry some weight with the naval reserve officials at Lansing and may be instrumental in the ship remaining here."

EXHIBIT BOOKS AT TEACHERS' MEET

FIVE HUNDRED OF BEST CHILDREN'S PUBLICATIONS TO BE SHOWN IN HOUGHTON.

Five hundred of the best books for children will be on exhibition in the library department of the Upper Peninsula Educational association convention, which is to occur at Houghton on October 5 and 6. The work in the library section, including several speeches will be on October 6. Other features of this portion, which will be a part of the meeting for the first time, will be the best books on the science of teaching, the best fairy tales for reading and story telling, library bureau, library tools, pictures for school rooms and picture books for children. Talks will be given by Mrs. Gudren Thorne-Thomson of Chicago and Miss Edna Lyman of Oak Park, Ill.

BURGLAR SLASHES MAN WITH KNIFE

In an exciting conflict with a burglar at his home, 320 Ludington street last night, A. M. Lofvander suffered several knife cuts on the arm. The burglar escaped after a thrilling chase by the householder. Mr. Lofvander heard a noise in a hallway at his home and peering out noticed a man removing things from the ice box. Armed with but an umbrella that he hastily grasped he attacked the intruder. The burglar turned on him and slashed him with a long knife. He then dashed out of the house, followed by Mr. Lofvander. He ran south to the bay and waded into the water up to his waist. His pursuer left and sought the police. When they returned no trace of the man could be found.

The handsome display of F. J. Sheedle & Co., suffered from the rain and it was necessary to bring in many of the exhibits which were replaced with other things.

"RED" MAHONEY CONTINUES TO HAVE PECULIAR LEAD OVER LOCAL TEAM.

MONTE OLMSTED IN FORM

After Escanaba Apparently Had Game Sewed Up, Negaunee Comes Across With Runs—Olmsted Strikes Out Eleven of Opposing Batters and Passes But One.

"Red" Mahoney again exercised his luck sign on the Escanaba diamond and, even though the league season is at an end, transformed a questionable game into a 5 to 3 win for Negaunee yesterday afternoon. A steady drizzle failed to affect the players of either team and the handful of the faithful that braved the stormy elements and disagreeable climatic conditions to take in the post-season contest were thoroughly soaked and chilled.

Olmsted Fans Eleven. Monte Olmsted looked natural in an Escanaba uniform, but he could not overcome the disadvantage at which he was placed by frequent errors by his team mates. His work was of the kind expected. Eleven Negaunee sluggers beat the atmosphere behind his speedy slants. Only one took first on a gift. When Negaunee did hit his stuff an error was perpetrated that allowed scoring. Bill Day, the Marquette first baseman was in the Negaunee line-up and performed the position nearly.

The game ran along until the sixth inning uneventfully and without either team doing much damage, and then it looked as if Escanaba had finally solved the puzzle of how to defeat Negaunee. Mahoney issued a pass a wild throw by Cullis, made the situation look strained and a two base hit by Aronson made it look even more serious. An error by Day topped off the bad session, and helped in the counting of three runs.

Negaunee Scores in Seventh. Negaunee came back strong in the seventh, when a wild pitch by Olmsted and Carey's homer figured in the two runs that were sent across the plate.

In the eighth Negaunee put the game on the shelf. Day started the trouble by singling, Swick hit for three sacks, sending Day home, and was himself scored by Cullis' single. As Scanlon was guilty of a boot and Connelly made a wild heave Cullis

HOTELS PACKED WITH OUTSIDERS

BECAUSE OF SESSION OF NORTHERN FAIR ACCOMMODATIONS ARE DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN.

Hotel accommodations are now and have been at a premium for some days. The immense crowd of people from neighboring cities and towns that are spending the week in Escanaba to attend the Northern State Fair marched on the numerous hotels and obtained all available rooms. Many traveling men and visitors here for the fair experienced some trouble last evening in procuring a place to sleep. This congestion is expected to be relieved at the end of the week when the hundreds who are remaining in Escanaba leave for their homes.

