

NORTHERN STATE FAIR ENDS TONIGHT; GREATEST DEVELOPMENT EVENT EVER HELD IN THIS SECTION IS CLAIMED

Directors of Delta County Agricultural Society Enthusiastic Over Success of Fair

EXPECT IT TO BE AN ANNUAL EVENT.

Even though held over for a day the attendance at the Northern State Fair today was greatly encouraging. After the banner day experienced yesterday, when an immense amount of tickets were sold, making an attendance that was established at over five thousand people, the crowd today was hardly smaller.

The people of Escanaba, realizing the benefits to be derived from the fair flocked to the place for their second and third and perhaps more likely visits. Gate receipts swelled to a comfortable total and it is not likely that any amount lower than disbursements will be arrived at when the gates close tonight and the receipts of the four days' attraction are compiled.

Directors Are Enthusiastic.

The directors today, when seen were enthusiastic. The fair had highly pleased them and already the opinion is voiced that the Northern State Fair is an established annual event as far as Escanaba is concerned. The way that the people of Delta County responded to the affair has led the promoters—the Delta County Agricultural Society—to plan the event as an annual one.

Produce Exhibits Excellent.

The produce exhibits could not be better. Some fairs, usually state fairs, have more of them, but not a fair has come within the notice of many practical farmers that has had better exhibits. The fair, in showing the products of Delta county and vicinity, was a revelation. That it was possible to grow such vegetables of wondrous size, in this neighborhood was not believed by many, even residents themselves being surprised at the garden and field stuffs on display.

Another thing fully demonstrated at the fair is that Delta county cannot be surpassed as a fruit growing region. Great grain is grown here, garden vegetables of unbelievable size are produced, but this sinks into a comparative insignificance when the enormous opportunities of fruit raising are realized. Hardly a farmer at the fair, with a little land to spare, that did not then and there

FIRST DRILL FOR RESERVES MONDAY

The first drill of the season of the naval reserves will be held at Armory hall Monday evening. All members are ordered to be present and participate in the drill. The coming of the commandment of the boat to Escanaba has given the work of the reserves an added impetus and greater interest than heretofore is being experienced among the ranks. Drills will be held at regular periods during the fall and winter months.

COL. ROB. J. BATES OF SOO IS IN CITY

Col. Robert J. Bates of Sault Ste. Marie and Con O'Sullivan, also of that place are in Escanaba today to take in the Northern State Fair. Col. Bates was pleased that Escanaba had gained the commandment of the Yantic and that the boat was due to be located in this port. He was formerly ranking general in the state militia and is expected to be a formidable candidate for the adjutant generalship of the militia when that office comes up to be filled by the governor within a short time.

make the firm resolve to put his extra expanse into apples.

Better Than Lower Michigan.

Lower Michigan has long been touted as a fruit growing section. Some portions of northern Wisconsin have gained repute as excellent places for the raising of fruit. But these places are not adopted to better fruit raising than Delta county. Had the Northern Fair never been held, this would probably not have been as generally known—not for some at least. In the holding of the fair the greatest step in the development of the Upper Peninsula in general and Delta County in particular saw its institution.

Not a farmer in the county who attended would fall to assist in the next fair held. Not one of them will fail to send exhibits. This method of display with the accompanying prizes is sufficient inducement to bring out the natural pride of a grower in his products and cannot but result beneficially for the fair. The directors of the Delta County Agricultural Society have accomplished a work without par in the upper peninsula, and one with lasting results.

GRANGE BALL IS WELL ATTENDED

MANY MAKE MERRY AT PETERSON HALL TO STRAINS OF BROTHERTON'S ORCHESTRA.

The Grange ball held last evening at the Peterson hall was a great success. The hall was filled with merry makers as soon as the strains of music for the first dance begun at nine o'clock. It was the most largely attended dance held in this city in some time.

Those who arranged the affair were greatly satisfied with the result. They were beyond their greatest expectations and this achievement was pleasing. Brotherton's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing numbers and the affair continued until slightly after 12 o'clock.

NEW BOAT TO MAKE THIS PORT ON RUN

ARNOLD TRANSPORTATION CO. TO HAVE CRAFT MAKE TRIP UP FROM MENOMINEE.

The Arnold Transportation company will put on an extra steamer next week to take care of their fall traffic. This new boat, the steamer Mackinac, will cover Green bay and the northern part of Lake Michigan. It will run in conjunction with the steamer Eugene Hart, which has been the regular boat for some time.

The new boat will leave the Menominee dock every Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m. for the east shore and the Soo. On the return trip she will leave Menominee Thursday night at 10:45 for Sturgeon Bay and on Tuesdays at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for the latter port. The Eugene Hart will leave every Tuesday at 7 a. m. for the east shore and the Soo and will return on Saturdays at 2 p. m. and will leave for Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay.

The schedule of the Mackinac, which has been added to the local run was announced today from the Escanaba office. The boat will arrive here, going north, on Monday and Wednesday at 6 p. m., and at 4:30 on Friday. For the south the boats will arrive here on Friday at 8 p. m., on Thursday at 7 p. m. and on Monday at 11:30 p. m. This will make three boats on the run.

CHARLES H. JONES EXPIRES AT NOON

STORE PROPRIETOR ILL BUT TWO WEEKS WHEN DEATHS OCCURS AT HOME.

Charles H. Jones died at his home, 805 Ludington street at noon today after an illness that has extended over the past two years. Though able to be up and attend to the duties of his business, he had been told by physicians that he could not live a great while and it was only about two weeks ago that he had to give up and go to bed.

Through his ever good natured manners and courteous treatment to every one that entered his little store he had worked up a nice business and surrounded himself by a number of friends who will regret to learn of his death.

The deceased was a native of New York state and is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son. The daughters are Mrs. Elmer Norman of this city and Mrs. W. B. Webb of New York city. The son, Edward W., lives at Ann Arbor. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Samuel Portie of Royal Oak, Mich.

It is expected that all the members of the family will be present at the funeral, arrangements for which have as yet not been completed.

ITALY BEGINS TO FIRE ON TURKS

NAVAL DIVISION STORMS PORT OF PREVEZA AND SINKS TORPEDO BOAT.

(By Associated Press.)

Salonki, Turkey, Sept. 30.—The Italian Naval division today bombarded the seaport of Preveza, destroying the government house and sinking a Turkish torpedo boat in the harbor.

Italy Sends Notes.

Berlin, German, Sept. 30.—Italy today sent out circular notes to the powers explaining reason for action against Turkey and expressing the hope that the steps taken be confined to the occupation of Tripoli, that the hostilities be of short duration and that negotiations to fix the status of Tripoli be begun soon. The note closes with the assurance that all steps taken will be in the interests of humanity and civilization.

Events Summarized.

London, Sept. 30.—The events of the war between Turkey and Italy are thus summarized today: seaport of Preveza bombarded by Italian fleet; government houses destroyed; Turkish torpedo boat disabled; Italian troops reported to be landed west of Tripoli; Turkey asks United States to take charge of Turkish subjects in Italy; Turkey addresses another appeal to powers saying there is still time to prevent conflict; impression prevails in diplomatic quarters of Berlin that the war will be of short duration.

Declaration Bring Enthusiasm.

Rome, Sept. 30.—The declaration of war against Turkey has been received with enthusiasm in all parts of the country and great processions have organized in Genoa, Milan, Bergamo, Parma, Bari, Verocelli, and Perugia, the crowds singing patriotic songs. A news dispatch from Tripoli says that a boarding party from the Italian squadron took possession of the Turkish transport Derna at Tripoli. The transport offered no resistance.

CAPT. CHAS. BROWN DIES IN CHICAGO

FORMER RESIDENT OF ESCANABA EXPIRES SUDDENLY IN THAT CITY.

Word was received in this city today of the death of Captain Charles Brown in Chicago. No particulars of his death were forthcoming. He is the father of Mrs. Cuthbert of this city and was formerly a resident here. When living here he was commander of the "Lotus." Dr. Cuthbert departed immediately for Chicago upon the receipt of the telegram and will make arrangements for the funeral. The body will be brought to this city and the funeral probably held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the D. A. Oliver undertaking parlors.

APPLE SHOWINGS CREATES WONDER

Two of the best exhibits of apples seen at the county fair are now at The Mirror office, brought here this morning by Lony LaFave of Flat Rock. Both of the apples shown are Northwestern Greenings. They are more than four inches in diameter and flawless. What makes the growth of the apples more interesting and wonderful is the fact that they came from a young tree.

NO FIRES IN CITY FOR SOME WEEKS

Escanaba has been peculiarly free from fires for some length of time. Not a fire has been experienced here since September 14. At times the department has gone without a call for six weeks, but they were not frequent. Not a wheel has been turned on department trucks since that date.

BANQUET IS GIVEN FOR REV. SPENCE

DEPARTING PASTOR IS PRESENTED WITH GOLD PYTHIAN EMBLEM BY BROTHERS

Attended by numerous representative men of Escanaba the banquet tendered Rev. Frederick Spence, departing pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, by the Knights of Pythias in the church parlors last evening was a fitting farewell. Mr. Spence was greatly affected by the demonstration and the speeches that followed the banquet, each one containing words of approbation of himself and his work.