GRANGE BALL TO OCCUR TONIGHT

Preparations are complete for the great grange ball to be given this evening at the Peterson hall. The floor is in good condition and it is expected that five hundred or more people will avail themselves of an opportunity to enjoy the evening there. As a culmination of the fair's festivities the promoters promise this to be a big event. Brotherton's orchestra has been secured to furnish music.

The SKY PIRATE

GARRETT P. SERVISS.

"I saw the Indian expiring ground. But Payton had again ahead!" I called. Now came a provoking accident. I had been sailing so close to the boat that some of them had become wedged with our aeroplane. We threw us all from our feet. We remained perhaps fifteen minutes before we rose about twenty yards and ahead. I now saw the terminal of the belt of brush, and, looking back, I beheld the fugitive, who sat upon a high rock and was waving us, rifle in hand. Payton was making his last stand. He tried to jump overboard, but he did not attempt at all. He was not the slightest attempt at count, but coolly brought his weight to bear upon the aeroplane. It had fallen off, and his dark hair was waving in the morning breeze.

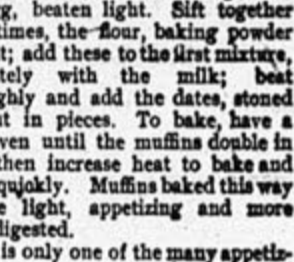

"It depends upon you," I said. "I can run a quick sight and the shell hit the rock and with a fearful report. When I saw the aeroplane was cautiously approached the but could see nothing of his. Then we got down and search in vain. I could not believe had got away, although the ground the rock was covered with wild grass intermingled with creeping bushes. "Must 'a' been blown to, thunder."

Date Muffins

A New Way of Using Dates By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

The value of dates as a food is hardly appreciated. They are wholesome, nutritious, and when used in K C Date Muffins, make a recipe that is appreciated by the entire family.

One-third cup butter; 1/2 cup sugar; 1 egg; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; 1/4 teaspoonful salt; scant 1/2 pound dates. Cream the butter, add the sugar and the egg, beaten light. Sift together three times, the flour, baking powder and salt; add these to the first mixture, alternately with the milk; beat thoroughly and add the dates, stoned and cut in pieces. To bake, have a slow oven until the muffins double in bulk, then increase heat to bake and brown quickly. Muffins baked this way will be light, appetizing and more easily digested.

This is only one of the many appetizing recipes found in the 'K C Cook's Book'. The wonderful K C Cook's Book is substantially bound and printed in nine colors, contains ninety tested and easily-made recipes by Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, of the world famous Boston Cooking School Magazine. You can secure a copy FREE by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the JAGUES MFG CO., Chicago. Be sure to write name and address plainly.

As we approached we saw the prey, and the flag was joyfully waved in welcome. "Have you got Payton?" was Mr. Grant's first question as he swung my hand. "No," I said. "I have not got him, but I believe he must be dead." Then I described what had occurred, and I could not feel jealous as I noticed a sad, faraway look in Helen's eyes. "Well, anyhow, you've won your reward," said the secretary, with a mischievous look toward Helen. "You jumped into it." Then he added under his breath, "She has told her father."

PAYTON COOLLY BROUGHT HIS WEAPON TO HIS SHOULDER. Mr. Grayman also shook hands with me very warmly, and I felt my heart swell with gratitude and love. There is little more that I can tell you. Alfonso Payton was never heard of again. His disappearance marked the end of one of the strangest chapters in the history of crime. Polished, talented, brave as a lion and such a master of aeroplanics as the world has seldom seen, he could have risen to equal eminence, I like to think, had he chosen to work with society instead of against it. The record of his exploits some day will possibly find its way into print, as I have here set down its conclusion. No work of fiction will surpass it in wonder and fascination.

Helen and I often talk of him, and sometimes we have wondered if, after all, he escaped. Of my part and I am sure on here there would be no regret if we could believe that he did, for at any rate in career of crime was ended. I should perhaps add a word to say that the survivors of the wrecked Skyhawk were safely brought home and to explain what because of Payton's lodge and what was the mystery of the digging in the woods. The lodge we set on fire—a vandal's act, perhaps—but we did not want it to remain as a possible lurking place for Payton's crew. Mrs. Williams turned out to be a crook well known to the New York detectives, but as no overt act was proved against her she was allowed to go. The "grave of the bear" was the last resting place of one of Payton's victims, possibly the "Mr. Green" that he had spoken of, but he was never identified. Other hastily discovered were made in the woods about the lodge, but no buried treasure was found. That I "bad my reward" and that it was an ample one my happy life with Helen has abundantly demonstrated.

THE END.

SYNOPSIS

Captain Alfonso Payton, the sky pirate, kidnaped Helen Grayman, New York's richest girl, and carries her away in his airship, the Chameleon. He poses as Commodore Brown. She thinks her abduction is a practical joke. Payton takes her to his lodge in a Labrador wilderness. William Grayman, her father, secretly summons the police. By wireless telephone Payton demands $500,000 ransom from Grayman, who agrees to meet him at Tribes Hill with the money. Grayman plans to trap the pirate. Helen and her maid are well cared for by Payton, but are closely guarded by Indian John. Helen suspects that they are prisoners. One afternoon Payton captures four police aeroplanes sent to trap him and kills several policemen before Grayman reaches the scene. Grayman and Police Commissioner Brennan reach Tribes Hill. Payton attacks Grayman, who again promises to pay the ransom. Payton takes Grayman home. Helen receives a forged letter from her father, which reassures her. She replies to her father's letter. Grayman fears Helen will fall in love with Payton. Secretary Grant offers government aid and assigns Lieutenant Allan the task of locating Payton's lodge. This Allan does by receiving wireless messages from Payton at New York and Buffalo with the aid of geometry and his new invention. Allan, Grayman and Grant start for Payton's lodge with five war aeroplanes. Helen, learning that she has been kidnaped, escapes, but is captured. Allan's war aeroplanes reach Payton's lodge. The Chameleon fires on them, disabling Allan's favorite aeroplane, the Eagle. Payton escapes with Helen and her maid in the Chameleon, pursued by Allan's Osprey and Skylark. Allan fires at the Chameleon. Payton cripples the Skylark and dodges from cloud to cloud in desperate efforts to escape from Allan's Osprey. The Osprey cripples the Chameleon. Payton and Helen drop to the ground in parachutes. Allan goes to Helen's rescue, defending her against Payton's attack. Allan repulses one assault of Payton's men. Allan goes for water, and he and Helen are captured. Allan makes a futile attempt to escape. Helen reveals her love for him. Payton attempts to bury Allan alive, but Allan's aeroplane crew comes to the rescue. Helen and Allan are saved. Indian John is killed, and Payton disappears. Helen becomes Allan's wife.

HEAD THE MIRROR WANT AD

A REMARKABLE WOMAN.

Mme. Roland and Her Tragic Role in the French Revolution. Mme. Roland was one of the noblest examples of womanhood of her age. A child of poverty, she gradually grew to distinction, until she wielded for a time the mighty scepter which afterward led her captive to the dungeon and finally to the guillotine. In the cause of reform she was the center of all influence around which clustered those mighty spirits which seemed for a time to control the destinies of France.

In early youth she showed signs of possessing great talent. "Plutarch's Lives" gave her an almost passionate longing for the fame of the great men of past ages, and at the age of fourteen she is said to have wept because she was not a Roman or a Spartan woman.

At length the outburst came—the French struggle for liberty in 1789—so soon to degenerate into ruthless anarchy. Mme. Roland and her husband joined the Girondist party. M. Roland became minister of the interior. Mme. Roland assisted him in drawing up official papers, and to her pen is attributed the celebrated warning letter to the king, published in May, 1792, which occasioned his dismissal.