J. J. Sourwine acted as toastmaster. Several prominent Knights were called upon for talks, and the response to toasts were such that Rev. Spence apparently disliked to leave a city and people in which and with whom he was held in such high regard.

Coming as a complete surprise to the popular pastor was the presentation of a pretty watch fob holding a solid gold Pythian emblem. In his speech later, "The Parting of the Ways," he thanked the donors for the token. Attorney A. H. Ryall gave the principal speech of the evening.

SHAFFER MAN LOSES EYE IN EXPLOSION

ALFRED LERVOISE NOW IN HOSPITAL WITH INJURIES FROM DYNAMITE.

Alfred Lervoise, of Shaffer, Mich., is at St. Joseph's hospital in Marinette suffering from the effects of a dynamite explosion near that city last week. It is not known how the explosion occurred because the man was alone at the time. He states that the dynamite exploded before he expected it to and he was thrown several feet. He was severely injured in the eyes and face. Immediately after his arrival at the hospital the left eye was removed. It was thought then by the physicians that the right eye would be saved. However, it has been found necessary to remove it. The right eye was removed and the man is reported as resting easy. He is married and lives near Shaffer. He has no children. He is 37 years old and has been doing dynamiting for many years. This is the first mishap.

NEGAUNEE LEAVES TO PLAY MENOMINEE

CHAMPIONS OF M. D. TO TAKE ON THAT TEAM TODAY AND TOMORROW.

The Negaunee baseball squad left this morning for Menominee to open a two-games series with the team of that place. The Marquette-Delta League champs were unable to play yesterday, because of the cold weather, that moved the directors to call off the proposed contest, and Escanaba lost a chance to break the losing streak that has continually been experienced with the champs.

At Menominee the Negaunee team will meet a nine composed largely of Oshkosh and Appleton Wisconsin-Illinois league players. Playing there today and tomorrow the Negaunee squad will leave for Green Bay Monday morning to play two games.

AUXILIARY OF O. R. C. HAS PRETTY PARTY

One of the prettiest and best attended dances of the season was given last evening at Clark's hall by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Order of Railway Conductors. Seventy couples were in attendance. The hall was decorated for the event and pleasing music was furnished by the LaDuc orchestra. With the floor in excellent condition, the music pleasing and everything desirable for the occasion the large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the event. The organization will hold no more dances this year, but plans to hold several after New Year's.

Athletic Events Attract Many at Fair Grounds

PECULIAR INSANE PATIENTS AT JAIL

VIOLENCE OF ANNA GRANDBERG KEEPS OTHERS IN JAIL AWAKE NIGHTS.

In Anna Grandberg the county officials have one of the most peculiar insane patients that has come to their attention in some time. She is violent frequently and keeps the rest of the occupants of the jail from their slumbers by her cries. "Give me a jack knife," she repeats often. Whether her procedure would be to attempt picking the lock of her cell or to injure herself is questionable.

In an adjoining cell sits John Lindahl, the other insane person at the jail. Lindahl quietly reads papers and magazines and never utters a word, in marked contrast to the woman. She will be taken to Newberry Monday, as there is room in the women's ward for her. Lindahl will have to remain here for some time until room is made for him at the asylum.

MENOMINEE GIRL WILL SING HERE

MISS PEARL FRASER ENGAGED AS SOPRANO SOLOIST AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Miss Pearl Fraser of Menominee, who recently completed a course in vocal study in Chicago has taken the position of soprano soloist at the First Presbyterian church of Escanaba. Miss Fraser will have a class of vocal pupils in this city, whom she will teach on Saturday's. She will spend the rest of the week in Menominee. Miss Fraser is one of the most popular of the young women singers in the twin cities and her musical career has been watched with interest by many friends in Menominee and Marinette.

MANY CREDIT STROM FOR TIRELESS WORK

FAIR OFFICIALS HAD MUCH TO OVERCOME BEFORE ARRIVAL AT PRESENT RESULT.

The story appearing in The Mirror last evening regarding the efforts of Attorney Torval E. Strom, secretary of the Delta County society, and to whom much credit is due for the success of the Northern State Fair, was well timed, and it is not known generally to what extent the promoters were required to labor. A county fair is comparatively new here, and undoubtedly this event, which I now understand is to be an annual one, will be more successful in the future than this year.

WELLINGTONS PLAY ESCANABA SUNDAY

MONTE OLMSTED TO PITCH FOR ALL-STARS AND JOHN WALCH TO DO CATCHING.

The Wellington baseball team promises to show its old-time form in the game tomorrow afternoon with the Escanaba baseball team at the league park. The game will begin at 2:30 Monte Olmsted will be in the box for the Wellingtons and John Walch will handle the receiving end. Scanio and Cole will furnish the heavy work for the league team. A good game is expected and as it is the first time that the Wellingtons have made up such a satisfactory team a fast contest will undoubtedly result.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Anderson of Sault Ste. Marie have departed for their home after a visit with Mrs. White at Gladstone.

RACES AND JUMPING CONTESTS WERE NOT LEAST OF FAIR ATTRACTIONS YESTERDAY.

YOUNGSTERS SHOW SPEED.

MRS. SALVAIL DIES; HERE FOR 40 YEARS

AT AGE OF 66 YEARS DEATH TAKES HER AT HOME OF HER DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Margaret Salvail, aged 66 years and the widow of the late Hercules Salvail, died this noon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Gagnier, 1214 Escanaba avenue of a complication of diseases brought on by advanced years. Mrs. Salvail is well known in this city and was one of the pioneers, having lived here for about forty years.

She is survived by five daughters: Mrs. N. Primeau, Mrs. J. McGuire, Mrs. Paul Gagnier of this city and Mrs. Flora Douglas of Seattle and Mrs. Amie Russell of Hayden Lake, Idaho. The funeral arrangements have not been made pending word from the daughters who are absent, as to whether it will be possible for them to attend the funeral. Although the deceased has been in poor health for over a year, the news of her death will cause a shock to her many friends who had no idea that the end was so near.

YOUNGEST FIRST BASEMAN IS FEARLESS.

Victor Sailer, Crack Cub Player.

Victor Sailer, the twenty-year-old first baseman of the Chicago Cubs, played his first baseball in his home town of Lansing, Mich., on a team called the Little Giants. That was ten years ago, but Sailer remembered the ways of Giants when a member of the family and possibly for that reason is not afraid of the National League Giants or any other of the clubs he is called upon to meet since becoming a regular.
One of the first traits noted in Sailer when he took his stand at first base was his absolute lack of fear of opposing base runners. He did not attempt the tricks of blocking, which older heads sometimes try, often successfully and often to their sorrow, but he occupied all the space he was entitled to and gave up no ground which belonged to him.
Sailer is one of the youngest, if not the youngest player in the major leagues holding a regular position. Before he was secured by the Cubs he had not even seen a big league game. As Sailer sat on the bench awaiting his opportunity he absorbed much baseball by watching his teammates in action. He did not chafe because he was not asked at once to take a regular position, but learned more by observation than most players do. Now Chance is quoted as saying he would as soon have Sailer and Sailer's prospects for the Cubs as the hard-hitting Luderus of the Phillies, who once was understudy to the Cub manager.

DO THE STATES HAVE POWER IN THE MATTER OF THEIR COMMERCE?

The Supreme Court Will Be Called Upon to Determine the Question.

Governors Harmon, Hadley and Aldrich Will Confer With Judges.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.
WHO controls commerce within a state? The governors want to know. Is the supreme power vested in the state legislature or in some federal judge? Why is a state railroad commission, and where does it get off? Has it any right or authority that either a common carrier or the interstate commerce commission is bound to respect?
Has the national government control not only of interstate rates, but of intrastate rates? Does "commerce between the states," over which the constitution gives congress power, also include commerce in the states? These and other similar questions involving the whole scheme of our dual form of government were raised at the recent governors' conference.