Roland denounced the more fiery revolutionists, and Robespierre, Marat, Danton and the rest became very bitter, particularly toward Mme. Roland. The lives of herself and her husband were not considered safe, and arrangements were made for them to sleep away from their regular home. Mme. Roland objected. "I am ashamed of the part I am made to play," she said. "I will neither disguise myself or leave the house. If they wish to assassinate me, it shall be at my own house."

The crisis came. On May 31, 1793, she was arrested and cast into prison, her husband being at the time away from Paris. She never obtained her liberty or saw her husband. All her jailers she converted into friends by her fascinating manner and general amiability. She devoted all her leisure hours in prison to the composition of her memoirs. On Oct. 16 Marie Antoinette was guillotined. Later in the same month twenty of the leading Girondists, all personal friends of the Rolands, shared the same fate. And then came the turn of Mme. Roland. At the trial Mme. Roland appeared dressed carefully in white, with her beautiful black hair descending to her waist. Unmoved by the insults to which she was subjected by her brutal judges, she maintained unruffled a dignified demeanor which might have suited a Roman matron of old, but her death was predetermined, and she was remorselessly condemned. On the fatal day and at the same hour and place with herself a man was to be guillotined. To die first on such an occasion had become a sort of privilege among the wretched victims as a means of avoiding the agony of seeing others die. Mme. Roland waived this privilege in favor of her less courageous companion. The executioner had orders to guillotine her before the man, but she insisted that she should show the impoliteness of refusing a woman's last request. As she passed to the scaffold she gazed on a gigantic statue of Liberty erected near it and exclaimed: "O Liberty, how many crimes are committed in thy name!" The guillotine then took the life of one who was perhaps the most remarkable woman of the French revolution.—St. Louis Republic.

His Special Brand. "Speaking of sealots," said a college professor, "there was an eminent Scotch scientist whose special delight—mania, in fact—was insects and bugs. There once visited this Scottish professor a young scientist. The visitor remained overnight, and in the morning his host said to him: "And how did ye sleep the night?" "Not very well," the visitor answered. "It was the strange bed, perhaps, but I must confess—"

"Ah," said the professor encouragingly, "ye were just bitten by something, eh?" "Well, to tell you the truth, professor, I was," the visitor admitted. "Just think of that!" cried the professor. "Bitten, war ye? Noo, man, can ye say it was anything at all noteworthy that bit ye?" "Fleas, I think," said the other. "But such fleas for biting I never met in my life before."

"I should think so, indeed," said the professor in great glee. "They're Sicilian fleas. I imported them myself."

An Acorn Split a Bowlder. At El Portal, near the entrance to the Yosemite National park, in California, is a remarkable example of the wonderful strength of the roots of a growing tree. A live oak in some manner started its growth years ago in a small crevice in the upper side of a large sandstone rock, where possibly a little soil had lodged, and the tender sprig grew into a sapling. Now, after years of growth, it is a tree of considerable size, and the roots, pushing down through the sandstone bowlder, have caused the mass to split apart. The tree is still growing, and the roots are gradually pushing the fragments of the immense rock farther and farther apart each year. Roots of forest trees have been known to lift great ledges of rock, splitting them off from the main vein. Shade trees in cities have been known to lift sidewalks, paved streets and heavy, deep set curbstones, and in a few cases roots have found their way into cellars and moved the foundations of dwellings.—Harper's Weekly.

FARM WOMEN WILL MEET.

International Congress Will Discuss Problems of Agricultural Life. The first international congress of farm women in this country opens at Colorado Springs on Oct. 17 and bids fair to be the most important convention of women ever held in this country.