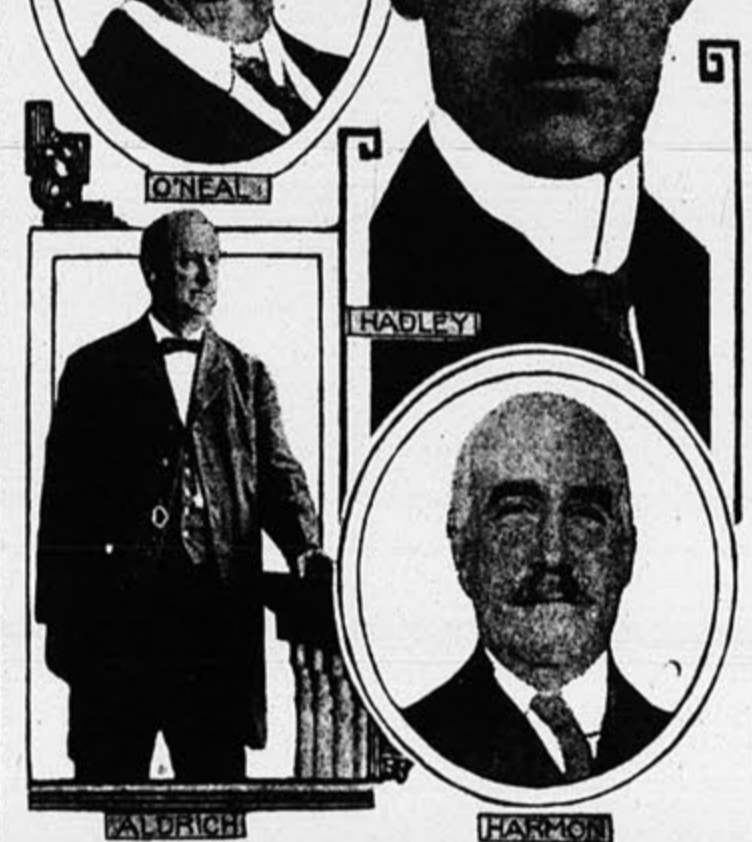

talk like a lawyer holding a brief for some railroad. Scandalous! But, say, wasn't it good? Awful--er--har-har-har--whoopie! Wow!
Governor Hadley also gave a fine speech along the same line. Between the two they made a strong case. Then Governor McGovern of Wisconsin delivered an able talk on the way Wisconsin had controlled public utilities, which helped some. The enthusiasm did not break loose right away, however. You could hardly expect that in so grave and serious a body. Only when it did come out it seemed to have been increased by the repression and took the lid off. Before giving it voice, however, the conference had to listen to the Rev. Anna Howard Shaw and some other suffragettes, and this probably put a portion of the governors in a state of mind that made them want to slam something, and so they took it out on the judges.

The committee selected to appear before the United States supreme court in behalf of state rights is something new under the sun. It puts the house of governors on earth with a vengeance. The constitution forbids a compact between individual states, but how about a compact between all the states? Heretofore each state has had to fight its battles alone and unaided. How will it be when it has the active and open support of the other forty-seven? Does this portend a contest between the united states and the United States? You see what a difference one or two capital letters sometimes make. The theory of the constitution is that the federal government has only such powers as the states have delegated to it. All the other powers are reserved by the states and the people. In other words, the state is the sovereign unit, and the nation has only derived authority.

Governor O'Neal's Suggestion.
After McGovern was through Governor O'Neal of Alabama arose and wanted to know if something could not be done concerning these judges who tried to step on the sovereign rights of the states. Talk was all right, but what did the governors pro-

Relation of State and Nation.
To a man up a tree it would seem that we have wandered somewhat afield from this original idea. The civil war changed the relation between state and nation. It did not do this by amending the constitution, but by amending the minds of the people. Yet there is still left a broad field in which the sovereignty of the state is supreme. The new state rights are not to be confused with the old state rights. Now the contention is that the state has power over the commerce within its own borders.

The Principle Involved.
It is estimated that there are something like seventy-five cases in the federal courts relative to state regulation of domestic commerce or corporations. The principle involved is more fundamental than the mere academic one of state rights in the sense in which that term is usually understood. It is a matter of home rule or local autonomy. Moreover, if the states have not the power to control nobody has such power. The practical effect is to leave

Photographs copyright by American Press Association. THREE GOVERNORS WHO WILL CARRY THE CONFERENCE'S IDEAS TO THE SUPREME COURT, AND THE GOVERNOR WHO MADE THE MOTION.

This question is squarely before the United States supreme court for final decision. There are several cases involving the principle, but the Minnesota rate cases are to be made the test. These cases are up on appeal from the decision of Judge Sanborn of the federal circuit court, which was in effect that certain orders of the state railroad commission were null and void because they interfered with interstate rates. The governors' conference took square issue with this action of the court and appointed a committee to represent the states before the nation's highest tribunal. This committee is headed by Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, former attorney general of the United States, and associated with him are Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, former attorney general of his state, in which capacity he had charge of the famous case against the Standard Oil company, and Governor Chester H. Aldrich of Nebraska, author of the rate law in his own state and who probably caused this radical action of the governors by a speech which electrified the conference.

pose to do about it? For his part, he favored an idea advanced by Governor Harmon that the conference be represented by counsel when the supreme court heard these Minnesota cases. Somebody suggested that he put it in the form of a motion, and this when offered was seconded from all parts of the room. Everybody spoke in favor of it, with one or two exceptions. Stubbs of Kansas proposed that Harmon, Hadley and Aldrich be the committee and argue the matter in the supreme court themselves, and before anybody quite realized how momentous was the step being taken the motion passed by practically a unanimous vote, and a new departure had been taken in American history.

these corporations free to work their own sweet wills. "If the opinion of Judge Sanborn is to become the law of this country," said Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia, "the twilight zone will be so broadened that we will never see daylight again in the matter of rate regulation. Intrastate corporations will return to the old conditions and do exactly as they please."
This is by no means a new question in American politics. It has been present in one form or another for a generation. Twenty years ago the writer had some small part in the drafting and passage of a maximum freight rate bill in Nebraska. That came as the result of a long fight. Finally the antimonopoly forces were triumphant, and the bill became a law. The federal court promptly nullified it. In one hour a single man set aside the result of the labor of years. Now another rate law has been passed, and it is also in the federal court. It is something of a solace that the speech which fired the governors' conference came from the state where the earlier fight was made. There has been some harvest from the seed sown.

It seems that Nebraska will go on producing orators who electrify grave and dignified bodies into doing remarkable things. In this instance the electrifying was good, and Governor Aldrich arose to the occasion like a true son of the Platte. He filled the honorable governors with a desire to get right up and give three cheers like a bunch of the ordinary populace.

Aldrich's Speech.
Having once sojourned in Nebraska myself, I am naturally some tickled over that speech of Aldrich. You simply can't keep a Nebraska man down, especially on an occasion when any kind of oratory is unfurled to the breeze. It would hardly be expected that a conference of the chief executives of our great states--and they are all great--would become het up with enthusiasm over a speech that said things right out in meeting, but human nature is pretty liable to get into action, whether it is in the breast of a governor or under the cotton shirts of the Bill Smiths and Jake Joneses down at Hoopole's Corners. The popular chord is bound to vibrate if you get at it right, and if there is a Nebraska man around the said popular chord had better go in hiding if it does not expect to sing like the G-string at a barn dance.
I suspect that Governor Aldrich said some things right out plain that the other governors had been itching to say if they had not been too polite and dignified. One of the things, as I recall it, was that the trouble with many of these federal judges is that they are appointed for political serv

One of the most significant phases of this action is that it should have come from the governors' conference, the new factor in our American political system, from which so much has been hoped. Even William George Jordan, the man who first proposed the body, says it goes beyond his wildest dreams. Jordan, by the way, is no longer secretary of the conference. To put it in his own words, he was "fired with the utmost enthusiasm." Even so, I hope and believe he will not permit such an incident to affect his work for a great ideal. The seed he planted has grown marvelously. He can be proud of the tree, for already it has brought forth good fruit.

and after they get on the bench

Three Ways to Proceed.
There are three ways in which they might get into court--by invitation of the state of Minnesota, by invitation of the attorney general of the United States and by invitation of the supreme court itself. In the last named case the prices of "Sixes" were unreason- ably high in comparison with the price of four cylinder models of the same make.

In the several seasons this model has been on the market, it has met with big sales everywhere in Ameri- ca. Buyers who might have spent $2,500 for a high priced "Four," paid a little more and got the big 60 H. P. KisselKar "Six." The man who had contemplated paying as much as five or six thousand dollars for a high powered six cylinder automobile could not very easily get by the KisselKar "Six" at $3,000. As a result, the sales record of the KisselKar "Six" has been extraordinary.
The KisselKar "Six" is a car of unsurpassed quality in every way. It is the most superb type of modern automobile. The touring body carries seven passengers; the semi-touring carries five, and the semi-racer runs about carries two. Every model of the commodious for its full capacity. The liberal 132 in. wheel base and the big 36 in. wheels and 36x5 in. tires, combined with the continuous power impulse of the six cylinders secure an easy riding quality found in so few of even the most expensive cars that it belongs to the KisselKar almost exclusively.
The body of the 1912 model conforms to the most progressive tendencies of design. The body sets low between the big wheels, the doortops align with the top of the hood in the rakish straight line effect, the graceful slope of the forward fenders emphasizes the general symmetry and individuality of the car. In finish and regard for small details, nothing is left to be desired. The price--$3,000--includes complete equipment, which means everything essential to a perfectly equipped and trimmed car. Besides tools and other equipment, the KisselKar "Six" is provided with shock absorbers, top, glass front, detachable rims, speedometer with clock, oil and electric lamps, storage batteries--there is nothing left to be bought separately.
The KisselKar "Thirty"--"Forty" and "Fifty" models are as conspicuous in their class as the "Sixty." Each model stands for the maximum automobile value at the price--$1,500--$1,850 and $2,350.
Even if you have been thinking of paying five or six thousand for a car, first see and ride in the KisselKar 60 H. P. "Six." Mr. Frank Edwards, Manager of the KisselKar company, who drove the 1912 "Six" from Milwaukee, is stopping here for a few days, when he will continue his tour of inspection of the KisselKar Branches. In the meanwhile, the "Six" will be on exhibition at my salerooms.

WAGES AND FORMING.

Dr. Scott Nearing of the University of Pennsylvania, who has made an exhaustive study of federal and state statistics, has just published a book on "Wages in the United States," in which he states that, after making allowance for time lost on account of illness, weather, strikes and other causes.