The commission will discuss the equipment and beauties of the food values in rural homes, laws of physical life in relation to the family, conservation of time and strength, labor saving devices, hygiene, the economic value of women and children on the farm, influence of clubs, granges and other agricultural associations; care of infants, the rural church, reorganization of rural schools and recreation in the rural districts. There will also be demonstrations by the Colorado agricultural college, domestic science department and the department of agriculture showing the menace of the house fly.

Among the speakers on the program are Professor W. M. Hays, assistant secretary of agriculture, an author on rural school work, and the Rev. Warren H. Wilson of New York, a worker in rural churches. Practical farm women from throughout the entire country are signifying their intention to take part in the proceedings.

Women's Aviation Club. The first women's aviation club in the world is being formed in Boston. It will include only wives, widows or near relatives of aviators who have made flights in greater Boston. Mrs. Harry N. Atwood is mentioned for the presidency.

GRANDMOTHERS

USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. If your hair is losing color or coming out, start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what a change it will make in a few days' time.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

INCREASE THE POWERS OF JUDGES.

The trouble with our courts today, says President Taft, is that they are neither swift nor sure. The delays and uncertainties of American judicial procedure he finds a standing disgrace. The remedy he believes lies in giving the judges greater power and holding them responsible for the execution of justice, with a counterbalancing ease of impeachment in case their authority is abused.

Perhaps none of the speeches of the President's present trip has been of greater interest than that at St. Louis. His experience and training as an attorney and a judge and his unquestioned judicial temperament and calm, clear, logical habit... of thought qualifies him better than any other President of recent years at least to discuss the shortcomings of the courts. The country, Democrat and Republican alike, can hear and approve his sentiments on this question, for they do not constitute a political issue.

Mr. Taft has followed out the psychology of the demand that has been voiced for the popular recall of judges. The delays and miscarriages in the execution of justice he finds to be responsible for the dissatisfaction with the work of the courts, and with the evidences at hand of a failure to enforce justice properly has come distrust of the courts and a desire on the part of many to wield some effective instrument for correction.

THE NEENAH HORROR.

It is difficult at this time to fix the blame for the tragic death of thirteen people at the railroad crossing in Neenah, says the Marinette Eagle-Star. The burden of avoiding accidents is not only with the railroad, but with the driver of vehicles as well. The train may have been going at a higher rate of speed than the law permitted but nevertheless, if the driver saw the train he should have taken no chances. His judgment was bad under the circumstances.

Careful automobilists are guided by a rule which says "stop" when there is danger of trouble. The rule is a good one for not only motorists but also for drivers of horses. Let them halt their steeds. There have been in the past decade at least six or eight deaths on the grade crossings between Marinette and Peshtigo. In most every instance the drivers were not as careful as they should have been. Before passing over a railroad crossing they should slow up and if necessary stop, look and listen. It is the only safe way.

The state railroad commission has started a probe of the horror and can be depended upon to place the responsibility where it belongs. The railroad companies should be forced to observe the speed ordinances of cities. But often times the crossing accidents occur in the open country where there is no speed-limit and the best way to avoid accidents is to exercise more care.

A PURE DEMOCRACY.

"Kansas," observes the governor of the Sunflower state in the presence of the nation's chief executive, "is the greatest state on the face of the globe."

"The United States," he continues, "is the greatest nation on the face of the globe."
 "The president of the United States," he declares as he reaches the climax, "has more power and more majesty than any king or potentate of ancient or modern times."

"Ladies and gentlemen," says Governor Stubbs, "meet Bill Taft."
 Fancy the leader of the Fiji islanders introducing George V. "by the grace of God ruler of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the seas, King Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India," as follows:

 "Fellers, here's Gawge, Gawge, the boys."

In Kansas the acme of democracy has been reached. In any other than an ideal state of political freedom such an introduction would call for a military execution.

Columbia University is to establish a library of political information, but an acquaintance with the ward boss would be of more help to the students in securing clerkships.

Although it interferes with study to make those overgrown boy trusts behave, it does not seem to be of any use to go on with the lessons until it is demonstrated that Teacher Sam is in control of the school house.