"It appears that half of the adult males of the United States are earning less than $500 a year; that three-quarters of them are earning less than $600; that nine-tenths are earning less than $800; while less than ten per cent receive more than that figure. A corresponding computation of the wages of women shows that a fifth earn less than $200 annually; that three-fifths are receiving less than $25; that nine-tenths are earning less than $500, while only one-twentieth are paid more than $600. Three-fourths of the adult males and nineteen-twentieths of the adult females actually earn less than $600 a year.

The last federal census showed that there are 155,759 farms in Minnesota, and that the value of the crops marketed in 1909 was approximately $180,000,000. The crop was neither bumper nor poor, and may be accepted as what ordinarily may be expected. That is a return of approximately $1,150 for each farm in the state. To be sure it is not to be assumed that every man on a farm got $1,150 or that every farm produced $1,150. Many yielded less and many produced much larger returns. In order to be fair it is necessary to deduct from those proceeds taxes, interest on investment and value of the farmer's time, so that the total does not represent all profit by any means.

But the important facts remain: The average return from a Minnesota farm was $1,150, and in addition to that the farm and his family had their living during the year. Three-fourths of the men who are working for wages are getting less than $600 a year and have to pay for their own and their family's living out of that.

Isn't it about time for the back-to-the-land idea to become popular enough to show some results in the census reports of the movement of population?—St. Paul Dispatch.

THE HARVESTING OF THE APPLE.

With October's declining suns the apple orchards grow festive with their ruddy fruit. It was not so many years ago that the apple was a despised fruit. It might do well enough as a basis for cider and vinegar and it was ever popular as raw material for the small boy's stomach ache. But it was too democratic and common a product to be fitted for the educated palate, which would have only oranges and tropical products.

While the last named favorite have lost none of their hold on the popular taste, the enormous improvement in apple culture, by which larger, fairer, and more nutritious specimens have been produced, has made it one of the great American staples.

The apple and the orange are in contrast, and each fills the other's lacks. The orange brings the mellow heart of sunshine to the Northern fire-side, the apple the cool tang of the North to the Southern home.

As apples have improved under scientific cultivation, they cost more. But even if a barrel of apples weighing 200 pounds should cost $3 to $5, it is many times cheaper per pound than any meat or even cereal.

The Maine was blown up from the outside, but was it merely the Spanish method of receiving Uncle Sam's visiting card, or was some Cuban setting the hands of time's clock along a little?

Houston, Tex., housewives are boycotting sugar on account of high prices. The dispatches fail to state an instance where any of the girls turned down a box of candy. There are ways in which it is cheaper to get married.

It having been announced that Texas has gone wet, the people of that honored state will perhaps now retire from the bulletin boards and resume their ordinary occupations.

Although many people are starting to cross the country by aeroplane, the germ laden sleeping cars are probably a healthier method of making the journey.

It is said that trust reorganization will be fruitless. But having recently saved $27,000,000 on railroad rates, the Consumer feels inclined to give Uncle Sam another job as purchasing agent from the trusts.

The old fashioned girl used to put up preserves all now. Mrs. Newlywed is too busy writing papers for the Woman's club about preserving our institutions.

A hay rack full of people was run over by a train at Neenah, Wis. In our experience as boys on the farm we always kept at a safe distance from the hay wagon as a dangerous vehicle.

All factions are uniting to welcome President Taft. All differences fade out of patriotic hearts at the inspiring thought of postoffices and clerkships.

Mr. Taft says dissipation is frowned on in the colleges. Perhaps that's why it is so popular.

Aviator Rodgers tore into a barbed wire fence the other day, showing that it is going to be quite a problem for the householder to put up fences high and strong enough to be aeroplane proof.

If Mr. Wickersham has his way, a number of our revered trust magnates will soon have the useful opportunity to acquire the art of caning chairs and other select indoor occupations.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made From Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, with out even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Get a bottle today, and let it do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

"POP" ANSON WAS EASY MARK

Captain Refused to Play Game With Louisville on Report of Fake Telegram Signed "Hart."

"Pop Anson was always an easy mark for the practical joker," said Walter Wilnot in a fanning bee the other day. "One time the old White Stockings were playing at Louisville. A firm in that city was making a ball known as the Bateman. The players didn't like the ball—which the Louisville club was then using—because it would get soft so quickly. So on the morning of the third day Jimmy Ryan took a sending blank and in his own handwriting fixed up the alleged telegram from Chicago addressed to Anson:

"Don't play today if Bateman ball is used."

"This fake message was signed 'Jim Hart,' and Anson took it as an order from his boss that had to be obeyed. He did refuse to play and there was a big rumpus.