Senator Lorimer is visiting the county fairs and perhaps his friends will buy him a $100,000 Legislature from the toy balloon man.

As Canada's theory of reciprocity is to get something for nothing with a trading stamp thrown in, Uncle Sam with probably discontinued soliciting her trade.

If John L. Sullivan goes to Congress he should present much more striking arguments than those we are accustomed to.

The Democrats demand instant revision of the tariff by Congress, but why does not the tariff need expert investigation by an impartial board just as much as railroad rates?

With The Fighters

According to Mrs. Tiny Johnson, mother of Champion Jack Johnson, Jack is not broke, and will not be for some time to come, even if he continues to live in luxury. Mrs. Johnson was emphatic in her statements that her son has nearly $100,000 worth of real estate in Chicago and that, it is his natural way whenever he needs money when away to borrow instead of telegraphing home for whatever he needs.

"I know Jack has nearly $100,000 worth of interest bearing securities in the hands of Chicago bankers," Mrs. Johnson said.

Jack Curley, erstwhile manager of George Hackenschmidt, was undertaking the management of Jim Flynn, conqueror of Carl Morris and Al Kaufmann. The fighter and his new manager met last night and closed a deal whereby Curley will pilot the fortunes of the Pueblo freeman in the future. Although the alliance had been made in less than a day, Curley immediately got busy and mapped out an extensive theatrical tour for Flynn. The new manager will book his proteges in the different cities of Oklahoma, and at the end of the tour Curley will seek a match with Johnson.

Because Bob Moha insisted upon getting a good guarantee, after he had signed to fight on a straight percentage with Johnny Thompson at New Orleans, the local middleweight has lost the match. Manager Larkin says he signed up for the bout, but later on Moha insisted upon getting a guarantee and as a result there is trouble brewing now.

One Round Hogan, the San Francisco fighter, confirmed the right to his sobriquet at Newport, R. I., last night when he knocked out Charlie Hyland of New York in the first round of their bout. The fight lasted one minute and twenty-seven seconds.

Ray Bronson and Tommy Howell of Philadelphia fought a ten-round draw at Indianapolis last night. Bronson went down twice from Howell's stiff right swings and Howell was put down for the count of six in the third.

The best big fight in San Francisco, will be the twenty-round bout between Matty Baldwin of Boston and Frankie Burns. This scrap will be brought off Friday, and the winner will be signed up for a fight with Freddie Welsh.

A Great Advantage to Working Men J. A. Maple, 125 E. 7th St., Steubenville, O., says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidney acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." For sale by all drug-

Major League Notes

Ever hear how Rube Marquard, McGraw's marvelous sidewheeler, got his start?

It was in Cleveland, where Rube lives, back in 1906, that he was picked up by Herman Schley, a lieutenant in the Cleveland fire department, who was managing an amateur baseball team. Rube's first game was at Loudonville, O., against an independent aggregation, and he was beaten, 1 to 0, in eleven innings. Manager Schley thought he wasn't classy enough and let him go.

Rube wasn't discouraged. He asked Nap Lajoie for a tryout with the Cleveland American leaguers. Larry turned him down. Rube finished the season with the Colonials and Baehrs, Cleveland amateur teams, and got a chance the year following with Waterloo, Ia. He failed to make good, though, and was released.

Bade Myers, then manager of the Canton Central league club, signed him up, and Rube struck his stride. He pitched splendid ball for Canton, went to Indianapolis, and finally to the Giants.

Cy Young, who pitched in both the American and National leagues this season and therefore ought to know, says the Giants will win the world's series because of their superior ability as base runners.

Hollenback, the former star of the Quakers, is coaching Pennsylvania state college.

Jimmy McAleer, now Boston boss, wants a new first baseman and second baseman.