"When we got back to Chicago Mr. Hart met us at the station.

"Why didn't you play Tuesday?" he demanded.

"Because they wanted to use the Bateman ball," said Anson.

"What has the Bateman ball got to do with it?" howled Hart.

"Why, I simply obeyed your telegram," said Anson meekly.

"I sent you no telegram," shouted Hart, now in a rage.

"Anson fished out the fake message and flashed it in Hart's face.

"And you fell for that, did you?" sneered Hart. "Why, didn't you know our club will be fined $500 for not playing that game?" And so it was. Anson hunted high and low for the man who wrote him that message, but I don't think he knows to this day it was old Jimmy Ryan."

WALSH NOT GOOD AS JOHNSON

So Declares Danny Murphy of the Champion Athletics—Even Towers Over Mathewson.

Johnson, Walsh, Gregg, Cicotte, Ford. That's the ranking order of the American league barmen outside of the Athletic pitchers, according to Danny Murphy, the heavy sticker of the Athletics.

He says that Walter Johnson, right, is the best pitcher he ever faced in his life, and he doesn't bar the impeccable Mathewson when the latter defeated the Mackmen in the 1906 world's series. Walsh, he says, is the funniest pitcher to face, as you know what is coming. The minor of Meriden, Danny says, only has a fast one and a spitter, but the fielding behind him makes him invincible. This is due to the fact that you cannot whale the spitball upward, but must keep it on the ground and it rolls along indolently at that.

Gregg is a corker, according to Murphy, who states that the Portland plasterer knows how to mix his stuff up better than any youngster he has seen break into the league for some time. Cicotte and Ford are both dangerous men, Danny asserts, and he claims that when they are right they have as much on the ball as anybody in the business.

Murphy couldn't have seen or heard of Walsh's no hit no run game of recent date.

High Ball Seldom Used.
It is a noticeable fact that the most successful pitchers these days are those who seldom pitch a high ball, and yet there was a time when the high ball had the batters guessing. Today, however, the pitcher with the high ones does not last long. The barmen have mastered this delivery and the pitchers have been forced to change their style of pitching entirely. There are decidedly few players these days who hit the low balls, and very few who cannot hit a high one. Most of the long hits made during a season are on balls that are pitched above the waist. Not only is it easier to follow the course of a ball which is pitched on about a level with the waist line, but the swing in most instances is more natural.

EARL GRAY TENDERED

A FAREWELL BANQUET

Ottawa, Ontario, Sept. 29.—The great resources of Canada and the character of the Canadian people make it certain that the Dominion will one day be the greatest factor in the British empire, even exceeding in importance and influence the United Kingdom itself," declared Earl Gray at a farewell banquet tendered him by the Canadian club.

"Some people profess to place reliance on the Monroe doctrine," Earl Gray continued. "But where would that doctrine stand if the British fleet were swept from the seas? The only security for Canada's defense is the supreme supremacy of the British fleet."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R. L. Borden spoke briefly.

"The people of Canada have just declared that the party led by Mr. Borden is to govern Canada," said Sir Wilfrid, "and while I regret the decision, I have no quarrel with it and will take my place at the left of the speaker as opposition leader."

Mr. Borden said that Canadians had viewed with wondering admiration the splendid campaign Sir Wilfrid Laurier had made and expressed the hope that he might be able to close his own career with a display of as remarkable vigor.

MADISON HAS ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS MURDER

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—The body of an unidentified man with his head neatly scalped as with a hatchet, was found in the Yahara river near the Steensland bridge. Coroner M. W. Lynch said the indications point to murder.

The body was half clad and apparently had been in the water less than a week. There were no marks of identification on the body. The dead man carried a watch which stopped at 2:30 and had $3.25 in cash in his clothes.

The man was about 40 years of age and had a red mustache. No one of that description is known to be missing here.

Many inquiries came to the police station to ask if the body was that of Carl Heyl, a young married man of this city who has been missing for some time. Heyl left a note in which he said he intended to drown himself.

THEATRICAL

AT THE GARRICK—Mr. Fraser, manager of the Fraser Stock company, that opens there is an old saying that it is hard to please all the people all the time and if you can please part of the people part of the time you should be satisfied. But he says he has a way of pleasing a large number of patrons in the following way. There will be a list of plays put up for the audience to vote on each week and the play receiving the largest number of votes will be produced, in this way they will play the bills the people want. Each week will be given a Saturday matinee for the benefit of the ladies and children who can not attend the night performances. During the season there will be given several pink teas, at the matinees. If you have ever attended a pink tea you will want to go again. The Fraser Stock company proposes to do everything in their power to make their stay here in Escanaba, a successful one.