"I will keep Larry Gardner at third and Yerkes at short," said McAleer. "Duffy Lewis, Speaker and Hooper form an outfield good enough for any club. I will do my best to get Jake Stahl to return to first base."

Chan Blair, manager of the Pontiac, Mich., team is a civil war veteran and old-time ball player. Blair started playing ball at fifteen in 1859. He played ball after the war, and has been umpire and manager. At night he is guard at the Pontiac asylum.

Catcher Kelly, the battery mate of Marty O'Toole, must submit to an operation or lose the index finger of the right hand. A bit of splintered bone has seriously afflicted Kelly's entire hand and it was determined that his injury was a serious one. The operation will be performed Saturday. Kelly will do no more catching this season.

A RIP VAN WINKLE IN NORTH DAKOTA

Lakota, N. D., Sept. 29.—North Dakota lays claim to a Rip Van Winkle, almost as mysterious as was the character of Washington Irving's celebrated story, in the person of a man named Avery, who has returned to greet his wife after an absence of two decades.

Over twenty years ago Avery, who resided on a farm near Crary, in Ramsey county, went after a pall of water. He never returned. He was registered with Coxe's army at Washington.

When Avery came home he was blind and very deaf and his hair was as white as snow. He had dinner with the family and a social hour was enjoyed after which he again disappeared.

An effort has been made to find the aged man, but thus far all attempts have been in vain.

MISS MUELLER WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

WOMAN WHO DIED AT MADISON LAST SATURDAY WAS SISTER OF MRS. GETTLEMAN.

Concerning the death of Miss Sophie Mary Mueller, of Madison, Wis., who was well known in Escanaba and a sister of Mrs. Anna Gettleman of this city, the Madison State Journal of last Monday says:

"The funeral of Miss Sophie Mary Mueller took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of the deceased's brother, Dr. William H. Mueller, 22 South Broom street. Rev. Otto J. Wilke conducted the services at the house and, at 2:30 o'clock, at St. John's Lutheran church. The death of Miss Mueller occurred Saturday morning at 2 o'clock at the Stoeber hospital, following a period of ill health. She is survived by two sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Anna Gettleman of Escanaba, Michigan, Miss Jule Mueller, Dr. William H. Mueller and Arthur F. Mueller, all of Madison. Miss Mueller was born in Madison, February 25, 1881, and has resided here all her life. Until her father's death two years ago, she and her sister, Miss Jule, and younger brother, Arthur, lived at the old Mueller home at 724 Williamson street. After that sad event the young people left the old place and took a flat at 340 West Wilson street, where Miss Jule and Mr. Arthur will continue to make their home. Each member of the family is a member of St. John's Lutheran church. Although Miss Mueller had been in poor health since early summer, her condition was not thought to be serious until a few days ago, when she was removed to the hospital. The news of her death came as a terrible shock to her family and her friends. Mrs. Gettleman arrived last evening from Escanaba and other relatives will come today and tomorrow. Burial will be made in the family lot in Forest Hill cemetery."

Horace Atkins has departed for Ann Arbor to resume studies at the state university.

Mrs. K. C. Pellow and son and Miss Marion Pellow are visiting with Mrs. Mary Carroll.

Fred Carney of Marinette departed from this city today on an auto trip to Massey, Ont.

CLEVER ACTRESS PLEASURES AUDIENCE

MISS ANNA DAY WELL LIKED IN LEADING ROLE OF PLAY LAST EVENING.

In the role of the capricious Mary, Miss Anna Day, the clever Irish-American actress pleased greatly with the presentation of "When Knighthood was in Flower" at the Peterson last evening. She is possessed of a magnetism seldom seen on the stage and her personality is one that attracts immediately.

Applause was frequent and prolonged, whenever Miss Day made her appearance. Reed W. Clark, as the captain of the king's guard capably handled his part and acted as successful candidate for the hand of Mary, played by Miss Day. "When Knighthood was in Flower" is an old piece, but one that never dies out as far as the theater going public is concerned.
